Chapter 1131 A Confused World, Kidd With a Broken Arm

Kraigana Island has become an uninhabited island since it was destroyed by the war. The remaining complete buildings on the island make Hawkeye, who likes tranquility, regard it as his own territory.

The farmland on the island is still there, but it is impossible for Hawkeye to farm by himself every day, and the baboons on the island are not masters of farming. These baboons who are used to imitating others have seen too many battles, and they have already carved the battle into their bones.

Hawkeye is the world's number one swordsman, but the world's number one swordsman is also a human being. He hasn't evolved to the point where he can live without eating or drinking. The island has plenty of water and some wild fruits and animals, but other supplies It needs to be purchased from outside.

News Bird came here because Hawkeye ordered a special delivery service. Merchant ships transporting goods usually don't approach this deserted island. In the past, Hawkeye used to purchase large quantities of food regularly, but now with the express service, it's different.

Walking into the kitchen with his own package, Hawkeye took out the high-quality scallions he had purchased. He is not the one who is short of money. Going out and killing a few pirates is the way Hawkeye earns living expenses, so he can buy a lot of expensive ingredients.

The scallions in the hands are the scallions grown by the Scallion Ducks themselves. The texture and taste are first-class. Of course, Hawkeye bought this because of the slogan written by Tezolo-the most suitable scallions for swordsmen.

Looking at the straight green onion in his hand, Hawkeye actually had the illusion that this thing is very suitable for a sword.

Putting this idea behind, Hawkeye picked up a kitchen knife and started preparing food. There were only him, Sauron, and countless baboons on this island. Obviously, Sauron was hopeless.

Therefore, Hawkeye not only needs to be self-reliant, but also has to prepare food for Sauron.

Not long after, Sauron, who was battered with bruises from the battle with the baboon, crawled in through the gate of the castle. After entering through the main entrance, he only needed to go straight forward to reach the restaurant, but Sauron just walked in an S-shape and wandered around the first floor for a long time. It just made it to the table.

"No matter how many times you get lost, it blows my mind."

"Huh? It's because your castle is too complicated. You are a weirdo living in the maze!"

Speaking of which, Zoro put his four knives aside, and ate them regardless. The fourth knife was naturally Yukino, and the fate of this knife had changed.

Originally, Xuezhou was destroyed by the Rust Fruit ability Xiu En when the Straw Hats escaped from Judicial Island. The rest were buried on top of the terrifying three-masted ship. Without experiencing these things, Yukizou was naturally not destroyed, but always followed Sauron as a substitute.

"Roronoa, your persistence in this aspect can be regarded as the best in the world. This is today's newspaper. Vegapunk is dead, and the development of this sea is becoming more and more incomprehensible."

"Vegapunk? Who is that, I seem to have heard the name" novelUsb.com

"Forget it, I shouldn't have told you this."

Hawkeye is not dumb, and will communicate a few words when there are people around him, but Sauron doesn't care much about these external things.

This led to the fact that the only topic Hawkeye and he had in common was swordsmanship. Apart from that, Sauron basically couldn't talk to each other.

"Dead?! That * died just like that?!"

Somewhere in the new world, the Bonnie Pirates, Joelle Bonney was very angry when she saw the information in the newspaper, and even kicked over the table with a lot of food in front of her.

She is the daughter of a bear. In her perception, it was Vegapunk who transformed her father, turning him from an extremely gentle person into an indifferent war machine.

She has always had the idea of catching Vegapunk and letting him turn the bear back. Now that Vegapunk is dead, the question of how to restore her father becomes unsolvable.

She was so angry that she even ignored the food she valued most. This incident completely interrupted her train of thought and made her confused about the future.

Also in the New World, Crocodile lit his cigar and took a deep breath while reading the information in the newspaper.

"The world's number one scientist died just like that. In this sea, it really can't do without strength."

After enlightenment in the prison, Crocodile re-aware of the importance of his own strength, and the Vegapunk incident sounded a wake-up call for him. Simply relying on foreign objects is not enough.

"Mr. 1, let's go, your rusty body needs more exercise."

Isle of White Soil, Baltigo, watching the follow-up report on Egghead, Long also frowned.

"Boss, what's wrong with you?"

"I just remembered something."

More than twenty years ago, Long saw Vegapunk at the site of O'Hara.

Although the beasts evacuated the things there, the deep pits left behind and the traces left by the Demon Slaying Order made the outside world think that everyone was dead.

Dragon recruited Vegapunk when he was remembering, but he was rejected by very realistic reasons. Dragon has no money.

Vegapunk research requires a lot of money, and the revolutionary army, which was still in its infancy at that time, could not afford this cost.

What made Long even more confused was that some time ago, Vegapunk asked Sakyamuni to contact him, as if he was planning to send some kind of news, but before receiving the result, the Vegapunk was gone.

The abnormality of the beasts, the mystery left by Vegapunk, the future makes the dragon feel very heavy.

On the island near Elbaf, the red-haired pirates are holding a banquet, but their deputy captain Beckman is missing.

"Big Boss, it's confirmed. Beasts really killed Vegapunk. All information indicates that he is dead."

"What do the beasts want to do again, this is not their style."

Shanks, who smelled of alcohol all over his body, did not understand the abnormal behavior of the beasts. Outsiders cannot understand this kind of hatred.

I can't figure out the reason by relying on imagination alone, so Shanks simply left this matter behind, and planned to look at the future development before making a new decision. At this time, Beckman took the returned with a boat.

"Solve it?"

"It's been dealt with, and one of his arms has been crippled, so that he can have a long memory. Even after living in the new world for almost two years, he is still a rookie."

"Good job, let's continue to drink, the banquet is not over yet!"

Shanks pulled Beckman over. Some time ago, the captain of the Kidd Pirates-Ustaki Kidd challenged the red hair, and paid a painful price for it.

Kidd didn't even see Shanks' face, and was cut off by Beckman's arm.

If the redhead is not in a good mood now, then Kidd's voyage will come to an end. Shanks looks like a good old man, but he is also one of the emperors of the sea.

When the cause of Vegapunk's death was fermenting, the future country-Balkimoo, which is the hometown of Vegapunk, at this time, a broken robot walked out of the sea and walked towards the laboratory of the past

Chapter 1132 Franky and Eve Punk

A certain winter island on the great route, Balkimoo, is known as the future country on the organ island. This island in a severe cold climate is covered with steel jungles. Paifei's address.

When York determined her location, her nearby hometown became her destination.

The research materials of Vegapunk when she was young are preserved here. A large number of documents are sealed in the laboratory, and the laboratory has a complete system. If she returns here, she can repair her body in a short time.

Although this body assembled from parts can be used, but its physical function is very poor, and she can't even taste the taste of food.

But when she successfully arrived here, she was stunned by the sight in front of her.

"No way, did that woman attack this place too? There really isn't anything left."

These avatars shared Vegapunk's memory. In York's cognition, this place should be a huge laboratory, but what appeared in front of her was a very dilapidated laboratory.

A large area has become dilapidated, and even the gate is temporarily sealed with wooden boards.

Looks like there was a massive explosion here, blowing the lab upside down from the inside.

"This seems to be the effect of the self-destruct device left behind. What's going on here?"

She remembered that Vegapunk left a powerful self-explosion device here to deter some people with malicious intentions. The tragedy here is comparable to that of Eggred. It seems that during the time she left During this time, serious incidents have occurred here.

"The navy only said that something happened here, but it didn't say such a big thing."

At this moment, the navy patrolling in the distance seemed to have spotted York. After seeing the broken mechanical body, they didn't say anything, and immediately launched fire coverage on her.

"The intruder is back! Catch him!"

"The research institute has already blown up, don't worry about anything, just fire with all your might!"

York, which had just landed, directly ushered in a naval attack, and the root of all this had to be traced back to Franky.

Before receiving the news that Hero suggested that Luffy conduct an exclusive interview, Franky wanted to find a boat to leave here, but the climate in Balkimoa is very special, and the severe cold makes the sea covered with ice floes, making it impossible for ordinary ships to pass.

Only professional icebreakers can sail in this sea area. There will only be one ship appearing regularly here every month. Otherwise, you can only count on the warships that appear here irregularly.

Judging from the situation at the time, it must be too late to build a ship by myself. Fortunately, Frankie heard a new news.

He heard from the locals he knew that there was an icebreaker developed in the early years in Vegapunk's research institute, and he was eyeing it, and wanted to use this ship to leave Balkimoa.noVELUS&.cOM

But shortly after entering, Frankie accidentally touched the self-explosion switch in the research institute, triggering a big explosion, causing a large area to be destroyed.

Although this incident was reported to the headquarters by the navy and passed to Vegapunk, some changes occurred in the news. Vegapunk only knew that something happened here, but he didn't know that such a big thing happened.

This has caused York to be very confused today, unable to figure out the situation at all.

When he was young, in order to change the severe cold of the country, Vegapunk wanted to build a floor heating device covering the whole island, but it failed in the end, and the leftover device was destroyed in the explosion caused by Franky. The nightmare of future Balkimoa".

The identity of the modified person prevented Franky from dying in the big explosion, but after the explosion, Franky's whole body was blown beyond recognition, and the artificial skin was completely destroyed, revealing the modified body underneath, which looked like a mechanical weirdo.

The navy did not expect that Franky was still in the research institute, and ignored him because of the darkness under the lights.

So Franky explored the rest of the research institute and found the weapon invention documents left by Vegapunk. In order not to scare others, he used the tiger skin found in the laboratory as a cover. But he was accidentally ignited by the fire while warming himself by the fire.

In a panic, he escaped from the research institute wearing a burning tiger skin and met the navy patrolling outside. His terrifying appearance scared them half to death, and left a legend of the burning spirit beast in Balkimoa.

Broken robots, scorched marks, York at this time is exactly the same as the intruder they were searching for, which eventually led to York being pursued by the navy.

"You bastards! I'm Vegapunk! Don't hurry up and stop?! Contact Wulaoxing for me, I want to sue you!"

"Vegapunk is dead! Do you want to pretend to be him and not read the newspaper? Stop!"

"Asshole. If it weren't for this body."

Bing Xixi's body can move so smoothly, York has lost a lot of strength, and the original invention is even missing, otherwise she would never have fallen to this point.

After chasing and chasing, even some modified animals joined the team. Those were the early inventions of Vegapunk. The transformation and control of animals was used to replace the labor of residents. It was the predecessor of the Mechanical Sea Beast Corps.

In terms of creation authority, Vegapunk has never been very good. At this time, York has no way to control those things.

Under the chase, Yorke ran into the forest on the side, and the navy and the beasts kept chasing after her. When she was struggling with how to get rid of these people, a pair of big hands stretched out from behind the tree, He grabbed her over.

"It's here again. Last time I went here, I couldn't find anyone. What's going on?!"

"It doesn't matter, the monster's whereabouts have been exposed. You can always find this guy if you stay here."

After searching for nothing, the navy left angrily, but a very simple laboratory was hidden under the thick ice and snow.

"Yo, my uncle saved you, don't you want to say something?"

It was Frank who was hiding here who just pulled York over. After receiving the news from Luffy, he began to study the things left by Vegapunk here, and made some progress.

Seeing those navies chasing York, he helped her by the way.

"Say something? Your thief's technical level is not bad, and you can actually make these things."

Looking at the drawings in this stronghold, York seems to have a new plan.

"Thief? You * robot, do you want to listen to what you are talking about? I saved you."

Frankie spoke word by word, and stretched out a small hand from the front of the huge reshaped arm, posing a double * pose to York.

"Isn't it? The drawings here are all left when I was young, didn't you steal them?"

"What nonsense are you talking about, these are Vegapunk when he was young."

"Yes, I am Vegapunk!"

"What?!"

Chapter 1133 A slightly weird reward and empathetic people

"What did you say???"

Frankie picked his ears, and some didn't believe York's words. He could also read newspapers here.

Although he didn't know what Vegapunk looked like, Franky saw the news of Vegapunk's death, and the people of Balkimoa held a memorial service for it.

For Shaina and Jhin, Vegapunk is a researcher who has tarnished their blood, but for the people here, Vegapunk has always been a genius scientist who cares about the people.

Now such a broken robot, and the robot exuding a female voice said that he was Vegapunk, of course Franky didn't believe it.

"Hmph, cherish your opportunity, this is an opportunity that no one else can come across."

York did not explain anything, but came to the workbench in front of Franky.

"This blueprint is a combined robot, right? You must have been stuck here for a long time, your thinking is correct, but you lack key materials, ordinary materials can't do this kind of thing.

I also shelved it because of material problems.

Among the known metals, the best metal for making this kind of robot is the Kobelco sold by Beasts, followed by the Wabo alloy that only appeared on the market last year.

Based on the conditions here, neither of these two metals can be obtained, so another method must be used. "

Wapole, who was expelled, could only make a living by picking up garbage under the bridge hole and making toys. Because of swallowing the fruit, he ate all the messy garbage, but the final synthesized toy was found to contain a special memory alloy. .

Wapo Alloy is different from Arceus Kobelco. If the technical level is sufficient, these top scientists can also produce it, but the quality will be lower. After all, the synthesis of manpower is still much worse than the power of Devil Fruit. .

And the output is limited, it is difficult to popularize.

Wapole is different, he uses his ability to swallow fruit to start mass production of Wapole alloy.

Wapole became rich overnight. He first expanded the scale of the toy store, then established the manufacturing company Tuntun Factory, and also established the Wapole chaebol. With his huge wealth, he even re-established the political power in the South China Sea.

Arceus has a limited amount of Kobelco. Usually, Arceus will get more out of it only when Onijima needs repairs and steel-type Pokémon are lacking in nutrition.

Wapole could not grab the top market, but the secondary market was quickly occupied by him. It is well known to those who have channels.

"The materials here are still sufficient, and some can be barely made. This weapon system is also the same. Here and here should be improved in this way."

She is a clone of Vegapunk, but she is not a simple clone. The six clones of Vegapunk are not pure robots, but a different kind of copy. It just makes a certain part of the emotions unlimited according to different individuals. zoomed in.

York has great desires, but she also has good analytical skills. The data stored in Punk's records is gone, and she will never forget the things she remembers. Seeing these ready-made drawings, it is not difficult to think of something .

And this is also how she proves herself. Franky doesn't know that Vegapunk actually has six clones. This ability is enough to fool him.

York's purpose of doing this is also very clear. She wants to use Frankie's DIY laboratory to repair her body first, and then find the navy to contact the five old stars, making herself the only Vegapunk.

As for the result, it can be seen from Franky's eyes that the light shined, York has succeeded.

Remembrance, sadness, regret, different people have different reactions to Vegapunk's death, and two of them are the most special, Vinsmoke Gage and Caesar Courant.noVelusB.CoM

Gage himself didn't say anything, but ordered Germa to step up the follow-up research work, and Caesar was ecstatic.

"Hey, blah blah, Vegapunk is dead, now I am the number one scientist in the world! How can that Quinn who is trying to gain fame compare with me!"

Looking at the slightly crazy Caesar, Monet stroked his eyes, intending to continue to speed up the progress of his mission.

【The young master is indeed right, Caesar will play himself to death sooner or later】

A few more days passed, and the news of Vegapunk was gradually forgotten by Hai Hai. This matter was too high-end, so high-end that ordinary people were not interested at all.

Whether it is five hundred years ahead of the world or the title of the world's first scientist has nothing to do with them. For ordinary people, the life and death of Vegapunk is not as important as how many fish can be caught in one net, and whether the harvest next year is good or not.

When they saw the news on the first day, they would also miss it, but after a few days, this emotion naturally disappeared.

This is especially true for the people of Ghost Island. The importance of Vegapunk is not even as important as a few reward orders.

Lightning Zeraora

1.72 billion Pele

The lack of outstanding performance during the war on the top led to no change in Zeraora's bounty. After the battle of Egged, his threat was also reflected again.

The same bounty skyrocketed as well as Shaina.

Flame Blood·Shaina

2.3 Billion Baileys - Extremely Dangerous

Shaina's bounty is equal to Jhin's, and it's exactly the same. It seems to convey a special meaning, but there is an extra special note.

Her reckless and frantic actions make her a far more threatening threat than other cadres.

There is also a changed reward order, but the above person is not Kuzan, but Yamato.

Onihime Yamato

A bounty of 2.963 billion Baileys is offered.

The bounty was raised by a symbolic 100 million, which is related to the content of the newspaper report. The news of Kuzan's appearance was covered up, and only vaguely mentioned Yamato, the pirate who used the ability of ice.

It is impossible to keep this kind of thing a secret, but there are no eyewitnesses about Egghard, and it can be kept secret for a while. The fact that the admiral joined the pirates is too disgraceful.

"What, what are these people thinking, what does Egghard have to do with me, what do you think, Kuzan?"

"How do I know, I resigned a long time ago, this is not the result I want to see."

A few days passed, and Zeraola and Kuzan naturally returned to Ghost Island. The World Government was not happy with Kuzan's cover-up of this matter.

Originally, he wanted to use this action to prove himself that no matter what he did, it would be more convenient to integrate into the group of Onishima Pirates, but the concealment of the navy and the world government finally caused his progress bar to keep standing still.

The only one who felt balanced about this matter was Quinn. After so many years, he finally encountered something that he could empathize with.

Chapter 1134 Kaido's Dinner Invitation

"How about it, Ms. Yamato, do you understand how I feel? That kind of feeling that people don't do anything at home, but the bounty goes up like flying."

Jeraora went home to visit relatives, and Kuzan went back to his residence to see the penguins. After they all left, Quinn took the initiative to find them instead.

As a senior backer, he can see at a glance how Yamato's bounty has increased. Although it was not clearly stated in the newspaper, it is just to make people think of Yamato.

Jeraora and Shaina are both clear members of Beasts. In this case, they don't mention their names, but just mention Bing. People with a bit of knowledge can easily think of Yamato.

"Ah, I don't feel it."

"Did you feel it?"

"Yeah, it's just a reward. Anyway, those guys can't beat me. It doesn't matter if there is more or less, but it feels good that there is no reward over there."

Yamato suddenly misses herself on the other side, and she will not be stopped even if she visits the Navy headquarters without a reward.

You can do the same here, but you don't know how to get in. If you want to leave, you must type it out.

He was raised by a scapegoat who did not belong to him, and even reached a level that did not belong to him, while Yamato followed the steps and was beaten up by Kaido with a left punch and a right stick.

The bounty can only be used as a side reference of strength, there are always bounties that are not worthy of the name, but Yamato can afford this amount, so naturally he will not care about this pot.

"No, why is your expression so tangled?"

"Huh? Of course it's because of this."

Yamato took out a life card, and the degree of beating of the paper was enough to show that its owner was approaching.

"That * father is back again, how could I be happy! He disappeared for so long this time, who knows what new tricks he will come up with!"

Bringing this up, Yamato was furious, the happy time without Kaido is always so short.

"Brother Kaidou is coming back? That's really not a good thing."

Quinn still remembers the results of Hawkins' divination. According to his analysis of his bad luck, if Shaina continues to go on vacation, then the root of her bad luck probably has nothing to do with Kaido.

Whether this crisis can be resolved may depend on Yamato.

Quinn didn't realize that Yamato had the same idea as him at this time, but just switched the roles.

After knowing that Kaido was about to return, Quinn locked himself in the laboratory on the grounds that he had researched a key location, and started a unique retreat career. Yamato searched the ghost island for a while, and finally found the emperor. .

"Master Onihime, what's the matter?"

Bao Huang held a large notepad on his chest, and there was a little fear in his eyes. At this time, Yamato was really scary, and anyone would feel scared if Yamato put a mace across his neck.

Even if Yamato's mace doesn't have spikes, it won't affect her swinging power.

"Father's itinerary was arranged by you, right? Hand over his itinerary to me, and nothing will be left behind!"

"Master Oniji, this kind of thing doesn't exist at all."

"Aren't you his secretary? Don't lie to me, or the consequences will be very serious."

Seeing Baohuang's unmoved appearance, Yamato made a more fierce expression, but Baohuang just handed the big book to Yamato helplessly.

"Master Guiji, you know the character of Governor Kaido, will he listen to my arrangement?"

You reversed the order. I didn't arrange Governor Kaido, but after Governor Kaido has made a decision, I can schedule a reasonable time. If you don't believe me, you can see for yourself. "

This book is made according to the size of Kaido. In the hands of the emperor, it is a big guy comparable to a mountaineering bag. Even in the hands of Yamato, this is a slightly supermodel book.

Didn't find what he wanted on it, so Yamato let go of Baohuang. At this time, the phone bug on Baohuang's body rang.

"Master Guiji, Governor Kaido just sent me a letter saying that he will be back soon, and that he will have dinner with you tonight."

"ha??"novEluSb.cOm

In a room on Onijima, Kaido and Yamato are sitting on the floor. The food on the table is all Wano's local cuisine.

Whether it's Kaido or Yamato, Hachisai and Ajian are all clearly at hand, no matter what happens, they can immediately react.

Yamato was silently planing rice with a pair of chopsticks, but her eyes kept on Kaido. She felt that there was a conspiracy in it.

It is normal for a father who has traveled far away to eat with his daughter after returning home, but it is different with Kaido.

"Yamato, soy sauce."

"What's wrong with the soy sauce? Today's pork chops are fried well."

"I mean, get some soy sauce for your father."

Listening to Kaido's request, Yamato was unmoved, but speeded up the frequency of sliding the chopsticks, and ate everything in the bowl.

"Get it yourself, it is obviously closer to you."

While saying this, Yamato had already put down the bowl and chopsticks, and reached out to touch her weapon. She had already sensed Kaido's intentions, and the so-called soy sauce was just an introduction to her.

Even if there is no soy sauce, it may be replaced with wasabi or yuzu vinegar.

Since an accident is going to happen sooner or later, it is better to hurry up and eat enough, and then start fighting directly.

Things were exactly as she expected. The so-called dinner was a "Hongmen Banquet" for her.

It's just that Kaido doesn't need a swordsman, he can do it himself.

"It seems that during this period of time, you have forgotten what respect is. Let me educate you, Lei Ming. Gossip!"

"Come on less! You're just making excuses, thunderous gossip!"

The two sticks intersected, but Kaido showed a triumphant smile. The next moment, the weapons of the two smashed towards the wall next to them, and a big hole was smashed into the outer wall of the ghost island again. The pirates also moved because of this.

"What are you doing, daddy bastard?!"

Yamato thought that Kaido was looking for an excuse to fight with her, but when he was swinging the club just now, Kaido seemed to want to wrestle head-on, but in fact he led Yamato's strength to smash to the side.

"Ugh, didn't you think of it? It's still too naive, Yamato."

Kaido was proud that his plan had succeeded, but the next moment, he suddenly disappeared here, replaced by the figure of Arceus.

"Father? Listen to me, this is all done by that * father, and has nothing to do with me!"

"I know."

"Hoo that's great"

Yamato didn't expect that Kaido would actually lure her to demolish the house. This kind of thing is simply outrageous. Fortunately, Arceus saw the essence of the matter clearly.

"Father, where did you send your father?"

"A very special place, as for what it will look like in the future, you can ask for blessings."

"Seek more blessings for yourself?? Wait for foster father, don't go! You should speak clearly first!"

Looking at Arceus who turned around and left, Yamato chased after him. This behavior of the riddle really made her a little flustered.

At this time, Kaido has also discovered the abnormality, and the only one in Ghost Island who can't react to him is Arceus. Looking at the strange environment around him, he can be sure that this is Arceus' handwriting, but he doesn't know what he wants to do. What.

"Is the real touch similar to that girl's experience in Dragon's Space?"

Squeezing his arm, after making a certain judgment, Kaido also began to observe the surrounding environment. This place seems to be a deserted island, with no human habitation around, and the blue sea is crystal clear.

Just as he was about to go further to observe, everything changed.

The ocean on the left side became dark, and a huge whale revealed itself from it, with red stripes surrounding its body. As it appeared, the water level of the sea suddenly began to soar.

On the other side, a mountain-like monster stepped out of the sea. It was clearly in the sea, but the places it stepped on turned into land in an instant.

Chapter 1135 Super ancient Pokémon appear, the sword of the cliff and the root wave

After some hard work, a screen made of ice appeared in front of Yamato. Through this screen, she could see what happened to Kaido.

The situation is exactly the same as when she was sent away last time, except that the participants and viewers have been switched.

Yamato wasn't too panicked at first, but when two mysterious creatures appeared from the sea, she panicked.

A mysterious different world.

Looks like a mighty creature.

Two.

Let's not mention Kaido's feelings for the time being, but Yamato has already reacted.

There are no other creatures in the sky and sea, but this situation is very similar to the first time she saw Zekrom and Lacey Ram, even better in terms of size and destructive power.

This is also impossible. Although Laceyram and Zekrom are separate individuals, they used to belong to one body. Both Zekrom and Laceyram are just part of the power.

Yamato didn't know what kind of Pokémon it was, nor did he know the difference in power.

She only knows one thing, if this thing develops as she expected, then the future will really be bleak.

Now Kaido wants her to start the ice substitute plan. If Kaido gets the approval of a certain Pokémon and then strengthens himself, then this day will not pass.

"Father! Calm down, think again, I think father is strong enough, let him work * the next road!"

Strengthening oneself and weakening the enemy are not contradictory. Although Yamato cannot strengthen himself and weaken Kaido at the same time, he can try to prevent Kaido from strengthening.

"It was just that old man playing tricks on me! If you beat me up, you don't need to do this kind of thing. It takes a lot of effort for you to do this kind of thing. I think it's too late to stop now."

"It's different from before. The more perfect the power is restored, the easier it is for me to use the power. Now this kind of thing is not too difficult."

"But adoptive father, I remember you said that the power of gods is different. The power of this level is not a single identification, but a two-way recognition. I think that * father will definitely not be recognized, or you should save yourself. Work harder."

Divine beasts are different from ordinary Pokémon. They are individual individuals. Especially the first-level gods have their own authority. This kind of power will not be separated from the divine beast itself.

Arceus would not choose to force orders in this kind of matter, it would have no effect.

The twisted melon is not sweet, and it is wishful thinking to use it to quench your thirst. The twisted raw melon may be poisoned.

"You're right. I'm not sure whether Kaido's character can be recognized by the highest power of compatibility, but this way I can save my worry."

As Kaido's strength increased, Kaido began to look for stronger sparring partners, and ordinary opponents could not satisfy him, so during that time Onijima could often see the brilliance of sanctions.

Arceus began to find it troublesome to control his strength every time. It is very boring to repeat the same thing mechanically. He just took this opportunity to change Kaido's target and spur the slack Yamato at the same time.

Kaido's success means that his strength will increase dramatically. If Kaido fails, he should feel unhappy and have fun. No matter which one it is, Yamato will have to work hard to deal with it.

"The strength in your body is not inferior to anyone else. It is not an exaggeration to say that you are one of the strongest. Work hard early. After mastering this, you should not have such a headache."

The combination of three dragons is Daolong, a mysterious Pokémon that only exists in legends and has never been seen by anyone.

But the three individuals it split are all first-level gods, which is enough to explain the power of Daolong itself.

As for why it should be, it is because although Daolong is the top existence among the first-level gods, the other first-level gods are not waste. Maybe Kaido is very talented and will break through to a new level after gaining power.

Leaving a few words of encouragement, Arceus left here, he had other things to prepare, and what was left in front of Yamato at this time was the ice mirror that recorded Kaido's situation.

Regarding Arceus' words, Yamato decided to wait a while before digesting. At this time, all she wanted to do was pray, and pray that Kaido would never succeed.

"God bless, foster father bless, let that * father overturn. No, it seems unreliable to ask foster father for this kind of thing, anyone will do, just bless you."

At this time, Yamato looked like a college student who was about to take the final exam, but did not do any "preparation". Regardless of whether he was useful or not, anyway, it was enough to pray first. As for whether it was useful to worship Confucius in the English test, that was after the results matter.

After a series of prayers that were not known to be useful, Yamato looked at Kaido in the picture again.

"Hmm, that's really exciting, but what does he mean?"

Wiping the rain from his face, Kaido's eyes were filled with frenzy. A battle of this scale is what he yearns for.

At this time, there was lightning and thunder outside, and heavy rain poured down. The coconut trees on the island where he was located had been blown into danger by the storm, and almost all the roots stuck in the ground were pulled out.

What caused this climate was not the battle between man and man, but the giant whale surfaced.

This is Kyoka, the Pokémon that controls the power of the ocean. According to legends in the Yoshien area, Kyoka is the incarnation of the ocean and has the power to control water.

In mythology, it is called a Pokémon that expands the ocean by flooding the land with torrential rain and turbulent waves.

It has the power to generate huge rain clouds that can cover the entire sky, and cause torrential rain. The violent storm at this time is the influence of Kyoka's power.

But this is only part of it. Here is a violent storm, but the sun is shining brightly on the other side. The rain clouds above are dispersed, and the strong sunlight shines on a piece of land. Even if this piece of land has been surrounded by sea water, turtles have already occurred Cracked and looks extremely dry.

More places are still flowing with magma, and the magma that has not been completely cooled forms a sea of magma, just behind it.

This is Gulardo, the Pokémon that controls the power of the earth. According to legend, it is the incarnation of the earth.

In the mythology of the Yoshien area, Gulardo is called the Pokémon that created the land and expanded the continent.

It has the powerful power to make rain clouds disappear, and expand the earth with strong light and high temperature to evaporate water. Where it is located, sunlight will evaporate water, volcanoes will erupt, and where your feet step, even the sea will be under its power. filled with the earth.

By the way, it is a very rare non-flying Pokémon among the first-level gods.

They didn't have Kaido in their eyes, they just looked at each other impatiently.

Different from the ideological dispute between Laceyram and Zekrom, Kyoka and Gulardon are the most antagonistic Pokémon among the first-level gods. The powers they hold seem to be incompatible at birth.novelusb.com

Kioka can relieve drought by expanding the ocean with rainfall, and Gulardo can also contain floods and waterlogging by evaporating water and expanding the land. As long as two Pokémon meet, a fight is the only solution.

"Roar!"

Kioka took the lead in attacking. Its wide side fins just waved in the ocean, and the sea water rolled up to form a terrifying tsunami. The huge waves rushed straight into the sky and rolled towards Gulardo.

Looking at the monstrous tsunami, Gulardo's eyes were full of disdain. The crimson armor began to absorb sunlight, and the spike-like decoration on its body began to recharge. Big waves ahead.

Before the attack arrived, the sea water began to boil. This was the condensed sunlight and flames of Gulardo, and its power was far greater than that of ordinary grass-type Pokémon.

When the beam of light came into contact with seawater, a large amount of steam flooded a large area of sea in an instant, and the huge wave generated by Kyoka was also penetrated by Gulardo from the center.

Although Gulardo penetrated the tsunami in the center, the surrounding tsunami passed the barrier of Gulardo. A large amount of seawater covered the land behind Gulardo, as if it wanted to completely turn this place into a vast ocean.

Kyoka also took advantage of this gap to roll up a huge wave and crash into Gulardo with his body again.

Facing Kyoka's move, Gulardo also activated his own power. The submarine volcano began to erupt, and the magma continued to rise, which not only drove away the previous sea water, but also made the land under his feet thicker and bigger.

And it also raised its arms, facing Kyoka who was rushing forward.

"Strong fight, but what is it for."

Kaido did not intervene in the battle between Gulardo and Kyoka. Although he was moved, he just chose to watch all this from a distance. It was not that he was afraid of this power, but that he did not want to conduct a sneak attack halfway. At this moment, A figure appeared beside him.

"This is another virtual space created by Master Arceus, and the background of the era is the ancient love.

The blue one is called Gaioka, which controls the sea, and the red one is called Gulardo, which controls the land. Their power and authority are similar to those of Lord Arceus. "

The familiar golden long hair is still Sirona's appearance. In addition to hosting the Hezhong area, in the virtual space created by Arceus, the Fangyuan area is also directly handled by him.

Anyway, he is just a commentator, and his image is not very important.

"So what is he trying to do with me here? Make me fight them?"

"Master Arceus just let you see this power clearly, and what is displayed at this time is not all."

With the appearance of Sirona, the narrator, the battle between Gulardo and Kyoka has also entered a fever pitch.

Gulardo exerted strength with his arms, dragged Gaioka out of the sea in front of him, and threw it towards the distant mountain.

But Gaioka's body was waving its double fins in mid-air, and the power of the sea below was attracted by it, and then the pair of fins were like wings, allowing it to fly directly.

Seeing this scene, Gulardo became even more angry. Several magma bombs flew towards Kyoka in mid-air, and Kyoka also flicked his tail in the air, forming ice thorns the size of pillars.

At the same time, a stone emitting colorful light rises from the ocean. This is a combination of natural energy in the Fangyuan area. Whoever can master it will be able to burst out with stronger power to defeat the opponent.

In order to compete for the ownership of this stone, the two Pokémon unanimously launched a more violent attack.

Their bodies illuminated by the colorful light changed again.

Kioka's body became transparent, the lines originally carved on his body glowed yellow, and the alpha symbol-shaped patterns on his forehead and wing-like fins also became extremely shining.

The situation of Gulardo is similar, except that the symbols on its body are in the style of Ohm symbols.

This is their true power, the original regression model that bursts out its full potential. Some civilizations need to go forward to the future to become stronger, and some more special ones need to go backwards and become stronger through archaeology.

Four clusters of light condensed near Gaioka's head, filled with the energy of the sea, and the four waves condensed the power of the sea finally converged into one and shot towards Gulardo in front.

The ocean rioted again with Kioka's attack. This is a blow that gathers the power of the sea, and it is also Kioka's ultimate move-root wave.

Gulardo after the original return made a similar move, rocks were flying around him, and with a roar, Gulardo stomped on the ground with one foot.

Under the influence of Gulardo, the earth began to shake. Under the deep sea, the continental shelf trembled with Gulardo's attack. The rolling rocks converged towards a dot, and finally broke through the sea like a sharp sword.

It is also Gulardo's final move, the sword of the cliff.

The power of the earth turns into the blade, this is not a game, as long as you can fly, you can be immune to Gulardo's ground-based moves.

Under the sword of the cliff, Gulardo can stab down anyone who is on the ground or flying in the sky. This blow can be said to embody Gulardo's indignation against the word flying.

The sword of the cliff and the root wave hit at the same time, and the two giant beasts fell down at the same time, and fought at the same time. The similar strength made their battle extremely tangled, and it seemed that it would never stop.

In the outside world, Yamato was nervously kneading the doll in her hand, and she had pressed the lucky egg-shaped decoration into a quiche. Since Sirona appeared, she has become more nervous.

Especially when she saw the strength shown by Gulardo and Kyoka, her heart, which can remain calm in the face of major events, also began to speed up.

In order for her to better understand what it was, Arceus also thoughtfully added subtitles for her.

She didn't know what Kaido was thinking, but just now, she had imagined the terrifying scene of the root gossip and cliff gossip being developed by Kaido, and then smashed at herself.

"Please, please, the two of them are pacifists, and that way, that * dad will never get approval."

She also knows that this sentence is unrealistic. The two Pokémon who are constantly fighting don't look like they love peace. At this time, a new situation appeared in the picture that Yamato saw, and she didn't know what to be happy about. Still sad news.

As the battle intensifies, the sky cracks and a third Pokémon appears in front of Kaido.

Chapter 1136 Dragon of the Sky-Splitting Empty Seat

They fought as soon as they met, even if they fell down and stood up, they continued to fight. Kyoka and Gulardo had already left Yamato with a belligerent impression.

No matter what the warlike reason is, it is not good news for her. As long as it is a warlike creature, the probability of meeting Kaido's eyes is higher.

Hoping that they are pacifists is just Yamato's wishful thinking. Among the first-level gods, the relationship between Hooh and Lugia is considered the most peaceful. There is no major conflict at all, and they hardly meet each other on weekdays.

Zekrom and Lacey Ram fight over ideas, and if a special person appears, they can also neutralize the conflict between Ssangyong.

But Gaioka is different from Gulardon. Whether it is authority or purpose, they have no possibility of peaceful coexistence.

Either hide away and let everyone sleep together. If one wakes up, the other will not continue to sleep.

The most effective way to stop them is to subdue both of them directly.

According to Yamato's experience, if there is no third Pokémon, then Kaido's future is likely to choose one of the two, or even choose all.

But this kind of thing is impossible. The sea and the land already exist alternately. Kyoka created the sea, which also represents the will of the sea. Gulardo created the land, which naturally represents the will of the earth.

The two wills are different from the ideal and reality of the black and white Ssangyong. They can coexist. Putting their two powers together will lead to direct self-destruction. NOVELusb.com

The kind of fusion of water and fire spiritual roots, and finally the birth of hydrogen and oxygen spiritual roots incarnation of nuclear explosion immortals will not happen to them.

The appearance of the third Pokémon means that there are different options. The choice Arceus prepared for Kaido is probably not the two monsters that destroy mountains and land, and cover the sea with their backhands.

It's just that Yamato forgot one thing. Sometimes what can alleviate the immediate crisis may not be the solution, but may also be a bigger crisis.

Appearing in the clouds is another first-level * in the Yoshien area, the sky Pokémon-Kakuza, a powerful dragon-type Pokémon that tears the sky.

Appearance Konza is a green flying dragon with special square wings and tail fins on its body.

Same as Kyoka and Gulardo, it also has special lines on its body.

Different from Gaioca and Gulardo, who are sleeping in the deep sea and magma, Rikkonza has been living in the high-altitude ozone layer.

In its long life, the Rivaza has never descended to the ground.

Because the habitat is too far away from the ground, it has long been beyond the scope of the naked eye. Coupled with the cover of clouds, humans on the ground have almost never seen its true face.

Most of the time, Rift Block guards the atmosphere, and its enemies are unknown objects from outer space. The moisture and particles in the air are its food, and the meteorites that are attracted by gravity and fall into the atmosphere are also its food. .

Sometimes there will be a figure of the constellation Rift in the meteor shower at night, that is its way of foraging, and it will directly eat the meteorites that cannot be burned out by the atmosphere.

Cracked Seats will not easily appear on the ground, except for a fight between Gulardo and Kyoka.

If the two of them are allowed to fight endlessly, the whole world will be destroyed in the endless reshaping of the ocean and land. The Rift Seat guards a balance. When this kind of battle that disrupts the order occurs, it will appear to stop Gyo The battle of Ka and Gulardo.

In a sense, Rikuza is the pacifist whom Yamato prayed for, but Rikuza maintains peace in a very special way.

It will choose to directly defeat Gulardo and Kyoka. If you don't beat them up first, it's useless to simply persuade them.

If there is a selection of which region's * is the most irritable and likes to fight the most, there is a high probability that the Fangyuan region will win the championship directly.

"Roar!"

The Rift Seat that descended from the sky roared towards the bottom, but Gulardo and Kyoka, who had already hit their heads, ignored it at all.

Seeing this situation, Rikuza also made his own choice, its body was also wrapped in light, and after the light dissipated, Rikuza's body shone like an emerald.

There is a Δ-shaped pattern on the forehead, a pair of corners on the chin extend to the front of the mouth, and some golden objects similar to ribbons appear.

This is not a return to the original, but a Mega evolution. Rikzaza, who lives high above the sky, is one of the few Pokémon that has mastered the ability of its own Mega.

The behavior of eating meteorites on weekdays makes it store a lot of energy in the body, and it is precisely by virtue of this power that Rikkakuza can realize its own Mega.

The moment the Rikkakuza appeared, the violent weather calmed down, the clouds above the rainstorm dispersed, and the scorching sun became less hot. This is the ability of Rikkakuza.

There are golden particles constantly flying out from the long beard protruding from the cracked seat's jaw. These particles can control the concentration and humidity of the gas, and it is these particles that Rikuza uses to manipulate the weather.

"Roar!"

Intensive meteor showers flew out of the Rift Constellation, and Kaido had already recognized that it was the Dragon Star Group, but the Dragon Star Group released by the Rift Constellation was more powerful.

The dense meteor shower forced Gulardo and Kyoka back, and also angered them both.

Kioka and Gulardo, who were temporarily separated, locked on a new target and launched an attack on the Rift Seat at the same time.

Sunshine flames and root waves flew towards Rikkakuza one after another. With a flexible posture, Rikkakuza shuttled through the energy fluctuations, and released a destructive death light to the two Pokémon below.

Gulardo and Kioka were not helpless, the short-term stiffness allowed them to seize the opportunity, Gulardo's flame-breathing released a large number of magma bombs and blasted towards the door of the cracked seat, Kioka also re-emerged. Condensed root fluctuations.

This attack hit the bull's-eye, and the Rift Seat let out a painful howl, and then used a stronger destructive death light on Kioka.

Keoka, who couldn't dodge, was directly blasted, and finally hit Gulardo.

Seeing Rikakuza flaunting its power in the sky, and wanting to hit himself with Kyoka, a stinky fish, Gulardo used the sword of the cliff again.

Not one, five rock blades broke through the water from the bottom of the sea and pierced the Rift Seat from different angles. The seemingly clumsy Gulardo's attack was actually very fast.

Several cliff swords staggered in the air, and the stone blade containing the power of the earth launched a violent deflagration in midair.

The impact of the explosion mixed with hot rock fragments enveloped the body of Rikakuza, and at almost the same time, Kioka, who was blown away by Rikkakuza, also hit Gulardo.

Seeing this scene, the emerald brilliance around Rikuza became even more dazzling. After holding Gulardo's cliff sword, Rikuza's body was surrounded by air currents, and rushed towards Kyoka and Gulardo at high speed.

The energy in the body is concentrated at the front of the body. This is the exclusive move of Rikakuza - the finishing touch.

Chapter 1137 Your father is about to go ashore first

"Roar!"

The emerald-like brilliance gradually bloomed, and finally merged into the body of Rikuza, and the speed of Rikuza itself reached the extreme. The sword of the cliff brushed the sides of its body. The attacks were all in vain.

The Sword of the Cliff can stab down the provocative Bobo or unidentified aircraft, and justify the name of the ground system, but it can't do anything with the high-speed flying seat.

Facing the root fluctuation of Kioka, Rikkakuza moved up and down like a tease, spiraling forward around the root fluctuation.

Green light flashed in the sky, and in the blink of an eye, Rikuzuo had arrived in front of Kaioka, and the power of the finishing touch exploded completely, flying Kaiouka's huge body straight away, and then Rikuzao's power remained undiminished rushed towards Gulardo.

Gioka sank into the sea, and Gulardo's body also fell on the hot magma continent behind him.

The turbulent waves rushed to Kaido's position, and the magma bombs splashed by Gulardo's body also flew towards this side as if they were joining in the fun, but Kaido didn't have the slightest intention of avoiding it, but instead turned into a blue dragon to defend against it. The barrier rushed high into the sky.

He needs a better perspective to watch this fight.

When Kaido flew high into the sky, Kyoka had swam out of the deep sea again, and Gulardo also supported himself to stand up from the magma, but their bodies, which symbolized the original return, had disappeared.

Under the finishing touch of Likongzao, both Gaioka and Gulardo were beaten back to their original postures, and the previous fighting spirit has also dissipated.

The conflict between them did not disappear, but due to the power of Rikuza, they were forced to stop fighting.

"Hey!" (Keep calling! You two should call me again! If you've had enough, get the * out of here!)

Kioka and Gulardo looked at each other for a while, as if they had agreed on the time for the next fight, and like the provocation, Gaioka flew half a circle in the sky before turning around and swimming into the deep sea.

Gulardo turned around angrily, and walked towards the distance step by step. With the end of the dispute, Rikenza also released his Mega form and planned to return to the sky.

"The dragon of the sky, Rikakuza, the balance of the Hoenn region is maintained by it, Lord Arceus thinks."

At this time, Kaido chased after him directly, without even listening to Sirona's words.

"Hey, you can understand me, right, let's fight! This kind of battle is what I want!"

The battle between Gulardo and Kyoka was shocking enough. From the moment they appeared, the weather changed dramatically, and the attacks caused by waving their hands and feet were enough to change the landscape. If these two giant beasts fight down, it will cause It is impossible to predict how serious the disaster will be.

After all, if there is no mediation by Rikuza, Kyoka and Gulardo will be defeated and destroyed, and even the continental shelf will be completely reshaped.

But these two creatures, who were like a natural disaster, were pierced by the Rift Seat. Although there was no deathmatch, it was impossible for the weak to stop this kind of battle. Only the stronger side could end the battle.

It would be a pity for such an opponent to let the opponent leave without a fight.

But before Kaido could catch up, the surrounding environment suddenly shattered, and when he reappeared, he had already arrived at the side of Arceus on the holy mountain.

At the moment when the figure of Rikuza disappeared, the live broadcast screen in front of Yamato was also broken, and the dust-like ice crystals reflected the sunlight, forming a very gorgeous picture scroll in front of Yamato, but she couldn't appreciate it at all.

His eyes are dull, and there seems to be a spirit flying above his body.

The ominous premonition eventually became a painful reality. She saw the scene of Kaido chasing the empty seat, and heard Kaido's declaration, if Kaido can get this power.

【Finishing touch·End gossip! 】

A stick in fantasy brought Yamato back to God, and she even made up the name of a move for Kaido.

"No, absolutely not. If you are slower than that * father, you will have to go back to ten years ago."

Now Kaido is a trouble to Yamato, but it is no longer a big trouble that has no power to parry. She has the ability to resist. If Kaido carelessly lets her come, then Kaido will not feel good.

It was different ten years ago. At that time, she was beaten by Kaido in all directions. What the battle will look like depends on how playful Kaido is.

Finally completed her studies, but the huge family business was not ready for her to inherit, so her task became to help a group of family members during the game, and prepare to study for a higher school along the way.

Turning his head, he saw that Arceus suddenly arranged an adult cram school for Kaido, and he was about to go ashore.

At this time, a happy egg curiously poked half of its body outside the door, looking at the strange Yamato curiously.

"Happy?"

At this time, it was the end of autumn, and the temperature in Wano Country was at a comfortable and pleasant stage. The golden sunlight poured into the room through the windows, making it look very comfortable.

But the sunlight didn't seem to bring Dahe any warmth. Under the sunlight, she seemed to be struggling with her life, and her kneeling posture on the ground was mixed with a hint of despair.

Not long after, Yamato stood up again, with the word struggle written in his eyes.

"I'm going to be faster than that * daddy! Zekrom, Lacey Ram, get ready, I'm going to start again!"

Temporarily awakening her fighting spirit, she is determined to master this power first, and skillfully climbs down the window, spreads her lightning wings and flies towards the holy mountain. She will continue to practice.

As for why you don't run away, you have to try your best first. After you're sure you can't handle Kaido, it's not too late to think about how to escape.

Arceus' decision made Yamato, who had been slacking off a bit, regain the urgency. Just as she was rushing this way, the preparations for Kaido were also continuing.

"Are you ready?"

"Ugh, it's already ready, so what do I need to do?" nOvelusb.cOm

Kaido is not a pure reckless man. Before doing something, he also needs to know the general method.

"Get it to approve, or have it approve you."

"It makes no difference, does it?"

"There are still, you have seen that battle, and it is not too much to describe that battle as a battle of gods.

Pokémon at this level all have their own will. Gulardo will not love a person who advocates the sea, and Kyoka will not accept a person who advocates land.

If you don't get their approval and your personality is not suitable, they will not lend you their strength.

There is something they value, let them recognize, this is the only way to get their recognition. "

This is also the way that beasts and humans establish the most connections - fetters.

Dakley in Baiyang Town has similar fetters against Dala's Frozen Bird in the frontier.

The method is not unique, it's just another way that basically no one can do it.

Chapter 1138 has no second option from beginning to end

"Bondage is really a long-lost vocabulary."

"Ahba and you get along very well, but that's because its race is warlike, and it's not necessarily the case with the empty seat."

The prototype of the eight-headed dragon is the three-headed dragon after all. That character is very compatible with Kaido's warlike temperament. Under Kaido's hands, the stronger he is, the more he will be valued, and the eight-headed dragon also likes Kaido's personality.

Basically one cannot be killed, and one life can be revived. Under the virtuous circle, the bond between Kaido and the eight-headed dragon is also deepening.

"Not necessarily, I think it is also a militant."

"Reason."

"Hmm, intuition, so what's the other way?"

"The other one? It's very simple. Subdue it. If you can subdue it uprightly, maybe you can make it accept your ideas."

This matter can be traced back to how humans tamed Pokémon in ancient times, and who was the first Pokémon tamed. Archaeologists can write hundreds of papers on this matter and support a research institute Nothing to worry about.

"The process should be similar to that girl Yamato, right? Then let's start."

"It's almost the same, but there are still some differences. Back then, my strength was still a little weaker, and that girl Yamato was different from you, so her trial was a special trial in the Dragon's Space, and the space you need will be larger ."

Zekrom and Lacey Ram are brothers of the same family after all, so staying in the same dragon space is fine.

No matter how bad it is, there is Arceus as the head of the family, and the conflict between the Ssangyong can still be eased, and they have also seen some special things from Yamato.

But Rikuzao is different, it is not suitable to be in the same space as Ssangyong, no matter the personality area or the environment they like are different.

The slate of Arceus began to emerge from the body, and the two slates of Dragon and Blue Sky were naturally located at the top.

Sixteen colors of light spiraled up, and the sky of Wano Country seemed to be distorted at this moment. Flying in the sky, the Tanabata blue bird and the steel-clad crow instinctively hid in the distance.

Pokémon are not machines, they can avoid obstacles by themselves, so there is no need to plan a route. The sky returned to its original state after a burst of cracks. Under the influence of Arceus' power, a special space also appeared and over the country.

"Hey hehehe, then I'll set off, this should be a hearty battle."

Kaido instinctively ignored the recognition Arceus said. For him, fighting seemed to be more important than gaining power, and this process would bring him special joy.

Whether the personality fits or not is another matter. It is more important to fight first.

"Protest! Father-in-law, I protest, you are treating me differently! Why didn't you tell me what to do when I was in the trial!"

It doesn't take too much time to fly from Ghost Island to the holy mountain. The no-fly zone near the holy mountain is aimed at people who come here for the first time. People who have climbed to the summit several times like Pokémon and Yamato have already exceeded this limit. limit.

With Yamato's speed, she arrived here before Kaido's trial space was ready.

But she didn't show up, but kept peeking from the sidelines, a special peep that Kaido and Arceus knew where she was, but no one could tell.

She didn't show her face when Kaido was there, she just wanted to prevent accidents as much as possible, and protested in front of Kaido, maybe she just hit her directly.

Kaido has been silent for a long time, and Yamato doesn't believe that he has no conspiracy.

"You are different. Your father's personality has been fixed for a long time, and external forces can't affect his thoughts. You are still in the shaping period, and this method can make you grow.

But you didn't go to the open sea to seek refuge this time, your courage has improved. "

"Father, please tell me the truth, how fast can Rikakuza fly?"

Speaking of this, Yamato's expression dropped. In the original picture, Rikuza's strength gave her a headache, but that speed was where she was most confused.

Walking through the enemy's attack recklessly, even with a provocative meaning, if Kaido has this speed

After a brief analysis, Yamato discovered a new cruel problem. Once Kaido succeeds, escape is very likely to become an illusion.

At that time, if you can't fight and can't run, you can't run away. This is torture.

"This. I haven't studied it. It's probably able to catch up with the speed of the meteorite. Don't worry, Zekrom's ability can still compete with Rikuza in terms of speed, as long as you master it proficiently enough."

Arceus didn't compare whether Rikakuza is the fastest, but if Kaido and Yamato are used as carriers, Yamato probably won't be able to escape. His decades of life were not in vain.

With the same bloodline, Kaido has practiced decades more than Yamato, and it is not easy to equalize this gap.

"So I'm here to work hard, adoptive father, let's discuss it quietly, how about you slow down the speed of father's success?"

Using weakening is not accurate, it should be said that she intends to slow down Kaido's speed.

"Father always picks you up for fights. You must find it troublesome. Let him fight there for a while, preferably a year or two, so that Father is happy and we can relax, isn't it good?"

"Stop thinking about such crooked thoughts and hurry up to grow."

The energy wave controlled by Arceus gave Yamato a push and sent her directly into the trial space, but he did not veto Yamato's suggestion. On a certain level, Arceus had let Rikuza go to talk to Kaido instead of him. The meaning of fighting.

Repeating a mechanical action periodically is very boring, Rikakuza is strong enough, it can also strengthen Kaido, and let yourself relax a little.

At the same time, in Kaido's trial space, the painting style is completely different from Yamato's.

At the beginning, Yamato first chose to communicate. Even now, in the face of Zekrom and Lacey Ram, she is thinking about how to improve the skills of mouth cannon, and strive to practice mouth evasion as soon as possible.

Kaido is different. Even though Arceus told him that communication and recognition are very important things, he still chose the way of fighting.

The surrounding environment is a bit dim, and a little bit of starlight illuminates the place from different angles. It seems to be a cosmic space, but this is just a background wall. This is still a space that can breathe and has gravity.

From time to time, meteorites cut through the outer layer and slid down with a long and narrow tail flame, but those meteorites were eventually caught up by the green figure and swallowed.

Looking at the familiar figure of Rikuza, Kaido entered the beast form again, superimposed the dragon dance during the flight, and then chased after Rikuza's trajectory.

Okay, I owe 2000 and start again communicate? Is it important for this thing to fight?

For Yamato, communication is the most important thing, but for Kaido, fighting is fundamental.

Fortunately, this is not the real universe, and the sound can still be transmitted, otherwise Kaido's shouting, Rikuza would not have noticed it at all.

In Kaido's eyes, fighting is more important than everything else, but Rikuza doesn't think so. In his view, the blue creature is not as important as the meteorite flying in the sky.

This is not the universe, but it is similar to the universe. There are often meteorites sliding down from above. From the perspective of Likongzuo, every meteorite is a blind box.

These meteorites are fragments of various celestial bodies in the universe. Due to the different stars, their composition is also quite different.

In addition to the different environments they experienced, they may have experienced roasting or freezing at different temperatures. It can be said that no meteorite tastes exactly the same.

The unique taste system allows Rivaza to taste meteorites. This one may be too salty due to the high silicate content, and the other one may be too brittle due to too much metal content.

The rare "glass meteorite" is its favorite. The special taste and taste are very wonderful, but that kind of meteorite is too rare.

Kaido's interference just caused a piece of "glass meteorite" to pass by and turned into ashes in the friction.

Dangerous aura was revealed in the yellow pupils, Rikuzao turned around sensitively, and looked at the dragon-shaped creature approaching from below.

【Are you the one the Creator spoke of? I have a bad first impression of you. 】

Rikakuza didn't speak, but an ethereal voice sounded directly from Kaido's mind. For Pokémon of the beast level, telepathy is a very basic ability. They all have the ability of telepathic voice transmission, but whether to use it depends entirely on mood at the time.

For this level of Pokémon, there is not the only way to communicate. Telepathy, speaking human words, or manipulating a puppet to speak with it, these are all possible.

This kind of communication is one-sided. If Pokémon is unwilling, humans cannot communicate with them unless they use some special objects, such as mysterious gems.

"Hey hehehe, that kind of thing doesn't matter, whether you like it or hate it, let's fight, let's fight without reservation!"

During the flight, Kaido's dragon claw suddenly slapped his chest and abdomen. With the slap of the dragon claw, Kaido's blood overflowed from the corner of Kaido's mouth, and correspondingly, power filled every cell of him .

Many of Pokémon's skills have to pay a price, but the balance of this price is balanced. The more you pay, the more you gain. Under the influence of belly drum, Kaido's attack has been strengthened to the extreme.

Kaido already has a certain understanding of the force of Rikuza. If such an opponent doesn't use all his strength at the beginning, he probably won't have a chance in the future.

【Are you crazy about fighting? You are very similar to those two disturbing fellows. 】

The Cracked Space Seat didn't back down. Its responsibilities include protecting the planet below. The creatures that invade the universe are its targets. Some small meteorites can be ignored, and it won't affect anything if it hits it.

It can let go of things that are too weak, and it has its own judgment on this point.

But if something is too strong, no matter whether it can beat it or not, Rikuzao will fight it, and sometimes even protect it too much.

Any big guy that enters the living area of the Rift Zone will be attacked by it, such as the detectors launched by humans.

In the world of Pokémon, Rikuza is a very ancient Pokémon, which was born earlier than humans. Humans did not invent such things as rockets in that era.

This kind of behavior has caused human rockets to fail to launch smoothly for a long time. No matter how perfect the design is, the rocket will be demolished as long as it encounters a crack.

It wasn't until the Pokémon from the universe appeared, and Rikakuza re-approached the ground in the process of chasing them, and saw the rapid development of human technology, that the situation was improved.

Kaido can also be regarded as a relatively large trouble in the cognition of the empty seat. It is much worse than the two troubles of Gulardo and Kyoka, but they will never come to this place, especially the solid Rado.

Seeing Kaido who had no intention of stopping, Rikuza also started a new action.

In an instant, the airflow in this space entered a chaotic state. In this special space created by Arceus, the surge of airflow brought a strong wind, and the Rift Seat took advantage of the wind, and the already high speed was further improved. enhanced.

"Fire Dragon Torch!"

The flames enveloped Kaido's body, and in the blink of an eye, Kaido changed from a blue dragon to a flaming dragon. The wind helped the fire, and under the influence of the Rifting Wind, the flames on Kaido's body splashed everywhere. shot, lighting up the slightly dim space.

Did not use weapons, did not enter human-beast form, Kaido rushed directly to the Rift Seat in front based on the most primitive beast form, as if he wanted to use this more similar form to fight.

However, when they came into contact, the original collision turned into a fight to defend the barrier. Both Rikakuza and Kaido opened their own barriers during the attack.

Rikuza's claws were surrounded by energy of different colors, and the dragon claws and steel claws alternately slashed towards Kaido in front of him. Although he only had two arms, he waved airtight claw shadows.

Under Rikakuza's continuous onslaught, Kaido's defense quickly reached the upper limit. At the moment his barrier was broken, the extremely cold breath also spit out from Rikakuza's mouth.

Ice-type attacks are not friendly to the Flying+Dragon-attribute Rifting Seat, but this does not affect its use of ice-type attacks. Rifting Seat's skills are very comprehensive, except for a few attributes, it is an all-rounder.

【You don't seem to remember the words of the Creator, and as a human being, this should not be the form you are good at. 】

"Heh heh heh heh, of course I remember what he said, but is there any need to talk nonsense about problems that can be solved by fighting? You and I are the same kind!"

【what are you saying? Deceit and flickering are not approved by me. 】

"I saw it before, the way you stop them from fighting is also to fight, use stronger force to decide everything, this is the status and right of the strong.

Force decides everything, and fighting achieves the goal. There is no difference between us on this point.

So, just come and fight! "

Kaido's temptation is over, and the brute force of the beast form can't please Kazuzachi. After a confrontation, Kaido's stature began to shrink, and he re-entered the human-beast form.

The three-stage transformation of the animal system is to deal with different combat environments. Since the animal form failed, it is natural to try another form.

After a period of time, Kaido's state began to decline, but his mental state became better and better, and he found the long-lost fun.

【Human, your battle is just for fighting.

I'm different, and if those two guys listen to me, I don't want to fight them either.

I was in order to settle the dispute and had to take the fight.

Now it seems that you, like them, are troublesome guys.

I'm not satisfied, I don't agree with you, you should leave, you should have felt just now, there is a gap between me and you. 】

"Hey hehehe, the battle will not end because of such words. If you don't want to fight, you have to use force to end it all. Fighting and force are the only way to solve the situation!"

Arceus didn't expect that Kaido actually had another idea. He didn't just want the Riken Karakura to recognize him, but he wanted to bring the logic of the crooked Karakakuza.

The battle of Rikakuza is for a kind of balance and protection. Kaido is obsessed with fighting and believes that force means everything. This is a fork in the two roads, but Kaido tries to make them intersect.

He said that he didn't want to communicate, but in fact he was using a three-pronged approach. While communicating verbally and using force, he could also satisfy his desire to fight.

Da Yi said, if you don't do it, don't try to drive me away. If you do it, you have to agree with the importance of force.

If this is a competitive arena with rules, then Kaido's conspiracy is considered a success, but here, there are no rules.

【Just sophistry, you are much more cunning than you look. 】

"Thanks for the compliment, I just want to fight, come on, let me experience the power! David Lei Ming gossips!"

【As you wish, you'd better stop for a while. 】

Lie Kongzuo felt that he had an extra trouble, except for those two guys who fought every now and then, there was now even someone in the sky who could interfere with him.

【But without those two guys making trouble, it doesn't seem too bad.】

Thinking of the two troublesome spirits Gulardo and Kyoka, Rikakuza seemed to be in a better mood, and then entered the Mega Rikza form, planning to drive Kaido out in front of him.

It saw a good comet just now, if it is smashed, it should be able to create a good dish.

【The finishing touch! 】

Outside, Yamato sat helplessly by the edge of the holy spring, splashing the condensed ice in the water.

Participating in trials full of fighting spirit and failure are not contradictory, because she was too excited to lead to an unbalanced level, she even failed faster.

"Father, why hasn't father come out yet? He won't succeed directly, right?"

Compared to going ashore at the same time as my father, what is more frightening is that I failed the exam, but my father successfully went ashore.

【Yamato, you are too slack, what have you been doing all these years? Looks like you need a little help, Thunder Gossip! 】

She can think of the consequences that will lead to, and she can guess what Kaido will do almost word for word, which is also a unique way to predict the future.

This time the reality brought some warmth to Yamato. Not long after, a green light flashed in the sky, and then Kaido fell out of it directly. Seeing Kaido's injury, Yamato also felt joy in his heart .

Chapter 1140 Rough fate, former general and former agent

"Nice job. Ahem, I mean it's kind of a pity, it looks like Daddy almost made it."

Looking at Kaido who fell on the ground aside, Yamato instinctively spoke her truth.

If it wasn't for Arceus being around, Yamato would be jumping for joy, but she soon discovered a problem, Kaido was injured on the physical level.

No matter how seriously she was injured in the Hezhong Dragon World, it would only lead to mental fatigue in the end, and she would recover after a little more sleep, but she had never been physically injured.

"Father, is it different in father's place?"

"Well, what you are sharpening is the spirit. Your father fights more realistically, and the damage he receives will be fed back to the body. It's just a near-death protection."

Yamato's state is virtual reality. Although 100% pain simulation is turned on, it is unreal after all. Kaido is an unfortunate player trapped in virtual reality. If there is a problem in virtual reality, he will also encounter problems.

"That's right, foster father, I suddenly remembered that I still have something to do, see you later."

Yamato suddenly thought of something more terrifying. There is no difference between Kaido's failure and success. If he bumps into her, it will always be unlucky. In order to avoid future risks, she chose to slip away again.

Theoretically, Kaido, who has just been beaten, should not be eyeing him, and he still has time to escape.

Yamato moved very quickly, jumped directly towards the edge of the holy mountain, and started to fall freely with the power provided by the run-up, and formed a wing membrane with lightning and ice, and started wingsuit flight.

Not long after she left, Kaido who fell down also climbed up again.

"You are not very interested in Rift Block, it seems that you picked a very wrong time and node."noVePUSb.com

"Well, it's enough to be able to fight, but now there are fewer and fewer people who can fight."

"Hey, don't bother me until you beat that kid."

"You call that a child."

A creature that can fly at high speed in the starry sky and eat meteorites as snacks is just a child in the mouth of Arceus. You can refer to the reason for the appearance of the Rift Seat and Arceus itself. There is no problem with this sentence.

Kaido also discovered another purpose of Arceus. With the Rift Seat, he seems to have no reason to find Arceus to temper himself.

"That's fine, I've also learned a little skill from fighting it, so let's digest it first. If it's too frequent, it's not good to get annoyed by it."

Kaido is not afraid of Rikuza's ruthless attack, he is afraid that Rikuza's temper will be overwhelmed and he will directly pick up the pick. With the speed of Rikuza, if it doesn't want to fight and chooses to avoid the battle, then Kaido has nothing to do.

He needs to find a suitable frequency, which will not let Rikuza choose to avoid the battle, and can successfully complete his own battle.

Kaido, who had just finished the battle, started a new round of thinking. This was a mind-consuming thing, and the previous battle made him very excited. Whenever this happened, Kaido would want to drink.

Usually he can drink to a certain degree, but at this time, Kaido can't control himself, and he entered a state of drunkenness after a while, which caused Kaido to enter a random state.

No one knows where Kaido in this state will appear and what will happen.

Boom!

A big hole was smashed out on the ground, Kaido rubbed his head and crawled out of it.

"Hiccup accidentally drank too much, and fell off after flying. Hehehe, I am really a fool. Hee hee hiccup..."

It can be seen that Kaido is not yet fully awake, with strange movements coming from his mouth from time to time, and the movements of his hands are also extremely strange.

Behind him, a figure was tiptoeing about to slip away. It was not a good result to be noticed by the drunken Kaido, but Kaido was only drunk, not drunk. Compared with the sober state, he was more vigilant when drunk. or even higher.

"Quinn hiccup. Where do you want to go?"

Reached out and grabbed a braid, Kaido pulled him over.

"Brother Kaidou, I... I'll go get you some more wine, you probably haven't finished your drink yet, right?"

At this moment, Quinn felt a little regretful about having such long hair. After thinking about it, it seemed that there was no difference. Kaido had already fallen in front of him, and it made no difference whether it was long hair or bald.

This is Wano Country's laboratory, Kaido can fall in front of him with precision, he doesn't believe it's an accident.

"Oh? Is there any good wine in your lab? But I've had enough of Hiccup Quinn this time, let's practice."

"This...Brother Kaito, I personally think Ms. Yamato is a more suitable person, so I'll go find her right away!"

"No need, that girl is taking a hot spring in the female soup."

After Yamato jumped the mountain, he ran to the hot spring bath. Relaxation is one aspect, and it is also a good place to avoid danger.

This trick can't be used all the time, but it can still have a miraculous effect occasionally, at least successfully forcing Kaido's actions back, so that he can only choose the second target.

Soon, a strange sound came from outside the laboratory. At this time, a card in Hawkins' hand fell to the ground.

"Sure enough, some things cannot be avoided."

Picking up his own tarot card, Hawkins gently wiped off the dust on it. Looking at the pattern on the card, Hawkins looked in the direction where Quinn was, and there seemed to be some sympathy in the eyes of the dead fish.

It is rare to see a person with such a rough fate.

"Ala God, is this very common? The people around don't respond."

Kuzan was dressed like a young man on vacation, with sunglasses on his forehead, a straw hat on his head, and a parasol on his shoulders. The camel behind him was holding two large folding chairs and carrying a huge one on his back. picnic backpack.

The commotion caused by Kaido and Quinn is not small. Even if they are far away, they can still see the smoke and dust there, but the residents next to him still maintain their daily lives as if they didn't see it.

The only impact was that a little girl didn't hold the green bird balloon in her hand, but before her tears fell, Kuzan took the balloon down by virtue of his height and helped tie a slipknot on her wrist.

"Maybe it will appear once every few months, but... It's really a surprise to see you here, Admiral, Aokiji."

There was an answering voice from behind Kuzan, but there was not much respect.

"It's all a thing of the past. Now most of them are former generals, but aren't you too? Members of the world government CP9 have also defected here. This place is really a hodgepodge."

It was Foz Fau who answered Kuzan's question. CP9 has always treated the navy like this. For them, the navy is just a subordinate force of the world government. Even if the admiral means the highest combat power of the navy, they have no right to directly order them.

Strength will make them restrain their arrogant attitude, but they will not have much respect. If they have orders from the world government, their attitude will be even more arrogant.

It's just different now, whether it's CP9 or Admiral, it's a thing of the past.

The place they are in is Wano Country, the hinterland controlled by beasts, and their past identities have become history, and Foz Fu has even become Kuzan's predecessor.

It's just that Foz Foz has been performing missions outside, and this is the first time he has seen Kuzan in person.
