

Arceus 121

Chapter 121 Flame Vortex

"Damn, why is the Navy here?"

"Damn, why are there pirates here?"

Two thoughts appeared in both minds at the same time. Pirates are naturally members of the beasts who went deep into this place, and these navies were originally ordered by the world government to come here to capture Barrett's navy.

Their identities are members of the second recruit battalion led by Zefa.

The time period of the recruit battalion led by Zefa himself was one year, because Zefa could not be responsible for the basic training of all the navy.

Those who come here are all members who have completed basic training and are about to enter the army, or who have performed meritorious deeds and come to further study. It is similar to the pre-exam sprint intensive class. They have been screened several times before entering here.

Basic physical training can be done by anyone, there is no need to waste his energy, those are all done by his deputy and other instructors.

Sakaski and Polusalino were the first class of graduates. At this time, Zefa had already begun to bring the second class of students, and the capture of Barrett was their graduation practice.

Grey had described Barrett's strength, so the navy believed that the new battalion led by Zefa was sufficient for the mission.

Although Zefa retired from the post of general and only retained his rank, his strength is still there, and he is not only responsible for bringing new recruits, such as this kind of graduation assessment for recruits is when he goes out to perform tasks.

In addition to the ordinary excellent navy in the training camp, there are also elite generals and newly recruited monsters transferred from all over the world for intensive training.

Whether it is the three generals of the Qingzhi period or the elite lieutenant generals in the later period, almost all of them are the early students of the Zefa training camp.

Comprehensively, the strength of the training camp is not weak.

But they still underestimated Barrett's strength. Facing the encirclement and suppression team led by Zefa, Barrett successfully escaped, and the mission of these people changed from rounding up Barrett to rescuing the local civilians.

This is not an allied country, and the navy has no obligation to rescue, but the admiral who goes out has the right to order his subordinates to do this kind of thing, so a rescue operation begins.

The navy came earlier and had already penetrated into the hinterland of the country, and the beasts came late, which caused them to meet from both sides.

The pirates didn't expect there would be a navy here, so they called their companions to help. The navy didn't expect that there would be pirates here to save people, so they went over after hearing the call.

The muzzles of the guns were pointed at each other, and no one acted rashly. At this time, once the gun was fired, the consequences would be both losers.

The small-scale confrontation ended with the cries of children in the rubble, and a navy medic chose to treat the wounded.

After seeing that these pirates had no intention of blocking, they began to gradually retreat, and eventually the distance between the two sides became farther and farther, and they each hid behind the bunkers.

"What's going on with these pirates, will they save people?"

"Perhaps your conscience has found out, go to inform Instructor Zefa and prepare to arrest them."

"Is this okay. They are also saving people"

"You only see them saving people. Where you can't see them, they don't know how many people they killed. We can ignore this time, but we can't ignore these pirates."

Whether it's Zefa, who abides by the concept of not killing before, or Zefa today, he will not choose to ignore the pirates. Under his teaching, the students naturally do the same. Maybe they are good people, but they have become wanted pirates. That's why the Navy wants to arrest them.

These navy recruits turned around to inform Zefa what happened here, and the pirates did the same.

"Brother Jhin, it's not good, there are navies on this island, and they seem to be quite numerous."

"Understood, you first retreat to the vicinity of the ship."

Jin, who was opposite the phone bug, was not shocked, because there were already navies lying nearby. He had been following Arceus, and he went deeper here than ordinary members, and naturally he also encountered these navies.

"Master Holy Beast, have you made any new discoveries?"

"No, it doesn't seem to be on this island, it's time to leave here."

"You leave first, and they will follow after I finish."

"Stop kidding, you're not that guy's opponent."

The general navy in the training camp is not Jhin's opponent, and there is no future admiral in it, but Zefa is here, and the current Jhin is far from Zefa's opponent. If you let him stop Zefa, you really won't be able to come back. .

"Let's go, he can't catch up."

said that Arceus turned back and left here. The Admiral was not afraid, but there was no need to fight. There was nothing he wanted here, and even the fight was just a meaningless fight.

Get nothing but wasting time, the beast doesn't fight pointless fights, let alone him.

Jin firmly believed in Arceus' words. Since he said that Zefa couldn't catch up, he would definitely not be able to catch up, so he immediately followed Arceus and left here. ηOVelusB.coM

Looking at the pirates in front of him and ignoring them and leaving, and a few navies on the ground who didn't know whether they were alive or dead, Zefa immediately wanted to catch up, but just after taking a step, a sense of crisis appeared in his mind.

He took a step back, and at this moment, the flames soared into the sky, and the huge fire tornado wrapped Zefa and the navy around him.

The flames shot straight into the sky, even Jhin from the Lunaria tribe had a hot feeling. When he looked back, he only saw the flames soaring into the sky.

"What's wrong? It's just a flame vortex, Shaina can use it too, haven't you seen it before?"

The flame vortex, although not very powerful, is very durable and has an excellent effect on trapping the enemy. Jhin has seen Shaina's flame vortex, but that size can burn Quinn.

The flame vortex released by Arceus is already a natural disaster-level power, and the huge flame tornado trapped Zefa in it, and the surrounding land became dry and cracked.

It was obviously a flame, but there was an extremely strange power in the flame, which not only made the flame have a higher temperature, but also had a strange toughness. His fist hit it like a mud bull into the sea, and all the strength was absorbed.

When his students rushed to the vicinity, what they saw was this huge vortex of flames, and Zefa just dug out of the soil.

Those flames seemed to have their own foundations. He dug deep to find a place without flames, and he used his hands to punch out a tunnel.

And the price he paid was his own hair. Hair, eyelashes, eyebrows, and beards were all spared from the high temperature, making him completely turned into a head.

"Teacher Zefa, we are now."

"Continue to save people and rescue the wounded."

Jin and the others have long since disappeared. Whether to waste time hunting down or continue to rescue the residents here, Zefa chose the latter.

Chapter 122 Jhin who didn't read the Yellow Calendar when he went out

Looking at the vortex of flames that was still burning, Zefa's expression was very scary, which may have something to do with his burnt hair. His domineering defense prevented him from being extensively burned, but his clothes and hair were not preserved.

Due to the mistakes of the excellent photographers, Zefa did not know that the flame vortex was the handwriting of Arceus, but mistook it for Jhin's skill.

Jin also used fire on a large scale in battle, but the information clearly stated that he was a creature of the ability.

"Phantom beasts? The power of this flame is probably stronger than burning fruit."

The flame vortex left by Arceus lasted for a long time, until they left the island, the flame vortex exhausted its power and dissipated.

During this period, no matter whether it was a strong wind or something, there was no way to extinguish the flame, which made many survivors on the island think it was the wrath of the gods.

"Brother Jhin, your new reward order is out."

On the way back a few days later, Jhin's reward order was updated, and the reward directly reached 300 million Bailey, which became the highest reward for the Beast Pirates since Kaido.

This is because of Zefa's report. He has the ability to temporarily trap the former general, and he is already worth the price. Bailey has not depreciated at this time. 300 million is already a low price.

The other party just chose to trap him but did not take further action, which made Zefa make the judgment that the other party was unable to follow up, and finally this bounty appeared.

"Three hundred million Bailey, as expected of Brother Jhin, so strong."

"Yeah, the reward for the eldest sister's head is not so high, but what did Brother Jin do recently?"

There must be a reason for the growth of the bounty order. In their impression, Jhin did nothing, just followed Arceus all the time. How could the bounty increase in the end?

"Concentrate on sailing and ignore these useless things." Jhin could guess why his bounty went up in price, but because Arceus caused his bounty to soar, it's better not to talk about it.

This trip did not find what they needed. Due to the destruction of the war, they were unable to replenish the supplies at the destination. They also distributed some relief food to the survivors who were affected by the disaster.

In the case of confirming that there is a navy on the island, the follow-up matters have nothing to do with them. At this time, when they came to resupply, they docked on a nearby island according to the instructions of the record pointer.

I came here not only for supplies, but also to find ancient plants. The climate of this island is that of Taikoo Island, but the residents on it have kept up with the development of the times.

Since medicinal herbs that have become extinct in the outside world can occasionally be found in the deep mountains on the island, the economic situation of the island is not bad, but Jin has a feeling that everything is not right. Now he has run into the navy led by Zefa on the island, Here comes a new trouble.

He just looked for similar herbs according to the sketch drawn by Assie, but he didn't expect to find the herbs, and before he could buy things back, new troubles came to the door.

A group of bounty hunters has surrounded this place. Bounty hunters are also one of the main occupations in this world. They don't want to join the navy, but they don't like pirates, and they don't want to engage in ordinary production work.

The final choice is to become a bounty hunter, who relies on the head of a pirate in exchange for a bounty.

But they are just a group of people who do things with money, not just catching pirates, if the price is right, many things are within their professional scope.

And their target is not Jhin, but the shop owner behind Jhin.

"Do whatever you like, don't trouble me, I still have things to do."

He doesn't want to interfere with these things at all. It's a good thing to find a plant that he needs. Now he just wants to bring the things back to his life, but someone outside doesn't want to let him leave.

"300 million reward"

Although Jhin has his own disguise, he has not changed his appearance for so many years. The world government's high bounty for the pirates is to attract bounty hunters to hunt him, not to make people fear him.

Wealth and silk are heartwarming, and in the face of Jhin's bounty, these are somewhat heartwarming, this world will never lack people who don't know how high the sky is.

In addition to the pirate's own strength and the consideration of the world government's overall influence, the pirate's bounty is also one of the factors of the captain.

The bounty of the subordinates of the big pirates is higher than that of the pirates outside. Their strength is not weak, but they are also influenced by their own captains, so some of the officers of the big pirates have falsely high bounties.

If you really encounter this kind of inflated bounty, it will be a chance for some strong enough people to find out.

"I don't know whether to live or die."

Seeing that the muzzles of those people were still pointed at him, without any intention of letting go, the wings behind Jhin waved.

"Scorching Star Emperor." novelus8.com

The sharp wings cut off the two people next to him, and then a stone appeared next to Jhin out of thin air, and after being applied with flames, it slammed into the others.

After they acquired their abilities, they did not stick to the rules, but found different ways of using them according to their own understanding and habits.

Quinn combines the seed machine gun and body modification, Shaina's flame kick has been integrated into the original kicking technique, the alternate usage of Zeraora Volt alternates, and Kaido's defending impact.

Even wild Pokémon can find different uses of skills, not to mention them. Rockfall and sharp stone attack are the most commonly used skills of Jhin, and his own flame power is also combined with them. Rockfall in his hand More like a shooting star burning with fire.

But after he walked out of the gate, he found that there were still a circle of people outside.

"You seem to be quite valuable?"

They just temporarily diverted here because of insufficient supplies. These people could not have come for him, so their target is only the pharmacy owner behind them.

An ordinary drugstore owner can't recruit so many people. There are still more than 100 people outside, and there are even two cannons pointed here. Jhin's bolide has just shattered the wall outside. Those people in the situation directly chose to shoot.

However, after the shell exploded, it was not shrapnel, but green gas, and the people around were wearing gas masks at some point.

"This is a specially made anesthetic. The secret recipe I bought from those people is that even if a dinosaur can smell it, it can be put down. I don't believe you can stand it!"

The group of people he was talking about was the organ trafficking and assassination group. Those people had an outstanding talent for narcotics, but they had a bad life recently.

After the headquarters was destroyed by Kaido, the remaining forces were devastated by the BIG·MOM pirates, and the new world had completely lost their place.

Chapter 123 Someone sells fake medicine

There may still be their remnants in the first half of the Four Seas and the Great Route, but within the reach of all BIG·MOM in the New World, there is not a single dog related to them.

Perospero worked very hard this time. It can be said that he worked hard.

In order to survive, they had to find a way to leave the new world. The headquarters and the die-hards who went to revenge have been destroyed, and the remaining people naturally turned into birds and beasts.

In order to gather things to escape, almost everything that can be sold has been sold, and the formula of those anesthetics is one of them. Relying on this prescription organ trafficking and assassination group, many targets have been captured, including but not limited to various demi-human creatures and exotics. beast.

It was just that when the powder of the potion dispersed, both Jhin and the owner of the drugstore stood there intact.

For Jhin, this amount of anesthetic is nothing. The Lunaria family has a very high resistance, and in the laboratory of the research institute, his body has developed a very high resistance. Medications are hard to work on him.

The most important thing is his mask. It is not an ordinary mask. Anyway, you have to wear a mask all the time. It is natural to make yourself feel more comfortable. The materials of Jin's mask are specially made. Filter harmful gases.

It is very difficult to find fabrics that retain these two characteristics at the same time. In the end, Quinn got this fabric after the new plants cultivated by the tree fruit seeds were processed by Asier.

When the two conditions are superimposed, their anesthetics have no effect at all.

The pharmacy owner on the side was different. She quickly grabbed various medicines from the grid behind her, mixed them and stuffed them directly into her mouth, directly dissolving the effect of the other party's anesthetics.

"You need that kind of extinct medicinal herbs, right? I still have some residual seeds that may germinate. Take me out of here, those things are yours."

"It's a deal, but do you really dare to come with me? The captains have been defeated by Big Brother Kai."

The explosion of the shell just now had a certain impact. The shop owner's mask seemed to be made of something similar to a mask, and the quality was obviously substandard, which also made Jhin recognize the identity of the other party.

Ward Pirates Ship Doctor - Naiqin.

"It doesn't matter as long as you are not the lackeys of the World Government." For the members of the Vald Pirates, although Vald lost to Kaido, Kaido did not keep them.

What really changed everything was the conspiracy of the agents and subordinates of the World Government.

Bingjack had to order the members of Walder to leave, but the World Government did not let them go after capturing Walder.

Because of Walder, they also have a low bounty, but without Walder's military responsibility, those bounties also make their lives more difficult.

So Bingjack ordered everyone to go into seclusion and gather together when Walder reappeared. During this time, all they had to do was to protect themselves and accumulate as much money as possible.

It is not uncommon for pirates to join the opponent's pirate group after a defeat. It should be said that it is very common. Most pirates will annex valuable people after defeating the opponent.

She believes that her research on herbal medicines is comparable to that of few others. Even other pirates will not treat her well. Due to the undercover reason, her sense of the world government is also very bad.

She also lived on this island for a period of time, the main reason is that there are some cherished Chinese herbal medicines here.

The extinct herb in her mouth was also what Jhin needed, after all, he found one of the plants suspected to be described by Asier.η0VELusb.c0m

As for why Naiqin wants to trade with Jhin, she still has a clear understanding of her own strength. If it's a 1v1 or group battle, she still has some confidence, but 1v1 is not enough. The two cannons don't seem to be the only ones. It looks like it can fire anesthesia bombs.

"Bastard.. Those guys actually sell fake drugs!"

This is his idea at this time. The previous formula has been proven to be effective, so the problem now lies in the new drug they found.

But he doesn't have time to trouble those "fake drug dealers". Everyone is an adult and should be responsible for their own actions. Since he launched an attack, it is reasonable for Jin to counterattack.

Jin directly transformed into a beast form, his tail rolled up Naiqin and flew into the air, and then launched his own attack.

"That's Brother Jhin, right? How did he get into a fight with someone?"

"No matter why he fights, it's a feat! Come on! Do you want that guy from Mandelphish to squeak in front of you all the time!"

Mandelfish is now recognized as the most unlucky person in the Hundred Beasts. He is also the first person who is not a cadre but has obtained the fruit ability. The fair selection mechanism makes them speechless, but it does not mean that he does not want to. ability.

Unless you experience an absolute power gap, pirates will not be afraid of fighting, and such people will not choose to go out to sea to become pirates.

Jhin in the battle represented not danger, but merit. Immediately, many pirates dropped what they were holding, grabbed their weapons and rushed over.

Looking at these reckless people, some pirates showed a disdainful smile. They didn't mean to fight at all, but put away what they had left behind and pushed the small cart towards the boat.

is not a rookie who just joined Hundred Beasts. Jhin will only use the beast form when he thinks that his opponent is not worth his full shot. Jhin's figure in the sky is obviously cleaning up the miscellaneous soldiers, and the daylily should be cold when they get there.

There are no complicated factions under the Beasts. If you want to say it, there is an Arceus religion mixed in. The teaching is simply summarized that you can get everything by believing in Arceus.

This is also the external explanation of the power of Zeraora Lei. After all, as a fur tribe, this power is a bit supermodel.

It's better to find a way to make Arceus happy than to engage in a battle that doesn't require them at all.

For example, in addition to the daily supplies, there is a stack of books on their trolley, which is Arceus's daily recreational reading.

Diversified islands gave birth to different customs, as well as many novelists and cartoonists.

As long as the wealthy islands have their own culture, not to mention that some works can be sold all over the world, such as "The Warrior of the Sea: Sky", this comic strip serialized in the World Economic News.

The days of sailing are boring, and sometimes reading comics is a good pastime.

It is worth mentioning that Quinn is also very interested in this comic, the main reason is that he can see at a glance that the prototype of the villain is the guy Gage, which seems to satisfy his disdain for Gage in his heart.

Chapter 124 Fire Disaster

Quinn has achieved the ultimate in the sense of substitution. Every time he sees the evil army Germa 66 deflated, he can always laugh out loud, but his comics are not for nothing.

Everyone used to be a member of a research group, and other members knew more or less what they studied, and "Soldier of the Sea: Sky" was adapted by members of the World Government based on real events.

The "sky" as the protagonist, the dreamy robot and the seagull represent the navy, and Gage and the others are the villains. Although the plot has undergone great magical changes, the villains will always fail.

This is to shape the image of the navy as strong and righteous, while leaving a deep influence in the hearts of children.

However, Germa's abilities are all realistic. Quinn knew a little about the things that Gage was studying at the beginning. Looking at the description of the finished product in the comics, he had an idea for the research direction of that part of the technology. .

For him, this is not only a recreational reading, but also a research report.

And you don't have to buy it specially, just wait for the news bird to be delivered to your door. Serial publications are not regular content, but you can buy the full version for an extra 20 baileys, which is a small profit but quick turnover.

Several people here happily pushed the trolley back to the ship, and at the same time began to organize the deck, but the battle on Jhin's side was not over yet.

It's not how strong the enemy is, but these people stick to him like a plaster.noVELusB.com

He can choose to fly away directly, but according to the current state of this group of people, they will definitely follow him after him. The purchasers may not have returned to the ship, so they can't be left alone, right?

And Zefa made him powerless before, if he can't even deal with these guys and let them run to Arceus, then he will really be remiss.

"See that clock tower?"

"See, what are you going to do?"

"Wait there honestly." After saying that, Jhin's tail swung hard, and Naiqin was thrown towards the tower of the clock tower.

Although she is a ship doctor, she is also a part-time combatant on the ship. Her physical skills are not very bad. On the premise that Jhin's strength is sufficient, she landed on the clock tower smoothly. After throwing her out, Jhin was in action. also become more flexible.

"Scorching Star Emperor!"

The size of the rock avalanche can be adjusted. Stones wrapped in flames fall from the sky and start to attack the ground indiscriminately. Originally, some people used the house as a cover to shoot at Jhin, but now Jhin chose to destroy the house together with the people.

There were no ordinary residents here from the beginning. This encirclement could not be laid in a short time. I am afraid that last night, the people here have been quietly replaced.

The projectile of the musket has no effect on the current Jhin, and the body wrapped in flames after the beast transformation makes ordinary firearms unable to cause damage. The battle at this time is almost a total slaughter.

Jin in the sky was spewing flames downward from time to time. Under the illumination of the fire, Jhin at this time was like an evil dragon, destroying recklessly.

"The fire disaster... the fire disaster, no wonder he is called the fire disaster."

Although rocks appear from time to time in the flames, for humans, the shock brought by flames is far stronger than that of rocks.

Until this time, they didn't think of Jhin's bounty order. In addition to the information such as his name and the pirate group he belonged to, the title he was given was "Fire Calamity", a monster named as Calamity.

Fear welled up from the bottom of their hearts, they had lost the courage to fight at this time, and wanted to leave here uncontrollably, but his perspective turned, and the last silhouette in his mind was a headless corpse lying on the street. superior.

"That seems to be me?"

"Brother Jhin! Here we come!"

Different gunshots began to sound from the periphery. Since the main island of the Hundred Beast Pirates is an industrial winter island, it can produce more excellent arms. Although these weapons will be used for foreign trade, they have also been popularized in their own homes. Inside the Pirates.

Their gunshots are more crisp due to the different barrel construction.

But as the shrewd people thought before, this battle didn't take too much time, and when they came, they could only do the finishing touches.

However, the battle did not end because of this. Although those people had been defeated, they did not flee to the seemingly safe area, but ran to the most severely burned area.

The water and fire are ruthless. The way these people go straight into the sea of fire is too abnormal. If something goes wrong, there must be demons.

"Hey, you've lived here for a while, right? Is there anything unusual over there?"

Naiqin jumped off the bell tower in a few seconds. At the age of 80, she could achieve a short-term rejuvenation by taking drugs, and played against Hancock for a short time. Now she is only in her forties, even if she is not a full-time combatant. , the strength is also much stronger than ordinary pirates.

It's just that she is very weak in group battles, and her strength has not reached the point where she can ignore the number of people and heavy weapons.

"There. There are only a few pharmacies and nothing else, but I remember it was a dead end, how could they run there?"

Standing high and looking far, the wall on the clock tower blocked ordinary bullets, and they didn't have time to operate the cannon under Jhin's attack. Even if someone tried to climb up, they were not Naiqin's opponents in the narrow passage, so she still had time. Observe where those bounty hunters are fleeing.

And at this time, the flames that were burning all around suddenly went out, not a little bit, but all the flames in the range went out in an instant.

Those who had escaped turned back again, and behind them was a strange person whose stomach seemed to have turned into a blackboard with the words "flame and extinguish" written on it.

It is impossible for humans to grow blackboards on their stomachs, which is obviously a fruit ability.

The group of bounty hunters is also divided into strong and weak groups. Although they rarely appear, they are an indispensable part of the new world.

Pirates catch other pirates. If they don't want to recruit, and they feel useless to stay, they will send them to the navy in exchange for bounties. Naturally, as pirates, you can't do it yourself. Those bounty hunters usually act as the pirates. the role of an intermediary.

Bounty hunters belong to a profession with a very low threshold, and the professional quality is uneven, but one thing is that strength is also very important. If you want to get along in the new world, you must have a few talented people, and this person is This group of bounty hunters relies on.

It's just that he is usually only responsible for taking money, and he will only appear when he encounters something that cannot be solved. As long as the money is in place, any business can be discussed.

Looking carefully, only the hut was still intact in the area affected by the ember flames, so intact that it was out of tune with the surroundings.

"The reward of 300 million Baileys, no wonder you can't deal with it. According to the agreement, his 300 million will belong to me, and you have to prepare another 100 million Baileys for me."

Chapter 125 The benefits of using a vest when going out

Opening and closing their mouths was full of money, but the surviving bounty hunters agreed. Jhin's previous attack didn't mean to let them go. If they couldn't escape, they really didn't have to invite him.

100 million Bailey is not easy to get together. If they make so much money, they will have to hurt their bones. The careers of bounty hunters and pirates have some things in common.

But he only mentioned Jhin's bounty to him, but didn't say anyone else. After Naiqin's bounty was divided into 100 million, they could still have some left.

"Just come out and say some strange things to yourself, who do you think you are!"

Jin's younger brother obviously couldn't stand it anymore, so he picked up the axe and rushed out, but he was knocked back, and the thing that knocked him off seemed to be a teaching ruler.

"You are not allowed to speak at will in class. You are forbidden to speak." As he wrote a silent word on the blackboard in his stomach, the pirate who was beaten out suddenly found that he had lost the ability to speak.

Then he occupied a large blackboard and wrote Jhin's name.

"Violation of classroom discipline, you will be punished on the spot!"

He is a person with the ability to eat the fruit of the classroom. He can choose an area as his classroom. Within the scope of the classroom, he can realize the authority of his teacher by writing on the blackboard of his body. Now his ability is probably in the range of The size of a playground.

The larger the proportion of the font on the blackboard, the stronger the effect of the ability, which is what he used to extinguish the flame just now.

At this time, he used the remaining area, but he was worried that the strength would not be enough.

The area of the blackboard cannot be reused. After it is full, new operations cannot be performed. It must be erased. Once the font is erased, its ability will be invalid.

However, this ability can only be effective on inanimate objects, because he can only formulate the environment of the classroom.

For living objects, he can only punish, such as punishment for standing and silence, everything is related to the rules of the classroom.

And there are two conditions for the ability to take effect on people, one is to be hit by his ruler, and the other is that he knows the name of the opponent.

"Fire Calamity, Jhin, you can't move, please accept the punishment obediently!"

Before he could finish speaking, he saw Jin suddenly appear in front of him and punch him **** the head.

"A lot of nonsense."

Although Jhin's name was written on the blackboard, the premise for this fruit ability to work is that the written name must be his real name, and Jhin is just Abel's code name. Abel was his name.

This ability did not work on Jhin from the very beginning, which is also one of the biggest weaknesses of this ability.

However, sailors rarely use pseudonyms, and there is not even one in tens of thousands of people. Unfortunately, he met such a person. His physical skills are not strong, and he relies on the peculiar ability of fruit to solve opponents.

met Jhin, who used a pseudonym, and his only role was to extinguish the fire in the town. If there was no room on the boat, I'm afraid Quinn's plantation would have to be replenished with new staff.

After dealing with the bounty hunters, Jhin got the medicinal herbs he needed and some seeds of medicinal herbs from Naiqin.

Jin is not good at this kind of things, but he knows a little bit of basic herbal knowledge, and Shaina is the same. This is the strength they have trained in their young escape life.

Naiqin's level is indeed very high when it comes to the disposal of medicinal materials. If it is only concerned with medicinal herbs, I am afraid that Quinn can't compare to her.

"Would you like to join Hundred Beasts? Your captain has been imprisoned, so far no one has escaped from Impelton, and the Walder Pirates have been disbanded."

Whether it is the cultivation of herbs or the planting of tree fruits, these are the current development directions of the beasts. Arceus is also trying to get a herb, but he has not yet come up with it. He feels that Naiqin's ability can be useful.

Maybe it will play a big role in finding precious plants in the future.

Because of Kaido's leading role, these cadres will try to recruit when they meet the right people, but apart from enemies, the means of recruiting beasts are not so violent.

There are only three outcomes for the loser, joining, death, coolie, and these external talents are different, so he issued a solicitation to Naiqin

"The Wald Pirates are only temporarily disbanded, but do you guys have money? If the price is right, I can work for you before the captain shows up."

Bingjack and Sebastian are also looking for their own way of life. In order to prevent exposure, Bingjack instructs them not to contact them frequently unless they are sure that Walder has escaped.

It is also a good idea to find a powerful force to temporarily attach to.

"As long as you have the means, money is not a problem."

"It's a deal, but I have to clean it up. The medicinal materials I have there are hard to come out."

When Arceus' ship returned to the territory of the beasts again, there was a lively atmosphere on Winter Island, and before you knew it, it had come to the end of 1491, and the New Year's time of the Haiyuan calendar was coming soon.

Not all islands are eligible to enjoy the New Year, because no matter what day, crises and accidents may come, if there is not enough power to protect the safety of the island, the New Year is just an extravagant hope.

And Chinese New Year means the arrival of winter. Except for the climate of those summer islands, cold winters are more likely to take lives. However, the territory of the beasts does not have this scruple now, and the residents in the territory have the right to enjoy a good year.

The dividends of the past year have also been distributed to everyone, and the circulating funds have higher value. Since the island is under the rule of the beasts, the foreign trade here is the responsibility of the beasts.

Even if the salaries and dividends are distributed to the residents of the island, they are still circulated within the beasts, but they have greatly activated the economy of the island.

Naiqin has temporarily become Quinn's deputy. In fact, Asier is more suitable, but she has not yet gained the trust of the beasts. Such a stranger is not suitable for contacting Assie.

In the sky, the thousand-year-old dragons that have turned into archaeopteryx are circling. They are particularly sensitive to time. They will hover over the territory every year. They will accurately calculate the time. When the millennium comes, they will form groups. Return to Dragon Island.

"Master Holy Beast, welcome back."

Since there are members of the Arceus Cult on the ship, Shaina has already received the news of the ship's return, and the island is also preparing for the New Year's celebration. She has been waiting here for a long time. As the New Year is approaching, it is better to finish some things earlier. .

For example, about the formation plan of the Beast Air Cavalry.

Chapter 126 Three Years

This is what the Millennium Dragon Leader promised before. They got new power from Arceus and a stable living base from the beasts. The adult Millennium Dragon also has its own tasks.

Because of the characteristics of the Archaeopteryx itself, Arceus did not intend to let them participate in frontal combat, but was only responsible for reconnaissance and surprise attacks.

The number of thousand-year-old dragons has not changed much. The dragon eggs brought back at that time have not yet hatched, and the eggs of thousand-year-old dragons have hatched for decades.

And those young thousand-year-old dragons have not grown up yet. There are 15 adult thousand-year-old dragons including the leader, and each dragon can carry about four people on its back.

There are a total of fifty-eight places, because two of them have been determined by default. According to the discussion between Arceus and Kaido, this air cavalry will be handed over to Olga and become her direct team.

Because only Arceus and Elizabeth can talk to the Millennium Dragon, Arceus can't be a scout by himself, so Elizabeth who can communicate is an indispensable member. Because of its binding to Olga, this team belongs to her by default.

Olga was very happy at the beginning. Flying is one of the dreams of human beings. It is very good to be able to lead such a team, but correspondingly, there is an additional air combat subject in her subjects, and the lesson plan is composed of hundreds of students. The other officers of the beast have gathered together.

Kaido, Quinn, Jhin, and Shaina all have the ability to fly. Jhin and Shaina have been able to fly since they were children, so they know what to pay attention to in aerial combat.

Arceus added a lot of details. He is the only person who knows what a large-scale air battle is like. After all, the pirates' technology tree is very crooked. Even if a laser transmitter is invented, even if a mobile device can make the ship take off, there is no such thing as an aircraft. A flying vehicle exists.

First, a recruitment was conducted within the team to see who wanted to join the air cavalry, and then the screening was done.

The first step of screening is very simple, you can't be afraid of heights, the height of the Millennium Dragon's flight is not low, and people who are afraid of heights naturally can't be air cavalry.

The people here mainly seek life on the sea, and seasickness is rare, but a large number of people who are afraid of heights have been screened out, and then the height and weight are screened.

A big man is a good player in ground combat, but it is superfluous in air combat, and the air cavalry does not need close combat, so the weight is completely a burden, and all those who want are lean and lean, so that they can stand on the back of the Millennium Dragon. to add more weapons.

After a general screening, the number of people was much smaller, and there were not only members of the beasts, but also the residents of the island.

Beasts have also recruited the residents of the island, because Kaido is a strong warrior even if he is a miscellaneous soldier, and thin cannon fodder is not what he needs, but after all, there are few people who are willing to join the pirate group.

Until the life on the island changed during this period, no one was willing to join the beasts and become a pirate. This time, many local villagers signed up for the air cavalry.

After all, there are still some differences between air cavalry and ordinary pirates, but these ordinary people are more likely to be screened out. They have been engaged in agriculture or business, and they lack the ability of warriors.

After the initial screening, the final screening is handed over to the Millennium Dragon itself. After all, these people will be on their backs in the future. If the Millennium Dragon does not like them, the two parts of the air cavalry have no tacit understanding and cooperation, even if it is just reconnaissance. It will be half the effort.

As an air force, Arceus and Kaido did not expect this air cavalry to enter the battle in a short period of time, so in addition to stricter training for these qualified people, the rest is to have a good relationship with the Millennium Dragon.

If they are disliked by the Millennium Dragon, then they naturally cannot stay here.

Olga and the Millennium Dragon have a good relationship, mainly because Elizabeth can act as a translator, and she also saw the young master of the Millennium Dragon when she was injured. After careful observation, it can be seen that most of the members of the air cavalry participated in the original. People on treasure hunt.

Because the Millennium Dragon had the impression of fighting side by side on the boat, they got along better.

The time passed without knowing it. Three years later, the Beast Pirates are no longer newcomers to the new world. In three years, they have proved their strength with battles one after another.

The career of a pirate is short, one year is enough for a pirate to grow from a so-called new star to a veteran pirate, and the current beasts can also be called the old-fashioned forces in the new world.

All kinds of beasts and fruits developed well. In the first year, they entered the high-end market through the channels of Du Feld and Stuthy. They had their own names among the nobles and kings of various countries, and then gradually occupied the high-end market.

No one can compare to Arceus in terms of advertising and marketing. He has experienced many advertisements. He knows how to make a product sell well. Avocados can be popular in the market under various names. Naturally, there are no delicious tree fruits. Unsuccessful reasoning.

The world of pirates also has useful stars, and there are both black and white. Officially, through the contact of Morgans, he successfully contacted one of the popular stars, and spent a lot of money to make him an endorsement.

At Stucci, the World Government believed that this was an opportunity to deepen her connection with the pirates and make it easier to inquire about all kinds of information, so not only did they not stop it, but they also helped Stucci, providing her with a lot of channels and information.

resource.ηOVELusb.cOm

As for the world of pirates, Charlotte Lingling's name has played a very good role.

Healthy, delicious, healthy, all the names you can think of have been added. For a while, the sales of tree fruit occupied the high-end market in the new world, and gradually spread to the first half of the great route and the four countries.

Fruits that taste comparable to tree fruit can be found here.

But when it has a good taste, it can only be sold if it opens the market, otherwise the delicious fruit can only be buried in the soil to make fertilizer.

Hundred Beast Fruits is not a serious company, but it is also a member of the gray industry.

And in the past three years, the types of tree fruits have also increased, and different tree fruits have different uses, such as juicing, making spices, diet and so on.

Relying on these fruits, Hundred Beast Fruits has become the seventh king of the underground world as the "King of Fruits", monopolizing part of the high-end market.

After the brand image is established, they can also sell the same source of goods at a higher price, and also make more consumers trust them.

Beasts and Fruits also help those Captain John's treasures sell better. With their own white gloves, Beasts do not need to rely on middlemen for some things. Without the middlemen who make the difference, their business can be said to be prosperous.

And the original thing is still not exposed, although some people have found some clues, but those evidences soon disappeared, all thanks to Spandain's stubbornness.

In order to reduce his own responsibility, he firmly believes that these are all Priart's problems.

At the same time, Olga must have pretended to be Priert when she went out shopping, which was part of the reason.

The world government is still looking for the trace of Priert, but Priert has always been the same as the ghost, and he has never been able to find any trace of him, which made him gradually become the captain of the ghost.

And Arceus also found the sixth slate during this time, the green slate of grass attribute, which also made his farming career go a step further.

Chapter 127 Resurrection Grass and Children

Naiqin has proved her ability in three years. She has an excellent talent in herbal medicine. Even Quinn can't compare to her in the preparation of herbs.

Now her annual salary has reached 150 million Bailey, and this amount has exceeded her own reward. It can be said that she can't get this money even if she sells it.

Kaido has also initiated a solicitation to her. Talents in this area are also talents, but she has been declining. Although all kinds of novel herbs in the beasts have shaken her heart, she still insists that she is only a collaborator, her captain. Wald alone.

However, her situation is a little different. Although she still insists on her identity as the ship doctor of the Vald Pirates, she has indeed been working for the Beast Pirates for the past three years, and Kaido does not think Vald can learn from Imper. Dayton escaped, so I tolerated it.

However, this also led to Naigin being treated only as a cadre, without the status of a cadre. She could not order anyone in the Beast Pirates except when she was studying herbal medicine.

During this period of time, it was not only Quinn and Assie who was doing research, but Arceus was also doing research, and he successfully cultivated some novel crops using the green slate.noveLus&.com

Not far away, in the room of the instant, she was writing her logbook. Soon after she came to the Beast Pirates, she had this habit, and she would record some interesting things every once in a while.

Although I don't write every day, I also maintain the frequency of one article per week.

【December 16, 1494, heavy snow

Sana was very happy, she finally mastered the power of the moon lion yesterday, Zeraora can't say that she is weak now, she can also help him.

It's only been three years, and Zeraora still hasn't grown taller, and now he's already taller with him.

He doesn't like being called a dwarf. A pirate was beaten badly by him before.

Many people have obtained the power of the holy beast, and they want that power in an instant, but Zeraora said that they have to wait a little longer.

Last time Mr. Kaido brought back a slate, and Lord Holy Beast was very happy. I heard that there are many similar slates. If you can find it, you should be fine.

I feel a little homesick for a moment, but the outside is also very interesting. When I find the life card back to Zou, I must take everyone to see it. By the way, Zeraola has not been to Zou, I don't know if everyone will like him.

But he didn't come back from the mission]

Her diary was not finished yet, but there was a knock on the door.

"Sister Shaina, is something wrong?"

"Follow me, Lord Holy Beast find us."

"I'll be right here." As she said that, she turned out the window, and it was one of her hobbies without going through the door.

When she was brought over by Shaina, Zeraora, Jhin, Quinn, Mandelfish, Babanuki, Olga, Elizabeth, and several others were also strengthened by Arceus.

During the three years, many people have been strengthened, but they did not have the luck of Mandelfish, they all got the fruit, and they just used up the inventory of the beasts in the past two years.

But this is a very reasonable thing. They are all ordinary animals, and the purpose of finding them is to feed the appropriate species.

There is only one exception among all the people, she just learned three skills: sword dance, electromagnetic floating, and endurance, while everyone else has the ability of Pokémon.

She is a little young and has no chance to fight. Learning a few skills is already a special treat. If it weren't for the fact that she is a fur tribe and can use static electricity, it would be a problem to learn electromagnetic levitating.

Forcibly learn skills without the ability of this department, then you can only consume physical energy rigidly, and it is also possible for a skill to be directly empty.

"Where's Scourge? Why didn't he come?"

"Master Holy Beast, he had a little trouble before. He met new people who had just entered the new world on his island. Those people burned our two flags. He is dealing with this matter."

Baba Nugi came out to explain to Scourge, but his answer caught Shaina's attention.

"Two sides?"

"Big sister, they not only burned the pirate flag, but also burned the flag of Lord Arceus." Baba Nuki felt a chill in the back of his head, and Quinn, who was standing next to him, didn't know when the moment was over. Move, it's at least thirty meters away from here now.

"Big Brother Quinn, are you all right?"

"It's okay, it's okay, what can I do, it's just a little hot."

He already has some stress syndrome, and bickering with Jhin is commonplace, but he will never bicker with Shaina, this is already an instinctive reaction.

And Shaina didn't want to pay attention to Quinn either.

"Never mind that guy, then what?"

"Scourge has dealt with them, but it took some time to come over on time"

Burning the flag, or burning the flags of Arceus and Kaido at the same time, this is a clear declaration of war in the eyes of the beasts, no need to ask, Scourge knows how to deal with such a person.

Only their blood can wash away this shame.

"Okay, that's fine, it's settled. This time I'm calling you to give you something. If Scotch isn't here, Babanuki, you'll hand it over to him later."

After saying that, a few measuring hands held a box and handed it to them, and inside it was a withered hay.

"Master Holy Beast, what is this?"

"Your New Year's gift - Resurrection Grass, don't look at it inconspicuous, this is your second life, of course, it's a bit exaggerated to say that.

In short, eat it when your physical strength is exhausted or seriously injured, which can greatly restore your physical strength and give you the ability to fight again.

But it is very, very bitter, and you will probably only be able to taste the bitter taste in the next few days. "

The sentence      Second life is not an exaggeration at all, it means giving all of them a chance to do sit-ups on the battlefield, which is a special ability of the "protagonist".

Compared to this ability, its side effects are nothing at all.

There are not many resurrection grasses. The original effect of resurrection grass is only effective for Pokémon. Even if they acquire the ability, they still belong to humans and other animals. Among them, only Zeraora can directly eat the resurrection grass.

This is also the reason why Arceus succeeded in improving the resurrection grass after retrieving the green slate. Only with the grass-type slate can he have a higher control over plants.

The room was a little quiet, even Shaina and Jhin were shocked, and Quinn dropped his glasses.

Because of the different reasons of birth, Zeraora was the first to react.

I saw him kneeling on one knee, his tone full of piety: "Your will is our direction, go through fire and water, and do whatever it takes."

After a leader appeared, there was almost a chain reaction. The people in the room fell to their knees, and the words they said became more and more outrageous. Arceus felt that if Quinn was given some more time, he would be able to directly make up a rap.

"Okay, let's all get up, this is just to give you more security." Sometimes he was quite envious of the forced calmness of the old man next door, at least his subordinates would not embarrass him for any actions.

He felt that what Quinn had just flattered was enough to trigger the forced calm condition.

But today's events are far from over. Kaido, who disappeared every day, has also returned, but this time he did not come back alone, but with two children.

Chapter 128 This is your child?

It's not strange that Kaido loses contact with the Beasts Pirates. Sometimes he is looking for slate, sometimes he is drunk and crazy, and from time to time, he can see some strange news in the newspaper, such as Kaido being killed by so-and-so. The pirate defeated the capture, but he is still fine so far.

Because of the daily death of their own captain, the members of the beasts have become accustomed to the days when Kaido is not around.

Not long ago, Kaido lost contact every day and no one was worried. Anyway, he should be back in a few days. However, when Arceus was having a meeting with them, there was movement at the door outside.

In order to adapt to their size, the buildings here are relatively tall, and the height of the door frame is basically about 10 meters.

Everyone has grown up in recent years, only Zeraora has not changed in height due to special reasons. Jin and Shaina are now 19 years old and are already in the category of adults.

Jin's height has grown extremely fast in the past three years, and now he has reached six meters, completely catching up with Quinn's height.

Due to the gender difference, Shaina did not become such a little giant like Jin, but she was also three meters tall, but her own pressure was not small at all.

After a few shakes, the door was pushed open, and Kaido pushed open the door of the house against the wind and snow outside.

"Well, you are all here, I just want to show you something."

Kaido shook the snowflakes on his shoulders, and everyone's eyes turned to his arms.

Those were two swaddles, one of which was apparently carefully tidied up, while the other was haphazardly wrapped in unknown leather.

One of the important traditions of beasts is to go out and pick up children.

Although Olga delivered it to her door, it can be said that she picked it up.

Shinane also belongs to the kid who was picked up during the operation, plus the thirteen children Olga bought from the slave trader during the operation, which is basically the source of the minors within the Beast Pirates.

And the age of the children who were picked up is still gradually decreasing.

From the very beginning, Olga, whose real age is ridiculously old, to the teenage children she brought back, to the seven-year-old moment who came back with Shaina.

But now Kaido has reduced the age group directly to the level of a baby.

"Brother Kai, did you go to the orphanage?"

In the past, the people he picked up could see some fighting talent, but what can a baby see, Kaido couldn't go to be a midwife, how could he see something from a baby.

"What nonsense, I went out this time for the sake of the child. I picked this up at the beach. This kid is very tenacious, so I picked it up. As for the other one, it's my own child."

The room fell into silence, no one spoke for a while, Kaido's words instantly silenced everyone.

"Your child?"

"Yeah, my own."

"Hey! xN"

Kaido's reply was very bland, but it completely broke the peace here. This time it is no longer silence. This is Garen's armor piercing, silence and defense. No one thought that Kaido would go out this time. A big move.

But their shocked voice also completely woke the two children. They were brought back by Kaido in the cold wind. They were a little sleepy at the warm room temperature, but they were awakened by this exclamation. .

Two cries came out for a while.

"Why are you crying again. Hey, you woke up, you coax them for me!" Looking at the child who was crying again, Kaido's head suddenly became big, and he directly shoved the child to Quinn, who was closest to him. .

Kaido's request is really embarrassing, they are good at fighting, but no one can let them coax children. The last two cradles made of vines appeared out of thin air, and at the same time the healing bell rang, and Arceus solved it by himself this puzzle.

After they quieted down, others gathered around.

"Let Jean, let me see Boss Kaido's child."

"Don't squeeze, Quinn, what the **** are you doing!"

"I want to see it for a moment too."

After a while of pushing and shoving, the scene calmed down. A group of people gathered around a cradle. They were not interested when Kaido picked it up, and they were more interested in Kaido's biological children.

At the same time, they are still doing their own evaluation, but this comment makes Kaido feel that something is not right.

"As expected of Kaido's eldest child, he is really strong."

"Yeah, it's all one meter high, look at how thick the arms are, they have teeth."

"It's a boy. Big Brother Kai has a successor."

Strong? One meter tall? boy? The more Kaido listened, the more wrong it became, and he walked over.

"What nonsense are you talking about? This kid was picked up by me at the beach, and I brought it back to him after seeing that he stayed in the water and didn't die. It seems that he is a murloc.

This is my child, a girl, don't you think she looks a lot like me? "

Kaido brought back two children, one is an infant, it looks puffy, not to mention that it has nothing to do with Kaido, but it doesn't look like he was born.

The other one is much stronger. Although it is a baby, it is about one meter tall, with strong muscles, and some pointed teeth can be seen in the mouth.

Compared to the baby in pink and jade, this child, which was roughly wrapped in leather, was mistaken for Kaido's child.

Today they have been stimulated enough, and now they can barely keep calm, but they carefully compared the two children, and finally Arceus told the truth.

"Excuse me, except for the two little horns on her head, I really can't see how she resembles you. How old is the child, has she given a name? Who is the child's mother?"

There are some things that are difficult for others to ask, but Arceus has no scruples, so on behalf of the public, he initiated the three quality companies to Kaido. nOvεlusb.coM

Even babies can see some features, not to mention that the children brought back by Kaido are not new born, some places have been opened, but as Arceus said, the only thing they are similar is that they have horns. .

Many people are waiting for Kaido's answer, and they are also very interested in who Kaido's wife is. This child is 80% after his mother's appearance. Get the answer you want.

"It's been 43 days, and the name is Yamato. As for her mother, that's a secret."

Kaido never mentioned anything related to the mother of the child, but he remembered the date of birth very clearly. It seemed that he was holding the full moon to bring the child back.

After Kaido made it clear that this girl was born to him, everyone's goals shifted, and they didn't care so much about the other child.

Chapter 129 The Birth of the Beast Nanny Group

The child wrapped in leather also had a seashell hanging on it, which seemed to be fixed on it on purpose. It was engraved with the child's name and date of birth.

Jack, on September 28th, there is a series of small characters at the back, which roughly summarizes what happened.

The general meaning is that this child is a murloc, but he doesn't look like a murloc at all, so the child's father doesn't believe he is a pure-blooded murloc, and threw him out, hoping that some kind person would adopt him.

This is obviously the handwriting of the murlocs, because the paper cannot be preserved in the ocean, so the shell lettering was chosen.

Olga is not an adult at all, so Shaina is the only adult woman among all the people present. She is currently rocking her cradle and recalling the past.

In addition to her and Jhin many years ago, the Lunaria clan actually had a smaller child, but he didn't survive.

The Lunalia family has a strong ability to survive, but their baby is still very fragile, and the child failed to persevere during the escape.

The cradle made by Arceus is very stable, and the corner of Yamato's mouth seems to have a smile when shaken gently, which echoes the sincere smile on Shaina's mouth.

"Mr. Kaido, what are your plans for this kid in the future?"

These people present are a group of rough men, or they are underage, Shaina doesn't think they have the ability to take care of children, but she usually has things to do, it's okay to take care of it for a while, but she can't put her energy into it. Put it all here.

Looking at Kaido's meaning, the child's mother is also unknown, and I don't know what plans he has for the future.

"She will start her training at the age of three. She is my bloodline, and she will never be weak. When that time comes." Kaido seems to have imagined the scene many years later.

BIG-MOM's children have many strong people, and his children will never be worse than hers, but Arceus once again brought him back to reality.

"Hey, Kaido, did you think a little further, even if you started training her at the age of three, what about now?"

Human physique cannot be generalized. Some people can make a tiger with a sliding shovel. Some people can throw away their wet nurse soon after birth. Kaido's daughter will not be weak, but it is only a full moon now. The baby needs to be taken care of by outsiders.

Even if Kaido has imagined that she is 3 years old to 18 years old, she is just a little baby who can't speak.

"Now? Is there a nurse on the island? Just find two." novelusb.com

"Mr. Kaido, an ordinary wet nurse should not be good, she is a bit strong." At this time, Yamato was holding Shaina's finger, and the child was very hungry, and had to eat a lot of meals every day.

Although I don't know what Kaido fed her last time, she is obviously hungry now.

grabbed Shaina and teased her fingers and started sucking. The feeling on her fingers was nothing to Shaina, but ordinary breastfeeding women may not be able to stand it.

And the child will inevitably cry, it seems that if you want to take care of her well, you have to go through a certain amount of training.

"Is she hungry, Kaido, what did you feed her last time?"

"I caught a milking tiger from the nearby island. Are you hungry again? The child is really troublesome. She should be fine with drinking, right?"

"Go ahead! I think you've really drank too much!" Since he came back with the child this time, Kaido didn't drink on the way, but he handed the child over to them and drank it himself. stand up.

Kaido's brain can be trusted, provided he doesn't touch alcohol, and if he really drinks too much, don't count on him for anything other than fighting.

"Forget it, let me come, Jhin, come with me, Shaina, don't let this alcoholic touch the child."

There are not many conscientious partners like this. In addition to their due remuneration, they are also responsible for solving the children's problems. After this Menkaido, there is no second place to find them.

And Arceus took Jin to find a few households, and finally bought two cows. Usually they would not sell their own cows, but the cadres of the beasts came to buy cows in person, and it was impossible for them to refuse this kind of thing. The price given was enough for them to buy two new cows.

However, these two cows walked straight back in the end. From today, they are no longer ordinary cows, but become a big milk tank. The big milk tank is the new wet nurse that Arceus prepared for Yamato.

It looks like an upright cow, but the main color of the body has changed to pink, and there is a black ball at the end of the tail. Only females are also one of the characteristics of the big milk tank.

The milk in the big milk tank tastes sweet, and the taste will change with the seasons. The nutrient content of the milk is very high. Children who grow up drinking the milk of the large milk tank are generally healthy.

The big milk tank can produce 20 liters of milk every day. If it cannot be discharged, the body of the large milk tank will feel uncomfortable. This output is enough for the giants.

Kaido looked at the cow that was walking upright and was brought back by Arceus, and his original drinking strength seemed to have sobered up a lot.

"This is. Cow?"

"Yes, use their milk in the future, remember not to overfeed, or you will gain weight."

These words were not addressed to Kaido, but to the other four round creatures.

In addition to two large milk jugs, he also created four auspicious eggs.

Now Arceus chooses to transform rather than create most of the time, but Pokémon like auspicious eggs really don't have anything to transform, so you can't just find an egg to transform.

Take care of children and leave it to auspicious eggs, they are naturally good at such things.

"lucky~"

The auspicious eggs responded to Arceus' orders. These auspicious eggs were different from Zeraora. He didn't bother to add the ability to speak human words to them. Anyway, he could understand what they said.

In addition to the prepared cows and auspicious eggs, he also found two milk bottles on the way back, and he knew that Kaido would not prepare these things.

Milking, heating, and temperature adjustment, the four auspicious eggs arrange everything very well.

"By the way, add milk to BIG·MOM's product list. The two children don't use much, and they can save more than 30 liters every day. Even if she digests some of the rest, she can use it."

The milk in the big milk tank does provide a lot of calories, but as long as the calories can be consumed, it is nothing. Yamato is only a child, so pay attention to the amount of food and calories, such as adding some water appropriately.

But BIG·MOM doesn't have that scruple, and she doesn't care about this kind of thing, she already has a sign of getting fat.

"You're really attentive, or you can just be her godfather. When she grows up, it's better to help you find those things."

Chapter 130 Auspicious Eggs

They have been searching for three years, but they have only found that piece, which makes Kaido understand that this will be a big project.

He didn't slack off, but there was nothing he could do if he couldn't be found.

It is not a joke to let his daughter recognize him as a godfather. This kind of thing is very common in the pirate world. For example, Whitebeard's son adoption is in full swing, and the number of members of the Whitebeard Pirates is also increasing.

Let Yamato recognize his godfather Kaido also have his own considerations in it, which is to strengthen the connection between the two sides through his daughter.

"It's not impossible, but don't you think your previous training plan was too strict?"

"No, she's Lao Tzu's daughter, so it's impossible to hold on to this level. By the way, remember what I said a few years ago to give me a stronger ability? Just give it to her."

"It's too small. She can't afford that ability now. Let's wait for a while, but we should prepare to move. This place is no longer suitable for the main island."

This is a Winter Island after all. In the beginning, the site of the beasts was not large, and the business here was also very important, so the headquarters was placed here.

But now that the territory of the beasts is getting bigger and bigger, and the number of people is gradually increasing, this Winter Island is no longer suitable for existence as the main island, and there are not no islands in the territory that are like spring all year round, and it is time to prepare to move.

This is especially true now that we have children. The environment here is not very suitable for children to grow, nor for the growth of plants. Quinn can only grow plants in the laboratory.

Now that there are large milk tanks, moving should be put on the agenda. The quality of milk in large milk tanks has a lot to do with their food. High-quality pasture can make milk taste better and nutrition more fully.

Because the business has always been fruit, so he ignored this problem. Now, in order to raise children, he has remodeled two large milk tanks. After thinking about it carefully, animal husbandry can also be prepared for development.

"There are suitable islands, but they are not ready yet."

"Put things on the agenda, by the way, this is yours." He threw a Resurrection Grass to Kaido and explained its purpose to him.

"Ugh, a second life? It's really interesting, you should try it out when you get a chance.."

"This is for you just in case, not for your death. You have been arrested several times in the past three years, can you keep your memory?"

"Don't worry, those guys can't hurt me."

The four auspicious eggs exist for shift work, and it is also very reassuring to have them in charge of taking care of Yamato Kaido, after all, they are creatures created by Arceus.

Others may not know it yet, but Kaido doesn't think it's strange that Arceus brought back some strange creatures, and he can guess where they came from.

Geely eggs and big milk jars are prepared to take care of Yamato, but Jack has also received a little care, and Ghillie eggs will take care of him when he has time.

After the initial novelty was over, most people returned to their residences, and even Kaido went back to drink with confidence. His stocking policy can be said to have begun.

Only Setsuna and Shaina are still a little interested in these two babies, but for now it seems that Geely Egg is doing very well, and there is no need to intervene in anything else.

But the eyes of the moment are now focused on another place, that is the auspicious egg, she is looking at these strange creatures.

The big milk tank can be regarded as a cow that walks upright, but the auspicious egg is different from the creature she recognizes. The pink round body is like an egg as a whole.

There is a hair-like extension on the top of the head. Of course, the most important thing is that there is this pouch-like object in front of the body, and there is a large egg inside.

"Arno. Is that egg edible? It looks delicious."

She looked at Geely Egg, who was doing nothing, and asked her question out of curiosity.

"lucky?"

Geely Egg shook its head at the moment, although it didn't have a neck, it still made this action by swinging its body.

The eggs of auspicious eggs can be eaten, and they are also rare and delicious. They can produce several eggs every day if needed, but they rarely give their eggs to others, and usually protect their own eggs carefully.

Auspicious Eggs are Pokémon with a very gentle personality. They will only take out their eggs and give them to each other when they encounter creatures they like, or when they think they are injured and need to be nourished.

Intuition tells the instant that the egg is delicious, so she asks this question, and Geely Egg seems to be debating whether to give her an egg or not.

Although they don't talk like Zeraora, have a high strategic significance, and were only created as babysitters, they also get some knowledge from Arceus.

"lucky~" is asking Arceus, and the auspicious egg seems to be uncertain.

"It's fine according to your own mood, you don't have to think about it so much." He still loves the creatures he created, and will respect the habits of this race, such as Geely Egg's emphasis on eggs.

The auspicious egg thought for a while, but still took out an egg and handed it to Setsuna.

"Thank you, I'll grill the fish for you tomorrow."

Although the pronunciation of auspicious eggs is only the sound of "lucky", but in an instant, I can understand the general meaning of auspicious eggs.

Actually, according to the etiquette of fur tribes, the best way to express friendship with strangers is to exchange clothes, but there is really nothing that can be changed on Geely Eggs.

So after rubbing Kaluqiu with Gili Egg, she left behind such a sentence and went back with the egg.
the next day,

The fact that Kaido has his own daughter has spread all over the island. As Kaido's biological daughter and Arceus' righteous daughter, Yamato, who just had a full moon, has a very high status here.

But at this time there was also an unexpected visitor on the island. She came with Scourge's boat. Because of dealing with some newcomers who didn't know whether to live or die, Scourge delayed her trip and arrived at the nearby waters this morning.

Just when he was about to return to the island, he was stopped by another boat, and an old woman came down from it.

has white hair, a white cloth band tied around his head, and two burning candles stuck on it. That kind of strange dress looks like something wrong with his brain in Scourge's eyes.

"Who are you, can't you see the flag on the ship?" The revolving machine gun embedded in his arm was raised directly, and he rashly entered the waters ruled by other pirates, even if he chose to directly sink it.

"Yoyoyoyo, don't be so impatient young man, I have a big business to discuss with your captain, he will meet me, I have seen it in the prophecy."
