Chapter 161 Orochi's way of death never stops

"Master Holy Beast, this is today's news from Wano Kingdom, you should take a look."

"Didn't I say it, you can just watch and deal with it, you don't need to report everything."

The mess in Wano is very complicated, and most of them are trivial things. If you handle all of them yourself, then you don't have to do anything else at the end of the day.

So after a while of distribution, most of Wano's affairs were divided into the hands of different cadres. While Kaido ran out to be the shopkeeper, he was also reducing his burden.

Of course, the end result of this...is that Assie's hair volume has decreased a lot, and he has already started to ask Naichen to give him a prescription for anti-hair loss.

"Master Holy Beast, this is a new situation. Someone is making trouble in the mining factory. Jhin is dealing with him. What do you want to do in the end?"

Kinemon doesn't really have any secrets worth digging up, and the purpose of his trip to the Rabbit Bowl mining farm has been found out, but in the end, whether it is to be executed, released, or thrown into the mining farm for mining is still undecided.

"Let's educate me and throw it into mining. It should be good to work with such energy."

For Arceus, Kinemon was an ordinary little person, but a phone call made him change his mind.

A snail came out of the shell. After Shaina answered the phone, a female voice rang. It was the person who was left in the roaming outline by the beasts.

"Big sister, the latest news. The Black Charcoal Orochi is spreading the news that Koyuki Oden's retainer Kinemon is provoking the Beast Pirates, so he is about to be executed by us. It has almost spread throughout the flower capital."

Black Charcoal Orochi is the current general of Wano country after all, and he has more eyeliners in Wano country, and what happened at the Rabbit Bowl mining farm was quickly known to him.

Although his people failed to enter the Rabbit Bowl mining field, the younger brother who was looking for Jinweimen was still outside. Under the hands of Orochi, there was an elite ninja unit called Orochi Yuting Fanzhong. The strength was not bad, and they arrested a small gangster. Easy for them.

After learning about this, Orochi was very happy, because the Hundred Beast Pirates finally had a head-on conflict with Kozuki Oden, which was what he wanted to see the most.

If the beasts kill Guangyue's retainers, then things will become irreconcilable, so he wants to further intensify this contradiction, the purpose is to make the two sides fight directly.

He knew that this kind of trick wouldn't work for the Beast Pirates, who obviously had a sane leadership.

His target was the other Kozuki family retainers.

If this news spreads out, then the people from the Guangyue family are likely to go directly to the prison and have a bigger conflict with the beasts.

Although the behavior of the Beasts Pirates is different from what he thought, there is one thing, that is, the Beasts Pirates do not allow anyone to confront them head-on. As long as they reach that point, even for their own sake, the Beasts cannot tolerate it. go down.

"Black Charcoal Serpent."

"Master Holy Beast, let me kill him. He who deceived you is not worthy of living in this world, let alone now."

Shaina almost went directly to the flower capital when she found out the details. Now the black charcoal snake wants to sit on the mountain and watch the tiger fight, which in her opinion is the way to die.

"Don't worry, he still has so much value. It's entirely up to him to change the ruling class of Wano Kingdom, but this method is too naive."

"The news he sent"

"The news was passed on by the black charcoal serpent, what does it have to do with us? It just happened to let the people of Wano country understand that although we were brought in by the black charcoal serpent, we are us, not the thugs of the serpent.

Shaina, you can go there yourself, you don't have to do anything else, just keep the other vassals of the Guangyue family from leaving Jiuli, as long as they can't make trouble, then it's up to us to decide how it ends. "

"Yes, where is Kinemon?"

"Let him live, Quinn just complained that there was not enough farmland, doesn't the Guangyue family have a nice farm in Jiuli, so let them use that as an atonement."

Guri was once a place of lawlessness, but it returned to the right track under the management of Kozuki Oden, so the Kozuki family has a deep influence there.

Because his retainers believed that the Beasts had evil intentions, they mobilized some people to resist the Beasts Pirates. As a result, they sometimes could not find people on the Jiuli farm and had to recruit them from other townships.

The favored farm is an important industry in Jiuli, and many people work there. If they give up this job, their families will have to bear the price.

For the common people, most of the beasts use the Huairou policy. As long as these people understand the benefits brought by the beasts, some people will naturally change their views over time, and then the conflict will become an external conflict and become a family conflict.

As more and more people accept the beasts, this contradiction will gradually disappear.

Then a letter similar to the verdict was sent to Kinemon's house. At the same time, as Orochi expected, the rest of the Kozuki family heard the news that Kinemon was going to be executed. anger.

"I said long ago that the Beast Pirates are not good people, Kinemon." The remaining retainers of Kozuki Oden gathered at this time. They have already received the news, or it is difficult not to receive the news.

After all, one of the people who stayed here was named Kanjuro, and his full name was Kurotan Kanjuro. He was the undercover agent sent by the Kurotan Orochi to Kozuki Oden, and he brought the news back.

"What to do, do you want to watch them execute Kinemon?"

"Definitely not! By the way, Ashura-sama, after Lord Oden left, he would go back to the mountain to take care of those bandits. If he can bring them out, he should be able to * Kinemon Gate back."

"I heard that Kaido is very strong. It may kill a lot of people.."

"Then let Kinemon die!"

Kanjuro took the task of undercover, the purpose is to provoke opposition, so from the beginning he suggested to go to the robbery field to rob people, and then everyone hid back to the mountain, waiting for Kozuki Oden to return.

The one who is worried about too many casualties is Aju, whose real name is Juzhicheng, also known as Canxuejuzhicheng. As a man, he is more like a woman than a woman. If you change the place, this is a transvestite and a transgenderist, a proper politics. correct.novelUsb.com

He is gentle in his heart, and he is too gentle, and he is a little indecisive in battle.

"It's not like that.."

The matter has not been settled yet, and these people have already quarreled, but under the deliberate guidance of Kanjuro, they decided to go directly to * Kinemon.

Even without Kanjuro, they wouldn't sit and watch Kinemon die, but Kanjuro made them more impulsive, but before they could go out, another person came over, not Shaina, but Bai The name of the dance - Shuangyue Kang's family.

Chapter 162

Oroch is very hard at spreading rumors, and the result of his hard work is that not only ordinary people know about it, but other big names have also heard the news.

Wano Country is also a big country among the countries on the great route, but if something really happened, it spreads across the country very quickly. Although there are no news birds, arrows can be passed from one township to another.

Not to mention that due to the diving port, the Shuangyue Yasushi family had a lot of dealings with the beasts.

And among the many famous names, he also has the best relationship with the Kozuki family. There were rumors at the beginning that if Sukiyaki had no son, then the Shuangyue Yasushi family would be the next general.

Moreover, the Shuangyue Yasushi family also helped the Shuangyue family a lot. At the beginning, Guangyue Otian was like an idiot and was deceived by the black charcoal snake in a few words. His retainers went to Shuangyue Yasushi's house to steal money.

The result was naturally discovered, but the Shuangyue Kang family did not pursue it, but gave them the money, and then paid to help them learn etiquette knowledge, so that they grew up from the three teachings and nine-class.

In the years that Kozuki Oden left, if it wasn't for his help, the Jiuri area would probably be in chaos. Kozuki Oden's retainers were fine in handling small matters, but none of them were reliable in major matters.

At this stage, the beasts have established farms and pastures in both Jiuli and Baiwu. Seeing what happened in their own jurisdiction, the Shuangyue Kang family did not stop them, because he could see that the behavior of the beasts had a negative effect on the people of Baiwu. beneficial.

After hearing the news from Orochi, he understood that things were not that simple, and anyone with a discerning eye in Wano Kingdom could see that the Beast Pirates and the Black Charcoal Orochi were inseparable.

They can guess that the original purpose of the black charcoal serpent was to use Kaido's force to deal with them, but in the end he seemed to get out of it, the beasts have their own ideas, and to a large extent the black charcoal serpent's ideas conflict.

Because of their familiarity, Kozuki Oden and Shuangyue Yasushi have said many things. If the arrival of the beasts can really change the living conditions of the residents of Wano, then he is not very resistant.

But when he saw the news spread by Orochi, he immediately knew that there was a big problem. According to the character of the Oda retainers, they would probably call the door directly.

This kind of execution of Kinemon was not in line with the behavior of the Hundred Beasts Pirates after they came to Wano Kingdom, and since it was all Orochi's cronies who were spreading rumors, he felt that there was a big problem.

It was still too early for the date to be announced by Orochi. In order to prevent them from doing anything too impulsive, the Shuangyue Yasushi family immediately came to Otian Castle in Jiuli. The moment he saw these people, he knew that he had come to the right.

"What are you going to do!"

"Lord Kangkang, we're going to save Kinemon."

"Just a few of you? The Beast Pirates have at least 1,000 people here, and there are also black charcoal snakes. Where do you have the confidence to attack thousands of people? You have learned something over the years. What! And you don't pay attention to the situation in Wano country at all!"

As long as they know more, they won't believe the so-called information about the execution of Kinemon. Just when the Shuangyue Yasushi family taught them a lesson, A He also came here, and she received a letter from the beasts.

But she had never experienced this kind of thing, she was a little overwhelmed for a while, so she had to come here. novelusb.com

"Lord Kang, everyone, someone gave me this." She took out the letter from the beasts.

[Kinemon pretended to be a member of the Hundred Beasts Pirates and broke into the Rabbit Bowl Mining Field with the intention of robbing him. In the process, he injured seven guards and destroyed a house. He was sentenced to two years of work in the mining field.]

Attached to the back is a series of bills, including the medical expenses required by the people injured by Kinemon, the construction expenses of the house, and their own medical expenses and many other expenses. Of course, there is also the most critical sentence about the indulgence. description of.

【Sufficient compensation can reduce the sentence】

"Sure enough, they didn't want to kill Kinemon at all. You almost fell for Orochi's plan. You can't see such a straightforward thing, it's really naive."

Shuangyue Yasaka's family was very intimidating to them. A group of people were like children seeing their teacher, and they were reprimanded by Shuangyue Yasaka's family and couldn't lift their heads.

Even Kanjuro is no exception. Although he is an undercover agent, the undercover agent is the most loyal under very special circumstances. Before they get a new task, they will try their best to gain the trust of the target. Kanjurou is in this state now.

And he is very keen on role-playing, and has already fully assumed the identity of Koyuki retainer.

"Master Yasushi, Kinemon he"

"Don't be impatient, Ahe, this matter can probably be settled with money. Let's collect money first to redeem Kinemon, and the rest will have to wait for Oden to come back."

Whether it is the Black Charcoal Orochi or the Beast Pirates, they are all difficult characters to deal with. The Beast Pirates are because of their strength, and the Black Charcoal Orochi is because of his position as a general.

Wano country attaches great importance to the position of generals. If there is no orthodoxy of Kozuki Oden, some people may not support them. What the snake is doing now has not broken through their bottom line, so they need to wait for Kozuki Oden to come back. Row.

And there is another thing that the Shuangyue Yasuo family is worried about. The interests of the Hundred Beast Pirates and the Black Charcoal Orochi are different. If this kind of thing causes the Hundred Beasts and the Black Charcoal Orochi to completely unite the front, Kaido's force plus the Orochi. In the name of the general, the country of Wano is truly doomed.

In the end, the Shimotsuki Yasushi family took only Denjiro away. First of all, it was because Denjiro and Kinemon were already familiar with each other, and they had known each other before they joined Oden.

Secondly, because Denjiro was very good at negotiating since he was a child, or he was deceived, and he could often get some things into his hands at a low price. He was going to take Denjiro to talk about the price of redemption of Kinemon.

But they didn't notice that because of the arrival of Yasuzuki Shuangyue, Shaina put away the flame in her hand on the clouds.

After the return journey, there was almost no rest, and the Shiroyuki Yasushi family took Denjiro to the ghost island. Bai Wu managed the port of Wano country. Naturally, there are qualified punters among them, so as not to capsize the boat in the inland sea like Kojiro did. .

After explaining their intentions, they met the object of this negotiation-Jin without much effort.

"The next is the Shiroyuki Yasushi family. This time, I came here to replace my friend Kozuki Oden to redeem his retainer - Kinemon. This is his colleague Denjiro."

"According to our regulations, he should work in the mining field for twenty years."

"We already know the matter, let's make an offer."

"Ten thousand platinum."

As soon as these words came out, both the Shuangyue Yasushi family and Denjiro's expressions changed greatly. Although they were prepared for a big hemorrhage, the amount could not be discussed at all.

Chapter 163 High compensation and siege battle

The sky is full of asking prices, and the money is paid back on the ground, but if the opening is such an impossible number, the attitude of the other party is uncertain.

"It's impossible! No one in Wano can come up with so much money!" Ten thousand platinum, one million gold, or 10 billion baileys, even the generals of Wano have to spend their treasury to get it. Come out with this money.

Wano's currency is all metal currency, and they can't even print money. The amount of Jhin makes it impossible for them to talk about it.

Denjiro is too young and lacks experience in handling major affairs. Kinemon is his friend, so he couldn't control his emotions for a while, but the Shuangyue Yasushi family was more calm.

"Tell me, what exactly do you want to let Kinemon."

"Don't be so rude, he is the one who violated the rules, Kojiro, please explain."

Immediately, the sliding door on the side was opened, and Kojiro walked out with a bandage on his head. The injury was naturally real, but it was not the one who was beaten by those gangsters before, but himself, in order to be realistic, in this regard He is cruel.

"Yes, Lord Jhin.

Lord Kang, the villain is just an ordinary businessman. He was doing business in the capital of flowers that day, but a group of thugs came out to smash my stall. Although I fought hard, I was outnumbered. People got caught. "

"You also heard that those people injured a legitimate businessman, but the Kinemon that they said wanted to go to prison to rescue those people, do you think he asked for it?"

"It's already happened, what's the use of talking about it? Let's make a price." The Shuangyue Yasushi family didn't care about Jhin's words. Now that Jin'emon is in their hands, they would definitely bleed a lot if they wanted to replace it.

"Very good, we want access to this place."

Tore off a piece of cloth on the table in front of him, revealing a piece of Wano Kingdom's sand table, and Jhin pointed his finger directly at the Taoyuan farm in Jiuli.

Although the Shuangyue Yasushi family was unsmiling when he was young, there was too much difference between his height and Jhin. There are indeed many tall people in Wano Kingdom, but the Shuangyue Yasushi family was not in this case. Under such a gap, Jhin brought a sense of oppression. much bigger.

But this is not the point. The focus of the Shuangyue Kang family is the sand table in front of Jhin. The grass and trees on it are clearly marked. If you just want a place, there is no need to make it so clear. Obviously, this is in the Deliberately reveal some kind of information to him.

"Do you want to show that Wano is in control?" Shuangyue Yasushi thought so in his heart, and when he was thinking about this question, Jhin urged again:

"Either 10,000 platinum, or hand over this farm to us, or we will send him to mine according to the rules, or you can choose the fourth way, that is, we will kill that guy as the black carbon orochi said. ."

Whether it is to let Kinemon dig mines for 20 years or to be executed, it is impossible to accept, and Taoyuan Farm is the purpose of the beasts, no matter what the Shuangyue Yasushi family says, Jin has no intention of letting go.

In the end, for the safety of Kinemon, they had to agree to lease the Taoyuan Farm to the Hundred Beasts Pirates at the price of five silver per year. This is the last right that Denjiro won. At least this way, Taoyuan Farm still belongs to them in name.

"Can we take Kinemon now?"

"no."

"Why! Didn't I give it to you already!"

"You gave him the indulgence roll, but the medical expenses of the guards, the repair expenses of the house, the labor expenses of the warden, and the mental damage expenses of other guards, these are a total of 500 gold."

After paying a huge sum of money again, Denjiro finally saw Kinemon. At this time, he was bandaged like a mummy, and fell into a coma.

"What did you do to him?"

"I didn't do anything, I should wake up after sleeping for ten days and a half months. People are still alive and returned to you. We don't care about the future."

After so many years, Jhin's torture has long been more than just physical pain.

Compared with the physical pain, mental fatigue and pain are more tormenting. He did nothing but use a drug prepared by Naiqin to sharpen his five senses, and at the same time perceive time. Also more sensitive.

Then he was locked in a silent box made by Quinn, and stayed in an absolutely quiet environment for a long time. It seems that his injury is still left by Babanuki, but now Kinemon is mentally traumatized. bigger.

This matter seems to be over, but it is not completely over. Taoyuan Farm is an important crop production area in Jiuli, and the food source of Otian Castle basically depends on here.

In order to exchange for Kinemon, they had to rent it to the Beast Pirates at the price of cabbage, and then paid another sum of money. The most intuitive consequence of this was that they ran out of money.

And their food and drink all cost money, and the same is true for those employed in Oden Castle. Although the Shuangyue Yasushi family lent them a sum of money, it was only enough for temporary needs.

So these retainers began to repay the loan everywhere, and even their clothes were gradually patched.

In the next half month, everyone was at peace, but they had their own ideas behind their backs, and Arceus just had nothing to tease the children, and continued to use Yamato's luck.

This time, it's probability, let Yamato choose more places, and then use the place she chooses the most as the next exploration spot.

And the world will not be so peaceful forever. First, Kaido, who went out, came back. This time, he didn't pick up the child, but he found a Devil Fruit. Zoology, Spider Fruit, Ancient Species, Gerald's Rose Ancient Tarantula Form .

Soon after, in the sky above the Flower Capital, a battle broke out, not so much a battle as a hunting, Jhin and Shaina were hunting a man in white.

White cloaks, masks with strange patterns, neat suits, there is only one kind of person on the sea who will adopt this kind of dress, that is CP0.

And he will appear here because of the black charcoal orochi. Although the country of Wano has not completely become a weapons producer, with the help of Kaido, a large number of weapons factories have also appeared in the rabbit bowl.

Weapons have always been produced there, and these weapons are naturally to be sold. Kaido originally sold them to the black market through the way of beasts and fruits.

But Orochi thought that the profit was not enough, so he asked Heitan Muchan to contact the world government on his own initiative, and that CP0 was here to talk business.

But he didn't know that he had inadvertently committed the taboo of the beasts again and again. Although the business of the beasts was very big, Kaido adhered to a principle that he did not directly conduct any transactions with the world government. NOVELUS6.com

Although trade at sea cannot bypass the World Government, it is completely different to trade directly with it, and he did not trade directly because within the Beast Pirates, Jhin, Shaina, and especially Arceus are all There is a resistance to world governments.

Although he doesn't care, he can't help but take this emotion into account.

So he would rather let some middlemen earn the difference than trade directly with the World Government. The moment CP0 stepped into Wano, the knife on the snake's head dropped by two points again..

Chapter 164 What does the trade of the black charcoal serpent have to do with my beasts?

CP0, the full name of CIPHERPOL-AIGISO is called the strongest shield of the Tianlong people, protecting the safety of the Tianlong people. The selection of CP0 personnel is very strict, both loyalty and strength are required.

Loyalty is of course needless to say, but in terms of strength, they can't protect those Tianlong people without any strength. Although the Tianlong people have a noble status, attacking the Tianlong people will pay a huge price, but there are still many people who want the life of the Tianlong people. .

Because of the Tianlong people, there are not a few people whose families are destroyed. When a person loses everything, then all threats do not exist for him. The Tianlong people themselves are dishonest and often appear in various places. Sub-world governments have to make security plans.

Otherwise, most CP0s have to wear masks when they go out. On the one hand, it is needed for espionage operations, and on the other hand, it is really easy to be poked in the spine.

In order to divert the contradictions, the choice of the world government is to squeeze the non-joined countries, and at the same time use pirates to attract contradictions. Under this wonderful management method, there are more and more pirates in the sea, although the real era of pirates has not yet arrived. , but the turmoil of the sea is increasing day by day.

There are many powerful people among them. In this case, Hailou stone products have become just-needed products, but there are too few Hailou stones that can be found abroad.

Since the Kozuki family blocked Wano country countless years ago, the products of Wano country no longer flow out, and there are many Hailou stone handcuffs outside that are antique goods for hundreds of years.

At that time, because of Wano's terrain, domestic strength and various unknown reasons, the world government did not intervene, and the price paid was too great, so Wano entered a long period of closure.

Not long ago, the people of Black Carbon Orochi contacted the world government and proposed a stable sea tower transaction. The world government did not reject this matter, so this CPO was sent as a representative to Wano country.

Just ten minutes ago, he was still having a friendly exchange with Orochi.

I have to say that Orochi has done a good job of fox and tiger power. He has successfully used Kaido's current fame. At the time, the world government did not do anything else, but now times have changed.

If Wano Country itself becomes weak, the World Government may take the opportunity to take control of this place and completely grasp the output of Hailou Stone in its hands.

This is also one of the tasks of that agent, to observe the state of Wano.

So the black charcoal Orochi is full of Kaido's connection with himself, and borrowed Kaido's strength to successfully improve his negotiating position. Until this time, the news that the headquarters of the Beast Pirates had become Wano did not flow into the world government.

Wano Kingdom was too closed before. Even if they wanted to investigate, they only found the Beast Pirates in the waters near Wano Kingdom, but they didn't expect Kaido to have reached an agreement with the black charcoal orochoi.

If he left here, there might be another way out, but he didn't. Not only did he not leave, he was still hanging out in Wano Country.

This just hit Shaina in the face, and he was really limped by the black charcoal snake, believing that the beasts have a close connection with them.

This is one of the few abilities of Orochi. It is patient and foolish. When he is forbearing, he can lie down in the sewage and act as a pedal, allowing others to step on him.

"People from the World Government?"

"Woman, this has nothing to do with you." Those CPOs either follow the Tianlong people on weekdays, or execute orders on behalf of the world government, so most of them have an inexplicable sense of superiority.

He thinks that he came here to negotiate a deal with the Black Carbon Orochi, and according to the Black Carbon Orochi, he and Kaido are allies, so he, who represents the world government, is equal to Kaido and Orochi.

So there is some contempt for the officials of the Beast Pirates. After all, in the eyes of the world government, she is also a leader of Kaido.

"It's still the same face, you lackeys of the world government still can't learn to raise your eyes to look at people."

It was the same in the past, those CP0s rushed into their secluded village, and then started the massacre without saying a word, but now, the biggest change is that she is no longer that ordinary girl.

The word "lacking dog" seemed to touch his taboo, but before he could say anything, only a flaming fist greeted him.

"But it doesn't matter. Since you dare to appear here, you are ready to die."

Fist is an appetizer at most, Shaina's strength is at least 70% on her two legs, this CP0 is slightly higher than her, but it doesn't affect anything. ηoVe1USb.COM

The left leg stepped on the ground with force, and the masonry that was originally laid underneath was shattered in a large area. At the same time, her wings shook behind her, and her right knee hit his chin directly.

CP0 was obviously stunned for a moment, never expecting Shaina to make a move directly, which caused Shaina's knee to slammed into his chin.

Then a violent flame erupted from her wrist, and the flame wrapped the entire arm in the blink of an eye, and also smashed towards his head. This was a combo of flying knee kicks and flame fists. Suddenly, he was hit hard from the chin. At that moment, his consciousness entered a brief faint.

Immediately after, he was hit on the cheek by a fist wrapped in flames, and the whole person was immediately thrown out by the hammer, directly hitting the place where the rebels were imprisoned by the big snake. secondary damage.

The people who were originally guarding here scattered, they didn't know what happened, and just as they ran away, a flame burned over, and the intense high temperature evaporated the water contained in the land. The rainy and wet land is dried in an instant.

But he is also a CP0 after all, so he won't lose his fighting power with just two hits, but he also sensed something was wrong, and Shaina wanted to kill him directly with these two hits.

Looking at the deadly flame, he still avoided it, and when he got up again, the muddy clothes made him no longer proud.

"Wait, I made a deal with the Black Charcoal Orochi."

"What does the transaction between you and the black charcoal snake have to do with me?"

He thought that the other party had misunderstood something, but when he mentioned the name of the black charcoal snake, the other party's attack became more severe, and he narrowly avoided the other party's kick. The kick flew out.

"Shaina, what's going on?"

"CP0, agent of the World Government, do you need any other reason?"

"It's really not necessary." So a row of rock thorns suddenly appeared from the ground, and at the same time, a vortex of flames also blocked his retreat.

It was Jhin who appeared here. He was originally going to send something to Youkuo, but he just discovered the situation here, and the tacit understanding between him and Shaina needless to say, the sharp stone attack and the flame vortex instantly formed a combined attack .

Chapter 165 Black Charcoal Orochi, I Hate You

However, a black shadow burst into the air in the flames, and his figure became much more swollen than before.

His whole body was burning when he rushed out of the sea of fire, but those burning things fell off quickly, revealing his original appearance again.

It seems that the sharp stone attack did not cause effective damage, and it seemed that he had avoided it in some way, and the flames left by the flame vortex were also blocked by something. .

"Those who can?"

"CP0, it's not surprising that they are capable people. Although these guys are annoying, they are not weak, but he seems to want to escape, and he is quite skilled at using moon steps."

"Then chase, it's not convenient for Mary Joa to go, how could the guy who sent him let him leave."

Two figures, one red and one black, chased into the sky at the same time, and a chasing battle began.

The Six Forms are the basic skills of CP0, but although the moon step gives people the ability to walk and jump in the air, it is much worse than the real flight.

Fossil pterosaurs were the hegemony in the sky in ancient times, and Shaina's acceleration in the battle just now was already full. The developed leg strength and the characteristics of the flaming chicken gave her the ability to use air power, and her flight speed was faster than that of her. It's only fast but not slow.

The CP0 at this time had a stomach full of swear words and wanted to greet the Black Charcoal Orochi and his relatives.

【I am closely connected with Kaido and he is supporting my actions. 】 novelusB.com

【Behind me is the Beast Pirates, they will not agree to this price. 】

【There are beasts guarding here, you can't get in. 】

Orochi's vowed tone came to his mind just now, and now he has only two words to answer him, "Fart!"

As long as the relationship is better, it is impossible to do such a thing. Originally, the attack of the other party was murderous, but after he said that he was the partner of the black carbon snake, the other party just wanted to tear him apart. .

This is not a collaborator, but an enemy.

In the process of escaping, he took out the phone bug in his hand. According to the current situation analysis, he felt that it was difficult for him to leave here, but at least he had to pass the news of Wano country back. Big miscalculation.

But for some reason, the phone bug in his hand suddenly stopped responding, and he couldn't contact the outside world at all.

At this time, on the ghost island, Arceus, who was teasing Yamato and playing, looked in the direction of the flower capital. The distance was very far, and he could only see two small dots burning with flames, but this was enough to explain what happened. - Intruder.

Otherwise, this kind of battle would not have been launched, so he interfered with the signal frequency over Wano Kingdom, the wave of water, the wave of evil, the wave of dragon, and there are many wave-based abilities in Pokémon's abilities.

The working principle of the phone bug is to convert the human voice into the voice of the phone bug and transmit it over a long distance, which is a unique fluctuation frequency.

The power of the fluctuations and the electromagnetic waves of the lightning slate, the signal over Wano Country has been completely disrupted, and his phone can not be called.

And this kind of fluctuation is specifically aimed at snails. If there is something inside the Beast Pirates, the snail's phone can still be called.

"lucky? Fly? Fire?"

Looking at the light spot in the distance, Yamato said a few words intermittently, as if interested.

"Kaido, is there some kind of fireworks show in Wano country? Let them come tonight, Yamato seems to be very interested."

"It's up to you, but do you want to take a gamble and see how long it takes the two of them to get rid of that bug?"

"No interest. From the moment he exposed his back to the hunter, death has become a foregone conclusion. The length of time is meaningless. After all, this is our base camp."

In the eyes of Kaido and Arceus, that intruder is nothing at all, at most it can be a target of entertainment.

CP0 angrily dropped the phone bug in his hand. The phone bug fell from the sky with a look of daze and confusion, and finally landed in the canal near the Flower Capital. At this time, Jin and Shaina had already caught up. .

Although there is still some distance, the attack has already arrived.

"Scorching Star Flying Emperor!"

A rock blade was formed behind Jhin in the form of a fossilized pterosaur, and the flames of the Lunaria tribe were attached to it. Jhin at this time was a high-speed fighter.

The change that happened to the CP0 was similar to when he just rushed out of the flame vortex, his body became slightly cystic, and there was domineering attached to it, but this change slowed down his speed, and all the rock bullets released by Jhin hit as many as possible. , but the effect is indeed limited.

Then his hair grew rapidly, and under the manipulation of the return of life, it turned into a large net to shine at Jhin, and the attack composed of his hair naturally couldn't stop Jhin.

Although he has domineering on his hair, the area of domineering is limited. Before he can damage Jhin, Jhin has already broken free from his shackles, but the CP0 once again showed a slightly amused expression. , seems to have achieved something.

Crossed his arms and took Shaina's foot, and the things on his body began to fall off again, revealing the new skin underneath.

"I am a proliferator who has eaten the proliferative fruit, and can freely grow things in the body, hair, cuticle, and skin, of course, including viruses in the body.

Those viruses were specially injected into my body, they are dormant on weekdays, and you have already inhaled a sufficient amount of virus powder in the battle just now. Now as long as I activate my ability again, you will immediately fall ill! "

Hearing his words, Shaina's body froze, but it wasn't because of the so-called virus.

According to what he said, the way he blocked his attack just now should be to rapidly multiply the skin on the surface of the body, allowing a large amount of dead skin to form a buffer layer, which is also the way he rushed out of the flame vortex.

This also means that after the thought that she just kicked a pile of dead skin came to her mind, a disgusting feeling came from her mind. She was also a girl, and she realized what she had kicked on. After that, I suddenly felt unclean.

The flames covered her whole body, her feet were a little faster, and she charged with flashing flames. It didn't matter if this move would cause some back injuries. She would use the flames to cleanse herself, and then send that disgusting guy to die quickly.

Seeing that Shaina didn't stop, he immediately activated his ability, trying to make the virus in their bodies work, but until Shaina kicked through his chest, his ability did not take effect.

It wasn't because the flames killed the virus. Those things in his body were biological weapons specially cultivated by the World Government, and they were inherently resistant to high temperatures. The reason for his failure was the blood of the Lunaria family.

Their bloodline is extremely resistant, and it can be said that they are immune to all bacteria and viruses known to human beings.

Chapter 166

"Jin, go and report to the Holy Beast-sama and Mr. Kaido."

Although Flare Charge had a counter-injury, the Lunaria clan's physique plus domineering, the counter-injury wouldn't have much impact, but Shaina still left the matter to Jhin.

"What are you going to do?"

"I'm going to take a shower, this bastard's ability... is disgusting."

"The soup house in the capital of flowers has a good reputation."

"Forget it, don't you know that the place is a mixed bath? I can't stand this. Bai Wu has a hot spring. I'll go back a few hours later and tell me."NOvelusb.cOmm

After she said that, she left here. That kick had already pierced through the opponent's chest, not to mention proliferation, even regeneration would be damned.

So Shaina left immediately and handed over the finishing touches to Jhin, she felt sick looking at that CP0.

But I don't know why, when Jin took off the other party's mask, he found that he was a little restless, and his eyes kept looking in the direction of Orochi's residence in the flower capital.

"This guy seems unwilling, but why do people from the World Government come here?"

Jin did not deal with the body directly, but called Quinn. According to what he said before his death, he seemed to have a lot of dormant viruses in his body. He was not sure whether the high temperature could kill those viruses.

If you can't, disposing of the body rashly will only lead to the spread of the virus, which will be a disaster for Wano Country.

The signal of the snails was not affected. After listening to Jhin's words, Quinn hurriedly came here with a small group of people, all of them wearing airtight chemical protective suits, like astronauts.

"What about it? This kind of thing scares you like this?" Looking at Quinn, who looked like a big wine barrel under the chemical suit, Jhin couldn't understand this idea.

"Do you think everyone is like a pervert like you? The things in the hands of the world government may have any impact. Lao Tzu's bananas haven't been harvested yet, of course, you have to be careful."

said that he took out a strange instrument and swept the surroundings. He breathed a sigh of relief when he saw that there was no response. Then he brought a large airtight cover and put him and the ground below in it.

"There is a crater on the nearby island, you go and throw it in, and that's it."

"I'm going to report the situation here to Brother Kai, this guy will be handed over to you, oh, by the way, he seemed to have thrown something during the previous battle, it should have fallen into the river, you can find it yourself. Just a moment."

As the only person with the ability to fly, Quinn could only take over the trouble, and the rest of the younger brothers also began to search along the canal, and finally found the phone bug in the evening.

The Phoneworm itself is capable of survival, and in that case it crawled to the bank with difficulty, but almost died when it was found.

At this time, the black charcoal snake was very panic. He saw the battle over the flower capital. The people of the Beast Pirates and the people sent by the world government fought a battle, and they also killed the people of the world government. Let the black charcoal snake understand that he seems to have misestimated the relationship of the other party.

He knew that the pirates and the world government were hostile, but he thought that the interests would make Kaido forbearance, but the result told him that he was wrong.

Soon after, the residents of the Flower City saw a blue dragon flying straight into the residence of the black charcoal serpent.

"Well, Orochi, you seem to have done a lot of good things in private." Although Kaido was laughing, his laughter brought him an endless sense of oppression. He wants to get out of here now.

After all, Kaido has been playing with his mace since he came in.

"Ha, I'm not trying to find some sales. The weapon factory has already started production. Only by selling them can they be exchanged for money."

"You think too much. Since you are so busy, let's change our share to six or four, you four, and I six." Originally, they divided the business of Wano country by 55.

But as soon as this happened, Kaido would directly take 10% of the proceeds, and this was already a very polite behavior.

The reason why is so polite is because, in his opinion, Orochi is already a dead person, and he has nothing to do with dead people, but he has to express his position on this matter, so Kaido starts with profit division.

Because of Kaido's pressure, Black Charcoal Orochi had to agree to this request.

"By the way, this is the first time. If you dare to contact someone who shouldn't be contacted again, be careful of your head." As he said that, an aura erupted from Kaido.

The domineering arrogance of the overlord was completely pressed on the black charcoal Orochi, and the people in the Orochi City fell one by one. There are few people here who can withstand Kaido's domineering.

During the period of time that Kaido was away from here, there was unprecedented silence here, and the residence of Orochi became like a ghost town.

At the same time, the world government also found a problem, it is very time-consuming to cultivate a CP0, and their tasks are usually related to the secret of the world government, so their leaders have their life cards in their hands.

His life card disappeared the moment he died, which made the people above feel puzzling.

It was only a moment ago that he reported that Hundred Beasts had reached an alliance with Black Charcoal Orochi to live in Wano, and said that he had obtained the business of Hailou Stone, but such a big accident happened not long after.

The cause of his death became one thing that had to be figured out.

CP0 is generally a team system. He died, and the remaining teammates naturally took over the task.

Now three masked people in different shapes are discussing their next actions.

"It's unreasonable that he didn't send back any information before he died." CP0 has encountered a lot of accidents during missions, but according to their training, if it is a mortal situation, then they must find a way to send the information back.

"Wano country is now occupied by Kaido. If they really reached an agreement, why would he die there? If it is another enemy, then the beasts can't just sit idly by.

None of the pirates will tolerate others doing things in their own territory, and it's not as if any news will not come out. I think Kaido is more likely to do it. "

"Is there any contact information for that black charcoal snake? Maybe he will know why."

"No, it was a one-sided contact that time, and the only phone bug that could contact Wano was on him."

Today, the world government cannot choose to attack Wano. They have not done so in the past few hundred years. Although they are dead, a CP0 will not make the world government angry.

The unknown of Wano and the others did not dare to enter rashly. In the end, with a tentative purpose, they got through the CP0 agent, and unexpectedly, the phone was picked up.

"Who are you, the owner of the phone bug?"

"He's dead, and Wano is not a place you should be involved in. You actually believe in the trash of the black charcoal snake?"

Chapter 167 The Phone Bug

The process of communication was very short, but it allowed them to understand the identity of each other - the Beast Pirates.

"His attitude was very unfriendly and it was difficult to make contact."

"It's difficult to get in touch. It's impossible for the people above to give up the Hailoushi transaction. We need Hailoushi products and weapons unique to the country of Wano. Buying on the black market is not only expensive, but also the quality and quantity cannot be guaranteed. We A stable supplier is needed."

"He was in contact with the Black Charcoal Orochi before. Have we misestimated the internal relationship of Wano? The relationship between the Beast Pirates and the Black Charcoal Orochi seems to be less friendly."

"It's not surprising that that guy's character irritates those pirates."

"They're on the phone, so there's still a possibility to talk. Let's sort out their information first."

After a brief discussion, they thought that they had misunderstood the focus of Wano's contact. Previously, they mainly focused on the Black Charcoal Orochi, but now it seems that the Black Charcoal Orochi has no place in the country of Wano, and the beasts are the dominant.

In this case, we have to re-plan.

Ghost Island, many people looked puzzled after hanging up the phone. They didn't want to answer the call at all, but Arceus found a pirate to let him pass this kind of information and give them a way to communicate. Feel.

And the purpose of all this is not for anything else, but to make this phone bug remember the phone bug of CP0 on the opposite side.

"Remember that companion just now?"

After hanging up the phone, Arceus was communicating with the phone bug. After being thrown by the agent, it almost lost most of its life. Although it was picked up, in general, this phone bug has not been repaired.

The wounded snail will only be abandoned and die slowly, but Arceus found a new use for the snail, so he turned it into an ammonite and replenished its vitality with drops of life.

And the purpose is to eavesdrop. There is a black phone bug among the phone bugs. They like to exchange messages with the same kind, so they are used as bugs.

And there are no number of phone bugs in the world. If you want to eavesdrop accurately, you need the phone bug's number, and the incoming call gives this opportunity.

Ammonite has already memorized this number, and the phone bug is grateful. The phone bug rescued by Bucky in the war was moved to tears by Bucky.

And this phone bug also has such a mentality. They want to be used as a communication tool because they want to find a master who can eat and eat. Repay them, so I took up the task.

"remember"

Remembering the phone bug in that band, and exchanging information with it is its task. The phone bug whose intelligence level has been upgraded has since become the eavesdropping specialist of the Beast Pirates, specializing in stealing part of the information of the world government.

As for why it can speak, the phone bug can imitate human voices and understand human language. After becoming an ammonite beast for ascension, it can speak human language even when it is not on the phone.

He did this to prevent problems before they happened. The Lunaria tribe and the current world government have a deep blood feud. There is no hostility yet, but the time is not yet. Since there will be hostility sooner or later, of course, we must prepare early.

"Find a reliable person, and his task in the future is to feed it, understand?"

So Quinn became the breeder of this new phone bug. He already had dozens of snails from Wano country in his hand, and it would not be difficult to have one more phone bug.

"Okay, there's nothing else to do, just do what you need to do. By the way, how's the fireworks event going?"

"It's ready to start anytime, but it's best to wait until it gets darker."

Although it is not yet the time to produce fireworks in Wano, there are many weapons factories in Wano. It is no problem to take some gunpowder from the weapons for making weapons and use them as raw materials for fireworks after improvement.

The firework craftsmen in the Rabbit Bowl area are almost all brought to a factory, and their task is to make qualified fireworks.

Each firework is marked with a name, and the person who took them to the factory has already said that the person who makes the most satisfying firework can get an extra reward of 100 gold.

In this case, everyone mustered their strength and used their housekeeping skills.

Tonight's Wano country is destined to be very lively. At the same time as the moon rises in the sky, the prepared fireworks are also lit one after another in an open space.

The fireworks in the sky startled Yamato at first, but as the metallic powder started to burn in the air, the gorgeous pattern caught all her interest.

The same is true for Jack and Maria. Although the fireworks were prepared for Yamato, not only the three children on Onishima, but the whole Wano country saw the grand fireworks.

In order to get the so-called reward, the craftsmen did their best, and the larger the fireworks, the greater the effect, so the amount of medicine needed to be increased, so the flight altitude would be higher, even in the farthest Ximei, You can also vaguely see the movement of the ghost island here.

"Mom, why are there fireworks today?"

"Maybe some big man is celebrating his birthday."

"Can I have my birthday like this too?"

"No way, Kentaro, we don't have the ability."

In the closed Wano country, fireworks are actually controlled products. They are released by shoguns and daimyo organizations only at certain times of the year. Usually, they can only be seen during the fire festival, the New Year, or the day when the shogun takes the throne.

Usually they can see it at most twice a year. They can't imagine that this grand fireworks show is just because Yamato is interested in it, so the Beast Pirates organized this fireworks show.

Onishima also took this opportunity to hold a banquet, and Quinn was hosting the banquet with a microphone.

The people on the ghost island are revelling, and the ordinary people of Wano country are enjoying the fireworks. The daimyo from other townships are not too impressed, but there are two groups of people who are not interested in enjoying the fireworks.

The first is the black charcoal snake. He was stunned by Kaido's overlord color. He just woke up. Hearing the explosion of fireworks, he thought it was the Beast Pirates attacking. Is it right to let the beasts come here?

And in Kuri, the retainers of Kozuki Oden are also not interested in watching fireworks, all the reasons are Kinemon.

Although he was redeemed, he was seriously injured, not only physically, but also mentally. At first, he didn't even dare to sleep. It took many days of cultivation to fall asleep like a normal person.

But today's fireworks frightened him again, and his state was broken again.

Chapter 168 I think there are traitors among us

The phone bug, the Ammonite beast, who has taken refuge in Hundred Beasts, works very hard, but Quinn is a little unhappy when it works hard.

The specific thing is this. After remembering the number of the phone bug, in order to repay the life-saving grace, it recorded two or three additional numbers based on the contact signal of the phone bug.

Telephone bugs are a huge snail group. It is not surprising that they were related to each other before. After all, the same batch of phone bugs may have been made from the same nest of snails.

It really doesn't know which phone is more important, but it can understand human language, so it knows what honorifics are.

If you want to get news from your companions, you have to say good things to them, so the number it can remember is limited.

In order to get more critical information, it specially remembered those companions who used honorifics.

The life of a phone bug is very fitting, except for those monitoring phone bugs who need to work shifts, ordinary phone bugs spend most of their time resting when they are not on the phone.

So when the phone rings, no matter the day or night, they can immediately convey the message, the phone bugs can't write, and most of the time they can just relay the words of their companions, not record those words in their minds.

So when he receives the message, he will remind the person next to him to come and record it quickly. It is fine during the day, as long as it makes a sound as usual, but not at night.

So Quinn would often fall asleep and be woken up by the water gun of the ammonite beast.

On this peaceful night, he suffered the same thing as before, a stream of water sprayed at his face and woke him from his sleep.

"These bastards. Can't they call during the day!"

In fact, it's daytime, but it's Mary Joa's daytime. Of course, the officials mainly use their own time to contact the outside world. Even CP0 can't guarantee that they will only have tasks during the daytime, let alone their eavesdropping.

"No, I have to find Big Brother Kai for someone on the night shift, otherwise my hair won't be able to stand it."

Recorded the information that the ammonite beast had eavesdropped on in a small notebook, and looked at the moon in the night sky, Quinn thought he needed an assistant.

"You're already bald, don't care about the details."

"I shaved it myself! You are just a snail, do you know how to appreciate the beauty of human beings! After all, can't you write down the message yourself?" Novelusb.com

"I don't know how to write, and I'm just repaying my benefactor." After speaking, he retracted into his shell, a must-have skill for a phone bug, sleep with his eyes closed.

And although many of the eavesdropped messages are of no value to the beasts, there are things about them.

【Contact the Beast Pirates to get the trade price. 】

But because that CP0 died inexplicably, the people behind didn't dare to enter Wano country rashly, mainly trying to communicate by phone.

Although Kaido always answers the phone, he doesn't agree every time, giving the World Government a feeling that it can be traded, but it can't meet the psychological needs of the other party.

Even using a few animal-type Devil Fruits as equivalents failed to reach a deal, so the CP0 team was very troubled, and the three sat together and talked about the beasts.

"What the * does that guy want?"

"Forget it, there are enough things flowing out of the black market. It's better to contact Kaido and find a few more businessmen in the underground world."

"Their goods are still from Kaido, and they are still unreliable. If Kaido cuts off the supply, there is no way to do it. Can they only use that thing?"

The news of the Beast Pirates collecting slates in the black market is very common, and the World Government does have them, but it is not convenient to directly take them out for trading.

"It's not easy to do, although there is no clue, but Vega Punk has not given up, as for the collection of Tianlong people."

"Look at it again, that guy is doing so much business and it is impossible to give up the profits he has obtained. I am afraid that the price is not enough, but I think something is wrong.

Why every time we talk, I feel that we have no secrets at all, he seems to know where our bottom line is? "

Every negotiation can't be effective. What they can give will always be different from Kaido's psychological price. If the news is not transmitted directly from the headquarters, he will suspect that there is an undercover.

As for the anti-eavesdropping white phone bug, that kind of phone bug is too rare, not everyone can equip it, only the real top-secret mission will be equipped with that kind of phone bug.

Their qualifications for this task have not yet reached that level.

"How about those failures of Punk Hassad? Isn't that guy Kaido recruiting? Those giants might be of interest to him."

"You mean that the goal is to resurrect the ancient giants, but in the end, people are not ghosts or ghosts, and those things that can only scare people except to eat?"

"It's a failure anyway, so if it can be traded, it can be considered valuable."

That was Punk Hazard's experimental plan, the purpose was to create ancient giant warriors, but they were not completely successful, and the monsters they produced had low IQs, making it difficult to meet their needs.

In this world, it is not enough to have a huge body. Many strong people have a way to deal with those giants. If their intelligence is not enough, pulling them into the battlefield is a living target.

Though the giants that were made were bigger than the general giants, their intelligence was too low, and they had a huge appetite. Using them was far inferior to cultivating a few lieutenant generals of the giants.

So it was identified as a failed product and it was frozen, but now it has been mentioned, and I plan to use it as a waste.

They won't trade the really useful weapons of war.

These are also the tyrants of the Beast Pirates on the original timeline, but they are basically useless except to clean up miscellaneous soldiers and scare people.

"We can't control those things, we have to report it to the top, and Kaido's preferences are too strange, haven't the people sent to investigate yet?"

"It should be soon, they seem to have infiltrated Kaido's territory not long ago."

This territory does not refer to the country of Wano. The Beast Pirates also have many territories in the outside world. Those territories are not as dangerous as the country of Wano, and it is not difficult to get in.

Where do they want to inquire about the information, and they also have a previous mission, which is to collect information on the Beast Pirates.

There is more than one CP0 in the world government's secret service organization. This kind of small task is all done by other departments. For example, at this time, a pirate ship that has just arrived in the new world is heading to the territory outside the Beast Pirates.

According to the route, they will soon reach the island guarded by Scotch.

Chapter 169 The combination of transforming people and empowering them

According to convention, a pirate who can reach the Chambord Islands alive will be called a new star among pirates, and it is impossible for many people to walk through the first half of the great route.

And the pirates with a reward of over 100 million will be called supernovas. They are either superior in strength, or they are notorious for committing many * crimes. Because of the great harm, the reward is increased.

And these pirates in the first half also have a characteristic. I don't know the depth. It is difficult to find someone from the new world who has the courage to challenge the famous pirates.

They know how powerful those monsters are, and only those who don't know how high the sky is have the courage to go to sea for a short time.

Especially those supernovas, because their own bounty often has a kind of blind self-confidence, and they will make very irrational situations with a little fooling.

Pangling, one of the members of CP9, codenamed Pangolin, joined the Pumpkin Pirates in the first half of the Great Route a few months ago.

Captain is the supernova of this issue, the pumpkin maniac-Cebroro, is a pirate with a strange obsession with pumpkins, even the pirate ship looks like a huge pumpkin.

A bounty of 110 million Bailey was offered. The way he infiltrated this pirate group was very simple, pretending that he was also an avid pumpkin lover, and now he has gained the trust of Cebroro.

Not long ago, he received a mission from the organization to try to convince Cebroro to go to Kaido's territory and investigate some situations there.

This investigation is of course not an ordinary investigation. If it is just to investigate the news, an agent pretending to be a businessman has already gone to those islands. His mission is to cause a dispute between Cebrolo and the Beast Pirates.

Judging some things by observing the fighting style, the main purpose is to observe the fighting style of those with strange abilities in the territory of the beasts.

Ordinary islands may not have them, but there must be guards on the main island of the Beast Pirates, and there is a high probability that such people have peculiar abilities.

As for how to fool Cebrolo, it is not difficult for Panglin. He mixed on the ship as a navigator, and he was originally planning the route.

As for Cebroro's own opinion, as long as you tell him that there may be delicious pumpkins there, he will have no opinion. Many people go to sea for inexplicable reasons.

For example, this Cebroro, his goal at the beginning was to find the best pumpkin, but he has some problems himself.

There were countless pumpkins growing on the island when he was not at sea, so he did not get sick, but the lack of supplies during the long voyage was a common thing, which caused him to become manic from time to time.

is somewhat similar to BIG-MOM's eating disorder, but not exactly the same. This problem and his character made him a pirate with a bounty in the end.

While the Pumpkin Pirates were adjusting their routes, on Winter Island, Scourge was patrolling with a group of people on a daily basis.

Most of the Hundred Beasts' elites were brought into Wano by Kaido, but the outside territories were not powerless to fight back. Relying on the prestige of the Hundred Beast Pirates during this period, life here was generally very stable.

Scourge stepped on the snow with his heavy feet, and the snow on his shoulders was scattered.

Kaido and Arceus handed over the safety of the island to him, which he considers to be the importance of himself, and meticulously completes his tasks every day.

And following him were not members of the Beast Pirates, but Gabriel and the villager patrols he led.

After Kaido left here, there have been several invaders here. The Beast Pirates have changed the way of life here for several years. These people are also used to the shelter of the beasts.

Especially what happened after Kaido moved out of here, made them understand that the stability of this island has a lot to do with Kaido, and those initially opposed voices gradually disappeared.
novELusB.com

In order to better stabilize the lives of the villagers, Gabriel even organized the original team to take charge of the security of the village, and also gave the pirates who stayed here more helpers.

"A pirate ship is coming! It's a flag I've never seen before!"

New news came from the checkpoint in the port, which was also Gabul's least favorite situation. Unseen flags basically meant newcomers, and those newcomers meant that the stability of the island would be broken again.

The territory of the big pirates has its own rules, and ordinary pirates in the Totland Sea will be directly destroyed if they enter without permission.

But that's Charlotte Lingling's special ability. The mass-produced Hormitz makes her a lot of troops. Kaido doesn't have so many people to monitor all the sea areas, but those who land must also pay the toll.

"Shore gun, get ready." Scourge raised his left hand as he looked at the pirates approaching. Over the years, he took the initiative to have Quinn undergo more body transformations. The entire upper body is original only below the left shoulder. .

The excellent military capability has allowed the island to build a number of coastal defense artillery, and the style of the entire island is similar to that of a fortress.

They don't know what this pirate ship is for, but as long as there is an intention to dock, they must pay the toll.

The pirates on the watchtower raised a semaphore, signaling to stop the Pumpkin Pirates.

But the other party didn't mean to stop at all, instead he directly chose to shoot.

"Confirm the enemy, fight back, and annihilate them all." Scourge gave an order to the gunner, and then his legs and left hand changed into two large magnets, and only the revolver gun in his right arm remained.

Then his huge body slowly floated up against the rules of gravity, and electricity began to flow on his body.

Transformation form - Magneto, but he is the most special one among the many people who have acquired abilities in the Beast Pirates. The reason why he was transformed into a small magnet has a lot to do with his identity as a transforming person.

His ability is not determined by himself, but comes from the whims of Arceus, whose root is his ability to transform people.

The property of "steel" was replaced by the transformation of the human body, and then the power of thunder and lightning was integrated, and finally the ability of Magneto was born. Since it is a transformation of human beings, this modification is the most labor-saving compared to others.

The big magnet in his left hand aimed at the other party's pumpkin boat, the electric current began to condense in the front part of the magnet, and a lightning ball containing enormous power condensed in his hand.

While floating in the air, he naturally attracted the attention of the other party. A series of gunshots sounded, and countless bullets were shot at him, but nothing happened except for a crisp sound.

The small magnetized monster is not only composed of steel, but also has a strong magnetic force. The bullets are disturbed by the strong magnetic force when they approach, and they are attracted to the body after losing their kinetic energy.

Nap was overdone.

Chapter 170 The ghost is in action

Powerful magnetism and a steel-like body, these are the most basic abilities brought by Magneto. Magneto can also ignore gravity by emitting electromagnetic waves through the magnets on their bodies, which is the principle of their own flight.

There are many directions for development, but it is up to Scourge on which step he can achieve. At this time, he will only use some basic abilities, such as the magnetic force of attracting bullets.

The material of the bullets here is very mixed, and pure copper bullets are rare.

At this time, the electric current condensed on the magnet in his hand is his strongest attack.

Electric cannon, a powerful attack after condensing electric current, requires a certain charging time due to its powerful power.

"This is the territory of the Beast Pirates, intruders, you have to pay for it."

Then the electromagnetic gun was released, and the huge electric current directly pierced a large hole in the pumpkin boat. The powerful penetrating force directly penetrated the hull.

The coastal defense guns on the island are not decorations. They also train on weekdays. The parameters of the nearby sea area have already been recorded, and it is impossible for this kind of fixed target to be empty.

"Is it so easy this time?"

Gabriel, who was in command of the coastal defense artillery, showed an unbelievable look. There were pirates who used to challenge things, but those pirates were somewhat capable. After Kaido left, they still had the ability to break through to the island.

That's why he organized the previous defense team to prevent scattered pirates from breaking into their village.

It is rare for pirates to be directly destroyed by artillery on the sea without any resistance like this.

"Can such a person also come to the new world?"

If the pirates have a chain of contempt, then the pirates from the new world look down on the pirates in Paradise, the pirates in Paradise look down on the pirates in the four seas, the pirates in the four seas look down on the pirates, and the pirates look down on all the pirates.

These New World-born inhabitants share similar views.

In fact, Panglin has a great responsibility for this matter. Not all pirates will go to sea when they are ready. Some people go to sea for inexplicable reasons. They do not rely on navigators to sail, but rely on grandma in their hometown.

The Pumpkin Pirates are similar. The only person on their ship who understands navigation and semaphore is Panglin, an undercover agent. He translated the semaphore of the beasts into provocation. After all, this is his mission.

This led to this situation. Taking advantage of the smoke of the explosion, he had quietly left here with a moon step. His plan had been completed, and the remaining tasks had nothing to do with him.

"Mission completed, No. 2 is ready for action."

"Number Two understands."

This is a person who has already infiltrated this Winter Island. They have no way to verify the identity of everyone. This agent sneaked into this Winter Island with other businessmen a few days ago.

As long as he doesn't do any damage, then basically no one can find out his identity.

And the battle between Cebroro and Scourge has begun.

"You actually ruined my favorite pumpkin boat!"

Having nothing to say to this kind of fool who just rushed out of paradise, Scourge directly launched a new attack.

"I've cut down too many capable people, just iron shells, don't take yourself too seriously! Pumpkin cut!"

However, while he was swinging the knife, a huge gravitational force came from the side. Affected by the magnetic force, the knife in his hand was not able to swing out as he thought.

Then Cebroro's mouth suddenly opened, and he spit out a series of pumpkin seeds. Since they were not metal, Scourge's magnetism could not affect them, and all these seeds hit him.

"Stop looking down on people, I don't even have the qualifications to let you speak, is this guy dumb! Isn't he a capable person, what's there to be proud of!"

Taking a closer look, his feet are constantly spewing seeds down, and they are powered by them to fly in the air.

This is the fruit he ate on the island where he was born - the pumpkin fruit, after which he used this ability and also became more obsessed with pumpkins.

"The newcomers in Paradise are getting more and more stupid. Brother Quinn gave me a new body, and Lord Holy Beast gave me great power. You don't even know what the mighty power of God is!"

The huge magnet hit his body, and in the middle of the magnet, a brand new electromagnetic cannon has been condensed.

In Paradise, they are called supernovas. They are the best among pirates. The navy, pirates, and weather in the first half failed to stop them, but in the new world, there are so many pirates like cow feathers, and the destruction of the Pumpkin Pirates did not even exist. Get the attention of the islanders.noVeleusB.cOM

But this time is different. For example, among the grain merchants who stayed on the island, one of the young-looking porters seemed to be very interested in this.

"It's so strong, is this the pirate of the New World?" As he said that, he suddenly ran towards Scourge, who was returning, and no one around him stopped him.

"Who recruited this kid?!"

The owner of the caravan watched him rush towards the pirates and was frightened for a while. They have been doing business with pirates, but the principle is to talk less, watch less, listen less, and do more.

He has seen too many pirates who turn their faces and don't recognize people, so he generally doesn't have much contact with pirates.

The man himself died fine, but he was worried that an accident would set fire to the entire caravan.

"Uncle, uncle, can I become so strong if I join you?"

As a special agent, acting is a must, and now he is trying to act a young man attracted by the power of pirates.

Most of the pirates will not reject a person like him. The pirates also need to replenish their blood. If the pirate group becomes a senior club, it will be eliminated by the world.

"As long as you make achievements, you can also get gifts. Even if you are beaten and lose half of your body, Quinn can repair people." He said and patted his iron shell.

If it wasn't for Quinn's human body transformation, he would have been basically a crippled person, so among the small cadres of the beasts, Scourge has the most respect for Quinn.

However, since he transformed a large proportion of people, the sentences lacked some emotion, and the sentence segmentation was rather strange. This creates an ambiguity that makes it seem like his Magneto abilities are also related to Quinn.

Afterwards, the agent said a few words pretending to be envious, and was pulled away by another undercover agent.

"Sorry, sorry, this kid is ignorant and bothering you." Their task was to investigate the situation, not undercover pirates, so they left here after they got the information they wanted.

After the integration of the information collected by others, a new document was sent to the Navy's science class.

Although Vega Punk is the leader of this science class, he has never been interested in this kind of news. When the second-in-command of the science class saw the news, he showed an incredible expression.
