

Arceus 1201

Chapter 1201 Everything is within my plan, at least before

"Dragon Claw Fist? It looks weird."

After seeing Sabo's moves, Yamato stretched out her hand to imitate Sabo's posture. This gesture made her feel a little awkward. Compared with the normal five fingers, it would only affect the force.

Whether it is attack or control, the five separated fingers are much more convenient than the simulated three fingers.

"Both, is there anything you want to comment?"

Some people like to talk nonsense, criticizing some people by saying that you have never seen a dragon, why do you describe a dragon like this, but Yamato happens to know some real "dragons".

There is an ancient creature called a dragon called the Millennium Dragon, and there are also two dragons, Zekrom and Laceyram, who represent the ideal and the real.

"It's nothing more than a poor imitation, but it's just an extension of domineering power named dragon."

Lacey Ram recently returned to his cold attitude, but it was Zekrom who answered her.

"If you want to practice dragon claws, I can teach you, but three fingers are unnecessary."

"Let's talk about this later, I'm not used to that move."

Dragon has a wide range of skills, but dragon claws are not in her usual moves, mace is used for close combat, and the power of lightning and ice is her most commonly used thing when she has no weapons.

"The giant Holding has fallen! The winners of Area H, Yamato and Sabo! The qualifiers are over. Please wait for the start of the finals. The sixteen winners will start a new round of games!

It seems that even God is celebrating the end of this game! "

In the corner of the sky, a meteorite slipped from the sky. Due to the remote location, the people in the bullfighting arena did not notice any problems.

"Meteorites, you can't even see them in Wano Country."

Listening to Yamato's emotion, Zekrom and Lacey Ram looked at each other, they knew why there was no meteorite in Wano Country.

The fall of meteorites is a random event. Under the influence of the planet's gravity, some unlucky meteorites will be captured and fall in various places. There is no special place in Wano Country itself, but there will be no meteorites before the birth of Rikuza. Landed in Wano Country.

After all, Arceus hates meteorites very much, no matter how big or small, it is the easiest way to let them disappear directly.

The place where the meteorite fell was Greenbit outside of Dressrosa.

Greenbit and Dressrosa are connected by an iron bridge. People used to be able to travel freely between the islands, but that was two hundred years ago, and there were no dangerous bettas in the sea at that time.

Swarms of bettas dare to attack even warships. Without powerful generals, fully armed warships will suffer a lot in the face of bettas, let alone ordinary humans.

This place has long been a deserted island, only the Lilliputian country exists underground. For ordinary people, coming here is no different from dying. No one will set foot on this island unless life and death are at stake.

Because of the barrenness here, it was also chosen as a place for trading.

There are only Luo and Caesar on the empty beach, and Luo also received bad news.

"Get out of there immediately! You have been deceived. DoFlamingo didn't resign from Shichibukai's position at all. That's fake news!"

Sanji warned Luo on the phone, and relayed what he saw through Violet's ability.

The CP0 sent by the world government stood on the pier and announced the news to the public.

"The news about DoFlamingo's announcement this morning that he would withdraw from His Majesty Shichibukai and resign from King Dressrosa is a false report, which was made by a temporary reporter from the World Economic News Agency.

This report will be clarified at 3:00 pm. Please maintain your normal life and don't cause trouble to the world government. "

Not only did this trick deceive Luo and the others, but even the people and navy of Dressrosa were fooled by DoFlamingo.

"DoFlamingo's news is actually a false report? What's going on? Marshal Sakalski, has even the Navy Headquarters been tricked?"

"Ah, it's really annoying. I'm about to go to Mary Gioia to ask the five old stars. I'm sorry, but the fact is that you continue to go to DoFlamingo and Trafalgar Rona as originally planned. Let's go."

Faced with Fujitora's inquiry, Akainu did not refute, but admitted the intelligence error. At this time, he was already on his way to Marie Gioia, but the result is not difficult to predict, the five old stars will not give him face.

Not long after, DoFlamingo arrived at the agreed place, and the navy led by Fujitora also appeared here.

The news of Sanji came a little late, and Luo had no way out.

"Doflamigo! Just to deceive a dozen of us, you used the power of the world government to deceive the whole world?!"

"Hey, hey, Luo, you still have a lot to learn.

The larger the magic show, the less complicated the layout is.

Like you, people assume that this cannot happen, and it is this common sense and stereotypes that breed new blind spots. "

"This kind of thing is impossible to do even if you think about it! You are just a pirate, even if you are the Qibuhai and the king of a country, you don't have the authority to release fake news to the world, you can do this kind of thing. Only Celestial Dragons, right?"

At this time, Luo remembered the last words Virgo said back then, and with what happened today, Luo seemed to have thought of something incredible.

Doflamigo didn't answer Luo's question, but the veins on his forehead wrinkled.

"Luo, do you know? There is only one thing I want to do now, right here. Kill you directly!"

Although he said he wanted to kill Luo, Doflamigo did not act. The fruit of the operation was one aspect, and Fujitora next to him was also a problem.

Facing Doflamigo's reaction, Luo proposed a way to cancel the transaction. Caesar was shocked when he heard this remark, and hurriedly asked Doflamigo for help. That is, during this process, Fujitora heard a lot.

But in the face of these statements that are the same as the evidence, Fujitora did not act. Today, Doflamigo is still a genuine Shichibukai. In this case, Fujitora has no reason to act. He is complying with some special regulations.

He even asked Luo about the relationship between the Straw Hats and him, and gave Luo the right to choose. If Luo said that Luffy was his subordinate, then according to the relevant regulations of Shichibukai, Fujitora would not hands on.

It's just that Luo didn't say that. Some of Dressrosa's actions have already started, and even if he compromises with Fujitora, it won't be good for him. Luo's choice is to delay the time so that Dressrosa can start more smoothly. action.

And this gave Fujitora a reasonable reason to take the shot. He pulled down the meteorite with the fruit of gravity, but in the end, Fujitora didn't do it for real. contribute.

In the absence of faction halo and Oden buff increase, Luo was not Ming's opponent. After some small twists and turns, he was still brought back to the palace of Dressrosa.

Subsequently, Doflamigo also received some new news.

"Diamanti lost?"

"Yes, Dover, Diamanti lost to an old man named Ryder. We found some clues about his identity from the flag on his body. He may be the man who was called the lonely red back then. "nOveLUSB.coM

Among Doflamingo's senior cadres, Diamanti is still being treated for his injuries, Torrepol is protecting Granu, and Virgo has been killed by Luo. At this time, only Pica is reporting the news.

The intelligence network of the Don Quixote family is fairly well-developed. After seeing the pattern on the Redfield flag, it is considered to have found his information, but it is not certain.

"And that Ryder seems to have some connection with Rebecca, which may have a bad influence."

"Lonely Red? You really are an old monster. Has this kind of person been attracted? Don't worry, monsters will naturally have monsters to deal with them. They are all here, and they will never let outsiders take this thing away. of.

That eldest lady is very favored, and if she is touched, the trouble will only be greater. "

Doflamingo is not worried about the Redfield matter. The information Pica handed over has already explained everything. Doflamingo does not believe that an old monster who has been acting alone for decades will somehow help a little girl.

If it is really a battle, then Yamato is his opponent.

As for how he came to the conclusion of being favored, on the one hand, it was some of Quinn's words during the transaction, and on the other hand, it was his actions in previous years.

Before the war on the top, Yamato just made a little noise in the East China Sea, and Kaido made a bigger noise in the New World, leaving the navy with no time to care about him. This is not like a passerby role.

"In addition, there was an attack at the Toy House, and Frankie, the Iron Man of the Straw Hats, was fighting Senor."

"Trust Senor, he is still very reliable, is there any news?"

Even when he heard that his territory had been attacked, Doflamingo did not panic and remained extremely calm. He believed that his subordinates who had worked hard with him for many years would not be killed by a group of people who had just entered the new world.

However, the bad news from Pica's mouth can be described as one after another. After the inexplicable old monster, the base that was attacked, and Luo who didn't know what he wanted to do, there was another "traitor".

"Violet is basically sure to have betrayed us, and Torrebol discovered this person underground."

Pika took Doflamingo into the "poker room" of the palace, where King Liku was here at this time.

In the arena where the gods fight, King Liku is undoubtedly the loser. He has never met anyone who can win him as much as Redfield.

"Unexpectedly, your grandparents and grandchildren will participate in this competition together, and the former king also developed a selfish desire for devil fruits. It seems that you are also desperate.

But your family is really eye-catching today. Rebecca actually attracted the interest of the person who never needed a partner, and Violet also took action. "

Although Dressrosa's big movement was made by himself, the successive accidents all happened within one day, which made Doflamingo feel a little strange.

"You really don't feel anything, your morning message gave us hope, that's all.

Abandoning the speech of an entire country can be perfunctory with false reports, and you Qibuhai can be used as a disaster. The world government is really terrible. "

"哆哆哆哆哆, isn't this your own stupidity? Unsubstantiated jokes are actually regarded as hope by you? But that's right, after all, you believed the words of a pirate back then."

Back then, Doflamingo came to King Liku late at night and threatened him to either hand over 10 billion Baileys, or he would take Dressrosa back by force. In order to avoid casualties caused by the war, King Liku believed that Doflamingo.

But in the end, Doflamingo used his ability to control King Liku and the soldiers to launch a * night in Dressrosa, and led people to defeat those soldiers, taking away the ruling right here in this way.

"But Violet is different, she is different from you, she is a very calculating woman, she will never be emotional, she seems to want to give it a go, bet on me.

It seems that like me, Luo and his allies who are also Qibuhai gave her this courage, but unfortunately, she didn't know that even there is a gap between Qiwuhai.

As for the Confederate straw hat? The pedigree is nice, but it simply isn't enough to watch here.

Compared to the monsters gathered here, they are nothing more than ants. "

"Hmph, compared to them, aren't you also an ant?"

"...How dare you say it, yes, compared to them, I am also an ant. This sea is so cruel, and if I don't have enough strength, I don't have the right to speak.

However, I have my own value, and monsters will also compete with each other. As long as I control it well, everything is under my control. "

"You are really confident. If you gather so many monsters together, you will be burned if you are not careful. What are you doing this for?"

"In the final analysis, it is nothing more than interests. The battle of monsters breeds fear. No matter who gets the Zhenzhen Fruit, it means that there is a new factor of instability in the sea.

The more turbulent the war, the more greedy people want to invade others. Even if they don't have such ambitions, they have to buy more weapons for self-protection. Isn't that enough? "

What King Liku said is indeed a risk that Doflamingo will face, but the risk is matched by huge benefits.

So far, although there have been some episodes, Doflamingo believes that everything is still under his control. Even if Bucky took the opportunity to take away part of his interests, he can get it back later.

Although there are many monsters here, he is connected with all kinds of beasts, and his identity as a middleman in the underground world and Caesar also makes him have a little friendship with the BIG MOM pirates.

With the identity of Shichibukai, the world government and navy can be regarded as allies, and Doflamingo doesn't think there will be any problems.

At this time, Doflamingo didn't know that an uncontrollable factor had happened somewhere he couldn't see.

Usopp and Von Clay, who acted separately, strayed into the Lilliputian Country, which is the fairyland living in Greenbit in the population of Dressrosa.

This race is more pure. Basically, they believe what others say, and they will not react at all until they are deceived.

At the beginning, they were also deceived by Doflamingo, thinking that King Riku was a bad person, and they began to get close to Doflamingo.

Then the Don Quixote family lied to the little people that their princess Manxueli was seriously ill, and asked them to plant SMILE fruit for treatment and enslaved five hundred little people.

This is because the little humans have excellent talents in planting, and all known plants are within their cultivation range.

Finally, the villains discovered this matter belatedly. According to the villain king, they actually had old grievances with the Don Quixote family 900 years ago.

In order to solve this problem and save their princess, the little people and Cyrus who had turned into a toy soldier planned the SOP operation together, an operation with the ultimate goal of scaring the sugar.

Only by making Granose unconscious, can they transform the person who turned back into a toy back, thus rectifying the name of Cyrus.

Usopp, who strayed into this place, used his own lies to describe himself as a descendant of Rolando.

Rolando has shown great kindness to the little people. Even now, Rolando's name is still circulating among the little people.

Usopp quickly gained the trust of the little humans and joined the battle. With the ability of von Klay to imitate the fruit, they have already started a special infiltration battle.

The attack on the toy factory is only the appearance, and the inner part has not been exposed at this time.

"Dover, there is new news from Mahabasi. The navy has appeared at the toy house and has surrounded it."

Pica, who had just left not long ago, came back here again. Before he could finish speaking, Fujitora had already walked in with his blind cane.

"The action is so fast, is the navy starting to act now? Your decision is really wise, Fujitora."

"Don't get me wrong, the old man never said that he would help the evil to help you.

But if some suspicious people stir up trouble, the navy will of course take action to minimize the loss of citizens when an accident occurs. This is the reason for the navy to fight.

For your head, they may wanton destruction, to prevent possible misfortune, is the old man's justice. "

Since Green Bit, what Fujitora has done has disrupted Dooflamingo's plan again and again, which makes him feel that Fujitora has something wrong.

"what are you saying?"

"Although the old man is just a newcomer in the world's conscription, since he has accepted the title of general, he naturally has something he wants to do."

"for example?"

"If the system of Shichibukai under the King is completely abolished, if the incident of pirates and robbery in Alabasta is ignored, it will become a dark country like this, right?

If you do too many bad things, your head will become more and more valuable, Tian Yasha. "

"Hey hey hey hey, what, do you want to kill me in advance?"

"Be safe and don't be impatient. Now the old man just wants to protect this country. No matter what kind of stubborn disease this country reveals in the future, I, a blind man, will not be able to see it. We can still live in peace for the time being.

But this year is the year of the World Conference, no matter what the result is, the world will make some moves. "

Then Fujitora turned around and left here again. With his knowledge, he naturally sensed King Riku and Luo here, but he didn't say anything, and he didn't do anything. It seemed that he appeared only to warn Dooflamingo Here it is.

"Dover."

"Don't worry, Pika, this guy still seems to obey the orders of the world government."

Dooflamingo noticed some of Fujitora's thoughts. If he didn't have the identity of Shichibukai, he would definitely go to war with him directly, but the Shichibukai system of the world government still exists.

Fujitora hated this system, but he did not violate the regulations, but wanted to abolish the system through the law before talking about other issues.

Even Doflamingo couldn't help but rub his head when he saw this series of troubles. What he said earlier seemed to be exaggerated.

Click! Click!

At this moment, the windows of the royal palace were shattered under the influence of the air current, and the decorations in the house were scattered all over the place. The strong wind almost blew off Doflamingo's sunglasses.

"What's going on?! Where's the domineering look?!"

As the owner of the domineering color, Doflamingo naturally figured out what it is. Feeling the powerful coercion, Doflamingo's heart tightened. As he looked out the window, he also understood The source of this breath.

Centering on the bullfighting arena, the sky splits open.

Chapter 1202 Era Collision, Splitting the Sky to Show Friendship (Minor Repair)

"These guys. As for?"

Awakened the domineering color when he was young, and participated in the war on the top. Doflamingo is also a person who has seen the world. Naturally, he knows that the split sky is not a vision, but the result of a collision of domineering.

"The strength of this domineering... is not lost to her monster father. The other is Redfield? After so many years in prison, hasn't he polished off his strength?"

哆哆哆哆哆, it's getting more and more interesting, now, King Liku, have you seen it? Do you think your resistance will have any meaning under this kind of power? "

Doflamingo got out of his way and showed King Riku the situation in the sky. At this time, Pica received the news belatedly.

"Dover, figured it out, it's the final of the bullfighting arena"

As he spoke, Pica turned on the projection phone bug, and the picture of the bullfighting arena appeared directly in front of them.

Not long ago, before the opening of the bullfighting arena finals, different people were also working on other things, and no one took a break at all. After all, there was no need.

Except for Bucky and Rebecca, the rest of the people didn't spend much energy at all, let alone those who ended the session early.

During this period, they all had other things to do, such as the three Katakuri brothers. Although Daifuku did not come to the competition, he had other tasks.

"There is a problem with Punk Hazard's laboratory, Caesar should have come here with Straw Hat and Luo, right? Daifuku, go find him.

If you can't find it, forget it, if you find it, bring that guy back.

Mom's money is not so easy to get. Now that the experimental island is gone, if he can't produce results, he can only use his head to pay off the debt. "

"I understand, Katakuri-san."

The three brothers on this side are assigning tasks, while the three brothers on the other side are holding a relative meeting.

"Sabo! Where the * have you been all these years? We thought you were dead."

"That's right, since you are alive, why don't you come back? And you haven't contacted us for so many years."

"Oh, I'm sorry, I suffered a bit of head injury and lost my memory. It's because you have made a lot of big noises in the past few years. I didn't think of you until I saw your news in the newspaper.

As for these years, Luffy, I have been with your father. Mr. Long saved me and taught me a lot. "

Sabo is still polite and polite, and everything is very similar to the first meeting of the three brothers.

"Dad? I, by the way, I have a dad. Did he save you? What a coincidence."

Luffy hesitated for a while before confirming that he had a father.

"But Sabo, what are you here for? Do you also want the fruit of Uncle Whitebeard?"

"No, this is not my main purpose. Our Revolutionary Army has taken action recently. I was just investigating the flow of some arms, and finally found Doflamingo here.

But Ace probably wants this fruit very much, so I came to the competition. Since you want it, of course I have to help. "

The Shaking Fruit is not the main goal of Sabo. His coming here is due to multiple factors. In those years, he just lost his memory, not his intelligence. He still knows how important the Shaking Fruit is to Ace.

"But Luffy, what is the purpose of your coming here? Is it just for the shock fruit?"

"Ah, this, Telanan and I seem to want to kill Doflamingo and become the Four Emperors."

Luffy never knew what the plan was. Even though Luo nagged him all the way, he couldn't remember it after all, and he had almost forgotten the specific process.

In a sense, being able to remember the ultimate goal is already a big improvement.

"It's really an exaggerated ambition. That guy is playing with you. You can't become the Four Emperors if you kill a Shichibukai. Otherwise, the word Four Emperors will not become history after the death of the father."

Hearing Luffy's purpose, Marco poured cold water on him first.

If the emperor of the sea is so easy to be, the Whitebeard Pirates will not withdraw from the position of emperor after Whitebeard's death.

But they didn't struggle with this issue for long, and now the finals have begun.

Even if there is something to do, we have to wait until the issue of Zhenzhen Fruit is over.

"Gentlemen, ladies, and toys! The much-anticipated final has begun! Among the sixteen contestants, there are famous big pirates, unknown old monsters, and some lucky ones who have a lot of luck!

No matter what, they overcame many difficulties and finally came to this final! "

Gaz held a throat-moisturizing medicine in his hand, and the high-intensity commentary put a lot of burden on his throat, but he was still unwilling to give up this opportunity. I'm afraid this kind of grand occasion will never happen again in this life.

"Our contestants have appeared!

First of all, the winner of Area A, the Big Mom Pirates, Katakuri, the leader of the three generals, and his younger brother Owen!

Followed by the winner of Area B, Ryder and Rebecca! "

Redfield's real identity appeared in the hands of Doflamingo, but he did not appear in Gaz's commentary list. For most people, Ryder is still just an unknown but extremely powerful old man.

At the same time, Rebecca, who appeared with Ryder, also caused waves of booing, and the audience still did not welcome her. novelusb.com

"Next is the winner of Area C, members of the Whitebeard Pirates, Marko the Phoenix, and Ace the Fire Fist!

Winner of District D, Straw Hat Kid Luffy and the former pillar and leader of the Eight Treasures Navy, Green Pepper! "

"Straw hat boy, you were lucky enough to escape last time, but this time you won't have such good luck."

Qingjiao looked at Luffy beside him murderously, his eyes full of resentment accumulated over the years.

"Hey, what do you want to do to my brother? Do you want to be the first to be killed, you smelly old man?"

Green Pepper's words aroused Ace's dissatisfaction, and this behavior of wanting to kill his brother also made him angry.

"You can try, kid, if you dare to intervene, the old man will kill you as well."

The smell of gunpowder began to leak out, making the already tense atmosphere even more anxious.

"Our players seem to be unable to bear it anymore. It is foreseeable that there will be a * battle on the field. There is also our player in Zone E, the former Warden of the Advance City, Shiliu of the Rain!

One of the Shichibukai under the king, Qianliang Daohua·Baki!

Appearing with them are the winners of Area F, Mizeka and Speed of the Beasts Pirates! "

Baki was the first to run to the ring. The killing intent on Shilio made him uncomfortable, and there was always a feeling of being cut off by his side.

Although they wanted to kill Bucky, Mizeka and Speed seemed to be more aggressive in mocking Xiliu.

"The * of the beasts is really taken care of by your cadres."

"Oh, you are that Shiliu. You survived under the hands of Big Brother Jin and Big Sister Shaina, but you didn't hide, and dared to come out and talk nonsense. Are you so eager to die?"

Shiliu's killing intent didn't frighten Speed and Mizeka at all, it was just a mere killing intent, and it was nothing compared to the deterrence Kaido brought them. If they didn't even have the guts, they didn't deserve it I have been with Yamato for so many years.

That is to say, Jhin and Shaina have no direct conflicts with him. If he offends them head-on like Blackbeard, even if he has a monster physique that is difficult to kill, he will inevitably be hunted to the ends of the earth, until he dies.

"Heh, does leaning against the big tree give you confidence? I hope you will still have the courage for a while."

"We can kill you without the eldest lady doing anything. You'd better ask for blessings, maybe you will be the first to be killed."

Since breaking out of prison, Shiliu had conflicts with the beasts. He lost half his life under Tyrannical Sea in the war on the top, and was almost sent away by Jack on Hive Island. Now that he is here, he can still see the beasts.

At this time, Shiliu was already thinking about how to complete the killing without involving himself.

"And the last contestant! Beast Pirates, the winner of the G area, belongs to Peggy Wan, the land shark! Ulti, the axe-toothed dragon!

The winner of District H, Onihime Yamato! Revolutionary Army Chief of Staff Sabo!

And final prizes! The shocking fruit for everyone to compete for is on Douyu's back!

Different from the bettas in the qualifiers, this batch is larger and more powerful fighting fish. The first to get the fruit is the winner, and the competition begins! "

This final is not fair, at least the balance has been broken in terms of numbers.

It was supposed to be a melee of 16 people, but among the 16 people, five belonged to the Hundred Beasts Pirates, and they belonged to the same faction, and one green pepper was a friendly force.

Among the remaining people, the three brothers Luffy, Sabo, and Ace are natural allies. After adding Marco, they have become a large gang second only to Beasts.

Ten of the sixteen people have assembled, and the remaining six are really fighting on their own.

"The Zhenzhen fruit will be handed over to you, I will deal with the strongest one, pay attention to those who are not capable, if they eat the fruit in one bite, they will suffer."

The battle began, and Yamato's fighting nerves had been passively filled with intelligence.

Everyone's goal is to shake the fruit. No one is willing to be a green leaf to pave the way for others. As long as the supermodel Redfield's combat power can't intervene in the battle, Urti and the others can play their own advantages.

However, Redfield's thinking was similar to Yamato's, except that in his eyes, Yamato was the only threat in the audience. As long as he could defeat her, none of the remaining 14 people could threaten him.

Although the power in Yamato's body can shield the enemy from seeing and hearing about the future, when she and Redfield look in the eyes, everything is self-evident.

The lines of sight intertwine, the fighting intent of both sides has been conveyed in the past, the next moment, two powerful domineering colors burst out from the two of them.

The clouds rolled over, and the bullfighting arena became the median line, with which the clouds were torn apart by an unknown force.

Cracks spread on the surrounding clouds, like ravines spreading across the sky, and the sky on that side was as broken as if there was no debris left, leaving only a piece of pure blue.

The strong men of the old and new era greeted in the purest way.

"Not bad old man, you people from the old era really have your own skills."

"Hahaha, thanks for the compliment, you are also a strong junior. I haven't seen this sea for decades, and there are more and more interesting people."

The overlord color confrontation came from Yamato and Redfield, but the overlord color that broke out on the field just now was not two, but six.

Yamato and Redfield competed for victory like kings, but under their aftermath, the remaining auras were also defending their territory.

Katakuri, Green Pepper, Ace, Luffy, the domineering colors in the four of them were all attracted by Yamato and Redfield at this moment.

Ace's domineering look also gradually became proficient in the two years after Whitebeard's death. Although it does not have the momentum of Yamato and Redfield, it is still a good force.

Even if all six of them have control range, the domineering collision still spread to the outside.

The auditorium, which was still full of voices just now, suddenly became completely silent. Even if the main target of Overlord Color is not them, even if they are only affected by the aftermath, there are very few people who can stay awake.

It is a luxury for most people to watch this game.

The phone bug in Gaz's hand also fell to the ground, but he remained awake. His obsession with explaining this once-in-a-century game made him persevere in the aftermath.

"I am very happy to meet a senior like you, so that I will be able to deal with business when I go back. Judging by the domineering, you should be ready, then I will not be polite!"

Yamato took the lead in attacking, and Jian, who was dancing in his hands, rushed towards Laidfield on the opposite side of the ring.

"You're such an incredible young man, it seems you can't be careless."

The ears became slender, the teeth became extremely sharp, a pair of wing membranes were formed under the arms, the upper half of the face and both arms were covered with black and purple fur, and sharp nails grew on the fingertips. .

Bat fruit Phantom Beast - vampire form, after transforming, Redfield's body visibly moved a lot. Although he was still very old, his body reaction was greatly enhanced by the fruit's increase.

Without using a weapon, Laidfield gathered a layer of incomparably powerful arrogance in his hands, and collided with Yamato's Ajian in mid-air, and Yamato's tentative blow was also blocked by him.

"Great strength, it really wasn't your full strength before."

"Aren't you the same? Young people today are much stronger than mine."

"Since you are a capable person, old man, then I won't be polite, let me feel the power of the old era again!"

The dragon's tail extended from behind, the limbs began to transform into dragons, white fluff emerged from the face, and scales and bone spurs also emerged from the joints. The form of Dakou Zhenshen is constantly changing with the progress of Yamato's power.

It is more and more suitable for the body of the new Daolong. Compared with the wolf, the proportion of Dakou True God Shanglong is larger at this time.

Yamato's body in the human-beast form also swelled a little, and the shoes under his feet were declared useless, and the sharp claws had already torn the upper.

This is also a shortcoming of the animal system. Unless it is an ability that has little effect on the body shape, a piece of clothing with excellent elasticity is just what the animal system ability user just needs.

This is how the textile industry of Beast Fruits developed. Clothes made of special silk threads are as elastic as tights, and can stretch with the body after becoming a beast. Peggy Wan's pants are made of the same material.

It's just that the clothes made of this material have no shaping ability, so he wears an ordinary coat, so that he will habitually take off his coat before transforming.

Shoes do not have this ability. The sharp claws extending from the feet can easily tear the original material.

The cold current extended to the arena through Yamato's claws, and the entire arena was covered with a layer of floating ice at a speed visible to the naked eye. In the blink of an eye, even the temperature on the arena began to drop, and even snowflakes began to fall in the sky.

"It's snowing?! What a terrifying ability, it actually makes Dressrosa have snowflakes at this time!"

Although there are not one out of ten spectators who are still sober, Gaz is still insisting on his commentary work. Even if there is still one spectator watching, his commentary will not stop.

Even if all the people at the scene fainted, and there were people watching the game through the broadcast, those people could not come to the scene due to various reasons, and now this is a lucky thing.

Touching the snowflakes falling on his shoulders, Gaz had an unreal feeling. Although Dressrosa has winter, it is a tropical island.

Even if there is a winter, it is extremely short. If it were not for the extreme climate of the New World, the scene of heavy snow would never appear in this country.

It's not winter now, snowfall is a fantasy for Dressrosa, but the coldness from his hands tells Gaz that these are real.

Just a transformation of the animal system has changed the atmosphere, and this power is even more terrifying than the previous domineering deterrence.

Moreover, the sun was still shining brightly in the sky, and the clouds had been pushed to both sides when Redfield and Yamato Bawangser collided, and the sky was blue.

These snowflakes did not fall from the clouds at all, but condensed out of thin air.

This is the proof that the power of Kyurem has become more and more perfect. As the "strongest dragon", Kyurem also has a terrifying side. The sky phenomenon is a toy in the hands of many Pokémon, especially the Kyurem with the body of a dragon. m.

Even if it is sunny now, the water molecules in the air have turned into ice crystals and slowly fell under the action of the extreme cold.

"Other things are left to you, remember to call me for help if you can't handle it well."

"Go do your thing, don't worry about it, we will get that fruit back for you, but next time... please control this breath!"

While speaking, Ulti had already held the ax blade in his hand, and the transformation of Redfield and Yamato seemed to be the beginning, and the animal-type ability users on the field began to transform one after another.

At this time, seven phantom beast species have appeared on the stage, and to be more accurate, there should be eight, but someone has not yet awakened.

Yamato has taken away the most powerful Redfield, but there are also many troublesome guys among the remaining people. The Beasts don't want to overturn in the finals.

"Rebecca, don't think about fighting them. The people here can only compete with that red nose twice at most. You can't deal with others, especially that Shiliu, stay away from him."

After a few instructions, a red afterimage burst out behind Redfield and left.

He has a little interest in Rebecca, but that's all. A few instructions are considered special care. He still has things to do in this ring.

Now he also takes One Piece as his goal. To reach that position, fighting is inevitable.

Ledfield also wanted to see what the world would look like after decades of disappearance.

As Redfield entered the transformation state, a red blood mist surrounded him, vaguely covering him from the sun in the sky.

As an ability user, Redfield will naturally not turn into ashes when he touches the sun like the legendary vampire, but he will also be affected to some extent, at least the sunlight makes him uncomfortable.

Ledfield clenched the umbrella in his hand. Under the strengthening of domineering, the umbrella has completely turned into a black umbrella. With the dancing of his umbrella handle, * mist and domineering have surrounded the umbrella tip.

"Come on, little girl, this is greetings from the old guy!"

"Then I'm not polite anymore, gossip!"

Umbrellas and maces collided in the air, and black and red lightning continued to flow from the collision point to the surroundings. Kaitian's domineering collision was just a greeting to meet, and it was the official declaration of war at this time.

"I said, old man, your greeting is really strong enough, is it a domineering entanglement when you come up?"

"You're not bad, little girl, when I was your age, I didn't have your two skills.

The young people nowadays are really getting more and more incredible. "

In the face of Redfield's speech, whether it was humility or flattery, Yamato didn't take it seriously. The battle between her and Redfield didn't include any enmity at this time, it was just a discussion between the strong.

At this time, Yamato even understood Kaido a little bit. Fighting such a person is indeed much more interesting than bullying weak chickens.nOVeLuSB.com

Yamato shook her head suddenly. She was infected by Kaido invisibly. Yamato already has the upper hand.

For Yamato and Redfield, this arena provides a venue for competition, but for others, this arena is not friendly now.

The entangled collision of the overlord color did not have the impact of the previous overlord color, but the aftermath of their battle has also spread to the field below. As long as they are close to the central area of their battle, the coercion is enough to make people breathless.

What's worse, the fighting fish who were fearless in the past also felt terrified in the face of this terrifying momentum.

It is the instinct of creatures to seek advantages and avoid disadvantages. Swarms of bettas dare to attack warships, but that is because warships are also prey in their eyes. At this time, several domineering colors really threaten them with death.

If you rush to the past, you may die. The remaining genes in the organism remind these bettas that they can only survive by staying away from the usual "dining table".

The fighting fish carrying the shaking fruit is no exception. Now they only dare to wait and see from the outside, which invisibly adds a lot of difficulty to other players. If they can't get the shaking fruit, then their ultimate goal will be impossible. Achieved.

"Really, Yamato has made things more troublesome, Xiaopei, I'll leave it to you, let's catch that fish."

"Elder sister, this."

The dignity of the fisherman made Peggy Wan unable to refuse this request, but the facts made Peggy Wan wonder how to agree to this request.

Fishing a designated target is still too difficult.

"In short, it's enough for Xiaopei to catch that betta fish. Don't worry about other things. We will help you stop other enemies."

This time, Ulti didn't have any tricks, and he didn't mess around. Instead, he gave a relatively reasonable solution.

Biological instinct kept those fighting fish away from the ring, but biological characteristics prevented them from diving to the bottom of the water, but from time to time watching the situation here from the surface of the sea.

As the only one of the remaining four with the ability to fly freely, Peggy Wan has the strongest ability to stay in the air and is most suitable for this task.

"I understand, then I will leave this place to you."

Peggy Wan didn't say much, and after slightly bending his legs, he catapulted into the sky and flew towards the Douyu. However, on the way, Marko, who was wearing blue flames, chased after him.

"Hey, let's give this fruit to us, it's Dad's relic."

"Both Peggy Wan and Marco rushed towards the fruit! Beast and Whitebeard seem to have made the same decision, sending players with flying abilities to take the shocking fruit first, and they have already discovered the best way to win." direct way.

However, other people who cannot fly are not sitting still! "

Marco and Peggy Wan's racing competition hadn't started yet, but another voice sounded in his ear.

"Bird Rice Cake!"

Katakuri's arms were extended like whips, and he grabbed Marko and Peggy Wan's ankles with his powerful predictions. After Yamato had already started fighting, the other members of Hundred Beasts were no longer able to evade knowledge. color method.

Facing Katakuri, who has the ability to predict the future, neither Peggy Wan nor Marko can shake off his attack.

"I've seen it, you two don't want to succeed! Come back to me!"

Katakuri tried to pull them back with both arms, but it was not so easy to succeed. Marco was similar in strength to him, and the two sides also entered a state of wrestling.

Although Peggy Wan was staggered, he also stabilized his figure in mid-air, and then tried to cut off the rice cake extended by Katakuri, but under the domineering blessing, the ordinary rice cake showed unimaginable hardness and toughness.

"Let me go!"

A mouthful of flames condensed in Peggy Wan's mouth, and the large-shaped explosive flames flew towards Katakuri on the ring, and Marko was not idle at this time.

According to his judgment, Peggy Wan is not his opponent. As long as he breaks away from Katakuri who is interfering with him, he can quickly get the shocking fruit. At this time, he even formed a short-term relationship with Peggy Wan. alliance.

The body rotated half a circle in mid-air, and Marco kicked Katakuri from the air.

"Phoenix Seal!"

The bird-claw-shaped imprint erupted a shock wave in midair, and the target was Katakuri. Except for Peggy Wan and Marko's counterattack, the people on the shore were also not idle.

"Don't come in the way, Fire Fist!"

The flames continued to burn from Ace's body, and the giant fist formed by the flames also aimed at Katakuri.

Someone intervened, and naturally someone protected him. Facing Ace's fire fist, the temperature of Owen's body rose rapidly, and then his body blocked Ace's fire fist.

But he was far more than one person in the ring. When Owen blocked Ace, others also moved

Chapter 1204 Chaotic relationship between friends and enemies, dark and ice

Owen is not afraid of the high temperature of the flame by virtue of the ability brought by the hot fruit, and the impact brought by the flame is also resisted by him with his body.

And Katakuri also avoided the attacks of Peggy Wan and Marko by virtue of his top-notch knowledge, and approached them by grabbing their rice cake sticks.

Although Katakuri can't fly, he can stay in the air for a short period of time. At this time, in the final arena, most people have a way to stay in the air for a short time, but it's not as convenient as flying ability.

But in terms of numbers, the BIG MOM Pirates are already at a disadvantage. Owen stopped Ace, but only stopped Ace. In addition to Ace, Sabo has also rushed up with a water hose.

"Katakuri brother! Be careful!"

Owen wanted to help, but Ace in front of him didn't give him a chance. Relying on some restraint brought by the fruit ability, he did his best to temporarily hold back Ace's pace.

"Don't worry, it's not that bad."

It seemed that he was under siege, but Katakuri didn't panic. He knew very well that there was no real alliance in this arena except for those who originally belonged to the same pirate group.

He is restricting the actions of Marko and Peggy Wan, but Sabo's attack only targets one of his arms. If Sabo succeeds, it means that Marko will be liberated, and Peggy Wan will still be under his control.

This situation is not good for Beasts. Even if the relationship between the Big Mom Pirates and the Beasts Pirates is still harmonious, Katakuri has no intention of trusting them at this time.

The current Beasts are the biggest trouble in the arena. If they team up with them, after the others are cleaned up, they will not be able to solve it by themselves. With insufficient manpower, he can only look for opportunities in the battle.

The next moment, just as he saw, Ulti's two big axes interrupted Sabo's offensive, forcing the situation back to a balanced state.

Either don't take it from anyone, or get it yourself. This is the thinking of those who have the ability to compete for the fruit among the players present.

"Sabo! I'll help you too!"

Luffy bit his finger and began to blow air into it. With the injection of gas, his arm soon became as thick as a giant.

"Rubber Giant."

"Straw Hat Boy! Your opponent is an old man! This time, you won't be given another chance to escape, Eight Punch Boxing Mystery, Cone Dragon Cone Nail!" NOVeLus.b.cOm

Before Luffy's rubber giant pistol could be swung out, the awl of the green pepper had already stabbed Luffy.

Because he just aimed at Ulti's side, it was too late for Luffy to change the direction of attack. In order to avoid the attack of the green pepper, Luffy dissipated the gas in his body like a deflated balloon, and finally the green pepper pierced the air.

"I've already said that it has nothing to do with me. If you have the ability, go find that old man, grandpa! Why are you looking for me! I don't know you at all!"

"It's useless to talk too much, who made you his grandson, die!"

Qingjiao seemed to recognize that Luffy was his current enemy, and rammed into the opponent without hesitation, and Ulti, who had just prevented Sabo from liberating Marco, also completed a 360-degree turn in the air.

The twin axes have returned to their positions, and the main body has also entered the beast form from the human-beast form, and a steel-like cold light flashes on the tail and draws towards Katakuri.

But in the end, he just took a moment, and Katakuri moved his body away before her attack hit, and then kicked Urti in the waist, kicking him out from his side, letting him He fell back onto the ring again.

"Don't come in the way, you are still far away!"

As soon as the words fell, Katakuri saw a more troublesome attack.

"Owen! The highest temperature is ready, something in trouble is coming!"

Ulti and Peggy Wan are indeed not as good as Katakuri, but there are many beasts, and there is Mizeka, a water-type capable person.

Katakuri and Owen are capable users. Even if they are powerful, they will still fall into a disadvantage if they are surrounded by a large amount of sea water.

He repelled Ulti, but during this period of time, Mizeka's attack was also ready. There was no "sea shock" for her to use, and it took her a lot of effort to gather the waves again.

But now, the waves full of electric current have flooded in the direction of Katakuri.

"Hot Sea Boiling Fist!"

With Katakuri's reminder, Owen discovered this wave in time, and a heat wave gushed out from his body. The moment the high-temperature air wave touched the sea water, a large amount of white steam was generated, and even Ace It also unleashed flames on the huge waves.

He is also a capable person, so he has no intention of taking a sea bath at this time.

"Big melee! The relationship between the alliance and the enemy is only a moment! In order to obtain the most favorable result, the players have to temporarily join forces with the enemy! At present, it seems that it is not easy to get in touch with the shaking fruit!"

In order to resist the wave, Owen had to be distracted from dealing with the tsunami, which gave Ace a gap to attack Katakuri.

When Ulti was repelled, Katakuri was instantly attacked by Sabo and Ace, and lost the continuous control of the two in the air, allowing Marco to break free first.

Seeing this situation, Katakuri also let go of Peggy Wan, so that he could delay Marko's pace.

Although snowflakes were still falling in the sky, Peggy Wan was not affected at all. He just didn't like cold weather very much, and this level of snowflakes would not affect him.

This is not a game. The biting land sharks that can fly at high altitudes and live underground have a certain resistance to the cold. If they can't stand the cold air, one winter is enough to kill this group.

It is very difficult for a Peggy Wan to hold Marco back. Even if the Phoenix's ability hard-blocks several attacks, it will be fine. The Flame of Regeneration will continue to repair his body.

At this time, the advantage was leaning towards the Whitebeard Pirates, but the betta fish with the treasure chest strapped to its back suddenly dived into the sea, forcibly interrupting this round of disputes.

The wooden box is still firmly fixed on the betta's back by iron chains, but they can only watch it sink into the water with the betta's body. These carnivorous fish are not vegetarian, and they will not attack wood without prey. box.

Combined with the quality of the wooden box, the Zhenzhen fruit is still safe for the time being, and the people present were once again attracted by the center of the venue. The reason for these bettas diving back into the water is simple. The collision between Yamato and Redfield intensified.

The * mist around Redfield suddenly deepened in color, and then turned into a deep darkness.

Accompanied by Redfield's laughter, the darkness dissipated to the surroundings, gradually eroding most of the ring. Under the baptism of darkness, the sunlight was completely blocked out, while Redfield's figure was integrated with the darkness.

A scarlet * light flashed across Redfield's eyes, and then disappeared in an instant.

Yamato himself is protected by the power of Arceus, and can avoid the detection of the color of knowledge, but Redfield hides his aura with his powerful color of knowledge, completely hiding in the black mist.

This black mist comes from Redfield's ability, and it is not a simple barrier. Yamato in the black mist can only see a piece of darkness. After Redfield hides her breath, what she relies on is the reaction of her fighting nerves .

"This trick is useless!"

Even if he couldn't see or feel it, the slight sound made by Redfield before the attack was enough for Yamato to respond.

Ledfield in the black mist has already merged into the darkness, walking through the darkness unscrupulously, stabbing Yamato from all angles like a ten-fingered dagger.

And Ajian in Yamato's hand kept waving up and down, sparks splashed every time he moved.

"Damn it! Come out for me! Is your so-called contest this annoying style of play?!"

"I'm old, I'm old, if I try my best, I'm no match for a young man like you."

Redfield's harassment battle made Yamato tireless, and then changed his tactics.

"Then I will force you out, Frozen World!"

Click! Click!

Several huge ice thorns rose from the ground, piercing the original dark area in an instant, and this was just the beginning. The ice thorns continued to accumulate, and finally directly formed a giant iceberg that was taller than the bullfighting arena wall.

The original dark area was completely crushed by the ice, forcing Redfield out of it.

The fighting power of the vampire fruit in the dark environment is significantly higher than that during the day. If this trick is used at night, then the night will become Laidfield's field, but in the daytime, Laidfield is too restricted.

His physical strength is not enough to support himself to cover Yamato's ice field with darkness.

"It's really a simple and rude way. You, like Shi Ke and Newgate, like this way."

Using an indiscriminate large-scale attack to target his skill-based quick attack, Redfield encountered this kind of thing in the era of non-capable people. I didn't expect that when he had the ability, the result would still be like this.

"Ski. Oh, Golden Lion, isn't he, that guy is also a troublesome guy, but it's much more comfortable to fight with him than with you.

Of course, I think you are much better than that bastard, at least you are not as annoying as him. "

"Looking at your tone, that guy Shi Ke should have died in your hands, right? That's reasonable. He is not someone who will remain unknown. The battle between you and me will be suspended for a minute. I have to deal with something. ."

Ledfield looked at Rebecca and saw something that made him hate it.

"Other players are engaged in a big melee! The battle was very intense, and I didn't know how to explain it for a while. No words can describe this battle!

The central area is blocked by darkness. We don't know what happened inside, but we can be sure that the battle inside is equally fierce. It has appeared! What a glorious iceberg, there is such a way to forcibly break through the darkness!

However, some players seem to be different. Rebecca has been watching from the surroundings.

Shiliu and Bucky seem to have been on the sidelines, and did not act, etc.! Shiryu moved! But his goal doesn't seem right! "

Chapter 1205 Lend me your most precious thing

"His target is Rebecca! The rules don't forbid it, but I personally despise it!"

Xiliu did not participate in the melee in the arena about the final ownership of the Zhenzhen fruit, nor did he attack the betta fish while the others were fighting, but after most people had their own opponents, they followed it up. Two people alone.

He thought hard, and he didn't think of any way to escape smoothly after attacking the members of Beasts. He could only wait for their battle to become more intense before looking for opportunities in the middle.

Ledfield and Yamato occupied the main battlefield, and other people also attacked each other. They collided domineeringly, without elemental impact, and various attacks emerged one after another. Only Rebecca and Bucky did not act.

Rebecca was originally a player who defended and counterattacked. At this time, no one was paying attention to her, and she had no ability to take the initiative to attack, but in Shiliu's eyes, she was a target.

There is no doubt that Rebecca's strength does not match the finals. If it weren't for Redfield, one of the places in that competition would definitely be Diamanti.

As the former warden of Imperton, Shiliu has long recognized Redfield's identity. He has seen this legendary lonely red in LV6 more than once.

Whether it was the career of the warden or the career of a prisoner, Redfield has always given Shiliu the perception of a lonely old man. In Shiliu's view, Redfield's promotion of Rebecca was just a whim.

After coming to the finals, Redfield directly started fighting Yamato, and leaving Rebecca alone made Shiliu firm up his mind.

He really wanted to cut Bucky, but Bucky's ability was too difficult to deal with. He was obviously weak, but he was like a fly, and he couldn't hit him no matter what. This made Shiliu decide to start with Rebecca first.

The blood of the weak can make him more happy, so Shileu attacked Rebecca.

Clang!

Rebecca held the knife in both hands and barely blocked Shiliu's heavy slash, but the situation did not develop as usual. When Rebecca tried to use her skills to fly Shiliu's weapon, she found that she couldn't do it at all.

Although Shiliu only had one arm left, it was as tough as an iron tower, and the handle of the knife seemed to be welded to him in his hand. No matter how hard Rebecca tried, she couldn't shake it at all.

"It's useless, woman, your body is too different from mine, this is not your stage, and the weak can't decide their own life or death."

Thunderstorm slashed down along Rebecca's blade, and Shiryu used his strength to forcibly lift Rebecca's weapon into the air.

Cyrus, who has been turned into a toy, is trying to teach Rebecca the martial arts of self-defense. Rebecca has also undergone long-term experience in the bullfighting arena, but this level of fighting and her talent have limited her growth.

Facing opponents who are roughly at the same level, Rebecca still has the ability to parry, but when a supermodel enemy like Shiliu appeared, Rebecca naturally fell into a disadvantage. When facing the absolute crushing power, Her tricks wouldn't work either.

The rare armor on Rebecca's body was as fragile as paper in Shiryu's eyes, but his sword couldn't cut it off no matter what.

An open umbrella came to him at some point, the high-speed rotating umbrella bounced off his slash, and the sharp edge even formed several weasels.

Each wind blade was as sharp as a flying slash, blocking all the routes he could attack Rebecca.

The pattern on the umbrella surface turned into a red round wheel after a spin, but Xiliu was very familiar with this scarlet color, it was Laidfield's pirate flag.

This sign also became more obvious after the umbrella and boomerang returned to Redfield's hands.

"Redfield?!"

"Hey, has the identity of the old man been recognized? This is normal, after all, you are the warden."

"Why did you do this? You obviously have no connection with this woman!"

"Why? Interesting question, but no why, because I wanted to, so I did it, that's all."

Ledfield, who has no pirates, has been sailing alone on the sea for decades. Everything he does is his own personal will, which has nothing to do with the ideas of his partners, and has nothing to do with the friendship of his companions. It is pure egoism.

"You guy. Are the people on the sixth floor all reckless bastards?"

"Aren't you also one of the * on the sixth floor? Do you know? I used to think that an aging body can't do anything, but some people told me with their actions that old people can pursue their dreams, even old men, And I have something to defend myself."

This is what Redfield has seen after he escaped from prison. He has seen old beggars who have lost their dreams and begged on the side of the road, and also met veterans who are covered in scars but still guard the island.

I don't know how many people of all kinds met, and finally let him find something.

"That Newgate guy can drag his old body across the sea, sheltering his sons, Sora, Garp, Tsuru, Sengoku, Charlotte Lingling, these old guys are still active.

The number of familiar faces in the past has decreased by more than half, but some people are showing their highlights. "

Looking at Laidfield who seemed to be reminiscing about the old days, Shiliu did not dare to relax at all, and his breathing became slightly heavy. He knew how terrifying the monster in front of him was.

The legend of the same era as the Golden Lion and Roger, the dignity of the strong made Roger and the others not attack Redfield in groups. In the absence of a life-and-death enmity, offending such a lone ranger is of no benefit.

In any case, Redfield is also someone who can compete with the strongest of these pirate groups.

"But, no matter what, getting old is getting old. After all, a decayed body can't act recklessly like when it was young, and it can't compete with the people of the new era with a flourishing posture, but it's a pity in life.

I heard that Newgate regained his youth back then, but unfortunately I didn't see him at that time. In order to show respect for that little girl and her safety, I borrowed your youth for good use. "

The blood-colored afterimage came to Shiliu's side, and with just one blow, it achieved the goal that Rebecca could not achieve anyway, and then grabbed Shiliu's head with one hand.

Xilius wanted to resist, and with his right hand wrapped in arrogance, he hit Redfield's face. Even if Redfield was very strong, he would not choose to sit still.

But with only one arm left, he was no match at all. No matter how hard he punched, he couldn't touch Redfield at all, and as time went by, his punching speed became slower and slower.

"what happened"

Ledfield obviously didn't do anything, but Shilio felt his physical strength was constantly draining, and his fists became heavier. When he asked questions, he found that his voice had become extremely old.

Ledfield in front of him has lost the wrinkles on his face, and even the fur of the transformed bat has become more radiant.

"I accept your youth."

"you you."

Seeing the rejuvenated Laidfield, Shiliu was already speechless, not because of fear, but because of the power of time. After a few fights, Shiliu had changed from a man in his prime to a droopy man. An old man.

The skinny arms trembled unceasingly, and it became extremely difficult to even maintain a standing position, and the cheeks with a large number of scars were even more terrifying.

"This is the power of the fruit I am looking for, youth!"novelusb.COM

The vampire fruit has the ability to deprive others of their life for their own use. As long as they can do it, this fruit can even achieve immortality to some extent.

"Don't worry, I just want to fight that girl once and for all, so I borrowed something."

Sensing a trace of fear from Rebecca's emotions, Redfield specially explained a few sentences.

"This person is no longer a threat to you. You can do whatever you want. I guess he has less than an hour left."

Compared with direct death, this countdown to life is more frightening, especially Shiliu's more real feeling of life passing by. He wants to regain his youth, but there is nothing he can do.

He could only watch as Redfield walked away step by step.

"By the way, your words are very reasonable. The weak cannot decide their own life and death, but in my eyes, you are also weak."

Before returning to the battlefield, Redfield turned back and said something to Shiliu, but he didn't hear Redfield's words clearly. At this time, there were only a series of messy echoes in his ears.

"Incredible ability! Ryder has returned to his youth! The old man is still so powerful, so what kind of feats can he do when he has regained his youth?!"

No matter what, this is a terrifying ability! And I think he's doing it right! "

At this time, the female commentator next to Gaz also sat up unsteadily, and she was woken up by Gaz's volume even though she was unconscious.

"Gaz, don't mix personal emotions when explaining, you are too much."

Their duty is to let Gaz restrain himself, otherwise his commentary may show some outrageous content. Now it seems that Gaz has begun to let himself go.

...

"Sorry for the long wait, now we can start the second round."

Ledfield, who had regained his youth, came to Yamato and signaled that Yamato could do it.

"One minute agreed, this is more than one minute."

"When people get old, they will talk more. Now that I think about it, I wasted decades of time, and I have to find it slowly in the future.

But you are as interesting as that little girl, waiting here for a few minutes. With your ability, it is not difficult to help your subordinates solve some troubles, right? "

In Redfield's view, whether it's Katakuri or Green Pepper, Marko or Luffy, there's actually no difference, it's just a matter of one or two.

Even if Marko and Katakuri are the deputy of the Four Emperors, there is an insurmountable gap between the deputy and the real emperor of the sea. If Yamato wanted to, the scuffle over there should have ended long ago.

"Ah, it doesn't matter, anyway, they won't be able to finish playing for a while, I think they are having a good time playing, so let them play first.

It's great that you can regain your youth. Although it will definitely be troublesome later, it will be easy to explain. "

Ledfield didn't understand Yamato's words. To him, these words were even close to crazy words.

He didn't know that the Zhenzhen fruit had always been a plus for Yamato, and she wanted to bring it back, but her purpose of bringing back the fruit was not to bring back the fruit, but to find a reason to do business.

Kaido's side is doomed, but it's better than anything else to make Arceus' side ignore some small problems.

Chapter 1206 Longevity, the rubber is paralyzed by electric shock

The best records in her hands are the Golden Lion and Kuzan, as for Kaido.

Here in Yamato, Kaido has been automatically expelled, which is not included in the statistical scope at all.

But due to the problem of ability, she is absolutely superior to Kuzan.

A certain fire fist can't burn magma, and Kuzan's ice can't freeze her dragon.

The golden lion is the same as Ultraman's human body, only brilliant in the last three minutes. For the current Yamato, her resume is gorgeous, but she lacks something that can be used to control the situation.

Obviously never afraid of fighting, but trying every means to avoid fighting with Kaido, this thinking has already taken root in Yamato's heart.

It is known that Kaido has a certain obsession with himself, and normal means cannot stop him. The only effective way is "mediation".

At the same time, it is also known that Kaido has defeated the white beard who has regained his youth, and Whitebeard and Redfield are monsters at the same level, so as long as he defeats the restored Redfield, he can prove that he and Kaido are already at the same level.

Many known facts can prove that a battle of this level will inevitably cause great damage. Fighting on the ghost island will destroy the ghost island, and it will also cause a lot of damage in the inverted world.

This can be used as a reason to let Arceus interfere with Kaido.

She has already figured it out, she will be excited after winning Kaido, and will pull her to test the results.

I will still be very happy if I lose Kaido, and I will pull her to practice more. This road itself is dead, no matter how you go, there will be no way out, but if you win and bring the fruit back, you can at least try the Arceus route .

"Lonely Red-Redfield, then I won't be polite!"

Boom!

A thunderbolt in the clear sky, the roar of thunder and lightning resounded above the bullfighting arena, and then a black phantom flashed behind Yamato.

The black and gray two-colored head of the giant dragon is crowned with horns, turbine-like wings stand behind it, and Kong Wu's powerful arms and claws embrace the chest.

Powerful thunder and lightning flowed from the tail, and the roaring sound was endless.

The black shadow is fleeting, and the sober audience and those who observe all this through the live broadcast can see the black shadow that has merged into Yamato's body.

The next moment, the pure white fur on the body surface was gradually covered with a layer of black dragon scale armor, and the dragon-shaped helmet also covered her face. As the wings on the back were filled with powerful electric energy, Yamato also entered the dark mode.

"Do you still have the strength? It seems that it wasn't your real ability before."

"To each other, didn't you also hide part of your ability? Plundering youth and longevity is an incredible ability."

"You are the daughter of that kid Kaido, right? I've seen you father and daughter in newspapers a lot."

Compared to Charlotte Lingling and Whitebeard, Kaido is indeed a kid. Even in the emperor of the sea, he is also classified as the new generation, and he is considered a young man like red hair.

After all, when other people became famous, one of them was Roger's trainee, and the other was Lockes's trainee, and they hadn't grown up yet.

"I don't want to be brought up with that * father at all. Anyway, let me see how strong you are when you are young!"

With a wave of one arm, an extremely cold thunderbolt swept towards Laidfield. The ice-blue thunderbolt set off a large amount of gravel on the field, but the place bombarded by the lightning fell into ice in the blink of an eye.

"Then I won't be polite, it's getting dark."

Throwing the umbrella high into the sky, Redfield's ten fingers shone coldly. With the darkness falling, the red cutting net swept across most of the ring.

The giant icicles created by Yamato breaking through the darkness before turned into several large pieces of crushed ice under the cutting of Laidfield, and scattered towards the field. The artificial accident has come to this battlefield.

"These guys are really Yanjie!"

The flames on Ace burned violently, and the gushing wall of fire melted the icebergs falling from the sky. In order to prevent Katakuri from being disturbed by this factor, Owen had to release high-temperature air waves into the sky.

The fruit of the two seems to be a tool man at this moment, and has to be used to cope with various climates, but besides tsunamis and icebergs, there are many abnormal climates here.nOveluSb.cOm crackling

Sabo waved the water pipe in his hand and suddenly heard a lot of abnormal noises. He stretched out his hand to grab it, and several grains of sand and stones remained in his palm.

"This is a sandstorm?"

Just when Sabo was wondering why there was another sandstorm in this place, the concentration of the sandstorm increased further, and the yellow sand covered the other half of the arena directly.

"Sandstorm?! This is troublesome now. After Ryder released the dark area, Peggy Wan created a big sandstorm! Now the environment of the entire ring has become a mystery, and it is impossible to see what happened What!

How the battle is going, we can only wait for these things to disperse. "

The commentator is not knowledgeable, and there is nothing he can do in this kind of sandstorm. Although such a sandstorm is not conducive to the performance of Mizeka and Speed, it is beneficial to Peggy Wan and Ulti.

The double-axe battle dragon has rough skin and thick flesh, and some sandstorms can't affect her at all. The perception of knowledge is often not as intuitive as the eyes. Facing Peggy Wan and Ulti who are hiding in the yellow sand and making a surprise attack, the battle situation becomes more and more anxious. .

Even the underground arena is no longer safe. This arena is recast from a giant rock manipulated by Pica's ability, but at this moment it has become Peggy Wan's home field.

For biting land sharks, rocks and soil are their "water". Land crazy sharks are not just talking, he can really sneak freely on the ground.

"Owen! Watch your step!"

Charlotte Lingling's children are very different, even among siblings. Katakuri's knowledgeable color is also top-notch in the New World, but Owen's knowledgeable color is not so strong.

Katakuri even saw Owen being attacked by Peggy Wan below, but he couldn't ignore Marco in front of him, so he simply escalated the intensity of the battle.

Peggy Wan, who was originally swimming in the ground, sensed a little abnormality, and quickly got out of the ground. On Luffy's side, after the green pepper hit the ground, it didn't crack the field, but let the whole head sink in.

The sand piled up on the arena was also affected by this ability and was assimilated, gradually disappearing with the passage of time.

"Wow, what is this?!"

Luffy found that the whole ground under his feet seemed to have turned into a sticky thing, and he almost fell out of the ring on the surging ground, but Sabo pulled him back.

"It's the awakening of the devil fruit. I've heard that Katakuri has developed the devil fruit to this level, and now it seems to be true."

"Awakening? What's that?"

"The devil fruit is in a higher state. Different fruits have different manifestations after awakening. After awakening, that guy's fruit can even affect and control the surrounding environment.

He himself is a capable user of Nuo Nuo Fruit, and now all of them are assimilated into rice cakes by him. "

"Is that edible? It's strange why these rice cakes suddenly hardened."

While Luffy was thinking about whether these rice cakes could be used as food, the ring under his feet suddenly returned to its original texture, even with a few crisp sounds.

"Sabo beware!"

Without waiting for Sabo to say anything, Luffy suddenly pushed him away, and a bolt of lightning struck from a distance.

In a chaotic battlefield, no one can guarantee to take care of everything, and Sabo inadvertently ignored this lightning.

In order to push Sabo away, Luffy failed to avoid the attack.

"Ah, pain, pain, how could this happen?"

"It hurts? Aren't you rubber? How can you be afraid of electricity? This is frostbite?!"

Looking at the scar on Luffy's shoulder, Sabo suddenly realized that something was wrong. The dark purple wound was obviously formed by a low-temperature attack, but it was lightning just now.

"I don't know either, I'm obviously talking about rubber"

Although there is no Enilo, Luffy was struck by lightning during the voyage. From that day on, he knew that he was immune to lightning.

So after pushing Sabo away, Luffy didn't even defend, and directly touched the lightning with his body.

"Don't you know? Her thunder is ice thunder, a very special kind of lightning."

Marco suddenly appeared next to them, with a blue flame wrapped around his hand.

"Come here, let me treat you."

Logically speaking, Marco shouldn't be here at this time, but the aftermath of the battle between Yamato and Redfield forcibly interrupted their battle. Facing the overflowing ice thunder and * claws, they really couldn't continue fighting. Therefore, we can only take the maintenance of safety as the first priority.

"Ice Thunder? What is that?"

The term in Marco's mouth caused Luffy's few IQs to go down again, he didn't understand this thing.

"At first, we thought that Guiji's ability was ice, but at some point, she suddenly mastered the power of thunder and lightning. This ice thunder is the ability derived from her ability."

The person who knows you best is often your enemy.

BIG-MOM Pirates and Beasts Pirates have a little friendship after all, there are conflicts but not big, at least it is impossible for Yamato to fight with them.

Redhead came to the new world the latest time, and Uta worked in Beast Fruit again. The group of old, weak, sick and disabled under him also made Kaido less interested.

So apart from the navy, the most battles broke out between Beasts and Whitebeard. This situation did not gradually disappear until after Whitebeard died.

During this time, they also experienced this power.

Rubber is unreasonably immune to lightning, and its backbone and perseverance resist the high temperature of the flame, but in the face of low-temperature lightning, rubber appears weak.

At ultra-low temperatures, even rubber will be affected by low-temperature brittleness. Naturally, it cannot ignore lightning attacks like before.

Not to mention that he is not Nika, even if Nika came, this ability has a way to keep Nika from laughing.

"Why do you still have this ability?"

"There are still many unreasonable abilities in the new world. Even now, what you see is just the tip of the iceberg. Here it comes again, get out of the way!"

On the other side, Mizuka is supporting her own defensive barrier with her hands, and she and Speed are taking turns using the defensive barrier for defense.

"Is Missy's Frozen Volt even troublesome aftermath?"

"Speed, the point is not here, I think we should prepare for more troublesome situations?"

"Why?"

"Missy has already started not to control the aftermath of the battle. She is not the kind of person who doesn't care about it. This can only show that her side is on the top. That is the lonely red who has regained her youth. The aftermath of this battle will not be more than that of Kai. How young is the governor?"

Chapter 1207 People who are cheap have their own money

In places other than Ghost Island, Kaido will not care about the aftermath of the battle, no matter what kind of impact the aftermath has, it has nothing to do with him.

At this time, Yamato is slightly Kaido-like. In fact, it is not that she has no control. Both Redfield and Yamato still have leeway at this time. This is already the result of control.

If it is not controlled, Redfield's ability is not bad, and it will not cause much impact by itself, at most it will make a few holes on the island.

If Yamato does not control it, it will only be a matter of time before Dressrosa turns from a tropical country into a snow and ice hell.

The countries in the world of Pirates are mostly islands. Except for those superpowers, most countries have very limited land area, especially in the great sea route, the country's area is about the same as some big cities.

Dreis Rosa is not much bigger than Ssangyong City, and the real Kyurem Frozen Ssangyong City only takes a moment.

This can be regarded as a misjudgment by Speed and Mizeka. After the war on the top, Kaido has been quietly preparing Yamato, no, it should be said to prepare a big one for her in person.

And the preparation stage was so long that Kaido never did anything.

This has made Yamato rarely use his real skills in the past two years. Even if they are cronies, Yamato will not train them with all their strength, so they are still judging Yamato based on their cognition two years ago.

Dressrosa escaped, but the bullfighting arena was not so lucky. The sandstorm caused by Peggy Wan did not last long. Under the influence of Katakuri's awakening, most of the dust turned into a part of rice cakes. The remaining ones were also gradually assimilated by Yamato's power.

The bullfighting arena has ushered in its cold winter. Katakuri itself is fine, but the rice cake derived from the influence of the awakening ability has been frozen as hard as ice, and has long lost its flexibility.

And has been repeating the process of being re-softened by his ability, and then frozen again. In the end, Katakuri simply ended the awakening temporarily, no longer wasting his physical strength, and temporarily leaned aside with Owen.

In this extremely cold environment, Owen is a ready-made stove, which has an excellent effect of keeping warm, and Ace on the other side also exerts the same effect.

Even Peggy Wan has been maintaining the flame fang release, indirectly turning into a large fireplace.

Those who have no ability to set fire can only choose to carry it with their bodies, the temperature is only low, and it will not cause any impact for a while.

Although the fighting between them has not completely stopped, it is not as fierce as before.

A ray of ice and thunder flashed across, and the sea water around the ring also turned into solid ice, and a half-body-protruded fighting fish turned into a frozen fish.

"The surface of the sea is frozen, and that betta fish doesn't know where it went."

Ulti hit the ice with her tail, and the feedback told her that the entire pool in the bullfighting arena should have been frozen solid.

"Wait, old lady, they are also afraid of the aftermath of Yamato-sister's battle, and they probably won't be able to fight for a while."

Peggy Wan and Ulti chose to wait and see in the end, as long as Yamato drew his hand after the battle, the fruit would be something that was within his grasp.

They are different from other players. If they can't get the fruit, they still have the second choice of delaying time.

"Ahhh, audience, you can feel that the temperature of the bullfighting arena is plummeting. I suggest that those who can't persist should stay away from here. Even if they stay here, they may not be able to see things clearly.

I will always insist on explaining for you here! "

People in the ring can be said to be experienced in many battles, even Bucky is no exception. You can't deny the number of times he has fought just because he gets beaten every time he fights.

They can still bear it, but the audience is different. Under Gaz's suggestion, many people chose to leave. The cold is one thing, and the aftermath of the outbreak in the bullfighting arena is getting bigger and bigger.

They were very worried that they would not be able to get out if they continued to watch, but some people were extremely persistent.

In a corner of the auditorium, a large amount of white wax liquid created a large wall here, and there are dozens of observation ports on it. These are Bucky's younger brothers, and they are all waiting for Bucky's battle.

Behind the crowd, Mr. 3 and Kabbage played poker on the spot.

"How long have you all been standing? Is it necessary to invest so much energy?"

"Brother 3, this is the heroic appearance of Captain Bucky. He must have been planning this finals for a long time. If he doesn't look good, he may not have a chance in the future."

"Well, indeed, if he hangs up, you really won't have a chance to watch it. I hope that guy won't go crazy and take his own life."

Mr. 3 analyzed the words of Bucky's fans from another angle. Looking at those boys who videotaped Bucky with phone bugs, he has given up complaining and dissuading.

It's just that those little guys haven't seen Bucky take a shot so far. Since the finals, Bucky has become an invisible person.

It seems that he didn't appear on the final stage. At this time, Bucky's feet are hanging on the side of the ring. These are the spikes he modified with Mr. 3's ability. The spikes on the soles allow his feet to be fixed on the vertical surface.

Then his body flew to the highest point within his ability, as if he didn't care about worldly affairs. The reason was very simple, he didn't think he could offend any of these 15 people.

Even Rebecca didn't want to do anything. It wasn't because of his conscience that bullying the weak was not a good behavior, but because he was afraid of causing some uncontrollable factors. Now Shiliu told Bucky the result by himself.

"It's a good thing I didn't attack the little girl, otherwise I would have become an old man, but Sirius, my uncle's chance has come."

Looking at Shiliu who was shivering in the cold wind, Bucky seemed to think of something.

Pirate culture is prevalent in this sea. Warlord separatist forces such as the Emperor of the Sea, or certain adventure groups, expedition teams, as long as they do not have the permission of the world government, they can be regarded as pirates.

And this name itself is not a good word. Among the people present, the ones who most fit the characteristics of real pirates are Bucky and Shiliu.

Despicable, cruel, greedy, these characters can be seen clearly in them.

"As long as I kill that guy, my uncle can be regarded as a bit of a real record."

Looking at all the Shichibukai under the king, Bucky is definitely the most faceless one.

Others are either amazingly destructive and have powerful force.

Either reached some kind of agreement with the world government, or showed amazing talent, or had some political significance.

No matter how bad it is, they have lost to some top powerhouses. Those powerhouses are famous, and if they can survive under their hands, they can already be called powerful.

Only Bucky was praised by weird public opinion. Although his younger brothers flattered him, he accepted the flattery shamelessly, but he still knew how much he weighed.

Has a glorious record, and it will be more convenient to act in the future. Whether it is recruiting new subordinates or threatening others, it can be said that it is the man who killed the former guard Shiliu of the Rain.

As for Shiliu's broken arm and being sucked dry by Redfield, this process can be completely ignored.

As long as it has been passed on for a long time, people will only remember the result.

"Hahahaha, Shiliu, watch your tricks, and come to meet the wrath of my uncle! The clown throwing knives to pieces!"

Baki grabbed several throwing knives with both hands and flew towards Shiliu. Even though Shiliu's condition couldn't be worse, he still kept an extremely safe distance.

"You bastard"

The extremely weak body couldn't unleash the domineering energy at all, Shiliu could only watch Bucky's throwing knife keep stabbing him, and in the severe cold, his life kept passing away, and he soon lost his breath.

Death at the hands of Bucky, a cowardly clown, has become the most humiliating thing for Shiliu, a huge humiliation that has no chance to wash away.

"Hahaha! Did you see that, little ones? This is how great Uncle Bucky is!"

The complacent Bucky killed the most important opponent in his life, but he seems to have forgotten that standing too high is easy to be struck by lightning.

A thick ice thunder fell from the sky, freezing Bucky into a piece, and fell straight onto the ring.

"Ice Dragon Gossip!"

Ah Jian waved a dragon-shaped phantom, and he seemed to be able to vaguely see the will of Ah Jian 1.0 to Ah Jian 6.0. Even in the dark, Yamato still locked on his goal.

Darkness is a natural place for vampires to fight. Even if the power in Yamato's body allows her to evade knowledge-based predictions, Redfield also made changes in time with his rich combat experience.

The mace slashed across his waist, and Redfield also turned into a group of bats under the attack, and reorganized his body in the dark, and in Yamato's perception, Redfield's aura instantly changed from one to four individual.

That is the clone of Redfield made up of scattered bats. The clone can increase the attack range, but it will also disperse the strength of the main body. But as long as the clone is still there, Redfield is an undead creature.

Attacks with no dead ends came to her, but they were completely blocked by a circular barrier.

"Aren't you a vampire? Why do you still have a clone?"

"It's just a little trick. Compared to your ability, this is nothing at all, right? Lightning, frost, shock waves, and barriers are also phantom beasts. You have committed more fouls than me."

"Each to each other, but you should have had enough of staying in the night!"

Electrical energy gathered on the wings, and a flash of lightning pierced Redfield's dark field. The last time Yamato used an iceberg to occupy all of Redfield's dark field, he had to withdraw.

But as Laidfield regained his youth, the area shrouded in darkness became even larger, and simply using physical volume expansion could no longer take effect.

So after a little preparation, the lightning she released filled the entire darkness. Even if she turned into a bat, she couldn't avoid the lightning that filled the sky. This is a powerful thunder that can shatter the darkness.

Chapter 1208 Doflamigo: I seem to be playing off

Electric energy erupted, and thunder lights emerged from the darkness. In the end, Yamato just relied on the full coverage of the thunder to disperse the Dark Field of Laidfield again.

The figure of Redfield also appeared in front of everyone again. There were large scorched black marks on the elegant red dress, and the umbrella in his hand was still spinning, and the residual current could still be seen from the edge.

Just now he made the umbrella act as a shield through the domineering attachment, and used the metal umbrella tip as a lightning rod, using the way of rotation to avoid the impact of the lightning.

The lightning had not yet dissipated, Yamato's figure had appeared in front of Laidfield, and on the lightning wings behind him, two turbo-engine-like objects were spinning at high speed.

Redfield, who has recovered his spirit and regained his youth with the help of his fruit ability, is undoubtedly stronger than the original Golden Lion.

With both feet broken and a rudder stuck in his head, the Golden Lion who began to seek external force was much weaker than the peak Golden Lion. Even if he pulled out the rudder above his head desperately at the last moment, it was just The end of the crossbow.

But the intensity of the battle between Yamato and Redfield is actually far less intense than that time.

Ledfield didn't do any experiments with Pokémon. Even though the two were fighting to a degree comparable to natural disasters, the battle was still in the stage of a contest rather than a deathmatch.

Ajian smashed head-on, and Laidfield, who had already tried Yamato several times, did not meet Yamato's attack, but chose to dodge. He was not a strong player, and the previous battles also made him understand that Yamato's strength This aspect is far better than him.

The blood-colored afterimage flickered around in the ring, and Yamato kept following Redfield's pace, and the speed of swinging the mace was also accelerating.

"Stimulating the body with lightning? Young people nowadays are really amazing."

Yamato, who is stronger than him, is actually on par with him in speed. Although the vampire fruit has great power, compared with Yamato, it is a bit stretched.

Ledfield has always had a metal chain hanging on his mouth as an ornament. Through the crisp feedback on this ornament, he has already noticed the difference between Yamato and Raiden.

In addition to the weird ice thunder, Yamato can also simply rely on the power of Zekrom to release normal lightning. It seems that they are all lightning, but the essence is completely different. The focus of ice thunder is more on ice. For example, it has now become an ice sculpture. Bucky.

Yamato can guarantee that she didn't intentionally hit Bucky with lightning, it was purely an accident, and with Bucky's two actions, if she catches her Frozen Volt head-on, she will lose half her life if she doesn't die.

He was only touched by the aftermath of the frozen Volt that bounced off by the Red Earl. Even so, it froze his heart, and he fell directly into pieces.

If it weren't for him being an ability user who had the fruit torn apart, this shattered body might not be able to be reassembled.

Fruit ability and physical fitness are not dominant, and the level of domineering is comparable. The only thing he is ahead of the opponent seems to be age.

"It seems that this new journey will never be lonely. Even if characters like Newgate and Roger are gone, there will still be no shortage of interesting opponents in the sea."

"What? Old man, is your target also One Piece?"

"Not before, but now, I'm interested in that position."

"That can't be done. One Piece belongs to my * father. When he becomes Pirate King, I will beat him up."

"It's really incredible logic. There is no doubt that the winner of this game can only be you and me, but I have no idea of fighting for a few days. The next move will be the winner. If you still can't do anything, this time I lost the game."

Ledfield, who seems to be a crispy assassin, actually has extraordinary endurance, especially after having the vampire fruit, his ability in this area has been enhanced.

Even if he ate the fruit not long ago, by virtue of his own ability, he has developed the application of the fruit to a very high level. Some CP9 can develop it to the point of awakening after eating the fruit for two years.

He is a majestic Red Earl, and the ability to be familiar with fruit is only the most basic thing.

"No. No, it seems to be about the same, so let's decide the winner with one move."

Kaido and Arceus did not watch her. As long as there is a real result, it seems okay to omit some steps. If she has a few days to spare, she might as well find an island to travel. Thinking so, Yamato readily agreed with Hong Earl's proposal.

"I'm really behind the times, and I can't understand the words of you young people more and more."

Yamato's answer made Laidfield hesitate for a moment, but he still made a fighting stance. The opened umbrella was tightened again, and the arrogance gradually gathered to a point on the umbrella tip.

The bat wings waved, and the footsteps continued. In an instant, Laidfield came directly above Yamato, holding the handle of the umbrella with both hands, and then stabbed down vigorously.

And Yamato has already corrected his posture, noveLuSB.COM

The lightning released from the dragon wings behind her began to move along the armor-like veins on her body. After being compressed and reorganized at the tail, her body also began to flash a strange blue light.

The color of the current gradually changed to blue-white, and the electric engine behind her also entered a state of high-speed rotation.

The overclocking mode was activated again, and Ah Jian swung from bottom to top, colliding with the tip of Laidfield's umbrella,

The umbrella and the mace collided in the air, but they didn't stay in a stalemate for too long. Instead, they missed it as if they had slipped.

Thunder and lightning suddenly appeared large cracks, and Yamato's attack also turned into a phantom and flew into the sky.

"What a coincidence, is this a tie?"

"A draw? No, it's not over yet. There is still a follow-up to this one."

The sky cracked again, and the clouds at this time were no longer pure white clouds, but full of oppressive dark clouds.

The pitch-black clouds were pierced by Yamato's huge impact, and lightning raged in it, making deafening thunder.

But apart from the sky, the ring under their feet seemed to have reached its limit, and Laidfield's blow also began to ferment.

The arena began to shake violently, and the foundation made of rocks could no longer withstand the huge force.

In an instant, the bricks and stones collapsed, and the buildings around the bullfighting arena also collapsed. The people who were still here began to panic and run around.

Fortunately, the bullfighting arena, as a landmark building in Dressrosa, has a fairly good earthquake resistance. Although there were a few huge cracks on the wall, it did not collapse after all.

But in the cracked sky, a vortex of thunder and lightning began to form, and it slowly rotated. The dazzling electric light seemed to swallow the surrounding light, and the cold breath emanated from the vortex, making people feel fear and despair.

In the center of the vortex, a mass of ice-blue energy kept emerging, as if an irresistible force was rising, and finally condensed into a dragon-shaped phantom, which smashed down with the waving of Ajian in Yamato's hand.

"Ice Dragon Gossip Duo!"

"Yamato! You bastard! Are you trying to kill us too?!"

Looking at the attack that included the entire arena, even Ulti's head was terrified.

She and Peggy Wan don't care about the aftermath of the freezing and the environment. If something similar to the frozen Volt hits them, she and Peggy Wan really can't stand it.

"Xiao Pei! Slip away, this guy is completely on top!"

After deftly releasing the transformation, Ulti rolled onto Peggy Wan's neck and patted his head to signal Peggy Wan to take off quickly.

Looking at the terrifying attack, Peggy Wan didn't say anything, grabbed Mizeka and Speed and flew towards the edge.

"Hold on tight!"

Marco also had three people hanging on his feet, and flew away from the ring, while Qingjiao and Rebecca jumped to the distance by themselves. They can still do this kind of thing.

Even if leaving the ring is out, they can't care about it anymore. Waiting in place is no different from committing suicide.

While everyone was evading, the collapse of the ground became more severe, and huge cracks began to appear below the ring.

The seawater that was originally frozen had melted under the influence of overfrequency lightning, and gradually seeped into the cracks caused by Redfield.

However, everyone escaped in time and retreated to a safe position in time. Only the pieces of Bucky who hadn't slowed down fell down along with the crack.

After that, a huge deep pit was formed around the ring due to the loss of sea water, and the group of bettas also lay on the bottom of the pool without support.

As Yamato's attack finally fell, the bullfighting arena, which had experienced several battles between strong men, also reached its limit, and the ring collapsed completely, even the ring under Yamato's own feet was not spared

Then the earth shook violently like an earthquake, and as the land collapsed, a huge black hole caused by ground subsidence appeared at the location of the bullfighting arena.

No one noticed that their feet were always empty.

"The bullfighting arena. Disappeared! The arena that has existed for an unknown number of years has ushered in its destruction! What a terrible blow, I am afraid that no one can survive this blow?!"

This is a blow that far exceeds the endurance of the bullfighting arena. It is a great blessing in life to see this level of competition!

Under Yamato's precise control this time, only the part of the ring was destroyed, and the surrounding spectator seats were only turned into dangerous buildings because of the Red Earl's attack.

When everyone was fleeing one after another, and even Bucky's younger brother didn't dare to stop, only Gaz still stuck to his post, showing his love and dedication to the extreme.

But the match didn't end in a real sense, the outcome of the Red Earl and Yamato can only be decided by themselves, but the Zhenzhen fruit fell into the abyss below together, which made everyone with flying ability speed up to chase go up.

And Doflamingo, who was watching the battle through the live broadcast from a distance, also frowned completely. Now the trouble is really big.

Chapter 1209 The beginning of the rollover

Special prisons, factories where toys work, ports for underground transactions, all these shady things are located underground in Dressrosa.

It looks like a complete island, but most of the bottom of the island is hollow. Pika and Diamanti's fruit abilities are of great significance in shaping the land. With the abilities of the two of them, Building an island is much more convenient.

This match was a dance on the tip of a knife for him, but before the start of the final, Doflamingo believed that all of this was still under control, and his goal was almost achieved.

After his Qi wuhai identity was restored, the forces who received the news from all over the country also sent a large number of new arms orders.

Qi Wuhai's identity can be misreported just like Wan Wan's. Maybe in a few years, even the Demon Slaying Order can be misreported. These years are too dangerous, and it's always good to have more weapons to protect yourself.

Storing food but not guns usually becomes a large express box.

These transactions are somewhat unsightly, and Doflamingo is also a Shichibukai. Such things that disturb the stability of the sea and wantonly smuggle arms must not be done in the open.

Although the arena was right above the factory, Doflamingo didn't think there would be any problems. No matter how fiercely they fought, they shouldn't have pierced the entire island.

With that kind of strength, in the arena, it is simply crushing, no matter how hard you fight, you will not make such a movement.

As a result, he happened to meet Yamato and Redfield, but if one is missing, this situation will not develop now.

"It's okay, it's okay, these people can fly, so they shouldn't be interested in going down there"

Doflamingo could still comfort himself, but he still took out his phone bug and found Quinn's contact information. He wanted to confirm something.

But the other side of the phone bug never answered.

Doflamingo didn't know that Quinn was testing his safe house in the reversed world, and the signal from the phone bug couldn't get through at all, and only Rotom could reach the reversed world gradually transformed by Arceus. .

"What? The development of things seems to be different from what you thought, Doflamingo, it seems that your arrogance will eventually harm yourself."

Luo Youyou, who was chained to the chair, woke up, just in time to see Doflamingo's unhappy expression.

"Luo, it's not your turn to be happy now, you'd better take care of yourself first."

Even if the following things are discovered, the troublesome things are just aftermath. As long as there is nothing wrong with the sugar, Doflamingo's actions will not be affected too much. Those toys cannot resist or show the truth.

Limited by the fruit ability of Granose, the person turned into a toy by her can only work honestly, and because after being turned into a toy, other people will lose their memory of this person. Doflamingo also made another one thing.

He instilled another idea in other people who did not become toys. Some toys will fantasize that they are human beings. This is a very complicated disease. Toys suffering from this disease must be eliminated.

Under this policy, many toys that tried to awaken the memories of relatives and friends were directly obliterated, and this is the source of those toy remains.

But Doflamingo's phone rang quickly, and Torrebol's panicked voice came from it, which completely disrupted Doflamingo's plan.

"It's not good, Dover! Granose passed out!"

"?!"

Not long ago, in the bullfighting arena, before the ground collapsed due to her attack, Yamato locked onto the betta with the fruit treasure box, and flew directly towards the betta.

She crushed the outer box, and the shocking fruit that led countless people to Dressrosa appeared in her hands, and Yamato stuffed it directly into Arceus' secret box without confirming the authenticity of the fruit. Shimamomo shoulder bag made by power.

Ledfield did not intervene in Yamato to take away the fruit. There is no doubt that Yamato took over his attack just now. In this case, he lost the result of the duel.

He would not go against what he just said and failed to get that interesting collection, but many interesting people also gave him extra gains.

"Very good, now the fruit is in hand."

At this time, Peggy Wan also came to Yamato with other pendants. Ulti on his back was grinning at Yamato, looking very angry.

"Let me tell you, if you plan to make such a noise next time, can you remind us first?! Do you know that this is scary!" no17eplusB.com

"You can definitely dodge this speed. Besides, the charging time of this move is very long. I still trust your ability."

"I don't want this kind of trust at all!"

"Indeed, this time I agree with Ulti."

Robin also flew over at some point. She didn't have this ability herself, but the combat suit transformed by Quinn has it. Xiaoli didn't come out with her this time, but was doing special sniper training with Elizabeth, and the battle suit also It has become a necessary item for Robin's operation.

"Ah, well, next time I will tell you in advance, remember to remind me when the time comes."

"Who knows when you will do this again! Can you not learn from that idiot Kaido! You are really father and daughter!"

At this moment, Urti suddenly felt a little hopeless about the future of the beasts. It seems that even if the beasts are updated, this simple and crude style of painting is still hard to let go.

Compared with their ease, other people don't think so. To Katakuri, it can only be said that the mission failed. In his capacity, it is not a big deal. Qingjiao temporarily failed in revenge, and he can also find a second time. Chance.

But the man with the white beard is different.

"Damn it, that's what Papa's fruit is like"

They didn't give up because getting the fruit meant the game was over, but they knew that they couldn't beat the opponent.

From the moment the fruit entered Yamato's pocket, it was unrealistic to take it out again. At least in a frontal battle, they had no chance of winning at all, unless there were other external forces willing to help.

"Don't worry, Ace, there is still a chance."

Marco comforted Ace, but he didn't have much confidence in his words. At this time, Gaz on the dangerous building announced the final result.

"An earth-shattering battle! Oniji Yamato got the shocking fruit! The bullfighting arena also came to an end and so on?! There is a new situation! Why are all these toys turned into people? What the * is going on? What's going on?!"

Gaz suddenly saw that the bodies of some toys left in the arena began to swell, and finally turned into living people.

And in the deeper underground, the voices of order also echoed in this space.

"GOD Usopp! GOD Bucky!"

Weak and feeble, gone today

Chapter 1210 Multi-party transactions, the war of human nature behind the table (million words)

Not long ago, before the battle between Yamato and Redfield destroyed the entire bullfighting arena, a battle broke out in the toy factory below.

All the toys on the entire island are bound by the sugar contract, unable to resist, and can only work non-stop.

But Granose once made a huge mistake. While Tongquguo gave her special abilities, it also locked her age at the stage of a child, and even her mind stagnated a little.

Cyrus was the first soldier who was turned into a toy by her in Dressrosa. At that time, Granose forgot to sign a contract with him, which made the toy soldier Cyrus turned into the only one who could resist in 10 years. Toy.

It is also because of Cyrus that the small people can form a resistance army and plan this SOP scare operation.

But the long-planned SOP operation of the little people did not have any effect. The leader of the Plum Blossom Army, a member of the special ability team, and one of the top cadres, Torrebol, has been following Granu.

In addition to maintaining the underground factory, his most important task is to protect the sugar. The power of the little people is extremely weak in front of Torrebol, and they were defeated by his slime within a few encounters.

At this time, the only combat power left in the underground factory was Usopp. Although he overcame his fear in a desperate situation and launched an attack on Torrebol, it didn't have any effect.

The crushing of strength cannot be equalized by shouting two slogans, unless he can also become Nika.

If you kill Usopp directly at this time, or turn it into a toy, there will be no serious consequences, but in order to teach Usopp a good lesson, Granose throws the "poison" used to deal with her into Usopp in the mouth.

She didn't know that it was not poison, but a special chili bomb.

The terrifying spiciness made Usopp's expression abstract, and the abstract distorted face and miserable howling sound left an unforgettable shadow on Granu.

At this time, the bullfighting arena collapsed due to the terrifying battle. Although the middle field was turned into powder under the duet of Yamato, there were still a large number of stones falling from the edge.

Usopp's ghostly face was something that Torrebol didn't expect. Even if his knowledge is good, he can even perceive objects the size of a fly, and he hasn't cultivated to the point of predicting the future.

But facing the falling boulder, he still pulled Granary to a safe position.

"Hey, hey, I said Granu, hold on! You must not pass out because of Dover! Sober up!"

Torrebol tried to save the sugar, and ignored some small things that fell from it.

And Bucky, who was frozen to pieces before, also fell off at this time. As we all know, in this world, excessive spiciness will temporarily give people the ability to breathe fire.

Under the influence of the super hot chili pepper, Usopp just ended his fire-breathing, and there was even black smoke from his mouth.

Bucky was first frozen through by the aftermath of the frozen Volt, and then he was broken into more fragments under the impact of the aftermath, and was roasted by Usopp during the fall.

When he landed in front of the sugar, it was just a pile of "crumbs" that had just thawed.

"Break into pieces!"

Bucky's head was shattered into several pieces, and his eyes were still staring at her like this. With Torrebol's efforts, he managed to regain his breath and collapsed in an instant, even his soul almost flew out of his body. .

Looking at the helpless Granu, Torrebol also understood that he was in big trouble.

At the next moment, the toy body carrying the goods in the underground factory began to emit light spots. Pirates, soldiers, gladiators, no matter what their identities were, they all regained their freedom at this moment.

"Bastard, how dare you use me unscrupulously?! Go to * with me!"

"Isn't it fun to squeeze me? Do you dare to beat me with a whip? Come again!"

Most of the toys here were not peaceful owners before, and they were extremely depressed after being turned into toys. Now, after turning back into human beings, they want revenge immediately.

Not only in the underground factory, the bullfighting arena, the dock port, the highland of the king, but the toys in the entire Dressrosa territory have been resurrected.

Government officials, naval soldiers, dignitaries from various countries, and countless troublesome people have all recovered their freedom at this moment.

Most human beings can still control their emotions, but those beasts turned into toys have begun to destroy wildly.

At the same time, ethical issues erupted in Dressrosa. The toy wooden horse that the child rode was his biological father, and the toy that accompanied the husband and wife was the woman's other husband.

Because of forgetting, the woman didn't remember that she was married a long time ago. Looking at the two normal men, she also fell into confusion for a while.

Doflamingo in the royal palace was also confused by the noisy news. Dressrosa was on fire everywhere. The members of the Don Quixote family didn't know what to do now, so they had to let him decide the news.

After the final chaos, the people gradually unified the target of hatred, and under the leadership of some former Dressrosa soldiers, they began to gather towards the palace.

"General Fujitora! Dressrosa rioted!"

"Riot? No, it's just that the direction of the wind in this country has changed. The shady scene in this country seems to be much bigger than I thought."

At the same time, in the underground factory, Bucky has returned to his original appearance.

"Damn it, where is my urinal?"

The height is not low, but it is still very difficult for people who want to fall to death at this height. Bucky only feels extremely sore all over, and there is a chill from the inside to the outside of the body, and the lower body seems to be missing something.

Finally, he found his own parts under the ruins, and reassembled them together.

The toys that witnessed the whole process have all changed back, including some of Bucky's subordinates.

Even if the cadres of the big forces are defeated, Doflamingo will not touch them, except for those with a large number of subordinates like Bucky.

Doflamingo doesn't want to directly trigger a conflict with another Qibukai, even if this Qibukai is weak, but it doesn't mean he won't attack these people.

"Captain Bucky! Did you give up the game on purpose to save us?"

"Captain Bucky, you actually overcame the influence of the fruit. Didn't you forget us? I'm so touched."

They also learned about the ability of Tongqu Fruit while watching the battle of the little people. When they saw Bucky at this time, they thought he was here to save people, and they immediately rushed up and lifted him up.

"Wait, no, who are you?"

Bucky's body is still very stiff at this time, and he still has difficulty moving after thawing for a long time, even when looking for his own parts, he looks like a zombie.noVelusB.coM

He didn't forget this group of people because of Grano's fruit ability, but he didn't remember them at all.

There are too many younger brothers following him. Except for a few good-spoken and capable ones, he can't remember who is his subordinate at all, so he is regarded as a benefactor by his younger brothers and others in such a daze.

At the same time, Usopp was also worshiped, and the two lucky ones suddenly became the beliefs of this group of people.

Looking at those people who worshiped him crazily, Bucky suddenly had some ideas, and through the descriptions of these people, he also figured out the situation.

Among those who recovered their freedom, he saw Elizabello II, some generals in the navy and secret agents of the world government.

There is no doubt that the current Doflamingo must have committed public outrage.

"After offending so many people, this guy's Shichibukai will definitely not be able to do it. If I kill him too, it will really become famous."

Bucky pondered his chin, and began to dream about the bright future. He is not Doflamingo's opponent, but these people are now Doflamingo's enemies. If they join forces, they will definitely defeat Doflamingo. Brother Ming.

In this case, as an organizer, I can become a "hero".

When Doflamingo resigned from Qiwuhai, the sweetness he tasted made Bucky have greater ambitions.

If there is no Doflamingo, wouldn't all those businesses be his own?

If you can win the title of hero, it will be more convenient to do many things.

Using the people here to kill Doflamingo became Bucky's idea at this time.

"Okay, let's do it like this, that long nose. I remember that he is the crew member of the Straw Hat. If I bring him, the Straw Hat kid and his brother will be my support. This uncle is really a genius."

Thinking in this way, Bucky suddenly had motivation in his heart, and even his body became much more flexible.

Then Bucky flew in the direction of Usopp, pulling him up.

Here, it is Usopp and himself who attract attention. As long as the two of them are together, they will definitely attract everyone's attention.

Facts are exactly as he expected, he who ascended into the sky really attracted everyone's attention.

"Little ones! And you unlucky toys! Uncle Bucky, and this... Usopp is your savior!"

My uncle has seen through Doflamingo's conspiracy, so he came here, the purpose is to save you unlucky guys! "

In the past two years, Bucky has been either pretending to be aggressive, or living on the road of being forced to act aggressively. He has become very proficient in how to play up his emotions.

"I heard that some of you have been toys for 10 years, how painful it is! But today, your heroes appeared! Remember us, Bucky and Usopp, are your saviors!"

These people have seen what Usopp has done, and they must not lose it. Bucky simply counted him as an ally

After a few words, the two of them earned the name "GOD" and a long cheer.

"Asshole. Put me down quickly, it hurts like hell."

Bucky was only affected by the aftermath of the power that was basically dissipated, and there was no injury. Usopp had a head-on battle with Torrebol, and it would not be an exaggeration to say that he was covered in bruises.

Being held in the air by Bucky like this, Usopp doesn't feel good at all.

"Give me a little more persistence, and then you will become famous, and we will not lose."

Bucky whispered beside Usopp, but Usopp couldn't listen at this time.

"Put me down quickly, can't you see that my face is covered with blood? Don't help me. You bastard"

If eyes can kill, Usopp must have killed Bucky, but unfortunately he has no ability to resist now.

As for the little people of the Dongtata tribe, they were watching him from below like a pilgrimage, and didn't notice Usopp's plea for help at all.

Von Klein had acted with Usopp before.

But Von Klein was also turned into a toy by the sugar. At this time, he was also moved by himself, and he was listening to their speech below.

"GOD Bucky! What is GOD Usopp saying, we can't hear clearly!"

"He seems to say... seems to say that he wants to guide us!"

Without waiting for Bucky to answer, the people below completed their self-imagining, and Bucky also followed their meaning.

"That's right! My companion will guide you with me! Now go and defeat Doflamingo! Complete your revenge!"

"There are also companions who rescued the little people"

Usopp has not forgotten his mission, after Bucky's bold words, he mustered up his strength to speak out his request.

"No problem, now it's our turn to help you!"

"Follow your instructions, let's go together!"

"Dover, the toys in the underground factory have completely rebelled, and now they have begun to attack the factory under the leadership of Bucky!"

In addition to Granu fainting, another piece of bad news was sent to Doflamingo.

"You said. Who's leading?"

The string called reason in Doflamingo's mind seemed to be completely snapped. He didn't expect that Bucky would have the guts to stab him in the back at this moment.

"Thousand Ryoka Bucky, and Usopp from the Straw Hat gang, that guy is also one of the masterminds."

"Get rid of him together! I'll figure out a way to deal with the rest, don't worry about who this * is now!"

Doflamingo doesn't want to deal with the influence of the Shichibukai's infighting anymore. He doesn't expect Bucky to help, but Bucky is actually making trouble now. This is already something Doflamingo can't tolerate.

Anyway, it's a Shichibukai who doesn't deserve his name, so Doflamingo wants to see what a guy who doesn't deserve his name can do with a group of losers.

"I see, Dover."

In fact, even without Doflamingo's order, Torrebol is planning to do so, but the degree of attack is slightly different. With Doflamingo's order, he can better follow the Eliminate these people at the root.

Looking at the rushing crowd, Torrebol pinched one of his nostrils, then blew hard, and a large amount of mucus flooded towards the crowd in front of him like a wave.

A spark lit up on the tip of the plum blossom cane in his hand, and then ignited the slime he released.

Those are not snot, but the mucus he releases with the sticky fruit. As a user with the sticky fruit ability, his body can release a large amount of mucus, which is not only extremely viscous, but also flammable and explosive.

Release mucus with the nostrils, probably purely for the purpose of disgusting the opponent.

The sea of fire formed by the mucus temporarily blocked their steps. At this time, Diamanti also floated over like a ghost.

"Diamanti? Why are you here?"

"I saw that those toys were restored, so I came over to take a look. It looks like you are in big trouble."

"Hey hey hey, it's not sure who's the trouble, these guys are just dying, are your injuries okay?"

"It's okay, the old guy seemed to keep his hand when he chopped, at least there is no problem in fighting."

Touching the wound on his body, Diamanti grabbed the iron pillar on the side, using his ability to directly turn it into a huge hammer, and smashed it towards the crowd in front of him.

After the big melee started in the underground factory, other members of the Revolutionary Army also began to look for something here, but they didn't find the result they wanted.

In the bullfighting arena, Rebecca, who was in the auditorium, was already crying. With the end of Sha Tang's real ability, she had already remembered who Cyrus was.

She is not without a father, her father has been guarding him in his own way.

"Toys have become people. This country is really different. It may be a bit offensive, but Rebecca, let me see what you are missing."

Looking at the restored toys, Redfield read Rebecca's memory again, and the blank part has been completed at this time. In a few minutes, he knew what happened to Dressrosa in the past. And told Pa Dong.

"Boss Ryder, if you say that, isn't that Doflamigo an asshole?"

"Asshole? From the perspective of ordinary people in Dressrosa, this is indeed the case, but this is the status quo of this sea. To be able to do this, he is quite capable."

Padong's heart is more like a child, and Redfield essentially raised Padong as a child, but Redfield himself is not a hero. He has been a lone walker for decades.

Doflamigo's method here is that he also expressed a few words with emotion.

"Boss Ryder, are you just admitting defeat? Obviously you can continue to fight."

"Yes, yes, but I have already agreed before, so naturally there is no point in continuing. If we really fight with her, it will not end in a day or two."

At this time, Luffy seemed to remember something.

"Oh, yes, I came here to defeat Doflamigo."

Clapping his hands, Luffy finally remembered what the purpose of his action was.

"Ace, Sabo, I have to leave first, hehe! I'm going to find Terran! According to the plan, they should already be in the palace."

Luffy let go of Marco's hand, then grabbed Hero in mid-air, and flew towards the distance. He didn't mean to borrow the power of his brothers, in his opinion, these were his own affairs.

It wasn't until Luffy grabbed Hero and flew away from here that Ace and Sabo recalled what Luffy said just now.

"Did he... talk about the plan?"

"Seems to be."

It is normal to have a plan, but it seems very unreasonable to say the word plan from Luffy's mouth. No matter how you think about it, he is not a person who can remember the plan.

"Ace, let's separate temporarily, I still have some things to do."

At this time, Sabo received a call from Kerla who was in charge of investigating the situation in the underground factory.

The Revolutionary Army had also sent some personnel to Dressrosa before. They believed that the weapons sold by DoFlamingo were the root cause of the war, and they wanted to destroy DoFlamingo's weapons factory.

But those people, without exception, were eventually turned into toys by granulated sugar.

Now that Granose is in a coma, the ability is also released, but the revolutionary army did not find any weapon factories. There are only ready-made weapons here, and there is no place to make weapons at all.

Sabo is going to continue investigating this issue, so he also left here.

"Marco, what do we do now?"

"Go outside to see the situation first, and then decide what to do next."

The Zhenzhen fruit was not eaten. If it fell into the hands of others, it would inevitably trigger a new round of competition, but the only one capable of doing this was Laidfield, who had already given up on this idea.

It's just a collection, it's good to get it, but it's not worth his effort if he can't get it.

The remaining people either knew the extent of Yamato's force, or were frightened by her last blow, so they naturally lost their minds.

At this time, the bullfighting arena had no meaning of staying. They went to different places one after another and began to plan other things, including Yamato.

"How about Robin, have you figured out what's going on?"

"No, it's just that those toys seem to be transformed into people. Now we are going to attack DoFlamingo, and I haven't seen anything else yet."

Robin's ability is very convenient for investigating information, and now the radiation range of her Huahuaguo has become larger, and through the extended eyes and ears, the latest information is quickly collected.

"If you want to find out what's going on, I'm afraid you have to ask DoFlamingo."

Before Yamato and the others could act, a large number of silk threads suddenly fell from the sky, covering the entire Dressrosa, and DoFlamingo's birdcage was finally set up.

Doflamingo himself is also very entangled in whether to release the birdcage. If he doesn't use the birdcage to confine the entire Dressrosa, if too many people run out, it will be very difficult for him.

But now there are too many monsters in Dressrosa, if they are attracted to attack him together, then his life will not be over. There are only a group of monsters on this island that he can't fight now.

They are all in a hurry, they might as well commit suicide directly.

So he just released the birdcage, but didn't let the birdcage shrink, and began to contact the friendly forces he knew.

The birdcage will isolate external signals, but it can still communicate freely inside. At this time, Dressrosa is still under his control. Through the monitor on the island, he can find the location of many people.

For example, Katakuri and his party, not long after Katakuri left the bullfighting arena, the ground in front of him squirmed, and Pika came directly in front of him.

"Your Excellency Katakuri, this is what the young master asked me to entrust to you. He has something to discuss with you."

After handing the phone bug to Katakuri, Pika dived back into the ground. According to Doflamingo's order, he had to send a phone bug to Yamato before going on a combat mission.

But he failed this mission, Yamato didn't wait there at all, and didn't ask Doflamingo, but chose to see what was going on on this island by himself.

Doflamingo also completed his communication with Katakuri during this time.

"joker, what do you want to do?"

"Don't be so indifferent, Katakuri, we have made some deals more or less, how about another deal now? Help me kill all the extra people on this island, and I will give you a pirate. The price is satisfactory to the group."

As long as all the insiders are killed, these things will naturally not be exposed, but he can't do it.

There are too many enemies on this island that are difficult to deal with now, including Redfield, an old monster from the old era, the queen deputy of the Big Mom Pirates and the Whitebeard Pirates, and the successor of the Beasts Pirates. His attitude is unknown. The Admiral of the Navy, the second in command of the Revolutionary Army.

Let's not count the cadres of other big forces, just these guys, Doflamingo can't deal with them, and the forces behind them, Doflamingo, can't afford to offend them either.

Redfield and Rebecca have some inexplicable connections. He didn't think there was any problem before, but now Doflamingo is a little nervous, but the good news is that Yamato, who he thinks belongs to a friendly force, can follow Redfield pair.

The three Katakuri brothers are also capable of dealing with the Whitebeard Pirates. Without Whitebeard as the backstage, Doflamingo is not afraid of these remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates.

In the Navy, he can contact people from the World Government, and the rest of the troublesome people are the Revolutionary Army. As for Luffy and Law, even now, Doflamingo only regards it as an accident, and doesn't think they It's a serious problem.

"What the * are you trying to do?"

"Hey, he was just bitten by some ants, and now he needs a little external force. I'm contacting the ghost girl from Beasts, and it should be enough to deal with the problem here."

After thinking for a while, Katakuri weighed the situation here, and temporarily agreed to Doflamingo's employment.

Doflamingo has been an intermediary in the underground world for so long, and has a close relationship with people in the underground world, so he naturally has some connections with Big Mom.

"I have another question, where is Caesar?"

"This. He was taken away by the Straw Hats, and I don't know where he is."

"Caesar belongs to us. If you can agree to this condition, your matter will be discussed."

"No problem, but you need to get rid of these troublesome guys first."

Doflamingo already had a plan to get rid of Caesar's burden. After he finds Luo and gets the formula from him, Caesar will lose its meaning. Of course, Doflamingo doesn't mind selling him for a good price. Yes, this is also considered waste utilization.

Although Doflamingo has completed some deals, what he is worried about is also happening. At this time, Rebecca is also negotiating a deal.

"Your Excellency Ryder, I want to hire you."

"Why, have you changed your mind, have you thought about becoming a pirate?"

"That's not the case, but Doflamingo has brought too much suffering to this country. I would like to ask you to expel him for us. I assure you as the granddaughter of King Liku, and I will pay you one at that time." Satisfied with the price."

"Rebecca, you must know that I am also a pirate, and what you are issuing now is a bad check."

Ledfield has said before that the prerequisite for him to help fight against Doflamingo is that Rebecca agrees to join the group, and he has no plans to change this idea yet.

This country is indeed unfortunate, but it has little to do with him.

But at this time, with the completion of the birdcage, Dressrosa has also undergone tremendous changes.

Under the influence of Pica's ability, the royal palace rose from the ground, and the rocks and soil of the entire island began to gather towards the middle area, finally forming a huge high platform.

In the original location of the palace, although Luffy arrived here, he didn't even see Doflamingo's face, only saw King Riku and Luo who were beaten down by Pica with his ability.

Cyrus, who has recovered his original appearance, is also here. He launched a surprise attack on Doflamingo before and successfully killed him. However, what he defeated was only a fake body made of thread.

Doflamingo seemed to want them to see for themselves what the island would look like, so he didn't kill him.

At the same time, Doflamingo's voice was heard throughout the country through loudspeakers.

"The citizens of Dressrosa, and all the guests, if I ruled you with fear from the beginning, there would be no troubles today.

There must be many people who have learned the truth, and they all want to chop me up.

I have prepared a game for you, a game that can kill me, I am in the palace, I will not run or hide.

Of course, there is another way to end the game, just kill all the guys I named, and I will provide a high bounty for this. During this process, the killing will not stop. "

A large number of parasitic lines sprinkled across the country from the sky, manipulating some people on Dressrosa to continue the attack.

"As long as the game is not over, these people will continue to attack you. Even if you kill them, the corpses can continue to attack."

Speaking of Doflamingo announced a large list of prisoners, Bucky and Usopp's bonuses are among the best, becoming the highest amount of prisoners.

Compared with the original timeline, there is another difference. The Sunshine has returned to this area at this time, and Brook and others have also started operations on the island, which makes them also become prisoners.

Redfield naturally also heard Doflamingo's declaration, and when he saw Brook's name, he slightly changed his mind.

"I've changed my mind now. It just so happens that I need a new boat to go to sea. You can build me a boat then."

The new invitation was reached, and Redfield also had a new goal at this time.

Most people still have their own goals and plan to kill Doflamingo, but the chaotic fighting on the island makes some people not know what to do. Is it easier to kill Doflamingo, or kill the dozen tortured people? It is easier for people and has become a new problem for most people.

"What to do, His Majesty King Liku has just been wronged."

"Let's kill Doflamingo, so many of us, if we unite as one, we can definitely kill him!"

"That will kill people. Have you forgotten what happened 10 years ago? That guy's ability is too terrifying. Even if he can be killed, who will die?"

There will be sacrifices in war. They are all ordinary citizens, and no one wants to use their dead bodies to pave the way for others.

Doflamingo's behavior is no different from talking to a wolf. He has already made it clear that the person who told this place was the one who did what happened 10 years ago.

He is not afraid to unite the whole country because of this incident, because Doflamingo understands that people's hearts are the most unreliable, and those pirates and some people will inevitably make different choices in the face of interests and death threats.

Only in this way can we solve the problem of enemies in front of us, divide them, and add a few powerful helpers who have traded well, the problem will naturally be solved.

After Doflamingo finished speaking, the originally united people split into two factions not long after.

"He is alone!"

"It's not alone! To kill Doflamingo, we have to deal with 2,000 soldiers from the Don Quixote family, as well as those cadres and that monster!"

At this time, Pika has manipulated the rock to turn into a giant monster, and is targeting those who want to attack. For these people, they can't tell how strong the enemy is.

But with 2,000 soldiers, Pika's huge size, and the shadow and deterrence brought by Doflamingo, they lacked the confidence to attack Doflamingo.

"Then what should we do?! Are we going to continue attacking His Majesty King Riku!"

"Actually, there is no need to kill them. There are only a dozen of them. As long as they are all captured alive, shouldn't Doflamingo stop?"

"Yes, otherwise the casualties would be too serious"

The navy is under the leadership of Fujitora to restrain the citizens controlled by Doflamingo, and others are also trying to hold down their relatives, but this kind of thing is a drop in the bucket. If the problem is not solved from the root, it will not end at all.

There are even some villains fishing in troubled waters, pretending to be controlled and then wantonly burning and killing. Some people want to take this opportunity to kill their rivals in love and take off the extra green hat on their heads during the 10 years since they disappeared.

Because of the existence of those rules, Fujitora still did not choose to attack Doflamingo at this time, but was just suppressing these rioters and trying his best to maintain the order of the country.

Doflamingo is still Shichibukai, Fujitora wants to initiate reforms from top to bottom, even if he doesn't like it, he still performs tasks within the rules.

In this case, no one seems to be able to save them.

That reason seems to have convinced them and made many citizens change their minds. If they can survive by betraying others when facing a strong enemy, many people will give up the bottom line.

Even if they don't know, whether the enemy will keep his promise.

Ordinary citizens will still struggle with this, but those pirates who are turned into toys are different. They have no bottom line. If Doflamingo directly stated that he would kill them all, then these people would definitely Desperate resistance.

But Doflamingo gave them a chance and promised huge benefits. These people immediately chose to turn against the water.

"GOD Bucky! Please sacrifice again and use your head to give us a way out!"

"GOD Usopp is here, catch him quickly! He is worth 500 million Baileys!"

These people showed their fanaticism in another way, and this caused great dissatisfaction with Bucky's little brother.

"You bastards! Master Bucky saved you, and you actually repay your kindness!"

"Get rid of these ungrateful guys! Protect Lord Bucky and his comrades!"

Because of his poor brain, Bucky's younger brother tacitly agrees that Usopp and Bucky are now in an alliance.

They "saved" them together before, and then they were wanted by Doflamingo together, so they are allies in any way.

The pirates of Bucky Express and the other pirates in the port were divided into two camps, and they fought fiercely.

At the beginning, Bucky's younger brothers were at a disadvantage in numbers, but soon, his reinforcements arrived, and Mr. 3 was also dragged over without knowing the situation.

"Brother 3, we need weapons, please!"

With Mr. 3 as the core, a liquid wax reloading army appeared in Dressrosa.

Not everyone is so ungrateful. For example, Elizabello II, Eddie the Destroyer, Bruno Ki of the Long Legs, and Bartolomeo, a fan of Luffy, joined together and launched an attack on the high ground.

At this time, Bucky also made a new choice.

The younger brother is fighting the enemy for him, so of course he has to react.

Before they were outnumbered, and they fought and retreated, and they retreated to the marginal area without knowing it. So he resolutely chose to escape.

"Lord Bucky! Please wait a moment, that's over there."

Hearing the younger brother's shout, Bucky thought that his actions had been discovered, not only did not stop, but accelerated his escape speed.

"Doflamingo's Birdcage."

Refused to listen to dissuasion, he bumped into it head-on, and then turned into Bucky who was divided into five equal parts, but he is a person with the ability to split the fruit, not only did nothing happen, but also directly reached the safe zone.

"Do you still want to trap my uncle? Dreaming!"

Seeing that he was safe, Bucky started talking nonsense again, constantly belittling Doflamingo in his words.

"No way, that's a thread that can't be broken by a cannon."

No one would sit still, and those who resisted tried to destroy the birdcage and escape, but whether it was a shell or a sword, they split into several petals the moment they touched the silk thread of the birdcage.

The rocks were easily split, let alone the human body, and several unbelievers still died on the birdcage.

"Hahaha, this uncle is the strongest, don't worry little ones, I will come to rescue you soon!"

After realizing that he could come and go freely, Bucky also relaxed. If the younger brother can be saved, he will come back to pick them up. If Doflamingo wins, then he can only change the younger brother.

But Bucky couldn't escape, and a force of gravity suddenly pressed him to the ground.

"Admiral Fujitora! What are you going to do to Mr. Bucky! He is Shichibukai!"

"I'm really sorry, the old man just wanted to keep him, I didn't expect him to be so vulnerable."

Fujitora also tried to summon meteorites to attack the birdcage just now, but it didn't work. The meteorites were also cut by the birdcage, and the broken meteorites caused a lot of trouble instead.

Logically speaking, Fujitora should have the ability to destroy the birdcage, but he didn't do so, I don't know what he was planning.

Bucky, who can freely enter and exit the birdcage, made him think differently.

Sensei sensed that Bucky was about to leave, so Fujitora had no choice but to keep him in this way, which was similar to a pat on the shoulder for the other Shichibukai, after all, Fujitora estimated Bucky based on Doflamingo's strength .

The result. Bucky in the pit almost turned into a bucky cake. The difference in strength made Fujitora not even know what to say.

"Sorry, I'm removing gravity now, please listen to me."

Saying that, Fujitora released the restraint on Bucky, and handed a phone bug out through the gap in the birdcage.

"There is no signal near here, please go to a place farther away, make this call, and tell the headquarters to implement Plan B."
