2211 Broken Keys!

Desiderius wanted complete affirmation of the demise of the 9 Anchors so that in the future, the Ancestors of these Planes couldn't do what Noah was doing and reverse this process!

He had waited for many years.

He had planned and accounted for many things.

He knew that the True Emperor of an Age was granted a unique connection to Reality when they took the Throne as it was the Key to Reality!

But this was it.

A Key of a Plane of Existence.

Existences that momentarily has access and controlled their Planes were special, but the power they would be able to exert was not something Desiderius was worried about!

He was affirming the extent of this power now as when his visage erupted with Seas of NULLITY, the authority of Reality moved as it was ushered by the True Emperor of Quintessence.

A plane's authority was something undeniable when utilized to an extent, but it could not be called upon too many times.

The more one used it, the less of it they had access to, and the fewer times it could be utilized again!

Desiderius's move to critically eviscerate the Niflheim Dimension was two-fold.

He felt an incandescence of white light flash out as an undeniable authority descended upon him before he released the waves of NULLITY.

An authority that even if he resisted with his Boundaries, he may have been able to delay it as ultimately, its effect would still be achieved as this was the focused authority of the very Plane he was in!

So he didn't fight it.

WAP!

The authority wrapped around him and expelled him from the Minor Plane he stood on as an instant later..he found himself in a space with unstable decaying Laws of Nature as it seemed to be..the Major Plane of Existence that he was remaining in the folds of for so long!

But it wasn't.

"Haha, a slightly clever one.."

Desiderius laughed as he ascertained his location.

He was moved from the Niflheim Dimension and not into just any other position in space of the Desolate Mausoleum, but a branching Parallel Path of this Plane that was undergoing destruction!

An Apocalyptic Parallel Path!

The authority of the Plane that the True Emperor had access to could be enforced within the plane itself as this being would never be able to pass through the walls of this Plane to somehow expel Desiderius from it. He could only exert this Authority within the Plane as he had used it in a unique manner to send Desiderius into an Apocalyptic Parallel Path that would take just a little longer for him to traverse and return to the Main Path!

"But that is once that you have utilized this Authority... how many more times do you have left?"

WAA!

The Keys that gained access to the authority of a Plane had limited Authority that would be used up after an extent!

So the True Emperor of Quintessence..may only be able to utilize his authority twice or three more times before he could no longer exert control on his Plane of Existence.

When that happened...

"It will be yet another point in time that I have to break a Key..."

His black eyes were filled with age as space ruptured before him, stepping into it and beginning to traverse out of this Parallel Path as he linked to the VOID he had established on the Main Path and returned to it.

Over the eons, he had controlled the rise and fall of many Keys in many different instances.

Some keys followed him to attain a glorious path under the banner of the NOBLESSE, while other keys were misjudged in the extent of their standing as they would be broken and discarded.

This would just be another one added to a long line of broken keys!

Bursts of immense authority surged as in the location where the Niflheim Dimension used to be, a stark blank void stretched out endlessly.

One of the three chances of Displacement of an Anchor was utilized as what remained of the Source of Nifiheim was taken away, with Noah chucking the figure of Desiderius far away into the myriad of Parallel Paths of these Planes of Existence!

The Niflheim Dimension itself was displaced into the vastness of the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality- with a fantastical scene of the fabric of this Dimension being devoured within an instant by this construct as it was restructured to be born above the Prana Dimension.

A stellar view could now be seen as while countless multicolored Cosmos spun freely in a cluster within the Gourmandizing Dimensional, the dazzling colors of the Dream, Avalon, Apollyon, Prana, and a forming Niflheim Dimension could be seen.

5 Dimensions.

5 Minor Planes of Existence!

Noah had connected them to his construct at such a speed as even at this moment, he felt like he had to move even faster.

The words of Desiderius were not wrong.

His power- no matter how rapidly he had obtained it and how stupendous it was, it was not enough against this being.

He had to make choices quickly on his direction to grow, as well as the Realm his direction would take!

And on the path of his Realm, he knew that it was connected to the 9 Dimensions that he attained 5 of.

It was connected to the 9 Dimensional Chassis as it was stated before that they would show the path forward!

So he had to attain all 9 Dimensions under him no matter what.

Then, there came his development in concepts.

His Boundaries!

At this moment in time, his Main Body continued to surge with maddening waves of power as after the usage of the Decuplicated Natural Decretum Seeds, all 9 Natural Laws and 6 Natural Laws of Nature were completely understood by him.

And with the constant expansion of the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality, Manadynamics, Entropy, Providence, and Relativity were among the Fundamental Natural Laws already bound to him as now- he even began the binding of Continuity and Isochronism!

Fantastical concepts that opened up Noah's mind to many more possibilities as their boosts stood on their own pedestal.

He had done all of this...but he still didn't get to where he needed to be!

Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse #Chapter 2212 Boundary Modulators! - Read Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse Chapter 2212 Boundary Modulators!

2212 Boundary Modulators!

Since what he had done was still not enough, it meant that it was time to expand even further.

And due to his nature, he already had the resources available to him!

On the aspect of the True Throne of Quintessence, the words of Desiderius were somewhat accurate, but also not.

He was able to reach the stage of Four Boundary Layers of Loot and even the first Layer of the Boundary of Quintessence while still..having enough residual authority of this Age to possibly expand Loot or Quintessence one more time, or start the initiation of two, or even possibly three new Boundaries depending on just how obscene they were!

This was his prize for attaining the True Throne of Quintessence.

The capability to have opened multiple Boundaries or reach a high stage of a singular Boundary that others would take billions of years of hard work or a ridiculous amount of treasures to do so!

At this moment, he just had to choose which path he took.

And Noah had many things that could influence his decision before he made it.

He had millions of Quintessential Treasure Caches that had yet to be opened, and these Caches always provided treasures that Noah needed the most at that time!

When it came to this, Noah wanted to have an even tighter control of this definition.

Many thoughts surged in his mind as his Will formed a corporeal self that came to gaze upon his Expansive Space that was filled with Treasure Caches from the Tribunal Rulers, Ancestral Descendants from the Prana Dimension, and even now there were increasing Quintessential Treasure Caches as Noah's Clones moved against the Ancestral Descendants in the Fantasia and Mirror Dimensions!

Noah's will gazed at all of these clones as his Aeon Soul lit up with authority as he made something clear.

<What I need the most at this moment..are only things relating to Boundaries!>

WAA!

He was altering and focusing on what came out of the Quintessential Treasure Caches to focus on a single concept at this moment.

Boundaries!

This was because as always, he was short on time while his enemies were moving speedily.

He had to finish assimilating the Mirror and Fantasia before any new surprises arose, and he had to be capable of preventing Desiderius from destroying any Dimensions whenever he returned!

It was why at this time, he came under the influence of the Time Dilation of the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality.

His thoughts processed and computed everything at shocking rates per nanosecond as in the already dilated time, he wanted to once more make grand changes.

He had done it before.

He had taken an instant..and expanded it to as much time as he needed!

While everything else was brought to a halt or brought to an unimaginably slow pace!

In this instant of time, he wanted to figure out the direction forward, as well as what the Loot from high tier enemies would do for him.

With what he needed the most clearly defined, the millions of Quintessential Treasure Caches began to open!

Over 7.5 Million Golden Quintessential Treasure Caches that were obtained from the NULLITY Beast Legions that reached such a number, and a small portion from the Undead Legions of the Ancestral Descendants.

They shone with golden splendor the most as one by one, they began to open.

To grant Noah what he needed the most right now!

<1x Golden Boundary Modulator has been obtained.>

<1x Golden Boundary Modulator has been obtained...>

A Golden Quintessential Treasure Cache opened, and a single Loot came from it.

Another Golden Quintessential Treasure Cache opened, and the same Loot stemmed from it!

Not a Shard of the Boundary of IMMORTALITY or DEATH, not a Shard of any particular Boundary..but a type of a Boundary Modulator!

When Noah gazed at it, he saw a dew drop shaped brilliance of utter halcyon glory as it seemed to constantly be changing its state of matter.

The light of a pristine treasure leaked from it as anyone even looking at such Loot would want to take it and devour it right then and there!

HOOONG!

Noah's Expansive Space lit up with brilliance as such Loot began to fill up the surroundings by thousands as the millions of Golden Quintessential Treasure Caches began to open.

All other possible Loot were sacrificed for this Loot when opening this Cache as it was considered what Noah needed the most!

So of course, his eyes hungrily sought for its details.

<Golden Boundary Modulator>: A Quintessential Loot that arose from the accumulation of sheer will and the fruits of the Boundary of Loot. The very existence of a being was broken down, multiplied in quantity and quality as everything went towards producing this Loot. It allows an existence with at least 10 Aeonic Soul Values to modulate a concept towards becoming an established Boundary that is seeking EXTREMITY. It depends on the selected concept, but a minimum of 100,000,000 Golden Boundary Modulators are required before a concept can be established as a Boundary. A Golden Boundary Modulator is only applicable for Planar Boundaries, with those seeking to advance from the First Boundary Layer to the Second Boundary Layer of a Planar Boundary requiring ten times as many Golden Boundary Modulators as the First Layer. Achieving the Third Boundary Layer with Golden Boundary Modulators is nearly impossible as a faster way may just be to refine a concept with your Aeonic Soul until you raise it to the stage of a Boundary, or have boundless epiphanies on your fingertips to begin exceeding future Boundary Layers...

"..."

A fantastical Loot.

And one that...

<I can multiply this in quantity, Master.>

HUUUM!

A smile became etched on Noah's lips as he heard the Will of RUINATION.

A treasure capable of establishing Boundaries appeared before him through the grandeur of Loot as now, his choices increased just a little as he wondered.

Which concepts would be ideal to establish as Boundaries? Which concepts to elevate past the First Boundary Layer?!

Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse #Chapter 2213 PLANAR! I - Read Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse Chapter 2213 PLANAR! I

2213 PLANAR! I

Noah had an overabundance of choices as now, he had the means to make it possible!

This was because as the few million Golden Quintessential Treasure Caches opened, a Golden Boundary Modulator came from each of them.

Just the sheer fact that this was made possible by Noah was astonishing- purely due to the fact that these Treasure Caches came from NULLITY Beast mainly who were only drenched in the Essence of NULLITY and not truly touched anywhere near its Boundary.

All of these were the boons of Increased Loot Quantity and Quality under his Boundary of Loot!

In the Expansive Space, over 7.5 Million Golden Quintessential Treasure Caches would open..and 7.5 Million Golden Boundary Modulators would come.

And as they came out of the Caches, the Will of RUINATION nearby effortlessly tugged upon the authority of Noah's Aeonic Soul and Foundation to seamlessly begin multiplying all of these Golden Boundary Modulators by 10!

So from this alone, Noah would attain 75 Million Golden Boundary Modulators.

Only 25 Million would be left over as this number..Noah expected it to be covered by the Obsidian and Crimson Quintessential Treasure Caches.

And mind you, all of this was just initial Loot as the numbers from Fantasia and Mirror Dimensions had yet to come in, nor any of the potential Loot from Elysium and Quantum Dimensions!

When thinking of this, Noah couldn't help but reflect on Yvonne as truly..it was a big loss to not be able to turn that Ancestral Descendant Commander into a Cache.

He just had to make sure Desiderius didn't kill Hideyoshi, Katya, and the one known as Theseus before he faced them.

All for the sake of..well, Loot, yes- but also to gain enough strength to stand against the being wishing to destroy the Anchors he was too deeply connected to!

"Alright..."

His Will moved again as the massive and dazzling 57 Obsidian Quintessential Treasure Caches now began to open.

<50,000x Golden Boundary Modulators have been obtained.>

57 beautifully identical prompts rained down as golden dew drop shaped treasures gushed out with grandeur, Noah feeling joy and pain at the same time as he had the expectation of the next level of Boundary Modulators to come out of the Obsidian Quintessential Treasure Caches!

But all he received was an explosion in number as a single one was equivalent to the results of 50,000 Golden Quintessential Treasure Caches, granting Noah potentially over 28 Million Golden Boundary Modulators after RUINATION Decuplicated them.

This..was the establishment of a single Boundary secured as he now had the full 100 Million Golden Boundary Modulators.

A choice could now be made on a Boundary.

And Noah truly had an extravagant amount of choices.

Among them..were things that the Ancestors of these Planes abandoned and suppressed long ago.

The concepts that they wanted to rank even below Golden Planar Boundaries due to how hard they were to expand towards EXTREMITY and the strictness they held.

The Natural Laws of Reality.

The Laws that Bound this Plane and the Existences within it!

Noah had a hunch...that their ranking as the lowest Boundaries was misplaced.

That if an existence like him who had bound the Natural Laws instead of being bound by them..he might have entirely different results! Especially if he took the Binding of the Sources of Nature from half bound to full binding!

"Hmm.."

But this was a conjecture.

There were many other conjectures.

He needed to narrow it all down!

So he reflected within himself as he asked.

"Which decision shall pave the way to the greatest loot?"

WAA!

The Boundary of LOOT rose in authority as the authority of the Boundary of QUINTESENCE also reacted strongly!

Boundaries, when raised to a great enough level- could replace concepts that had foresight like Destiny and Providence.

Some could be risen to terrifying enough levels that their effect..could cover a whole Plane of Existence just like the move Desiderius enacted with the VOID!

Boundaries provided feedback towards those taking them towards Extremity.

And the truly special Boundaries were those that could guide their holder at an early stage, setting up the best possible Paths to take in order to achieve Extremity. At this moment, Noah's 2 Boundaries resonated with him as wondrously..they didn't show the path that would take them to the next Boundary Layer.

Quintessence didn't see it as the best possible path to take it to the Second Boundary Layer, and nor did Loot see it as the best possible path to take it to the next Boundary Layer!

Among the many conjectures Noah had surging in his head, both of these Modus Operandi settled on one path.

There were many to take as each may provide astonishing results, but one particular path was showing the possibility of unbelievable glory and majesty!

It wasn't that Noah's 2 current Boundaries of Loots and Quintessence could discern the future- they could just innately sense what would be best for them to head towards EXTREMITY!

And this choice actually lay in the enactment of another Boundary.

And the concept that Loot and Quintessence directed Noah to...

HUUUM!

Coursed through his body in stellar waves and volumes.

And it coursed through the bodies of his Clones that were intricately connected to the Minor Planes of Existence within the Barren Lands.

It coursed through his son who shone with boundless potential.

It pulsed with life force and held a tremendous amount of swirling ecritures of VITALITY..it was Noah's Blood!

"Blood."

WAA!

Noah uttered as his 10 Sanguine Clones amidst their duties shuddered and gazed towards a certain direction momentarily.

An area of no specific coordinates that nobody else in the Barren Lands could access.

The Source of Reality that held Noah's main body that was seated on the True Throne of Quintessence!

The tremendous Will and Soul of the True Emperor found his next path as he didn't question his intuition.

He didn't question the very same concepts that made him and got him where he was today!

If Blood was the best possible path, then even if he didn't know what may come..it had to be the best path!

Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse #Chapter 2214 PLANAR! II - Read Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse Chapter 2214 PLANAR! II

2214 PLANAR! II

Even if he didn't know what the results would be, the path had to be right!

The only thing he would do..is act to make it happen.

<Come.>

His Will emanated out with grandiosity as he beckoned towards the Golden Boundary Modulators that had undergone multiplication by RUINATION.

They looked like holy lights of dew drops shining with grandiosity that no common being should touch, but multicolored plasmic radiance swirled around Noah on his Throne, his mouth opened and began to devour the vibrant Golden Boundary Modulators en masse.

As he devoured them, they transformed into a fantastical authority that built up in his body, seeking for direction as soon after..he granted it!

Coursing through his Aeonic Quintessential Kainos Empyral Foundation, coursing through his ancient vessels that looked like Celestial pathways of sparkling light...it was his Blood that the Unique authority from the Golden Boundary Modulators was directed to!

This in itself..was an utterly unique point that Noah didn't think too much about.

The concepts of Death, Karma, Destiny, or Loot were concepts that were expanded into Boundaries- these concepts wrapping around the Souls of those expanding them as there was a positive feedback of strengthening between the two parties.

But Blood..was not just a concept.

It flowed through Noah.

It granted him life force and was part of the foundation that made him who he was!

When he began to expand this Boundary, he wasn't just expanding and elevating a concept that would be bound to his soul- but taking his very real coursing Blood towards EXTREMITY!

HOOONG!

Was Noah the first to expand a Boundary related to Blood? Of course, the answer was no.

There were countless Existences Across Eons, an unknown number of Minor and Major Planes of Existence, and the vastness of the Havens of Extremity that we couldn't even fathom currently.

There were many, many others who had expanded the Boundary of Blood and built upon this concept!

But none of them were Noah.

None had the added features of having the concept of the Sanguine Emperor paired up with a Bloodline that was defining the very Age of a Plane of Existence.

Quintessential Kainos Emperor.

This was his Bloodline!

Quintessential!

Noah..did not just have his Blood flowing through his veins, he also had the concept of Quintessence flowing through it!

He had Quintessence surging across his very vessels!

The Boundary of Blood that he expanded towards EXTREMITY...would be vastly, unbelievably, and equivocally much different compared to what others had done over the eons.

After all, with the factor of Quintessence coursing through it- it had to be the most ideal and perfect example for others to follow and gaze upon!

HOOONG!

Booming drums of power and horns sounding out a glorious symphony began to emanate.

Millions of Golden Boundary Modulators were devoured by him as on top of all this...his Will moved to call upon another Treasure he had gained in the last day.

It..bundles of ancient looking crystalline Cosmos containing Blood of myriads of color within.

It was the Loot containing the ZENITH Lineages he had obtained from the Infinite Forge!

He called to devour them now as in the process of expanding this concept of Blood towards EXTREMITY, why not devour all the ZENITH Lineages and see if this compounded process would be enough to pierce the unbreakable wall of Zenith?

All the pieces fell into place.

Even though he was still resonating with the Fundamental Treasures of Nature and the Source of Reality, his Main Body proceeded to undergo another Fundamental change as his very Lineage advanced upwards.

ZENITH!

What could possibly exceed a lineage that was at the very peak of Existence?

It was a nearly impossible task to try and accomplish as even for Noah, he should have taken a great deal of time by his standards!

Yet when he undertook the action of advancing his Bloodline forward while at the critical moment he expanded the limits of his very Blood...

Fantastical opportunities opened up.

Like a viscous multicolored stellar river, his Blood flowed across his vessels as prompts began to rise.

<After the transformation of the Aeonic Quintessential Kainos Empyral Foundation, your Bloodline has once more begun to advance past ZENITH.>

<The advancement of your Bloodline past ZENITH is resonating with the expansion of your Blood towards EXTREMITY.>

<Your Blood has begun sublimating with your Aspects of Existence.>

HUUM!

Apart from the vessels it normally spread through.

Away from the established cycle it always had.

New pathways of vessels began to form as they were illusory in nature!

But they expanded from the countless vessels on his body and branched out towards his established 9 Dimensional Realities. Towards his Origin!

THUMP!

Intricate multicolored illusory lines spread down from the resplendently shining golden Elysium Dimensional Reality and cascaded past Fantasia and Quantum Dimensional Realities, and they continued further down as they twirled around the shining Ascendancy Stanchions and Reality Passages across these Dimensional Layers..heading all the way down and connect to the very first layer that was the Dream Dimensional Reality.

THUMP!

The vessels pumped as blood gushed through them and caused the Dimensional Realities to shine with even greater brilliance.

His Origin..shone with the magisterial brilliance!

Then there was his Soul remaining as these vessels were already established throughout his body. His Aeonic Soul..had already pervasively covered all of Noah's Aspects of Existence as at this juncture, more illusory connections of Vessels bloomed as if they were anchoring Noah's soul and intricately gaining access to it as well!

Throughout all of Noah's Aspects of Existence, Blood freely began to overflow as tens of Millions of the Golden Boundary Modulator were infusing his Blood with unknown wonder.

And after Noah devoured the mystical circular crystalline Cosmos holding ZENITH Lineages along with this...

<Your Bloodline has reached the True Zenith.>

<The Barrier that cannot be easily exceeded past ZENITH has been torn as your very Blood has taken a step towards EXTREMITY!>

<Your Lineage is transcending its restrictions and limitations to reach past ZENITH.>

<A PLANAR Lineage is being born!>

Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse #Chapter 2215 Blood! I - Read Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse Chapter 2215 Blood! I

2215 Blood! I

Planar.

Something at the scale of a Plane of Existence!

Exceeding ZENITH allowed one to achieve such a level as they turned their Bloodline into something that could last as long as a Plane of Existence..and had the pristine grandeur of one as well.

The capabilities for such a lineage were unimaginable!

A stellar crimson light of blood painted over a myriad of colors emanated throughout Noah's body and released waves of incandescence throughout the Source of Reality.

His Lineage began to rise up towards a fantastical level as he..was not the only one.

Within the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality.

Inside a Cosmos dedicated as a Domain Space to grow Spiritual Fruits and Herbs, Amelia Osmont was floating at the center of expansive orchards of Primordial Apples as her hands emanated a golden glow towards the fields below that caused them to sparkle with even more radiance.

The figure of Little Henry could be seen not too far away as he tore across the folds of space while sparring with the Blue Slime and the Emperor Penguin, the scene being a picture of serenity amidst the chaos reigning outside of this location!

Everything was serene until an instant later, the figures of Little Henry and Amelia Osmont came to a halt as a blinding grandeur of light exploded from their bodies!

An aura so pristine and untouchable that the spiritual herbs and fruits below trembled while beginning to undergo mutations.

A light so fantastical as it was the effects of the Lineage of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor taking yet another step!

Yet the change this time was too profound.

HOOONG!

Crimson gold webs erupted out around the bodies of Noah's mother and son as they became wrapped in a cocoon, their bodies undergoing Fundamental transformations as for the level of a Planar Boundary...it wouldn't be a surprise if those directly connected to the Quintessential Kainos Emperor formed a type of Aeon Foundation!

Their Aspects of Existence underwent a change as light years away on another Cosmos that was filled with glaciers and ice, the Frozen Queen was at the head of a dining table with an array of truly beautiful women who were eating and talking, Barbatos being the most rowdy on the table as even her resonant voice had to come to a halt soon after as she and all the others felt an undeniable aura of majesty emanated from Adelaide.

Her eyes erupted with a grandeur of a Quintessential Lineage as even though she wasn't of direct Lineage to the Quintessential Kainos Emperor, she had carried his Lineage in her belly for many years!

A vast number of beings held a connection to the Quintessential Kainos Emperor, but she was among the closest as she also began to undergo a transformation, albeit on a smaller scale.

But even she wasn't alone in this.

HOONG!

The body of Barbatos also began to shine, along with Athena, Valentina, Elena..all the existences that Noah had been intricately connected to through Dual Cultivation over many years in a dilated time span within regions of the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality- all of them also began transforming as they held the Essence of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor coursing through them!

Those closest to Noah like his direct Lineage began to feel the effects of a Planar Lineage being born as the effect reduced the further down one went, and one must not forget one last crucial connection.

A connection of the Soul between the Quintessential Kainos Emperor and his Vassals.

A Planar Lineage covered all aspects of one's existence as it had tightly bonded to Noah's soul.

The portions of souls he received from the countless beings who pledged fealty to him..they pulsed with grandiosity as well.

It meant that across the vast Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality, across its countless Cosmos and domain spaces, across the recently established Dimensions..all Vassals that had pledged fealty felt a transformation bud within their very souls.

It was at a much smaller scale than those at the very peak of the connection, but to the masses..it was something Fundamental and life changing as they would all be reborn in terms of talent, fate, power, and Providence!

The boons of the budding Planar Lineage were already so comprehensive as such a scale as when it came to the being they centered around?

<Your Quintessential Kainos Emperor Lineage has achieved the stage of a Planar Lineage.>

<The Advancement of your Lineage is closely connected to the expansion of a Boundary towards EXTREMITY.>

<An Irreversible Nexus Association has formed between your Lineage and the budding Boundary of Blood!>

<Your Planar Lineage has fundamentally redefined your Aspects of Existence.>

Prompts were grandly cascading through Noah's mind as his own transformation was continuing while the last 10 Million Golden Boundary Modulators were being devoured to grant him the First Layer of this Boundary.

A Layer that the oment it was achieved..would allow for the effects of the Boundary of Quintessence to kick in as the Boundary of Blood would instantly arrive at two Boundary Layers!

But the Boundary was yet to be fully born.

Yet the boosts that came to the Lineage this Boundary was irreversibly connected to...

<Your Lineage understands you the most and has geared its future path and features with boons that fit you the most.>

Quintessence reigned as Noah's Lineage truly stood by its name and distinction.

<The Planar Lineage of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor allows you to traverse towards EXTREMITY with a +50% Increased Rate of Progression. Any Resources required to exceed a Boundary Layer are absolutely reduced by half.>

<The Feature of Quintessential Epiphany has been born in your Planar Lineage, making your Aeonic Soul capable of entering epiphanies at will to comprehend the nature of Reality and refine possible concepts into Boundaries, or take established Boundaries closer towards Extremity.>

...!

The prompts for the boons of his Lineage reaching Planar had only just begun as Noah understood why Loot and Quintessence steered him towards the path of Blood.

It was at the end..still for their own benefits as at this juncture, Noah could traverse towards EXTREMITY at a fantastically faster pace!

Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse #Chapter 2216 Blood! II - Read Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse Chapter 2216 Blood! II

2216 Blood! II

One must realize..anything capable of actively rising one's Boundary towards EXTREMITY was treated as a rare and unobtainable treasure that countless Lineages sought in the Havens of Extremity.

Being innately capable of going towards EXTREMITY at a faster pace than others..this was something others dreamed of as it was only a possibility of extremely rare Lineages like the NOBLESSE!

Like those who had Innate Boundaries!

Such a boon from his Lineage caused Noah to instantly focus on the establishment of a concept into a Boundary as all 100 Million Golden Boundary Modulators were devoured at this juncture, the allure of a magnificent Crimson light filling everything.

<The Obsidian Planar Boundary of BLOOD has been expanded by authority of 100 Million Golden Boundary Modulators.>

<The effect of the First Boundary of QUINTESSENCE is applied.>

<2 Boundary Layers were exceeded on the path of BLOOD.>

WAA!

Profundity lay before him with utmost wonder as it seemed like things were just beginning.

<The Obsidian Planar Boundary of BLOOD is linked to your Planar Quintessential Kainos Emperor Lineage as one of the conditions to obtain an Innate Boundary has been met.>

<When another unknown requirement is met, the Planar Boundary of BLOOD will instantly be elevated to an Innate Boundary.>

...!

Majesty.

Pure, unadulterated majesty lay before his eyes as grand possibilities that the past Ancestors when they were just stepping out from the Barren Lands would have died with envy just to see!

The Boundary of Blood was a Planar Boundary, but it had the chance to become an Innate Boundary similar to what made the NOBLESSE so powerful

Noah did not know what the condition would be, but he knew he would grasp it in due time as he elevated the majesty of this Boundary ever higher.

Knowledge of the wonders of the Boundary Layers of Blood flowed in his mind as he paused the prompts for the transformation of his Lineage.

<The First Boundary Layer of BLOOD>(Passive):: Uniquely geared to match the Quintessential Kainos Emperor, this passive Boundary Layer grants the boons of Aeonik Hemokinesis- a feature that allows you to aeonically manipulate your Blood and the Blood of your targets that cannot withstand the authority of this Boundary. To oneself, Aeonik Hemokinesis can be utilized in an active fashion to spur the Blood within your Body to further optimize your power, granting you +100% to All Aeonik Parameter Values momentarily. This augmentation is ever changing over time as multiple factors of your Blood and Lineage will decide how high it can go. To enemy targets, a similar but opposite effect can be achieved as if the target is weak enough, even Aeonik Marionette Control of their very Aspects of Existence is possible. The applications of Hemokinesis vary, and are not limited to but include Thermovariance, Bloodline Manipulation, Aeonik Sanguine Combustion...

A comprehensive and astonishing level of the manipulation of Blood was granted as Noah's mind was filled with countless possibilities.

Possibilities he wanted to implement right away as the Second Boundary Layer of Blood also showed itself!

<The Second Boundary Layer of BLOOD>(Passive):: The Blood of Existences carries their signature and very being. As someone extremely proficient with Blood, you are able to draw upon the very signature of beings through their Blood as if you devour the Blood of enough Existences holding a certain Boundary, you will be able to replicate the First Layer of this Boundary. Bypass the countless epiphanies. Bypass years of Aeonie Soul Refinement. Bypass countless treasures. Achieve everything simply by devouring countless volumes of Blood...

...!

Astonishing grandiosity lay before Noah's eyes as his path for the future had a solid bedrock being laid down!

Simply devour the Blood of multiple existences holding certain a boundary as after devouring sufficient volumes of Blood, he would attain the First Layer of that Boundary.

It meant not turning everything into Quintessential Treasure Caches, but it seemed like a much faster way to gain expanded concepts of Boundaries!

There were so many features expanded into that he wanted to see their application right away.

And even though he was in an instant of time that he was stretching out as much as he could, time was still moving!

His transformation due to his Lineage was still occurring right now as he felt his Aspects of Existence continue their elevation.

So while all of this occurred..he wanted to see the application of this new Boundary.

So the vastness of his Will focused towards a Dimensional Reality where his True Sanguine Clones that were transformed into Dimensional Chassis moved in.

He gazed at the Fantasia Dimension first where a few dozen Ancestral Descendants under Hideyoshi were facing them- these existences giving off a terrifying glint of physicality and power as they faced Noah's Prana Dimensional Chassis with somber faces!

This was because when he had appeared, they could feel his power akin to an Ancestral Commander.

Power that a moment later began to explode upwards and scale towards an even greater value!

"HO!"

The Ancestral Descendant leading the forces of the True Emperor of Fate bellowed out as their golden glistening bodies released waves of power, halcyon bone armaments covering their muscular bodies as these existences followed the Boundary of Physique!

The power held within their bodies was massive as it could rupture the fabric of Reality with a tap of a finger, this whole squadron looking like a Celestial group of paladins carrying out justice.

But to Noah..he was seeing an entirely different scene when he gazed towards them.

HUUM!

He saw their muscular bodies broken down into countless vessels.

He saw the blood coursing through these vessels and throughout their whole bodies in intricate lines that all moved together in synchrony.

He felt a pull from this Blood as he felt like..he could disrupt this synchrony!

Eckert, Eowyn, Guinevere, Morgana, and all the others were just beginning to arrive into this Dimension when they saw Noah's figure tap towards the staunch and powerfully blazing Ancestral Descendants.

A single tap as an instant later, a crimson multicolored glow flashed as this whole squadron of Ancestral Descendants came to a halt.

...!

Realization hit these existences first more than anyone else as fantastically..a single tap from the enemy they faced took utter control of their own Blood as in the next instant, their own Aspects of Existence listened to them no further!

2217 Blood! III

Blood.

Noah had a unique relationship with this concept from his roots as the Vampyre Progenitor Lineage to his Edict as the Sanguine Emperor.

And now with the Boundary of Blood, he was elevated to a stupendous extent where the bodies of existences reinforced by concepts going towards EXTREMITY..he could now manipulate their Blood!

Aeonic Marionette, Thermovariance, Bloodline Manipulation, Aeonic Sanguine Combustion...all were but mere possibilities for Noah as at this moment, the single tap of his finger utilized Aeonik Hemokinesis to stop the flow of Blood that closely wrapped around these being's very existence.

He felt the intricate rush of power as the verdant hair of this Prana Dimensional Clone was currently getting a bright Crimson sheen due to the thorough changes being carried out for Noah's True Sanguine Clone by his Lineage.

He didn't get swallowed by the feeling of this power as he continued to see the application of his new capabilities!

He focused on the leading muscular Ancestral Descendant who held the most power as he then spoke out lightly.

"Aeonik Sanguine Combustion."

HUUM!

His eyes gazed at the surging stellar blood within this being as he imagined it beginning to burn, and fantastically..the viscous liquid began to Combust as a few hundred Aeonik Damage Values surged out from the very Aspects of this being's existence, his golden sheen on his skin changing as it cracked and splintered while soon after...

POOF!

His body erupted in a stellar shower of crimson gold flames as a torrential pool of blood formed- Blood that surged out as if it was possessed towards Noah's figure as he opened his jaws to devour this radiant burning blood!

"Ah..."

An explosion of taste exploded in Noah's mouth as he was reminded of his active days as the Vampyre Progenitor.

<You have devoured all of the Aeonik Blood of an Existence holding the Golden Planar Boundary of Physique, the Golden Planar Boundary of Light, and the Obsidian Planar Boundary of Fate. Which Boundary do you wish to Designate all the signature of the devoured blood to?>

The Second Layer of the Boundary of Blood said he could devour the Blood of others who held a certain Boundary, and if he devoured enough being with this Boundary- he could gain the First Boundary Layer of this Boundary!

It was singular.

It was already ridiculous for him to be capable of getting a concept expanded to a Boundary just by devouring blood, and it would have been unbelievable if this was applicable to multiple Boundaries!

So among the options he was given, he chose the Obsidian Planar Boundary while his eyes released a hungry light- the euphoria of Blood that he hadn't dwelled in since his active Vampyre Progenitor days rising up!

He only dwelled in the memory briefly as his tongue passed over his sharp canines, wasting no time as his Will surged out to the squadron of Ancestral Descendants as one after another...

POOF!

POOF!

As if they were mere balloons or bags of blood, their Boundary of Physique was ignored while they fell under the command of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor.

A golden light of Fate tried to keep their bodies together, but these beings had only achieved the First Boundary Layer of Fate while Noah had the Boundary of Blood at the Second Layer!

The discrepancy in strength was clear as these Ancestral Descendants perished one by one, rivers of incandescent Crimson gold blood flowing towards Noah as he took all of their Aspects of Existence and devoured it through Blood.

It meant there was nothing left behind to multiply in quantity or quality to turn into Quintessential Treasure Caches.

The rivers of Blood surged towards Noah and were all devoured as only a single Ancestral Descendant was left behind, his body vibrating and trying to break free as the authority of his Boundaries tried to retake control of his Blood, but it was impossible!

"Come."

Aeonic Marionette activated as the very sanguinity of this being was controlled, his body floating forward.

Eowyn, Eckert, and all the others just arriving had nothing to say at this sheer trampling that Noah was giving out, barely being able to follow what this being before them was doing and planning as the body of the Ancestral Descendant controlling Boundaries..was brought to stand besides Eckert's enormous vessel of a Dimensional Hellion Ruler.

"Hmm?"

His cerulean eyes glinted as he gazed towards Noah while feeling the pulsing strength in the body of the struggling Ancestral Descendant before him.

"Is your Soul strong enough to devour and Subjugate an Aeonic Soul?"

BOOM!

Destiny and Providence flourished around Eckert as for him, a shocking opportunity and path arrived.

A possibility to instantly explode his power from where he was and to arrive at a place that seemed a long and arduous path to arrive at!

Arcs of blue light erupted from his eyes as he judged the being before him calmly before he replied.

"If you can heavily destroy his soul to the point of Death..I should manage to take over the remaining portion as after reconstructing and harmonizing the Aspects of Existence again, I should be able to instantly display 50% of his previous power. Whatever concepts he had outside of Edicts or Natural Laws...I am not able to attain yet"

The unique aspect of Eckert displayed itself as Noah nodded, his eyes surging out with controlled Aeonic Soul Damage that smashed into the Ancestral Descendant as his eyes dimmed a great deal.

The others watched this unique scene as before they could even absorb everything...

HOONG!

They realized the endless and cold seas of Fantasia around them instantly disappeared at this moment, a void of space settling around them as in the background of all this..Noah's Clones that protected the Pocket Dimensional Reality had already finished their jobs and devoured the whole of Fantasia!

Yet another Dimension was secured as Guinevere came towards Noah's figure while The Mirror of Death that Eckert had subjugated began to eat up and dominate the soul of an Ancestral Descendant.

<How many Dimensions remain?>

Her gaze was that of valor and worry as Noah's clone that continued to shine with an ever vibrant Crimson gold glint gazed afar while replying.

"Mirror should soon be done as after that..only Elysium and Quantum remain."

...!

2218 The Void and the Sword I

Events continued to propagate and move along as a critical time was nearing!

Guinevere and the others heard of the progress made as they could not yet celebrate, these ancient beings knowing that they had yet to face the truly powerful existences that would stand in their way at the final juncture.

Eowyn had a stern expression as she was still connected to Noah and knew the details even more intricately, her melodious voice echoing out at this moment.

"Shall we make our way to the Mirror Dimension?"

"No.." Noah shook his head at her question as the False Epochal Blades of Quintessence that she and the others held began to pulse.

"Head to the Quantum Dimension. This will be the final one as your aim is to simply take the time of the Ancestral Descendants and reduce the rate of destruction of the Source of Quantum."

Noah said this as he could already see many constantly changing motions across the remaining Dimensions at the moment!

For one, the visage of Desiderius that he had displaced to an Apocalyptic Parallel Path had already returned to the Main Path, his figure barreling into the Elysium Dimension as this was one of the few remaining Dimensions that his VOID covered.

And it was where True Emperor Hideyoshi himself was waiting with his Legion.

Then, there was the Mirror Dimension!

"Come, we have no time to waste!"

An authoritative voice beckoned towards the figures of Katelyn and Noah as multiple Mirror Dimensional Rulers stood behind the Mirare Queen, Katelyn's mother being one of them as her essence wrapped around Katelyn and Noah to place them behind others of the royal Lineage of the Mirror Dimension as a few dozen beings could be seen in this cluster, each more beautiful and prideful than the last.

A Quantum Dimensional Ruler stood beside the Mirare Queen as he waved his hands to cut open a rift in space, the pull of the Quantum Dimension strong within his Bloodline as he paved the way forward.

They had previously been told that they would be among the lucky few to go through the Pylon of Ascension and leave the Barren Lands to escape Cataclysm, and it seemed this promise still held as they were being shuttled to the Quantum Dimension.

They could feel terrific auras that nobody here could stand against from the far reaches of the Mirror Dimension as common Dimensional Rulers were far outclassed at this moment, the Mirare Queen being the first Ruler to step into the folds of space towards the Quantum Dimension as all the others followed.

Mixed in this group, Noah had calm eyes and a hidden smile as he wondered how events would unfold..and whether those loyal to the Ancestors truly would find a way to escape the Barren Lands before its supposed destruction!

If things played out uniquely and smoothly, he may still be able to arrive at the Havens of Extremity where the Ancestors were located.

SHAA!

The party of existences who were chosen mainly because of nepotism and a tiny bit of merit left towards the Quantum Dimension as uniquely, the region they just left..erupted with a terrifying devouring force as the Pocket Dimensional Reality Noah's clone was carrying went towards finishing the assimilation of the Mirror Dimension while another clone faces the residual forces of the long dead Commander Yvonne.

In Noah's mind, countless waves of information were coming in as among the most important were the boons of devouring rivers of Blood from the forces of True Emperor Hideyoshi.

The prompts were astounding as always.

<Blood with high potency in the selected Boundary of Fate has been devoured. Progression towards achieving the First Boundary Layer of Fate is at 65%.>

He had barely taken down a few dozen existences, and he was already 65% of the way there.

Part of the reason for this was his Lineage that was able to traverse across Boundaries faster, this effect applying even to the effects of the Second Boundary Layer of Blood!

It was something fantastical as after defeating the rest of Hideyoshi's forces and before even facing this being himself, he should have grasped the First Layer of the Boundary that this being enacted with his True Authority of Fate.

It showed things were flowing towards a smooth direction so far as just when Noah was about to return his focus to the continuing changes of his Lineage...

<<A Sealer seems to have found something.>>

...!

The voice of the Source of Reality rang out while Noah was still in his cocoon not too far away.

His Will was just as vibrant as he listened closely.

<<The one known as Theseus has been directly and without fail following the path of the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality. He is more than likely following the path of the Realities flowing in. He should reach soon.>>

WAA!

Noah's eyes flashed coldly as something out of calculations occurred.

His Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality was not stationary as it waded across the Barren Lands swallowing Realities while also assimilating the many incoming Emerging and Prime Realities that Noah's Will had wrapped around since he made his grand announcement when he took the Throne of Quintessence.

The movement of Realities was unique as Noah's portion of soul wrapped them with the Absolute Dream Authority that he could use for as long as his soul could bear, along with the Authority of Reality itself to hide them as they surged towards the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality!

Yet this being was capable of following them as he seemed distinct from other Ancestral Descendants..his progression in Boundaries not low.

Yet even against such a being...

<Hmph.>

Noah's will vibrated with Tyranny as many possibilities arose in his mind as an instant later, he chose one.

His Will resonated with the Fundamental Treasures of Nature and the Source of Reality as he came to gaze upon the Elysium Dimension and the Existences within it.

He felt the domineering might of Desiderius as the body of this being raged with NULLITY while surging towards the forces of Hideyoshi!

Things were coming to a crucial juncture as drastic actions had to be taken.

The moment that the Mirror and Elysium Dimensions were devoured...Noah would have everything in the palm of his hands as only Quantum would be left!

Noah's will surged with power as he gave the command... for the second out of the three possible chances of Displacement to be utilized on the Elysium Dimension- the location of where Desiderius and the forces of the True Emperor of Fate to be displaced to already being decided upon!

2219 The Void and the Sword! II

In the Elysium Dimension.

The menacing and ancient visage of the 8 Echelon Obsidian NOBLESSE released seas OF NULLITY around him as he barreled towards the True Emperor of Fate and his forces!

Hideyoshi was covered by a glorious golden glint as he seemed like an expansive titan as vast as multiple realities stacked together, the area around him covered with a golden domain flickering with white gold runes that pushed away the VOID.

His Legion stretched out around this area as each one took positions in specific places, their Automaton Boundary Modulators released waves of authority as the Boundary of FATE tightly bound each of them!

Unlike Yvonne, Hideyoshi seemed completely prepared with even a formation domain set in place as even when he gazed at the surging figure of Desiderius coming forward, he only turned somber while he prepared for battle.

Two titans were about to meet in a terrific battle as just when authority was about to erupt during this clash...

HOONG!

An undeniable light of authority flashed and wrapped around everything.

True Emperor Hideyoshi had a look of shock as he and his forces disappeared an instant later, while the obsidian glow around Desiderius only intensified as this existence had a calm and ancient look that was unperturbed, his voice only echoing out grandly!

"That makes it two times. I wonder how many more times you have left..once? Twice?"

His tone was utterly terrifying as he seemed to be asking the True Emperor of Quintessence..when you cannot use the authority of this Plane to send me away anymore, how will you face me?

Because this being knew his level of power.

And he knew the level of power of a recently crowned True Emperor.

From his many years of experiences and calculations, he knew that even with an exorbitant amount of talent as luck, such a being would at most be able to reach the Third or Fourth Layer of a Boundary!

Even if he exceeded all expectations and touched upon the Fifth Boundary Layer, Desiderius would still be unperturbed!

What he wished to do and planned for many years would not be taken down by a single Key.

So he didn't fight against the authority of the Plane as he simply waited to see where he would be displaced to.

And...

"Oh?"

Waves of spatial light died down as the fabric of Reality settled.

It was within the Boundary Between Realities of the Desolate Mausoleum.

The target this time was unique as he appeared..right before the path of a sharp sword that was tearing across the VOID!

<Theseus!>

The bellow of True Emperor Hideyoshi could also be heard nearby as this titanic being drifted towards the position of the sharp sword that revealed itself to be a devilishly calm man with stellar dark hair- with eyes piercing and sharp as they came to focus on the NOBLESSE appearing before them!

Their natural enemy appeared before their very eyes.

The one responsible for laying down this void and no doubt connected to the removal of the Anchors.

Theseus felt like he was close to reaching the place where Realities were clustering towards as just before this could happen, the NOBLESSE appeared in his way.

It meant he was getting close to something crucial.

It meant he had to get rid of whatever stood in his way.

So towards his enemy, he didn't start a conversation as he only acknowledged Hideyoshi while this being set up his formation again.

Theseus would have his sword do the talking!

CAAA!

The sword in his hands cried out as the surrounding void was dispersed, his eyes catching the lips of the 8 Echelon Obsidian NOBLESSE curving his lips in a smile as he uttered the words...

'What an interesting choice'.

Theseus didn't voice out or begin to converse.

Nor did Desiderius as even though both beings had a common enemy, none of them freely talked to come to a conclusion about this as Theseus closed his eyes and called out lightly.

<Pantheon of Swords>.

HUUM!

The dark and dreary surroundings instantly faded as everything in the surroundings became covered by an illusory light.

A light that covered Desiderius and many more light years in the surroundings as a massive construct descended!

A white gold dome-shaped illusory building with pillars made of massive sword light bloomed.

Glorious rune etchings swirled around its structure as they seemed to be made from countless minuscule sword lights.

It was akin to the Descent of a Celestial pantheon one would come across only in the Havens of Extremity.

Terrifying torrential waves of illusory white gold sword flashed throughout this Pantheon as Desiderius looked around the white gold grandeur with a smile, his voice resonant as it echoed out.

"Finally."

WAA!

"Someone actually decent has come down."

A glorious recognition from a truly powerful existence.

Yet it mattered not to Theseus as his sword cried out with glory!

Noah monitored the countless events occurring all at once as the glory of Providence shone around him with brilliance.

He was moving and proactively making plans as the only thing his eyes saw and focused on were the rising prompts from his actions!

Like from the Mirror Dimension where he faced the residual forces of Yvonne.

<You have devoured all of the Aeonic Blood of an Existence holding the Golden Planar Boundary of Shamanism, the Golden Planar Boundary of Darkness, and the Obsidian Planar Boundary of Death. The Boundary of Death has been selected as the designated signature of all devoured Blood.>

<Blood with high potency in the selected Boundary of Death has been devoured. Progression towards achieving the First Boundary Layer of Death is at 75%.>

The common Ancestral Descendants could not stand before him as the Mirror Dimension was at the point of complete assimilation.

And when he shifted his gaze towards the Elysium Dimension that he had just displaced into his Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality...

<The devouring and assimilation of the Elysium Dimension is 30% completed.>

<The devouring and assimilation of the Elysium Dimension is 50% completed...>

It was also on the path Noah wanted to see the most as he was closing in on the finish line!

Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse #Chapter 2220 The Hidden Requirement! - Read Infinite Mana In The Apocalypse Chapter 2220 The Hidden Requirement!

2220 The Hidden Requirement!

Noah knew the psychology of extremely powerful beings that had lived for a long, long time.

The longer they lived, the more experiences they accumulated as they learned of the nature of Reality and understood many things!

Because of their vast breadth of knowledge though... many of them committed critical mistakes when it came to him.

They placed him on the same stage as their past experiences and knowledge when it came to their opinion of him.

They compared him to other Geniuses they had seen across the eons or examples of other beings similar to him!

Noah had no doubt that none of the Ancestral Descendants had ever expected a native of the Barren Lands who had never even stepped out would be capable of killing them.

And this was entirely true to an extent as logically, nobody had suddenly been capable of erupting with power and forming multiple Boundaries or achieving a high Boundary Layer in the Ages Past!

Many True Emperors had risen as even they..would not be a match against others who had expanded at their initial stage.

This was logic.

The Ancestral Descendants applied logic towards him.

Towards a being that bent logic and threw it in the trash!

Now, Noah may not understand the existence that made OPPENHEIMER and the residual will of the True Emperor of the Age of Genesis cautious, but he knew this ancient being was also estimating him using other beings and his vast reserves of knowledge as comparators.

Desiderius may even be estimating his worth and might to be higher than normal if his patience and power that he showed over the eons was to be believed!

But..even when others thought they were being careful and overestimated him and what his power could achieve, they were still in fact..heavily underestimating his true worth.

Because they did not have a comparator they came across before who could rise in power as fast as Noah. They did not have other beings to compare to that had anything similar to what Noah had!

Did Desiderius know that Noah had something as critical as the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality?

Did he know the Realm that Noah constructed that mimicked the workings of the very Plane of Existence they were on? What authority this granted him access to?

And..just what would happen when Noah fully had all the Minor Planes within this Plane of Existence bound to his construct? What would happen at such a critical juncture?!

If Desiderius had even an inkling of the possibilities, he wouldn't have allowed Noah to continue collecting the Dimensions.

If he or any others could foresee anything with their Concepts, they would have been warned to not allow Noah to accomplish his aims of pulling out all the Anchors!

But they did not know.

They did not even believe anything he was doing to even be feasible, nor that he was even doing something like it!

No matter how ancient the existence was or how many years he had in Age...so long as they applied logic and used their own references in order to try and grasp his power..they were bound to fall before him sooner rather than later.

<The devouring and assimilation of the Mirror Dimension is 100% completed...>

<The devouring and assimilation of the Elysium Dimension is 100% completed...>

WAA!

His Will surged out with maddening Tyranny as there was only a single Dimension waiting for him to grasp.

A Dimension intricately connected to the Ancestors as he could utilize the last and final chance of Displacement to bring it into his fold while removing all beings he did not wish to bring in the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality!

But this would eat up the last of the Pristine authority of of this Era that he could utilize to exceed a Boundary Layer..or even maybe two.

This wasn't to mention his prize for reigning as the True Emperor of this Age that also had sufficient residual True Authority of Quintessence to expand the Boundary of LOOT or QUINTESSENCE one, or expand the First Layer of two new Boundaries!

Providence swirled and communicated with him. The Boundaries of Loot, Quintessence, and Blood surged and communicated with him!

A more golden and glorious path was laid out before him.

There were times when even he wanted to question if the paths laid out were truly the most pristine, but when he saw the results...

<Blood with high potency in the selected Boundary of Death has been devoured. Progression towards achieving the First Boundary Layer of Death is at 100%.>

With the closure and assimilation of the Mirror Dimension, one of the last two Ancestral Descendants under Yvonne turned into a river of blood that was devoured by him entirely.

HOONG!

His Main Body bubbled with billowing waves of power as yet another concept going towards EXTREMITY was added to him!

<Your Aeon Soul is undergoing further Refinement and Strengthening.>

<The effects of the birth of your Planar Lineage of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor are spreading even faster.>

<The Blood shared between your 9 Quintessential Dimensional Chassis is resonating with their respective Dimensional Realities.>

WAA!

<A Quintessential Resonance! Your connection to the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality has forged another pathway of Resonance from your Quintessential Dimensional Chassis to the 9 Dimensional Realities in your Origin and the Bound Sources of Minor Planes inside the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality!>

<The Second Requirement for the birth of an Innate Boundary has been unveiled!>

Multicolored plasmic waves of radiance overflowed.

Noah's body remained seated on his True Throne of Quintessence as shocking secrets were unfolding within his body- his Realm beginning to expand upon its established connections!

He was waiting to see what the hidden requirement was to birth an Innate Boundary, and he didn't have to wait long as the path was revealed to be the connection between his Clones, their connected Dimensional Realities, and the Dimensions within his Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality!

The 9 Dimensional Chassis would show the way forward.

This was already inscribed as he should be able to affirm what his Realm would head towards after it's current stage.

He needed the last Dimension for many reasons.

He needed to ascertain just what the connection of Blood would give birth to!
