

Apocalypse 101

Chapter 101: Bone Demon

Rage swept Ye Zhongming's heart!

Damn, is this ever going to end!

Do you think I am afraid of you?!

If you were a level three Talking Lady I would be afraid but you are just level two and you want to find trouble with me? Do you think I can't kill you?!

Apart from the Chain Prisoner, this Talking Lady was the one to deal the most injuries to him since his rebirth. It was impossible to say that he wasn't angry about it. Especially in the initial stages where time equaled money, injuries affected his evolution speed.

If not for him being lucky, with Park Xiuying becoming Envoy of Light and learning Cleansing Dew to heal him, he would still be hiding and healing up. How could he come here to get the job certificate?

Due to his plan on getting stronger, Ye Zhongming didn't bother about the Talking Lady previously when he was attacked. Not to mention a zombie, even someone whom you had a fight to the death might be a choice of cooperation. This was the apocalypse and Ye Zhongming was long used to it. Things looked like they changed but in essence, they were still the same, just that they became more exaggerated!

But she sneak attacked me and he injured her pet because she was not strong enough. She summoned mutated lifeforms to attack him with her strength. He was able to escape because of his skills too!

Since he retreated, then that should be the end. But what now?

She found another helper to help her?

Killing intent rose up in his heart.

Ye Zhongming's thoughts had changed since he revived.

In the last life, he struggled in the apocalypse just to survive. He bought the job scroll, evolution potions, green weapons etc to live. If he didn't improve, he would be eliminated and that represented death.

But this life was different. Ye Zhongming not only wanted to live, but he also wanted to understand what he was living for. He wanted to do things he could only imagine in the past, to climb to higher peaks and chase answers about the end!

His thoughts were totally different, even the way he considered problems and dealt with problems was different.

He knew that after he revived he would walk a different path. He paid more attention to reaching his final goal and wouldn't let anger affect him.

But!

That didn't mean that he could swallow everything, that anything could provoke him!

Moreover, the thing that asked for trouble was a mutated zombie!

If he didn't think that she was the answer to solving the zombie virus, he would have already killed her!

Since she dared to come and even found a helper, then so what? He would kill her today!

Ye Zhongming was vicious. He was frustrated that he had wasted a few days due to being unconscious. Blowing up the trio vented a bit of that anger but he wasn't the one to do that. Now that this Talking Lady sneak attacked, his heart was covered in the desire to kill.

He stood up from behind the car and he jumped on its roof. He pointed Moon Edge at her and then spun it around.

Slice the neck!

The same action.

Wasn't she a mental energy type zombie? Wasn't she smarter than other mutated zombies? Then she should know what that meant right?

As expected, when Ye Zhongming did the action for the third time, she jumped and charged toward Ye Zhongming.

The bigger figure beside her followed behind. As it got close, Ye Zhongming saw that it was a level two mutated zombie, Bone Demon!

Although it was called Bone Demon, it was just a zombie that evolved toward the mental energy path. But due to it having several bones growing out of its body and around it, which was why people in the apocalypse named it that.

They realised their mistakes after but they didn't change the name as they were already used to it.

Seemed like the Talking Lady had used her mental seed to control the black cat so she was unable to control another mutated life force. She could only use her mental energy to communicate for another mental energy-type zombie to attack alongside her.

Ye Zhongming frowned slightly as this Bone Demon was hard to deal with.

Mental energy life forms and speed ones were the same, it was hard to defend against them and you wouldn't know what attacks you would face.

Bone Demon's most famous skill was Bone Illusion but that was something that was awakened at high levels. Ye Zhongming didn't think that a level two Bone Demon would have that skill.

Then... The most possible one was...

The Talking Lady was really quick but she was still slower than her black cat. From her position to where Ye Zhongming needed a few seconds. Along the way, she fired numerous strands of hair that were swift and hard to catch. They were really penetrative too. This attack would succeed if it caught one off guard.

Ye Zhongming was prepared, he sidestepped to dodge the attack.

When the Talking Lady saw that her attacks had missed, she paused a little. Ye Zhongming couldn't help but be impressed with that action.

Her fighting intellect was high. She wasn't afraid of him but because she was side by side with the Bone Demon so their attacks would arrive at the same time.

Yellow Ball and the black cat were battling and they meowed and barked at one another. The cat was the one that took the advantage. It was too quick and its evolution level was higher than Yellow Ball. In just a short while, several wounds appeared on its body and it was covered in blood.

But Ye Zhongming knew that his dog could still hold on. That fellow didn't use its talent skill so it was obviously waiting to catch the cat off guard.

The two zombies were close. The Talking Lady somehow had a dagger in her hands and she stabbed it towards Ye Zhongming's chest.

That strike was sharp but not too hard to dodge. Any evolved would be able to dodge or retreat when facing this strike.

Ye Zhongming laughed coldly. Like a normal person, he dashed to the side.

The Bone Demon saw that and a golden light shone in its eyes. Two streaks of light shot toward where Ye Zhongming moved towards.

“Scorching Ray!”

A talent skill that could destroy the brain structure of the target.

At the same time, Talking Lady shot out several strands of hair to block Ye Zhongming's retreat path.

Talking Lady attack, Bone Demon attack, their coordination was not perfect but it was really good. Normal evolved would either be scorched by the rays to end up as a fool or they would get pierced by her hair and get badly damaged.

Even the two attackers thought that they won the battle.

But, a burst of laughter entered their ears. A golden thing appeared in front of Ye Zhongming to first block the rays and then the black hair.

Talking Lady knew that it wasn't good and she wanted to dodge but she felt a huge strength spread from her face. The bone shield smashed her and fresh blood scattered.

The Bone Demon reacted quickly to the sudden change. It raised its hands to block at its head.

This saved its life. The moment it raised its arms, Moon Edge slashed and the sharp light broke its arms.

“I am too familiar with your tricks.” Ye Zhongming laughed and moved forwards. The Bone Demon felt that something was tied to the ring bones that wrapped around its body.

It lowered its head and saw that the golden cloth that had blocked the Talking Lady and its attack was tied there and formed a beautiful knot.

A second later, the Bone Demon let out a terrifying scream!

Chapter 102: Spirit Stab

“Second uncle do you hear what is going on outside?”

A young man moved two steps towards the window and listened closely.

Before the second uncle could reply, the battle sounds rang out once more. What happened next were the ear-piercing cries of the mutated monsters.

“Why is it suddenly so intense? What did you find out before?”

A middle aged woman stopped caring about the half eaten sausage, her face was ashen white and she asked softly in the dark room.

A group of people gathered in the small house behind the supermarket. They had lit up some candles to eat but it was already extinguished. Three women were the furthest away from the window and they were really nervous. The other four guys grabbed their weapons and were really wary. It was as if an enemy would charge in from there.

“Auntie, keep the demon crystals and prepare to leave.”

“Leave? Second uncle, give up this place?” The young man who was the first to speak was reluctant to leave this place. After all, there was food and drinks and they didn’t need to worry about food. If they leave this place, it was tough to say if they could find such a good location.

The second uncle was around 40-50 and he was really healthy. His skin had a healthy tan due to being under the sun. He was the only evolved in this group.

“Very strong.” Second uncle said calmly, “They are very strong, if they charge in, I don’t have confidence.”

Hearing second uncle say that, everyone’s expression changed. Apart from relying on their unity, it was because of this second uncle’s strength and his crossbow which was how they occupied this spot.

If there was something outside that he couldn’t take on then they had no choice but to retreat.

A moment later, the motion outside had disappeared. The only thing one could hear was the zombies getting closer.

A short while later, the people inside heard dropping sounds. There was then a soft knocking on the window.

“Are you there?”

The golden cloth was attacked and its energy was consumed. It touched a life force and didn’t hold back, absorbing its energy to replenish itself.

Bone Demon felt that his own strength was disappearing. It didn’t know why and what was happening. Along with losing its two arms, it couldn’t suppress its fear and gave out a cry.

If it was any other level two mutated zombie, even if Ye Zhongming knew its skill, he wouldn't be able to defeat it so easily. But Bone Demon was a mental energy type and its strength was in its strong mental energy. Its other body stats were actually not much higher than one star humans.

Bone Demon was destined to lose since it faced someone who was stronger than a one star evolved and who knew everything about his skills.

Since it began mutating and turned into a level two body, this Bone Demon won all battles. No one could block its Scorching Rays and that was the reason why it was able to evolve so quickly.

But today, it felt like everything ended before it began. It didn't even know how it lost.

But there was one thing it knew, defeat often meant death.

Even for zombies, death was often the most terrifying thing.

It wanted to remove the golden cloth that was wrapped around its bone but its hands were broken and there was nothing it could do.

The Bone Demon could feel its life force weakening but it couldn't stop it...

.....

Ye Zhongming took just one second to go from defence to attack. The Bone Demon was of no threat so his focus was all on the Talking Lady.

Similar to the Bone Demon, apart from speed, the Talking Lady couldn't compare to other zombies. Ye Zhongming smashed it in the face with the shield and her body flew backward. Once she stabilized, she realised that the human was right in front. That terrifying silver blade was reaching her neck.

At the crucial moment, she opened her mouth to grumble at Ye Zhongming.

He felt his head hurt and his eyes blacked out. Fresh blood was even flowing out from his nose.

Impossible!

One couldn't describe how shocked Ye Zhongming felt. That was because it was using its skill-- Spirit Stab!

She was only a level two mutated zombie! It already had mental seed and energy transfer so how could it have a third skill!?

Even if she had, she would only get it when she evolved for the third time!

Ye Zhongming didn't even think and just held Moon Edge to block in front of himself. He reached out with his other hand as if there should be a streetlight there.

Hong!

The streetlight deformed because of that and turned into a steel person that pounced over at the vicious-looking Talking Lady.

The firm body smashed into the Talking Lady, causing the Spirit Stab to stop.

Spirit Stab was a mental energy skill that directly damaged one's mind. It was really vicious and was deemed one of the 20 forbidden skills.

There was once a monster that was really good at this skill. When it was hunted by a famous hunting team, it used the skill and 500 people became fools because they were hit. Many of them were six star and seven star evolved. All the living beings within a hundred miles were also affected by the skill and they were either slightly or badly injured.

That showed how terrifying such skills were.

Ye Zhongming predicted the Bone Demon's skill but not this Talking Lady's. At the same time, he didn't understand how she got three skills when she was just level two.

That went against all theories that they had in his last life.

Spirit Stab wasn't as strong as what that beast used but it was enough to give Ye Zhongming a huge headache and impair his vision.

Fortunately, he had a trump card. Summoning Technique was one of them. The iron monster that the streetlamp turned into appeared and interrupted the Talking Lady which made Ye Zhongming feel much better.

Seeing its owner gets injured, the cat charged over. It had the advantage against Yellow Ball so it just ignored that stupid dog and thought about saving its master.

Yellow Ball who was covered in injuries saw the cat pouncing in another direction. It opened its mouth and its fur stood on its ends, firing at the black cat that was still in mid-air.

Yellow Ball could control the direction that his skill was fired towards.

Chapter 103: Trade

The cat didn't expect the badly injured dog to attack at this moment. When it heard some movement from behind, it tried its best to dodge.

But how much fur did Yellow Ball have? How could it dodge so easily?

The black cat cried out and its butt was stuck with Yellow Ball's fur. Although this skill wasn't too strong due to the sheer amount of fur as compared to the Talking Lady's one, but it won in quantity.

The fur was stuck into the second half of the cat's body such that this nimble black lightning fell from the sky and cried out when it hit the ground. Much of the fur was bumped into its stomach when it fell. Although it wasn't fatal but the black cat was starting to lose feeling. It struggled but failed to get up.

How could the bald Yellow Ball let go of this chance? It ignored its injuries and pounced. It felt like as long as it ate this black cat then it could evolve.

On the other side, Talking Lady was hit by the iron man that the streetlamp turned into. She was in a bad state, her eyes, nose and ears were bleeding. Her blood's color was very special, it was actually sky blue. Once it flowed onto her white face, she looked like a fierce ghost.

Interrupting the skill caused huge injuries to the Talking Lady. She was hit by the shield and was barely holding on. Now that she saw the iron monster attacking her, she shot out several strands of hair into the body of the monster.

The steel man that was summoned from the streetlight was too ordinary and Ye Zhongming didn't put in too much mental energy. Its durability was only ten. After the Talking Lady shot hair into it, a light shone and it turned into metal fragments.

During this period of time, Ye Zhongming recovered and his vision was back. Seeing the bad state that the Talking Lady was in, he held his blade and wanted to kill her. Ye Zhongming wanted her to know that he was not someone she could offend.

But at this moment, the Bone Demon probably felt like it had no more hope and it actually roared and knocked towards Ye Zhongming.

Ye Zhongming had no choice but to turn back and slash off its head. He also kept the golden cloth back in the space crystal.

The short delay gave the Talking Lady a chance. This mutated zombie knew that she totally failed today. If she didn't flee now then she wouldn't be able to.

The Talking Lady had high intellect and it ran towards the black cat. A few strands of hair attack forced Yellow Ball away. She hugged the pet that couldn't move anymore and ran away.

When Ye Zhongming noticed, the Talking Lady was dozens of meters away.

Her sneak attacking him infuriated Ye Zhongming. He was obviously unhappy seeing a prey that he was about to capture flee from his hands. He took a deep breath and wanted to chase.

But the talking from the supermarket was picked up by him. His heart shook and he decided that he couldn't chase the Talking Lady. This level two mutated zombie fled far away and disappeared from his view.

The voice in the supermarket reminded Ye Zhongming of what he wanted to do today. He was afraid that if he chased the Talking Lady, then these people would just leave.

After balancing the pros and cons, he lost the chance to remove the root of the problem.

He found it unfortunate but he continued to dig the Bone Demon's crystal before tossing its corpse to the side. He touched Yellow Ball and after saying a few soft words, this dog stumbled and ran away.

The battle attracted many zombies in the district. These small fellows weren't much to Ye Zhongming. He dealt with them swiftly and made some commotion in another area to attract the zombie's attention before he knocked on the window and asked if they were there.

The supermarket was totally silent.

"Don't worry, I have no bad intentions, I came here to trade. I just bumped into some zombies and had to kill them." He paused and then continued, "I am alone and I have an evolution potion."

He made them feel safe and told them that he had something they wanted. This was the rule of the apocalypse when trading.

Ye Zhongming backed into the wall and listened closely. He heard a moment of silence and then heard people discussing for half a minute.

After two minutes, a gap opened in the window and a middle aged man's face appeared there. He looked around for Ye Zhongming and then searched around warily. He lowered his voice, "Where did you get the news from?"

"Brother Deng."

"Are you alone?"

"Yes."

"There are no zombies around?"

"I drew them away."

After a simple conversation, the window was closed. A short while later, that guy took a key out to open the anti-burglar window and waved at Ye Zhongming, "Come in. Slowly, hold your hands up where I can see them."

Ye Zhongming did as he said and he was also really wary when he jumped in.

The window was closed and blocked with a thick curtain. Someone used a lighter to light a candle and the room was bright.

Ye Zhongming swept and saw a middle aged man standing in front of him. He held a simple crossbow at himself. On the two sides were each a guy and behind him was the other middle aged man that had opened the window for him.

There were some sounds from outside the room so there should be some people there.

"Where is the evolution potion, we want to take a look."

Ye Zhongming nodded and opened his bag slowly to try to not cause a misunderstanding. He took one out slowly.

"I have more but I want to see the goods."

The middle aged man hesitated and nodded towards a guy at the corner. The young man took out a package from behind him and took out a job certificate that shone a dim light.

He opened it and held it for Ye Zhongming for him to see.

Things that could be used directly weren't allowed to be passed to the buyer. These people weren't stupid and understood this rule at the start of the apocalypse.

Ye Zhongming looked and his eyeball jumped. He bit his teeth to try to act calmer. He nodded toward the young man to express that he saw it.

"How are you planning to trade?"

Ye Zhongming looked at the careful man with the crossbow. He knew that this person was in charge.

"Six one star potions!"

His eyes shone and he said an unreasonable price.

“Too expensive.” Ye Zhongming shook his head.

“You don’t know the item.” The young man who showed him the certificate smiled mockingly like Ye Zhongming didn’t know what he was talking about.

“Two bottles.”

Ye Zhongming ignored him.

“No, too low. Five at least!”

“Three at most.”

The middle aged man paused and was obviously very tempted.

A few seconds later, he shook his head slowly, “At least four, if you don’t have it then please leave.”

Chapter 104: Light Seal Blademaster

Ye Zhongming was a little annoyed with this middle aged man’s stubbornness.

One star evolution potion was too valuable at the start of the apocalypse. Each bottle represented dozens and even hundreds of demon crystals which meant that you had to kill dozens and hundreds of zombies.

For evolved, it wasn’t easy to kill this number of zombies.

Four bottles which meant that you had to kill at least three to four hundred zombies. That was under the context that one was lucky, if not you might need even five hundred. The gachapon really depended on luck.

Since the apocalypse started, getting evolution potions was very important to people. Within the next year, one star evolution potions would be the most valuable and also the most useful trading item.

Although job certificates were good but if you weren’t an evolved then it was just a piece of trash paper.

Of course, to Ye Zhongming, this job certificate was far more valuable than four bottles. That was because Ye Zhongming had seen similar jobs which was why he was able to judge its value. If not for it being just a week since the start, this certificate would be far above this price.

“You should be clear about how hard it is to get potions now. Three bottles is high enough.” Ye Zhongming said softly, “If you insist on this price then I will leave.”

He took a step back and expressed his attitude.

The middle aged man frowned.

Three evolution potions were already the highest price that he had received during these few days.

There was only one person who took out two bottles to trade. The rest all used one bottle.

As an evolved, the middle aged man naturally knew how precious the potions were. The potion he drank used two lives. But after becoming evolved, he was still afraid of the poison. Unless he had a good chance, if not he didn’t dare to face too many zombies.

During these few days, he only collected a few dozen demon crystals. If he spun the wheel with it, he might not even get a single potion.

This young man's price was tempting but he was still reluctant.

The team formed around their family had nine people. Two brothers with their wives and kids.

Two died when they were killing zombies and he didn't want anymore of them to die. So he wanted to exchange enough potions for everyone using this certificate.

But he knew that the price was too high so he tried to lower it but it was still stuck around this price.

He didn't know if he would be able to meet anyone else that could pay such a price if the young man left.

"Can you tell me why you insist on four?" Ye Zhongming naturally didn't want to give up. He saw his expression and asked.

The middle aged man sighed, "There are two in the family with weak bodies, terminal illnesses, if they can't evolve they won't be able to live for long."

Although he didn't say too much, but Ye Zhongming understood. He wanted to use the evolution potion as a medicine so two bottles wasn't enough.

The evolution potion increased all areas of one's body so it could do some healing and was of some use for terminal illnesses. After all, if the body got stronger and one's immune system got higher, the body would self-heal and remove the illness.

So that was the case. Ye Zhongming thought about it and felt like they could discuss it.

"Look at this."

Ye Zhongming reached around his bag and took out the Ape Turtle egg.

"This is the egg of a level two mutated monster. I had two but I ate one. It has an effect similar to the potion. Although it is not that good, but it can increase your body's strength by a fold. You can also use this many times. Of course, the first time you eat it would have the best effect."

"If I add this in, what do you think?"

Some of the egg's life force was absorbed by the golden cloth so its surface was a little white. The life force fluctuation wasn't as intense as before but it was still an egg and eating it was still effective.

The people in the room heard it and their eyes lit up. The young man holding the certificate asked eagerly, "Useful for everyone? What about evolved?"

"Yes, I tested it myself."

The room was silent but they looked at one another to transmit their thoughts.

"This is my final price, if not then that is unfortunate."

Ye Zhongming added another sentence.

“Is this egg really as useful as you say?” The middle aged man asked but actually, it was an agreement.

Ye Zhongming was delighted, “Of course. You are evolved so you should be able to sense the fluctuation.”

He nodded and bit his teeth, “Okay, deal!”

Although he said it was a deal but both sides were still very careful in case anyone sneak attacked. That the trade would end up as a battle.

Three potions and one egg for one job certificate. Then Ye Zhongming jumped out of the window what he came in from.

Maybe their attitude about saving their family touched Ye Zhongming or maybe because their honest trading earned him a good impression. Ye Zhongming turned around and said, “This place won’t be safe a few days later, you better leave this place.”

The middle aged man by the window was stunned. He nodded and thanked him.

Ye Zhongming asked, “Can you tell me how you got this? If I am honest, you don’t have the ability to spin it from a gachapon.”

The middle aged man paused for two seconds, “We saw two weird monsters fighting and this thing was in one of their nest.”

Ye Zhongming nodded. He looked around and then disappeared into the night.

.....

Ye Zhongming opened the certificate under a nearby tree and on it wrote the name of the job: Light Seal Blademaster!

A strong job with a prefix!

Ye Zhongming had never heard of it but that didn’t stop him from being sure that this job was strong. That was because the Glory Smith that had a prefix showed him. Now that he bumped into another job with a prefix, obviously he knew that this was a good thing.

Moreover, Glory Smith was a shockingly strong secondary job. This Light Seal Blademaster was a primary job so it would be stronger.

Crush it, learn! He didn’t hesitate and he didn’t even take a look at the leather scroll.

A warm power filled his body and his mental energy increased a little. Ye Zhongming pulled out Moon Edge. A weird seal appeared above his left hand and then he punched the seal into the body of the blade.

Chapter 105: Complicated and strong job

Moon Edge shone and the light exploded even without me using Full Strength Light. When one looked at the edges of the blade light, there were actually signs of the air twisting that was similar to when you burnt something. It made it feel that the space around the blade was twisted.

“Seal: Flame Blade.”

Ye Zhongming held his breath and slashed toward the area in front of him.

A red light shone and it went from Moon Edge straight to the ground. The red glow was as if he was drawing something. With his hand as the source, he drew a quarter of a circle right away.

Hong!

The green grass patch and then the stone road was burnt by this blade. The embers reached three to four meters high and lit up half the district.

The flames appeared quickly and also disappeared quickly. They were gone in just a second. The area that burnt was now pitch black. Be it grass or the stone, they were all turned to ash and all that was left was a three meter long and one meter deep hole!

It looked like a mini abyss had appeared on the ground.

Ye Zhongming was shocked by that slash.

In his last life, he was also a blade user and reached intermediate grade. He had a few job skills but even the more advanced ones were weaker than this flame blade. One could say that if not for the difference between a six star evolved and one star evolved, this blade was enough to suppress all of his past skills!

If one included all elements, Ye Zhongming estimated that this blade was around half of his past life's full-strength slash.

Although it was half, but one had to know that he was six star in his last life and was only one star now! The gap was huge.

In other words, when Ye Zhongming reached two star or three star, that slash might be as strong as his past life.

Ye Zhongming was very clear about this concept.

Light Seal Blademaster was actually two jobs in one.

One was a Seal Master and the other was a Blademaster.

Seal Master used mental energy to form seals and use their various abilities.

Blademaster needed no introduction. Moreover, there were many people with such a job. He knew over twenty people with this job.

The Light Seal Master imprinted the seal onto the blade to activate more strength so it was very special.

The seal wasn't able to activate its strength on its own so it needed a medium like a blade.

Ye Zhongming had never heard of a Seal Master before but similar jobs like Fist Seal Master, Finger Seal Master etc were ones he had heard about. But there weren't many of these and were very rare. They weren't strong jobs so Ye Zhongming didn't know much about them.

One thing was for sure. Fist Seal Master and Finger Seal Master used fists and fingers to use the seal to attack their enemies.

This was something that Ye Zhongming's job couldn't do.

The Light Seal Blademaster's skill could be split into two parts, one was seal and one was the blade skill.

Seal Technique was how to make the seal and the bladed skill was how to use the blade.

Ye Zhongming was a beginner Light Seal Blademaster now and the job system was split into two branches. One was the seal technique. The skill that appeared was flame, one word, flame. The first skill was for the medium to have fire ability.

This summarised the effect of this seal, actually, not only did it cause the blade to have the ability of fire but it added to its strength, the actual increase of a flame was in its attack strength.

Apart from that, there were many other seals that Ye Zhongming hadn't grasped. One of the seal branch abilities was- zero. That could allow the blade to have the rare spacetime ability. This ability didn't increase attack but instead increased speed.

Speed of waving the blade!

It was extremely strong, turning the distance between two things into zero.

This was a sure kill skill. The full name of the skill was 'Seal: Zero Blade'.

There were many others that Ye Zhongming didn't have time to study.

The second branch was blade techniques. Ye Zhongming only grasped one skill too-- "Blue Ocean Break".

The blade techniques were different from the seals and could be used alone. When Blue Ocean Break was used, the damage toward targets was huge, slashing three blades at once and the energy would swallow everything. It looked like one split an ocean with one blade.

Any of these skills alone was already super strong. If they were together, then that was enough said. Ye Zhongming's previous blade only used the flame ability and it already shocked him so much. If he did it with Blue Ocean Break... Ye Zhongming couldn't imagine.

There was one more crucial point. Another aspect of this job was that if the medium was good enough, it would have an additional effect to the skill.

Ye Zhongming's Moon Edge had the Full Strength Light that could form an additive effect with Flames. The blade's own ability was now shifted to an even sharper blade light. Just this alone made him feel that it would add 30% to the effect if he had only used the blade alone.

The coincidence was that Ye Zhongming was a smith, Glory Smith...

The stronger he was, the more restrictions there were.

This job was the same so Ye Zhongming didn't only look at its strengths but also its restrictions.

First was a problem that troubled Ye Zhongming for a long time. When one used the skill, it consumed a huge amount of mental energy. The Flame seal used up close to 100 points. If he used Blue Ocean Break, that would be 150 points. Even if he considered the mental energy that he gained from this job, this consumption was huge. Similar to Liang Chuyin's Shadow Dance, just two uses and he would be out of mental energy.

Secondly, the seal had a huge demand on the medium. Normal blades couldn't handle the power of the seal. Not to mention using it, the blade would be destroyed the moment the seal was placed on it. This meant that the user had to have a good weapon. Fortunately, Ye Zhongming was a smith, his Moon Edge was at silver grade. If others got this job, they would have to spend a lot of effort to just get a good blade.

From this point alone, it was right that those people didn't learn it. If they did, it would be a waste of such a treasure.

Finally, there was one more problem that gave Ye Zhongming a headache.

Chapter 106: Attacked

Seals were temporary.

This meant that he had to place a seal on the blade every single time. After use, the power of the seal would disappear. Moreover, there was a short time restriction of a few seconds. If he didn't use it during that time, the seal would disappear.

Ye Zhongming wished that the seal would be permanent. He would then just have to use the blade skills and save on mental energy... Moreover, it could save time during battles or catch his enemies off guard...

But these were just small flaws that couldn't hide the strength of this skill. Ye Zhongming was already satisfied.

If this job appeared a few years later, ten bottles of level four evolution potions wouldn't be enough to buy it.

Today, he was the winner.

He killed those few zombies that were attracted by the commotion and dug out their crystals before he ran out. He was nearby when he heard Yellow Ball's furious roar.

Anyone who had seen cats and dogs fight knew that their voices were different when they were fighting as compared to normal time. Its bark was obviously a fighting one.

He told Yellow Ball to head back but it actually fought someone? Then the others...

Ye Zhongming sped up. He knew that his team was in danger. A person who dared to face a fully evolved team with one level one mutated pet, wouldn't be easy to deal with!

.....

Diamond Shield broke apart so Mo Ye scoffed and retreated. Blood seeped from the corner of her mouth.

Park Xiuying's face turned white as the shield broke. She bit her teeth and raised her hand to buff Mo Ye once more.

"Keke, decent skill. You healed her and shielded her six times. I want to see how many more times you can do it!!"

Wang Ding was thinner than a few days ago and his military uniform was gone. What replaced it was a grey shirt. It was special, one could see a layer of light so it should be an item.

After spending time with Ye Zhongming, Mo Ye knew that it was a piece of grey equipment, far better than usual items.

Wang Ding let go of his righteousness and now he had an evil aura to him. His face had an evil smile that made one uncomfortable and it made one hate him.

“The blade is not bad but you are too weak and can’t use its strength. After today, that thing would belong to me.”

“Nonsense!”

Mo Ye didn’t say a word but Little Tiger who had fallen to the ground spat at Wang Ding.

Wang Ding glanced at Little Tiger and scoffed coldly without replying.

Wang Ding brought his men over and Little Tiger was the one who charged forwards. The outcome was predictable. Someone who just evolved to one star couldn’t even last one round against Wang Ding who had become two star evolved for several days. He was badly injured and lost his fighting ability.

Captain Ye and Liang Chuyin were deep in battle too. Both were one star. Liang Chuyin had Diamond Shield to give her an advantage. But Captain Ye wasn’t easy to deal with. Moreover, she had to protect Park Xiuying and not let people hurt her. As such she was in a defensive state.

On the other side, Yellow Ball faced three evolved. The dog was injured and had just used its skill so it was tough for it to face three one star evolved. It had taken several hits. If not for monsters having strong life force, they would have stayed down and not been able to climb up.

Mo Ye, Yellow Ball, Liang Chuyin defended Park Xiuying from three directions. Xia Lei stood beside Teacher Park in case anyone charged and she could block for her. She also threatened the enemy with her gun.

But this threat was more of self-preservation. Apart from Wang Ding, Captain Ye and three evolved, there were ten people in the dark. Each of them had guns and they aimed over.

Guns were a huge threat at the start of the apocalypse to both humans and evolved. But at the same time, people with it were careful. Unless it affected their lives, if not they wouldn’t fire it.

That was because it made a huge sound and would attract things over. If one was lucky, zombies would be drawn over but if one was unlucky, a bunch of mutated monsters was possible.

So during the week after the apocalypse started, people with guns all gained this experience. Wang Ding did not fire and chose to sneak attack.

Mo Ye and the others wouldn’t find it so difficult if they were up against other survivors. After all, they were evolved and two of them had jobs.

But the one sneak attacking was Wang Ding. As a two star evolved he was much stronger than others. He also had a grey uniform which meant that normal attacks were useless. Liang Chuyin used Shadow Dance and apart from forcing him back, she didn’t break the defence and only left a few marks.

Along with Captain Ye and the three other evolved, Mo Ye’s side was totally at a disadvantage.

Both sides held their daggers which were both grey grade. Wang Ding attacked once more at a speed that Mo Ye couldn't keep up to. She could only make use of Wang Ding's fear of Moon Edge to block with the blade.

But she obviously couldn't defend everything. Wang Ding still found a chance to stab her ribs.

Diamond Shield blocked her the second before she was about to get hit. A light shone and then there was a crack as this shield was broken once again.

"Once more, come again!"

Wang Ding didn't stop, he waved the dagger again from another angle.

Park Xiuying bit her teeth to buff Mo Ye once more.

They could only hold on until Ye Zhongming returned. If not, one Wang Ding was enough to kill them all. Park Xiuying knew that. She used Cleansing Dew on Mo Ye and Yellow Ball. She also used the shield on Mo Ye five times, once on Liang Chuyin and once on Yellow Ball. Her mental energy was about to run out. She couldn't even bother about Yellow Ball when its shield was broken as well as the injured Little Tiger on the ground. She could only protect Mo Ye.

But Teacher Park knew that she couldn't hold on for long. Maybe the next time she would be unable to use Diamond Shield.

Ye Zhongming why aren't you back yet?

Chapter 107: Seal Blademaster's first battle

Wang Ding found it tougher than what he expressed.

After he became a two star evolved using the Black Soul Swallowing Card, Wang Ding felt that he was invincible. At least against other humans, he was.

During the Pearl Lake battle, his confidence was hit for the first time.

That one star evolved and didn't care about him at all. His target was always that giant monster that was wrapped up in black metal chains.

Moreover, he succeeded!

Wang Ding felt that he was looked down upon. After he succeeded and fled, he felt a sense of defeat.

He chased the group several times but they managed to flee so he obviously felt hatred towards them. However, he didn't care much. He even relaxed. He brought people to hunt for two days and they found two gachapons to gain three more evolved.

But when they found this team once again and fought against them, he was shocked.

How did this group suddenly become so strong?

When they chased them the past few times, only Mo Ye was able to fight him but they weren't on the same level. They had to rely on the other two women to assist to be able to block him for a period.

If not for them being lucky and having outside help, Wang Ding would have won.

But today, the woman using the whip actually gained a job! That woman that was so weak and cowardly that could only scream and throw rocks at him actually had a job too!

Along with Mo Ye who was quite skilled, this team could fend off his men and him!

As compared to a few days ago, his team had three more evolved but they were at a standstill.

Wang Ding didn't dare to imagine what would things be like if his team was the same as before with only Captain Ye and him being evolved.

This didn't include the two treasures that Wang Ding got, the grey armor and the grey dagger.

Moreover... Wang Ding had a huge worry.

That young man was not here!

Once he returned...

He decided to end it quickly. It looked really easy for him to destroy the Diamond Shields but he was actually going all out. He knew how much stamina he was consuming.

"Die! Die!"

Wang Ding intersected the dagger in his hands and after knocking back Moon Edge, he slashed the shield and it broke once again.

Park Xiuying waved but nothing appeared. Her ashen white face turned whiter at that moment.

She didn't have enough mental energy to summon the Diamond Shield again.

Without it, Mo Ye couldn't block Wang Ding. If she couldn't then these people will get killed.

Everyone's heart sank and they felt the grim reaper breathing into their ears.

"The blade is mine!"

Wang Ding laughed and he slashed towards Mo Ye's wrist to try to slice it and get the silver blade.
Silver!

"You are smiling too early."

A voice rang out from behind him and a red blade light followed quickly after he said that.

"Seal: Flame Blade!"

Ye Zhongming arrived at the most crucial moment and used his strike!

Full Strength Glow was buffed by the flame seal and sliced towards Wang Ding. It was as if the entire sky was dyed red, lightning up the night sky as if it was day.

That blade terrified Captain Ye and also those newly evolved experts. It also terrified Mo Ye and the others.

It was too frightening.

The visual contrast with the night sky as well as the fire-like red color shocked everyone.

It was as if a fire waterfall was descending from the nine heavens.

Wang Ding turned around and was stunned when he saw that waterfall.

He was attracted by the beautiful scenery in the night sky. Only when he felt wary did his expression change and he pounced to the side.

He didn't try to block. Even if Wang Ding had a grey weapon and grey uniform, he had no confidence at all.

That was because he saw a silver color!

Wang Ding was extremely quick, at this crucial moment he used all of his potential.

But he still didn't manage to dodge it.

The red flame glow flashed across his body and what followed next were screams.

This two star evolved's left hand split from his body and fell to the side. The blade light smashed into the ground and fire burnt up like fireworks.

Along with this bright but temporary firework, his left arm was burnt into ashes. Even a side of his body was covered in a fireball.

This two star expert that was the king of this battle rolled on the ground to quash the flames. The burning smell and tragic cries filled the air while he tried to charge into the darkness.

Everyone was silent and they were totally shocked by that blade.

Ye Zhongming walked over with Moon Edge which still had some fire around it. His body was covered in thick killing energy. He stepped forwards which gave out a light stepping sound but to others it felt as if a mountain was shaking.

"Brother Ye!"

"Zhongming!"

"Boss!"

"Wang!"

Everyone was filled with relief and their voices were filled with excitement.

"Go!"

Captain Ye shouted loudly and fled towards a direction. The other people followed like a bunch of terrified rabbits.

That blade caused all the courage in their hearts to disappear. Not to mention battle, they didn't even dare to face Ye Zhongming.

Liang Chuyin chased a few steps before stopping. She whipped the ground reluctantly. The others didn't want to chase and that included Ye Zhongming.

"Let's go."

Ye Zhongming opened his mouth and everyone realised that his voice was hoarse and his body was shaking. Liang Chuyin ran up to help the guy who had just showed off his skills.

The other people made a move. Mo Ye went to help Little Tiger up, Park Xiuying went to check on Yellow Ball. She used the last bit of her mental energy to use cast Cleansing Dew to make its injuries slightly better. Xia Lei then hugged this Envoy of Light that was about to collapse.

The group of them quickly left the area.

A few minutes after, two figures flashed from the darkness and walked onto the battlefield. They sniffed the air. One touched the crack that formed after Ye Zhongming's slash with a deformed hand before tasting it.

The two shadows stood back together and after saying a weird word, they chased the direction where Captain Ye fled to.

The breeze blew and a mutating bug in the bushes heard something, like...

Del...Delicious...

Chapter 108: Searching for someone

When Ye Zhongming woke up, he could hear talking sounds and movement on the outside.

"Hehe Captain, how is it, my move is strong right?"

Little Tiger waved the rod in his hands in glee and he giggled at Mo Ye.

He forced her back with one stick which made him excited. In the past, it was difficult for him to even get close to Mo Ye. Now that he had evolved, along with guys' body being better, at least in terms of body physique, he was on her level.

"Nonsense, I was giving you a chance."

Mo Ye rolled her eyes. She always treated Little Tiger very directly and just now she was not putting in much effort.

Yellow Ball barked twice as it watched on from the side, who knew who it was supporting?

Liang Chuyin and Park Xiuying were busy cooking.

Xia Lei sat on the side and looked at the two of them with an envious gaze.

The strength of an evolved tempted her. She was a cop, a very good one at it. She was the same as Mo Ye and Little Tiger. Now that her past colleagues all had huge strength, she obviously felt tempted.

But... Xia Lei had her own thoughts. She held the evolution potion in her hands and gave out a blessed smile.

Ten hours had passed since the battle last night. Park Xiuying's mental energy speed was much quicker than Ye Zhongming thought. In the morning, she had already recovered a large part of it. She used Cleansing Dew several times and both the injured Little Tiger and Yellow Ball were mostly recovered. After a night of resting on this balcony, everyone on the team had recovered.

Everyone greeted Ye Zhongming. His strength and his appearance to save their lives during crucial moments had earned all their trust and respect. Their attitude was totally different from when the team was first built.

Only one day had passed.

“Boss, I can battle with Captain Mo now, let me use Moon Edge.”

“Wishful thinking! If you want to die first then tell me.”

Mo Ye relied on Moon Edge to battle Wang Ding which made this heroic cop love the sharp weapon. There was no chance to make her give it up.

Boss was the new way that Little Tiger called Ye Zhongming.

Ye Zhongming was infected by their emotions and smiled. He placed down the depressed feeling that he had due to Wang Ding fleeing and said, “Isn’t it just a blade?”

“Just a blade?” Little Tiger walked over and pointed while saying, “Boss you didn’t see Wang Ding’s face. Although he relied on his evolution level but he didn’t dare to touch the blade at all. He would just hit the back of it. That fear was too obvious.”

In his excitement, his old accent even came out.

“I will just make you a new one then.”

What?

Little Tiger’s mouth was so big that he could shove an egg in. His eyes opened wide. When the others heard Ye Zhongming say that, they all looked over.

Everyone was interested in Ye Zhongming’s job but he didn’t tell them in detail so they didn’t dare to ask. Now that they heard him say that, they all paid attention.

Ye Zhongming smiled and walked beside the balcony. He waved and he used the crafting skill. A crane on the side turned into a pool of metal, it merged, condensed, shaped...

Ye Zhongming didn’t panic and added in a few pieces of bones that he took from the Bone Demon. He also tossed in some scattered materials. A moment later, all these turned into a brand new Moon Edge.

Fortunately, he succeeded and didn’t throw face in front of everyone.

Apart from basic stats, it added a bit of sharpness and 10 toughness. It was not on the same level as Ye Zhongming’s. But it was similar to the old one.

Before having better materials and a higher job level, Ye Zhongming was not going to waste the ghost metal on it so he didn’t add it in.

“Damn damn damn damn!” Little Tiger cursed profusely. This miraculous crafting made him cry out and he was excited to see this new silver blade.

Ye Zhongming touched his chin, “Didn’t you want a Moon Edge, here then.”

“Brother Ye, this, this is too magical?” The person that sounded so warm and natural was definitely the influencer. Seeing Ye Zhongming show his overpowered skill, that expression she had was as if she was the one who made it. She was really proud.

“Right Zhongming, what skill is this?” Teacher Park looked at the new Moon Edge and she was trying to find something out from it.

“My secondary job, smith.”

“So amazing, boss make one more!” Little Tiger blinked. He wanted Xia Lei to have one. She learned how to use a blade so with such a sharp weapon, she would dare to fight an evolved.

Ye Zhongming stared at him, “Do you think it is cabbage? Not to mention the materials, just the cost alone is one level two demon crystal. If I didn’t kill another level two zombie yesterday, this blade wouldn’t even exist.”

Little Tiger shrugged. Level two demon crystal. Only Ye Zhongming had the ability to kill level two mutated monsters in the party, the others needed help. So to the current team, although they were strong but level two demon crystals were very precious.

Xia Lei lowered her head and her expression was complicated. Although she was among them, but she felt left out. Ye Zhongming obviously didn’t treat her as part of the team.

That was normal. After all, she was going to leave but that still didn’t make her feel better and she was a little down.

“Zhongming.” Mo Ye walked over and saw the new Moon Edge that was similar to her own, “This is similar to the route we set, how should we go now? To where?”

Ye Zhongming walked to the edge of the balcony and looked down. He compared it to the map that he memorised and pointed at a green building.

“Let’s go there to find someone.”

.....

Le Dayuan squatted in a corner and hugged his knees, burying his knees deep in. That could make him feel better. After all, beside him were a few piles of human excrement.

He was a high level engineer at a Seiko Instrument Factory and was earning top five salary in the factory. He had a good life in the city.

But his wife was not satisfied and often grumbled that with his skills if he jumped jobs he would earn a few hundred thousand a year.

Le Dayuan had a weak personality and hoped for stability. The two of them often fought because of this. But after all, the advanced engineer title was good and the hundred thousand a year salary was enough so nothing else happened.

But when the apocalypse occurred, everything changed. The skills he was proud of had no use anymore. His weak body and high degree eyes made him lose the aura around him being an engineer.

On that day, many workers gathered in an apartment. Le Dayuan and his wife were no exception.

But what happened next sent him into despair.

Chapter 109: Using humans to attract zombies

The strong and healthy started to take over.

That was because they could defend against zombies, they could find food, they could... Fight back.

The weak ended up as the bottom rung.

In the factory, most of the higher ups were people with brains, experience, skills and they were top of the pyramid. They had high salaries and were treated well and respected by everyone.

These people were strong with their brains but they were weak and had no stamina or strength. A portion of them turned into zombies when the apocalypse started and the other portion were fortunate to survive. But they were defenseless so not to mention killing zombies, just searching for food and running ten meters was something that they found tiring.

Those normal people who were in charge of hard labor with little to no technical skill were able to rely on their strong bodies to find food. They could also kill zombies and obtain the crystals that were said could be used to spin the mysterious gachapon.

As long as they could get a potion, they would evolve.

Thus, those people who were high above in the past had fallen off their pedestals and the ones that replaced them were the normal people whom they had trampled all over.

Food, water, cigarettes, wine, all sorts of resources, and even women were things that they got now.

Facing this sudden change, Le Dayuan and the others found it hard to adapt.

But that wasn't important. During the peacetime, the higher ups would listen to your opinions and might do some fake changes. But now whatever listening was nonsense. If you didn't follow instructions then you would just scam. If you angered them, they would punch you at a minimum. At worst, it might lead to your death!

Sometimes Le Dayuan felt that he had returned to an era--- Era of slavery.

But it didn't matter what he felt. The important thing was that others adapted to this world and he didn't.

A loud laughter spread from the end of the corridor. Le Dayuan could smell the fragrance of smoked chicken through all the shit and urine. This resulted in acid rising up his empty stomach which caused him to feel a burning pain.

But he didn't dare to lift his head as he was afraid that he would see his wife from the open door.

On the fifth day of the apocalypse, his wife for ten years couldn't take the hunger and thirst. She jumped into the arms of a mechanic at the factory. When Le Dayuan heard the news, he charged into the darkest room he had seen in his life and saw his wife resting on a table, shoving biscuits into her mouth. In her other hand was half a sausage and a bottle of water. The guy was thrusting himself into her back...

That was the first time Le Dayuan fought someone and it was the first time he tried to gain the courage to do something.

In the end, not only did he fail to stop anything, he was beaten up badly. He could only watch as his woman fell under the body of others...

At that moment, Le Dayuan felt like he was dead.

But the death of his body was far tougher than he imagined. He stood at the window and looked at zombies walking below. His determination shattered like a bubble in the air.

Maybe waiting for death in the dirtiest corner was the best end. At least it wouldn't be so intense and it would not hurt so much.

Le Dayuan stared at his toes from the cracks of his knees and thought to himself.

A footstep could be heard and a few people looked at these few that could only sleep on the cold hard floor.

"Various supervisors hello."

The person who spoke laughed. Only a fool would think that he was greeting them.

This person was the security captain of the factory Chang Chun, he was over forty and it was said that he was in a gang and went to jail because he injured someone. After he came out, he joined a second chance program and was sent to the factory to be a security guard where he worked for 7-8 years.

During those 7-8 years he didn't cause any trouble, he just did his job and at the start of the year, he was promoted to security captain.

He was muscular and knew some kung fu. In normal times this didn't mean much, but here, it was enough to threaten everyone. Naturally, he became the leader of those workers and now dozens of people followed him.

"Aiyo, why aren't you all speaking?"

Chang Chun had a mocking smile on his face, he didn't pity these thin group. The apocalypse had ignited the hidden evil and viciousness in his heart.

"I came to tell you good news but how can I do that with your attitude?" Guan Changchun sighed and he pulled a young girl with his right hand. He ignored the gazes of everyone and just reached in with his hand to rub her chest.

"Food is nearly out so we have to head out to search. After all, we are colleagues so I am planning to select a few of you to follow me, who is coming?" He looked at everyone and continued, "No matter if we find anything, those who go will have a full meal and a bottle of water. If we find food, he will get three days of food!"

Some people were pumped. They were hungry for too long and they were willing to do things to get food.

They didn't dare to search for food themselves. A few days ago some people were too hungry and they tried to head out but none of them returned. There were even two that were eaten right at the door. The tragic cries still sent chills down one's spine.

But if Guan Changchun went with them then things would be okay. Not only were these people vicious when they hit people, they were good at attacking zombies too. When they worked in groups, they could deal with 3-5 zombies.

“I will go!”

“Bring me!”

“Me too.”

“And me!”

.....

Many people stood up and wanted to get some benefits.

“So eager.” Guan Changchun pointed at two people and they were delighted and felt like they had already gotten the food.

A subordinate whispered two sentences to him. If Le Dayuan raised his head, he would see that the person speaking was the mechanic that took over his wife.

“We need one more, Dayuan, you then.”

Le Dayuan raised his head in shock and didn’t understand why such a good chance was given to him. But when he saw that mechanic’s dark smile, he had a bad feeling.

.....

“Boss are you sure this is the place?” Little Tiger searched the building and apart from killing ten zombies, he didn’t find a single person.

Ye Zhongming frowned as he stood in the hall of the factory and realised that he might be in the wrong place.

He came to find someone, to find a godly figure known as Master Yuan. When others talked about him, he remembered that this person walked out of this place.

But there was no one here.

Was the birthplace of Master Yuan not correct? Was he going to miss out on the first person he tried to find after his rebirth?

“Brother Ye come, there are people using humans to attract zombies!” The influencer’s beautiful and crisp voice spread from the windows.

Chapter 110: Father of crystal weapons

“Your turn, go!”

A short guy was pushed out but his colleague had been bitten to death by a zombie so how would he listen to them and head out to his death?

He cried out and tried to push back. The adrenaline allowed his legs which were weak as he had no food to stabilise on the ground.

Guan Changchun held an iron pipe and viciousness flashed across his face. He smacked the advanced engineer on the knee and the sound of crisp bone breaking was mixed into his cries. That person lay on the ground and rolled as he hugged his knee. Sweat covered his shirt.

“Give him a knife!”

Guan Changchun ordered and a person ran out to stab the other leg. Fresh blood flowed out.

“Don’t, ah! It hurts!” The guy teared up. He regretted choosing to come out to find food with these people. This was not finding food, this was them using him as bait to draw the zombies from the nearby supermarket.

The blood smell swiftly spread in the air. Moments later, the zombie’s unique sound could be heard from all around. They smelled the blood and were getting close!

Guan Changchun hid to the side with his men and smashed the heads of zombies that were alone to collect their crystals.

In just a while, the cries had an intense two second peak before stopping. All that was left was the sound of flesh being ripped and loud chewing. Twenty zombies were enjoying their meal.

A few of them took the chance to run into the supermarket. They collected stuff and ran right out, afraid that the zombies would notice them. Guan Changchun was furious at these people as they were just cowards but he didn’t even look at himself who also did not dare to enter.

When they were back, Guan Changchun snatched a bag over to see what was inside before he slapped the guy in the face, “Damn, you took so little food? That is not even enough for a day! You wasted two baits to do this, you really are trash.”

That person who was hit didn't dare to say a word but he was evidently unhappy.

“Brother Changchun isn’t there one more?”

The mechanic held Le Dayuan’s collar like he was a chicken. Along the way he had beaten Le Dayuan up and the reason was that his wife actually suggested for him to give Le Dayuan some food.

Guan Changchun looked at Le Dayuan and hesitated. Actually, he was planning to use two baits to get enough food and then he would let out the blood of the last one to attract zombies and collect crystals. But now he could only use him to get enough food. There was still some bait back at home so he shall get the crystals next time.

“Okay, open up a wound, get him to run there.”

Guan Changchun held Le Dayuan’s chin and said viciously, “Worker Le, listen up. Although I am opening up a wound but I am not injuring your leg. Run in that direction and we will support you. If you get out then you will live and you will also get food. If not then you can just blame your life for being tough. Do you understand?”

He didn't wait for Le Dayuan to reply and just glanced at the mechanic. He understood and stabbed Le Dayuan’s arm before pulling down.

Blood spurted out. This blade sliced his entire left arm. The 30 cm wound was so deep that it could see the bone. Even Guan Changchun's mouth twitched when he saw that.

Guan Changchun looked at the mechanic and was a little wary but he didn't say anything. He just kicked Le Dayuan and told him to run quickly.

Le Dayuan hugged his arm and continued to run but the area ahead got darker and darker. He felt the pain-reducing but his body was cold. He was a doctor, not a medical degree one but he knew that this wasn't his injury getting better but him losing too much blood. His body was turning numb. Maybe a few seconds later, he would fall down from shock and end up as food.

He knew that he was about to die. Many pictures flashed across his mind. His loved ones, that woman that betrayed him, the incomplete research that he had done since his university days that he didn't tell others...

He smiled, was this his final moments?

He decided to stop running. Since he was going to die then he shall conserve some energy. Although he didn't turn his head but he knew that the zombies were already behind him and were about to bite his neck.

At the final moment, he felt a warm light land on him. His cold body suddenly felt warm like that of a summer breeze. The giant wound on his arm felt an itch. He lowered his head and saw that it was healing quickly.

What is this?!

Did he die and end up in heaven?

"Help him away, Little Tiger, Chuyin, handle this place."

"Master Le hello, you don't have to say anything, just follow us. We will tell you about everything."

Le Dayuan heard a guy speak. He raised his head and saw a handsome young face.

In the future, Le Dayuan was firm in his belief that the face was the most handsome one he had seen. The owner of the face also had the most merciful and loving voice.

Many people, even the person himself didn't know whether to laugh or cry but no one dared to argue. Not only because the master of the face was firm and controlled the life and deaths of many, but because Le Dayuan was too famous such that no one dared to comment on things that he said.

The zombies weren't much of a threat to Little Tiger and Chuyin. With the whip and Moon Edge, they killed one after another. A moment later the zombies all turned into bodies and naturally their crystals were dug.

"Let's go, there are too many zombies, we can't deal with them."

Only when they saw a small-scale hoard did they start to retreat with all their spoils.

.....

Park Xiuying used Cleansing Dew several times on the stunned looking middle aged man laying on the bed. Mo Ye stood behind Ye Zhongming and asked, "Zhongming, who is he?"

Ye Zhongming was a little lost, who is he?

He didn't say it out but the answer was in his heart.

This person was Le Dayuan, in the apocalypse he was called Master Le. He wasn't a nine star expert, he was not a leader of a team and he was not the leader of a base.

He only had one nickname.

Father of Crystal Weapons!
