

Arceus 1071

Chapter 1071 Luo Zhimou, the sword is in action

The semicircular space enveloped a part of Rocky Harbor. Under the influence of the fruit of the operation, Keby's position and a table were exchanged. Not only was he not hit by the boulder, but he appeared in front of Luo.

"You are. Trafalgar Law?"

"It seems that I have a good reputation, Navy."

"Why are you here?"

"Are you joking? I'm a pirate. Isn't it normal for pirates to appear on Hive Island? On the contrary, your behavior is extremely stupid. Do you really think that the identity of the navy can make people here feel at ease? "

Luo has no impression of Keby. In the original timeline, he was more or less a celebrity because of his miraculous actions and Bucky, but not now. He is just an ordinary navy soldier, and maybe it has something to do with it.

Luo can know that he is a navy, all thanks to Keby himself.

The aftermath of Jack's attack spread to Rocky Port, and caused chaos in Rocky Port. In the chaos, ordinary people are easily affected. Seeing the stampede, Keby, who wanted to stabilize order, shouted out his identity. Spotted by Luo nearby.

In other places, the identity of the navy can really calm people's hearts, but Hive Island is different. Starting from Rocks, this place has been the territory of pirates for decades. Even if it changes hands several times, the people who occupy it are all powerful. big pirate.

Unless it is absolutely necessary, the navy does not want to waste a lot of military power here, which has led to the fact that the navy has not set foot on Hive Island for a long time, and the people here have long lost confidence in the navy.

"So what, if you don't believe in the navy, do you believe in pirates?"

"I don't want to debate this issue with you, this kind of thing is meaningless, Navy, you are here to save people, right?"

"Exactly."

"That's no problem, but obviously, your ability is not enough to complete this matter."

Before he finished speaking, Luo suddenly drew his knife and slashed to the side. The two pirates who tried to attack him were cut in half by Luo.

The two halves of the body were scattered on the ground, but the incision was extremely smooth, and there was not even any blood stains in it, and even the pirate who was cut in half was full of horror.

No pain, even feeling, but his legs are not on his body.

"There are pirates of beasts in the center of the island. I don't know why the pirates of Hive Island offended beasts, but those people are already in big trouble.

This is a good opportunity to save people. I can help you deal with the remaining pirates. As a condition, you must help me send a gift to the navy. "

"Gift?"

"That's right, it's not a terrorist attack, but something normal."

While Luo was speaking, the two pirates who had been cut in half by him also grabbed his running lower body and reconnected them with his upper body.

"Asshole rookie, are your abilities used for juggling?!"

"Magic magic is good, what's the use of an ability without lethality!"

The pirates on Beehive Island are more vicious and brutal than the pirates outside, and they act more recklessly. They stood up again and swung their knives at Luo again. They didn't notice. From the beginning to the end, they have been in Luo's operation space.

"ROOM Scalpel."

Ghost Cry flashed a few blades of light in mid-air, and then two strange squares appeared on Luo's left hand. The blood vessels on it were clearly visible and kept beating.

As long as you are familiar with the structure of the human body, or have been to the market, or have experienced fierce fighting on the battlefield, you can see that Luo has two hearts in his hands. .

The two pirates who wanted to attack him also fell to the ground suddenly as if they were exhausted.

There are also two square gaps in the position of their hearts, and the owners of the two hearts in Luo's hands happen to belong to them

"Cardiac shock."

Luo put Guikui back into the scabbard, and then his hands touched together. At the moment when the thumbs of both hands touched, a current was produced from his hand. Under the action of the current, the fallen pirate weakly grabbed his Chest, eventually lost consciousness.

"Ghost Claw Lambt, Crimson Hand Baruch, the bounty is 50 million Baileys, such pirates may not be considered anything, but what if there are 100 of them?"

Including those who are stronger than them, their heart is my gift. Although it is better to go in person, it is also a good choice to have a navy like you help me deliver it.

You shouldn't be greedy for this achievement, right Mr. Navy? "

"what you up to?"

"I am helping you clean up the pirates. As for what I want, of course it is the position of Shichibukai under the king. Strength and achievements, this should be enough."

Luo has his own plan, and now he still has hatred with Doflamingo. In order to get revenge, he has to find a way to get close to Doflamingo and learn more about his recent situation, which leads him to need a new identity to be able to Better move forward.

Before these things are cleaned up, he would rather Lamy never remember himself. After all, he doesn't know whether he has the ability to defeat Doflamingo.

Now that Weibull is overturned in the hands of the remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates, there is still one vacancy in Shichibukai, and Luo is eyeing this position.

He can't beat pirates who are too strong, and it's too difficult for him to fight those monsters without the faction buff.

The pirates that are too weak are not enough, so he set his target on Hive Island. Many of the pirates gathered here fit his situation. Originally, Luo's goal was to fight guerrillas nearby and hunt the pirates who went out or returned.

He has a natural advantage in this regard, because the Polar Diving is a submarine, and ordinary pirate ships are not equipped with sonar radar, so they cannot cope with Luo's surprise attack from underwater.

It's just that Jack's attack made Luo find the opportunity to pick up the leak. After the most difficult monsters on the island were lured away by Jack, he was still able to deal with the others. The appearance of Kebi gave Luo another opportunity.

"I can't decide this kind of thing."noVELusb.COM

"Of course I don't think you can do anything as a warrant officer. I just need you to be a messenger. But think about it carefully, I don't trust you very much, so it's better to be on the safe side."

"What are you doing"

Crack, Keby's body also fell to the ground. Although he had awakened his sense of knowledge in the war on the top, his fighting power was far from Luo's, and he couldn't react to Luo's surprise attack at all.

At this moment, he felt the feeling of the two pirates just now. The hollowness in his chest and the powerlessness in his body made him terrified.

"Don't worry, it's just an insurance policy. Your physical strength will recover after a while, but before that, your heart will be kept by me."

An extra heart appeared on Luo's hand again, and its owner belonged to Keby. Luo couldn't believe the character of a navy. Compared with the invisible and intangible character, it was safer to hold his life in his hands.

"I'll just assume that you agree to my request, don't be afraid, whether you become Shichibukai or not, I will return your heart to you, but well, you better hope that the navy and the world government can agree to this request.

I will get the imprisoned people out, how to place them is up to you. "

Speaking, Luo threw the hearts of the two pirates in front of Kebi.

"This is their heart. Under the influence of my ability, the heart can work normally even if it is separated from the body, but as long as the external force tears them apart, their owner will die. If these two guys can wake up, you can Use this to threaten them to do things for you.

As for your heart, I will keep it safe. "

After putting Keby's heart away, Luo waited for a while, and only after Keby recovered his physical strength did he leave here through the displacement of the fruit of the operation.

After Luo left, Kebi also had a helpless passerby in front of him. Seeing him holding his head in his hands, he should have been almost in danger before. Suddenly coming to a safe place did not make him feel at ease. I fainted from fright.

Luo's goal is to hunt pirates, and Dekeby himself is the only way to save people. Just like Luo doesn't trust him, Keby doesn't trust pirates very much, but for him, saving people is more important.

Before Kebi could figure out what to do next, the house beside him collapsed, and a huge Allosaurus had already stepped on the ruins of the house, followed by a group of pirates.

As the number one combatant today, although Drake has no management rights, with Jack's permission, he can still take some people into action temporarily.

"I said Chiqi, do you know where the hostages are?"

"According to the information, it should be over there. Master Jack lured away the difficult ones, just break through directly."

The overall environment of Beasts is still based on strength. Ordinary pirates will not directly call Drake a newcomer like Jack does, but call him by his previous code name.

In order to integrate into this group as soon as possible, Drake also gradually developed into a reckless man. They didn't pay attention to Kebi on the side. The pirates didn't care about such a passerby, but Drake simply didn't know him.

In terms of position, Drake is the captain of the sword team, but Kebi joined the team after Drake started his undercover mission, and Drake didn't even know there was such a newcomer.

Just as Drake was about to continue his actions, several giants made of clay suddenly appeared around him and surrounded Drake's team.

The other pirates instinctively aimed their weapons at the clay puppets, but after they pulled the trigger, the muzzles of the guns did not spew out flames as usual, but a large number of flowers bloomed.

"You go to rescue the employer, leave it to me here."

Looking at the familiar painting style of the clay giant and the changes in the pirates' weapons, Drake already guessed their origin.

Sword is a small team, and Drake still knows the abilities of the other members. Although he didn't communicate in advance, this should be the actions of other members to cooperate with him.

Chapter 1072 The Secret Actions of the Second Generation and the Cream Fairy

boom boom boom

There was an ear-piercing rubbing sound coming from the surroundings, and bursts of dust were blown towards the crowd with the wind. This was not a big deal at all, and the commotion caused by Jack in the central area was also not small.

But the source of these voices was the surrounding houses. A pirate of all beasts rubbed his eyes, and after several times of looking, he was sure that he was not dazzled.

"I said, why are those houses moving? Are they capable?"

"Don't worry about this kind of thing, what will become of Hive Island is not within our consideration, as long as we get that employer out."

"That's right, then I'll leave this place to you, brothers! Come with me and get that employer out!"

The other pirates didn't delve into the matter, but rushed towards the direction of the captive hostages. During their charge, Drake also opened his mouth and bit the clay giant in front of him.

The body made of clay was broken into pieces under the bite force of the Allosaurus, and then other clay giants also surrounded Drake.

More than a dozen clay fists hit Drake, showing no intention of holding back. Some soldiers made of clay even started to attack the pirates of the beasts, but they were all successfully dealt with by the broken people.

"Chiqi! Be careful yourself! We'll be back when the mission is over!"

Ordinary pirate fighters don't have that much thought. Undercover traitors are considered by the higher-ups. They only need to execute orders, and then exchange for their own rewards based on their merits.

It doesn't matter that Drake was a prisoner of war. There are some such people among the pirates of beasts. In their view, Drake is just a person who drinks and fights together, and even thinks he is good.

Now the strongest, he takes the initiative to stay behind, and they have no intention of abandoning him.

Drake didn't say anything about this, but just threw a clay giant away with all his strength, and used it to help the pirates deal with some potential enemies.

As the beast pirates gradually rushed out of the encirclement, the difficulty of Drake's battle also decreased. When the surrounding houses were completely closed into a wall, the clay giants also stopped their movements.

"Are you sure, Prince."

"Don't worry, Captain Drake, the surrounding area has been checked. The pirates of Beasts have left, and the target is the hostage area. As for the pirates on Hive Island, they have also been wiped out."

A man wearing a fur-collared coat and a navy hat with an extended peaked cap came out from behind several clay figurines, and he was still fiddling with a clay figurine at the tip of his fingers. Those clay soldiers just now were his masterpieces, and he was also the Lake's old acquaintance.

Rear Admiral of the Navy Headquarters and a member of the Sword Squad, Prince Gruss, was said to have been a prince of a certain country, but he joined the navy after the country suffered an accident.

He is a superhuman-clay fruit capable user, who can freely manipulate clay and use them to create a series of clay creations such as giants, golems, and soldiers.

"The peacock has sealed this place, there will be no other pirates around, right, peacock."

"Yes, those houses have already completed their tasks very obediently."

Behind Drake, a tall woman also walked out, wearing a round shell hat decorated with seagulls, and holding a long whip in her hand.

Peacock, also a Rear Admiral of the Navy Headquarters, is also the granddaughter of Tsuru, the Chief of Staff of the Navy Headquarters, and is a trainer who ate the Superman-Whiplash fruit.

The fruit ability allows her to manipulate the things she has whipped, and buildings are one of them. Those houses that move are the masterpieces of Peacock.

"Captain, although grandma said that you are on a special mission, it's too scary to have no news for a whole year."

Drake's mission is only known to the top navy and a small number of people, and these very few people refer to the members of Sword.

Although the members of Sword, although they are the navy, they no longer belong to the normal sequence of the navy.

In a sense, the members of Sword are not the navy who have "defected" and resigned. Their own navy number has been returned to the navy.

So they don't follow any orders, they are a "guerrilla" that can move freely, and they can go to war with the emperor of the sea without the permission of their superiors.

Correspondingly, this right to freedom also has a price. The navy and the world government will not be responsible for the actions of sword members, and everything they do is a personal act.

If they threaten the rule of the world government, the world government will even directly erase their existence.

Sword's members are mostly performing the tasks given by the Navy headquarters, and they will not be too presumptuous. To be able to enter this force, they are more or less related to the high-level navy, and they will not do too outrageous things.

Even if they are special, Drake's disappearance is a bit bizarre. Before carrying out the rescue mission, Peacock and Gruss did not expect to meet Drake here.

"It was an accident. I have entered them now, but it will take some time. You just happened to help."

Sword's actions were inherently hidden, and Drake didn't explain to them the necessity of what he did, and even if he was killed, he would not admit to his colleagues that he had been digging mines for a year.

While Gruss and Peacock were caring about Drake, another female navy with a headset came here with a special sniper rifle.

"Senior Keby, are you okay? What's going on with your chest?!"

"I'm fine, just a little... very special trouble."

Navy Headquarters Lieutenant Colonel Skylark called Keby a senior because he joined Sword earlier than her. The relationship between the two is not bad.

The weapon in her hand is a special weapon made by Vegapunk. The extremely special bullets in it have no lethality. The effect is to turn other gunpowder into flowers. It is a strange invention of Vegapunk when he was traveling. The purpose is to eliminate war.

"That pink-haired...is a newcomer?" nOveluSb.Com

"Well, Lieutenant General Karp's disciple, and with him there is a man named Belumebo, who is currently on the ship responsible for coordinating mission information.

Keby, this is our captain, and now you all know each other. "

"Yes, Captain Drake, hello."

Keby saluted Drake, then told what Luo told him, and began to discuss the next move. Their task was to rescue a certain relative among the hostages.

It was a very dangerous job to infiltrate the hive island, but now it is a good thing that pirates share the firepower for them.

It's just that the members of Sword all made a mistake. Although they cleaned the ground, they didn't pay attention to the sky.

This has always been a problem of the Navy. Except for the Golden Lion Flying Pirates, none of the pirates would stay in the air for a long time. Even Kaido, flying is just a way to hurry. Foot on the ground.

It's just a habit formed over the years. The navy's manual has regulations to pay attention to underwater murlocs, but there are no regulations requiring air defense.

At this moment, in the cabin of the Iron Mammoth, Milk Fairy didn't hang around, but sat in front of Rotom's phone holding a handle.

The screen of Rotom's phone happened to be here with Drake, and as Milk Fairy pressed the button on the handle, a photo was directly saved to it.

Jack has indeed sent someone to pay attention to Drake's actions, but this person is not a real person, but a milk fairy.

The handle in its hand is the joystick of a Rotom drone.

Although Rotom is not hosted, the Rotom mobile phone can connect with the drone through the radio waves in the body, allowing others to control the drone through the screen.

The size of the drone is not large, and it is even painted with sky camouflage, and has been observing the situation ahead in mid-air.

"Ha~"

Frost Milk Fairy pressed the drone's automatic return button, and the monitoring activities have ended at this time. The navy will not salute a pirate unless the identity of the pirate is already questionable.

Drake never expected that his identity would be discovered by a milk fairy operating a drone, and a newcomer would leave key evidence behind him.

However, this did not affect the Hive Island. Even if the undercover agent was to be caught, it would be a matter for later, and with Drake's skill, he could not threaten Jack at all now.

Furthermore, Milk Fairy couldn't contact Jack who left Rotom's cell phone in place, but just kept the evidence.

While the navy and the others were busy saving people, Jack had already broken through to the central area of the hive island. The huge skeleton building was right in front of him, surrounded by pirates waiting in full force.

"Jack! We shouldn't have offended you, right? If you leave this island now, my uncle can let the past go!"

"Joke, do you need a reason to fight among pirates? If you have to find a reason, it is someone paying for your life."

"Then there is no need to talk about it! I will accept the one billion eighty-eight million heads!"

Boom! boom! boom!

The ground under Jack's feet suddenly exploded, and the violent explosions continued continuously, and the gunpowder smoke enveloped Jack in an instant. The pirates had already buried this square with explosives, just waiting for Jack to step in here.

While they detonated the explosives, the windows of the surrounding houses were also pushed open, and various attacks from bazookas, artillery, and crossbow arrows aimed at Jack in the middle.

"Brother Jack has already started, little ones! Don't delay any longer, take the enemy's head off, the head is ours!"

"Assault all! Don't let that guy Sipshead get ahead of you!"

Golden Rummy and Sipshead on both wings ordered their subordinates to speed up their attacks at the same time. Although the two men split into two groups, no one was worried about Jack's condition. Even if the explosion was powerful, they could not shake their trust in Jack.

Facts also proved that Hipshead was right. After the smoke cleared, Jack patted himself on the shoulder. Although the clothes on his upper body were blown to pieces, his body was still intact, except for some copper shavings. .

"It's my turn, I won't miss it again this time."

Chapter 1073 The land you step on is scorched earth, which is called drought

Jack's destructive death light released from a long distance at the beginning unfortunately missed, and did not achieve Jack's expected effect. Many times, Jack is a stubborn person. In order to achieve his goal, he decided to do it again.

The energy that destroyed the death light gathered at the front of his nose again, and locked on an area where the pirates were densest. Those pirates didn't wait, they were also attacking Jack while Jack was accumulating power.

The sound of explosions came one after another, but the result was the same. The crossbow bolts and solid bullets would be bounced away, and the bullets could only fall to the ground powerlessly. Ordinary fragmentation bullets could not hurt Jack's body, leaving a few holes at most. Inconspicuous traces.

Not to mention causing effective damage, they couldn't even interrupt Jack's power storage. Before the pirates got close to Jack, Jack's destructive death light had already condensed.

Jack didn't miss his shot this time, and the destructive death light accurately hit the high platform in front of the square.

Boom!

After hitting the target, the destructive death light produced a martyrdom explosion. The smoke of the explosion drowned many pirates, but at the same time as the explosion, another pirate jumped from the high platform and appeared in front of Jack.

He was only wearing a simple tight-fitting vest, and his muscles were full of knots. Against the background of the clothes, his muscular muscles were vividly highlighted, and with the violent eyes, a sense of murderousness was revealed from his eyes come out.

Drunk Gust, with a bounty of 859 million Baileys, the pirate with the highest bounty on Hive Island and the most powerful pirate in terms of overall strength. Although there are several pirate gangs gathered on Hive Island, Gus Special is the person with the highest right to speak.

"What about Kaido's cadres, can they bully us casually?!"

"Bullying? In the world of pirates, there are only strong and weak, and you don't even have this awareness. Why do you want to be a pirate?"

Among the cadres of Beasts, Jack has the strongest immunity to talk. If other people will not be disturbed, then Jack doesn't think at all. No matter what the enemy says, Arceus and Kaido's orders are absolute. of.

Whether weak or strong, he doesn't care, as long as he is determined to be an enemy, he will go all out. NOvelus&.com

"You are the boss here, so let's start with you."

At this time, Jack was still in the form of a beast. His forelimbs were raised high, and then he slammed heavily on the ground in front of him. A majestic energy was injected into the ground by Jack, and the whole square began to vibrate.

The ground cracked under the influence of the vibration, and many pirates were directly buried in the ground cracks between the earth and rocks.

"Damn phantom beasts can do this kind of thing?"

The earthquake has always been a deterrent to the pirates. Even though it has been a year since Whitebeard died, the ability to destroy the world has been imprinted on their hearts.

If Jack hadn't made it clear that he was an ability user of the animal department, Gerst would have suspected that he had eaten the shocking fruit.

In reality, the impact of the earthquake is not as terrible as in the game. It is not easy to injure a single target with sufficient strength, but Jack's attack caused panic.

Combined with the incomparably strong defensive power and the previous destructive death light, Jack has already shown a very terrifying deterrent power. Coupled with the impact of this earthquake, the morale that Gust had managed to boost was dissipated in this way.

It is very difficult for the pirates to attack this kind of monster. Pirates are not a well-disciplined army. If you force them to carry out the task of sending them to death, you have to plan for them to turn back on the spot.

Unless there is absolute strength suppression or personality charm, the pirate gang is always extremely unstable.

"Bastard! Keep attacking! Don't run away!"

Looking at his subordinates who wanted to escape, Gerst yelled at them angrily. Seeing that they did not obey his order, Gerst flicked one hand at random, and a purple liquid splashed out, directly covering the pirates who were trying to escape.

If it is said that Whitebeard was able to lead his men to attack the Navy headquarters because of his own strength and status in the Whitebeard Pirates, then Gust was simply deterring by force.

After being covered by liquid, the expression of the fleeing pirate changed drastically.

His complexion became flushed, his eyes were extremely dim, and he even started to belch, his body no longer ran away, but looked at Jack again

"Alcohol can make people drunk, which is a good thing. After getting drunk, people's brains have been controlled by alcohol, and they will no longer be afraid.

Listen to Lao Tzu's orders! Get rid of this guy in front of you, don't force me to cheer up your courage! "

Gester threatened the other subordinates loudly, which also stopped the people who wanted to escape

"Hi~ kill that guy."

The drunk man turned around and picked up the weapon he had just dropped, and looked at Jack again with fascinated eyes.

"Attack! At any cost"

Gester said cruelly.

"Yes! Hiccup"

The man responded to Gerst's order with a belch.

His steps seemed to be wobbly, he couldn't even walk steadily, and even tripped his right foot with his left foot, showing what it means to fall on a flat ground, and fell directly to the ground.

But this didn't stop him from moving. Unlike the fear just now, he was trying his best to carry out Gerst's order.

When he just fell down, the weapon in his hand accidentally dropped, but even though he couldn't get up because of "drunkness", he didn't give up.

Climbed up to the knife with all his might, picked it up slowly, and wobbled towards Jack like a zombie.

Gerst also took the thing that he had been carrying behind his back in front of him. It was nothing but a huge wine bag. After taking a few sips of spirits, Gerst also became drunk, but his tone was still extremely ferocious. .

"Don't force me to use my ability to force you! The guy who escaped should figure out the price himself!"

Gest is a superman with the ability of Drunken Fruit, which is different from Basque Choate's Liquor Fruit. Although the ability is similar to Liquor, the expressive power of the two fruits is completely different.

The drunken fruit that Gerst ate can produce a highly corrosive wine, which can not only corrode the entity, but even the heart. If it comes into contact with his wine, either the body will be corroded, or the heart will be lost and become a puppet.

The person whose heart is corrupted will die after twenty-four hours due to melting of the heart.

The original owner of this fruit was Buck, who was the relative of the old man who took in Luo. After being defeated, he was sent to prison and died in prison.

Although the person infected by Gust's wine no longer feared, his attack also lost its deterrent effect, and he couldn't even consume Jack's physical strength.

This kind of move is useful for miscellaneous fish. After all, cannon fodder that defies life and death is much stronger than ordinary cannon fodder, but your move is useless against ordinary cadres, let alone monsters like Jack.

Jack was like a steel chariot, smashing into the air all the pirates in front of him and rushing towards Gerst.

"Asshole. Don't underestimate me!"

Gerst was not afraid, he stomped his foot hard, and a huge boulder flew into the air under the influence of the impact on the ground torn apart by Jack's earthquake, and then Gerst embraced the stone with both hands and threw it to the ground. Jack.

Jack didn't dodge or evade this, and didn't even mean to slow down. He hit the boulder directly, turning it into pieces.

Afterwards, Jack's power remained undiminished, and he slammed into Gust's body. The huge impact directly knocked Gust into the air, and a large amount of alcohol was directly spilled on Jack, but he was stopped by Jack's arrogance. Down.

Both body and mind, Jack was not affected, but it was Gust who was in bad luck

Under the influence of Jack's strange power, Gerst's control over his ability was greatly weakened, and the alcohol that originally surrounded his body lost control instantly, and directly spilled on the pirates who were terrified and wanted to escape.

Before the pirates even had time to say anything nonsense, they were poured down by the wine that contained the power of the drunken fruit. In the blink of an eye, all of these people turned into drunken zombies and surrounded Jack's body.

But as before, numbers are useless against an opponent with extremely high defense like Jack. These ordinary pirates can't even force Jack to lose blood. No matter how gorgeous the moves are, they won't hurt them. It's the same.

However, Gerst was not idle either. Seeing that the younger brother was entangled with Jack under the influence of his ability, Gerst clasped his hands together, and then swung to the sides.

With a flick of his hands, the purple liquor shot towards Jack like a rain of arrows. .

"Ivory bastard, die!"

During the flight of the rain of arrows, Gerst clapped his hands again, and a large amount of wine arrows condensed in mid-air, finally turned into spears, and shot towards Jack.

"A little stronger than before, but there is no difference in essence."

There were a few white spots on Jack's body. To Jack, this was just a skin trauma, but Jack didn't intend to let go of this opportunity. During the run, he turned into a human-beast form, and a sliding shovel approached Gus. Special, a huge fist hit his head.

But when Jack's fist was about to hit the opponent's head, Gerst's body changed again.

"Don't look at me as a superhuman, physical attacks are useless to me!"

Gester let out a roar, and his body began to melt.

This is another ability of Drunken Fruit. It can not only dissolve clothes and mind, but also dissolve one's own body, directly turning the body into wine, and being immune to physical attacks. "

But this is not considered elementalization, but the use of Rong's skills to change the body.

Unlike others, Gerst can reorganize his body. After melting, Gerst penetrated directly into the ground, trying to avoid Jack's attack.

Even if he is domineering, as long as he keeps the opponent out of contact with him, he will naturally be unable to cause harm to Jiu's body.

But this trick is useful for other animal types, but it is different for Jack.

"Idiot, I'm a murloc, murloc karate · Guiwa Zhengquan!"

Murloc karate uses striking liquids as a means of exerting force, and exerts greater power by vibrating the water in the human body. Gust, whose whole body has been transformed into alcohol, can be said to be in the arms of Jack. In this case, Jack can play Unleash the greatest power of murloc karate.

Boom!

After a short delay of a few seconds, there was a deep pit several meters deep on the ground under Jack's feet, and the spread reached more than half of the square.

At the edge, the alcoholic Gust was also beaten back to his original shape by Jack, with blood flowing from his mouth, nose and ears, and even his eyes turned red.

Jack's punch caused him to be liquefied and suffered serious injuries. Now Gust feels as if a dump truck is rampaging in his body. Whether it is organs or viscera, bones or skin, there is a very painful pain. tearing.

"Bastard. Give it to me! Go kill that guy!"

A large amount of purple liquid flew into the air, and finally landed in the square like rain. The battlefield full of fear turned into a gathering place for a group of drunkards in the blink of an eye. Launched a desperate charge.

"Struggling in vain, no matter how many ants there are, they can't stop the giant elephant."

Bump, bump, Jack continued to move forward. Along with his sprint, a wave of high temperature enveloped Jack's body. With the start of his charge, it gradually evolved into a high temperature barrier.

High temperature and heavy pressure, fire attribute moves, the more the user's weight is higher than the enemy, the greater the power caused.

"Murloc Karate-Temperature Elephant Sudden!"

The halo formed by the high temperature and heavy pressure gradually concentrated on Jack's hand, and the metalized arm was even burnt red. Before his body reached its limit, Jack punched forward.

The power of high temperature and heavy pressure has been integrated into the murloc karate, and is wielded together with the murloc karate's strength skills.

Gester didn't have time to dodge, he felt that he was pressed by a mountain, and then the high temperature ignited the purple monster wine around him, directly igniting him into a burning man.

The ability of Drunken Fruit itself is not weak, but it is meaningless to Jack. Even if the elements similar to nature are transformed in front of Jack, it will only increase the negative buff of the hit side.

But whether it is pressure or high temperature, it is only a precursor to Jack's attack. After Gerst was ignited, Jack's fists were full of armed domineering, and his heavy fists hit the opponent one after another until he could no longer. There were no signs of life before it finally stopped.

With Gust's death, Jack's battle came to an end, and the square on Hive Island was completely destroyed. The buildings were moved, the ground was broken, and the soil became dry under the high temperature. It laid the groundwork for Jack's final title.

Due to the characteristics of the battle, as long as the battle is on land, the area where Jack fought will be turned into ruins. The broken land seems to have experienced several years of drought, and life is also destroyed by the temperature and pressure he released.

Countless battles have built Jack's reputation, coupled with Kaido's approval, Jack's reward order has finally changed from a steel mammoth to a unified disaster.

All the places where the footsteps are turned into scorched earth, it is a drought, and the Beast Pirates are newly promoted to the fourth disaster.

Wanzi complete work

Chapter 1074 Do you think we are doing charity?

The aftermath of Jack's battle was huge. Although the entire Hive Island was not destroyed, Jin Rami and Sipps Head on both wings could detect the movement of Jack's battle.

As Jack's main battlefield quieted down, their fighting spirit became even higher.

"Master Jack has already dealt with the enemy! Move faster, don't let Master Jack look down on us!"
noVELUS&.com

Neither Kim Rummy nor Sipshead thought about Jack losing.

The battle time is too short. If you want to defeat Jack directly within this time, the combat power on Hive Island is impossible. Even if the island has a general-level combat power, it is impossible to easily kill Jack who is in full condition. .

So the reason for the end of the battle can only be that Jack has won.

The most reckless individual among the beasts is Urti, but the most reckless group is Jack's team. The battle with their own boss is over, and they have also made the choice to speed up the battle.

Like Jack, Sippthead also made a sliding tackle, but his attack style was quite different from Jack's. During the sliding tackle, Sippthead's body curled into a ball shape.

It turned into a mammoth ball with a diameter of several meters. The exposed ivory was like the wheel blade of a chariot, and with the high-speed rolling of the body, it harvested the pirates in front of it.

Jin Rami is relatively more elegant. Now her human-beast form is not a mammoth like Sipshead, but has been transformed by Quinn's potion like Maria, and has her own special ability like a cavalry. structure.

There is only one reason for doing this, she dislikes the ugly human-beast form of Xiangguo.

There are not a few people who have similar views with her. After all, there are many kinds of fruits in the animal department, and some types of human and animal forms are more curious in appearance. This is why Quinn has a group of female fans in the Beasts Pirates.

His invention is quite useful in some situations.

The pirates who belonged to Beasts took advantage of Jack's victory and kept moving forward, starting to gather at Jack's position.

But the pirates belonging to Hive Island are different. What they want to do is what to do next.

"Boss Gust is dead"

"What shall we do? Take revenge for the boss?"

"Revenge? What stupid things are you talking about? If you want to provoke that monster, go ahead. I'm going to run away anyway."

The words of revenge were not accepted, they were able to gather together because of Gerst's threat of force, if they were not afraid of his drunken fruit's ability, they would have fled when Jack started to destroy.

But they are not the opponents of Gerst, they just don't want to be destroyed by the drunk fruit of Gerst, so they dare not escape.

Now that Gerst is dead, it is absolutely impossible for them to fight someone that even Gerst can't beat.

Seeing that Jack didn't intend to attack them, they didn't have time to run, so how could they choose revenge.

"That guy Shiliu is right. We can't mess with this guy at all. There are still a lot of ships at Rocky Port. Everyone, see you later."

Without Gerst's management, these pirates have completely become a mess, and many people even have their eyes on the treasures left by Gerst, which are all accumulated by Gerst over the years, and they are also in this sea. Very rare wealth.

Although besides Gerst, there are several other leaders of the pirate group on this island, but those people are also encountering a lot of trouble now.

"Chaos Space!"

In the southwest of Beehive Island, Luo's ability enveloped a small area again, and the pirates in the area also fell into chaos under his attack.

"Bastard! Give me back my body!"

"Hold on! What are you doing to my body?!"

"Don't touch! Take your hands away! He is not your captain, I am your captain!"

A dozen pirates are in a mess, and they are doing strange behaviors with each other.

"Quiet me! It's that guy who did it! Let's get rid of that guy first!"

The bodies of these people are not injured, but their personalities have been exchanged, and their souls have entered other people's bodies at this time.

People are most used to only their own body, and this ability can often have miraculous effects.

The strong cannot exert their original strength with the body of the weak, and the weak cannot exert the true power in the body of the strong.

It can be said to be a good helper in group battles, which can greatly weaken the enemy's combat power. These pirates are not yet strong enough to use domineering to counter the ability of the fruit of surgery, and they suddenly fell into chaos under Luo's surprise attack.

"Everyone in charge, how does the new body feel? If you are not used to it, there is nothing you can do. This is an operation that cannot be refused, ROOM!"

The operation space opened up, and with the waving of Guiku in Luo's hands, several square-shaped heart blocks appeared in his hands, and he threw them into the bag behind him.

Judging from the ups and downs of the bag, he has harvested the hearts of many pirates, and even some pirates had to fight for him under Luo's coercion.

As for joining forces to resist

They just tried it, but before they even met Luo, Luo could crush their hearts.

Although there are many of them, Luo also has time to destroy part of the heart.

No one wants to die for others for no reason, and no one wants to exchange their own life for the freedom of others.

Luo is harvesting the pirates on Hive Island, Jack is also clearing out the pirates in the core area, Drake is arranging the next action with his team members, and the mercenary team of Hundred Beasts has also arrived at the place where the hostages are held .

"Hey panda, the prisoner card. It should be that guy, you guys, go and match the code with him."

Through the word of the handsome Queen, they successfully locked the rescue target, and then broke open the chains of the cell. At first, they didn't understand why these pirates wanted to pick the lock instead of destroying it directly, but their actions later showed that everything.

"Who asked you to come out? Get out of here!"

"Aren't you here to save people?"

"We are pirates and mercenaries. Do you think it is a voluntary rescue? Customers are the ones who get the money. You are not our employers. Of course, you are not within the scope of rescue. You can think of it, five million Baileys per person.

As long as five million, I can take you away together.

Or you can choose to stay here and continue to wait, maybe someone else will come to save you. "

Emotional developments are always so intriguing, and no one who was locked up here expected that the plot would develop like this.

"Do we look like we are rich? Those pirates from Hive Island have searched all the valuables away!"

"That has nothing to do with me, but I have to remind you of one thing. The people of Hive Island are pirates, and we are also pirates. Don't think that we have our own rules, so we can talk to Lao Tzu with this attitude!"

Chapter 1075 Correct use of undercover

They are not only pirates, but also stronger pirates than those on Hive Island, but they have their own rules. The direct subordinates of these big cadres are aware of the deterrent force of group rules, so they only do things within the rules.

While speaking, the pirate turned into a bear man, and slapped the huge bear paw directly on the wall beside him, wanting to prove what he just said, but the result of doing so was that he directly slapped the wall down.

"What the **** is this broken wall? If the wall on Onijima is of such broken quality, Lord Quinn will definitely beat him to death."

"Okay, you don't know the character of Mr. Quinn? Even the shelling of the walls of Ghost Island may not leave many traces. How can it be repaired like this, let's get down to business first."

But before they could do anything, the man who hired beasts made a new suggestion.

"My lords, this money was paid by my subordinates, but it will be delivered together with the commission after returning. Do you think this is okay?"

"Of course, who asked you to be the employer? We will still agree to this small request.

By the way, according to your request, Mr. Jack has entered the core area of the Hive Island. If you calculate the time, it is probably almost done. Do you want to go and see? "

"No need, I believe in your abilities, get out of here quickly."

"Okay, but it's a waste of a few minutes for you. Here I recommend an **** service outside. No matter where you want to go in New World, we can provide escort. Although the price is a bit expensive, it is guaranteed to be safe.

There are more and more pirates on the sea these years. In the waters of the New World, our name is more useful than a warship. "

This pirate still maintains the status of a bear man, but this does not affect his dedication to promoting the services of his own pirate group.

"Next time, next time"

While dealing with the pirates of all beasts, the employer of this operation also brought out other people. He was not trying to be a good guy, but to establish a little friendship with these people who had "been in prison" together, so that it would be convenient for him to career.

"Okay, you guys take them back to the boat, and you guys come with me to see how that kid Chiqi is doing. It's not good to let him fight alone."

Originally, they would be responsible for sending people to a safe place, but when approaching the port, the navy's warships also appeared in everyone's sight, which made those who were brought out by the way have other thoughts.

They didn't want to pirate the pirate ship, but chose to wait in place. The credibility of the navy is still much higher than that of the pirate, even if it is only from the name.

The pirates of Hundred Beasts didn't care about this group of people, and just returned to the team on their own. The other members of the Sword team also left the square, and found the rescue target of their mission near the port, and took them back to the warship.

Keby returned later than them, but when he returned to the warship, he also had a big bag of still beating hearts in his hand.

"Keby, what's going on with your chest?!"

Belumebo was a little flustered when he saw the hole in Keby's chest. According to human common sense, a person with a big hole in his chest would not be able to survive.

"It's okay, I met Luo from the Heart Pirates, he"

Keby briefly told Bellumebo about the previous events. They joined the navy together and received training from Karp. Although their strength is still average, they are also very close colleagues.

"Let's talk to Lieutenant General Garp, he won't ignore this kind of thing"

"Let's talk about it later..."

Keby and Beru Meber were discussing their follow-up ideas in the cabin, while outside, the rescue target "picked up" by them was furious.

"Why didn't you attack! That's a pirate ship! Are you navies trash? When I go back, I'll have my uncle sue you!"

Watching the pirate ship of Beasts leave, the relative of the nobleman was very displeased and kept complaining to the navy, but the navy chose to deal with it coldly. No matter what he said, he just pretended that he didn't exist.

But that didn't stop him, instead he condemned the Navy even more.

After a while, ordinary sailors can endure, but Peacock's patience has reached its limit.

"Shut up! The navy's actions don't need to be arranged by you!"

The whip hit the ground, and the shattered deck made him choose to shut up, and this was exactly what the commander of the warship was waiting for.

He can't afford to provoke the relatives of the world's nobles, but others can. Sword people will not be afraid of them. As long as the sword people run out of patience, someone will naturally tell him to shut up.

"The latest information, the leader of that ship is the new disaster of Beasts. As Kaido's chief cadre, fighting him is the signal to start the war. Now is not the time to start the war. If you want, I can arrange one for you." ship, you go talk to him yourself?"

Sword has the right to go to war at will, but if something unmanageable happens, they can only solve it themselves. These people are not stupid and will not take risks to do that kind of thing. They are very clear about the relationship between themselves and the enemy. strength gap.

"I want to sue you!"

"Feel free, but shut up now, or the next whip will be on you."

Using the second generation to deal with the second generation, the warship temporarily ushered in peace.

On Jack's Iron Mammoth, ordinary pirates were celebrating their victory as usual, but Jack in the cabin was not very happy. He had already seen the photos taken by Milk Fairy.

"The bastard"

Jack clenched his fists, and then saw that Milk Fairy had moved Rotom's phone over. NaveLuSB.com

"You mean, let Kaito and the others make the decision?"

"Ma~"

"Makes sense."

According to Frost Fairy's suggestion, news of an undercover agent was sent back to Ghost Island, and the person who exploded his hair changed from Jack to Quinn.

"Damn it, is there something wrong with this group of people, either CP0 or the navy, do you have to stuff some people in?"

Out of consideration for his own safety, Quinn has been paying close attention to domestic security issues, and possible foreign spies are the top priority. Judging from the current situation, Onijima should not have other spies mixed in.

But the appearance of Drake broke Quinn's comfort zone, and the sense of crisis enveloped his heart again.

"Master Arceus, what do you think should be done with this guy?"

"Keep it, there is a clear undercover agent, and some things are very convenient to do."

"An undercover agent with a clear identity is much more useful than an unknown undercover agent. You can use his mouth to pass on the news you want to convey, and let him do some difficult and dirty work to squeeze the remaining value of this undercover agent. .

They'll send one, there'll be a second, and it's better to be found than not to be found. "

twenty four

Chapter 1076 The Squeeze Plan and the Onion Rangers in the Gym

Now there are naval surveillance ships outside the waters of Wano Country. It's not that the beasts can't control them, but they don't want to control them. If you lose one batch, there will be another batch after a while. Now these surveillance ships at least know that they won't be annoying. And he stayed in that sea area all the time.

Anyway, they can't monitor anything, at most they can only send a signal when Kaido is out.

The undercover situation is different from them, but there are some similarities.

It is unknown what the unknown undercover will do, but the known undercover can control the information he knows and let the other party follow their own thinking.

In order to complete their own tasks, the undercover agent will even be more loyal when doing things, and even get the cooperation of the original forces, which is very convenient in a sense.

"Do you have any specific plans?"

"No, you can arrange this kind of thing yourself. When you feel that it is worthless, and it looks like an eyesore, just dispose of it."

"Yes, I see."

Quinn has already thought up a series of plans to squeeze out the remaining value of the opponent, but the fundamental purpose is not to take the blame.

After so many years of blame, he is used to it.

Although the pot is heavy, it also brings reputation. According to the information Quinn collected from the underground world, in the rumors outside, he has already become a genius scientist.

Dropping the pot means throwing away these reputations. For Quinn, who loves the limelight, this kind of thing is undoubtedly very painful.

With Hawkins avoiding risks, Quinn's goal is no longer to save his life, but has evolved into enjoying benefits while avoiding risks.

After the report, Quinn left Ghost Island and returned to his Queen Ling's laboratory, but he was still a little upset on the way.

"Those bastards, my last pure land is also polluted."

No big pirate group can guarantee that its subordinates are completely clean, and there must be a lot of eyeliners in the peripheral forces, affiliated pirate groups, and huge territories.

Beasts are no exception. Through a series of measures and equipment, Quinn, with the assistance of Rotom, took advantage of Wano Country's unique terrain, and managed to keep Wano Country and Onishima in a clean state.

The appearance of Drake now means that Quinn's hard-working comfort zone is over.

"Let me figure out what to do with this guy.. Hey, Jack? Is it easy for you kid to talk now?"

Dial Jack's contact information again, this time the person who answered the phone is no longer the Milk Fairy, but Jack himself.

"It's very convenient, Brother Quinn, do you have any instructions?"

"Let's put that kid under your control first. Give him a promotion first, let him lead a team to attack the Navy's patrol ships in the New World, and transfer him to the island when the time is right. I have other arrangements." ."

"Yes, I see."

Jack's attitude made Quinn feel very comfortable. He was one of the few people in the upper echelon who would speak respectfully to him.

"By the way, don't be too abnormal, don't let that guy notice the abnormality, we still have more time."

"Please rest assured, Brother Quinn."

"Jack, you may have misunderstood something. My last sentence is for your Frost Fairy. Just keep it as it is."

"Ma~"

After receiving an affirmative answer, Quinn hung up the phone and walked back to his laboratory.

"Look, Rambo Ball Q3.0 also failed, and people who eat it will become extremely irritable.

This guy happens to be of the ancient species, so let him test the medicine when the time comes, muhahaha, so you don't have to worry about being held accountable if something happens to your own people, this uncle is indeed a genius. "

Q is the form that Quinn named the Rumble Ball he transformed. At first, he thought it was not that difficult, but as time passed and the experiment went on, Quinn realized that he had underestimated this thing.

It is not so easy to change the band of the Devil Fruit. He has created a potion that consumes a lot of energy for overall rage, but the perfect version is still under experimentation.

The one that Kaido ate last time is definitely not a successful example. If that kind of thing is distributed, Quinn's second half of his life will probably be in jeopardy.

For example, Kaido eats it again, or Yamato is inexplicably interested in it and eats it

After thinking of some not-so-beautiful scenes, Quinn began to re-plan the future, and weird laughter came from time to time.

"See, that guy Quinn is so easy to get carried away. When he gets carried away, pouring a basin of cold water can calm that guy down."

Behind Quinn, the spiny ammonite crawled in front of Xie Mi, and began to talk about its snail life and experience with Quinn.

"I think at the beginning, a water gun could scare him. Later, he developed an automatic rain-shielding device, and the frequency of water-based skills to take effect decreased. This guy has rough skin and thick flesh, and the spike cannon can't do much. Effect.

How about you try it with the air blade, it will definitely give him a different feeling. "

"Forget it, seeing how hard it is for him to grow flowers, so it's not like Mi."

The evil taste of the spiny ammonite did not spread to Xie Mi, otherwise Quinn would have a more terrifying experience.

At this time, Guidao has lost the excitement of the previous banquet, and all the big cadres have left, even Jhin is no exception.

The change of light, moon and sun and attitude gave Jhin more time to perform other tasks outside.

Nowadays, the boss of all beasts doesn't know where he will appear while riding a dragon every day. Yamato has also inherited his father's habits, and her location can only be determined when the news is updated.

Although she is looking for slabs, it is more like traveling around the world.

The two have sufficient deterrent power, but they cannot guarantee to show up where they are needed on time. Fortunately, Beast has enough manpower now, and can still cope with the situation in the territory.

Jin is now on the way to suppress some pirates. After the death of Whitebeard, Beasts has become the most advanced force in the new world, which also makes many eyes focus on them.

With the continuous influx of new pirates, the territory of the beasts has also ushered in wave after wave of impact.

Not only Jhin, but also Zeraora and Shayna started to perform similar tasks, while Misu and Tiger were defending the reputation of the religious order, and almost all the available personnel started their own actions.

Only Quinn insisted on stationing on the island in this environment, planning to avoid the limelight outside.

Compared to the restlessness of the sea outside, Wano Country is like a paradise.

Da da da..

A velociraptor is running on the streets of Wano country, and a local child is sitting on its back. These velociraptors are not introduced from the outside by beasts, but native species living in Wano country.

The closed Wano country has many magical creatures. Compared with things like velociraptors and wild boars, they are much more normal.

There are two rucksacks hanging beside them, which are filled with newspapers printed and distributed by Beasts. The people on their backs are newsboys who are selling newspapers on the street at this time.

The velociraptor's intelligence is not low, so it has long been domesticated by the people of Wano country, and it has become even more docile after the beasts came here.

Those who are dissatisfied have long been turned into extra meals on the table in history, and only the blood of domesticated individuals has continued to this day

"Your newspaper, half silver thanks."

When the young man handed over the newspaper, the velociraptor under him also raised the cash box in his hand, watching the other party put the broken half silver coin into the cash box before looking away.

The value of half silver is equivalent to fifty Baileys from the outside world, which is quite cheap for the current Wano country.

"Well, it's still so dangerous outside, it's better here."

The content source of the newspaper is very simple. Take Morgans' newspaper and reprint it, add some content suitable for Wano country, and then publish it directly in Wano country.

Merchant ships were attacked, islands were attacked, and people were plundered. This kind of news was countless on the sea, and the Morgans newspapers were all vicious events that could attract people's attention.

Occasionally there will be more alarming information such as the collapse of the country.

There must be a comparison in everything. The quality of life in Wano country is already very superior. In this case, the misfortune of the outside world further sets off the beauty of Wano country.

At the same time, there is also the same theme in the newspaper.

【Protecting the country, King Ming protects the safety of Wano Country. If King Ming is still alive, Wano Country will be a paradise. 】

This sentence has become the truth in Wano Country. Even if some people don't believe this kind of thing, the reality makes them speechless.

The person in charge of the newspaper did not modify the content. Reality is often more magical than stories. Those things that happened in the open sea do not need any embellishment, they are enough to shock people.

For example, due to the drought, the food production of a certain island was reduced, and the tribute to the BIG MOM pirates was not available, and it was eventually destroyed.

It's just that the remarks about the navy and some advocacy of the world government have been deleted. Wano Country can now understand that the outside world is under the control of Beasts, and there are thick filters on it, and this filter has also made Wano Country National opinion has changed dramatically.

After browsing some overseas affairs, the style of the newspaper has also changed, and the newspaper here is in duplicate.

The first half is about the recent situation on the sea, while the second part is a religious journal, and the content of the compilation is completely determined by the members of the Arceus religion.

The velociraptor ran on the streets of the Flower City, and the number of newspapers in the backpacks on both sides gradually decreased. When all the newspapers were sold, the boy came to a dojo in the Flower City.

Skillfully tied the raptor's rein outside the door, the boy picked up his wooden sword and planned to enter the gymnasium.

"Isn't this Yuichi? Are today's newspapers sold out?"

"Yes, it's sold out, Uncle Kentaro, do you want to come to the gym to study?"

"No, no, I just sent my family Yuta here to study, he is different from me, maybe he can become a samurai."

Times have changed. Kentaro, who used to help milk the big milk tank, is now a father, and even his own children have reached the age of learning.

After being lucky enough to find the Dao Enlightenment Fruit that year, Kentaro won a large bonus and became the boss of the buying station. He is now a rich man.

But he doesn't want his children to follow their own old path. A businessman will always be a businessman, and he can't get ahead just by being a businessman. Kojiro is also one of the few cases in Wano Country over the years. This kind of "conglong" achievement is rare. .

In the cognition of Wano Country, the samurai class means class leapfrogging. If he can become a samurai through hard training and be successfully selected in the selection of the Shinsengumi, he will no longer be an ordinary civilian.

When Kentaro was young, he didn't have this ability, so he wanted to pave the way for his son.

"By the way, how is your father? I heard that he accidentally broke his leg before."

"I have almost recovered, and I will be able to go back to work in a few days."

"That's good. If it doesn't work, it's better to buy some big milk jugs of milk. It's very good for bone recovery."

Kintaro and Yuichi's father had met for a few times, and when Kentaro wanted to continue asking for some detailed information about the gym, a bell rang in his ears.

"Ah, the training is about to start, goodbye, Uncle Kentaro."

Listening to the assembly bell, Yuichi walked into the dojo first after bowing farewell, and Kentaro waited for a while before arriving at the admissions office with his son under the leadership of others.

Along the way, what he saw were not students practicing, but ducks fighting duels.

"Ca Moo!"

"Coffee!"

Two Galar scallions stood on both sides of the dojo. Under the command of the referee, they bowed and saluted, and finally picked up their scallions and started the duel.

The bulky scallions became very flexible in their hands. They were obviously just scallions, but Kentaro saw something like a sword being swung out by the scallions.novElus&.cOm

"That one is Kasaya chop. This one is... lai without scabbard?"

Kintaro's eyesight is limited, he can't see what kind of move it is, he just thinks it's very powerful, and around the two scallion ducks, more scallion ducks seem to be waiting for something.

When Kentaro came here, the battle of the onion duck had already come to an end. As the onion flew through the air, its opponent was knocked down by him. At this time, the dazzling white light enveloped the body of the onion duck.

The cumbersome scallions were also wrapped in white light and split into two parts. When the white light dissipated, the scallions in their hands turned into one-handed swords and shields, and most of the tan feathers turned white.

Yellow-billed Duck Pokémon-Onion Ranger, the evolution of Galar Onion Duck.

It is very simple for the Onion Duck in the game to evolve into an Onion Ranger. You only need to hit the vitals three times to complete the evolution in the game.

But it is more difficult here. The chance of hitting the key point is not a pure luck in the game, but requires hard training.

When a Galar Scallion Duck has experienced many battles and its skills are already very strong, the power of evolution in its body will naturally awaken. , This is also the reason why the scallion ducks gathered in the gymnasium.

They are also learning kendo with green onions in their hands, and in this way strengthen their own strength, the purpose is to complete the evolution today.

I said that I have paid off everything that needs to be paid back, no more, no less.

Don't always make it look like I'm in debt. It's a usury, and after paying it off, it's interest, and the principal is still owed.

Chapter 1077 People and ducks cannot be generalized

"Ca Moo!"

Victory does not necessarily mean victory, failure can also bring rich experience, so the light of evolution does not appear on a certain duck onion alone, but envelopes two ducks onion onion at the same time.

The two evolved onion rangers glanced at each other, rearranged their stances, and touched lightly with the sharp blades made of green onions in their hands, completing the etiquette exchange, and then fought again.

"Ca Moo!"

The onion ranger, who was defeated before, raised his shield to block another onion ranger's thrust. The green onion leaf shield was now stained with black. It was not a skill, but a domineering force. .

Arrogance has never been exclusive to humans. Any intelligent creature has the possibility of cultivating arrogance. In addition to human subspecies, it also includes all kinds of animals.

Alabasta's Kung Fu Sea Cow, the Millennium Dragon's Falun, and the thousand-faced Elisabeth all practice domineering, and the fighting-type Onion Ranger and Galar Onion Duck naturally have mastered this.

"Moo, moo, moo!"

Seeing that his onion blade was blocked, the other onion ranger was not polite. He wrapped the front end of the onion blade with arrogance and started a new round of battle. The same power evolved into a confrontation between spear and shield. The onion rangers fought regardless of each other for a while.

Judging from the intensity of their current battles, it is not so easy to decide the winner again. They are all taught by the same master, and no one can break the other's tricks.

Galer Scallion Ducks were originally divided into different genres according to different ways of wielding green onions. After more teachings, their genres have become more complicated.

And these two schools of Onion Rangers come from Heigoro, Wano Country's well-known instant teacher of armed color.

As he grew older, Hyogoro didn't want to be idle all the time, so he simply applied to open a kendo gym to teach his skills in Wano Country and train a new generation of young people.

Armed Color Crash Teacher is a joke, which generally refers to the fact that Heigoro in the original timeline still taught Luffy high-level armed color even though his body was extremely old.

Although he does not have a crash course now, people often come to learn armed colors from Heigoro. Among the natives of Wano Country, he can be regarded as an authority on armed colors.

"Really, I never imagined that one day, I would actually teach a group of ducks how to practice swords."

Looking at the scallion ducks practicing in the dojo, Heigoro didn't know what to say for a while, because most people are not as hardworking as these ducks.

Their body structure is different from that of humans, but by imitating his moves, they evolved a special genre.

"Just get used to it, Uncle Heigoro, don't there are many similar things in Wano Country? The judo gym over there has hired a few monsters as sparring partners."

"You kid still has the nerve to say that if you don't stare at you for a while, are you lazy again! The progress is not enough!"

Heigoro picked up a bamboo stick and hit Kojiro on the head to urge him to continue to practice hard.

"People can't be generalized. My energy is also limited. Unlike these scallion ducks, I don't have to think about other things every day, just practice is enough.

I'm leaving first, Uncle Bingorang, you should get busy recruiting students. "

Seeing Heigoro's firepower refocused on himself, Kojiro found an excuse and left the gym directly, and returned to his residence in the Flower City not far away.

The gate is no different from other houses, except that it has a very strange logo.

There is a portrait of the great blacksmith posted on his gate, and a big cross is put on it. Simply put, the great blacksmith is not welcome here, and the commanders who live here forbid the great blacksmith to set foot here. .

These two ethnic groups are naturally not able to deal with each other, even if they didn't kill each other because they lived beside Arceus, they still fight against each other on weekdays.

Of course, most of the time Commander Chop and Slash is guarding against the Great Blacksmith. These pink creatures with hammers are very unfriendly in their eyes, and they always want to knock something else off of them.

In the eyes of the giant blacksmith, the group of commanders of chopping and cutting were too stingy, and they were unwilling to actively contribute even a little forging materials.

Kojiro left, Heigoro began to assess the newly registered young people, Onion Youbing and Onion Duck returned to Jiuli together after the practice, where the green onion field was their favorite place.

It was just in the house on the side, but there was only a wearing bear holding a branch teasing the ants with nothing to do, and Perona's spirit body was floating beside it.

Her main body is resting in the basement at this time, using the spirit body to move around at will is not only exercising the fruit ability, but also being lazy.

"It's so quiet in broad daylight, but I'm not used to it. They should be fine."

"Kuku, Nai."

Drawing a circle on the ground while wearing a bear, but accidentally opened a whole piece of land.

Setsuna is working in Zou. Originally, this time is the time when Miaona and Worf are fighting, but the house is extremely quiet at this time, and the two of them cannot be found in the entire Wano country.

Because they weren't here at all, but were taken out by Zeraora.

As they said before, Zeraora had already taken them to the outer sea to meet the world. At this time, they were not in the New World at all, but were brought across the windless to the West Sea, looking for suitable training objects.

They are still young, but with their own strength, it is not difficult to deal with the pirates in the first half of the great route. It is not easy for the pirates who have just entered the new world to deal with them. The initial goal of the four seas is simply that Zeraora is too careful. .

And the result of his being too careful was that some pirates who had just set out to sea had bad luck.

West Sea, an unnamed island, among the damaged ruins, several pirates are looking at the surrounding forest vigilantly, as if there are some man-eating beasts living inside. novelusb.com

jingling~jingling~

A burst of ringtones entered the ears of several pirates. The crisp ringtone was pleasant to the ear, but for these pirates, the ringtone was the rattle of death.

A fiery flame hit with the ringing of the bell, and a red and white young orc chased out from the forest. Due to the color of his fur, Worf happened to be a different-colored hot meow after transforming.

Flames and bells are his masterpieces.

There is a bell-like thing on his neck, which is not an ornament, but a special organ belonging to Hot Meow.

This bell is a flame bag that can generate flames. The temperature of the flame bag will rise with the hot mood, and at the same time it will make a loud sound like a bell.

The louder the bell, the higher his fighting spirit and the higher the temperature of the flame.

Chapter 1078 Double meow, the world government preparing to clean up the land

Emotions will affect the temperature of Hot Meow's flames, and the emotions will become more intense during battle. It can be said that Hot Meow's ability was born for fighting.

And this emotion may not be anger, excitement, sadness, or joy. As long as it is not as plain as water, the firepower of Hot Meow will not be affected.

"It's coming again! The monster is catching up!"

"Asshole, are they still not satisfied after losing the treasure they just grabbed? What on earth do these monsters want to do?!"

jingling~jingling~

While running away, the pirates scolded Worf for attacking them, while struggling to swing their legs. The long cross-country running pushed their physical strength to the limit, but from the beginning to the end, they couldn't get rid of the people behind them. pursue soldiers.

One side is the fledgling pirates from the West Sea. They were originally bandits. They occupy the mountains and become kings on several islands in the West Sea. They are ordinary people, and there are no particularly powerful people.

But the turmoil caused by pirates is getting bigger and bigger. Under the temptation of greed and desire, they also want to find the legendary treasure, and only then embarked on the road of pirates.

The other party is the fur tribe who grew up in the new world. They are unique superpowers themselves, and they are also blessed with abilities.

According to Jhin, at the biological level, these pirates are no match for Worf and the others.

"coming!"

The ringing of the bell was close at hand, but they had already lost the time to prepare. The fist wrapped in flames hit the last person on the head, and he lost consciousness with just one blow.

"Don't run away, we can't run away from him! Let's fight and see if we can solve this guy!"

"I don't want to go to sea anymore. This is completely different from the pirate life I thought. I want to fight you guys, I don't want to die!"

Some people want to fight to the death, and some people run away, but at this time, running away alone often just speeds up the process of their own demise.

Whoosh!

A vine was drawn from the front, and there were three special structures in front of the vine that looked like small balls. Although it was a plant, it was knocked unconscious like a meteor hammer.

"Idiot, that monster was not alone, and dared to sneak away by himself"

The owner of the vine is Meowna, and that vine is also the ability of Diremeow. There are vines hidden under Diremeow's hair. Throw at the enemy.

In addition, the soft hair can be instantly hardened in battle, turning into a steel needle-like protective shell. Under the guidance and blessing of the power of the waveguide, Miaona can manipulate the vines more delicately, and the explosive power is also stronger.

"Asshole. We haven't offended you, have we? Why are you staring at us!"

"Didn't you kill the people on the merchant ship before? Did they offend you?"

"Are there any acquaintances of yours on it? If not, what does their life and death have to do with you!"

"you."

"Wolf, too much nonsense."

The hunted pirate couldn't figure out why this monster would stare at him. Worf wanted to refute him, but Zeraora's voice suddenly rang out from his ears.

"I see, Dad"

Give up the idea of wanting to communicate, and the bell on Worf's chest rang again. Accompanied by the overflowing flames, he knocked down the opponent with superb physical skills, and then tied him up with Meowna's ability.

"Wolf, Meowna.

There will be many situations in the sea, but as long as you are sure that he is your enemy, don't try to reason with him.

Speak less, do more, fight if you can fight, and run if you can't fight, talk too much and lose, talking nonsense to the enemy will only give them opportunities. "

This is the first official battle with the enemy, and Zeraora is trying her best to pass on what she knows, so as to save her children from detours.

"But Mr. Kaigo has a lot to say every time he fights."

"That's because he is strong enough. If the two of you reach our strength, you can also choose to persuade them with words, but in the face of the enemy, fists are always more effective than words.

Next, let's go to the Navy branch in Xihai. These people are worth hundreds of thousands of Baileys, so I'll give it to you as pocket money. "

The reward of hundreds of thousands of Baileys is no different from cannon fodder on the Great Airway, and it is not considered a powerful character in Four Seas.

After all, the average bounty of the weakest East China Sea is also 3 million Baileys, and the amount of hundreds of thousands is far below the average.

Jeraora chose this level of enemies simply to see what low-level mistakes they would make in battle. Such mistakes are often more fatal, so it is better to find them early.

Meowna and Worf are both white, and it doesn't matter if they enter the Navy Branch directly. After successfully changing to their own pocket money, Zeraora also began to upgrade their training.

The next battle will no longer be this kind of miscellaneous fish, but an opponent with the ability to contend.

The new world was still too early for them, and Zeraola took them to stay in the West Sea for a few more days, and then went to the first half of the great voyage, and in the process, they also saw the new news in the newspaper. information.

【Drought-Jack】

The title of the newspaper is very simple, but anyone who pays attention to the pirate information has captured the information they need. "Disaster" has become the exclusive name of the officials of the beasts. Except for the leaders of the beasts, outsiders will not be called for disasters.

"1.329 billion Baileys. Dad, brother Jack's reward is higher than yours."

"That kind of thing doesn't matter. Don't trust the reward too much. It can only be used as an estimate at best. Quinn is an example. He doesn't have this ability himself."

Before this, Jack's bounty had already exceeded 1 billion, but after he became a disaster, the navy still increased his bounty. This is also the attitude of the navy. Raising the bounty shows that they are still paying attention to this person.

If the rewards are no longer increased, it means that the world government has given up targeting these people.

Even deliberately downplayed their existence in order to protect their reputation, just like the prisoners on the sixth floor of the city, they would only act quietly.

But this time the news in the newspaper is very special. The news only mentions the disaster of Jack's promotion, but keeps silent about other things.

It's not that the navy dared not mention Hive Island, but that the world government has other arrangements for this matter.

The first is about Luo's Qiwuhai identity. The hearts of 100 pirates are very deterrent, especially according to intelligence, these are at least tens of millions of Bailey's bounty criminals.

This attitude and deterrence made the world government agree to give him the final position of Qiwuhai. In their view, there have been fewer and fewer interesting pirates recently.

And the other thing is the details about the hive island.

It is impossible for them to report this incident truthfully. The pirate mercenaries rescued the hostages, and the navy just picked up the ready-made. mention of naval exploits NovelusB.cOm

Chapter 1079 Family or Enemy

In the Battle of the Valley of the Gods, Garp and Roger joined forces to end Lockes' ambitions and also made Garp a naval hero.

In Alabasta at the original time, the government covered up the fact that Shichibukai was defeated by a fledgling pirate, and at the same time, in order to reduce the impact of this vicious event of Crocodile's country-seeking. Give Smoker the credit for defeating Crocodile.

Smoker was promoted to Brigadier General.

Spandam did nothing and failed all the way, but he was still able to be promoted to the chief of CP9, and even promoted to the organization of CPO.

CPO has always been known as the strongest shield of the Celestial Dragons, but this shield can have trash with a power value of only nine, which is inferior to ordinary naval soldiers.

In the final analysis, these are the decisions of the world government. It is almost impossible to use personal bravery to fight against the world government with the whole world as its reserve.

Unless a very few people surpass the limits of human beings and can fight against ancient weapons with their own bodies, then it is possible to do this kind of thing.

If the world government is willing, they can let a waste sit in the position of a high-ranking official. NovelusB.cOm

Even the absurd thing of letting a dog become the king of the country is not impossible.

The world government doesn't like it, even if it is an admiral, they have ways to make trouble.

Zefa's family members were killed during the peak period of his tenure as a general. This is not something that ordinary pirates can do, but how many ways there are behind it, even the Warring States period can't tell.

The navy is relatively independent, but after all it is an institution under the jurisdiction of the world government.

To most sailors there is no difference between a world government and a navy, but there are people who see it differently.

Generals and lieutenant generals have their own opinions and cognitions. It should be said that they have the ability to practice their own opinions. They don't have to follow orders like most soldiers.

However, it is unknown how many soldiers are more loyal to the world government than the navy. Some soldiers are spies sent by the world government to monitor the navy. It is not in the world government's own interest to let the violent agencies under its command act at will.

So after the Rocky Harbor incident on Hive Island, the World Government made a brand new decision.

The first is the appointment of Shichibukai. The death surgeon-Trafalgar Law obtained the position of Shichibukai from the world government with the hearts of 100 great pirates as a gift. Complete.

Although the quality of those pirates is uneven, and there are very few who can truly be called big pirates, but in order to expand their influence, the world government still uses very exaggerated rhetoric.

Luo's news almost made him the public enemy of the pirates. Wangxia Qiwuhai's reputation among the pirates has not been very good. While the pirates are afraid of their strength, they also disdain that a guy with such strength is willing to become a member of the world government. running dog.

Compared with other Qiwuhai, Luo's way of becoming Qiwuhai makes them even more contemptuous. This kind of "dog licking" behavior of giving gifts to the door has attracted the indignation of many pirates. Many people have already regarded it as a thorn in their eyes and plan to use it Luo's head to make a name for himself.

The impact of being promoted to Qibuhai is more than that.

"Dover, here's today's paper, Rona boy"

"I see, Torrebol, don't speak so viciously. This is my dear brother, the third generation of the Don Quixote family. You should be happy that he can reach this position."

On the beach in Dressrosa, Doflamingo looked leisurely on vacation. The reflection on the sunglasses made it difficult to see his eyes clearly, but judging from his tone, Doflamingo was not angry at all. mood.

Under the efforts of Rosindi, Doflamingo didn't know that Luo had already known what happened back then. He only knew that Luo had eaten the fruit of the operation and had developed it to a considerable extent.

The eternal life operation of the fruit of the operation has always been Doflamingo's goal. For this goal, he has always called Luo his younger brother and a member of the family, and he has retained the position of the heart.

"Then we"

"Of course I congratulate him, 哈哈哈哈哈哈, disappearing for so many years, the child who left home should come back, go get in touch with him, and see if he is my family or my enemy."

Doflamingo hoped that Luo didn't know anything, so as to facilitate his plan, but Luo has been away for more than ten years, and with the reputation of the Don Quixote family, if he wanted to come back, he would have found him long ago.

So what Doflamingo said was not quite consistent with what he did. Everything he did was for himself.

Before they couldn't get in touch with Luo, but now that Luo has become a member of Shichibukai, Doflamingo naturally has a chance to get in touch.

"I understand Dover. By the way, what should we do on the Hive Island? The pirates who originally occupied it have been wiped out, and the Hive Island is now a land of no one. I heard that there is a navy that has played a big role. effect."

"Hey, it's just an old trick of the world government, if that navy is really capable, how could it be an ordinary major."

The disciple of a hero is also a hero, so he can really create momentum.

But Beehive Island. That place is too troublesome, there is no need to waste energy to set foot there. Are all beasts not interested in it? "

"According to the intelligence, Jack should call him Drought now, and that Drought left directly after destroying there."

"Well, since they're not interested, let's recommend it to that Bucky. Isn't he recruiting troops with great interest now? The empty beehive island might be a good stage, if he has the ability to hold it there."

The location and symbolic meaning of the Hive Island are very special, but Doflamingo has no interest in it.

If the beasts occupy it, Hive Island has nothing to do with him. If the beasts do not occupy it, there will be a large number of pirates staring at it. He has no extra energy to manage it, so he simply recommends that place gave it to someone else.

Bucky can take it there, he has a favor, but if he can't take it there, he has nothing to lose.

When some members of the Don Quixote family started to act, others also saw the news in the newspaper.

Like Misu and Tiger, but they are now wearing hard hats as construction workers. This is the place they have been to before, and they have built a church on it.

But when they came back here again, they just encountered some pirates looting here, and even set a fire outside the church, intending to burn the church and the people hiding inside.

As for the result, they knew the difference between Cangyan Saber Demon's flame and ordinary flame, and also understood what it means to leave no dross, but Misu is now looking at Luo's news with a pensive expression on his face.

Chapter 1080 A hero who seeks fame and fame, the end of the Battle of the Marshal

"What's the matter, nun, is there any trouble?"

"No, just thought of something from the past"

Frevans said it was a country, but it was only a small country. Rather than saying it was a country, it was better to say that it was a once prosperous town. Misu was a nun in a monastery, and almost all school-age children studied there.

She had a deep impression on Luo. At that time, his expression was slightly ferocious, but he cared about his sister very much. His ideal was to become an excellent doctor like his parents.

【You are also going farther and farther on the road of pirates. But also, how many people in this world can stick to their ideals all the time】

In the beginning, Misu didn't care much about the outside newspapers, so he never noticed Luo's news, but when Lamy once told her about the "weird" that appeared in Chambord, Misu went to look for past information, and have some understanding of this.

Trafalgar's surname is rare, even if there is no anonymity, Luo's name and appearance are obvious enough.

In her memory, Robben was more mature than the others. If they met in Chambord but did not recognize each other, either Luo also lost his memory, or there were other special reasons.

"Your Excellency Tiger, maybe we need to temporarily change the route."

"I'm fine, is there any special situation?"

"An old man, it should be considered good news. By the way, Mr. Tiger, you have no problem dealing with Shichibukai, right?"

"Well, if there is almost no problem with Jinbei's strength, if we are in the sea, even if we lose to me, we will have the confidence to withdraw. In the current Shichibukai... there should be no one who has conflicts with us, right?"

"No, I'm just asking by the way, and I didn't intend to fight this time, just in case."

"With the heroic efforts of the navy, all the hostages captured on Hive Island were rescued. The navy will definitely protect the safety of the sea.

Drunk Gust died, Bloodclaw.

Hero Kebi's rank is promoted to Colonel.

What is this? It's totally different from what Brother Jack said. "

In addition to the news that Luo became the Qiwuhai, the detailed matters about the Hive Island were reported immediately afterwards. The appearance of Jack was briefly mentioned, and it was only described as an infighting among pirates.

As one of the parties involved, Beasts is very aware of the truth of the matter, so they are very disdainful of the contents of the newspaper.

"And this hero Kirby, who is this? Dad, have you heard of this navy?"

"No, it should be some insignificant little character. You will understand this kind of thing later. Whether you see or hear it, it is not necessarily the truth of the matter.

The domestic daily newspapers in Hezhi are also false. If you see any special news outside in the future, you can neither believe it nor believe it completely. You have to make your own judgment.

Just read the newspapers outside for fun, and read the announcements inside Rotom in more detail. "

Just as Doflamingo guessed, the reports of the navy and the world government are more for the purpose of building momentum.

Sword has more than one member, but Keby is the most suitable one.

They are showing to the outside world that the navy not only has high-level generals, but also a grassroots officer will fight for the people, and the new generation of the navy has not been cut off.

Unlike the endless stream of supernovas of the pirates, the overall strength of the navy is strong, and the three of Sakaski also inspired the navy for a while, but after that, there were no bright newcomers in the navy, but the pirates The movement became louder and louder.
noVeLusB.coM

They urgently need to set a new paradigm.

The hero's disciple is still a hero, the navy has a future, this is what they want to express, it doesn't matter whether the person involved is Keby or Piccolo.

Keby just appeared in the right place at the right time, and has a more suitable identity, which is convenient for them to create characters.

Moreover, the navy itself paid very little attention to this new hero. Compared with this, they have more troublesome things.

The ideological dispute between Kuzan and Sakalski could not be resolved after all. The top leaders of the world government and the navy were in dispute over the candidate for the new marshal. Neither of the two parties was willing to make concessions, which eventually triggered a marshal dispute.

Most navies had very simple feelings when they heard Kirby.

This navy is very powerful, but I have never heard of it before.

As expected of Lieutenant General Karp, his disciple also has such great ambitions.

The navy, who is not familiar with Keby, can only sigh a few words at most.

Akakenu and Aokiji are different. The names of the two generals have long been deeply rooted in the hearts of the people. Their duel will even affect the future development strategy of the navy.

Kuzan and Sakasky fought in Punk Hazard for ten days and ten nights. In the end, Kuzan lost, suffered severe burns on his right half of his body and lost his left leg.

Sakalski took into account the friendship of his colleagues and did not kill Kuzan, but Kuzan also chose to leave the Navy because he did not agree with Sakalski's philosophy.

So far, the Warring States period has retreated to the second line, and Sakaski has become the new marshal. The original three generals are only the yellow monkey, and the advanced combat power of the navy has become scarce.

"Sakaski, these are the documents left before, these are the future development issues, these are the transfer of relevant personnel, these will be handed over to you later, by the way, these are secret information, remember to destroy them after reading them ."

In the Marshal's office, Zhan Guo's black hair had turned gray and his face was a little older, but his expression was very relaxed.

Only when he becomes a marshal, will he know how painful this position is. He believes that Sakaski will soon appreciate his hard work.

"Okay, the handover is over, now I'll leave it to you, I'm just an ordinary inspector."

Sengoku took his little goat and left here. There are magma fruits, and Akainu doesn't need this word shredder. He only needs to use his ability to burn documents.

Akainu, who took over the position of Marshal, quickly issued the first order. The positions of the Navy Headquarters and the G1 Branch were switched. The original broken Navy Headquarters was changed to an ordinary G Branch. The original G1 Branch became the new Navy Headquarters. The Navy will pay more attention to the situation in the new world.

The appropriation of the science unit continued to increase, and the flying dragon unit was reorganized, but it was mainly reconnaissance units, and they were assigned to various branches as much as possible.

The new official took office three fires, and the fire of Akainu was extremely strong, but due to the lack of high-level combat power, it was difficult for him and Kizaru to leave the Navy headquarters, so the activities carried out were relatively limited.

In order to better maintain the balance of the sea, the world government has also planned new actions in response to the lack of high-level naval power and the loss of grassroots forces. The Great Conscription has begun.