

Apocalypse 2551

Chapter 2551 Madness! II

[The Quintessential Thanatos Embodiment- Thanatos Haven Lich Ra'Zan, has spurred a Mutation in the center of the Quintessential Absolute Thanatos Dynamis of Extremity!]

[Thanatos Haven Lich Ra'Zan is circulating the core concept of his existence across the Quintessential Absolute Thanatos Dynamis of Extremity, giving birth to the Thanatos Vessel of Life and Death that culminates all of his achievements.]

[The feature of Quintessential Thanatos Embodiment has independently undergone Quintessential advancement!]

[Many more possibilities and tools are now accessible in the hands of the Thanatos Haven Lich Ra'Zan.]

The prompts cascaded one after another before Noah's eyes as he smiled.

And he could only smile as this was something he had caught glimpses of!

Now, he wanted to see just how stupendous it could grow to be.

Ahpuch.

This was the name he proclaimed for himself when he was born.

A name that meant death, disaster, and destruction.

And in the region he was currently in, there was a dense amount of death and destruction!

Within this atmosphere and the enemy Lifeforms rising beside the True Emperor of Quintessence, Ahpuch could feel the chains of the unreachable 17th Boundary Layer of Destruction loosening!

It told him that so long as he destroyed everything here...there was a chance.

And this was a chance he wouldn't miss.

He gazed at the massive form of a Draconic Elephantine Ender, and three Apex Aeon Lifeforms that were bright in their own right, one of them being among those he had half-heartedly chased earlier as he saw they would lead him to a grander path.

A meeting of the moment this Apex War unfolded and the visage of the True Emperor of Quintessence!

Now, they stood before him against him as they made grand moves.

Now he...would make his own grand move and show them how far out of their depths they were.

That the one to face him had yet to step up!

That when he merely moved toward them, they would be forced to move back!

He took a step forward.

And...

HOONG!

Amidst the destruction, a terrifying authority of nothingness shot forth from him like an expanding bubble.

It was none other than Vacuous Hyperversal Authority!

The moment it erupted from him, the four beings standing before his path had their gazes change as their bodies glimmered with defensive brilliance and forcefully moved back.

And how could they not? Their very Souls screamed danger from being enveloped by the authority outside of space, time, and reality itself!

"Fight."

His voice rose out across the battlefield for the first time as it thundered with brilliance.

Fight.

Was he telling the battalions of the Apex Aeonics behind him this?

He took another step, and the area of effect of the Vacuous Hyperversal Authority became ever grander and vaster as the four beings standing before him were pushed further back!

The visage of Aurelia had an enraged and distasteful expression while Hyperion and the others were somber.

"Fight!"

Ahpuch called out again, this time with even more ferocity as he took a large stride forward!

The enemies before him were pushed back past a certain dazzling multicolored throne and the figures of the self-proclaimed First Commander of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven, as well as the Undead Entity he had called out.

They were the only ones that didn't move a single step backwards as Ahpuch's eyes shone with brilliance.

His current armaments burned into crimson flames as the authority of Destruction transformed into a heavy armor that covered all parts of his body apart from his head.

His hair now burned crimson and black as his eyes shone like burning suns.

The immense aura of Destruction burned brightly around him as with the periphery of the Vacuous Hyperversal Authority about to spill into the Armies of the True Emperor of Quintessence, he called out for the third time.

"Fight!"

Before his word even ended, the visage of Alexander King raised his skull staff and pointed out.

And from it, a similar eruption of nothingness erupted in a grand show of glory!

It was another being who could use Vacuous Hyperversal Authority- or at least had access to it as Ahpuch could tell its form was a bit different!

A circular domain of nothingness tinged with destruction barreled down as another domain of nothingness tinged with brilliance erupted out to stop it, a shocking clash erupting out as reality began to break down!

BZZZT!

The domains didn't even touch.

Just nearing each other caused the erasure of reality between them as this junction of space seemed like a massive fissure erupted- the crimson silver skies above being parted and seething out while the earth below that had begun to be covered by the verdant obsidian mist of death did the same.

It felt like the battlefield was divided into two halves at such a moment as the masses of Apex Aeonian Lifeforms stood up with their mouths snapping open.

They couldn't sit still for this.

They couldn't not focus and observe this grandeur!

"Vacuous Hyperversal Authority..."

The Priestess Persephone uttered out in a far corner away from the battlefield as she wasn't the only one.

Many eyes watched the clash of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority unleashed by two beings as how frequently seen was such an authority?

How important were the personages that held it?

A clash of this authority alone divided the battlefield in half as two central forces that shone like burning suns gazed at each other, the terrifying First Commander of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven adorned in his bone Armaments spoke out with majesty.

"Fight, you say...but this will not be a fight. This will only be a trampling."

WAA!

The voice was filled with confidence as why was this? The enemy was powerful. The Apex Elders were veterans of the battlefield with a myriad of Dynamis of Extremity under their banner!

So what gave the forces of the True Emperor of Quintessence so much confidence?

SHIING!

On the side of the True Emperor of Quintessence calmly sitting on his throne, 7 points in space had long since ruptured into massive obsidian portals as at this point, blazing auras in titanic forms began to step out.

And before anyone else could make a move, a raspy voice that had its own portals formed cackled as its voice sought to dominate the battlefield!

[Death.]

WAA!

[There shall only be death.]

The voice was raspy as the Haven Lich Ra'Zan moved.

A lich controlled a myriad of things to do with death, but did this only mean summoning legions of undead?

The answer was a resounding no.

Death came in many forms.

And the Thanatos Haven Lich Ra'Zan sought to show these uncultured beings just how many forms death could take as his staff began to wave amidst the clash of the Vacuous Hyperversal Authorities, his voice ringing out multiple times over!

[Haven Curse of Corruption.]

...!

[Unrecorded Plague of the End.]

[Aura of Fear.]

[Sea of Agony.]

One after another!

Utterly debilitating abilities bloomed as a billowing smoke of death began to surge out like waves as at this moment, the two buzzing domains of the Vacuous Hyperversal Authorities were canceled out as the waves of death thundered down upon the masses like an endless sea!

Chapter 2552 Madness! III

The shocking scenes of the Apex Battlefield flowed like films on an illusory screen as multiple areas were focused on and seen with utmost clarity- the clashing of Dynamis of Extremity and Boundaries felt as if the watchers were right there in the midst of the battle.

The illusory screen showing the scene of the clash between the Vacuous Hyperversal Authority of Ahpuch and Alexander had taken center point, while the Haven Lich Ra'Zan who had begun to release waves of deathly authority over the whole Battlefield took another major focus on his own screen!

As for those watching...

[The battle has begun for a little while now. Can you see what the outcome would be?]

The voice of an aged Hyperversal Extremity thundered out.

He was adorned in a light red and white robe that held the burning symbol of infinity behind it, a horn rising on his forehead that looked quite similar to the one of the woman sitting before him.

Around the illusory screens they were viewing, a blazing flames seethed as molten mountains and burning suns were spread out all around, all of them pulsing with tremendous Authority of heat that was directed and focused on the single figure of Ayame's Main Body!

She was adorned in a light white gown as her expression was hardened, tremendous heat flowing over her skin as multiple Boundaries were forcefully being cycled through her body to try and achieve nothing else other than the Convergence of enough Boundaries to form an Absolute Seed of Extremity.

Her Grandfather stood behind her as with the aid of a being like him who held too many Absolute Dynamis of Extremity, it was only an inevitability!

What she was doing now was the same as many other powerful Scions- sending their Aeonic Soul Clones to observe the changes of the Extremity Vein of Dissolution to watch the Apex War unfolding while their main bodies accepted the support of their Clan or Inheritance to undergo a thorough advancement in power.

At this moment, Ayame's Grandfather had asked her the very hard question of whether she could already see the outcome of this battle!

Sensing a bit of hesitation from her, the Hyperversal Extremity with a brooding aura that burned vigorously among any Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremities laughed and spoke lightly.

[Little Ayame, do not let the veiled records of a single being break your confidence. You can see the strands of all reality and read them through the Aeonic Annals of Extremity. So now...I want you to provide me with a thorough analysis of the battle. Of all the pieces involved.]

WAA!

The words roused Ayame out of her stupor as she nodded.

She could read and see many things about reality as after gazing at the many moving pieces, she began.

"In any battle with Apex Aeonic Lifeforms, victory is truly decided by the strongest commander leading a side. So long as their Boundary Layers are higher, their closer ties to Extremity will ensure that they oppress the enemy commander as their authority will also spill over to their soldiers. In this case, this Apex War's winner should be Ahpuch as he holds multiple Boundaries at the 16th Layer, holds Vacuous Hyperversal Authority, and very likely had his own Absolute Seed Extremity forged!"

Ayame spoke calmly as she felt her Grandfather smile behind her, and she continued.

"But...this Apex War is different. The enemy Ahpuch and the forces backing him are facing...my eyes tell me that he shouldn't have exceeded the 13th Boundary Layer. And yet, the Commander wields an Absolute Dynamis of Extremity and Vacuous Hyperversal Authority as well, and multiple people on his side also wield Absolute Dynamis of Extremity. This acts to balance the scales somewhat, but then...there comes the effectiveness and uniqueness of one Absolute Dynamis of Extremity that was shown on the side of the True Emperor of Quintessence."

Her words came out rapidly as her Grandfather's deep voice rang out behind her.

[Nice catch. Yes...from the Records he did not hide, he termed it the Thanatos Absolute Dynamis of Extremity. This is likely not a normal Absolute Dynamis of Extremity, but one that has the Convergence of at least 20 concepts. Something that only pristinely talented Apex Aeonic Lifeforms who have achieved the 17th Layer and are on the cusp of Extremity can ever fathom to achieve...something that you can more easily do as a Tier 2 Hyperversal Extremity.]

As the two of them spoke, their eyes came to focus on the visage of Alexander King and the Haven Lich Ra'Zan, as well as the 7 cracks in the skies that showed off another eruption of this Thanatos Absolute Dynamis of Extremity "Now, the outcome of the battle has become centered on the pieces connected to this unique Absolute Dynamis of Extremity. I could barely grasp the Recorded History of the First Commander to be Alexander King as the Entity he called out should be known as a Haven Lich. Their abilities will cause the favor of this War to tip towards them if Ahpuch and the truly powerful Elder Apex Aeonis Lifeforms do not stop their abilities from spreading..."

As she spoke, they observed the dense authority of death cast by the Haven Lich to descend on a wide area.

It washed over the visage of Ahpuch and then spread onto the 200 Avernus Clan Elders, going even further to also land on the 300 Singularity Overseer Elders as their bodies lit up with their own defensive authorities to resist it!

When reading the deathly authority with the Aeonis Annals of Extremity, Ayame's eyes felt troubled as she continued.

"The authority is concentrated as plagues and curses that lower and restrict the authority of their targets. This Haven Lich should have spent a lot of its Soul Values to cast such wide ranging debuff abilities, and yet..."

KA KA KA!

They heard the cackling laugh through the screen as this Lich continued to wave its staff badly, illusory totems cackling just like it erupting out by the hundreds as they went to settle above the heads of anyone who couldn't resist the authority of the Absolute Dynamis of Extremity it held!

The Wills and souls of the affected Avernus and Singularity Overseer Elders then faced constant mental attack abilities imposing feelings of inferiority and madness, their eyes becoming somber as they released their own authority to be rid of this negative effect!

Their essence flowed slower as they faced horrific deathly plaques and curses, and the activation of their abilities could at times fizzle and not unfold.

"The authorities the Haven Lich is releasing are working to lower the capabilities of their enemy forces, while there are also the Prince Tier and King Tier Thanatos Vassals I saw before making their moves..."

As she spoke, Ayame centered on another screen that showed the Void Dracolich releasing a Poison Breath towards the Apex Astral Leviathans carrying Elder Apex Aeonid Lifeforms, the Chaos Nightwalker motioning with his hands as massive glacial sword formed in the skies and also rained down death!

Meanwhile, the Legions of Prince Tier Thanatos Vassal moved like Undead waves of a sea as they tried to drown much more powerful Elder Lifeforms by simply overpowering them with numbers!

[Yes.] Her Grandfather nodded behind her as he accepted her analysis so far.

[The ability to control the battlefield is extremely crucial, and so far, the side of the True Emperor of Quintessence has taken the reins of control, even if the other side has more powerful Lifeforms. And since they didn't stop another capability of this distinctive Thanatos Dynamis of Extremity being expressed...]

As he spoke, he focused on the 7 points of light that came to be after Alexander King called out [Chthonian Sinners of Thanatos].

From the cracks in space, heavy auras of Entities slightly exceeding the power of common Grand Elders erupted out as a mere glance of their bodies showed grotesque-looking Lifeforms of massive size rush out with mad intent for battle!

It caused everything to seem utterly chaotic as their appearance made the whole battlefield descend into even more chaos and madness.

This wasn't to mention that behind the Haven Lich Ra'Zan, portals multiplied and bloomed as Legions of Prince Tier Thanatos Vassals began to surge out like endless tides!

[The Authority of Death and Destruction...is a distinctive one as something at this magnitude has only been exhibited by the Hyperversal Extremity of Necromancy in the Haven of Penumbra. To have a Rising Junior express its authority like this already...]

...!

Chapter 2553 Madness! IV

A Rising Junior expressing the authority of Death so proficiently!

The eyes of Ayame's Grandfather shone brightly as Hyperversal Extremity Authority continued to flow from him and into Ayame.

[Continue.]

He beckoned for Ayame to continue her analysis as she focused whole gazing at the constantly changing battlefield.

"The different forces have fractured into their own battles, and now...it seems more casualties are about to appear- this result brought about by the wide ranging debuff abilities of the Haven Lich and the soldiers of the True Emperor of Quintessence not letting opportunity go to waste..."

As she spoke, her eyes came to focus on a screen that showed Commander Vladic and his Noblesse Apex Aeonc Lifeforms surrounded by cackling illusory skulls as they rotated their Dynamis of Extremity to hold back its effects, their figures trying to stay close to the Legions of Singularity Overseers with their Apex Astral Leviathans as at this time, an Apex Aeonc Noblesse erupted with power to prevent the deathly authorities of the Haven Lich from reaching him!

He breathed heavily as the moment he thought he could catch his breath...

CRUNCH!

A cerulean blue light flashed.

Over a thousand Apex Aeonc Damage Values flashed as a viscous blue slimy light instantly chomped onto half of his whole body, his Aspects of Existence buzzing and experiencing a disconnect as in shock, his soul was destroyed right after!

Half of his body was missing as on the side, a blue slime chewed with a giddy light! The lifeless body began to fall from the skies at this time when a moment later, the verdant black mist of death that had spread across the battlefield wrapped around it.

The authority that Alexander King had released!

It seemed to be ever present on the battlefield as from the dead body of the Noblesse, deathly energies erupted out as a roar followed next, the skeletal form of another Void Dracolich rising from it as a third King Tier Thanatos Vassal was born!

On the side, Commander Vladic and others were ashen as before they could even react...

RAA!

A cry boomed out beside them as a lustrous golden penguin used its flippers to swing a golden Greataxe down!

"Death, and more death."

Ayame spoke as she looked at the scenes before her.

"The more time passes and the more deaths that occur, the more favorable this War becomes for Osmont. Even if they are more powerful, they will get drowned by the Legions of Undead that hold no fear of death, and these massive creatures I could only find records of as Enders who seem to not fear death either. Currently, the ball is in Ahpuch's court if he wishes to reverse the dominance of his enemy before it is too late. The answer to this lies in him using his edge as someone who had achieved the 16th Boundary Layer, if he doesn't- oh?"

Ayame's words came to a halt.

They focused on the screen showing Ahpuch as he gazed at the unfolding battle with a smile.

And he then spoke.

"The more death and destruction there is, the more powerful I am too, you know?"

He spoke while bringing his right hand before his chest as if he wanted to grasp his beating heart, his eyes closing as he uttered out.

[Domain Expansion- Interminable Destruction]

THUMP!

A beat of a heart was heard.

And the whole battlefield changed!

In a matter of an instant, the vast Apex Battlefield and even close to the edges of it where the Wills of watching existences were hidden- an astonishing domain was laid down!

It covered everything in an instant.

"Domain Expansion," Ayame uttered with a somber expression as Ahpuch had finally made a genuine move.

"Something achievable commonly at the 17th Boundary Layer, but some Concepts can attain it earlier if they are unique enough. It allows one to add the might of a Dynamis of Extremity onto an existing Boundary Concept and expand it to an alarming degree, granting a domain of Absolute Control where one can instantly display their power across it. Even the surrounding reality will bend and conform to the truth of the imposed Dynamis and Concept..."

As she spoke, the scene before them greatly changed as massive crimson pillars of flames manifested across the Apex Battlefield a moment after the Interminable Destruction domain was expanded!

Interminable! This was the Absolute Dynamis of Extremity that Ahpuch grasped. And Destruction was his core concept as his Domain Expansion was Interminable Destruction!

Endless Destruction.

So long as one was within it...

BOOM!

The dense appearing crimson pillars of flames pulsed as they released hellish torrential storms of destruction that washed over the Prince Tier Thanatos Vassals- their skeletal structure facing over a thousand Apex Damage Values as their bones cracked and melted under the banner of Destruction!

ROAR!

The two Void Dracolich bellowed out as a dozen crimson pillars of Destruction appeared around each of them, the torrential waves of power they released ripping apart their wings as it seemed soon enough, they would face Destruction.

And the 300 Enders as well as the 200 Battalion of Apex Aeonid Lifeforms adorned in golden Armament that truly seemed like Quasi-Extremity Relics faced their first setbacks as their bodies were forced to go on the defensive for the first time.

Golden grandeur pulsed from them as a vast majority were knocked back, their barriers destroyed as their Vitality Values took a hit!

And this was only the first wave of torrential flames of Destruction from the [Domain Expansion-Interminable Destruction].

When the next one came...

"Ahpuch has finally made a correct move and placed his enemies in a predicament, if Alexander King or his summoned Haven Lich do not pull out something to-...!"

Her eyes opened wide.

Amidst the burning pillars of Destruction and wide range torrential flames of a not yet fully established domain, the cackling of the Haven Lich could be heard.

[Did I not say there would only be death?]

BZZT!

His aura soared.

The flaming bone crown atop him spun fervently as he commandeered his Master's [Quintessential Undead Rise]

From the ashes of bones of the dead Prince Tier Thanatos Vassals and King Tier Thanatos Vassals, the lush black light expanded in concentration as what was destroyed reformed again.

And this time, the deathly energies were doubled as instead of a single Thanatos Vassal rising...two could be seen from a single spot!

Two reforming Void Dracolich became 4.

Over ten thousand more Prince Tier Thanatos Vassals last appeared as the Battlefield became even more chaotic!

At the same time, 7 massive points of light emerged and made their presence known.

One was a particularly frightening one as while shaped like a circular plane of Existence- an Entity whose body was made up of pulsing crimson black meat vibrating with tendrils of the Absolute Thanatos Dynamis of Extremity moved.

Its circular meaty visage held no eyes, with one seeing a single structure forming from one end to another as it was...a mouth. On its backside, a burning symbol reading [GLUTTONY] could be seen as it radiated terror!

The mouth on the front side suddenly opened in a devilish grin to reveal horribly sharp teeth and an endless abyss, this single summoned creature out of Seven new ones beginning to inhale as shockingly...the crimson flaming pillars nearby began to be sucked towards its abyssal jaws endlessly.

The battle was constantly changing.

Ayame and many others watched it and analyzed every move made as just when it seemed the supremacy of the battle would shift from one side to another, magnificent changes bloomed!

But there were still the injured forces of the True Emperor of Quintessence that may very well start seeing some deaths due to the Interminable Destruction Domain laid out by Ahpuch in the next moment when it released another one of its torrential waves of Destruction.

At such a moment, a being stood up from the backside of a Draconian Phoenix as a white coat billowed gloriously in the wind.

His voice was barely discerned amidst the chaotic war, but it buzzed out nonetheless!

[All Aspect Hyperversal Heal].

...!

A lush blue light of life and grandeur emerged amidst all the death.

And the troops of the True Emperor of Quintessence...were enveloped by such a thick aura of life that some weaker Apex Aeonic Lifeforms were blinded!

Chapter 2554 Demon! I

What was his purpose?

When the blue planet was undergoing an Apocalypse, Dr. Hall thought it was to rescue lives.

When he came in contact with the True Emperor of Quintessence, he once more sought his purpose.

He didn't know if he truly found it yet, but something would always remain true.

He was a doctor.

And he saved lives.

THUMP!

He felt his beating heart churning essence like an engine as Boundaries and a Dynamis of Extremity coursed through him!

[All Aspect Hyperversal Heal].

His voice was light, yet its grandeur and what it called forth was instantly applied to all beings deemed as Allies- wondrous prompts rising up before him.

[All Allies have restored 100% in all Aspects.]

Not just Vitality Values, but even soul values were recovered along with any deficient Aspects. But it went further than that.

[300% of the Maximum Vitality Values of the target will also be generated as Reserve Vitality Values for the next hour.]

Brilliance unfolded before his eyes, but this wasn't it. This wasn't enough for what his very soul knew was the genuine nature of all things.

So he continued.

[Hyperversal Grace of Inarius.]

His Soul Values depleted greatly!

Brilliant verdant light now unfolded and bathed over the masses as the Domain Expansion of Ahpuch became ever-solidified.

And...

[Under the Grace of Inarius, the attachment of Death Reversal has been applied to all Allies once for the next hour.]

[When Death Reversal is triggered, the emptied Vitality Values will be returned to the highest as 500% of the Maximum Vitality Values will also be added as Reserve Vitality Values, with All Aspects of the target experiencing a 200% rise for 10 seconds after Death Reversal.]

Yes.

This was the route he sought, even though it was nowhere near complete. His research in Essensology, Biochemistry, Pharmacology, and many more concepts had brought him here, but he knew he could go further!

His piercing eyes watched as the Hyperversal Grace of Inarius settled above the heads of himself and all Allies as illusory flaming green wings of light, the aura of overabundance of lifeforce waving out as it seemed to trigger the existence who had laid out a terrifying Domain.

He gazed at the visage of Alexander King pulsing with grandeur as well as the Haven Lich cackling beside him as he bellowed out.

"Just as you can the Legions behind me...I can also target those you hold dear."

WAA!

His eyes pulsed with destruction as waves of power unfurled.

[Dance of Destruction].

BZZT!

The hundreds of crimson pillars of destruction across the expanded domain blazed and expanded. They then began to move across space like stanchions of destruction, a few dozen being devoured by the Chthonian Sinner of Thanatos labeled as [GLUTTONY], but the rest of them danced wildly as they released torrential waves of power with thousands of Apex Damage Values!

They ignored the Avernus and Singularity Overseer Elders along with the Noblesse as the lyrics would surely reap the lives of the people of the True Emperor of Quintessence- finally having some beings die on his side as the dominance of the battle would tilt yet again.

Or so it should have been.

The torrential waves of Destruction swept through the forces of the True Emperor of Quintessence as the might of an existence who had reached the 16th Boundary Layer was shown.

He delivered an excess of 8,000 Apex Damage Values not to a single target...

but to hundreds of targets simultaneously!

Such a move was enough to wipe out hundreds of common Grand Elders of an Inheritance as the result...

"Huh?"

Was not the mass demise and destruction they expected.

The illusory verdant flaming wings above the heads of the Endeds and beings adorned in golden Armaments flashed.

A cry of Phoenix erupted out as pillars of verdant flames rose from their bodies, their life forces just as exuberant as ever!

The Interminable Destruction Domain settled back with its crimson pillars becoming stationary again, but all were shocked to see absolutely no damage or deaths done to the other side!

And instead, they seemed more organized than ever as at this moment, a light of destiny erupted out.

As if it was saying that it was time.

"Gather!"

The cry of the Son of Destiny erupted out.

Henry Osmont called out as a myriad of Vassals adorned in Quintessential Loot Seeker's Regalia Set came behind him, their bodies still surrounded by flaming verdant pillars of light as the boosts of the Hyperversal Grace of Inarius settled in since [Death Reversal] was triggered!

They were currently at their most powerful as their stats had gained a 200% boost for the next few seconds due to the Grace of Inarius, and the Son of Destiny called for them to gather and use this moment to the fullest.

Others lined up behind Aurelia, Orion, Caesar, and many Lernaean came to group behind Maximilian!

Each of them were connected to thin strings of destiny that placed them where they needed to be as while their bodies shone with auras of intense life and grandeur, Henry's voice rang out again.

"Be ready to initiate the last set effects when prompted."

The last set effect.

The Quintessential Loot Seeker's Regalia Set had many boons, with the boon for adorning all 6 equipment still being born on the last day after Aurelia augmented all of them.

They could now use it freely as it was just as restrictive as it was mighty!

[When 6 Set Items are equipped, any enemy killed grants +1,000 Quintessential Loot Experience Points that can be utilized towards the progression of Boundaries up to the 13th Boundary Layer. A Quintessential Banner of Loot will also form above you as it adds +750 Quintessential Hyperversal Loot Damage Values to all attacks and abilities you release. Once every minute, you can release the Rage of Loot Seeker's Smite that thunders out as an area of effect ability capable of dealing 2,000 Quintessential Hyperversal Loot Damage Values, with any targeted enemies perishing from it having a 50% Chance to Trigger the Explosion of Loot effect...]

Chapter 2555 Demon! II

The eyes of the Son of Destiny flashed.

He saw the terrifying Avernus and Singularity Overseer Elders, as well as the few Apex Aeon Noblese struggling to survive amidst this battle.

And his body glimmered with brilliance as he sent commands with destiny.

His Greataxe thundered down as behind him, Kazuhiko, Athena, Eowyn, Ophelia, and many others swung their Greataxes down at the same time!

They triggered the Rage of the Loot Seeker's Smite as above them, the sound of thunder echoed as tendrils of golden lightning formed like a churning sea.

They threw it out simultaneously.

A single Smite should have held a few thousand Quintessential Hyperversal Loot Damage Values, and yet tens of them formed together all once as it seemed like a golden storm formed from above that pulsed with tens of thousands of Damage Values, and it rained down on the Apex Aeonc Lifeforms on the other side of the battlefield like a butcher's knife!

"OOOH!"

The Apex Aeonc Lifeforms felt a level of unprecedented danger as before any could react, the golden thundering Smite struck down in one region and carved a path as shockingly, Blood and gore erupted out.

The Rage of Loot Seeker's Smite carved out a path of mass death as for the first time, the massive Apex Astral Leviathans and the Singularity Overseer Elders standing atop them faced casualties, over 15 perishing at this moment!

On the side of the Avernus Clan Elders, 4 were in the proximity of this region as they were drowned in the tens of thousands of Damage Values raining down simultaneously.

But this wasn't all.

Just as quickly as the first one had formed and thundered out...

ROAAR!

The thundering cry of another cluster of Smites appeared as after the group led by Henry utilized their, the group led by Aurelia swung down their axes in sequence as well.

Before the battlefield could even absorb what had happened!

"Ah...!"

"Gather!"

Domains of Boundaries were shredded under the tendrils of Quintessential Hyperversal Loot Damage Values, the group led by Orion following Aurelia as one after another, clusters of heavy Damage Values cleaved across the battlefield in a shocking turn of events.

Barely a few lives were reaped after the Legions of Reverend Emperors fell to the cleaving of destiny early on with very few Apex Aeonid Lifeforms perishing, and yet now...dozens began to perish as death and destruction ran rampant!

And amidst all of this death...

KA KA KA!

The cackling of a Haven Lich could be heard as the dismembered bodies of Apex Astral Leviathans, Singularity Overseer Elders, and the few perishing Avernus Clan Elders floated in space while the verdant obsidian smoke of Thanatos filled them.

At the same time, the visage of Alexander King began to move as he stared at the figure of Ahpuch whose eyes currently burned with a destructive light of surprise at the clusters of heavy Damage Values being released by the forces of his enemy.

"Domain Expansion?"

His voice was cold and filled with dominance as he moved to enact what he had read in the Unrecorded Histories not too long ago.

"What is a mere Domain Expansion under the light of Loot?"

...!

A light of clear gold light erupted from him as it was vastly different from the verdant obsidian light of death he had been releasing this whole time.

It was...

"Another Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!?"

Clamor seethed in the faraway regions of those watching as in disbelief, they saw this First Commander of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven erupt out with yet another Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

Was it so easy to forge these pristine authorities now?

Could anyone just sit and do it as they wished?!

Their cries weren't answered as instead, the heavy voice of Alexander King thundered out.

[Hyperversal Plundering].

...!

A clear gold light erupted out as it carried the character of another Absolute Dynamis of Extremity.

Noah knew this Dynamis very well as its light was no less powerful than the Thanatos Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

Being one of the last few things he forged before the Apex War began, it was the Lotra Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

Lotra.

A single word, and yet it represented plundering, loot, or the most precious spoils!

One of its features was Hyperversal Plundering.

An ability that allowed Noah to plunder anything the authority of Lotra covered, whether that be a Person, Reality, or Concept. He could even Loot the Recorded Histories of defeated enemies whose lives were under his hands!

And what he plundered...could be turned into Hyperversal Lotra Caches filled with the most pristine Loot, or it could be made his.

What he plundered could be made his!

At this moment, he designated the Domain Expansion- Interminable Destruction as the target of Hyperversal Plundering.

The light of gold bathed everything as the skies that rained down golden tendrils of Smites from his Vassals became tainted entirely gold.

And from above...an illusory golden hand whose skin seemed to be made of bejeweled crystalline light manifested.

A golden hand whose fingers that were outstretched began to close and come together at this moment as if it was plucking something from the earth!

And the crimson light released by Ahpuch's Domain Expansion began to be twisted.

The myriad of crimson pillars of light instantly lost their magnificence as if they had been plucked from the space they were anchored in, the authority of the Interminable Absolute Dynamis of Extremity wrapping around this domain not being able to stop the authority of the Lotra Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity as the results of [Hyperversal Plundering] were fully carried out!

[The Manifested Domain Expansion- Interminable Destruction, has been plundered.]

[The Concepts and Pathway to form the Interminable Absolute Seed of Extremity have been Recorded.]

[The Authority of Domain Expansion has been Recorded.]

...!

An astonishing result was obtained.

Boundless surges of information coursed within Noah's mind in an instant as on the Apex Battlefield, the appearance of Ahpuch with eyes changing from astonishment to shock could be seen.

The displayed Domain Expansion he had called out entirely disappeared under the actions of a single being as Ahpuch's head was raised towards the skies, watching as a golden hand disappeared into oblivion just as quickly as it had come!

And then, he and many others heard two words that caused their minds to buzz in disbelief.

The words came from the appearance of Alexander King whose left hand came to land on his chest as he felt the beat of his Heart.

The Heart.

It turned out to be the instigator of this wondrous capability as at this moment, words that shouldn't come out of his mouth echoed and resounded out across the battlefield.

"Domain Expansion."

Chapter 2556 Demon! III

[Domain Expansion]:: When sufficient strides have been taken towards Extremity, the resonance of one's Soul with advanced Boundary Layers gives way to the expansion of the Domains of Boundaries and Dynamis to an unfathomable level. For the cost of 80% of your current Soul Values coursing through and putting a strain on your Heart as the Domain Engine, the domain of a Dynamis can be further expanded by adding the definition of a concept to it- or vice versa. It is a closer interplay between concepts and Dynamis as one gets closer to Extremity, with the resulting domain allowing your Will to be expressed anywhere within it instantly for 1 minute. The expanded Domain allows you to use all skills and abilities of the chosen Dynamis and Concept of Extremity at no cost of Soul Values or any other resources, with your Will remaining anchored onto the expanded Domain to the extent that so long as it is not destroyed, your soul cannot entirely perish to any attacks. The true power and extent of the cast Domain Expansion truly depend on the Dynamis and Concept of Extremity put together as something with great resonance can give birth to a domain that will cause one's enemies to only despair...

80% of one's Soul Values to cast. It was a heavy cost, and the truly powerful Apex Aeonic Lifeforms paid this cost in order to win difficult battles.

And in exchange, one didn't have to worry about the cost of any resources relating to the Dynamis and Concept of Extremity they utilized to make this domain!

They could dish out waves of their Damage Values as Ahpuch had begun to do just this.

He released torrential storms of destruction that should have reaped the lives of Noah's Vassals were it not for the existence adorned in a white coat giving off an aura of abundant life.

But this wasn't an issue for Ahpuch as he could easily call forth the storms of destruction again since for the next minute...it didn't have a cost.

But before this could be done, an illusory bejeweled golden hand descended from the skies and...canceled his domain.

When Ahpuch tried to connect and call upon it again, he felt that he couldn't even enact it again at this time as it was truly canceled out.

Canceled!

An expanded domain could be canceled?!

This question buzzed in the minds of many as many Apex Aeonie Lifeforms learned of this possibility today.

But what was even more obscene was that after a certain being had canceled his expanded domain, he spoke out words he should in no way be capable of.

"Domain Expansion."

...!

"Infinity...Thanatos."

BOOOM!

[Domain Expansion- Infinity Thanatos]!

The Quintessential Absolute Thanatos Dynamis of Extremity, and it went further on to be defined with a ridiculous concept of Extremity.

Infinity.

What exactly would the result of such a thing be?

[Mmm...]

Extremity Marcellus' eyes flashed sharply the moment the words of [Domain Expansion] were uttered by Alexander King.

[Did you all see what he did?]

He asked in a calm fashion as the Wills of Genesis Hyperversal Extremities around the feathery thrones on the marbled floor of this domain gazed forward with a light of marvel.

[He forcefully took the Record of Domain Expansion as an instant later, he expressed it with his own soul. Authority like this...should be feasible with Unique Absolute Dynamis of Extremity that Hyperversal Extremities can forge. What he is doing now is just...]

The words of the Genesis Hyperversal Extremity were left unsaid as Marcellus nodded.

His aged face seemed to have lost a few wrinkles as he spoke out words that caused immense silence to descend in the surroundings.

[Now, had our Apex Aeonic Elders been on this Battlefield...what would be their fates?]

A question that couldn't be answered.

A question that the Genesis Institute of Extremity could at least say they escaped the consequences of, but other beings could not do the same!

Across the folds of space.

In the lands of the Planeswalkers, within an isolated domain.

Devouring and Kabul watched the screens showing the events of the Apex Battlefield with cold eyes as to their right, the manifested Will of another Hyperversal Extremity of the Singularity Overseers could be seen.

[Are we still treating this as a minor and insignificant scuffle? We officially used the name of our Inheritance and a portion of our forces meant for the Culmination Step here. Some have begun to die as the dominance that should be seen on the battlefield...none of it is with them.]

WAA!

The voice was sharp and ferocious as it was inquiring and already placing a lot of the blame on Devouring!

[Devouring...I hope you realize that you will be the one to fully answer for everything if 300 Elders and Apex Astral Leviathans begin to be butchered.]

...!

Elders. Apex Aeonc Lifeforms!

They weren't just dredges as they made a notable portion of the potency of their Inheritance- and they couldn't just watch them be butchered!

At this juncture, Devouring snorted with a thrum of potency as he replied.

[Keep watch. If they do not reverse the flow of battle and take the lead, we shall make a move.]

[We?] The eyes of the Hyperversal Will besides Devouring and Kabul scoffed at the inclusion as it continued.

[Interference means defying an Adjudicator. What makes you think I would do such a thing to cover up for your mistakes?]

Yes!

Any outside interventions after an Apex War had begun were not allowed as for them to do this, it would mean they were directly going against the presiding judge of this War!

Someone who had already made her stance and standing clear before the War even began.

At the words of the Hyperversal Extremity beside him, Devouring smiled as his eyes continued to scour the battlefield for someone specific.

[My mistakes? I think you mean our mistakes. And whether it be triumph or defeat...did the Singularity Overseer Overlord not express his dislike towards the oh so great Adjudicator of Dissolution? This error can simply be turned into an opportunity to finally start the steps of correcting the mistake of her promotion as an Adjudicator.]

Chapter 2557 Demon! IV

Dangerous words emanated from Devouring as the Hyperversal Extremity beside him was silent, but he could feel her deadly glare!

[You do not have to do anything, I will let the Singularity Overseer Overlord know myself if the Apex War turns any more unfavorable.]

[...]

Devouring had made a choice as he stuck to it.

But all this time, his gaze continued to search for the being who contained one of the reasons why he was here.

The being with the Innate Pellucid Extremity Foundation from the Quasarian Lineage!

She was the solution to him attaining Extremity in another Source of Chaos quickly as once he held Ruin in his grasp as well...he would be extremely distinguished among Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremities!

But he had only seen the face of the father of this target.

His eyes flashed as they honed in on Caesar who was coincidentally among those releasing golden tendrils of light that tore apart Apex Astral Leviathans and the Singularity Overseer Elders standing atop them.

'If reality dissolves to an unsalvageable state...you shall be first.'

His priorities remained in order.

And he watched the marvel that was the Domain Expansion unfold from an unknown being who seemed to brim with power!

Infinity Thanatos.

The moment three words ended, the earth in this region was painted black as the skies turned a deadly shade of green.

The obsidian earth felt extremely real as if an endlessly dark abyss had appeared- this abyss roaring out as if it were a raging sea as from it...a dense number of Thanatos Vassals began to rise.

From the verdant skies, a cry erupted out as the beak of a massive skeletal creature pointed out, the rest of its body following close at hand as the mythical Undead form of an austere beast showed itself off!

[Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal- Infinite Nine-Flame Phoenix]

After Prince and King Tier Thanatos Vassal, an Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal appeared at this moment as even though it was a first, it wouldn't be the last!

Its expansive skeletal wings spread out and cast a shadow over dozens of the Apex Astral Leviathans that felt their Origins tremble, the liquefied green skies it came from pulsing as more monstrosities began to descend.

[Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal- Orc Fiend Devourer]

[Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal- Abyss Vampyre Defiler]...

One after another, some descended from the green skies while others endlessly rose from the Obsidian earth!

The most potent ones were Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal as dozens of King Tier Thanatos Vassals rose from the abyssal obsidian earth of the Infinity Thanatos Domain, their rise being followed by massive bony mountains rising up as each one releasing billowing waves of death!

And the Thanatos Vassals that were already on the Battlefield before the Domain Expansion was cast...

ROAAR!

They bellowed out grandly as the bodies of the Void Dracolich could be seen cracking- multiple new heads beginning to sprout from their bodies as their aura became even more ferocious.

They experienced an elevation in ranking as from King Tier Thanatos Vassal...

[Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal- Dracolich of the End]

Droves of Thanatos Vassals flooded from above and below along with massive mountains of bones while any Thanatos Vassals already present experienced a thorough elevation.

The cackling of a Haven Lich could be heard in the distance as even more oppressive might was felt from it, the Seven Chthonian Sinners of Thanatos that had yet to fully show their grandeur also becoming surrounded by even more deathly auras as their presence alone utterly dominated the battlefield!

This...was just the first few nanoseconds of the activation of the Domain Expansion- Infinity Thanatos.

From the earth and skies, Undead continued to surge out endlessly as it seemed in no time, they would drown the entire battlefield with their presence!

"...!"

The scene was astonishing.

This was especially so due to the power that the Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassal expressed and their sheer number- since there were already dozens of them making an appearance so far!

[Name]:: Infinite Nine-Flame Phoenix (Emperor Tier)

[Realm]:: Fourth Haven of Thanatos

[Lineage]:: Quintessential Undead Thanatos Vassal

[Titles]:: Undead Nirvana, Slave of Thanatos, Death Seeker...

[Apex Thanatos Mana Value]:: 6,999

[Apex Thanatos Vitality Value]:: 6,999

[Apex Thanatos Soul Value]:: 6,999

[Apex Thanatos Defense Value]:: 6,999

[Apex Thanatos Damage Value]:: 6,999...

Their numerical stats alone exceeded the hundreds of Apex Aeonics here, and were only slightly less if not matching the most potent Elder Commanders here.

They brought with them endless death and destruction as at this moment, the mountains of bones that had risen from the skies and the earth pulsed before their tops shockingly erupted with viscous beams of poisonous verdant black liquified authority- authority that connected from one bone mountain to another as any enemies on its path...

-6,999!

-6,999!

The eyes of the True Emperor of Quintessence seated on the throne could see the ridiculously deadly Damage Values Per second for any poor Apex Aeonics that was caught on the path of the rising Thanatos Mountains!

From the over a dozen bone mountains that materialized from the earth and skies, more than 50 Apex Aeonics did not get out of the way in time even with their souls warning them of danger as they perished before they could escape the periphery of the cylindrical pillars of erupting liquified authority!

The Apex Aeonics who had barely been surviving this whole time...

their numbers were shaved down by 90% as only the sorry figure of Commander Vladic could be seen hurriedly and with fear tumbling from a mountain of bones, the Noblesse who survived with him being caught in the eruption as their bones rained down with his sorry figure that gazed around in utter horror.

The Unrecorded History had shown a version of events occurring, and even with the interference and changes brought about by the True Emperor of Quintessence, the future seemed intent on playing out as it should be.

Vladic stood on a mountain of bones as he didn't know which came from his Lineage, or which were simply a part of the terrifying domain of death.

He gazed around him to see mountains of bones and death as the Scions- nay the Elders of an Inheritance and a Clan were grouping together to withstand swathes of Undead as in a short period of time, they perished!

They died as an instant later, their bodies underwent a transformation as they become part of the very armies that killed them.

"This..."

Vladic was nearly numb to this astonishing scene as his soul trembled- feeling the aura of a certain horror near him at this moment.

His head rose to gaze up to see one of the main main attractions of this War coming his way.

Before this being...Commander Vladic felt utterly insignificant!

Chapter 2558 Demon! V

His blank eyes rose to gaze at the immensity before him.

His bone Armament and the green obsidian light of one Absolute Dynamis of Extremity covered his body, and yet his eyes released a profound golden radiance of another Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

His presence alone felt as if it didn't need to be here as the Thanatos Vassals swarming over would be more than enough.

And yet here he was.

The enemy commander that Osmont brought forth as his backing.

From the rising Thanatos Vassals, his name and difference had slowly begun ringing out as chants from the countless Legions of atrocities rising in his wake!

King.

King!

King!

It was overwhelming.

It was utterly soul-crushing for the enemies to hear as it felt the tolling of death growing ever closer!

As Vladic gazed towards the coming figure calling forth all of this disaster, he found his lips moving outside the control of his will as he spoke in a raspy voice.

"Do you think they will let you do all this without repercussions? To violate my Lineage and the very Lifeforms of Inheritances? You..."

SQUELCH!

With a beckoning of his hand, a deathly verdant black bone spear stabbed out and impaled the figure of Vladic, thousands of Damage Values erupting out in a contained fashion so as to not destroy him right away.

And from then on, an Unrecorded History becoming Recorded was accomplished as the being carrying it out strayed from its occurrence even if just a little.

His words were not the same.

"I had already seen your death even before this War started, with my appearance here now only as an acknowledgment. You were one of the pieces to initiate this war and cause things to be where they are now, and for that- I thank you."

...!

His golden eyes dripping with the Lotra Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity felt as if they could see through everything, Commander Vladic feeling a sense of dread he had never felt before.

"Relish this death."

WAA!

"Because from it, you will rise to become even stronger. This...shall be your recompense and gift for making today's reality occur."

...!

His voice caused Vladic's soul to feel so extremely cold as he felt the essence of death coursing inside of him.

Was he...about to meet Euryale? Join her in death at the hands of the Commander of the being who had killed her?

"You will not be meeting your beloved Euryale."

His heart felt immense dread as the voice of the First Commander of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven buzzed in his mind and Records for him alone to hear!

His eyes could barely focus to see a devilish smile as this being's words buzzed in his mind again.

"And it is no Commander killing you...you are dying in the hands of the very same being who crushed Euryale in his hands."

...!

Vladic's eyes expanded wide in stupor.

One and the same being?

He thought of the being seated on the multicolored throne without making a move.

And then this terrifying Apex Aeon Lifeform before him!

And the dread only became more intense as stared at this fiend...no.

"You...you are no fiend."

BZZT!

As the last vestiges of his life left him, he managed to cry out in his raspy voice.

"Demon. You...are a demon! A Demon that Elder Ahpuch will destroy with surety. A demon that no Inheritance will leave alive! You-GOH!"

Vladic's Will and Soul were utterly torn as even his raspy voice couldn't be heard, and from his visage impaled by bones...a green black smoke bloomed and covered everything about him as a fiery authority of death began to rise from it!

He would not meet Euryale.

He would join the ranks of the endless Legions that would rise under the banner of Alexander King.

Under the banner of the Haven Lich Ra'Zan!

In a single move, the Commander who was the one to initiate this war had fallen.

The one to do all of this gazed up to see the ever-increasing mountains of bones and droves of Undead Thanatos Vassals as he gazed towards a point where more than ten Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassals surrounded the being Commander Vladic had called for in the Unrecorded History he read before and even now.

"Ahpuch."

Noah called out the name of this being as he smiled.

He had perused across many records with the Adumbrative Viewpoint of the Oraculum Dynamis of Extremity.

Ahpuch would merely be a blip in the events about to be recorded!

BLINK!

The visage of Alexander King instantly disappeared and moved to float above the raging storm of Destruction that was Ahpuch, bones splintering all around him as Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassals surrounded him!

"Demon..." The word rang out from the mouth of the Priestess Persephone as her white robes and eyes radiated rays of justice.

She and many others had seen the scene of the opponent Commander between the two Lineages naturally involved in this Apex War being killed by the First Commander of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven who had called forth a dreadful Domain Expansion that filled the Apex Battlefield with death!

Powerful Apex Aeonian Lifeforms were currently dying left and right as if they survived the sudden eruptions of the pulsing bone mountains, there were the Undead Vassals to survive from thereafter as they swarmed over all opponent living beings.

Priestess Persephone saw this all as she repeated herself for all those around her to hear.

"What is that being but a Demon? To be reaping the lives of powerful future defenders of the Seven Havens like this!"

Her cries echoed out as she purposefully made herself loud.

As if she wanted to spread outcry and hatred towards the other side!

And just as she was about to continue...

"What the hell are you going on about, Crazy Priestess?"

The booming voice of Erikson buzzed out in the distance as he gazed over in distaste.

His left foot rose as his right hand grabbed the slipper from it, lifting this slipper up and pointing it towards the far away Priestess Persephone as he spoke out with grandiosity.

"In a scheduled and decided upon War, a Commander defending himself and utilizing all of his power to take down his enemies suddenly turns into a Demon? You keep running that dumb mouth of yours and I'll be the next one that turns into a demon by teaching you what those nasty lips can say or not say."

...!

A shocking development unfolded even amongst the far away beings watching as tension began to rise, the far away Apex Battlefield filled with constant shocking changes becoming even more heart-shaking to watch!

Chapter 2559 A Path of No Return! I

The Aeonic Soul Clone of a renowned Scion of the Sima Clan pointed a slipper threateningly towards a renowned Scion of the Havenly Church!

"This is a War."

His eyes were sharp as if he could make a move at any moment without fear of the repercussions as he continued.

"If it was the side of Avernus and Singularity Overseer Elders winning the War and killing their enemies, would you call them demons as well? Get that hypocritical shit out of here."

WAA!

His demeanor was so dominating even while adorned in his beach attire as Priestess Persephone could say nothing else but harrumph and bring her gaze back towards the battlefield.

This whole interaction was also only gazed at with a periphery of the Wills of the watchers around this area, with the majority of concentration of their Wills remaining on the shocking events of the battlefield that seemed to be getting filled with a tremendous aura of death.

Above the Apex Battlefield tinged black and green.

In what seemed like a Haven of celestial beings gazing upon the lower earth below, the visage of the Adjudicator of Dissolution watched the unfolding events with a gaze of utmost scrutiny as not too far from her, the clone of the leader of this ongoing conflict continued to absorb the aura of her Hyperversal Extremity Authority.

[Multiple beings with Absolute Dynamis of Extremity, and one who even holds two Unique Absolute Dynamis of Extremity. This is a force that should be coming from a famous Inheritance or Part of the forces of a Clan, and yet you wield it.]

Her words were clear, and yet they were filled with an curious light as her veiled figure came to land on Noah.

His figure held a hint of mystery and wonder as he gazed down at the events below him.

He shrugged his shoulders as his grand voice emanated out.

"Is it so wrong and out of place for me to wield such a force? Even if it is not renowned, I have just stated before everyone when this battle began about my Infinite Hyperversal Haven. People undervalue me because my name isn't attached to some major Inheritance or Clan. They do not take my words at face value as this is what led to the reality we are currently in."

WAA!

"I warned all Inheritances and the Avernus Clan involving themselves in the War, and yet only the Genesis Institute of Extremity put their biases aside and took a step back. Now...ah, it pains me that I will have to destroy one of the Seven Clans and the Singularity Overseers due to them not being able to take a step back!"

...!

His broad shoulders were filled with power as his last ones seemed to almost be filled with lamentations!

A knowing smile full of power and certainty rose on his lips as his gaze went from the Battlefield below and locked onto the veiled eyes of the Adjudicator of Dissolution.

"They made themselves my clear enemies. The rules of the Apex War of Annihilation dictate that the victor holds the right of Annihilation for those involved in this war. When I finish this portion of the war...I hold the right to wage it on the rest of those who sought my Annihilation."

He spoke in advance as if he already expected certain words from the Adjudicator of Dissolution.

And Svetlana looked at him silently before she spoke up with a level of coldness.

[Must you continue this grudge? Do you know how challenging and deadly for your own forces it will be if you continue to pit yourself against the Avernus Clan and the Singularity Overseers? What you're facing now are the Elders they're raising up. Their true power lies in Hyperversal Extremities and Extremity Armaments that contribute to the defenses of the Seven Havens. They will not wait for you to grow and wage conflict as you grind them down. If you truly point your blade at them, they have the right to fight back and eradicate you and everything you hold dear. So I ask again...must you continue this grudge?]

"..."

Words of reasoning.

The Adjudicator of Dissolution saw the immense and still hidden potential of the power this being before her wielded as she truly wished for it to be directed towards a positive direction!

Yet her veiled eyes flashed the moment she saw this being's smile become even wider.

She realized nothing that she had uttered had reached him.

"Adjudicator of Dissolution, I assure you that even if I take a step back, my enemies will not."

His figure pointed to the war zone below as he continued.

"Even now as this War has reached a precipice, I have a sense it will not end with a simple victory or defeat. I wouldn't be surprised of interventions...I wouldn't be surprised of a Hyperversal Extremity or two making a move and breaking even the rules of this Apex War for the reason of saving their Elders. You see, I am a lover of peace. But when things like that happen...I will not be able to help but retaliate!"

BOOM!

His words were explosive as the Adjudicator of Dissolution blazed with an astonishing authority thereafter.

She didn't reply.

She couldn't reply as the words he had said...could not be refuted! The thought had instantly risen the moment the flow of the battle tipped towards the side of Osmont.

If the Apex War was tipping towards the defeat of the forces of the Avernus Clan and the Singularity Overseers...would the Hyperversal Extremities that had authorized things here truly stay still? Could they answer to their factions as to why they lost a portion of their forces entirely even before the Culmination Step of Extremity Sanctification began?

The Adjudicator of Dissolution knew the answer very well!

[For this, I have made a warning. For this...I am prepared for.]

At her words, Noah smiled.

His eyes glimmered with a stellar light as he had truly spent too much time with the Adumbrative Viewpoint of the Oraculum Dynamis of Extremity.

He seemed to see many things others couldn't as he wondered...did the Adjudicator of Dissolution truly have things in her grasp as she believed?!

Chapter 2560 A Path of No Return! II

Truthfully, Noah himself did not know much about the Unrecorded Histories of Hyperversal Extremities as rarely did he come across their Histories when utilizing Adumbrative Viewpoint.

And when he did, the information was very little as the level of secrecy Hyperversal Extremities held was too profound for what his current Soul Values and access into the Aeonic Annals of Extremity could allow him to view!

But the fact that his Quintessential Hyperversal Mana Value was substituted for nearly all of Soul Values usage meant he could utilize the authority of the Oraculum Dynamis of Extremity with unimaginable frequency.

Hyperversal Extremities with Dynamis like this that could speculate or foresee possible Records existed in large numbers, but they didn't spend their whole days doing so as it wasn't possible!

But with his Infinite Mana, Noah had no trouble doing so.

And since the Unrecorded Histories of Hyperversal Extremities were not easily gazed at, he focused on the powerful Apex Aeon Lifeforms from their factions.

The Scions watching in the distance.

The Scions hidden in the dark.

The beings who planned and plotted!

Ever so slowly, Noah was able to expand what he knew about them as this Apex War of Annihilation...would only be a stepping-off point for what was to come!

Immense silence was the only thing in the region of nothingness that the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction was in.

He watched the scenes of a solemn Ahpuch who ripped apart Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassals with obscene strength and apocalyptic destruction, and yet even more of such Undead Vassals continued to appear as his authority was ever so slowly being sapped!

It wasn't dredges of weak existences that he was facing.

Each one was equivalent to a Grand Elder of an Inheritance as apart from them...

GUOOH!

The roars of some of the Seven grotesque looking Lifeforms emanated out towards him as the one with a pulsing [GLUTTONY] on his back was the first to surge towards Ahpuch.

More and more followed as even with the frightening power and Destruction he wielded at the 16th Boundary Layer...it may not be enough!

That is unless...he can use this terrifying pressure to break through.

All this time, the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction was not worried about Ahpuch's life as no genius who had accessed Vacuous Hyperversal Authority as an Apex Aeonic Lifeform would be allowed to die- especially one of the Avernus Clan!

Even if Svetlana dared to, he or other Avernus Hyperversal Extremities would not sit still.

But there was the current problem that it wasn't just Ahpuch. There were 200 Avernus Clan Elders on the field as dozens had perished!

At this reality, Destruction let out a sigh as he felt the Will of the Hyperversal Extremity with fiery purple hair and two burning purple horns begin to blaze with light.

[What does the Senate say?]

His Hyperversal Extremity Clone was currently not within the Avernus Domains for a reason as his Records were not supposed to be associated with them. So he had to rely on this malevolent Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity beside him to communicate with the other powerhouses of the Avernus Clan!

[There are some disagreements, but it has been authorized for us to use this opportunity to probe...them.]

WAA!

Them!

Destruction heard this word as he instantly understood what it meant and who it referred to!

[Really? We do not know many things yet-]

[It matters not.] Blazing Hyperversal purple flames rose as the woman beside him waved her hands.

[We can make a move as once we do, we shall be able to judge just which Inheritances or Clans have been influenced. It is as good a chance as any to find out who our adversaries are and who our Allies are. And since we are using this opportunity...we have to be sure the sprouting weeds are rooted out early as this Osmont and his forces have tremendous potential, but their open hostility and disrespect towards the Avernus Clan means they cannot exist. You were granted the mission to eliminate the Record of this Osmont and his strongest Commanders by the Senate- if even this fails...you know the consequences.]

Shocking words emanated out as Destruction's eyes turned cold.

He thought carefully and connected to the Aeonian Annals of Extremity as he recalled the scene of Extremity Kabul and Devouring not too long, as well as the power Svetlana wielded!

He was mute for a while before he replied.

[Okay. But if you have contacted the others...let them know not to underestimate the Adjudicator of Dissolution. She may have attained the Zenith of Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity with the power I've observed so far.]

BZZT!

Zenith of Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity!

A set of terms that may not mean much to Apex Aeon Lifeforms, but they were extremely crucial for Hyperversal Extremities!

The purple flames beside Destruction blazed as the voice emanating out was sharp.

[Are you sure?]

[60% sure, when I faced her before, the Unrecorded Paths I could take were extremely limited.]
Destruction's reply was quick as after a brief silence, the other voice came out with a chilling light.

[Then I shall ask for Emperor Shao to make a move.]

...!

Emperor Shao!

Other beings liked to be adorned with grand titles when spoken about as most held 'Extremity' in their title to distinguish just how far they had come.

But there were some beings who did not need to remind others they had achieved Extremity by placing the distinction in their name.

Some beings simply went by a single name, while others were known widely by one moniker.

Then...there was Emperor Shao!

When the Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction heard this name, he couldn't help but think of another being entirely as he wondered about the future. He thought of the Hyperversal Extremity of Chaos who still hadn't returned to the Seven Havens.

'You should have been here for this...!' His gaze was filled with Innumerable light of Destruction as he planned for the future.

His mission was a simple one.

Amidst the chaos to come, his main objective was singular.

The True Emperor of Quintessence.

Noah Osmont!

...!

At a certain point in time, once one had stepped on a certain path, they had to stay on it and follow it to the end.

At this moment, the Avernus Clan remained on the path they had chosen as they were following a fantastical direction!
