

Apocalypse 801

Chapter 801: Weird communication

Just one look and Ye Zhongming felt rage rising from his heart and into his mind. His body even felt really hot.

This was a human woman, but she wasn't a complete woman. Her stomach was sliced open. Even if she used her hand to close it so that her organs didn't fall out, it didn't stop the fresh blood and liquid from flowing out. One could even see the slimy organs.

Her body was naked. Her legs which were white, were now covered in dirty green liquid. There were even a few drops of dried blood. All of this signaled what she had faced.

This was the first time Ye Zhongming hated the sharpness of his eyes. He took just one look and knew that the shape of her stomach wasn't right... Her stomach was sliced when she was pregnant, and the baby was taken out.

This woman was the demon monster's reproduction tool. Moreover, the baby in her stomach had been taken not long ago.

Ye Zhongming killed people like the other survivors in the apocalypse. But he did have a bottom line and principles. It was undeniable that he killed other humans.

But when he saw humans being killed by other races, even if others guessed that the demon monsters were humans that were affected by radiation, but rage still rose from within.

Like a parent; no matter how your child behaved, you could beat and scold them, but if other people scolded or hit them, you would fight that person.

Like when you supported a team. When they lost, as a fan, you could scold them and ask the coach to get sacked. But if other fans scolded them, you would protect your own team.

Like you would always curse your city and even country for being bad, but once an enemy attacked your country, you wouldn't hesitate, and you would use all ways to kill the enemy. You wouldn't even care if you would lose your life.

What happened to us was our own problem and had nothing to do with you.

Even if it was the apocalypse and the enemy was strong, you could kill the other humans. But using them as tools to reproduce and even torturing them, what was the meaning of that?

It had been a long time since Ye Zhongming felt such intense killing intent.

Seeing Ye Zhongming's eyes turn red, the pregnant demon monster gave out two shouts. She then sliced her wrist and black blood flowed out. She aimed it at the woman's stomach and forced some blood into it.

The blood flowed into her body. She slowly opened her eyes, but her body was really weak.

She saw Ye Zhongming. Her hands that were instinctively covering her stomach was lifted towards Ye Zhongming.

He understood what she meant. It wasn't to save her but... To kill her.

Anyone who was bullied to raise a monster's kid and then had their stomach sliced open would feel a desire to die.

But in the next moment, her body shook. Her hands pressed onto her neck. It was as if something was invading her body, and the shaking got more intense.

As her hands left her stomach, the wound that hadn't closed reopened. It was already purplish and a smelly scent surged towards his face.

She calmed down very quickly. He could see her eyes turn black and her skin turn green. She was actually similar to the demon monster.

"You, have."

Two words spread from the woman's mouth as she got up slowly. Ye Zhongming retreated in shock. She noticed that this woman was actually speaking at the same time as the demon monster. But the demon monster opened her mouth while the woman made the sound.

Ye Zhongming's head felt numb.

This pregnant demon monster used an unbelievable method to communicate with Ye Zhongming.

Ye Zhongming had the urge to slice this monster into pieces, but when he saw such a weird scene and looked at the wheel he hadn't seen before, he hesitated.

He wanted to see what this monster was going to do.

"What do I have?"

Hearing Ye Zhongming ask, she was thinking about how to reply but failed to get the answer. She turned, and so did the woman. Their actions were the same, and it looked weird.

The demon monster picked some crystals from the pile and looked warily at Ye Zhongming before placing one beside her.

A grey crystal!

Ye Zhongming frowned and didn't know what the demon monster wanted to say.

After which, she placed the second crystal. It was a white one.

En? Level two crystal? Ye Zhongming roughly guessed what she wanted to do.

As expected, she placed a third crystal, a black level three crystal. Next were a green level four crystal, a blue level five crystal, a red level six crystal, and a purple level seven crystal.

At this point, the demon monster didn't have any more crystals.

She pointed at the space after the level seven crystal and opened her mouth. The woman beside her made a sound.

"You, have."

Ye Zhongming felt a chill down his spine.

Level eight demon crystal? Of course, he did. He took it back from the secret realm but placed it in his space, so how did the demon monster know?

It opened its mouth. It stood up and pointed at the wheel behind it and also at the seven crystals.

Ye Zhongming understood what it meant. They needed a level-eight crystal to spin the wheel.

But it didn't have one, and Ye Zhongming did, so it was waiting.

But... Not to mention how it knew he had a level eight crystal. What was its goal?

“Don't, move.”

The demon monster warned Ye Zhongming through the human woman and pointed at the wheel, “I have something I need; there is something you need. We, together.”

Ye Zhongming laughed coldly. If the level eight crystal was the key to spinning the wheel, why should I help you? Just because you look good?

“It is dangerous. You can't handle it alone; let's work together.”

Like it knew what Ye Zhongming was thinking, it said once again.

This caused Ye Zhongming to retract his killing intent. Did this demon monster know what the wheel could produce?

Ye Zhongming was confused. What was happening exceeded what he knew.

He decided to understand the situation.

Chapter 802: Door on the wheel

“Work together. Us, together. Then, split up.”

But the demon monster knew what Ye Zhongming wanted to do. Through the messenger, she said that and then looked in another direction.

“If we don't work together, my, kids, kill your, friends.”

This demon monster started to threaten Ye Zhongming.

“Are you not afraid that I would kill you first?”

Ye Zhongming looked at the two demon monster corpses that Yellow Ball and him killed, “I don't believe that you are stronger than them?”

He aimed at her stomach. Ye Zhongming returned her threat to her.

“You, can't kill, me.”

Ye Zhongming decided to try.

The wheel was dangerous? What wasn't dangerous?

Kill my friends? I had given them a piece of equipment that could keep them safe for a few hours.

Everything could be solved after he killed it.

Ye Zhongming attacked the moment he made his mind up, and did so without holding anything back.

But the outcome shocked him.

The pregnant demon monster's body grew bigger. It was close to 4.5 meters!

It was a demon monster about to reach level eight!

Ye Zhongming used many methods, but the demon monster didn't fight back. It only dodged. It was so quick that Ye Zhongming couldn't keep up.

If this demon monster wanted to leave, even Yellow Ball couldn't keep up with it.

After using Space Stack, Ye Zhongming gave up.

This demon monster maintained a distance from him and even dodged his shooting. This caught Ye Zhongming off guard.

If Ye Zhongming wanted to use everything, he did have a way to deal with it but the price was huge. It was so huge that using it now would be a waste.

Seeing that the human had calmed down, the demon monster looked down on Ye Zhongming, "Us, work together, benefit."

Ye Zhongming was in a tough situation.

He knew that he couldn't kill it and the demon monster wouldn't leave this place. He told its two subordinates to attack because it really wanted to kill Ye Zhongming. Then, it could control this human woman to spin the wheel for them and use this way to break the rule that only humans could spin the wheel.

But who knew that the human killed two of her strongest subordinates? Although it wasn't afraid of Ye Zhongming, it had to hold back to not affect her baby. So, she chose another method, which was to work with him.

She might have been forced to do so but Ye Zhongming was forced too.

Ye Zhongming had two choices. Either waste time here, but his subordinates would be in danger. They had at most five hours from the Crystal Nest Barrier. Or he could spin the wheel. But that was what the demon monster wanted.

Of course, he could turn and leave and return to his subordinates. But he would have to give up on the wheel, and everything would become meaningless.

The nest barrier would be wasted, and his subordinates would have died for nothing. Whether or not he could leave safely was also a problem!

Was his only choice to spin the wheel?

Apart from that, there wasn't any other choice.

Ye Zhongming raised his head, and his gaze became firm.

Since that was the case, then spin it together. If something good appears and the demon monster wants to fight for it, he might have to use his trump cards. He would just waste them then.

"Okay, but keep your distance."

Ye Zhongming looked as the demon monster stepped back and even placed the messenger between them.

He took out the level eight demon crystal and slowly placed it into the hole.

Be it Ye Zhongming or the demon monster, both of them were nervous.

As the energy entered the wheel, the wheel that Ye Zhongming didn't recognize started to change. There wasn't any light, but the random colors started to move.

Ye Zhongming still couldn't see any rhythm, but quickly, black, red, and yellow merged. They started to become clearly split, and the wheel formed three sections.

He glanced at the demon monster. This pregnant fellow was shocked and didn't know what the changes meant.

Ye Zhongming relaxed a little. Seemed like the demon monster sensed something but didn't know what would happen.

The wheel started to change again. The three colors started to condense, and they turned into three spots. These three spots circled around the wheel and then merged together.

After merging, there was only a grey spot in the center. This dot started to spin, and as it spun, a door appeared!

Ye Zhongming didn't know what to say; this was unbelievable.

He spun the wheel and got nothing but a door?

What was going on?

The moment the demon monster saw the door open, it dashed in and passed through the mist in the door.

The human female that was being controlled seemed to have lost her soul and fell to the ground.

When Ye Zhongming looked over, she saw that her eyes weren't dark anymore, and were back to normal. But the weak eyes told Ye Zhongming that she couldn't live for long.

She couldn't move, but her evolution level wasn't low, and her life force was stubborn. She just looked at Ye Zhongming.

He walked to her side and took out a dagger, plunging it into her heart.

Joy appeared on her face.

Their gazes met, and they understood what each other meant.

"Rest well."

"Thank you."

Ye Zhongming placed her corpse down and also charged into the open door.

As Ye Zhongming and the demon monster entered the wheel, the gate shook before disappearing. The colors reappeared and were randomly scattered on the wheel. The level eight crystal disappeared. It was as if everything was back to before. If not for the female corpse and demon monster bodies on the ground, it was as if nothing had happened.

Ye Zhongming, who just entered the wheel, hadn't gotten out of the darkness. His body sunk, and he was sucked onto the ground!

Chapter 803: Fertile Soil

The gravity here was many times that of Earth.

Ye Zhongming thought about the reason very quickly, and he became nervous. Was he teleported to someplace like the secret realm?

The area in front of him lit up. Of course, this was relative. This space was still a little dark.

Looking out, the sky gave off light that rippled. Numerous streaks of light formed a scene that made it seem like you were underwater.

The area around wasn't wide, and many barriers were erected. This space was split into many pieces, and Ye Zhongming was in one of them. He could see the pregnant demon monster in one of the spaces, too, but there were many barriers away.

Ye Zhongming walked forward. As an evolved, he quickly adapted to the gravity changes.

But when he glanced at the ground, his mouth opened uncontrollably.

He saw... Fertile Soil!

It was the country's specialty product, similar to Star Dust!

When he was fighting for the Ocean King Crown, the West Asians used the Stardust Sand. As Ye Zhongming said its name immediately, the West Asians thought he had China's country product. Thus, they agreed with Cloud Peak to form a relationship and trade freely.

He even gave Ye Zhongming a token, which was the Space Stack Gate, to build a teleportation path.

Ye Zhongming still had some of the Stardust Sand from before that he didn't bear to use. After all, one of its abilities was to bring people back from death, so if he used it, it would reduce.

Ye Zhongming planned to find Fertile Sand on a large scale when he returned but didn't expect to see it here.

Ye Zhongming bent down slightly and looked carefully at the Fertile Sand that he was stepping on. He confirmed that he was correct. In his last life, his team and participated in an operation to fight for Fertile Sand. Although they were only on the outside, but once the mission ended, he had seen such a thing.

There was actually so much of it here?

The mysterious space was covered in this valuable thing.

This...

Ye Zhongming felt his heart pounding.

Country Product, as the name suggests, it was the most outstanding item from a country. For example, Stardust Sand. This thing had many uses. Ye Zhongming knew that it could heal injuries and could also be used as materials to create special Star Equipment.

Strictly speaking, if Ye Zhongming didn't consider the Ocean King Crown, only Ghost Metal and the Blood Wood could compare to the country product.

Something that was precious would naturally be rare. No matter which country's country product, they were measured in grams. Ye Zhongming only had a few dozen grams of Stardust Sand, and it was very little.

But the Fertile Soil... Too much.

Although Ye Zhongming was excited to see the Chinese specialty product, he didn't lose his mind. This couldn't be obtained easily.

He looked around warily. He used his hand to grab the unassuming black soil, but when he touched the ground, he felt a sense of danger and jumped backward.

But he forgot that he was not used to the gravity. He watched as a white branch drilled from the ground and smacked toward his face.

It was as quick as lightning, and it was as if gravity didn't affect it.

Ye Zhongming raised his arm to protect his face.

"Pa", the white branch whipped him. At the same time, he retreated to a safe position.

Ye Zhongming looked at his palm and saw a bruise. The branch was decently strong.

One must know that Ye Zhongming had used the Nature Soul Essence, so plant damage was 50% weaker on him. In other words, without the soul essence, one whip would have made him bleed.

With Ye Zhongming's strength, such an attack was already very strong.

The white branches stopped there after attacking. The meter-long branch waved left and right and didn't continue.

Was it because of nature soul essence, which was why plants were close to him, and their will to attack had reduced?

Or... Ye Zhongming looked at the ground. Was it because he didn't plan to touch the Fertile Soil?

Ye Zhongming bent down to grab the sand, and then he jumped aside.

As expected, the moment his hand touched the ground, another white branch charged and attacked him. But because he was prepared, he managed to dodge.

There were two branches in the small space he was in.

He looked around the two fellows and also around him, especially on the side of the demon monster, which was facing some problems.

Ye Zhongming thought about it and took a bottle to place some fertile sand in. There were a few dozen grams of it.

This time, he was in trouble.

Dozens of white branches appeared from below and whipped him. Due to gravity, his movement slowed, so he couldn't pull his blade. He just used his hands to cover his face.

The whipping stopped after a few dozen seconds. Apart from his arm, his defensive gear covered the other areas, and he was fine.

Ye Zhongming was delighted. Getting hit and you would get a few dozen grams of Fertile Soil. That was so worth it.

He didn't care about the other space around him and started to collect the country product.

Ye Zhongming started to get busy and used the bottle to collect the soil, a few dozen grams at a time. He had to deal with more attacks, but their attack was reduced by half; the armor reduced the strength of the attacks. Although the number of branches had accumulated to a number that Ye Zhongming had to bother about, but as compared to the Fertile Soil, it was totally worth it.

Just like that, Ye Zhongming collected all the Fertile Soil in the space that he was in.

Right, it wasn't endless, and there was only a small layer on the top. Once he collected them all, he got around 1.5 kilograms.

If this were in his last life, this would be an unimaginable fortune!

Huala!

As he collected all the soil, the barrier to the side shattered to reveal another space!

Chapter 804: First function

Thinking that he had entered here through the wheel, Ye Zhongming realized that maybe the space was a test. If he passed the test, he could get some Fertile Soil.

From the demon gambling wheel to the competition death wheel and also the Ocean King Wheel, all of them were tests. This became a symbol of special wheels.

From simple to difficult. Wasnt the first space the simplest one?

Ye Zhongming turned to look at the first space he had passed. The branches had retracted and disappeared from the surface. This further proved his guess.

He looked at the opened barrier and didnt enter immediately. Instead, he sat in the first space!

He took out the Fertile Soil that he got. This pure black soil that didnt have any impurities looked beautiful.

Ye Zhongmings thoughts were simple. Since he was going to face endless challenges and tests, he should be prepared. There wasnt any time requirement here, either.

Ye Zhongming knew something about the Stardust Sand. this thing appeared in auctions and the auctioneer had introduced his function. So as compared to the Fertile Soil, Ye Zhongming understood the sand more.

But he had some Fertile Soil in his hands. If he just kept them and completed the unknown dangers, it would be a waste of a treasure.

So he decided to find out its functions and see if they could help him get stronger. Then, he would have more confidence to face the challenges that would increase in difficulty.

The biggest function of the Stardust Sand was healing. If one was still breathing and their organs were still there, they would be saved after eating it.

Could the Fertile Soil be eaten too?

Ye Zhongming thought about it, but he didn't have the courage to swallow it.

Who knew if this thing would have any side effects? Maybe it wasn't to be eaten, and if you ate it, there might be poison?

If he died here because he tried to test it, that would be the biggest joke in the world.

But, he couldn't eat it, and the thing was called Fertile Sand so could plants eat it?

When he thought about that, he poured 20 grams of fertile soil, then took a Cannibal Flower seed and buried it inside.

He injected mental energy and used the Nurture skill.

In normal circumstances, the seed would sprout and based on how much mental energy he injected, they would grow to a certain level.

But when Ye Zhongming injected some mental energy, he felt a desire similar to when he nurtured the Roselle Cedar. Much of his mental energy was absorbed. He also felt like the mental energy didn't enter the seed but into the soil.

This had never happened before, even when he nurtured the Roselle Cedar.

He used Nurture, and his mental energy didn't land on the seed, so the Cannibal Flower had no movement. Ye Zhongming started to suspect whether or not he couldn't use nurture on the country product. Or if plant type skills and jobs were ineffective on it.

Right when Ye Zhongming was deep in thought, the motionless Cannibal Flower started to change. It sprouted.

Shortly after, Ye Zhongming watched as it grew taller, and it quickly reached maturity.

Ye Zhongming looked at the soil, and they had disappeared.

Did the Cannibal Flower absorb them?

He thought about it and chose to use Activate.

This time, he was shocked and then it turned to joy.

This was a special Cannibal Flower.

Level Five Gilded Cannibal Flower Earth.

Apart from one more Earth in its name, there was no difference from before. But looking at the skills, you would realize it was totally different.

Skill 1, Cannibal and soil eating: Eat evolved lifeforms and soil to provide the energy it needs to evolve.

Skill 2, stem absorption: Absorb the evolved's blood or energy from soil to raise its defense.

Skill 3, Corrosive Soil Trap: After activating it, an area around the Cannibal Flower would start to corrode to increase the Cannibal Flower's movement speed. The trap also has Stem Absorption ability and has a certain amount of corrosiveness. Cannibal Flower's skill effectiveness will double towards targets that enter the soil.

Skill 4, Connected Branches, when allies are nearby, the branches and roots of the Gilded Cannibal Flower will connect to increase each others defense and share damage. The damage shared will be half of the enemys attack.

The Cannibal Flowers before were already tough to deal with, but the ones nurtured from the Fertile Soil had reached another level.

In the past, if they wanted to evolve, they had to eat people. To raise their defense, they had to absorb blood. But now, they could eat soil.

Humans were alive, so they were hard to get, but to Cannibal Flowers that were planted into the ground, soil was beneath them.

These two abilities pretty much meant that if they were alive, even if they didnt eat people or evolved lifeforms, they could get energy from the soil to strengthen their body and defense to complete their evolution.

The third ability was a certain range before, but now it has become a large range. They could only increase cannibal flowers mobility in the past but now, it would cause the soil to have some attack and double the effect of Cannibal Flower skills!

This meant that their soil-eating effect would double, and their defense increase and evolution speed increase would also double!

The more amazing thing was that the 4th ability. Now, to break through many Cannibal Flowers, not only did your attack be higher than all their defense, but it had to be double. If you were not careful and were standing on the soil, then congratulations, that would mean your attack has to double further!

A scene appeared in Ye Zhongmings mind of him planting tens of thousands of Cannibal Flowers around Cloud Peak

Even he shuddered. Damn. How strong did you have to be to kill them all? If they faced a zombie horde of fewer than the number of Cannibal Flowers, Cloud Pea could ignore them as they would get eaten!

After waking from his dream, Ye Zhongming knew he was thinking too much. How much Fertile Soil did he have to use to nurture tens of thousands of Gilded Cannibal Flowers?

He shook his head and started his second test.

Chapter 805: Earth Equipment

The previous test was on the earth nature of the soil. Truth proved that the country product didn't disappoint and it was trustable.

Now, what Ye Zhongming wanted to test was the Fertile Soil as a material.

As Stardust Sand could be used as a material and mixed into the crafting of equipment to form the famous Star Equipment, Ye Zhongming guessed that Fertile Soil could too.

He looked at his equipment. The green Thousand Leaf Phosphor Armor, the blue Sand Dance, the gold Blood Stepping Boots, the silver Spirit Qilin Pendant, the purple Crystal Energy Demon Gun, the silver Nature Staff, etc. Ye Zhongming had to select one of them to test on.

But all of them were important to him. It would be a huge loss if he tested on them and they were destroyed.

Ye Zhongming looked at his pants. These were good quality camping pants. Ye Zhongming Enchanted it and added Ghost Metal to turn it silver. Although it didn't have many abilities, but it had two that could support him.

Compared to other equipment, the value of the pants was the lowest. Ye Zhongming took them off and decided to test on them. If they got destroyed, then so be it.

He took some Fertile Soil and first tried to Enchant, but it didn't work. Seemed like this thing couldn't stack like other materials.

He selected ten grams and Enchanted the pants.

Just by feeling alone, he knew he succeeded.

He was delighted and went to check its stats.

“Strong Wind Speed Pants. Ability 1, Light as wind, increase speed by 50 and jumping ability by 100.”

“Ability 2, good quality, defense plus 35, toughness by 100.”

Ye Zhongming scratched its head, there were no changes?

The pants had such stats before, and they remained the same. Was Fertile Soil useless on equipment?

But it felt as if it had succeeded?

Was it similar to when he nurtured the Cannibal Flower, and the soil itself absorbed his mental energy?

Ye Zhongming waited, and there still weren't any changes, which proved his guess wrong.

He thought about it, was it because the amount of Fertile Soil wasn't enough?

He looked at the endless space and decided to continue testing.

This time, he used 20 grams, but there was still no reaction.

The two times together used 30 grams. If he sold it outside, this was already a huge sum. The value was above the pants itself!

Ye Zhongming used 50 grams for the third time, but the pants were still the same.

This... Three failures made him lose confidence. Was Fertile Soil not to be added to craft equipment?

No!

Ye Zhongming realized that something wasn't right. The weight of the pants had changed; it had become lighter!

This change was very slight. If not for his sharp senses, he wouldn't have noticed it.

Normally speaking, if he added 80 grams, even if it didn't succeed, the equipment would get heavier. But the truth was the opposite!

What did this mean? It meant that the Fertile Soil caused the pants to change. But Ye Zhongming didn't know what had changed.

Ye Zhongming didn't stop and added 100 grams.

This time, he wasn't disappointed.

The pants shone, and the silver light dimmed. What replaced it was... A gentle green light.

Did it upgrade?

Recently, Ye Zhongming met two instances where the equipment was upgraded. First was when he used the seal and Sand Dance went from green to blue. As well as this time when the Fertile Soil caused the silver pants to upgrade to green.

Ye Zhongming excitedly checked the stats, and his eyes lit up.

"Earth Strong Wind Speed Pants."

"Ability 1, Light as wind, increase the speed of the wearer by 70 and jumping by 130."

"Ability 2, Good quality, defense plus 65, toughness plus 150."

"Ability 3, resistance, activate the skill to form a reverse trust. Based on the wearer's weight to bounce to a certain height. The height can be controlled."

"Ability 4, Similar Stat Destruction, when facing earth element attacks, absorb 30% of the damage."

"Earth Vein. Defensive equipment is enchanted with the power of the earth. When users wearing the equipment fight on the ground, strengthen their defense by 5%."

As compared to the Cannibal Flowers, this equipment wasn't overpowered. After all, not all abilities could complement each other like those of the Cannibal Flower.

But as compared to the other pieces of equipment that Ye Zhongming had, the pants that was slightly behind was now on their level.

Four skills, three passive and one active. They were all practical abilities. Be it base stats or agility, they were all improved.

The most exciting was the final one, the Earth Vein ability. The description was clear; it was the added stats for Earth defensive equipment. What was Earth defensive equipment? It should be armor, boots, pants, etc., that were modified with Fertile Soil.

Based on what was mentioned, one piece of equipment could increase defense by 5%, so what if you were wearing a full set? Would it be 5% from each?

Since there was defensive equipment, would there be attack equipment?

Also, it seemed like the Fertile Soil could be used to make special equipment. Stardust Sand made Star Equipment, and Fertile Soil made Earth equipment. Would there be set stats if you wore a full set of Earth Equipment?

All of these questions rang in Ye Zhongming's head. If he understood them, his own strength or Cloud Peak's overall strength would increase.

The country product was a good item!

80 grams of Fertile Soil remained. Ye Zhongming knew from that point that he needed to use a certain amount of Fertile Soil. Once it was enough, the equipment would change. The silver pants took 100 grams to modify. He didn't know what it was based on. Was it the equipment's own level, or it depend on other aspects?

With a successful experiment, Ye Zhongming planned to strengthen all the equipment he had on him. But after strengthening a few, he realized things weren't so simple. Some told him they couldn't be enchanted with it like the Bloodstepping Boots. Or they told him that the materials reject each other like the Thousand Leaf Phosphor Armor. After spending some time, although they didn't test on all of them, but the few that he wanted ended in failure.

Ye Zhongming gave up. In the future, he would try to avoid these rejection elements.

He wore his equipment and entered the second space along with the Earth Gilded Cannibal Flower. The moment he entered, he was shocked.

Chapter 806: Second type of Fertile Soil

The space was exactly the same as before; even the shape didn't change, but the ground...

It was still all Fertile Soil. This soil had no impurities.

But the Fertile Soil here was... Yellow!

Ye Zhongming blinked, but in his head, he was deep in thought.

In the last life, the Fertile Soil that he saw was the same as in the previous space, they were pure black. This was what people in his last life knew, too.

But what was this yellow?

Suddenly, Ye Zhongming thought about the three colors on the wheel when he entered the space.

Black, red, yellow?

Were there three different colored Fertile Soil?

The more he thought about it, the more possible it was. Ye Zhongming felt like people in his last life might not have known. Or, if they knew, they wouldn't tell it to ordinary evolved like Ye Zhongming.

No matter what, they were still Fertile Soil!

Ye Zhongming told the Cannibal Flower to enter, and after noticing that everything was fine, he entered, too.

The Gilded Cannibal Flower corroded very little soil; the area it corroded was the size of a washing basin. Its ability was not enough to corrode soil on the level of the Fertile Soil.

Ye Zhongming looked around and planned to start taking the soil.

Like the first space, Ye Zhongming quickly placed the first batch of yellow soil into a bottle, and the space changed immediately.

A bright ring appeared in the sky and headed towards Ye Zhongming. Ye Zhongming would not have even noticed it if not for it being eye-catching.

Ye Zhongming was prepared and pulled Sand Dance to block in front of himself.

This thing wasn't a plant, and there wouldn't be a 50% damage reduction. So he didn't dare to be careless and let it hit him.

His movement slowed because of the gravity once again, so he could only defend.

Ye Zhongming stumbled backward and took a few steps before he stopped. He looked at Sand Dance, and when he saw that there wasn't anything serious, he relaxed.

The light ring was actually so powerful!

After blocking that strike, the light ring didn't do anything and just floated in the sky.

Like the first space, it would stop after it attacked.

Ye Zhongming started to collect more Fertile Soil. This time, another ring appeared, and he blocked it again.

But this time, he used the back of the blade.

Then, the third and the fourth. Ye Zhongming blocked them all. During the fifth attack, there was an accident. The other rings that didn't move started to attack him simultaneously.

Ye Zhongming was caught off guard and only blocked three of them. The other two hit him, and he was sent flying. He only stopped when he hit the barrier.

He felt his blood boiling within him. He calmed down and got up slowly.

In that moment, he wanted to use Nature Staff, but what made him helpless was that the Nature Staff was actually useless here.

He placed the nature gem inside and there was no effect.

Ye Zhongming took out the gun and fired towards the light rings. But the gun was also not working here.

In the end, he even wanted to use his job skill but it didn't work here either.

This space prohibited energy?

But why could he use his support job skills? The Gardener and Smith skills weren't restricted?

Ye Zhongming didn't understand but felt like it had to do with the space he was in.

He looked at the rings in the sky, and his head felt numb. Did he have to use his body to tank it?

If it was just one or two spaces, it was okay. He was confident in his defense. But now, he had to pass one space to enter the next. If he had to fight individually, what if there were a few hundred? Even if he were strong, he definitely wouldn't last until the end.

It would work if he could stop after every space and heal up. But his subordinates were still waiting for him outside. If he spent five hours here, then his team might get wiped. So what was the point in getting the Fertile Soil here?

Anxiousness appeared in his heart.

But the toughness trained by the apocalypse made him toss aside such thoughts. He knew that there was no point in thinking too much. All he could do was to conquer all the difficulties.

He started to collect more soil. With the previous experience, he was only hit by three of the rings on the tenth time. Although his organs were injured because of that, and he bled, but it didn't affect his combat strength.

Just like that, he lasted to the 29th before collecting all the yellow soil in this space. Ye Zhongming cheered as he avoided the 30th time.

But the 29 times weren't so easily passed. The current Ye Zhongming was bleeding and in a bad state. Although his equipment and Sand Dance weren't damaged, his body was injured, especially his head, which was brushed by a light right, and he lost some skin.

It was rare for him to suffer from such injuries since he revived.

But fortunately, he got 1.5 kilograms of Fertile Soil.

He drank a basic healing potion he got from C Zone and felt his injuries lighten. He took out some yellow Fertile Soil and started to study it.

Would it have the same effects as the black one?

No! He rejected that thought. If not, they would all be of the same color.

He took another Cannibal Flower seed, but it failed.

The flower sprouted and matured. After activating, it turned into a Gilded Cannibal Flower, but it didn't have the Earth prefix like before, and the ability was the same.

The Fertile Soil used to nurture the flower was unused.

The yellow soil didn't have the ability to nurture plants!

This confused Ye Zhongming.

Could it be eaten? Ye Zhongming took out the Demon Nurturing Bee Hive and told a slightly low-level Needle Bird to eat some. But it died immediately. This proved that it couldn't be eaten.

Ye Zhongming took out a reserve leather armor and enchanted it with the soil, but it was still useless. Even skills failed.

What was going on? Ye Zhongming was anxious. His plan was to collect the Fertile Soil and strengthen himself to face the next space. If this momentum stopped at the second space, he wouldn't have the confidence to continue if he couldn't use his skills and abilities.

He was a little depressed. But he decided to try his luck. He tested on all his equipment and didn't expect one of them to succeed!

Chapter 807: Shining Earth Light

Ye Zhongming noticed that two things reacted to the yellow Fertile Soil.

One was the Spirit Qilin Pendant, and the other was the mental energy recovery necklace.

With the experience from modifying the pants, Ye Zhongming knew that he had to use a certain amount of Fertile Soil before the equipment would change. He didn't hesitate and used hundreds of grams. Very quickly, the Spirit Qilin Pendant changed.

The most eye catching thing was naturally the grade increase. The silver pendant was upgraded to green.

Next would be the huge change in skills.

“Spirit Qilin Pendant, ability 1, Space Magnetic Field, form a magnetic field that causes metal element attacks to veer off course.”

“Ability 2, time charge, the Spirit Qilin Pendant will charge when it isn't activated. The longer the time, the higher its defense.”

This was its previous description. There wasn't any accurate stat value. This had to do with it being white grade when he just obtained the equipment.

And now the ability had changed.

“Eath Spirit Qilin Pendant, ability 1, Space Magnetic Field. People who enter the magnetic field would suffer from two times gravity and causes metal element attacks to veer off course.”

“Ability 2, time charge, the Spirit Qilin Pendant will charge when it isn't activated. The longer the time, the higher its defense.”

“Ability 3, Earth Charge. The pendant has a special way of charging. Every 500 hours, you can bury it in the earth and charge it. When needed, you can activate it. In a period of time, obtain the ability of Space Magnetic Field, the time it lasts will correlate with the number of times it is charged. When this skill is activated, it doesn't affect the normal time charge from continuing.”

“Ability 4, skill sacrifice. When the user faces a fatal metallic attack, the equipment will sacrifice all skills to help block the skill. After skill sacrifice, you can use special methods to charge it.”

“Earth Equipment, along with the added stat Shining Earth Light. When the wearer is on the ground, all the user's jewelry skills will increase by 10%.”

As compared to its previous stats, the number of skills had increased, and they were much stronger. For example, the upgrade of the 1st skill would give Ye Zhongming the choice. He didn't have only to activate this when he faced ranged metal attacks. He could activate it at any time and cause the target to deal with two times gravity. If he were caught off guard, it would be a killing move.

Ability 2 didn't change, but there was a new way to charge. This allowed the ability to activate at any time and wouldn't affect the time charge's usual state.

The thing that surprised Ye Zhongming was ability 4. This ability caused it to jump to a piece of top equipment. That was because it gave the user a new life.

This type of equipment that helped to substitute death was rare in his last life. It was even rarer than nine-star evolution potions and purple equipment. No matter who it was, if you had such a piece of equipment, you would keep it. Everyone wanted to have many lives so they wouldn't die. They wouldn't give that opportunity to others just for some gain.

Things were rare, so they were expensive. Moreover, there was no supply in the market.

One could say that this pendant was more valuable to Ye Zhongming than the Crystal Energy Demon Gun and the Gate of Sacrifice.

Also, even after using skill sacrifice, the equipment wouldn't get destroyed, and its grade wouldn't drop. It would still be a piece of green equipment and could be charged again to regain its four skills.

As for the method, Ye Zhongming knew a few, but they were difficult to complete.

Last would be the Earth equipment ability similar to the pants. The difference was that the pendant affected jewelry and accessories to raise their effects by 10%. It seemed ordinary, but it was actually a practical skill.

It was a very good item.

Ye Zhongming wore it and immediately felt a sense of safety. With it, he was more confident walking out of this mysterious space.

After this, he modified the mental energy recovery necklace he obtained at the start of the apocalypse.

This necklace was special as its abilities could be upgraded. After the Fertile Soil upgrade, it also reached green grade but it didn't get more abilities. The abilities it had were advanced. Naturally, it also had the Shining Earth Light bonus.

“Advanced Meditation Oasis (Upgradeable): Mental energy recovery speed +75%, advanced meditation trade (upgradeable): Absorb crystals to replenish mental energy.”

“Earth Accessory with Shining Earth Light stats: When the user is on the ground, the effect of all accessories will increase by 10%. Effects can stack; the upper limit is 50%.”

The recovery speed went from 25% to 75%, which was a huge increase. The advanced meditation exchange went from needing five units of demon crystals for 1 unit of recovery to 1 unit, which was also a huge leap.

The description of the Shining Earth Light also solved one of Ye Zhongming's questions. It was about equipment stacking. It seemed like it wasn't the case of wearing a hundred accessories and getting a 1000% increase. This was more reasonable.

This mental energy recovery necklace was decent, so Ye Zhongming wore it. It meant that his mental energy wouldn't run out. He didn't need to worry about such issues when using skills in the future.

Ye Zhongming easily passed the second space. Another barrier shattered, revealing the path to the third space.

When Ye Zhongming entered the third space, the demon monster had also passed the first two spaces. It was holding its huge stomach. Its body was shriveled on the ground, and it cried out in pain.

There were some materials by its mouth which were the black soil. It actually ate it.

Its stomach gave off a green light. From the outside, one could see what was going on inside. The baby in the womb was rolling about. As the light flashed, one could see what it looked like.

What sent a chill down Ye Zhongming's spine was that the hip of the little monster had three sharp tails!

Chapter 808: Multi dimension veil

Demon monsters surrounded them. Jayce, Ji Ruiguang, An Man, Zuo Jinxuan looked at the demon monsters around them, and their expressions weren't good.

Delin Is he okay?

Jayce was a seven-star evolved. Even if Xia Bai had taught him a lesson and the Chain Prisoner stepped on him, he looked fine now.

It was just that his expression was solemn. He looked at the demon monster horde and was worried.

The weird thing was that the four of them just stood there. It was as if the demon monsters hadn't seen them and heard what they said.

After this incident, he should mature. In the future, he has to lead on his own so this is a good chance for him.

Ji Ruiguang observed. Half a minute later, the demon monster horde would leave, and they would get out.

This was a piece of invisibility equipment. He spent a huge sum to purchase it, and now it was used. This was a one-time use equipment and would disappear after use but he didn't regret using it.

What a waste of this--- Dimension Veil.

An Man's heart hurt. After all, if this equipment was used well, it could save a life.

As long as we get that thing, it would be worth it.

Ji Ruiguang's voice was firm. The other three, even the seven-star Jayce and Zuo Jinxuan, didn't make a sound. Although their levels were above Ji Ruiguang, but if they fought, they didn't have the confidence to defeat this C Zone commander. Moreover, his promise to them tempted them to stop being neutral and to stand on his side. Unfortunately, Mu Xinfei, Guang Yao, and Cloud Peak didn't follow; if not, they could take some of the losses.

An Man said reluctantly.

That cant be forced; after all, we arent on the same side.

As Ji Ruiguang said those words, the demon monster horde passed them and headed towards the team that tried to break through. The four of them stepped out of the veil and the equipment turned to ash.

Lets go! Ji Ruiguang walked in that direction. In his heart, he prayed for the team that left and hoped they could make it out.

But he knew that they would have to pay a huge price.

There was something Ji Ruiguang didnt mention. Because C Zone got ambushed, their foundations were hurt. They would have fallen from grace if they left like this, even if they broke out. They could only gamble and hope that they could make a comeback.

They sacrificed their lives, and he sacrificed his reputation.

These were Ji Ruiguangs thoughts.

Sister Liang, two hours have passed.

Ah Yang reminded her. Half of the defense time had passed, but nothing changed. To the people that were trapped, this wasnt a good sign.

The boss said that he would spin a wheel, so how long would it take? He even took the Exquisite Floating Ball. Two hours could take him a distance away.

Unease appeared in their hearts.

The demon monsters were still outside the barrier. Some of them jumped to the top and started hitting it to try to break it and jump in. They wanted to kill the humans and capture their women to use as reproduction tools.

Many warriors were terrified when they saw the vicious faces.

Maybe breaking out with the big team was the better choice.

Dont worry, it will be okay. Although we cant contact Ye Zhongming but the battle contribution badge had more points. Only killing high level evolved would have such an increase. Your boss is still fighting.

He tapped Ah Yangs shoulder and consoled this young fellow.

Some moonlight shot in from the gaps between the demon monsters. The people within the Crystal Nest Barrier waited for their unknown fate.

Ye Zhongming passed another two spaces, both black Fertile Soil spaces. He noticed that the guardians of the black soil were all plants. This was ideal for Ye ZHongming as he could take 50% less damage.

So he crossed them easily. Even if the mutated plants were stronger than the first space the damage they dealt to Ye Zhongming was limited.

He stood within the 5th space and didnt enter. He observed the surroundings and saw that the demon monster hadnt moved for a long time. He didnt know why. He even noticed that the paths he took started to twist, but they all headed towards the depth. Was there something there waiting for him?

With such questions, he entered the fifth space.

Shock flashed across his face. Even if he was prepared, but when he saw it, he felt like it was unbelievable.

It was clean red soil!

This should be the third and final type of soil.

Who knew what the guardian of this soil would be?

The Cannibal Flower still followed Ye Zhongming. From the initial two, it turned into five. Four were Earth series, and one wasn't.

As long as he wanted, he could nurture more of them. But Fertile Soil was too precious. He didn't know if he could get more in the future so he should save as much as possible.

Ye Zhongming started to collect the red soil, and the guardian lifeform appeared. Ye Zhongming was shocked as it was a mutated bear.

It wasn't huge, as it wasn't an adult, but it roared when it appeared. Its body grew larger, and it pounced on Ye Zhongming. It slapped with its palm, causing a sharp wind-breaking sound.

Ye Zhongming's Cannibal Flowers could finally be put to use. Five flowers stood alongside him, and they were the ones dealing with the bear.

This time, it didn't stop after one attack. The bear continued to attack and battle the Cannibal Flowers. Its body was very nimble. When the five flowers wanted to bite it, it dodged.

Ye Zhongming found a chance to join in.

The situation was one against six.

Right when Ye Zhongming was battling the red Fertile Soil, Ji Ruiguang and the other three appeared outside of the wheel. They looked at the Gold Exquisite Floating Ball parked there and had an interesting expression.

Chapter 809: Getting busy

They didn't expect a human to arrive here before them.

Only Ji Ruiguang and An Man knew how much they sacrificed for this special wheel. They were taking the risk that once things were exposed, they might end up as the enemy of mankind.

They thought it was safe, and even if they faced demon monsters, thinking from another angle, it wasn't bad as no one else could get here quicker than them.

Who knew that someone would?

This feeling was as if you had married and were about to go to bed, but someone ran out of your room holding his pants!

Damn, damn, damn! An Man's bald head got brighter, Why is that kid here? How is he here? How did he find out about this?

An Man and Zuo Jinxuan looked at each other. The former looked away; seemed like this low eq woman wouldnt think too much about this.

Ji Ruiguang calmed down. He walked around the wheel and bent down to check the three corpses. He then observed the low-level crystals and frowned.

Lets go; there is no point in saying too much; just head in, and we will know what happened. Ji Ruiguang touched his pocket and took out a crystal, If we bump into Ye Zhongming, kill him!

Level eight crystal? Jayce was shocked when he saw the crystal. Zuo Jinxuan even shouted out loud.

Even if they were all seven-star evolved, they hadnt killed level-eight mutated lifeforms. Naturally, they hadnt obtained a level eight crystal. After all, they needed a huge team to kill a level seven lifeform. Their attempt on the level eight Chain Prisoner was a test.

Who knew that Ji Ruiguang had obtained such a demon crystal? This made them even more fearful of this C Zone commander.

Only Ji Ruiguang knew how much he had spent to obtain this crystal to activate this wheel. He even signed a humiliating contract, even

Ji Ruiguang even used his C Zone forces as bait to lead people here. One of the reasons was that he had privately given out some resistance zone things to get this level eight crystal. If the matter was revealed, he would have no space to live in the resistance zone. If he wanted to continue in his position, he had to become stronger.

Sometimes, he would regret it. But he knew that he had no way back. He had to grit his teeth and persist.

When he thought about that organization, even the Resistance Zone would feel mysterious-- God Hall! As well as that mysterious research chief, Ji Ruiguang would feel a chill down his spine.

Enter!

With the mentality that he would go all out, he pressed the level eight crystal into the hole. The wheel changed as before, and the three colors turned into a door.

Come, lets enter together so we wont split up. Ji Ruiguang told them to hold hands and the moment they entered the door, they headed in.

Things outside of the wheel calmed down.

But Ji Ruiguang and the others didnt notice that when they were preparing to enter, a translucent tentacle came out from the ground and stabbed into the few corpses that they stopped paying attention to.

When they walked into the wheel, the three corpses started to dry.

At the instance that the four figures disappeared, a two-meter tall, beautiful tree popped up from below. There was a beautiful female face and a female body inside the stem!

The Death King Tree continued to follow, and it actually appeared here!

Very nutritious, but it's lacking in texture.

That female face closed its eyes in enjoyment. The two high-level demon monsters were turned into dried corpses as its branches sucked them. Next, the female corpse enjoyed such a treatment.

This one has good texture but the energy is lacking.

The Death King Tree could speak fluently in human language. After muttering to itself, it turned to the wheel.

So fragrant, so fragrant! The Death King Tree sniffed it and was excited, So fragrant, if I eat that thing, I can regain my peak strength and even complete the evolution. Should I enter?

The Death King Tree hesitated, I even smell Ye Zhongming, also, ooo. The ally of these two things but it is stronger than them. Should I enter?

When the Death King Tree hesitated, the door started to shrink. It would disappear in a few seconds. The Death King Tree looked, and its desire for good food won over its rationality. Before the door disappeared, it headed in.

Ye Zhongming, who didnt know about all this, was in a tough battle. This red Fertile Soils protector was mutated bears. At the start, Ye Zhongming had just to kill the small bear. But after the fifth time they appeared, a mature mutated bear would fight him each time he took the soil.

This bear was huge and very strong. Moreover, it would use one or two earth element skills. Ye Zhongming had taken some hits, and his body was injured.

The Cannibal Flowers all died on the 15th when he collected the soil. For it to be able to kill five Cannibal Flowers with one skill showed how strong the mature mutated bear was. Ye Zhongming was barely able to defeat it.

After killing the bear, Ye Zhongming panted and took a break. The gravity not only affected his agility but also his stamina.

He had spent a long time in this space as he had to kill the mutated bear each time. This made him annoyed. He wanted to continue collecting soil and ignore the number of mutated bears, but it wasnt feasible.

He wasnt confident in blocking such strong attacks.

When he collected the soil for the 16th time, he had to use the Needle Birds.

Ye Zhongming didnt use them against the demon monsters as their skin was thick and their bodies were strong. The Needle Birds couldnt pierce their skin; if he used them, they would just be wiped.

The mutated bear was similar to the demon monsters but he felt like their skin were weaker which was why the Needle Birds could be of some use.

The truth proved that they helped. But when the mutated bear used the earth element skill, the flying beasts that he spent so much to nurture suffered huge losses which made his heart hurt.

But to pass this stage, he had no choice.

Very quickly, he obtained the last bit of Fertile Soil. It took him 30 tries.

A mutated bear appeared.

Chapter 810: Killing bear

The space was originally small and now that this giant bear appeared, it took up a quarter of the space. Ye Zhongming could only retreat to a corner and hold his blade warily.

The special situation made him helpless. He couldn't use his active skills, and his passive skills had no attack. Guns were prohibited, and he was forced to use his blade.

This went against the attack methods that survivors were used to.

Ye Zhongming could only rely on the Needle Birds, but a fifth of them were lost. But facing this giant bear, he didn't have too much hope for them.

Because... This giant bear... Had heavy armor on it.

It was green, and red patterns were carved onto it. The heavy armor protected important areas, like its stomach and neck, giving Ye Zhongming the feeling that he had no place to attack from.

He thought about it and activated his bloodline. Hell Envoy.

Fortunately, this place didn't prohibit the usage of bloodlines.

He was covered in darkness energy and charged with his blade.

Since he couldn't dodge, he would just fight it head-on.

Cloud Peak had its own battle style, which was crazy. The representative figure of this style was Xia Bai. Apart from her, Liang Chuyin, Little Tiger, and everyone else inherited that feature.

Going all out was the symbol of being a Cloud Peak warrior.

But why would the others have such a style if the leader of Cloud Peak didn't? Ye Zhongming didn't behave as apparent as his subordinates because there was no need for him to go mad.

But looking at Ye Zhongming's journey, at the start, he targeted the level four Chain Prisoner. He then entered the dungeon. He chased the zombies out of the granary and then charged into the city to get the Poppy Wheel. He then entered the Secret Realm and set up the trap to get Soul Merchant, Glory Army, etc factions into the competition death wheel.

No matter which of them, it proved that Ye Zhongming was a crazy person. If he made a decision, he would charge forwards. Anyone who wanted to stop him, be it humans or demon monsters. Be it mutated lifeforms or factions, he wouldn't care.

That was because he knew that he would just kill them.

It was the same this time. As compared to the Chain Prisoner or Yangos, this mutated bear wasn't as terrifying. But because the mysterious space prohibited many things, he found it slightly tough.

But so what? He would just kill it.

This bear didn't expect the human to attack it immediately. It hadn't even roared to show its might.

The bear looked at the human, whose movement was slightly slow in its eyes. Disdain flashed in its eyes, and it slapped.

Ye Zhongming stared at its movement, and the blade slightly deviated to brush past its palm. He clenched his left fist and hit the bear's palm.

At least from a visual standpoint, this was an unequal clash.

A human fist, even if it was the fist of a mature person, was so small in front of a giant bear. But the clash shocked everyone.

Ye Zhongming was knocked onto the ground, and he had some blood in his mouth. His left hand, which had a few broken fingers, was totally deformed. His wrist was broken, and he couldn't even lift his left hand.

But the bear didn't feel good either. That palm was twisted, and it was injured, too. The part on the palm without armor had a bone-deep wound that was bleeding profusely.

The instance when Sand Dance brushed past it, it had flicked the bear's tendons.

Just one hit and both human and bear lost use of an arm.

The bear gave off its loudest roar, not to show its might but because it was in pain.

“Stupid bear!”

Ye Zhongming laughed coldly, and the Needle Birds started to attack. Their target was the head and face that wasn't protected, especially its eyes.

The bear instinctively wanted to block. After all, that was its only weakness. But it realized that one of its palms was injured and it couldn't use it. If it used the other front limb, then it was forced to stand.

As it stood up, the remaining upper limb hit the Needle Birds. Ye Zhongming called it stupid once again before charging forward. Even if gravity affected him, the space was too small, and he was under it instantly. Sand Dance thrust forward, and it sliced the back leg that was holding it up.

That place wasn't protected.

Blood splattered, and the big fellow was injured once again. As it couldn't support its body, its body shook, and it fell to the ground. The defense of its face got messy, and the Needle Birds stung its face. A loud scream filled the space.

Ye Zhongming didn't hold back and wanted to end the fellow. But at its life and death moment, it fought back.

It gave up on its defense, and the remaining palm slapped in front of it. A thick power filled the space, and sharp stone spikes appeared from the ground.

Ye Zhongming had to change his target. He jumped to dodge while slicing the stone spikes.

When these earth element skills came out from the ground, they would poke towards the sky.

As they were too dense and were very quick, many Needle Birds were stuck into the ceiling and crushed.

This wasn't over. The bear slapped its palm onto the ground, and many table tennis ball-sized stone pieces rose up. They first reached a certain height before mixing. It was as if a machine had been switched on, and they started to spin, forming a stone rain.

Be it Ye Zhongming or the Needle Birds, they were forced into a desperate situation.

Ye Zhongming could only protect his head and allow his other parts to be hit. He kept the Needle Birds back into the next and tried to walk in the heavy rain.

The stone pieces caused Ye Zhongming to bleed from all the holes. If it weren't for his strong equipment, which was all green grade, along with his strong body, it would have been turned into a porcupine.

But he held on. He stared at the rain and the stone spikes and walked to the bear's side.

Sensing the enemy, the bear used three legs to support itself before pouncing at Ye Zhongming.

Ye Zhongming stared, pushing his body close to the bear's mouth and sending himself in. When the bear bit his equipment, it couldn't close its mouth. He waved the Sand Dance and stabbed into its open mouth!
