

Chapter 119 Naughty Lycans

Conri

I feel proud of our little Mate as she addresses the Pack-members and Evander and I keep an eye on her while we walk around the Pack-members to make sure no one shifts out of anger. Slowly but steadily everyone calms down, most of them still stunned from finding out their Luna had been poisoned for years.

Umayza will have two trials to attend to in the future, she will give her testimony and put away a lot of cruel and horrible Wolves. I just hope that Evander and I get accompany her on her future assignments, I want to learn more about her ability and how we can help her get through them.

In the meantime we will find a place to settle down, a place to make our home and to raise our Pups in the future. Something Evander and I have been talking about ever since we found out that Umayza is our Mate, that is if we survive Mom getting pissed at us for screwing this up with her.

So far we have been able to avoid going home and we both know that Mom never forgets to dish out a punishment, she will get mad with us before she will congratulate us on finally getting our Mate. Dad will be a little easier to deal with as he gave us an earful over the phone already.

I look at our little Mate as I make a final round through the crowd to see if anyone is still on edge and just needs someone to vent to, a petite blond steps in front of me and places her hands on my chest. A menacing roar is heard from the other side of the crowd and nobody has to tell me who it is.

Every Wolf behind the female steps aside as a very pissed off Yade stalks towards us, "Get your filthy paws of my Mate or I will rip you apart." She growls and the female in front of me turns around. She looks at Umayza before she turns back to me, "If you want a female that can handle you, I suggest you dump the bitch."

The next moment Umayza relinquishes control to Yade and she lunges at the female at high speed, she bites down into her shoulder and everyone can hear the bones crack. Yade releases her immediately and takes a step back without taking her eyes of the female.

"Little One, please calm down." I hear Evander say as I keep my eyes on Yade, but she just growls at his words and I hear Gray mutter "Fuck" as he steps next to me. "She won't listen to any of us. That female better apologize or she will end up six feet under." Gray informs us through the mind-link.

Yade keeps snarling and snapping at the female, but the female keeps looking at her rather defiantly and I fear this might end very ugly for someone. "Yade, listen to me." Kane says. "I will never want another female. You are all Mylo and I need or want; we love you and that will never change."

He takes a step forward as Mylo approaches in his Lycan form and Yade takes a step further back from the female, but not far enough for the female to escape. "You better apologize to my Daughter or I will tell her what you tried to do to her baby Brother." Ma growls out of nowhere.

Mylo is standing next to Yade and tries to coax her to step back even further, but she pushes back every time he tries to push her further away from the female. More Pack-members have gathered around us and by now the entire Pack will know what is going on.

Kane keeps looking at Yade in the hope he can stop her if she decides to attack the female, not because he wants to protect the female but he wants to keep his Mate from getting into trouble. No one is interfering as Kane and Mylo try to persuade Yade to give this up, but so far she is not backing down.

I hear gasps coming from the crowd as I see Jasper approaching and I know he wants to calm down his Sister. The female mumbles an apology and for a moment I hope it will do the trick, but it only results in Yade roaring at her again.

"Little One, please calm down. Yade, calm down." Kane says as he takes another step towards her and he reaches out with his hand to touch her head. Yade pushes her head against his hand and she slowly takes a step towards Kane as Mylo moves with her.

They don't try to push her away from the female, they try to move themselves between Yade and the female and after a few more tries they finally succeed. Yade is more focused on us than she is on the female and Gray takes the opportunity to explain to the female she is lucky Yade didn't kill her.

I get handed a pair of sweat shorts and a floral dress, I hold to dress in front of Mylo and Yade gently shoves me aside as she places her head under his head. I walk towards some bushes and Yade follows me with Mylo right behind her, pressing his snout between her legs.

Yade doesn't think twice about it as she high tails it out of there with Mylo in pursuit and Kane takes over control to run after them, it doesn't take long before they reach a clearing. I pull up a block to let the three of them have some fun in private and take some time for myself.

"Conri, wake up. Baby, you're too heavy." I hear near my ear and I slowly open my eyes to see that Umayza is crushed between me and Evander. She is laying on his chest and I am laying half on her back; I don't want to lose contact with her body so I slowly pull her with me and I keep her close to me as I get comfortable again.

"Conri, Kane is a very naughty Lycan." She says and I wonder what the hell she is talking about, "You and Evander put a block up, but she didn't and Mylo and I enjoyed that a lot." Kane replies and my cock hardens as I think of what she might have seen.

"What did that Lycan of mine do, Little One?" I ask her as I push my rock-hard cock against her back and I see Evander looking at me in surprise. When she tells us what our Lycans did we both groan at the same time and I have to restrain myself from taking her here out in the open.

I slide my hand between her legs to find her pussy soaking wet and I roll on my back with her on my chest as I slide my cock inside her, I know how I want to take her and one look at Evander is enough to know he gets my drift. Evander places himself between our legs and presses his thumb down on her clit.

She soon gets lost in our ministrations, in the feeling of our hands touching her body and Evander places his cock at her entrance. He locks eyes with her and slowly he starts to push his cock inside her, we both still once we are both balls deep inside her.

I pull out of her core as Evander keeps his cock deep inside her and as I push back in he starts to pull out, soon we are pumping in and out of her body at a steady pace. My hands are kneading her breasts, pinching her nipples from time to time and Evander is torturing her little bud.

"Please..." She whispers as we pick up the pace and start moving faster in and out of her, the moment she moans "Harder" Evander and I lose the grip on our restraint and we can no longer alternate our movements as we thrust harder into her pussy.

"Fuck, Little One. I am going..." Evander stops talking as we both push into her as deep as we can go and we bite down on our marks to make her come hard on our cocks, while our cum shoots into her womb. I suck on my mark to cause another orgasm from her and as it slowly ebbs away Evander sucks on his mark, her orgasms milk our cocks dry.

Evander slowly pulls out of her, making her whimper as she loses contact with him and I turn us both on our side so she can snuggle into his side. It only takes a few moments before her breathing evens out; she is fast asleep in between her Mates and it is a place I will always demand her to sleep.

After a few minutes Evander gets up to disappear into the bushes, he returns wearing a sweat shorts while he holds another in one hand and a comfy looking blanket in the other hand. He places the blanket around our Mate and after he lifts her into his arms I pull the shorts on, after which we head back to the Pack-house.

Evander gently puts her on the bed as I make my way into the bathroom and Kane flashes me images of earlier that evening, making my cock come back to life. I turn on the shower to get it to the right temperature before I head back into the bedroom, only to see Evander in the same predicament.

Umayza slowly opens her eyes as she says, "Your Lycans keep being naughty, they are giving me a horny Wolf." We can smell the scent of her arousal and Evander grabs her hips to lift her on his lap. I let them know that the shower is running and I see a very naughty grin appear on Umayza's face.

"You like the sound of that, Little One." I say as I lift her from Evander's lap, he gets of the bed to rid himself of the shorts and the three of us make our way into the bathroom. It takes a long time before we are done under the shower, because every time we are about to shut of the water a Lycan or a Wolf shows images of earlier that evening.

Umayza is the one to tell our Lycans and her Wolf to cut it out, "I can sleep standing up straight and I will if you guys don't stop this." She whines as she can barely stand on her own two feet from exhaustion and it seems they finally understand that she can take no more.

Before I am done drying her off her breathing evens out and Evander has to help me keep her up straight. We snuggle her between us and slowly we drift off to sleep.
