

Another World 891

Chapter 891 – Shock That The Undead Brought

At this time, only 40 million out of 100 million Divine Race soldiers were left. The others were buried under the mountain.

Although the Divines were very strong, the weight of a mountain wasn't something they can just neglect. Those Divines buried were more unlucky than lucky.

Even if those left were already surrounded, Zhao Hai didn't order the Undead to attack. He discovered that those who were left had already lost their will to resist. In this case, there's no point in killing them.

Sure enough, Zhao Hai's thought was correct. Except for a few people, the Divines who were being surrounded had fear plastered on their faces.

At this time, Zhao Hai had his ship go towards the Divines. He looked at them and said, "Put down your weapons. I'll send you to another place, you'll be living there from now on. Those who resist will die!"

The Divines gawked when they heard Zhao Hai. They looked at each other, they didn't know what to do. Then, one person dropped his weapon, then another one followed, then another. It didn't take too long before all the Divines had disarmed themselves.

Zhao Hai looked at the Divines before opening a spatial rift. After the huge rift appeared in the air, Zhao Hai said, "Go in." When the Divines let go of their weapons, they also let go of their dignity and pride. They didn't resist and just accepted their fate as they flew towards the spatial rift.

Naturally, there were some who decided to rebel. However, even before they made a move, the undead were already on the move. Due to them being disarmed, they were too easy to capture.

After most of the Divines had entered the spatial rift, Zhao Hai turned his attention to the collapsed base. He waved his hand as a black gas surrounded the mountain.

The black gas got thicker and thicker. In the end, the entire mountain was covered in the black gas. After completing this, Zhao Hai shifted his gaze towards the vassal soldiers in the distance.

When the mountain base collapsed and the debris went flying everywhere, the vassal soldiers scattered when they fled. Now, they slowly gathered and reformed themselves.

At this time, Bingya and the others went to the Hell King's ship and bowed, "We have seen Mister Zhao Hai."

Zhao Hai looked at them and nodded. "You've done well. Hahaha. However, you need to tell the vassal soldiers to leave here as soon as possible. I believe the seven Supreme Elders would be here soon."

When Bingya heard this, he paused for a moment before his expression changed, "Mister, I will immediately tell them to leave." Then he quickly flew towards the vassal races.

Zhao Hai turned his head to look at Laura and smile, "While they are leaving, we'll go there for a while." While he was talking, Zhao Hai pointed towards the black fog.

Laura smiled faintly and said, "Alright, let's go." After that, Zhao Hai commanded the Hell King's ship to enter the black fog and they stayed there.

If other people could see the situation inside the Dark Mist, then they would certainly be surprised. From the collapsed mountains, Divine Race soldiers crawled one by one out of the debris. But this time, all of them had been turned into undead.

The reason why Zhao Hai wanted to cover the mountain with his magic was to turn those who died into undead. This way, his number of undead would be boosted even further.

After Zhao Hai entered the Dark Mist, he immediately opened the monitor to look at the Supreme Elders. At this point, the Supreme Elders had ugly expressions as they flew towards the Taurus Continent. They were already aware that they had been played by Zhao Hai.

After two hours, the Supreme Elders had entered the Taurus Continent, only to see that their base had been covered by a dark mist.

When the group saw this situation, their expressions couldn't help but turn ugly. After some time, Elder Star said, "It looks like we're late."

The anger in Gold Ben's Eyes were quite evident. With burning eyes, he said, "This is Zhao Hai's black magic. He's too ruthless."

Elder Star turned his head to the others and said, "Let's go and take a look. We'll see what Zhao Hai plans to do this time. Be careful, don't go too far from each other. If Zhao Hai is inside the dark mist while we're separated, we won't be able to react to his attack."

The group nodded. At this point, they feel dread upon thinking of Zhao Hai's strength. Because of this, the group didn't separate as they entered the dark mist.

They were peak experts of the Divine Race, their Divine Sense were very powerful. However, they discovered that their divine sense had been limited inside this dark mist.

In the past, Zhao Hai's dark mist wouldn't have been able to do this. But after absorbing some of the Underworld's dark mist, Zhao Hai's own dark mist was able to evolve, gaining the ability to block divine sense.

This was the first time that the Divines had experience this. They had encountered things that can block divine sense, like domain weapons and magic formations. But things like this dark mist was unique.

This was the base that Gold Ben and the others had constructed, so they were quite familiar to its structure. Because of this, they felt that they would be able to leave this base to deal with Zhao Hai. Even if it was attacked by ultimate weapons, it could still hold some ground and buy time for the elders to come back.

However, they didn't expect Zhao Hai to attack their base in a barbaric manner. In the end, the base was actually destroyed by him.

It didn't take too long before Gold Ben and the others came upon their base. In fact, it couldn't be called a base anymore. This was because the entire thing was in ruins, and was just a pile of debris.

Gold Ben and the others stared blankly at the base. To be honest, upon entering the Dark Mist, they already expected their base to be destroyed. However, they didn't think that it would be ruined to this state. It was thoroughly scrapped.

At this time, Gold Ben suddenly saw a piece of rock moving. Gold Ben rushed to the area to investigate. Under Gold Ben's eyes, the huge rock turned to the side, revealing a person underneath.

After seeing this person, Gold Ben couldn't help but stare. He knew this person from what he wore. Just from the armor, Gold Ben knew that it was a Divine Race soldier. However, the armor wasn't the one that attracted his attention, it was the weapons that this person had.

The Divine Race soldier had two weapons stuck in its body. One was a two-handed sword and the other was a spear. The spear was inserted on the person's shoulder while the sword was stabbed into his lower abdomen. It can be said that the two points were extremely fatal.

While Gold Ben was looking at the person, the person also turned to look at Gold Ben's eyes. The eyes had no expression, it was the same as the eyes of a dead fish. Then that person moved and slowly took out the weapons stuck to his body. The withdrawal of both the sword and the spear would give a person a very terrible feeling. The sound of friction between the person's bones and the weapons was actually terrifying to hear.

After taking the two weapons out, the person looked at Gold Ben once again before he turned around and went deeper into the dark mist. In the entire process, no person uttered even a single word. Gold Ben and the others were too shocked to say anything.

Once the person flew away, Gold Ben let out a long breath. Those who were with him had difficult expressions. They knew that the person was no longer living, he had been turned into an undead.

Elder Star coldly snorted and said, "Good, Zhao Hai, good. You actually dared to turn my race's soldiers into undead. Unforgivable!"

On the other hand, Gold Ben smiled bitterly. He was the first among them to fight with Zhao Hai. Moreover, the Taurus Divines and Zhao Hai hadn't fought for a day or two, so Gold Ben knew something about Zhao Hai's capabilities. Zhao Hai's strongest subordinates were the undead. And most of the undead were from the Divine Race. Because of this, Gold Ben wasn't too bothered about the Divines being turned into undead.

At this time, Jie Yu's voice was heard, "The undead went in that direction. Perhaps Zhao Hai is there, let's go take a look."

Elder Star looked at the other elders before he shook his head, "This place has been covered by the dark mist. It's not good for us if we fight here. We should head out first and then have light magic scatter the dark mist bit by bit. When the time comes, it wouldn't be too late to deal with Zhao Hai. Our divine sense is limited here and Zhao Hai is a divergent ability user. We have very small chances of success at this time."

Upon hearing this, the group nodded, then they proceeded to leave the dark mist. Once they were outside, they immediately casted light magic towards the dark mist.

But to their surprise, once the light magic reached the dark mist, the mist actually scattered. Before long, the mountain was revealed. The only thing was left there was the remains of a destroyed mountain. There was no Hell King's ship, there weren't even any dead bodies!

Chapter 892 – Elder Star's Resolve

The expression on Elder Star and the others' faces were quite ugly. When they departed, the base was still in good condition. It has only been a few hours since they left.

They thought that with the soldiers they left here, the base should be able to hold on for several hours. But this time, the base had been destroyed, everyone had disappeared. From the undead that they saw, they already had a faint idea about what happened to the soldiers.

Their faces were ugly not just because of the base being destroyed. They were also quite bothered about Zhao Hai's strength.

The base had 100 million troops defending it. If they were turned into undead by Zhao Hai, Zhao Hai's undead would have a huge boost in numbers.

At this time, Elder Star turned to look at the camp of the vassal soldiers. Although the camp was also destroyed, the state of its destruction wasn't that serious. In fact, the destruction was purely because of the debris from the mountain. There were no traces of battle.

Elder Star and the others noticed Jie Yu's gaze and also turned their heads towards the vassal races' camp. When they saw the camp, their faces couldn't help but turn uglier.

With clenched jaws, Gold Ben said, "Those fellows really knows how to fight us. They actually endured all this time. The base's destruction surely had something to do with them."

However, Jie Yu shook his head and said, "Not necessarily. The destruction might not have anything to do with them. Don't forget, we've pinched them from getting grain all this time. They would need to hunt and forage for food, they're famished. Moreover, we didn't let them assist in making our base. They are simply clueless about its structure. In this case, although it is possible that they had sided with Zhao Hai, I think Zhao Hai didn't need their help. It's more probable that Zhao Hai took them when he vanished."

Elder Star nodded, "Correct. With Zhao Hai's strength, he wouldn't need those guys' help. He alone is able to destroy the base.'

Gold Ben didn't say anything. He understood that what Jie Yu and Elder Star said was correct. His earlier words were merely caused by his hatred. Gold Ben calmed himself down before turning his head to Elder Star and Jie Yu, "Who do we do now?"

Elder Star's eyes flashed a cold light, "We can't just eat this loss without retaliating. We aren't familiar with Zhao Hai, so we can't catch him easily. On the other hand, the vassal races have relationships with the foreign races. We'll target the foreign races. If we do that, Zhao Hai would surely come and look for us. This is much better than looking for him ourselves."

Gold Ben and Jie Yu's face lit up. Although they were also Supreme Elders, their position wasn't as high as Elder Star. And even if Elder Star's weapon wasn't the strongest one, his wisdom was much better than the others. Moreover, Star's ultimate weapon can coordinate other ultimate weapons. This meant that Elder Star was the center point of all the Supreme Elders.

Gold Ben's eyes coldly sparkled as he said, "Right, those foreign race bastards had been a headache for a long time. It's about time we clean them up. We can use this opportunity to deal with them in one go."

Jie Yu and the others didn't say anything, but their eyes also had a cold glint. In fact, they had long wanted to deal with the foreign races. However, dealing with the foreign races was not easy. The foreign races were also quite strong. They also had three ultimate weapons. Another point was the fact that the Divines weren't motivated to deal with the foreign races. At any crucial point, someone would always withdraw. Because of this, the foreign races were able to survive up to this point.

However, the situation this time was different. In the past, when they were in the attacking side, they could hit whenever they wanted to hit and withdraw whenever they can. The foreign races simply don't have any way to fight back.

Now, the one being threatened were the Divines. If the Divines don't fight, then they would risk extermination. With them being in dire straits, the entire Divine Race should unite.

The reason why the Divines couldn't unite in the past was because they had different interests. In the previous wars against the foreign races, one Divine race group would fight while the other would be holding back. This would result in one party losing less than the other. In the end, the Divines wouldn't be able to go on to finish the fight, their alliance would break.

This time, the situation had reached to the point of being a threat to the entire Divine Race. If they don't make an effort, then they would be collectively defeated by Zhao Hai. Because of this, nobody refuted Gold Ben's proposal. Although Gold Ben was practically alone right now, with the Taurus Continent being cleaned out, Gold Ben was still an ultimate weapon user. He still had the capital to talk.

Elder Star's voice was heard, "We can't be in the Taurus Continent at this time. Let's return to our continents and immediately prepare our soldiers. Make it clear that this involves the life and death of the entire Divine Race. Make them know that this isn't the time to scheme against one another."

The group nodded. Although they were Supreme Elders of their continents, the leaders of the continents were still the respective patriarchs. Supreme Elders couldn't just command the Patriarchs for no reason. Otherwise, the Patriarchs would rebel. Because of this, the Supreme Elders still needed to converse with the Patriarchs.

Naturally, the Supreme Elders still had a high status among the Divine Race. Moreover, most of them came from the Royal Clans. Because of this, their clans typically agree to their decision. But still, it was better to discuss this matter with their respective clans.

Elder Star looked at Gold Ben and said, "Elder Gold Ben, you return with me to the Central Continent. You've been wounded for some time. You need to be cured. We have to be in our peak condition so that we can defeat Zhao Hai."

Gold Ben nodded. After that, Elder Star looked at that Taurus Continent and said, "In the future, we will reclaim this place. Not only would we reclaim it, we will get our hands on the Ark Continent as well."

After saying this, he turned around and left. The other Elders also followed behind as they went out of the Taurus Continent. Actually, their action wasn't expected by Zhao Hai. Zhao Hai was looking at them using the monitor. While they were there, they didn't use any concealing formations. Because of this, Zhao hai can hear their conversation clearly. Zhao Hai didn't expect Elder Star to be decisive and leave immediately.

Zhao Hai just calmly looked at Elder Star and the others leaving, he didn't plan to stop them. Larua, who stood by Zhao Hai's side, said, "Brother Hai, it seems like that Elder Star wouldn't be easy to deal with. He's different from the other Divines. He's arrogant but not to the point of losing his calm. Now they're targeting the foreign races, should we tell Bingya and the others?"

Zhao Hai nodded and said, "Right, this guy is good. Especially the ultimate weapon in his hand. If we can get his ultimate weapon, then we can combine the weapons we get. When that time comes, our power level would surely improve. We can even try to see if we can combine it with the Hell King's ship. If it can, then that would be great."

Laura smiled and said, "Certainly. Brother Hai, since we're not short on money, how about we try to improve those domain weapons and then give them to Blockhead ,Rockhead, and the others. They have no talent for magic formations. So they might as well go out and follow you. This way, you won't need to deal with things by yourself. Wouldn't that be better?"

Zhao Hai thought about it for a moment and then said, "That's reasonable. Let's try that. However, now's not the time. After we produce the first batch of combat suits, then that would be the right time to provide them with weapons."

Laura smiled and said, "Alright. Then Brother Hai, let's go tell Bingya and the others about the Divine Race's plan. We can't have them lose too much. Otherwise, the foreign races might come to hate us."

Zhao Hai nodded, then he turned his head to Cai'er and said, "Cai'er, how are the O'neal family doing?"

Cai'er smiled faintly and said, "Young Master, feel relieved. The O'neal family didn't do any significant actions. They were focused on sending their battleship to support the Aksu Empire. However, their squads on the south were bound to find out about the Demon Realm's spatial rift. What do we do then?"

Zhao Hai smiled and said, "Then just let them go in. Don't forget, the Demon Realm isn't like any other plane. The air of the Demon Realm is poisonous. I want to see if their magic armors could block the plane's poison. If they could, then that would be great."

Zhao Hai already regarded the magic armors to be his. Because of this, the more capabilities the magic armor had, the happier he became.

Chapter 893 – Way Out For the Vassal Soldiers

Bingya, along with the vassal soldiers, went deeper into the Taurus Continent and settled inside a big city. Bingya believed that Zhao Hai would be able to find them, so he wasn't too worried.

Bingya not being anxious didn't mean that the same was true for the vassal soldiers. In the beginning, the vassal soldiers weren't too anxious, but after seeing Zhao Hai's strength, they couldn't calm down. They wanted to meet Zhao Hai and talk to him.

The vassal soldiers wanted to see Zhao Hai because their clans were currently fighting right now. These soldiers were the elites of their clans, without them, their clans would suffer great losses.

After seeing Zhao Hai's capabilities, they wanted to ask Zhao Hai to help them return to their clans so that they can help in fighting against the Divine Race.

Zhao Hai didn't know about the thoughts of these vassal soldiers. His connection with the vassal soldiers had always been through Bingya and the others. Because of this, Zhao Hai haven't paid much attention to them.

This was also Zhao Hai's intention to decentralize his interactions. If he personally went to the vassal races, then Bingya and the others might think that he wanted to pull the vassal races in which may cause some misunderstandings. Therefore, Zhao Hai didn't contact the vassal races and just handed them over to Bingya and the others.

While everyone was still flustered, Zhao Hai's group suddenly appeared in the city. Bingya and the others immediately left whatever they were doing and flew towards the Hell King's ship to see Zhao Hai.

Actually, there weren't a lot of things that Bingya and the others needed to do. After all, they weren't the commanders of these vassal soldiers.

As Bingya headed to the ship, he saw Zhao Hai standing on the bow looking down at the city below. Bingya's heart couldn't help but jump, he came to see Zhao Hai twice without bringing anyone from the vassal races. Was Zhao Hai dissatisfied with this? Upon thinking about it, Bingya couldn't help but feel uneasy.

When Bingya and the others arrived by Zhao Hai's side, they bowed and said, "I've seen Mister Zhao Hai."

Zhao Hai turned his head to look at the three and smiled, "You did a great job. It seems like these people didn't have a hard time. I came to see you today to tell you something. I reckon the Divines would shift their target to the foreign races, you need to warn your families."

When he heard Zhao Hai, Bingya's expression couldn't help but change as he asked, "Mister, are you saying the truth?"

Zhao Hai nodded, "Of course it's true. The Supreme Elders discovered that they couldn't deal with me. Therefore, they decided to shift their sights to the foreign races. They have guessed that we have allied with each other, so they decided to go and deal with you instead. In turn, this would force me to have a decisive battle against them. You need to remind your families so that they could be careful around those fellows."

Bingya's face looked serious as he nodded heavily and said, "Mister, you can rest assured, we will immediately inform the family. Mister, how do you want to deal with the vassal soldiers? We can't just have them stay here all the time."

Zhao Hai frowned before he said, "Their strength isn't something to be underestimated. And now that their people is fighting against the Divine Race, I reckon that they must want to return home. However, it would be unrealistic for me to send them back at this time. How about you send them to your continents. In any case, the war would come to the foreign races. After all, fighting with the foreign races can be regarded as supporting their own clans. I can't take them with me since I plan to attack the Divine Race's continents. While you hold them off, I want to see how they can deal with me."

When Bingya heard Zhao Hai, his heart finally calmed down. He was afraid that Zhao Hai might have misunderstood, and that Bingya was deliberately making Zhao Hai unable to contact the vassal races. Because of this, Bingya was probing Zhao Hai's reaction. If Zhao Hai showed any form of discontent, Bingya would immediately have the vassal soldiers meet him. But now, Zhao Hai seemed to not have any indications of wanting to meet with them. This outcome made Bingya feel relieved.

After Bingya calmed down, he immediately thought about Zhao Hai's proposition. Bingya was a smart person, so he also knew about the ongoing emotion going through the minds of the vassal soldiers. He knew that the vassal soldiers really wanted to go home. But to be honest, it was impossible to send them back right now. Sending them back would just cause them to die, so he never mentioned it during their meetings.

And now that Zhao Hai pointed it out, it seems like there's an alternative way. But can they send the vassal soldiers over to the continents controlled by the foreign races in order to help out? It's true that the vassals and the foreign races were together in this war, but to trust them to fight would be difficult.

Yehta and Ryder haven't spoken. Before the three would meet with Zhao Hai, they would always unify their ideas so that there won't be too much talking. This way, Zhao Hai won't be too annoyed.

Zhao Hai looked at Bingya who didn't reply for some time. He also knew that his proposition was quite difficult for them. The vassal races won't completely listen to Bingya, especially during this time. With how things were going through, the vassal races would also need to consider their future. In the end, this matter would need deep discussion with Bingya and the others.

Zhao Hai looked at Bingya and said, "In the past two attacks, I've managed to gain a lot of grain and military supplies from the Divines. If the vassal soldiers decide to help with the war, I can give all of those supplies over to you. But if they want to go back to their clans, then I won't stop them and even give them food. However, I can only give them enough just to survive, I can't just give everything to them."

When Bingya heard this, his eyes shone. Zhao Hai said this to remind him that they can use the provisions to gain some ground in the discussion.

Bingya bowed to Zhao Hai and said, "Mister, I will handle this matter properly. Please rest assured."

Zhao Hai nodded and said, "Alright, I'll leave these to you. Right, don't forget to remind your people about the future attack from the Divines. Moreover, tell them that the Divines would send several Supreme Elders."

Bingya nodded before disembarking from the ship along with Ryder and Yehta. When they left, Zhao Hai turned around and entered the ship before opening the monitor. The monitor was currently showing the state of the O'Neal family's scouts. There were three war tanks and 50 magic armors outside the Demon Realm's spatial rift.

One must know that the magic armors were manned by powerful people. Therefore, their range for scouting was very broad. And with how their magic armors were strong, it's not strange that they would find out about the Demon Realm's spatial rift.

In fact, their discovery of the spatial rift was several days earlier than what Zhao Hai expected. Zhao Hai thought that they would stay in the Accra Mountains for some time. After all, a long defensive line like the mountains was something rarely seen. Moreover, there were traces of battle on the mountain, so Zhao Hai expected the O'Neal family to stay there for a few days.

However, Zhao Hai miscalculated the ability of the magic armors. Although they had scouted the Accra Mountains, they didn't stay there for as long as Zhao Hai thought. Additionally, since there were no magic beasts on the mountain, the O'Neal family scouts didn't stay for long and just went straight to the Buddha Empire.

The same was to say for the Buddha Empire. There were a lot of cities with traces of fighting so they did delay the scouts. However, the scouts were also quick to discover the spatial rift right by the empire.

The Demon Realm's spatial rift was very big, so it can be spotted very easily. Therefore, the O'Neal family were able to see the spatial rift.

Fortunately, there weren't a lot of scouts sent to the south by the O'Neal family. Otherwise, the spatial rift to the Divine Realm would also be discovered. At this point, Zhao Hai was hesitant on what to do if the O'Neal family were to find the spatial rift. Should he resist, or should he just allow the O'Neal family in?

If he resists, then he would be at war with the O'Neal family. This would allow him to acquire magic armors earlier. At the same time, they could also turn the Taurus Continent into their base, allowing Zhao Hai more flexibility in dealing with the Divines in the future. This was good for Zhao Hai.

On the other hand, if Zhao Hai allowed the O'Neal family to enter the Divine Realm, then Zhao Hai might be able to use the O'Neal family to scare the Barbarians, Winged Pegasus, and Thunder Clan. At this time, the three clans were heavily injured. If they came to know about a new enemy, then they might consider getting an escape plan. When the time comes, Zhao Hai can push forward and convince them to enter the Space.

However, the second method might result in a backlash. The Thunder Clan, Barbarians, and the Winged Pegasus had always been yearning to be free from the Divine Race. They had prepared for many years, and even ingratiate themselves to the Divines when the time for war has yet to come. Not many races had this much courage.

If Zhao Hai didn't resist the O'Neal family and just allowed them to come into the Taurus Continent, it was highly probable that the three clans would be in conflict with the new invaders. However, the three clans knew about Zhao Hai's strength. When the time comes, they might suspect that Zhao Hai deliberately allowed the O'Neal family into the Taurus Continent. If Zhao Hai introduces his Space at this time, then the clans would immediately think that Zhao Hai was plotting against them, maybe even before he entered the Taurus Continent. In that case, it would be impossible for the three clans to enter Zhao Hai's Space.

With such considerations, Zhao Hai was left to decide what to do. He didn't know whether to resist or just allow the O'Neal family in.

Zhao Hai never treats other people as fools. He would rather think that they were smarter than him. That way, he would make fewer mistakes.

Moreover, Zhao Hai completely understood the three clans. He knew that the three clans weren't stupid. They were only worried about themselves, that's why they decided to cooperate with Zhao Hai. And even before the battle started, they managed to hide their intent for a long time. This feat would be impossible if the three clans were fools.

Also, Zhao Hai didn't want to fool them. After all, Zhao Hai wasn't cruel nor did he want deaths. Although he wanted to bring the three clans into the Space, he also didn't want the three clans to lose too much people. The losses to the three clans were heavy and Zhao Hai didn't want to further damage them. He was currently thinking about the solidarity of their alliance.

Zhao Hai knew about the saying, 'Help a man once to gain grace, but help a man too much and one would gain hatred.' Zhao Hai had helped the three clans before, so the three clans should be grateful to Zhao Hai. But if Zhao Hai were to deal with everything by himself and save the Taurus Continent on his own, then the help he would give to the three clans would be too much. In this case, the three clans might dread him. This wasn't something that Zhao Hai wanted to see.

Because of this, Zhao Hai wanted to look for means to satisfy everyone. He needed the means to make the three clans enter the Space without suspecting him. And this goal wasn't easy to accomplish.

However, this matter would need to be postponed for the future. Now, Zhao Hai needed to pay attention to the scout troops by the Demon Realm's spatial rift. He wanted to see what the scout troop decides to do.

To be honest, the performance made by Theo and the other people from the O'Neal family surprised Zhao Hai. Their actions were remarkable, very well executed. Zhao Hai wanted to see if this squad was the same.

If this squad were as competent as Theo and the others, then Zhao Hai would gain an estimate on the strength of the O'Neal family.

People who haven't been to the battlefield wouldn't be great at being scouts. Even if they were strictly trained, they still needed real experience to be effective. There was a huge difference in atmosphere between training and true battle.

If the two scouting troops of the O'Neal family were doing well, then it meant that the O'Neal family has experienced many battles and had a lot of well-trained veterans. Such a group is very dangerous. Zhao Hai might need to increase his estimated strength of the O'Neal family by fifty percent.

In fact, the difference between recruits and veterans was at least thirty percent. But considering that the O'Neal family had magic armors, Zhao Hai made the conclusion that the O'Neal Family wasn't a presence that he could just ignore. They were people Zhao Hai needed to take carefully into account.

Chapter 894 – What I Would Settle On In The Future

Penny was looking at a spatial rift in the distance. This was an incomparably huge spatial rift, much larger than the one that connects the Atlanta Plane to the Ark Continent.

This spatial rift was discovered not long ago by a magic armor pilot who was under his command. He didn't expect to find anything here, but who would've thought that a huge spatial rift like this would exist.

Upon seeing this spatial rift Penny was shocked. This was the first time that he had seen a rift as big as this one. But then, his heart started to move, this was because nobody can be seen around this rift.

However, Penny was also a very careful person. After looking at the spatial rift, he turned to the person standing beside him and said, "Don, find five people and go inside the rift to see what's inside."

Don immediately nodded before turning around to leave. Before long, five magic armors got into the air and flew into the rift.

Penny looked at the magic armors while also preparing his other men. The others were inside their magic armors, ready to move at moment's notice.

After a few moments, the five magic armors were flying out of the rift at a very fast speed. This caused Penny to be alarmed, he immediately had his magic armor pilots be in alert while the war tanks aimed their cannons towards the rift. However, contrary to what Penny expected, nothing else came out of that spatial rift. After the five magic armors came out, the rift remained peaceful.

Just as Penny was confused, the pilots of the five magic armors jumped down. However, the looks of the pilots were strange. Penny immediately ran towards Don, whose face was a little black. Don looked at Penny and said, "Antidote, quick!"

Penny gawked for a moment before he rushed towards the war tank and took some antidotes that were specially compounded by the O'neal family.

Penny took the cap from the bottle before pouring the antidote down Don's mouth. After Don swallowed the liquid, he took a long breath before he closed his eyes. A while later, Don opened his eyes and said, "Goodness, that was very dangerous."

Penny looked at Don and asked, "What happened? How did you get poisoned after entering the rift?"

Don smiled bitterly and said, "It's too dangerous. On the other side of that spatial rift is a dark red world, even the sun is dark red. However, I didn't expect the air to be toxic. If it wasn't for Chik's toxin detector blaring up, we wouldn't have retreated."

Penny looked at the others and then immediately fed them with antidotes. After the others were restored, Penny went towards a man who looked honest and was about 27 to 28 years old, "Chik, is it really poisonous inside that spatial rift?" Chik nodded and said, "it is. I've always had a detector with me to keep me safe whenever I enter a forbidden area. This time, I didn't expect my detector to issue a warning. We didn't touch anything there, so the only explanation for this is the air being poisonous." Penny nodded and frowned. It's impossible to leave this spatial rift unexplored. But it's also inappropriate for them to scout it at this time.

The reason why Penny thought of this was because the existence of this poisonous air didn't mean that the place was uninhabited. Instead, this meant that this place would have more formidable magic beasts.

There were also a lot of special areas in the Atlanta Plane, and some of them had poisonous environments. In these environments, if a magic beast managed to survive, then this meant that the magic beast was formidable and was extremely difficult to deal with.

And now there's this spatial rift with a poisonous environment on the other side. This wasn't good news for Penny. If they couldn't scout this place out, then they would eternally be worrying about a hidden danger.

However, what made Penny worry the most was the existence of an extremely huge city not far from the spatial rift. This city can accommodate several tens of millions of people. But now, this city became uninhabited. Upon further observation, one could see that this city wasn't fully fortified. It looks broken, but not because of disrepair, it was because its construction was abandoned.

A city of this scale would surely be a major project in the continent. But now, it was actually abandoned. This made no sense. In this case, there's only one explanation. They encountered something that forced them to abandon this city!

Upon thinking about this, Penny couldn't help but frown. The city had a different architectural style compared to those in the Ark continent. Moreover, its establishment near the spatial rift was too conspicuous to be a coincidence. One could see upon careful observation that the city was made for the spatial rift. In other words, this city was made by the people who lived on the other side of the rift.

At this time, a voice came from Penny's side, "Penny, what do we do now?"

Penny looked at the spatial rift and said, "No matter what, we need to look into the other side of that spatial rift. Prepare shields and bring antidotes before going in." Don nodded before he turned around and left. Don knew that Penny's decision was right. However, he was still worried whether the shields could protect them against the poison. At the same time, this also meant that the consumption of energy would be greatly increased. A 10 thousand meter distance without shields would take the same energy as a 70 thousand meter distance with shields.

The energy consumption of the shields was huge. However, Don still supported this decision. If they cannot clarify what's inside the spatial rift, then they won't be able to feel at ease.

Zhao Hai was inside his room while looking at their movement. When he heard that the scouts would use their shields as they entered the rift, he couldn't help but nod. Then he turned to Laura and said, "These guys are very competent. The O'Neal family truly isn't an ordinary group. They have a lot of experienced veterans, they wouldn't be easy to deal with." Laura nodded, then she said, "Brother Hai, if the O'Neal family comes to the Divine Realm, what do we do? Allow them in? Or do we repel them?" Zhao Hai frowned and answered, "To be honest, I cannot make a decision right now. We need to weigh the advantages and disadvantages."

Laura looked at Zhao Hai and said, "Brother Hai, what do you mean?" Zhao Hai forced a smile and said, "What I mean is, I want the Thunder Clan and the others to migrate to the Space. However, that won't be easy. Their temperament aren't that great. If they discover that I had plans for them, then it's possible that they might die rather than entering the Space."

When she heard this, Laura nodded. Then Zhao Hai turned to Lizzy and the others and said, "Do any of you have any ideas?" Lizzy knit her brows and said, "Brother Hai, if it's possible, we can use the same method we used when the Divines came to the Ark Continent. We'll have the Thunder Clan and the others participate in the defense of the spatial rift to have them witness the strength of the O'Neal family. When the time comes, it shouldn't be difficult for you to convince them to migrate to the Space."

Zhao Hai nodded. This wasn't the greatest idea, but it was still very good. Megan also added, "Big Brother Hai, we can also tell the Thunder Clan and the others about the ongoing situation. Maybe it may prove useful." Zhao Hai nodded, "It seems like we can only do it like that. If it doesn't work, then we might have to give up on them. No matter what, we cannot force them like what we did to the Divines."

Laura and the others nodded. At this time, the magic armors entered the rift. The magic armors had their shields on and the pilots also had antidotes with them.

Zhao Hai looked at the monitor and smiled, "Those magic armors are really good. Even their shields are noteworthy. It seems like we'll be able to save a lot of energy in the future."

Laura smiled faintly and before her expression mellowed down, "Brother Hai, those magic armors aren't really that useful for us. Think about it, when the people in the Space grow up, the lowest rank they would have would be 9th rank. Eventually a great number of them would reach God-rank. When they reach God-rank we can just give them combat suits. I think that the magic armors would have little use at that point."

Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, "At present, the magic armors don't have great uses for us. However, we must consider the future. The present magic armors might only have God-rank strength. But what if we develop better magic armors? We might be able to amplify a God-rank's strength by ten or even a hundred times. At that time, wouldn't they be very useful? Moreover, even if the magic armors can't help with our fighting strength, wouldn't they improve our daily lives?"

When Zhao Hai said this, Laura couldn't help but think about the magic armors that helped in making the huge ships. Laura nodded, the magic armors were perfect in large scale construction. If they had those magic armors, they would be able to save a lot of energy and manpower.

Chapter 895 – The Two Sides of the Matter

Megan looked at the monitor and said, "Brother Hai, do we withdraw the undead and iron armor beasts that are mining in the Demon Realm? If we don't, then they would be discovered."

There were plenty of ores in the Demon Realm, of which Zhao Hai were mining using his undead and iron armor beasts. Some of the ores in the Demon Realm could be found on the surface. So although there were some mines that had been dug out, a lot of undead and iron armor beasts were still working on the surface. In this case, it wouldn't take too long before Don and the others discover them. This was the reason why Megan asked.

Zhao Hai chuckled and said, "It's fine. I want to see what kind of reaction they would have after seeing the undead and iron armor beasts. If they turn hostile, then I won't mind having the first batch of magic armor and war tanks be sent to the Space."

When they heard Zhao Hai, Laura and the others can feel his killing intent. Although eliminating this scout squad at this time would possibly attract the attention of the O'Neal family, there were some advantages in doing so.

Currently, the O'Neal family should be focused on the Underworld. If Zhao Hai completely wipes the scouting squad out, then the O'Neal family might get nervous. However, it was certain that they won't just give up on the Ark Continent like that. They would first send another team to the south to see the situation. And that would take at least a few days.

In the past, Zhao Hai was afraid of making a move on the O'Neal family since he didn't want them to flee. Zhao Hai was still planning to gain benefits from the O'Neal family, it wouldn't be good if he were to drive them away.

But now, it seems like Zhao Hai's worries were unnecessary. For the O'Neal family, the Ark Continent was just too precious to give up on.

While Zhao Hai was spying on the family, the O'Neal family patriarch had received additional word from Lewis informing him that the innate yin domain was slowly expanding towards the continent. This caught the O'Neal family in quite a dilemma.

When they first discovered the underworld, the O'Neal family only thought that it was a forbidden area in the continent. As long as they didn't provoke it, then the innate yin domain wouldn't be a threat. But now it seems like this wasn't the case. The innate yin domain found in the Ark Continent was different than the ones in the Atlanta Plane.

The O'Neal family's Patriarch called the generals to his room once more and told them about the information sent by Lewis.

When they heard this information, the generals stared before their expressions changed as they discussed with each other. This was bad news for the O'Neal family.

The expansion of the underworld meant that it would slowly consume the Ark Continent. Although the family had made some arrangements and had sent strong cannons, it would be hard for these cannons to block the expansion of the dark mist.

In the Atlanta Plane, strong cannons would be able to deal with innate yin domains. However, innate yin domains in the Atlanta Plane don't expand. This time, the innate yin domain was able to increase its size. And with its area already so big, the O'Neal family wasn't sure if the strong cannons would be able to deal with it.

If the cannons prove to be useless, then that would be trouble for the O'Neal family. The family had already invested too much in the expedition to the Ark Continent. If the dark mist really makes them retreat, then the damage to the family would be very bad.

The O'Neal Patriarch looked at those present and said, "Calm down." Although his voice wasn't loud, everyone still became quiet. The Patriarch's status in the O'Neal family was very high.

The Patriarch looked at his people and said, "Why are all of you flustered? The dark mist wouldn't cover the continent immediately. It's already reported that the increase wasn't that fast. Moreover, the family's cannons are on the way. When the time comes, it might be possible for us to get rid of the dark mist. What is important right now is our reconnaissance to the south. We know too little about the southern part of the continent. What we need to do is know as much as possible about the Ark Continent. This place has a lot of minerals, and some of them are very much needed by the O'Neal family. It can be said that this continent is a huge treasure chest. We cannot just give up on it. If the situation in the south of the continent is good, then we can develop it for our use. As for the innate yin domain, we can slow it as much as possible while we retreat. Haven't you thought about it? Since the innate yin domain is expanding, it would reach our spatial rift one day. In this case, we might as well take the initiative and look for ways to deal with it."

When everyone heard the Patriarch, they kept being silent. They knew that the Patriarch was right. The innate yin domain wouldn't swallow the Ark Continent immediately. At the same time, the dark mist would still reach the Atlanta Plane's spatial rift whether they retreat or not. They need to deal with it sooner or later.

It was just a danger that was discovered ahead of time. But putting the issue of the Dark Mist aside, the O'Neal family would be able to get a lot of ores and things they need from the Ark Continent. This was already a blessing for them.

When they shifted their thinking to this, the group calmed down. In fact, any matter has two sides, the good and the bad. One could look at the bad side, or one could see it from the good side. Either way, one would see different results.

The Patriarch looked at the group's eyes and said, "Go, send more teams to scout the continent and we'll relocate to the south. Be sure to clear the situation with the southern part of the continent at the shortest time. Go."

The group nodded before they turned and left the room. After they left, the Patriarch let out a long sigh. To be honest, he didn't have any optimistic views of the Ark Continent at this time. The situation of the south was still unclear. And with the north turning up as it was, things were looking bad.

After sighing, the Patriarch gently rubbed his brows. The Ark Continent had become a quagmire that the O'Neal family has been caught in. It would be too late for them to leave at this point. The O'Neal family only has two roads to go; one is to get engulfed by this quagmire, and the other was to rob this quagmire of its gold and happily retreat.

Meanwhile, Don and the others were still clueless about the situation back in the family. They were currently investigating the Demon Realm. But after looking through several cities, they couldn't help but feel strange.

They didn't know that this was the Demon Realm, but they can be assured that this wasn't the Ark Continent either. The spatial crack was already quite a distance away, but the situation here was the same as the Ark Continent. Everyone had moved away, every single settlement was empty.

Moreover, judging by the situation here, the migration was much more recent compared to the Ark Continent. Also, it seems like there were more magic beasts here.

After looking at a few cities, Don and the others withdrew from the Demon Realm. Their magic armors don't have much energy left. If their armor ran out of energy, then they would risk dying here.

This wasn't the Ark Continent. In the Ark Continent, even if their magic armors were to run out of energy, they can still send a signal so that people would be able to meet them. However, in the Demon Realm, if their magic armors ran out of energy, both the magic beasts and the poisonous air would immediately claim their lives.

After seeing Don and the others leaving the Demon Realm, Zhao Hai smiled faintly as he looked at Laura and said, "From the current situation, it seems like the O'Neal family would take quite some time exploring the Demon Realm. We can feel relieved as we deal with the Divine Race."

At this time, Cai'er suddenly said, "Young Master, the O'Neal family just sent out several scout groups towards the south. It seems like they want to know about the situation in the south as soon as possible."

Zhao Hai stared before he shifted his monitor to the Rosen Empire. There were several scouts going southward from the Rosen Empire, moreover, their speed was very quick.

Zhao Hai nodded and said, "It looks like the O'Neal Family wants to understand the situation of the Ark Continent's south in order to make a decision. Leave them be. We'll arrange some people to defend the spatial rift, let's see how they plan to deal with that."

Laura smiled and said, "Brother Hai, why don't we just deal with the O'Neal family? Wouldn't it be better if we clean them up right now?"

Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, "Don't worry, we will take care of them sooner or later. But not now. What we need to do at this time is acquire the Divine Race's ultimate weapons. If we add the O'Neal family, the energy I'll use would be too much. If I ascend without acquiring the Ultimate Weapons, then we would lose so much."

Laura and the others' expression changed. Lizzy immediately asked, "What happened Brother Hai? Is the feeling of rejection getting stronger?"

Zhao Hai couldn't help but bitterly nod. Now, every time he uses energy, he would immediately feel the laws driving him away. This made Zhao Hai feel uncomfortable. However, he didn't have any means to deal with it. The only thing he can do right now was to reduce the instances where he uses his own energy.

Chapter 896 – Blood Red Wine, Graceful Demeanor

While Zhao Hai was observing the O'Neal family, Bingya and the others were persuading the vassal races to head to the continents controlled by the foreign races. Before they met the vassal soldiers, Bingya and the others already prepared themselves to meet with difficulties. However, they didn't expect that the situation would be harder than they expected.

After the vassal soldiers heard Bingya's proposition, they immediately exploded. Even some of the well-tempered ones began to suspect Bingya and the others of twisting the truth in order to have them face the Divines. They thought Bingya wanted to use them as cannon fodder and fight against the Divine Race.

To be honest, it wouldn't be strange for the vassal races to have this idea given their current circumstance. These people were the most faithful dogs of the Divine Race. They only dared to revolt because they had the number advantage against the Divines. If they didn't outnumber the Divine Race, then they would've even helped in quelling the vassal race rebellion.

In the past, they didn't dare to make any noise. But after Bingya's proposition, most of them didn't agree. These people immediately jumped up and ignited. Before long, the situation had become uncontrollable.

If Zhao Hai hadn't given them food, then these people might have made a move against Zhao Hai.

Bingya and the others didn't expect this situation at all. They were still young members of their respective races. Therefore, they didn't have too much experience handling these types of things. Because of this, for a moment, they didn't know what to do.

Bingya was currently sitting inside the room along with Ryder and Yehta. The three people looked distressed. Outside, the vassal soldiers had become noisy, Bingya and the others had completely lost control of them. Moreover, under the provocation of the more powerful vassal members, the vassal soldiers even wanted Zhao Hai to give them all the food to bring home.

If it wasn't for Zhao Hai's leaving a strong impression when dealing with the Divines, the vassal soldiers would have long since went to Zhao Hai and demand for food.

However, Bingya also knew that this passive situation wouldn't last for long. This was because word had spread among the vassal soldiers that Zhao Hai wouldn't dare do anything to them. Zhao Hai wouldn't make move because there were nearly 100 million of them. And nobody was crazy enough to kill 100 million people in one breath.

This word started out small, after all, Zhao Hai's strength has been seen by everyone. However, someone said that Zhao Hai only broke the base and didn't actually kill that many Divines. Most of the Divine Race soldiers who were able to survive has been sent away by Zhao Hai using his Space Divergent ability, they weren't killed. This gave the vassal soldiers confidence. This news became louder and louder in the vassal race camp.

Naturally, Bingya and the others knew that there were such voices among the vassal soldiers. Bingya was fully opposed to the vassal soldiers' movement to ask for food from Zhao Hai because he knew that Zhao Hai wasn't a good person. Slaughtering 100 million people wasn't a problem for Zhao Hai. At this time, Zhao Hai's undead had reached more than 200 million. Expecting a person like that to care about 100 million people would be a naive thought.

But at this point, no vassal soldier would listen to Bingya. Because of this, Bingya couldn't do anything, he could only hide in his room and worry.

Ryder looked at Bingya and said, "Bingya, there's no need to be polite to those guys. I think we should report this to mister, ask him to teach them a lesson."

Bingya looked at Ryder's eyes and smiled bitterly, "I also want to report this to mister, but this is something that Mister entrusted to us. Finally, we already gained this much face with mister. How could we just tell him that we failed?"

When Ryder heard Bingya, he became silent. He also felt that he wouldn't have face to approach Zhao Hai.

At this time, it was Yehta's turn to talk, "I still think that we should report this to Mister. If you let those people meet with mister themselves and Mister didn't know about it, then Mister might be disappointed. We've already failed, we cannot fail a second time."

When Bingya heard what Yehta said, he paused for a moment before his eyes shone, "Right, that's true. We should report this to mister. Otherwise, we would fail mister once more. Let's go see mister right now."

However, Yehta blocked Bingya and said, "You can't go out right now. If you go out, then those people would follow you. When they get there, they would immediately make demands to Mister Zhao Hai. I think you should use the messenger fish. In any case, we've already lost face, we can't lose any more."

Bingya looked at Yehta. He knew that Elves were the ones who cared about face the most. For Yehta to say that today meant that she was already confident in Zhao Hai.

Bingya didn't reply and just nodded. Then he took his messenger fish and said, "Mister, Mister, are you in?"

Zhao Hai was currently thinking about how to deal with the multitude of scouts that the O'Neal family had sent out. Sending these many scouts meant that they would discover the spatial rift to the Divine Realm much sooner. When the time comes, a fight would break out.

Although Zhao Hai said that it would be fine as long as he stationed some soldiers in the rift, this matter wasn't actually that simple. The core problem was the three clans.

Zhao Hai wanted to bring the three races over into the Space. Since he had fought with them, Zhao Hai was sure that if he left, the three clans wouldn't be able to resist the Atlanta Plane and the Underworld.

Because of this, Zhao Hai wanted the three clans to move into the Space and live the same life as the Demons, the people from the Ark Continent, and the Goblins.

But naturally, this wouldn't be easy. The most difficult thing to guess was a person's heart. Zhao Hai was afraid that his good intentions would be misunderstood by the Thunder Clan and the others. And that wouldn't be good.

At this time, Zhao Hai felt his messenger fish move. When he took it out, he heard Bingya's message. He held the messenger fish bottle and said, "Bingya, I'm here. How's the preparation doing?"

When he heard Zhao Hai, Bingya couldn't help but feel shame, then he said, "Mister, I've failed you."

Zhao Hai stared, he was confused so he asked, "What happened?"

Bingya told Zhao Hai everything. He told him that he had completely lost control of the vassal soldiers.

After listening to Bingya, Zhao Hai's face turned a bit ugly. He didn't think that the vassal soldiers would be so ignorant. They even wanted to make demands to him.

Since Lizzy and the others were also with Zhao Hai, their expressions couldn't help but change as well. Before, they thought that Zhao Hai was excessively worrying about how to deal with the three clans. They felt that there was no need to consider it too much.

But now however, with how the vassal races reacted, they could finally understand Zhao Hai's worries. Zhao Hai's thoughts weren't baseless, it's actually possible for something to go wrong.

Take these vassal soldiers for example. Their people were fighting against the Divines while they were selling their lives to the same people. The saddest thing was the Divines wanted to starve them to death and wait for them to lose during the fight before dealing with them.

Bingya bringing food for them at this time was the biggest kindness that they could receive. And Bingya's proposal to send them to the Foreign Races' continents was something that was good for them. And yet they actually reacted this way. This wasn't something that Lizzy and the others expected.

When Bingya was finished talking, Zhao Hai said, "Alright, I understand. You don't have to worry about this matter. Nothing has happened yet, but you still need to protect yourselves." After putting the messenger fish away, Lizzy's face turned ugly as she said, "Brother Hai, these people are too ignorant. Should we teach them a lesson?"

Zhao Hai smiled faintly, then he coldly said, "Don't worry, we'll teach them a lesson. But we also need an excuse to do so. We need to rile them up a bit more."

Laura and the others knew Zhao Hai very well, and they could hear a bit of killing intent from Zhao Hai's words. It was clear that Zhao Hai was really angry. It seems like the vassal soldiers would soon be unlucky.

However, they didn't think about stopping Zhao Hai. The reaction of the vassal races also angered them. If it wasn't for Zhao Hai showing his anger, Lizzy would have already commanded the undead army to deal with the vassal soldiers.

Bingya put away his messenger fish before turning to Yehta and Ryder before he said, "What do you think about Mister's response? How do you think he will deal with the vassal soldiers?"

Ryder sneered and said, "Mister is surely not a kindhearted person. Those people will suffer bad luck. But this is also good, they don't have any sense of thankfulness. If it weren't for us, then would have already been starved to death. Now that they are full, they actually forgot the kindness that was given to them."

Yehta smiled faintly and said, "Right, they need to know how terrifying mister can become. With this, they shouldn't be able to dare go against mister in the future. And leading them should become easier."

Just as the three people were talking, the vassal soldiers were ready to go to Zhao Hai and make demands. The Hell King's ship wasn't too far from the city they were in. They can go to Zhao Hai with Bingya leading the way.

At this point, the vassal soldiers were so agitated that they had lost reason. They already forgot that they used to starve, and that Zhao Hai and Bingya had brought grain to save them. In their minds, Zhao

Hai was thinking of using them as cannon fodder. They need to make Zhao Hai know about how terrifying they could be.

Before long, under the agitation of several people, about 100 hundred million soldiers flew towards Zhao Hai's ship, encircling it.

Zhao Hai was currently sitting inside his room, watching the movements of the vassal soldiers. When he saw that the ship was surrounded, Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, "Those people are really impatient, they're quick to be riled up. They can't think for even a moment. Meg, go set up some tables outside. I want to see how those people deal with us. Cai'er, remember to look at the surroundings, make sure that nobody is able to escape."

Meg and Cai'er nodded and then went on to prepare. Zhao Hai turned his head to Laura and the others and said, "Let's head out. I want to see what methods those guys will use to force me to give them food."

Laura and the others stood up and went out. Meg already set the table outside. There were a few small snacks on the table as well as a few glasses of red wine. It was a blaringly red wine, the same color as blood.

Zhao Hai sat on the seat of honor while Laura and the others sat on the side. The group just sat there under the gazes of the vassal soldiers surrounding them.

What does it feel to be surrounded by 100 million people? Whether it be in the Ark Continent or back on Earth, maybe nobody can give an answer. Even if you ask Zhao Hai, he might say that he doesn't know.

Zhao Hai looked at the vassal soldiers calmly, there was no trace of fear on his face. He was calmer than an person looking at 100 million ants. If someone saw 100 million ants, then one might be scared to death. It's because those ants could swallow his life.

But in the eyes of Zhao Hai, these people were different from 100 million ants. Although ants were very weak, a 100 million of them would have terrifying power. As for these people, although they have gathered together, they will panic as soon as they encounter any problems. They weren't worth mentioning at all.

The vassal soldiers were getting closer and closer to Zhao Hai. Meanwhile, Zhao Hai was just calmly looking at them with his wine glass in his hand. Zhao Hai gently swirled his glass, forming a vortex with his blood red wine. At the same time, Laura and the others were just calmly sitting there, sipping the wine in their glass.

Laura and the others didn't use to have this demeanor. But ever since they saw Zhao Hai doing it, they saw that it looked really good and graceful. Because of this, they learned Zhao Hai's aura and just sat there calmly. It was as if they had nothing to do with what's happening around them.

The vassal soldiers have already encircled the Hell King's ship. The ship didn't become bigger. Surrounded by 100 million people, the ship looked like a small boat swallowed by the vortex.

However, no vassal soldier dared to embark on the ship. They just encircled the ship and looked at the bow, where Zhao Hai was drinking his red wine. While looking at Zhao Hai's graceful movement, they couldn't help but swallow their saliva. They found out that they were somewhat anxious.

Chapter 897 – You Think Too Highly Of Yourself!

Zhao Hai currently wasn't looking at these people, he just stared at his wine glass as he calmly said, "What's wrong? Why are all of you here?"

The vassal races found that Zhao Hai's voice was calm, and his body didn't exude any imposing aura. However, they didn't know why, but they still got more and more nervous. This was especially true for those people who were yelling before. More and more people swallowing their saliva were heard, nobody talked for a while.

Zhao Hai looked up and scanned those present. Then he turned his gaze to the glass in his hand as he lifted it up towards the sun. This action made the wine inside the glass more gleaming. But in the eyes of the vassal soldiers, it looked so strange.

In the end, the vassal soldiers couldn't just stand there as one of them talked, "Mister Zhao Hai, we want to talk to you."

Zhao Hai turned his head to the person and then glanced at the people surrounding the Hell King's ship before he said, "You want to talk? You bring so many people to talk to me? You people are quite special."

The person's face turned red, then he glanced at those behind him before breathing a sigh of relief. Then he turned to look back at Zhao Hai as he said, "Mister Zhao Hai, first we want to thank you for saving us. If it weren't for you, we would've already been starved."

Zhao Hai didn't make too much noise, but he just swirled his glass as he said, "It's not my idea to save you. Bingya told me that you're allies and asked me to save you. Why would I want to rescue you? If it weren't for Bingya, I wouldn't have placed you in my eyes."

The man was stunned by Zhao Hai. Originally, he wanted to express his thanks as a gesture of politeness before making his demands. But now, it seems like Zhao Hai didn't intend to accept the gesture.

The man's expression sunk, with a cold voice he said, "Since Mister said so, then we don't need to feel grateful. Can mister give us back our grain?"

Zhao Hai became more disappointed at these people. He looked at the person and made a puzzled look as he asked, "Grain? What grain? When did this Zhao Hai owe you grain?"

The man calmly replied, "Don't mess with us. You robbed the Divines of food. Now give us the grain."

Zhao Hai looked at the man as he suddenly smiled faintly and said, "First, I need to confirm something, are you a Divine? If so, then I can't give you food because you're my enemy. Have you heard of someone returning an enemy's supplies? If you're not a Divine, then you are either my ally, or a an uninvolved person. If you are my ally, then I will provide you with food. But my allies have to listen to my arrangements. And if you're not an ally, then you're someone who has nothing to do with me. Why would I give some food to someone I don't care about?"

What Zhao Hai said was flawless. These people didn't have any reason to claim Zhao Hai's plundered food. If they classify themselves as a part of the Divine Race, then they would be Zhao Hai's enemies. If they were Zhao Hai's allies, and even if Zhao Hai didn't state it clearly, this meant that they would obey Zhao Hai's orders, and why would allies be aggressive in asking for grain? And lastly, if they weren't allies, then they were just uninvolved people. Why would people who had nothing to do with Zhao Hai want to get his grain?"

The vassal soldiers stayed quiet for a moment, they were caught speechless. Then after some time, someone loudly said, “Zhao Hai, I ask you. Isn’t the fact that our people are at war with the Divines a lie that you made up? You’re just tricking us into working for you.”

Zhao Hai looked at the person as though he was looking at an idiot. After some time, he said, “You? What are you talking about? What good would I gain if I lie to you? Work for me? I don’t need you. The grain in my hand is even more valuable than your lives. Moreover, the undead army under my command doesn’t need to eat food. Most importantly, they also follow every single word I say.”

Zhao Hai made Cai’er remember the people who just talked. These men chose to use this opportunity to incite the vassal soldiers’ hatred towards Zhao Hai.

Zhao Hai’s response was quite interesting. The vassal soldiers were able to witness Zhao Hai use his undead to deal with the Divines who managed to escape from the collapsed base. Zhao Hai had quite a lot of undead. What Zhao Hai said this time essentially meant that he didn’t care about the vassal soldiers.

Upon hearing Zhao Hai, some of the vassal soldiers calmed down. When they had been instigate before, they haven’t managed to think about this point. Now that Zhao Hai reminded them, they suddenly remembered Zhao Hai’s enormous number of Undead. Moreover, it’s evident that their fighting strength wasn’t weak.

However, there were still some vassal soldiers who held Zhao Hai’s response with contempt. They clamored and seemed to prepare to make a move.

Zhao Hai calmly looked at the soldiers. The few people that he paid special attention to were now standing proudly among the crowd as they watched Zhao Hai. It seems like they wanted to see how Zhao Hai plans to deal with this scene.

Zhao Hai’s gaze swept through the crowd like a blade. He took up his wine glass and downed the wine. After placing his glass back on the table, he slowly stood up and said, “You’re saying that I’m deceiving you? That your people aren’t really fighting against the Divine Race? And I just want you to point your swords towards the Divines? Well, let me ask you. Why would I need to do that? I’ve occupied the Taurus Continent. Five Supreme Elders tried to deal with me but they couldn’t. Seven Supreme Elders wanted to look for me but ended up withdrawing. Why do I need to use you? Aren’t you looking too highly upon yourselves?” When the vassal soldiers heard Zhao Hai, they couldn’t help but get stunned.

Zhao Hai's voice was clearly transmitted to their ears. This feat alone made the soldiers feel Zhao Hai's might. Some soldiers became calm.

But at this time, a voice came about, "Don't listen to his nonsense. He just wants to work us to death while also pulling our families in. The reason the Supreme Elders retreated was likely because we are here. We need to head back to our clans and explain to the Divines. Otherwise, we would risk going to war!"

These words were akin to putting more oil into the fire. The minds of the soldiers who managed to calm down were once again shaken.

Right, there were a lot of vassal races that wanted to rebel against the Divines. However, if they wanted to rebel, they must do their preparations in absolute secrecy. Otherwise, their plans would be found out by the Divine Race and they would be suppressed. Because of this, most of the vassals didn't know about any plans that their clans had made. The Divines had implanted a deep fear inside the hearts of the vassal soldiers. Because of this, upon hearing this person, they subconsciously believed him, even if they didn't know who it was.

As the vassal soldiers were clamoring, someone from the crowd suddenly flung their axe towards Zhao Hai's Hell King's ship. Although the axe was immediately flung away by the waves on the ship, the axe acted as a signal for the vassal soldiers to push forward and overrun Zhao Hai. Upon seeing this development, Zhao Hai's gaze turned frigid. He coldly snorted as the ship increased in size instantaneously. Those who were rushing towards Zhao Hai suddenly found out that they were faced with the dark blue underside of the ship.

They managed to see the ship change its size before. However, that was from far away so they didn't feel any shock. But now it was different. They were standing underneath the ship while looking at it. In this state, it was natural for them to feel an unnatural pressure coming from the Hell King's ship. Those who were rushing forwards found themselves frozen. They didn't know whether they should advance or retreat.

While they were stunned, Zhao Hai didn't hold back. He immediately directed the ship to go straight forward. The speed of the ship was very fast, the vassals who were controlling the soldiers from the shadows couldn't even make an order to form a line. With no place to retreat or hide, every soldier that were ran over by the ship were eliminated. The ship was like a roller that passed through a group of ants. No soldier can be seen where the ship had gone through.

In just a blink of an eye, Zhao Hai was already out of the encirclement. After which Zhao Hai turned the ship and realigned its bow to face the vassal soldiers once more.

When the vassal soldiers looked at the Hell King's ship and then to the gap it made, their hearts couldn't help but turn cold. They just saw the ship overrun a minimum of a million people. The image was too terrifying.

Now that Zhao Hai had realigned the ship's bow, the hearts of the vassal soldiers couldn't help but beat faster. They discovered that they were nothing in front of Zhao Hai. In Zhao Hai's eyes, they were just dust. They thought that with their numbers, Zhao Hai wouldn't do anything to them. It seems like they were too naive.

It was at this time that people remembered Zhao Hai being a Dark Mage. A Dark Mage capable of commanding more than two hundred million undead. Could such a person be soft-hearted? What a joke!

At this time, the ship began to go forward once more. This caused the soldiers' position to collapse. There were some who threw their weapons away in order to escape.

The vassal soldiers weren't all heroes, there were dogs among them as well!

Chapter 898 – Two-man Act

The vassal soldiers soon found out that they had lost the opportunity to escape. On the outskirts of the battlefield, Zhao Hai's undead had been stationed, encircling them inside. If they wanted to escape, then they would need to go through the undead.

At this point, the vassal soldiers regretted provoking Zhao Hai. They had discovered that they were looking too highly upon themselves. They simply couldn't contend with Zhao Hai. With Zhao Hai's strength, he could deal with the Divines without the help of the vassal races.

With such strength, why would Zhao Hai deceive them? And with the vassal soldiers' strength, could they pass on to be Zhao Hai's cannon fodder?

If someone asked the vassal soldiers right now if there was something more sad than being a cannon fodder, then they certainly get a concrete answer. It was having no qualification to become even cannon fodder.

The confidence of the vassal races was completely destroyed. They were left not knowing what to do. They used to hope that their numbers would provide them with safety. But as far as the situation had gone, this hope had been destroyed, popped like a bubble and blown away by the wind.

Just when the vassal races felt that the world was collapsing around them, a loud voice was suddenly heard, "Mister Zhao Hai, please stop!" It was Bingya.

After this sound was heard, both the Hell King's ship and the undead stopped while the vassal soldiers felt relief. After that, everyone glanced towards the direction of that voice. It was Bingya and the others who were pressured by the vassal soldiers a few days ago. At that time, they didn't look highly upon Bingya's group. But now, Bingya and the others looked very pleasant.

It was at this moment that the Hell King's ship had reduced its size. Zhao Hai's group was seen once more with Zhao Hai still holding his glass of blood red wine. Upon seeing the wine on Zhao Hai's hand, the vassal soldiers couldn't help but tremble. At this point, if someone told them that Zhao Hai was actually drinking blood, then they would have believed it.

While holding his wine glass, Zhao Hai looked at Bingya and said, "Bingya, what do you want? You already asked me to give these people food. Are these the people you want to save? You did this on purpose didn't you? Did you expect me to lower myself just because I've allied with the foreign races?"

Bingya immediately bowed to Zhao Hai and said, "Mister, this is a misunderstanding. These people are just worried about their own families. It was only under the instigation of ambitious people that they became like this. I ask Mister to spare them and not to punish them heavily. Please let them go this time."

Zhao Hai looked at Bingya before turning his gaze towards the vassal soldiers. When the vassal soldiers saw that Zhao Hai's gaze was on them, their bodies couldn't help but shrink. Although Zhao Hai looked very calm, he looked terrifying in the eyes of these people.

After sweeping the vassal ranks with his gaze, Zhao Hai turned back to Bingya and said, "Can you guarantee that they won't offend me again? If they dared to, then I would have to be impolite."

The vassal soldiers couldn't help but feel a chill when they heard this. Zhao Hai had already killed more than 1 million of them. This was Zhao Hai being polite? Then what would his impoliteness be? They couldn't even dare think about it.

Bingya immediately responded, "Mister can rest assured, this matter will absolutely never be repeated." Zhao Hai snorted before he swept the vassal soldiers once more and then returning to his cabin. After that, the ship vanished along with the undead that was surrounding the vassal soldiers.

He disappeared. Those present didn't even know how Zhao Hai left. It was now that they understood that Zhao Hai wasn't going all out in eliminating them. Otherwise, they would have been wiped out a long time ago. Zhao Hai being polite right now wasn't a lie.

After Zhao Hai left, Bingya turned to the vassal soldiers. He sighed before saying, "Let's go back to the camp. Go have a rest, we'll talk later." After saying that, Bingya's group went back and returned to their room. The vassal soldiers were also adamant about returning to the camp. However, what the vassal soldiers failed to see was the smile on Bingya's face as he turned back.

Actually, Zhao Hai and Bingya's exchange was something they planned for the vassal soldiers. Zhao Hai told Bingya about this just before he drove the Hell King's ship towards the soldiers. The plan was to have the two of them perform a play.

It was impossible for Zhao Hai to kill all of the vassal soldiers. He wasn't a ruthless person, and he just wanted to teach the vassal soldiers a lesson. Therefore, Zhao Hai planned to have Bingya come out just as he was about to make his second attack. Turning Bingya into the hero while Zhao Hai plays the villain, subduing the vassal soldiers in the process.

Zhao Hai was now a sword hanging on top of the vassal soldiers' heads. As long as Zhao Hai was present, the soldiers would follow Bingya's orders.

Just as Zhao Hai said before, the vassal soldiers aren't useless. Once these people united, their strength would be great. This time, their minds were muddled. Their people were currently fighting against the Divines, but this news was still uncertain. With how their thoughts were scattered, it was easy to persuade them at this moment.

Zhao Hai believed that the Patriarchs of these vassal races weren't simple characters. Once the Divines start to fight against the foreign races, these Patriarchs would certainly see the situation and gauge who the true enemy was. As long as they go against the Divines, Zhao Hai believed that they would be able to hold out for a long time.

While the vassal soldiers returned to their camp, the Hell King's ship reappeared at another place in the Taurus Continent. Zhao Hai was still holding on to his wine glass while Laura and the others were beside him. However, there were some of them who didn't have a happy expression on their faces.

Zhao Hai still had a calm expression as he drank from his wine glass. Seeing Laura and the others' unhappy expression, Zhao Hai gently placed his glass on the table and said, "What's wrong? Are you still angry? There's no need to be mad. You didn't want me to kill those people don't you?"

Lizzy snorted and said, "I hated seeing those guys. You should've dealt with them Brother Hai. They're expendable anyway."

Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, "They're not expendable. If we deal with them, then we would incur a lot of enmity. Those soldiers are the main forces of their clans. If they are absent, then those vassal clans wouldn't be able to fight against the Divines. If they were to know about today's matter, then they not only wouldn't hate us, they might even feel grateful." Lizzy harrumphed and replied, "I still think that they're disrespectful. Forget it, I always get angry whenever I think about those guys. In any case, what happened is more beneficial to us. Right, Brother Hai, what do you plan on doing now?"

Zhao Hai smiled and said, "Next, we do nothing. Just let the Bingya and the others send them to the Foreign Races' continent. I don't think it would take too long before the Divines make a move against the foreign races."

Lizzy nodded. At this moment Cai'er suddenly flew to Zhao Hai's side and said, "Young Master, the O'Neal family has sent a war tank with shields to the Demon Realm. They're approaching a mine. It won't be long before they see the undead and the iron armor beasts."

Zhao Hai stared, then he nodded and said, "Alright. I knew this day would come sooner or later. It's just much earlier than I expected. Don't worry about them. Just observe the reaction of the O'Neal family when they see the undead and iron armor beasts. I want to see if they'll just investigate or immediately attack."

Cai'er nodded before turning around and entering the Space. After that, Laura said, "Brother Hai, what do you want to accomplish by doing this? Do we just let the O'Neal family know about the undead and iron armor beasts?" Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, "They would eventually find out anyway. Don't worry, there's nothing remarkable about them discovering our mining operations. At the same time, this would also attract more attention from the O'Neal family. This way, they would be more focused on the Demon Realm."

Laura thought about it and felt that Zhao Hai's thinking wasn't wrong. They will have to face the O'Neal family eventually. With a strange place like the Demon Realm, the O'Neal family would surely be interested. With their investigations, there's no mystery if they were to find out about the undead and iron armor beasts. Instead of hiding all the time, they might as well show themselves and see how the O'Neal family reacts."

Lizzy turned her head to Zhao Hai and said, "Brother Hai, you want Penny to discover the undead and iron armor beasts in order to attract all of those scouts from the O'Neal family? Can we really delay the discovery of the Divine Realm with this method?"

Zhao Hai shook his head and said, "Impossible. The O'Neal family will not abandon the scouting of the continent in exchange for the Demon Realm. They will find the Divine Realm's spatial rift soon. But we have undead stationed in the rift, they should be able to hold on for a while. We can also use this opportunity to let the three clans be involved. This way, they'll be able to see the strength of the O'Neal Family."

Chapter 899 – Just A Step Closer!

Inside the war tank, Penny looked out into the dark sky of the Demon Realm. Due to the presence of the sun, he understood that it was currently daytime. However, daytime here was pretty similar to the dark night in the Ark Continent. Therefore, the war tank had to turn on its lights in order to travel normally.

Penny was very worried about this place. He already sent word back to the family so that they could send reinforcements to support him. He needed to figure out what this place was.

They had already affirmed that there were people living in this place. Although their architecture was different from those in the Ark Continent, there was the unfinished city outside the rift that had a similar style. It was already certain that the ones who built that huge city were people from this place.

Judging by the construction of that big city, the spatial rift should have been opened at most in the last two years.

What surprised Penny the most was the huge broken magic formation outside the rift. This was a never before seen formation. The formation wasn't small, and Penny was sure that the formation had something to do with the rift.

Most importantly, what shook Penny's heart was the fact that the people from this place had the same fate as those in the Ark Continent. All of them disappeared!

Where did the people from this plane go? How about the people from the Ark Continent? Whatever the reason for these two phenomenon was, it will certainly affect the O'Neal family. All of these thoughts plagued Penny's mind.

Because of this, after writing the letter to be sent back to the family, he personally led the team, a war tank and ten magic armors, into the Demon Realm.

The war tanks of the Atlanta Plane didn't need shields. Its main function was to transport magic armors. Installing shields on one would be a waste of resources.

Penny's war tank, however, was different. A shield was installed in it because they were the ones who went first inside dangerous areas. Therefore, what was bestowed on them were the best war tanks of the family.

But what Penny didn't know was that their route was going to clash with an ore deposit that Zhao Hai was currently mining. Everything was under Cai'er's attention. So after she was sure that the scout team would meet the mine, she immediately went to inform Zhao Hai.

Penny was clueless about all of these. His heart was still very heavy, and the state of their team wasn't very peaceful. The magic beasts in the Demon Realm were more aggressive than the ones back in the Ark Continent. Moreover, the numbers of magic beasts here were a lot more. Although the magic beasts had entered the Space after the beast tide, not all magic beasts participated. Therefore, there were still a lot more magic beasts in the Demon Realm. Even Zhao Hai's mines were being attacked by these beasts from time to time.

The scouting team were already attacked more than ten times. Although every wave was repelled, the process didn't come easy. The weapons on the war tank couldn't even repel the magic beasts, so they would need to deploy the magic armors each time.

It was because of these attacks that Penny knew how aggressive the beasts in the Demon Realm were. Naturally, because of how formidable the magic beasts were, their crystal cores were also much bigger compared to the ones back in the Ark Continent. This allowed Penny's team to have enough energy to continue on with their journey.

At this time, a red dot was flying towards the war tank. After looking at the red dot, Penny immediately said to the war tank's driver, "Stop, Mosquito is back."

Mosquito was just a name given to one of the magic armor units under Penny's command. Although they were using the war tank to traverse the Demon Realm, Penny still sent magic armors to explore what's ahead. Magic armors were faster than war tanks, and could observe from the sky. Magic armors were able to see things the war tanks couldn't.

The war tank driver immediately responded and stopped the war tank. Then the driver pressed a button to make the roof of the tank open up, allowing entry to the magic armor. The magic armor's pilot was very good, although it entered the war tank, the tank didn't shake at all.

Penny went towards the back of the war tank, just in time as the front of the magic armor opened and the pilot got out. Upon seeing Penny arrive, the pilot immediately gave a salute and said, "Captain, we've discovered something."

Penny's spirit shook, he looked at the person and said, "What is it? Tell me."

The pilot nodded and said, "About four hours ahead of us is a mine. We discovered that there are some undead and some magic beasts mining. From what we can see, they are probably digging gold ore."

Penny stared for a moment before his two eyes shone, “You mean a gold mine? Are you sure?”

The pilot nodded. He couldn’t blame Penny for his reaction. In the Atlanta Plane, gold was the circulated currency. Therefore, upon hearing about the gold mine, it was no wonder that Penny would have this expression. If there was really a gold mine, then the O’neal family’s invasion of the Ark Continent would immediately pay for itself.

However, Penny continued to ask questions, “So you’re saying, there are undead and magic beasts mining there? Are you sure that they are undead?”

The man nodded, “I’m absolutely sure that they’re undead. But they seem to not have spotted me, and they also look quite weak.”

Penny frowned, “That might be an illusion. We shouldn’t forget about where we are. The magic beasts here are more formidable than those in the Ark Continent. It’s certain that magic beasts have attacked that mine. For them to survive up until now means that they have clever means. We need to be careful.”

After saying that, Penny turned to the war tank driver and said, “Go towards the target. Drive at full speed for two hours. Mosquito, is the road ahead good?”

Mosquito nodded and said, “It’s good. There are no obstructions nor magic beasts.”

Penny frowned, “That makes it even worse. For there to be no magic beasts nearby only means that they had been cleaned up. We’re not too far from the spatial rift, and there are only low-ranked undead and magic beasts in the mine. It seems like this place didn’t have much importance to the other party. The opposite party’s true strength might have been hiding in this plane. It’s imperative that we become extra careful from now on.”

Mosquito gave a serious nod. After that, Penny beckoned towards Mosquito, making him take a rest. Penny needed to guarantee that his people were always in optimum condition. This place is very strange, and they didn’t know how much danger they were going to meet.

Zhao Hai was paying attention to this squad. But from what he saw, he decided to not care about it. The squad was still some distance away from the mine. He'll just have to wait until the group got into contact with the undead and iron armor beasts.

This would take some several hours. Therefore, Zhao Hai wasn't too worried. Aside from the O'Neal family's scouting groups, Zhao Hai was also paying attention to Bingya and the others.

The other scouting teams that the O'Neal family sent out this time weren't in separate missions. Although they were divided, they weren't too far apart, and they still communicate with each other from time to time. This was made in order to form a huge surveillance net to scour the southern part of the Ark Continent.

Zhao Hai wasn't thinking about stopping them. If they want to come, then just come. It would just advance the date of their confrontation. There was nothing remarkable about it.

Zhao Hai looked at the situation with Bingya and the others. At this point, the vassal leaders were having a meeting with Bingya's group. Their expressions were of grief, as though they were asking to have their lives spared.

After seeing this, Zhao Hai knew that Bingya would have these people under control. Now, he needed to think about the next step. The next step that Zhao Hai thought was quite simple. He would get in touch with the Thunder Clan, Barbarians, and the Winged Pegasus. He would tell them about the recent developments in the Ark Continent and then ask them to help guard the spatial rift's defensive line.

Although they were quite busy, Zhao Hai was certain that they would agree. This was because if the O'Neal family were to break through their defensive line and reach the Divine Realm, the first to be unlucky would be the three clans. Therefore, Zhao Hai wasn't worried that the three clans would refuse.

And as long as they were willing to send troops, everything else would be very easy to handle. The troops would surely get in contact with the O'Neal family. And once they meet the O'Neal family, then they would come to know how formidable the magic armors were. As long as they can perceive their future losses, Zhao Hai's invitation to the Space would be more enticing to them.

After thinking about this, Zhao Hai immediately took out a messenger fish and contacted Fei'er. It has been quite a while since they two had talked.

Zhao Hai held the messenger fish and said, “Fei’er, Fei’er, are you there? It’s Zhao Hai.”

Zhao Hai expected that he would have to wait for quite a while. However, he didn’t think that Fei’er would immediately respond. Fei’er’s voice came out of the messenger fish, “Mister Zhao Hai, did something happen?”

Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, “There is. I have something to tell you about the Divine Realm and the Ark Continent.”

Fei’er went silent for a moment, then after calming himself down, he said, “Mister, tell me.”

Zhao Hai smiled, “The situation in the Divine Realm is going smoothly. We’ve made an agreement with the foreign races. Together, we will deal with the Divines. I also managed to kill a Supreme Elder, the Scorpio Supreme Elder. The other Supreme Elders gathered to deal with me, but they failed. At the same time, the vassal races of the Divine Realm had started a rebellion. The Divines are currently pressed with dealing with this. Also, I managed to defeat 100 million soldiers that the Divines had sent to the Taurus Continent. In the future, the Supreme Elders would shift their focus on the foreign races in order to force me to have a decisive fight with them.”

Although Zhao Hai’s tone was carefree, Fei’er’s heart was actually terrified. From what he heard, Zhao Hai had been in battle against the Divines several times. Otherwise, the Divines wouldn’t have shifted their focus to the foreign races. The method Zhao Hai used against the Divines was the same method he used back in the Ark Continent.

However, Zhao Hai seems to have the upper hand. And for Zhao Hai to be able to compel the other vassal races to rebel was something that was beyond Fei’er’s expectation.

When he heard nothing from Fei’er, Zhao Hai continued, “On the other hand, the situation in the Ark Continent isn’t very good. The underworld is still expanding. The O’Neal family had sent people to the continent. They had discovered the dark mist and are now trying to investigate the south. At this point, they have troops exploring the Demon Realm and soon they will find out about the Divine Realm. I currently don’t have enough strength to stop them from stepping here. Therefore, I plan to ask the three clans for help. What do you think?”

As Zhao Hai thought, Fei'er was silent for a while. Zhao Hai knew that this wasn't something that can be discussed immediately. He just wanted to open the topic so that Fei'er can discuss it with his people.

And just like that, after keeping silent for some time, Fei'er said, "I cannot take responsibility for this matter. I need to discuss this with the Patriarch. Can Mister give us some time?"

Zhao Hai smiled and said, "Of course. It also doesn't matter if you cannot send troops. I will muster any manpower I can get in order to defend the spatial rift as much as possible. I just told you about these matters in order to inform you of the current affairs."

Fei'er nodded and said, "Alright. Mister, I will also convey this matter with the Barbarians and Winged Pegasus. I will give Mister a reply as soon as possible."

Zhao Hai nodded and said, "Alright. If you have news, then you can just call me any time. Goodbye."

Fei'er replied, "Goodbye, Mister." After that, Zhao Hai put the messenger fish down. Plastered on his face was a smile. This was because he felt that the Thunder Clan and the others were now one step closer to migrating to the Space.

Laura and the others were currently sitting next to Zhao Hai. After Zhao Hai and Fei'er's conversation was over, Laura said, "It seems like our previous actions had made the three clans less wary. Otherwise, Fei'er wouldn't have taken responsibility of this matter. We have taken a big step this time."

Zhao Hai lightly smiled and said, "We need to make big steps. If we take small measures, then I might ascend before the three clans decides to enter the Space. Now, I have confidence that the three clans would be migrating to the Space."

Laura and the others chuckled. They also knew that the three clans were now unable to escape Zhao Hai. The Space needed to be strengthened!

Chapter 900 – Finally Reached

Penny's magic armor was on a hill, looking into the mine in front. This mine wasn't large. Moreover, there weren't any living persons here. Those working on the mine were undead and magic beasts.

This kind of magic beast was something that Penny had never seen before. It was covered in scales, and although it wasn't very tall, it was very powerful and not that slow.

On the other hand, the undead all had skeletal appearance. However, Penny didn't think like Mosquito and regarded these undead as weak. In fact, Penny thinks that these undead were very strong. However, compared to the scout team, the strength of these undead wasn't enough.

After all, they were the elites of the O'Neal family. Every magic armor present were God-ranked. Even for the O'Neal family, manufacturing such a magic armor was very difficult. Therefore, seeing the undead as lower level than them was appropriate.

Penny was very rich in experience. He wasn't the same as Theo, who hadn't experienced a real war. It can be said that Theo was one of the more recent geniuses that the O'Neal family had trained.

This time, the O'Neal family thought that the Ark Continent was a very good place, so they took Theo to try his talent. But who could've known that there were so many strange things happening in the Ark Continent, causing Theo to end up in the frontlines.

On the other hand, Penny didn't become famous as early as Theo. Moreover, in terms of talent, it can be said that Penny had none. Penny crawled from the lowest level to his current position. After going through several hundreds of missions, Penny's experience was very abundant. Because of this, he became the captain of this scouting squad.

Penny didn't dare to look down on the mine. Although it seems like its defense wasn't that solid. He could see upon further inspection that the undead were distributed quite reasonably. The undead were currently doing their own work, as if there were no threats in the surroundings. However, Penny knew that no matter which angle he attacked the mine, he would still be discovered by the undead. It can be said that the person who arranged this mine was an expert.

What surprised Penny the most was the fact that the the undead who were mining here had nobody commanding them. There wasn't even a house in sight, only a lot of open mines with undead and magic beasts going in and out. Penny couldn't see anybody else, which made him very puzzled.

In Penny's experience, the undead are controlled by a Dark Mage. Moreover, it was impossible for a Dark Mage to keep this kind of operation for a long time, it would consume a lot of magic power.

Even God-ranked Dark Mages of the Atlanta Plane couldn't make their undead go out all the time. During battles, they would release their undead. And when the fight ends, they will take the undead away.

However, Penny was already on the hill for two hours, and yet the undead were still religiously doing their work. There weren't a moment of weakness nor loss of control. This made Penny both confused and wary.

Although there weren't that much undead and magic beasts in this mine, what Penny saw was different. This mine was definitely not the only one being worked on by the opposite party. In other words, the other party had a lot more undead and magic beasts. Moreover, the other party had the ability to keep their undead working outside for a long time. This meant that the controller of these undead had the advantage with regards to longevity compared to Penny's team. After all, the magic armors needed energy while these undead apparently didn't.

After looking at the mine for some time, Penny decided to retreat. There was no need to observe this mine. Penny also wasn't ready to attack this mine because most of the workers here were undead. Although these undead might not have a controller, according to Penny's past experiences, these undead would have a spiritual connection to their owners. Attacking the undead would certainly attract the attention of the other party. And being noticed wasn't what Penny wanted right now.

However, what Penny didn't know was that his every action had been seen by Zhao Hai. Zhao Hai now held great admiration towards these scouts of the O'Neal family. If he didn't have the Space, then he wouldn't have found Penny. Penny's way of moving about was something that was difficult to deal with.

However, although Zhao Hai was looking at Penny, his main focus was placed on the other scout teams that were sent to the south. Their advance was very fast. They had almost reached the border between the Buddha Empire and the Radiant Empire.

As long as they pass this border, then these people would have a huge chance of discovering the Divine Realm's spatial rift. Because of this, Zhao Hai's attention was placed on them.

At the same time, Bingya and the others had also reached an agreement with the vassal soldiers. Bingya would deliver news back to his people in order to pick the vassal soldiers up as soon as possible.

Zhao Hai didn't care too much about this matter. The only thing that surprised Zhao Hai was Bingya using such a laborious method to send the vassal soldiers to the Foreign Races' continent.

However, Zhao Hai soon came to understand. After arranging the vassal soldiers' matters, Bingya and the others immediately went to the Hell King's ship. It seems like Bingya was planning to join him once more.

Zhao Hai didn't want to drive Bingya and the others away. They can come whenever they want to. They won't have any influence to Zhao Hai. What Zhao Hai was waiting for at this time was the news from Fei'er and the others. He wanted to know the result of their discussion.

It took only five days before the people sent by the Foreign Races came to pick up the vassal races. After Bingya handed the vassal soldiers over, Zhao Hai gave the vassal soldiers their food before they left.

However, what Bingya and the others didn't expect was their people's anxiety to leave with the vassal races. They didn't even stay for a minute. This confused Bingya and the other two.

But when Bingya saw his people having a look at the Hell King's ship, he understood. These people were afraid of Zhao Hai, they wanted to leave this place as soon as possible.

Zhao Hai didn't manage the vassal soldiers, he just left them to the foreign races. He had more important things to do. The O'Neal family's scouts had finally reached the spatial rift to the Divine Realm.

The O'Neal family's scouts had already discovered the spatial rift four days ago. But after seeing it, the scouts didn't immediately go forward. Instead, they kept steadily moving. It looks like they were wary for any traps left by the enemy.

This way, they spent four days moving along before arriving at the spatial rift. Zhao Hai had also set up a large number of troops, waiting for the O'Neal family's arrival.

In addition to the undead army, the spatial rift also had a large number of Thunder Clan, Barbarian, and Winged Pegasus troops. After discussing for two days, the clans finally decided to send troops to the rift to help Zhao Hai defend.

Zhao Hai wasn't surprised about this decision. Therefore, when Fei'er told him about their answer, the food was already prepared for them. The only thing left to do was to wait for the troops to arrive.

As the O'Neal family's troops arrived at the spatial rift, the armies had also arrived. However, nobody saw anyone as they were at both sides of the rift.

This time, the trio led the troops. Zhao Hai already knew Fei'er, Ding, and Shan. After all, they were acquainted back in the Ark Continent.

When the troops arrived at the defensive line, they discovered that Zhao Hai was already waiting for them. After looking at the Hell King's ship in the distance, Fei'er and the others couldn't help but feel uplifted. The ship was too marvelous, their hearts couldn't help but feel at ease, their minds settled.

With an intention, Zhao Hai made the ship descend to the ground. While looking at the troops sent by the three clans, Zhao Hai smiled faintly and said, "Everyone, after you get settled in, please come on board to have a chat."

Fei'er and the others understood what Zhao Hai meant. Therefore, they nodded before they settled their troops. Only after everything was taken care of did they go to the Hell King's Ship.

When the three arrived at the ship, they discovered that Zhao Hai had prepared a table full of food and wine.

After seeing the three people arrive, Zhao Hai smiled and said, "You're here. Come, take a seat. Let's share a few cups of wine."

Fei'er and the others gave a salute before they sat down. After that, Zhao Hai said, "You coming here really made me happy. Come, join me in this toast."

The group raised their wine glasses and then downed the contents in one go.

After placing the glass down, Zhao Hai looked at the three and said, "I know you've gone through a lot of trouble in bringing these troops. For this I need to thank you."

Fei'er smiled bitterly. He didn't think that Zhao Hai would guess their situation. Just as Zhao Hai said, the troops were sent after some troubles. This was because the elders of the clans were divided whether they should cooperate with Zhao Hai or not. There were some who wanted to help Zhao Hai. After all, Zhao Hai gave them aid in dealing with the Taurus Divines. There were also those who wanted to stop cooperating with Zhao Hai. Zhao Hai was currently at war with the Divines. If they cooperated, then it's possible that they would get pulled into the conflict. It's possible that the three clans would perish in this war.
