Apocalypse Gachapon

#Chapter 11: Careless - Read Apocalypse Gachapon Chapter 11: Careless

Chapter 11: Careless

When the golden light broke through the atmosphere and turned the beautiful earth into hell, not only did it bring the virus that caused mutations, it also brought a bunch of merciless killings. It forced a new evolution method and also the hope of living through the Apocalypse Gacha.

All of this hope included the legendary Secret Realm.

Yes, legendary. That was because in his last life, Ye Zhongming had only heard about it but had never seen it.

Secret Realm key and also the Secret Realm that it represented, was something only the strongest few on earth had control of.

In the ten years of the apocalypse, Ye Zhongming who was only six star evolved had only heard of it but he didn't have the right to take a look.

But that didn't stop its legend from being brought up time and time again which gave Ye Zhongming a deep impression.

He remembered that someone who had come into contact with it say that the Secret Realm and the dungeons were opposites. The dungeons represented danger, death and terror while the Secret Realm represented hope and life.

From that person, Ye Zhongming found out the way the Secret Realm Key appeared-- Along with a golden light-- descending from the skies.

No one knew how many such Secret Realms there were but one thing was for certain. The key descended to all corners of the earth within today like the one that dropped not far from him.

Facing the Apocalypse Gacha, Ye Zhongming was able to keep calm, but the Secret Realm Key was one that filled him with excitement.

Secret Realm, it was one of the most precious things in the apocalypse! Inside, one could obtain unimaginably strong items and benefits. For Ye Zhongming who had spent 10 years in the apocalypse, that attraction was fatal.

[Type here]

He gave up on wanting to hunt level 1 zombies and wanted to go get that key.

It had just been a few hours since the start of the apocalypse. He had one star evolved strength and there was a huge chance that he could get it.

He judged the distance and it was actually in his school.

Ye Zhongming thought about the number of zombies there and felt a headache. The school region was not like the living district. There weren't fewer people because people were working. This university had tens of thousands of students living and studying inside. Adding in those who got mutated and infected, there should be close to ten thousand. That place was far more dangerous than Dingsheng Apartments.

But high risk high reward, that was what everyone in the apocalypse lived under. Ye Zhongming was long used to it.

He held the blade in his hands tightly and quickly got up to the second floor. It was not blocked here so he just jumped off onto the grass patch behind the building.

But he ran just a few steps before he heard some sounds from behind. A woman shouted. Ye Zhongming turned and saw that the long-haired girl followed.

Seeing Ye Zhongming look at her, she didn't care about the pain in her butt and just ran beside him. She said pitifully, "Don't, don't leave me."

In the apocalypse, some women were strong like Mu Xinfei. She was nine star evolved and was one of the strongest. Like Hai Wangxing who was also a woman. Although she was an eight star expert, but she could control ocean monsters to stand at the peak of the world. There was also Ye Linglan, she was really strong and also had the high intellect to control a strong army. Her name in the evolved circle spread far and wide.

But after all, these were just the minority. Due to physical differences, they were in a weak position since the start. That was something that didn't change. In the apocalypse they were mostly the support of guys and had no dignity or status. Most of them had sad lives. They could only rely on their looks and bodies to exchange for food and water. Some even just saw them as birth tools and apart from that, they weren't of much use.

In the ten years of the apocalypse, Ye Zhongming was more or less affected by such thinking. Apart from experts like Mu Xinfei, he was used to treating other girls like burdens. They could only bring him danger and problems and not help.

Under such a way of thinking, naturally, his attitude wasn't too good. But after all, he wasn't someone who saw life as something insignificant, he wouldn't kill her just because she would put him in danger. He pointed his blade at her and said solemnly,

[Type here]

“You can follow me but I won’t ensure your safety. If you make a sound, I will kill you without hesitation.”

That girl nodded. In just a few hours she saw many people flee or fight back but without a doubt, all of them died. Only this guy killed those disgusting monsters like he was cutting vegetables. If she didn’t follow him to live then who would she follow? He was just asking her to keep quiet, if he even asked her to wash clothes to massage him, she would also do that.

After confirming the direction, Ye Zhongming headed toward his school. It wasn’t too far from the wall of the school and there were only a few hundred meters between them.

Using the night sky, Ye Zhongming started his killing road. He slowed down to not draw attention. When he bumped into lone zombies, he would sneak attack them to dig out their crystals. If he met a huge group of them, he rather go around.

When he was at the edge of the district, he had 11 more demon crystals.

Ye Zhongming turned around and thought that he had lost the woman. After all, he was a one star evolved and his speed and stamina were much stronger than normal people. But surprising was that although she looked like she was struggling but she caught up and was just 50 meters away.

This made Ye Zhongming impressed.

Although it wasn’t far but trying to keep up, was a test of stamina and perseverance. This weak-looking girl actually kept up.

She was probably someone who worked out usually and her mental state was decent. If it was a spoiled girl, she would have long been eaten up.

But Ye Zhongming was only slightly surprised. In the apocalypse, many elite people died in the end. Her current performance was just slightly stronger than normal people's. To continue to live, the chances weren’t huge.

He looked towards the school courtyard and Ye Zhongming couldn’t help but think about Bai Sisi. She should be with Qin Jun. Qin Jun’s parents were rich and would get protection right away.

After tossing out these thoughts, Ye Zhongming jumped over the wall and jumped off right away. This was an empty path behind the canteen and usually, food waste was piled here.

But before he even stepped foot, he heard something smash right at him. His heart sank and knew that he was careless.

Chapter 12: Mutated Willow

Although he felt slightly proud because he had become a one star evolved right at the start of the apocalypse, but Ye Zhongming had been through numerous life and death experiences. In the instance that he faced danger, he made the correct decision.

His body fell backward at a twist of his back and that attack smashed onto the wall that Ye Zhongming had jumped across. Cement and bricks were scattered all over. A few pieces hit Ye Zhongming's body which made him cry out slightly. He even felt a warm current, his wound was bleeding.

Counter attacking was an instinct as Ye Zhongming sliced out. Ye Zhongming felt like his blade was being stopped by something. Only at this time did he see clearly what was attacking him.

It was actually a willow in the courtyard. A willow leaf that was very thick waved as it tried to get rid of Ye Zhongming's blade.

That blade sliced onto that leaf. He didn't break it and instead caused the blade to be stuck within.

Ye Zhongming was shocked, a mutated willow?!

He had just faced mutated bed bugs and now he was facing a mutated plant?

His luck wasn't too good.

After all, be it bed bugs are plants, their initial mutation was stronger than zombies so naturally they were a bigger threat than Ye Zhongming.

No matter what, Ye Zhongming's reaction was top-notch. He instantly gave up on that blade and took out the handgun that he got from the gachapon.

Peng! Peng! Peng! Peng! Peng!

Five shots. Apart from the first that missed, the other four hit a part of the main stem of the mutated tree.

The girl that followed had just climbed up and when she saw the dark green liquid that was flowing down the stem of the thick tree and saw it shake, she thought that it looked more like a person than a tree.

Ye Zhongming didn't stop after firing. He jumped in front of the willow tree. The axe was raised high up and he sliced down at that spot.

Si!

[Type here]

The willow actually cried out. Although its voice was low but it did make a sound. This caused the long haired girl that was riding on the wall to shake and fall off. In her heart, she thought that she was in a horror movie.

But after roaring out, that willow tree slowed down. Those tender green leaves started to wither and its branches started to hang low. Anyone knew that the tree was dead.

Ye Zhongming waved the axe down at the stem and it actually revealed a grey level one demon crystal.

Mutated plants and monsters were different. Their demon crystals were in their bodies. Apart from roots, they didn't have an obvious weakness. As it was connected to the earth, it was the hardest to attack. This was why mutated plants were relatively stronger.

If it wasn't for his experience that he knew that the demon crystal was not totally kept in its body and that he used his sharpness to find the bit of reflection from the covered demon crystal, then he would just have to flee. If not, he would die and become the willow's nutrients.

The long-haired girl stood up and carefully walked in front of the tree. She noticed that there were two corpses behind. They were all dried up like mummies in the desert.

She was so shocked that she wanted to cry out but after seeing Ye Zhongming's back, she didn't dare to and could only bite her hand. She looked aside and allowed her body to shiver with fear.

Two straw-like roots were attached to their heads and even a dumb person would know what happened. Willow Tree eating someone, changed her worldview. On such a bloody and gory night, she was filled with fear.

"Come and help!"

Ye Zhongming's voice entered her ears and she subconsciously moved towards that guy who had slapped her.

In this terrifying world, this guy was the only person she noticed that could bring her a sense of safety.

"Do you see this, use the axe to slice it."

Ye Zhongming passed the axe to her and pointed at the area where the stem and branches were connected.

[Type here]

Mutated plants and animals were stronger than same-level zombies. Once you killed them, you gained much more. Their body had several good parts that could be used as materials to make equipment or used as medicine.

For example this tree. Apart from the demon crystals, the mutated branches could be used to make weapons. It was like the basic weapons from the gachapon.

Unfortunately, this tree just mutated so there was only one mutated branch. If it totally evolved, that would be quite a fortune even at where Ye Zhongming was before he died.

Watching this woman grit her teeth and use the axe to slice out at the stem that was even taller than her, Ye Zhongming exclaimed that environments do change people. Such a beautiful woman should be wearing dresses and attending banquets and becoming the center of attention. But at this moment, she had to use her tender and well-maintained hands to wave the axe so that she could get some protection.

This was the apocalypse, this was hell.

Welcome to hell. Ye Zhongming thought to himself before using the blade that he got back to slice off the dark colored bark of this tree.

This was the other useful thing from the tree.

This bark covered the demonic crystal, it was tough but also flexible. Normal people couldn't even break it using blades so it was good to create armor. This tree wasn't lucky and faced the one star Ye Zhongming. Not only did he know its weakness, but he also used a gun to injure it before slicing apart this bark and breaking the connection between the crystal and its body.

What Ye Zhongming felt regret for was that it evolved for too short a time such that the bark was just the size of a face washing basin. He even broke it into two.

After keeping the bark, he helped the girl slice off the branch. Ye Zhongming brought the girl to leave this place as the gunshot had attracted a hoard. They had already got in through the back door of the canteen and revealed their vicious faces.

At the same time, in a nearby building, a bunch of people were looking at Ye Zhongming and their faces were filled with the light of hope.

Chapter 13: Human nature

Life will always find a way.

This was a famous sentence that a scientist said regarding the apocalypse.

[Type here]

When the mutations just began, mutated bed bugs and mutated willow trees appeared to prove that statement. As for the owners of the earth, humans naturally wouldn't fall behind.

Although it had just been a few hours, but from the cutting off of wifi, phones, television, and broadcasts, many people realised that the end of the world was here. They started to adapt to this intense change.

However, that process was the testing stone of human nature. Some would be really kind while some would be selfish and cruel.

Such things were occurring on the second floor of the canteen.

The first floor staircase was covered by tables and close to 100 of them were stuck at the stairs between the first and second floors. Those table edges stuck into their bodies and the only thing they cared about was the fresh flesh and blood above.

"Brother Five will it be okay? Will the police appear tomorrow?"

A young teen in jeans squatted down beside a guy he called Brother Five and he was really nervous. He would occasionally glance back at the corner of the canteen.

There were some tables and chairs there. At the center of those tables and chairs was a white skinned girl who was looking at the roof, like everything had nothing to do with her. That tender body was bruised and there was some blood on her legs. A few stains from guys were stuck to her little stomach.

All this showed that this flower-like girl was tortured and treated badly by them.

Brother Five stared and that made the scar on his forehead look more vicious. He kicked and that caused the guy in jeans to stumble.

"Damn, when you were having so much fun you didn't think about the police, after you finished then you think about them!"

The teen stood up and when he saw the other three guys laughing at him, he felt slightly awkward.

Brother Five stood up and showed his muscular body. His back was bare and there was a black western dragon tattooed on it. Each time he moved his muscles, that dragon would seem like it was about to come alive and fly away.

He walked to the teen and pulled his collar, dragging him in front of the stairs. He pointed at those increasingly active zombies and said, "Er Peng do you see that people all turned into that, many people turned into that. So will there be police? Did you see Resident Evil? This is the same as the movie! This is the biggest! What police, damn those police!”

[Type here]

Brother Five showed his fists and released Er Peng. He touched his itchy lower boy and looked to his four men, “What do you think is on their foreheads?”

The few men walked over and pointed at the zombies. They had no idea so it made Brother Five a little annoyed.

They were scum that was active nearby. Today they were here to eat barbeque but bumped into the start of the apocalypse. They saw people turn into zombies and try to eat others. In a panic, they escaped into the school and followed many students into the canteen.

Only the first floor was open so there wasn't anyone on the second floor. They came up and used tables and chairs to block the stairs to stop them.

But Brother Five and his four men weren't any good. Law and violence organisations restricted them in peacetime but everything was in chaos now. Even human eating monsters had appeared which made the evil in their hearts pop out.

After waiting for several hours on the second floor, they realised that there was no one coming to save them at all. There were no police at all. Moreover, from the internet, they found out that this was worldwide and all governments were paralysed.

They grabbed those students who came to the second floor to escape. After beating up many of the guys, they selected a beautiful girl to rape and they did so in front of dozens of people.

But half of those students were girls, the remaining 5-6 guys were beaten unconscious and the rest didn't dare to say a word. Some would even just stay at a corner and shiver like that girl.

“After you get infected you will turn into that, then...” Brother Five was someone active in the underworld. Apart from his strong body that gave him the reputation as a good fighter, he was someone that knew how to think. He knew that the bright crystal on the forehead was a problem but he didn't have the courage to kill one to dig it out.

But bad people would always have a way to reach their goals. Brother Five looked towards those students and had an idea.

He walked into the crowd and looked at those terrified students. He looked at a girl. Although this girl wasn't as pretty as the one they raped but she was really clean and looked like a beauty. More importantly, her body was good, she was the biggest out of the few girls here.

[Type here]

When his two lackeys heard that, they ignored the screams and shouts and grabbed her out. They even slapped her twice because she struggled.

“Let those zombies scratch her and then tie her up until she mutates. I want to see what that crystal is.”

The moment she heard it, her face turned ashen white. Those monsters were as terrifying to her as these animals. She wanted to cry out but thinking back to how it was of no use but to attract more zombies, her heart slowly felt cold.

“Hehe, are you afraid? Do you want to die?” Brother Five came to the girl and pinched her chin. His mouth was filled with the smell of cigarettes and he said, “There are many people here so it might not have to be you. But if you don’t want it to be you then you have to make me comfortable.”

He took off his pants to reveal that dirty thing and he shouted fiercely, “If you don’t want to die then eat it and if I feel good, I won’t let you go!”

The other men were stunned and then they laughed. Praising Brother Five for his actions.

That girl was stunned for a moment before realising what that animal was making her do. She cried before turning towards her few schoolmates, hoping that they could help her. But what she saw was silence. As for the guy that always chased and looked out for her, he lowered his head and acted like he didn’t know.

She swore that if that guy helped her, even if he just said a sentence to scold those animals, she would be willing to be with him.

But all this turned into despair in the silence.

She knew that she might lose many precious things today and also knew and recognised many things and people. She looked at those people who had just raped her classmate, struggle and humiliation flashed across her eyes. What replaced it was determination!

Since everything was collapsed then just die together then!

She shouted crazily in her heart before she moved close to that thing. She could already sense how good it would feel when that thing breaks and spurts out blood in her mouth!

That actually made her feel happy.

[Type here]

At that moment, gunshots sounded out and that caused the animals to stand up. That saved her. The person called Er Peng even sat on the ground in panic, he was shouting that the police were here.

Brother Five's body also shook. He was strong but he was respectful towards such organisations. Actually, Er Peng and him were the same, they were afraid that the police would come.

But after a moment of silence, he calmed down and walked to the window. He saw a guy with an axe that was on a weird willow tree and he dug out a crystal that was similar to the one in the center of the heads of the zombies!

Brother Five's heart jumped and he realised two things. Firstly, it wasn't the police but a survivor like them. Secondly, this guy knew what the crystal's use was.

When he saw the guy and girl leave, Brother Five shouted at his men.

"Quick quick quick, pack up and leave!"

Er Peng, Ah Kun and the others were stunned and asked their brother. We are trapped, how to leave?

Brother Five was annoyed, "You stupid, look there!"

The four of them followed where Brother Five was pointing at. Most of the zombies that were blocking had turned around to leave as they were attracted by the gunshot. There were only over ten of them left here and most of them were stuck into the tables.

But even these few made it hard for one to proceed forwards. No one wanted to take the risk. After all, they personally saw the people the zombies scratched turn into monsters within half an hour.

"Saying you all are stupid is really correct. Aren't there students here? Just toss them to the zombies to eat and then we can run!"

Their eyes lit up and they wanted to grab the students who started to run about when they heard that Brother Five wanted to feed them to the zombies.

In front of these few jerks who were used to fighting, the students couldn't fight back at all. Very quickly four were caught and dragged toward the stairs.

Brother Five looked on coldly but he still stood beside the window. He looked in the direction where Ye Zhongming and the long haired girl ran and was slightly confused.

That direction was where that light landed at...

Chapter 14: Jump off

“Crack.”

While moving, Ye Zhongming switched out another full ammo case and replaced the one that had already shot out five bullets.

This was a habit that he had formed after so many years.

The long haired girl's face was ashen white because the willow tree in her hands was giving off a stench that stimulated her weak mind.

The two corpses that the roots used as nutrients were dragged over after the tree whipped them to death so it left some flesh and blood on the branch.

After mutating, the branch became soft but firm and the leaves were as sharp as a blade. While running, a few leaves even sliced her tender skin but she didn't dare to make a sound. She was afraid that the guy would abandoned her. Apart from her becoming food for the zombies, there wouldn't be any other outcome.

Ye Zhongming wrapped around the canteen and entered the outdoor gym area to get out of the encirclement.

This was due to his experience and judgement. If it was someone else, they would probably get trapped by the zombies.

Ye Zhongming hid at the corner of the building and confirmed the direction. He only saw the key descend when he was at the apartments but it was blocked after it reached a certain height such that Ye Zhongming couldn't accurately pinpoint which area it was at.

This made him anxious. After all, the key wasn't a zombie and didn't threaten humans. If others got it first, that was something he didn't want to accept.

A noise interrupted his thoughts and he saw that at a four story building, there was someone climbing outside with a rope. That rope was lightly short and only reached the second floor. This forced that person to jump down.

At first, it was okay and everything was going smoothly. But when one student was preparing to jump, the window shattered and a few gray hands from the zombies stretched out. While that student fell down, he instinctively cried out.

Without a doubt, the screams were like a bright lamp at night for the zombies who had good hearing and smell. All the zombies headed over and were roaring like beasts.

[Type here]

In the night sky, their red eyes represented death and their roars gave giant pressure so that those escaping students totally collapsed. Some on the 4th floor wanted to head back but some wanted to flee so they were stuck at the window.

Some of the students on the rope even jumped down right away but they were mostly on the 3rd or 4th floor so when they fell, they hit the concrete. Even if they didn't die they would break bones. They cried out and they were indeed the most pitiful group.

As for those who had reached the floor, all of them ran towards Ye Zhongming.

Damn!

Ye Zhongming cursed. He didn't understand why he always bumped into such situations. That long haired girl was like this, and these students too. Was he marked after he revived? If not why were they always running toward him?

He was sure that these students were heading towards him as they were already waving and shouting at him to save their lives and help him.

Ye Zhongming wanted to leave, he didn't feel a need to help this group of people who would just panic and abandon their friends.

But when he saw them flee out of the window, he linked it back to the angle of that light, he changed his mind.

If they were at the window, they should know where the key was!

"Wait here."

After instructing the girl, Ye Zhongming held his blade and walked forwards.

Seeing someone walk over, those seven students were delighted. But when they saw only one person, the hope turned into pain and shock and they were even complaining.

Why was there only one person? What could one person do!?

"Head to that corner!"

Ye Zhongming didn't even look at them and just said that before heading toward the zombies.

In comparison, these zombies weren't a threat to Ye Zhongming. He was just afraid of many zombies grouped up together.

Ye Zhongming held his blade and although it was a little tattered but after a few battles, it was very fitting. He even felt that it was light since he turned into a one star evolved.

[Type here]

The zombies noticed that someone was running toward them and started getting excited. However, what they got was the blade light of death.

Ye Zhongming had six times the physique of normal humans so his speed was extremely quick such that the zombies couldn't touch him. He was really strong and his blade was really precise. Each zombie had its head sliced with one blade. The difference was the way they died. Some were hit in their eye sockets, some had their necks sliced off, some had their temples pierced into...

When they ran to the position that Ye Zhongming said, they saw a familiar long haired beauty. They turned around. They weren't concerned about her and were just looking at the danger and the distance between them.

But what they saw shocked them. That guy who should be eaten up by the zombies not only didn't die, he even killed those zombies as easily as one were killing chicken. In just that short moment, over ten of them died to him!

"How is that possible!?"

A student who was covered in sweat muttered. He didn't dare to believe everything he saw.

Although the apocalypse had just descended a few hours ago, but to most people, those few hours were as long as a few centuries. They witnessed the process of humans falling from the top of the food chain. At the same time, the human adapting ability made them realise one theory- they became food. Those monsters that their friends turned into, were now the hunters.

But now, their recognition was totally changed. That was something they couldn't accept.

Of course, what they couldn't accept was that it wasn't them who could do all that.

Ye Zhongming sliced off the head of one of them and noticed that he was over ten meters from the closest one. He turned around and also dug out the demon crystals off the heads of those he had killed along the way.

He ran back to the few of them and asked, "There was a light from above, who saw where it landed at?"

Chapter 15: Arm that shone black

The few students were stunned and took a few seconds to react.

"I, I didn't see it..."

[Type here]

One of them said and was a little embarrassed. He was obviously feeling guilty because Ye Zhongming saved him but he was unable to help.

Ye Zhongming looked at the rest and they all shook their heads. They said that they saw the light but didn't notice where it landed at.

Outside, downstairs, in the courtyard were all monsters wanting to eat them. One could see blood and corpses all around. They were on the verge of collapse. They were hoping for people to come to save them and not some weird light outside.

He was slightly disappointed. It seemed like he had to go search for them himself. Fortunately, this was his alma mater and although it wasn't small, but he was familiar. He just needed to spend some time to find it and others might get to it first.

But there was no choice. Since the apocalypse began, it meant that he had to live in this hell. Not only did one have to have strength, but he also had to have luck.

"I think, Teacher Park said she saw it."

A guy wearing high-class clothing and wearing gold spectacles said which made Ye Zhongming's eyes light up.

"Who is Teacher Park?"

When the guy heard someone holding a bloodstained blade ask a question, he said, "Our class's mentor, she was trapped with us in the classroom, she is there now."

He pointed at the classroom they fled out of.

So that teacher was still trapped in that classroom.

Save or not?

Looking at that square with close to a hundred zombies, Ye Zhongming frowned.

He could kill those zombies but he couldn't ensure that he wouldn't get injured at all. Before he got immunity, injury, and death meant the same thing.

From a rational standpoint, he shouldn't take the risk. But the Secret Realm Key was hugely attractive to him. He was afraid that others would get it first.

He balanced it out and made his choice.

Save!

[Type here]

Even if it was risky, he wouldn't give up hope of getting the key. The Secret Realm was just too attractive.

"Do you see the three story building?" Ye Zhongming pointed to some old buildings, that was where the school's armed forces building. There was also a storage room. It was slightly busy when there was army training for new students but there were few people there usually.

"Hide there."

Hearing Ye Zhongming say that, the long haired girl felt anxious. She wasn't old but she had spent some time in the society. She was afraid but her mind was clear. As compared to this guy, these students were noobs. They would even stumble when running and their stamina was weaker than hers. Asking her to be with them? What a joke! That would reduce the safety that she was in by a large amount.

"You can't abandon me."

She was anxious and wanted to pull Ye Zhongming back. But looking at his bright eyes, she retracted her hand. She was a little fearful of her lifesaver.

But she raised the mutated branch in her hands, "I still need to carry this for you."

"Aren't you Liang Chuyin?" A student shouted and he recognised their familiar beauty.

When the others heard that, they all recalled. The beauty who was begging was the goddess of nerds like them. A popular singer, a famous model, a spokesperson for online games. A famous person with millions of fans!

Even when facing dangers and many zombies, such a chance didn't exist often. To many of them who could only use their phones and laptops to watch videos while using their other hand to do something else, these students were excited and were filled with adrenaline.

Liang Chuyin just rolled her eyes and didn't bother about these students who spent a lot of money on tissues. She just looked toward Ye Zhongming.

The branch would be a good weapon and he was reluctant to just toss it. He thought about it and said solemnly, "Go there and wait, after that, I will bring you all to a safe place."

After which, he looked at the positions of the zombie hoard before running in another direction. He ran while making some noises with the axe to attract the zombies.

"What if there are zombies there?" The student with spectacles who was from a decent background raised his voice to say.

[Type here]

Although there weren't many people there but it didn't mean that it was safe.

"Kill yourself, if not you have no right to survive in the apocalypse."

A reply spread from afar that sent the students and Liang Chuyin into silence.

.....

A large group of zombies was drawn over. Using his one star evolved advantage, he wrapped to the back of the building and climbed up the pipes. That wasn't too difficult for him.

When he reached the 4th floor, he jumped to the window.

Downstairs, a bunch of zombies was already there. They could only walk in circles and didn't understand why they couldn't find the food that they could smell.

He was lucky and the window was open. Ye Zhongming jumped in.

There was blood on the walls and there were bloody marks on the clean floor too. All this showed that something terrible had occurred here.

He stepped across broken arms and he noticed that all the zombies from the corridor were gathered in one room. There weren't many but it was still a large amount, there were over ten of them that was scratching the door.

He didn't head forwards and just took a few chairs. He then whistled at them to draw these bloodthirsty monsters over.

Looking at them get close, Ye Zhongming tossed the chairs beneath their feet to trip some of them and slow down others. Then the dozen of them could only come in waves and it made it easier.

One star evolved could kill one-star zombies easily. Moreover, Ye Zhongming's experience and skills were all gathered in his body. In a blink, half of them fell and died.

Seeing that his goal was about to be reached, an accident occurred.

When Ye Zhongming thrust the blade into the head of one of the zombies, a black figure pounced. Its speed was no slower than Ye Zhongming who had just evolved. A stench struck him and at the same time, he saw an arm that was glowing black!
