

Arceus 1141

Chapter 1141 is not like the Pirate Kingdom in the Pirate Land

Seeing that Kuzan also appeared here, Fuzi Fu himself was very entangled.

The reason why he joined the pirates is very simple. In order to save his life, the world government can't tolerate him, so he joins the hostile forces.

If it weren't for such a mess, he might have been promoted to CP0.

The world government is the official force. For most people, it is much better to work for the world government and the world government than to be a pirate.

Now even the Admiral of the Navy has made the same choice as himself, and he can prove from the side that his decision-making is okay.

But this is not good news for him. Originally, he was very special. Only he knew about the systematic training method from the world government. But the appearance of Kuzan made this limitation disappear.

Foz Foz doesn't know if the current Kuzan is a special talent like an undercover agent, or if he has undergone special training, but the six-style Kuzan will do the same.

Of course, with the passage of time, the number of people who have learned the six styles has gradually increased, and the systematic teaching methods have also been left behind, and the importance of Fuzi Fu itself has slightly declined.

But having an extra person who masters the six styles is not a good thing for him.

As for Drake. His presence in Beasts is very low now, Foz Fowler has very little impression of him, and what the major general masters is fundamentally different from the general general.

There are different types of people who are good at. Major generals may not have studied the six styles. Human energy is limited, and they can practice everything. If they are too average, they will lead to nothing.

As for the hexagonal fighters. Those are geniuses and monsters. The three generals are monsters of this type. It loses its meaning.

When Akainu first joined the navy, he was still accustomed to using a knife, but as he became a general under the code name Akainu, his previous weapons were abandoned, and magma was his most powerful weapon.

Even if someone like Kuzan joins Hundred Beasts, it is impossible for him to grab his job, but it only weakens the uniqueness of Foz Ferrer a lot.

Foz Fau, who was born in the secret service department of the world government, is used to intrigue, and instinctively began to think about this kind of thing. It's not that there are no conflicts among beasts, but here usually he just punches, and if anyone is upset, just say it, go out and fight and it's over.

The biggest conspiracy is probably the mutual calculation between Yamato and Quinn. The water ghosts are planning to drag each other into the water. Judging from the recent results, Yamato and Xiao win. She is temporarily hiding in a place where Kaido cannot enter.

Maybe Kaido will do some forced demolition if he is in a hurry, but Kaido will not set foot there until the limit is reached.

"Speaking of Fei Mo, I've heard your name before." novelusb.com

"It's really not easy for the former general to remember my name. Should I be honored?"

Foz Fau stood beside his weapon, using it as a crutch. In order to prevent the scabbard from falling off inexplicably while walking, his handle guard was even wider.

This is a problem with the proportion of the weapon. His short dagger must be paired with a long knife. If this uncoordinated size is not adjusted accordingly, the scabbard will be like a tumbler, constantly swinging up and down.

"Speaking of which, where did General Aokiji hear about it? Can you satisfy my curiosity? A reward order?"

"Ah la la, don't call me by that code name now, as for where, you still don't know."

"Why, you are no longer a general, is there anything else you want to keep secret?"

Foz Fau still values fame very much, and has always disliked the comparison that is always used as Rob Lucci.

He also wanted to know what the reaction was after he defected. If Kuzan only saw the reward order by chance, it would be boring.

"That's not true. I think there were two times. One was when you escaped from prison, and the other was when Rob Lucci was declared dead. It was just a few years ago, not too long ago."

Under Foz Ferrer's insistence, Kuzan gave the answer. It is extremely rare for CP9 to defect.

Therefore, at that time, the Navy also received an order from the World Government to kill the traitor Foz Fau. If Foz Fau had not found a strong enough backer, the price he paid to eliminate him was too high. The World Government felt that it was not worth it. Then Foz · Foo has long been silenced.

Because of its rarity, Kuzan retained some impressions of this, and Foz Fau, who heard this answer, also fell into a state of autism. In the end, he was still a comparison object.

"It's okay. At least that guy is dead."

Foz Fraser chanted, as if trying to hypnotize himself.

"I just said you don't want to hear it, you insisted on me."

Kuzan spread out his hands, and then found a flat place to put down the parasol, and the camel behind him also spread out the folding chairs, and one person and one penguin just started an outing posture.

"Do you want to be together? I just have something I want to talk to you about."

As he spoke, Kuzan made a deck chair out of ice, and extended an invitation to Foz Fozi.

Foz Fu did not refuse Kuzan's invitation, because there was a big gap in strength. Even if Kuzan had just joined here not long ago, he had no position, but Foz Fow knew very well that if Kuzan joined here sincerely, he would soon be able to overtake yourself.

This is also the rule of the beasts. In terms of strength, as long as the members who can join them meet the standard of strength, many things will come naturally.

There is no ranking by seniority, no favors to give gifts, at most you have to play two tricks with Kaido, and the specific status is determined according to how many sticks you can catch or the speed of recovery after hitting the stick.

It is also a difficult thing not to be killed by Kaido in an instant.

Foz Ferrer didn't sit on that ice chair. Kuzan's ability can guarantee that the ice won't melt, but sitting on it is uncomfortable, and Foz Ferrer is not an ice-type ability user.

So he sat directly on the ground beside him, wanting to hear what the former general had to say, and took this opportunity to see a weird acrobatic performance.

With a wave of the camel's wings, the ice chair made by Kuzan was split in two, the part in contact with the ground was directly discarded, and the upper part turned into shaved ice under the high-speed waving wings.

After coming to Ghost Island, the skill points of the camel seem to be in the kitchen.

Now he has proficiently mastered the cutting of sashimi and the making of shaved ice, but due to the limitation of his body structure, he is only interested in some cold cuts that require knife skills or are very simple.

Looking at the shaved ice and the different seasoning sauces in front of him, Foz Fu couldn't understand Kuzan more and more.

"CIPHERPOL and the navy are two departments, but. Is the life of your navy so leisurely? The chief of my club is a waste of nothing. I don't think his leisure is comparable to yours."

Kuzan's movements are too proficient, and the speed of Emperor Nabo making shaved ice can be ignored, but Kuzan looks like a big salary thief.

"Not all, at least now it is much easier than before. Admiral is not a leisurely job. If I have to say it, it is easier for lieutenant general."

Kuzan and Kizaru are much more relaxed than Akainu, but they still have regular tasks. Apart from catching pirates, Kuzan's most annoying thing is stationing Marie Gioia.

There are very few big things happening there, but the Tianlong people make him sick to see.

Compared with generals who have to undertake some tasks, vice admirals have a higher degree of freedom, especially Karp, a supermodel with a strong halo effect.

Kuzan has always felt that his life at this time is the life of Karp back then, and at this time he can be considered to have experienced this kind of leisurely feeling.

The security level of Wano Country is no different from that of Marin Fando, and normal people simply cannot enter such a place.

The powerful force provides shelter, the residents of the island live in peace of mind, the peaceful streets make people feel relaxed, and there will be no disgusting world nobles.

"I don't understand the life of your navy, so Mr. Kuzan, you called me over, didn't you just invite me to eat shaved ice?"

The ice made by Devil Fruit tastes no different from ordinary ice cubes, it's all formed by freezing water. The air quality in Wano Country is not bad, as long as you don't look for the poisonous gas before the double bomb gas filter, then it is clean of.

Pure ice cubes and berry juice are also one of the characteristics of Wano country. If the conditions are better, you can add milk from a large milk tank and honey from Sanbee, and decorate it with the cream of the Frost Milk Fairy. It is also a high-end food in Wano.

If it is obtained from the outside world, it will be an even rarer special offering, and Tezolo has done a good job of the hunger marketing.

"Nothing special, I just want to ask you what you think of this country."

"Evaluation? I have performed many missions before, and I have been to countless countries. Whether it is an official identity or a private disguised identity, I have never seen this kind of environment.

I've been to Marie Gioia, and even there, it's nothing compared to here.

If I have to say it, everything here is good, but unlike a country ruled by pirates, there are many different things outside the world."

Not only the Wano country, but also the former four emperors' base camp or hometown. Life is not bad. Wano country can be said to be the pinnacle of people's livelihood. On the white-bearded Sphinx Island, ordinary people's lives are also very ordinary.

There is no such thing as great wealth, but they can be safe and sound, not to mention the red-haired Albaf who often stays. The world's most powerful country is no joke, and the price charged by Cake Island is slightly higher.

But compared to the chaotic waters of the outer sea, the happiness index of Cake Island is about to soar. As long as Charlotte Lingling doesn't go crazy, then everything is easy to say.

"It's not like a country ruled by pirates is a pertinent evaluation. The king here is Kozuki, and these royal families don't seem to have much sense of existence."

"The royal family here? Indeed. Mr. Kuzan, I seem to have seen your acquaintance."

"Acquaintance?"

"Yeah, his sense of existence is too low, I didn't even think about it just now, he should be considered a celebrity, after all, he is a "fallen rear admiral"."

Foz Fau raised his hand and pointed aside.

Not far away, Drake, who had finally followed Jack's boat back to the island, was looking in the direction of Kuzan. It was not difficult to see from his movements and expressions that he seemed to have been shocked to some extent.

Hearing rumors and seeing with his own eyes are two different things. When Drake saw the former general basking in the sun and eating shaved ice in the pirate's territory leisurely, his inner faith was shocked.

Chapter 1142 Alternative core and weather forecast NovelusB.com

"Hey, Chiqi, why are you so dazed?"

"It's normal for this kid to be in a daze. This is his first time here. Last time he seemed to be thrown into the rabbit bowl, and he persisted for a long time before compromising. His bones are quite hard."

"Really, I persisted for three days. I left Chiqi and finally came back. Go and relax. I know there is a restaurant that serves delicious grilled birds."

"You kid ate more than 700 skewers by yourself last time. The boss is tired, okay? Seeing you, I'm afraid he might just close the door."

"Hahahaha, who made his skewers so small, besides, he was obviously very happy when counting the money, there is no way he would close the door."

Under the leadership of Jack, he has a group of kings under his command, who are either fighting or recovering from injuries, and basically have no free time.

As long as you think about it, there will never be a lack of battles in this sea.

Ordinary pirates were chatting and discussing where to go for a drink. After a while, they found that Drake was still in a daze.

"What are you looking at, kid? Oh, it's Kuzan. No wonder, you used to be in the Navy. This is an old acquaintance."

"Gone, gone, it has nothing to do with you, even if you knew each other well in the navy, your boss didn't change just by saying."

Senior cadres can choose the subordinates they like. If the subordinates belong to others, they can also discuss and transfer them over, but it is different for those who already have a boss.

If they take the initiative to ask for a boss change, it will be a face-slapping behavior for the current boss.

Are you looking down on me?

no?

Not why do you want to change?

Therefore, this kind of thing is simply unrealistic. Even if someone proposes it, other cadres may not accept this person.

The person sent out to be an undercover agent may not be strong, but he must be strong in heart, able to withstand torture and sugar-coated bullets. If the undercover agent defected, he would be in big trouble.

Drake's heart can be said to be very firm, but even he would feel something was wrong after seeing Kuzan.

He already has an undercover agent here, if another one is sent over, he should be notified anyway.

What's more, since Kuzan is going to be an undercover agent, why let him do it?

I have suffered a lot in order to sneak in, and Kuzan's vacation appearance is too different from his own.

Drake quickly adjusted his state. It can be said that he was too shocked at the first time and lost his mind. If he doesn't recover, he can't justify it.

The situation is unknown, he didn't go to communicate with Kuzan, but just left here with other pirates, and a new worry appeared in Drake's heart.

Does Kuzan know that he is a member of SWORD, whether he really joined Beasts, and whether his identity will be exposed because of this, these things have added tremendous pressure to him.

Drake can only gamble, through time to witness these.

When Drake was dragged away by a group of pirates to relax, Kuzan did not choose to follow. Looking at the silent Kuzan, Foz Foz didn't know what he was thinking, but just said something else casually.

"That guy is unlucky enough. Because of the same name, almost no one calls him by name. We already have a Drake, and Big Brother Jhin takes good care of her."

Speaking of this, Foz Foz seemed to think of something, and looked at the date on his watch.

All the major cadres of Hundred Beasts are on the list, and the reward orders are also at the top. Not to mention the second-in-command, most captains of the pirate group are not as good as these senior cadres.

In addition to this, there are a large number of high-level cadres, and the easiest way to know the list of high-level cadres of Beasts is not to collect information, but to get Drake's account book.

Drake's account book and Setsuna's diary, these two things mean Beast's interpersonal network and historical development. When you start to study history, this is an extremely important historical record.

"That's really unfortunate, but all countries in this country can live in this way. This is the goal that the Navy should work hard for."

"Coincidentally, this is also the proposition of the Arceus religion. Only when the glory of the Lord spreads all over the world can a common gospel be brought. This is a recent doctrine."

"Doctrine? This place is becoming more and more special, but it is a good choice to protect this tranquility."

Foz Fu didn't know what Kuzan was thinking, and Kuzan didn't mention Drake too much, saying that he joined, but Kuzan still prefers free men, more like looking for someone to rely on after leaving the navy .

He knew about the army of Sword, and he also knew about the principles of Sword, but he didn't intend to reveal it directly. There were some things that he wanted to observe again.

Soon Kuzan returned to the state of vacation, and the radio sounded in Wano.

"Attention, attention, there is rain in the whole country today! There are 36 minutes and 28 seconds before the rain, and the estimated duration is three hours. Please pay attention to shelter from the rain! Special reminder, Pokémon know that they are hiding from the rain, so there is no need to worry about them .

Please stay away from the flock of Mali sheep on rainy days. If you encounter a wet wind goblin, you can directly contact the district sheriff, and don't do unnecessary behavior. "

Kuzan looked up at the sun, even with sunglasses covering it, the sunlight was a little dazzling. He didn't know why the weather forecast here could accurately report the seconds.

The world government does not have weather forecasts, they have this technology, but in most cases, only the navy pays attention to the weather on the sea surface before going to sea.

In addition, most of the islands do not have this service, and the weather forecast only exists in Mary Gioia and some future countries.

Kuzan can be sure that no country can have such an accurate weather.

"Is this too accurate?"

"Just get used to it. Wano Country is controlled not only by the land, but also by the weather. Over time, Mr. Kuzan, you will see more interesting things."

The weather in the New World is inherently unpredictable, and it is almost impossible for human beings to predict the weather forecast to this point. However, unlike the country, the weather here is not formed naturally, but formed under the intervention of Pokémon. suitable climate.

In most cases, Pokémon will not interfere with the natural climate, but Wano has been relatively dry recently, and the dry land requires some artificial rainfall. The broadcast notification is the time when the Pokémon pray for rain, which is naturally accurate to the second up.

"Mr. Kuzan, you have to hurry up on what you have to do. Since the broadcast said that there are more than 30 minutes left, it won't be a minute.

It will be dark after the rain, and I have to wait until tomorrow if I want to do anything. "

"Well, I'm going to go for a walk on the street, you can do whatever you want, camel, you too, let's play here by yourself."

Chapter 1143 Special life rules

The camel waved his hand impatiently. It hates nonsense and even uses a posture that is more handsome in the eyes of penguins.

Foz Foz headed towards the monastery, and a group of new students needed to attend classes. He was not someone like Kuzan who could fish at will.

In order to enjoy life, he has to complete his tasks well. It will rain in half an hour, but it will not stop his training.

Rainy days are also an opportunity to temper your will. If you can't hold on to even a little drizzle, you don't have the qualifications to continue training.

"Wait a moment."

Foz Foz just wanted to leave, but Kuzan stopped him.

"What's the matter, Mr. Kuzan?"

"That... do you have any money? Lend me some currency here, and I will pay you back later."

Kuzan scratched his head, and his words were a little awkward. It wasn't his first day here, but there was a free cafeteria when he was kidnapped by Yamato, and he didn't intend to buy anything, and he didn't need currency at all.

Shortly after that, he went to Eggherd to perform a mission. This time he wanted to take a good look around, but Baileys in Wano Inland were not in circulation and could only be consumed with gold and silver. Those Baileys on Kuzan are here. A pile of waste paper.

"Well, that's all I have on me, but there are gold exchanges in every area, and Bailey can exchange money there."

Foz Fau took out a handful of coins and handed them to Kuzan, and explained where he could exchange them.

For the normal operation of the domestic economy, even the people of beasts have to pay at discounted prices when buying things. This is also the rule set by Arceus.

With this article, many potential contradictions will disappear.

"Derek, I have good news for you."

Flower Capital, Jhin has finished his mission and returned to Wano Country. As Yamato said before, with the efforts of the navy, the number of pirates who dare to challenge the New World Sea Emperor has dropped sharply.

There are no major conflicts among the current sea emperors, and they get along relatively harmoniously, so the cadres have gradually become idle.

After finishing his own affairs, Jhin naturally returned to his residence and gave his deputy some new information along the way.

"What good news?"

"You have an extra target who can borrow money, and this person doesn't have to pay back the money."

"Huh? Is there such a person?"

"Drake, if you borrow money from him, you don't have to think about repaying it. Anyway, Brother Kaidou also wants to use him. I won't tell you if there are too many. In short, you just understand what I mean."

Drake's identity is the information circulated among the top cadres, with the exception of Yamato, she doesn't know about it.

Neither Kaido nor Arceus believed in her carefree character, so it is better to hide this kind of unnecessary notification.

Letting Drake follow Jack also has this consideration. It is reasonable for a reckless lady to do anything. The more Drake thinks, the easier it is to think wrong, so let him follow someone who can't figure it out. That's it.

Listening to Jhin's words, Drake was not excited, but questioned Jhin.

"Brother Jin, are you drinking too much? Why should I borrow money from myself, and why do you use 'he'? Do you have gender cognitive impairment like Aju?"

"The pronunciation of Drake is that Chiqi. I think you are getting bolder and dare to talk to me like that?"

Having the same name always leads to such an awkward situation, especially when you meet someone with a big heart.

"Don't care about such details, but it's fine if you don't pay back the debt. I don't like it. I have to pay back the borrowed money. This is my life principle."nOveluS1b.com

"Does your code of life also include borrowing money endlessly, never ending?"

"It's not the same, it's not the same, how can the repaid money be called a loan."

"In short, the opportunity is given to you, it is up to you whether you can grasp it."

Facing Drake's weird life principles, Jhin didn't say anything, he couldn't force Drake not to pay back the money.

If she really has this idea, most people will have nothing to do with her. In the world of pirates, greed is the norm, and there are countless pirates who kill each other for treasure.

Whether it's persecution or bribery, Drake has a way to make a lot of money, but she still chooses to use this method. It is precisely because of this habit and her bold personality that she has a very wide network of contacts.

Drake didn't know that he was being targeted again inexplicably, just like Quinn didn't know what happened to Kaido.

As the clock chimed, the rain fell on time, and the pattering raindrops fell on Quinn's head, while Kaido was exercising on the side, looking sober.

"No way, could it be that my pain-sensing nerve was damaged?"

After moving his limbs, Quinn didn't feel the slightest pain, but the potholes around the ground were enough to show that Kaido didn't hold back his hands during the battle, which made Quinn start to doubt himself.

Pain is not friendly to the human body, but it is a protective mechanism of the human body. It reminds people to stay away from danger through pain. Only when they are alive can they know what pain is. If they don't even know pain, life is usually over.

"Don't think about it, I'm just trying something new. It's easy to hurt people, but it's difficult to hit people without hurting with all your strength."

Split Kongza defeated Gulardo and Kioka with one blow, allowing them to return to their own territory honestly. The finishing touch is powerful, but neither Gulardo nor Kyoka was affected much.

On the one hand, they have rough skin and thick flesh, and on the other hand, it is Rikakuza's grasp of power. Inspired by this incident, Kaido intends to further increase his control of power.

In the past, he could only guarantee that he would not be killed, but now he is trying to break through to the point where it does not hurt.

From head to toe, Quinn was sure that there was nothing wrong with him. Hearing Kaido's explanation, Quinn felt delighted.

"As expected of Brother Kaidou, your strength has broken through again. I will come to help you when you need it next time."

If the future training is like this, he will not be afraid of playing eight times a day, anyway, it doesn't hurt, it's just a little dirty.

"No need for next time."

"This is a breakthrough, but it's not good at all, and I'm sober, let's start the second round. This time it's the way you are familiar with. Get ready."

If possible, Quinn would like to take back what he just said, but the opportunity is always fleeting. Under the rain, on the muddy land, the familiar voice sounded again.

"croak."

It's not just Kaido and Quinn who are also drenched in the rain. Kuzan is also walking on the street in the rain. He was wearing a large parasol with a handle thicker than a gun shaft. rain.

In front of him, several dark blue frogs were splitting bricks with their bare hands.

Debt Update: 2000

Chapter 1144 The Girl and the Bad Frog

Dark blue skin, orange poison sacs on both sides of the cheeks, although it looks like a frog, but a row of neat white teeth can be seen in the slightly opened mouth.

The body is covered with bandage-like lines, and the overall posture is slightly funny.

Bad Frog, Poison Poison + Fighting Pokémon.

Their special calls and comedian-like appearance make them very popular, especially among fourteen and fifteen-year-olds in Wano.

Have no interest in learning, just go to class and get dizzy, get together every now and then to imagine that when they grow up, they will be able to do some great things when they grow up, bad boys are what this group of people call.

Under normal circumstances, bad people are a headache group, but in the general environment of this world, coupled with the current Wano country's management method, bad people have become an alternative diversion.

In the past Wano country, after the end of the second period, most of the bad guys will return to the lives of ordinary people, selling their physical strength to maintain the needs of life, and some who are unwilling to be lonely may become street gangsters, and they may die at any time. In the street fight.

Being famous and being recruited by some local gangsters is already considered to be in his early years.

As for now, the unstable factors of the gang have been completely eliminated, and only one voice is enough in Wano.

Heigoro has retired and started to maintain law and order. It is not so much to eliminate, but to kill those who are disobedient, and recruit those who are willing to change.

The source has changed, and the future will naturally be different. Beasts control external information. If you want to go to sea, joining Beasts is the only way, and the bad group will have a new direction.noVeb.usb.cOm

If you want to fight and show off your power, you can, but you can only fight with people of the same strength, or challenge someone who is stronger. This kind of behavior is not prohibited.

Bullying the weak is strictly prohibited. If you want to bully others, you must be prepared to be bullied yourself. Not to mention those elites in their prime, even those retired disabled, beating these little devils is just like playing.

Simply preaching to those bad guys may not be able to listen to them, but their fists and strength can make this group of people follow. The battle on the sea has never disappeared. In this era, these bad guys have become reserve soldiers.

There are rules everywhere, unless you become the one who makes the rules, it is just a change of a set of binding rules.

The pattern of bad frogs is still very popular among bad boys, and this bandage style is very popular among them. Similarly, they occasionally imitate some behaviors of bad frogs.

"Quack!"

He raised his arm and slashed at the bricks in front of him. Without any strength or skill, the pile of bricks laid on the muddy ground shattered.

Splitting bricks is also skillful, and cheating methods such as fake bricks are not counted.

Put the bricks in a relatively hard place, let one end of the bricks touch the stiff ground, and the other end is suspended in the air. The longer the size of the suspension, the easier it is for the bricks to split.

Mastering the skills well, it is not difficult for a trained person to split ordinary bricks, but it is easy to pay the price, such as broken hand bones and the like.

If Kuzan is allowed to come, he can easily grind those bricks into powder, and the unscrupulous youths in the country of Kawano are not necessarily. After all, there are only a few who can exercise superhuman physique. There are many patients.

Moreover, it is raining in Wano country at this time, and the area where the bad frogs are located is a muddy depression. The bricks are placed flat on the ground, and the force of the bricks will be absorbed by the ground, but they can still be easily broken into piles. brick.

Not long after, the bad frogs stopped, not because they were tired, but because the bricks were gone.

The houses in Wano Country are mostly wooden structures. With the development, reinforced concrete began to enter, but the proportion of bricks is still not much. The environment of many islands results in very little soil suitable for firing bricks.

If you blindly search for suitable materials from the local area, there will be problems in the area of Wano Country. Therefore, these bricks and stones are sent from the outer islands. The purpose is not only to build houses, but also includes rock-type Pokémon. snack.

For them that feed on rocks and soil, bricks are just baked biscuits, which are still hard.

These bricks will be crushed by bad frogs first, and then sent to the Rabbit Bowl Mine to make as many uses as possible.

Splitting bricks is also a special hobby of this group of bad frogs, the purpose is to arouse the curiosity of local residents.

Although they have fighting attributes, Pokémon like Bad Frog and Onion Ranger are different from duel-loving Pokémon, and their personalities are more "despicable".

It seldom fights in an upright manner. Sneak attack and poisoning are the fighting methods of bad frogs. The middle of their three fingers is longer, and it has the same color as the poison sac on the cheek.

This is their poisonous needle. During the battle, they will secretly inject toxins into the enemy, and they will also inflate the poison sac and make strange noises around them to intimidate the opponent.

All of these are their means of survival, including being cute.

Pokémon have different temperaments. Some don't like to live with humans, while others like to survive with the help of humans. The bad frog is such a type.

Call twice casually, split a brick, there are human beings who are willing to "enshrine" them, and offer food and shelter, so why fight on your own? In this regard, they have the same thinking as phone bugs.

The difference is that bad frogs are very powerful. If you underestimate them, you will feel the threat of cute things.

For example, pandas, they are not weak cats, but bears. They can gnaw bamboo with a cute face, and can also slap people soberly. Show what a flexible fat man is. of.

"Do you want to continue?"

It seems that the bad frog has not had enough fun, and Kuzan waved a pile of ice bricks on the ground. The Eskimos will probably welcome Kuzan. With this ability, there is no need to make fresh ice bricks to build an igloo.

But the bad frogs were different. Four or five bad frogs lined up in a squatting position, with the poisonous sacs on both sides of their cheeks constantly agitating, looking at Kuzan with a look of caring for a fool.

"Quack? (Why is someone giving ice cubes

"Quack. (I don't know, maybe he likes to eat ice cubes

Kuzan's bond is not enough, he can't understand what the bad frog is saying, otherwise he will know that he has misunderstood something.

Brick splitting is a personal hobby of bad frogs, but there is a reason for this hobby.

At first, it was just exercise. Later, they discovered that this behavior would attract the admiration of those unscrupulous teenagers and offer "tributes". After that, brick splitting was not just exercise, but a street art.

In terms of strength, not to mention strange strength, even the wrist strength is stronger than the bad frogs, but the bad frogs successfully won the victory by virtue of their unique appearance.

Besides, those strange power families are either sweating in the gym or working * the construction site. Only Bad Frog chose this way, which can be regarded as a confirmation of the name "Bad".

If the camel was here, then Kuzan would not have such a misunderstanding. It's just that the camel is having fun in the rain at this time. It was born in the northern seas and has never seen rain. It has only experienced blizzards. For this penguin, the rain is a whole new experience.

It also deliberately looked around to make sure that no one could see what it was doing before it began to relax.

Kuzan's silence here was quickly broken by others. The rain on his head suddenly disappeared, and a flower umbrella had been raised above his head.

"Uncle, don't use an umbrella when it rains, be careful of getting old and getting rheumatism."

A little girl who looked eleven or twelve years old held up the flower umbrella in her hand and extended it to the top of Kuzan's head. The height of more than three meters is still too high, even if Kuzan is half squatting on the ground now, for the little girl. Also a challenge.

"Don't worry, my health is very good, this kind of light rain can't affect me."

"Grandma was like this when she was young, and now she regrets it."

Weather forecasts may be deceiving, but old injuries will not. For those who were injured when they were young, it will be a challenge every time they encounter cloudy and rainy days after they are old and frail.

But the body will also faithfully respond to changes in the weather, and many elders will use themselves as a lesson to warn the next generation.

"Ah la la, thank you for your concern, I will pay attention next time."

But you, why come out alone in this weather, and still go here? It's not good to be near the river on a rainy day."

"Grandma's waist is uncomfortable. I'm here to find medicine for her. You must be new here. Bad frogs don't eat ice cubes. It's useless to bring such things. Take an umbrella for me."

As he spoke, he took out a food box, which contained several dried fish rice * and an empty bottle, and handed it to the bad frog.

Bad frogs are also familiar with this trade, taking the food and secreting a drop of venom into the bottle, which they then fill up with water.

When the amount is large enough, the secreted venom is a toxin that can paralyze the body, but when the dosage is appropriate, it is a good medicine.

The venom secreted by its fingertips can be made into medicine after dilution, which is an excellent drug material for relieving low back pain.

Bad frogs will dilute it with special water, which will cause the dilution process to be irreversible. Even if someone wants to purify, they can't get the toxin back. They can only get a cup of waste water, so that no one wants to use this venom to cause trouble. .

The water they spit out is still the most suitable thing for making medicines, and part of the reason for their appearance is this. Special medicines also appeared on the sales platform of Baishouguo, and they were well received.

Whether it is a decoction or a plaster, it can have a miraculous effect, and it has become an effective folk prescription for treating old problems such as low back pain in Wano.

The Holy Mountain is indeed a better way, but unless it is an irreversible injury by conventional means, no one will climb the Holy Mountain if you have a headache or a minor ailment. Climbing there is not a small task.

After getting the medicine, the girl put the medicine bottle under her body, turned around and ran in the direction she came.

"Hey, your umbrella!"

"Give it to you, my house is very close to here, don't keep getting wet in the rain."

Before she could take two steps, Kuzan came directly in front of her and put the umbrella back in her hand, and he also had an umbrella made of ice in his own hand.

"I appreciate the kindness, but I have an umbrella."

"Sorcerers are all weirdos, you can make an umbrella and still get caught in the rain!"

"Aren't you too, how can ordinary girls give umbrellas to strangers as soon as they meet,"

"This is what grandma said, life is hard-won now, so take care of you newcomers."

She regards Kuzan as a newcomer to Beasts, and she doesn't know what an admiral is here.

Her judgment is correct, but Kuzan himself is very special.

There are basically no outsiders in Wanzhi, and only one or two ships have come here by accident in the past few years, and the beasts have almost disappeared after occupying this place.

People who dress very special are basically just beasts. They see the changes in their lives, they can't do big things, and they will do small things within their ability.

This is not comprehensive. After all, no matter what group it is, there will always be elites and scum in it.

There are also smart and capable elites among the Tianlong people, and there are also moths who show off their might in the revolutionary army and navy, but it is undeniable that the education of the previous generation has a crucial impact on the next generation.

"Okay, go home quickly, you don't need to worry about adults' affairs."

"Don't look down on people, I'm already preparing to work in the Pokémon Center in the future, maybe when you get injured in the future, I'll be the one treating you."

"I still don't want to get hurt if I can."

Kuzan's injured leg was also covered with leather boots. If he didn't take the initiative to remove it, outsiders would not be able to see that he had lost a leg.

Watching the leaving girl turn her head and enter an alley, Kuzan also intends to leave here, the rain is gradually increasing, and there are not many people on the road.

But just now when he turned his head, he noticed something unusual.

Chapter 1145 Initial Heart

The sound of pattering rain did not stop, and the cry of bad frogs also came from the depression intermittently.

Rainwater gathers on the leaves to form water droplets, presses down the branches and leaves under the influence of gravity, and finally gathers on the ground to form a trickle and flow to the lower place.

The flow of people on the street became thinner, everything seemed so natural, and the Wano country was still in sight, but such a country would still breed scum.

"The footsteps sound wrong."

Even the bottom admirals can be described as monsters. Their own strength has already exceeded the limits of human beings. This limit is not only reflected in strength and speed, but also in the five senses.

Kuzan's eyesight and hearing are more sensitive than normal people. Anyone who practices the color of knowledge and knowledge will become more sensitive to the five senses. After all, the color of knowledge and knowledge itself is an extension of the eyes and ears.

Even if he is blind, as long as he is proficient in knowledge, he can move freely like ordinary people. It is nothing more than that he cannot see people's faces clearly. To him, everything in the world is just a black man.

The alley is separated from here by a wall, and the specific situation there cannot be seen with the naked eye, but this is only for ordinary people.

For Kuzan, even if he stays still, he can perceive what is going on there.

Kuzan cannot combine knowledge color and fruit ability like Enilo, so that the perception range of knowledge color can be expanded to the entire island.

This kind of combination of talent and fruit is difficult to reproduce, but it is still no problem to perceive the alley tens of meters away.

The little girl's footsteps changed from steady to flustered, and finally disappeared, replaced by a heavier footstep.

A gust of north wind blew, and a few tiny ice thorns fell into the stagnant water, and quickly melted under the washing of the rain.

Kuzan's figure had already disappeared when he noticed the abnormality, and the broken ice flower on the ground was the only object that could prove the existence of Kuzan.

In the alley at this time, the familiar flower umbrella fell aside, and the girl was also pressed on the muddy ground.

At this time, a man reeking of alcohol was pressing on her, with his big hand on her mouth, preventing her from calling for help.

Judging from the surrounding traces, she tried to escape when she was in danger, but failed.

Competing physical strength with an adult is still too reluctant, and he is finally blocked in this alley. novel.us1b.com

The man didn't plan for a long time, but just got drunk and found the girl who took a shortcut to go home when no one was around.

The road was slippery on a rainy day, and he accidentally fell to the ground. The girl tried to help him up out of good intentions, but he had a wrong mind in the end.

Hezhi has many monitoring facilities in the country, but most of these facilities are external. Besides, they are to ensure the safety of Quinn's experimental site. This is a warning to ordinary citizens, but it cannot prevent illegal behavior.

If only monitoring can solve this kind of thing, then there will be no tragedy in the world.

But just as he was about to continue doing something with a wretched smile on his face, he lost control of his body.

"I advise you not to move, if it breaks, you will be finished."

Kuzan had already appeared behind him, with his palms on his shoulders, and most of the man's body was frozen into an ice sculpture by Kuzan.

Fear surfaced in his heart, and he instantly woke up. He knew what he was doing was wrong, but his mind was still occupied by desire.

"I"

The ice layer spread, Kuzan didn't listen to his nonsense, but just activated his ability further, freezing him completely. If he was directly frozen just now, it might affect the girl below.

"It's all right."

"It's okay, what grandma said is right, good intentions will be rewarded."

The girl's tone was a little trembling, and there was some rejoicing in it.

She thought Kuzan was strange, so she wanted to give him the umbrella. The one-sided encounter triggered these follow-up events. The process was very thrilling, but judging from the results, she received more assistance from Kuzan through unintentional actions.

"Go out in the future. Be careful, it's better to be more wary of strangers, and it's best not to take this kind of path."

Seeing that the girl's mental state didn't seem too bad, Kuzan was a little relieved, but he still gave a few instructions.

In all fairness, he doesn't want to say such things, girls have a beautiful side of humanity, and the idea of selflessly aiding and helping others can make society a better place.

But he has to say that people's hearts are unpredictable, even in this Wano country, there are still scum like this man.

Here has a stable living environment, countless directions of effort and opportunities, but this person still chooses this most scumbag behavior.

There are very few such people in Wano Country, but such people can ruin a good pot of soup. No one dares to bet whether their good deeds will cause similar troubles. Once this kind of thing happens to their own family Body, that is a nightmare.

In order to protect oneself, putting away that kindness is the only way.

The conscience of the society is wiped out bit by bit in front of such people.

"I'll take you home. I'm very powerful. I'm not afraid of hundreds of such guys."

The girl seemed fine, but Kuzan had noticed that her legs were trembling slightly, and now she was pretending to be calm.

He didn't know what the girl was going through, but he didn't mind helping her.

A pony made of ice appeared out of nowhere in Kuzan's hands, and the vivid pony distracted the girl's fear.

The girl was right. Her home was not far from here. Kuzan quickly sent her back and met the old woman waiting for her at the door.

"Where are the parents of this child?"

"At work, they want to buy a new house in the Flower City, so they have been working overtime, and the children are also handed over to the old woman to take care of me."

Thank you this time, Lord Ming's subordinates. "

"King Ming."

Kuzan didn't bother with this title, he has settled in Wano country, and it is reasonable to be mistaken for Kaido's subordinates.

After sending the girl back, Kuzan explained what happened before, and then her grandma tried to persuade Kuzan to come in and sit for a while, and this picture came into being.

At this time, the girl is changing clothes in the house, and the old woman is entertaining Kuzan, and talking to him about some ordinary household chores, as well as the past changes in Wano Country.

From such an ordinary population, Kuzan has a better understanding of the rapid changes in Wano Kingdom in the past 20 years

"Let them take care of the children more, this kind of thing is still too dangerous."

"Actually, it's very rare. I haven't heard of similar things for many years. Life is already so good, why are there still such dissatisfied people?"

"Grandma, this is not a matter of dissatisfaction, it can only be said that this is the human heart."

Kuzan didn't like to comment, so he just got up and left here. There are many people in this world, and there are more people in need of help. It is impossible for him to establish close contact with everyone, and most of them just meet by chance.

It wasn't until Kuzan left that the girl changed into clean clothes and came out again, intending to continue to help her grandma with medicine.

"Hanako, grandma, I may have taught you some wrong things. In the future, when you are outside, you still have to protect yourself before taking care of others. Good rewards are not always there.

Maybe your parents are right, it's better to do business with them than to be a doctor. "

"I know grandma, but I still want to be a doctor. There are always more good people. If you save a good person, there will be one less evil person."

Teens and girls don't have so many complicated activities in their hearts. They just want to move forward according to their own ideals, but whether they can maintain this original intention in the future is an unknown.

After leaving Hanako's house, Kuzan returned to that alley again. Just now he just frozen the man, and didn't crush him in front of Hanako.

But when he came back, he found that there were already several people here, and two big wolfhounds were wandering near the ice sculpture.

Monitoring cannot guarantee to prevent accidents at any time, but it can provide more help in handling events

Chapter 1146 Who did this child inherit from?

The rain stopped on time, and Kuzan also returned to the alley, and then saw a group of people and a wolf dog surrounding the ice sculpture in a slightly embarrassed manner.

Kuzan's ice is quite solid, and it has not melted after being washed by the rain for so long, but the area of the ice has increased.

"Mr. Kuzan, can you please defrost this guy? We're going to take him to be punished."

Ordinary citizens can't recognize Kuzan, but Beasts will never forget this face.

"Punishment? I thought you only had the death penalty."

"Mr. Kuzan, you are joking, we have a complete legal system, and to be honest, sometimes the death penalty is cheaper for some bastards."

"Can I go and see?"

"this."

Kuzan can go to other places, but this guy is going to be sent to the Rabbit Bowl Quarry. No one can suppress Kuzan there, even if there are a lot of sea stone weapons and rock-type treasures with special attributes. Meng, Kuzan is also a problem.

They were very worried that Kuzan would make a big move there, and Wano Country's force was enough to suppress the follow-up incidents, but they also had to bear the corresponding responsibility for this incident.

"It's okay, take him with you, I'll take care of it if something goes wrong."

"Yes! Oniji-sama!"

Yamato has already left the hot spring, and the eyeliner she left outside told her that Kaido is busy exchanging experiences with Quinn and will not be able to find her for a while.

This is the news that the Happy Eggs sent through hunting swallowtails. It is absolutely reliable information for Yamato, so she left after the rain stopped and just passed by here.

With Yamato's guarantee, they naturally had nothing to worry about, and walked towards the direction of the rabbit bowl with the man on their shoulders.

Even though Kuzan had thawed him, his consciousness did not recover immediately. Not everyone has the monster physique that regains consciousness immediately after being frozen.

In the Rabbit Bowl, Kuzan saw the most similar place in the entire Wano Kingdom to the Pirate Kingdom.

The guards were watching the surrounding situation from above, and the people inside were working non-stop under the coercion of the guards.

"Babanuki! You came out to accept people, and sent another scum!"

In the Rabbit Bowl quarry, Babanuki, who was in the form of a leave king, shivered, then returned to his human form and walked towards the gate.

After acquiring the ability for so many years, Babanuki has more mastery of the ability of asking for leave. In addition to the gun-cutting mode that is convenient for combat, he also discovered additional benefits.

If you rest in the transformed state, the quality of sleep will increase linearly.

No matter what the environment is, you can sleep on the ground without stiff neck.

After waking up, you will feel refreshed and tired, which is a must-have medicine for fishing.

"Master Guiji, why are you here in person?"

"Isn't this going to come with this guy to take a look? Leave us alone, as usual."

Yamato pointed to Kuzan behind him. Apart from staring at Kuzan, she also wanted to continue using her ice substitute plan. Kaido had no interest in Kuzan, which made her feel like a failure.

The strategy that he came up with with great difficulty, in the end Kaido didn't fall for it.

Before Quinn can't hold on anymore, Yamato is safe. Bringing Kuzan is just for double insurance, which can prevent Kuzan from causing trouble and prevent Kaido from making a surprise attack.

The process after is also very simple, life imprisonment.

He said that he just lost his mind after drinking, and he didn't mean that in itself, but this sentence failed to reduce the punishment, but increased the penalty. Here, the most unbelievable sentence is drinking and losing his mind.

Kaido is an example. His drunken gaffes are all nonsense. It can only be said that he had this idea when he was sober, and he just used the strength of alcohol to play it recklessly.

Beasts is ultimately a combination of the rule of God and the rule of man. In addition to its own rules and regulations, personal emotions will also affect the judgment.

Yamato doesn't like this kind of person, and using drunkenness as an excuse makes her even more disgusted.

Seeing that his eldest lady is unhappy, Babanuki naturally has to deal with it according to the strictest standards.

And Kuzan also saw a very familiar Pokémon here-the bad frog.

I saw the group of bad frogs walking behind the man in a line, and every bad frog poked him fiercely when passing by, injecting the venom into his body with the poisonous thorns on their fingertips.

Diluted venom is a good medicine for back pain, but injecting a large amount of venom into the waist will make a difference. The venom of bad frogs is not fatal, but it can paralyze the nerves.

The queue injection of the bad frog just now is enough to permanently disable his criminal tools at the root.

"Your naive and innocent character can see these things."

"Why can't I see it, no one who came here is innocent, either made a mistake, or attacked our territory outside, and they deserve it. Wait, who are you calling naive! Tell me clearly!"

"My fault is that I said something carelessly, but this word means that you are simple-hearted, frank and natural, and it is actually a compliment."

"I don't believe it! Do you want to fight with me!"

At this moment, Kaido's blood in Yamato seemed to be awakened, and Yamato wanted to fight Kuzan directly.

At this time, similar situations also happened on other islands.

In the front part of the new world, in the territory of Mandelfish, the artillery fire on the island is roaring, and the coastal defense artillery is pouring firepower on the enemies who are trying to provoke them.

There is nothing abnormal about all of this, cover it with firepower first, if the artillery fire can't deal with the enemy, then Genesect will take action, if the enemy can even defeat Genesect, then they will face Mandelfert Xu himself.

But the biggest problem is the people who are operating the fort.

Not some skilled gunner, but Mandelfisch's daughter, Melo, who is only 7 years old this year. Even Mandelfisch doesn't know why his daughter likes this thing.

"Area B3! Fire!"

"New, I understand."noVeiUSB.coM

Melo held a large telescope to observe the position of the pirate ship ahead, and then conveyed instructions to Xiao Ba on the side.

The nearby area has already been planned, and the data of the artillery has been adjusted. As long as the area is determined, the angle can be adjusted quickly.

Xiao Ba's six arms quickly manipulated the facilities in the fort, and only one person completed the work of adjusting the angle, reloading, and firing the cannon, which could only be completed by three people.

Looking at the exploding gunfire, Mello's eyes were full of excitement, as if enjoying this moment.

Mandelfish was different, Rusaka's eyes watching him from behind made him feel like a pain in the back.

"Fish, do you have anything to say?"

"No. I don't know about it, and I don't know when Melo fell in love with this kind of thing."

Mandelfish felt that there was nothing wrong with his education, and Melo's performance was normal, but this year he awakened this interest.

Chapter 1147 All fears are due to lack of firepower

There must always be a process and an opportunity for the change of personality. It is impossible for a person to change his * suddenly inexplicably.

Even for Kuzan, it is a long process from burning justice to lazy justice.

For Kuzan, this is a very complicated experience in his life, from youth to middle age, from full of enthusiasm to confusion about the outside world.

Children's ideals are often very simple. Doctors can save lives, firefighters can put out fires, and scientists lead the development of science and technology to benefit mankind.

But as people grow older, people will gradually find that what they have learned and what they should do in society are fundamentally different things.

Mandefish doesn't want his daughter to follow his old path, and he is not Kaido. Even if the outside world is called "Kaido II" and "Little Kaido", the personalities of Mandefish and Kaido are also the same. contradictory.

Kaido has a strict requirement for Yamato, let her become stronger, or stronger without an upper limit, Mandefish hopes that his daughter will be more ordinary.

Just these two words are what many people dream of.

Tomorrow and accidents, no one knows what will come first. War, disease, business bankruptcy, relationship breakdown, many things happen in an instant, especially in this turbulent sea.

The harmony of the villages and towns will be broken at any time due to various unexpected factors, such as the attack of pirates, the whim of the Tianlong people, and the oppression of the royal family.

An indiscriminate increase in taxes for enjoyment can become the last straw that crushes other people's psychological defenses at any time.

Being able to live an ordinary life is already what many people pursue.

Mandefish is very clear that he has no blood, and his ancestors have no celebrities. To be precise, he doesn't even know who his ancestors are.

Growing up on the island of the Great Route, he heard Kaido's name and went to sea with great interest. Because of his good water skills and fast running, he successfully joined the scout team, and with a little bit of luck, he became a senior cadre.

Having worked hard for so long, if he still lets his child go his own way, then he will feel like a failure.

Nowadays, Beasts are in full swing, and his good-natured character has left behind many contacts, which also gave Melo the opportunity to pursue ordinary life.

This is the capital he has earned through decades of hard work, so he is not very strict with his daughter.

It's just that in this world, it's impossible to lie down completely. Unless he keeps his daughter tied by his side, she must be able to protect herself. Even if she can't fight, she must have the ability to escape and call for help.

On weekdays, Melo attends classes like ordinary children, and then trains physically under the leadership of Mandefish or Rusaka.

Melo's half-mermaid blood not only allows her to breathe underwater, but also gives her flexibility far beyond that of ordinary people.

A few days ago, he took his daughter to swim together, but the facts told him that his daughter liked the feeling of heavy firepower roaring, which made him a father who felt a bit of a failure. He didn't even know what his daughter liked.

"Let me think about it, who are the people who usually come into contact with Melo?

Jinbei, Xia Li, Hachi should not be them, they are not the type who like to fight. "

Mandelfisch began to trace the source, intending to find out where the source of the matter was.

At this time, Xiaoba took on the work of a gun crew by himself. This is the advantage of the octopus murloc. It has great strength and many arms. It will not cause problems if he cooperates with himself, but he is more like playing with children. Not like a guide.

Aaron is aggressive and has contact with Melo, but now, like the retired old man, his biggest hobby every day is working as a gatekeeper in the amusement park. Even if he is, it is impossible to use such a "high-tech" method.

In Aaron's perception, things like artillery can't do anything against murlocs, so he is a brute force in melee combat, but he is so quick-witted that he can only bully and bully people in the four seas, and it is impossible to have this kind of reaction to Melo Influence.

"Maybe it was after returning from Ghost Island last time. After that, she became very enthusiastic about the least favorite mathematics."

"Could it be that kid Jack did something behind his back?"

Mathematics, a basic subject, and science and engineering subjects cannot avoid mathematics in the end. It is the same in war. Those skilled gunners have good mental arithmetic ability, and a simple function can calculate the most suitable shelling angle.

Melo didn't like mathematics at first, but from her sudden interest in mathematics, coupled with her current performance, it seems that something can be inferred.

Last time in Ghost Island, Jack was punched down by Melo on purpose in order to coax the children, so it is not surprising to do other things.

"That's not right, even if that kid is just a demonstration, it's still an example of melee combat."novelusB.com

No matter how Jack's battle starts, he will eventually pull the ship over and start a gun battle. Anyway, two ships will sink one, unless he didn't intend to fight in the first place.

Mandelfish didn't know who influenced his daughter, so he planned to ask after this battle was over. Judging by the situation on the sea, it wouldn't be long before it was completely over.

Coastal defense guns relying on island construction are much farther than naval guns in terms of caliber and range. The firepower on board needs to consider many issues such as the bearing capacity of the deck, the impact of recoil on the stability of the ship, etc., but there are not so many coastal defense guns. worried.

The heavy turrets on the island are not good for targeting the strong individual, but it is still no problem for the pirate ship. Under the cover of firepower, the pirate ship was sunk when trying to invade here, but under the artillery fire, a small ship was at an exaggerated speed. is approaching.

Boom! boom!

The shells fell on the sea surface and caused huge splashes, but the small boat deftly avoided the fire coverage, drew a white wave on the sea surface, and rushed towards the island.

"Interesting, this year's newcomers seem to be a bit capable."

Mandelfish flexed his wrist, and he was ready to do it, but before that, he wanted to see what choice Melo would make. If she really liked this kind of thing, she would go to the commander of the artillery group in the future. Location development is not out of the question either.

In addition to the personal fights between cadres with superior force, the battles of ordinary members can also indirectly affect the situation of the battle. If you become a polished commander after a big battle, your power will not develop.

"Dad, can you get the other artillery to focus their fire?"

Melo can let Xiaoba help her operate a cannon, but can't command the whole cannon group, that's still too childish, if you want to give this order, you have to let Mandelfisch come.

It's just that the matter ended sooner than Mandelfish thought. Before Mandelfish could answer, a huge red Gyaradosaurus appeared in the sea.

The destructive death light evaporated the enemies on the sea, and also allowed Mandelfish to answer the previous questions. The star-like light in Melo's eyes has already given the answer

Chapter 1148 The origin of Gyarados, the small shock of the giants

"Nereus, I forgot about her."

Patting himself on the forehead, Mandelfish found the root cause, besides Jack, there was also the violent person Nereus.

On the sea, she and Jack are in the same logic. As long as it is determined to be the enemy, it is always right to kill it first.

It's not just her being irritable, it should be said that the entire Gyarados group is a group of irritable brothers.

If you don't provoke them, you can live in peace. Once you provoke the Gyarados, it's not so easy to leave.

Mandelfish's territory is not far from the entrance of the new world, and it is in the same corner as New Murloc Island, so it can be supported at any time in case of special circumstances.

The excellent geographical location makes many members of Beasts stay here, and Nereus stayed here for a while. When she just ate the Dao, she learned human customs here for a while.

But after Melo was born, Nereus appeared here much less frequently. She is the queen of the Gyarados family designated by Arceus. Downloaded some sea giant legends.

He would appear here once or twice a year, so Mandelfish did not associate it with her.

"Melo, when you met Nereus last time, what did she do with you?"

"Well, we met a group of pirates. They wanted to catch mermaids, and then Aunt Nereus blew them all up."

With the appearance of Nereus, the forts on the island also ceased fire. These coastal artillery can't hurt Nereus. With the blessing of scale armor and the blessing of phantom beasts, her defense is not low. It's okay to pick up these shells.

But bombarding your own people is not good after all, and on the sea, Nereus is more terrifying than the heavy artillery group. Even if she doesn't carry the group, she alone can subvert a sea area.

Human beings are land creatures after all. Except for a few people, most of them are extremely difficult to deal with Nereus at sea.

With her here, the remaining enemies are not a problem at all.

In fact, this is exactly the case. The appearance of Nereus broke the psychological defense of this group of new pirates.

"Captain! There are monsters! It's the same as the monsters encountered at Upside Down Mountain!"

"No, bigger than that!"

"Shut up! I see it!"

On the small boat, a one-eyed pirate holds a knife in both hands, looking at Nereus with a little fear in his eyes.

He lost his eye on the Upside Down Mountain. He was retaliated against the carp kings who were blocking the road by shelling, and the pirate ship was overturned by the nearby Gyarados.

Although he survived and did not die there, he was blinded in one eye by the broken plank.

Gyarados can overturn ships, but they don't eat people, and there are many pirates who escape from them.

On the great voyage, the captain regrouped his men and came to the new world.

When they wanted to use looting to replenish supplies, they were taught a lesson by the coastal defense artillery on the island. Now, they encountered another Gyaradosaurus.

"I'm not what I used to be, let you monsters know how powerful I am today!"

Stepping on the side of the ship, the captain jumped into the sky with two knives in his hands, as if he wanted to wash away his previous shame, but before he could launch his attack, Nereus had already set off a tsunami.

The turbid seawater obstructed his sight, and he was about to swing his knife to cut off the tsunami in front of him, but a big hand wrapped in red scales had already broken through the waves first, and slammed him into the water.

On the other side, Melo kept gesticulating with his hands, trying to make Mandelfish understand what he meant. In fact, even if Melo didn't say anything, Mandelfish could still imagine the scene of the battle.

He himself is a Gyarados capable user, and he is very familiar with Gyarados' abilities. He also practiced against Nereus at that time, and he is very familiar with her fighting style.

Gyarados' racial value is biased towards physical attack, and its melee ability is very powerful, but Nereus usually uses long-range attacks to cleanse the enemy first, and then starts melee combat last.

"So. Nereus taught you?"

"No, but I also want to knock down all those slave traders. What mother hates the most is slave traders. I can't breathe fire, I can't throw leaves, I can't create tsunamis or release light waves, so I can only use external force gone."

Breathing fire, creating tsunami, and releasing light waves, Nereus can do all these things, but throwing leaves makes Mandelfish feel a little bit wrong. He has no impression that Melo has no familiar grass-type abilities.

"Who is throwing the leaves?"

"Meowna, she also has a seed ball in her hand, which can be thrown around like a yo-yo. Both of them are very good."

"They are older than you, and that is the power bestowed by Lord Arceus. Don't worry, Dad prepared it for you too."

Rubbing Melo's head, Mandelfish gave her a little insight.noVELuSb.cOm

Looking back at the beginning, he just wanted to retire. In order to better retire conditions, he began to involve.

Already saved almost enough, he fell in love, so he started to set up a family property, seeking a higher status, and finally became a senior cadre stationed outside, and achieved his goal.

But he is getting farther and farther away from retirement, his own business is over, and now Mandelfish is saving his daughter's family fortune, and the accumulated achievements are to change his daughter's ability to let her have more self-protection ability.

As one of the few cadres with family members, he has relatively more scruples.

He has a clue as to why his daughter began to admire heavy firepower, as long as he doesn't learn from some weirdo.

"Dad, when will I go back to Wano Country, I want to play with Miao Na and the others."

There are her playmates here, but those playmates can't let go of themselves.

Her father is the highest cadre on the island. Even if the children don't care, their parents will. Words will always affect some things, and only people like Miao Na and Wolf, who are also children of senior cadres, don't care about this kind of thing.

For Melo, Meowna and Worf, who spend less time together, are more cordial.

"I'll go back soon, after I finish my recent work, but there are so many people today"

Besides Nereus, Mandelfish also saw an approaching Viking ship, the size of which already indicated the identities of the people on board—giants.

Hyderding and the others were on the boat. After being cut off by Yamato, they became the subordinate mercenaries of Hundred Beasts. They were performing some mercenary missions in the New World, and they came here just for supplies.

Before seeing someone trying to attack the island, they wanted to help, but Nereus was faster.

"Hylding? Hylding! What's wrong with you?"

"Gertz, I seem to be dazzled. I saw a giant who can swim."

Haildin kept rubbing his eyes after taking off his helmet, and there was a hint of doubt in his tone.

"From that Hancheng"

Yoona: As I said, I will support you.

Taozi: Oppa, when are you going to do something bad, take me with you.

The male protagonist smiled, he was almost full of this soft meal.

A novel about a pair of male and female protagonists wearing soft clothes! !

Chapter 1149 A former social animal who paints cakes, a handmade unicorn

Devil Fruit users are not uncommon in the Great Route, especially in the New World. Even Devil Fruits appear more frequently in auctions.

Devil fruit is not a necessary factor for a strong person, but a suitable devil fruit can quickly improve a person's combat power.

Among the currently known powerhouses, the number of capable people exceeds that of simple physical arts powerhouses. Powerful phantom beasts, special superhumans, and powerful natures all have their own room to play.

Devil Fruits don't choose races, whether they are ordinary humans, long-handed or long-legged, fur tribes, murlocs, and little humans can all gain the power of Devil Fruits.

The animal-type fruit that hosts the will itself can even endow dead things with abilities.

But among many races, the giant race is an exception. The giant race has almost no ability. In Haierdin's memory, whether it is everyone living in Elbaf or the legendary blue ghost and red ghost predecessors, they all rely on The bodies of the giants were fighting.

Relying on their physique and matching a suitable fruit, they can actually exert a very powerful force. There are very few capable people in the giant race, but those capable people are not small.

San Juan Dire Wolf is one of them. After eating the swollen fruit, he was originally a giant, so that his body size became even more exaggerated. In the end, he got the nickname of a huge battleship. It is the world government that also wants to erase its existence. evil party.

The other is Mori, the commander of the Western Army of the Revolutionary Army.

Physiologically, he is a male, but he is a mermaid. He is still a minority like giants, and his own buffs have been fully stacked.

He is a Superman with the ability to push the fruit, and was imprisoned in the large submarine prison.

But the person who imprisoned him was careless. He didn't think that Mori was a capable person, so he didn't use the Hailoushi handcuffs. Mori found an opportunity to use the fruit ability to dig a hole to escape from prison quietly, and left Lv5 in Impelton. 5 This secret space.

As the activities of the Revolutionary Army intensified, Mori, the giant human monster, became known to everyone.

Hylding also wants to acquire an ability, preferably a natural one, so that he can get closer to his goal of being the king of giants.

For the giants, the biggest concern is that the ability users cannot swim. They are too large to accommodate them in ordinary ships, and the shipbuilding technology of the giants themselves is not developed. Once the ship capsizes, it will be fatal.

Nereus is an exception. If Haerdin reads correctly, she has just changed from a special sea king to this appearance.

"You read it wrong, there is no one who can swim."

The ability users of Hundred Beasts seldom dive in front of outsiders, and Mandelfish has done it a few times, and there are few other examples.

Therefore, he is regarded as a technologically capable user of the blood factor, which is also a relatively hard scapegoat for Quinn, and it is relatively difficult to get rid of it.

"Probably not. You see!"

Nereus re-transformed into the form of the Gyarados, dived into the water and swam to the territory of Mandelfish. This is her habit. She is the Gyarados herself, and she has long been used to the Gyarados' form.

Human form is convenient for fighting, but swimming is different. Swimming in that form is very awkward for Nereus.

She didn't shy away from anything, and by the way, Nereus is that rare example.

The same ethnic appearance, the only difference is the color, which further welds the pot to death.

The giant family is not closed, but the information is also a bit backward, and it is not clear about this kind of news that has not been publicized.

"Brothers! We've landed, and it looks like there will be more surprises in the future!"

I can't think of it at sea. If you have this time, it's better to go ashore and ask. Most of the giants are very frank, and there are relatively few giants playing tricks.

Once they have an idea, they will naturally start to act. As for why Holding regards Nereus as a capable user of the giant race, it is an instinctive reaction.

Giants The most basic way to judge whether an opponent is a giant is to look at their height. If the body proportions are not particularly exaggerated, an adult taller than 12 meters is a giant, or has giant blood.

Otherwise just oversize humans.

In addition, although devil fruits are more common on the great route than in the four seas, they have not yet reached the level of bad streets, and they are still very precious things.

The person who gets the devil fruit must either eat it himself or exchange it for money. It is almost impossible for creatures other than humans to eat it.

Just like the weapon that ate the devil fruit, people's first reaction is that the animal ate the weapon fruit, not the weapon ate the animal fruit.

In Holding's view, Nereus is more like a person who ate the fruit of a certain fish, rather than a tyrannosaurus who ate the fruit of a human.

With this discovery, Holding is still very excited. If his new Giant Pirates can become capable people who are not afraid of water, then it will be easier to realize the dream of revitalizing the Giant Pirates and unifying all Giant Kingdoms. .

From this point of view, joining other forces halfway seems to be a clear choice, and Bucky Express can't do this kind of thing.

Under their vigorous paddling, they reached the shore in a short time.

Nereus often visits here, and the murlocs also have many big men. It is not difficult for Mandelfish to entertain the giants here.

The income these giant mercenaries created during this period was not low, so Mandelfisch warmly welcomed them.

But Nereus is different. She is not used to talking to strangers, so Halding talked for a long time, but got two replies.nOveLus.b.com

In the end, it was Mandelfisch who drew two cakes for him. As the former king of rolls, Mandelfish knew how to draw cakes.

Halding and the others were just temporary supplies, and left the island after resting for a while. On the contrary, Nereus stayed here temporarily, planning to rest for a while.

Mandelfish is also busy with the matter at hand, intending to finish these matters as soon as possible so that he can take his family back to Wano Country for vacation.

But not everyone has it so easy.

In the first half of the great route, on an unnamed deserted island in the windless belt, a false famous teacher who laid the foundation is still training Luffy.

"Not enough! The time you agreed is getting closer and closer, so you want to enter the new world?"

The wooden stick was swung out, and Luffy was knocked dizzy by Rayleigh, while Hero, who was watching all this, sighed and picked up the thing in front of him.

After a while of fiddling, a simple stone pick appeared in his hand.

He took the pickaxe and compared it with Luffy, Hero felt that the size of this thing was very suitable.

It's just a unicorn, it doesn't know so many things, it just thinks that Luffy will use this thing sooner or later.

Chapter 1150 With your intelligence, it is difficult for me to tell you clearly what is going on in the sea

Goals and dreams are not the same thing, Luffy's dream is a very special thing, Hero is not easy to comment.

But he is sure that Luffy's goal has not changed after meeting the red hair, he wants to become One Piece.

No matter who wants to become One Piece, it is impossible to jump over the mountain of beasts. It has two road sign history texts itself, and even the road sign history text in Charlotte Lingling's hand also has rubbing texts. Even Charlotte Lingling, who has done transactions, is much more than Kai in terms of the number of road sign history texts. piece.

The history text originally located on Zowu's back has become the private property of Beasts. If you want to form a road map to Ralph Drew, this road sign history text is indispensable.

As long as Luffy's goal remains unchanged, the conflict is inevitable. Kaido will not give others a copy of the historical text for no reason. One Piece is not his ultimate goal, but he has already regarded it as something in his pocket.

The name Jie Wang's Assistant is not for nothing.

Unless Luffy and the others try metaphysics and let Sauron take the helm for the purpose of not reaching Ralph Drew, they may be able to send them directly to their destination.

Of course, this kind of life gamble is not advisable. Sauron himself may not know where he is going, and he firmly believes that he is not a road idiot, so it is unrealistic for him to do such a thing.

According to Hero's analysis, the biggest possibility for Luffy is to go mining after losing the battle.

It still has some memories of Onijima. The naive type of Luffy is generally not killed directly, and there may be new changes if you dig it.

"Hello."

Halfway through the pickaxe, Hero remembered some not-so-beautiful things. In addition to surrendering to the mine on the ghost island, almost none of the pirates thrown into the mine were released voluntarily.

It is just a Heracross who is passively employed. There are a large group of Pokémon like it, and it is not the strongest one in the group. Unlike Nereus, a designated king who has more say.

Not even Darkrai, Zeraora, a special individual who is treated as his own son.

From this point of view, we can only see if there will be any kind-hearted person who will redeem him for him. With the identity of Pokémon, it should not be thrown into mining together.

Even if this kind of thing is not reported in the newspaper, it can still find a "big money" to catch people. If it has enough face, Beasts won't care about straw hats and the like.

Maybe Luffy is so good that he can gain weight in the mine.

Boom!

With a loud noise, several big trees were broken by the middle, and Luffy flew upside down, and the arrogance on the surface of his body completely dissipated.

Looking at the sticks stuck beside him, Hero estimated that ten minutes had passed.

There is nothing on this deserted island, and there is Hancock in the original timeline to replenish supplies and bring all kinds of weird things.

Now without Hancock's funding, their food supplies depend entirely on sea kings in the sea and native plants and beasts on the island.

Under the high-intensity battle, the original watch was broken long ago.

Rayleigh didn't mean to bring them an extra timekeeping tool, but just checked the time occasionally.

Besides, Raleigh has no tacit understanding with Hero, and Hero is not easy to intervene when Raleigh trains Luffy, so it starts to rely on itself.

At this time, Hero has already used one of the most primitive timing tools.

As a high-IQ unicorn, it is reasonable to make a sundial with low precision.

"Is it not enough? This is not okay, Luffy, the combat power in this state is good.

But 10 minutes is far from enough to fight those monsters in the new world. "

"I'm working hard, but the fourth gear consumes a lot of domineering."

At this time, Luffy has been able to master domineering skillfully, and has developed a new ability-fourth gear.

Integrate domineering into muscles to form a special rubber balloon.

Whether it is power or speed, it is far superior to his second and third gears, and the price is that it will consume his domineering.

There is an upper limit to a person's armed domineering reserves, and Luffy's domineering can only be consumed for 10 minutes.

In the original timeline, when fighting Doflamingo, Luffy fell into a weak state after the first fourth gear ended.

In fact, he can escape by himself and use the second and third gears to deal with it, but that will further consume physical strength and lead to slower recovery of domineering.

Being carried on the back can better preserve physical strength and speed up the recovery of arrogance, so I choose to be carried on the back.

"Monsters of the New World"

"Are you afraid? To be honest, although you can fight in the new world now, you are not enough to fight those top monsters.

Even their subordinates are the same. "nOVelUsB.com

"I'm not afraid, I'm the man who wants to be the One Piece!

Ace has been in the New World for the past two years, and everyone is working hard. If you give up without even going, I will be so sorry for everyone's efforts. "

"Fine, courage is a good thing, but you have to remember that you have not only grown up in these two years.

Those pirates of your same period, Trafalgar Law has become the king of Shichibukai, and the rewards of others are far higher than yours.

Forget about the navy, things are too complicated, I can't explain it to you in a few words, Unicorn Fairy! Come and listen carefully! "

Great changes have taken place in the world in the past two years, the Battle of the Admiral, the World Conscription, the death of Vegapunk, and the actions of revolutionaries.

If the Straw Hats were all together, he could still talk about it, but just one Luffy, his innocent eyes already said everything.

Railly didn't want to do useless work, but chose to simply talk to Hero, and the rest of the matter can be discussed after they get together.

Looking at the unicorn taking notes, Lei Li felt helpless. If he had had such a unicorn on his boat back then, many things would have been more convenient.

At the same time, Luffy's other partners are also working hard to practice.

Xiaokong Island Visalia, a very special country, is also the place where Nami practiced.

This is a special country formed by a group of meteorological scientists gathered together for research. Unlike other sky islands that have always been fixed in the same place, Visalia will float with the wind.

The people on the island also took this opportunity to study the changeable weather and made some breakthroughs. They have no financial backers behind them, so they can only take weather balloons and use their own technology to help some countries that need weather services, in exchange for funds.

The arrival of Nami added a touch of orange vitality to their group of old guys, and they also welcomed this kid who loves to learn, but today, these meteorologists have a little collapse, and their years of knowledge have been impacted.

"Why! Why does this ball-like whale make the sky rain!"

Looking at the roaring whale that looked like a ball in front of him, a meteorologist even broke his beard in shock
