

THE PRINCESS AND THE PAUPER (ARABELLA)

Chapter 2187 (End)

Chapter 2187 (End)

During the evening, the atmosphere was buzzing with excitement as guests like Erlinda, Barry, and Adair came up to toast Arabella and Romeo.

After dinner, the emcee, Swift, took to the stage and announced, "Now, we come to the highlight of the evening — our portrait raffle for all our esteemed guests. We invite our six couples to join us on stage to select sixty-six lucky attendees for our grand prize."

The six couples ascended the stage, where six steps rose to meet them, revealing a 4-foot tall heart-shaped column.

With a touch from both partners' hands upon the surface, the magical selection would begin as the portraits of the guests spun in a flurry.

Romeo and Arabella placed their hands on the heart-shaped column, as did the other five couples.

Behind them, the giant screen came alive with a cascade of faces, ticking down from three. And at one, they all removed their hands, revealing the sixty-six lucky faces on the screen.

"Congratulations to these sixty-six guests, you've just won a luxury car!" Swift announced.

The room erupted in cheers and applause.

"And for those of you watching the live stream, don't you wish you were here?"

Swift's words had viewers shouting at their screens, [Yes! Yes!]

Even though they knew Swift couldn't hear them, they couldn't help but vocalize their excitement.

"Everyone can join the fun by scanning the QR code on the screen behind me and taking part in our cash grab game. Just a little hint — ninety-nine lucky viewers will win a random cash prize worth over a thousand dollars. Let's start the countdown from ten."

As the countdown began, those watching scrambled to participate, wishing they had more hands to scan and win.

Swift watched the countdown end and smiled, "Time's up! Congratulations to the ninety-nine lucky viewers — your prize money will be transferred to your accounts shortly. And thank you for your attention to this wedding."

Turning to the camera, Swift continued, "Moreover, the Collins family and the McMillian family have joined forces to build ninety-nine schools and ninety-nine hospitals in underprivileged areas. They're also donating a billion dollars in charity funds to support medical care for children with severe illnesses. Additionally, each guest here will contribute to a breakfast program for rural children, including donations of books and school supplies. Let's give them another round of applause for their generosity."

The applause was like a symphony, resounding and harmonious.

"As our evening comes to a close, on behalf of the six couples and their families, we thank you for joining us. Please step outside to enjoy the grand fireworks show. Afterward, feel free to stay or go as you please."

Those wishing to stay could find plenty of rooms in the castle, while others could take home goody bags and be chauffeured away by luxury car or private jet.

The goody bags included skincare and perfumes from Arabella's own brand, limited edition designer bags, and even high-end watches, shavers, and lighters from the Collins and McMillian family brands, all for the taking.

Guests applauded once more before rising to the enchanting garden outside, awaiting the fireworks display. The sky blossomed with vibrant fireworks, competing like flowers in a garden, filling the night with wonder.

Romeo cupped Arabella's face, kissing her lips tenderly, as if she were the only thing in the world. Please read the original content at .

The fireworks soared, leaving streaks of brilliant color, mirroring the feelings of the couple as they embarked upon their journey together. Please read the original content at .

Fireworks exploded in the sky, morphing into hearts, and finally depicting the six couples kissing. Amidst the grandeur, the other couples joined in the embrace.

They had agreed with Romeo and Arabella to get their wedding certificates on the same day after the honeymoon, so they could celebrate their anniversaries together every year. Please read the original content at .

Finally, the word "Forever" lit up the night sky, bringing the wedding to a perfect conclusion.
