

Apocalypse 61

Chapter 61: Target: Terror Goat

The strong gunfire from that building made Ye Zhongming stop. After which, he increased his speed.

On the battlefield with many zombies and monsters, the first group who fired might have huge wins but they might not be able to live until the end.

Hearing the gunshots, there were at least two hundred people, these people... Ye Zhongming didn't need to think and he knew that it would be good if 1% of them survived.

Time to take this chance to see if he could kill the Terror Goat!

The Zombie Ape expectedly got drawn over so Ye Zhongming sped up.

"Ye, I saw the Monster Baby, it is riding a Purple Cloud Ant. It is, how to say, strolling along the lake."

Teacher Park recovered and her speaking became more fluent. She used the binoculars to report what the Monster Baby was doing.

Hearing that news, Ye Zhongming frowned. Did its summoning end? That terrifying monster he saw in the last life won't appear?

"Did the black hole disappear?"

"No, it is still there!"

The black hole didn't disappear?

Based on his experience, the Monster Baby could only blow the horn once and summon all the monsters over. Since he wasn't blowing the horn, then why was the black hole still there?

Ye Zhongming didn't understand so he decided not to think. He heard the rumbling sound from the Terror Goat running.

He stopped at the corner and reached out to take a look. There were three sides fighting.

A bunch of survivors, a bunch of zombies and the Terror Goat.

The situation was obvious, it was a matter of time before the Terror Goat ate the survivors and zombies. If not for the survivors having a one star evolved, they would have collapsed.

The people who came here to try to get gains had some skill. Only evolved would think about getting strong, normal people would be thinking about how to survive.

This survivor team should be like that.

There was some movement from behind him. A group of seven zombies squeezed out and after smelling his sense, they pounced over.

He held Moon Edge and he had a shield on his arm. As an evolved and also with his experience, it was too easy to deal with these normal zombies.

He raised the shield on his left hand and swept with the Moon Edge in his right and three zombies were beheaded. He smashed his shield and crushed the head of one zombie. After stabbing and slashing, there was just one left. He used the blade handle to smash the spine and these zombies were cleared out in just ten seconds.

He was about to dig the crystals but he heard rushed footsteps getting close. The goat was also moving over.

The army didn't call Li Nan over, he ran over himself.

Like the first batch of lucky souls, he obtained an evolution potion. The difference was he had stolen this.

But no matter what, he felt that his life was different. After getting news that there were going to be treasures here, he used all sorts of methods to gather 20 people.

His promise was great. He knew that if he didn't do that, at least half of these people would leave. He was clear that he wouldn't follow this promise.

Kill them. Sometimes the moment you started, you wouldn't be able to stop. You would lose respect towards other humans.

Li Nan was like that. He felt that the world had changed so promises could be made use of and then just tossed aside.

Trust? Values? What was that? Could it make zombies not bite you?

But the truth proved that lucky people won't always be lucky. He bumped into something that filled him with despair.

Terror Goat!

Just one showing and the body he was proud of was knocked aside. The metal rod that made his men listen to him couldn't even leave a mark on this monster.

Li Nan flew out and knocked into a shop by the side. Fortunately, he was trampled on.

Li Nan wasn't a good person but he was a vicious one. He struggled up and wanted to fight but reality smashed his thoughts. In just a few minutes, his team was left with less than ten people, half of them were dead.

Seeing this mountain goat swallow humans, their mentality collapsed and they started to flee.

He turned a corner and saw a young man who was planning to dig demon crystals.

Weird, he was holding an arm shield and holding a blade. His gaze was sharp.

Even when fleeing, his gaze was attracted by the blade in this guy's hand.

Too beautiful!

Moreover, why was it shining silver?

"Brother save me, save me!"

One man saw the calm Ye Zhongming and felt like he had hope so he shouted over. He didn't expect that this young man might be weaker than them.

Maybe for people that were drowning, each piece of floating wood was some hope.

Ye Zhongming didn't even look at them. He was staring at the Terror Goat whose mouth was flowing with blood.

That was human blood.

"Ye, you, you, I think you should run. This fellow, is too big."

Teacher Park saw all that, when the giant Terror Goat appeared, she was afraid and wanted Ye Zhongming to leave.

At least in terms of size, it was the only one close to the Zombie Ape. This made her think that it was only less dangerous than the ape.

Only Ye Zhongming knew that it was the easiest to deal with. He also knew that there was a yellow material that was really precious!

People called it goat treasure.

After eating it, one would have magical effects.

For a smith, its horn, skin, bones, and meat were all good materials.

He took in a deep breath to raise his focus. Facing a monster that was a level above him, if he didn't have the confidence to win then he should just flee!

Ye Zhongming started to run and his speed was much faster than the hundred meter world record. He charged at the Terror Goat. Although he was small but his aura was not much weaker.

The Terror Goat had a mocking gaze like it was laughing at the human.

Those humans couldn't even take a hit which made it think that even if it was not the strongest here, it was one of the strongest!

It roared and its limbs used strength. It lowered its head and decided to smash this human into meat paste!

Chapter 62: Killing Goat

Ye Zhongming was fully focused. At a certain moment, he actually did a weird stop and his momentum made him fly from the ground. His left hand pressed onto the Terror Goat's head and he landed on its wide back.

It looked simple but it was a huge test of timing and foresight as well as use of strength. One had to be really accurate if not the outcome would be a disaster.

If he didn't calculate the jump, he would get killed by the impact. If he couldn't use his strength well, pressing its head would break his arm.

This was a technique he spent ten years mastering!

If he had the body of his past life, he could do even better.

The Terror Goat was not willing for a small human to land on its back. It started to jump to swing this human off and then eat it up!

Ye Zhongming felt a huge force pushing him outwards so he reacted quickly. He flicked his wrist and stabbed Moon Edge down.

“Ao!”

A giant roar spurted out from this Terror Goat. It raised its head like that could help reduce the pain.

It didn't expect that a human weapon could break its defence.

Li Nan and the others didn't expect it too. When they passed Ye Zhongming, they thought he was crazy to try to fight this Terror Goat alone.

They shouted for him to help but when he really did, they didn't want to help him at all and ran even faster.

But they would still turn back to observe what was going on.

Thus, they saw something that filled them with disbelief. They noticed that the monster that they couldn't do any damage to was actually stabbed by this young man!

Could this young man deal with it?

Many people slowed down. Especially Li Nan, the legendary treasures appeared in his mind again.

Ye Zhongming didn't have time to care about the other humans. He held the handle and controlled his body so that he didn't get shaken off.

Moon Edge's sharpness had reached 20 so obviously the Terror Goat couldn't block it.

If he had a chance, naturally he could deal huge damage to this monster. But he had to stick it into its body so that he could remain on it. They were at a standstill.

One wanted him to go down, one didn't.

Park Xiuying was shocked. After a short while did she remember to tell Liang Chuyin about the situation? She was actually crying a little.

But because the plan changed, Liang Chuyin was a distance away and she had to cross many zombies and mutated beings so she couldn't rush over so quickly.

The Terror Goat got more and more frustrated and the viciousness in its eyes grew. It saw that the human couldn't be flung off so it just smashed into a building at the side. The huge strength caused the outside of the building to collapse, landing on it and Ye Zhongming.

This damage wasn't much to the Terror Goat but it was a small disturbance to Ye Zhongming. Not only was his vision being affected, but the glass and stone would also hurt too. He was just one star evolved so he wasn't immune to such damage.

Seeing that it was effective, the Terror Goat charged into a mall. It smashed the glass, leaving two decent sized wounds on Ye Zhongming.

Seeing that the goat found a way to deal with him, Ye Zhongming knew that he couldn't continue if not he would either die or get too giddy.

He bit his teeth and roared, pulling Moon Edge out of the Terror Goat's body. The warm fresh blood spurted onto his face and it was really smelly.

He lost his support and he fell off its back.

The Terror Goat felt that its body was much lighter and knew that the human was off. Its eyes covered 270 degrees looked at the back and it saw the human fall.

It got ready. The moment this damn human fell on the ground, it would hit him.

But before it looked away, it saw that the human's silver blade slashed at it and pain covered it once more!

Ye Zhongming stabbed Moon Edge into the ribs of the Terror Goat while he was landing!

As he was falling and couldn't use much strength, his blade didn't stab too deep in. He waved his left arm to smash the shield onto it. Like hammering a nail, it stabbed it so far deep that you could barely see the handle!

This blade was different from the one on the back. Its back was covered in bones and even though Moon Edge was thick, it couldn't stab in. But this blade only had ribs to cut through. There were gaps in between and many organs were here. When Moon Edge was fully in, who knew which organ was stabbed? The Terror Goat was filled with pain and it actually couldn't help but fall to the ground.

Ye Zhongming was in pain too and he felt like his right arm was about to break. His arm was under huge pressure when he tried to stop his fall. The goat's collapse pulled him down too. His right arm was swelling in pain and he could only rely on his mental strength to keep hold of the blade.

The Terror Goat's body twitched and it struggled to get up. But since it was badly injured, it failed to stand up and just knelt down.

He jumped back to dodge its horn. Ye Zhongming ran to the other side and stabbed its other eye!

Suffering from heavy damage successively and even losing sight, the Terror Goat used all its strength to charge forwards and it hit Ye Zhongming's body. Just barely was he able to use the arm shield to block it.

Kuang!

His body flew backward and hit the clothing rack of a store. While landing, two streams of blood flowed from the corner of his mouth.

But he was smiling as he knew that the Terror Goat was dead.

Chapter 63: Greed

Ye Zhongming actually didn't know where the Terror Goat's weakness was. His evolution level didn't allow him to fully control his body and the angle at which he slashed.

Fortunately, the Terror Goat was huge and his weakness was naturally bigger. Thus, Ye Zhongming's blade still hit.

He slowly sat up and saw that the Terror Goat was struggling. It wanted to stand up but it was useless. Its blood was all gone and it could only fall to the ground.

"Oh my god, you really killed that fellow?"

Noises spread out from the door that the Terror Goat smashed into. Those few survivors walked over and wanted to see the outcome.

But honestly, they were all holding hope. No matter how strong the young guy was, he couldn't be stronger than this giant goat. If he could badly damage the monster he was already lucky.

Naturally, some of them came over to see if they could profit.

But when they saw the monster laying there and that young man stumbling towards his spoils of war, those survivors were shocked.

When others did something you couldn't, humans' first reaction was naturally disbelief.

As for what happened next, that depended on character.

"This, this brother, you really killed it? This, this, what method did you use?" An older guy around fifty years old walked over and looked at it carefully. After confirming it was dead, it said towards Ye Zhongming with gratitude.

He looked at them coldly and his gaze spent a while longer on Li Nan. After all, he was evolved and he gave the most threat.

"Since you already fled then go away, there is no need to come over now." Ye Zhongming turned around and pointed at the door, "I don't welcome you all, leave."

Those words caused their faces to turn ugly. This wary tone that was filled with disgust made them feel uncomfortable.

"Young man, how can you say that?" That middle aged man looked at Ye Zhongming's shield and blade and then looked around. He said solemnly, "I don't deny that you killed this monster but you can't deny that we did fight it. We have some part to play!"

Although they didn't know what its true value was but just the white level two crystal made them tempted.

Although they didn't work with the army but they knew that the army was purchasing demon crystals. One normal one could exchange for a lot of food and water. This monster's level was higher so it could exchange for more things, one might even get a gun!

Facing such a good thing, how could they just give up on it?

Ye Zhongming laughed coldly, “The work you put in referred to getting massacred by this monster? Or the fact that you didn’t even break its skin?”

When one was humiliated, people would feel enraged and not reflect on themselves, that was human nature.

Many of them were furious and some pointed at him.

“Kid be more polite, if you don’t know how to speak then don’t!”

“You can eat shit but not say nonsense. Problems come from the mouth kid!”

“That is the rule of this world, leave a good impression and things would be good!”

Ye Zhongming wasn’t planning to waste words. His gaze turned cold and he shouted, “Scram!”

Although he was only one star evolved but he killed many zombies and monsters so he had an aura. His shouting for them to scram was really majestic.

They were a little stunned.

Unless he had no choice, Ye Zhongming didn’t want to kill humans. After all, this was different from the mid to late times of the apocalypse. At that time, resources were limited so it was not avoidable. Now there were many people trying to evolve so there was no need to kill one another.

But that didn’t mean others felt the same way.

Seeing that Ye Zhongming wasn’t planning to let them touch the Terror Goat, they looked at one another and viciousness appeared on their faces.

“Kid we gave you a chance, good!” Li Nan pointed his rod at Ye Zhongming’s nose, “Scram, I want this thing. If you don’t know your place then I will make you lay down here!”

Someone being the bad cop meant that someone would be the good cop. The middle aged man who spoke first tried to persuade, “Young man, consider things, don’t be too rash, that won’t be good for you. If you aren’t injured you might have the right to say such things but look at you, you can’t lift one hand and one leg is injured. What can you do to fight us? Listen to me, leave in case you lose your life.”

He looked at Li Nan, “Do you see this? He is a vicious person, he killed someone yesterday. Kid, the world has changed, whoever is strong wins now. Killing is not illegal!”

They wanted Ye Zhongming to leave. Actually, they were afraid. If not for Li Nan’s personality, he would just kill Ye Zhongming instead of wasting his words.

Ye Zhongming tilted his head as Park Xiuying was reporting the situation. She saw many zombies heading over and they were probably alerted by the fight.

Moreover, the Monster Baby was moving. That little fellow moved into a candy shop and a survivor team was surrounding it.

The biggest target was the monster's bag. Ye Zhongming couldn't allow others to grab it. He didn't care about these people and turned around to want to grab the goat treasure before leaving.

Seeing that Ye Zhongming really wanted to leave, Li Nan and the others thought that he really was afraid and changed their minds.

"Kid you can go but leave the shield and the blade and also your bag. Put them down and then scram!"

Ye Zhongming who had turned around stopped and turned back. He squinted his eyes and spurted out a sentence.

"You all really are greedy."

Chapter 64: Zombie Ape was injured

"3 o'clock!"

Xia Lei hollered and the gun in her arms shot out flames while she fired in the three o'clock direction.

Cheng Long and Little Tiger fired too. The three of them knocked away the mutated rats in that direction to reduce the danger from the window.

"This side, Little Ye come and help me!"

The Zombie Ape was too big such that one could hit it without even aiming. But the situation was that your shots didn't matter at all. Apart from snipers which might be of some use and force it to protect its head, the other attacks didn't threaten it at all.

But they had no choice but to continue to fire. At least it could make the Zombie Ape slow down. If not, once it arrived at the building, they would have no choice but to retreat.

Retreating meant that this defensive line would collapse. The mutated monsters and zombies would threaten Captain Ye right away. When that time comes, not to mention getting treasures, protecting themselves would be a problem.

Cheng Ze looked at the other three suppress the quick moving rats and called Mo Ye to help himself. The moment he said that, a grey arm stretched out from the window and was about to grab his arm!

That was the claw of a zombie and it was covered in the virus. If one got scratched, that person would be finished. Even slicing off the hand would be useless and one would wait to turn into that kind of monster.

It happened really suddenly and he was shooting with his rifle so it was too late to dodge. This zombie was like a grim reaper that was about to grab this police school teacher.

At that moment, a hand stretched over and helped Cheng Ze block that hit.

"Little Ye!" His eyes were red. Due to the direction, Mo Ye couldn't use her gun to block and could only use her arm that was closer. She was also a mortal body so although she knocked the zombie's arm aside, its sharp claws also slashed her arm open.

In his teaching life, Mo Ye was the best female student. He put in a lot of attention on her and although they were just teacher and student, they were more like Master and Student.

During the holidays, Mo Ye would spend the festivals at his place as her parents weren't in the city.

This relationship made Cheng Ze rather die than have anything happen to Mo Ye. This was her daughter!

But at that moment, his heart sank and he felt huge regret regarding his carelessness. If not his disciple wouldn't have to help him block that!

"Little Ye, what are you doing!"

His eyes turned red and he pressed his gun onto that zombie's head, firing the entire magazine to vent his anger.

He was angry with Mo Ye for being foolish, wasn't she just dying for him?

Who knew that Mo Ye would just laugh in reply?

"Nothing Master, I won't get infected."

"Nonsense, I don't need you to console me!"

He cursed as he was filled with emotions not towards Mo Ye but towards himself.

The expressions of everyone in the room changed. Two of them were under Mo Ye, one was her senior sister so their relationship was good. Seeing that her hand was bleeding from the scratch, they didn't know what to do.

"Mo Mo, come, slice off this hand and maybe you have a chance. Being handicapped is better than dying!"

Xie Lei looked really good but she was quick when she did things. If not she wouldn't have become such a legendary figure. Seeing that Mo Ye was injured, she took out a small dagger and wanted to slice her hand off.

Although she couldn't ensure that Mo Ye wasn't infected but at least she could try her luck!

Mo Ye looked a little helpless and fired twice at the nearby zombie hoard. Until she killed two zombies did she say, "I said that I was fine!"

"Come over!" Xia Lei grabbed her hand and wanted to slice down.

Mo Ye swung her aside. She could only say the truth now, "I used an immunity potion so I am fine."

Everyone was stunned. Although they knew about the gachapon and knew that the thing was magical but after all none of them spun it before and didn't even have an evolution potion. They also didn't know that an immunity potion existed.

“You need to have better lying skills, why haven’t I heard of such a thing before?” Cheng Ze still felt like his disciple was consoling him. He shouted while shouting at her.

She was helpless, clenching her fist and punching the wall. That hollow wall was punched through to the other room, scaring the other allies there and they nearly fired in retaliation.

The few of them were stunned and even forgot how to fire.

Soldiers who had been through special training could actually punch through such walls but those were people who went through special training. In the country, only special forces troops could do that. Even if others had the strength, the bones and flesh on their first couldn’t take such an impact. They could punch through but their entire arm would be useless.

The five of them were cops, they might be able to do that when they needed to save their lives but they would probably end up handicapped.

As for Mo Ye, apart from some abrasion and some blood, her hand was fine! What they couldn’t believe was that she was really relaxed when she punched and it was as if she didn’t use any strength at all.

She didn’t go all out and punched through the wall, how much strength did she have?!

“You, you, you, captain...” Little Tiger was stammering and his sentences were complete.

“I am already evolved and used an immunity potion so don’t worry, I am fine.”

Mo Ye pointed outside to remind them that they were still fighting. During those few moments, the zombies and monsters got closer.

They started to fire but their faces were still filled with shock.

Mo Ye already evolved? Did she use an immunity potion? There was really something that could make them immune to the zombie virus?

They had many questions but they didn’t know where to start. Now was also not the time to ask questions.

The Zombie Ape that was getting close was annoyed with the sniper. It bent down, grabbing a car and tossing it at the sniper.

They were close and the Zombie Ape was really strong so that distance was covered right away. The sniper could only tilt his body before he was hit by the car. Half of his body was flattened and he was probably dead.

Without the sniper, the Zombie Ape didn’t have to cover his head. It grabbed the pillar and started to walk over. It looked like it was going to destroy the entire defence line.

The faces of everyone in this building were dead as ash.

With the Zombie Ape’s speed, not to mention fighting back, these people didn’t even have a chance to retreat!

At this time, there was suddenly a gunshot. Most people here were cops and they were familiar with weapons. They could hear that it was an old type 56.

Originally, no one cared much. After all, this was the apocalypse so it wasn't surprising if someone just used a rifle that they found.

When this bullet hit the Zombie Ape's eyes, many people were impressed with the accuracy. But who knew that the Zombie Ape who was perfectly fine since the start of the battle was actually hit and large amounts of purple blood flowed from its eyes!

The Zombie Ape was injured!

Chapter 65: Broken arm and death

Li Nan bit his teeth and he smashed the rod in his hands towards the head of the young man.

He knew that the person who struck first would win. Because of that, he managed to get an evolution potion and was able to live like a king in these few hours.

His neighbor who often made loud noises at night and would scold him for asking him to quieten down had his legs broken by him and fed to the zombies. He would never dare to scold him ever again and would only cry in pain.

The female superior in his company said that he was stupid and wanted to fire him. Her yoga and fighting skills were all useless and she was just laying there and getting played by him.

That leader wanted to try to snatch control of the party from him. So what if most of the people support him? He broke his son's legs and in the end, he still knelt down and begged!

Why? It was because he was strong and that they couldn't fight back!

From then on, Li Nan knew that the world had changed. Everything in the past was gone, getting strong was the more important thing now!

So he used his rod to smash down, using all the strength in his body.

In his mind were the scenes of this young man's head exploding. He was actually feeling a little excited because of that.

Behind him, a vicious look appeared on the faces of a few of his men. They stared at the blade and shields which were obviously good items and were thinking about how to get them.

But a few seconds later, they realised that something wasn't right. Why did his rod fall to the ground? The weird thing was, there was an arm grabbing it.

It broke!

"Ah!"

Only then did Li Nan cry out. He took a few seconds to understand what had happened.

For some reason, his right hand that was holding the rod was sliced off!

Li Nan didn't understand, his men didn't understand. Why did such a thing suddenly happen?

"There is a saying in the apocalypse, when you want to kill someone, others might want to kill you too." Ye Zhongming flicked off the blood on the Moon Edge and said towards the other few stunned faces, "But you don't have to remember that anymore, the apocalypse has ended for the few of you."

When he said that, he waved his shield across their faces. The huge strength caused them to spit out blood and fall onto the ground.

In front of an evolved, they were like weak girls, unable to fight back.

He walked in front of Li Nan who was crying in pain and kicked him out of the mall. The sound of broken bones and snapping tendons were really clear.

Li Nan wasn't dead, his men weren't dead. More accurately, they weren't dead yet. They were just badly injured such that they couldn't climb up. They could only watch as the young man dissected the Terror Goat and take away the things they wanted and then walk out of the mall.

Their bodies were in pain but they didn't dare to shout in case they drew the zombies over. But when a wave of zombies appeared in front of their eyes, they couldn't suppress the terror in their hearts and cried out in despair.

"Liang Chuyin where are you?"

Ye Zhongming asked where the influencer was while feeling a little bad about the wasted materials of the Terror Goat.

As the Monster Baby had broken out of the Purple Cloud Ant's protection and went to the candy shop for some reason, who knew what accidents would occur? If it was unlucky and got killed, that was a huge blow for Ye Zhongming.

He didn't allow such a thing to happen.

So he had to give up on the good stuff on the Terror Goat and he only dug out the Goat Treasure and demon crystal. He also sliced a layer of leather and then the horns. He strengthened one and then enchanted the leather. He didn't even look at the stats, shoving it into his bag before running towards Pearl Lake.

"Bumped into a bunch of idiots and got stopped!"

Liang Chuyin cursed as she bumped into something that was really infuriating.

"Can you deal with it?"

"No problem, but I might be a little later."

"Okay then stay safe, if not then just meet up with Teacher Park."

After ending the call, Ye Zhongming heard that Zombie Ape's furious roar. He couldn't see what was going on but from that shout, he could tell that someone injured it and it was getting angry real quick.

A few cars suddenly drove past the buildings and smashed into the sides of the streets. Glass and parts flew all around. The injured ape was using such a method to vent its anger.

Ye Zhongming didn't know that the first team member he cared about after reviving was facing a life-and-death test. He only knew that if he didn't head over, the Monster Baby would get stolen!

His leg was much better now and it was just an impact injury after he got flung by the terror goat. His right hand was still swelling and probably wouldn't heal in a short time.

Injuries were normal during the apocalypse. Many survivors didn't die on the spot but they died because of lack of treatment. These made medicine very expensive, far more than food and water. Doctors and chemists were also welcomed. If your party had such a person, you had more insurance and could go all out in fights.

Ye Zhongming's previous team had a medic and her status was really high, becoming the deputy leader. Those who were injured were healed up in time.

Ye Zhongming really wished he had a healer now. With that job, just one heal and he could heal his light injuries.

The path ahead was connected to the lake. That army used this path to head forwards and they were already nearby.

One had to say that there were other parties helping this army block threats in all directions so they were able to push forwards quickly. They were close to the lake. If they stood in the middle of the street, they could see that huge black hole.

But they were being sniped. The group of Purple Cloud Ants was blocking the streets and they had to wipe them out to get over!

Captain Ye stood on his vehicle and heard the fighting sounds around him. He pointed at these level-two monsters and shouted, "Attack! Kill them!"

"Kill them!"

This arm suddenly... Exploded.

Chapter 66: Purple Cloud Ants fight back

"Beautiful, it isn't that we aren't letting you go. The area ahead is very dangerous, you will be safer staying here with us."

Hu Duohai looked at this thin beautiful woman and he hid the interest that he had in her.

Compared to the lucky ones who evolved on the first day, Hu Duohai's evolution path was a little tougher. Before the apocalypse, Hu Duohai had a small hut between two apartments. He was patient in his battle against the corporates who wanted to force him to move away. To prevent them from forcing him to move, he moved his 80 year old parents and even paralysed relatives to his hut.

After the apocalypse started, the elderly didn't survive the mutation wave and became zombies.

Hu Duohai was so terrified he ran out but then he ran back as there were too many monsters outside.

To survive, he killed all his relatives. Those old zombies weren't much of a threat as they were stuck to the beds and could only crawl. As long as he wasn't too scared, it wasn't difficult to kill them.

He dragged the corpses to the construction zone to bury them and he actually found a gachapon. This mysterious thing stood there and gave off a tempting glow.

Hu Duohai wasn't too stupid and found a way to use it. He used the crystals from the heads of his relatives to spin it and got a card that he didn't know how to use.

After which, he bumped into Captain Ye, using the card and the position of the gachapon to exchange for food, water and a bottle of evolution potion.

For some reason, Captain Ye also handed a bunch of survivors for him to manage.

This made this 40 year old guy who previously wanted to get rich by forcing corporates to pay him to move, to have the feeling of being a leader for the first time.

But Hu Duohai knew that Captain Ye wouldn't help him evolve for no reason. That was because many of his men still hadn't evolve so he didn't think that he was better than those soldiers.

Until he gave him a mission and some guns did he understand that he was going to be a cannon fodder?

No wonder they were willing to sacrifice a bottle of evolution potion! No, not sacrifice, he paid a card!

Hu Duohai realised that his card might be much more valuable than the evolution potion.

But he didn't say anything and didn't reveal his unhappiness towards Captain Ye. He even followed the orders and brought some men here to be cannon fodder.

That was because he knew that it was useless even if he showed his unhappiness. The outcome was not something he could handle and he might even turn into a corpse.

So he smartly chose to follow and hand his fate to the heavens. Hu Duohai knew something which was that when you lived under someone's roof, you had to lower your head. He couldn't ask back for fairness so he could only lower his head.

But the appearance of this beautiful woman made him see the opportunity for some fairness.

Evolved... Weird weapon...

Something more important was that through the sharp hearing, he trained from fighting with those demolition workers, he heard a guy give her orders through the walkie-talkie.

This proved that she was part of a team. Moreover, she was so strong and she still wasn't the leader!

Just one day passed in the apocalypse so to be able to make such a strong team, they definitely had a way to get strong!

Hu Duohai was tempted and he wanted to find out that method. He had been single for so many years and was even thinking about using her.

But he was careful and he was willing to use a gentle method to get what he wanted instead of fighting her. But her attitude was firm which made him want to attack her.

“Since you are not willing to stay then tell me how you evolved and how you got this whip okay?”

He held his gun and moved the barrel slowly toward the woman.

The sun set a little and the shadows of the high buildings started to rise, covering her face. A bit of the sun reflected from her eyes.

“I am afraid to die, there is no special reason. I have been like that since I fell into the water when I was young so I have been trying hard to survive.”

He was stunned and didn’t know why she was telling him this.

“In the past, I had a tough life, I was a sheep living among fierce beasts. Who knew which day it was where I would get ripped apart? But now that the world is in chaos, those animals have all turned into corpses. Although I might die at any time, I have never felt so relaxed.”

She slowly untangled the whip that was made up of the mutated willow branch and blood tongue. She spoke slowly like she was talking to herself.

“I am very lucky to bump into some guy that could help me live and live well. Although he is fierce on me and even hit me but he did so for my own good. He wants me to get strong and he taught me how to survive in the apocalypse. I am very happy, finally, someone showed me that I could rely on them.”

“Now that person needs my help, he is in danger but you stopped me.” She sucked in a deep breath, her huge chest which was not proportionate to her thin body rose up a little.

“So what I would like to say is, move aside...” Rage rose up on her beautiful face which made Hu Duohai’s body shake.

“Or just die!”

When the human war machine was activated, the strength they had was huge.

Two units of soldiers used their advanced weapons to form a dense firepower net that smashed into the hundreds of terrifying Purple Cloud Ants. In the setting sun, they left bright rays of light.

These level one monsters had decent defence but they couldn’t handle these dense attacks.

The effectiveness of the first wave raised their morale. They hollered out in rage. They followed their training and marched towards these Purple Cloud Ants. Their rifles fired to send one after another falling over.

Victory was in front of their eyes.

But Ye Zhongming who was hiding shook his head.

Now, three monsters walked out of the black hole. They were the Red Gondor, Terror Goat, Purple Cloud Ant. Why did Ye Zhongming choose to attack the bigger and tougher level two Terror Goat? Not these level one Purple Cloud Ants?

That was because these ants weren't easy. If the soldiers felt like things would be so smooth then they were badly wrong!

Like they were proving his worries, those ants started to fight back.

Behind those ants were a few that stood up. Their stomachs were constricted such that their belly skin was about to stick to their backs. This state lasted for a second before their mouth ripped apart, spitting out a smelly green liquid.

Chapter 67: Horn sound from the candy shop

Green liquid turned into raindrops that covered the sky, hitting the soldiers who were at the front.

Tragic cries rang out.

Their uniforms didn't defend them at all. The liquid corroded many huge holes the moment they touched it and caused a black smoke to rise up. Many soldiers tore their clothes but they realised that parts of their body were being corroded too.

Those worse ones couldn't stand anymore. One could see white bones. In just a moment, they lost their breathing and became a pile of bones.

Ye Zhongming knew that these ants were called war ants for a reason. They had strong discipline and teamwork. They also had strong battle techniques.

Although they were level one but groups of them gathered and they could sweep high level beings.

In the last life, there was a terrifying record. Over a million of them wiped out a dungeon, turning that into a true death realm. Until a long while did adventurers realise that the dungeon was devoid of life. After investigating, they were shocked. One must know that the biggest lord of that dungeon was a level seven being. They were crushed by a million of these level-one ants.

Many ants can kill an elephant, that was a point that was proven in the apocalypse too.

Another of their strengths was that they evolved different abilities. For example the ants at the back that spat out acid, were Mage Ants who were in charge of ranged attacks. The acid was really strong and it was very corrosive. If a human got hit then they were probably dead unless you had special skills or jobs. Or if you reached six star.

Those soldiers charging at the front were called blade ants. They had sharp blades and thick shells and also quick speeds.

Apart from them, there was one called needle ant. Their ribs had black spikes growing out of them. They could fire out and were like crossbows. Moreover, they were silent so it would catch one off guard. The moment they fired, the needle ants would replenish them within a week.

The Mage Ants' attacks ended and they bent back down. Instantly, blade ants guarded them. There was only a small number of them and their bodies were much weaker so they were the focus of protection.

After that wave, at least 20 warriors lost their lives. There were also some that lost their ability to fight. If the part that was corroded wasn't dealt with, most of them would be handicapped for the rest of their lives.

The ants' sudden attack messed up their tempo and the entire team started to be in chaos.

That was understandable. Modern armies hadn't fought a war in a long time and they hadn't seen blood. This armed force in the city was just a normal army that was in charge of defence and saving people during crises. They hadn't fought any war before.

Now that they were seeing blood and were facing these monsters, performing so well was already commendable.

Taking the chance, the blade ants charged close and they waved their blades that shone a cold light under the sun.

Captain Ye and the commanders commanded them to prevent the blade ants from charging into their formation if not they would collapse! Those things could even slice the shells of the cars!

"Use the 85!"

Captain Ye ordered. Two army vehicles drove over with the W85 heavy machine gun. Four shooters equipped the bullets and started to fire at the ants.

A metal storm swept the Purple Cloud Ants. The moment these huge killing weapons that fired 80 shots a minute appeared, the battle was settled. The Purple Cloud Ants were strong but there wasn't many of them. Hundred of them was not enough. Even the blade ants that had strong defence couldn't block the w85 bullets.

One after another was being ripped up into pieces and those blade ants turned into disgusting bones.

But the victory wasn't so easy. After a few meters, dozens of black shadows flew out from the ant group, using the dusk to shoot at the vehicles. The four shooters weren't prepared and their bodies were pierced. Due to the momentum, they flew from the car and flew backward.

The firepower stopped and the soldiers were stunned. But the ants had expected it and attacked strongly once again.

The soldier was trying really hard. If they had a bit more training, they might be much stronger than now but they had never been through such cruel fighting and they also didn't understand much about these monsters. After losing the cover of the machine guns and with the huge psychological effects of the situation, some Purple Cloud Ants charged into their forces.

After the few attacks, less than half of the Purple Cloud Ants remained, only around 40 were left. Some of them included the Mage Ants and needle ants that had used their attacks. So only 20+ ants charged into the army.

But these 20 of them caused huge casualties in just a short few seconds. The formation was weakened.

Ye Zhongming took a look at his left hand that was holding Moon Edge and was thinking about whether or not to help.

These soldiers were a special group. Their understanding and adapting to the apocalypse was slower than normal people but that didn't prevent them from being one of the few groups he respected. If possible, he was willing to help them.

He took a short look and relaxed before noticing that something wasn't right.

He crossed the battlefield and looked at the Captain who was standing on the vehicle. Ye Zhongming's expression was ice cold.

He scoffed and stopped hesitating. He charged out and stuck close to the buildings as he moved towards the lake.

What he didn't notice was that after he ran a hundred meters, that Captain Ye noticed him. He looked at his back view for a moment before looking away.

The place where the Purple Cloud Ants and soldiers were fighting wasn't far from Pearl Lake. Ye Zhongming turned a corner and saw the beautiful manmade lake.

He wanted to search for the candy shop but realised that things weren't so easy. That was because not far from him were dozens of ants staring at him. They were the needle ants that had retreated as well as four blade ants.

Behind those ants was a small shop where several corpses flew out.

After this, Ye Zhongming heard the horn sound that made his expression change.

Chapter 68: We are cannon fodder

"Captain Mo, what gun is that? How did you hurt this monster?!"

Cheng Long's mouth opened wide and he looked at the bleeding Zombie Ape in disbelief.

The others looked at it and then looked at Mo Ye before looking at her old rifle.

Mo Ye had already given them a huge shock. Evolved, virus immunity, all of these magical things happened to this person who was the same as them yesterday.

But that was the truth. The big hole in the wall proved all this. Now, this gun also proved that.

Cheng Ze and Xia Lei also noticed that in just the first day of the apocalypse, their disciple and junior sister had been through some changes.

After all, Cheng Ze was old and had seen many things so he considered many things. He thought about it and had his guess.

"You kept saying that you are going to leave because of this?"

Mo Ye returned to the headquarters and told them that she wanted to leave. Many people didn't understand. After all, if everyone was together, they were familiar with one another and they had food and weapons. As long as one wasn't a fool and didn't fear the zombies, a team was much safer than being alone.

Even someone like Xia Lei who was really skilled and whose husband was waiting for her didn't make a rash decision. She was waiting for a good chance. Mo Ye was at most on the same level so was she risking her life wanting to leave?

Without a doubt, upon hearing that, Cheng Ze and Xia Ye disagreed.

But now they knew that this young police captain had a much better path to walk. A path that allowed her to become immune to the virus and turn into an evolved in just a day.

Also this gun...

They thought that it was an old gun she had picked up, who knew that it was much stronger than Cheng Ze's sniper.

Mo Ye bit her teeth and found another chance to fire. She didn't know how to explain herself to her master and her colleagues.

Actually, only after she came here did she realise what Ye Zhongming had given her.

Evolution potion, immunity potion, rifle, bullets, she didn't think they were much and she even felt like it was rewards that she deserved. Only after returning did she realise that what she did wasn't worthy of such a high reward.

Right, high reward. She heard Captain Ye's call and heard that one evolution potion could exchange for many good things! Only then did she know that she had taken too much.

She could get scratched now and be totally fine and could also stop these monsters from getting close and earning survival time for everyone. She felt like not only did she take a lot, she had taken too much.

So it made her feel more grateful to Ye Zhongming. It also made her more firm in her decision to leave this place after this mission.

Her heart told her that what she wished for was to be with that person.

"The world has changed and some things are quite mysterious, more mysterious than we think." Mo Ye looked at the Zombie Ape that had gone mad and was kicking all the cars around. She lowered her voice, "If there is a chance, I will explain to all of you."

She fired once more. This time she didn't aim at the eye that the ape was blocking but its knee.

Mo Ye used another bullet that Ye Zhongming gave her.

Her old rifle was strengthened by Ye Zhongming using the 56 rifle. Although he didn't enchant it, but it was already really strong and had exceeded that of some sniper rifles.

Apart from that, Ye Zhongming had given her five bullets. Mo Ye didn't know how they appeared but she knew that it was one of his magical abilities.

A strengthened rifle and strengthened bullets allowed her to badly injure the Zombie Ape's eyes and shock her colleagues in the room.

But these things weren't enchanted and didn't have special abilities. Although they were strong but they couldn't kill this terrifying Zombie Ape which was why she changed her plan after the first shot.

The bullet shot past the dozens of meters and hit its right knee. The grey skin exploded to reveal the black kneecap.

The strength of that gun caused the Zombie Ape to stop. It lowered its head and looked at its knees with its white eyes before hollering in Mo Ye's direction.

The zombies around all moved in that direction, even trying to surround the building!

It only wanted to kill that person that could threaten it!

"Who fired, follow me. Chief Liu told you to join his team."

Someone ran in. He looked around and his eyes shifted between Cheng Ze and Xia Lei.

One of them was a famous teacher and the other was a strong and beautiful lady. It was probably one of them as their guns were also the best.

A moment later, he noticed that everyone was looking at Mo Ye who was the only person who wasn't looking at him.

She was focused on her aim. Her arms didn't even move when she fired, it was as if the rifle recoil did not exist.

This person was filled with respect but when he saw that old rifle, he couldn't help but look down on her.

"Help me to attack!" Mo Ye's tone was anxious. She was evolved and could sense the suppression from the Zombie Ape. She knew that if it got close, everyone would die, "Right knee, quick!"

The other four turned their guns to it right away.

"Oi, did you hear what I said? This is an order!"

Peng!

Mo Ye fired. With the strengthened vision and observation ability, her gun was really precise, hitting the same spot as the last shot.

Cheng Ze, Xia Lei, Cheng Long and Little Tiger all fired too. Although they couldn't hit the exact same spot as Mo Ye did, but they all hit the target, hitting its knee.

The Zombie Ape let out a deafening roar and its body leaned to the side, holding onto the building to prevent itself from falling.

Mo Ye's vision was really good and she could see thin cracks in its right knee.

She wanted to continue attacking to shatter its knee but that person stretched his hand over at her gun.

“Yi, this gun is a little different.”

Mo Ye was furious. She stood up and pushed her shoulder in his body. Her strength couldn't be underestimated so he was knocked aside. He fell back and knocked into the wall.

“Mo Ye what are you doing!” That person resisted the pain, pressing his chest and staring at her in rage, “Did you get your gun through improper means? Why did you stop me from checking it?”

That guy was the chief's secretary. Mo Ye knew him but they weren't close. In the past, he sent hints to her but after she didn't reply, things ended like that.

“I am saving all your lives so you better scram.” She stared fiercely, “I am here and won't go to whatever Chief Liu. If you disturb me, I will kill you!”

The others were shocked at her reaction, they had never seen her so furious before. Moreover, Mo Ye and the others called him Chief Liu but now the way she addressed him had changed too.

Thinking back to her gaze when she returned, everyone guessed that something unhappy happened between them.

“You, you are going against orders, you will be punished!” He was not afraid of her and shouted at her.

Mo Ye took out a pistol and fired at him, hitting the wall beside his ear. The cement caused a shallow wound on his face and blood flowed out.

“You, you fired at me?”

The secretary was stunned and so were the others. They hadn't adapted to the change of rules in the apocalypse.

“If you don't scram then I will smash your brains.”

This time he turned and ran. He knew that if he didn't leave then this girl would really dare to kill him.

Seeing his look of grievance when he left, Cheng Ze and Xia Lei sighed, “Little Ye you were too rash. How will you still stay on the team?”

Mo ye returned to her shooting position and picked up the rifle, “Then I won't stay. Apart from you all, there is nothing worth staying here.”

“How can you say that!”

Cheng Ze had deep feelings for the team and when he heard his disciple say that, he was a little unhappy.

“Teacher, things aren't as good as you think they are. Do you know what we are fighting for? What we will get?” She turned and said to her teacher.

“To be cannon fodder for Captain ye so that he can get things that are tens or even hundred times better than my gun. Apart from sacrificing ourselves, we get nothing.

Our chief will get evolution potions for his wife, kids and himself and get a chance to be protected by the army. If you all manage to survive, then congratulations, you will manage to see him evolved."

Cheng Ze and the others didn't fire and looked at her in disbelief. Their minds were in a mess.

"Captain is that true?" Little Tiger frowned and asked.

Mo Ye nodded and didn't continue.

"Argh!"

Cheng Long cursed and kept his gun. He just sat on the floor.

Peng!

Mo Ye talked but she didn't stop shooting. Another gun hit the Zombie Ape's knee such that it sat on the ground. It knew how to adapt, using the pillar to block its wound and not letting this mysterious enemy get a chance.

Mo Ye managed to hold this Zombie Ape back alone.

But if it was so easy to handle, then it would not be the mutated zombie that everyone feared. It stood up slowly, using zombies to block in front of it. Although it was five meters tall, but its knee was around 1.5 meters. These zombies blocked and Mo Ye couldn't see it.

Mo Ye slapped the window in rage. She had only one more modified bullet so even if she changed targets it wouldn't do much. Did she have to give up like that?

Right when she was thinking about how to deal with it, her gaze swept about something. She twisted her head and saw Park Xiuying fleeing in this direction!

Chapter 69: Chain prisoner

As he was closer to the black hole, the smell of the dungeon that spread out from it got thicker and thicker.

But when this giant figure appeared, no one paid attention to the smell. They were all shocked by the pressure that it gave off.

Even Ye Zhongming was not an exception.

He finally saw the monster that filled his nightmares in his last life.

Chain Prisoner!

Close to 50 meter body, dark red skin, even the tallest humans were like ants in front of it.

Its thick limbs stepped on the ground of Pearl Lake. The giant rumbling made the entire ground shake. One front foot and two back feet made it look really weird.

The other weird thing was that it only had four arms that were grown at its shoulders and ribs. When it moved it gave off a whistling sound to show off the power that they contained.

There was a green horn on its head and at the tip was a ball of light. When it breathed, it would light up before dimming down. But at least half of its pressure came from this small ball like it contained some sort of lightning power.

The weird thing about this monster was that there were many rounds of black chains wrapped around it. No one knew how many oval-shaped metal rings made it up. On its four arms, its entire body, and even half of its three limbs were wrapped by these chains. They clanged as they moved.

No one knew what this fellow was or where it came from. Their valuation of its strength was only because of its mountain-like body.

But Ye Zhongming knew that this fellow was called Chain Prisoner in his last life and it was one of the strongest monsters that managed to come out from the dungeon.

It was really strong and it also evolved really quickly. Its forehead had a green crystal now which meant that it was level four. Not long later, it would become level five, six, seven... Just a year after the apocalypses started, it would become one of the few known level nine monsters!

It was a level nine monster that roamed around.

At that time, when the humans didn't have nine star experts, it was pretty much invincible. It didn't have a goal and just walked around and destroy everything it touched. Dozens of survivor bases were wiped out by it just like that. Many humans in the apocalypse were eaten by it and there was nothing they could do.

Until humans started to have their own nine star experts did they realise how strong it was? Only after gathering three of them were they about to kill it.

Humans won but they paid a huge price. One of them suffered irreparable injuries, not long later his level dropped and a few years later he died.

Such a thing made humans lose a nine star evolved. Based on people at the scene, it was already injured as it had fought something else. If not the humans might not have succeeded.

Out of the three nine star evolved, Ye Zhongming had met one in this life, Mu Xinfei!

That battle was the one that made her famous!

Humans studied the Chain Prisoner and noticed that it was different from other monsters. Other monsters evolved from killing, eating and storing energy and once they reached a certain level they would evolve.

But it was different. Although it destroyed many bases, but it didn't kill with purpose. As long as one didn't offend it and didn't block its path, then it wouldn't even look at you. Many people guessed that it evolved through another method, unlocking.

The Chain Prisoner was sealed by some sort of power. As time passed, its seals got unlocked and it got stronger.

The first time it appeared, it was only level four. A year later it became level nine. This evolution speed was so terrifying, only unlocking was a valid explanation.

Everyone agreed with that and thus it was easily accepted.

This meant that this Chain Prisoner was a level nine presence just that its strength was sealed until it dropped to level four.

Ye Zhongming's heart was dejected. He had some hope. He felt like his revival had changed things. For example this Chain Prisoner, he hoped that it wouldn't appear.

But this monster appeared as expected and quashed his hopes.

This Chain Prisoner was pretty much an invincible presence. Although it was only level four but on just the first day of the apocalypse, it was still invincible.

The Zombie Ape was terrifying but in front of it, it would get stepped to death with one foot.

That shaking lasted for a while before it started to give out a sound. That sound was terrifying, like a child crying at night. In this world where there were monsters everywhere and corpses stacking up on the grounds, that sent chills down one's spine.

The Chain Prisoner laughed. A hand reached back into the black hole and after searching for a while, he pulled out a ten meter long tree without a crown. It had purple leaves.

Seeing the tree appear, Ye Zhongming was in a better mood as this was a good thing.

Actually, although the Chain Prisoner was strong, but it was covered in treasures.

Its flesh was the best replenishment after eating it, normal people could evolve right away and be immune to the zombie virus.

Its horn was called the Horn of Life and it was a plant type god artifact. It contained huge energy and also had a lightning light that was a strong attack it could fire at people. When it fired at itself, it had a healing effect.

Its eyes could be refined into a liquid that when dripped into one's eyes could strengthen vision. It was really important for marksmen. Ye Zhongming dreamt of such a thing but he couldn't find it.

Its black chains were made of a precious metal called Ghost Metal. It had an extraordinary ability and each gram was worth a huge amount.

Also, that tree it pulled out from the black hole was the stem of the Blood Tree. It was the ancestor of a cannibal plant that could be found all around the Earth.

These were only what Ye Zhongming knew from his last life. There were definitely things he did not know due to his status.

Anyways, one thing was for sure. After Mu Xinfei and the two other experts killed it, the powers they represented gained many good things and they all got stronger. It was all because of this Chain Prisoner!

Now this monster appeared as expected and stood there like it was invincible. Could he get anything good?

People died for money, Ye Zhongming was like that too.

Chapter 70: News exposed

The appearance of the Chain Prisoner caused everyone to stop in shock. All lifeforms be it monsters or humans looked at it like they were looking at a mountain and they felt the depths of their souls shake.

The Chained Prisoner was covered in treasures. If he managed to get a single one, he would be able to use it for a long time. However, high rewards come with high risk. To fight a level four monster at one star evolved stage, was not a wise decision.

Ye Zhongming could rely on his job advantage and understanding of the apocalypse to kill a level two monster but a level four one... Forget it.

Ye Zhongming turned his gaze to those Purple Cloud Ants that were near to him.

As he had seen the Chain Prisoner in his last life, he was the first to wake up from the pressure which gave him a great chance. He attacked, jumping in the middle of these ants. His Moon Edge slashed the air of the dusk and sliced through the bodies of these ants.

Even the Blade Ants who were known for their strong defence couldn't stop the blade at all. These ants that were in charge of protection were killed right away.

Without the protection of the Blade Ants, the Mage Ants and Needle Ants who were still in their weak state were like sheep waiting to be slaughtered... Even though he only had one usable hand it was still the same.

He dug the demon crystals and slice the sharp tips of the Blade Ants before he charged into the shop where the horn sounded from. The Monster Baby was within.

At this time, Chain Prisoner had started to walk forwards. It crossed dozens of meters right away, crossing the lake to the streets and trampling on several pavilions.

Ye Zhongming felt a shadow flicker past him and the surroundings shake as the Chain Prisoner stepped across his head. The pressure felt like a mountain was pressing down on him.

But he knew that he was safe for the moment.

The Monster Baby summoned these monsters to protect it. Although it didn't have control over high level monsters but these monsters wouldn't hurt it either way.

Ye Zhongming was already outside the shop so he was not afraid that the Chain Prisoner would step on him.

The shop was in a total mess. There was a thick blood stench and there were a couple of corpses around. All of this showed that there was an intense battle here.

Ye Zhongming noticed that there was something weird. His connection with the two girls was gone. Park Xiuying still had some static noises but Liang Chuyin switched off the walkie-talkie.

A bad feeling entered his mind.

He tried to calm himself down as he knew that his main goal was the Monster Baby. If he grabbed its bag then everything was worth it.

The candy shop was split into the front and back. The front was for sales and the back was the rest area. The corpses were all in the front. From where they fell and where the blood spurted, Ye Zhongming deduced that the battle started from the door and stretched to the resting area.

As he might need to fight right away, he moved his right hand. His evolved physique meant that his right hand had recovered slightly but it was not perfectly fine so he probably couldn't use it as of yet.

He snuck to the resting area and before he opened it, he heard a loud sound like something was broken through. After which was a series of weird noises.

Ye Zhongming's heart jumped when he heard that sound. It was the special cry of the Monster Baby, it was not far from him!

He charged in and saw that several people were stumbling forward. They heard the footsteps and when they saw that it was a stranger, they got wary.

Ye Zhongming's pupils constricted as these people all had guns!

Although they were just normal guns but in a small space they were really threatening.

"Who are you? If you have nothing then just leave."

They turned their guns and their faces were really fierce.

If this was a little longer into the apocalypse, these people would have fired right away. But since the apocalypse had just begun, they didn't kill people so swiftly and freely yet.

Ye Zhongming didn't have time to waste with them. The Monster Baby had escaped from the back and he couldn't waste any more time here.

He knocked them out and kept their guns.

Military guns!

The moment he touched one he knew that these were standard issues. Seemed like that captain really invested a lot into this operation.

There was a huge hole in the toilet behind the resting room which Ye Zhongming took to get to the back alley. The Chain Prisoner was waving its tree truck, knocking aside the zombies and mutated beings that were in its way.

Ye Zhongming looked at the end of the alley. The Monster Baby carrying a golden bag was riding a Purple Cloud Ant. Not far behind it were four people with guns that were aiming at it.

A gun fired and blood spurted from its shoulder. One shot hit it! But using that space, the Purple Cloud Ant and also disappeared into the back alley.

"Captain Ye requests for assistance. I noticed something holding a golden bag. It took out a potion to throw at us, it is actually an evolution potion! That fellow should be the biggest target today! Its bag contains good things!"

Li Shujun shouted at the walkie-talkie. After that battle, he knew that he couldn't deal with those few ants. He gave up on taking those treasures for himself and finally told Captain Ye the news.

Ye Zhongming knew right away that the secret wouldn't be kept for long. Everyone who were here would know about it so he had to get the bag before anyone did.

Ye Zhongming stopped hesitating and charged toward where the Monster Baby disappeared to. Li Shujun and the others noticed that he wasn't on their side and wanted to fire at him. They were much more decisive than those in the shop.

But the person that they faced was Ye Zhongming. He side stepped and caused their aim to miss, losing the chance to fire. He charged into the group of them, using the shield to block one of their barrels before elbowing another aside. He then slashed another person which caused him to use his gun to block. The sharp Moon Edge sliced his gun right into two.

Although he lost his weapon, but that action saved his life. He retreated in cold sweat, sticking right on the wall of the alley and making way for Ye Zhongming.

Li Shujun was at the front and now after turning around, he was the last person. He felt his eyes light up and the guy just appeared beside him.

After all, he was an evolved so he knew that it was too late to fire. He charged and knocked that person.

With his one star evolved body, he didn't believe that the person would be stronger than him.

But Ye Zhongming side stepped knowing that he would knock into him. He smashed the shield onto the side of Li Shujun, using that strength to kick into the wall and run into the distance.

"Thanks for the help!"

That was all he said before he continued chasing the Monster Baby. The four of them couldn't stop him at all.

Hong! Hong! Hong!

Explosions could be heard from behind them. Li Shujun suppressed the pain in his ribs to turn his head. He saw the soldier that gave him huge pressure Wang Dingzheng and seven others who appeared on a roof. They had RPGs and were attacking that 50 meter giant!

"Why are you hitting it?" Li Shujun was anxious and he shouted into the walkie-talkie!

"Captain Ye don't hit it, don't hit it! The treasure is here, if you don't go someone will steal it!"
