Chapter 1211 Changing situation, attention of the real dragon (7k6)

"Are you kidding, why does my uncle listen to your navy's order!"

"Although Shichibukai is directly under the World Government, it also needs to cooperate with the navy's actions. Can you cooperate, Your Excellency Bucky?"

"Since you have said so, then I will cooperate with you, but... you should release... this gravity first."

Fujitora discussed with Bucky slowly, if he ignored his gradually increasing gravity, then he would really be a kind old man.

Under the influence of Fujitora's gravity, Bucky, who had just regained his freedom, was pushed back to the ground again. It was not until he agreed to Fujitora's request that the gravity on his body was removed by Fujitora.

"I'm sorry, the old man is just a recruit after all, and you Shichibukai are all lawless bastards, in order to let you cooperate, this is the only way to do it.

Please don't play any tricks, otherwise, at a suitable time, the old man will personally go to condolences to you, Your Excellency Bucky. "

Bucky is such a person. Only by giving him enough pressure and deterrence can he be able to do things honestly. Under Fujitora's kind and friendly communication, he honestly took the phone bug to convey information to the navy. .

As for the fake military orders

He didn't have the courage.

As a person who has seen big scenes, Bucky is sure that Fujitora may be defeated, but it is not so easy to keep such a person completely.

Unless someone is holding back, Fujitora will be able to return to the Navy headquarters sooner or later.

At that time, he only needs to ask, and he will know what he has done.

Honestly passing on the word is his best solution.

"Remember to tell them about the specific situation of Dressrosa."

"Got it, got it, you navies really have a lot of demands."

Speaking the toughest words, but his body is acting truthfully. Now Bucky wants to slap himself. He didn't know what he was thinking just now, but he actually refuted Fujitora face to face. This simply violated his life rules.

Soon Bucky came to an area sufficient for communication, and then directly pressed Fujitora's phone bug. There was a quick communication between the general and the Navy headquarters, and there was no need to dial a number at all.

"Hello, is it the Navy Headquarters? This uncle is Bucky, and now I want to convey the situation here for your Admiral Fujitora."

He can't distort the facts, but he can exaggerate the propaganda, such as emphatically mentioning that he killed Shiliu, the jailbreaker in the city of advancement, exposed Dressrosa's conspiracy, and rescued the officials and the navy who were turned into toys .

Although this matter has nothing to do with him, there is nothing wrong with saying that, even the witnesses at the scene couldn't find much fault.

There is no need to give too much, and it would be great to reward him with hundreds of millions of Baileys.

"General Fujitora? But"

"Give me."

There was a noise from the phone worm, and then the appearance of the phone worm changed into a bearded one. The biggest disadvantage of the phone worm is probably that it can't hide the caller, which is a very Alternative real-name system.

"Bucky? Why is Fujitora's phone bug in your hands, and others?"

"He's trapped inside by Doflamingo.

Uncle Ben was able to get out of trouble because of his special ability. The phone bug inside has no signal. He specially entrusted me to remind you that he can implement Plan B. "

"Trapped by Doflamingo? What is that guy Fujitora doing?! What's going on with Dressrosa now?"

"Well, Doflamingo has turned many people into toys, including your navy soldiers and people from the world government, but under the wisdom of my uncle"

"Get to the point, don't talk nonsense to me!"

"Who are you? You're just an orderly, please be more respectful when talking to me!"

Bucky was very dissatisfied that a soldier answering the phone spoke to him with such an attitude, but the next moment, the voice on the phone made him from dissatisfied to sweating profusely.

"Marshal Sakasky, calm down, there are no new tables in the logistics department!"

"Red Red Dog?!"

Bucky didn't expect that it wasn't a messenger who took the phone before, but Akainu. He was not familiar with Akainu, and he didn't pay attention to the change of the phone bug's face when he was planning his big plan.

And at this time, Akainu is full of resentment because of Qiwuhai.

He just got back from Mary Gioia.

【Your face is worthless, Sakaski. 】

This is when he asked Wulaoxing what to do with the Navy and his own face, Wulaoxing responded to him, and then sent him back.

Immediately afterwards, I heard that Fujitora was trapped in a birdcage, and he had to use someone else's hands to make a phone call.

Fujitora and Green Bull can be directly promoted to generals in the world conscription, naturally they have their strengths. It may be a bit difficult for them to deal with the emperor of the sea, but if a Qiwukai can directly trap the generals, then the navy's organizational system It's better to cancel it.

Furthermore, Fujitora's style is not in line with Akainu's, and this half-fishing behavior makes him even more displeased.

He can accept the existence of Shichibukai, because this is the order of the world government.

At the same time, he also hates the pirates of Qiwuhai, listening to Bucky's eloquent talk, he has no intention of being patient at all.

Although separated by the phone bug, Bucky felt a more fatal sense of oppression than before. His original plan was disrupted again, and after he briefly and quickly said what he knew, he hung up the phone.

Then back to the edge of the cage.

"It's over, but your marshal seems very angry."

"Well, it doesn't seem strange."

Looking at Fujitora in front of him, Bucky changed his plan again. He decided to give up his plan of running away alone, and instead led his younger brothers to follow Fujitora.

It is also reasonable for Shichibukai to act together with the navy. Bucky decided to use Fujitora's force to protect his own safety, which seems to be stronger than running away alone.

And his behavior naturally aroused another round of imagination of the younger brother, thinking that his boss had reached some kind of deal with the admiral.

"However. I have a question. What is your Navy's Plan B? Anyway, we are now an alliance. Let me reveal it."

"It's nothing, it's just that some old guys want to come here to have a look, after all, there are too many dangerous elements gathered here."

Fujitora didn't answer Bucky, but at the headquarters of the New Navy, Tsuru and Sengoku, who had resigned from the position of marshal, had already sailed with several warships on the way to Dressrosa.

As Bucky started to walk with Fujitora, the rest of the younger brothers were still fighting those pirates, but the short-term alliance between GOD Bucky and GOD Usopp also completely disintegrated.

Now Fujitora is still abiding by certain systems, so his goal is to capture the troublesome Luo and the Straw Hats, which makes Usopp, a member of the Straw Hat Pirates, one of Fujitora's goals.

The little people tried their best to escape with Usopp, but the effect was not obvious, and they were chased by the navy led by Fujitora not long after.

"Yan Shanggang!"

A wall of flame rose from the ground, separating the navy from the little people with Usopp.

"Take the guy to a safe place, and leave the navy to me to deal with it."

After leaving the bullfight arena, the members of the Whitebeard Pirates also began to split up. Marko and Joz went to the port at this time. connect.

Marco is going to see how the pirates are doing now, and Ace is going to take care of his brother's crew, and they happen to meet Usopp.

The nature of the little people made them not doubt Ace at all, and after leaving a word of thanks, they took Usopp and continued to run to a safe place.

"Navy, this way is dead."

"Sir, this is Fire Fist Ace of the Whitebeard Pirates."

The inability to see things in both eyes still has a great impact, and the soldiers around him have the duty to report the situation in front of him in time.

"Whitebeard's remnants? Why do you want to stop me and expose it to the navy? It won't be a good result for you."

Ace does not have the title of Shichibukai to protect him, and in addition to the previous war on the top, he is also one of the key targets of the navy.

However, the chaos in the New World coupled with the previous loss of the navy, and an increasingly dangerous beast with unknown motives prevented them from launching large-scale operations in the hinterland of the New World in the past two years.

"Who told me that was my idiot brother's partner? Having an idiot brother is very troublesome, and the big brother has to clean up for him."

"I said Ace, this is not right, you are not the only brother of that guy, and in terms of age, I seem to be older than you by a few months."

"Sabo? Aren't you going to do your thing?"

"Ah, it's almost done, and they are capable enough to handle the rest, so I'll come here first."

"How long has it been since we fought side by side?"

"It's been more than ten years, and last time I was with those gangsters."

Said that Sabo threw a water pipe that had just been removed to Ace. Looking at the water pipe in his hand, Ace also thought of the days when the three brothers were young.

Although they are sworn brothers, but who is the big brother has always been controversial, and only Luffy is the well-deserved little brother.

After Sabo died, Ace became the only big brother, but now that Sabo is still alive, we can continue to discuss who the big brother is.

"Then use these navies this time to decide who is the big brother."

There were a few more holes in Ace's head, which were the marks left by the bullets, but they didn't make much sense. Under the filling of the flames, his body quickly recovered, and the two brothers also faced Fujitora. Come Navy.

"The relationship between the revolutionary army and the Whitebeard's remnant party is really complicated, but you should be aware of it."

The blade was unsheathed, and the naval battle escalated in an instant.

Generally speaking, those who want to kill Doflamingo and those who want to exchange rewards from Doflamingo for the prisoners have been divided into two factions, and the people manipulated by Doflamingo's parasitic line are also Cannibalism.

Different people are fighting in this birdcage with different purposes, and Yamato is also very irritable at this time.

"Doflamingo, bastard, what the * did you do! Ice Blade Slash!"

Yamato waved the mace in midair, and directly used the mace to slash a slash-like edge.

She has already sensed the dense silk threads in the sky with her knowledge, and knows that the source of these threads is Doflamingo.

The front part of the slash carried an extremely cold airflow, which froze Doflamingo's silk thread when it was close to him, and as the slash swept across, it directly cut his silk thread in half, losing Once the control of the parasitic line is lost, the people below will naturally regain their freedom.

Some of those who continued to fight were also directly controlled by the arms derived from Robin.

"What's the matter with you? Is there any deep hatred?"

"10 years ago, he got engaged to me 10 years ago, but he has completely forgotten about me in these ten years! He also had a child with another woman!"

"No, it's not my fault, I really don't remember you."

"How dare you say that!"

Looking at the family conflicts arising from the ethical drama in front of him, Yamato didn't want to continue to intervene. It seems that he shouldn't be beaten to death. After they continue chasing for a while, after venting their resentment, they should stop directly.

"Speed, Mizeka, Solitia.

You guys go to deal with the affairs on the island. If anyone is seriously injured, help them deal with it. You should take these medicines first. Diluting them with water should be enough for emergency. "

"Miss, these medicines are too expensive, isn't it a bit wasteful to use them, this is only for high-level people" NoVePUSb.cOmm

Looking at the bottles of medicine that Yamato threw over, Speed felt a little pity. These were special offerings from their cadres, and the commonly cultivated fruits and herbs could not achieve this effect at all.

Only Arceus himself can produce the potion with this effect from the berries spawned by stone slabs. When it is used up, only Arceus can replenish it. Although it cannot bring the dead back to life, the potion is also many times stronger than the sold version.

The people in Dressrosa had nothing to do with them, she couldn't think of any point in doing so.

"If you are told to do it, you will do it, and don't worry about other things."

"Yes, I see."

Even if she doesn't understand, the order has come to her, so doing it is the only result.

"By the way, kill those troublesome pirates, Ulti, Peggy Wan, you follow them too, there are many difficult guys on this island."

"how about you?"

"Me? I'm going to ask that guy and ask him to give me a reasonable explanation."

Said that Yamato was about to get up and go to the high ground, but was held back by Robin.

"Wait, have you forgotten that we are here to investigate the situation? At this time, one-sided words cannot be trusted. Even if you want to find out, you have to investigate first.

Things have come to this point, within a minute or two. "

"Too."

Based on Robin's suggestion, the people of Hundred Beasts also started to split up, and Mizeka acted as a human-shaped sprayer, inhaling the diluted medicine from the tail and storing it, and then controlling the amount of water.

Spray healing liquid on the wound according to the degree of injury, while Peggy Wan and Ulti are dealing with some parasitic threads.

"Really, why would I do such a thing!"

With the characteristics of the double ax and the dragon ax teeth, it is not difficult for Urti to break these parasitic threads, but she personally doesn't like this kind of thing.

"Sister Yamato's request, just do it, it doesn't take much anyway."

"Ah, that guy's sympathy broke out again. I think Tian Yasha is going to be unlucky. Xiao Pei, if you say he is killed by a stick, who will we replace as the dealer?"

"Get rid of it?"

"Yeah, you don't think Yamato will ignore him, do you? This kind of thing touches her bottom line. In this respect, she is exactly the same as her old man. If you don't like it, it's probably a stick.

But that's good, who made Doflamingo cause so much trouble. "

In Ulti's perception, Yamato is a person who doesn't like oil and salt. It's useless to be weird and useless, and it's useless to get angry. Over time, she has been forced to get used to it.

Definitely dissatisfied with her mouth, but she will still carry out Yamato's orders. After all, Yamato has been recognized by Beasts, and she is the real third-in-command by default.

Since this is the case, we can only blame the people at the source.

"No, I think... old sister, your personality shouldn't be able to think so much."

"Huh?! Damn, Xiaopei, what are you talking about? In your eyes, I am as stupid as Yamato!"

"Neck... Let go of your neck, old lady, it's about to fall"

"Really, why are they still playing at this time, they don't know how to do business at all."

Looking at Peggy Wan who drew an S shape in the sky, Yamato made complaints silently, and then continued to listen to the person in front of him describe the situation of Dressrosa.

"That was the night of the 10th year. His Majesty King Liku suddenly went crazy, leading the guards to massacre the citizens crazily. That's when Doflamingo appeared. We thought he was a hero, but it turned out that he was the one behind the scenes. "

"Same as today, it turns out that His Majesty King Liku was manipulated by him."

"More than that, he turned us into toys and worked in a dark underground factory for 10 years! 10 years! No one remembers me, I can only watch my wife marry another man."

The answers I got were similar, and most people gave similar results, especially those citizens who turned into toys. At this time, they hated Doflamingo even more, but they were afraid of Doflamingo's power, dare not resist at all.

"Robin, I don't think you need to ask, this guy"

Robin was about to answer, but a piercing voice sounded.

"That sign. I recognize that sign! The ship that delivers goods to Doflamingo, as well as the ships that Doflamingo trades with, have this sign on it. I've seen it when I was a toy!

Don't believe her, this woman is with Doflamingo! "

The pirate flag pattern on Yamato's body was seen by a person, which caused him to panic on the spot, and this is exactly what Robin wanted to say next.

"Doflamigo has a lot of deals with us, and is also a subordinate dealer. Killing him will not affect the overall situation, but it may affect part of our capital chain.

Part of the information and materials he provided have also helped us to a certain extent, and his development in the sea has also taken advantage of us. In a sense, we are actually his "accomplices". "

Robin's words are a cruel reality. Dressrosa's rule has nothing to do with the beasts, but Doflamigo's success in the underground world is inseparable from the beasts.

Beasts didn't care how Doflamigo's workers got here, but they were inextricably linked with artificial fruits. Although Beasts didn't buy them, Doflamigo could still find other buyers.

The result may not change, but Beasts is finally in the game.

Yamato asked Speed and the others to rescue the people on the island to make up for something. At that time, she didn't think of such a thing at all, but she couldn't get used to it, so she wanted to take care of it.

But now, Robin's words coupled with the fearful eyes of those around her made her start to struggle.

"Feel sorry."

Looking at the nationals of Dressrosa, Yamato didn't know what to say. After leaving two words, his figure turned into an afterimage and disappeared here, aiming directly at Doflamigo's position.

At this time, in Yamato's inner world, a pair of azure pupils loomed in the darkness, and he began to pay attention to Yamato's situation, which corresponded to the pair of red eyes on the other side.

"Why, are you interested too? Reshiram."

"This is not her ideal, but this is the reality. The real situation often runs counter to the ideal, and the road to the light is not smooth.

When ideals conflict, what will she do? "

"Reshiram, it's really ridiculous to hear you say the word ideal.

Ideal is not doing whatever one wants, but practicing one's own ideas and abiding by the struggle of one's heart, which is the ideal way. "

"But your empty ideals will never become real, and if you don't fit reality, how will you let others agree?"

"So reality is dark, do you want to continue to follow the rules?"

Reshiram and Zekrom's umpteenth communication broke up again, but this time, Reshiram became more energetic and paid attention to Yamato's performance with a little interest.

"Excuse me, but don't worry, we just have some deals with Doflamigo, you can meet the doctor if you walk about two kilometers east from here, and you can meet the navy if you go north, please do what you want. "

After Yamato left, Robin also activated the flight function of his combat suit, and chased after Yamato.

In mid-air, he even met Sanji who was using "air walk" to hurry, which made Sanji lose his mind for a while.

But this time Sanji didn't get a nosebleed. It wasn't because he lost his mind when he saw a beautiful woman, but because he thought of some very bad things from Robin's white battle suit.

On the high ground, Doflamingo's situation also began to change.

Not long ago, he was still calmly attending a meeting.

As Pika used his ability to gather rocks together to form this highland, the underground factory also came to the surface, but Doflamingo was not worried about the factory being broken.

The exterior of the entire factory is made of Hailou stone, which is extremely hard, and safety can be said to be the first.

Cadres from all over the place also gathered here at this time.

"I said, I said, Dover, I'm sorry about the sugar thing.

Who would have thought that a person whose hands and feet were bound could scare Granu to the point of fainting, and Granu was holding on, but that guy Bucky suddenly fell like a piece of debris. "

"The same is true for the competition. The underdog group that was supposed to be divided into a good group actually mixed in with a Redfield. Who knew that old monster would come to participate."

Torrepol and Diamanti explained their mistakes to Doflamingo.

"It doesn't matter, I won't turn back the time if I blame you, don't care about this kind of thing, just do your things, and just do the next thing well."

For the cadres of the family, Doflamingo is very tolerant, unless it comes to the time when they need to die to achieve the goal, otherwise it is okay if the mission fails.

Under Doflamingo's arrangement, the cadres gradually dispersed, and the Katakuri brothers who accepted Doflamingo's employment also came here.

"Doflamingo, what on earth do you want to do? Put the admiral and these monsters together, do you want them to come and kill you together?"

"Hey, Katakuri, don't worry, Fujitora won't make a move. Although he is an admiral, he has a lot of concerns, but letting him go is a matter of endless trouble."

Fujitora said in front of him before that he wanted to abolish the system of Shichibukai under the king. Such a person is naturally dangerous to Doflamingo.

"I won't do that kind of thing, and you can't afford that kind of price."

"Don't worry, don't worry, I know that ordinary means can't deal with him, unless that person is willing to accept employment, otherwise the admiral is a trouble.

The three of you only need to help me deal with some troubles, such as the straw hat boy's brother and the like.

Marco and Ace are also your old rivals. "

"Of course."

"Then there is no problem. I will try my best to solve other problems by myself."

As he said that, Doflamingo sat calmly on his seat, as if everything was under his control, but as time passed, the situation changed a lot.

First, Luffy, who was brought by Hero, successfully joined Luo, and found the key of Luo's handcuffs through Violet's staring fruit, and found Brook and Von Klein who came here, and then headed towards the top of the mountain together moving forward.

Facing the teaming up of Luffy and Law, Doflamingo can still handle it, and Katakuri didn't watch the show all the time. He and Owen didn't make a move, but let Daifuku move.

Even if Brooke's sword can restrain objects like "spirits" summoned by Daifuku's ability, he and Von Clay seem to have a very difficult time dealing with Daifuku.

"Daifuku, come back!"

Katakuri seemed to have sensed something, his forehead was covered with beads of sweat, even though Daifuku had already gained the advantage, he still forcibly ordered him to return immediately.

"Katakuri brother, what's wrong?"

"Get behind me, real trouble is coming."

Seeing the situation here, Doflamingo was still wondering what was going on, and the soldiers on the side ran up in a panic.

"Young master! Young master! It's not good! Someone came up! The monster Red Earl came up with Rebecca! He seems to want to."

"I want to attack you, Doflamingo."

Before the soldier could finish speaking, Redfield gracefully floated up from the side. He, Rebecca and Padong were all stepping on a huge flying carpet at this moment.

And this is why Katakuri called to stop Daifuku. He had been predicting the future of the battle just now, and happened to see the scene when Daifuku wanted to attack Brook, and Redfield came here, and then killed Daifuku with one blow.

Looking at Luffy and Law fighting Doflamingo, Redfield raised his umbrella, and then a blood-red energy turned into a whip, pulling the two of them aside.

He accepted Rebecca's crusade request because of an exception for personal reasons. In this case, he would never attack a weak person with others, that is not his character.

"Fight me? Is there any conflict between us?"

"No, it's just that I accepted a commission from a little girl. I think she is more pleasing to the eye than you, that's all."

If Rebecca agreed to Redfield's conditions, then Redfield would really directly attack Doflamingo.

Now, this is only part of the reason why he did it.

In any case, he couldn't publicly say another reason.

【I thought you were upset at first, and I'm actually a groupie. You actually want to touch my brother. Do you need a reason to beat you? 】

"Uncle Ryder?"

Although Marco has simply popularized the other party's identity, in Luffy's cognition, he still has a deeper understanding of the name Ryder.

It's better to say that he can remember the word Ledfield, and he didn't give Ledfield any strange nicknames, which is already very good.

"Luffy, I seem to recognize who he is."

At the same time, looking at the rejuvenated Redfield, Brook also remembered some past events.

Logically speaking, he shouldn't remember a child so clearly many years ago.

But he has been trapped in the Devil's Triangle sea area for many years. During that time, what he does most often is recall the past, recall the past adventures, recall the smiles of his companions, and miss the Rab waiting for them.

Also included when he was on the ship of the Rumba Pirates, a child once pestered him to ask about the adventure story

Chapter 1212 True Flame, Flame White Mode (6k6)

The advantage of being old enough is that the seniority is also old enough.

Gol D. Roger was just a newcomer to him, and when he had already been rewarded, Roger was just a fledgling.

Redfield is even more of his fanboy brother. For Redfield, Brook's position is similar to that of Shanks in Luffy's heart.

As for the degree of growth, Laidfield has reached the peak.

And now, such a top person is eyeing Doflamingo.

"joker, he is not an enemy in the agreement, I will not fight him."

Seeing Redfield who suddenly intervened, Katakuri first expressed his attitude. He is not afraid of fighting, but he doesn't like meaningless fighting.

If this is Wan Guo, in order to defend his territory, he will naturally fight to the death.

But Doflamingo can only be regarded as an employer at best, and Katakuri will not put himself and his brother in danger for such a person.

In today's Dressrosa, Doflamingo is in a state of being the enemy of everyone.

He has become a toy of too many people, not just royals, guards, rebels.

The secret agents of the world government, the navy, the dignitaries of various countries, and ordinary citizens, no family in Dressrosa can stay out of it.

Everyone has relatives or friends who have been affected by the power of sugar.

The reason why these angry citizens can be divided is because Doflamingo has a better grasp of people's hearts. Before interests and force coercion, some people succumb to him and turn to deal with the weaker King Liku family.

But when a force like Redfield enters the game, his previous plan will become a piece of waste paper.

"are you serious?"

No need to answer, Doflamingo has already got the answer from Redfield's expression, there is no emotional tone in the eyes, it is the same as Doflamingo usually looks at those toys.

They are all indifferent consumables, and life and death depend on one's own thoughts. To him, killing a toy is no different from crushing an ant.

In order to please himself, filling the ant's nest with water is just a game, but when facing Redfield, Doflamingo is the ant.

Doflamingo didn't know that Bucky had spread all the news here, and thought that the birdcage that isolated the signal of the phone bug would keep the news here from being leaked.

Now this birdcage that isolates news has directly become his own cage.

"Spider thread!"

The silk thread outlines a dense spider web, and the spider webs are stacked one after another to form several layers of defense.

At this moment, Doflamingo couldn't laugh anymore, and death threats surrounded him all the time. Even if he sensed the opponent's attack intention and put up a silk defense, it was useless.

Normally, the extremely strong shield was as fragile as rice paper in front of Laidfield, and the defense composed of several layers of spider webs only slightly slowed down Laidfield's attack speed.

As the red light flashed across, a wound appeared on his face.

"What did that woman promise you? What can she give you who has lost her royal power long ago? As long as you ignore this matter, I can give you more things!"

"You don't understand me at all, why do you think that interests can drive me? If I was interested in interests, I would have had things you couldn't afford to give me as early as thirty years ago."

Back then, Redfield only had to wave his arms to show that he wanted to recruit his subordinates, and countless people would take the initiative to join him. Before long, he would be able to pull up a huge fleet comparable to a golden lion.

It's just that Redfield's ambition has not been here.

"Benefits are the only ones. Whether it's emotional comfort or financial rewards, what you do has a "benefit" that satisfies you. Would you do something meaningless?"

"You are very good at talking, but my goal now is to make you disappear here, how can you give more price?"

Redfield walked forward slowly, his steps seemed to be very slow, but his body was like an afterimage, each step covered an extremely long distance, no matter how hard Doflamingo tried, he couldn't pull away from him. distance.

When Redfield was about to do something, his ears suddenly noticed something strange. Yamato was able to avoid the knowledgeable predictions, but he couldn't let his breath disappear from the world.

Ledfield's five senses are still there, and he has already detected the aura behind him. If he insists on attacking Doflamingo, he will also be hit.

The body turned into a ball of bats and spread out, and when he re-condensed his body on the other side, he had already entered the transformation state.

Yamato has already proved in the bullfighting arena that he is not a weak newcomer, but a monster who can compete with him head-on.

The situation at this time suddenly turned into a confrontation between Yamato and Redfield.

People here have seen what Yamato did in the bullfighting arena back then, and know how strong she is, so they didn't act rashly.

"啾啾啾啾啾, Redfield, it seems that you in the old days talked too much nonsense, you should do it directly."

Looking at Yamato standing in front of him, Doflamingo put on his smile again. It seems that the situation is still under his control. As long as Yamato is willing to deal with the monster Redfield, other things will not be difficult deal with.

Doflamingo, who had regained a sense of security, also regained his previous arrogant look, but this look didn't last long.

"Doflamingo, everything in Dressrosa was done by you, right?"

"Any questions?"

"What's the problem? Is that why you turned all those people into toys and let the world forget about them?"

"啾啾啾啾啾, what did I think you were talking about?"

In Doflamingo's view, these are all insignificant passers-by, life and death have nothing to do with Yamato.

Although he has never been to Wano Country, the former owner of Wano Country was not Hundred Beasts. He always felt that Hundred Beasts did the same thing as him, at most, there were differences in details.

"The toy that works endlessly is the perfect labor force, which is far more convenient than a slave, and will never reveal any secrets.

There are some things Shichibukai can't do, and it's a big trouble now that things are exposed. In fact, I plan to shut everyone up forever, so that there will be no worries. "

At this time, Robin wearing a battle suit, Marco with Joz, Sanji who has been on the road, and others also came here through different flying methods.

Sanji simply came to look for Luffy. After Marco and Joz confirmed that there was no problem with the outside world, they saw Yamato and headed in this direction. Because the Zhenzhen fruit was still on her, they also followed.

And Ace is their companion, and they don't mind helping out if the companion's younger brother needs it.

As for Robin, he simply followed Yamato's pace.

Before Yamato had been turning his back to Doflamingo, although his tone was indifferent, but Doflamingo didn't think there was any problem, after all, this lady of all beasts has never been very interested in him.

But when he saw the expression of Robin who was chasing him, he seemed to realize that things were not that simple.

"So you involved innocent citizens and controlled these people to kill each other crazily, just to clean them up?"

Doflamingo, who sensed something was wrong, didn't reply immediately. He suddenly realized that things seemed to be out of his control again.

If Doflamingo only did this to the enemy and the rebels, Yamato would not have the emotions at this time, but the scope of Doflamingo's influence is too large.

There are too many innocent people in Dressrosa.

That night 10 years ago was not a simple battle for power at all, but a random killing for one's own fame.

Regardless of age or age, his destiny is determined by him in a random way.

"Do people in this country have hatred against you?"

"No, but they were born in this country. This is God's choice for them. I killed my own father when I was 10 years old. For me, only family members above the cadre are family members. Others, are all tools.

They are weak, so they can only follow the trend. I didn't directly use terror to reign, which is already the greatest kindness. "

After thinking for a while, Doflamingo still expressed his thoughts truthfully. He felt that cheating was meaningless at this time.

"Don't tell me, do you want to help these indifferent people to defeat me? The benefits they bring to all beasts are not as much as me alone. You should understand this, Your Excellency.

Beasts are also pirates, not some high-sounding justice organization. "

As he spoke, he looked at Robin at the side. The two people he interacted with the most were Robin and Quinn, and there was no contradiction in getting along with Robin. Moreover, this character is like a secretary, so what he said should be a little bit Just use it.

"Needless to say, I understand."

At this time, Yamato has turned around, seeing Robin's hesitation and hesitation, he knows what she wants to say.

"Doflamingo, you really are a bastard. I don't like your character at all."

"嗚嗚嗚嗚嗚, there are many people who hate me, but the world is looking at the benefits, and your father Kaido is also in contact with me because I can bring him benefits."

"Shut up!"

Yamato turned around abruptly and hit Doflamingo's feet with a stick. The nearby ground dropped several meters in an instant, and a huge crack appeared on the high mountain raised by Pica.

"I don't want to hear these reasons. You don't deserve to be compared with Wano Country here. At least the smiles on the faces of the citizens there are from the heart. Unlike here, there are only anger and sadness."

Looking at the cracks that spread to his feet, Doflamingo's heart was not at peace. If the lady of the beasts wanted to kill him, there would really be no chance of turning over.

"Just based on personal preference, I really want to kill you now, but I can't do that. You * seems to be worth something to my father. What will happen to you afterwards is a problem"

Just when other people were watching the situation here, and even felt that there would be conflicts between Yamato and Doflamingo, Yamato turned around again and blocked Doflamingo from behind.

"I don't care about Dressrosa's affairs, but I want to take this guy away, please get out of the way."

"You obviously don't like him either, or you hate him too, don't you?"

At this time, Redfield spoke. He was not in a daze, but was reading Doflamingo's memory.

"What that guy said is true. He killed his father when he was 10 years old, and tried to exchange his head for his former status, but failed.

The younger brother also thought he was a lunatic, so he betrayed him, and was killed by him in the end. He is a born villain. "

From Doflamingo's heart, Laidfield read the evil side of human nature. Whether it is the arrogant and domineering Tianlong people before, or the killing career afterwards, the "evil" in Doflamingo's heart is very pure.

Yamato is not easy to deal with, if she can be persuaded, that is the most favorable situation.

"Yes, I hate this bastard, but I can't let you just knock him down."

If it is just a personal identity, Yamato is now one of the members of the team that crusade against Doflamingo, but she represents not only herself.

She is still the eldest lady of the beasts, the ghost princess of the beasts, and she represents the beasts.

The existence of Doflamingo seems to have a lot of value, and it also has some meaning to Kaido, so she can't let Doflamingo just stay here.

However, asking her to help Doflamingo maintain his rule in Dressrosa, Yamato couldn't do it.

There are many countries in the New World, and the franchise countries can also establish a foothold here. For example, the country of Elizabello II, as one of the franchise countries, has no problem gaining a foothold in the New World.

The former Dressrosa even had enough energy to help them. Even without Doflamingo, this country has its own way of existence.

The most special thing is the Fishman Island. Because of their race, even under the banner of a member country, their life is not stable.

Besides the allied countries, the ones that can settle down here are the countries with shelter, and the flag of the emperor of the sea is the most reliable thing.

And when they occupy their own territory, there are also wars.

If Doflamingo simply targeted the royal family and the rebels, then Yamato would not have such a big emotion, and it is still within the acceptable range, but Doflamingo's ruling method is random.

Controlling innocent people to kill wantonly, she doesn't like the huge darkness hidden behind the glamorous.

Forgotten by the world, turned into a toy, endlessly working under the influence of the fruit ability, and can only watch the family start a new life after forgetting themselves, this is the most terrifying point of Dressrosa.

When this incident was exposed, there was no room for redemption.

Doflamingo wants to re-establish his rule, either kill everyone, or turn them all into toys, making this place a land of toys.

Otherwise, there will be the shadow of the toy incident, and Dressrosa will never support Doflamingo again. NoveLusb.CoM

Wano Country is aimed at the rebels who support the old forces. It does not affect the innocent. It is a heart-to-heart exchange. The changes in people's livelihood are also vivid, and the punishment for violating the system is also on the table.

The people there are now sincerely supporting Hundred Beasts. Even after seeing the history, they just think that Oden is a fool.

Wan Guo offered their lifespan in exchange for Charlotte Lingling's protection. As long as Charlotte Lingling didn't go crazy because of cravings, the remaining lifespan was enough for them to live in peace. With Dressrosa's illusory prosperity it's not the same at all.

Living on the premise of forever forgetting an important family member is not a good thing.

Living people still have the option of committing suicide, but toys are different. Under the * of the contract, they cannot resist and must obey orders.

I can only howl in the impotent anger and humiliation in the inner cage, but I can only watch my toy body rust, decay, and collapse.

The broken toy wreckage in the ground is the end of all toys. The consciousness is one's own, but the body is not like this.

They can only aim at despair. In the endless labor, they go to despair. As toys, they can't even surrender.

For Doflamingo, Yamato's words temporarily guaranteed his personal safety, but he was not satisfied with the situation.

Although there is no Dressrosa, he believes that with his own ability and that secret, there is still a way out, but in that case he will have no right to speak.

"I said, Miss Guiji, since you have endured part of it, you might as well be more magnanimous. Dressrosa has been in business for so many years. If you do it again, your profits will be lost."

The mace in front of his eyes made Doflamingo swallow his unfinished words. He can be sure that if he continues to say, the stick will really hit him in the face.

"Don't challenge my endurance limit. Also, you think too highly of yourself. You are just a dealer, a dispensable person."

Doflamingo is not an equal trading partner in the current timeline, but just a subordinate dealer.

In the original timeline, his man-made devil fruit has a monopoly, even if the quality is worrying, but it is one of the few things that Kaido can get.

But it's different now, Arceus' evaluation of it has always been a bunch of rubbish, that is, Kaido has become interested in it, after all, there are better substitutes for beasts, and artificial fruits are completely tasteless.

Another value of Doflamingo is his contacts. Kaido in the original timeline also asked Jack to try to rescue him after receiving the news of Doflamingo's defeat.

But now, Kaido has contacted his "big sister" Charlotte Lingling in advance. Through the tea party, Beast is also one of the kings of the underground world, and Tezolo's status is no worse than Doflamingo.

Doflamingo is certainly convenient, but Doflamingo is not an irreplaceable middleman. If you want to, it won't take long for Beasts to support another middleman.

"And because of the loss of this matter, I will make up for it. Although I won't make money, and I won't make weapons, the purpose of that * father needs these is to fight.

Then I will become stronger, tell him if everything in this part is the same, that's enough. "

This is Yamato's direct idea. She wants to use her own qualitative changes to make up for this lack of quantity, and she has indeed guessed Kaido's mind. If a Doflamingo can be exchanged for Yamato's growth, Kaido Do not care about Doflamingo's life or death at all.

Yamato just wanted to switch to the dark mode, but found that Zekrom's current stopped roaring at this moment, and in an instant, her thoughts came to the dragon space in her heart again.

"Zekrom? What's wrong, why did your power disappear?"

"Don't get me wrong, it's just that this time an unsightly guy wants to talk to you."

After saying that, Zekrom's figure slowly disappeared, leaving only Reshiram's figure.

"To face what you have been avoiding, have you really made up your mind?"

Over the years, Yamato's attitude towards Kaido has been very clear, she is avoiding, even if she has stronger strength, she doesn't want to face the trouble of Kaido.

This can be regarded as a shadow of her childhood.

The mahout tied the elephant to a post with an iron chain when it was still a baby elephant.

Because the strength has not yet grown, no matter how much the little elephant struggles, it cannot escape from the shackles of the chain, so the little elephant gradually gets used to it and stops struggling until it grows into a giant.

At this time, it can easily break free from the chain, but the elephant is still habitually restrained by the iron chain, because in its inertial thinking, it still thinks that it will never be possible to get rid of the chain.

Kaido is such a chain, and Kaido has also been strengthening during this period. Whenever Yamato breaks through, Kaido will show stronger strength. Over time, she has the most direct idea of avoiding Kaido.

"Ah, escaping won't solve the problem. Doflamingo is just a pirate, but I don't know how many such pirates there are in the sea."

"People have different happiness, the world and the changes of the times cannot be decided by one person, and you don't have the ability to solve the contradictions of everyone."

"I know, but I stop because of difficulties.

I have always disliked this kind of thing, but my father will not change his thinking, even if the current sea is overturned, he will not change, the battle has been engraved in his bones.

At least when the dust settles, Beast needs to change its way of existence, otherwise it will be the biggest hidden danger.

The adoptive father is not interested in this kind of thing, most of the time he let his father do nonsense, just added some regulations. "

She thought of the Wano country on the other side, the Wano country without Arceus, if Kaido was allowed to play by himself, he might go too far than Doflamingo.

The Wano country over there is a living example. Even the beasts here, after being screened and managed by the rules of the beasts, are still a group of violent elements, let alone the situation of no management.

"Only by defeating my father can I make a change. I don't want to escape anymore. Only by fighting head-on can I defend my ideals!"

After speaking, she felt something was wrong, she seemed to have said something that Black Dragon liked in front of White Dragon.

"It doesn't matter, what I object to is not the ideal, but the purely idealized ideal of that guy in Zekrom, who is too ideal and never considers the reality, this ideal is meaningless.

Desires are endless, no matter how much you give, pure ideals will only be destroyed in the end.

Truth will never be beautiful. There must be a thorny road under the magnificence you see.

It is also necessary to overcome one's wishful thinking and take into account the actual situation to do something against one's will.

A country established down-to-earth is a real country, not a good-looking empty shelf. "

【That's much better than your reality. If you always succumb to reality, just abandon your target and become a puppet.

Always be submissive, give up resistance, without resistance there will be no emptiness. 】

Zekrom did not speak, and when he recognized Yamato last time, Reshiram did not come out to make trouble, but this did not prevent Zekrom from preparing to refute the other party's lines.

"Ideals can bypass difficulties, because in an idealized situation, you have countless paths, but this is not true, not all difficulties can be bypassed.

Sometimes, the road is the only one. Only when you dare to face difficulties and fears, no longer avoid them, and are ready to overcome them head-on, can you achieve your goals.

Now that you are ready for this, go ahead, face difficulties with courage, and burn the thorns in front of you with real flames! "

Outside, Yamato's body has also changed, but it's not the sharp black armor. Originally, her ability has gradually changed to scales, but at this moment it has changed back to soft hair.

The fluff on the body is slightly extended, and a pair of wide bird-like wings appear on the shoulders, and the front part of the wings is still burning with hot flames.

The claws on the fingertips and feet have become sharper, and the barbs on the elbows have also become sharper.

The blazing flames also wrapped the tail, but the helmet in Zekrom's dark mode did not appear.

Instead, a flame-shaped V-shaped crown emerges on the head.

Flame white mode, born.

Chapter 1213 Meet the future, I want to replace it

Silver rings appeared on the neck and chest, and as the crimson veins emerged from the tail, Yamato completely entered the flame white mode, a new mode that fully released Reshiram's power.

"Is this the power of Reshiram?"

Same as when Zekrom was blessed, Yamato could feel the majestic power in his body. The two powers were comparable, but their attributes were completely different.

As she began to control the power in her body, the surrounding temperature began to rise faintly.

The flame of Reshiram is the real fire that burns desire, and the burning of the tail flame is enough to heat up the surrounding atmosphere, thus causing changes in the weather.

After the original Yamato ability was changed, under the influence of the extreme cold power of Dakou Zhenshen after the revision, snowflakes would float along with it.

After Dahe strengthened the power of the flame, the rising hot air collided with the high-altitude cold air mass, and a heavy rain poured down.

The rain washed away the blood and dust on the ground, which seemed to imply that Dressrosa would have a new start, and it also meant that Yamato himself washed away his escape from Kaido and planned to face this shadow directly.

Moreover, the heavy rain was only temporary. Reshiram would not use his abilities to create a combat environment that was not conducive to him. The dark clouds quickly dispersed, and a bright sun hung in the sky.

The sun shines on the land, and the battle has not stopped, but a brand new beginning has appeared, whether it is for Dressrosa or Yamato itself.

【The body of Kyurem, Reshiram and Zekrom were originally one force, and when they merged into one, they would become the real dragon of Tao. 】

When she first accepted the power, Arceus' words reappeared in Yamato's mind. Now that Zekrom and Reshiram have made their own approval, she instinctively wants to try to merge.

Then

She failed.

"Don't think about it, although I and that vain guy agree with a part of you, but it's not so easy for me to agree with this guy full of fantasy."

"I've been putting up with you for a long time today, what are you talking about, a guy with no ideals? It's not that you don't agree with me, but that I don't agree with you!"

Yamato can confirm that Reshiram and Zekrom seem to be arguing, and they are arguing fiercely.

This state has actually never disappeared. The two of them would quarrel occasionally. Before Zekrom didn't say a word, he was just preparing for the post-match debate.

They are the two sides of Daolong, and their personalities are not compatible. If there is no Arceus, it is normal to fight from dawn to dark. Even now, they will occasionally use force to prove themselves.

It's just that they haven't shown it in front of Yamato before.

Usually, some privacy can only be seen by the family members. Ssangyong no longer hides some things. In a sense, it is another layer of recognition for her.

The approval of Reshiram and Zekrom are two different branch lines, which can also be regarded as small tasks before the main line. At this time, she has completed the prefix and will face a new final challenge.

The things in the spiritual world are not directly linked to the outside world, at least in the eyes of outsiders, time has not passed long.

"It seems that the conversation has failed, and the battle between you and me without a real winner must continue."

Ledfield turned from his previous contempt for Doflamingo to solemnity.

Even if she can't read Yamato's heart, Redfield has seen the other party's determination. Since she has decided to do so, she won't let go just because of a few words. If she wants to kill Doflamingo, she must overcome this hurdle of.

Different from Doflamingo, Yamato is a formidable opponent who cannot be easily defeated even if he tries his best.

Of course, his goal is still not Yamato, but Doflamingo. As long as Doflamingo is killed, they will have no reason to fight in a short time.

Looking at how Yamato doesn't like Doflamingo, if he had died long ago, he might not have made any moves.

Darkness invaded again, even the dazzling sunlight disappeared without a trace when it approached the black mist released by Redfield.

It is relatively difficult for his vampire fruit to exert its full power in the daytime. The black mist disguised by the ability is not as good as the real night after all, but it is enough to meet his needs for action.

Redfield's body once again melted into his own mist, but this time the result was different. The moment he locked onto Doflamingo, a wave of heat forced him back.

As soon as Redfield pulled back, blue flames swept over the position where he had just stood.

The darkness unleashed by Redfield was better dissipated by the continual fire than by the momentary lightning and raised ice.

"The appearance has changed, has the ability also changed? You have never used this ability before."

"It's just a little breakthrough, you have used this trick three times, it won't work anymore!"

Three times, the black mist was dispelled by Yamato with ice, lightning, and flame, and each method was extremely powerful. Even Redfield felt that this diverse ability was unique enough.

In his decades of life cognition, he has never seen such a complex ability, but he just sighed.

After the umbrella in his hand was tightened firmly, at this time the umbrella had completely turned into a sharp blade, colliding with Yamato, who was burning with flames, constantly.

Redfield didn't back down from the new power shown by Yamato. He would naturally do what he had promised, and he wouldn't give up just because of a little difficulty.

Blue flames swept across the audience, and even the rocks were turned into fuel for the blue flames. At this time, most of the field had been affected by the flames, and the others had no choice but to leave this dangerous area.

Hero was the farthest away. As a beetle, this high-temperature flame had a great impact on it, and it even felt that its wings were almost scorched.

And the jaw of the master next to it almost fell to the ground.

"Fire is on fire? Isn't her ability thunder and ice? Why is she suddenly on fire? What kind of ability is she? Can phantom beasts do this?"

While speaking, he tried to reach out to feel the temperature of the flame, but was slapped back by Marco.

"Be honest, that fire is not like mine."

They are all blue flames, but Marco's fire is a healing flame, while Yamato's fire is a destructive flame.

At this time, Marco has acted as a medical soldier and is dealing with the injuries of the surrounding friendly forces. With a large amount of healing flames sprinkled on the battlefield, their condition has improved visibly.

"Really, there is one more person who can use fire, so isn't Ace's power not special at all.

Oh, by the way, thank you for helping Brooke and Xiao Feng heal, brother Marco Polo. "

Looking at his companions standing up again, Luffy also expressed his thanks.

"It's okay, who told you to be Ace's younger brother. Wait, who is your name Marco Polo? My name is Marco! Marco!"

Marco's main purpose is to shake the fruit, and now the battle between Yamato and Redfield is also an opportunity, which may create opportunities for him to pick up the leak, but Luffy's title makes him a little confused.

"Is that so? They are almost the same, there is no difference."

Luffy's memory of Marco mainly stays in the pineapple head and the unpeeled pineapple. When recalling his name, he instinctively connects to some strange places.

"The difference is too big, let's not talk nonsense here. I don't know why people like Redfield are eyeing Doflamingo, but this is an opportunity. If you want to deal with Doflamingo, you can only do it." Now is the time."

At this time Yamato was still fighting Redfield, and Doflamingo was not far away.

Doflamingo knew it was dangerous here, but it was the only safe place. If he was too far away from Yamato, he would definitely not be able to handle it once Redfield was pulled out.

So no matter what, he acts within the range that Yamato can take care of.

Even though Yamato doesn't like him, she is the only one present who can keep him safe.

And that gives other people a chance.

"She obviously hates doing this, why does she still want to do the battle she hates?"

Luffy could feel that disgust, especially the previous stick, although it hit the ground, it also vented Yamato's anger.

The ability to listen to the voice of all things makes Luffy's perception very sensitive in certain situations, and emotions are not the future, so he naturally can't feel them.

And the result of this kind of reluctance made their actions no longer go smoothly.

"Because she is the ghost princess of all beasts, it's as simple as that. Her presence here means that our troubles will increase. Now it seems that this is actually the best situation."

Luo, who recovered, came to Luffy's side. He didn't think it was strange that the people of Hundred Beasts helped Doflamingo, but there were also people in Hundred Beasts who didn't like Doflamingo, and they were future heirs who didn't like him. This is great news for Luo.

His enemy is Doflamingo. At this time, he has no intention of making an enemy of the beasts, but it is difficult to bypass the beasts against Doflamingo.

Yamato doesn't want to take care of Dressrosa's affairs, so even if she takes Doflamingo away, the value of Doflamingo will drop.

As long as the role of Doflamingo can be completely replaced, the success rate of his plan will be higher, but now it seems that he needs to make some modifications to the original plan.

Luo's plan is not impossible, but it is a little difficult to realize.

Beasts are the kings of the underground world today. They have the ability to promote a new middleman. It is not difficult to do this through Charlotte Lingling's tea party.

As for the identity of Doflamingo's original Draconian, he is only a former Draconian, not a Draconian.

After being imprisoned in the original timeline, what Marie Gioia's people want to do is just kill Doflamingo and make him shut up forever.

Magellan personally guarded next to him, which prevented the behavior of those assassin agents.

He just has more privileges, not the ability to act recklessly.

Tezolo also has connections with Musgarud and the Tianlong people of the Figalan family. Doflamingo has never been an irreplaceable person.

It's just that Luo doesn't know these more secret things, so he can only try according to his own speculation. Once he fails, there is no turning back.

Luo has a new plan for future actions, but the current plan has not been terminated or abolished. At this time, Luffy's obsession with defeating Doflamingo has temporarily surpassed Luo.

He didn't like what Doflamingo did even more, and he didn't have any stance to stand on Doflamingo's side. He was almost ready for recovery, but was temporarily forced by the battle between Yamato and Redfield. It's just back.

"Master of the Straw Hat, if you still have the idea of fighting, it may depend on you for a while. I have to do something special, but I will be back soon."

"Oh, no problem, you can do it, just leave it to me here."

Luffy didn't have any doubts at all, and his own thoughts didn't change.

Marco originally planned to intervene. Doflamingo can handle Luffy and Luo's words, so Yamato will not care about him at all, unless she encounters something that Doflamingo can't handle, she will intervene.

And she was in the battle with Redfield again, only if she was distracted in this kind of battle, would she have a chance to resume operations against the Zhenzhen Fruit, but a voice stopped him.

"Marco, just look at it like this, this matter has little to do with you and me."

Katakuri stopped Marko with his words.

"Katakuri? What do you mean?"

"Don't get me wrong, I won't help Doflamingo anymore. From the very beginning, I have withdrawn from this dispute."

When Redfield appeared, Katakuri chose to play it safe. Now Redfield has Yamato to deal with, but he still thinks that he has torn up the previous agreement with Doflamingo.

Even if they fight with Marco and the others again, they won't get the so-called reward.

"Then what do you want to do?"

"It's nothing, I just told you not to make trouble, let these newcomers do it themselves."

Katakuri did not explain what was in his mind, but in fact, he was thinking about what to do in the future.

This is not the original timeline, the intersection of Charlotte Lingling and Kaido became rare after the Rocks Pirates disbanded.

The relationship between BIG-Mom and Hundred Beasts has been relatively friendly recently, at least to the point where they can sit down and talk.

It is impossible for Dressrosa to return to her previous appearance, and Doflamingo still has a layer of joker status on him.

After Doflamingo was taken away by Yamato, the underground world probably needs to be reshuffled.

Originally, the BIG MOM Pirates had close ties with various forces in this regard, and had complex channels.

The situation was relatively stable before, and they didn't do anything, but now the situation has begun to change.

Charlotte Lingling's inherent channel, coupled with the channel in Kaido's hands, and the combined names of the two sea emperors are enough to make all the so-called kings of the underground world disappear and carve up the entire underground world.

He wouldn't tell Malcomin about this kind of thing. At most, he is helping Dahe save a little trouble, which is considered as a favor.

"You and I are also old rivals. If I enter the game, it will not be good for that straw hat. There will be no winner between you and me for a while. Owen is enough to fight Joz, and the rest are no opponents of Daifuku.

And there is a navy led by a general outside, so let's reserve more strength to deal with those guys.

During the conversation, Katakuri's trident was already in his hands. If Marco agrees with his proposal, each will be safe. If he disagrees, he can only use force to speak.

"That's it, this island is really getting more and more troublesome."

Marco admitted that what Katakuri said was very reasonable, and it would be a more favorable situation for both sides to stand still at the same time.

"But you don't want to shoot anyone else."

"Of course, so do you want to sit down and catch up?"

Katakuri made two chairs out of rice cakes, but Marco didn't lean over at all, but stood on the other side with Jozy, watching the Katakuri brothers vigilantly. Pulled over by Marco.

It doesn't make much sense for them to participate in the war. Even if they really fight and defeat Daifuku, they will enter a state of fatigue.

"Fourth gear!"

Armed-color domineering covers both arms. With the gas blown in, Luffy's body muscles began to expand, and then turned into an elastic muscle balloon.

The strong elasticity even made Luffy unable to stand normally, and was bouncing up and down on the ground like a ball.

"I go first, Telaar, the Rubber Ape Gun!"

After the fourth gear, Luffy's arms contracted, and then he exploded with amazing explosive power. Doflamingo didn't expect that Luffy changed so much in an instant, and was thrown a lot of distance by this punch.

"Straw hat kid. You bastard!"

If it weren't for Usopp, the following things would not be exposed at all. This punch also ignited the anger in Doflamingo's heart. Five sharp lines appeared on the fingertips, and they grabbed Luffy in front of him.

But the silk thread, which can cut even the rock wall at will, was bounced away after encountering Luffy's special body.

"It's useless, the me now is not the same as before!"

"Really? Then let you watch something more interesting! The wild white line!"

The ground gradually turned into a wave of silk threads. Facing Luffy who cut into fourth gear, Doflamingo also entered a state of awakening and started a new round of fierce fighting.

"Why, don't you want to take care of that?"

Above, Redfield, who was fighting Yamato, couldn't help asking after sensing the situation below.

"You are too strong, he can't deal with it at all. He can still deal with such a rookie. It doesn't matter if he can't beat him. If he can't beat him, then that * father will think him even more useless."

Yamato didn't intend to protect Doflamingo as a fragile object. Faced with a situation that could be dealt with, he still planned to let him deal with it by himself, even if he suffered a little.

Anyway, she will only ensure that Doflamingo will be safe and sound in the end. She doesn't know what the process will be like.

"You are very confident."

"Of course, if I fall here, then I don't need to say anything about my future goals.

If you change your mind, you can choose to leave. I don't want to keep fighting with you. "

"I have already promised others, and I must do it."

"Then I can only... defeat you first!"

Flames are burning on Ah Gym, and traces of lightning can still be seen in the flames. This is not the fusion of the powers of Zekrom and Reshiram, but Yamato is using the power of both of them at the same time, which is far from the real fusion. .

And the current Yamato is in the flame white mode, the flame is the dominant one, and the power of thunder and lightning is much weaker than the flame.

Below, in addition to those who have exchanged money, there are also Robin and Sanji who are free.

Looking at the battle between Luffy and Doflamingo, Sanji wanted to help out. Now it's not a fair 1v1, but a big melee, and the people who ended the battle in other directions are gradually approaching here.

But before he could move, several arms suddenly grew out of his body, locking him in place.

At first, high-speed moving objects were difficult for Robin to deal with, because the spawned arms had a hard time grabbing them.

But as the ability strengthens, Robin's control over the ability becomes stronger. When she can directly generate arms on the high-speed moving enemy, the speed is meaningless in front of her.

And Sanji also has a weakness, he can't shoot women, but there are occasional exceptions.

In the original timeline, when he faced Charlotte Lingling, he didn't have any scruples about not being able to attack women, and he even showed courage that ordinary people can't have.

"Mr. Curly Eyebrows, please just watch here honestly, and don't meddle in the affairs over there."

The external brain has to be useful, she doesn't plan to keep watching here.

"I said this lady, can't you let me go? You have also seen what that guy Doflamingo did here."

"Miss's battle is not over yet, it's better to keep him from being distracted in this level of battle."

Robin's arm didn't mean to let go, but he could feel the strength of Sanji's struggle. NoveLusb.CoM

Looking at Sanji's curly eyebrows, combined with some information based on his name, she intends to try something to completely destroy the opponent's fighting spirit.

"Speaking of which, my clothes contain a lot of technology from the Vinsmoke family."

As the word Vinsmoke came out of Robin's mouth, she could clearly feel that there was something wrong with the strength of Sanji's struggle.

"Speaking of which, the names of this family are very interesting: Iji, Niji, and Yuji.

Between two and four, only three is missing, and they also have special curly eyebrows, Mr. curly eyebrows. "

Acting alone on the sea, she has many dealings with other forces. Germa 66 is one of them. After knowing the situation and combining Sanji's previous performance, Robin has the current speculation.

"Shut up! I have nothing to do with that group of people!"

"It doesn't matter, I see."

Sanji's answer seemed to be self-inflicted, which made Robin confirm his point of view and updated the information accordingly.

Judging from the current movements of the Straw Hats, it is estimated that they will have several dealings in the future.

"What do you know!"

"ROOM Slaughterhouse!"

Before Sanji finished speaking, Luo's ability also enveloped this place. As Luo activated his ability, both himself and Robin disappeared here, and instead appeared on the next floor of the high ground.

Seeing Luo who suddenly moved towards him, Robin frowned. Just as he was about to continue to activate his ability, Luo directly raised his hands.

"Wait! I'm not hostile, I just want to tell you that I have obtained Doflamingo's artificial devil fruit technology!"

Chapter 1214 Not on top but better than top (6k8)

"The production technology of artificial fruit?"

At this time, Luo raised his hands high, mastering the profound meaning of French etiquette so proficiently that Robin didn't know what he meant.

"That's right, it won't do you any harm to delay you for a few minutes and listen to me."

Luo has many plans, but in the final analysis, the ultimate goal is to kill Doflamingo.

In the current situation, the original plan has failed, so he will naturally change his strategy according to the current situation.

He didn't really want to confront Beasts. He originally planned to use other methods to ease the opponent's anger, but now, his plan has become to reduce the meaning of Doflamingo's existence.

Man-made devil fruit can be regarded as the monopoly technology in his hands. Now that Caesar has been captured by himself, Dressrosa has no possibility of recovery. Unfortunately, the beasts have no intention of throwing away Doflamingo.

Ke Luo didn't want Doflamingo to be as important as before. This thing was originally made by Caesar. Luo was not sure whether Doflamingo had other channels to get this recipe.

The best way to reduce the value of a formula is to break its monopoly and make it no longer an orphan.

This kind of thing is obviously not eligible for equal trading or threats, so Luo's choice is to give it away for nothing.

Now he doesn't have the energy and space to convert Caesar's formula into a real thing, so he might as well just send the formula out. What to do after getting the formula is the business of Beasts themselves.

As he spoke, Luo slowly raised a hand, and after activating his ability, he took out a document in his body. This is the real location where he stored the document.

Using the ability of the operation fruit to put it into his body, Doflamingo had obtained a piece of information from him before, but it was a fake prepared by Luo.

But in order to prevent Doflamingo from actually having the real thing in his hands, he still made a safer move.

"It's genuine, I believe you have the ability to verify this kind of thing."

Luo's other hand was still in the state of the French military salute, using one hand to show Robin the information in his hand, he could use the slaughterhouse to directly transmit the information to Robin, but he did not do so.

Teleportation to this unmanned location is for the convenience of conversation, and then continue to display the ability, Luo is very worried about causing unnecessary misunderstandings.

As a row of arms neatly appeared on the ground, the information in Luo's hand was also passed to Robin.

Although Robin couldn't understand the detailed content in the document, he still put it away. Naturally, someone else would do it to verify the authenticity of a document.

"What do you want to do?"

"The combat power of the Qiwuhai level is nothing in your eyes, and Doflamingo is just your dealer."

Doflamingo officially entered the new world only 10 years ago. As far as I know, he also killed the original dealer before completing his position. That's right. "

"Basically, he wiped out the rest of his opponents, and he did it."

The underground world is so cruel. In this gray field, there is always the risk of being replaced by the enemy.

"That's no problem, this is a gift, there is no requirement, but I hope you can pass a message to your governor for me, and give me a chance to try.

Besides the man-made fruit, Doflamingo's greatest value should be that connection. When I have the ability to replace him, why not replace him with a better one. Anyway, he is not your vassal from the beginning to the end.

At least for that time, let's go it alone. "

It's not that he hasn't done nothing these years, and he has also studied too much how Flamingo made his fortune, just to please another force, and it's not that he can't.

Based on the current situation, after Doflamingo is taken away, he will undoubtedly be under a bigger protective umbrella, one that cannot be pierced by his current ability.

Luo can only gradually achieve his goal by continuously weakening the meaning of Doflamingo's existence in this way.

At least Doflamingo has never hoisted the banner of Beasts, he is not a subsidiary pirate group of Beasts, let alone a direct member of Beasts.

The two parties are just a joint relationship. Doflamingo has created profits for the beasts, but he is not a philanthropist, and he has also made a lot of money in the process.

As for the importance of Doflamingo to Beasts, Kaido didn't really care about him in the original timeline, otherwise it wouldn't be Jack who came to the rescue.

At that time, Kaido was playing an island hopping game on the empty island. If you think he is extremely important, you can take the time to go there by yourself.

Not to mention the current situation, the artificial fruit is a bit tasteless, Charlotte Lingling's tea party will have other opportunities for communication, and Tezolo's side is a real family.

"Why do you think, I can do this?"

Listening to Luo's proposal, Robin still asked.

"Being able to talk to your eldest lady and following her all the time, you would never say that you are actually just a nanny."

"It seems to be the same. In short, I can't give you an answer, but I can send a message for you. As for what Governor Kaido means, then I don't know."

Now Kaido is still in charge of Beasts. Although he spends most of his time fighting and drinking, he is still the real governor of Beasts, at least in name.

Yamato has not yet taken over Hundred Beasts as the second generation, let alone she has not taken over, even if Yamato has already taken over Hundred Beasts, Robin will not go over Yamato and make a direct decision.

The meaning of the external brain is to provide advice and convey opinions for the other party when the other party needs it.

When an external brain is too assertive and even directly makes decisions for others, the existence of this external brain is superfluous.

Yamato himself may not be aware of this, but Robin himself will not cross the line.

"Thank you, please tell Sister Misu again for me, I was wrong, but I don't regret it."

"Misu Dressrosa. I see. Did the nun come to see you that time?"

Robin has a lot of things in his mind. The action some time ago plus Luo's reaction is enough to explain what the purpose of Misu's action was.

"It seems that you and Doflamingo have really great conflicts."

"That's a very long story, you shouldn't be interested in listening to it now, I've finished my words now, I'm going to send us back now."novelus&.com

"Can."

Robin made an assenting gesture. She really didn't intend to listen to Luo's long speech now. If she was really curious, she might as well go back and ask Misu what's going on.

She doesn't know what Luo's so-called fault refers to, but from Luo's mouth, Robin can capture another layer of information, that is, Luo and Misu knew each other, and it seems that they are also survivors of Frevans.

He seems to be using this indirect way to show that he has nothing to do with the beasts, but these things can only be discussed after the matter in front of him is over.

Then Luo's ROOM enveloped the previous area again, and Luo and Robin also returned to their previous positions.

After adjusting his state, Luo also reintegrated into the battle. He made some arrangements for the future, but he didn't plan to stop today.

The battle between Luffy and Doflamingo in the fourth gear is still going on, and in this process, Sanji didn't play a big role.

Originally, it was difficult for him to integrate into the top-level battle situation with his combat power at this time, and Robin's words before leaving disturbed his mind.

Everyone has things they don't want to face, and what Sanji is unwilling to touch at this time is the past about the Vinsmoke family.

As the special one among several children, Sanji's childhood was very unhappy under Gaji's thinking, especially after his mother died.

On weekdays, this matter has little impact, but at this time, he is not strong enough to participate in the battle.

Luo, who returned to the battlefield, thought it was a good thing to see Luffy, who had fought back and forth with Doflamingo, but if Luffy could always follow the plan, then he would not be Luffy.

Following Luffy punched again, the whole person fell down again as if discouraged.

"Baton!"

Luo's ability transferred Luffy in time. Looking at Luffy who suddenly became soft, Luo couldn't figure out what was going on.

"Master of the Straw Hat, what's the matter with you?"

"This is the first time I use the fourth gear in actual combat, and the consumption is greater than I expected."

Before the final battle between Luffy and Doflamingo in the original timeline, Doflamingo was hit by Luo's Gamma Knife. Although the body was repaired with silk threads, his state was still affected.

Although the current Doflamingo was attacked by Redfield before, but at that time Redfield hadn't taken the real action. Doflamingo's condition was relatively much better, and Luffy's consumption was much greater.

"so what?"

Looking at Luffy like this, Luo had a bad feeling.

"So. I don't need to be domineering in 10 minutes, Telaar, I'll leave it to you for 10 minutes, I'll take a break first."

Speaking of Luffy's outrageous trust, he fell asleep directly in front of his face, and began to accelerate his physical recovery.

"Master Blackfoot! Unicorn! Don't be dazed, let's see your captain first!"

Luo didn't want this kind of trust at all, but he had to react, throwing Luffy to Sanji, and then confronting Doflamingo.

At this time, Sanji also came out of Vinsmoke's shadow, but he directly threw Luffy to Hero, and he also encountered new troubles.

Not only do they have helpers, Doflamingo also has his own cadres. Torrebol returned here at this time, and directly confronted Sanji, and the heavy responsibility of taking Luffy to delay time fell to Helo body.

On the other hand, Katakuri and Marco, who are still in a state of confrontation, have made new progress.

"Marco, I have a few sisters who are of the right age. If you are talking about it, my mother is more interested."

"What the * are you talking about?"

"Don't you understand? Whitebeard is dead. In the days of his death, you have long lost the qualification to dominate the sea.

Based on your words alone, you will not be able to gain a foothold in this sea in the future. If you join us, your power may bloom again.

Without the white beard, you have become more cautious when doing things. If it was two years ago, you would probably have a fight with me first. "

“.”

Without the white beard, the Whitebeard Pirates lost their backbone, and the rest of them could barely maintain this framework, but struggled in their development.

Facing outsiders who are worthy of attention, Charlotte Lingling's method of union has always been marriage, and Marco belongs to this category of people.

It's not just Katakuri, the red hair also solicited Whitebeard after his death, but Marco refused, and it hasn't changed even now.

"We have to protect what father left behind."

"The Zhenzhen fruit is in her bag. Admit it, Marco, you don't have that ability. Under this turmoil, you can't last long."

BIG MOM Pirates were originally handled by Katakuri and Perospero. Recruiting strong players is also a constant theme of the Pirates. Katakuri thinks this is a very reasonable thing.

It's just that Marco's attitude is still very firm, but he just looked up at the higher battlefield. The battle there is the one that can really decide everything today.

"Ice Slash!"

The flying speed in Flame White Mode was no slower than that in Dark Mode, and Yamato, who was higher up, hit Redfield head-on.

Different from before, there was no obvious lightning or flame winding on the stick, but bursts of white smoke rose from the place Ajan swept, and the temperature of the stick had reached an extremely low state at this time.

From the very beginning, the air-conditioning was constantly filling the surrounding environment. With Yamato's second swing, Laidfield discovered the difference in Yamato's attack.

A white flame suddenly erupted from Yamato's mace. Although it was a flame, it had no temperature at all.

The white flame seems to be incombustible, spreading on all objects that can be touched, but at the moment of contact, it erupts with a biting chill.

The dark mode has frozen volts, and the flame white mode also has the corresponding extremely cold flame.

Frozen Volt is as fast as thunder, chasing the enemy's pace, while the extremely cold flame is as pervasive as wind and fire, gradually eroding every inch of land, making people nowhere to hide.

Redfield's umbrella is bearing the burden that ordinary umbrellas cannot bear. Its domineering makes it as strong as a sharp knife, but its domineering cannot extinguish the extremely cold flame.

During the previous battle, Yamato compressed the power of the extremely cold flame into his weapon.

Then it broke out completely in another swing, causing the umbrella in Redfield's hand to be completely eroded by the cold flames. In order to prevent the flames from eroding his arms, Redfield finally chose to let go, letting the umbrella freeze through and fall to the ground.

"Your ability is really complicated. Can the two attributes of flame and freezing can do this kind of thing?"

"It's normal, old man, you don't have any weapons anymore, should you give up?"

"Hahaha, little girl, there is no need to say such things, dropping your weapon is not the reason for the end of the battle.

But now it seems that my blank period is too long, and this body that has been silent for decades has not recovered yet. "

Having not fought for decades, the previous kind of playful fight was nothing more than that. Now that this kind of truly top-notch duel, Laidfield felt a little sluggish.

It is not because of the dullness brought about by age, but because of the dullness brought about by strangeness. If he didn't need to think about some things a few decades ago, his body that has experienced many battles would automatically respond to block.

"Maybe it's because you're too quiet. The Golden Lion guy keeps shouting that he's a Golden Lion during the battle. Why don't you try too, old man?"

"It really fits Shiki's character, but it's not my style, but I have to say, as a battle to let the world know my name again, you are a perfect opponent."

Ledfield has already planned to reappear in the world. As a resurrection battle, a strong opponent is worthy of him. The lonely red back then didn't want to give up his arrogance.

Ledfield still has other fighting methods after temporarily losing his weapon.

Redfield had several sharp blades on his fingertips, but was interrupted by another voice.

"Boss! Just use me!"

Pa Dong flew over on a small flying carpet.

"Padong? This is not for you."

"It doesn't matter, I have already said, no matter if I am beaten or kicked, I will follow you voluntarily, even in the ends of the earth.

This is not your voyage alone, but one with one! In order to achieve your goal, Boss, I will do my best! "

The flying carpet below turned into leaves, but Padong in mid-air turned into a huge paintbrush, which fell into Laidfield's hands like a spear. The pen became Redfield's new weapon.

"It doesn't matter, you can use it as you like. This is also the power of your partner. I also have my partner. It is more fair to say this."

Seeing that Redfield seemed to be hesitating, Yamato also gave his own answer.

"Forget it, you have fought the Golden Lion before, right? That guy is best at slashing, and I am good at stabbing."

After reaching high altitude with the help of bat wings, Laidfield made a stabbing movement, and the special veins on Yamato's body also began to surge with red energy, and his wings were dyed a touch of fiery red.

A burst of flames erupted from the crown and tail at the same time, Yamato entered the overclocking state in the flame white mode, and faced Redfield.

At the same time, while the people on the high ground were fighting for their own goals, the fighting in Dressrosa did not stop.

Ace and Sabo held back his Fujitora's pace, and Fujitora also meant to be held back by them on purpose, causing the navy to stay here all the time, unable to help Doflamingo above.

The former toys gradually gained the upper hand in the battle against the Don Quixote family cadres. Zoro also started his own poetry reading session, while some people have been tinkering with their own phone bugs.

"Still can't get in touch?"

"Can't be contacted, the phone bug has no signal at all, what did this guy Doflamingo do?"

Two people in white suits are talking about the situation of Dressrosa. This costume and the weird mask have already indicated their identity-CP0.

This is the CP0 team that the world government originally sent to Dressrosa. After announcing that Doflamingo's resignation from Shichibukai was a false report, they disappeared in Dressrosa as if the world had evaporated. Rosa didn't show up until now.

"The Zhenzhen fruit has been confirmed to fall into the hands of Gui Ji, and the probability of getting the fruit from her is infinitely close to zero."

To put it bluntly, it is simply impossible. It is a relatively nice way of saying that it is infinitely close to zero, which makes them seem to have a little hope.

"Isn't the combat effectiveness of that thing okay? At least the current test results are still great."

"I don't think it can. It's already a bit reluctant. It can't intervene in the battle between Oni Ji and the Red Earl. But if it replaces Qi Wuhai, it may not be impossible."

On the side street, there is a Seraph fighting.

The S-Eagle and S-Snake have been destroyed, but there are not only two Seraphs from the beginning to the end, and the other Seraphs have been shipped to other areas to start testing.

Due to the characteristics of Seraphim, the S-bear was not destroyed, but it was S-shark that appeared in Dressrosa at this time, that is, using Jinbei as a template, combining the battle between murlocs and Lunaria weapon.

"Damn it, why is this * so strong? Can't it be broken?!"

Ulti's ax blade slashed on the S-shark's chest. This attack, which was enough to cut most people in half, was blocked by the opponent's crossed arms. Although two white marks were left, it was still far from being injured. far away.

It was Peggy Wan and Ulti who fought with S-shark. CPO gave this instruction to S-shark in a very safe place, and it also gave Ulti and Peggy Wan an opponent to fight.

"Get out of the way, old lady! That thing is coming again!"

After Ulti was forced to retreat, Peggy Wan broke through the ground and hit the S-shark's chest with a head hammer, and the ground under their feet collapsed in an instant.

Just now, Peggy Wan has hollowed out the area below, turning it into a giant trap.

Peggy Wan's huge body pressed on top of the S-shark, pushing it directly into the deep pit.

The next moment, a shock wave came from the deep pit, and the punch of the S-shark directly caused a series of explosions in the air, breaking away from Peggy Wan's shackles.

"Hey, is this the combat weapon that Sister Shaina mentioned at the beginning? It is indeed hard enough."

Not only hard, S-shark's ability is also tricky.

The green blood in the S-Shark body in the original timeline is made based on the Swimming Fruit of Xignol. With the murloc karate ability possessed by S-Shark, it can directly hit the ground as water.

But now Xignol is still fighting against the tough guy Franky. At this time, the green blood of the S-shark is made by the explosive fruit of Mr. 5.

Due to the change, Mr. 5, who was not imprisoned, was captured by the navy, which also gave the science troops new experimental materials.

S-Shark combines the ability of murloc karate with the air burst ability of exploding fruit, turning the air that is shot into a bomb, thus realizing the fighting method just now.

"I don't believe you can't split this thing! Xiaopei, try again! Do as we discussed."

The birdcage cut off Dressrosa's external electrical signal. Otherwise, according to the updated battle rules of Beasts, when encountering Seraphim, they can directly contact Jhin and Shaina and let them deal with it.

The current situation is that Yamato is fighting at a higher level, and the Seraphim is naturally their target.

"Old sister, remember to call your name, otherwise it may affect the power."

"Got it, got it! Don't remind me of such things!"

While speaking, Peggy Wan slammed his feet on the ground, and the rock walls around the trap began to collapse. A large amount of rubble buried the S-shark below, and a large number of mud bombs were ejected from his mouth.

Facing the falling boulder and Peggy Wan's attack, S-Shark extinguished the flame on his back while throwing several punches, trying to get out of the deep pit at a faster speed.

Mud and falling rocks blocked the S-shark's vision. When it rushed out of the pit, Ulti just appeared in front of the S-shark, and the ax blade on his arm was still shining with purple light and shadow.

"The ultimate dragon shakes the world!"

The purple light and shadow turned into a flying dragon and attached to her ax blade. As the wings of the flying dragon fluttered, Urti's ax blade also burst out with stronger power.

Ulti's face was also flushed, partly because of the surging blood during the battle, and partly because of the name.

Z moves have some problems with voice control and manipulation of gestures. After many tests, it can only exert its greatest power by making complete movements and calling out the name, and Ulti doesn't like this name very much.

Although the process was unpleasant, the result was a success. A huge opening was split on the S-shark, and blood gushed out of it.

This is a wound that is enough to kill a human being, but the S-shark did not fall down.

As biological weapons, their endurance far exceeds that of normal humans, and they will never stop before reaching the real lethal injury.

The gushing blood turned into a liquid bomb in its hands, causing a series of explosions around Urti.

But Urti seemed even more excited. Since she could injure it, she would have the opportunity to cause more damage.

As Peggy Wan knocked it away again, Ulti also began to prepare for a new round of offensive.

When the melee broke out in Dressrosa, the manpower sent by the navy gradually approached here.

The pirate ships left by other forces on the periphery noticed those warships immediately.

"Good news, it's just an old man and an old lady leading the way."

"Bad news, that old man is Warring States, and the old lady is Crane."

Brothers Dikalban of the Whitebeard Pirates recounted what they had detected.

"Then stop talking nonsense, get out of here first! Wait for them at the agreed reception place!"

Widibe yelled angrily and led the people away from here, and other pirates also made the same decision.

Warring States, they also ignored these pirates who started to escape, and just landed in the port.

"This trick again, Doflamingo really has nothing new."

After noticing those sharp silk threads, Crane said something lightly, and then stretched out his hand towards the birdcage.

Chapter 1215 I seem to have seen this thing

Can easily cut steel, shelling and general slashing are also helpless. When encountering a crane, the thin line is like encountering a natural enemy.

Fruit ability already has restraint. When a lower-rank fruit encounters a higher-rank fruit, the sense of powerlessness is hard to express. Although the relationship between the washing-washing fruit and the thread-line fruit is not upper-lower, the effect of restraint is also obvious.

Under the cleaning of the crane, the part of the birdcage in front of them became limp in an instant, and with the influence of the crane's ability, a huge door was gradually opened for people to enter and exit.

"Let's go."

He took the lead and walked into Dressrosa, but the continuous clicking sound in her ears gradually made her a little irritable.

Warring States has been following her with a bag of rice cakes. Except for the overcoat on the back, it is still a navy uniform. He has changed into short-sleeved shorts, and the pair of slippers are not so much for performing a mission. On an outing.

"Sengoku, it's almost enough, don't be like that guy Karp, do you want to become an old rice cake man like Senbei old man?"

"Old man with rice cake slices? It's not impossible."

"The Chief Inspector is really light-hearted without an official."

"Don't say that, Xiaohu, our marshal didn't assign specific tasks, but said to play by ear."

The information that Baki conveyed is not detailed, the navy only has a general understanding of the situation here.

But they can be sure that this is a major event that is no less troublesome than the top war, and it is even more laborious to handle.

Back then, Marin Vando was the headquarters of the navy, so they could build such a cage, and they took advantage of Whitebeard's weakness. Even though Whitebeard knew it was a trap, he rushed in without hesitation.

According to their post-war analysis, if it wasn't for Kaido's intrusion, coupled with the movement made by Blackbeard and Luffy in the promotion city, the top war should have achieved a better result.

In the current situation, the pirates known to be the most difficult to deal with are Redfield and Yamato. Although there are no top pirates who play mahjong in the top war, the navy can't make up such a lineup.

Even actors, as long as some people stand there, they are spiritual pillars.

Of course, this is not the main problem. The more important problem is that Dressrosa has nothing that makes them have to fight to the death.

In addition to Yamato and Redfield, there are three Shichibukai here, but the Shichibukai has never been trusted by the navy, maybe they will do something in the middle.

Marco, Ace, Katakuri, and Sabo are also not easy opponents to deal with.

None of them carry too many manpower, and there are many people with the ability to fly. If they disperse and break through, the navy has nothing to do with this strength.

Crane only restrained Doflamingo to death, and it was still very difficult to cope with the situation here with Sengoku and Fujitora alone.

What's more, there are two sea emperors and the revolutionary army behind them. Compared with these, the newcomers of the extremely evil generation who have some connections are the best people to deal with.

Tsuru doesn't know what's going on with Fujitora, but looking at Sengoku's carefree holiday style, she feels very unreliable.

"Play by ear, Sakalski has a lot of ability to trouble the elderly."

Tsuru was originally the chief staff officer of the Navy Headquarters. It was her job to analyze the battle situation and formulate plans. Akainu's orders were very compliant.

Even Akainu couldn't judge what to do in this matter, so he had to completely delegate power to Tsuru.

"Fortunately, I'm not the marshal, otherwise I would have to do this kind of thing."

"Yeah, fortunately I'm not a general, or maybe I'm the one who is performing this task."

Another voice came from Sengoku and Crane's ears. The familiar pink bicycle appeared in front of the navy, and the figure on the seat was also very familiar.

Crack, crack, click.

The blade was unsheathed, the bullet was loaded, and the weapons in the hands of several female soldiers beside the crane were aimed at Kuzan.

The navy has been suppressing Kuzan's news for its own face, but paper cannot contain the fire, and this news has been gradually leaked.

These female soldiers are soldiers directly under He, and they are in contact with high-level information on weekdays, so they know more about Kuzan.

It is not easy for them to see a general who can be regarded as a formal defector appear here.

"Don't be nervous, put your weapons away."

He and Warring States were more relaxed, as if they didn't take this matter to heart, and Warring States directly put an arm around Kuzan's shoulders.

"Kuzan, why did you come here?"

"Eh, I'll take the boat."

Yes, this is why Kuzan is here, very concise and clear.

He forgot to bring his camel when he went out this time, so he has no means of transportation.

After meeting his old friend Smoker, he faced several choices.

Ride back on a bicycle, run back with it on your shoulders, or find a nearby place to take a boat. After thinking about it carefully, Dressrosa is the closest, so I simply rode my bicycle again.

Just saw this messy situation.

But in the face of the Warring States with hooked shoulders, Kuzan did not relax, but after being elementalized, he carried his bicycle to another position.

"It's better not to say hello with domineering, Zhan Guo Yuan no, the Warring States Inspector."

"Kuzan, are you serious about what you are doing now?"

"Who knows, but I'm not here to fight, so you don't have to be so nervous. See you later."

Kuzan just said hello, and stopped by the road that the crane drove. There was no need for him to continue walking under the current situation, so he left here first.

"Okay, now there is one more unstable factor."

Rubbing their foreheads, Crane and Warring States also stepped up their pace.

Not so long ago, on the Highlands.

Luo's battle was far more difficult than that of Luffy at that time.

"嘵嘵嘵嘵嘵, Old G's physical skills, Diamanti's sword skills, Gladius' gun skills.

Luo, your battles are full of their shadows, you stinky brat who will revenge you! Do you think this kind of thing can deal with me? ! "

"Ah, you taught this, but Mr. Cora is the reason why I am alive. He saved my life. I thank him from the bottom of my heart, but you killed him!"

The blade collided with the silk thread, and most of Ke Luo's fighting methods were predicted by Doflamingo. Under the defense and strangulation of the silk thread, Luo's situation became more and more difficult.

Fortunately, at this time, after a long long-distance running in the air, Luffy has recovered his domineering, and re-entered fourth gear.

"Terraman, it's alright, just let me do it next! Rubber Lion Bazooka!"

Both feet are constantly bouncing in the air like propellers, propelling his balloon-like body to move at high speed in the air, and the domineering arms flick away Doflamingo's silk thread, and Luffy's hand is pressed on Dover Brother Lang Ming pushed him out of his chest.

"Successful?!"

"Stop dreaming! More than the whip!"

Doflamingo, who was shot out by the lion bazooka, threw out a thick silk thread, and then stroked the glasses on his face.

"Luo, have you forgotten what I hate the most? What I hate the most is... being looked down upon by others!

Do you think you can defeat me if there is no external force and coincidence? !

Little brats like you who don't know the heights of the sky and the earth, even if it is only for a moment that you feel that you can defeat me, it is a great shame to me!

I have the most noble blood in the world."

Doflamingo suddenly stopped his speech. He noticed a serious problem. Someone broke his birdcage.

At about the same time, the phones of Marco and Katakuri also rang.

The breaking of the birdcage means that the electrical signal is no longer isolated, which is not good news for Doflamingo, which means that things here will soon be spread and made public.

But for others, it means that news from the outside world can also come in.

"Marco? Finally contacted you, are you all right now?"

The voice of Whitebeard, the Ice Witch, came from the other end of the phone bug. She joined the Whitebeard Pirates at about the same time as Marco. She had already followed Whitebeard before the Whitebeard Pirates formed a team, it's okay to call Marco by his first name.

"It's okay, what's the matter?"

"Navy reinforcements, Sengoku and Crane have arrived outside, and should be heading towards the center by now.

They didn't care about us, but there are also many warships outside, we can't wait for you at the port, we have to go to the agreed place first, and you should withdraw as soon as possible! "

Marco and Katakuri did not shy away from each other, so Marco could clearly hear that the phone bug in Katakuri's hand received the same message.

"Katakuri, it doesn't make sense to continue fighting here. I don't want the Navy to take advantage of it."

Looking at the current situation, it is impossible to get the Zhenzhen Fruit. The battle between Yamato and Redfield gave him no chance to even get close. Judging from the fighting frequency of the two of them, if he dared to get close, he would be killed first.

He can't get the Zhenzhen Fruit, and he is not interested in Doflamingo's life or death. Anyway, life and death have no effect on the Whitebeard Pirates.

But Luffy is Ace's younger brother, so he can't be left here.

"I have no objection, but those two, what do you do?"

Katakuri pointed to the sky, the battle between Yamato and Redfield is not over yet.

"At this time, I can only try the most traditional method."

Marco took a deep breath and shouted into the sky: "Hey! I say two! Navy reinforcements are here! Don't fight any more!"

Unless they take the initiative to stop, no one at the scene can stop them. Whether it is Marko or Katakuri, all they can do is convey information.

Marco's words reached the ears of the two, and Redfield's expression became dissatisfied. This was an unpleasant experience for him.

As a lone ranger back then, he had no companions, and he had no one to rely on after he fell down. After a battle with the sky, he was picked up and sent to the city of advancement. The current situation is not exactly the same, but somewhat similar.

"How about a temporary truce and joining forces? My impression of the Navy is not very good."

"I don't think they have time to come here."

Yamato also stopped, but his eyes turned to the sky.

The clouds above began to roll again, and there seemed to be something inside.

"No time?"

"Well, this thing was two years ago. I saw it once. Are the people in the world government crazy?"

The crane washed away Doflamingo's birdcage before and restored the communication here. It is not only the pirates and the navy that can communicate with the outside world, but also those CPOs lurking on the island. nOvelusb.COM

When you need to contact the outside world for something, but you can't get through the phone, what normal people do is not to give up, but to make repeated calls.

Widibe didn't give up contacting Marko until his patience was exhausted or the phone was dialed. Naturally, these agents were also persistently contacting the World Government.

They didn't do it until the moment Crane made his move.

"Satan Saint, I will now report to you about the situation in Dressrosa. A large-scale civil strife is breaking out in Dressrosa. The specific actions of Doflamingo are as follows.

The confirmation of Seraphim's combat power is over, and the full version of Seraphim's combat power is quite impressive

Most of the pirates on the island gather in the highlands, including Doflamingo."

The news was sent to Wulaoxing one by one by CPO, and compared with the news that Fujitora sent to the Navy before.

The world government believes in these CPOs the most, even the navy is a step behind them.

"This guy is doing more behind the scenes than we think."

"How to deal with it better? Dressrosa is a franchise country anyway, and this matter is even more extreme than Crocodile.

The Shichibukai appointed by the world government wantonly enslaves the members of the franchise countries, even the royal family cannot avoid it. If this matter spreads, the kings will not be able to sit still. "

Two successive events involving the Seven Armies seeking the country have occurred, which has had a huge impact on the reputation of the world government.

The kings of the allied countries suffered this kind of thing, and they were still two countries. When the Dressrosa matter fermented, those kings would not sit idly by for their own safety.

"Doflamingo's delisting is beyond doubt. Judging from Seraphim's current performance, it also has the ability to replace Shichibukai. Is this system really necessary to exist? None of those people can worry about it."

"This matter can wait for the world conference to let the kings discuss it slowly. The top priority now is how to deal with the Dressrosa matter."

Wu Laoxing was about to start the discussion when the table in front of them suddenly turned into a shadow-like object, and a special eye emerged from the shadow.

And in the most mysterious place of Marie Gioia, among the flowers where no one can step at will, an identical eye also lights up.

Seeing this scene, the five old stars also stood up and knelt down in front of the table.

They are all very clear about what this means. Im, the master of the world government, is conveying his thoughts at this time.

"Master Im."

"I already know about this, and I think I can make this place disappear, and let those troublesome things disappear in the sea."

On a world map not far away, the position of Dressrosa suddenly lights up. Wu Lao Xing already knows what this so-called disappearance means.

"Those who know the secret of the national treasure of Mary Gia, those who disturb the existing existence, just happen to be all together, and I want to see the effect of the "Holy Virgin's Flame", this time I will use it.

When the World Conference begins, Mu wants a result. "

Talking about the conference table returning to its former appearance, Im never seemed to show up, Hua Jiannei also regained his calm, but Wu Laoxing knew very well that this was all real.

"Follow your will, Master Im."

The so-called world government is essentially a huge monopoly. If Im has his own decision, all discussions will become meaningless.

"Has the flame of Our Lady been repaired?"

"York said it has been repaired, and it should be usable now. With Lord Im's order, there is no need to think about anything else."

Even the voting process was omitted, the Five Old Stars directly gave the order to attack, and Satan, who was responsible for scientific defense, became the direct commander of this operation.

"CPO, the mission is cancelled, take the S-shark and leave Dressrosa as quickly as possible, the farther the better."

"Warring States, Crane, the world government has new actions, the navy does not need to continue the action, and evacuate Dressrosa immediately."

"York, whether you are the real Vegapunk or not depends on this time."

The orders issued from the five old stars also made the situation in Dressrosa more delicate.

That's all for today

Chapter 1216 Profound Truth·Please God

not long ago.

"Lilith, do me a favor and look at the parts on the port side!"

York's hands have already turned into tools, and she is also a cyborg herself. Such tools can speed up her work process.

Although she is the clone of Vegapunk, but when Vegapunk itself died and the punk records were destroyed, York's work efficiency is far from that of the original Vegapunk itself.

Not to mention that York, who was not in charge of the working body before, even Lilith had to search for information from the documents given by the world government when she worked.

Without the punk record, it is equivalent to sealing their work database. Although the ability is still there, many things have to be redone.

At present, they are dealing with recent new plans, and they are relatively more proficient, so they can handle these things.

At the beginning, York's idea was to kill Lilith and make herself the only existence, but now she has changed this way of thinking.

If there is no Lilith, I will be exhausted.

She just wanted to kill the main body and replace it, but she forgot one key thing.

Before, all the vegapunks worked. What the world government wants is their research ability, not raising a useless person. There are already many such useless people as Marie Gioia, and there is no need for outsiders to fill them in.

At that time, York's daily task was to eat, drink, and sleep. He didn't have to work at all, but the main body died, and only her and Lilith were left in the avatar.

If you want to prove your ability, you have to work yourself.

About the ambition of Tianlongren, Wulaoxing didn't reject her, but he didn't promise her either. He just drew a blank check and promised many benefits, but the price was that she had to work.

It was not until this time that York realized how cows and horses work.

Vegapunk's research is his own interest, and he is addicted to it, so he feels that time is not enough, and even creates a clone to help him do more research.

When York's goal turned into profit, the process became much more boring. Fortunately, now Lilith can help her deal with some things, so that she won't be too difficult.

"The port side is fine, but the side weapon system has just been repaired and has not been tested yet!"

High above the sky, Lilith used a special device to attach herself to the outer armor of the Flame of the Virgin, and was doing further minor repairs from the outside.

Because only York and her were left, Lilith didn't know what to do. It was an instruction that Vegapunk had never set, so she temporarily acted according to York's ideas.

After a careful inspection, York and Lilith roughly confirmed that the flame of the Holy Mother can operate as usual.

"That should be the end of it. Let's go. The rest of the matter has nothing to do with us. Let them do the fighting and killing."

Putting on a simple flying machine, York and Lilith jumped from the sky, but Mary Joya didn't let her land. If a year ago, Egghead could make a maintenance base, but now they can only do it themselves. Get started.

"By the way, Lilith, how do you think about what I said? Don't you want to become Saint Lilith?"

"The old man thinks that identity is meaningless, and I don't think they will really give you this identity. Compared with these, it is better to go and see this magnificent sea."

Without the main body, the remaining two avatars gradually have more independent thinking, and their thoughts, which represent evil and desire, are out of sync at all. According to Lilith, she is just accumulating capital now.

She is not just a tool person, she also has her own ideas.

As for York's proposal, her new idea now is to let Lilith work for herself. The dignified York Saint can't always go to work in person. She even wants to learn from Vegapunk and create a few clones of York, but she has no idea about this aspect. Nothing to understand.

York and Lilith's thoughts can't have too much influence for the time being, and York's answer has already been conveyed to Wulaoxing through the phone bug in Satan's hand.

"The flames of the Holy Mother have already begun preparations."

Satan confirmed this result flatly. As for what will happen to Dressrosa and whether the residents there will be affected, they have not thought about it at all.

Imm's orders are absolute to the Five Old Stars. Now that Im has made a decision, they only need to execute it without considering any rationale.

But still discussed some things before acting.

"Why did Lord Im wake up at this time?"

Nasi Shoulang has been holding the knife for thousands of years. No one knows what is going on inside the knife that has never been out of its sheath for more than three centimeters. As the most rigid of the five, he raised a question.

"It's a little early, it's not the same as usual." nOvelusb.cOm

"We have no right to interfere in this matter. Lord Im naturally has his own ideas. If there is an order, it is enough to execute it."

Macas Maz is combing his long beard, and this is what other people think, no one can know what Im thinking, so let's not think about it.

"Speaking of which, the fruit is also on the island now. Although it hasn't awakened yet, it would be a good thing if it disappeared together. The biggest threat and the guy who knew the secret evaporated at the same time. The sea should be able to continue to be stable for a while."

"Yeah, whether it's the fruit or Doflamingo, it's quite troublesome."

Satan agrees with Macas Maz's point of view. The direct bloodline of the Celestial Dragons is not easy for them to deal with, at least not easily executed. Even if they want to kill them, they have to go through complicated procedures such as the Knights of God. process.

Of course, with Im's order, other things can be ignored, after all, Im is the one who has the final right of interpretation.

"Does the Don Quixote family have any opinions?"

"No, only Musgarud has an opinion, but their family has already dealt with this matter internally, and they have no interest in the old country that they abandoned a long time ago."

The Don Quixote family here has nothing to do with Doflamingo, but the rest of the Don Quixote family on Marie Bridge, except for the Doflamingo family and Musgarud, the Don Quixote family 800 There are still many offspring born during the years.

And their attitude towards Dressrosa is also very unified, it doesn't matter.

If it was an ordinary island, the Five Elder Stars would not notify them. It was only because Dressrosa was once the country of Don Quixote's family that they would be notified routinely.

This notice is not for them to put forward their opinions, but a temporary notice. If you are really reluctant, you can make psychological preparations earlier.

"Musgarud is still so heretic, just like Huo Minggu, no, Rossinanti and Doflamingo are also a virtue, this family is so unique."

"Forget about the Don Quixote family, tell the CPO and the navy to leave there. Their number is not large, and with the ability of those people, it is still possible to avoid being affected."

"Sakaski, if he hadn't sent more people over there, he wouldn't have to be so troublesome at all. Let them hurry up, and the charging time won't be long."

Sengoku and Crane, the two elderly people, went to Dressrosa directly under the direct order of Akainu, and did not pass the approval of the World Government, but only notified afterwards.

The blond-haired Peter ended this simple meeting. Following the two phone calls, the world government's actions were also arranged.

Ordinary people don't care about them, especially the targets who are ordered to be wiped out, but Fujitora, who has just been recruited not long ago, is different from Sengoku, a retired veteran cadre.

If the Warring States and the others haven't left when the flame of the Holy Mother is fully charged and the attack is released

You have to think about how to wash the floor.

At this moment, the battles in Dressrosa, Laidfield, and Yamato are temporarily on hold, but the battles in other areas are still going on.

"Gravity Knife Tiger!"

Fujitora put the knife back into its sheath, and then slashed forward with a knife.

Under the influence of gravity, a deep gully was cut out on the ground, and a channel was cut out by the flames released by Ace.

"Both, our reinforcements have arrived, so please capture them without your hands."

"Are you kidding? How could you just admit defeat because of your one sentence?"

"Yes, these hands are the dragon's claws honed to tear apart the power. If you don't have the awareness to face it, you won't go on this road."

"Really, that can only be done by force, come and ask the two of you to submit."

The answers of Ace and Sabo were within Fujitora's expectations, so Fujitora didn't find anything abrupt, he was just trying.

After being rejected, circle after circle of gravity waves spread around Fujitora as the center, making Fujitora surrounded by stronger gravity.

The houses near here have already collapsed due to the inability to resist gravity, but when Fujitora was about to attack, the orderly on the side widened his eyes, as if he had received some incomprehensible orders.

"Sir, sir! Urgent order, all navies evacuate Dressrosa immediately!"

"immediately?"

"Yes, both the Chief Inspector of the Warring States Period and Staff Officer Crane said that no matter how important the battle you are fighting, you must leave immediately. Lieutenant General Bastiyu is already integrating the team."

Although he was puzzled, Fujitora still chose to obey the order. Under Sabo and Ace's even more puzzled eyes, he closed his sword and left here.

Just before leaving, those pale eyes still looked up to the sky, even though he could no longer see things, he still felt a little depressed.

"what is this?"

Sabo, who was just about to face the * battle, looked at Ace, but found that Ace was looking at the sky. When Sabo looked up, he only saw a slightly depressing black cloud.

"What's wrong?"

"Could it be that thing again?"

"That thing?"

"Yeah, the world government thing."

Only those who participated in the top war and saw all of that can understand the horror more intuitively.

That attack was only a flash in the pan. After that, no one had heard of that attack again, but when a similar situation reappeared, it was inevitable that they would think of that terrifying picture.

That is just the aftermath, if it is really hit.

"Sabo! You leave first, you can't stay on this island, you should also arrange a boat, act now, the farther away from here the better!"

"What's wrong?"

"The weapon used by the navy during the top war seems to be used again"

"how about you?"

"I'll go and see Luffy, I'm a natural ability user, and Marco can fly too, don't worry about us, we'll catch up soon, that's it!"

As Ace turned into a ball of flames and flew towards the high ground, Sabo contacted Kerla and Haku and other revolutionary forces, asking them to try their best to organize some people to evacuate.

Ace's words were not very clear, but Sabo still chose to trust his brother and followed his arrangement.

The S-Shark, which was fighting Ulti and Peggy Wan, also made a new move. As its hands touched the ground, the entire ground turned into a huge bomb.

Compared to Mr. 5, who can only bounce boogers, S-shark's application and development of this fruit is obviously higher.

The world government did not generously give more than ten minutes of evacuation time. With this kind of time, enough people on the island who are strong enough to find the anomaly escaped. To be precise, not only the island, but even people outside the island are aware of it. to the exception.

If you want to get rich, you need to pave the road first. After rounding it up, this sentence can also be applied to Arceus. Originally, he was paving another road, using things such as reversing the world and extremely huge ocean currents as his meridian, to carry out his own transformation of the world. remodel.

After Arceus' network is laid, after a period of baptism, his ability to interfere in this world will be further enhanced.

The movement of the flames of the Virgin Mary was powerful enough, which also allowed Arceus to capture the movement.

"These people really can't put it down."

"Master Holy Beast, what are you talking about?"

"It's nothing, I'm just wondering if it's better to learn from them and directly erase some things that periodically pose a threat.

After all, this thing is in their hands, it is really a bit of a hindrance, and they repaired it quickly enough. "

Darkley's latest news, he almost found the entrance last time, but was escaped by the other party to a place like a fork in the road, and he accidentally lost his goal.

Darkley insisted that he had found the trick, and he would not fail again next time, and Darkley also said that he had captured an aura similar to the energy in his body.

Because Darkrai was originally a Pokémon derived from the full power of the Evil-faced Slate, he is more sensitive to the breath of the Slate, which means that only the last one of the eighteen Slates has not yet fallen.

Eighteen are missing one, and Arceus is only short of the last step, so his movements have become bigger.

"Go ahead and do your thing, I will make arrangements for the rest."

"yes."

Shaina left silently, but Arceus' consciousness came to the scene of a quarrel.

"You two, it should be enough for now."

Arceus' consciousness appeared in the space of the black and white dragons, interrupting their quarrel.

"My lord."

"My lord."

Looking at Arceus who suddenly appeared, Zekrom and Reshiram also stopped their quarrel. Their quarrel was actually meaningless, even if they quarreled for hundreds of years, they would not be able to tell a result.

After all, they are arguing on the premise that they are right, and they will not choose to be soft no matter what.

"It's okay. If you want to quarrel, you can quarrel later. Go and get rid of the thing on it first. This time, it should be cleaned up. I don't want to notice its smell again."

The Flame of Our Lady can't pose a threat to him, but it can pose an uncontrollable threat to others. Apart from him, the rest of Beasts can at best protect themselves from this attack, and it is basically impossible to take care of others.

He doesn't intend to keep staring at this inexplicable weapon, direct destruction is a simple way.

Zekrom and Reshiram already had consciousness in Yamato. With this consciousness, they had the ability to make their own bodies appear beside Yamato. This was also the self-protection mechanism Arceus gave her at the beginning, but it has never been Triggered.

Yamato cannot actively activate this switch, but Arceus can.

Borrowing the power of Ssangyong is similar to the strength of a human being, just borrowing their power.

Arceus directly dispatched their main bodies. The Renzhuli who borrowed power and the complete tailed beast are not the same concept, especially when the two appear at the same time, the power is completely different.

"It just so happens that since she has obtained partial approval from the two of you, the power in her body has reached a new balance, which is enough for you to do this."

"I obey, but my lord, can I make a small suggestion?"

"explain."

"After the mission is completed, can the two of us fight?"

Neither Zekrom, Reshiram, or Rift Seat really appeared in this world. They are all special individuals that exist in the small world created by Arceus.

Although I can fight in that state, I always feel that something is missing.

They either want to fight, or they haven't done it for too long, and they always feel that something is missing.

"Do you mean that too, Reshiram?"

As a dragon advocating ideals, Zekrom behaved more directly, so he directly expressed his appeal, fought with Reshiram, and then defeated him. This is the ideal thing for Zekrom at this stage.

Although Reshiram did not take the initiative to raise this matter, it can be seen from his eyes that Reshiram actually has exactly the same ideas as Zekrom.

"It's up to you, don't affect innocent people, and deal with that thing cleanly."

"As ordered."

"Convey to her for me, this time, I did pretty well."

As Arceus' consciousness disappeared from here, the two dragons looked at each other and made their own actions.

Dressrosa, as the energy on the cloud began to condense, Yamato was even more sure of what it was.

"This group of lunatics, with so many people on this island, can they even launch such an attack directly here?!"

When I was in Marin Fanduo, there were enough targets on the island. Even if it would affect the friendly forces, I could still achieve huge results. It can be said that it would hurt the enemy one thousand and self-damage eight hundred.

But Dressrosa is different. There are only a few people here, and the effective kill rate is probably less than one percent.

"嗚嗚嗚嗚嗚, it really fits their style, as long as they can achieve their goals, any price is acceptable, it seems that they can't bear it anymore.

But the movement is really big enough. "

Even Doflamingo underestimated the strength of the world government's actions, and actually launched weapons of the same scale as in the top war.

After scanning the surrounding situation again, he felt that all this was reasonable, and the chaos here was no less than that of the top war.

"My advice to everyone is to hurry up and escape. If the thing really falls, everyone can die together."

When Doflamingo said this, the attack of the Flame of the Virgin was almost ready, and Yamato's thinking was assessing the impact of this attack.

At this moment, her idea is not to protect the entire island, but how to protect her own people. She is thinking about how to take care of her subordinates and Urti.

It doesn't matter what she has the ability to do, such as saving someone or giving them some medicine, these are all within her ability, and being rare to others does not mean being rare to her.

If you can't fight, you have to run. This is the truth that Luffy knew two years ago. Facing this kind of attack, it would be a fool to resist it.

"Leahy."

"Just watch it, the Lord has already arranged it."

"That's right, we will deal with the troublesome things, you just need to think about how to deal with the aftermath."

There were bursts of light from Yamato's body, and two figures, one black and one white, appeared from behind her, but this time they were not phantoms, but entities. The two dragons representing the ideal lightning and the real flame appeared in reality. in the world.

"When did foster father arrange such a thing?"

"The Lord has been paying attention to you, and he also said that you performed well this time."

"You may be underestimating the power of the lord. The lord has recently begun to expand his pace. The reason why it is not obvious is to leave more room for you to grow.

Some things are already a foregone conclusion, but the process can be more substantial. "

Zekrom and Reshiram spoke their answers one after the other, probably because Yamato was in the flame white mode, so Reshiram talked more.

With a few words, a black and white dragon appeared behind Yamato.

"You guys are smaller than I thought."

After comparing her height, Yamato said a sentence that was not relevant to the scene, which also meant that she was no longer nervous.

Since Arceus has made a backhand, he will definitely be able to handle the current situation. This is a kind of confidence in Arceus that she has cultivated in her heart over the years.

"The body shape is just an appearance, it's just the most convenient body shape for us to communicate with humans."

"But you're right, it's true that it's better to deal with that thing when it's bigger."

Zekrom and Reshiram have also flown into the sky, and their bodies have gradually grown in size in the process, and finally became about the size of a giant, before they flew up against the condensed attack of the flames of the Virgin.

They are the avatars of the Dragon of Tao who assists ideal and real people to build kingdoms, but at the same time, they are also destroyers who burn the world up with lightning and flames.

Yamato has confidence in Ssangyong, and even uses Rotom to inform other people, telling them not to worry, there will be dragons to solve this thing soon, but others are different.

Fujitora, who had followed the order to retreat just now, stopped his pace at this moment.

"what is that?"

"The secret weapon of the world government, don't read any further, it's time to retreat."

"This kind of attack. What about the people on the island?"

Fujitora did not hesitate much, directly left the warship that was about to be evacuated, and turned back to Dressrosa

Chapter 1217 The Dragon of Destruction, the choice of all parties (7k)

"Stop Fujitora! You can't stop that thing!"

Watching Fujitora advancing in the opposite direction, Sengoku also jumped off the boat. After resigning from the post of marshal, although Sengoku began to kapu, he really couldn't ignore it.

The navy of the older generation is gradually withering. Although Fujitora is not young, this new general is also fresh blood.

"Inspector, you seem to know what this is?"

"I don't know much, the most urgent thing is to retreat. If you want to hear it, leave here first and I will tell you in detail."

"So Chief Inspector, you are very clear about the consequences of this attack, right?"

The Demon Slaughter Order will still give people time to evacuate, so such a sudden attack is extremely irresponsible for this country. "

Sengoku couldn't give an accurate answer to Fujitora's question whether he knew the power of this attack.

The last time the attack of the flame of the Virgin Mary had not fallen, it had already been beaten back by Arceus.

He asked Wulaoxing afterwards, but what Wulaoxing told him was only - 【We control the power, the navy will not suffer much loss. 】

The movement in the sky at this time was even more terrifying than before. The Warring States Period did not dare to bet on the aftermath of this attack. No one will block this attack this time.

"Inspector, take the soldiers and retreat first."

"how about you?"

"Although I am just a recruit, I have my own ideas when I am appointed to the position of general. Justice should be honorable.

Soldiers die to kill the enemy, but the people of a country should not be victims of an action, I will go, but after them. "

"Time is running out, you can't save them, they are not like an army that can be organized immediately, no matter how hard you try, it will be just a drop in the bucket!"

The navy is an established system, and it can respond in a short time after an order is issued, but the residents of Dressrosa are different. They are generally in a state of disorder.

Moreover, the Shichibukai system has left no one here for ten years. The credibility of the navy here is not high, and it is impossible to organize an effective evacuation. Even if it can be done, they still lack a sufficient number of ships.

"I understand all this, but you are wasting precious time, Inspector. You can't stop me even with force in a short time. Doing so will only increase casualties. You should organize the evacuation of the navy."

"Smile, this is an order from the World Government."

"The order of the world government, Dressrosa has always been like this because of the Shichibukai formulated by the world government. The voice of the people is sadness and wailing, followed by anger.

Is the world government really a god? Allowing them to act so recklessly. "

Fujitora didn't stay any longer, and didn't even use the blind stick again. Instead, he cut a rock and let it fly in an anti-gravity way, and he himself drove forward in the aircraft made of rock.

At this time, Bucky also took a group of pirates and boarded a warship in full view of everyone. As a person who has experienced the top war, Bucky didn't want to stay here and wait to die. The right way is for the navy to retreat together.

"Captain Bucky, what about the third brother and the others? They are still in the center."

Baki had been following Fujitora before, so he was able to withdraw here in time, but Mr. 3 and those people are different.

"I will pray for them, I hope they can survive this disaster, sorry, Galtino, I will not forget you."

After shedding a few tears, Bucky closed his eyes directly, not because of sadness, but because of being stared at by so many marines, Bucky was really flustered.

There were originally three Qibukai on the island, but now what Doflamingo did was completely exposed, and Luo Yeming defected, and his credibility as Qibukai also plummeted.

Even if he is still a friendly army, he was able to board the navy ship, but he was met with a lot of blank stares.

"What are these navies waiting for, it will be too late"

Seeing that the warship remained silent, Bucky felt a little flustered, but fortunately the order was conveyed at this time.

"Xiaohe! You retreat to a safe area with the warship!"

Fujitora's determination made Sengoku change his mind about persuading him. After turning around and throwing away his coat of justice, he also handed over the command to Tsuru.

"Warring States."

"I suddenly understood what Garp was thinking. Sometimes it's a good thing to be able to do things as you like without listening to the orders of the world government.

That guy Fujitora is a rookie and doesn't know how to direct. I'll help him, and I'll be there soon. "

"You guys."

The kapuization of the Warring States Period caused He more and more headaches, and she was the only one left among the three senior generals, so He was not impulsive, but led the navy to retreat to the far sea according to the previous order.

Meanwhile, Kuzan is doing the same thing, even faster.

After leaving the navy, he was much freer to do things. After seeing the above situation, he started to do his own things.

A large part of the island became a smooth ice surface, and then several huge ice ships were made. When Dressrosa's people boarded the ship, they pushed them far away.

By taking advantage of the characteristics of the ice surface, they can move faster.

"Everyone is here, it's all for your own good!"

People like Kuzan and Fujitora who are aware of the problem are doing their best to organize the retreat of the personnel, but this is only a part of it after all, and most people are still in a state where the situation is already unknown.

For example, Sauron, after finishing his verse, Pica's giant body was also cut off by Sauron. Looking at the things condensed in the sky, they not only did not choose to retreat, but accelerated the pace of charging towards the center.

Others are trying to protect themselves.

"Okay, Xiaopei, it's almost done here."

"Don't you want to move away a little bit?"

"Calm down, that guy Yamato is right in the center, if you don't believe her, you have to trust Master Arceus, there must be something in Yamato that we don't know about, but it's very useful.

Just be prepared for impact. "

Except for Kuzan, who just joined, the Beasts are very calm. Even if their eldest daughter goes out for refuge, the family will not ignore something.

Speed and the others also made a similar choice, choosing a relatively strong place to resist the impact, such as the smile factory built by Hailoushi. This building is also the strongest in Dressrosa.

The attack came quickly, and its attack was ready when most people were not prepared or protected.

As the strong light burst out in the center of the island, the people on the entire island also stopped.

It's not that they don't want to do anything, it's that they can't do anything about it, they can't do anything.

When something exceeds the limit of people's cognition, people who see it for the first time will not be afraid, but will look at it curiously, wondering what it is.

The Flame of Our Lady is such a puzzling weapon.

On the high ground, the location of Sunflower Field, King Liku and others are here.

Just now, Cyrus completed his revenge and personally killed Diamanti, the wife murderer. Before they could move further, Violet was attracted by the movement in the sky.

At first it was just a cloud, and ordinary people couldn't see what was behind the clouds, but Violet was a person with the ability to stare at the fruit, clairvoyance is the most basic ability of this fruit, and the range of thousands of kilometers around is within her observation range.

Because of curiosity, she activated her ability, and then a sense of despair flooded her heart.

Boundless steel, a giant object of unknown shape was flying above the sky, and something like a cannon at the core was also accumulating energy. The scorching light made her unable to open her eyes, and she was forced to release her ability not long after.

"Violet, what's wrong with you?"

"Run, run, father, go! That thing is about to be shot down"

Looking at the falling beams of light, Violet stopped speaking.

Seeing the weapon's energy storage up close, she understands the horror better than ordinary people. She doesn't know how powerful the attack is, but she can clearly realize that there is no possibility of them surviving right under the muzzle.

"That's too late."

Desperation lingered in Violet's heart, and finally had a chance to expel Doflamingo. Hope had just been kindled, and even greater despair came.

In this desperate mood, she didn't notice that two figures, one black and one white, were circling up from below, and gradually became larger during the flight.

On the high ground, Doflamingo's face was even more ugly. Even when Redfield said he wanted to kill him, and when Yamato expressed his displeasure with him, his face was not so ugly.

"Hey, hey, the World Government guys, are they determined to erase me?"

His fists creaked, and Doflamingo suddenly felt a sense of powerlessness in his heart.

This is not because of the decision of the world government. The world government advocates a balance, and the previous self happened to be at a node of balance. With the secrets he has and the blood of the Tianlong people, he can do the previous things.

But as the balance breaks and the dark side is exposed, it is only normal for the world government to have the idea of erasing itself. What Doflamingo is angry about is the terrible weapon hidden in the hands of the world government.

Even if I have been operating it for ten years, when the world government has made up its mind, all this is still like nothing.

"I said Gui Ji, I have a big secret. If this matter can be ended, your two fathers will be interested."

"What did you say?"

"Now is not the time. If a secret is made public, then it is no longer a secret. A secret can only be counted as a secret if it is in the hands of a specific person."

Only those with big enough fists are qualified to negotiate terms. If the gap between the two sides is too large, it is meaningless to grasp the opponent's handle.

After seeing the determination of the world government to kill him, Doflamingo also made his own decision. Even if he would die, he would drag these people into the water together.

If Beasts have the ability to handle this attack, it means they have bigger fists, then this secret can play a greater role, but Yamato is not suitable for him to deliver this secret.

Judging from the current situation, this secret can only be effective if it is handed over to Kaido.

"Speaking mysteriously, get ready! The aftermath is coming!"

Yamato didn't think about what Doflamingo's secret meant. It's Kaido's business that Kaido needs him, and she will take Doflamingo back, but her hatred of him still remains unchanged.

As for the aftermath, the last time Arceus did it himself, Marin Fando was hit by the aftermath. Although Zekrom said it was an order from Arceus, Yamato didn't believe it. They were stronger than Arceus.

So there will definitely be aftermath, and there is a high probability that it will be stronger than before. If you are not prepared, it will be very uncomfortable to be hit by this aftermath.

At this time, Yamato's attention is not on Doflamingo, which is a good opportunity for Redfield, but he didn't do it. With his eyesight, he can naturally see what is more troublesome.

He doesn't care about ordinary people, and the only ones worth his second look are Brooke and Rebecca.

Even with his speed, it is impossible to leave the island before the attack falls. Instead of running away in a hurry, it is better to prepare for the attack here. At least there are enough strong people here, and those who can help are relatively more many.

"Leshiram, let's try and see who can take down that thing first!"

The flying Zekrom has got rid of that pocket size. At this time, Zekrom has turned into a real black dragon. The turbine at the tail rotates at high speed, and the blue-purple current surrounds his body.

"Resolve that attack first, and the Lord's order comes first."

"Of course I know, but are you afraid? Afraid of losing to me twice in a row?"

"Twice? You talkative guy, you should be prepared to lose twice!"

Reshiram's tail flame also burned more intensely, and his mouth was constantly arguing, but Lashiram and Zekrom gradually moved closer during the flight, and finally formed a spiral upward trend.

Black and white form a peculiar yin-yang diagram, carrying lightning and flames into the sky like a sharp sword. At this time, the attack of the flames of the Virgin has fallen, but Zekrom and Reshiram chose the most direct way, from Breakthrough in the middle.

The beam of light carrying the power of destruction was split into two by them, and the divided power did not disappear, but directly exploded in mid-air.

Two suns appeared in the sky at this time, besides the natural stars, there was also a red sun formed by energy gathering, but as the double dragons pierced the energy ball, it finally just disappeared in mid-air.

Zekrom and Reshiram will assist the warriors they recognize to establish a country they recognize. The reason why they are assisting is because with their division, their remaining power is destruction.

The way they assist is not to create something meaningful, but to destroy an undesirable world and rebuild an ideal or real civilization on the wasteland.

They are not the dragons of creation, but the dragons of destruction.

At this time, Zekrom and Reshiram have reached an extremely high altitude, the air has become thinner, and the dark clouds are just the pedals under their feet, and the body of the flame of the Virgin is here.

Looking at this huge mechanical creation, Zekrom didn't know what fear was at all, but wrapped his whole body in electric current, and rushed to the left.

Tear it down, that's their job at this point.

"Rude guy."

Reshiram's eyes were full of disdain for Zekrom, and then he sprayed a cyan flame to the right. When the flame touched the metal, something like an energy shield appeared above, temporarily stopping Reshiram from Tom's flame.

But as a rapid alarm sounded, the outer protective cover had been burned by the blue flames, and the part of the material that came into contact with the flames vaporized in an instant and eroded to the surroundings.

The flame released by Reshiram in this world and the power borrowed by Yamato are not at the same level. Under the erosion of the flame, the right half has begun to disintegrate.

As for the effect on the left side, it is more obvious. Compared with Reshiram, who spews flames and burns everything in the distance, Jie Luolu more directly chooses close-up demolition.

The turbo engine brought even more terrifying explosive power. Under Zekrom's sharp claws, the special material made of composite metal was no different from that of paper. Just a few minutes faster.

Even if the flame of the Virgin has a special defense mechanism, it has never considered that it will encounter special individuals like Zekrom and Reshiram. Neither lasers nor gravity capture nets have any effect on them.

As their destruction intensified, the power core soon appeared in front of them.

Both Reshiram and Zekrom have realized that whoever destroys the power core first will gain an advantage in this competition.

The power of thunder and lightning enveloped the whole body, followed by the phantom of the giant dragon, and Zekrom slammed into the power core in front of him with the posture of the dragon * of thunder diving.

Reshiram didn't choose to touch it with his body, but several criss-crossing flames had already condensed, and as the flames all turned into blue, the cyan interlaced flames also burned downward.

Boom!

After a brief period of calm, a huge explosion occurred high above the sky. The high temperature generated by the explosion swept everything around, and the already thin oxygen was burned up, and the surrounding seemed to enter a pseudo-vacuum state.

Under the baptism of the impact, the surrounding clouds were washed away. Only Reshiram still stood high above the sky. The light blue barrier isolated everything in front of him, allowing Reshiram to look down on everything below. noVeLusb.cOM

Rashiram is waiting, waiting for the destined opponent.

Not long after, Zekrom rushed out of the gunpowder smoke bathed in thunder and came in front of Reshiram.

Electric light flowed on the black shell of Zekrom, cleaning up the dust that was accidentally contaminated.

"I broke the shell of that thing first."

"But my flame lit it."

"It was my current that burned the wiring inside."

"You are wrong again, the high temperature I created overloaded its circuit."

No matter what it is, Zekrom and Reshiram can argue, it has nothing to do with the right or wrong of the matter, as long as the object is another dragon, they will probably choose the opposite answer.

"You know what, I wanted to fight you a long time ago."

"To each other, your head needs to be burnt so that you can wake up."

Seeing that the flames of the Holy Mother had been cleaned up, they also entered the next stage. With two roars, black and white were intertwined again.

Mary Gioia, the tool in York's hand fell to the ground, and the sound of stagnant electrocardiogram in his ear was extremely harsh, but York didn't care about it at all.

In order to be able to control the flames of the Holy Mother, of course there are devices on it to capture images.

A few images remained on the instruments around York, Reshiram, who was breathing flames, and Zekrom, who was holding lightning, their tyrannical eyes were vividly captured by the instruments.

"Destroyed, destroyed. How is this possible! Why can creatures reach such heights? Why can flames destroy this energy shield, why!"

York began to use the instruments here to frantically calculate the situation at that time, but the more calculations he made, the more he could not accept the facts in his heart.

At this moment, York felt as if someone said that one plus one equals three, and that one plus one equals two has always been wrong.

York's knowledge comes from Vegapunk, while the power of Zekrom and Reshiram broke the original system. According to the data sent back at the end, these two creatures should not exist in this world.

The alarm in the room was not turned off until Lilith arrived, but at this time York fell into a state of madness, just calculating the inherent data over and over again.

Lilith didn't calculate it, but looking at the gray screen and the ear-piercing siren from before, all this was enough to show that something was wrong.

Dressrosa, when the Ssangyong rushed into the sky facing the energy beam and caused a martyrdom explosion, everyone realized that it was an extremely terrifying weapon, a terrifying weapon that wanted to completely wipe everything out.

Just before their bodies could react, the aftermath had already swept down.

Crack!

The big knife in Lao Cai's hand plunged into the ground, and Abu hugged his waist, but the shock wave still blew the two of them out, and finally hit Qingjiao's stomach before stopping.

"grandfather?!"

"Stand firm, as the pillar of the Eight Treasures Navy, was blown away by this shock wave, how can you lead the Eight Treasures Navy like this?!"

Qingjiao's awl head embodies the importance of streamlined shape. With the awl head in front, the impact on him is relatively small, but his feet are also deeply buried in the ground.

"What the * is this, is the navy crazy? Is this the meaning of burying the entire Dressrosa?"

They could see clearly what happened, and even the aftermath was so terrifying, if the two dragons hadn't interrupted the beam of light, it's unimaginable what the consequences would be.

"This is power. It seems that the incident that led to the war is not a rumor."

Qingjiao covered her eyes with one hand while answering the grandson's question.

Not far away, Hayerdin's huge body crashed to the ground, but the fallen body became a refuge for the people around him.

"Hairdin! Hold on!"

"You are the pride of the giant clan, don't give up! Work hard everyone! It will pass soon!"

By blocking the body of the giant, some people found their own safe haven. While supporting Holding's body with meager strength, they also continued to cheer him up.

Vasco da Gama took the lead in front of the cheerleader and organized the rest.

"Shut up!"

Hylding was in a very bad mood at this time. When the attack just came, he was afraid.

He who wants to become the king of the giant race actually feels fear in his heart. This is definitely something that damages the reputation of the warrior, but the attack

The overly powerful attack made people unable to resist. At this moment, the young giant warrior became completely confused.

After Elizabello II finished charging and knocked back the remaining shock waves with the King's Fist, Hayerdin sat up silently, not knowing what to do in the future.

"Ice Age!"

Kuzan raised his hand to create an iceberg. The streamlined mountain directed the airflow into the air, giving people behind the iceberg a place to breathe, and he was constantly repairing the ice layer, maintaining the integrity of the protective cover, and cleaning it up from time to time. some crushed ice.

Just now, in order to protect his grandparents, he could only watch helplessly as the bicycle was pushed into the ruins by the shock wave, and then buried by the collapsed building.

"God, God, it's hard to explain now."

The bicycle is very important. When he left, he promised to take it back intact, but now, after all, the living is more important than the dead.

Lamenting the fate of the bicycle, Kuzan did not dig it, but continued to maintain the safety zone he created.

On the other side, Fujitora stood in front with a knife in both hands, fighting against gravity and shock waves. Sengoku also revealed his golden body of the Buddha, creating a solid barrier for the people behind him, protecting this part of the residents.

Fujitora looked relaxed, and the aura in his perception proved that these people were still alive, but it was different in the Warring States Period.

This attack was blocked again. It was definitely not the work of the world government or the navy. This is a good thing for Dressrosa, but it may be a bad thing for the world.

At the very center of the impact, Ace, Luffy and others stood up from the smoke one after another. Ace slowed down a bit, and when he came here, the attack had already fallen.

It is too late to run, and they can only be prepared to resist this attack.

But due to the problem of ability, Ace ranked last instead. Even Hero, who can defend, has a stronger defense than Ace in this situation.

"So cool!"

It's just that Luffy, who just survived the disaster, has a different brain circuit from normal people, and there are some little stars shining in his eyes.

"Hey, Brother Pineapple, will you do this too?"

"The point is not the pineapple. Which trick do you say?"

Marco and Joji almost blocked the impact with their bodies. At this time, Marco's body was even burning with flames, which was proof that he was repairing himself.

Although the phoenix fruit can restore the body, it is annoying to be asked by people chirping in the process, and to be a person who can never remember his name.

"It is to summon the dragon from the body. I saw that two super cool dragons flew out of her body at once. Aren't you also a phantom beast? Then you should be able to do it too."

Chapter 1218: It's all the world government's fault

Speechless for a while, from the innocent eyes that were almost brainless, Marco could see that Luffy was telling the truth.

"Do you have any misunderstandings about Phantom Beasts?"

There are tens of thousands of phantom beasts, and this is the first time Marco has seen someone who can play summoning. Even after dealing with all kinds of beasts for so many years, it is also the first time he has seen such a thing.

If he had this ability, then it would not be the pattern of three sea emperors now.

As long as there is someone who can stand up and carry the banner, the foundation of the Whitebeard Pirates is enough to return to the position of emperor of the sea.

"Aren't you a phantom beast?"

"I am."

"Then isn't she also a phantom beast?"

"Probably so."

A few minutes ago, Marco was able to say this sentence with confidence, but the elemental composition was a little more complicated, and Lei Huobing used it in turn.

As for the summoning of strange creatures, it is not incomprehensible. Padong has already summoned many people.

Of course, this also has a price. The price of being able to summon creatures at will is that Padong's body combat power is very low, and he can only serve as an auxiliary and tool civet cat for Redfield.

Marco has never heard of someone like Yamato who can fight on his own, has various element attributes, and can also play summoning.

Even if it is a phantom beast, it cannot foul to this extent.

He could clearly see the power of the attack just now, and he also felt the aftermath of the explosion very clearly. Just the aftermath can trigger his ability to start self-healing, so there is no need to talk about the real power.

This kind of attack will definitely not disappear by itself inexplicably, and Yamato who stops it is even more terrifying.

Luffy's brain didn't think of so many things. The special brain circuit allowed Luffy to draw a new conclusion from Marco.

Marco is a Phantom Beast, and Yamato is also a Phantom Beast. Since this is the case, Marco should also do this trick, not necessarily too weak.

Superhuman fruit can awaken and change the environment, so it is reasonable for animal fruit to become a great summoner after awakening.

"Hey, what do you mean by that look in your eyes? Normal phantom beasts can't do this kind of thing, okay? That woman is a special case!"

Luffy's questioning eyes made Marco very uncomfortable.

Marco and Ace are both captains, but there is a big age difference between them.

In terms of age, let alone being a big brother, he can be Ace's father. Now being questioned by Ace's younger brother, he feels that his face is gradually disappearing.

Under Marko's repeated affirmation, Luffy believed that this incident was just an exception.

"It's a pity, I am quite envious of the phantom beast species. If the phantom beast species can summon this kind of power, then the phantom beast species will be really interesting."

"Why do you envy other people's abilities? This is not your character."

Ace asked Luffy, although in the past, Luffy would be interested, but he would not envy each other. The current situation is a bit abnormal.

"Because the phantom beasts seem to be very capable of fighting, it takes a few days and nights to move. I can't last long in this state."

At this time, Luffy has returned to his normal form again, and the consumption of his domineering power in gear 4 is still a bit exaggerated. If he doesn't grow up as soon as possible, he will not be able to cope with the increasingly difficult battles in the new world.

"But hehe, you seem to be able to use that kind of barrier to resist attacks."

Before he was still envious of other people's abilities, in a flash Luffy seemed to have discovered something strange, and looked at Helo behind him.

Just when Hero thought that Luffy had finally grown his brain and realized what was wrong, reality still told Hero the truth.

"You must be able to grow to that point."

“.”

Pokémon can break through the limit, but there is also an upper limit. The thing that the green caterpillar uses the grid to defeat the empty seat can only exist in the data game.

Switching to reality, this kind of thing is simply impossible.

Even if the Fairy-type Pokémon is the nemesis of the Dragon-type, an ordinary Fairy-type Pokémon can't withstand the dragon's claws of Rikuza. The disproportionate energy is enough to tear the young body. Even if the attributes are offset, the remaining impact on the claws is enough. fatal.

Luffy's requirements for him are similar to this. It's just a different kind of bug. It's a bit embarrassing to do so. After thinking about it, Hero still thinks it's more meaningful to make a few more pickaxes.

"Ahem, what the * is this?"

Sanji climbed out of the dust, his luck was not very good, a few stones were thrown by the impact of the shock wave, making him look even more embarrassed, and not long after he came out, he saw Luo who was using the cloak as a shield Bin.

This cloak is an accessory that Quinn re-updated in the later stage. It is better than Germa's shield cloak, but its nature is basically similar, which makes Sanji, who is deeply impressed by Jemal, also very complicated.

Luo looked up with deep eyes. This sudden change had a new impact on his thinking. At this time, he saw several shadows gradually falling.

"Something fell!"

Boom!

The unknown object smashed a big hole in front of him, and broken metal parts were scattered in it.

There are traces of electric welding on the edge, and the internal wiring and other things have been burned to nothing. This is the flame of the Virgin that was torn apart by Zekrom.

Compared with the high-temperature vaporization of Reshiram, the way Zekrom was physically destroyed left more residue.

But no matter who comes, it is impossible to restore such a destroyed thing to its original state. At this time, it is just scrap metal.

The shredded metal * kept falling, which also indirectly told the people here what was on it before.

At the same time, it also explained the fate of this weapon.

Whoosh! Whoosh!

Redfield waved the umbrella twice towards the sky. This was not his original umbrella, but the one drawn by Padong with his ability.

For Redfield, who is used to using an umbrella, this form of weapon is more useful than a sword.

Under the influence of Redfield's attack, the unknown dropped objects above were also destroyed.

"This power. Why didn't you use it before?"

Ledfield looked at Yamato with suspicion. Judging from the way she swung her weapon to offset the shock wave just now, she still has spare power. If Yamato had summoned the two dragons before, a three-on-one situation would have formed.

No, there is no need for three against one. Judging by the current situation, Laidfield feels that his limit is to deal with one of them. If there is a dragon to help Yamato, the original balance of power will be directly broken.

"Actually, that part is not my strength. I did go all out just now, but there are still some special things that are useless."

"In other words, that wasn't your strongest stance just now?"

"It's not impossible if you want to understand it this way."

"Hahahaha, I'm really old. The changes in the sea have become more and more strange in the past few decades."

Ledfield naturally still has some desperate things that he has not used, but those cards are far from those of Ssangyong.

"I really want to experience the attitude of you really going all out, but unfortunately, now is not the time."

Ledfield is not a fighting fanatic, but he is also curious about what the top of the sea looks like.

In this era when Roger and Whitebeard died one after another, it was a blessing for him to still have an opponent worth fighting in the sea. If it was another occasion, he would definitely continue to fight, but this time it was different.

"Since the navy, or the world government has used this method, it means that they want something to disappear completely. If we continue to stay here, maybe they have something more powerful.

That would be destructive to this island. Since you want to keep him, then he can be stored with you temporarily. I will go to you again after I get used to this era. "

Ledfield has no intention of continuing to fight. Judging from the attack just now, in order to eliminate some people, the World Government will not hesitate to take the entire Dressrosa.

Redfield agreed to Rebecca's request, but Rebecca wanted the country to get rid of Doflamingo and complete the crusade against Doflamingo.

If you continue to stay here, the world government may not know what will happen.

If the entire Dressrosa is gone, even if the goal is accomplished, it will be meaningless.

Even if the navy retreats, it won't be too far away from here. If the fight continues, Redfield will probably be missed by the navy again, just like it was decades ago.

If you want to fight well, you must at least find an undisturbed environment.

"Rebecca, I'm afraid we won't be able to reach the previous agreement for the time being. I will look for opportunities after a while."

"No, it doesn't matter, you've been... a great help."

The battle on the high ground has long been beyond Rebecca's cognition. Even if Yamato and Redfield don't fight, she can't understand what Brother Ming just showed.

Now she really realizes how naive her previous thoughts were.

"No matter how you put it, this is considered a missed appointment. I will deal with the follow-up issues before leaving."

Laidfield intends to leave here in front of the navy, and he can use Padong's ability to create a few dummies to confuse the public. All the dangerous elements have left Dressrosa, so the world government has no reason to join The country started.

Ledfield himself understands it this way, and he is not sure what effect it can achieve.

reached a consensus with his client, and Redfield also got out of the way.

Yamato didn't want to stay here anymore, took out Rotom and sent it to the assembly point, and left here by the collar of Doflamingo.

"wait"

"The straw hat master, the plan has changed, let's do it this time."

Luo sat on the ground a little tired, and he seemed to be rearranging the plan again.

"Brother Katakuri, what shall we do?"

"Go back to Cake Island, this time things are messy enough, even my mother, she should be able to understand after seeing the news."

What will become of Dressrosa, Katakuri doesn't care at all, he only has a headache for Charlotte Lingling.

Compared to Kaido's unreliability, Charlotte Lingling is even more unreliable in many cases, and he can't guarantee that Charlotte Lingling will not get mad because of this.

Although Charlotte Lingling wouldn't do anything to him, if any unlucky younger brother or sister met the aunt's fate at this time, it would be really miserable.

"Be careful when you go back, try to talk as little as possible, let me deal with anything."

"Brother Katakuri, didn't you say that mom can understand?"

"Mom can understand the situation here, but she may not be able to accept other things. Many years ago, my mother tried to marry Kaido, but she never got approval. Now my mother's psychological estimation is even more unbalanced."

Shaking his head, Katakuri also withdrew in the direction of the evacuation point. Katakuri could understand Kaido's behavior. With such a daughter, it was impossible to marry her, let alone As a marriage tool.

The pirates on the island began to retreat, and Bucky's remaining subordinates also got out of the ground. They just met Bartolomeo. Mr. 3's candle bunker and the protection of the barrier created a safe area. area, protecting a considerable portion of the population.

While these people were busy retreating, the people on the island also saw Doflamingo being taken away. The man who had been enslaved here for 10 years finally left here, and all the residents who were still awake cheered for it. .

At this time, Violet still maintained the original movement, using the fruit ability to look at the sky.

Others could only see Zekrom and Reshiram repelling the attack, but she could see Zekrom and Reshiram fighting in the sky with her ability.

She didn't know why the two dragons were fighting, but she was attracted by the world-like scene in the sky.

"Everyone! Hurry up and rescue the wounded, and the medical soldiers will go to support!"

The shock wave first affected the high ground. The people on the high ground used their own attacks to slow down the impact of the shock wave to a certain extent, but it still caused huge damage to Dressrosa.

Pika's ability and this final confrontation made Dressrosa almost devastated, and many people who had previously avoided the crisis were buried under the ruins.

At this time, the ruins were slowly floating under the ability of Fujitora, giving ordinary soldiers a better chance to rescue the people.

This time, Warring States did not intervene again, but was listening to Crane's report with a phone bug.

"You said the warship was robbed?"

"Well, it was Redfield, he broke into our fleet by himself, and then used some ability to create a group of sailors to drive the warship away.

In addition, he also regained his youth, the specific circumstances are also unknown. "

"It's really troublesome."

"There is more trouble, because the appearance of Redfield disrupted all the arrangements, most of the pirates have escaped from the encirclement, and there are a few fewer members of the Don Quixote family."

"Xiaohe, please prepare a specific report and send it to Akainu and Wuroxing. I will help Fujitora save people first."

Warring States didn't want to pick up what the marshal should deal with, so he simply hung up the phone and devoted himself to disaster relief work.

"So. You just brought them back?"

On the Pokémon, Yamato is counting the number of people. Not only is there no one missing, but there are even several more.

She passed the assembly point of the Pokémon to everyone through Rotom, except for Kuzan, who found it along the life card.

"Yes, Missy.

We don't think it's good to leave it there. You said you took Doflamingo away, so we brought him here as well. "

The three of Speed explained while pointing at the unconscious person next to them.

The three of them brought back Senior Pique. The location where they took refuge was close to the smile factory, and they happened to watch some tough guys from Senior and Frank fight each other.

"Then what's the situation with this woman? She seems to be a vegetable?"

"Senior said it was her wife before she fell into a coma, so she brought it back along the way."

Although the reasons given by the three were a bit strange, there was nothing wrong with them. Then Yamato looked at a dying old man and a bald man next to him.

"What about these two?"

"Xiao Pei and I were avoiding the impact at first, but this old man suddenly flew over from one side, as if he was blown away by something.

The reason you know is the same as the three of them. "

The old man brought back by Ulti and Peggywan is Rao G, and the bald one is Gladius, who had blown all his hair off in the previous battle, so he became bald, and he is It was picked up by Kuzan.

Therefore, there were three more comatose cadres of the Don Quixote family and one family member of the cadre who became a vegetable.

"What a coincidence, but I have a little problem."

"God, God, just ask if you have anything, don't look at me like that."

"What about my bike? Why did it turn into this twisted metal?"

Looking at the pink metal unknown object, Yamato questioned himself, and Kuzan seemed a little embarrassed, and put on his blindfold directly.

"This was an accident. I think human life is more important than dead things. It's all the fault of the world government. Without this shock wave, your bicycle will definitely not break down. I specially asked someone to do maintenance."

"Well, what you said is very reasonable, so the task of watching him is left to you."

Pointing to Doflamingo outside the cabin, Yamato made his own request to Kuzan.

At this time, Doflamingo was neither knocked out nor handcuffed, but he just sat outside calmly, showing no intention of leaving.

The attitude of the world government has already explained everything. Now that he no longer has the identity of Shichibukai, he is also an object to be erased in the eyes of the world government. If he leaves rashly, he may encounter something.

"Is there any causal relationship between the two?"

Yamato agreed with his words, and sent him to watch Doflamingo.

This made Kuzan a little puzzled, what is the connection between the two things.

"No, but I don't trust that guy, you'd be better off watching him, and you gotta do something to remember the bike, don't you?"

Because of this magical bicycle, Kuzan had no choice but to come to Doflamingo, and entered into a staring state with him.

"Long time no see, it's only been a day or two since we separated, and I met you again."

The last time I saw Doflamingo was in Punk Hazard, but now he was sitting in front of him again, which made Kuzan sigh a little, or say something polite.

"It looks like you don't want to talk because you lost something?"

Hearing this, Doflamingo raised his head, and there was no remorse in his brow at this time, but a hint of sarcasm.

"There are some things that are impossible to get back after losing them. Those * at Marie Gioia taught me this a long time ago, but they will regret it."

"regret?"

"Hey, you have only been out of the Navy for two years, if you change your perspective, you can see more things.

The situation in this sea has long been different, and this is the prelude to a rampage.

They launched this attack at the cost of tearing their faces, and it didn't work, so what happens after that? "

The attack of the flames of the Virgin Mary failed, and people from all major forces have also seen this. Even if the world government fabricates lies to conceal the truth, it will be difficult to deceive everyone.

Especially Yamato who destroyed this weapon. Logically speaking, she should know what kind of weapon it is.

"No matter what, you have failed."

"Failure? Maybe, but who is the king of this sea now? It's not our "smart" Shichibukai, nor your navy, nor the group of villains from the evil generation.

There are many strong men in the Revolutionary Army, but they are not far behind.

20 years ago, the navy was the well-deserved king of the sea, but what about now?

Beasts, a giant, has grown up, and the world government has even personally delivered them a huge amount of nourishment. They are all blinded by the law of the beasts on the surface, and there is a bigger conspiracy underneath!

It's out of control now, and even if they regret it, it's too late now.

I may have failed, but the group of Celestial Dragons on Mary Gioia will definitely be pulled down!

嘖嘖嘖嘖。Wait, you're sure to see these.

Even if the fire is not enough, I will add another fire to it. "

When the words reached the point of excitement, Doflamingo even took off his sunglasses, and then waved his arms towards the sea, not caring what kind of eyes Kuzan behind him looked at him.

Kuzan also seemed to think that it was reasonable for Yamato to let him watch Doflamingo. After all, Doflamingo seemed unstable and even a little abnormal.

Marie Gioia, the Tianlong people who Doflamingo said must be dragged into the water did not feel this way.

But Wulaoxing is also aware of the seriousness of the problem.

"You mean, the flame of the Holy Mother was destroyed?"

"Yes, there is a problem with those two creatures. They shouldn't exist in this world. If it weren't for the strange dragon, this kind of thing would never have happened!"

York was explaining the situation face to face, and the images of Zekrom and Reshiram also appeared in this conference room. This was the last image captured before the flames of the Virgin Mary were destroyed, and it became the only one of the Five Old Stars who understood this unknown channels of power.

"Can the flame of Our Lady continue to be produced?"

"Eggheed's stuff has been destroyed, and it's basically impossible to make another one."

The opponent has a very terrifying weapon, and the own weapon is not an opponent, it is directly destroyed.

Waved his hand, Satan let York leave, and soon there were only the last five people left in the office.

"what to do?"

The Five Old Stars ushered in the most tangled topic since they came to power. Since they sat in this position, they have never been so hesitant.
