

Arceus 1061

Chapter 1061 Money ability, time of the year and drought in the future

With the debut of Cavendish, the Performing Arts Department of Beast Fruit has made up for the lack of idol-style male stars.

With Tezolo and Stella as the core, Uta and An as the new generation, plus Cavendish and Xindori, their lineup is gradually getting stronger, but in this world, their combination is too normal.

There is no overly exaggerated body shape, and there is no outrageous character design. Although there will be unicorns and horses participating in the performance, compared to the group of strange creatures in the sea, they are already too normal.

Comedians are not without them. If Quinn is not a bounty hunter, then Tezolo can arrange for him to debut every minute. With Quinn's character, he may be immersed in it.

But this kind of thing is unrealistic. Quinn's reward is basically impossible to wash away, at least in today's world government.

If one day his bounty really disappears, the only possibility is that he has been banned by the world government.

So after Tezolo heard that there was a very special skeleton shelf here, he put the new team building location here.

"Is there something wrong with the people here?"

Looking at the eyes of passers-by, Cavendish felt uncomfortable all over.

"This is not like you, don't you like the feeling of being watched the most?"

"This is different. I like the feeling of being watched by all the people, but this group of people feels like they are watching monkeys in a zoo. Is there a problem with the team building choosing this kind of place, Mr. Tezolo?"

The Kingdom of Tenakena is not considered rich. Although the Longhands have not completely closed the country, they do not have much contact with the outside world. Coupled with their racial characteristics, all of them have two elbow joints in their arms.

Although the long-handed people in the outside world are the aliens in the eyes of ordinary people, in this country, only one elbow joint is the exception.

The reason why Tezzolo is eye-catching is not their own fame, but the arm with only one elbow joint, so Cavendish will feel that way.

"The team building is only part of it, and there are other purposes this time."

"Mr. Tezolo, are you referring to the skeleton in the cage in front?"

Uta has already seen the area where the long-handed people gather, and there is a huge cage in the middle, and these long-handed people are watching the moving skeleton.

"Come on baby! bone to be wild!"

"Wild Bone? It's a very good style, which happens to be something we don't have. Mr. Tezolo, is your next goal a rock style?"

"Well, I haven't heard him sing before, so I really underestimate him. His value is higher than I expected."

Tezolo's musicality is not as good as Uta's, but it is also the world's top. A few short lyrics have already given him his own judgment.

"He looked as if he was imprisoned."

"Let's have a look first, and then we can talk. If he is really imprisoned, it would be easier to solve it."

This singing skeleton is exactly Brooke who was shot flying by the bear.

Xiong took him to the "Kingdom of Poverty" Halahaitania, which is called poverty. The situation in this country can be imagined. When Bullock was photographed, he just fell into the circle where the locals held the ceremony.

Because there were only bones and hair left, he was mistaken for Satan by the locals, and realized his long-cherished wish to see underwear.

Later, he learned that the rampant long-handed bandits on the island caused people to live in dire straits. After witnessing a girl being taken away by the long-handed bandits, in order to repay the local residents, Brook promised the local residents to "cast a curse" on the long-handed bandits and began to attack Create a tune.

After that, Brook used music to arouse the fighting spirit and courage of the local residents, allowing the local residents to successfully subdue the long-handed robbers.

After receiving news from Luffy, he planned to let the long-handed robbers go, but was stabbed back by these robbers, and finally became an exhibit here, and began his career of being a tourist.

"I said, is this bone so valuable? This young master still thinks he is more attractive. We are wasting time like this."

Tezolo did not act directly, but spread out a picnic cloth a little further away, as if planning to go camping.

While having a picnic, they were also listening to Brooke's performance.

"Don't be so impatient, your audience is different, he won't steal your popularity."

"This young master doesn't mean that. Even if I compete head-on, I won't lose to a skeleton! I just think we are wasting time and just * that guy away. You are not a serious company."

"You can't talk nonsense. We are a legal company certified by the world government. How can we do such illegal things?"

"Hehe. Do you believe this?"

"Why don't you believe me, our combined reward is 0, even your identity has been wiped out."

Cavendish doesn't understand that a company with pirates as the mastermind can do this, and he also doesn't understand Tezolo's way of doing things.

"Even if you say that, those guys are not good people, are they?"

Although he chose to make his debut because he was "forced and helpless", he just chose this path because he didn't want to continue mining, but now he has begun to enjoy this feeling, the only problem is that he doesn't adapt to Tezolo's handling of the problem Way.

"How do you know they're not good people?"

"Nonsense! Would a normal person put someone in a cage? Would they write the word "Steal" on their chest?!"

This is also a habit here. The Long-handed people will write on their chests, most of which are related to their professions or hobbies. He wrote the word "pirate" on the ground.

"Boy, it's too early for you to teach me how to do things. There is a big difference between us and Mr. Kaido. We still have to follow the rules when doing things. Just watch how you do it."

After another day of Brooke's sightseeing career ended, the thieves of the long-handed family began to count the tickets. At this time, Tezolo walked into the room with Daisy and Tanaka.

"Three gentlemen, excuse me, we want to talk to this Mr. Skeleton about signing the contract."

Then Tezolo ignored the three long-handed thieves, went straight to Brook, and took out a contract.

"Mr. Skull, do you want to consider our company, we are now the leader in the industry.

If you sign the contract, I am sure to make you a world-class singer within a year, and at the same time take you away from here. You can see the specific share here.

By the way, let me introduce myself, Gilder Tezzolo, you should be familiar with me, right? "

"Of course, I've watched your show before. It looks like a very good salary, but the five-year period is too long. Can I give up some of the share and just sign for two years?"

Bruker has no friendship with these long-handed thieves in front of him, and he sings only to obtain information about the outside world.

When he was on the Sunshine, he also watched the performances of Tezolo and others, that is to say, this kingdom is somewhat closed, so Tezolo and the others did not meet fanatic fans.

He has also received the news from Luffy. No matter how you look at it, the artists under this company are much better than being exhibited here. Except for the time limit, he has nothing to dissatisfy.

"Sure, but split into aspects like this."

"Yo * ho * ho ho, it's okay, I said, I don't care about this kind of thing."

Brook picked up the pen that Tezolo handed over and planned to sign on the parchment. Until this time, the long-handed clan watching the show finally realized that something was wrong. This group of people took it for granted.

"You guys are enough! Don't ignore us!"

"Oh, sorry, sorry, I almost forgot you, so, 50 million Pele, I will take him away."

"Are you sending beggars? This rare talking skeleton only sells for 50 million?!"

"One hundred million."

"this..this"

"Two hundred million."

"make a deal!"

Under the influence of money ability, the long-handed thieves readily agreed to the deal, and the young mermaid could basically make the deal at this price without the Tianlong people driving up the price.

There are many long-handed people who are willing to see Brook, but the ticket revenue is just that. Under Bailey's temptation, they did not think about Brook's future interests.

Daisi left two suitcases containing money, and then Tanaka led him out of the prison directly.

"Boss, isn't the price of 200 million too high, and they are just ordinary thieves, they are not worthy of trading with us."

After leaving the prison, Tanaka complained in Tezolo's ear. He still felt that his boss's bid was too high.

"Boss, you see Brook's development potential, but is there something wrong with his personality?"

At this time, there were two more cracks on Brook's skull, and he was supplementing calcium with milk to repair the damage.

When he met the female members, he instinctively made a request to see the fat times, and then he was sucked by Bacala's luck, and fell on the spot more than a dozen times.

"This kind of minor problem is easy to deal with, much easier to deal with than the temper of that boy Cavendish.

As for those thieves, do you think they can put on a show here majestically, wouldn't the king here know about it? I don't want to cause any trouble for a good team building, but these guys don't cherish the opportunity very much. "

If these thieves honestly took the money and left, Tezolo would do nothing but acquiesce in the establishment of the transaction.

But the greed of those thieves made them more thoughtful, and Tezolo already felt that someone was following them.

"Daiss, Tanaka, you guys go and deal with it, don't affect this side."

"yes."

"yes."

Under Tezolo's order, Daisy and Tanaka temporarily left the team and returned two hours later, and the suitcase that was taken out before had reappeared in Daisy's hands.

The team building activity has also become a welcome for new members to join. Like Naiqin and Uta, they are all temporary contract workers under their command, just to make money and cooperate with each other for mutual benefit.

Under the premise of no major conflicts, you can leave at any time.

After signing Brooke, Tezolo began to reintegrate the future development plan, planning Brooke's music activities, and at the same time added new products such as pots of concentrated juice and pots of fruit wine to sales channels.

Time passed away quietly like this. Naiqin, Binjack and others came to another gathering place, and saw the result of Binjack and others' hard work in the past thirty years, a new ship belonging to the Walder Pirates.

It's just that due to insufficient funds, many key parts are missing. It seems to be just a big frame. Now that Naiqin has injected funds, this giant ship has also begun to speed up construction at an extremely fast speed.

At the same time, the Hundred Beasts Pirates also received an order from the black market, a super-large artillery.

It was Naiqin and others who bought this special artillery. Her share went around and went back to the hands of Beasts.

Onijima has also fallen into a strange state of reincarnation. Kaido will return from the outside world periodically, and then there will be aftermath of sanctioning Guangli on Onijima. After a period of cultivation, Kaido will go out again and return again Repeat this activity from time to time.

Arceus is also in a similar state. He goes out to search for slates, and if he meets Kaido when he returns to Wano Country, he will further polish his body according to his requirements.

Yamato was liberated instead, and was not beaten by Kaido for a period of time, but for some reason, she still had a lingering haze in her heart, always feeling that she was going to be unlucky.

In order to prevent this misfortune, he also began to step up his own training.

Thanks to another "Yamato" comparison, the frequency of Lacey Ram's communication with her has increased a bit, which is considered a rare improvement.

Wano Country, Kuri, Setsuna's room, still the familiar desk, but a new diary.

【Sea calendar February 17, 1521, sunny.

The nearest sea is so unsettled. Even the Furry Principality encountered some small troubles on the back of the elephant owner, but fortunately they were all resolved smoothly.

Lindbergh returned to Zow once, wanting to bring people to join the revolutionary army, but not many people responded, only a few people left Zow with him, wishing them good luck.

Pedro and Jiebo are also living a good life recently. I heard from Sister Missu that they are already very qualified believers. Did not fight.

Jack finally achieved his goal and became Mr. Kaido's right-hand man. Mandelfish and I didn't hold back, but he finally defeated us. It took a total of nine days to complete his promotion battle. 】

"Mom, it's time, it's time to go to Ghost Island to attend Brother Jack's banquet."

"Yeah, Dad is ready."

The heads of Meowna and Worf are exposed from the window next to .

"Didn't I say that you have to take the stairs if there are no special circumstances, and don't open the windows."

"No, mom, look, we have mastered that ability."

The two raised their hands at the same time, indicating that they did not rely on their bodies for support. At the same time, they could see obvious electric currents on their fur, which belonged to the skill of electromagnetic levitation and their flying method.noVelUSb.com

Chapter 1062 The fourth disaster The most difficult task in life

Using the ability of static electricity allows the fur tribe to better grasp electromagnetic levitation. Compared with other attribute skills, the skills of the electrical system are more suitable for the fur tribe. Correspondingly, the fur tribe is also a race that can maximize the power of the electric system.

Ordinary fur races consume less electromagnetic levitation than other races, let alone these two children who inherited the ability of Zeraora.

After putting away his diary, Setsumo tidied up the table and went outside, then headed towards Onijima.

"You two should also work harder. Only by evolving into the final form earlier can you unleash the full power of Lord Arceus."

"But Lord Arceus said that we have made great progress."

"Yeah, I heard that it took a long time for Uncle Mandelfish to evolve, and we are already very fast."

In two years, the abilities of Meowna and Worf have evolved from New Leaf Meow and Fire Spot Meow to Thierry Meow and Hot Meow. As far as ability users are concerned, this evolution speed is indeed not slow, but their comparison objects are very special.

"Don't compare it with Mandelfish, his evolution. How to put it, what he lacks is not strength, but the opportunity, but he himself can't tell whether the opportunity is Kojiro's kick or the anger in his heart. "

Both have families, and Mandelfisch and the couple have more common topics and understand each other better.

"But Uncle Mandelfish spends more time fighting outside."

"But we didn't. Why don't you take us to carry out the mission next time? I heard that Zou is often harassed."

The tacit understanding between the two brothers and sisters is quite high, and they can express themselves clearly in half a sentence.

"Okay, let your father take you there next time, let you experience the cruelty of the world."

The family walked towards Ghost Island while discussing their future plans. Even though they all had the ability to fly, they were still used to walking, which is also the habit of most people. Will choose to fly.

It is completely different from some creatures that have no ability to fly and can only choose to walk.

On Ghost Island, three milk fairies are sitting together and playing flying chess. They are Jack, Maria and Yamato's milk fairies. They have been living together when they were young, but as their master grows up, the time for them to get together also decreased.

Maria spends most of the time with Yamato's Milk Fairy, but Jack's Cream Fairy often goes out with him, especially in the past two years, Jack always fights outside to train himself, and they spend even less time together up.

This is a small game belonging to the Frost Fairy. The board is made of cream, and the chess pieces are made of sugar decorations generated by themselves. While playing chess, they will also eat those chess pieces made of biscuits and berries.

At this time, Jack's Milk Fairy is very happy, after all, his partner has completed his goal.

Just as the party concerned, Jack is facing a difficult problem at this time.

Frost Milk Fairy went to a party with her own kind. Having lost his external brain, he urgently needed a solution-how to comfort the little girl.

"You hit my dad, you're a bad guy."

"We were just sparring, and I got hurt"

Actually, Jack's promotion battle had ended a long time ago, and the banquet was delayed for a while to allow Jack, Mandelfish and Setsuna to recuperate from their injuries.

No matter how you say it, Jack's promotion is a good thing for Beasts, and it is impossible for all participants to be injured and participate.

They fought very ferociously before, and the rigid requirement for disasters is force, and the enemy will not show mercy at critical moments, so the battles of Mandelfish and Instant are all in a state of full firepower.

In that situation, injuries were unavoidable, not to mention that there was Arceus next to him to prevent accidents, so they were even more lenient in their actions. Except for no sit-ups, they used all the moves that should be used.

Although the healing effect of the spring water on the holy mountain was very good, they still recovered for a while.

Miaona and Worf have long been used to the daily life of Onijima. Yamato even had bandages to play with them every day. From their point of view, it is normal for them to get injured during sparring.

But Mello is different. She grew up on the small island of Mandelfish, and she is younger.

"I don't care, you hit my dad."

Now her cognition is still at the stage where her father is omnipotent. This battle has made her sense of Jack take a turn for the worse, so when she sees Jack again, she comes to ask the teacher.

"I"

Let him fight, he is good at fighting, but coaxing children is his blind spot of knowledge, if he is an ordinary person, he doesn't care, but Melo is Mandelfisch's daughter.

At the time when Ghost Island flourished and Yang declined, the relationship between Jack and Mandelfisch was very good, and it has not changed even now, so he is entangled.

Fortunately, at this time, Milk Fairy found Jack's predicament, and walked over from the side, and only when it climbed to the top of Jack's head again, did he give him a plan to support him.

"That's all right, if you hit me, treat it as avenging Brother Mandelfish, I won't fight back."

As he spoke, Jack lowered his head as hard as he could.

Mandefier agreed not to train her daughter as a fighting talent, but because this world is extremely unfriendly to the weak, she has been letting her exercise, and she is considered a leader among ordinary people of the same age.

But even so, the size gap between Melo and Jack is too huge, and now he can't even touch his knees when he jumps up.

Not only did he not fight back, Jack even had to control his body, otherwise just relying on his body's muscle reaction would hurt Melo's little hand.

"Are you serious? I learn karate with my dad every day."

"Well, come on."

Looking at Melo's posture, Jack pretended to be serious. Although the movements were decent, Jack could tell at a glance that Melo had only learned one air.

"ha!"

When Mandelfish came here, he happened to see his daughter throwing a punch, and Jack fell to the ground very cooperatively, and the aftermath caused by his weight made Mello jump up.NOveLus.b.cOm

Without considering the factual factors, Melo also had a very exaggerated record in her life. After Olga won the redhead twice and a half in a row, she defeated the fourth disaster who had just been promoted in her early years.

"Dad, I avenged you!"

Seeing his daughter's excited expression, Mandelfisch was a little dumbfounded. He didn't expect Jack to be able to cooperate to this extent. After comforting his daughter, he sent her to Rusaka, and then found him again. Jack.

"Jack, you really are a kid, no, now, I have to call you big brother."

"Stop joking, brother Mandelfish, you will always be my big brother."

Your strength has attracted the attention of the beautiful snake. She thinks you are a charming kind and tries to spend a pleasant night with you.

Chapter 1063 Unknown disaster title, Drake the Forgotten

"Jack, I really embarrass you, you are not good at coaxing children.

In fact, Mello is not that serious, and I will probably forget it in a few days. "

"It's okay, as long as it can be resolved."

"You are also 27, there are many beautiful young mermaids in Murman Island, don't you think about it?"

"Forget it, I just want Brother Kaidou to realize his dream. Strength is the most important thing."

The topic of Mandelfish made Jack fearful. He would rather go out and find a ship to fight than waste time on such things.

"Forget it if you're not interested, get ready, Brother Kaidou should personally establish the location of the disaster for you."

"Well, see you later, Brother Mandelfish."

Jack patted the dust off his body, and walked to the highest stage, where Quinn was already getting ready.

This time is different from before. Apu has perfectly integrated into the role of DJ in the past year, and the tacit understanding with Quinn is getting better and better, and he is even able to pick up Quinn's lyrics.

With the cooperation of a professional team, Quinn's acting career has also made great progress, which made him pay more and more attention to Apu.

At the same time, Hawkins has also been recognized by Quinn. Although his divination cannot prevent Quinn from disaster, he can have a prediction in advance, and he no longer has to worry about it every day.

The only person who felt embarrassed was Hawkins. Quinn only asked him for one thing, and that was to continue to strengthen his divination ability. novelusb.com

Accompanied by the illumination of the lights, Jack walked to the front of the stage step by step, while his little brothers just recovered.

"Sipshead, do you see that?"

Jin Rami rubbed her eyes, Jack fell to the ground almost refreshed her three views.

"I saw that brother Jack actually coaxed the child in that way."

Sipshead's reaction was more direct. He slapped himself directly. Jack gave him the impression that he was a fighting maniac, and no one was allowed to retreat during the battle. It is also the ship with the highest fatality rate.

Although Frost Fairy has already proved that Jack has a trace of tenderness, but this tenderness does not belong to them, but today Mello once again embodies this point.

"Let's think about how to become stronger, that kind of treatment cannot belong to us."

"Yes, but brother Jack has been promoted to disaster, so he should take a rest."

"No, unless it is the order of Brother Kaidou, otherwise, according to Brother Jack's habit, he should go to a stronger opponent to compete. We probably need to add manpower again."

Sipshead's tone was full of affirmation, but that was all for the future. Today, all they have to do is carnival.

"Jack! Jack! Jack!"

"The Fourth Plague! The Fourth Plague!"

Accompanied by cheers and the guidance of the spotlight, Jack walked in front of everyone, and Quinn also gave him the key position.

"Little ones! Keep cheering, our brother Jack has finally reached the position of disasters through his own efforts! After many years, the seat of the three disasters has finally increased by one member!"

Next is a quiz with prizes, let's see what title the group of navy will give our brother Jack! "

Kaido's cadres were only called the three disasters at the beginning, and their bounty titles were actually given by the Navy based on their fighting methods.

Jin who likes to use fire, Quinn who specializes in poison gas weapons, and Olga who hides under illusions are all named for this reason.

If the navy doesn't cooperate, it's uncertain what will happen now.

"Brother Quinn! What is the reward!"

"A chance to dance with me on the same stage!"

The originally excited venue fell into silence due to Quinn's words, and it was revitalized by Apu's music, which also made Quinn more satisfied with Apu.

"What is your attitude! This is a rare opportunity, cherish it! You guys who don't understand art!"

Rebuked a few words at the bottom, and Quinn handed the microphone to Jack.

"Stop talking nonsense, let our protagonist speak today."

"No, Brother Quinn, is there still this link?"

Jack never imagined that this kind of thing would require a speech. For him, it was a level of * task for him to coax a child.

"Of course, you are the first disaster promotion person, how can you do it without saying something at this time?"

Quinn forced the microphone to Jack. Jack, who got the microphone, hesitated for a long time, and finally only yelled out one sentence.

"For Master Kaido! For Master Arceus!"

"oh!!"

"Hey, hey, Jack is really innocent."

Listening to Jack's speech, Kaido on the side also laughed, but soon remembered other things, and then asked Arceus:

"Speaking of which, that girl Yamato hasn't been back much this year, has she? She's not here this time."

"Traveling with Robin, let her increase her knowledge. Nicole Robin should be able to improve her shortcomings."

"It doesn't matter. I haven't practiced with her recently. She seems to have relaxed a lot. When she comes back, she will know what a surprise is. Let me encourage Jack, his energy is very rare."

Kaido also got up and came to the stage, affirming Jack's strength in public, and this also aroused a new wave of fanaticism among the boys below, especially Sasagi who happened to be in Onishima, who was also a Kaido fanatic. It's starting to shine.

This ceremony officially confirmed Jack's position as a disaster, and then they started their banquet according to the pirate's practice, but Jack left Ghost Island after drinking a few cups, and went to the Rabbit Bowl mining field alone.

The position of the disaster must also be determined. Next, he will use battles to ask the navy to change his title. In order to determine the positioning of different pirates, the navy will still change the reward title.

The purpose of Jack's coming here is not to hang out, he is here to recruit a group of cannon fodder, and to find some valuable people from them.

The method is very simple. These people will be required to participate in some missions that are close to death. If they survive, they can be pardoned for their previous crimes, but so far, there have been no successful examples.

Jack's arrival attracted the attention of some prisoners. They didn't know what the situation of the people Jack took away was like. After all, if they could leave here, they would definitely not come back to visit the prison.

But they also knew that this choice must be extremely dangerous.

Among the mining prisoners, there is one person who feels very excited, that is, Drake, who has been mining here for a whole year after being forgotten for a year, finally sees a faint dawn.

Chapter 1064 How can I surrender if you don't recruit

"Listen well, your chance is here! Guys like you have only one way out, and that is to dig until you die!

But now, Lord Jack will give you a new chance to join his team, as long as you can survive ten battles without dying! You will be freed from being prisoners and be eligible to join us!

Of course, I know many of you don't like us, you can also choose to be free, as long as you can survive, you can go wherever you like! "

The members of the Rabbit Bowl Mining Field are mainly divided into two parts, the local prisoners of Wano Country and the prisoners of war from the outside world. Those who were caught for petty theft and sent to labor reform are okay to say, but in the early years, many who refused the rule of beasts The resistance forces were also locked in.

The samurai groups that were imprisoned in themselves were very powerful, and simple mining was a waste, so Kaido recruited some of them quite generously. As for the remaining diehards, they were gradually consumed in foreign wars in this way. middle.

After all, these people are relatively hard-headed, neither willing to integrate into the new Wano country, nor to hide themselves, but choose to use insignificant strength to fight against the beasts that have taken root.

"Master Jack, everything is ready, do you have any other requests?"

"No more, let me see how many of these guys who are unwilling to surrender still have courage."

It was not the first time that Babanuki said this to the prisoners here, but not many people stood up.

Staying here to mine is a slow death, and going out to fight may die faster.

Especially those pirates from the outside world, many of them have been terrified by the cruelty of the new world, and would rather wait here to die than go out and fight for their lives.

You can live for a few years if you stay here, but if you go out, you may not survive a week.

Only Drake felt a pain in the head. If it wasn't inappropriate, he would like to stand up and question Babanuki. What does it mean to be unwilling to surrender?

He originally wanted to join the other party, but he didn't want to flatter like Apu, and planned to keep a little backbone.

He intended to persist for a period of time and join Beasts when they recruited prisoners. The reason was for the future of his little brother, but the ideal was very good, but the result deviated greatly from the direction he expected.

In the past year, no one has taken the initiative to recruit.

Kaido was busy training himself, Quinn had a great time with his two fun boys, and Arceus didn't care about the future of these prisoners. This caused Drake, who didn't want to take the initiative to mention surrender, to be forgotten, and he didn't get it until today. This so-called opportunity.

As long as the beasts were recruited earlier, he would have compromised, and it would not have been delayed for so long. If the beasts had been delayed for a while, he would have become the king of miners.

Some people choose to be content with the status quo, while others choose to fight. In the end, Jack recruited some people including Drake.

"It's not bad, you people are a bit courageous. Master Jack has now been upgraded to a new disaster. Don't be so rigid. Maybe we will still be together in the future, if you can survive."

Most people didn't pay attention to this sentence, Jack's status has nothing to do with them, but Drake is different.

Before carrying out the undercover plan, he had read some information about the beasts. Although there was a big error in the information in terms of personality, he could still use it as a reference for judging strength.

Beasts have a very strict hierarchy. Being able to become a disaster-level cadre means that his strength can cause a large-scale disaster on a battlefield. For the navy, this is undoubtedly bad news.

Without waiting for him to think, Babanuki took these people to another room, and arranged a meal while going through the release procedures.

As the warden, Babanuki took care of these people's last meal, which was no longer a simple rice dumpling, but a meal with wine and meat.

In Babanuki's view, this kind of mission is simply to die, and the purpose is to squeeze the final value of these prisoners. This meal is a meal of decapitation.

And it is better to die in battle than to wait cowardly to die, so I can make an exception and eat something good.

Jack moved very quickly, and within a few days he took his own fleet to start a new journey. During this time, Drake failed to spread any information, and his current identity had no contact with the phone bug at all. Chance.

In addition to fighting, they were guarded in specially prepared cabins, and Jack only let them engage in boarding battles, preventing anyone from escaping in the vast sea.

Even if these people try to escape by jumping into the sea, they are no match for the murlocs in the sea. Although Jack himself is not fast, there is a special supervisor on his boat - He Song.

After Guangyue Rihe completely reversed, the mentality of the three who still followed her has also undergone tremendous changes.

The one who has changed the most is Kikunojo. Due to the increasingly close relationship with Drake, he has accepted this situation without special circumstances.

Kawamatsu has always been guilty of what happened to Kozuki Hiyori, and after seeing the current situation in Wano Country, his heart has also changed. Only Denjiro is not willing to accept this reality, but he didn't do anything, just Slightly negative.

Combined with Kozuki Hikazu's extreme cooperation now, the three of them have long since gotten rid of the position of being forced to perform dangerous missions at the beginning, and Kawamatsu and Kikunojo will even participate in some special operations.

For example, He Song, who was serving as the supervisor of the army at this time. novelusb.com

The efficiency of his mission is directly linked to the life ration of Guangyue and the next month. In this case, He Song worked very hard, and those who tried to jump into the sea to escape could not escape his pursuit.

Under the high-intensity battle, this group of people continued to die. Drake also suffered a lot of injuries in several battles, but he persisted smoothly. Although there is no crash course in the one-year mining career, there are some Bonus.

In order to get more food, he can only dig hard. Under the mechanical movements, his body has been maintaining high-intensity exercise, and he has not been wasted because of this.

Boom!

Drake kicked a navy into the sea with one kick. Jack's target has always been very random. Whether it is a pirate ship or a navy that entered their territory without permission, it is the target of his battle.

When fighting the pirates, Drake was very decisive, but facing his former colleagues, he inevitably hesitated, but for the smooth progress of the undercover, he had to fight, so he could only use this method to reduce the casualties of the navy as much as possible .

Relying on his understanding of the structure of warships, Drake took the lead in rushing into the cabin during the battle, found the storage room inside the warship, and found the phone bug in the hidden compartment of the cabin. After making sure that no one was around, he finally dialed Called the long overdue phone bug number

Chapter 1065 Unexplainable undercover agent, Whitebeard II in action

He should have made this call a year ago, but unforeseen accidents, intelligence errors and his wrong decision-making forced him to be a miner for a year.

The phone bug was quickly connected, but there was no sound from there.

Drake dialed a private number of Warring States. Although the phone bug does not have the function of caller ID, outsiders do not know this number at all. Those who can get through this phone bug are all people who are performing special tasks.

Hearing the sound of the connection over there, Derek was also relieved, found a suitable posture, leaned against the corner of the wall pretending to be physically exhausted, and placed the phone bug aside as if it fell accidentally. Then tap the deck lightly.

Make sure that no one is around just to make this call. He doesn't want to be discovered when he communicates for a while, and his one-year mining career will be wasted.

Boom boom boom.

Regular sounds rang out in Sengoku's office. Although the noise from the microphone was heavy, Sengoku still heard Drake's code words from it.

【Marshal of the Warring States Period, I am Drake. The plan has begun to be implemented. I have obtained the opportunity to join the opponent. Jack the Iron Mammoth has been promoted to the fourth disaster. The navy branch may be attacked in the near future and needs to cooperate.】

Listening to the information on the phone bug, Sengoku also let out a long sigh of relief. Drake has lost news since the last time he reported that he started to act, and it has been like disappearing for a whole year.

At first they thought that Drake was preparing, but after a long time, Sengoku thought that something happened to him. If it weren't for this matter, only he and a few high-level officials knew about it, and he would doubt whether Drake's information had been leaked. , causing the undercover to fail

【Received, why did it take so long to hear? If you delay for a few months, the admiral will be replaced. 】

Warring States is telling the truth. After a long debate, the navy and the world government respectively hope that Kuzan and Sakasky will become the new marshals. After several meetings, there is no result.

Both Kuzan and Sakalski were unwilling to give in. Kuzan, who was extremely lazy on weekdays, strongly opposed Sakaski's appointment as marshal, and finally decided to use force to determine the ownership of the marshal.

It's just that if the two let go and fight, it will have too much impact. The world government and navy are looking for a suitable place to fight.

【It's hard to say in one word, the current situation is not suitable for small talk, I will contact you later. 】

After Drake typed out the last secret order, Sengoku didn't say anything, and hung up the phone directly, but Drake didn't return the phone bug, but rushed out of the deck in the form of an Allosaurus, killing the entire warship. make a mess.

"Brother Jack, this is the only one left of that group. It seems that he can survive this battle."

On the Iron Mammoth, Sippshhead observed the battle ahead with a telescope. Those who left the prison with Drake had all died in the battle.

"It's still an ancient species. Let me see that this guy is also a supernova a year ago."

"So he has been mining this year?"

Listening to Sippshhead's report, Jack was a little confused. Drake seemed to have a certain intention of joining them these days.

But he has been a diehard in the past year, which makes him wonder why he didn't surrender earlier since he planned to join.

"Yes. So Brother Jack, what are you going to do?"

"If he can survive ten battles, he is naturally eligible to join, but there is something wrong with this guy, you should keep an eye on him, that's what you mean, right?"

The first half of the sentence was to Sipples Head, but in the second half, Jack's target was changed to the Frost Fairy, but Sips Head didn't say anything. He seemed to be used to it, and just silently changed Jack's target. Keep the request in mind.

Navy Headquarters, Sengoku also issued some orders to the warships staying in the New World, and then looked at the latest information.

The current Admiral of the Navy is still him, and many things still have to be decided by him.

"After so long, the sea is still so troublesome. Where did that guy Garp go?"

"Mr. Garp recently returned to the East China Sea. I heard that he has captured many pirates, Marshal of the Warring States Period."

On the sofa beside him, Kizaru was fixing his nails with nail clippers. When Aokiji and Akainu were preparing for the position of marshal, he was also arranged in the Navy headquarters so that he could support the nearby world government nobles at any time. .

"Tch, did you go back again? His grandson is not at all reassuring."

Garp's return to the East China Sea was within the expectations of the Warring States Period. After the top war, pirates from all over the world appeared in large numbers. Garp went to the East China Sea to make his hometown more peaceful. After all, he was arresting pirates. , I could only curse secretly.

"Speaking of Mr. Garp's grandson, there is an incident that is closely related to them recently. Marshal of the Warring States Period, you have also seen the information about that Whitebeard II. I heard that he has the same terrifying power as the young Whitebeard. where's the monster?"

"Didn't you experience Whitebeard's power when he was young?"

Although this guy is troublesome, he is currently targeting the remnants of Whitebeard, and the attitude of the world government is also very ambiguous

Recently, the old guy Wald seems to have come back. This marshal is getting more and more difficult, Polusalino, otherwise I might as well let you come. "

"Forgive me, Marshal of the Warring States Period, let the two of them do this kind of trouble."
"well"

Picking up a stack of documents with a headache, Sengoku went to Crane's staff to analyze the countermeasures. At this time, the pirates outside were still acting according to their own habits.

On a certain island in the New World, the pirates that Sengoku and Kizaru talked about are in action.

"It's you! The guy who didn't trust Dad during the war and even wanted to attack him!"

He is tall and fat, with a muscular upper body, but an unusually slender lower body holding a large knife of the same style as Cong Yungie.

The thick blond hair covers the entire back like a cloak, and the sideburns on both sides of the cheeks are braided.

Thick lips, snot all the time, very hideous scars on his body, and a thinner crescent white beard.

Whitebeard II - Edward Weible

A bounty of 480 million Baileys is offered.

"Unforgivable, I will kill you for Dad!"

Boom!

Weibull held up the big sword in his hand and slashed at the front. Although the pirate in front of him pulled out a huge sword to resist, he looked very weak in the face of Weibull's power, and was blown away in a few strokes.

"It was an unforgivable mistake I made to doubt Dad, but only members of the Whitebeard Pirates are Dad's sons! How can you be Dad's son!"

Chapter 1066 Whitebeard's Most Precious Legacy

Skuyad used the other knife at his waist as a crutch, propped up his body and stood up.

At the beginning, the knife was not successful, but the incident of being deceived by an outsider and slashing a knife at his father became a thorn in his heart.

After the top war ended, he thought he had no face to stay in the Whitebeard Pirates. After Whitebeard's funeral, he brought his subordinates to this island.

But today, he was still approached by someone. A very strange-looking person claimed to be Whitebeard's own son, and started fighting with him as soon as he came up.

Said that he was sorry for Whitebeard. Scuyad was powerless to refute this, but he did not accept the other party's title. His father valued his family so much. If he really had a biological son, how could he have ignored him for so many years.

Moreover, the other party has been missing for many years, but only appeared after Whitebeard died. In Scuyad's view, this is just a swindler.

The opponent's strength is very strong, but Scuyad is not afraid. It is a fait accompli that Whitebeard died in battle, but he does not allow Whitebeard's reputation to be tarnished.

It's just that Weibull's reaction was completely different from what Scuyad thought. Instead of continuing to attack, he looked anxiously at a short woman beside him.

"Mom, mom! I am Whitebeard's son! My beard is also white, why do these guys say that only the Whitebeard Pirates are Whitebeard's son! Isn't my father Whitebeard? !"

"Of course, my son, of course you are Whitebeard's biological son, and the Whitebeard Pirates are just your father's house-playing game.

You are the one who inherited his blood, and I am the woman he loved the most during his lifetime.

A diminutive but gorgeously dressed woman gave Weible an affirmative answer. She is Bakingom Stussy, one of the original members of the Rocks Pirates, a former MADS researcher, and Edward Weible's mother.

"But. But he's the seventh! That's what they say."

Some time after the end of the top war, Bakingom Stussy led Edward Weible to target Whitebeard's legacy and launched his own operation. In the process, many original Whitebeard pirates The group's affiliated pirate group was destroyed.

Scuyad's Great Eddy Spider Pirates was the seventh target. Because he didn't know where Whitebeard's legacy was, Babin took Weibull and began to gradually clean up the remnants.

"Cheer up! My treasure!"

Seeing Weibull sink into depression, Babin took his cane and began to hit Weibull's calf.

"It hurts so much, mom, don't hit me."

"I'm here to cheer you up! Watch this!"

"Mirror?"

"No, this is Whitebeard's reward order!"

With the death of Whitebeard, his reward order was naturally removed from the world government, but the reward order issued before is still spread all over the world, and even collected by many people.

"What, I thought it was a mirror."

"You two look so alike, how could you not be your biological father and son? My silly boy, that guy is lying to you!"

"I'm sorry, Mom, I doubted you"

"It's okay, I won't blame you, because I love you, my baby, now go and knock that guy down, and get your father's inheritance back! Those imposters don't deserve your father's inheritance, it belongs to our!"

"yes!"

Weibull's eyes became extremely fierce, and he rushed towards Scuyard again with his own broadsword. Inspired by Ba Jin, Weibull broke out with great strength.

The dagger in Scuyard's hand was chopped off by Weibull as soon as it touched, and he was also stepped on by Weibull.

Just as he was about to cut off Scuyard's head, Barkin called out to Weibull.

"Wait, son!"

"Mom, why stop me? I want to avenge my father! And Kaido who killed my father, I want to avenge him too!"

Weibull's tone was very excited, and he even shed tears.

"Stupid son, revenge has long been out of fashion now, and you can't even get the benefits of 1 Bailey. You should still get into trouble, find out all the remnants of Marco, and then inherit the huge inheritance left by your father Newgate That's what we do.

What matters is money, money! "

"Ah, that's it, I see, Mom."

Wilbleton, who was still moved a second ago, gave up his thoughts of revenge. Although his physical strength is very strong, to Weible, Ba Jin's words are sacred.

Weibull's intelligence is not normal. For him, no matter what his mother says, he is right.

"Okay, Scuyard, can you tell me now, where is my dear Newgate's legacy?"

"Bah! Guys like you, dare to say that you are relatives of Dad? Dad never cares about treasures. His greatest treasure is his family. If you really have that kind of relationship, how could you not know this kind of relationship?" thing!"

A mouthful of blood was spit on Bajin by Scuyard, and a look of impatience appeared on Bajin's old face.

The previous six pirates also said the same thing. Seeing this attitude, she lost her patience.

"It's like this again, Weibull, get rid of him, it's time to find the next target."

"Yes, Mom!"

It was said that Weibull raised the big knife in his hand again, but at this moment, there was a sound of breaking the air in their ears.

"Shining-Clash!"

A diamond man rushed from the side, his diamond shoulder just blocked the blade that was cutting towards Scuyad, and knocked Weibull away directly.

During the top battle, Yamato took Kuzan to paddle with him all the way, which allowed Joz to protect his arm.

"Joz. You."

"It's not just me, there are other people too. Those who tarnish Dad's reputation are our enemies."

Blackbeard died, and the Blackbeard Pirates were disbanded in situ by a wave of tyrants. The lives and deaths of their members were unknown. The remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates also avoided a devastating blow, and now they have more energy to help others .

After discovering that someone was targeting the Whitebeard Pirates, they also took action.

"Ba Jin, I heard that you are looking for us, don't bother now, we are already here."noVebusb.Com

Marco waved his wings and landed, transmitting a burst of blue flames to Skuyad, and began to heal the wounds on his body.

"Yan Shanggang!"

Fiery flames formed a huge wall of flames, completely blocking Ba Jin and Weibull's retreat.

Whitebeard's territory has to be guarded. They need to protect the few sites, so only three captains came, and Ace was the last one besides Marco and Joz.

"You are bluffing and cheating under the banner of your father, are you ready to pay the price?"

Chapter 1067 Remnants and remnants

Barkin and Weibull are looking for Marco, and Marco is also looking for them.

In the original timeline, they lost Whitebeard and Ace, Joz broke his arm, and the other pirate groups under his command also suffered losses to varying degrees. Troubled Blackbeard fights.

Blackbeard has lived in the Whitebeard Pirates for decades, and is familiar with the abilities of the Whitebeard Pirates and the captains. Facing the double-fruited Blackbeard and the group of prisoners advancing to the sixth floor of the city, the Whitebeard Pirates The remnants of the regiment also fell into a hard fight.

Being too busy to take care of themselves, they didn't have time to deal with Bajin and Weibull. In the end, they defeated the sixteen pirate groups under their command one by one, and let Weibull get the position of Shichibukai with this record.

But it's different now, Whitebeard is dead, Ace is alive, and Jozy hasn't lost his arm.

In the year after Whitebeard's death, Ace also began to grow. Both his strength and his heart have changed under the influence of Whitebeard's death.

Their current situation is also not very good, but without the root cause of Blackbeard, they have found a living space in the cracks, and they can also mobilize some people to come out.

Whitebeard's remnants searched for Barjin and Weeble shortly after they began their operations, but they were not found until recently.

"Joz, Marco Ace"

Skuyad sat up from the ground, looking at the three who came, especially Ace at the end, Skuyad felt mixed feelings in his heart.

He had an enmity with Roger. The pirate group that Skuyard belonged to was destroyed by Roger, but Whitebeard has always concealed Ace's identity, so Skuyard fell into the red dog's divorce plan. .

"Bloodline is something that a person cannot choose, but we finally gathered under the banner of Dad. Dad doesn't want his sons to kill each other, so Skuyad, let the matter of the father's generation pass."

Ace said these words with his back to Skuyard. The death of Whitebeard made all the members of the Whitebeard Pirates grieve, but it was Ace and Scuyard who were most impacted in their hearts.

One ended up fighting on the top because of impulsiveness, and the other almost swung a knife at White Beard. Even if others didn't say anything, it would not be easy for them to get out of this hurdle.

Ace has been sharpening himself in almost non-stop battles this year. While strengthening his strength, he is also diverting his attention. He wants to take over the banner of Whitebeard and pass on the name of Whitebeard.

In this case, the sudden appearance of Bajin and Weibull made the members of the Whitebeard Pirates unacceptable.

"Ace. You have changed."

"People will always change, take a good rest, the next part is our session, Fire Fist!"

Ace's right arm turned into flames, and under the burning of the flames, the surrounding air became extremely hot, and Ace's fire fist also blasted towards Weibull head-on.

"Go and deal with them! My son, they are the ones who embezzled your father's inheritance!"

Barkin has extraordinary confidence in Weibull, otherwise he would not have taken him to attack the remaining party of the Whitebeard Pirates. After receiving Bajin's order, Weibull did not hesitate, and the tiger with a big sword in his hand was alive and well. The wind, facing Ace's fire fist head-on.

Bass!

A flash of knife light flashed, and Ace's fire fist was split in two, and then Weibull rushed towards Ace with the flames.

"I'm Daddy's son! You fakes!"

There was a sound of breaking through the air, and a huge gap appeared on Ace's body, but it was quickly refilled by flames.

Weibull can use domineering, but Ace's life this year is not in vain. Day after day of fighting squeezes the potential in his body, and the domineering in his body gradually surfaced.

For people with natural abilities, as long as they have enough knowledge, it is difficult for the enemy to hurt them. Ace had already turned his body into flames and scattered them in advance, avoiding Weibull's powerful knife.

"Firefly Fire Dharma!"

Green flames flew out of Ace's hands, and then exploded around Weibull. The smoke blocked everyone's sight, but Weibull's figure did not stop.

"Damn it, it hurts so much, you actually burned me!"

The flames were still burning, but Weibull braved the flames and rushed out, holding a big knife in both hands and slashing at Ace at a faster speed.

His physique is terrifying, and he is one of the few monsters in the new world just by looking at his physical fitness, but he is not facing a single person.

"Shining·Clash!"

Joz jumped out from the side, except for his right eye, his entire body had turned into diamonds.

As a superman with the ability of Shining Fruit, Joz's battle depends entirely on his hard diamonds, whether he goes down to Crocodile or up to Kuzan, it doesn't feel good for him to hit him.

Different from Ace's evasion, Joz chose the simplest and direct head-to-head.

Boom!

The blade collided with Diamond's body, and the muscles and veins on Weibull's arm bulged. Although it didn't break Joz's defense, it still forcibly withstood Joz's attack.

"Damn it, you are so strong, so my mother will scold me."

Joz didn't speak, but just increased his strength. Now it's not a fair 1v1. Since the opponent chose to raid their territory, there is nothing unreasonable for them to play three against one.

They just want to get rid of the two people pretending to be Whitebeard as soon as possible.

"Shenhuo Shiranui!"

"Phoenix Seal!"

Two flaming spears flew out from Joz's side, and Marco also kicked Weibull on the head.

If he fights alone, Weibull is not afraid of Marco and the others. Whether it is Marco or Ace, he has the ability to fight with them, but he is facing three people now.

Joz's hard body is in the front, Ace's fierce flames are burning his body, and Marco's, the most powerful ability of the phoenix is the terrifying resilience, but this does not mean that Marco does not have fighting power.

Weibull is not Whitebeard after all, and a really young Whitebeard will not be afraid of these three people, but Weibull does not have the ability to kill the captain in one blow, and gradually falls into a disadvantage under the siege of the three people.

"Damn, have you underestimated these brats? Newgate's crew Weibull! Ready to go!"

"But mom...these guys are so tough!"

While replying, Marco kicked Weibull on the head again, cooperating with Joz's impact and knocking Weibull into the air, but this attack did not make Weibull lose consciousness, and he shook his head when he fell to the ground Stand up again.

"It's hard to handle."

Bajin looked at the situation around him. Although Weibull was still fighting with the three of them, he would lose sooner or later if he dragged on like this.

She herself was once a member of Rocks

NoVeLUS&.com

Chapter 1068 Correct way to call for help

The members of the Rocks Pirates are complicated. Although not all of them are monsters, they all have some skills.

Ba Jin is no exception. As a former member of the Rocks Pirates and one of the MADS members, she also has certain combat effectiveness.

MADS also encountered many battles when it first sailed. Although it relied on external forces, the members of this team also had their own abilities.

Up to now, Germa of Gaji, various inventions of Vegapunk, Ba Jin with Weibull, and Quinn who has been called the little four emperors, they all have their own fighting abilities.

Even Caesar, who seems to be the most broken, is also a natural ability user.

Weibull doesn't always have time to take care of her during the battle. Ba Jin dares to bring Weibull out alone, of course he has his own confidence.

Weibull attracted the attention of Marco and Ace. Scuyad was injured by Weibull before, and now he is a breakthrough.

Pressed his finger on his crutch, and there was a sharp blade on the front end of the seemingly ordinary crutch, and the thin and short figure left the place at a rather exaggerated speed.

Seizing Skuad and coercing the Whitebeard Pirates to let him and Weibull leave with the importance they attach to their companions, this is Bajin's plan at this time, but when Ace and the others appear, things have gone beyond Ba Jin expected.

Skuyad did not react, but others noticed his change.

"I said, what do you want to do to our people?"

Cyan flames flashed in front of him, Marco broke away from the battle with Weibull and came to Barkin, and took advantage of the opportunity to grab Barkin's cane.

Now Joz is the main defense, Ace is the main attacker, and Marko is originally a sky watcher.

He will also take the initiative to attack when appropriate, but he will support wherever there is a problem with the more important task, ensuring that Ace and Jozi will not cause irreparable consequences due to mistakes.

click.

The front end of Bajin's cane broke suddenly, and the part separated from the main body rushed towards Marco's head like a small missile, but after the violent explosion, there were only a few more regenerative flames on Marco's body.

"The power is good, but unfortunately, you don't know us well enough, and you don't know dad well enough."

The power of the explosion is good, but this kind of conventional explosion can't affect Marco who has the ability of the phoenix at all.

The claws of the phoenix pierced through the gunpowder smoke and grabbed Bajin, and completed a two-stage reversal in an instant. Bajin, who wanted to take Scuyard as a hostage, became Marco's hostage instead.

If Bajin's intelligence was good enough, he would not have chosen to take Weibull alone to hunt down the rest of the Whitebeard Pirates.

If she knew Whitebeard well enough, she would understand that Whitebeard never cared about the so-called treasure, nor did he have any huge inheritance.

Her technological power is good, but she is not as powerful as Quinn, nor does she have the fighting ability of Gaji, nor does she have the body of Caesar's natural system. It is not wise for her to appear in front of the battlefield like this.

She is old after all, no one can escape the ravages of time.

The enemy of ordinary people is okay, but now that she is an old woman, she appears extremely weak when she is directly approached by a person of Marko's level.

"Weibull! Stop it!"

"Mother?!"

After seeing Bajin held by Marcotte in his hand, Weibull directly dropped the weapon in his hand and gave up resistance. Even if he was hit in the chest by Joz, he didn't resist and let the enemy restrain him directly.

As for Ba Jin, Marco had already blocked her mouth and tied her into a rice dumpling. Although he didn't want to face it, the chains used to bind people were still produced by Baishou. Only Wano Kuni has the high purity of forging. The ability of Hailoushi chains.

"This kind of guy actually has this kind of power. Marco, how to deal with them?"

Various manifestations of Weibull appear to be mentally unsound, but such a person has quite terrifying power in his body.

"Take it back first."

"Bring back?"

"Yes, although I don't want to admit it, Ba Jin was a pirate on the same boat as my father when I was young. Even I don't know about my father's past, so I will check it out before making a judgment."

Letting her go must not be let go. With Ba Jin's greedy character, letting her go will only increase troubles. What's more, it is impossible to forget what she did with Weibull before, so I had to choose to take her back for a long-term plan.

The three captains dispatched together, and Bajin was captured by Marco first, causing Weibull to lose the will to resist, and the two were captured and brought back.

When the remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates acted, the other pirates were not idle, killing and plundering, these were the norm.

Although there are a large number of pirates in the New World, there are still more civilians than pirates. The New World has not stopped trading activities due to the proliferation of pirates.

In addition to the merchants in the underground world, ordinary merchants are also taking risks in commercial activities.

Attracted by benefits, they can always put risks behind them.

Walk along the river without getting your shoes wet. Some businessmen were unlucky enough to encounter pirates. When their property was looted, they themselves were taken away as part of their property.

For example, on Hive Island, a large number of captives were held together.

The pirates of Hive Island not only plunder their goods, but also extort ransom from the relatives of these people.

If there is no ransom, this group of people will be sold to slave traders to squeeze their final value.

There was an unpleasant smell in the small cell. The smell of sweat, sea breeze, and excrement mixed together made many people unbearable.

But among the crowded crowd, some of them are relatively spacious. Although they are all prisoners, these people still have some ways to save themselves.

The pirates on Hive Island did not suffer from persecution delusions like Quinn did, so they did not confiscate the phone bugs of these people, but let them raise ransom by themselves.

Those who have no ability can only choose to rely on these people, humbly give up the little space left, and want to win favor.

"I am a member of a member country, and I need rescue! What are you navy doing for food? Are my taxes just for you to waste?!"

Being caught by pirates, you need to go to the navy. This is the perception of most people, and this is also the choice of most people, but there are always some people who find another way.

"Idiot, just a few businessmen want the Navy to spend a lot of time to save people. If this is useful, Hive Island will not exist for so long."

"President, can we just wait? Will those pirates really let people go?"

"I don't know whether to let him go or not, but if they hand over the ransom, Lao Tzu's chamber of commerce will be finished."

The pirates on Hive Island don't think about other people's life and death, and they don't think they can establish long-term contact with the robbed person, so the amount of ransom is quite huge, enough to cut off the capital chain of a chamber of commerce.

"Then you."

"You are still young, remember, don't be so arrogant when asking for help, and don't feel that you are indispensable, but let the other party feel that you are valuable.

You can't put all your eggs in one basket, enough people are calling the Navy, we have to find another way. "

As he spoke, he took out a business card and dialed the number on it.

"Your Excellency Quinn? It's me, do you remember me, when I bought the fruits you sell...ηOVeLusB.cOm

I don't remember.. It's okay, it's okay, I just want to tell you that our Chamber of Commerce has purchased a batch of particularly high-quality red beans, but I personally encountered some troubles. I heard that you have mercenary services, and I am in urgent need of rescue."

Chapter 1069 Complicated Hive Island

If a Four Emperors robs Quinn, then Quinn will choose to be patient, but if he robs rice cake and bean soup, he can become more reckless than Ulti, as a person who dares to grab food from Charlotte Lingling Quinn has an extraordinary obsession with eating.

Because of a few bananas, he still has a grudge against Perospero to this day.

This businessman just caught on.

Businessmen in the New World more or less have a certain intersection with beasts, which is a mountain that cannot be avoided in the New World.

Quinn himself also serves as the head of foreign trade of Beasts. Some people have already figured out Quinn's preferences in order to be able to trade better.

"address."

"What?"

"Huh? Are you a waste? Don't you even know where you are? Then what kind of mercenary do you want!"

"Bee Hive Island, I'm willing to pay double the price, please hurry up. I'm wearing a suit of Hexiu Panda, and a cap of the prisoner brand."

Hey Panda is a famous brand in East China Sea. It can be regarded as a luxury item in a clothing store. Its trademark is a special panda. The Prisoner brand is a brand of Fishman Island, one of the brands designed by Starfish Papagu. Its trademark is a A starfish with only scars.

In order to identify himself, he is doing his best to describe his own characteristics.

"Are you an idiot? What if someone else wears your clothes? Forget it, the secret code is handsome Queen, remember this sentence."

For the sweeter rice cake and bean soup and double commission, Quinn gave a rare order, and then began to check the information of the beasts to see who was around there.

"Hello, Olga? Are you there?"

"Sister Olga is soaking in the Nine Snakes hot springs, please don't disturb her for the next half month, Quinn, you will be hated by women if you always find someone to work like this."

Olga doesn't appear on Rotom's screen, only the foggy bathroom and the sound of water. From the angle of view, there are quite a few people fighting inside.

"My uncle is very popular with women! You bastard, don't you understand, what a stinky guy, even more arrogant than that woman Shaina."

Looking at Rotom who was directly hung up, Quinn spit a few words casually, but didn't take it to heart. He can live to this day, on the one hand, he relies on his big heart, on the other hand, he knows who can offend, what people should be patient, Peros Pero is a member of the BIG MOM Pirates, it doesn't matter how you offend him, as long as Kaido is still there, Charlotte Lingling will not be allowed to bully the small.

But forget about people who have relations with their own cadres. Hancock is not targeting him at any rate, but has this attitude towards all irrelevant people.

"Asie's life will be difficult in the future, let me see who else is around and decide it's you."

Beehive Island is considered to be the most dangerous area in the New World except for the territory of the Sea Emperor. To be on the safe side, Quinn needs to find some strong enough cadres.

If he couldn't find a suitable person, he would have to go to Zeraora with a gift to help him out on the field. Fortunately, he found a suitable person and was active nearby.

"Hello, Jack? There's a mission for you. Where's Jack?"

A Frost Fairy appeared on the screen, holding a matcha ice cream in her hand.

The Rotom in the two Rotom phones is in a dormant state, temporarily losing the Pokémon translation, and the communication between Quinn and Frost Fairy is blocked.

Frost Fairy talked and gestured for a long time, but Quinn didn't understand what it meant. Seeing this, Frost Fairy swallowed the ice cream in her hand, and then tapped Rotom's keyboard.

"Go into the sea. Fishing? Forget it, anyway, you can understand what I mean, tell him that the Hive Island has a mission to rescue a person, the password is the handsome Queen, I sent the details, and notify Jack as soon as possible."

"Chirp~"

Milk Fairy waved her hand to show that she understood what Quinn meant, and then walked out of the cabin with Rotom's mobile phone on her back. All the pirates along the way gave way to her, including the Drake in Jack's team.

After observing for a period of time, he discovered something outrageous. The person with the second highest status on this ship was not a certain person, but that humble pet.

It even has a higher status than Jack, because Jack will take many unconventional actions to take care of its emotions.

I don't know why, but this Frost Milk Fairy has always disliked her, which makes Drake's position very awkward. Although her strength is not bad, she is only the number one combatant on the ship.ηOVeLusB.cOm

Fortunately, the promotion system of Beasts allowed him to see the hope of promotion.

In a few minutes, Jack jumped out of the sea again. After seeing Quinn's instructions, he immediately ordered his subordinates to change course and head towards the direction of Beehive Island.

Although it is already a disaster on the same level as Quinn, Jack still respects the original three disasters in his heart, and executes their orders as before.

"President, is this really possible?"

"Just wait at ease. In this underground world, reputation is the most important thing. If those mercenaries lose their reputation, it will be difficult to do business in the future."

And we have enough interests to let them take action. These mercenaries are more reliable than the navy. Bee Hive Island has been the territory of pirates for decades, and the navy will not make a big fuss for us.

Those pirates won't attack us right away, they just have to suffer for a few days. "

"Speaking of which, President, you are paying double the price, which is also a huge expenditure."

"I spend this money willingly. Even if my money is burned, I don't want to give it away. It's all forced by these bastards. I want to see how to deal with the mercenaries of beasts."

Although his thinking was generally sound, he made a mistake, that is, some people are still worthy of the navy.

As time passed, Jack's team had arrived near the Beehive Island, and before that, the Navy's warship had quietly arrived here, and sent some unremarkable people to infiltrate the merchant ship to infiltrate the Beehive Island to explore the situation.

Although it is a bit outrageous, but the Hive Island, which is a gathering place for pirates, is also patronized by merchants, and the goods looted by pirates also need to be sold. This part of the people came here for those goods, and some merchants even contacted the pirates on the island. Start with competitors' goods.

After all, Hive Island also needs supplies, so these merchants are friendly forces in the eyes of pirates on Hive Island, and they will not attack these people.

"Sir, Warrant Officer Kirby has been infiltrating for two days, but no news yet"

"No hurry, as long as the relative of the nobleman can be found out, other problems can be dealt with easily. Has the person above notified me yet?"

"Not yet, but sir, according to the surrounding information, the Red Heart Pirates entered the Beehive Island yesterday and a ship of the Beast Pirates appeared in the nearby waters. It seems that the target is also the Beehive Island."

How can you say 20,000, now it is 4,200

Chapter 1070 Jack-style sneak rescue

Hive Island, Rocky Harbor.

As the exchange port of Hive Island, there are many pirates living here, and the hostages are held near here.

After Kebi entered here with the merchant ship two days ago, he began to collect intelligence as a dock worker.

He has been a handyman for a long time, and he is familiar with it. The days when he was kidnapped by Alrita even made him familiar with how to live in the pirate group. This is why he was sent to collect information. No one is better than him. It's time to dive in here.

"Kerby, how's the situation?"

"Beilumebo? The area where the hostages are located has been determined, but they are very strict, and I have no chance to get close."

In the corner of the port, Kebi is quietly communicating with other navies.

"Others have also infiltrated, but Kebi, there is bad news. People from the Beast Pirates are also approaching this island. The motive is unknown. Please pay attention to safety."

"I see."

At the same time, on the Iron Mammoth, Jack had already seen the iconic big skull on the Hive Island.

"Master Jack, we are going to arrive soon. According to intelligence, the employer is near Rocky Port. Shall we break through there directly?"

"No, the target island is in the center. Kill the pirates stationed here."

Jack stood up from his chair and gave an order that sounded like it had nothing to do with the mission.

"But brother Jack, isn't our mission rescue?"

"Sipshead, why do they need rescue?"

"Eh, this is because they were caught by pirates?"

"That's right, as long as we kill all the pirates who caught them, wouldn't the rescue be successful?"

If you go directly to the rescue of the hostages, it is easy to get into a stalemate if they react, but it is not the same to directly attack their base.

As long as our offensive is strong enough that they have to mobilize the manpower on the island, the hostages will naturally be safe. "

Jack explained what rescue is with a brand-new idea. Sipshead thought for a long time, but couldn't find a suitable reason to refute it.

Hive Island does have its own rules, but beasts have the ability to overturn the table here, so Jack chose this weird way-"sneak in" aboveboard.

"Sipshead, you are in charge of the right wing.

Kim Rummy, you're in charge of the left wing.

Newcomer, you go to the hostage side, remember the password, handsome Queen. "

Newcomer, this is how Jack calls Drake, people of Beasts are used to Drake's existence, it's somewhat awkward for them to call a newcomer Drake, so Jack thought of a rather Simple salutation.

Drake never imagined that the first step of being an undercover agent is to lose his name. If he is a native of Wano, he has already been forced to give up his name, and if he works harder, he can directly give up his name.

Under the reminder of the Frost Fairy, Jack has been observing Drake. He is still fighting hard. Jack didn't see any problems for a while, so he arranged the task of aiding the hostages.

If Drake loses the chain at this time, then he may have to return to the rabbit bowl mine.

Babanuki complained in the Rotom chat group that after Drake was taken away, the mining efficiency of the Rabbit Bowl dropped, and he lost a mine king.

"Wait, brother Jack, I think it's still a bit wrong. Isn't the employer's mission to save people?"

"Didn't he also say to kill those pirates? Just say hello first."

Jack's body began to swell and gradually turned into a huge elephant man. After raising the elephant trunk, it aimed at the right eye of the skeleton building, and a dazzling halo began to gather at the front end.

Boom!

After a short charge, the destructive death light condensed and precisely passed through the right eye of the skeleton building on the hive island.ηOVeLusB.cOm

Although it did not cause an explosion, it also attracted the attention of pirates on the island.

"As expected of Brother Jack, he hits really accurately, and he can pass through that position from such a distance!"

"Fire! Let those guys know how good we are!"

"Idiot, don't fire, what if you accidentally hurt people in the port? Move the boat over! Fight them!"

Jack will not admit that he actually missed the shot just now. He aimed at the position between the two eyes of the skeleton.

But the sea was a bit rough, the deck under his feet was not very stable, and the hit rate of destroying the death light itself was not high, which caused Jack's attack to pass through the eye socket.

Although Jack's attack was missed, he still achieved his goal of declaring war. Just when the pirates on Hive Island confirmed that they had been attacked, Jack's Iron Mammoth had already reached the edge of Hive Island.

Hive Island is also surrounded by towering rocks, and there is only one stable port in Rocky Port, but this is not a trouble for Jack

After putting the Milk Fairy back in the cabin, Jack charged up his legs and jumped towards the island with all his strength, and turned into a huge bronze elephant in mid-air. His huge figure directly crushed the surrounding stones, A new port was opened near Rocky Harbor.

"Charge!"

"yes!"

Sippshead and Gin Rummy turned into ordinary giant elephants and mammoths respectively. The two monsters led their respective teams to rush forward with Jack from both sides. Drake also turned into an Allosaurus and led some people towards Luo. The base port direction began to attack.

"Head! Someone is attacking us, it's coming up now!"

"Who is so bold?!"

"Yes Iron Mammoth, Jack"

"Why did the people of beasts come here? Meet the enemy first! Shiliu, don't stand there stupidly, it's time to work!"

There is a person standing next to him, but his left arm has disappeared, and the left half of his face is covered with hideous scars, which spread along the neck to the abdomen. Only one left eye is relatively intact.

Shiliu of the Rain, the survivor of Tyrant Sea during the top war, although he did not die, he also lost an arm under the joint attack of Shaina and Jhin, and was almost half disabled. Many escaped, and finally stayed on the hive island.

"I advise you to run for your life, that is not a force you can deal with."

"Are you kidding, Shiliu, I didn't take you in to teach me!"

"It's up to you, but don't think that I will work hard for you and that guy. The beasts are not something you and I can provoke."

Shiliu's persuasion did not have any effect, and the pirate still rushed out with a large number of subordinates.

Meanwhile, at Rocky Harbor

"careful!"

A huge boulder more than three meters high flew over. Looking at the huge boulder, Kebi pushed away a person carrying goods beside him, but it was difficult for him to avoid it due to the distance. When resisting stubbornly, a barrier enveloped him.
