

Apocalypse 2711

Chapter 2711 With a Thought, Hundreds of Extremities Fall! III

Extremity Despoiler!

The first time Noah gained this, it was a tool that allowed him to forge the False Hyperversal Havenly Extremity Rune Scriptures of DESPOILER- something that could actually break the authority of a Tier 1 Hyperversal Extremity.

An elevation of this distinction was bound to be something grand, with Noah's eyes filtering across waves of information and prompts of Loot at this moment as he looked for the information of Extremity II Despoiler.

Before that, the loot from another Tier 2 Hyperversal Extremity falling and the over 200 Tier 1 Hyperversal Extremities came in glorious waves.

[1x Remnant Obsidian Absolute Hyperversal Writ of Extremity has been attained.]

[1x Tier 2 Singularity Crystal of the Record of Extremity has been attained!]

[1x Tier 2 Singularity Crystal of the True Death Record of Cabulan has been attained.]

[208x Singularity Crystal of the Records of Extremity have been attained!]

[The Singularity Crystal of the True Death Record of Zed has been attained.]

[The Singularity Crystal of the True Death Record of Johanna has been attained.]

[The Singularity Crystal of the True Death Record of Yan has been....]

[208x Remnant Golden Absolute Hyperversal Writs of Extremity have been attained.]

[200 Remnant Golden Absolute Hyperversal Writs of Extremity are merging to form 20 full Golden Absolute Hyperversal Writ of Extremity!]

With every successive move Noah made, his progression and things he could do only became that much more explosive as currently, he had the ridiculous grandeur of 23 Golden Absolute Hyperversal Writs of Extremity when he added those gained from the Avernus Extremities loot.

23 tools that could birth 23 Extremities that held Planar Boundaries!

The mere stage of Extremity was so pristine and hard to reach that with his lineage and Loot he was accumulating even before he achieved Extremity...it felt like Noah was violating the sacred pathway of Extremity with everything he was doing.

And this was bound to be even truer as he finally looked at the description of Extremity II Despoiler.

[Extremity II Despoiler]:: A distinction and title that 9 beings share across Recorded History- something obtained before they entered the folds of Extremity. While 9 beings share this distinction, the True Emperor of Quintessence is the only one among them in Recorded History to have already achieved the purpose of the Extremity II Despoiler before he attained Extremity. The purpose of Extremity II Despoiler is to ultimately aid one in relating the life of a Tier 2 Hyperversal Extremity, with it allowing you to condense a False Hyperversal Havenly Extremity II Rune Scripture of [DESPOILER]. This False Extremity II Rune Scripture of Despoiler requires 300,000 Units of either Vitalis or Vacuous Hyperversal Authority, along with immense reserves of resources, Soul Values, and authority to condense as no average existence standing before the cusp of Extremity is capable of condensing it. A Single False Extremity II Rune Scripture of [DESPOILER] is capable of piercing a protective Golden or Obsidian Hyperversal Havenly Extremity Rune Scripture on the body of a Hyperversal Extremity...

A glorious distinction that granted an even grander authority for Noah to wield!

One that others received...but were nowhere near as grand as him.

His gaze left the battlefield that had become increasingly chaotic due to him, the will of his Main Body coming into focus again as in the Infinite Hyperversal Haven- the mountains of loot from the prompts appeared within his Vaults of Quintessence.

There was more than enough Loot to have the Sporos III of Extremity achieve maturity, but Noah's full focus was currently not on this!

It was on the dazzling round, smooth, and deeply crimson Krystallos that had finished its refinement after draining him of all of the reserves of Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authorities and more over the past half day.

The instant it was completed...

BZZT!

It vibrated and released an oppressive authority that pressed on all beings here!

Those who were withstanding the pressure of the Pure Hyperversal Extremity Authority of Andromeda being given off by the Andromeda Cleaver were stopped in their tracks by this oppressive authority.

It was something that was in the realm of Extremity!

It was truly only 5 inches wide, but the being who refined it knew that billions of light years worth of processed, refined, and purified authority of Ruin lay inside of it.

When one grasped this Krystallos to absorb or assimilate into their existence, Noah didn't doubt that they would reach the 17th Boundary Layer of Ruin even before a hundredth of its essence was used up.

His eyes were luminous as even when he reached out towards it- he could fully grasp this Krystallos that he had forged himself!

His will went towards it as its details rose up.

[Low Grade Ruin Planalith Krystallos]:: The first refined Planalith Krystallos from the True Emperor of Quintessence who is seeking to become the Extremity of Quintessence. It is Low Grade in nature due to the Refiner not having enough experience with his Art and the absence of Crimson Hyperversal Havenly Extremity Rune Scriptures in its forging. It is something that could normally only be refined and utilized by those in the Gradations of Extremity. Its foundation was built from Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authorities and not Hyperversal Extremity Authorities through Crimson Hyperversal Havenly Extremity Rune Scriptures. Because of this, it is only 1% effective for elevating the Extremity of Ruin across the First Gradation of Extremity to the Third Gradation of Extremity. It has no effectiveness on the Fourth Gradation of Extremity or above as only a Middle Grade or High Grade Ruin Planalith Krystallos may be effective for such a stage. If an existence below the folds of the Gradations of Extremity is capable of assimilating the essence of the Low Grade Ruin Planalith Krystallos, they will have glimpses of the Extremity of Ruin as if this concept is inclined and truly compatible with their existence, this Krystallos will aid them in forming their first Hyperversal Havenly Extremity Rune Scripture. It is unknown and debatable whether the True Emperor of Quintessence himself can utilize this Krystallos to break across the Unscalable Wall of Ruin, which even if he does- it is even more debatable whether his concepts that are considered Dead Paths would follow this ascension to Extremity with just this advancement.

Through the Refinement of this Low Grade Ruin Planalith Krystallos, your proficiency in the Modified Golden Hyperversal Planalith Krystallos Refinement Art has increased by 1%. A proficiency of 100% will elevate your capabilities to a higher grade and increase the chances of refining higher grades of Planalith Krystallos....

A wondrous product came to be.

Noah's smile was devilish as he stared at it, its description revealing a world of possibilities as for now- it only confirmed that Xiaomi would now be attaining Extremity very soon!
