

Arceus 101

Chapter 101 Playing Dead

Shaina really doesn't know what Kaluqiu means, but she can understand this kind of behavior. The Lunaria are also a minority, and they also have their own way of communication.

Just rub it, there is nothing missing anyway, but when she chased down, all she saw was Jhin and a corpse.

"You solved the man?"

"No, let that guy run away, but everything that needs to be dealt with has already been dealt with."

Jin pointed to the ash on the side, the strange pattern next to it was the sacrificial pattern of the Lunalia family, Shaina fanned her wings, and the ash and pattern on the ground disappeared.

It can be seen that Jhin has found the pair of wings and completely burned them.

"What's up with these people?" nOveIuSb.cOm

"The leader here, who is called the manager, was not here in the first place. These people who moved his collection, and those we met earlier are all bait."

Jin outlined the people he met along the way. As for how he got the information, it was not difficult to knock out some information from those people.

"What's going on with this fur tribe?"

"The one who was rescued on the road was also caught by them. She said she knew the location of the manager, so I took her with me."

Shaina's voice paused, the wolf-fur girl said that she could smell the manager's position, but Jin said that there was no such manager here, so what exactly did the fur tribe in her arms smell and chase after her?

"Little guy, did you really smell it right?"

"That's right, that's for sure, it's the guy who smells like this."

Jin looked in the direction of her finger, and it was the guy who spat out the key information. At this moment, Jhin also felt something was wrong, and the wolf-furred girl said it confidently.

And when he pressed for information, he naturally wouldn't leave only this one. The information of those people has one thing in common, that is, the manager is not here.

He kicked the opponent on the chest just now, so he must be dead, but to be on the safe side, Jin walked over again.

When he touched the other's body, he finally understood what the problem was, although there was no problem with his breath, and he didn't breathe.

But the muscles of the corpse are stiff, the joints are difficult to bend, and the body temperature is lowered. This is indeed the manifestation of death, but it is too fast. In such a short time, it is impossible for the corpse to reach this level.

He was tricked by someone who was pretending to be dead, and he almost let him get in.

Jin punched him in the head with a punch. He was about to take a look, but his head was gone. How could this person pretend to be dead to him?

But at the moment when the fist was about to hit, he actually twisted away, and his body shape also changed, and his whole body was covered with gray hair, which was the reason why he could pretend to be dead successfully.

Fauna - Rat Fruit - Possum form.

The animal-type physique made Jhin misestimate his strength, so he failed to kill him in one hit. Possum's talent for pretending to be dead allowed him to temporarily deceive Jhin, because Jhin was very confident in his own strength and didn't think ordinary people could take it. one foot.

In addition, the others were all his confidants, and he did not reveal his news, and he himself passed a fake news to Jhin when Jhin forced his disappearance, and then decisively chose to pretend to be dead when Jhin was silenced.

On the surface, he is really dead, which is why this situation is brought about.

As the manager of this organization, he has been hiding his own strength. He cannot climb such a high position in the underground world by relying on his management skills and brains alone. A certain amount of strength is also necessary.

"Damn fur kid, I should have killed you in the first place!"

He did not expect that the reason for his exposure was his own goods.

"It turned into mouse fur!"

"That's the power of the Devil Fruit. You've helped me a lot this time."

Shaina patted her head and put her down. He wouldn't waste time checking the target of Jhin's killing, and the follow-up treatment would probably be to burn the place on fire, so he would probably escape. sky.

And he may have seen Jhin just sending away the relics of the deceased. If it is exposed, it will not be worth the loss, but now, he has no chance to play dead again.

"Jin, your punching skills are still a little short."

"It's just an accident. The mouse that will pretend to be dead is still a mouse. I won't give him another chance."

Four boulders appeared out of nowhere and locked the manager, preventing him from moving. That is rock blockade, a control skill that Jhin often uses today.

Jin then pulled out the long knife around his waist, and the flame was attached to the blade. As he waved the blade, the flame dragon flew out from the blade, and the temperature in the channel became very high for a while, which made the wolf-fur girl very uncomfortable. Uncomfortable, what fur people hate most is hot weather.

A coat of fur makes their heat dissipation ability much worse than that of ordinary humans.

"No wonder you can play dead, your vitality is really tenacious."

Looking at the manager who was charred but still alive, Jhin walked up to him with a blank face, and the tailor who made him a mask can be said to be very attentive.

Not only is the breathability and elasticity of the fabric excellent, but it can even feedback his expression changes, at least one can see the extent of the changes in the corners of his mouth.

"Wait, why do you have to do things like this? We never offended you, did we?"

"The dead don't need to know that much, you did it, and it was an unforgivable sin."

Jin raised his knife and chopped off the manager's head, and then burned his body and head into charcoal. He couldn't believe that this man was still alive.

After finishing all this, scattered footsteps came from behind, and the ordinary members of the beasts had broken through to the bottom, which also showed that the battle above was completely over.

"Let's go"

Even if they are not interested in this island, they still have to take the spoils back after winning, and they have also found a lot of gold here. Although Bailey's value preservation is not bad for so many years, the big forces will still exchange the money they get. into gold.

is convenient for storage and preservation.

Apart from gold and some works of art, the most trophies are "people", those caught by organ trafficking assassination groups.

This time Kaido became a good person and sent them directly to a nearby island. It wasn't that he wanted to be a bad person, but that he wanted to spread the matter through their mouths. This kind of behavior of destroying an organization's headquarters was very important to the sea. For a thief, it's something to brag about.

It was naturally impossible for the beasts to send them home one by one. They just put them on an orderly island nearby and left, but not everyone chose to leave. The wolf fur girl seemed to be relying on them.

has been holding on to Shaina's thigh all the way, like a pendant, and just followed all the way back.

"We are pirates, do pirates understand? We are all bad people."

Looking at the fur girl who is relying on her, she is very helpless. Even if her current identity is a pirate, she is still a target wanted by the world government, but she does not think this identity is any good.

If it weren't for the mess at the time, if it weren't for the World Government that was chasing after her, she might be living a very peaceful life now.

Olga is a special case. She was almost targeted by the World Government because of the pure gold, and her "courage" aroused Kaido's interest, so she was pulled on the ship as a trainee.

This fur girl's fighting power is higher than that of ordinary pirates, but she is too naive, and it is not difficult for Shaina to understand why she was arrested.

Trusted her in just a few words, and it was normal to even rely on her little guy being kidnapped and caught.

This kind of innocent kid should go home and live an innocent life instead of going out to sea as a pirate.

"But aren't you good people? Good people can save people."

The logic of is very simple, so simple that Shaina doesn't know how to refute her for a while.

"Good people also do bad things, and bad people occasionally do good things. For the sake of your help, I'll send you home directly. You should know the way home, right?"

"I don't know, the life card of returning to Zuowu has been lost before, and I don't know where the elephant master has gone now."

The Elephant Lord is the real body of Zou Island, a giant elephant with a strange body structure. Since the furry principality is located on the back of the Elephant Lord, its position is not fixed. After losing the life card, even the fur tribe cannot find it. The road, at most can find the approximate location.

She is not joking. The life card was lost when she was arrested earlier. If you really want to send her back to Zou, you will have to spend a lot of effort, or find the life card to Zou on the black market.

"I'll tell you, pirates are a very vicious group, you guys, don't be hilarious, make me look a little more vicious!"

Out of the corner of her eye, she saw a few pirates who were carrying supplies. She planned to let them show the attitude of pirates and let this innocent fur girl know the truth of the situation.

But she made a mistake. No matter how malicious the expressions of humans were, they were insignificant compared to wolves. In her eyes, these pirates were just making faces.

"Big sister, we don't seem to have much to do."

"Forget it, let's do your business." In the end, Shaina returned to the boat with this leg pendant. It was easy for her to get it off, but after all, she saw through the manager's disguise, so she couldn't do it well.

"You really decided?"

"It's decided, I'm going to go with you guys, and then become strong, and when I go back to Zou, I'm going to impress them!"

When the ship of the beasts began to return, there was such a small fur tribe on board.

"Shaina, do you have an extra valet?" Novelusb.Com

"Master Holy Beast, she was rescued on that island, but the situation is a bit special."

Then Shaina outlined her specific situation.

"If you want to follow, let her follow. People are always responsible for their own decisions, fur clan."

Elephant Lord has been moving in a sea area due to punishment, and his information ability is much worse than that of the Millennium Dragon flying all over the world.

Kaido is happier about this. After all, the fur tribe is a fighting tribe. With a little training, any adult fur tribe is a powerful fighting force.

A group of people under the Hundred Beasts have been sailing in various sea areas to search for the whereabouts of the slate, but the effect is not obvious due to the manpower and strength. The fur tribe is a natural fighting tribe, so Arceus came to the deck at night.

"The image of the fur tribe, that's fine."

Five slates flew out one after another. After thinking about it for a while, the lightning slate appeared in the middle. In the past, he used the power of one slate or a little bit of the power of his body, but this time, he activated all the slates.

Because this time his purpose is not to transform, but to create. Creation is his ability. No matter whether the slate is collected or not, this ability is there, but he basically never uses it.

If you lose the slate, you will lose your handy tool. It is quite laborious to screw the screws with your bare hands, but it is not bad to try and create with the five slates.

A light spot appeared out of thin air in the air, and then began to develop like an embryo, and then a yellow figure about one meter five appeared on the ship.

"Sure enough, creation is the most laborious"

Compared with the short time of transformation and empowerment, this creation took longer, but the effect was also more obvious, and soon the creature in front of Arceus opened his eyes.

moved his lower jaw slightly and knelt down on one knee in front of Arceus.

"Zeraora, see my lord."

Zeraora, the Pokémon of the Thunder, the Eudemons, the first Pokémon created out of thin air by Arceus in this world, and gave him a certain ability of memory and language, which can be said to be a waste of himself. strength.

"From today, your identity is a fur tribe born overseas. Go and have a good relationship with that wolf fur girl. Your goal is to become the new king of the fur tribe in the future."

Farming development is a kind of gene in the bones, the beast, the channel of BIG-MOM, the Millennium Dragon, he has been expanding his channel.

The fur tribe's fighting strength is not bad, especially the moon lion. When he finds a more suitable slate to let him create the moon * and then create the moon god, anyone of the fur tribe who can open the moon lion at any time and place has to weigh it twice.

The Furry Principality and Wano have an alliance. They are allies but not vassals. If Inuarashi and Cat Viper had not inherited the throne of Zou, plus Jack's behavior on the island, the fur tribe wouldn't be like a vassal state. Same.

However, because Inuarashi and Cat Viper became Oden's retainers, the status of this ally who was originally worthy of brothers has deteriorated. If there is another king, the attitudes of the two sides will eventually change.

Zeraora's shape is an upright cat, no different from the cat fur tribe, and the power of using electricity is the same, except for the moon lion form, he can perfectly support this identity.

The fur tribe born in the open sea is not without, no one can deny him, and then Arceus began to charge Zeraora.

Different from ordinary electrical Pokémon, Zeraora does not have a power-generating organ, but he can absorb the electrical energy from the outside world and store it for use.

Chapter 103 Weird Fruit

The Pokémon created by him will not betray him, and indirectly controlling the Fur tribe through him is a simple and feasible way.

As for the girl with wolf fur, Zou can accept the coexistence of two kings, so he asked Zeraora to deal with wolf fur, and their relationship should be closer before returning to Zou.

Zeraora was originally a genderless Eudemons, but he modified it slightly, if he can successfully attack it, it is not impossible.

This time is not expected to be short, after all, this wolf fur girl did not want to go back at all.

At night, the wolf-fur girl had already fallen asleep, so Arceus called out a few cadres first and introduced them to Zeraora, except that they knew Zeraora's true identity, and he would be an outsider in the future. Only cat fur clan.

Jin and Shaina had nothing to say, but Shaina felt a little strange, obviously she came first, but now Arceus seems to have a new confidant.

So she felt empty. In this case, an introverted behavior gradually emerged, the purpose was to prove who was the most reliable confidant.

However, this kind of involution has not been reflected yet. When the wolf fur girl woke up the next day, she found that there was a new fur tribe on board.

She sniffed carefully, and Shaina also shared with her some common sense overseas, but the aura on Zeraora was completely different from that of ordinary humans.

This must be the real fur tribe from the outer seas that she has never seen.

"Karuqiu~"

"Karuqiu."

At present, it seems that the first step of contact is relatively good.

The height of one meter five is not very tall in the pirate world, and although he instilled some common sense and language skills in Zeraora, he was just a "child" who was just born.

Getting along with wolf fur is not bad, everything in the open sea is very novel to her, whether it is Kaido with horns on his head or Arceus.

Shaina was taking Olga before, but now Olga is basically a teacher, and she has more wolf fur girls and Zeraora, which is quite like a kindergarten development trend.

But she was very happy about it, at least she was still trusted and valued by Arceus, so these things were arranged.

After a few days, the beasts returned to the main island with the spoils of the trip. The environment of Winter Island made the wolf fur girl like it very much. The fur tribe was afraid of the heat. Seeing snow for the first time.

"Zeraora, look, it's snow! It's really cold!"

Compared to a strange human being, a special fur tribe with less hair, she felt familiar with the orthodox fur tribe, so she got along well with Zeraora.

And Shaina seems to have more attributes of a magic stick recently. Under the dual influence of her and Zeraora, the wolf fur girl subconsciously worships Arceus more.

"In an instant, run slower."

She jumped out of the boat before the boat could stop. Moment was her name, but she was just a white wolf.

Although Zeraora told her to slow down, it seemed that she was still too late.

She ran too fast, accidentally bumped into something, looked up and saw a fat human standing in front of him.

"Fur tribe? Where are you from?"

This is Quinn who came to pick up the boat. He wants to count the spoils and take the divided parts back and divide them.

I didn't expect that a fur tribe would jump off before the boat docked, and there were more than one.

"I brought this one back, and that one was brought back by Lord Holy Beast. Do you have any comments?"

"No, of course not, what a cute fur clan, do you eat fruit?"

Quinn, who was still impatient just now, showed what it means to change the face at the speed of light, and took out two fruits.

Anyway, it's not surprising that the people from Hundred Beasts went out to bring a child. Last time Jhin and Olga went shopping, they brought back thirteen children. Now those people are still working in Asier's studio. Woolen cloth.

This time, Shaina and the others went out and picked up two fur tribes. Next time he picked up a murloc, he wouldn't think it was a strange thing.

But she has wolf fur, and although she also eats fruit, she doesn't have a big hobby for fruit.

In the sky, the thousand-year-old dragons that turned into Archaeopteryx flew to the hills behind one after another. There is their new gathering place. Everything is good except that it is cold.

This is not the first time to fight, many things have a fixed process, Shaina went to arrange accommodation for Shanna and Zeraora, Jin returned to the warehouse with the treasure, Quinn took the rest and the ledger Divide the spoils.

Kaido walked around for a long time without doing anything, so when he returned on a whim, he didn't know where he flew.

Kaido loses contact every day. When he is away, the person in charge is naturally Arceus. The accumulation of the organ trafficking and assassination group for many years has been in the hands of the beasts. What is distributed are ordinary treasures, and some precious things are naturally collected. stand up.

Those so-called works of art that Arceus could not understand, and those things were of higher value. Compared with those dead objects whose value could change at any time, devil fruits and famous swords were more valuable to pirates.

However, there are no swordsmen in the Hundred Beasts. Although Jhin uses knives, he only uses knives as tools, and the knives collected this time are not very famous knives. They have been temporarily included in the treasure house, waiting for it later The owner appeared.

The most meaningful thing harvested this time is probably a Devil Fruit.novelusb.com

"Quinn, do you know the type of this fruit?"

"Wait, Boss Arceus, this fruit is a bit rare, I have to look for it slowly."

Devil Fruit Pokédex also has a directory like a dictionary, which is classified according to the pattern, color and fruit type of the fruit, such as the shape of an apple, cyan, square feather pattern and the like.

And this fruit is inconvenient to classify, so it is more complicated to find.

"Maybe it's an unrecorded type, no, I found it."

Not all Devil Fruits are recorded in the illustrated book. No one can say exactly how many Devil Fruits have appeared over the centuries, and no one can say how many unseen fruits there are.

But in the end Quinn still found the record of this fruit, it seems that it was fortunate to have an owner.

But looking at the records in the picture book, Quinn fell silent, not knowing what to say.

"What's the matter, what kind of fruit is this?"

"Renren Fruit - Ancient Species - Primitive Human Form." Looking at the records in the pictorial book, Quinn gave the answer hesitantly.

Without him, this fruit sounds too weird.

Chapter 104 on whether evolution can cross planes

"The primitive man?"

There are many kinds of devil fruits. In theory, any type of animal fruit will have common species, phantom species and ancient species.

Renren fruit also occupies a large category in the Zoology Devil Fruit, but the ancient species of Renren fruit are stronger ordinary people?

"Yes, if the picture book is correct, this is the fruit of the primitive man. After eating it, it can turn a person into a primitive man."

Quin is also puzzling about this. The most basic ability of the animal fruit is the three-stage change. Most of the animal fruit is the strongest in the form of a beast, which can make people have the power of a beast while maintaining the flexibility of the human body.

But the human-beast form of this primitive man fruit seems to be just a muscle-building effect.

"Which stage of primitive man?"

The primitive man covers a wide range. If the theory of evolution is equally applicable and reasonable in this world, then the more primitive it is, the more similar it is to monkeys, and the more modern it is, the more human it is.

And this world is not only a race of human beings, but also many demi-human races, long-legged, long-handed, three-eyed, snake-headed, murloc, fur, giant, and little human. Are these people in ancient times? Having the same ancestor is an open question.

If so, the potential of this fruit may be great.

"The description of the illustrated book should be of primitive people in modern times. It feels like a very strong savage. There is no more detailed record."

Such a thick picture book is of course not only the name and appearance, but also the general description of the ability. Although the primitive fruit is only recorded in a few words, the image revealed is very close to the modern person.

"No way, Lord Arceus, this is not my major, and I don't know how detailed it is. Why don't you find someone to try?"

"Forget it, put it away first, it's an ancient species after all, don't waste it."

It's really not good enough to be eaten by Millennium Dragons. Although they have been transformed, they can still eat Devil Fruits. Human Fruits are still very practical for non-human beings.

But if an ordinary person ate the most ordinary human fruit, it would be interesting to see what the result would be.

"Yes, I see."

"How's the new fruit seedlings for you?"

"It's growing well. The seeds you cultivated, Mr. Arceus, are really unusual. Those fast-growing crops have already borne fruit. The taste is excellent, and it's a taste I've never seen before."

"Work hard, good things are indispensable to you, but you still need to pay attention to some aspects, you understand what I mean."

"Don't worry, I've already paid attention to this issue. The residents of the island and the group of pirates under my command feel pretty good about me now."

He knew that what Arceus emphasized was that he did not take his subordinates seriously at all. After a long period of correction, he could be considered to have corrected this problem, and now he treats his direct subordinates well.

Including but not limited to giving them a platter made of some special fruits just produced in the laboratory.

This is for the sake of the future, otherwise Quinn could easily become an unstable factor within the beasts.

But at this time, a strange voice entered Arceus' ears.

"Did you hear anything?"

"Something seems to be discharging? No one should dare to make trouble here, is the generator broken? Wait, I'll go out and see"

said that Quinn walked out of the room belonging to Arceus, or the villa, if Kaido didn't plan to live on this island forever, the houses here would have been directly built into palaces.

Recently, Quinn has been very smooth in all aspects, his domineering has also made a new breakthrough, and he has not been attacked by unknown for a while, but when he walked out the door, he saw a white light and shadow rushing towards him.

It didn't look very loud, but the sound of the discharge came from here, and then he was stomped on his face.

Years of life almost formed a conditioned reflex, and the domineering defense instantly blocked the attack, and then grabbed the unknown object with both hands.novelusb.com

"Who are you? That kid from the fur tribe?"

"Nice job Quinn, grab her and don't let go!"

Shaina and Zeraora chased from the side. Not long ago, Shaina was arranging new houses for them. Everything was fine, but a gust of wind blew away the clouds in the sky, and then something happened.

I looked up at the sky for a moment, and then the hair on the tail and hair began to grow rapidly, and the whole person became pure white, and then entered this out of control state.

At first, she started frantically attacking some creatures around her, and then she seemed to think that Shaina and Zeraora could not be beaten, so she started running around.

Shaina and Zeraora didn't know what was going on, so they kept chasing behind and didn't dare to do anything until Quinn caught her.

Listening to Shaina's description, Quinn looked at the moon above her head. Today is the full moon, and everything has an answer.

"You are still young, this is the "real" attitude of the fur tribe, Moon Lion, but this little guy seems to be untrained and out of control."

"Moon Lion?"

"Well, as long as the fur tribesmen see the moon on the full moon day, they will awaken the sleeping wildness in their bodies. If they can control them, their strength will increase, but if they are not well controlled, they will attack the creatures around them indiscriminately, until The moon disappears or wears itself out."

Shaina and Jhin are indeed inferior to Quinn in terms of learning, and their life experiences are completely different.

However, she didn't seem to want to listen to Quinn's science, a powerful electric current burst out from her body, but nothing happened.

Zeraora directly took over the moment, and all the currents released were completely absorbed by him.

"That's right, isn't he also a fur clan? Wouldn't it be better to leave the fur clan's affairs to the fur clan?"

"He's different, he was created by the holy beast."

"I'll give her a sedative? But this state may not work"

Quinn didn't ask much, Arceus probably had his own plan, he just needed to understand the speciality of Zeraora, but when they were struggling with how to deal with it, a bell rang from behind them.

Healing Bell, this bell also calmed down the violent moment.

This out-of-control state is undoubtedly an abnormal state, and healing the bell can certainly restore its calm.

"Take her back to rest, hang the curtains thicker, Zeraora, come with me."

Zeraora does not know the moon lion, but the manifestation of the moon lion is that the color becomes white, the strength becomes stronger, and the length of the hair will vary from person to person, so Arceus intends to add a skin function to Zeraora.

Chapter 105 The Law of Conservation of Qi Luck

The white Zeraora with different colors also exists, and the different colors of different Pokémon are also different. This may be a genetic problem. After a little modification, Zeraora has a one-click skinning function.

"Usually when it doesn't exist, when the moon is full, you can choose to change the color of the coat, release a stronger current, and usually close it hard."

"As ordered."

The next day, she woke up from her sleep. She didn't seem to remember what happened last night, but she felt a little weak in her legs.

sat up and rubbed her face, a full moon appeared in her memory

In the past, untrained young fur tribes were forbidden to go out during the full moon, but in the days of the organ trafficking and assassination group, she did not know the date, and she did not even know that yesterday was the full moon.

Originally had a good time on the snow, but when she casually glanced at the moon in the sky, everything changed.

"Oops! It's the Moon Lion!"

There were people watching her in Zou, but there was no outside. She liked it here, at least the villagers here didn't mean to be afraid of her.

For the residents of the Beast Territory, it is not uncommon for those with animal abilities, so the residents here do not have any special feelings for the demihumans of the fur tribe.

It would be bad if the senses were deteriorated due to the destruction caused by a moon lion transformation.

opened a crack in the curtain, it was daytime, so she ran out directly, but it seemed that there was no battle here at all.

I walked to Zeraora's house in an instant. Outsiders were strictly prohibited from approaching Shaina's residence. Yesterday, Shaina emphasized this issue to her again and again, and she remembered this very clearly.

"Zeraora, are you there?"

"I'm behind you, it's noon now."

When he didn't get a response, he was trying to climb in through the window, and Zeraora happened to appear from behind her. He went to the tailor to make a suitable set of clothes. The fur tribe's clothes can be very few, but they will not be worn, otherwise it becomes streaking.

Although skins are originally Pokémon's clothing, they don't care about an extra coat. The number of Pokémon wearing human clothes is quite large, especially in the gorgeous competition.

"Um, did something happen last night. It's too much?"

"If you mean you turned into a moon lion, it did happen, but don't worry, nothing happened."

"Fu~ that's good, I'm still worried about being driven away, but what was the specific experience last night? Was the moon covered by clouds?"

Untrained fur tribes do not have the ability to actively disarm the moon lion, either exhausted or the moon disappears.

However, this exhaustion of physical strength does not mean lying down, it means dying from exhaustion.

She is still standing here completely, which means that the Moon Lion state has ended prematurely

"Master Arceus helped to lift your violent stance. Where are you going?"

"Go and say thank you."

"Don't be frizzy, this is not Zou, you have to get used to the rules outside, and Lord Arceus isn't there either."

"Where is he then?"

"Now, it should be at the banquet."

"Banquet?"

Zeraora felt that he underestimated the difficulty of the task that Arceus gave him. He was obviously still a child himself, so why should he take on the task of raising children?

The moment of 's initial contact with the outside world is like a hundred thousand whys, full of unknowns about everything here.

And his understanding of the world came from Arceus, Arceus only gave him a preliminary common sense, so when he asked, Zeraora didn't know what the answer was.

But the sound of his stomach solved the trouble in an instant.

"Come on, I'll take you to the banquet to eat."

The fur tribe does not avoid meat and vegetarian food. Except for hairy creatures, cattle and sheep are not in their recipes, except for poultry and sea beasts. Although Zuowu is closed, there is no shortage of spices, but it is similar to a grand scene like a pirate banquet. But rarely.

"Ah woo~" A huge chicken leg was stuffed into her mouth, and in the end even the bones were chewed and swallowed.

The people of the organ trafficking and assassination group did not eat or drink less, but she was on a hunger strike to seek death, so she has been forced to force-feed some nutritional creams. Although it is nutritious, the taste is hard to compliment.

The cook of the Beast Pirates is not very good, but it is also above the average line, and the baked food is very suitable for her taste. Novelusb.Com

"Zeraora, aren't you afraid of getting hot?"

"Hot?"

"Yeah, the cat viper has a cat's tongue. He is especially afraid of being hot, and he can't eat anything hot."

This is also the characteristic of cat furs. In her opinion, Zeraora is also cat fur, but she is not afraid of being hot at all.

"I'm not like him."

"Indeed, you are much more handsome than him, ah woo."

I was only interested in these foods, and now she thinks a banquet is a good thing.

And other pirates also quickly entered the atmosphere, the banquet culture is a special culture among pirates

Although Kaido has not returned yet, this does not affect his subordinates celebrating the victory of the battle, but now some people are surrounded by the venue.

"Hey hey hey, isn't your luck too good for you kid?"

"Yeah, why is the headgong this time yours again!"

"No way, I'm lucky."

The winner of this time, Mandelfish, was also the one who got the water splash ability last time. Shaina and Jhin took care of all the tough bones in this battle. They were more just supporting the game. .

Although there are computational merits, most people just share money.

And Mandelfish did not participate in the attack due to his ability to splash water, but jumped to and fro on the sea behind the island, just so that he bumped into some people who wanted to escape with the savings of organ trafficking and assassination groups for many years.

When the manager tried to escape, he only brought heavy treasures, and the rest of the huge wealth was in the hands of these people, so the first skill fell to him after the evaluation, which made many people feel jealous.

But they also had to admit that this kid was really lucky, and he was so lucky that he really hit the word "phantom" with the smallest area.

"Quinn, bring up the second plate."

After winning this one, you have to draw the attributes, and after the attributes are drawn, you have to draw the way to obtain them. Finally, what is the ability to extract. The process is still relatively complicated.

His luck in front of him has been pretty good, water attribute, direct transformation without borrowing fruit, but when he finally extracted specific abilities, his luck seemed to be overdrawn.

Divine beasts, phantom beasts, quasi-gods and other powerful abilities do not appear here, they are prepared for people with more outstanding talents, but there are many outstanding abilities among the remaining abilities, occupying different areas according to rarity and strength .

This time he failed to inherit his previous good luck, but the dart landed steadily on a red carp pattern.

Chapter 106 The Carp King Who Was Covered With Bones

If he had drawn the fruit transformation method, he would have entered a waiting period, waiting for the Beasts to find a suitable fruit, but he was lucky enough to draw a direct transformation.

Although there is no problem of being afraid of water in this way, the range of abilities is also limited to the attributes of five slates. The red carp is naturally the famous carp king.

They can be found in various waters. Although they are weak among aquatic races and may even be washed away by powerful currents, they have tenacious vitality and can adapt to various water environments.

Whether it is freshwater or seawater, lakes, rivers, and oceans, they are all found here. The trained carp king will also become powerful and can climb the waterfall against the current.

Although he can't evolve into a tyrannical carp dragon by his own strength, the ability of the carp king is also an ability. At least he can breathe and survive underwater after entering the human-beast form, which is equivalent to the ability of a murloc for nothing.

Individual differences have always existed, and the carp king can also become stronger after training, but the process is more difficult.

But he got the ability of the carp king, not the carp king, so it depends on him how far he can go.

As for whether this ability will cause any trouble.

No one would care that the Hundred Beast Pirates had an ordinary ability, even if this ability was a little too strange.

How many people are able to sail on the sea is unknown, and the ability of the King of the Carp Mandelfish may cause him to be mistaken for murloc blood.

All kinds of strange abilities come from Devil Fruits, and those with fruit abilities cannot swim. This concept has been deeply ingrained in the eyes of the World Government.

The things that Arceus can empower others will inevitably come to light with the passage of time. Arceus' empowerment is not done secretly, but is similar to the appearance of the Holy Spirit in front of people, so that his subordinates can work harder. Novelusb.coM

Now these people are all reliable cronies, but as the scale of the beasts expands, government spies will probably approach here.

This ability will arouse the interest of the world government, but it will not let them dispatch all of them. It is very likely that some agents will be dispatched to act in secret.

Not everyone will be able to draw the ability of the water system, and not everyone will be able to personally transform it. It is impossible for Mandelfish's luck to be engraved on everyone. After all, there will only be a few people who can swim.

And the ability is divided into strong and weak, but the user of the ability is also very important, and the degree to which the fruit can be developed depends on the user's own talent.

In the eyes of the world government, only those who intend to subvert the world order are the real enemies, such as Wald who escaped from prison in the original timeline, Zepha who broke away from the navy and became Z, or Rox who hijacked the Dragon Man in the Valley of the Gods, and the Dragon of the Revolutionary Army.

Kaido will be regarded as a powerful pirate, but he will not be regarded as a real confidant, otherwise the world government will not trade with Kaido and sell him such things as tyrants.

Shanks can also see the Five Old Stars directly. No one can tell exactly what the world government has done behind the scenes.

Compared with the ability of this carp king, the real identities of Jin and Shaina are more interesting to the government.

The racial identity can be self-disguised, and the ability to give it cannot be concealed, unless all those who have obtained the ability are squatting at home, and none of them go out.

But in this way, it loses the meaning of empowerment. Although they are ordered to keep their mouths in control outside, this can only delay the time of exposure.

But don't worry too much, there is nothing strange about the frequency of ability people appearing now.

With the Buddhist management method of the world government, except for the killing of the Tianlong people and the subversion of the regime of the allied countries, other things can be regarded as trivial matters.

The issue of the regime of the allied countries must also be brought to the fore, otherwise no one will take care of it.

When you see a threat and when to deal with it, this is the attitude of the World Government towards most things. Anyway, every once in a while, their Lord Im will clean up, and that is the real power of the World Government.

The power was injected from Arceus into Mandelfish's body. It didn't take a few days this time. It can be said to have an immediate effect. Mandelfish felt the power pouring into his body.

"Hey! Mandelfish, what the * are you doing, what did you get!"

"That's right, how come it's so fast this time, you can't die, right?"

Seeing him in a daze on stage, the people below immediately started booing. These people are all people who watch the fun and don't think it's a big deal.

"Don't be stunned, what kind of ability is it, use it and show us!"

"Shut up for me! I'll let you guys see my power!" As he spoke, he began to mobilize the energy in his body with the consciousness in his brain.

Red scales began to appear on the surface of the body, and two golden beards extended from the corners of the mouth. At first glance, it was similar to Kaido's transformation posture.

"No way, this guy got it"

"Similar to Big Brother Kai. Pfft! Hahahaha, no, what kind of ability does this guy have!"

The pirates below went from shocked to sluggish, and then from sluggish to hilarious. The transformation effect was really strong at the beginning, but when the transformation ended and the image of the carp king was fully revealed, everything was different.

is indeed a fish fruit, but his fish fruit is really a fish.

"What are you laughing at! Do you have this power!"

"No, we know that you have gained power, but we can't help but laugh. Are you turning into a murloc? Can you go into the water?"

If he can go into the water, then his position as a scout can be very stable, and I am afraid it will only be inferior to Elizabeth.

"Yes, and more than that."

Mandelfish jumped into the fountain beside him, and he floated smoothly without feeling weak.

Then he felt a more detailed ability and a more tenacious vitality. The previous water splash seemed to be linked to this ability. He felt that he could jump higher now, and his body became more tenacious.

jumped vigorously in the water, and as expected, his jumping ability was several times stronger than before.

patted the scales on his body, and finally took out the knife around his waist and stabbed him. The blade did not pierce the scales, but slipped past, leaving no scars on the scales.

This is also an incidental ability.

After all, the carp king has almost no meat, except for his internal organs, which are scales and bones. His human-beast form is similar to getting a layer of scale bone armor, which is very hard.

Chapter 107 Morgans of the Title Party

He even let others slash himself twice. Although he left some traces, he still did not break the defense, which means that his safety level has skyrocketed in the bottom battle, and ordinary pirates can no longer hurt him. .

Although the long-range attack of the flintlock gun will hurt, it can also be blocked. With this ability, he can conduct reconnaissance underwater. With the water flow and this layer of scale armor, ordinary muskets cannot cause effective damage to it.

And the ability to dive can also allow him to effectively avoid most capable people. As long as he doesn't die, his growth path is much safer than others.

Even the most common carp king, the ability he has obtained is enough to make others envious. The banquet is not over yet, but everyone is walking towards him with their wine glasses. He doesn't want to leave here today.

"Ahhh~ what are those people doing? Do they have any grudges? Why do you give him so many unpleasant things to drink?"

Two grilled chickens, three grilled fish, and a large piece of meat from a sea beast filled his stomach in an instant, watching the pirates' drinking behavior on Mandelfish in a puzzled way.

"No, it's a way of showing that they have a good relationship."

"Really? The outside world is really interesting, and people can actually turn into fish."

"That's the power of Lord Arceus, don't you want to become stronger, since you stay, work hard, you also have a chance."

"I don't want to be a fish."

"There are many forms of ability, but he's just not very lucky." According to the law of conservation, a person's luck has a certain total value. He has used up his luck before, so the last round of the lottery was not very good. .

"Is that so, can you become a more powerful wolf?" Momo licked the oil on his paws and seemed to be expecting something. Cat Viper and Inulan left Zuowu two years before her. When Zuowu's people found out that they two After one ran out, it can be said that it caused a sensation.n0veluSB.cOm

She also wanted to be the center of attention, so Zou's new king became her ideal.

"Probably, but these are still too early for you, where do you want to go?"

"Go and thank Lord Arceus, and he can teach me to control the moon lion. The people in Zou said that I was too young to learn."

The inheritance of Zou is that those who are proficient in moon lions teach the juniors how to control the moon lions. Since Arceus can relieve the violent state of her moon lions, he should also know how to teach her to control this power.

Controlling the moon lion is the fastest way for the fur tribe to increase their strength. Although there will be a time limit, it is good to be strong one day a month.

"Don't worry, I'll take you there when the banquet is over."

He is a life created by Arceus, and he has his own understanding of many things. The traditional way of greeting the fur tribe is Kaluqiu. If you choose to greet Arceus in this way, it may be regarded as disrespectful.

However, this is part of the etiquette in the fur tribe. It is not good to refute her in public. Zeraora intends to go back and let her slowly get used to the customs outside.

"By the way, Zeraora, can you use the moon lion?"

".Won't."

"Don't you know? I still want you to teach me, then we'll learn together."

Since the previous abilities were granted for three days, the banquet of the beasts lasted for three days. Mandelfish was drunk in turns, and finally was carried out by his roommates. Everyone was sober, but He hasn't woken up yet.

And he was * with a rope and taken away. Although he was drunk, he seemed to have really become a carp king in his dream and kept jumping around.

And Zeraora also took a moment to find Arceus, he had already said this issue in advance, Arceus allowed this matter, he really did not understand the moon lion, but he could still do it how to control the moon lion.

With his healing bell, he won't get completely out of control in an instant, practice makes perfect, and after a few tries, you can always master the moon lion.

And it's similar to Zou's way.

Kaido is still missing, but his life is in jeopardy, and there is no news of his arrest in the newspapers. It seems that he is in good condition.

But in the past few days, the news that the headquarters of the organ trafficking and assassination group has been completely destroyed has also spread, and the news mainly comes from the people who have been released by the beasts.

They don't know why the beasts want to attack this organization, but it doesn't matter, the people of the beasts rescued them, so their words contain a lot of goodwill towards the beasts.

Morgans performed an artistic process on this, and he compiled an article on the beasts that no one could believe. He actually added the name of "justice" to the beasts.

Because there is too much news about pirates burning, killing, and looting, unless a country is destroyed, it will not attract the attention of others at all. At this time, there is a pirate group that conducts "just" behavior, and this kind of article is even more eye-catching.

The result is still the same, the headquarters of the organ trafficking and assassination group was destroyed, but the writer Morgans found made up a lot of reasons and processes for the Beast Pirates to start.

I could write a novel if I took it out. Generally speaking, the sales of that issue of the newspaper were quite good.

Beast territory.

"Aren't we going to rob treasure? How did it become like this?"

"I don't know, I remember Boss Quinn said it was a revenge operation, who cares, it's over"

At the Navy Headquarters, Sakaski looked at the headline in the newspaper with an angry look. Although he had only joined the Navy for more than a year and had just left Zefa's new barracks, in his opinion, no matter what the pirates did, they would always Not worthy of those two words.

Morgans' newspapers gave different feedbacks from all parties, but the biggest debate happened in the conference room of the world government. These are the officials of the center of the world government. Not everything needs to be solved by the five old stars. Government agencies are the main force.

The two sides of the debate can be divided into two factions.

The side believes that the unreasonable attack of the beasts is a huge threat to the world and should be eliminated earlier, because he is the one who connected with the organ trafficking and assassination group.

He boasted to the Tianlong people what the organ trafficking and assassination group could come up with, but the actions of the beasts destroyed all these things, and his own interests suffered huge losses.

The other side is the beneficiary. A large part of their income comes from artificial organs and prosthetic limbs. The organ trafficking and assassination groups have disappeared, and the vacant market has been quickly occupied by them.

The two sides are enemies because of their interests. Although he has no connection with Kaido, he just wants to see the other side shriveled.

In the end, the former proposal was not passed, and in the underground world, the actions of the beasts have also caused an uproar

Chapter 108 Talks in the Underworld

In different islands in the new world, the principals of various underground industries walked into the rooms prepared in advance, picked up the phone bugs in their hands after the time arrived, and soon several projection screens appeared in front of them.

Slightly blurred figures appeared on the screen. They were the kings of various fields in the underground world of the new world. In recent years, the underground world has also undergone a major reshuffle. They are the winners in those open and secret battles.

The organ trafficking and assassination group has taken a place in the underground world no matter what. The headquarters of such a force was suddenly destroyed, which naturally caused a lot of noise in the underground world, and also attracted the attention of these industry giants.

There are five screens in front of everyone, and they contain most of the business in the underworld is still only a middle-aged man, but the signs of gaining weight are already obvious.

The main business of is loan sharking, and he is the master of currency circulation in the dark world. Almost all the gold exchange offices in the new world have his shadow behind him, and his power is also distributed in the casino.

Big News Morgans, President of the World Economic News Agency, with the ability to form an albatross of birds and birds, his main business is to inquire about various news and then publish newspapers, control all kinds of information in the new world, and like to make big news.

is always shown in the form of a birdman, so that some people suspect that this is an albatross who only ate the fruit of Renren, not the one who ate the fruit of the albatross.

Stucci, Queen of Happy Street, the real age of the only woman here is a mystery, no one knows how old this woman is, the controller of the New World Red Light District, and some serious entertainment industries are also related to her.

However, her identity is not simple, she is also an agent of the World Government, and a lot of information about the World Government is obtained from her.

Pirates can easily reveal some news on the boat, and there are many pirates who are good friends of her girls.

The Ocean King, the deep ocean current Umit, the bearded man has not grown up yet, and he looks quite energetic. He is the person in charge of the marine transportation industry in the underground business of the New World, and the person with the most widely distributed business.

The pirates in the new world are almost inseparable from his business. He has a few hidden ocean currents in his hands, which can more safely deliver the goods to their destinations, and the charges are not cheap.

The owner of the warehouse industry, Hidden Master Kibsen, this year his beard is still black. He is closely related to the Umit business. One stores goods and the other transports goods. Most of the goods in the warehouse are contraband, which can be said to be smuggling. a part of.

is that some of the things that Kaido purchased earlier were also found from him.

Big Hand Undertaker-Dragou Piccro, a young killer who has just entered the industry .

However, he has now switched to picking up business. Although he always carries his scythe, he rarely ends up in person.

The disappearance of the organ trafficking and assassination group was the biggest beneficiary. The medical equipment company related to the world government took away the organ transplant business, and the assassination business was taken away by him.

Not long ago, he also saw a big list, which was the mission to assassinate Kaido released by the remnants of the organ trafficking assassination group.

Although the headquarters was destroyed, they still had other strongholds outside. This organization did not disappear completely, and still existed in other places, but without the commander and the original umbrella, it was no longer a climate.

Why Kaido attacked the organ trafficking and assassination group they do not know, today he can attack the organ trafficking and assassination group, and he can attack other forces tomorrow.

Even if they have a sheltering force behind them, it doesn't mean that the other party will not dare to take action. Even if they will seek revenge for the sake of face, if they are all dead, what is the use of revenge?

If these people are united, although they can't pose a threat to a big pirate, they can make him very troublesome.

Each pirate has its own territory. If you don't want to have frequent conflicts, finding them as middlemen is the best way.

If they work together, they can make a certain island in the New World lose its way of importing materials. After all, pirates can't go through official business channels.

But that doesn't do them any favors for businessmen, unless the fish die and the net is broken, they won't do it.

"Morgans, why did Kaido do this, don't you really know nothing?"

They are all thousand-year-old foxes. There is no need to play Liaozhai. They are very clear about the virtues of Morgans. Although the news was written with a lot of gimmicks, they did not believe a single word of the content except the name.

But he must also have real news in his hand. Everyone is sitting here for a meeting, so there is no need to hide it.

"What if I say this news is true?"

"It's not a joke." Piccro changed his posture. If the beasts really destroyed the headquarters of this organization for that kind of bizarre reason, then his business is very similar to theirs, and the next one is probably not myself.

Kaido is not a veteran pirate of the New World. He has not been in the New World for a long time. He can be regarded as a "newcomer" in the New World Pirates, and this newcomer has already shown a strong fighting power, whether it is himself or a newcomer. The same is true for the cadres under him. www.novelupdates.com

The price of pets of ordinary pirates is generally not more than 1000 Baileys, but even the pets of the Beast Pirates are worth 5000 Baileys, which is Piercro's inner thought.

But if this idea spreads out, he is likely to be on the next kill list of the beasts.

"It's a pity why Kaido did this, I don't know."

"Morgans, you bastard!" Hearing Morgens gasping for a while and saying the word he didn't know, Piccro had an urge to give him a haircut.

"Don't be in such a hurry, haven't you received the news from Lingling?" The only female voice came, and Stuthy said calmly.

"what news?"

"If you haven't received the news of the tea party, it should be soon." She and Charlotte Lingling had a good personal relationship and received the news earlier.

Charlotte Lingling's tea party is held irregularly every year, and the principals of the underground world are also the main objects of invitation. They have attended BIG-MOM's own wedding several times.

"Is she married again?"

"No, this time it has something to do with Kaido, who you care about, and the beasts are also on the invite list."

Speaking of which, Stucci's tone became a lot more serious, and figuring out the purpose of this tea party was one of her tasks.

Chapter 109 News of the Tea Party

Charlotte Lingling's tea party has been held several times, and it's not a secret in the underground world. Since her children are still very young, the reasons for holding the tea party are mostly her own wedding or the child's full moon ceremony.

The frequency is random, the purpose is random, and sometimes the tea party is just to satisfy her personal hobby.

Her hobbies are holding tea parties and collecting all kinds of rare and exotic beasts, and her ideals are also very good. So much the same.

The principle of all nations is that no one will be rejected and no one will be allowed to leave. Anyone who wants to leave the nations will almost have to pay the price of their lives.

As for the tea party, her invitation to the tea party cannot be refused, and those who receive her invitation to the tea party and do not attend will receive her gifts, the heads of those who are close to them.

Charlotte Lingling has a very close relationship with the underground world. It can be said that she is ahead of other pirates in terms of intelligence. It is not the first time for Stucci and others to deal with her, and they have long been surprised by the tea party.

Even treated this tea party as a gathering, BIG·MOM's territory was safe, at least when Charlotte Lingling had no thoughts about them, they didn't anger her, and at the same time, they didn't trigger eczema.

It's just that Kaido's name appeared in the list of participants this time.

As an agent of CPO, of course Stucci reported this matter to her boss, and the order she received was to investigate the reason why Kaido had contact with Charlotte Lingling.

The headquarters of the organ trafficking and assassination group has just been destroyed. At this point, Charlotte Lingling actually had contact with Kaido. Although she and Kaido are not considered sea emperors now, they are not as significant as their contact decades later.

But they are not the top pirates, they are also the best in the second echelon, and most importantly, they are the remnants of Rocks.

After the Rocks Pirates were disbanded, the remnants of the Rocks hardly ever united. The intrigue of John, Silver Axe, and Wang Zhi and the tea party where Charlotte Lingling discussed matters are completely two meanings.

What they want to do, will it cause more trouble, the world government may not adopt policies, but they cannot be ignorant.

So this has become Stucci's current task, and this meeting in the underground world has come to an end, and these things will be clear when the tea party is over.

As long as Charlotte Lingling and Kaido are not crazy, they will not do anything to try to wipe them all out, then the underground world of the new world will enter a complete chaos, and it will not be stable for more than ten years. It's no good for anyone.

A vacancy in the organ trafficking and assassination group will be filled quickly, but all the positions are vacant, then the trouble will be big.

A group of people are preparing their own gifts, but they cannot go to the tea party empty-handed.

The members of the BIG-MOM pirates also began to collect tributes to the affiliated islands to prepare for the holding of this tea party.

On the other side, on the main island of the Beast Pirates, Kaido, who lost contact, flew back again, and also told the news. This is what he did after he lost contact for a while.

To continue to use Charlotte Lingling's intelligence network, you must develop the next relationship. Quinn's bananas have entered the mass production period, and some of the first-generation fruits of other fruits have also been cultivated, which is just good for Charlotte Lingling. Talk about some follow-up collaboration issues.

And the beasts also need to open up new sales channels. After the organ trafficking and assassination group, the underground world seems to have a sense of fear for the beasts.

This is not conducive to future development, so Kaido intends to speak clearly through Charlotte Lingling's tea chat and the people in the underground world.

Training ground, the following group of people are doing their own training, either cadres or children, they are the current and future core members of the beasts, while Kaido and Arceus are discussing something.

"BIG-MOM's tea party?" NOvelUsb.com

"Well, some things have to be solved through the woman's tea party, and the export of those fruits. The output is a bit high, and we can't digest it internally, so we can just exchange more funds and borrow her intelligence network."

Even if the second-generation bananas cultivated based on tropical dragon bananas have a much longer shelf life than ordinary bananas, they are still bananas, and the shelf life is not too long, and Quinn's production is very large, fresh and dried bananas. The number has exceeded the demand within the beasts.

If you don't sell them, you can only make them into dried bananas. However, there is a time limit for the preservation of dried bananas. In order not to waste them, it is necessary to expand the channels.

BIG-MOM's tea party is different from a banquet. There is no barbecue and spirits at traditional banquets. The meat products are honey-flavored. Most of the black tea and desserts. To be honest, Kaido does not like this kind of scene, but for the future development, he Still have to go there.

"How about that, are you interested in that tea party?"

"No interest, someone just brought back a new message, I'm going to take a look over there."

"Alright, otherwise, it would be more than worth the loss if you turn against her." Charlotte Lingling has a strange obsession with exotic animals, and with the unique characteristics of Arceus, it is easy to arouse her interest.

Although she couldn't * someone from Kaido, new conflicts could easily break out between words.

"Let Jhin and Shaina follow you this time. Quinn and I will go with you, just to let him brag about his fruits. By the way, do you little brats want to go!"

Kaido asked the people below, Charlotte Lingling is sometimes good to children, and will show her motherly side first in individual cases.

But no one could answer him, they were all nervously dodging Arceus' attack.

Arcetes training, spiked cannon evasion training, Shaina and several cadres were also blindfolded, the purpose was to train their eyesight, the power under control will definitely not kill, but it will hurt a lot.

It will only be remembered when it hurts. Now, no matter how much you get beaten, you can't die, but it's not necessarily the case on the battlefield.

He and Kaido have a clear division of labor, Kaido is responsible for the armed color, he knows more about the strength of this aspect, and Arceus's attacks can better control the frequency, and he is responsible for seeing the color.

Arceus stopped his spiked cannon while choking the time, and Susanna and Olga also lay directly on the ground.

They haven't been asked to cover their eyes yet, but even if they can see it, the attack of this frequency will consume a lot of physical energy, and the fur-type and animal-type abilities can't bear this kind of thing.

"Huhu. Tea party, what is it?"

Chapter 110 Undercurrent*novelusb.COM*

The moment lay down, she was the first to ask questions, she had never heard of a tea party before.

"A tea party is probably a place where a group of people drink tea and chat. It will feel very boring."

This is the conclusion given by Olga. A tea party was also held on Alkemi Island before, and a group of adults chatted there for an afternoon. Apart from being bored or bored, this was Olga's most intuitive feeling.

"That woman's tea party is still a little interesting for you little brats. I'll start tomorrow. If you want to go, go to the Beastmaster to gather yourself. Also, your training tonight will be temporarily cancelled for one day."

It's true that Kaido never attended Charlotte Lingling's tea party, but that doesn't mean he doesn't know anything about it. She used to do something similar when she was on the Rocks ship, but it would be more like a house game.

The pirates on the Rocks ship don't like this kind of crepe party, but the various desserts made by the BIG-MOM pirates are also famous in the new world, so Kaido will say that children should be interested.

There were also vacations during training, and this tea party was counted as their vacation days, but Kaido stopped Quinn, who was planning to sneak back.

"Quinn, where are you going?"

"Go back and pack your things, didn't you say that tonight's training is cancelled?"

"I mean that the training of the little devils is canceled, not yours. Take a five-minute break. If you don't want to lie down, you'd better work harder."

Kaido took out his mace from behind, and the domineering arrogance attached to the mace made Quinn feel very dangerous.

Although he said ruthless words, Kaido actually kept his hands today, at least this time he didn't aim at the face and hit him.

After the training, Quinn dragged his tired body back to his laboratory, where he picked some fruit from several other fruit trees.

is also a tree fruit, but these tree fruits are not castrated versions, but a complete version of Arceus' improvement. For those who have acquired the ability of Pokémon, these fruits are natural medicines.

The special effect of tree fruit can only play a full role in Pokémon abilities, and can only play a small role in ordinary people.

At this time, what Quinn picked was a grapefruit fruit, which can restore physical strength.

The skin of this fruit is astringent and bitter, but the flesh is sweet and sour. The larger-scale planting is the ordinary grapefruit fruit that only retains the taste, and it is also one of the things to carry this time.

In addition, there are peach peach fruit and mango mango, which are tree fruits that only retain sweetness, both of which have a special sweet fragrance on the leaves.

Peach peach fruit has many unique holes inside due to the particularity of growth. Although it makes the pulp more rare, it also has a special taste.

Quinn skillfully opened the grapefruit fruit and put the pulp into his mouth. The physical injury was effectively improved. Since the appearance of this tree fruit, Kaido has increased his training efforts.

Under the influence of the tree fruit, the body of the Pokémon capable person recovers very quickly, and even if the injury is caused, it will not affect the subsequent training. As for how this conclusion was reached, Quinn, as the first experimenter, has a lot to say.

checked what he was going to bring, and made sure that there were no full-length fruits mixed in, Quinn personally moved them to the "Beastmaster".

"Brother Kai, don't we need to prepare any gifts for BIG·MOM's tea party?"

"No, we are not just customers, but partners. This time we just want to establish new connections with those people in the underground world. Whether it's these fruits or arms, they have to be sold to be valuable."

The beasts can not prepare these things, but others can't. Morgans and others are called the kings of the underground world, but it does not mean that they are really kings.

Their existence does not depend on absolute strength, but demand, which means that they are not irreplaceable. There are many people watching their business, and many people want to replace them.

If a person who replaces them can do better, then others will never want to avenge them, and it is one of their principles to have a good relationship with the big pirates.

"President, what you want is ready."

World Economic News, a staff member handed the packaged things to Morgans.

Happy Street, Stutty also picked up a small treasure box. The value of the items in the treasure box is only qualified. Charlotte Lingling enjoys the thrill of opening the box. She can accept anything that is not particularly outrageous.

BIG·MOM is holding a new tea party. This is no secret in the underground world. Those who received the invitations tried their best to make time no matter what they were dealing with, while those who did not receive the invitations were also eager to do something, such as organ trafficking. The remnants of the assassination group.

Hundreds of beasts destroyed their headquarters, but the group's armed organization, the people they call the commodity capture department, has not been destroyed, and some people have the idea of revenge for the organization.

And the members of BIG·MOM are also active in each island, flour, icing sugar, honey, fruit, ship after ship of things are sent to the center of the Totland Kingdom, the cake island

Undercurrents are surging in the underground world. The BIG·MOM Pirates are preparing the materials needed for the tea party, but the Beast Pirates look like they are outing.

In addition to Kaido and Quinn, the reserve cadres in the regiment were all on the boat, Olga, Elizabeth, Setsuna, and Zeraora who accompanied Setsuna.

Neither the fake underage nor the real underage could hold back their curiosity about the tea party, so they chose to go and see what BIG·MOM's tea party was like.

At the same time, Arceus also embarked on a new route again, this time he took Jhin, and the defense affairs in the beast territory fell to Shaina alone.

But apart from those who just entered the new world, the pirates of the new world will not suddenly declare war on Kaido, and Shaina's ability is enough to handle most things.

It was precisely because she was a bit stronger than Jhin now that she was left on the island.

A few days later, the Beastmaster had arrived at the Totland Sea area, and the sea below had turned into a sea of juice. If Olga had finally cured her nausea from fruits in the past two years, this sea area would have belonged to her. Nightmare.

"Zeraora, look over there, such a big creamy fruit pie."

In an instant, her hands were hanging on the side of the boat. She was not as tall as the side of the boat. Otherwise, she couldn't see what the outside looked like. Except for the colorful juice sea below, the first thing she saw was a giant cream floating in the sea of juice. fruit pie.

It doesn't make sense for fruit pie to float on the sea, but it's not surprising that it has the words of BIG-MOM's pirate flag on it.
