Chapter 111 Wolf's Sense of Smell

This creamy fruit pie is actually the outpost of the BIG·MOM pirates in the Totland waters. Ships entering this waters without permission may be directly attacked by it.

The firepower of this type of ship is not weak, and it is the most basic battleship of the BIG·MOM pirate group. Compared with the ships of other pirate groups, the ships of the BIG·MOM pirate group seem to be the least threatening.

The bow of the Beast King is a dragon head with a ghost horn, and most of the ships of the BIG·MOM Pirates have a smiling face.

"We're here, little ones, cheer up and don't lose face of Lao Tzu!"

For pirates, face is always a big problem. The members of this ship are old people who have experienced several battles, and they can be regarded as the elite among pirates.

Soon after, a ship with a long hat on the bow headed towards here, the flag of BIG MOM was planted on the flagpole, but there was no pirate flag painted on the main sail, but the word "CANDY" was written.

Sweet Candy, the ship of the eldest son Perospero, after receiving the news, BIG·MOM sent it out to meet Kaido.

"Lick~ Long time no see, Mr. Kaido. Mom's tea party is ready, please come with me."

As the eldest son of Charlotte Lingling, Perospero had also seen that time, Kaido was only nine years older than him, and they had also met on the ship of Locks.

Perospero also looked at the members of Kaido's ship. The unknown minions could be ignored. Apart from Kaido himself, only Quinn was familiar, and there were several other children, among them the children of the fur tribe. .

Olga's bounty orders are still in the form of beasts. At this time, she stood here and Perospero didn't recognize the other party, or he didn't remember those bounty orders at all. The bounty was over 100 million in the new world. Passing line, there are too many pirates in tens of millions, he can't remember at all.

But at present, the attitude of the beasts is still very friendly, otherwise they would not have brought several children.

At this time, the Kingdom of Totland was not as strong as it was decades later, and the main combat power of the BIG·MOM pirates was still growing, and Katakuri was even a year short of adulthood.

But on the other hand, Charlotte Lingling's strength has reached its peak. At 37 years old, she is in her prime. She has not lost shape due to excessive fertility, and all functions are still at their peak.

The current BIG·MOM pirates are not as good as the BIG·MOM pirates 30 years later, but Charlotte Lingling herself is different.

"What a long tongue, longer than Uncle Ancott's. People from overseas are very interesting."

Ancott, the fur tribe of anteaters on Zou Island, the person with the longest tongue in the moment, but now Perospero has become the person with the longest tongue.

She was just talking to Zeraora in a low voice, but that voice was not too small for Perospero.

"Mr. Kaido, it seems that you have brought a lot of children this time." In the past, only Charlotte Lingling had been following a group of children on Lockes' ship. It was obviously impossible to expect Lockes' crew to respect the elderly and care for the young, but no one on board dared to bully them.

was mainly subdued by Charlotte Lingling. After many years, Kaido actually reappeared a scene similar to that year.

The Sweet Candy was in front, and the Beastmaster followed in the direction of Cake Island. There were already many ships berthed at the port of Cake Island, and the target opportunities for this tea party invitation had all arrived.

Just stepping on the cake island, a sweet smell has been introduced into their noses. Most of the buildings on this island are composed of cakes. There are almost all kinds of edible things on the island.

Not just dead, but alive, cakes running around, egg tarts swinging, talking teapots.

Those are Hormitz who was poured into the soul by Charlotte Lingling, and a large part of the soul collected by the Totland Kingdom was used for this.

After all, Charlotte Lingling is a superhuman soul-soul fruit. It is still slightly controversial what she ate to get her this ability, but it doesn't matter.

Soul soul fruit person can deal with human soul at will, let the soul reside in various things to make it anthropomorphic, but it cannot be placed in other people or corpses, but other animals can indeed.

There are also chess soldiers patrolling the streets. These are the products of Charlotte Lingling's fruit ability. Perospero took Kaido and the others to the venue of the tea party, and along the way, they would give out a few sticks to the children they met. sugar.

And the residents here are not afraid of the members of the BIG·MOM pirates, but a little in awe, and they seem to be used to this kind of life.

It was just that as they got closer and closer to the venue, they suddenly smelled in the air.

"What's wrong?"

"I smelled a stench."

"Impossible, little sister, there will never be any spoiled food on Cake Island. They will be disposed of by the demolition team before they expire."

Because the houses here are all made of food, they have to be replaced every once in a while, and the demolition teams here are all big eaters, and the task is to eat the houses that are about to expire.

If Charlotte Lingling sees rotten food here, even her children will inevitably be punished. When she heard that she smelled bad food, Perospero's first reaction was absolutely impossible.

"Instant can't go wrong. It's not the smell of food, it's the smell of people, the same smell as the manager."

She is a wolf fur, and a wolf is a very vengeful creature. There are too many people in the organ trafficking and assassination group. Although she can't remember all of them, she remembers the taste of a few key people.

For example, the smell of the manager and the person who arrested her, that is, the head of the merchandise capture department, just now, she smelled that smell. novelusb.Com

Perospero couldn't understand what she said, but Zeraola understood that ten days was enough to get to know a person roughly, not to mention that Zeraola itself had the task of having a good relationship with the moment. in the body.

"Mr. Kaido, it should be a member of that group, and the nose of the moment is very smart."

This is BIG·MOM's territory, what to do is to be arranged by Kaido, this is the instruction of Arceus before he leaves.

"Don't worry, they will come to the door by themselves, just wait."

The instinct of the fur tribe is the intuition of beasts, and Kaido has always believed in this instinct. The wolf's sense of smell should not be wrong. He didn't know how those people appeared here, but they definitely didn't come to the tea party.

This is BIG·MOM's territory after all, he doesn't plan to do anything first, and this is her tea party, whoever dares to sabotage at this time must be greeted by her anger.

Chapter 112 Tea Party

Although Charlotte Lingling's tea party has been held many times, Kaido is a special case. He is the first pirate who has no marriage relationship with the BIG·MOM pirates, but came to participate in this tea party.

In the past, the pirates invited to the BIG·MOM tea party were all members who chose to join BIG·MOM, and Kaido was the first exception in so many years.

The people in the underground world have already taken their seats, and they all want to know the reason for Kaido's actions in the first place, while Stuthy is more concerned about what Charlotte Lingling and Kaido are going to discuss.

At the entrance of the banquet hall, a group of soldiers with the king's flag very solemnly protected a photo into the banquet hall. It was the photo of Sister Carmelite, the great benefactor in Charlotte Lingling's mind.

Charlotte Lingling was expelled from the country because she was born different from ordinary people and made mistakes in her own country, so she was taken to a desert island by her parents at the time, and was adopted by Carmelite.

On the surface, Carmelite was an ordinary nun. Because of her benevolent behavior, she was called "The Virgin" by the world. She created the "Lamb's House" to accommodate children who had nowhere to go. " of human traffickers.

When I was young, I directed a big drama with the World Government, rescued the giant pirates who were about to be executed, gained the friendship of the giants, and later sent a lot of giant soldiers to the navy. The Lamb House was established.

The children adopted by the Lamb House don't care about race or identity, but these children belong to the agents she trained for the World Government. At the beginning, she also took a fancy to Charlotte Lingling's terrifying talent and planned to send her to the World Government.

But Charlotte Lingling's eczema attack made everything different. Charlotte Lingling herself still doesn't know what happened at the beginning.

The photo of the nun is what she cherishes the most. The photo of the nun is indispensable for every tea party. If there is an accident in the photo of the nun, then Charlotte Lingling will enter a special state.

Her formidable defenses will break at that moment, but those who do such things must meet her wrath.

"Lingling, long time no see, your gift."

Stuthy handed the prepared small treasure box to Charlotte Lingling. They have a good personal relationship. Stuthy is one of the few people who calls her aunt's name directly.

"Thanks, Stucci, I want to open it now, every time your gift is so exciting."

"Lingling, it's better to take it apart slowly after you wait. If you take it apart, it won't be easy to put away."

"makes sense."

After took the treasure box that Stuthy handed over, Charlotte Lingling put it together with other gifts and planned to open it after a while.

"But Lingling seems to have a new child. Is that why you held a tea party?"

A white cloud floats behind Charlotte Lingling, Thundercloud Zeus, Hormitz made by Charlotte Lingling with her own soul fragments, has the power of thunder and lightning.

And Zeus had two babies on him.

"Well~ Well, this is Garrett, this is Poval, a pair of sisters, but this tea party is not because of them, but because of other things, some of the previous things may have made you misunderstood something. "

She was referring to Kaido's affairs. When Kaido lost contact with her, she had contact with her. She used new fruits as trading items and let her be the middleman to help the beasts establish a new business channel in the underground world.

Arms is one of the businesses of Hundred Beasts today, but they have not occupied Wano. Their arms can be said to be excellent, but they are not at the top, and there are still many competitive opponents.

Compared with arms, food is also an important business. People may not fight, but they must eat.novelusB.com

The nobles of various countries hold most of the resources. If you want to make money, you have to start with them. These people don't care about spending high prices on expensive rare ingredients.

Shuguo's current positioning is the high-end market. Kaido plans to use BIG·MOM's tea party to make a name for the product, and at the same time start trade with these people in the underground world, and use their channels to find what the beasts need.

Thanks to the news arranged by Morgans, the name of the beasts has spread, but people in the underground world are now watching, and this action of the beasts seems to make them a dangerous partner.

If the purpose of destroying a force is to replace him, then the people in the underground world can understand that these people, except for Stuthy, have just won the underground "throne" in the past few years.

As for the previous Wang, of course he died in the fight, but the beasts were just the headquarters of the organ trafficking and assassination group that was simply eliminated. They didn't do anything else. They didn't even know the reason. In this case, they naturally did not dare to rashly Intersection with the beasts.

Everyone has been seated, the only vacant seats are the beasts. Charlotte Lingling, with a smile on her face, teased her two children while chatting with the people beside her.

As for the child's biological father, who has long since been beaten out of the world, Charlotte Lingling will still be a little merciful to the child's biological father.

"Everyone, this is a special pre-dinner dessert. The last guest will be here soon. You can try it first."

While they were waiting, a man wearing a dome chef hat came over. He was Long Bread, the head chef of the BIG·MOM Pirates, and the one who brought Charlotte Lingling to the Pirate Road.

On the dining cart behind him is banana mousse, which is made from bananas purchased from Beasts, and is also the main product of this tea party.

Different from the teapot hormiz bouncing around on the dining table, these banana mousses are just ordinary mousses and have not been infused with soul, but the sweet smell on it also piqued their interest.

The BIG-MOM Pirates can be said to be the top class in the New World in dessert making, and they still admit this.

Banana mousse was brought up, and Charlotte Lingling put the child back on Zeus, or food was more important to her, this kind of banana mousse would never get tired of eating it.

After Kaido told her that there were other varieties, she agreed to help Kaido establish business connections on the condition that if the BIG-MOM pirates wanted a sufficient supply of fruit, she could pay the market price, but it had to be given priority. Just sell it to her.

But before the mousse she picked up was put into her mouth, a series of gunshots sounded in the distance, accompanied by a burst of dazzling thunder.

Looking at the direction is on the way to the banquet hall.

Charlotte Lingling put down the plate in her hand, and the smile that appeared earlier because of the delicious dessert has disappeared.

Don't worry, it will be available on August 1st

Chapter 113 Chances created by Kaido

Drunk Kaido, disgraced redhead, dead son's white beard, hungry aunt, can be said to be the most dangerous character in the new world, of course, this must be many years later, today's redhead is still an ordinary trainee.

And the current Charlotte Lingling is not completely controlled by her appetite, and she can still control herself when she is not affected by eczema. nOvεlSB.COM

This is Cake Island, the main island of Totland Kingdom, her territory, and anything that happens here is hitting her in the face.

"Katakuri, take care of your two younger sisters, long bread, you will entertain you first for me, Zeus, Prometheus, let's go!"

Charlotte Lingling gave Katakuri her two small children. This is her second son. Although they are triplets, Katakuri's strength has gradually surpassed his brother.

There is no way that gunshots sounded on the cake for no reason, but no matter who it was, she had to pay for the person who disrupted her tea party.

Zeus became bigger, and Charlotte Lingling stepped on it and flew in the direction of the movement.

This is the tea party she held. Whether she refused her invitation or disrupted the tea party, she threw her face on the ground and rubbed it hard.

"Wait Mom, these are your guests. It's not good if you excuse me, so let me go."

When Charlotte Lingling was about to leave, Katakuri stopped Charlotte Lingling, and the reason she gave sounded quite sufficient, but it was not the whole reason.

There is the passage for the guests to come to the banquet hall. The people who have not arrived are only the beasts and his party, and it is Perospero who is in charge of leading the way.

Some time ago, Perospero also brought back some canned fruits, plus Aunt and Kaida made a certain deal, so Perospero was not severely punished.

But it didn't happen that Charlotte Lingling forgot about it. If Perospero made mistakes one after another, he would definitely be severely punished.

He wants to protect every member of the Charlotte family, not only from the enemy, but also from Charlotte Lingling.

As long as Charlotte Lingling does not appear there directly, the impact will not be too great. If it is an enemy he can deal with, she can bring it up later when she is in a good mood.

If it is an enemy that even he can't deal with, then Charlotte Lingling will not hold Perospero too much, after all, he is stronger than Perospero.

Although Perospero is the eldest son, the talents of people are different. Katakuri, who is two years younger than him, has gradually surpassed him in strength.

"That's right, I'll leave it to you, don't let me down, Katakuri."

"Don't worry, Mom, I'll take care of it."

Not long ago, when he brought Kaido and the others here, someone suddenly attacked them.

Although the candy wall he held up blocked the attack, it was impossible for BIG·MOM to hear such a big movement, if it was not handled well.

He felt that his future had lost its light again.

Before he made any move, a group of strangely dressed people had rushed out, it was the remnants of the organ trafficking and assassination group.

Their eyes and ears in the underground world have not been pulled out, so they naturally knew the news that BIG·MOM was going to hold a tea party, and they sneaked in quietly, targeting the Beast Pirates who participated in the tea party and other people in the underground world.

Their previous actions made their life extremely difficult.

Perospero stared dumbfounded at everything in front of him. The color of his body became a little bleak, and there seemed to be souls floating out of his body. It was not because the enemy was strong, but the occasion they appeared was too inappropriate.

Say something inappropriate, why didn't they come out to disrupt the situation when other younger siblings were leading the way, but instead jumped out when they were leading the way.

The target of those people's attacks was not him, but the beasts, but the result did not change. This is the site of BIG·MOM, and it is already a real provocative act against Charlotte Lingling's guests.

Looking at those who attacked, Perospero's eyes were full of anger, and these people simply wanted to kill him.

"I'm so rude, please go to the tea party, I'll take care of this."

The huge candy elevator appeared behind him, and Perospero signaled that everyone in the beasts could prepare to go to the tea party, and he would take care of the rest.

Being attacked here is within Kaido's expectations. As long as there is no problem with the sense of smell in the previous moment, this is the last chance.

Further up is the place where the tea party will be held, but the strict security there makes them lose the possibility of getting in. After all, they have no invitations, so this is the last chance to do it.

The waves of syrup poured towards those who attacked under Perospero's control, and the surrounding chess soldiers also surrounded them.

But the people from the beasts didn't step on the elevator. Such an enemy made Kaido completely uninterested, but he looked at Moment aside.

"Little devil, you said that was your enemy, right?"

"That's right, that guy, I remember the smell on him."

"Then do you still have the courage to show your fangs to the enemy?"

"Of course!" Lightning flashed between her fingers, and she recalled the previous events under the stimulation of Kaido's words, so she bypassed Perospero and rushed over.

"Mr. Kaido, what are you doing?" Zeraora didn't understand why Kaido said that. To be honest, it was a low-level, no-nonsense attack, but he was hit in an instant.

"I still know what Arceus asked you to do, go ahead, that little girl is not their opponent, the hero saving the beauty will always leave the deepest impression on people, uhhhh."

Although Zou is not exclusive, it is still very difficult for an outsider to become a king. If you want to gain the approval of the local people, you need at least the support of a local person. Kaido just wants to create more opportunities for them.

The fur on Zeraora's body erupted with a violent electric current, and the current released in an instant was a small spark compared to Zeraora. He was created by Arceus, who used the power of five slates based on the lightning slate. Pokémon.

It took Arceus a lot of effort, he naturally has the strength to match it, his body turned into a flash of electric light, he dodged to catch up with the moment he rushed out, grabbed the back of the neck and carried her up.

"You are still too young, this is not your battle, just watch it from behind."

Chapter 114 Katakuri is still on his way

Zeraora suddenly appeared in front of Shan Mo, and a lightning ball was thrown on the enemy in front of her.

The violent thunderbolt instantly solved the enemy in front of him, and then he looked at Momo beside him, grabbed her and threw it back, and threw Momo back directly. The fur tribe was very flexible and turned in mid-air. After two laps, it landed smoothly on the ground in an instant.

"Zeraora, what are you doing!"

"This kind of battle is too early for you. At least learn to walk before you run. It's not suitable for you to go straight to the enemy's line. You should stand next to those chess soldiers."

He doesn't object to Shan Mo's participation in the battle, but he is against him going straight to the enemy's line by himself. Maybe she won't be obedient, but Zeraora has a fairly simple solution. As long as the enemy is directly dealt with before Mo Mo's action, there is no need to think about this problem.

Since the problem is difficult to solve, then step over the steps, and the person who has the problem will disappear, so that the problem will also disappear, the thunder light wraps his body, and Zeraora surpasses the chess soldiers who had surrounded him in a moment. .

His speed is very fast, but compared with the speed just now, there is an obvious difference. Now he belongs to the category of fast moving speed, while the previous one is similar to teleportation. That is his own skill. Volt replaces it. alternative applications.

The original way to use it is to turn back immediately after he attacks, and the next Pokémon will take over his battle, but there are no Poke Balls here, and there are different ways to use the same ability.

just came from his innovation. This variant usage of volt replacement developed by Zeraora, who was born in the pirate world, can be said to have changed the order of volt replacement.

Select Momo as an ally, instantly appear in her position to attack the enemy in front of her, and then throw her back to a safe position.

Then came the fighting time that belonged to him alone. A layer of electric current was attached to his fists. Even if these people were full-time combat members of the organ trafficking assassination group, they would fall in pieces like harvesting wheat.

Plasma Lightning Fist, Zeraora's exclusive skill, in addition to its own effect, after the Plasma Lightning Fist ends, he will enter a charged state, and ordinary attacks will also be converted into electrical attacks.

The speed of Zeraora's full-strength running is comparable to that of lightning, and in the process, the hair and lightning on his body will form a special film, allowing his body to adapt to this speed.

Even if it does not attack the opponent, the current scattered around him will knock down the enemy. Although Zeraora itself does not have a power-generating organ, his capacity is very large. Long standby.

Dozens of militants were all wiped out in less than a minute, and the chess soldiers of the BIG·MOM Pirates only had to clean up the mess and couldn't get involved at all.

"What a strong fur tribe."

Fur tribes are only rare in the sea, and some traces of fur tribes can still be seen in the new world. Unlike ordinary people's misunderstanding of fur tribes, pirates who have lived in the new world for a long time have some understanding of fur tribes. .

They knew that the fur tribe had a special way of using electricity, but it was the first time they heard that the electricity was so exaggerated.

At this time, Totland was still under construction, and there were still many races lacking in it. Not to mention the giant race that was hostile to BIG·MOM, some rare races did not live here either.

Fur-like creatures can be seen in the Kingdom of Totland, but those are not fur-like creatures, but Hormiz obtained by Charlotte Lingling after transforming animals with Soul Soul Fruit and anthropomorphizing them.

The humanoid mammals who can speak humanoids can use lightning, which is almost an inherent feature of the fur tribe. Today's actions by Zeraora also made Perospero pay more attention to this race.

The wall of his candy was melted just by the thunder and lightning. At this time, he had some strange senses of the Beast Pirates. Why do all of them have the ability to high temperature?

Although the enemy was killed by the guests, as long as it is solved, everything is easy to say. If they really make irreparable consequences, Perospero does not know what his future will be like.

Those who saw this battle were amazed at the strength that Zeraora had burst out, and even Shanna herself was no exception. Although she was born in Zou, at most she had seen the training of warriors.

The territory of Zou has been peaceful for a long time, and there has never been a large-scale battle. Although the furry principality said that Yangjisi Khan is the strongest warrior, she has never seen him do it.NOVELUS.COM

The power shown by Zeraora is the strongest among the fur tribes she has ever seen. Although the fur tribes are different from the beasts, they also retain the instincts of the beasts. favor.

Although some fur tribes only like the same kind of fur tribes, or animals, such as Bebo who is looking for female bears on Nine Snake Island, there are also a considerable number of fur tribes who are not obsessed with the problem.

The total number of residents of Zou is less than 20,000. If they are only combined with the same kind of fur tribe, the fur tribe will easily become extinct.

is usually looking for a favorite target. As for the type of offspring, it is not as random as mermaids and murlocs, and will inherit animals of the same family from the genes of the father or mother.

But some people are not very satisfied with Zeraora's performance, such as Kaido.

"Too young to understand women..."

He felt that Zeraora should wait until he realized his weakness before making a move. Although it might hurt, the effect would be better than this. But the results were all good, and Zeraora still gained the worship from Moment.

However, some people did not agree with Kaido's words, so Quinn raised a similar question, and Quinn asked the question with a joking tone.

"Brother Kai, you don't seem to have anything to do with women, do you?"

"Lao Tzu's relationship with women is very good, but you just didn't see it."

Kaido doesn't care about his henchmen joking with him, and he really has a lot of confidence in this matter.

Kaido is very confident in this point, and he is indeed related to many people, and the age group involved is still very wide, and he can barely be described as old and young.

Zeraora didn't use a dead hand. If he used his claws instead of his fists, these people would probably be torn apart by him directly, but such a scene was * and he felt that it was not suitable for children to watch, so he only used his fists.

Except for those who were hit by him head on, most of the others just passed out, and at this time they were also caught by the chess soldiers.

Chapter 115 Is such a big battle to sell fruit?

The process of the incident was very short, and the surrounding ordinary residents didn't even have time to escape, and the matter here was over.

Perospero sent Kaido and the others to the candy elevator and watched them arrive at the venue safely. Until then, Katakuri was still on his way, and he couldn't fly, even if he tried his best to get there Take a while.

The battle of Zeraora was too fast. When the people of the beasts stepped on the candy elevator, Katakuri came to the edge of the top of the mountain.

The person watching the beasts disappeared from his field of vision, and the smile on Perospero's face completely disappeared.

"Take these people down, pry open their mouths, who is behind them, let me find out if they don't fall to the ground!"

These people have only one result, and that is to be drained of life by BIG·MOM, but that must be after the tea party, and Perospero has to figure out who is behind them before that.

Otherwise, when Charlotte Lingling asks, he doesn't know, and he will be out of luck again.

After watching the chess soldiers * everyone away, a group of people in chef uniforms came here to repair the damaged streets, and Katakuri did not appear here until this time.

He also came here with his two twin brothers, Daifuku and Owen.

"Perospero, where's the enemy?"

"Katakuri, it's settled."

Katakuri's way of addressing other siblings is to call their names directly, even if they are half relatives, this is also a pirate's family, strength affects status, Katakuri is not the oldest, but has shown Out of the ability to surpass Perospero.

To be precise, there is more than one person who surpasses Perospero in terms of power, but Perospero is the eldest son, so his authority in the BIG·MOM Pirates is not low.

Seeing the three Katakuri brothers, he was relieved. When he made a mistake, he didn't want to face Charlotte Lingling, that kind of feeling that outsiders couldn't understand at all.

Charlotte Lingling's children can still experience the feeling of mother's love when they are under 10 years old, but after this age, you can only rely on talent and strength to get Charlotte Lingling's care.

"Mom was very angry. She wanted to come over in person, but I stopped her."

".Thank you."

Perospero understood what Katakuri meant. He was not showing off, but reminding Perospero to deal with the following matters, otherwise, if Charlotte Lingling got angry again, no one would be able to save him.

"I won't go to the tea party. Say hello to my mother for me."

Although it was a waste of time, it was a good thing for Katakuri that the matter had been resolved. Originally, Perospero should have arrived at the tea party with Kaido, but now he needs to ask for information.

At the venue, the figures of Kaido and others came down from the candy elevator, and the protagonist of this tea party finally arrived at the venue.

Charlotte Lingling seems to have forgotten what happened before, after all, Kaido's presence here means that her sons have taken care of everything.

"Well~ Well~, this is Kaido, I think you all know it, so I won't introduce it more."

She didn't say anything about Kaido being her younger brother in front of everyone. Ordinary people's tea party might show that we are familiar with each other. You should take care of us.

But this is the world of pirates, Charlotte Lingling can say this to the children in private and to Kaido in the phone bug, but not in front of so many people.

"Kaido, have you brought a lot of children this time? They all look cute." Not to mention, Charlotte Lingling will not discriminate against any race when she is sober, whether it is a human or a fur child. In her eyes, they belong to the category of cuteness. NovelUsB.com

"Bloweye, Moscato, take the children to play. The adults have business to talk about next, so enjoy the tea party."

Charlotte Lingling called for two children who seemed to be about the same age, and asked them to take the children of the beasts to the side of the branch. The rest here is a topic for adults.

"Go, just have fun."

But the beasts look like a bunch of children, and there is only one real child. Zeraora is a creature created by Arceus, and his mind is not low. If you really want to calculate the age, it is less than one year old.

There is also Olga, although she is 10 years old, her real age is more than 100 years old.

Elizabeth is the same, neither the real age nor the age of the species can be calculated according to common sense.

The children went to play, and only Quinn and Kaido were left here.

After Kaido was seated, Quinn stood aside. The people who were seated here were the leaders of various industries, and Quinn was not qualified to be seated.

At Kaido's suggestion, Quinn took out the small box that was on his body.

Looking at this box, although Stucci's expression did not change, his heart was already tense.

She didn't know what was in the box, but what was it brought by the Beast Pirates and specially shown to them at the BIG-MOM Pirates' tea party?

New illegal drugs? Heads of people who offended them? Certain commercial contracts? Dangerous weapons? Stuthy thought a lot, but when the box opened, she was lost.

This box is full of fruits. Although it is three kinds of fruits that have not been seen before, it is still a fruit.

can never be a devil fruit, not to mention that a devil fruit will not have such a good smell, it is impossible for that thing to appear so many the same.

Don't say it's Stucci, no one else understands, only one person is very happy, that is Charlotte Lingling.

"Well~ Well, Kaido, is this the new breed you're talking about?"

"That's right, that's all, Quinn, you'll give them a detailed introduction."

"Leave it to me, Brother Kai, these are our newly cultivated fruits. This is a peach peach fruit. It has a high sweetness. In addition to the edible fruit, the leaves can be used to make sugar. It has a unique flavor. Good candy."

This is a grapefruit fruit, although the sweetness is not as good as a peach fruit, but the sweet and sour pulp is equally delicious, although the outer skin has a bitter taste, but after drying and grinding, it can be made into curry powder, which is an excellent curry ingredient.”

Quinn took the tree fruit as an example of their efficacy, and it is better to actually taste it. The BIG·MOM pirate group has no shortage of chefs, and soon someone made these fruits into a fruit plate and brought them up, and Different things are being processed in the back kitchen.

Looking at the fruit plate in front of her, Stuthy suddenly felt a little tired. She was worried about what was going on before, but Beasts' business turned out to be selling fruit.

Chapter 116 The Strange Profit of Fruit

It's not that she thinks that this business is small, and that she can make a lot of money selling fruit in this world.

For example, a certain Cocoyashi was squeezed by Aaron. Aaron collects the protection fee of 100,000 Baileys per month for adults and 50,000 Baileys per month for children, and a small village in the East China Sea has a lot of economic sources. Just by selling agricultural products.

The trade routes in an ordinary village are naturally not that wide, but here is different. The business of these people at the tea party spreads all over the New World. Whether it is Stucy's Happy Street or Du Feld's underground casino, there is fruit consumption.

They also have their own network of relationships. As long as they want, they can sell a commodity to the world within a certain period of time. With such a business channel, even selling scrap iron can make a lot of money.

It's just that BIG·MOM and Hundred Beasts are equivalent to two pirate groups, the old and the new in the new world, and the two captains are still Rox's remnants. Such people meet and discuss not arms deals, war actions, nor do they want to rule the world. Crazy moves like kidnapping the Dragons.

What they want to do is sell fruit, which is beyond Stuthy's expectations. Not only Stuthy, but others also don't understand. If ordinary people have such joke-like talks with them, they are afraid To laugh at each other.

But the two people in front of them were pirates with ten-digit bounties, and there were not a few islands that were destroyed because of offending Charlotte Lingling.

Although Kaido has only destroyed the headquarters of the organ trafficking and assassination group, he has escaped from the prison boat several times, and his previous record of escape from the G branch, coupled with the battle with Wald, all confirm his strength.

If you laugh out loud at this time, it means that the old birthday star hanged himself, and he thinks his life is too long.n0VeluSb.coM

It is naturally the best to have no major events. Although she is a government agent, the agent also wants to live in peace and quiet, and does not want to be involved in any terrible event.

Fruit trade has always existed in the world of pirates, and their forces also have their own fruit suppliers, providing different quality fruits to different customers.

You can buy a few fruits for a few hundred bellies outside, but when you go to the entertainment venues on Happy Street, a platter composed of several fruits will cost tens of thousands of bellies.

It is called Happy Street, but only the rich can experience the joy here. If the fruit that Kaido wants to sell is of high quality, they are happy to sell it as their own.

Stucci knows who makes the best money. As long as there is a name, nobles from all over the world will not care about the price of fruit, as long as its taste is worthy of the price.

Those nobles are rich, but they are not fools, and even the things bought by the Tianlong people must make them feel that they are worth the money.

The real thing is right in front of them. The easiest way for them is to try it out, but Charlotte Lingling's reaction can already explain some things. Although her food requirements are not too high, everyone will like it. something better.

The expression on Charlotte Lingling's face has already explained the problem, at this time she has been conquered by food.

Stucci also picked up the fruit in front of him with a fork. The texture of the peach peach fruit was very crisp, and the full juice overflowed the moment the fork pierced the pulp.

The general taste of is still the taste of peach, but it is a brand new experience, a wonderful taste that cannot be expressed in words. At the same time, there are also soft mango and a slightly sour grapefruit.

If you don't like too sweet taste, Wenyu fruit is a better choice.

The fruit plate has not been eaten, and other products have been sent up. It has a high status in the chefs of the BIG·MOM pirate group, and the number of chefs is also the largest in each pirate group.

The beverages and cream rolls made from it are the first to be delivered, followed by jelly and ice cream. Since the new varieties such as peach peach fruit arrived relatively late, most of them are banana-flavored now, and the rest It's being worked on overtime.

Almost all imaginable desserts were made by the BIG·MOM pirates. Because of these new desserts, the soul-infused Hormiz almost fell out of favor.

Although they keep asking "eat me" on the table, most people ignore them, and only some black teas for tiredness are not ignored.

Not only the main table, but also the table next to it, especially the children's table. These children are Charlotte Lingling's children. It can be said that the BIG·MOM pirates can hardly find anyone who doesn't like desserts. people.

In the baby's appreciation period, they are very interested in desserts under the influence of their mothers, and the large dessert workshop on Cake Island is enough to meet the needs of these people.

In the workshop, the long bread is singing to arouse the emotions of the chefs under his command. For a chef, the kitchen is their battlefield, and it is their task to make satisfactory food.

"Banana doughnuts and doughnuts made from new fruits are all out. Send these to Katakuri-sama! Take the rest to Mommy, hurry up!"

The oven and the freezer are working intensively. Different types of desserts are sent from here like a long dragon. The long bread is constantly experimenting with new methods to see which method is more suitable for this kind of fruit.

However, the food Hormiz seems to have found a new way out. The people of the BIG·MOM pirates are attracted by the new things, but for the pirates of the beasts, those tree fruits have been eaten enough. s things.

Especially Olga, she managed to recover from vomiting from smelling fruit to the point where she could eat a small amount of fruit. Compared with those fruits, she was more interested in those grilled meats smeared with honey and slightly sweet grilled sausages.

In an instant, Zeraora and Elizabeth were in similar situations. Although they were both omnivores, the genes in their bones made them prefer meat.

The disfavored Hormiz found the meaning of proving his existence here, without them doing anything, he lined up and jumped into the dinner plate, waiting for himself to be eaten.

As long as the psychological problems can be overcome, the soul-infused food Homiz does have a very different flavor.

If the BIG·MOM pirates had a status ranking in the food of Cake Island, then the status of Xiankou barbecue was originally the lowest, but with the appearance of today's guests, the status of Xiankou barbecue has changed dramatically.

"Wai Hai is really interesting, is the food here so interesting?"

In front of him was a roast pork chop that was running away. Not all the food Hormiz wanted to be eaten, and some would choose to run away.

Chapter 117 Kaido's Transaction

People who haven't seen it will naturally find it strange, but Charlotte Lingling's children have already seen it, and the pork chops that escaped were quickly caught, but they didn't want to eat them for a moment.

She doesn't eat such animals, and pigs are also regarded as fur. After knowing that there are fur children here, the kitchen of the BIG·MOM Pirates specially prepared a batch of food made from sea animals and poultry.

In the New World, terrestrial animals are more expensive ingredients than sea beasts, because the land area is much smaller than the ocean, and the sea beasts that traverse the four seas are often brought to the table in the New World. Thieves welcome.

Fur people don't eat hairy creatures, but that doesn't mean they don't know the taste of creatures such as cattle and sheep, mainly because of the existence of sea beasts, manatees, sea sheep, sea pigs, these strange creatures can all be found in the sea turn up.

For fur tribes, these creatures that live in water with no hair at all are naturally not considered hairy species, but whether they can eat such creatures can only depend on luck.

The fur tribe does not go hunting, and the elephant owner will not stop. Zou's sea beasts are all sent by the elephant owner. The giant elephant sprays water on the back of the elephant twice a day. The fur tribe calls it "fire-breathing rain". It's called "Rain of Grace".

Elephant Lord's body is too large, even some small sea beasts may be inhaled by him and sprayed together.

They are also not worried about eating hairy animals by mistake. The roasted appearance of sea beasts is obviously different from land creatures.

Charlotte Lingling's children are fighting, and Charlotte Lingling doesn't care about it. She is almost completely stocked, so that the children have different personalities.

Not all the children went to play, such as Charlotte Moscato, who is over nine years old this year.

The sixteenth son of the Charlotte family, the one with a stronger sense of justice among Charlotte Lingling's children. Years later, when Charlotte Lingling's eczema attacked, he was the one who was afraid of everyone else. It's time to stand up and try to stop your own mother.

However, Charlotte Lingling, who lost her mind, did not recognize him, but was taken away from a large amount of her life.

Charlotte Lingling asked him to take away the "children" of the beasts. He believed that as the host here, he had the duty to take care of the guests.

The main venue.

They have confirmed the taste of the food, so the next issue to be determined is the yield, which is why Kaido brought Quinn, the data of these things are handled by Quinn and Assie.

Strictly speaking, Assier knows more than Quinn in terms of production, but Assier is too weak to bring him out is not a good thing.

"Everyone, our output is not high now, but we have found a suitable planting area. The suitable planting area on that island is about 6,000 mu, and the annual banana output will exceed 10,000 tons.

It only takes one year for us to reach this output, as for now, we can only provide 2,000 kilograms for the first batch. "noVeIU.sb.cOM"

This is the approximate value obtained after deducting the output sold to the BIG·MOM Pirates and the Beast Pirates.

A new island suitable for planting has just been found, and the island is now being reclaimed. To be precise, the information on this island is provided by the BIG·MOM pirates.

The island used to be the territory of Charlotte Lingling's hostile forces, although they defeated the enemy later.

But the island was also destroyed by Charlotte Lingling's attack because it was turned into a battlefield, and the original farmland was deserted, and it happened to be given to Kaido by Charlotte Lingling as a trade item.

Now the beasts are only planting a small amount of finished products and raising seedlings on their own sites. They cannot replace all the food in the territory with cash crops, otherwise the food security in the territory will not be guaranteed.

Then Quinn said: "And this is an improved crop, they don't have seeds, and others can't grow similar crops."

"Two thousand kilograms is enough. We can use our own channels to help you open up business routes, but we require a stable supply that is second only to Lingling."

In the early stage, they may not be able to sell even if they purchase in large quantities. One year just allows them to open up enough business routes. As long as the beasts can guarantee the quality of the fruit and the characteristics of monopoly, they can make enough money.

Not everyone can benefit from this, though. Du Feld and Stucci's venues can benefit directly. Umit and Kibson can also benefit from transportation and storage, but Morgans and Piccro are different. .

News and the assassination industry have nothing to do with fruit. Can you just buy it back and use it as employee benefits?

If Kaido really borrowed their channel just to sell fruit, this battle would be a bit too big.

At the same time, they still have a problem that they haven't figured out, and that is why the beasts attack the organ trafficking and assassination group.

The six people looked at each other for a few times, and finally Morgens stood up, not for anything else, but he wanted to interview the person concerned to see if there was any bigger news.

"Mr. Kaido, take the liberty to ask, why did the beasts destroy that group before?"

Morgans pulled out a pen and notebook from somewhere, as if he wanted to conduct an interview.

"They offended Lao Tzu's subordinates and made unforgivable mistakes. Are you satisfied with this reason?"

In the face of Morgans' question, Kaido showed no patience, but this attitude made them all feel at ease. It's good to have contradictions. The Beasts had gained an advantage in the battle against the Walder Pirates.

If Kaido also destroys indiscriminately like that madman in Wald, then the trouble will be even greater. Having a grudge is a good result. As for how the grudge is formed, he is not interested and does not want to know.

"Of course, we have another business to discuss."

As soon as Quinn said this, the people present also paid attention to it. After all, this is the right thing. If the meeting between the two big pirates and several managers of the underground world is just to reach a fruit business, it will be a bit overkill after all.

"We purchased the Devil Fruits of the animal system at a premium, whether it is an Eudemons species, an ancient species or a common species, it is the same."

Eudemons species are very precious, but the value of ancient species and common species is not so high. The beasts need this type of fruit and they will only think that it is Kaido's personal hobby.

A pirate collects Devil Fruits to strengthen his group, which is much more normal than selling fruit.

"At the same time, we have to find the whereabouts of this thing." This time, it is not a real object, but an ordinary picture, depicting the picture of the Arceus slate.

Chapter 118 Beasts and Fruits

"Even if it's just news, we can all pay for it as long as the news is true."

Stucci felt that this was the right time. The forces at the tea party had already covered the entire underground world of the New World. It was normal to use this force to find some rare things.

But they have never seen the style on the picture, except for the aunt who traded slate with Kaido before.

"Well~ Well, Kaido, didn't you already get a piece of such a thing? Or does it have a special meaning?"

"Haven't you tried it, this stone is indestructible, I will use it to create the strongest armor!"

He wouldn't tell the truth in front of these people. Whether it's pirates or the underground world, there is no real trust in it, and intrigue is the norm.

Either so cunning that no one can deceive himself, or so powerful that no one dares to deceive himself.

Arceus' abilities will slowly be revealed over time, but except for a few people, no one can think of what the connection between the slate and Arceus is.

The slate that was successfully recovered by Arceus looked completely different from the slate that was left out, and no one except Arceus himself could recognize it.

Kaido didn't mention that Arceus needed it, but he needed to show his importance, so the reason he made up was his own use.

At first glance, it seems reasonable, and there are many pirates who value armor. The original silver axe is an example.

As a martial artist, it's not surprising that Kaido wants to build the strongest armor, which makes his high price acquisition more reasonable.

And it's reasonable for a strong man to have his own quirks, and it's normal for him to be a bit of a collector.

"How many pieces are there in this thing?"

"I don't know, but this shape is not naturally formed. I got one before. I think there must be other stones, but I have no clue at all, so I have to use your channel."

Kaido's words were half-truths, so that these people didn't find any problems for a while, after all, they didn't know the specifics.

"No problem, as long as the price is right, these are minor problems, but Mr. Kaido, I would like to borrow the waterway in your territory, which can save a lot of distance."

Umit was the first to agree. People in the underground world have always opened their doors to do business. They couldn't refuse to do big business that was delivered to the door. Even Stuthy agreed.

She is the hidden secret of the world government, and gathering intelligence is what she should do. As for other things, she is not in charge of it. What she needs to do is to collect appropriate intelligence and send it out on the premise of ensuring her own safety.

If there is a suitable opportunity, she will also choose to act in advance to get something from others, but it depends on the strength of the opponent. She is not an opponent for a pirate like Kaido.

The tea party went well, and a business group called Hundred Beast Fruits was also announced today. It is the white glove of the Beast Pirates and is used to conduct some legal transactions.

Although it is not difficult to find out the mastermind behind it, as long as there are enough profits, then the world government can acquiesce to the existence of this gray industry.

As for the illegal underground industry, the Beast Pirates are the best sign, and there is no need to prepare anything for this.

After Stuthy left, he sent the information from the tea party, but this kind of thing did not attract the attention of the world government. The slate world government has also studied it, and Vega Punk can't do anything about it. They naturally also gave up.

They do have such stones in their hands, but they didn't spend more effort to find such useless things. Only some Tianlong people who are keen to collect are interested in such stones.

Vega Punk was curious, but he couldn't see the significance of this kind of stone. For the World Government, instead of looking for this kind of stone, it would be better to find a Lunaria.

After the tea party, they left the Cake Island one after another, and it was not until this time that Perospero came here.

Charlotte Lingling was in a good mood with the newly made dessert, and she didn't look angry when she saw Perospero coming. The result reported by Katakuri was that Perospero had solved the problem. see the ending.

"Mom, those people came for the beasts. They are the remnants of the organ trafficking and assassination group. They assassinated one of our caravans and sneaked in. Now they have all been dealt with."

Without waiting for Charlotte Lingling to ask, Perospero gave all the information.

"So, they came here on purpose to attack Kaido and the others?"

"Yes." Looking at Charlotte Lingling with a gloomy face, Perospero was a little scared, but he forced himself to calm down again. If she showed fear in front of Charlotte Lingling, the result would be very bad, even if it was hers. The same goes for the biological son.

"Perospero, you've already failed twice." nOvelUsB.cOm

After a long time, Charlotte Lingling suddenly said something that made Perospero chill.

"The previous fruit thing and the defense issue this time have been dealt with, but you still failed."

"Mom, listen to my explanation!"

"Listen to Perospero, I will give you one last chance, I will give you enough troops, and you will take revenge on the remnants of the organ trafficking assassination group, if you fail again"

"Don't worry mom! I'll definitely let those guys know what's going to happen to us!"

He knew what Charlotte Lingling meant. No matter what the reason for their attack, they were hitting her in the face at Cake Island, so everything related to this organization is now the enemy of the BIG-MOM Pirates.

His tone was very firm, because he knew that if he didn't deal with these people, he would be unlucky.

"Go, this is your last chance."

Charlotte Lingling took over the previous two babies from Zeus with a smile, without showing any signs of anger, but Perospero had already set off to prepare ships and information, and he could only do it well. Maintain your position as the eldest son.

"The fur tribe seems to be really strong. It seems that Totland also needs to speed up the pace of expansion. There are still many races left."

Although she did not leave the banquet hall, the cake island was her Hormiz, she knew exactly what was going on below, and the power of Zeraora made her feel that the fur tribe was very powerful.

Meanwhile, Arceus and Jhin's ships are still on their way.

Chapter 119 Testimonials

results were not bad before it was put on the shelves, although the luck was a little off, it was just one place away from Sanjiang.

Stop talking nonsense, ask for a first order.

Chapter 120 The Navy and Pirates

After the completion of the Beast King, the dock in the Beast Territory began to manufacture a second ship, a main ship belonging to Arceus. However, due to problems with materials and craftsmanship, this ship will have to wait for a while to complete.

At this time, the ship where Arceus was on was the ship that Kaido and the others brought from the kingdom of Natho. As the first ship of the Beast Pirates, although it has experienced a lot of war, it can still sail on the sea. .

People will always be nostalgic, even if the utensils are used for a long time, they will not easily give up.

The hundreds of people on the ship have to maintain high spirits. That's how Mandelfish's good luck came. They don't think they are worse than Mandelfish before they got the ability, and they are all waiting for the opportunity to make contributions.

"Brother Jin, there's still half a day's flight to go, but are we really going there?"

"This is the order of the holy beast, and it is also the arrangement of fate. Is there any problem?"

The so-called arrangement of fate is that Arceus randomly grabs a stone with his energy hand and throws it on the chart. Wherever the stone falls, the next search area will be.

Obviously the place they are going is not so safe this time, although the members of the beasts are eager to get more things, they also have a fear of the unknown

"No, but I heard that it is quite chaotic there. After all, Garzburg is known as the land of never-ending wars."

Galzburg, a country in the New World, but this name has long been forgotten by history, and now the world is more called the country with endless wars.

The name comes from the fact that wars are going on here all the time. Many years ago, the king of Garzburg was killed, and Garzburg has been divided into two parts since then.

Whether it is externally or internally, this country is at war, so that there are many orphans in the country, and the minefields are densely covered. As long as you get close to the battlefield, you may accidentally hit a mine.

But they are on the voyage and they don't know that on the endless war, this protracted war has been declared over a few days ago, and the end of the war is not the army, but a person - Douglas Barrett.

Barrett was born here 14 years ago, but his identity is a war orphan. His father died on the battlefield long ago, and his mother chose to abandon him after he was born.

However, he was adopted by the soldiers of a country with the purpose of training young soldiers who performed the mission of stepping on landmines and opening bombs to kill him.

These young soldiers are called bullets, and the pronunciation of bullets is the origin of Barrett's name, and his surname is derived from the top commander of the unit - Douglas Gray.

Six years ago, Barrett became his soldier as Number Nine. NovEusB.com

The person who performs best in the battle can get a medal. Barrett, who had only weapons as his childhood companion, wanted that medal most, but when he was about to achieve his goal, he was betrayed by his companions.

On the verge of death, he killed his comrade, regained his medal, and lost his trust in his comrade, and has been acting alone ever since.

A year ago, Barrett became the all-powerful hero on the battlefield and the strongest young soldier at the same time. He was on the verge of death in another dangerous operation, but by coincidence he got the "fruit of fusion".

Superman is a fusion fruit, which can fuse the inorganic matter that you touch with your own body. It can not only fuse with the body, but also combine the inorganic matter and rearrange it to create a new weapon.

The most indispensable thing on the battlefield is the weapon, and the ability to combine the fruit makes his strength more and more powerful.

Not long ago, Barrett was known as a national hero, and his country was about to win the war.

Douglas Gray also became a general of the country because of Barrett.

But Barrett's power made Gray feel dangerous. He felt that he could not control Barrett's power, so he promised to let him leave the battlefield after the war and give him real freedom.

Originally this was just a lie. He thought that Barrett would die on the battlefield, and then he could use the army to recover the enemy positions that Barrett had broken through and become a real "hero".

But he underestimated Barrett's strength. He didn't expect that he really destroyed all the enemy troops with one enemy and one army. When Barrett found out that Gray had also betrayed him, he was angry and destroyed the country and army here, which also attracted the attention of the world government.

Because Gray wanted to join the World Government after the war, they were once a member of the allied countries, and as a military country they had the ability to plunder the gold in the sky, so the World Government agreed to his request.

Unexpectedly, Barrett appeared, so his behavior attracted the attention of the World Government, and the people who rounded up him had already set off.

These news happened just a few days ago. Arceus and the others did not receive the news, so they went here as usual. When they landed, they saw only a dead land.

The vultures were pecking at the corpses. Not only did they not run when they saw someone coming, but they even meant to attack the beasts. It can be seen how nourishing these vultures have been during this period of time before they took the initiative to attack humans. .

However, after two shots were fired, the vultures chose to flee in all directions, leaving only their feathers scattered all over the place.

"It's really miserable here."

"That is to say, have they hit this level?" Even if they were pirates, they felt uncomfortable seeing this scene.

"Boss Arceus! Are we going to go further?"

"Go ahead, take the time to see if there are any living people around." The area here is not small. If he wants to search for the slate, he has to search the surrounding area again. As for whether there are still people alive, although he is not here to save people, but I don't mind helping anyone who isn't dead.

Human beings are extremely fragile, but they often have a tenacious will to survive, and they really encountered many living people in the ruins.

The active ones have long since left. The ruins are full of buried people. If no one helps, they will only be waiting for slow death.

"Hey! Do me a favor, there are still people here, this rock is too heavy!"

There were a few more footsteps around. With their combined efforts, the stone on top was finally removed, but the air was quiet the next moment.

"Navy?!"

"Pirates?!"

Blue and white navy uniforms, white pirate flag tattoos, the iconic features have already stated the identities of both parties, they were just blocked by the boulder and neither of them noticed the identity of the other, now the rock was removed, and after the obstacle disappeared, they both see the other party's identity.

The sound of bullets being loaded sounded, and the two groups who had been working together to save people were now tensely confronting each other.
