

Arceus 141

Chapter 141 Acquaintances in the Tour

The black charcoal snake was very painful, and he was reluctant to bear it. He borrowed all this money from Otian in a low voice, and then managed to develop it through various businesses. It is like a robbery.

But for the sake of future plans, he still gave out the money, and then discussed the issue of the future station. It is impossible for the people of the Beast Pirates to live in other people's homes directly, and the snake was not worried that they would be stationed next to them. Now Even more worried.

So he took out the map of Wano and pointed to a location in the Wano Inland Sea.

"Can this be your residence? The area is not small, and the whole island can be used as you wish."

"Yes, but the craftsmen who built the building want your people to come out."

After Kaido thought he realized Arceus's purpose, he began to discuss business with Orochi seriously, but all aspects were open to the lion. In the end, under the pressure of Kaido's force, Orochi and Beasts signed a series of contracts. treaty.

And Kaido also refused Orochi's retention, and wanted to go to the tour with the other pirates to have a look.

Just when Orochi thought everything was settled, Arceus, who was about to leave here, suddenly looked back at him.

"General Orochi, a good dream."

At that moment, the black charcoal snake felt as if he was being targeted by some wild beast, a crisis appeared in his heart, and his whole body shivered uncontrollably.

"What did you do to him?"

"Fear Yan, a little trick, he should have some good dreams tonight. Then again, do you really want to kill him with a stick? Have you forgotten the plan you discussed earlier?"

It's not like he didn't tell Kaido anything, they have made a rough plan about Wano Kingdom, and if the black charcoal snake really died in these plans, it would be in vain.

"The plan can be changed, and the guy is courting death himself, but I seem to understand what you mean, so let him do it yourself.

Little ones! Anyone who wants to go to the tour will go to Quinn to collect the money! Gather here before noon tomorrow, understand! "

This kind of business is also available in other islands, but it is relatively rare. This is the kind of business in Stutsy's Happy Street. Most of these people are pirates. Unless they are all cut off, this kind of thing will not be restricted.

It took a lot of work to prohibit those people from breaking the law in the first place. It is not illegal to go to places like Youkuo, but there are always people who are not interested in it. These are led by Arceus to the resident of the first beasts. That is, the location of the future ghost island has moved forward.

"Zeraora, where is Youkuo? Is it fun? They are all so excited, why don't you let me go?" She didn't understand the word Youkuo, and looked at the excited pirates who were receiving money. I thought it was a very interesting place, so I went to queue to collect money.

But Quinn saw that she didn't give money at all, but threw her to Zeraora.

". That's not a place for children, let's go to grill the fish." The corner of his mouth twitched, and he took a moment, but still took a hundred gold from Quinn, which is an activity that everyone has. Funds, if they don't go to Youkuo, it doesn't mean that they can't get the money.

And things are not over yet with Quinn, because the person who received the money also saw Asiel.

"Yo, what, do you want to go too?" novelupdates.com

"This. Cough"

"Okay, I understand, they're all men, have fun." As he said that, he grabbed a lot of gold coins for Assier. There is a limit on the amount of ordinary members. Assier is the only pure civilian cadre. Just don't care.

He hasn't done that kind of thing for many years, and he was somewhat moved when he passed by Youkuo before. But at this time, he found that Quinn's expression seemed to have changed, and he was still winking at him.

As he turned to look, he saw a figure he didn't want to see the most.

"O Olga?! Why are you here!"

"Isn't it normal for me to be here? But where do you want to go, Dad, is a place like Yukuo fun?"

"This.. this me."

"Forget it, I don't care, just do what you want, find a more expensive one, don't get messy." Saying that, he stuffed his own money into Asier, and then rode Elizabeth away from here. .

On the contrary, this made Asiee in a tangle, not knowing whether to keep up with the teams that went to the tour.

Not long after, a large number of outsiders entered the Youkuo of the Flower City. Youkuo is the official red light district of Wano Kingdom. There are oiran who are not selling their bodies and women who are engaged in ordinary skin and meat business.

Kaido and the others are always under the banner of Orochi guests, but they have restrained the issue of Wano's exclusion to a certain extent, and in the tour, the rich are the uncles, and the pirates with fifty gold per capita are still enjoying themselves here. to a low pay.

There are also many people by the window on the second floor looking at the foreign pirates below. The clothes that are completely different from the traditional costumes of Wano country aroused their curiosity, but the attention of several of the children has been on Kaido's corner. above.

Those are the children bought by the owners of different travel girl's houses. They are responsible for cleaning up when they are young. Some of them start to study with adults when they reach a certain age, or wait a few years to start business directly.

One of them ran back to the house and found someone else.

"Sister Lizi, sister Lizi, someone with the same horns as Uncle White is here."

Judging from the face, this person is about 30 years old, and this age is already the age to retire. Although she still stays here, she is now doing odd jobs.

But what is different is that she also has a baby on her back and can see a pair of small horns on top of her head.

This girl from outside was brought up by her before, so the relationship between the two is not bad.

"Are you sure?"

"Sure, that man is tall and strong, taller than Uncle White."

She was originally an ordinary wandering girl here, but she was ransomed out a few years ago, but because her relationship with her mother, Sang, was okay, she stayed here doing work such as cleaning floors to support her family.

And the person who gave her ransom was her current husband who also stayed in the wandering, because he was an outsider, and it was difficult for people in other places to accept such a person.

Previously, he sold all his belongings to redeem Lizi, and the poor and the poor had no choice but to stay here and earn a living with serious work. No one wants White from the outsider, and Riko doesn't know anything else.

The mother-sang of this girl's house was not too heartless, so she left them a room for them to live in temporarily.

Everything was fine, they had a child, but White fell seriously ill not long ago, and now he is terminally ill, and he may die at some point.

"Sayuri, are you telling the truth?"

"Really, those outsiders next to him called him. Um. That's right, Kaido!"

Hearing this sentence, White's dim eyes seemed to have a ray of light.

"Cough. Lizi, help me find him"

"Wait, White, your body"

"I can't do it. If it's really him, I should let you guys rely on it."

The man's full name is Blake White, and their daughter's name is Blake Maria, or Black Maria.

There is a saying, Black Maria, that is, Blake Maria.

If there is a lot of opinions, I will change it back to Black Maria. If I don't have any opinions, I will write it according to Blake Maria. Anyway, I will rarely mention the surname in the future, and it is not very important.

Chapter 142 Don't worry about your wife and my care

"Sayuri, do you remember where he is?"

"Remember."

"Lead the way."

White looks very thin, but he is more than four meters tall. Lizi is really struggling to support him, and he can only act as a human crutch.

Outside, Kaido didn't mean to play with his subordinates, he was just observing the surrounding environment, such as the sword-wielding warriors outside the house, there were a lot of them, and they seemed to be much stronger than the general miscellaneous soldiers .

"This seems to be a good place to recruit soldiers."

Just when he thought so, a slightly excited voice came from behind him.

"Kaido, you are Kaido, right!"

"Huh? Who are you?"

"White, Blake White, have you forgotten? We were in a squad when we were in the Vorka Kingdom. I was a trooper, and you liked the food I made at that time."

White tries hard to bring up something that finally reminds Kaido of him.

"It's you, I still remember the taste of the drunken cow you made. No one else can make that taste. Why are you here?"

Kaido didn't expect to see old acquaintances from the Vorka Kingdom here, and was more curious about how he came here.

"It's a long story, that's after you left"

"Leave? Did that old thing describe me like that? It doesn't fit his style."

"They said they defected, but everyone doesn't believe it, because you didn't get the right to participate in the World Conference when you left the Vorka Kingdom.

And without you, the Vorka Kingdom lost one after another in battle, and even let others counterattack the capital, and the old guy of the king ran away by himself.

Later, because of the inability to pay the heavenly gold, the Woka Kingdom lost its status as an allied country, and everyone in the army united to ensure the security of the country.

But there are also many people who choose to go to sea, such as me, by the way, do you remember Ultron? That guy also made a lot of fame. "

White told Kaido the names of several old acquaintances, all of whom were Kaido's comrades at the time, and Ultron had a good relationship with him.

"Remember, I saw him last year, but he didn't want to join me, but why are you in Wano country?"

"This. We just had a little trouble. Later, the ship was shipwrecked, and everyone else died. I was lucky enough to drift to this place to save my life, and then I met Lizi."

He came to Wano Kingdom a few years ago. At that time, many people in the Vorka Kingdom chose to go to sea. This has some reasons with Kaido. He was the strongest soldier in the kingdom back then. He is an idol.

After seeing Kaido's bounty order, many people also embarked on this road, but not all of them have Kaido's strength and luck.

Then White briefly told Kaido about his experiences over the years before getting to the point.

"My body won't last long, Kaido, please help me take care of my wife and daughter based on my previous friendship. Her name is Lizi, this is my daughter Maria."

As he said that, White suddenly gasped. He had just found Kaido with all his might, and after saying those things in one breath, his body couldn't hold on anymore.

He is not afraid of death, but he is worried about what to do with his wife and daughter after he dies, so he dragged his seriously ill body to find him after hearing the news of Kaido.

On the battlefield, Kaido was always the most reliable comrade-in-arms. White just hoped that Kaido could still remember the friendship of the year and help him take care of his wife and daughter.

He couldn't believe the local people in Wano Country, because of the pair of horns on his head, many people called him a monster at that time, only Riko did not discriminate against him at that time, and also helped him deal with the wounds he encountered in the shipwreck.

That's why he found Riko and sold the treasure he carried to redeem her, and then lived here.

". I know, I will take care of them."

"Thank you" After obtaining Kaido's consent, White's body suddenly softened and seemed to have lost all strength.

Originally he was worried about his wife and daughter, so he held his last breath. Now that he met Kaido, he thought he had found support for his wife and daughter, and he was relieved, and naturally he couldn't hold on.

Arceus is not here, he has already taken some people to the future ghost island, including Naiqin, women are not interested in Yukaku at all.

Although Quinn is here, he can see that White has exhausted his life force, and he is now helpless.

"This is the wine of the Vorka Kingdom. I got it from Ultron not long ago. Have a drink."

"It's really the taste of hometown. Kaido, please." In a foreign country, he prefers to believe in Kaido, who used to be a comrade-in-arms, although he is just a gang leader.

"Don't worry, you can go in peace." This time he didn't get an answer from White, because he really had left completely.

"White! White!" Looking at White who lost his voice, Riko had a hard time accepting this matter.

"Come with me, I promised White will take care of you for him. If you don't want to leave, Mandelfish, you can buy the store where she lives. If you don't have enough money, let them go to Orochi for it."

When everyone else went to have fun, Mandelfish didn't. He chose to stay by Kaido's side all the time. Arceus had Shaina and Zeraora. As long as the two of them were there, no one would be able to be courteous. So he chose to follow Kaido's side.

It is said that the beasts are planning to further differentiate the ranks of cadres recently, and he still has to show it well.

His ability is also regarded as a member of the small cadres in the Beast Pirates. After the ability of the Carp King has been exercised, he also has a "copper skin and iron bones". It was clearly revealed.

Ordinary bullets can't hurt him, even ordinary swordsmen can't. Only swordsmen who have mastered the level of steel can hurt him. In this regard, his ability is the same as Mr. 1 Daz Bonis' quick cut fruit. Very similar, but not as strong as his attack.

He can't turn his arms into knives, he mainly fights with his fists. Although he is not weak, several other people who have acquired abilities are on a par with him, and Babanuki is his strong competitor.

At this time, of course, I need to build more presence in front of Kaido.

At Kaido's request, he immediately took a few people and let Sayuri lead the way to the girl's house, while Kaido took White's body and planned to send him the last ride.

He has been used to seeing death since he was 10 years old, so White's death will not make him sad. Anyway, he will keep his promise to take care of his wife and daughter, but he may take care of him a little too much later.

The appearance of Maria when she was a child was also exposed, and she had horns on her head, so I think her horns are natural, not decorations

Chapter 143 This is not the situation I want to see

On the other side, in Orochi's residence, after Kaido and others left, he flipped the table angrily.

"What kind of partner is this, this is a robber! Robber!"

"Master Orochi, pirates are originally robbers at sea, and isn't this exactly what you want? We want to take revenge on the entire Wano country. Such a vicious party can do this, and only strong force can fight against Oden."

Black Charcoal Muchan was not angry, but instead explained the pros and cons.

"And with Kaido coming, we can open more factories."

What they are worried about is not the resistance of the daimyo. As long as the black charcoal orochi has the title of acting general, those people will not act directly. Kaido's power is prepared to prevent the follow-up.

"What we lose now, we will all take back from those pariahs, so Lord Orochi, please bear with me for a while."

"I know you guys go down, I'm going to rest."

Today is destined to be different from the past. As soon as the big snake closed his eyes, he saw a terrifying ghost attacking him. He was so frightened that he sat up instantly and slammed into the wall behind him.

The fearful face left by Arceus is destined to make him have a good dream, but this good is for Arceus.

Under the influence of Arceus's fearful face, the black charcoal snake could not sleep for a whole night. As long as he closed his eyes, he would see all kinds of monsters, and it became more and more serious as time passed.

It was just a monster at the beginning, but what he was most afraid of appeared later, such as Kaido with a stick, Kozuki Oden who was burning with rage, and a group of big names who discovered the truth.

Until the sun rose, the effect of the fearful face left by Arceus slowly dissipated, but just as the sleepiness rose, someone walked in.

"Who let you in?"

"Master Orochi, it was you who told you yesterday about the new situation and immediately reported it to you."

"Tell me, what did those guys do? Did they burn down the house or kill someone, or which daimyo had a conflict with them?"

"There is none of this. They forcibly bought a girl's house and put your name on the bill.."

"What did you say?!" Orochi felt that something was not right. He found this group of pirates in the hope that they would do something to the people of Wano. It is best to rob them directly, but now it seems that this group of pirates seems to be Specially grabbing him.

What happened last night in Yukor, the capital of flowers, is not a secret. Except for the black charcoal snake, Shuangyue Yasuji, Shuangyue Niuwan, Yuyue Tempura, and Fengyue Yujie received the same news.

This also made them curious about the Beast Pirates, and wanted to know what kind of force this was.

And in Jiuli, the famous name Kozuki Otian here has gone to sea, only those retainers are left. They only know that the black charcoal snake brought a group of foreign pirates, and those pirates had been wandering around last night. I no longer know. nOvelus6.com

The next day, Orochi recruited a group of craftsmen and laborers in the name of the general of the country of Wano, and sent them to the isolated island in the inland sea to build a new territory for Kaido. Rizi and Maria were also brought back by Kaido. , One more baby was raised by the beasts.

But Maria's mother is still there, so the treatment is much better than Jack's.

The reason why Kaido bought the girl's room was to collect information. Although the number was relatively small, there were some women among the ordinary members of the Beast Pirates. Kaido sent them there to manage the girl's room and inquire about the information. .

Babanuki also went to the diving port with some people, and guarded the entrance and exit of Wano with the people there. Since the snake did not fully trust Kaido, he asked the people from both sides to guard there together.

Kaido didn't reject him, and it wouldn't waste much effort to deal with those people anyway.

Then, as planned, Orochi began to build a weapons factory in Wano. He knew the truth of boiling frogs in warm water. At first, his attitude was not too strong, but he only built factories in the open areas of various villages.

With Kaido's military support, Orochi became more courageous, but he ignored some details. Although the people from Hundred Beasts would solve some troubles for him, they would definitely emphasize that this was all Orochi's orders before doing those things. They just do what they are told.

After a while.

Kaido's territory has been renamed Ghost Island. There are a large number of craftsmen working on the island, and there is no dissatisfaction at all.

According to the rules of Wano country, generals have the right to be forced to do labor. These people were sent here by Orochi for this reason, but when they came to the beasts, they became paid jobs.

As for where the salary comes from, Quinn is begging for the salary from the black carbon orochi, and he went with his plague bomb. It seems that if you don't give the money, I will violently ask for the salary.

And Arceus is engaged in animal husbandry, they got a piece of land in Jiuli, because Koyue Yutian is not there, Jiuli has no nominal direct manager, which also allows Orochi to better intervene in the situation there.

When Kaido asked for a piece of land suitable for planting and breeding, Orochi gave them a piece of land in Jiuli without hesitation. He also hoped that after Kozuki Yutian returned, a more direct conflict with the beasts would break out.

Shortly after arriving in Wano, the people of Hundred Beasts generally reported that the beef here tasted better, so Hundred Beasts purchased a large number of local cattle from Wano Kingdom, and some of them were transformed into large milk tanks.

Previously, the newly launched dairy products of Hundred Beast Fruits have achieved a good market response. This time, they are preparing to expand production. In addition to the reactions of other people, after dairy products and fruits, Arceus decided to add the third product of Hundred Beast Fruits. - meat products.

In the name of Orochi, a few breeding cattle that others were unwilling to sell were brought in, and then they were transformed into Kentaros. Kentaros and the big milk tank normally breed Pokémon offspring. At the same time, Kentaro also Crossbreeding with local cattle to breed second-generation cattle with Kentaro blood.

This type of cattle is exported beef cattle, and was named as a local specialty of Wagyu by Arceus.

And the actions of the beasts appeared on the table of the black charcoal serpent.

"They are planting trees and raising cattle?!"

According to the plan of the black carbon snake, the weapons of Wano will inevitably be sold in the outside world. When Kaido sees this profit, he will definitely be unable to restrain the frantic expansion of the factory, and then he will be able to turn the entire Wano country into one. Arms-producing countries.

When factories occupy all the arable land, the citizens of Wano will enter a state of starvation. Although this cannot be achieved in one step, it should be seen as a process.

But the current situation is very wrong. The black charcoal snake thinks that Kaido should unite with himself to squeeze the people of Wano, but now he is clearly sucking his own blood to develop the people of Wano!

Chapter 144 Development of Wano Country in accordance with local conditions

If it hadn't really built a few factories, then the black charcoal snake would have completely doubted life, and Kaido didn't blindly ignore him. Wano's military industry is really good, and he couldn't completely abandon them.

Even if the huge profits brought by the fruits of the beasts and John's treasures make the beasts full of funds, he must have an excellent logistics base to ensure his weapon supply.

But unlike Orochi's idea of building factories across the country, Arceus has already arranged what each area should be used for according to the environmental characteristics of Wano.

First of all, Jiuli, Jiuli has a mountainous terrain and a mild climate, which is suitable for most tree fruit cultivation. At the same time, there are also pastures of Kentaro, where new breeds of Wagyu cattle are stocked in the mountains.

The terrain and climate characteristics of Baiwu are similar to those of Jiuli, but there are no high mountains, but mostly hilly areas. The development plan here is similar to that of Jiuli, but Jiuli pays more attention to planting, while here it pays more attention to animal husbandry, and each has its own focus.

Flower City is the economic center of Wano Country, the surrounding terrain is also good, and the climate here is distinct, and special medicines can be cultivated by the terrain of Fujiyama.

At the same time, because it is located in the center of Wano country, it must be the main venue for goods trading in the future.

The wasteland of the Ximedo Plain in the north, the beasts intend to use this place as the main food production area, and to ensure basic food security while planting economic crops on a large scale.

As for the wasteland issue, Arceus intends to take time to engage in greening, and let the people here know what a "miracle" is.

After Rabbit Bowl and Ling, the Hailou stone veins of Wano country are distributed in Rabbit Bowl, so most of the place is rocky, and the soil is scarce and not suitable for farming. Based on the principle of adjusting measures to local conditions, Rabbit Bowl was selected as the main industrial area. .

And the sea stone ore vein is on the side, Wano country's weapon craftsmanship and sea stone processing technology are unique, or it is their unique sea stone processing technology that brings them excellent military capabilities.

The fact that the factory is closer to the mine can also reduce the loss and labor consumption during transportation.

Linghou is covered by snow most of the time because of the cold climate. Only a few boreal plants need to grow here. After reserving part of the area, this is the place where the assembly workshop will be in the future.

The forging of the ore and the forging of the parts are completed in the rabbit bowl, and then transported to Ling for assembly. The finished product will be sent to the ghost island, and Kaido and the others will decide the future use. arrange.

But everything has just started. These are the arrangements after the country is fully controlled. At present, Beasts are only building factories in Rabbit Bowl, and building a mixed farming and animal orchard in Jiuli.

At the same time, the actions of the beasts have also had a considerable impact on the country of Wano. The number of the beasts accompanying them is about 1,000. Even among these people, even cooks, ship doctors, and navigators have the ability to go to war. It can be said that is the elite of the whole staff.

Of course, these people did not come to Wano to do farm work, but the development of the industry requires more manpower, so the choice of the beasts is to recruit more local laborers. The population of Wano exceeds one million, so recruiting some laborers is still better. Not difficult.

Although Wano Country is xenophobic, the people that Orochi finds can let some people let go of this prejudice temporarily, and they can get along with people, not with money.

The monthly salary of 5 gold is considered a high salary in Wano country. On the premise of not eating or drinking, you can save a house in 20 months.

Although it is based on the exaggerated premise of not eating or drinking, it is not bad.

And in the process, Hundred Beasts also intend to gradually absorb the local members of Wano country to join themselves, and realize the assimilation of Wano country. Riko is a precedent.

Although Kaido brought her out because she was White's widow, there was also such a factor in it, and Sayuri was also brought out.

This is Riko's request, she thinks that if Sayuri can grow up in another environment.

Mandelfish bought the entire Yummy House directly at Kaido's request, and according to the rules, they had control over all the Yummys there.

The composition of youku is very complicated. There are nobles who were punished for violating laws and regulations, there are people who voluntarily sell themselves into it, and there are people who were abducted and sold or sold by their families.

The beasts don't have time to solve this kind of problem now, let alone the country of Wano, there is no such thing as the outside world, the population auction is established on the Chambord Islands, and the navy's garrison is not much there. Far.

It is not uncommon for people to sell their back feet to auctions as soon as their front feet left the naval base.

But the navy's stationing is still a bit useful, at least when they are there, Chambord has a lawful area.

The behavior of the beasts gives ordinary people a chance to work, but the behavior of the beasts has a different view in the eyes of the daimyo.

"Am I wrong? The black charcoal snake has really changed his mind and wants to help Wano country develop people's livelihood?"

This is the idea of the Yasuzuki family. He is the person who has the most contact with the black charcoal snake among the several big names today, and is also a person who is familiar with Otian. He has always felt some problems with the black charcoal snake.

But judging from the current situation, he seems to be wrong.novelusb.com

"But the Kang family, those people forced some residents to move out in the name of the big snake, and some were forcibly bought the land, this."

"Look again, these things are so weird."

The daimyo of the Wano country are on the same level, and they manage their own areas. Unless it is about the generals and the big events that can make the whole Wano country change, they will not contact at will. The situation is not so dire.

And now the main areas of action of the beasts are Jiuli and Rabbit Bowl. If the only external port is not in his Baiwu territory, and if Otian is not there, he will help take care of Jiuli. He would not care about this kind of thing.

Different from his calmness, Uzuki Tempura, the famous name of Rabbit Bowl, looked at the several new factories that appeared in Rabbit Bowl and fell into contemplation. There were no large-scale factories in Wano before, or they didn't know what a factory was at all.

This is a new building built by Orochi on behalf of the general, and it is also a suggestion given to him by the black charcoal Muchan. A large number of factories can not only make huge profits, but also pollute the environment of Wano country.

The factory that Kaido helped him build in Rabbit Bowl was his last consolation, but a strange problem appeared, the situation of the waste water only appeared a few days ago, and then the waste water seemed to disappear out of thin air.

Chapter 145 Environmental Guards - Alola Smelly Mud

At night, a large amount of highly toxic waste water was discharged from the drain of a factory in Rabbit Bowl and flowed into the outside river. However, the river has been rebuilt and this area has been dry, so the waste water did not flow directly into the main river.

As the wastewater was discharged, a few strange creatures crawled out from the corner of the factory. The highly toxic wastewater was delicious food for them. For a while, the wastewater was drunk cleanly, and their bodies There are also some more crystal blocks.

Smelly Mud - Alola form nOvElusb.coM

Ordinary stinky mud is a strange creature composed of mud, and the liquid in the body will also have a stench. Ordinary people will hate this kind of creature, and only some people can smell the fragrance from them.

This stinky slime is not suitable to appear here, but the stinky slime in the form of Alola is different.

First of all, Alola stinky mud is no longer a single poison attribute, but a collection of poison attributes and evil attributes. Arceus, who has the evil slate, can transform the sludge generated by the discharge of sewage from factories and give them new capabilities.

Alolan stinky mud was born from this, and the meaning of their birth is to deal with the toxic waste water discharged from weapons factories.

Because the stinky mud in the Alola area produces and stores toxins in the body, unlike the stinky mud and stinky mud in other areas, even if you get close, you will not smell an unpleasant odor.

There are also some crystal blocks on the surface of Alola's smelly mud. Those are crystals of toxins in the body, and ordinary people will be poisoned if they touch it.

This toxin crystal is very easy to fall off. Quinn will regularly send people to collect these crystals. These are simply natural toxins, and only through tree fruit materials can a powerful antidote be produced. These highly toxic crystals have even become a new strategy. resource.

But don't worry about accidental poisoning. Alola's stinky mud is very gentle and won't take the initiative to attack people. The factory often discharges waste water, and their food is very sufficient, so most of the time they don't move, and they hide in the ground seam near the factory. inside.

From a distance, it looks like there are more floors with strange colors.

Their colors were not so colorful at first, but as a lot of wastewater was eaten by them, the color of Alola Smelly Mud was no longer a single purple, but became a colorful color, and the color of the body was extremely bright.

This is because the poisonous waste water eaten causes chemical reactions in the body. These Alora stinky mud can also be used as bodyguards in the factory to prevent people from destroying them. It can be said that it serves multiple purposes.

But this also caused the black carbon snake to be happy for only a few days, and then the toxic waste water disappeared inexplicably.

No one explained to him what Alola stinky mud was, and he didn't even know that the toxic waste water disappeared because of the stinky mud.

He had never built a factory before, so he regarded it as a natural phenomenon.

This is also the reason why Uzumaki Tempura is thinking, and he doesn't understand what the snake is doing.

There are many refugees in Wano, who do not have a fixed livelihood, and many of them are small gangsters, but now those people have been taken into factories by the people of the beasts, and under their supervision, they go to work every day and undergo labor reform.

Under the operation of the beasts, the security environment of the rabbit bowl has actually been improved.

Orochi also didn't understand, it's okay for the animals to raise cattle in that kind of field. Why do they forcibly arrest laborers, build factories, and do things according to their own ideas, but other people in Wano still feel that their lives have changed for the better?

At the same time, they also rented Kentaro from ordinary residents. One Kentaro can do ten ordinary cattle a day. Everything looks good, but there are very few people who are willing to rent Kentaro. In their opinion, three Kentaro with the tail is a member of the "Yokai".

It will take a long time to change this mindset.

At the same time, there was a voice of disapproval from Jiuli.

is headed by the retainers of Oden. After careful analysis, they believe that they have come up with the correct answer. The Black Charcoal Orochi wants to use this method to win the hearts and minds of the people and disintegrate the rule of the Koyuki family.

Kaido is the accomplice they found from the outer sea. For the sake of the Guangyue family, everyone should boycott the Black Charcoal Orochi and Kaido. Under their leadership, many people are reluctant to work on the site of the beasts, and they will quietly destroy them. their crops.

This was the first time that the beasts showed their force, and a preliminary contradiction broke out, which also made the black charcoal snake breathe a sigh of relief.

Most of the things in Wano Country have been arranged, and the rest is to develop slowly, and after dealing with a series of things, Arceus intends to go out again to find the slate, but he changed his fate decision-making method.

This time he didn't throw stones, but let the auspicious eggs bring Yamato.

Although she is less than one year old, she is now crawling very fast, and according to the estimates of the auspicious eggs, she will soon learn to walk.

"Come on little guy, I'll leave you to choose the address of this search." A chart composed entirely of water appeared in front of Yamato, and the chart standing out of thin air aroused Yamato's interest.

With her little hand poking around, it lit up a nearby sea area.

"Shaina, prepare the manpower, organize the route, and go here this time."

"Master Sacred Beast, the Origin has been on standby, and you can go now." She knew very well that Arceus would not stay here forever, so since she came to Wano, she regularly arranged to replace the Origin on the Origin. supplies.

The purpose of is to set sail whenever Arceus needs it.

"Shaina, you don't have to follow me this time, just stay and watch things over here, and let Olga and Zeraora prepare." Wano is still in the development stage, and some places still need cadres of repression.

It was not all smooth sailing for Orochi to build factories. If it weren't for Kaido's force, he might not be able to build so many factories in Rabbit Bowl, and Kaido also asked him to take more children when he went out to speed up their growth.

"As ordered, I will be optimistic about this place." Shaina wanted to set sail with Arceus, but since Arceus had given an order, she would not refute anything.

Arceus's own strength doesn't need to worry. The gradually recovered power and electromagnetic flotation also solve the problem of flying. He is not in a hurry to hurry. The sea area he passes by is also within his search range, so he will still sail when he goes out.

What he didn't expect was that Kaido actually threw Yamato on the boat when he was about to set off.

"What are you doing?"

"Let her see the world as soon as possible. Besides, isn't this the sea area you asked her to choose for you? It would be a pity if she didn't see her first choice in her life. By the way, where are you going this time?"

"Edwall Sea Area."

Chapter 146 The New Slate and the Great Tsunami of Edwall

The Siwon left Wano country from the diving port, with only a hundred people on board, and the rest stayed in Wano country. The navigators had already planned the route to the sea area of Edvor, and Arceus's There were also many people of strange ages on the boat.

Olga took the day she left the sea king's belly as her new birth, and the age was counted again from the age of 8, and she selectively forgot the more than 100 years in her belly.

According to this calculation, she is already 14 this year. Elizabeth and her are the same algorithm. As for Zeraora, if you insist, he is actually less than 4 years old this year, but he is both mentally and physically mature.

The real underage was only a moment when she was less than 11 years old, and she was still a few months away from her 11th birthday.

Of course, there is another Yamato now, and Arceus doesn't understand why Kaido has to let him bring a child out. He really doesn't worry about what happens to his daughter.

After leaving the diving port and reaching the nearby waters, the sea calmed down again, and Arceus could even see a few carp kings splashing in the water. They seemed to sense Arceus' breath and followed.

Until he left the waters of Wano, those carp kings swam back against the current, and Arceus gave them instructions not to leave the nearby waters, and those who left here were their descendants.

The carp king was breeding very fast, and the first batch of offspring had spread to the surrounding waters, and the Siwon was also heading towards Edwall.

After some time, the Siwon is about to reach the island near Idwall, and in the sea of Idwall, a big event is taking place.

Navy Headquarters, the current Admiral Sora was trying to persuade Garp to accept the position of general, but after Roger and the golden lion brought by the messenger had contact in the Edwall Sea area, Garp pushed the door directly out.

He was more interested in chasing Roger than the so-called general rank.

Aokiji, who has been in the Navy for three years, followed behind Garp and admired his rejection of the rank of Admiral, and Garp and Sengoku also set foot on the warship heading to the Edwall Sea area.

Naval hero Garp and Headquarters General Sengoku set off at the same time, this lineup makes the Headquarters navy full of confidence.

At the same time, the Roger Pirates and the Sky Pirates are facing off in the Edwall Sea Area.

To be precise, the great fleet of Golden Lions surrounded Roger's pirate ship.

Dozens of pirate ships belonging to the Air Pirates surrounded Roger's Golden Jackson, and the Golden Lion also made his request.

"Roger! Although we had some grudges when we were young, let it go with the wind now, you know the whereabouts of the weapon that can destroy the world.

And I have enough troops, plus years of planning, you and I are enough to rule the world! Come be my right hand, Roger! "

The Great Sea Golden Lion initiated an invitation to Roger. In the face of enormous pressure, all the Roger Pirates prepared for the war. Except for one person, Bucky, he was persuading Roger to compromise with the Golden Lion temporarily, but no one was there. Just ignore him.

Neither Rayleigh, the co-captain, Krokas, the ship doctor, nor Shanks, who was also a trainee, had no intention of helping him.

"I don't have any interest in ruling the world, Shiki! Pirates just do what they want to do!"

The war is imminent, but Gol D. Roger is at an absolute disadvantage in terms of military strength. As a legendary great pirate today, the golden lion is very powerful with fluttering fruit and excellent swordsmanship.

The cadres under the banner are also strong. The Roger Pirates entered the disadvantage for a while. As time passed, abnormal conditions appeared on the sea. The climate in the new world was extremely changeable, and a tsunami was approaching here. .

Just when the golden lion looked embarrassed at the approaching tsunami, the tsunami suddenly disappeared, and the sea was calm again.

"Hahahaha! Roger, destiny is on me! The sea is cooperating with me, surrender, I will give you another chance!"

"Stop dreaming about Shiki, no matter how many times you ask me, my answer will be no. The only result today is to kill you all, God avoid!"

"Then you can only die here, Lion Chikiri!"

The upcoming tsunami suddenly disappeared, and the culprit of all this was in the sea dozens of nautical miles away. It was Arceus who calmed the sea because he felt the breath on the bottom of the sea.

"Yamato, you are really a lucky star."

"lucky?" He only learned a few words. In most cases, he would only say lucky Yamato like auspicious eggs and didn't understand what Arceus meant, but it didn't affect his happiness.

"That's right, just lucky."

The water drop slate went out of the body and sank into the sea. The originally violent sea calmed down in an instant. Then the sea surface was divided into two halves, and countless seawater retreated to the surroundings, revealing the seabed below.

"Is this the power of Lord Arceus?"

"What kind of divine power is this?" Arceus seldom shot, but when he shot, it was their unimaginable power, and the ability to make the sea boil can be achieved by many people.

But to quiet the raging sea and cut it in two obediently, few people can do that.

Then the bottom of the sea began to tremble. Affected by the power of Arceus, a stone slab rushed out from under the silt of the bottom of the sea, and it re-bloomed directly into the body of Arceus. At the same time, the power of Arceus was also greatly enhanced.

It was just that with the return of the power of the slate, he discovered some special problems. Below these were two continental shelves, and the slate was stuck in the middle. As he retracted his slate, the balance had been broken.noveLusb.cOm

It is his power that maintains this balance now, but as long as he takes away his power, a great earthquake will occur here.

"Let everyone take care of it, a bigger one is coming." After wrapping the entire ship with the power of the lightning slate, the Siwon flew directly.

Then he took back his power, and a violent force was sent from the bottom of the sea. Compared with the current tsunami, the previous tsunami was the difference between a son and a father.

The battlefield between the golden lion and Roger, the golden lion was full of confidence, but with the arrival of a new tsunami, everything has changed.

"Ski! It seems that the sea is not on your side! Little ones, ready to break through!" Roger slashed at Shiki, cutting off his desire to use his fruit power to lead his fleet to fly. Chance.

With the arrival of the tsunami, the Roger Pirates successfully broke through, and more than two-thirds of the ships of the Air Pirates were destroyed in the tsunami, and the Air Pirates suffered heavy losses.

More seriously, a flying rudder smashed into the golden lion's head. Because the rudder was in contact with many nerves, the ship's doctor did not dare to take out the rudder for the sake of safety, so it remained in the golden lion. in the brain.

"Unfortunately, it's just a little bit short, Roger's luck is really good."

The person who caused all this is resting on a nearby island at this time, and this trip can be said to be full of harvest.

Arceus originally wanted to strike while the iron was hot and let Yamato choose a few more places, but her luck seemed to have been consumed, so the island chosen this time was unremarkable, and there was no feeling of slate around.

But looking at Yamato playing, Arceus always felt that the properties of the slate were weird this time.

Chapter 147 Yamato's own magical attributes

The attribute of the slate is dragon. Although the 18 slates are in no particular order, if you insist on a division of power, the dragon slate is definitely one of the strongest.

The five attributes of ground, water, grass, lightning, and dragon are known as the source of life. These five slates can form a jewel of life and bring prosperity to an area. Now, except for the ground, the other four have already been in my hands, not to mention It is said that there is also the most effective dragon-type slate.

A large number of quasi-gods have dragon attributes. The various enhancements brought by the Dragon Slate can be said to be powerful to the naked eye, but there is a small problem. In addition to its own strength, the biggest effect of the Slate is immunity to attacks.

Immunity to attacks with this attribute is one of the most powerful features of the slate, but it seems that only Kaido is the only one in this world that belongs to the dragon-type attack, plus the dragon attribute's restraint on the dragon-type

Looking at Yamato in the arms of the auspicious egg, Arceus always felt a little strange, Kaido's daughter helped him find the Noble Phantasm for Kaido?

After all, with the Dragon's Slate, Kaido can't lose blood at all after using his abilities, and he has double restraint against Kaido.

Finding the Dragon Tablet is a good thing, but finding the Dragon Tablet with Yamato's help is a bit intriguing.

But this is not bad, he has no possibility of being hostile to Kaido, Yamato is also her righteous daughter now, and it is better to bring Kekaido attributes than to carry Lu Bu attributes.

After all, Lu Bu's adoptive father was a high-risk occupation. NovelUsB.com

"Let's move freely, and prepare to return after replenishing the supplies."

The operation went surprisingly smoothly. There were no troubles along the way, and no messy people were encountered, and a new slate was found smoothly.

There is nothing fun to play on this island, but it is better than stability. After withdrawing the power earlier, Arceus guided the direction of the power, so that the big tsunami exhausted its energy in the center of the ocean.

It just experienced a bigger wave here, and there was no damage. Just before they came, there were residents picking up fish on the beach. However, after seeing the pirate flag, he still hid. It seems that this is not an island ruled by pirates.

Fresh water, food, the people on the Siwon were busy as always, but the people who stayed on the watchtower suddenly gave a signal.

"Lord Holy Beast! It's the Golden Jackson! The Roger Pirates' ship is approaching here!"

Pirates will be at ease unless they are in their own territory. No matter which pirate group is out of the house, they will be concerned about the situation in the nearby waters. If nothing else, suddenly being surrounded by the navy is a big trouble.

No pirate group has the ability to subvert the entire navy. The navy's soldiers also come from all over the world, and it is meaningless to consume them, so pirates rarely attack the navy unless they have a special purpose.

Although I haven't seen any warships, I should be warned when I see other pirate ships.

"But their ships are a little broken. They should have just experienced a big battle, Lord Holy Beast, what should we do?"

"Don't worry about him, just do what you have to do."

His eyesight can see the situation of the Golden Jackson even without a telescope. The main mast is almost broken, and there are holes on both sides of the hull. It seems that he intends to dock for emergency repairs.

Even if the Golden Jackson was a ship built by Tom with the treasure tree Adam, it was in poor condition after experiencing such a large-scale tsunami, not to mention that the Golden Lion itself is not weak.

The top swordsmanship and fruit ability, strong domineering, Roger Pirates broke through also paid a certain amount of casualties, both sides can only be said to lose both.

If the subsequent tsunami hadn't arrived in time, the Roger Pirates would have to pay a higher price. Now they should not be interested in finding other enemies.

Arceus guessed right, the Roger Pirates chose to dock on the other side of the island, which is a tacit understanding and tradition among pirates.

In the case of discovering each other, the latecomer goes to the other side to dock, and the person who arrives first does not respond.

Arceus doesn't like meaningless conflicts, and Roger needs to rest. Two years ago, he was suffering from an incurable disease. It was all thanks to the medical skills of Kurokas to keep himself sailing.

Although his combat power has not been affected, he can no longer fight continuously for a long time. After the battle with the golden lion, he and his companions on the ship need to rest.

And the mind of one person on the ship has also changed, that is Douglas Barrett, who joined Roger's ship because of Roger's strength.

But after the Battle of Edwall, he began to doubt Roger's strength, or rather, the life of the Roger Pirates made him shake his heart.

After confirming that Roger had rested, he challenged Roger again. The battle was not long, and Barrett still failed to defeat Roger, but after that, he left the Roger Pirates and did not know where to go. where.

"Let's go as soon as you leave. That guy is a dangerous person. It's better to leave early." Shanks and Bucky came to the town to replenish supplies. So take the responsibility.

Although Roger asked them to be accompanied by an adult after the last accident, but now that they are 12 years old, Roger has relaxed the requirements for them again.

At this moment, they passed two people head on, and before they took two steps, Bucky suddenly remembered something.

"Shanks, do you remember that girl just now?"

"What's wrong?"

"What's wrong? You forgot, almost four years ago, the ability person we met on that island!" Compared with Shanks, Bucky's memory is very good. He played it once, but he remembered it clearly.

Especially Olga's appearance has hardly changed over the years, so he remembered the other party in the moment we met just now.

"Hmm, I can't remember."

"You bastard!" Bucky took his angry hands off his wrists and started dancing. Not long ago, he accidentally ate the torn fruit and turned himself into a landlubber. To be precise, he swallowed the torn fruit. Being choked to death was his life.

"Okay, okay, I remembered, so what do you want to do?"

"She made us so embarrassed back then, of course she has to take revenge."

"Didn't we fail to grab the treasure map that time, and she didn't do anything else, so let's forget it."

"I know, I'm just going to scare her, thanks to you, this uncle is also a capable person now." At this point, Bucky's tone suddenly felt resentful, and Shanks couldn't continue to say anything.

Chapter 148 Familiar plot, chasing navy

Different from Kaido's fanaticism of animal-type abilities, there are many animal-type abilities in the Beast Pirates, and the Roger Pirates have almost no abilities. The only one before was Barrett.

But Barrett boarded the Golden Jackson as a challenger. He was not a member of the Roger Pirates in the true sense. Before the Battle of Edwall, Bucky accidentally ate the fruit. Bucky and Barrett became the only capable people on Roger's ship.

Eating this fruit is not his original intention, it can only be said to be "retribution". When the Roger Pirates seized a devil fruit among the loot, Bucky heard that a devil fruit can be sold for 100 million bellies. After the sky-high price, he tried to hide the fruit.

Then he was startled by Shanks when he quietly observed his trophy at night, and swallowed the fruit directly. Since then, he lost the ability to swim. Although he gained the ability to split, he was not happy.

After all, treasure hunting is Bucky's biggest hobby. Being a land-duck means he can't explore the treasures in the sea at will, and his excellent water ability has become a piece of shit.

Not being able to find the treasure in person means that the joy is halved.

The culprit of all this, in his opinion, is Shanks who patted him. Although his own greed is the root cause, Shanks' pat is also an important reason for this.

And while Bucky and Shanks discuss their problems, Olga poses her own to Elizabeth.

"Elizabeth, do you smell it? A conspiracy."

"Conspiracy has no taste, so it cannot be smelled."

"Ah, really, you still haven't learned the essence of writing after so many years." After another three years, Elizabeth was able to speak fluently, but only in the aspect of fluent conversation.

If you have something to say, he can understand the meaning of the sentence, but he can't understand it when he talks like Olga. This is no longer something that can be solved by learning. Only after a long period of training can you realize the true meaning of it.

"Forget it, let's put it another way. You said that after so many years, why haven't they corrected their problems?"

said, she stretched out her pinky finger and poked out her ear. Back then, Bucky and Shanks' private conversations were clearly heard by her, and she is 14 years old this year.noVELus&.coM

The 10-year-old Kaido became the strongest soldier in the Woka Kingdom, and the 13-year-old Barret became the kingdom's strongest young soldier and a national hero. Thirteen-year-old Rob Luch killed 500 captured kingdom soldiers and all pirates by himself, becoming a ruthless killing machine.

At this age, it is time to exert her strength. Although she is still a trainee, that is because Kaido intends to let her take the position of the big kanban when she becomes a regular.

Shaina's weave belongs only to Arceus. As for Jack, he is still a baby, and it is normal for three disasters to have four people.

Now she is far from being as famous as Quinn and Jhin. Although her voice was a lot smaller than last time, it was not too strong. It was easy to hear the conversation between the two 12-year-olds. Bucky remembered her, and she didn't forget Bucky and Shanks.

Actually, I mainly remember Bucky. His nose is too iconic. She hasn't seen a heavy nose for so many years.

"Scare me, I just want to see how they scare me, leave Elizabeth, and have fun with the two of them."

Saying that, he avoided the main street and watched Olga disappear from sight. Bucky immediately pulled Shanks to chase after him. As a result, his fruit ability was triggered, and the other arm hung directly on the on Shanks, because Shanks stayed in place and didn't move.

"Shanks! What are you going to do?"

"Wait, Bucky, don't you think this plot is a bit like a few years ago?"

A few years ago, they hurriedly chased after them, and then they began to fight each other passionately. It was not until Olga left the scope of her ability that she was freed.

Now this situation makes Shanks have a deja vu situation, so Bucky failed to pull Shanks, and after eating the split fruit, body splitting became one of his passive skills.

Not only will it split actively when faced with a slash, but if too much force is involved in his body, it will split.

For example, he wanted to pull Shanks, but Shanks stayed in place like a pillar, which eventually caused his arm and body to split, in order to prevent dislocation.

"What are you afraid of, we are not what we used to be, let's go!"

Bucky's body was divided into many pieces, pushing Shanks' knuckles from behind and walking forward.

"Don't worry Bucky, this time we'll get a password first, be careful and be deceived again, remember, those who can't tell the password are fake."

The last time he was deceived led to the occurrence of mutual fights. As the first external defeat in his life, he did not forget this ability.

After making adequate preparations, they chased after them, and then the same thing happened again as a few years ago, and they seemed to be back in the familiar alley.

"You two are so slow, the ice cream is about to melt, and it's been a few years since you haven't seen it. How are you going to play a prank this time?"

Voices sounded from all directions, and Olga could not be seen in the empty alley. They plunged into Olga's fantasy world again. Without enough knowledge, it would be impossible to meet the current Olga. .

Last time Olga's vision made them see each other as Olga, but this time they didn't, but some people made up their minds about Olga's ability. Bucky and Shanks couldn't be sure that the person in front of them was. not real.

At this time, the secret code Shanks prepared in advance came into play, but they underestimated Olga's ability. Zoroark's phantom was omnidirectional and could interfere with their hearing, so the answers they heard were all incorrect.

So they fell into infighting again, and they had forgotten the idea of pranking them in the first place.

"It's really two little devils. After leaving Elizabeth, it's time to go back. Aren't they from the Roger Pirates? I heard that the Pirates are very strong."

Unlike the Whitebeard and the Golden Lion, who have a huge army, Roger can be said to be one of the few people in the New World who has a great reputation with a single ship.

"Maybe they are the weakest on the ship."

Olga originally wanted Shanks and Bucky to fight a little longer, but a series of shelling sounds dispelled her idea.

"Elizabeth."

Olga jumped into the sky with her arms crossed and supported Elizabeth. Unless she was riding, Elizabeth would not use the form of a basilisk lizard, but maintained the form of a thousand-faced evasion.

With the help of Olga, it began to glide in the air, and it also saw things on the coastline.

"It's the Navy, we should prepare to go back."

Chapter 149 Forgiveness

Looking at Shanks and Bucky who were still fighting each other, Olga lifted the illusion that affected them.

"You two, stop fighting! The navy is here, it's time to go back to the ship!"

There is no life-and-death feud between the two sides, so her behavior has always been reserved. How Shanks and Bucky will fight depends on their previous thoughts. If they aim to take her life, they will be slandered by civil strife. heavier.

Now the fight between Bucky and the redhead is not too intense, which shows that they don't mean that too much. In this case, Olga doesn't need to do too much.

The sound of        in the distance calmed both Shanks and Bucky, and there was no doubt that they had been tricked again, but the sound of cannons in the distance also told them that they had to go back to the ship now.

"Hey, Shanks, don't talk to Mr. Reilly and Captain Roger about this."

"why?"

"Do you want to be grounded again, not only by being played, but by the same person using the same method twice!"

"Bucky, I think you're right, but it's better not to."

"Huh? Why?"

"Because I know it now." Reilly's voice sounded from the other side of Bucky. Just when he was running towards the Golden Jackson, Reilly had appeared beside them, but Bucky did not notice. he.

"It seems that I still can't trust the two of you. In the future, you will have to be followed by the two of you." Reilly said, grabbing Shanks and Bucky one by one, and pulling them both back to the Golden Jackson. .

The ship has regained its mobility after emergency repairs, and now they are about to start a new journey, because the person Roger Pirates is most familiar with has caught up.

"Roger! Take it easy, you have nowhere to run!"

Garp shouted from the front of the warship, and threw the cannonball at the Golden Jackson, but it was smashed in mid-air by Jabba holding a double axe. Although it was thrown by Garp, the cannonball was still the same. Ordinary cannonball.

Looking at the returning Shanks and Bucky, Roger also gave the order to set sail again, and the Golden Jackson and the naval warships started their chase.

But only one warship chased out, the other warship didn't mean it, and the guns on the ship were aimed in the direction of the Siwon.

"General Warring States, don't you mind Mr. Garp?"

"Don't worry about him, every time that guy sees Roger, it's like a chicken blood. He can't stop it. Let's deal with this group of pirates first."

Sengoku and Garp came here together because of the fierce battle in the waters of Edwall, and they faced Roger and the Golden Lion as imaginary enemies at the same time.

But when they reached the waters of Edwall, they only saw a piece of broken ship wreckage. Neither the Golden Lion nor Roger knew where they had gone, so their ships would approach here.

This is the closest island to that sea area, and it is also the most suitable place to rest. It is very likely to meet Roger or a member of the Golden Lion here.

Now it seems that the Warring States guessed right. Not only did they meet Roger, but they also encountered the Siwon with the banner of the Beast Pirates. Although the beasts were not their main target, since they encountered them, they naturally did not ignore them. reason.

It is only natural for the Navy to catch pirates. After Garp went to chase Roger, Sengoku also directed the manpower on the warship to attack the direction of the Siwon.

He didn't find Kaido on the boat, and Kaido disappeared again during this period of time. It has been a long time since the new world received news of Kaido's crime after drinking.

Sengoku thought that this was just an ordinary pirate group that belonged to the beasts, and capturing them would not waste much time.

He had this misunderstanding because the flag of the beasts and the logo of Arceus hung on the Siwon at the same time, a pattern derived from the wrist of the thousand universes. Generally, only pirates attached to other big pirates will hang two different sides. flag.noVELusb.com

At the same time as he launched his attack, the people on the beast ship also saw his face clearly.

"That's.. Admiral of the Navy Headquarters - The Warring States of Buddha!"

As the only admiral at this stage who has neither refused promotion nor retreated behind the scenes, the Warring States period has a distinct reputation outside, and is also a veritable naval model.

But the pirates of the beasts did not panic, because Arceus was still on board.

"The troublesome guy is here again, are everyone back? Ready to go."

They are people who have their own fixed territory and long-term plans. Arceus does not want to waste energy in the battle with the navy, mainly because it is meaningless.

Even if you kill an Admiral, you won't get anything except being promoted by Morgans, and then regarded as a thorn in the side of the World Government and the Navy.

The Admiral is a top-level combat force, but with hundreds of allied nations as the foundation, occupying all the red soil continent, the World Government has sufficient soldiers, and even the position of an Admiral can be filled.

After the war, they put aside the general candidates, and they can fill this vacancy with the way of world conscription.

He has no interest in those false names, and if he really kills the Admiral, whether it is for the deterrence in the future or the navy's own face, the territory of the beasts will be severely hit, and the intelligence chain that was finally unfolded will be in vain.

Admiral is an important cornerstone of the navy, but if one is missing, it will not hurt. Unless there is a bigger move, Arceus does not want to do such a meaningless thing.

So when facing Zefa earlier, a flame vortex trapped the opponent and left there. The same is true now.

Besides, he still has a bunch of kids on the boat.

"Except Olga and Elizabeth. Oh, they're back too, then we're all together."

"Set off."

Siwon raised its sails and planned to leave here, but they wanted to go, which did not mean that the navy agreed. The dense artillery shells formed a blockade, blocking the way of the Siwon.

Just because you don't want to fight doesn't mean you won't fight back. The Siwon is naturally equipped with heavy artillery made of beasts. Its range and power are comparable to naval cannons. An artillery battle unfolded on the sea.

Although his electromagnetic flotation can fly with the ship, the speed is no different from the target.

"You go first, I'll catch up in a while." He just wanted to see how much power the Admiral of the Navy Headquarters could exert.

Under the order of Arceus, the Origin was first withdrawn to the distance, and everyone except Zeraora obeyed this order.

"Zeraora, didn't you hear my order?"

"I'm sorry my lord, I'm sorry to obey my orders, it would be an insult to me if everyone could come directly to you."

Chapter 150 Is this what 5000 Bailey should do?

"You should know what they can do to me at sea."

This is the sea. Arceus, who owns the water slate, can freely manipulate the sea and the sea. If he doesn't intend to see the strength of the generals, he has many ways to get rid of them.

There are flame whirlpools on land, and there are also water whirlpools on the sea. This time, it should be said that I have been farming for a long time, so I came out to exercise my muscles and bones.

"I am well aware of your power, but please forgive my willfulness.

Our duty is to help you find what you have lost and defend your existence. I can't do it before you retreat. If you have to do everything yourself, then there is no point in creating us. "

Zeraora stood beside Arceus, the only time he had not followed Arceus' orders since he appeared.

"Forget it, it's up to you, you really should have seen the cutting-edge combat power in this world."

Zeraola has never played against people very much. The only enemy is the group of organ trafficking and assassination groups, but they really can't be used as a standard for judging combat power. The warships led by the Warring States can also make Zeraola better clear. What stage is your strength at?

"As ordered." Seeing that Arceus did not continue to order him to leave, he was relieved. For the first time, he could be willful, but if Arceus insisted on letting him leave, he could only obey.

At this time, the hair on his body stood up completely, which was a sign that he was using the electrical energy stored in his body, and he was floating beside Arceus. This was not electromagnetic floating, but his own unique ability.

The meat **** in his hands and feet can release a large amount of electric current. He can create a strong magnetic field through this electric current, and use the power of the magnetic field to move in the air and achieve high-speed flight.

Arceus and Zeraora, who left the origin, naturally attracted the attention of the navy. Sengoku has always been known as a wise general, and intelligence is very important in this regard.

There is no doubt that the Navy's intelligence network is much stronger than that of the pirates. Whether it is the Navy's own undercover agents or the intelligence provided by the World Government CPs, they will be aggregated to the Navy Headquarters.

As a general of the Ministry, the Warring States has extremely high authority in this regard, and the generals have their own familiar adjutants. The adjutants of the Warring States have already brought their sorted information to the Warring States at this time.

"Unidentified creature? Five thousand Baileys? Nothing else?"

"Yes, we don't have any records about the creature in the sky, and this reward is the only information. However, Mr. Zefa has reported similar information, but after analysis by the intelligence department, it is believed that it is the ability of the flames. "

Arceus's lifestyle can be said to be reclusive. Kaido is the one who shows up on weekdays, and he doesn't know much about Arceus's navy.

The bounties again left a stereotyped impression, which led to most of the power being assumed to be someone else's ability.

"What about the fur tribe?"

"There is no information, the other party should be a new member."

Although there are no fur tribes in the navy, the appearance of Zeraora is too similar to that of the fur tribe. The Warring States period still gave rise to the perception that he is a fur tribe, and he is also a capable person. After all, the fur tribe has no record of flying.

Before the Warring States period issued a new order, Arceus had already sent a gift to meet and greet, the Dragon Star Group, which can also be called Tianlong Meteor.

The Dragon-type energy burst out, forming a dense meteor shower in the sky and smashing into the warship where the Warring States were located.

"Is this a pet? Are those people in the intelligence department rubbish!"

Looking at the smashed Long Xingqun, the Warring States period had serious doubts about the intelligence personnel's abilities. If you don't judge well, don't make blind judgments. He has never heard of this kind of creature, so I am afraid it is the animal system ability that is used to the form of beasts. Yes, such a person has not been seen before.

A burst of golden light appeared from Sengoku's body, and the whole person turned into the shape of a big Buddha, and then a shock wave hit the sky.

The Warring States period is called the Warring States Period of the Buddha. The reason is not that he has many Buddhist ancestry, but his fruit ability. The human fruit is a magical beast species - the form of a great Buddha. In addition to the powerful golden body of the Buddha, the shock wave from his palm is also his main source. one of the fighting styles.

Under the condition of not releasing water because of the relationship, the impact of the Buddha took him as the center and wrapped the entire warship. After a violent shaking, the tentative attack of the Dragon Star Group was successfully stopped by him.

"It's not bad, so what's the limit?"

A new batch of dragon constellations appeared out of thin air again. Compared with the attack just now, this time the dragon constellations were more numerous and larger in size. As for the debuff that the original dragon constellations would temporarily reduce the special attack, he had been motivated by himself. The force cancels out.

Looking at the Dragon Stars that attacked again, the corner of the Warring States' mouth twitched. He knew very well that this attack had to start from the source, but he couldn't leave it now, he had missed the opportunity.

If he leaves here to find Arceus, the sailors on the ship will inevitably pay huge casualties, and only his ability can perfectly protect the warship.

"Polusalino! Go and interrupt his attack!"

Sengoku didn't think it would be a good idea to let Polsalino take over for him to defend the warship. The lasers he released might be able to shatter those strange meteors, but they couldn't wipe them all out, and a rash replacement might have other effects.

Therefore, it is the best decision to let him interrupt the opponent's attack, and then let it no longer attack the warship recklessly. However, Polsalino did not achieve the order and prohibition. From the boot camp, he brought this outfit with him. Lazy problem.

"Sanguo-san, it seems very troublesome, can you not go?"

"What do you think?"

"Oh yeah, I see, don't be so impatient."

Kuzan, Sakaski, Polusalino, the three future generals have all become members of the Navy at this time. From the day they joined, they were called monsters within the Navy.

And they did not live up to the name of the monster. On the day they graduated from the Zefa training camp, they obtained the rank of colonel. This is the regulation of the Navy. It takes strength, and it takes merit.

But those who are specially recruited by the World Government can break this rule, including being directly awarded the rank of colonel or above

Sakaski and Polusalino joined earlier than Kuzan, five years now.

Polsalino is now a major general of the headquarters. Although their strength is more than that, they are still slightly lacking in merit. Now the three of them are training with others. The Navy intends to train them to take over the position of general in the future. .
