#Chapter 27: Yellow Ball - Read Apocalypse Gachapon Chapter 27: Yellow Ball

Chapter 27: Yellow Ball

There were stray dogs and cats in every city.

This wasn't the fault of the animals but of the humans.

While many people hate stray dogs and cats, but these were pitiful lives that were abandoned by humans. Maybe they were the ones that knew what they thought about humans.

One thing was for sure when someone took care of them, they would trust you and get close to you.

Maybe this was one's natural ability to go towards things that are good for you. Undeniably, animals remembered those who treated them well.

In this city, there were also many animals like this that were abandoned.

Ye Zhongming's district had many such stray dogs. When he was at home, Bai Sisi and would always head down to feed them.

They didn't have money to buy dog food so they could only use leftover rice and vegetables but these stray dogs didn't mind. Each time they would finish them all and then wag their tails and the couple.

In exchange, each time the two of them went to class or came home from class, stray dogs would accompany them. They would jump around them and look very close and warm. After sending them to school or back, these stray dogs would then happily run away.

Ye Zhongming was already used to such scenes in the last life, just that after ten years of the apocalypse, such memories started to get blur.

At this point, he felt that this dog looked familiar but he couldn't recall. After all, he had revived and his memories were ten years past this point so he forgot about many things.

But when this dog expressed closeness to him, Ye Zhongming finally remembered. This was one that Bai Sisi and him often fed. It often accompanied them to class which was why Ye Zhongming remembered it. Sometimes when he came home late, he was still able to see it waiting for him and the corner of the street.

“Is it really you Yellow Ball?”

Bai Sisi gave it the name because its fur was yellow and as it was a stray, it ended up greyish in color.

Yellow Ball was also very happy, closing its eyes and enjoying Ye Zhongming’s love. It then rolled over to reveal its stomach to him. Ye Zhongming also habitually rubbed that area.

This was a dog showing trust to you, revealing its softest part for you.

Such a situation stunned the four behind him. This should be a battle but why did it end up as an owner meeting its pet again?

Her gun instinctively aimed at Ye Zhongming’s back. This was because she doubted the real relationship between the dog and this guy.

Yellow Ball who was enjoying Ye Zhongming’s scratches suddenly jumped up and roared at the cop. If not for the door being narrow and Ye Zhongming blocking it, the dog would have charged to protect him.

The change in situation shocked Ye Zhongming too. He turned around at the female cop and said slowly, “I know this dog, I fed it before so it is safe. You can put the gun down.”

After which, he looked at the cop and then walked towards the silver light. This was his goal today.

“Wait!”

The guy with the nasal voice stopped and walked near the door. When he saw the fierce Yellow Ball did he stop and even retreated a step in fear, “What are you doing? We noticed that thing and it belongs to us.”

The brother of the dead person helped out. It was obvious that they wanted that silver thing.

The other guy called Lin Li stood beside them and had the same thought as them.

[Type here]

Only that cop frowned and didn't say anything.

Ye Zhongming turned around and said solemnly, "If I didn't come would you all enter so easily? My relationship with this dog solved the danger so now it has nothing to do with me?"

Ye Zhongming held his blade and stood there like a mountain. This aura shocked those three guys.

"Without you we would also be able to deal with the dog, don't forget that we have a gun!"

The guy with a nasal voice said once more. He looked at the girl and then back at Ye Zhongming. The word gun could indeed threaten many civilians.

Ye Zhongming burst out laughing, "Then why didn't you object when I walked to the front? If you didn't need me then why didn't you walk at the front?"

The guy shook his head and looked at him like he was a fool, "Who knows if you are a team with this dog? We want you to give us an answer!"

"Right, police catch him. He is a murderer."

Ye Zhongming laughed coldly. Such tones and expressions of greed were too common in the apocalypse. It was just the start so things weren't too bad. Once these people got stronger, their greed won't just be in their expressions and tones but in their fists and weapons.

"This... There is no proof this has to do with him." She frowned and maintained her professionalism. This gained some of Ye Zhongming's praise.

But Ye Zhongming who definitely wanted the key wouldn't put all his hopes on this female cop. He closed the door and at the same time, he stuck close to it to avoid her shooting angle.

What was surprising was that Yellow Ball did a similar action just that he hid the other side. This made him even more certain that the dog was about to mutate.

Those outside weren't ready for Ye Zhongming's sudden action. They thought that things were settled because they had a gun but who knew that he would fight back?

[Type here]

Ye Zhongming bent down and used his hands to carry up the corpse to block the bottom of the door. Before he heard a gunshot, he pounced to grab the silver light and then he whistled at Yellow Ball. He then bent his right leg to hint at the ceiling above.

There was a huge hole which should be where the Secret Realm Key came in from.

Yellow Ball understood. Its strong four legs pushed against the ground and it stepped on Ye Zhongming's leg to jump up. Its two front claws hooked onto the side of the hole.

Ye Zhongming jumped and also tugged at Yellow Ball's body to pull it up.

With a peng, the door was knocked open. The cop led the three guys in but what they saw was a black shadow flying out and hitting her gun. The thing the four of them were relying on instantly flew out.

Chapter 28: Monster that suddenly appeared

The female cop felt pain in her hand and the gun flew out.

Even when she was sneak attacked, the female cop showed really strong professionalism. She didn't pick up the gun and didn't even look at it. She jumped forwards to kick out. Not only could she defend against a head on attack, she made some space so that the three guys could charge in.

Ye Zhongming's leg and her leg hit one another and both were forced back.

This was the difference in strength between evolved and normal people.

But although Ye Zhongming took the upper hand but he was shocked. She sensed high tier combat skills from her.

This should be something that cops wouldn't know. This made Ye Zhongming a little curious about her identity.

Having the Secret Realm Keys in his arms, Ye Zhongming most wanted to analyse it and see how to use it. He didn't want to waste time with this skilled cop.

But this female cop wouldn't let him go. She charged and waved her right fist at his neck. She bent and pushed her shoulder forwards to get ready for her next attack.

Ye Zhongming wanted to reach out to block but noticed that he couldn't grasp the trajectory of her fist. This feeling was really weird. That fist was flying towards his neck and if it hit him he would faint but he just couldn't block it.

[Type here]

This made his expression solemn and he had to retreat.

The female cop was on the upper hand and her attacks flowed like a wave. Ye Zhongming could only passively dodge.

It wasn't that he didn't want to fight back but each time she was aiming at a crucial area. If he didn't dodge, even his one star evolved physique couldn't tank it. This feeling of being passively hit felt really frustrating.

If those three attacked at the same time, even if they were normal people, Ye Zhongming would have already been defeated.

Unfortunately, the three of them just stood there and raised their phones to shine. They didn't even enter.

The woman was also furious. Originally he didn't want to do much too, just wanted to force them back and leave. But now that he was forced into a defensive state and he might get defeated if he wasn't careful, that infuriated him.

Ye Zhongming was hit on his left rib by her fist. The intense pain and difficulty breathing made his face flush red. He purposely took that hit so that he could counter.

He used this fist to bend down and after tanking a hit to his face, he hugged her waist. He roared and he tossed her to the ground before pressing down on her. He used the male advantage to block this strong opponent.

In this process, Ye Zhongming was hit twice. Once between the legs that nearly snapped his private part and the other was a headbutt. But this time the female was the one that suffered as the evolved body was stronger.

He pressed her down. Her exquisite body along with the strong twisting caused his male hormones to excrete but he didn't care about all that. He grabbed her throat while using the other hand to press her hand down.

At this point, the weakness of her body was revealed. Facing Ye Zhongming who was a one star evolved, her skills weren't of use. Her only movable hand grabbed his body and neck but it was no use.

The strength of an evolved expert was huge. If normal people took two minutes to strangle others, evolved people needed less than thirty seconds. Before you even lost your breath, your throat might have been crushed.

The situation changed. The person who was getting hit was now deciding who lived or died.

[Type here]

The three at the door spent so long and didn't even react. Once her struggling started to weaken, that guy with a nasal voice bit his teeth and decided to help.

But he took one step and Ye Zhongming suddenly raised his head to stare at him. His eyes were filled with frenzied killing intent.

His legs felt soft and he felt like his body froze. Not to even mention helping, he couldn't even move at all.

Ye Zhongming lowered his head and shock appeared in his eyes. The hand he had on her neck didn't use any more strength and he slowly let go. This made her breathing much smoother.

"This thing will end like that, and also, run."

Ye Zhongming said those words to her before jumping up and leaving. He grabbed her gun and left through the hole in the roof.

The female cop struggled up and coughed because of the discomfort in her throat. Her mind was filled with what the guy said.

Run? Why run?

She thought about and suddenly looked outwards at the darkness behind the three guys.

"You, why police?"

The three guys said.

They were the ones that pushed her to challenge him but they didn't help her when she needed help. Even if they were shameless, they would find it hard to raise their heads.

"Light up the area behind you, quick!" She stood up and shouted at them. After momentary shock, they looked behind.

Ah!

This shine caused them to shout in terror. They turned around to run towards the hole where Ye Zhongming fled to. They even forced her to the side.

In the darkness, there were three pairs of green eyes. On top of the cold eyes was a white crystal!

[Type here]

Using the light from the phone, the woman was able to see the monster in the darkness. Now she understood why the guy would run.

That was because there were three terrifying lizards heading in and they were already behind them.

Even if she didn't know what the crystal color represented, but she felt danger from their bodies.

Her smooth back was covered in a cold sweat. Even when she was nearly strangled to death, she didn't show much terror!

Chapter 29: Face of despair

"Police, police, stop them." The brother of the guy that Yellow Ball had bitten to death cried and shouted at the policewoman.

When he was fighting to climb out of the hole, he failed and was pushed down by the nasal voice guy. He even became a stepping stone for others to step on him to climb up.

Even if one had a strong sense of justice, she felt a little sad. Since meeting these three, she had been protecting them. But, not only did they not help her when her life was in danger, but now they were asking her to defend them. They didn't care about her life at all.

Was it worth doing stuff for such people?

But her usual thoughts and professionalism made her block in front of the door. Her gun was taken away such that she could only face those three unknown beings empty handed.

Si si si si!

The three guys didn't even light the area up for her. This place was dark. If not for a dropped phone giving off some light, this cop would be facing them in total darkness.

After a terrifying scream, the three giant lizards which had grey tumors on their bodies started to attack.

The biggest one jumped up into the air and opened its mouth at the female cop, shooting out a ball of red. It had a thick stench but it was extremely quick.

After all, this cop was well-trained and was able to predict danger. This meter long tongue flew past her face and hit the half-open door. A hole was broken into the door and wooden shrapnel flew and hit on the wall of the bathroom.

[Type here]

At the same time, the other two lizards moved their tails and attacked her legs.

She kicked the body of the first lizard that attacked. Although it cried out and fell back, but the giant recall forced her back into the bathroom and the door area was freed up.

The two lizards took the chance to charge in. One pounced at the female cop and the other headed towards the few guys who were climbing up.

Someone screamed as the brother of the dead person was bitten on his waist. The lizard shook its head and after spinning the guy twice in the air, he tossed him out. That unlucky guy smashed onto the wall and left a fresh blood mark. When he fell to the ground he wasn't breathing anymore.

The big lizard didn't let him off. A red tongue shot out and stuck into his waist. A piece of his kidney was grabbed out and sent back into the lizard's mouth.

Maybe the fresh organs stimulated it. Right after tasting it, it raised its head and gave out an enjoyable roar. It then jumped on the man's corpse and its tongue kept shooting out and stabbing into the man's body.

The other lizard saw its kind eating and its eyes turned red. It gave up on attacking the female cop and jumped into the air. It waved its huge tail like it was swimming in the water and bit the right leg of Lin Li who was at the edge of the large hole. This guy was pulled down and he fell to the floor.

As this was the bathroom of the tennis court, so the roof wasn't too high and it was just around two meters. Normal people could reach it with just a jump so Lin Li didn't suffer much when he fell. But before he struggled to get up, the two front claws of the lizard ripped apart his chest and its mouth stabbed into his body!

What was swallowing alive, this was!

Lin Li's screams reached the most tragic point before stopping. He opened his eyes and stretched his neck to see the monster eating at his guts and stomach... No one knew what he was thinking. His gaze dimmed and after showing a look of relief, he left this world that he did not understand.

The nasal tone male showed his head from the hole and saw that two of his friends had died. He also looked at the female cop who had fought and retreated until she was below. Viciousness flashed on his face as he used a board to cover the hole.

The female cop was surprised to see the guy. There were two lizards eating and were lazy to deal with her. She only had one opponent. With her movement, she could hold on. If she grabbed the chance and the nasal voice guy pulled her, she could jump into the hole and flee from this closed bathroom.

[Type here]

But reality smashed her hopes. What she faced was not the help of friends but an ice cold wooden board.

She recalled a joke.

When you faced dangers, you didn't need to outrun them, you just needed to run faster than your friend.

The nasal voice guy's intentions were obvious. He wanted her to deal with the terrifying lizards to buy time for him to flee.

If it was a normal time, this board wasn't of much use and she could just push it aside. But now that she was facing monsters with sharp claws and also spikes, this board directly signaled the death of the female cop!

She roared in rage and she was venting the anger of being betrayed by a human. She punched the lizard that was attacking her but it was hard. Apart from causing her hand to bleed, the only effect was to cause the monster to retreat a little.

The lizards who were eating had finished consuming the brain and stumbled over. The female cop was now facing two enemies.

She was in despair. One was already tough for her and now that she had to face two at once, she might not even hold on for one minute.

Was she going to die?

The female cop thought about the tough training she had been through over the years, she didn't even use most of her skills and was about to die here.

She hated the guy, the person she had saved had now blocked her way out. She hated that guy holding the blade. If he didn't snatch her gun, she might be able to fight back. At least, she could die with honor.

The cop looked as the third lizard came over. She knew that she was dead today. She shouted and was prepared to charge over to fight these monsters!

"Oi!"

But at that moment, a voice spread from above. She raised her head and saw that the wooden board was shifted. What replaced it was the handsome face of the guy that nearly killed her.

There was never a moment when she felt that guys could be so handsome.

Chapter 30: Cooperation

The knocking sound from behind filled Mo Ye with relief that she could escape.

Mo Ye was that female officer. She was following Ye Zhongming and climbing the ceiling towards the ventilation pipe outwards. The huge hole that she had climbed out of was now covered by some wooden boards.

The world had changed. Although she didn't want to admit it but that was the truth.

Humans had changed. She didn't want to admit it but she had suffered from betrayal previously.

Mo Ye was born in an army family and after growing up, apart from learning she was training. She had just graduated from police school before she faced the apocalypse. She didn't know what to do.

She wanted to save people and she tried but the outcome was not good. If not for the guy climbing in front of her saving him, she would have already died.

She couldn't head back to the station as human-eating monsters had occupied it. Home? Her parents were in a secret department so she didn't even know where they were. She was the only person at home so why go back? Then now what?

Lost, terror, pressure, fear, numbness. This was a negative mental state that many people would suffer from when the apocalypse started. Many people wouldn't be able to take it and they would kill themselves. They turned into human eating monsters or became the food for the monsters.

These emotions couldn't last long as very quickly humans would face the problem of survival. Food and water would very quickly become a problem. But this was not everything. Next, there was the zombie flood, beast flood, monsters, mutants... Even humans. There were dangers everywhere.

All of this would turn into a battle for survival.

Mo Ye already had such emotions just that she hadn't gone through all that yet.

[Type here]

From the pipe, they arrived at a small toilet on the first floor. Mo Ye saw that huge dog standing there and wagging its tail at the guy.

She slapped the dust off her body. She was not used to the dark environment. Even if she was a police, she was still a girl who was afraid of the dark. This unease made her instinctively wrap her hands around herself.

“Why save me?”

The guy found a corner to sit down. That dog lay beside him and used his legs as its pillow.

Mo Ye didn't understand and didn't want to understand why this weird and even vicious dog would be so close to this guy.

Mo Ye was stunned. This answer was unexpected.

Ye Zhongming knew that she would be surprised but he was saying the truth.

Ye Zhongming broke free from the second floor and wanted to activate the key but what surprised him was that the notification told him to be prepared for the dangers when the Secret Realm opened.

Ye Zhongming didn't choose to open it right away but to just store it for the time being.

He wasn't confident in facing the dangers that might appear in the Secret Realm as it was too secretive even in the past. Moreover, Ye Zhongming was just a one star evolved, even if he had six star evolved strength in his last life, he had no confidence. After all, he knew nothing about the Secret Realm so who knew what was inside? What if there was a level seven or eight evolved zombie or a bunch of mutants, then Ye Zhongming would just die before he could do anything.

Thus, there was a problem in front of him. To open the Secret Realm and get the good things within, he had to raise his strength quickly.

As for what level, Ye Zhongming didn't have a clear understanding. But since the key was on him, maybe studying it would give him a clear answer.

To raise his strength, the best way would be to get the strengthening potions or equipment from the gachapon.

He was already one star evolved. Apart from function cards, level one gachapons weren't of much use to him. To increase his strength, he had to spin level two wheels.

[Type here]

That meant that he needed white level two crystals and those only came from level two mutated beings. There were three in front of him which meant three level two crystals. Ye Zhongming was thinking about getting them.

But after all, he was only one star evolved. Even if he had two decent secondary jobs, he could win against one, survive against two. If he faced three, he could only escape.

So he needed help. Someone normal that could fight against him like this female cop was a decent choice.

Apart from that, he planned to do something which was to get rich. But this idea needed help and planning.

Under such a situation, naturally, Ye Zhongming saved her.

After all, he revived and he was doing things based on apocalypse standards. Apart from people he trusted, everything was based on interests.

Since he needed her help, both of them would be working together. She would help him and he would give her payment.

“Help me do two things and I will give you strength.”

This was Ye Zhongming’s promise.

Mo Ye touched her slightly uncomfortable neck and asked, “What do you need me to do? What is strength?”

“First thing is those three lizards. I need your help to clear them out. The second thing... Let’s talk after the first.”

Ye Zhongming was planning the future while explaining to her, “As for strength, keke, how do you think my strength is?”

She was stunned and recalled her battle with this guy. She recalled his extreme resistance and strength and understood what he meant.

“You mean, this strength... Can be given?”

This woman was smart and grasped the key of Ye Zhongming’s words.

He nodded, “If you help me kill those three lizards, I will give you a bottle of medicine that can give you five to six times the strength of normal people.”

“There is such a thing?” Mo Ye was so shocked that she forgot about the unease that the darkness brought her.

[Type here]

Ye Zhongming nodded, "This world has changed and there is decomposition all around. Our only goal is to live. Of course, maybe as compensation, there is a lot of magical areas that could let humans gain strength and power that had only been seen in movies."

"Does that include this strength?"

"Yes, it includes." Ye Zhongming nodded, "To be honest with you, if you can live in the apocalypse, then you will slowly know how to get this strength. Now you still don't know and need me to give it to you. Officer Mo, do you agree?"
