

Arceus 1181

Chapter 1181: I will teach you if the mediocre teacher is behind

Shichibukai's identity on the surface makes Doflamingo a legal pirate with the backing of the world government, and his secret connection with beasts makes him feel like a fish in water in the underground world.

If Doflamingo's connection with these forces is not severed, his revenge plan will never succeed.

During this process, Luo will make use of many things. The death of Luo Sindhi is a heart problem for him. Except for death, nothing can stop him from this pace.

Luo and Doflamingo, who have their own ghosts, have temporarily reached a deal, and Luo's voice on the phone also attracted the attention of other people on the Sunshine.

"Who were you calling just now? Little flower hat?"

"Please don't call me Xiaohuamao, I'm a shemale."

Reindeer, ladyboys, perverts, unicorns, skeletons, the crew composition of this ship is too complicated, and now Luo already regrets getting on this ship.

He will come to this ship. First, he thinks that Luffy's strength is not bad. He is a combat force that can be used by fools.

"It's Doflamingo's call, that guy also has a connection with the Emperor of the Sea.

And our alliance's battle plan is to let the sea recognize our capabilities, get the title of emperor of the sea, become the new emperor of the sea, fill the vacant throne left by Whitebeard's death, and then recruit troops.

Defeating Doflamingo is a good way to prove yourself and increase your reputation. Although he has connections with the Emperor of the Sea, I already have a way to replace him.

With this, we can also connect with them. "

Luo's original intention was to make them feel that Doflamingo is not the final boss, but just a small boss, but in order to defeat the final boss, they must do their best beforehand.

Even Doflamingo can't defeat him, let alone the latter.

"Why recruit troops?"

"Of course these people need to collect the red history text, otherwise how to go to Ralph Drew?"

"Red History Text? What's that?"

"The Straw Hat, are you... serious?"

Seeing that no one in the boat understood the importance of this matter, Luo couldn't control his expression.

"You don't even know this, you still want to be the One Piece?"

Currently, Robin is drinking coffee on the Yamato ship. None of the Straw Hat Pirates knows the text of the history. Raleigh knows the details, but this teacher is also a free-ranging teacher. It's good to be able to describe the general situation to Luffy, and he didn't talk about the details at all.

So it wasn't until today that the Straw Hats understood the way to go to Lough Drew under Luo's explanation. Before that, they could only go to the final island through Sauron at the helm.

"So we need the red history text, we need to build power, we need fame, and we need to start by defeating Doflamingo."

The situation is different, and Luo naturally changed his rhetoric. According to the original timeline, his rhetoric should be, "I have a plan, but Lakaido will get off the horse."

But at this time, someone interrupted Luo's speech.

"Red history text? I know where that thing is."

It was none other than Kinemon who spoke. After Kanjuro and Kanjuro escaped from Wano Country, they did not live in Dressrosa.

But with severe physical loss, they accidentally boarded a boat of a human trafficker contacted by Caesar, were stunned on board, arrived at Punk Hazard in a daze, and finally left there with Luffy.

They came out looking for foreign aid. From Kinemon and Kanjuro's point of view, Luo, Luffy and others are strong enough, and they want to compete for the position of emperor of the sea like Kaido, and they also have the same intention to fool them.

They still remembered that when Oden returned to Wano Country to print the main text of the history, they simply said it directly.

"Huh? You actually know? Where is it?"

"It's in the Wano country, which is occupied by Kaido, the emperor of the sea you call."

"Ah, do you have that in Kaido's hand? If you want to become the One Piece, do you still have to defeat him? Or in other words, you need to defeat the entire Beast Pirates."

As soon as this remark came out, the whole ship suddenly fell silent. Luo's astonishment, Kin'emon and Kanjuro's joy, Hero's helplessness, and Caesar's sarcasm, all eyes immediately focused on Luffy's face.

"Hey, straw hat, do you know what you're talking about? Defeat Kaido? Defeat beasts?? What are you talking about? That's impossible, don't hit me in the face! Wait. I'm wrong, stop!"

Caesar's taunt drew a fat beating. Under the threat of punches, Caesar chose to shut up. When Chopper treated Caesar's wound, Luo couldn't help it. There seems to be something wrong with this alliance.

"Master of the Straw Hats, are you serious when you say you want to defeat Kaido?"

"Well, of course, he also wants to be the Pirate King, but I am the one who will become the Pirate King, not to mention that the red stone is in his hands, so there must be a fight."

Listening to Luffy's rhetoric, Kin'emon and Kanjuro became more and more excited, but they didn't immediately say that they were from Wano Country, and wanted to observe again.

"Your current reward is 400 million Baileys. This is because of the consequences of your participation in the Top War, but do you know what Kaido's reward is?"

"I don't have much impression of this, is it tall?"

"Then you are really courageous. You don't even know the strength of the enemy, so you dare to be his enemy. Beast Kaido, with a reward of 5,511.1 million Baileys, the governor of the Beast Pirates, the strongest creature in the world, this is the person you want to challenge."

Because of Lamy's relationship, Luo has a deep research on beasts, and knows much more about beasts than Luffy and the others, and even took out a stack of reward orders from his backpack.

"55.5 billion"

The bounty was even scarier than back then. With this amount, Nami and Usopp started to hug each other to keep warm, but this was just the beginning.

"That's right, 5.5 billion, but do you think it's just that? Even when Whitebeard was still alive, Beasts had already become the most powerful pirate group. Besides Kaido, you have to face even more terrifying cadres.

Onihime Yamato, Kaido's biological daughter, has a bounty of 2.963 billion Baileys.

Kaido is her father. If you want to defeat Kaido, she will not stand idly by. "

"Ah, it's the woman with the horns. I've seen her before. What a reward."

Others became nervous, but Luffy didn't feel nervous as Luo expected, and even laughed, which made Luo feel a little wrong, but he continued to talk.

"Do you think this is all there is? Fire disaster, epidemic disaster, phantom disaster, drought disaster, the four major disaster-level cadres under Kaido's command, known as the right-hand man of the big Kanban, even the one with the lowest bounty has already exceeded 1 billion Baileys!

There are more than a hundred cadres below, known as numberers. The smaller the number, the stronger their strength. Even the person who ranks ninth, the bounty is the same as yours! "

The alliance between Luo and Luffy hopes that Luffy can help when defeating Doflamingo, instead of bringing him a more terrifying monster.

One of the purposes for him to get SAD is to ease Kaido's anger afterwards. In Luo's view, as long as someone can perfectly replace Doflamingo, the existence of Doflamingo is not important.

Looking at Luffy who didn't speak, Luo thought he was intimidated, and planned to add another fire.

"Beasts is an extremely special pirate group, and there is another force within him, the Punisher Arceus, with a bounty of more than six billion Baileys, a mysterious animal-type ability user, and the pirate with the highest bounty today.

You and Kaido are enemies, and you will defeat them all. Even so, do you still insist on your own ideas? "

Hello on the side nodded, as if agreeing with Luo's words, and then solemnly put away Arceus' reward order for Luo.

Zoro and Sanji listened to Luo's report with serious expressions, Brook and Franky were relatively calm, and Chopper was busy giving Usopp first aid. The news was so shocking that Usopp passed out in one breath.

Looking at Luffy who was still silent, Luo thought he heard his own words, and continued:

"If Kaido found all the red history texts, he would have been the One Piece long ago, so he didn't find them all. Our goal is to defeat Doflamingo, not provoke Kaido, remember?!"

"Well, if you want to become the One Piece, don't you have to defeat him?"

"You didn't listen to a word, the next action is under my command, is there a problem?"

Seeing that Luffy didn't want to get in, Luo directly gave up on Luffy. It seems that even if he takes half his life, he can't convince Luffy.

So Luo began to compete for the command of the alliance, and parted ways with Luffy after planning to defeat Doflamingo.

"Oh, no problem, I listen to you, Sanji, I'm hungry, it's time to cook!"

Luo got the command, but he was not happy at all, and in the days to come, Luffy will tell Luo what it means to "obey the command".

As for now, the straw hat gang walked into the kitchen extremely calmly, still ordering the names of the dishes in their mouths, and the last sentence that Luo, who was gradually assimilated, yelled, changed from exhortations and orders to that he hated slices of bread.

When Luo's heart was on the verge of collapse and he was gradually assimilated by the Straw Hats, Doflamingo also encountered a major crisis in his life.

Many of Punk Hazard's experiments cannot be known to the world government and navy, which will affect Doflamingo's plans. Starting from the navy of the G5 branch here, Doflamingo didn't want to let go of any of them.

As a lieutenant general with a record comparable to a zero-win rate beast, Smoker is not Doflamingo's opponent. The natural ability only increases his attack area. Under Doflamingo's skillful domineering, he was quickly suppressed on the ground.

At this time, with the sound of the chain turning, Kuzan appeared on a pink bicycle

Chapter 1182 Owner and Performance

The transparent silk thread connects the clouds in the sky. The ability of the thread fruit allows Doflamingo to fight with Smoker in the sky like flying. It is not so much a fight as a play.

Since the beginning of the battle, Smoker has not been able to make any effective attack on Doflamingo, but every attack by Doflamingo will bring up a large cloud of smoke, and Smoker's body will also be scratched with two **** mouths by the silk thread.

Smoke fruit is only a fruit used to evade attacks under Smoker's use. It can also fly and give more impact to the fist, but it does not exert the characteristics of smoke itself.

When dealing with ability users, he also relies heavily on the ten hands of Hailoushi in his hand, but in the previous battle with Virgo, Smoker's ten hands have been broken.

Smogg himself is also an ability user, so he couldn't directly touch the part of Hailou Stone, which further weakened his attack power.

G5's navy wanted to help, but under Doflamingo's command, the number was just a toy. As the parasitic wires fell from the sky, G5's navy directly began to kill each other.

G5's navy wanted to help, but it seemed helpless, and the navy near the coastline also spotted the strange figure on the sea.

The sharp sea breeze seems to be mixed with the sound of gears rotating, and the sound of the metal chain gradually approaching the limit can be vaguely heard.

Before the navy could react, a bicycle suddenly appeared beside him.

"Take care of it for me, don't let it break."

Looking at the girly pink-painted bicycle, G5's navy seemed to be in a daze. This tone of voice, the habit of riding a bicycle on the sea, in his impression, only one person would do this.

At the same time, Doflamingo's body also froze.

"Ah la la, I'm sorry, little brother, can you let me go?"

That guy is my friend. "

Ku sighed in admiration, and the heat exhaled from his body instantly condensed into a white mist in the cold environment of Punk Hazard, and a layer of frost appeared on Kuzan's face.

As long as Doflamingo dares to act, he can directly stop Doflamingo's attack before he launches.

"Yes, General Yuan Yuan, Aokiji!"

"Didn't he disappear after fighting Marshal Akainu? Why did he appear here?"

To this day, the navy and the world government still haven't announced through any official channels that Kuzan has become a pirate.

They just made a conscription promotion all over the world not long ago, adding a large number of soldiers.

If you turn your head and tell others that our former admiral has become a pirate, it will hurt too much.

But there is no official channel, which does not mean that there is no gossip, especially at this time, the navy who was asked by Kuzan to see the bicycle came over pushing the bicycle.

As a navy stationed in the New World, the logo on the front of the bicycle is too conspicuous.

"It seems that the rumor is true, Admiral Aokiji really went to become a pirate."

Under the watchful eyes of the G5 navy, Doflamingo did not let go of his prepared attack, and his attention was also shifted to Kuzan. Doflamingo didn't know what Kuzan was going to do.

"哧哧哧哧哧, former General Kuzan, if I remember correctly, haven't you already found a new employer?"

Ordinary soldiers don't know what Kuzan is doing, but the high-level officers of the Navy, as well as people like Doflamingo who originally acted as intelligence dealers, are very clear about Kuzan's camp at this time.

Strictly speaking, Doflamingo and Kuzan are even in the same camp, so Doflamingo did not try to continue doing anything in front of Kuzan this time.

"So you can still stand here and continue talking to me, I said, that guy is my friend, you can move him a bit."

Listening to Kuzan's threatening words, Doflamingo's heart remained calm, and he continued to walk behind Kuzan with a step of disrespect, and showed what it means to admit love gracefully.

"I don't want to fight with you, but if I can't seal that man's mouth, my action plan will also change."

In a nutshell, your fist is big, you have the right to say, I can't afford to mess with you.

"Plan? So using the Tremor Fruit to cause such a big mess is also part of your plan?"

"Chaos breeds opportunities, so that the turbulent sea has more choices, doesn't it?"

"Then you have to get ready, Missy, but let's join in the fun."

Hearing that, Doflamingo paused, and there was only one person who could be called Miss by Kuzan in this case.

"哧哧哧哧哧, I can't think of it, he is really an incredible big shot. Baby-5, Buffalo, let's go!"

Doflamingo originally thought that Beasts would just send a few cadres randomly, but he didn't expect a big one to come directly. It seems that not only the plan here, but also the plan of Dressrosa had to be rearranged.

Buffalo's hair turned like a propeller, and he took Doflamingo away from the island, and Kuzan also shouted to the G5 navy.

"I said, stop standing there, where are the medical soldiers? Hurry up and treat him!"

"Ah yes!"

"Also, who is responsible for maintaining the warship? Maintain that bicycle for me!"

"yes!"

Kuzan's original destination was G5. He wanted to see how his old friend Smoker was doing, but when he found no one there, and found out that Smoker had attacked privately in violation of military orders, Kuzan came here.

The process of driving is also a mystery, but the bicycle is fully loaded, and the gears and chains at this time need minor repairs.

Today's Kuzan is no longer a navy, but these soldiers still instinctively acted according to Kuzan's arrangement when Smoker fell to the ground.

There are a lot of rumors about Kuzan's camp, but judging from his performance just now, he seems to be his own.

"General Aokiji? Those rumors are true"

The medical soldiers were treating Smog's wound, but at this time Smog used an extremely formal name for Kuzan.

"Aokiji. It's really an old name. I didn't take the world government as my everything. Even if I don't become a navy, I can do things by myself. Some things can only be seen clearly if I don't become a navy.

According to your personality, you will not hide this matter from reporting, but I will give you a piece of advice, if you don't have an admiral, don't expect to be involved in the next matter. "

After all, he is a traitor of the navy, and he will still cause criticism if he stays with the active-duty lieutenant general Smoker for a long time. After confirming that Smoker will not die, Kuzan is ready to leave here.

Before leaving here, he praised the maintenance level of the G5 navy, and then headed to the other side of the sea, but the direction he was heading was not Dressrosa, but another island.

The next day, in the World Economic News Agency, it is unknown who is the most troublesome person, but Morgans is definitely the most excited person. Today's news is another day that is enough to shock the world.

"Let's see, Doflamingo has withdrawn from His Majesty Shichibukai, Death Surgeon, Trafalgar Law and Straw Hat Boy Luffy have formed an alliance. There are a lot of news today."

Doflamingo used the secret in his hands to reach an additional agreement with Wu Laoxing, and has released the false news that he has withdrawn from Qibuhai.

But Qiwuhai is an organization appointed by the world government, and the world government can directly arrange Qiwuhai beyond the navy, so only Wu Laoxing knows the details.

As a person who is only responsible for reporting and likes to make things big, Morgans doesn't care if it is true or not, as long as it is a big event is enough.

"By the way, haven't you contacted that Absa yet? It's a pity that such a person doesn't come to my subordinates as a reporter. He has the talent of being a reporter. Only journalism can make him shine!"

"Without a president, he still rejected our invitation, expressing that he only wanted to be a freelance writer."

Abusa, a well-known freelance writer in the press for the past two years, his real identity is Absalom next to Moriah, and he is still loyally raising the decadent Moriah.

Through the ability of his own transparent fruit, he often sneaks into various places to steal secrets, and has a lot of news and gossip in his hands. Even Morgans admires him very much.

"It's a pity, his ability to dig out information is top-notch. The young people of the extremely evil generation are dishonest, and one alliance after another just appeared like this."

Looking at the manuscript in hand, Morgans started the typesetting of the follow-up newspaper.

As a newsman, Morgans likes the paparazzi Absalom very much, but those who have been found out are different.

"Why? We just formed an alliance for a few days, how did the news get out!"

On a certain island in the New World, Kidd, who was missing an arm, was puzzled by the reports in the newspaper.

Not long ago, his Kidd Pirates allied with the Radio Pirates and the Hawkins Pirates, and none of the three pirates left here, but that's it, they were advertised in the newspapers.

Of course, there are still many things he doesn't know. For example, both Arpu and Hawkins are special recruits under Quinn's special income.

Since they spend most of their time doing DJ and fortune-telling work, the outside world has no idea that these two pirate groups have become vassals of beasts.

The two of them appear here together because Quinn is now nesting in the reverse world to build a safe house every day. Without Quinn, their importance has plummeted, and they have no achievements at all. They are not valued at all.

In order to save this situation, the two, as newcomers who joined the company at the same time, instinctively started to hug each other to keep warm, and came out together to strengthen their performance, and Kidd was their chosen target.

The bounty is quite high, the person is reckless, and he seems to have no brains. Such a person seems to be a good miner.

"Are you sure this guy can be a performance?"

"This is the result of divination. Master Quinn believes this. Is there anything you are not satisfied with?"

Under the reasons that Hawkins could not refute, Arpu chose to believe, and when they were planning how to hide Kidd, Brandon was ready for a meeting in the Navy headquarters

Chapter 1183 The Unbearable Weight of Dressrosa

Brannew stood in front, and below were the generals at all levels of the Navy Headquarters. Even the Marshal Akainu was listening to his report. At this moment, Brannew was the king of the Navy Headquarters.

The newly refreshed Qibukai was introduced again, and the focus of the meeting was the impact of Doflamingo's resignation from Qibukai, as well as the consequences of Luo's actions, and the truth about Punk Hazard being concealed.

"I have understood the situation, Brandon."

"Marshal Akainu?"

"We can't let these guys be lawless now. Smoker from G5 gave a very nagging report yesterday. Let's wait and see for a day. On Dressrosa's side, Fujitora has already personally led the team.

The World Government has also issued an order for us to cooperate with their operations in Dressrosa and prepare the fleet of the headquarters. If this powder keg is not handled properly, it will be a disaster for the entire sea. "

The meeting of the navy will not directly affect the situation at sea, but the statement of Doflamingo will.

Since the era of great pirates, wars around the world have never stopped. Whether it is defending the country or plundering resources, weapons have become an indispensable part.

While Doflamingo was planning to hold the competition, the wars in the New World did not stop, and many countries bought weapons from Doflamingo.

Now that Doflamingo announced his withdrawal, he also directly stopped all the business of the Don Quixote family. Doflamingo felt that everything was under control and he didn't panic at all, but other people in the sea didn't know about it.

Especially when there was no logistics in the middle of the battle, some army leaders ran away directly, and the army collapsed as a result.

But at this time, their "savior" appeared.

"We are Lord Bucky's subordinates. We also sell what Doflamingo sells. We also have mercenary services. We will do the work he doesn't do!"

Back then, Doflamingo had taken a fancy to Bucky's men, established a little friendly relationship with him, and gave him a little channel.

Although Bucky Express relies on adding confidence to Bucky's Dihua, it can make such a large organization run smoothly, and Bucky's subordinates also have some capable people.

They saw this opportunity and started to expand wildly.

At this time, Bucky, who had arrived near Dressrosa, was surrounded by his younger brothers before he even understood what happened.

"Captain Bucky, is this also in your plan? Now Doflamingo's business is all ours!"

"Yeah, so... this was your plan from the beginning?"

"Are you all in a normal mind?! Doflamingo resigned from Shichibukai's position, no matter how you look at it, it has nothing to do with Bucky!!"

Mr. 3 was about to collapse. He thought that with the passage of time, these people would gradually recognize Bucky's essence, and finally abandon him.

As a result, their Dihua syndrome not only did not improve, but became more serious. It was just a brain supplement, but now it has begun to appear out of nothing.

If there were more allusions to this sea, I am afraid they would shout in unison that Doflamingo lost his wife and lost his army.

As the only sober person present, Mr. 3's words failed to wake them up, and Bucky also began to think about new things.

"That fellow Doflamingo resigned from Shichibukai's position, so I should be the only Shichibukai present. The world government and navy will definitely send people, and I can use them by then.

Hahaha, little ones, sail at full speed! The secret battle of the super invincible and great Mr. Bucky can be upgraded! "

"oh!"

Baki Express's pirate ship began to sail at full speed, and at this time, many forces had already arrived near Dressrosa, including the Sunshine.

After passing a dangerous sea slope, the border of Dressrosa has appeared in their field of vision.

The sea **** is also a special sea area in the new world. Like the mountain slope, it is a very steep current, and the hidden reef makes this place full of dangers. Here, Luffy and the others also met a very special person, an old man with a civet cat.

When the Sunshine appeared near here, it just happened to see the boat the old man was riding on was crashed by a reef. Based on Luffy's principle that less is worse than more, he directly stretched his arms and pulled him up.

"It's so dangerous, old man, why did you come to this kind of place alone?"

White hair, tall and thin, with two braids hanging down his shoulders.

Wine red, blood red, purple red, different red clothes are matched with him, even his eyebrows are deep red, looking at Luffy in front of him, the corner of the old man's mouth smiles unconsciously.

"You actually want to help someone who has nothing to do with it from the bottom of your heart?"

"What are you talking about, old man? It's just a little effort, is there any problem?"

"No, my name is Ryder. I'm here because I think it's interesting. There are many interesting things on Dressrosa."

"Really? That's great, we're going there too, old man, why don't you come with us, is this civet cat your pet?"

"Pet? No, this is my family, don't you think so, Padong?"

"Uh-huh."

The civet cat-like creature on Ryder's shoulder nodded. No one on board thought there was anything wrong with this old man, but if there were any strong men from the old era, they would understand who the man in front of him was.

Ryder is his real name, but his full name should be Baloric Redfield. Decades ago, the sea called him the Lonely Red, a rare lone ranger.

He was born with a special sense of knowledge, and has the ability to feel other people's inner thoughts and read other people's memories. Because of this ability, others have no secrets in front of him, which eventually led to his withdrawn personality.

Redfield is also one of the escaped prisoners on the sixth floor of the advancing city. After escaping from the advancing city, his body has aged, so he has his eyes on the devil fruit in the form of a bat fruit phantom beast and a vampire.

During this process, he was no longer alone, but met Pa Dong.

Originally, he should have met Luffy and his party in Sleeping Ancient Town, but now the timeline has undergone huge changes. Although he did not meet Luffy, Redfield got the fruit earlier.

And met many interesting people during the lonely travel, regained the original belief, and started sailing again.

At this time, he had already looked at his body squarely, and did not use the fruit to restore youth.

And he came here because the Zhenzhen fruit reminded him of the white beard back then, and he wanted to recall the past, and planned to take it away as a collection.

Didn't expect to meet this kind of incident, and Luffy's sincere heart also made him feel interesting.

"You are the king of soul?!"

"Yohohohoho, have you been recognized? Are you my fan?"

"Of course, I have been your fan for a long time."

Luffy's pirate road is inseparable from red hair, but Redfield's pirate road is inseparable from Brook.

When he was a child, he had seen the Rumba Pirates resting on the shore.

The purpose of the Rumba Pirates is to spread happiness. The cheerful scene made Redfield feel very comfortable. He chatted with Brook at the time and was infected by Brook's ideals.

After escaping from prison, he quickly recognized Brook's identity, but at this time, Brook hadn't recognized that Redfield was the kid who admired him back then, but he just thought the name was familiar

"Speaking of which, I also met a man named Ryder a long time ago, but I don't know how he is now, how many years ago was that?"

Luo was very resistant to Luffy's inexplicable behavior of pulling strangers onto the boat, especially after he inadvertently met Redfield's eyes, he actually developed a feeling of fear.

Fortunately, it is very close to Dressrosa here, and after they landed, they prepared to split up and start their operations.

"Eh? Where's Uncle Ryder? Why did he disappear as soon as he landed?" novelusb.cOm

"I don't know, the old man is so sensitive, I didn't notice how he disappeared, and Pa Dong disappeared, but since he is a fan of Brooke, he shouldn't be a bad person."

Chopper looked around and made a decision with strange logic. At this moment, a familiar voice came from behind Luffy.

"Luffy! You boy, long time no see!"

"Ace?! Why are you here too?"

"Of course it's for Papa's fruit, isn't that what you came here for?"

"No, Terran and I have reached an agreement to kill Doflamingo!"

Luo, who hadn't left yet, slipped and almost fell to the ground. He watched Luffy explain their plan completely in less than a minute.

"The Straw Hats! What did I tell you before?!"

"Keep it secret, but he's my brother, so it shouldn't matter."

"you"

Luo felt his heart beating faster. According to a doctor, this was not a good sign.

Compared to the carefree Luffy, Ace bowed to him instead.

"My brother will trouble you, this guy is stupid, always causing trouble for others."

But the next moment, Ace's expression changed.

"But if you dare to lie to him, I will teach you an unforgettable lesson."

【The Straw Hat Boy. Doesn't seem like a good alliance partner】

Looking at Luffy who had happily communicated with Ace, put the plan behind him, and said that he would help Ace get back the shocking fruit, Luo lost part of his confidence in the future, so he could only take Caesar to start his own actions based on the principle of out of sight, out of mind.

Luffy's relationship is complicated, which is beneficial to him in a sense. Anyway, as long as Doflamingo can be killed, other things don't matter.

The arrival of the remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates is just a signal. The BIG MOM Pirates led by Katakuri, Redfield who just left quietly, Shiryu with a broken arm, the Eight Treasures Navy, and the fleets of other kingdoms.

Navy warships, secret squads of the world government, personnel of the Revolutionary Army, supernovas of the year.

Bounty hunters, mercenaries, fighting champions, King Shichibukai, more and more forces appeared here, and Yamato's Pokémon also appeared at the port.

Monsters from different forces, races, and eras are all attracted here.

At this time, the residents of Dressrosa didn't know what happened. They were trying to keep Doflamingo because of the abdication notice issued at the same time.

In terms of face-saving projects, Doflamingo has also done a good job. Citizens who don't know the truth are more willing to believe the current king.

Chapter 1184 Are you letting me do team building here?

"Your Majesty the King! Please don't mention the abdication anymore!"

"Master Doflamingo! Is what the newspaper said true? It must be false!"

Outside the palace, there are countless citizens who came to keep Doflamingo because of the news in the newspaper. From the outsiders' point of view, Doflamingo seems to be really a virtuous king.

In fact, as a well-known joker in the underground world, Doflamingo paid great attention to the problem of character design. Although he personally directed the **** night in Dressrosa at that time, as the operator behind the scenes, no one knew that he did it.

King Liku, who was manipulated by the fruit of the line, was the real culprit of that night in the eyes of the public. It stands to reason that what Doflamingo did here was actually more extreme than the Wano country in the current timeline. However, he has the big killer of the childlike fruit in his hand.

The person who is turned into a toy by sugar will be forgotten by the world, whether it is parents, children, or spouse, they will not remember the existence of this person.

As a country in the New World, pirate attacks are an unavoidable problem. Doflamingo's identity as Shichibukai allows Dressrosa to avoid this risk.

Dressrosa's underground economy has also indirectly driven ordinary industries. In the eyes of ordinary people, they only see the good side of Doflamingo, so they naturally admire this king very much.

The sound outside did not affect Doflamingo. He was arranging his own plan inside and comforting his subordinates at the same time.

In a slightly dim room, four chairs with clubs, diamonds, hearts, and spades stand in parallel. This is the position of the four chief cadres of the Don Quixote family.

At this time, Diamanti's hands seemed to be shaking slightly while sitting on the square.

"As long as the arena opens, Dressrosa will become unprecedentedly grand."

Doflamingo's fingers danced in the air, as if he was manipulating something, and at the same time sighed about the situation in the arena.

The bullfighting arena can also be regarded as the pillar industry of Dressrosa. The ticket fees generated by the economy are only small profits, and the casinos that are spawned are the big ones.

"Diamanti, are you still nervous? You have to calm down, you are the king of the arena, you have experienced this kind of thing many times, right?"

"It's different this time, Dover."

Katakuri, Marco, Ace, the people found at the port made Diamanti feel nervous.

Even if Doflamingo promised that Diamanti would not encounter these monsters before the final, Diamanti's emotions still did not get any relief.

Fighting these monsters was too stressful for him.

And Doflamingo did this in order to confuse the sea and then seek greater profits.

Those who have some strength and talent in the Don Quixote family are basically capable people. The rest of them may not be able to display the ability of the shaking fruit. If a fruit can give birth to a sea emperor-like combat power, then the four emperors will not collapse directly after the death of White Beard.

Strength, power, talent, deterrence, these things are indispensable. Only by playing a sufficiently terrifying name, coupled with a little fuel from public opinion, will you be able to reach that position smoothly.

"Don't worry, reliable news, the lady of Beasts has arrived, at worst, just let her take the fruit."

Giving the fruit directly to Beasts won't get you anything more. Kaido is obsessed with animal-type abilities, and Beasts have been blowing out phantom beasts over the years, which has caused a very strange situation in the sea.

It is said every day that phantom beasts are rarer fruits than natural ones, but now the number of phantom beasts has surpassed that of ordinary animals.

In order to pursue greater profits, Doflamingo made this extremely risky move. The reason he dared to attract so many monsters was simply because of his partnership with Hundred Beasts.

As long as he is backed by the biggest monster, the little monster is nothing to worry about.

This event is also a grand event in the New World. The famous forces, except for the red hair, have no interest. They brought their big cadres to the concert, and almost everyone else stepped in.

"Dover, the people of beasts have also landed, and I brought you this thing too."

Torrebol wriggled in like a snail, covered in unknown mucus, and held a small box in his hand.

"啾啾啾啾, very good, Diamanti, this fruit will be given to you."

"No, no, Dover, you should hold it yourself, it's safer."

"No, you are a genius in the arena, I believe you can do this."

Originally, this was not an excuse. Diamanti himself is a narcissistic type, and he likes this kind of praise the most, but this time, he really doesn't want to take this hot potato. Who knows if there will be some lunatic who intends to grab the Zhenzhen fruit directly.

If it's some hidden monster, he's in big trouble.

But Doflamingo will have to deal with the threat from Luo in the future, and at the same time prepare to deal with the people of the navy and the world government. This fruit is still handed over to Diamanti in the end.

In the past, Diamanti would never have intervened in the arena before the final battle, but this time, under Doflamingo's order, he began to micro-manage carefully, assigning the contestants to different games.

Originally, they were divided into five groups, but this time they were forced to become eight groups. The purpose was to separate those monsters and let them try to defeat as many players as possible.

"Anyone want to stay and watch the ship?"

While Doflamingo and Diamanti were tensely preparing for the follow-up matters, everyone on the Pokémon seemed to be on a sightseeing trip.novelusb.com

The Pokémon with Plom as the core of its power is itself "alive". Even if no one is watching the ship, it can take care of itself. So this sentence actually means that if anyone is too lazy to travel, they can stay on the ship if they don't want to move.

The final answer is no, some of them have been to Dressrosa before, but they have never played to their heart's content.

The fragrance of flowers from the sunflower fields, the aroma of food from special dishes, the hot dancers on the island, and the strange toy culture, these are the four major selling points of Dressrosa.

After asking Prom to find a safe place by himself, Yamato and his party set foot on the island and quickly met acquaintances.

"Haerdin? Why are you here, where are the others?"

The giant of more than ten meters is very eye-catching on the street, but Yamato did not see other members of the New Giant Warrior Pirates.

"Miss Ghost Ji? There is no one else, I am the only one here this time.

Whitebeard's ability has actually regenerated. If I can get that ability, I will definitely be able to unify the entire giant family. It should be your goal, right? "

"Ah, it's not, actually, I'm here for it, um, that's it."

Yamato's real purpose is to take refuge, but the reason for the outside world is to get the shocking fruit, not to go out to play. Under Robin's light cough, she remembered this matter, and swallowed the words that came to her mouth.

"That's really difficult, but Miss Guiji, if I'm lucky enough to win the championship, it shouldn't be a problem to eat that fruit directly?"

"It doesn't matter, if you have the ability, go ahead and do it."

Helding didn't officially join, he was just a mercenary, but he was still half of his own. Facing Yamato, the half boss, he still had polite words.

Although he was hit by a single move last time, his fighting spirit has not been extinguished. It seems that even if he directly meets Yamato in the ring, he will spare no effort to fight.

"Hahaha, it's really lively here, do you mind if the old man comes to join in the fun?"

An old man with an awl head came here with a group of men. It is the green pepper of the Kingdom of Flowers.

But he is different from Haierding. Haierding is an employee of Yamato who cut off his own bullshit, so he is more familiar with it. The intersection of green peppers and beasts is when Zeraola helped him beat back the awl head.

Although after that, Qingjiao said that he would lead the Eight Treasures Navy to help Zeraora find what they wanted, but so many years have passed, and fate has not favored Qingjiao, and he has not gained anything.

This time I came here only because I noticed Yamato.

"Is Your Excellency Zeraora okay? I was grateful for his great kindness back then, but it's a pity I haven't seen him again for so many years."

Qingjiao's logic is very strange. What he values most is his awl head. No matter what he has done before, as long as he can help him get the awl head back, that is his benefactor.

But Zeraola didn't take this matter to heart at all. It was a misunderstanding at first, and Qingjiao was so polite that he felt embarrassed.

He didn't mean to get in touch with an old man, so he didn't have much contact with him for so many years, so that most of Beasts didn't have any impression of green peppers.

Except for Robin, she has some understanding of most of the people who have been traveling in various forces in the sea in those years.

"Green Pepper Cone, the leader of the Eight Treasures Navy in the Kingdom of Flowers, had a bounty of 542 million before retiring. He fought against Garp for a while when he was young, and he seems to have had an intersection with Zeraora a few years ago."

When Yamato was confused about who the old man who came together was, Robin introduced the identity of the other party softly in her ear, and he already belonged to the camp of half of the friendly army.

"The old man saw a lot of familiar faces here, they are all famous guys in the sea, if everyone's goal is to shake the fruit, how about uniting together first and driving the others away?

Of course, the old man is not very interested in that trembling fruit, it's just that he hasn't found what Your Excellency Zeraora was looking for for so many years, and he just wants to use this as compensation. "

"Robin, are you sure he fought Garp? This is too honest."

Looking at the kind smile on Qingjiao's face, Yamato felt that she was an old lady who sold tea in Baiwu, and she didn't look like a reward offerer at all, but what Qingjiao said later changed her mind.

"However. The old man read from the newspaper that the straw hat boy Luffy seems to have arrived here. If you encounter him, please give him to me. I'm sorry."

Chapter 1185 Meeting Ceremony in the New World

Qingjiao is not a person with a good personality. Although he keeps the kindness in his head in his heart, the same is true for hatred.

At the beginning, Garp punched away his proud awl head, which made Qingjiao suffer for many years.

Garp couldn't beat him, and this hatred extended to Garp's descendants.

As the former pillar of the Eight Treasures Navy, Qingjiao still has the ability to analyze the situation.

First, during the Dingshang War, the identities of Luffy and Ace brothers, and the identities of Garp and Luffy's grandson were all made public.

Then Whitebeard's Shocking Fruit reappeared. The Whitebeard Pirates would never allow this fruit to be taken away by others, especially Ace, who triggered the war.

The latest news about Luffy is that he formed an alliance with Luo in Punk Hazard. Qingjiao believes that there is a great probability that he will meet Luffy who comes to help his brother.

The Eight Treasures Navy and the New Giant Soldiers Pirates are not as obedient to the Beasts as the affiliated Pirates, but they are close to the forces here. It would be a good idea to form an alliance temporarily through the connections of the Beasts, but Yamato itself has no such interest.

"No, let's do it according to our own abilities. Just try our best when the time comes. If you want fruit, there is no need to be merciful."

Just kidding, her emergency evacuation was to avoid disasters, and the excuse of Zhenzhen fruit is not very sufficient. If she uses the strength of others, then there will be more troubles to go back.

"You guys go first, I want to play here for a while, see you later."

As he spoke, he ended the temporary team building, and left here with his own people, and in the dark, the people of the Don Quixote family also recorded all these.

"Giant mercenary Hyerdin, the eight-treasure navy has something to do with beasts, so he can't move."

The seemingly fair game is actually full of shady scenes, even before the game even started, the undercurrent has already begun to surge.

Yamato didn't rush to the bullfighting arena, as far as she knew, the game lasted a long time, and she could still enjoy this vacation.

Refuge belongs to asylum, but taking a vacation during the asylum process is also an important purpose of her.

"Speaking of which, is any of you going to compete?"

Yamato looked at the other people behind him. Robin first expressed that she was not interested in this, followed by Ulti, who expressed that she did not want to participate in this kind of boring fight.

Hearing what Ulti said, Peggy Wan suddenly became interested.

"Sister Yamato, I want to compete."

"What, Xiaopei, you actually like this kind of child's stuff, so I will reluctantly accompany you in the competition, and I will kill all the guys who get in the way for you."

"Eh, I suddenly don't want to compete again."

A repeated horizontal jump appeared between Ulti and Peggy Wan. Judging from the current situation, it was impossible for Peggy Wan to get rid of Ulti, and eventually became her partner on the field.

Speed, Mizeka, and Solitia also chose to participate in the competition in the end. Their eldest daughter went up to fight, but they couldn't just watch from the bottom.

When Yamato and his team had just decided on their future plans, Luffy was changing clothes. He was planning to participate in the competition and suddenly remembered that he came here with a plan, and it is not a good behavior to expose himself rashly, so he started sticking a beard on his face in front of Ace.

After dressing up, a gladiator named Lucy appeared.

"I said Luffy, what are you doing?"

"Ace, please call me Lucy now, I am not Luffy now, but a gladiator who came to help you."

"Ace, your brother is really interesting, but Ace's brother, this is not a child's play, so don't drag others down."

Looking at the child-like Luffy, Marco joked aside.

"No, I have practiced well in the past two years, and I will definitely help Ace!"

"Let's talk about this later, let's take you to see the opponents in the arena. I just saw a lot of troublesome opponents."

Pressing the slightly excited Luffy, Ace planned to observe some enemy situations first. In two years, he has become a lot more stable. The death of Whitebeard has changed him a lot, and he is no longer as reckless as before.

In order to get back this fruit smoothly, he must be fully prepared.

But when they left, there was a burst of excited gasps from the corner beside them, and a green-feathered rooster's face was flushed, as if he had seen something extraordinary.

"Hey hahahaha! Senior Luffy! It's Senior Luffy! He finally appeared again, Oye!" nOVELuSb.CoM

Bartolomeo, the captain of the Barto Club, a fanatic of Luffy.

The reason why he became a fan of Luffy was because he saw Luffy's feat in Luoge Town two years ago. Just this time, he was deeply attracted by Luffy.

But unlike the original timeline, after that, news of Luffy became rare, which led to the reduction of Luffy's popularity, and Bartolomeo became an even rarer fan.

After all, compared to those guys who have gained fame, his fans are only a little-known little pirate. This situation has not changed until after the top war.

"Senior Luffy is also here to compete, I must prove myself well! Bullfighting arena, my uncle is here!"

Bartolomio rushed towards the bullfighting arena at a pace that was more disrespectful than Doflamingo, and a green afterimage just like that knocked away many people on both sides of the road.

He was originally the leader of the gang in Rogue Town, with an outrageous and cruel personality. The bounty of 150 million Bailey means his status as a supernova, but he also has another layer of notoriety-No. 1 in the real-time ranking list of pirates who most want to disappear.

Bartolomeo has reached the top of the scale of obnoxiousness.

Soon after, the bullfighting arena, which has gathered a large number of spectators.

"Gentlemen, ladies, and toys present here! Today's grand ceremony will surely be recorded in history!"

On the arena of the arena, Gaz, who is the host, is introducing the game.

This place was originally a place where sword fighters competed in sword skills, but since Doflamingo came to power, it has become a place purely for killing each other and grandstanding, full of **** and violent atmosphere.

But this kind of violence is more eye-catching.

Everyone says they don't like violence, but who doesn't like to watch it? A speech from a fighter in a fighting arena.

"For today's grand occasion, our King His Majesty took out his treasure! He gave us this rare treasure directly!

Died in the Dingshang War two years ago, the original Four Emperors, the strongest man in the world - white beard Edward Newgate! Shaking fruit!

You can create a tsunami with just a wave of your hand, and you can destroy an island with anger. The strongest superhuman ability has now been transformed into a devil fruit, and it's here! "

By using the phone bug's loudspeaker, Gaz's voice spread throughout the bullfighting arena, and every word he said would arouse cheers from the audience.

"Today, under the call of His Majesty the King, the warriors of the new world have gathered in this arena. There are also other applicants who think they are extraordinary.

Due to the large number of people, the rules have been changed this time. There are a total of eight divisions. The top two in each division will advance to the finals. The final champion will be fought by these sixteen people. But before that, the knockout round is the first! "

The host exits, the contestants enter the stage, and within a few minutes, the competition in Area A is ready.

"Everyone is an enemy except myself. Death, falling out of the field, and losing the ability to fight will all be considered failures. Let's see which two can stand in the end!

By the way, I would like to remind all newcomers that there are schools of betta fish waiting for those who fall into the water in the sea around the arena.

Now, the 188-player knockout round in Zone A officially begins! "

Following Gaz's signal, the fighting in the arena has officially begun, and the gladiators carrying crude armor and weapons attacked the enemy on the side without saying a word.

Less than a minute after the start of the battle, a large number of players died, and some in their early years fell directly into the surrounding sea, attracting the attack of Douyu in an instant.

In the surrounding arena, Luffy is also watching the battle with Ace and others.

"Ace, they don't look very good."

"The powerful guy hasn't done it yet, and the fruit of the old man is not something that cats and dogs are qualified to touch. These people who don't know their own strength are living examples.

See that guy with the scarf? Luluxi. "

"See, what's the matter Ace?"

"That person is a difficult guy, Katakuri, the son of Big Mom, and the strongest general of the Big Mom Pirates.

Besides him, there are quite a few tough guys up there, but they haven't done anything yet. "

In addition to the monsters from all over the new world, Doflamingo also attracted many guys with little strength but extremely ambitious ambitions.

At this time, the arena in Area A has been divided into several parts. Hundreds of people are fighting in the middle, but those with ideas occupy the peripheral parts.

"Murloc Haku knocked down his opponent with one blow! Elizabello II's army is under siege, and it seems that the situation is not going well. Wait, the three brothers from the BIG MOM Pirates finally act!"

Gaz tried his best to explain, and his irritable tone made people very worried, whether he would suffocate to death if he couldn't catch his breath.

"Brother Katakuri, don't you want to watch anymore?"

"It's not necessary, there is no opponent worthy of attention in the arena, I have seen that boring future, difficult guys are all in the stands, there is no need to waste time.

Dafuku, Owen, kill these guys, but don't expose too much. "

"Yes, Katakuri-san."

Dafuku took the lead, and he rubbed his hands on his waist, and a blue lamp spirit holding a naginata, like the lamp **** in Aladdin's magic lamp, emerged from his waist. It seemed to be an independent entity, but it was connected to Daifuku through a wisp of steam.

Dafuku is a Superman with the ability to transmute fruit. He is a magical lamp, but he cannot make a wish. He can only use the summoned lamp spirit to fight instead of himself.

"Go, Demon Slash!"

Under Dafu's order, Deng Ling waved forward with a long knife in his hand, and a clean fan-shaped area was immediately cleared in front of him. All the players within Dafu's attack range lost their combat power under this blow.

Seeing that his brother had already made a move, Owen was not to be outdone, his hands began to heat up, and his body gradually became extremely red. He is a superhuman-type hot fruit capable person, who can quickly heat up the body and change the temperature of the contact object.

"Hot Wind Fist!"

With a wave out of thin air, the air suddenly became scorching hot, and then it turned into a scorching current and swept forward. After the two attacks, there were only single-digit players left on the field in Area A

Chapter 1186 Those who have seen the world and those who have not seen the world

"It doesn't look like they are all trash, there are still a few guys who can see through, Katakuri-san."

After the blow, 90% of the people in the area A were emptied, and only a very small number of people persisted in the ring.

"One strike at a time! The two of them cleared most of the players with one blow! It seems that this will be the least time-consuming match in the bullfighting arena. Is this the strength of the sons of the emperor of the sea? !

Only the murloc fighter Haku and Elizabello II's army survived the attack. It seems that the winner of Area A has been locked in advance!

I didn't expect that the full-load fight would end so quickly, but don't worry, because there are at least seven more games today, even if they don't count the finals! "

The expansion of five games into eight games was roughly reserved by them based on the information of the contestants.

The number of people that the arena can carry is limited, and each round of the field can hold at most about 200 people. If there are more people, people near the edge of the area will have to be bitten by the fighting fish without the start of the game.

And there is another problem - worldly.

Just by looking at the list, Doflamingo could guess who would advance to the next level. Letting those monsters fight each other for internal friction is the way to increase the winning rate of his own people, but Doflamingo didn't do that.

He can put BIG·MOM, Whitebeard, and Beasts in the same field, which will consume a lot of combat power, but after the shocking fruit thing is over, he still has to do business.

Who knows which faction will be cautious because of this, thinking that Doflamingo did it on purpose, so he simply put these combat powers in different arenas, giving them equal opportunities to advance, and if they are killed in the finals, they will have nothing to say.

Killing ordinary players, but also taking care of promotion candidates, it seems that there is no shady scene, but it is full of shady scenes everywhere. It can be said that Doflamingo has worked hard for this.

Logically speaking, Diamanti, as the defender, can directly enter the finals, but Doflamingo let him also directly participate, but the assignments are all ordinary players who are not well-known.

"Good and strong"

"It's still far away, the one who summoned the devil is called Charlotte Daifuku, and the one who is steaming is Charlotte Owen, both are sons of BIG Mom, and the bounty is 300 million Berries.

Although he is the strongest among the children of BIG·Mom, he is not the strongest. The one with the scarf is the most difficult to deal with. "

It is reasonable to say that Luffy has seen big scenes in the battle on the top, but at that time he wanted to rescue Ace, and he only paid attention to the people who blocked him in front of him. Those monsters have stronger people to deal with them. When Luffy was not paying attention to them, he did not pay much attention to the battle.

This is the first time that he, as a spectator, has watched the battle of the strong in the new world up close.

When he first went to sea, Yamato had used his hands, but at that time Luffy was too weak to see anything clearly. Only now did he truly appreciate the power of it.

Coupled with Ace's explanation on the side, it also made Luffy understand more things.

In a sense, Raleigh really only laid the foundation. Luffy who came to the new world knew nothing about the situation in the new world. Raleigh only gave a rough idea, and didn't mention the specific situation at all.

For comparison, Raleigh read the name of the book, and Luo briefly read the table of contents when he was on the boat, and only Ace, the brother, explained the contents of the book.

"However. Why do I feel that Hero looks down on them?"

Luffy looked surprised, which was also expected by Ace. Luffy is a type who likes to make a fuss, but Hero's calmness made him feel very strange.

He remembered very clearly that this unicorn fairy was extremely intelligent. At least in Ace's mind, Hero's intelligence was greater than that of Luffy, and Hero was inseparable from Luffy, but its performance seemed to have seen bigger scenes.

"Huh? Hero has always been like this, nothing strange."

Everyone has their own little secrets, and so does Hero. There is one thing he hasn't told Luffy about - its origin.

Although he left the Wano country not long after its birth, in its short life in the Wano country, it has seen battles between cadres and the fight between Kaido and Yamato.

The battle of fighting to death is much more exciting than it is now.

Both Irving and Daifuku are just warming up. Just as some knowledgeable people in the stands think that Katakuri will be the winner, Katakuri is also analyzing who he will face in the final. Before that, he doesn't want to reveal too much of his true skills.

The auditorium was really exciting to watch, but it was different in the ring. Even if they didn't exit the stage under the attack of Daifuku and Owen, they still felt a huge threat.

"so close."

Looking at the burn marks on his left arm, Haku's muscles tensed up. He was closer to the edge. When the hot wind fist hit him, the power had been weakened a lot, but it still caused a lot of trouble.

On the other side, the number of legions in the Kingdom of Providence also dropped sharply. Elizabello II had only Da Gama and two guards left in front of him. They relied entirely on the meat shield bought by Da Gama just now, and forcibly held back the remaining power of Owen's Hot Wind Fist.

"Your Majesty, how is it?"

Da Gama's tone was a little anxious. The Kingdom of Prodece had great ambitions for the Zhenzhen Fruit. Coupled with Elizabello II's special ability, Da Gama made a lot of preparations before the war.

The tactics are very simple, buy other players, use the number of people to delay the time for Elizabello II, and give him time to prepare for the King's Fist.

This is also the housekeeping skill of the Kingdom of Prodece based on the new world. The King's Fist secreted by the Elizabello family is extremely powerful. On the battlefield, Elizabello II once used this punch to destroy the enemy's fortress.

But the price is that this punch takes too long and requires a long preparation, and after the punch, Elizabello II will be unable to carry out a second attack, and can only be used as a key deterrent weapon.

According to Vasco da Gama's plan, as long as it is delayed until Elizabello II can swing the king's fist, it will be enough to seal the victory, but the ring is far more cruel than he thought.

"It's still a little bit worse, just a little more time."

Elizabello II didn't stop moving, and kept waving his fists in the air. From the sweat streaming down his forehead, it could be seen that he had already tried his best at this time.

And at this time, an even stranger person appeared.

Clatter.

There was a sound of water, and at the edge in another direction, Bartolomeo was urinating into the auditorium.

Facing the yelling from the audience, instead of feeling shy, he trembled, and then took out a black ball from his pocket.

"It's really ugly! Seeing the faces of you guys makes me feel uncomfortable! Does this kind of program make you enjoy watching it? Huh?"

Immediately afterwards, he struggled to hold the black ball and threw it towards the auditorium.

"You all go to hell!"

Threatening speech, the black ball in the shape of a bomb, the moment it landed, fear spread in the audience, no matter men, women or toys, they all ran towards the distance.

The narrow auditorium was suddenly congested. Some people wanted to use money to open the way, and some pretended to be pitiful to get sympathy, but under the threat of death, everything was in vain.

No one is willing to give up their hope, which makes the passageway more congested, until the black ball hits the ground, and the surrounding crowd has not dispersed. In the face of life and death, no one pays attention to their appearance, which can be said to be ugly.

And when they found out that it was not a bomb, but just a frightening black ball, the emotions in their hearts exploded, and countless sundries flew in the direction of Bartolomeo.

Relying on his own barrier fruit, Bartolomeo successfully blocked Owen's large-scale attack and became one of the few survivors.

"Brother Katakuri, I think that cockscorn is quite reasonable. These guys are really annoying."

"Really, you two go to deal with the others, the cockscorn head let me do it, there is one minute left, this match should be over."

Katakuri has already seen the result. If Owen and Daifuku are allowed to deal with Bartolomeo, they will waste time because of the barrier fruit. Although his own strength is not strong, the barrier fruit is a bug.

The strange defensive power made most people helpless. The attacks of Owen and Daifuku were not enough to break through their barriers. There were just three forces left on the field, which corresponded to the opponents of the three brothers.

"Hot Sea Boiling Fist!"

Owen's eyes were burning with flames, and he regarded Haku as his opponent. He approached the opponent in an instant, and his fists collided many times.

Even if his fist didn't hit directly, the accompanying high temperature would still burn the opponent, and it didn't take long for Haku to expose his flaws and declare bankruptcy.

As for Elizabello II, his King's Fist still hadn't been able to finish charging, but Daifuku's demons had already killed him. Including Vasco da Gama, the last two guards were knocked down by Daifuku's demons.

"I can't help it.. I can only send the small ones first"

Seeing that the devil was approaching, Elizabello II had to stop charging ahead of time and punched in the direction of Daifuku.
noVelus&.Com

"Small King's Fist!"

The demon summoned by Daifuku shattered at the sound, and was directly smashed into a cloud of smoke by Elizabello II's fist, but Daifuku jumped high in the process, avoiding the attack of the King's Fist.

"This kind of attack. Sure enough, Morgans is bragging again."

As one of the kings of the underground world, Morgans often appears in Charlotte Lingling's tea parties. The members of the Charlotte family can be said to be very clear about how much this albatross loves false propaganda.

The King's Fist is known as a terrifying blow that can knock down even the Four Emperors, but it turns out that this fist can't deter the Four Emperors at all. If there is such a strategic weapon, the territory of the Kingdom of Providence should have expanded long ago.

Although it was Xiaowei's punch, it made Daifuku come to a conclusion. Although the demon was crushed, in the blink of an eye, the cloud of smoke turned into a new demon.

"Majin Hunter!"

The demon waved the naginata in his hand, leaving a huge wound on Elizabello II's body from top to bottom. Even if it was a small king's fist, it would still make Elizabello II stiff after it was released, and it was a living target in Daifuku's eyes.

Following Daifuku's body kicked him in the head, all the players in the Kingdom of Prodece were wiped out.

Only Bartolomeo, who is not a member of the Charlotte family, was left. Looking at the three Charlotte brothers, not only did he not feel scared, but he also felt that this was an opportunity.

【Senior Luffy! You will definitely see me for this kind of opportunity, let me show my ability! 】

Bartolomeo drooled from the corner of his mouth, as if thinking of a very special picture.

His luck along the way can also be called against the sky. He can reach the new world alive without the guidance of the country grandmother without the sea navigator. With the bug of the barrier fruit, as long as he can prop up the barrier in time, he will be invincible.

But what he faced was not an ordinary opponent. To Katakuri, this short few seconds was a lore.

Looking at Katakuri's fist, Bartolomeo propped up the barrier as before, but Katakuri seemed to have seen all this a long time ago. The moment the barrier just appeared, his fist drew a broken line and bypassed the barrier in front of him.

This is the first time Bartolomeo has confronted the pirates of the first echelon under the Emperor of the Sea. He has no idea how far Katakuri has mastered knowledge.

Before he opened the barrier on the side, Katakuri's fist hit his head, and his body fell limply on the ring.

Chapter 1187: What have you learned in the past two years? weak old man

"Daifuku, Irving's ability is more suitable for the finals than yours. You should withdraw first."

"Yes, I understand, Katakuri-san."

Katakuri has absolute prestige among brothers and sisters. At this time, Katakuri believes that Owen's hot fruit has much more room to play than Daifuku's transpiration fruit.

After all, in a 2v14 melee, Daifuku, who uses a golem to fight, is likely to be raided on his body, but Owen has no such concerns.

Listening to Katakuri's arrangement, as the younger brother, Daifuku didn't argue at all, and directly chose to admit defeat and surrender.

"The three Katakuri brothers killed their opponents in seconds! A contestant was born! Charlotte Katakuri and Charlotte Owen advanced to the final!"

Gaz, who was the commentator, seemed to be more excited than the contestants, and he was already standing on the table.

Then he picked up the microphone and continued: Let us observe three seconds of silence for the unlucky ones who died in the ring. As for the injured, don't worry. His Majesty the King has prepared an excellent medical team to ensure that everyone can be healed.

"That guy's fist... so fast, Ace, what kind of ability is he?"

Luffy caressed his straw hat. From Katakuri's fist, he even saw some shadows of his own moves. The way he swung his fist was too similar to the fourth-speed snakeman mode he developed.

"Well, the superhuman type Nuo Nuo fruit, a special superhuman type that can turn the body into a rice cake, don't look like a rice cake, but with his knowledge and color, this fruit is even more difficult to deal with than the natural type."

"Is he very knowledgeable?"

"Of course, it's also the top one in the New World. It is said that his sense of knowledge can predict the future."

"Foresee the future? Can knowledge and color still do this kind of thing?"

"you do not know?"

Looking at Luffy's confused eyes, Ace also became puzzled.

"I don't know, isn't knowledge and knowledge a domineering way to predict the enemy's attack and then dodge it?"

I seem to have a little impression, but I'm not sure. "

Recalling for a while, Luffy felt that he seemed to have forgotten something, but he couldn't remember it.

As a junior teacher, Raleigh mentions it casually at most, which is hard to impress.

"Knowledge and knowledge are also divided into degrees. Some people are born with special abilities because of their arrogance, and very few people can train to the point of predicting the future. Judging by your appearance, you don't know that armed colors can be released externally, or even internally destroyed, right?"

"I seem to have heard of this, and I don't seem to have heard of it."

"What have you been doing for the past two years? Hehe, did Rayleigh teach him, and then he didn't remember it at all?"

Ace looked at Helo suspiciously. Luffy said that he had practiced with Rayleigh, the king of the underworld, for two years. During these two years, he could not learn the advanced domineering Ace could understand, but he didn't understand at all.

"Hello."

Hero recalled it for a while, then shook his head, it doesn't have any memory in this regard either.

"You have laid the foundation really thoroughly."

Ace helplessly covered his face. It seems that his younger brother needs a lot of tutoring, and Rayleigh, the teacher of the elementary class, probably didn't mention any advanced things.

Even if there are not many people in the new world who have mastered this level of domineering, he shouldn't be able to do so. Ace doesn't know how to evaluate it at this time.

"Okay, let him learn slowly in the battle, Ace's younger brother, watch carefully, you will see a lot of exaggerated things in this arena."

Marco took a bite of the pineapple, his eyes kept scanning the bullfighting arena, as if he was looking for something.

Katakuri and him are also old opponents. Although it is difficult to deal with, it is still within the range that can be dealt with.

Marco, who has personally experienced the war on the top, knows very well that the biggest trouble has not yet appeared, but he has searched for several times, but he has not seen the figure of the Beasts

"Well, that's the only way to go."

A battle cannot scare Luffy, even if the enemy is very strong, he still has no fear, but a battle can scare Bucky.

On the other side of the stand, Bucky has opened his mouth wide. After becoming Shichibukai, he has been relying on his name as a behind-the-scenes umbrella, and has never personally participated in the battle of the new world.

Usually he still hides, if he really gets into this ring, he might be beaten into a cake.

"Just sneak away before these guys find out...Anyway, there are so many people, they may not be able to see me"

Thinking of this, Bucky's two feet have been separated from his body, and he is walking towards the distance. As long as his feet reach a safe position, his body can fly over quietly.

In order not to attract the attention of his subordinates, other parts of Bucky did not keep up, which caused his feet to accidentally step on other people.

"Captain Bucky. Where are you going?!"

The moving feet were discovered, and Bucky's little thoughts were instantly discovered.

"Could it be that after seeing such a fierce battle, you can't hold back the blood in your heart, do you want to participate in the competition in advance?!"

"me."

"Originally we wanted to use numbers to help you achieve your goals, but now it seems that this is an insult to you, it is our fault, and we shouldn't want to intervene in your battle!"

"No! Little ones, it doesn't matter. It's a rare opportunity to perform, everyone come with me! This competition must have attracted the attention of the whole world. I can't monopolize such a good opportunity!"

Seeing that the crowd tactics were about to turn into him going up to gang fights alone, Bucky panicked immediately, and quickly stopped these little guys who continued to make up their minds, and came up with a legitimate reason for them to go up together.

Moved, Bucky and the group of Bucky Express rushed to the preparation area in a mighty way. When Mr. 3, Mochi and others came back with food, Bucky and the others had disappeared.

"Strange, didn't Bucky say that he wanted to watch the battle here, and wait for the powerful guy to kill himself before playing? Why did he disappear?"

"I don't know, maybe they ran away, but why are those guys gone?"

"Forget it, keep reading, auspicious people have their own destiny, and Bucky will be fine."

Several people made sure of each other, thinking that there would be no problem with Bucky, so they continued to watch the game with the food they bought.

At the same time, the contestants in the preparation area and area B also got ready.

The sandbags that were crushed, the fighters sparring with each other, and the bounty hunters wiping their weapons, they were all in full swing preparing for the next battle.

The battle in Area A was faster than they imagined, and it also made them realize that this would be an extremely fierce battle.

On the bench at the side, Laidfield and Padong, whose pseudonym was Ryder, sat silently on the bench.

"Boss Ryder, it's so lively here, let's find some more partners, the voyage with just the two of us is too boring."

The experience after being released from prison made Laidfield change his mind and began to face up to his heart. After decades of walking alone, he also had an idea for his partner for the first time. It is enough to illustrate this from the fact that he did not directly veto Pa Dong's idea.

"Don't worry, Padong, it's not so easy to find a reliable and powerful partner. If you are really a trustworthy person, you can give him the Zhenzhen Fruit."

Both Redfield and Padong are capable people, and they came here to collect the Zhenzhen Fruit, so now Redfield doesn't mind giving it to others, but in his words, he already regards it as his own.

"My session is about to start, you can wait here first, I will be back soon."

The bullfighting arena does not have any requirements on the race of the contestants. Although Padong is only a civet cat or a raccoon, he is still eligible to participate, but he is not in the same group as Redfield.

Participation is free, and no one can question the identity of the contestants, but some people don't see it that way. After hearing Laidfield's speech, a tall and muscular man wearing only shorts and a cape on his back came here.

"I said old man, what big talk are you talking about?"

"I don't know you, do I?"

"Of course you don't know him. The frail old man is still coming to participate in the competition? Stop joking. What the audience wants to see is the duel between the strong. They have no interest in the competition of crushing an ant."

"Oh? They were very interested in watching the crushing match in Zone A just now."

".Stop talking about teaching the old man! Get out of here! This is not where you should appear!"

As he spoke, he punched Redfield in front of him.

"Spartan! Stop!"

The people on the side saw his actions and hurriedly stopped him, but it was useless at all.

Spartan himself is a gladiator in the bullfighting arena. He has won the fifty-first month championship and is one of the star gladiators in the arena.

Although he is favored and popular, his temperament is very domineering and arrogant, and he often bullies other players in private.

In his thinking, the arena is sacred, and old men, little ghosts, and women who look very weak should not appear here.

Facing his punch, Redfield just swayed casually, completely defeating his attack.

Seeing that he didn't even touch an old man with a single punch, Spartan seemed to feel that he had lost face, and ignored the rule that no hands were allowed in the audience, so he wanted to continue attacking Redfield.

"Stop!"

A clear female voice sounded from behind the pillar on the other side. Then a shield was thrown from a distance.

Although it hit the target, it was useless. It was instantly bounced off by the muscles of Spartan, but the female voice also made Spartan temporarily stop his movements.

"Rebecca? Are you going to participate? There are so many people who can't see themselves clearly.

You didn't escape today? You usually walk around when you see me, do you think I'm going to play today, and I dare not do it? ! "

Rebecca is one of the players that Spartan usually bullies. Seeing Rebecca dare to stand up for others, the anger in his heart burned even more, and he wanted to do it regardless of the consequences.

But at this time, Redfield moved.

He slowly raised his umbrella and pointed the tip at Spartan.

"You are right, ants or something, it is better to stay away."

It's not that Laidfield didn't do nothing just now, but read Spartan's memory, and took a rough look at this man's past life.

Spartan should be grateful to those who made Redfield make changes. They let Redfield face up to his heart and have more human touch.

Otherwise, he will regret it so much at this time, and he won't even have a chance to regret it.

"What are you talking about, old man!"

Looking at Redfield's contemptuous eyes, Spartan threw his fist at him recklessly.

But Redfield just gently swung the umbrella in his hand, and Spartan stopped abruptly, and then smashed a big hole in the ground, and finally lost consciousness.

"It's really an ant, can't you stand it? You are right, the ants who don't know the heights of the sky and the depths of the earth, let's get out."

Ledfield stepped on the fallen Spartan and walked over. The crowd around fell silent, and no one could see what happened. In their eyes, Laidfield didn't do anything, and Spartan just passed out.

Even the referee in charge here has no reason to let Laidfield out. After all, the provocateur himself fell into a coma.

At this time, Redfield walked in front of Rebecca, with a little more interest in his eyes.

"Little girl, such a cool dress won't increase your defense."

Chapter 1188 Blank memory, the so-called weakest partition

Very cool clothing, except for the breastplate and crotch, most of the body is exposed. Compared with defense, her armor is more about covering the last privacy. In Redfield's view, this is meaningless.

And she is Rebecca, the granddaughter of King Riku, the former King of Dressrosa, and one of the direct victims of Doflamingo's actions.

Mother Scarlet died at the hands of Diamanti, and father Cyrus was also turned into a toy soldier and was forgotten by the world. In order for Rebecca to have the ability to protect herself, Cyrus had to let her learn to fight.

But it is obvious that Rebecca is not a natural fighting type, and she doesn't have the slightest advantage in strength. She can only make up for her weaknesses in terms of skills.

After Doflamingo came to power, Violet served as a cadre in the Don Quixote family because of her ability. Apart from that, all the other royal families and their followers could do was live and fight as sword fighters in the bullfighting arena for the entertainment of others.

If Wano Country is shown, the Kozuki family and their retainers will understand that Hyakushou's methods have been extremely gentle. After all, Hyakushou and Kozuki's family have no fundamental conflicts, and Hyakushou is not the original royal family of Wano Country, and Kaido himself doesn't care about that kind of thing.

But Dressrosa is different. Many years ago, before the establishment of the world government, the royal family of Dressrosa was originally the Don Quixote family. It was not until they went to Marie Gioia as Tianlong people that the royal family of Dressrosa became the royal family of Liku.

In Brother Ming's view, he only got back his own things, and with his character, he developed into this appearance.

Doflamingo didn't aim for persecution like Black Tan Orochi, but he didn't want to use any soft methods. If he didn't want to use Violet's ability, Doflamingo wouldn't have kept the royal family.

After Doflamingo came to power, the arena would be deadly. Rebecca, who has no advantage in strength, has a character that doesn't want to hurt others.

In this case, she finally chose to fight with her back against the edge of the arena, and her fighting method was to let the players she was fighting fall out of the arena and lose their fighting qualifications.

Even if she was hit while wearing solid armor, she would still be severely injured, so she simply discarded all the extra armor to reduce the burden on her body and maximize her flexibility.

"Padong, do you think I was too withdrawn in the past? I suddenly discovered that there are many interesting people in this world. Apart from disgusting emotions, I can occasionally meet a few idiots, and these days I see a surprising number of them."

"I don't know, Boss Ryder, we have only known each other for more than a year, but Boss Ryder, you have really changed a lot after sleeping in the ancient town."

"Is it just over a year? That's really a long time, so little girl, do you want to get the power of the shaking fruit?"

Ledfield's knowledge is extremely willful, as long as he wants to, he can understand the past and thoughts of most people in a very short period of time.

It is precisely because most people do not have any secrets in front of him that he has developed an aloof character, and it is difficult to find a partner that suits him.

During the period when Rebecca was in shock because of Spartan's inexplicable fall, Redfield had roughly looked at Rebecca's memory and heart, and also knew the reason for her participation in the bullfight arena.

Get the power of the shaking fruit and defeat Doflamingo.

Regarding this question, Rebecca nodded silently, and then said: "Aren't you the same old man? You still yearn for that fruit at such an age. Speaking of which, Whitebeard is also a very old person. It is no wonder that this fruit is so attractive to the elderly."

"Yes, Newgate can still do this kind of thing at his age. It's better to have more people here who are worthy of my hands."

Ledfield eased his arm. Now that he has faced up to his aging body, and the white beard of his age can bloom the last glory in his twilight years, then he has no reason.

"Your name is Rebecca, right? I have a question. Who is that stone statue over there?"

"Is that stone statue? Cyrus, the legendary man in the bullfighting arena, has never lost in 3,000 fights and was only injured once. It is said that he has been active in this arena until 20 years ago.

But then he disappeared suddenly. No one had any impression of him, and no one knew him, just like a fabricated legend. "

"Well, there is indeed a problem in this country."

For Redfield, the past of other people is a slide in his mind, but in Dressrosa, he failed to load the slide more than once.

People here seem to have some memories blocked, memories that even he can't see, especially for the sword fighters in the arena.

As long as it is related to this statue, it must be a memory that cannot be seen. This strange phenomenon made Redfield have some extra interest.

At this time, the manager of the preparation area came over, looked at the unconscious Spartan, looked around, and asked, "What's going on?"

"I don't know, he passed out suddenly, maybe he was too weak."

"Old man, don't be joking, why did Spartan suddenly faint by himself? Did anyone see who was fighting?"

Asked around privately, but the answer was without exception. Spartan himself passed out when he beat someone, and in the end the matter was left alone.

After he left, bursts of laughter came from the preparation area.

"Hey, Rebecca, you are glad to see this guy is unlucky!"

"Yeah, he has been bullying you, but unfortunately, we can't continue today."

Amidst the jeers from the crowd, Rebecca bit her lips tightly and said nothing, which made Redfield, who saw Rebecca's memories, have some thoughts.

"Although you are very weak, you are different from other people here, and you can barely make me agree with your heart. So Rebecca, are you interested in going to sea with me?

As you get older, it seems good to have someone doing odd jobs on board, what do you think, Pa Dong? "

"I have no objection, as long as you like it, Boss Ryder."

The lonely red, the Red Earl, is also a person at the apex of an era. After he faced up to his own heart, he also had absolute confidence in his own strength.

He wants a partner with strength and heart that he can admire, and he pays more attention to heart than strength.

Although Rebecca is weak, she is qualified in this respect.

"Old man, are you kidding me?"

"No, but I haven't fully figured it out yet. If you become my crew member, it's not impossible to fight Doflamingo for you."

"You may not know Doflamingo's strength. You'd better not meddle in such things at will."

Although Rebecca stopped Spartan, she didn't realize how terrifying Redfield's strength was. She didn't know that Redfield's words were not jokes.

As a willful pirate, he could really do this kind of thing just because Rebecca's actions made him look at it a few more times, and then he became interested.

"Anyway, you are also in District B, so the person who advances to District B is you and me. There are some things, we can wait and see before making a decision."

As soon as this remark came out, the laughter in the preparation hall was even stronger, but Redfield didn't care at all, and instead walked towards the competition, leaving only Rebecca in a daze.

"I never said that. I'm a player from Zone B."

"Okay everyone! After a long wait, the battle in Area B is ready! Let's see who the players are in this field! Arsonist Damesc, Conjurer Mami, and Army Captain Logan!

Oh, there is also the rare beautiful girl gladiator in this arena, the phantom princess Rebecca! "

Those people before, no matter what their titles were, got cheers when they appeared on the stage, but Rebecca was the only one. When she stepped into the ring, the audience only insulted her.

"Go to hell, Rebecca! You must be hacked to death today!"

"Go to hell, you **** of King Liku's clan!"

"You are really unpopular, even so, you don't hate these guys? Don't you want to kill them all?"

Ledfield became the only one who was willing to talk to Rebecca, and the other players even stayed away from here as soon as they debuted in order not to be affected.

"These... are all Doflamingo's fault, they are all innocent."

But at this time, the audience suddenly changed their tone, and a character they liked very much appeared on the stage.

"Oh! He is here! Together with the king of our country, Don Quixote Doflamingo, one of the highest cadres of the family who saved the country, and the operator of the bullfighting arena, our hero, Mr. Diamanti!

In order to show fairness, Mr. Diamanti will also personally participate in the knockout round this time! "

Gaz's voice became hoarse due to excitement. Amidst the cheers, Diamanti took the microphone and came to the center of the ring as if performing.

This is the result based on the grouping. The arena is full of people who seem to have a lot of fame, but they have no real strength, which can make him advance smoothly.

And there is Rebecca, the target of hatred, on the scene. The hero defeats the villain, which is the most popular item here.

With the appearance of Diamanti, the stage mood in area B of the bullfighting arena was also pulled to the peak, and the battle began.

"The army leader of the Kingdom of Magi Azka, Rolinger Logan, is showing his special skills. Rolinger's death spin! The arena is disrupted because of him!

It is said that his grip strength is a full 500 kilograms. If he grabs it, his bones will be completely crushed! "

Logan's death spin is to grab a player and roll on the ground. This tactic is really effective in this small arena, but the eye-catching Logan seems to have aroused Diamanti's displeasure.

"Too showy, this is my stage, bullfighting cape!"

Diamanti appeared on Logan's only way, shaking his cloak to meet Logan. It seemed to be a light and fluffy cloak, but at the moment of contact, Logan was blown away.

Diamanti is the Bannerman of the Superman series, Flying Fruit. He can turn any object he touches into a light and silky form, but the material of this object will not change.

The seemingly light cloak on his body is actually made of thick steel, and with the help of his ability, he can restore his original state at any time, so Logan was easily knocked out of the ring by him.

"Mr. Diamanti! He actually shot so quickly. I thought Logan was capable of advancing, but it's a pity. In front of our hero, he has no strength to fight back!

At this time, the cursed princess Rebecca also quietly picked up many enemies, it was her backwater sword dance! "

The audience showed more exaggerated changes than the Busan Library, constantly switching between cheers and boos, and under the leadership of someone, they finally unified into another caliber.

"Master Diamanti! Get rid of Rebecca!"

"Yes, Lord Diamanti, kill that annoying woman!"

"Hahaha, Rebecca, you are really disgusting.

This is the voice of the audience. If everyone shouts like that, it will be very embarrassing for me to do nothing, but don't worry, Dover's order will only make you suffer a little bit now. "

As he spoke, he took out a few paper fireworks from his bosom.

In the bullfighting arena, long-range attack firearms, bows and crossbows are not allowed, but abilities are not disabled, and weapons in the hand can also be thrown.

The paper fireworks made by Diamanti using his ability can be regarded as walking on the red line of the rules, and there is a lot of room for manipulation whether they violate the rules. As the organizer here, it is obvious that Diamanti is a privilege.

In order to be on the safe side, there is no strong person in Area B, so Diamanti wants to kill the opponent here as soon as possible, otherwise he will look like a waste against the backdrop of Katakuri and others.

"Death Stardust!"

A large number of small pieces of paper suddenly appeared in the sky above the arena. After Diamanti released his ability, those pieces of paper immediately returned to their original shape, turning into iron **** full of thorns and smashing down.

"It's appeared! It's Mr. Diamanti's ultimate move! It seems that he wants to quickly clear the enemy! In this narrow arena, this is really a killer weapon. Wait! Who is that old man?!"

Diamanti blocked this indiscriminate attack by relying on the folded iron umbrella. Others were not so lucky. In this limited venue, the only area where they could avoid the attack was outside the ring.

Under the threat of the thorn rain, many people chose to abandon the game, and those who persisted also wailed, but Rebecca was safe and sound. Beside her, Redfield opened his umbrella, and under the umbrella became an absolute safety zone.

"Rebecca, you don't have enough assessment of your own strength. Even if you have the Shocking Fruit, I'm afraid you won't be able to achieve your goal."

Umbrella is an ordinary umbrella, but its domineering spirit is very strong.

"It's much more convenient to clean up so many people. Next, just watch."

His arm trembled slightly, the last rain of thorns was bounced off by Redfield, and the umbrella in his hand was also closed. Before Diamanti could react, Redfield had already come in front of him.

The tip of the umbrella slid across, and Diamanti's cloak and clothes made of special alloys were immediately cut. From the tip of the umbrella, Diamanti felt a strong threat of death.

"How is it possible?! Destroying my armor so easily"

"Armor? It's not bad as a trick, but that's all. If you act as a clown at the venue, it should be very eye-catching."

"what are you saying?!"

Seeing Redfield evaluating himself as a clown, Diamanti angrily swung his sword at him continuously, but Redfield gracefully dodged them all. From the beginning to the end, he didn't even touch Redfield with a single hair.

Ledfield's move caused exaggerated exclamations all over the court, and Gaz was also frantically searching for the game data. He didn't know who this old man was at all.

Chapter 1189 The legendary "weak" - Lonely Red

"Mr. Diamanti seems to be in a hard fight! The biggest dark horse in Area B has appeared! He is he is"

The entry forms for the players in Zone B were thrown behind one by one by Gaz. There were almost two hundred people in each game, and it was impossible for him to remember all of them.

Before the start of the game, he will sort out some of the more famous players and focus on introducing them.

In most cases, winners will only emerge from among them. Even if there are dark horses, it is not scary. There must be a gradual process, such as eliminating several opponents in a row.

In this way, Gaz will have enough time to find his information, but just now Diamanti specially separated this weak group, and cleared the field with death star shards. Those who are truly unknown can't stand Diamanti's attack.novelupdates.com

At this time, in the ring, apart from Diamanti and Redfield, only Rebecca, who was sheltered by Redfield, was left.

The time is too short and the changes are too great. Gaz originally planned to announce that Diamanti was the only winner.

The rule is that two people advance, no more, but no less.

Now Gaz can only perfunctory while flipping through the information urgently.

"I found it, the name of this dark horse that suddenly appeared is Ryder, is it gone?!"

Except for an empty name, there is no other information. According to past experience, this name is probably fake, but there is no way, the explanation has to continue.

"Mr. Diamanti has launched a series of onslaughts! Ryder has been retreating and has been forced to the edge of the field. It seems that Mr. Diamanti is about to prepare his killing blow!"

Gaz has strong personal emotions in the commentary. If he doesn't like a player, even if the opponent wins, Gaz will not praise the opponent too much.

But in the process, he will also pay attention to the audience's preferences, just like he obviously appreciates Rebecca's battle, but because Rebecca is almost in the black of everyone here, he can't express his opinion against all the audience, otherwise he will not be far from unemployment.

Diamanti is undoubtedly the most famous player in the bullfighting arena. He naturally wants to tell the good side. Only Diamanti in the battle knows that this is simply the other party playing him.

No matter how much I swing my sword, it will eventually fail, and so far, there is not even a drop of sweat on Redfield's face.

【Information is wrong, this old man has a problem, where did this monster come from】

"Master Diamanti! Come on!"

"Master Diamanti, stop playing, kill that old guy!"

There were always cheering sounds in his ears. Normally, Diamanti would happily accept these compliments, but now, he just felt noisy.

"You have a lot of fans, it must be very interesting for you to lose here."

"Are you kidding, I'm a hero in the bullfighting arena! Bullfighting long lance!"

The weapon in Diamanti's hand suddenly softened, and then formed the shape of a bull's head like a strip of cloth.

Using the ability to fly fruit, Diamanti changed his sword and turned it into a "gun". The sharp horns formed the tip of the weapon, and then stabbed towards Redfield's chest.

This time Redfield did not dodge, but raised his umbrella again, blocking Diamanti's attack from the front, and then held the umbrella with both hands, and the shock wave caused by just one action of pushing the umbrella bounced Diamanti out.

"What?! Ryder actually bounced Mr. Diamanti! I understand, he must be some kind of mysterious ability user, Mr. Diamanti is exploring his ability!"

Gaz found a reason for Diamanti to come back, and this reason also convinced most audiences, but insiders are different.

Laymen watch the excitement, and experts watch the way. Only those with sufficient strength can see what is going on on the field.

"Marco, that Ryder is playing."

"Maybe, the gap in domineering is too big. If he wanted to, he could just split that Diamanti in half."

Ace and Marco could see that the arrogance that Laidfield wrapped around the umbrella tip was not at the same level as Diamanti's, and the outgoing armed color silently extended his attack range.

"Wow, old man Ryder is so powerful, no wonder he dared to set sail with a civet cat alone."

"You know him?"

Luffy's tone made Ace feel strange, and Luffy's subsequent answer also dispelled Ace's doubts.

"Before reaching Dressrosa, Old Man Ryder's boat was wrecked and he almost fell into the sea. I pulled him up. Oh, by the way, he is still a fan of Brooke."

Ace listened to Luffy's explanation with a little interest, but Marco was different.

There are not many people who can be so domineering, and the figure of Redfield makes him feel familiar, especially the name Ryder.

"Could it be him?"

Marco was hesitant at first, but as Redfield opened his umbrella, the pattern on the umbrella allowed Marco to completely confirm the identity of the other party.

"Lonely Red."

"Brother Katakuri, are you sure?"

"It's almost inseparable. In my impression, the man who fought with my mother is him."

After the era of Rocks ended, Golden Lion, Roger, and Whitebeard became legendary characters among pirates, and they represented the culmination of that time.

Below them, there are Wald, Charlotte Lingling and other powerful pirates, and Redfield is one of them.

But Redfield was imprisoned very early. Although Advance City is a good place, this place can not only make people enlightened for a short time, but the sixth level of infinite **** can even allow some people to persist in practicing hard, such as Barrett.

But Redfield has always been a loner. Compared with a large fleet like the Golden Lion, Redfield as a lone ranger left relatively few traces, even if he was a member of the Emperor of the Sea, he didn't have much impression of him.

But Katakuri and Marko, who served as the backbone very early and have strong abilities, are exceptions. They still remember the lone red who was all-powerful back then.

Although he is a lone ranger, his deterrence is no less than that of White Beard or Golden Lion.

Not only is he powerful, but he also has no attachments, no territory or partners, and his whereabouts are erratic.

The difficulty of capturing him is no less than that of attacking the Golden Lion or Whitebeard's fleet head-on.

After all, random retaliation would be hard for the Navy to afford to let him escape.

"Fought Mom."

"Well, back then you were too weak to watch that kind of fight."

Red Earl-Baloric Redfield, I thought he was dead, but I didn't expect that even this old monster would be attracted. Owen, don't be careless, this guy may be the most difficult opponent. "

Diamanti is not like Marco and Katakuri, who have experienced the competition in the new world.

He, like most people, did not recognize the identity of the other party even after seeing the logo on the umbrella.

Diamanti only knew that if he couldn't even make it to the finals, he would really lose face. At this moment, his idea was not to defeat Redfield.

It wasn't that he didn't want to, but that the pressure brought by Redfield was so great that he didn't have the confidence at all. In this case, he thought of a tricky method.

Now there are only three people left on the field, so as long as Rebecca is killed, he will naturally get the promotion spot.

"Army Flag!"

Diamanti touched the ground under his feet with one hand. In an instant, the entire arena turned up and down like a piece of cloth. He used his ability to turn the entire arena into a flying flag.

Rebecca, who was already on the edge of the ring, slipped and almost fell out of the ring. Finally, she stabilized her figure with the skills she had honed over the years, but Diamanti's attack had already come in front of her.

"Half-moon funeral!"

The ups and downs of the ground made Rebecca unable to stand firm, and Diamanti took the opportunity to swing a sword at her, and a huge gap appeared in the ring.

The entire arena was divided into two by Diamanti just like tofu, but after the blow, he didn't hear Gaz's announcement that the match was over.

"It's really ugly. It seems that not only your ability to be a clown is suitable, but your own behavior is also a clown."

Ledfield can control his domineering, he doesn't need to read other people's memories, but this ability is already a habit for him, and he can't always restrain this habit.

From Diamanti's body, he read very dirty thoughts and despicable actions.

"Why did you help her, you old guy! You obviously have nothing to do with each other, don't you?!"

"Why? Because I, an old guy, likes to do this. I'm old and I don't have enough energy. This battle should be over."

As he spoke, Redfield's umbrella slid twice in midair, and the scarlet sword energy flew towards Diamanti below. At this moment, Diamanti's body became flat and floated like a paper drawing.

"I can also float around, your slashes can't hit me at all!"

The airflow driven before the slash came would generate wind, and his body could use this wind force to avoid the attack, but he underestimated Redfield after all.

But there is no way to do it. If he had known the real information about Redfield, Diamanti would never have put him in the same group as himself.

Different from Virgo who tempered his arrogance, Diamanti mainly relied on his own fruit ability, but his ability was completely vulnerable to Redfield.

The scarlet slash swirled through the air, leaving two huge wounds on the banner-shaped Diamanti one after the other.

If it wasn't for the fact that the game wasn't over yet, and Diamanti was an important cadre of Doflamingo, Redfield's attack was enough to kill him completely.

But even if Redfield kept his hand, Diamanti, who was hit by the slash, still fell into the water.

"Mr. Diamanti actually lost! BB area winners Ryder and Rebecca, the rescue team! Hurry up and save people, Mr. Diamanti can't swim!"

Chapter 1190: Is Kaido an idiot or an asshole?

Bettas in the water are dangerous, but not impossible to deal with. Diamanti's reputation is still very high.

Seeing Diamanti falling into the water, many soldiers of the Don Quixote family jumped into the water, and under alternate cover, they rescued Diamanti from the water, preventing the ability user from sinking to the bottom and drowning.

"Mr. Diamanti lost the battle! It's a pity that he made wedding dresses for other people in his previous battle. The nameless old man Ryder and the cursed princess Rebecca finally advanced. The competition in Area C will begin immediately. Please don't worry."

Although the audience booed and were dissatisfied with Rebecca's promotion, Gaz still loudly announced the result that had become a fact.

If Rebecca hadn't been a villain here, Gaz would definitely have to congratulate her.

Although Rebecca's promotion was decided by Redfield, in the previous battle, she also showed her backwater sword dance, and she was not injured by anyone from the beginning to the end, and she did not hurt anyone.

This is enough to earn the respect of the host Gaz.

It is precisely because of Rebecca's fighting habits that in this arena that advocates bloodshed, Rebecca has become an outlier, and those audiences who originally wanted to watch people fight are also very dissatisfied with this, which indirectly led to a further decline in Rebecca's reputation.

Even if Rebecca is used to swearing, she still feels uncomfortable when she hears these voices, but not this time.

【It's not impossible to help you defeat Doflamingo】

In the playful battle, Diamanti was easily killed in seconds, which made Rebecca understand that the previous words were not a joke, and the old man in front of her really had that ability.

"Let's go, what are you doing stupidly, since I said that you and I will be promoted, it will not be anyone else, let's talk about what's going on later, it's time to make room for other young people."

"Old man, who are you?"

"Who? An old man who was abandoned by the times. You can call me Ryder, but decades ago, the sea called me Ryderfield."

Redfield smelled a breath of desire from Rebecca's heart. She could understand that she didn't believe it before, so she didn't have any ideas. Redfield wanted to see what would happen to Rebecca after seeing her own ability.

However, from Redfield's perspective, Rebecca can be sure that she doesn't know herself, so the effectiveness of this is much worse.

"Not impossible, that guy is that guy is Redfield, how could that lonely red come to participate in this kind of competition!"

In addition to the audience seats, the preparation seats can also see the battle on the field. In addition to Marko and Katakuri, there is another well-informed person here-Baki.

A minor princess like Rebecca has never heard of the name of the Red Earl, but Bucky is different.

"The Lonely Red? Captain Bucky, what's that?"

"That was when I was a trainee on Captain Roger's ship. At that time, he had dealt with Captain Roger and Uncle Rayleigh. He was a difficult monster."

The Red Earl's threat is very special. He doesn't have a huge fleet by himself, so he won't trigger a large-scale battle, but this carefree and casual behavior has also made the world government very troubled.

Bucky still remembers that after the Golden Jackson encountered the Red Earl, there was a brief confrontation between the Red Earl and Roger, but it didn't take long for the truce to be declared.

And the Red Earl briefly participated in the banquet on the ship, although after chatting with Roger for a few words, he drank a glass of wine and disappeared without a trace, never to be seen again.

Just looking at each other made Bucky feel that he had no secrets in front of the other party, which made him still remember Redfield.

"Sure enough, it's better to abandon the game! What are you doing?!"

Looking at the younger brother who threw a stack of materials into the registration box, Bucky's eyes widened.

"Ah, I'm sorry Captain Bucky, I'm too excited, this kind of thing should let you come in person,"

"Yes, yes, after all, you are the one who wants to challenge the legend, but One Piece, Pluto Rayleigh, Lonely Red, there are too many legendary characters you mentioned, and I threw them in when I was excited."

There is no mandatory competition in the bullfighting arena. If he wants to, Bucky can naturally choose to escape. The problem is that he will lose face in that way.

At this time, he perfectly demonstrated what it means to suffer for face and life, so he had to prepare for the battle.

At the same time, after the games in Area A and Area B ended one after another, Yamato and his party roughly ended their trip in Dressrosa and came to the bullfighting arena.

When they came here, they just saw the end of the game and also saw Redfield's final blow.

"This old man is so strong. Then he should have the power of thundering two or three hexagrams. It seems that this game is more interesting than I thought. It will be easier to deal with that **** old man when we go back."

Most of the contestants hope that it is better for the participants to be weaker, but Yamato is an exception. Only when the quality of this competition is high enough can she compete better.

Even if you get back the Zhenzhen Fruit simply by abusing vegetables, it is estimated that Kaido will use it as a reason for special training.

"You are actually complacent because you defeated those weak people, it seems that you have fallen!"

Yamato could imagine the scene where Kaido brandished Hachisai while saying such words.

If there is a big news, it will probably stop for two days.

"No, I see no difference."

Rebutting Yamato is not Robin, but Ulti.

"My dear daughter, it seems that you have become stronger again, let's practice again, Lei Ming Gossip!"

Ulti choked his throat to imitate Kaido's voice, and then punched Yamato.

The difference in height made Urtiping's punch only hit Yamato's stomach. Although it didn't hurt Yamato, it shattered the fantasy in her heart.

"Damn it, don't let reality destroy me! Can't you let me lie to myself?!"

"It's useless, that idiot Kaido won't let you go, you know that."

The one who dared to call Kaido by his first name and give him a strange title, Yamato was one, followed by Ulti, but Kaido's reaction was different.

For the child of Ulti, an old friend, he doesn't care at all, but for Yamato, he can always do his own "education" in different ways.

"He's not an idiot, he's an asshole!"

"What's the difference? Anyway, no matter if it's a fool or a bastard, they will find a reason to beat you in the end."

Tsundere, who should have been naturally restrained, counter-killed, and twice in a row, it was Robin who ended the meaningless debate between the two. After all, the black belly is the top of the chain of restraint.

"Okay, here are the general players in this competition, there are only a few worthy of attention, let's take a look."

During the fight between Ulti and Yamato, Robin didn't do nothing. A lot of arms with eyes just appeared in a hidden place in the bullfighting arena. It is Robin who uses Huahua Fruit to detect the enemy's situation.

"As for the old man. He should be the biggest opponent, Red Earl Redfield, a pirate of the same era as Roger. To be honest, if he was a few years younger, Mr. Kaido might also be interested in him."

It may be cruel to say this, but there are seven of them, even if you add Speed and Solitia who signed up, the combined intelligence of the six of them may not be as good as Robin alone.

Robin was even more impressed with these famous powerhouses. Through the patterns on Redfield's umbrella, he quickly confirmed the identity of each other.

Immediately, he briefly told Yamato about the other party's life, and reorganized Yamato's fantasy that was shattered by Ulti.

"Okay, that's it for him. As long as you fight well in the finals, you can be perfunctory for a few days when you go back."

"I still think you should master the power in your body as soon as possible. According to your current situation, unless you completely defeat Mr. Kaido, or you reach the level that Lord Arceus is satisfied with in advance, you can only delay it at most."

"How can it be so easy, the adoptive father has been weird in the past few years, sometimes the requirements are very loose, sometimes stricter than that **** father. Lacey Ram is not easy to communicate, alas, it is difficult."

While Yamato lamented his rough future, Speed and others who signed up also completed their tasks.

"Miss, it's done. You are in Group H, Master Ulti and Master Peggy Wan are in Group G, and the three of us are in Group E. If today's competition continues at this speed, it will not be long before it is our turn."

Yamato and others who entered the arena as spectators did not attract the attention of the audience. After all, their attention was focused on the players. The attacks of Redfield and Diamanti destroyed most of the ring. At this time, they had just completed rebuilding with Pica's ability.

Diamanti's failure was unexpected by the Don Quixote family, and Doflamingo was busy with Luo's affairs. The remaining cadres could only choose to accept this result and start Plan B.

I definitely have no chance to get the fruit, so I can only hand it over to the beasts. At least the loss of letting this "ally" get the fruit is the smallest.

That's why Speed and the others will be divided into three groups to ensure the greatest probability of advancement.

Only Katakuri in the promotion area noticed Yamato's arrival. Just now he noticed the arm that Robin gave birth to for investigation, and found Yamato and others by following the clues.

"The Ghost Princess of Beasts game is more complicated than I thought"

BIG·MOM has no real covenant with Hundred Beasts. The relationship between them is as fragile as paper. When there are no conflicts, they can sit down and drink tea, but when there are interests worth fighting for, no one will give up on their own initiative.

Katakuri didn't understand the current strength of Laidfield, but felt that the other party was already an old man in his twilight years, and he might be able to deal with it as long as he delayed.

In Katakuri's eyes, Yamato was even more threatening than Redfield in his prime.

"Is that little girl so worthy of your vigilance? Charlotte Lingling's son?"

Title: Ninja School Teacher, I can become stronger by teaching

Introduction: Mu Yue traveled to the world of Naruto and became an ordinary Chunin teacher of Konoha Ninja School and a member of the root organization.

Fortunately, if the teacher system is awakened, teaching will become stronger.

In order not to become a consumable for Danzang, Muyue worked hard to teach and strengthen her strength.noveUSB.com

"Complete the teaching with a rating of a for the first time, and get a reward-mastery of fire attribute chakra property changes."

"Your teaching made Uchiha Shisui's thinking more mature and learned to think independently, and he was rewarded—the immortal body!"

Under the teaching of Mu Yue, Zhishui understood that the enemy of the village may not necessarily be other big countries, but may also be in the village. People who speak the will of fire well may not necessarily act according to the will of fire.

Obito got rid of the title of the tail of the crane when he was in the ninja school, and Maitekai became a master of physical arts earlier...
