

Apocalypse 2471

Chapter 2471 Xiaomi! IV

Noah ignored anything else but the direct path into the Sacred Quasarian Lands as he traversed between the boundaries of multiple Planes of Existence, the Wills of multiple beings waving across him as they left him alone.

His soul felt the clustering of many other auras- even those of Apex Aeonic Lifeforms, but he left them all alone and continued forward until he pierced into the depths of the Quasarian Domains!

"Hmm?"

His brows rose as outside of the veiled domain where his target should have been, the buzzing aura of a humanoid Apex Aeonic Lifeform could be felt that didn't belong to the Quasarians.

His eyes were sharp and shining with a light Noah was very familiar with- a light of greed!

He also ignored this being even as his Will locked onto him the moment he entered this region, his path continuing straight as he passed across many layers to finally enter the veiled domain where he needed to be.

HUUM!

The sea of treasures promoting life force were strewn all around as the moment he arrived, the Wills of three beings instantly locked onto him.

A smile was etched on his lips as his face still looked the same in likeness to the one Caesar had seen before, with this being gazing towards him in shock as an instant later, his eyes brightened with hopefulness as he was the first one to speak out!

"Did you succeed? Were you able to obtain one?!"

Urgency could be felt in his voice as Noah came forward with a smile.

"Of course, though it seems that a lot of things are currently happening around here."

Tension and wildness pulsed in the surroundings as in the next moment, the voice of the second Quasarian Apex Aeonic Lifeform rose out.

"Caesar, what is this? And the Singularity Overseers are those we have just jumped on the ship of, for you to treat the Grand Singularity Elder overseeing operations here like that..."

The Quasarian Elder had a difficult look while Caesar ignored him!

Noah's eyes perceptively read the surrounding environment as his eyes and will came to lock onto the third being here.

The one who would make his Conquest of the Quasarian Lands easy as simply curing her granted this cluster of Planes around them!

His eyes locked with the figure of a delicate looking existence whose skin shone with the stellar obsidian radiance of quasars.

A simple sparkling black jeweled dress covered her moderate figure as stellar black hair cascaded past her shoulders like an endless cosmic river.

Her eyes shone with a royal obsidian light as they seemed to be making a judgment on Noah at this moment, blinking like radiant quasars as she spoke out calmly soon after.

"We have to go."

...!

"Go? Go where? And for what? Little Xiaomi..."

The Elder besides Caesar and Xiaomi was exasperated as he shook his head, while Caesar turned his somber eyes towards his daughter and asked.

"What do you sense?"

He trusted his daughter more than anything across all of reality.

She was the bright shining star who eclipsed all of them before she inevitably fell, and her intuition was the one thing that remained outstanding!

Xiaomi's eyes shone with a weakened light of wisdom as she spoke out calmly.

"The moment that Grand Singularity Elder saw me, his eyes blazed with a light of greed and malice. He must have noticed something we do not know as his Will still permeates the edges of this domain even now, intent on getting what he wants. Whether by choice, or by force. The longer we wait, the less choice we will have."

WAA!

Her voice was low as even Elder Booma held his tongue at this moment, trying to keep everything together while Caesar gripped his fists with his face hardening!

"Then let's go, the thing that can actually help you has also arrived."

Caesar's dense waves of essence carefully wrapped around Xiaomi as he also went towards Noah, when at this moment...

"I'm afraid this isn't the right choice."

BOOM!

A booming voice descended from all around as the Grand Singularity Elder Zeitgeist made a move!

An intricate weaving of multiple Dynamis of Extremity bloomed as the power of a genuine Apex Aeonic Lifeform erupted out, and it wasn't alone as in the short moment since Noah had entered the veiled domain, four other Apex Aeonic Lifeforms not belonging to the Quasarians appeared.

It was the reinforcements that Grand Singularity Elder Zeitgeist had called just in case!

The gazes of those in the veiled domain turned somber as a heavy pressure constricted around the small plane, Elder Booma's face turning utterly distorted as he crushed a talisman in his hands, the auras of the Quasarian Apex Aeonic Lifeforms hidden across these lands being called out as a conflict seemed imminent- the weaving of multiple Dynamis of Extremity intent on locking down space erupting out.

"Zeitgeist! Is this how the Singularity Overseers operate?! We just joined hands..."

A conversation began between Booma and Zeitgeist as Noah tuned this out.

He stared at the figure of Caesar and the radiant figure of Xiaomi that was actually ignoring what was happening around them and encompassing her gaze with Noah.

In this intricate situation, Noah's Providence buzzed as he found there was potentially much to gain!

And so he moved to secure his boons as the auras of Apex Aeonic Lifeforms increased outside of the veil3d domain.

"The situation has turned rather grim in a short period of time. Are you still looking for a way out?"

His words were short as Caesar's gaze was ashen and filled with bubbling anger at the unfolding situation!

He could finally cure his daughter, and now one Apex Aeonc Lifeform after another rose as they seemingly sat in opposition!

Why?! Why could they not leave him alone?

"Caesar."

At such a juncture, Noah's voice rang out again.

"Are you still looking for a way out?"

His attention was forcibly brought onto the only other being apart from his daughter who maintained a calm expression at this moment.

A being that had surprised him against Unequaled Reverend Emperors in the Abyssal Sanctimonious Lands.

But...he still hadn't undergone Apexification as how could he aid or free them out of this situation?

Even Caesar himself had just entered the ranks of Apex Aeonc Lifeforms as he was the weakest of those in this stage currently!

There was no logic to it, but as he saw the continued calmness of this being and no other pathways available, he drew closer to him as he asked grimly.

"You can provide a way out of this?"

"I can. The only thing I would require is the victory of the second bet we made."

WAA!

The decided victory of their second bet!

The bet that said within a year, they would have a match as the loser would become a vassal of the winner!

Caesar knew this promise they had made very well as for it to be brought up now...he considered it very seriously.

After all, the life of his daughter was on the line- and they had to act quickly before the Apex Aeonic Lifeforms outside made even more drastic moves!

As he contemplated a weighty choice, he felt the hand of his daughter grasp his arm as she spoke calmly while gazing towards Noah.

"Grant him the victory he speaks of, father. Worse things than Apex Aeonic Lifeforms are coming."

Her voice was weak, and yet it held utmost certainty as her words were enough to cause one's Soul to tremble!

Worse than Apex Aeonic Lifeforms...what did that imply?

The only maddening thing was not knowing why a single glance from the Singularity Overseer Elder would cause such an advancement of events!

Caesar gritted his teeth at such a reality as he spoke valiantly.

"You have my word."

HUUM!

A choice was made.

And Noah's visage smiled as his chest shone with utmost luminosity- the feature of Miniature Pocket Aletheian Haven being activated as a multicolored rift instantly bloomed before him!

He didn't even need to exchange any words or say anything at the appearance of a rift when the authority of multiple Dynamis of Extremity were in the surroundings encompassing down space, Caesar only grasping his daughter's body and turning into a stream of light towards it right away!

...!

"NO!"

A shocked bellow erupted out from Zeitgeist as his will fully descended, incredibly sensing the authority of a Dynamis much higher than any of his suddenly surround the last being to enter this domain- the being who was somehow able to open a portal when all space was locked down!

A Dynamis from an existence that wasn't even an Apex Aeonic Lifeform!

This being turned his head towards him with a devilish smile as the rift he called out entirely disappeared, his body beginning to turn into dazzling light soon after.

In Noah's mind, there was always the question of whether he could fight Apex Aeonic Lifeforms.

His power neared that of one that had just finished Apexification, but the possible enemies in the surroundings...were established Apex Aeonic Lifeforms who may have tens, hundreds, or even thousands of Apex Aeonic Damage Values!

The time to hunt Apex Aeonic Lifeforms would come, but he knew he wasn't quite there yet.

So he released and dissipated the Fantasia Aletheian Chassis as soon as Caesar and Xiaomi entered, one of the goals here being achieved right away as the hiring of an Apex Aeonic Lifeform was all but guaranteed!

Chapter 2472 Impending Danger! I

BOOM!

Explosive auras clashed and boomed out as Zeitgeist watched the lifeform who had whisked away his Master's possession disappear, his voice ringing out coldly even as Quasarian Apex Aeon Lifeform came from all around.

"Find them...turn the entire Haven upside down if you have to!"

His position as a Grand Singularity Elder was secured, and he also wanted to have good results as he was told that Hyperversal Extremity Kabul would be coming.

He couldn't fail as losing the target at this time...it was already a critical mistake!

HUUM!

Authorities exploded out as a hunt began from the Sacred Quasarian Lands- those leaving it being an Inheritance of Extremity known as Singularity Overseers!

Though even if they turned the Havens upside down...how would they be able to find targets that weren't within it anymore?

[A type of Golden Soul Mutation Embryo has been obtained...]

Past the fissure of the Extremity Vein of Dissolution, the prompts raging before Noah's eyes piled up as those nearby were subjected to a scene of shocking grandeur!

It all seemed to occur at once as a cherry colored spear eviscerated reality in one area, a massive black gold fist flattened another area holding a Mutated Entity, and waves of massive cerulean seas of flames descended in multiple locations as their targets were immolated and turned to ash soon after.

The Scions who were facing these attackers felt their hearts palpation as the damage output they were seeing was enough to make any of them feel a great sense of danger!

And this feeling was utterly unique for many if not all of them.

But...there were still some who held their own heads high.

Erikson gazed at the fine dust of the Mutated Entity who had been boasting before he was turned into mere dust, as well as the stellar visage of the being responsible for his death.

He then grasped the beach slipper in his right hand tighter as he spoke.

"You've taken a lot of the spotlight, and rightly so with the power you're displaying."

As he spoke, he turned around and gazed behind him where throngs of dense branches of veins floated, each of them seeming like snaking paths leading towards a treasured Haven as clusters of Extremity Panaceas could be seen further away- along with the Leviathans of Dissolution not too far away!

"I'll get serious as well...where I can at the very least obtain the boons to ignite the formation of my Dynamis of Extremity quicker first."

Erikson of the Sima Clan was about to get serious!

Noah's visage was still perusing through his prompts as he only gave him a glance.

The calm and laid back demeanor of Erikson faded as his sharp eyes looked further ahead.

The space seemed stellar as it was filled with gold and black lights, the branches filled with Dissolution as a massive Leviathan that seemed like a Lizard Spartoid stood solemnly directly ahead of this region, an Obsidian Extremity Panacea right behind it.

His beach attire fluttered madly as in his seriousness, his left hand flung out as the slipper on his left foot floated out to be grasped in his left hand!

With two slippers in hand, he moved!

BZZT!

Reality was distorted around him.

A specific set of probabilities were altered as Erikson's right hand holding the first slipper swung down- a pulse booming out as the slipper in his hand instantly enlarged to cast a long shadow across the far distances.

It was akin to a slipper of a giant appearing as dense reality altering authority cascaded down with it, smashing towards the Varicella Lizard Spartoid from above while his left hand swung left to right!

HOONG!

A fearsome cry rang out as it also enlarged, the gigantic right slipper smashing down arriving first as it was slightly bigger than the Lizard Spartoid who bellowed out and blazed with green flames to stop it.

With its focus on top, the left slipper arrived an instant later with an utterly heavy impact as large amounts of Soul Value were utilized to make sure that the probability of this particular attack passing the defenses of its targets and greatly wounding it were 90%!

And so...

BOOM!

The Varicella Lizard Spartoid was swatted from left to right, ripping apart dense venous branches along the way as in the spot it was just at, Erikson's visage immediately appeared as he plucked the Obsidian Extremity Panacea that used to have a guard- a choice he had made seconds ago being carried out as his pearly white teeth could be seen, his jaws wide open as they instantly devoured the Obsidian Extremity Panacea.

Seeing the might Noah displayed and the Scions that just targeted him and others, Erikson knew he had to move with intent and power!

And so he consumed an Obsidian Extremity Panacea, his Soul squeezing every ounce of its power as the likelihood that this Panacea could grant him an Extremity Basis rivaling that of a Crimson Extremity Panacea...he distorted and raised it to as much as 75%.

...!

His eyes looked tired and weary as he didn't stop there, gazing further ahead of him where in the distance, the dense branching veins seemed to be leading deeper into Dissolution- boundless riches undoubtedly waiting there.

With his muscles beginning to roll around like tungsten as his Basis was being forged, he moved out with fervor- two slippers in hand as they were ready to strike out towards any Leviathan on his path!

HOO!

Even the laid back Scion was putting in the work as the prominent Scions from other Inheritances and Clans also moved in earnest.

They each tried to shine brighter as they saw one particular being outshining all others here!

What was more astounding in all this was the fact that deadly Scions of Destruction had just descended...and yet they were erased as quickly as they had come, with nobody paying heed or mind to them thereafter as they continued to delve deeper into the Extremity Vein of Dissolution.

Yet these beings were under the watch of someone who had seen everything that was occurring!

A being who had veiled them in Vacuous Hyperversal Authority that was shown how easily his Scions were wiped out right before his eyes!

Chapter 2473 Impending Danger! II

2473 Impending Danger! II

His red robe bellowed in surprise.

The dense and viscous crimson Hyperversal Authority of Destruction swirled around him like endless waves, his eyes blinking as he took in the reality of a particular group of Scions of Destruction being destroyed in a ridiculously short period of time- each one only receiving a single move as they were entirely outclassed!

This squadron of Mutated Entities was among his strongest ones- and this was why they held the honor of delving into Dissolution.

And to be destroyed like so...

This wouldn't have been much of a surprise if it had been an Apex Aeonc Lifeform having a hand in it.

But it was an existence that had yet to even undergo Apexification, and yet the output he released seemed to be near that of the weakest Apex Aeonc Lifeforms!

"Who...are you?"

WAA!

Amidst his surprise, one couldn't see any rage or anger as instead, a wide smile arched on his lips as his Crimson eyes held great interest!

He knew preliminary data of this being from his observations as he had changed the main target for his Scions from Atlas and to this being who had managed to begin the Convergence of an Absolute Seed of Extremity.

But even an Absolute Seed of Extremity was not capable of this.

Not the power he displayed!

This being far exceeded the boundaries of common sense as it caused the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction to bring his illusory image up before his eyes, a dense cluster of data rising up as Destruction began to dance wildly.

"Noah Osmont."

"The True Emperor of Quintessence, is it? What do you have that I wasn't able to pull out from my Scions?"

The interest of a dangerous Hyperversal Extremity was fully focused on him as the end result of such a development was unknown!

In a unique domain seemingly standing above the very Havens of Dissolution themselves.

Billowing transparent stellar clouds rolled beneath his feet as Noah's Aletheian Chassis gazed towards the surprised Adjudicator of Dissolution who heard his affirmation of receiving 'that'!

Before she could ask any more questions though, Noah voiced out calmly.

"The Scions of Destruction with links to the Avernus Clan have descended into the Havens of Dissolution. I've wiped out the first cluster of the ones who haven't undergone Apexification, but their memories show that Elder Scions who are Apex Aeonid Lifeforms should also be moving and targeting others in this Haven."

His words were light as he was speaking about the most casual thing, and yet they caused the dense authority around the Adjudicator of Dissolution to become even thicker and more suffocating as her masked figure rose to stare into the unknown!

"Beings like them are expected, and it is one of the reasons why I am here. I'll take care of it."

Her masked visage held a terrifying light as dense authority erupted to spread out- her desire intent on covering the vast Havens as nothing would escape her reach!

This single action caused dense Hyperversal Extremity Authority to disperse wildly as very few beings could even sense it, but the will of another Hyperversal Extremity who was already observing everything while masked in Vacuous Hyperversal Authority felt it.

His eyes that were focusing on one particular being shifted as he tapped his chin thoughtfully, thinking of the forces he had disperse across this Haven.

If the Adjudicator of Dissolution moved this fast, then they may not be able to accomplish anything!

"If that's the case..."

The billowing aura around the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction moved as his figure adorned in a red robe rose.

"...I can simply go pay respects to the Great Adjudicator of Dissolution. If anything happens while I hold her attention...haha!"

His eyes were bright as his will surged out towards his Elder Scions, telling them to get ready to make their moves as soon as they located their targets.

And then, his visage disappeared- heading towards the most blatantly shining cluster of Hyperversal Extremity Authority in the whole Havens of Dissolution!

Thus, a sequence of choices which would go to create a shocking future began.

Around this same time, in the Planar Palisades of Extremity where a certain Infinite Hyperversal Haven was floating silently.

In a corner of it, the figure of Orion who was floating next to Henry while listening to the story of his Eyes could be seen.

He signed heavily after he heard everything, contemplating on whether he was right or wrong to leave his eyes be as soon after, his head turned towards a certain direction within this magisterial Hyperversal Haven.

There...the aura of a foreign Apex Aeonc Lifeform bloomed as Orion recognized its signature to be that of a Quasarian, his gaze becoming sharp as he turned into a stream of light to see why such an aura would be in here!

It was, of course, the entry of the Mad Apex Emperor Caesar and his daughter.

Orion shot in that direction, but Henry trusted his father as he knew entry into this paradisiacal Haven would only be granted to those his father allowed.

Thus, he calmly remained staring at the expanding Aletheian Hyperversal Plane of Dreams as he thought about what his path should be!

And thus, another set of choices were made.

Back in the Aeonic Haven of Dissolution.

Euryale's eyes shone with utter brilliance as the authority of Prognostic let her know that once more, the blazing aura of an Apex Aeonic Lifeform was leaving her prime target.

Her soul blazed with brilliance as this was a chance she could not lose, and she mobilized more than 20% of her Apex Aeonic Soul Values to flow into her most dreadful Dynamis of Extremity!

Her objective was set as it would also include all those in the immediate surroundings of the young Lernaean Commander- the main bodies of these beings also being included among those who would receive her wrath and be granted True Death!

Her authority buzzed as it began to move.

At this time, the undeniable will of the Adjudicator of Dissolution was just about to cover the vast stretches of the Aeonic Haven of Dissolution, and it would have been able to observe the movements of an Apex Aeonic Lifeform about to throw a full powered attack towards a group of beings who hadn't even undergone Apexification.

But just as quickly as the Hyperversal Extremity Authority of the Adjudicator of Dissolution was about to descend, another authority blazed brightly as this action was stopped!

Different beings.

Each making their own choices.

And yet all these choices culminated towards a single path.

"Haha!"

An utterly cruel and baleful laugh could be heard as from a Noblesse Apex Aeonc Lifeform, an attack with unknown Apex Aeonc Damage Values bloomed!

Chapter 2474 Immeasurable Rage! I

2474 Immeasurable Rage! I

Choices.

The choices of countless existences were what made the current reality!

The choices of extremely powerful beings weighed a whole lot more than others in what reality unfolded, but no single being was free from bearing the consequences of their choices.

In a corner of the Aeonc Haven of Dissolution, an Apex Aeonc Lifeform from the Noblesse Lineage made a choice as her body glimmered with immaculate radiance, the essence of a Dynamis of Extremity that wasn't entirely geared towards offense erupting out.

It was a Dynamis that was more so geared towards speed as Euryale made the choice of surging with an authority that would reach her targets and their main bodies the fastest!

The power of an Apex Aeon Lifeform was already fast and dreadful, their foremost concept that defined them likely already overcoming the 10th Boundary Layer as their other concepts were stably at such a stage.

When such speed was paired with a Dynamis of Extremity that culminated multiple Boundaries...

"Velocious Void Burn."

...!

Extreme Speed.

Speed obtained from the Dynamis of the Tenebrosus!

Taking the Void of the Noblesse and elevating it to a greater level with the addition of multiple complementary Boundaries, Euryale was able to call forth such a fantastical Dynamis of Extremity as it focused on the speed and power of darkness.

When one talked about speed, they would mention how something was traveling at the speed of light.

Or far faster than light.

What wasn't normally mentioned was the speed of darkness!

Darkness was the absence of light.

When light left, there was only darkness that came just as fast.

Darkness...traveled at the same speed if not faster than light to those truly capable!

And Euryale was capable.

Speed far exceeded light or darkness erupted out and crossed great distances.

Its target was a cluster of the clones of Conquerors who had appeared victorious yet again within a Noblesse Plane of Existence.

Stellar blinking moons rotated in the surroundings as a silver glow of light permeated all around, the visage of Henry radiating light and grandeur as his eyes released a light of dominance over 3 Noblesse Reverend Emperors.

They lay before him in defeat as around him, the figure of the clone of the Emperor Penguin had its beak raised high with pride!

To his left, Barbatos' clone could be seen as she stood on the floating skull of a Gehenna Phoenix which held the contained light of her Legions within it.

Further around them, the figures of Eowyn, Guinevere, Blue Slime, Tiamat, Kazuhiko, Athena, Lancelot, the Kraken, Anna, Halcyon, Oathkeeper...a great deal of those from the Infinite Hyperversal Haven had their clones joining this Conquest as they dominated one Noblesse domain after another.

None of them knew it.

None of them felt it!

Nobody...but one being in particular.

He was the Son of Destiny.

He was the progeny of the True Emperor of Quintessence!

Destiny and Providence burned fiercely in his Origin as he had also gained an elevation in his Lineage of the Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor!

The portion of his Will that was contained in this Clone only began to sense immense danger as a thundering cry ripped out the reality not just above their heads, but the whole region of this plane in their immediate surroundings!

Most of them didn't even know what hit them.

The speed of their souls couldn't follow it as the being to target them was much, much more powerful!

Only the soul of the Son of Destiny was able to raise his head up as his eyes brightened up the most they ever had in his short life, the eyes of an Apex Aeon Lifeform bursting from his sockets as he shockingly dispersed the aura and authority of these eyes over himself and those around him.

This was because his destiny and Providence told him a single thing from the endless burning rays of darkness that cascaded from the Havens above them.

Death.

Not just the death of their clones, but what they were connected to as the essence that would rip them apart wasn't even a hundredth of the power which would remain to follow their Sources and decimate their main bodies!

It was a deadly and inciteful move to kill!

It didn't even pause on the dominance of the eyes of an Apex Aeon Lifeform as it shredded through it and smashed down with spite and destruction.

BOOOM!

The time for all of this to occur was extremely short.

The moment that Henry instinctively felt the immediate threat of true death, his Soul moved as his main body in the Infinite Hyperversal Haven roared out a single word- carried the fastest across the very own Lineage that made him.

It was a call for help.

"Father!"

...!

The word crossed across the lineage of the Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor as truthfully, it wasn't even needed.

This was because innately, the Bloodline of the Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor felt the great danger to a part of itself as Noah's Main Body a distance away that was about to begin a discussion with Aurelia blazed with startling brilliance and moved an instant after.

And yet it didn't take even a fraction of a nanosecond before a booming sound ruptured out.

BOOOOM!

Velocious Void Burn.

This was the ability Euryale had uttered out as unstoppable and extremely fast beams of pure burning voids of darkness instantly appeared from different locations within the Infinite Hyperversal Haven- each one atop the heads of the main bodies of the beings around Henry...as well as Henry himself!

Above the figure of Barbatos who just so happened to be with Valentina.

Above Kazuhiko who had been spending time with the Imperial Phoenix!

A dreadful burning void of darkness that carried heavy Apex Aeonic Damage Values flowered from different locations within the Infinite Hyperversal Haven as the main bodies of all the advanced forces who were conquering the Lands of the Noblesse were affected!

Chapter 2475 Immeasurable Rage! II

2475 Immeasurable Rage! II

A void of dreadfully burning beams of darkness zapped down above the heads of multiple beings within the Infinite Hyperversal Haven!

The speed of the strike of an Apex Aeonic Lifeform was utterly dreadful as one had to be at such a stage to even react to it.

Normally.

Typically!

But the master of the affected Haven was not typical.

And the affected Haven itself was not typical!

The first Entity to act during all of this was not even Noah himself as the very Infinite Hyperversal Haven...mobilized its Defensive Maneuvers right away the moment that rays of burning darkness appeared.

Dense and countless multicolored Aegis- shields of glorious illusory light bloomed above all the beings affected!

Yet even this was still a reactionary action.

The rays of burning darkness were much faster than the formation of the Aegis as above the head of Henry who was targeted with the most precision, dense shields of illusory light tried to bloom an inch above his dark blue hair as this was how quickly the rays of burning darkness had reached his position.

They were an inch away as the proliferating illusory shields were crushed at a far faster rate than they formed.

Henry's eyes burned as his soul was ablaze with power and glory, his devilishly young face bellowing out towards the burning rays of darkness an inch from him as every ounce of his power formed barriers born of his Boundary Essence!

"OOH!"

It was a cry of survival and valor, but this alone wasn't enough to stand against an unstoppable power that at this moment...seemed to be in the tens of Apex Aeon Damage Values.

And this was dispersed over multiple areas in this Haven!

Henry's defenses, just like his clone's, didn't last even an instant as they were shredded.

And a ray of burning darkness crashed into his glorious visage- a moment that turned out to be exactly when his father appeared beside him, his eyes burning with power and rousing rage as he...released a roar that seemed to resonate and vibrate with the very fabric of Reality!

"OOOOH!"

Noah's Main Body instantly appeared before the darkly burning visage of his Son, the ray of burning light that landed on Henry instantly spreading to every part of him.

Yet Noah had appeared within this same instant as his body was already erupting out with a mixture of dense essence that held nothing other than...

Vacuous Hyperversal Authority.

HOOOONG!

A Miniature Vacuous Hyperversal Domain erupted around them as the first move was to entirely isolate themselves outside the scope of essence, time, space...everything!

He didn't choose to fight against an essence with damage values he could not match, and directly unfolded a domain where essence itself was denied.

At the same time, Noah wanted to cast Vacuous Reality Absorption which was upgraded from Aeonian Mana Drain, but the conditions to cast it were not met as he could only wrap himself around the body of his burning son and breathe in the dreadfully burning essence of darkness with his own soul while becoming entirely surrounded by Hyperversal Hyperversal Authority!

An instant.

At this stage, many things could happen in an instant.

Wrapped in the light of nothingness, Noah's burning eyes felt the burning flames of darkness extinguished, his Unrecorded Aeonian Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation burning brightly as the cherry colored essence of Indefatigable Dynamis of Extremity wrapped around his son.

His son.

His body was charred black as towards its very depths...he felt the blood of the Lineage of the Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor rouse and surge as...

THUMP!

He felt a heartbeat.

It was weak, but there was a heartbeat.

A small portion of a soul remained after he shared any residual damage himself- with Noah's body currently charred black himself even though he burned with utmost life force and a billowing, ever rising rage!

This was because...he was there for his son.

But the targets weren't only his son!

BZZT!

He released the Miniature Vacuous Hyperversal Domain as billowing anger coursed through his eyes, ready to face the devastation that was out there while the immense life force of the Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor coursed through the body of his barely alive son.

Less than a nanosecond had passed.

Yet when the outside reality came into view again, the streaks of burning rays of darkness had all but faded.

All they left was an immense aura of shock and desolation.

They had achieved what they came to achieve as during the time that Noah and Henry's barely living visage were wrapped up in the Miniature Vacuous Hyperversal Domain, even more shocking things had occurred outside of it!

In the span of a nanosecond while Noah conjured the Miniature Vacuous Hyperversal Domain.

The Infinite Hyperversal Haven felt the booming rage of its Master as well as its inherent protective features of the Lifeforms within it, where after it saw that the blooming illusory shields of light were getting crushed one after another with the burning rays of darkness reaching their targets, even more dazzling Aegis were conjured throughout the head, chest, and torso of all those in peril!

Even if their upper bodies were destroyed, the Infinite Hyperversal Haven wanted to at least preserve an aspect of their existence as to form a fortifiable defense against tens of Apex Aeonid Damage Value cascading from multiple sides...the dense essence of assimilated Planes of Existence that was going towards expanding the Aletheian Planes within it were all redirected to power up its defensive measures.

The quick mobilization of even the Reified Enders of Extremity would not be possible as direct Alteration of reality to assert its authority of defensive maneuvers through these Aegis was the quickest possible option.

The Infinite Hyperversal Haven used what was considered its very life force on the line!

And thus came the culmination that was the reality that Noah currently looked at.

Even with the efforts of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven, the attacks still reached their intended targets as it was hard for them to survive.

Where the Emperor Penguin used to be, Reality pulsed with a baleful air as what could be seen...was only a small cluster of a residual soul that was preserved within dense clusters of illusory shields.

And this soul...was actually a trace of Noah's Will mixed in with the Emperor Penguin due to their relationship as Vassal and Emperor!

If this connection of a Servant wasn't there, it was hard to say if even a smidge of the soul of the Emperor Penguin would have been preserved along with Noah's will.

This was because Noah's soul and will wouldn't perish so long as the Infinite Hyperversal Haven existed!

So it was the last bastion of defense for those affected as apart from the Emperor Penguin, all that could be seen where Barbatos and Valentina were was burning dust along with dense clusters of shields protecting two barely pulsing pearls of soul light.

Kazuhiko.

Eowyn.

Blue Slime.

Athena.

Everywhere Noah looked, all he saw was dangerous deaths and destruction as only slivers of the souls of these targeted beings remained!

It seemed like they could be nurtured to go back to how they once were, but even this was filled with uncertainty.

The Infinite Hyperversal Haven already began such a process as thick waves of lifeforce from this very Haven itself flowed and clustered around the barely preserved souls.

At this devastating scene, Noah's soul and will buzzed as a sense of anger and rage that hadn't risen in his heart before!

Grasping his burnt son who had yet to come to, his Soul and the Will of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven already traced where the burning rays of light came from Quintessential Hyperversal Mana and Soul Values were used up freely, signals beginning to rise before Noah's eyes as infinite rage spilled out into the outside reality!

[Uncontained rage capable of warping reality is budding.]

[The Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has directed the rage towards a certain direction.]

[The Concept stemming from the Seven Deadly Sin- Wrath, is being elevated towards Extremity.]

...!

[The Unrecorded Aeonic Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation has called upon all Mutationem Embryos!]

[The Unrecorded Aeonic Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation has called upon the other bodies and Reified Sources of Extremity to fuse into the Main Body!]

As the source of burning rays of darkness was traced, unimaginable waves of rage erupted from the depths of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven as its Master warped towards the area of the trace, his other bodies returning as an unknown future bloomed!

Chapter 2476 Immeasurable Rage! III

2476 Immeasurable Rage! III

An event that occurred within the span of less than a nanosecond!

It was so rapid that even other Apex Aeonic Lifeforms were forced to act as observers, where Orion and Aurelia's clones only saw the radiant burning rays of darkness as they were descending on their targets.

Their bodies instinctively moved towards their nearest location to try and lend any aid- this being the same case with the newly arriving Caesar!

In his mind, an attack from the Singularity Overseers may have passed through, although this theory was quickly erased when he saw the targeted attack that didn't involve him at all.

Yet even he still moved!

But...the burning rays of darkness were far faster than even light.

YAA!

Aurelia had cried out valiantly while moving towards where Anna was, and yet when she arrived there, the only thing left was a cluster of illusory shields conjured from the very Infinite Hyperversal Haven itself- only containing a sliver of a soul protected within Noah's will!

The recently dispersed forces of Ancestral Lernaean and Maximilian came out and gazed at the Desolate scene in shock.

The few Dimensional Rulers not affected among the small Legion that moved with Henry's clone came out to observe such a dreadful scene!

None of them could do a single thing as they could only observe helplessly.

From this unfolding event, a few things could be discerned.

One was that the helplessness of the Apex Aeonic Lifeforms to change anything with this attack here showed that the Infinite Hyperversal Haven could react and shift far faster than them.

After all, all of this happened within its fabric of Reality.

Second...it didn't fully settle in, but a reminder of just how drastic things could change for those who were weak thundered down as many of Noah's Vassals cried out while going towards those they had formed bonds with!

The Longest Dream and Oldest Dreamer cried out while going towards where Eowyn used to be.

Anna's father felt the faint light of his daughter's soul as he cried out in shock and sorrow!

But all of this...was overshadowed by the roar of immeasurable rage from the True Emperor of Quintessence.

His body had already disappeared as his cry still resonated, warping across space and claspng onto the source of the burning rays of darkness with the help of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven!

He knew the source to be within the Noblesse Region where the clones of his Son and others used to be, his bodies in the Haven of Dissolution linking with his and the Infinite Hyperversal Haven as under their eyes, the flow of the essence of a Dynamis of Extremity was extremely clear.

From where his son's clone was, a shimmering light of darkness pointed towards a certain location.

And he barreled towards it while burning with utmost rage- a rage that wasn't just directed towards the one responsible for this situation.

A portion of this rage was directed towards himself.

Among the many things he had calculated in the illusory trillions of years outside the scope of space and time, the movements of his people were among them.

He had already experienced Apex Aeonis Soul Totems and their power when Ophelia's clone was erased and they appeared above her main body.

He had theorized the very real possibility that at some point in time, an Apex Aeonis Lifeform may aim at himself or his people- even with the rules set in place and the watchful gaze of the Adjudicator of Dissolution.

He came up with possible solutions to this- the most achievable ones being in the form of a unique Boundary and another Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

But he didn't embark on this right away after his transformation.

Granted, it was only the span of minutes since the boons of the Unrecorded Aeonis Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation were granted as he was just testing them, but this was among many things he theorized that he had yet to implement!

Never was there an expectation that an attack would come in such a short time span.

But more than that, Noah had a portion of this rage directed to himself as truthfully, he actually gave weight to the rules and power of others!

He gave weight to the power of the Adjudicator of Dissolution after he basked in her grandeur of Hyperversal Extremity Authority, and after her intervention of his own actions!

A sense of complacency bloomed- however miniscule it was.

Even if what just occurred was still unexpected, it was still something he missed. It was his responsibility as he bore its weight.

And he would be the one to correct it!

Thus, his rage unfurled as from different parts of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven and Aeonic Haven of Dissolution, the different parts of his stretched out came to fuse with him.

This was all to rectify the current situation and let loose the boiling rage that had long since reached a tipping point!

Rage.

Anger.

It was an emotion that all Lifeforms felt many times in their lives, no matter how long or short.

A vast majority of the time, anger gave birth to absolutely nothing.

It was commonly weak Lifeforms feeling anger and unfairness as a lot of the time, they lived with it and bottled it as they didn't even have the power to release it!

A select few gave in to this anger.

When one gave into bubbling anger and rage, they would likely die an early death against those who brought forth this anger.

There were then the rare few who utilized the burning anger into something that could actually produce results!

Noah's immeasurable rage was reigned in as he turned it calculative.

He directed it towards a specific place as he put the rage to use!

[The Boundary of Wrath has reached the 9th Boundary Layer!]

And...

[Understanding of Wrath far exceeding the 9th Boundary Layer is being expressed!]

[The 10th Boundary Layer is not achievable unless one's Extremity Meridians are enacted.]

[Your Hyperversal Extremity Meridian Seeds take on the budding Seed of Wrath!]

The rising aura of madness and rage around his body became even more intense as from a certain direction, an Aletheian Chassis shining with multicolored grandeur smashed into his main body.

[The Quantum Aletheian Chassis has fused with your Main Body.]

[The Unrecorded Aeonic Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation is taking the reins of the fusion of all parts that make the Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor!]

His body buzzed with heavy Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values that would not be attainable before as a shocking transformation began.

At the same time, Noah continued to turn his rage into a precise blade as it first swung at himself to correct the ever-minuscule complacency that even made it a possibility for his son and people to be so heavily wounded to the extent their status was uncertain.

[The Concept of the Soul is being ushered towards Extremity!]

[The Concept of the Body is being ushered towards Extremity!]

[The Concept of the Origin is being ushered towards Extremity!]

[The Concept of Cloning is being ushered towards Extremity!]

The tools to rectify even the possibility of what had just occurred to never occur again began to be forged!

Chapter 2477 Immeasurable Rage! IV

2477 Immeasurable Rage! IV

Clones.

The Body.

The Soul.

The Origin!

How they were connected, how they were separated.

Noah began by expanding these concepts as the theories he had were put into practice amidst his contained and directed rage!

And this was only the beginning.

[The Concept of Reification is being ushered towards Extremity!]

[The Concept of Separation is being ushered towards Extremity!]

[The Concept of Unification is being ushered towards Extremity!]

Lastly, a critical piece of the puzzle that was something Noah had forged for the purpose of having clones move with their own utility and lives in the past.

A concept that was merely at the level of an Insuperable Nomological Edict at the time of its conception- Anima!

[The Concept of Anima is being ushered towards Extremity!]

A concept that made a distinction between the Aspects of Existence. One's clones were connected, and yet they were also separated.

It was one of the many moving parts that would go towards granting something which would allow the destiny and fate of a clone or a reified form of oneself to never be reflected on the main body!

HUUM!

A droning symphony of baleful drums only rose higher after he finished this action, his body smashing through the layers of space as the Havens above the Noblesse Domains fissured and were ripped out, his two hands pulling apart the very fabric of Reality as surging violent waves of Wrath and Quintessence blared out- a sound akin to a horn that announced the start of a Cataclysm reverberating out.

It was the sound marking the fearsome arrival of the Main Body of the True Emperor of Quintessence in the Aeonic Haven of Dissolution!

And at his arrival, he saw a single scene that caused the Wrath on his heart to blaze with utmost fervor.

The source that caused all this was grasped and traced back to this location as when his will followed it, he saw the figures of two existences floating high in a region that began to be filled with tendrils of Ruin and Nullity.

The source led back to the visage of a female Noblesse expressing a sense of cruel beauty, where at the moment of his arrival...her right hand was placed over her mouth that was cackling with a sense of profound satisfaction and malice.

She was laughing.

Vibrantly laughing after she released terribly fast burning rays of darkness towards existences that hadn't even touched Apexification!

She was laughing as the fate of many of his people lay uncertain for her actions.

She was laughing as his son was charred black and nearly killed by her purposeful actions.

When Noah saw this scene, his eyes turned dangerously sharp as the billowing Wrath around him rose by another magnitude.

His aura and booming roars of essence caused the eyes of the female Noblesse and the male one beside her to stare towards his direction with their brows raised.

The words of the female Noblesse could be heard from afar as she blinked amidst her satisfied laughter.

"Is that...another Lernaean? No way, did they actually manage to trace my attack and send someone, and it's a tiny little thing that hasn't even undergone Apexification? Hah!"

Her glee was bountiful.

Her eyes smiled with joy and cruelty!

Noah stepped out of the crack in space and floated towards her as his eyes became sharper than any time in history, his face utterly losing the expression of any emotions as the blaring light of Quintessence blazed from them.

It was a set of eyes that turned cold and cruel amidst their Wrath as they set forth a judgment that would be achieved without a single doubt across all of reality.

It was the judgment of death on this woman before him!

BZZT!

Tendrils of authority danced all around him, and at this moment from multiple different directions...Aletheian Chassis, Quintessential Clones of Extremity, and Reified Sources of Extremity arrived and turned into grandiose lights that fused into his body.

[The Fantasia Aletheian Chassis has fused with your Main Body.]

[The Niflheim Aletheian Chassis has fused with your Main Body.]

[The Reified Source of Manadynamics has fused with your Main Body.]

His Reified Sources of Extremity in the Abyssal Sanctimonious Lands that were leading the Shadowlings.

His bodies in the Haven of Dissolution and in the Infinite Hyperversal Haven.

All of them returned to him as his aura ignored all possible forms of Reality and began climbing up to a shocking level.

And in the midst of all this...

[All currently held Body, Origin, and Soul Mutationem Embryos have been assimilated and fully devoured by the Unrecorded Aeon Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation.]

[The Unrecorded Aeonic Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation has taken a major step forward!]

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values have increased from .10 to 1]

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Vitality Values have increased from .33 to 3]

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Defence Values have increased from .33 to 3]

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Damage Values have increased from .10 to 1]

[Absolute Hyperversal Authority Resistance has risen from 5% to 7.5%]

[Hyperversal Dignity has increased from .1 to .3]

[Hyperversal Mastery has increased from .1 to .3]

OOOM!

Essence surged around wildly as the enhancements of the Body, Origin, and Soul Mutationem Embryos were all eaten up to elevate Noah's Foundation!

The results were astounding enough to grant him a form that was equivalent to a being who had freshly undergone Apexification and became an Apex Aeonic Lifeform.

The pressure he released was vibrant enough...to be mistaken for an Apex Aeonic Lifeform!

The pressure he released was vibrant enough...to be mistaken for an Apex Aeonic Lifeform!

With deep Dignity and grandeur, he gazed towards the being behind all this as data about her rose before his eyes.

"Euryale of the Noblesse. Too cowardly to even face them, you swung a blade to kill my people that haven't undergone Apexification."

...!

As he spoke, more and more clusters of light that were different parts of him fused into his body, the gaze of Euryale sneering with sharpness at the blazing aura of power as the other Apex Aeonic Noblesse beside her frowned!

Yet the voice of the True Emperor of Quintessence continued to thunder out as his billowing visage seemed like a roused ancient beast that made a proclamation.

"Your death...will not be a quick one."

WAA!

Euryale blinked and laughed wildly at such words as her figure began to buzz with waves of power.

"Haha, my death? Me? Against a creature burning up the last of their soul to barely touch the cusp of an Apex Aeonc Lifeform? I would like to see a vile Lernaean like you tr-"

BOOOOM!

Behind Noah's constantly enlarging and changing visage, the stellar form of the Quintessential Emperor of Extremity that was at the forefront of the exploration of the Extremity Vein of Dissolution with prominent Scions appeared.

Its eyes only consisted of the flaming singularities that were at this moment twisted with cruel rage and apathy, its form sinking into Noah as a blazing light rose to the skies and caused the sources of chaos in the surroundings to churn!

[A sufficient number of Reified Sources and Clones have been fused into the main body.]

[You have attained a version of your strongest self!]

[Your state of mind has influenced this version of your strongest self.]

[The Advent of the Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor has been manifested!]

Crimson gold wings stretched out behind him with fervor. Two horns rose from his head as above it, a crown of multicolored flames appeared and blazed with shocking brilliance!

Eyes that held vertical slits of pupils seeming like Infinite singularities buzzed with grandeur as his face carried devilish coldness and apathy.

His hair danced below his shoulders like vengeful snaking stellar Realities as his form was adorned by a black, gold, and crimson armament that was still forming- the potent essence of an Absolute Dynamis of Extremity widely buzzing from it!

Amidst this transformation, the daring prompt that even caused Euryale's words to stop came.

[For the next minute, all Quintessential Hyperversal Values are augmented by a factor of 25!]

...!

One of the boons of the fusion of the myriad parts of himself was expressed.

One!

Chapter 2478 The Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor! I

2478 The Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor! I

Atop the very Havens of Dissolution.

Towards the undeniable domain of the Adjudicator of Dissolution, a cloud of dense authority nearly as vibrant barreled towards it!

It came at a time when the Adjudicator of Dissolution had just spread her authority to cover the vastness of the Haven- with the voice of an existence steeped in both Hyperversal Extremity Authority and Vacuous Hyperversal Authority buzzing out.

"Little Old Destruction has come to pay his respects to the Adjudicator of this Haven."

His words were reserved as one could see his smile as he said them, the visage of a red robed devilishly handsome existence manifesting with his blazing authority as the veiled visage of the Adjudicator of Dissolution was momentarily forced to focus on him!

Yet even as this being appeared, the figure of Noah's Aletheian Chassis erupted with immense waves of Haki as without even caring about the Esteemed Extremity arriving, his body shot out purposefully and warped across space as it sank into the depths of Haven of Dissolution.

Sensing the rage in his voice, the veiled eyes of the Adjudicator of Dissolution flashed as they simply followed his figure- her will already sensing a violation of the very rules she was upholding in this Haven!

"Oh?"

This scene was caught by the Will of the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction as he was curious what type of being would be so freely around the Adjudicator of this Haven!

So his Will and Svetlana's Will watched as the Aletheian Chassis pierced across the skies of the Noblesse Domains.

They watched as this body fused into the main one as much to the surprise of the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction, he recognized the visage of the Quintessential Emperor of Extremity who killed his Squadron of the Scions of Destruction in the Extremity Vein of Dissolution actually fuse into this body as well!

Thereafter, fantastical words that gave them the larger picture erupted out as this being actually went towards two Apex Aeonc Lifeforms with clear hostility.

"Euryale of the Noblesse. Too cowardly to even face them, you swung a blade to kill my people that haven't undergone Apexification."

...!

"Your death...will not be a quick one."

Shocking words that showed an existence who had yet to undergo Apexification was actually pitting himself against Apex Aeonc Lifeforms!

The eyes of the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction flashed with profound interest while the veiled figure of the Adjudicator of Dissolution already discerned what had occurred, the coldness from her gaze spreading far as her will already covered the Plane where the dreadful essence of a Dynamis of Extremity pulsed- along with the aura of death of many beings!

Under her watch, an Apex Aeonic Lifeform had shifted to erase lower lifeforms as even now, one such being was seeking retribution on his own.

One of his bodies was right there with her, and yet he hadn't gone to her to impose justice and rectify this mistake.

He wished to take this on with his own hands!

And yet...was it even possible?

He may have an Absolute Dynamis of Extremity and even possibly attained a semblance or the starting point of 'that'.

But would this alone be enough to bridge the unbridgeable gap of the stage of Apex Aeonic Lifeforms?!

With this in mind, the Adjudicator of Dissolution didn't intervene right away as she watched to see how the situation would unfold.

At the same time that this was occurring, a blinking light traversed across the territory above the Domains of the Noblesse as it permeated into the Communication Medallions of all Noblesse Apex Aeonic Lifeforms.

It was a light that stemmed from Richard- this being explaining to the Noblesse Apex Aeonic Lifeforms what Euryale had done as he was unsure of what the fallout would be!

If the rest of the Apex Aeonic Lifeforms of the Noblesse Lineage were involved and knew what was happening, they would at least be able to seek a lesser punishment for Euryale when the Adjudicator of Dissolution intervened.

Thus, a disorderly stage continued to be set as one must not forget the reason why the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction went forward to grab the attention of the Adjudicator of Dissolution.

It was all so that his Elder Scions of Destruction could finally make a move against their objectives that included Apex Aeonic Lifeforms from the Lernaean, Quasarians, Noblesse, and Planeswalkers!

Among these targets, Aurelia of the Lernaean Lineage was among them- her main body still moving with Orion and other Apex Aeonic Lifeforms after they splintered from Roan.

Along this procession of events, there was also the fact that from the Quasarian Lineage, the Apex Aeonic Lifeforms of the Aeonic Inheritance of Extremity- the Singularity Overseers, were looking for the entity who had just taken away a lifeform holding an Innate Pellucid Hyperversal Foundation.

Their Apex Aeonic Lifeforms were already spread out across the Quasarian Domains as they were moving even further out to seek their target- and behind them...the Hyperversal Extremity of Devouring had sent forth a Tier 1 Hyperversal Extremity under him to ensure he received what was his!

It was an completely confounding intersection of events as when all of it came together...ah!

[For the next Minute, all Quintessential Hyperversal Values are augmented by a factor of 25!]

One of the benefits of the fusion of the myriad parts of himself was expressed as more followed.

[For the next Minute, Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values are granted a quasi-quality of the Quintessential Hyperversal Mana Values.]

[No matter how many abilities you utilize, so long as their Soul Value Requirement does not exceed 25 Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values, they can be cast endlessly. Your Maximum numerical soul value will not decrease for the next 1 minute!]

"...."

A truly ridiculous reality altering authority came down.

An authority originating from the state of fusion Noah currently boasted as it spelled utmost doom for his enemies!

His Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Value was granted a quasi-quality of nothing other than Infinite Mana.

But what did this truly mean?

Chapter 2479 The Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor! II

2479 The Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor! II

His Soul Value would not reduce for the next minute!

To visualize this and all the changes the current state of fusion granted, Noah's stat panel quickly flashed before his eyes.

[Name]:: Noah Osmont

[Realm]:: Boundary Expansion(Third Aletheian Haven of Extremity)

[Lineage]:: Quintessential Hyperversal Emperor

[Titles]:: True Emperor of Quintessence, Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor, One Who Gazes Upon Hyperversal Authority, Aletheian, Indefatigable, Tyrannical Emperor...

[Quintessential Hyperversal Mana Value]:: Infinite

[Quintessential Hyperversal Vitality Value]:: 3(75)

[Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Value]:: -/1(-/25)

[Quintessential Hyperversal Defense Value]:: 3(75)

[Quintessential Hyperversal Damage Value]:: 1(25)

[Hyperversal Dignity]:: .3

[Hyperversal Mastery]:: .3

[Absolute Hyperversal Authority Resistance]:: 7.5%

[Dynamis of Extremity]:: Indefatigable(Absolute), Aletheian(Absolute)

[Boundaries of Extremity]:: Quintessence, Blood, Manadynamics, Loot, Reality, Dimensions, Anima, Body, Origin, Soul, Genesis, Apocalypse, Prana, Dreams, Avalon...

...!

When he initially viewed his stat panel right after awakening as a Hunter, the value of [Focus] that represented Mana held the dash symbol.

Now, he saw a similar presentation for his Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Value as for the next minute, he could cast any abilities that required 25 Soul Values or below freely as if he held an infinite number of such values!

This was the quasi-quality of Infinite Mana that his Soul Values momentarily attained.

It was a change that made him utterly terrifying as the True scope of what it meant could only be ascertained when he began to run utterly wild!

Then there was the augmented damage and Defense Values that were increased by a factor of 25.

It granted Noah a Quintessential Hyperversal Defense and Vitality Value of 75, along with an Innate Quintessential Hyperversal Barrier of 75!

Now, something had to be made abundantly clear.

After an existence underwent Apexification, the vast majority of average Lifeforms would normally be able to attain the very minimum of 1 Apex Aeonic Damage, Vitality, and Defense Value.

If it was powerful Scions with dozens of Consummate Boundaries, unique existences who had formed Dynamis of Extremity even before Apexification, or those who had established a type of Extremity Foundation would have a value much greater than 1!

But an Apex Aeonic Value of 1 was the starting line as it was in no way the average numerical power of Apex Aeonic Lifeforms.

As they progressed past the 9th Boundary Layer of their concepts and forged Dynamis of Extremity while fortifying their Foundations and Realms, this Value of 1 was quickly exceeded as it was hard to determine the power of an Apex Aeonic Lifeform until they erupted out to display their might- or unless one had an inquisitive Boundary or Dynamis of Extremity that could peer across veils of secrecy!

Noah did not know what Apex Aeon Values Euryale held.

Whether it was in the tens or hundreds, he did not know!

Yet to him, this didn't matter.

Because he held a state of fusion that allowed his Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values to mimic his Infinite Mana!

[This state that calls forth one of your strongest states through fusion can only be activated once every three days.]

[After the duration of the state of fusion has ended, you will enter your weakest state with all Values weakened by half for the next day.]

[The breadth of your Soul at the time of fusion will determine the factor that your strength is multiplied by, as well as additional boons and restrictions.]

[The limitation of 1 Minute to maintain the fused state is nearly impossible to exceed.]

HOOONG!

His visage was astounding as the flaming crown above him span with glory and madness, his body entirely becoming encased by an Armament that could only be distinguished as the Hyperversal Demon

Emperor's Armament! It pulsed with the grandeur of an Absolute Dynamis of Extremity as Noah's Innate Quintessential Hyperversal Barrier fused into it to further expand its defenses!

The armament extended to his hands as his fingers seemed encased in Crimson, black, and gold crystalline claws that pulsed dangerously.

A crimson aura of wings stretched out behind him as his vertical slit-like pupils of singularities buzzed with intense pressure that finally caused the laughter from Euryale to cease!

The visage of Richard beside her also became careful as even at such a juncture, Euryale still sneered while voicing out.

"This is the state you've reached after sacrificing all of your soul? Pathetic, it is still below me!"

BOOM!

Halfway through her words, beams of burning darkness erupted as this was a hardened Apex Aeonic Lifeform who moved and killed with precision!

Yet the being that came to collect today was no normal existence.

Apart from the utterly ridiculous fact that his Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values were momentarily given the quasi-quality of Infinite Mana, he also had a level of access to an authority that very few others held!

"I told you that your death will not be a quick one."

BOOM!

Towards her attack, Noah's visage blinked.

He blinked, and the stretch of reality before him turned dark as Miniature Vacuous Hyperversal Domain was ushered forth.

It unfolded at such a shocking pace and speed as it arrived before the floating figures of Euryale and Richard, his voice buzzing it one last time before this whole region had the targets within it negated of their connection to the very workings of space, time, and reality!

"It will also be a very, very painful one."

...!

1 minute.

It was a short period of time for some, but also an extremely long period of time for those truly powerful.

Trillions of illusory years in a domain filled with Vacuous Hyperversal Authority could be akin to a nanosecond in the outside reality.

Noah's 1 minute of fusion worked with the timing of reality as this battle against an Apex Aeon Lifeform...could very well be ended within the span of a few seconds, if not much less...so extended as he could overpower her.

So extended as what he had achieved was enough!

A rageful orchestra played in the background as with a resounding authority, the Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor bellowed out while plunging into the dark realm that covered everything before him with Vacuous Hyperversal Authority!

It was a shocking scene that caused the Wills of two extremely potent beings to buzz as one gained affirmation, while the other spoke out freely.

"An existence yet to undergo Apexification and he has already achieved 'that'? You've nurtured an intriguing Entity, O Adjudicator of Dissolution!"

Chapter 2480 2480 The Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor! III

2480 The Wrathful Quintessential Hyperversal Demon Emperor! III

Vacuous Hyperversal Authority!

Something that very few beings attained as those who didn't have it had to survive purely based on their essences- with a Dynamis of Extremity being one of the few authorities that could handle the authority of nothingness and stop it from permeating into one's Soul.

Yet there was one truth that made those who had attained Vacuous Hyperversal Authority so crucial.

Even if one could survive in such a region outside the scope of time and reality...could they ever have an output of their essence?

The moment they released any of their essence outside to release an ability or skill, it would be devoured by the authority of nothingness unless...it was the essence of an Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

BZZZT!

Burning cherry colored light rose in the depths of darkness as to Noah's eyes, the space was as clear as day.

To others, there was only endless darkness as they couldn't feel anything.

Yet his Unrecorded Aeon Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Foundation could withstand Vacuous Hyperversal Authority while his Absolute Dynamis of Extremity was the one authority that could freely isolate one from Vacuous Hyperversal Authority even before Noah gained his Foundation!

It was one of the few methods of attacking here.

And with the quasi-quality of Infinite Mana for his Quintessential Hyperversal Soul...

An endless cherry colored sea bloomed behind Noah's visage.

His figure moved across the dense space of nothingness as he floated ever closer towards his target.

Euryale of the Noblesse Lineage.

A name only looked at as a Legend from the memories of the noblesse Noah had destroyed. Yet now, her dark hair buzzed as one could see a malevolent and shocked expression on her face, layers of vibrant Crimson black illusory shields conjured around her as they covered her entirely!

Not too far from her, the other Apex Aeonie Noblesse Richard could be seen doing something similar as he cast protective layers a Dynamis of Extremity to prevent the area of nothingness from entering his Aspects of Existence.

The both of them only had a singular goal while surrounded by Vacuous Hyperversal Authority that they had only heard about!

Noah drew closer to Euryale as the burning cherry flames around him cried out with rage.

He drew inches away from her as she was crouched in a battle stance ready to move at any moment, preserving all of her essence and authority as she truly felt nothing around her!

Even though Noah was right in front of her figure, she didn't feel anything about him as more layers of defenses wrapped around her, a malevolent gaze on her face as she bellowed out even in such a situation.

Sound could not be heard as Noah inferred from her lips.

"Little rat, where are you?! I know a domain like this is timed as when I get out...you're ripped to fucking pieces!"

WAA!

Her lips repeated these words over and over again as even in this situation, she was confident in her own power.

She knew her enemy was someone who hadn't even undergone Apexification- no matter how they had access to momentarily lay out a region of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority!

So long as she persevered in this state...that would be it for him.

This was what she believed anyway.

Noah stared at her battle ready visage right in front of him as a vile being like this who nearly killed his son...he would break her down until she sensed such terror herself!

He would tear her apart piece by piece until this malicious expression on her face was entirely torn away.

And so...he raised his hand and unfurled his fist as with the back of his hand that was wrapped in a scaled armament pulsing with Indefatigable Dynamis of Extremity, he swung towards the left side of her face!

PAH!

A backhand filled with the authority of an Indefatigable Dynamis of Extremity.

A backhand carrying 25 Quintessential Hyperversal Damage Values!

The impact was dreadful, and yet the layers of defenses Euryale laid out at least worked as they fluctuated, her figure feeling the impact only when it arrived as thereafter, she moved quickly to strike where Noah's hands had been!

SHAA!

Her hands had naturally and naturally moved while trying to release beams of burning darkness, but they were devoured by the emptiness around them as nothing reached Noah.

Instead, Noah's swung right hand came down from the other side to smack her right cheek, his left hand forming into a fist that directly went towards her abdominal region!

PAH!

BOOM!

Heavy impacts boomed out as Euryale roared out silently, none of the damage reaching her as it seemed her Apex Aeonic Defense Values were at the very minimum nearing 100!

Noah's strikes pulsing with 25 Quintessential Hyperversal Damage Values shouldn't be reaching her, yet every single one ate up at her Soul Values as she had to both survive and expend her power in this realm of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority, and also defend against an enemy she couldn't see!

And this wasn't all.

Hyperversal Damage Values. Apex Aeonian Damage Values.

These different values held a distinction that even Noah himself had yet to fully grasp as the latter Value was much greater in its standing!

Every time Noah struck, even though his Damage Values were 25, he saw the layers of defenses around Euryale fluctuating in a much greater effect as it felt like his Damage Values were much more penetrative- overpowering the Apex Aeonian Defense Values Euryale conjured by an unknown percentage.

It was the difference in quality as truthfully, it may have been 30 or 35 Damage Values being delivered instead of the 25!

Noah had to better analyze the differences between Quintessential Hyperversal Damage Values at a different time as now, his hands continued to smash down and release their cold anger on this foe before him.

She couldn't see or feel him, and she could only react after being hit.

She couldn't express any manifestation of her core as for her, no matter how much more potent she was compared to him- she was a sitting duck unless she could withstand and freely move around in this realm filled with Vacuous Hyperversal Authority!
