

Chapter 96 Research

Princess Taliyah

My head is spinning with all the questions I have about Umayza's gift, I had read about Night Shade Pack and asked Boaz a few questions. He answered them all but I got the feeling he was not telling me everything he knew and know I understand why he was careful with what he shared with me.

Umayza is Wenonah's Niece and Calliope is Wenonah's Aunt, which makes me wonder if anyone has realized that only one female can give birth to the next female with the gift. Ward pulls me from my thoughts as he puts his hand on my knee, "What are you thinking about?" He asks.

I tell my Mates what had been running through my mind and that I could use their help to find some answers, they know I am going to find answers with or without their help. They will help me go through my Mom's library for two reasons, they want to find those answer and they love spending time with me.

It had been an issue we dealt with in the first few weeks after I started my studies and we have come to a solution we can all live with. My time with Boaz is just for me, but my homework or reading assignments I do with at least one of my Mates present and that is working really well for us.

Most of the time I do my reading or homework in my Mom's office in her Quarters, but sometimes I go with them to Alaric's office when they have work to do that can not wait. It has caused some uptight idiots to cause a scene in front of their King as they didn't find it becoming a Royal to sit in her Mate's lap.

It took only two of those incidents to occur for everyone to find out that Alaric was very protective of me and both males had been warned to never act like that again or Alaric would throw them in the dungeons for a very long time. I believe he even said he might lose the key to their cell on purpose.

Eamon asks me which books I need and after I tell him the titles he takes of to our library, this used to be my Mom's Quarters when she was still living at home. We have been living here ever since Talon, Roger, Ayden and Eva were arrested and it starts to become ours more and more.

Ward asks Layna to make us some snacks and refreshments and he doesn't have to tell her why, she knows what I need when I am in search of answers. She has been looking after us ever since we moved in here, just like she did with my Mom and I hope she will look after our Pups one day.

Ward and Malachay are seated on either side of me when Eamon walks in with the books I asked him to get and after giving each of us a book he sits down on the floor in front of me. I love the way they know what I want or need without me having to ask for it.

Half an hour later Ward tells me he found something on Night Shade Pack, "It was after the war with Humans that an Alpha discovered his Luna's ability, they were chosen Mates and both wanted more power and money. They figured out that she could read memories that happened within a week.

They created an Elite Warrior team to protect her, but it wasn't until after her Sister's Pup turned twelve that they realized that the girl possessed the same ability. Luckily for them the girl was as power hungry as them and they convinced her Sister to move to their Pack with her Daughter." He reads from his book.

At least now we know when this Pack was formed and with what intentions it was formed. How someone can be that shallow at the age of twelve is beyond me, but for them it was a good thing as it was the start of their empire. I am going through the book on abilities and I hope to get some answers to what Umayza is capable of.

There are so many abilities out there and I even find information on my own abilities, I mark the pages to read them at a later date. Today I want to learn about the gift of perception, I even come across a chapter on the Moon Valley bloodline and I am nearing the end of the book before I finally find the ability I am looking for.

The chapter starts with an explanation on the ability, but I already am aware of that as Umayza explained it to us. When I start reading the rest of the chapter I am amazed the more I read, depending on the strength of the female the ability is more powerful.

In most cases a female can read an area going back a week, which for most is more than enough. There are names of Night Shade members with behind their names the estimated time they can read an area, there are a handful that could read an area going back a month and in two cases it was a year.

"Did anyone of you hear how far back Umayza can read a memory?" I ask, but none of my Mates has the answer and I call Armas to get an answer to my question. "Umayza told us she was able to read a memory once that was nearly ten years old, she always thought she had gotten to Bright Moon Pack when she was about a year old.

She had been training her ability for a long time when a memory from their hallway hit her and that is when she found out she moved to the Pack when she was a few weeks old. Gray had been surprised when she confronted him with it, but he told her if anyone had asked her they would never be able to link her to her family.

Gray had told her what had happened to him and her Mother when she was born and she understood his little lie." Armas explains to us. Eamon tells us his book contains reports from Packs and families that got hurt by the information Night Shade Pack uncovered, most of them having one or more fatalities.

Malachay has found information on a female from Umayza's family that tried to break free from her family's way of living, but before she could make it to safety her Mate had found her and no one has heard from her again. All the report states is that she contacted the Council that she wanted out and that she was less than three hours away.

Finlay and Boaz searched for her when she didn't show up, but all they found was footage of someone dragging her into a vehicle. There was no name in the report, no information she might have given them and knowing how well protected the Pack is they never found out who the female was.

It is a report from over a hundred years ago, so she could be Calliope's Mother or maybe her Grandmother. I doubt we will ever find an answer to that unless Umayza can read an area that far back. I am glad she is on our side, she will be able to give me answers and I hope some closure to Ayden.

A shiver runs down my spine thinking about his Mate and what my so-called Father might have done to her, to every member of White Horn Pack.

Wenonah

My first reaction to Mom's admission was to tear her apart, but my Wolf told me to think about it before I would react and I had stared at her for a few moments. "If Baylinn gave birth to the next female with the gift you don't have to go through that. It means no more Mates that can annoy the hell out of us." She says.

My Wolf is right, I no longer have to deal with Mates. I never wanted Pups, but knowing that we needed an extra heir with the gift I forced myself to take a Mate. The first one didn't make it through the first twenty four hours, number two lasted less than a month and number three didn't make it past a year.

My Mates all made the same mistake, they thought they could tell me what I had to do or how to behave. They thought they were the boss in our relationship, but there is only one boss in any relationship I have and that is me.

I don't care what someone thinks of me and no one tells me what to do, except of course for Mom. Somehow she always seems to know what I need or want and for that reason I asked which of the males I should take. I know Mom is not faithful to Dad and I know he allows her to screw around.

I doubt she knows I have seen her with others on multiple occasions and I really enjoyed watching how she let them use her in anyway they wanted, especially when she is with Malik. The guy has a huge cock and he is as cruel in his fucking as he is in his killing.

Mom has an underground sex-club where males can do whatever the hell they want to a female and I know she found herself a semi steady fuckbuddy there. When Dad found out their sex-life had become wilder and more intense, I doubt Mom knows about the peepholes throughout the Mansion.

My core starts to throb as I think of the way Mom gets used by males and I know I need to get me some cock to satisfy my needs. I link the three males Mom suggested and order them to come to my room. I don't know when Mom wants to start searching for Umayza, but for the time being I get to enjoy some steamy, hot sex.

By the time the men get to my room I am waiting for them on my bed, butt naked and the look in their eyes tells me I will get everything I want.
