

Arceus 201

Chapter 201 Begins Dihua Chief

For Zeraora, only Arceus, who created him, can bear the name of God, Gan Fol is just a stronger ordinary person in his perception.

So in Zeraora's view, Gan Fol is not worthy of the word god.

"Don't worry about Zeraora, we are not the protagonists in this battle." He looked at the chief, who nominally helped the Shandians regain their homeland, and it was not them who declared war.

And at this time, Gan Fol just happened to drive the Pegasus under his crotch to come over.

Although it is said to be a horse, it actually only has the shape of a horse in general. There is no such creature as a pegasus in the sky island.

The dense black circular spots on the pink skin are the proof of its race. The black spots are all over the body, even the back of the wings. This black spot alone can cause some people to feel uncomfortable on the psychological level.

"I am the **** Gan Fu here, from Shandia and Qinghai, why are you here?"

"Gan Fur! Stop talking nonsense, of course we are here to take back our homeland and return Appayado!"

"Kodor, I told you, we can sit down and talk about many things, there is no need to fight."

"Okay, you air islanders get out of there, return Appajado to us, and we can talk about the rest." When he spoke, he had already carried the DIY rocket on his shoulder, and the muzzle was pointed at Gan Fuer's. direction.

"It's impossible, Appayado has been an integral part of Sky Island for hundreds of years."

"Then there's nothing to talk about."

Looking at the situation of the Shandians, Gan Fur prepared for battle.

Although he likes to fight, the manager of an island is responsible for facing the enemy.

In the White Sea, the soil is a very precious thing. It has no fixed value, but has an incomparable meaning.

After Shandora was washed to the sky island, the island became the island of the gods of the sky island, Apayado, and became the place where the sky island managers lived, and ordinary sky island residents could not enter at will.

So the conflict between the Shandians is not the conflict with the entire Sky Islanders, but the conflict with the Sky Island ruling class.

Gan Foer tried to negotiate with the Sandians, but the fundamental contradiction between the two sides could not be reconciled.

The Sandians wanted these invaders to leave their homeland, and the Sky Islanders were unwilling to give up so much land.

If you want to break this contradiction, unless there is a more powerful enemy, and at the same time regard the Sandia and Sky Islanders as enemies, their contradictions can only be reconciled under the oppression of external forces.

For example, Anilu, the force of the beasts can also do this, but because of historical factors, the beasts chose the Shandian side.

The negotiation broke down as before. Gan Fauer thought that the next thing was no different from the past.

But today's results are different.

Those outside Qinghai people ended the battle with a crushing attitude, not to mention Sky Islanders, even Shandia people didn't react.

Before they could make contact with the enemy, the battle was already ended by Zeraora.

Zeraora, who turned into lightning, walked through the team of Sky Islanders. Whenever his figure flashed across an area, a group of people fell to the ground one after another under the attack of lightning.

Even the strongest among them, Gan Fur, doesn't make much difference. If you have to say it, ordinary people were directly numb by Zeraora's discharge, and Gan Fur made him give him an extra leg.

"Too weak, why do these people call themselves gods, and why do they call themselves the guards of gods?"

Zeraora didn't want to make a move, and Mandelfish was enough to solve this scene, but the manager of the sky island called God, which was considered a taboo for Zeraora.

The strength is just a little stronger. After all, God is also divided into strong and weak, but this level is completely unworthy of being compared with Arceus, that is the only true God in his heart.

"It's boring, Big Brother Zeraora went straight to it."

"That's right, the people of Paradise are still too weak."

Although there is a certain difference between the empty island and the great route, its location is here after all, so it is not a big problem.novElus1b.cOm

From the moment Zeraora disembarked, these pirates had already put away their weapons, because they already knew the end.

This is the result of being crushed at the cadre level. If there is no strong individual force that can deal with the opponent's strong, then the number of people is meaningless.

Compared to what these pirates are accustomed to, the state of the moment becomes very strange.

"Sister Shanna, what's wrong with you?"

"I don't really think about what the point of my coming out is."

Previously in Magic Valley Town, she had just dealt with an opponent, and all the rest were dealt with by Mandelfish.

Now on the empty island, Zeraora's movements are faster, adding up to less than a minute, the enemy has already been destroyed.

She remembered that before she came out, someone told her to let her practice her hands. Now it seems that this is a lonely practice.

And the eyes of the Shandians were even more awe-inspiring. Yesterday, Mandelphish defeated all the warriors with his bare hands, which was shocking enough for the chief.

And now the enemy that has plagued Shandia for hundreds of years was completely defeated in just a few minutes, and they were not even qualified to fight back, which was beyond their understanding.

"So you are an ancient god, aren't you?"

According to the ancestral legend, the Lunaria people said similar words when they entrusted them with keeping things.

He also heard what Zeraora just said, and now in his understanding, Arceus is the **** of another race, and it has recovered.

"Do you really just need those humble shells?"

Although and the Sky Islanders were defeated in the battle, they also had the ability to resist, so the war lasted for hundreds of years.

But in the face of the absolute crushing power, they developed a feeling of awe. Just like when they believed in giant snakes as gods, the Shandians would worship extremely powerful creatures, not to mention that they were helping them.

The hometown was back in his hands, and none of the clansmen was injured, which was too far from the battle he imagined.

"This is the reward for keeping your promise for hundreds of years. Our conditions will not change. The enemy has been defeated. Now Shandora is yours."

People will make things more reasonable through their own brains, and after the chief identifies the identity of the **** Arceus, this behavior becomes reasonable again.

The gifts given at will by the gods are treasures that mortals cannot ask for much. It is difficult for them to retake Shandora, but it is easy for the other party.

Now he even changed his expression when he looked at Zeraora, this kind of orc figure is probably the real messenger.

But the matter is not completely over yet, all the people led by Gan Fol were defeated by Zeraora, but I am afraid that Appayadone has no manpower left.

However, there are still a large number of sky islanders living on the nearby Angel Island, where ordinary residents live and where a large number of shellfish are produced.

Arceus didn't like massacres, so he couldn't kill all those people. At this time, Gan Fauer's role came into play.

As the manager of the sky island, his surrender is more representative of an attitude.

Chapter 202 Sky Island Changes Owner and Sky Lord

"Apajado is returned to the Shandians. Angel Island is still under your autonomy, but you are not allowed to set up armed forces. You need to collect and cultivate a certain amount of sky island shells every year, and the most important point is that you are never allowed to call yourself a god. What's the problem? ?"

After a while, Gan Fauer, who woke up, was given an ultimatum by Mandelfey before he could deal with his injuries.

"Qinghai people, why do you want to interfere in the dispute over the empty island?"

Gan Fauer did not answer Mandelfish's words, but instead asked him, but the consequence of doing so was that he was kicked in the chest by Mandelfish.

"You are the losers. I am notifying you, not waiting for your questions. You only need to answer my words, whether you understand or not, or you can try our other methods."

Arceus took Yamato and the others into Appayado, intending to go to see what Shandora looked like.

And the common members such as Mandelfish were left here, and they were ordered to take over the rule of the empty island before Arceus returned.

Not to mention, Gan Foer now has a great say in Angel Island, and his surrender can represent an attitude that saves the Beast Pirates a lot of trouble.

Because the country of Wano is to be built as a base camp, the beasts will frequently intervene in the management of the country of Wano.

But this is an empty island thousands of miles away. Although it is intended to be one of its own territory, it will not interfere with the autonomy of the locals.

For the Sky Islanders, nothing will change except that their **** island, Appayado, was taken by the Sandians.

"Sir God!"

Watching what happened to Gan Fowler, some members of his guard called out this familiar name, and then they were put on the head by a gun barrel.

"I'm not very clear about what I said? It is absolutely not allowed to use the title of God, don't you understand? Kill it and let them know the consequences."

Looking at the Sky Islander who still insisted on this title, Mandelfish made a very straightforward decision. He wanted to get everything done before Arceus and the others came back. Naturally, the means would not be like the country of Wano.

"Wait, stop! I'll do what you want, let go of McKinley, now there is no so-called **** in the sky."

Zeraora easily overwhelmed them, and they were all beaten by the opponent alone, let alone so many.

There are no casualties yet. Although the damage caused by the current is not light, they are all still alive and have no strength to resist, and he does not want to add casualties.

"I would have promised earlier, let him go, Mr. Gan Fall, then please go and announce the results to the people at Angel Island now."

"Yes, but you don't allow us to set up an armed force. What about the security of the sky island? What if the Sandia people retaliate against us?"

"You don't have to worry about it, the Shandia people will not attack you. This is our agreement. As for your safety, of course, we are responsible for it."

said that Mandelfish took out the flag that had been prepared long ago, and followed Ganfur and the others to the direction of Angel Island.

Apayado, the Shandians who have set foot on their homeland again are more excited, but hundreds of years have passed, and this place is no longer what it is like in the tribe.

Although the sky islanders occupied this place, they just planned it as an island of gods, and did not move in on a large scale. The free-growing plants have already changed the appearance of the place.

After traveling through the jungle for a long time, they found the legendary Golden Land.

"This place is really full of gold." A pirate tore open the vines. Although the wall below was dim, after smashing it a few times, he was still sure that this large piece was gold.

"If you want, the gold here can be taken away at will."

But none of the pirates took action. Compared with these external things, their own strength is more important. Without the order of Arceus, they will not act at will.

And the gold here is actually quite tasteless for today's Beast Pirates. John's treasure, the huge trade brought by Beast Fruits makes them very rich.

So Arceus just let them collect some golden fragments that have been destroyed, as for the complete building, they did not touch.

"Foster father, foster father, where is the golden bell?" Yamato asked her own question. She has not seen the legendary golden bell until now. At the same time, the people of Shandia are also searching for the location of the golden bell. .

To rekindle the lights of Shandora, which was the goal they had been waiting for for nearly four hundred years. When it was found, the Shandians present cheered.

The mighty bell rang through the sky, but there was a screeching noise amid the cheers. novelusb.com

A giant python with an incomparably exaggerated body appeared here, and its huge snake pupils stared in the direction of the golden bell above and seemed to miss something.

The length of more than 200 meters is the well-deserved overlord here. The people below are like ants to it. It is a giant python called the Lord of the Sky, and even Gan Fu can't do anything about it.

The bell of the Golden Bell is its favorite sound, but it has not been heard for a long time.

And the appearance of this giant python also helped Arceus solve a problem. The sky island must leave a person to ensure safety, but the Beast Pirates have no suitable personnel to station here for the time being.

Now with this giant python, it is different, and this giant python has some origins with these Shandians.

While listening to the bell, it was suddenly restrained by something, and before it could react, more vines directly wrapped around its head and pressed its huge body on the island cloud.

It didn't take much time to tame it, but it shocked the heart of the chief of Shandia again.

He had heard of this giant python. Its grandfather was the snake **** worshipped by the Shandians hundreds of years ago. Although he was finally killed, the Shandians also worshipped this giant python for a long time.

The huge size and long lifespan make it a god, but it is like a puppy in front of Arceus, and it is conquered almost in a face-to-face time.

"From today onwards, you are responsible for protecting the safety of the Shandians and obey their orders, understand?"

"hiss"

"It's good to understand, but now you are too weak. Although it is a bit big, it should be similar."

He has not transformed the wild boar of the mountain **** of Wano. The giant python in front of him is the first giant creature he transformed. This size is bigger than the super ancient Pokemon. With it guarding here, the strength of the paradise is basically the same. Don't worry about anything.

Chapter 203 The Monarch Snake and the Return

Nolan didn't even realize what happened, a burst of energy poured into its body, and then its body underwent huge changes.

The original pattern began to fade, the belly became light green, and the green on the back was darker.nOveLusb.com

Three dark green leaves grow near the end of the tail.

Several yellow lines appear on the body, elegant and noble, just like the logo of the royal family.

A body composed of vines extends from both sides of the neck, just like the collar and cuffs of a suit.

The pupil color of his eyes turned red, giving him a domineering feeling.

Grass attribute, Hezhong Yu Sanjia, Royal Pokémon - Monarch Snake.

Originally as the Lord of the Sky, it has no opponents in the Sky Island, and has developed an atmosphere of hegemony. With the blessing of the Monarch Snake's own racial characteristics, it has a powerful deterrent in its eyes.

But when he looked at Arceus, his arrogant eyes were only surrendered. Arceus just subdued it simply through coercion, but now he is truly convinced.

"It is now the monarch snake, whose name is Nolan. In the future, it will protect the safety of you Shandians. If you encounter an opponent that it can't beat, then use this."

Then Zeraora took out a phone bug and gave it to the chief, and taught him how to use it and how to maintain it. The phone bug needs to be fed and bathed. If you leave it alone for a long time, the phone bug is likely to die violently.

If the phone bug is abused, the phone bug may also choose to defect, and the ammonite beast of Onishima is a living example.

"Jara~Jara."

After the transformation, the animals will be affected by some Pokémon characters. Nolan has become a little arrogant now, and he is a little unhappy when he hears that Arceus makes him obey the orders of those ants.

"Okay, not to obey their orders, but to obey my orders to protect them."

"Gara!"

Nolan did not raise any objection this time, but agreed with confidence.

Then Nolan's huge figure climbed up a huge vine. In terms of the camouflage of the monarch snake, it was impossible to see that there was such a big snake wrapped around the vine without looking carefully.

"Lord God, does your messenger usually need us to do anything?"

After this series of operations, the chief of Shandia has identified the identity of the sleeping **** of Arceus, and the monarch snake transformed by him naturally became his angel.

Tribal civilization is sometimes very ignorant, and Rolando also brought many changes to the Shandians, such as changing their behavior of offering live sacrifices to beasts.

It is not surprising that they did similar things for the "real envoy" in front of them.

But Arceus didn't come to reverse history.

"No need, it will find food on its own, the empty fish in the sea of clouds is enough for it, and there is still the sun."

What is special about grass-type Pokémon is that in addition to regular food supplements, photosynthesis is also an important part of their lives. Through photosynthesis, they can supplement a large amount of body needs, thereby reducing the need for food.

"Don't stress too much, this is what you deserve. After that, you can collect and farm shellfish as usual. As for the sky island."

"I have no intention of continuing the fight. Shandora's light has been rekindled, and that's enough. As long as they don't continue to covet Appayado's land, then nothing else matters."

"They won't. The law enforcement power here will be handed over to you. Someone will tell you about the relevant system later. You just need to go outside to check it out regularly."

"Understood, Lord God."

After ringing the golden bell, the people of Shandia left here again, they were going to return to the tribe to pick up the others, and Angel Island, the inhabitants of Angel Island also understood the current situation under Gan Fuer's words. fact.

Apajado was returned to the Shandians, Gan Fol is no longer a god, but he is now the owner of Angel Island and still manages Angel Island.

Although those so-called priests were abolished, they still formed a security force under the leadership of Gan Fol, responsible for maintaining order on the island, protecting the safety of residents, and so on.

Nothing seems to have changed here other than the attribution of Appayado that has been hoisted on Angel Island and the flags that have been hoisted in Appayado.

In the days to come, they will understand how much trouble that flag can help them solve.

At first, some people were really dissatisfied, but after the tamed Nolan took the Sandian out for a walk, the sound disappeared completely.

In less than a day of effort, the two long-cherished wishes of the Shandians were fulfilled. The Shandians held a grand banquet here, which should be said to be a carnival.

Early the next morning, the Beast Pirates who had already achieved their goal also had time to leave. With some shellfish and gold they had collected, the Siwon began to sail towards the edge of the Baibai Sea.

However, when he left, he left a request to the Shandians, asking them to send someone to Bika to find a strange-looking fruit. If you can find it, keep it, and forget it if you can't find it.

According to Gan Fuer, Bika's location is very remote, and the sky island is also in the countryside, and it takes a lot of time to go there.

He has no obsession with the Thunder Fruit, and the Thunder Fruit of the Beast Pirates is not a just-in-demand item, so he doesn't want to waste too much time here.

But just as they were leaving, they saw something special. Some Shandians stayed up all night building three new totem poles.

The giant snake, the thunder cat, the ancient **** (alpaca), the three images became the new totems of Shandia, and they regarded Arceus as the tribe's new belief.

The Siwon did not choose the normal way of falling, but just like when it came up, it blasted a hole directly at the Baibaihai below, and then drove straight down.

At this time, Yamato wore a feather-woven hat on his head, which was made by the Shandians and was the highest respect for his friends.

And she is tinkering with a photo shell in her hand. For Sky Island, this kind of shell is a combination of a camera and a video recorder.

There are some records of her on the sky island. Although the photography level is very poor, she took all the photos by herself. She still remembers her own words and wants to show the tavern owner what the sky island looks like.

Whether it was verbal belief or real belief, he was the only person in the tavern who believed in the existence of the Sky Island.

Magic Valley Town, the work efficiency here is very fast, and the tavern of Dort has been repaired within a few days of the departure of the Beast Pirates.

Harold's head was soaked in beeswax by him, waiting for a merchant ship to come over to exchange for money. While he was figuring out what to do with the remaining money, a group of familiar figures entered the door of the tavern.

Is there any big guy who has a complete collection of onomatopoeia, the kind that Pokemon calls.

Chapter 204 Yamato's Destiny Buff - Fairy Slate and Little Fairy Milk

"Uncle Boss, we are back from the sky island!"

Looking at Yamato who ran in, Dot was confused. At first, he just coaxed the child for the sake of the other party's pride.

For the people of Magic Valley Town, the empty island is an unrealistic fairy tale.

Even in the end, he was suspicious about the sky island, but after two or three days, the other party actually came back, and he swore that he had been to the sky island.

But it doesn't matter. It doesn't matter to him whether the empty island exists or not. It doesn't matter whether it really exists or it's an adult coaxing the child, as long as she says it exists, then the empty island exists.

He can't afford to offend those people on the other side. Even if they look friendly, the nature of the beasts is still a pirate group, and he didn't show any mercy when he dealt with Harold before.

Now what the other party says is right, not to mention that there are empty islands in the sky, even if they say that there are islands under the sea, he also believes.

With a smile on his face, he continued using Yamato's words.

"Are you back? What does the sky island look like?"

"Island made of clouds, and a big snake."novelusb.com

The education work at the beginning played a role. She did not mention the matter of the Golden Township, but this actually saved these people. If someone really went to the empty island because of greed, and really got there, then only destruction awaits them. .

There are not many people in Paradise who can rival the giant monarch snake.

In the end, Dot got a photo shell, which contained some photos with poor photographing skills, and then the Beast Pirates left Mogu Town, ready to return to the new world.

On the Siwon, in Momo's room, it was time to record her logbook again.

The lamp on the desk emits a slightly dim light, which is just right for her.

Because of the sailing, there are not many things on the desk. The turbulence caused by the waves makes it impossible to put things on the table. If it is not fixed, a big wave will come, and those things will roll off somewhere.

So all the odds and ends are put in the drawer. After popping out his claws, he took out his diary from the drawer immediately. The reason why he needed claws was to unlock the lock.

There is a small lock on her drawer, but this lock is more symbolic. After all, everyone on board has the ability to open this lock. She doesn't bother to use the key herself, and uses her own claws to open the lock every time she uses it.

Turned the diary to a new page, and the graceful font appeared on it.

【December 30, 1496

The sailing time was faster than expected. At this time, we had already left from the empty island. It turned out that besides Zou's back, there were also such strange islands in the sky.

Lord Arceus found what he wanted, and Zeraora also seemed very happy because of this, but felt a little strange for a moment. He clearly told me to practice more, but nothing happened.

Zeraora has grown a little bit taller, but only a little bit, and I will definitely be taller than him after a while.

I'm going back to Wano Country today, the outside world is indeed much more interesting than Zou, and there are many bad guys. 】

She seemed to want to write something, but she didn't put it down. After closing it, she locked the diary back.

The next day, the time has come to the last day of 1496.

Siwon's itinerary has not changed. There are no nearby islands that can be docked for half a month, but there is still a sense of ceremony. This task is basically handed over to the chefs and musicians on board.

This is also one of the few things that can be done during sailing. Although musicians are not standard, they have always been an indispensable role in many pirate ships as a rare form of entertainment.

And the children on the boat also received their own New Year's gift, a white creature floating in the air.

The body is small, the whole body is milky white, and there is no fixed body shape. It is a special creature composed of liquid.

Fresh Cream Pokémon - small fresh milk, attribute - fairy.

It may be because of the magical buff that comes with Yamato. The attribute of this slate is fairy, and there is an extra piece of Kaido Noble Phantasm in Arceus's hand. The little fairy milk is a new life created by the fairy slate.

"Father, what is this? It looks so cute."

Looking at the little fairy who was jumping up and down in her hands, several children showed very interested expressions, and Moan was no exception, although she had a little opinion about her being treated as a child.

"Your New Year's gifts, treat them as partners, and they will give back to you."

As she was talking, the little fresh milk in Yamato's hand threw something into her mouth.

"It's so sweet, it's cream!"

"Yes, it's cream. They will share the cream with their friends. Remember to get along well, and they will become different when they evolve."

There is a reason for choosing Xiaoxian Milk instead of their evolutionary Cream Milk Fairy, because the taste of the Cream Milk Fairy has a lot to do with their Xiaoxian Milk period.

If the cells that make fresh cream in the body of Xiaoxian Milk are affected by an unstable state during evolution, it will become a variety of flavors.

And the way Xiaoxian milk evolves is to hold different candies to rotate. According to the direction and time of rotation, the type of candy, Xiaoxian milk's mood, intimacy, etc., the taste of the evolved cream cream will be different.

and they will decorate themselves with tree fruit, which in turn generates more flavors.

There are as many as 63 kinds of fruits that he only knows. The local specialty fruits will only allow the frost milk fairies to have more combinations.

In a sense, they were also the first trainers.

Having a small fairy milk or an evolved frost milk fairy is equivalent to having a steady stream of cream making machines.

These Pokémon are wonderful companions for Charlotte Ringling, but Arceus doesn't plan to send them to Cake Island.

Their bodies are originally made of cream, and the aunt who eats them is more terrifying than the drunk Kaido. He doesn't want to let the frost milk fairy be eaten whole.

As a special individual with only females, they will not breed the second generation like the carp king, so the aunt can only get the cream produced at most.

The four of them each played with a little fairy milk, but there were more than these four little fairy milks. There were also a few little fairy milks serving cream beside the pastry chef on the boat.

Because there were three children on the boat, he was brought up on purpose. He was a pastry chef sent by the Beast Pirates who had studied in the world.

If the pastry chef in the Pokémon world knows that there are so many little fairy milks around him, I am afraid that he will be so jealous that even tears will flow out. 's partner.

But at this time, the fisherman by the boat caught a strange fish

Chapter 205 The Glory of the Carp King and Mandelfish's Ambition

Fishing has always been an important activity on a pirate ship. It is very common to have a fishing rod on the ship going out to sea. It can also supplement food while entertaining, and if you are lucky, you can improve the food.

So when Arceus gave Yamato and the others a New Year's gift, there were also a few pirates fishing and betting on who caught the bigger fish.

But at this time, Mandelfish was lost in thought as he watched the fish he caught, not only him, but also the pirates around him were stunned.

"Mandfish, are you fishing for yourself?"

As the people around him said these words, finally someone couldn't hold back, and a burst of laughter spread all over the deck, which also attracted the attention of other anglers.

"Isn't this kind of fish thrown into the waters of Wano Country by the holy beast? Why is it even here?"

"It's not the same. How big are the fish on the Wano Country Waterfall. If you look at these few, they are the size of ordinary carp."

Yes, what this man caught was a king carp, and the red scales and golden crown already explained its identity.

"What about this?"

"Let it go, what else can I do, Lord Arceus values the creatures he created very much."

"But what do those wagyu cows say?"

"It's not all cultivated by the second generation. Who dares to have a crooked mind about Kentaro? But this one is exactly the same, but it's so small, Mandefish, why don't you come and ask it."

Looking at the carp king in the bucket, several people finally set their sights on Mandefish again.

The ability of the Pokemon capable person is applied to the body through the method of endowment, and it is still human in essence, not as skilled in communicating with Pokemon as Zeraora.

However, people with the same ability can better understand the meaning of each other when facing the same type of Pokémon, so Mandefish was brought in front of the bucket and looked at the carp king who was always swaying up and down. He didn't know what to say. what.

But the laughter here has caught the attention of Arceus.

"Lord Arceus, look, we just caught a strange fish."

Looking at the carp king in the barrel, this is not a generation he created, and he understands that his original purpose has been achieved.

When he first entered Wano Kingdom, he transformed those carp kings, and the offspring they bred were also moving to other sea areas, and now a long time has passed.

Now there are carp kings in the first half of the Great Route, which shows that the carp kings are distributed more and more widely.

"Put it back, the carp king can't eat it."

The body structure of the carp king has nothing to eat. In the Pokémon world, even people who are dying of starvation will not think about eating the carp king. If the chef here can have a way to cook these carp kings, he can only say An admiration.

Before the carp king was put back into the water, there was an exclamation from the stern. Yamato and Jack were almost dragged into the water by grabbing a fishing rod. Fortunately, the pirates next to him responded quickly enough to catch them lived with them.

But they still didn't put down their fishing rods.

"Miss Yamato is amazing, you caught a big fish."

The pirates who took the fishing rod felt the great force of the fishing rod in their hands. This is a fishing rod made by the combination of rope cloud, iron cloud and cloud shell given to them by the Shandia people. Its toughness and load-bearing far exceed Ordinary fishing rod.

At this point, the fishing rod has been bent into the shape of a clip, but it still hasn't broken.

"Don't watch the fun, you guys come to help, this is a big guy!"

He now understands why Yamato and the others were almost dragged down. Even an adult might not be able to bear the force. With the combined efforts of several adult pirates, a blue creature was caught out of the sea.

"Roar!" The blue creature entrenched on the deck let out a roar, with a body section by section, with several fin-like body structures behind it.

opened his mouth wide and let out an angry roar, and at the same time flicked away a pirate next to him.

"Sea kings? No, it's too small, is it a sea beast?"

"Who knows, there are all kinds of strange creatures in the sea, but this guy is really strong, and I don't know what's going on. I'm a little scared looking at this thing."

When Arceus returned to the stern again, what he saw was the roaring monster, which was also a species he was very familiar with - Tyrannosaurus.

One of the weakest Pokémon, the evolution of the Carp King is a very powerful Tyrannosaurus, commonly known as the Great Fierce.

Compared with the weak Carp King, the Tyrannosaurus carp dragon has a very ferocious personality. It has teeth that are hard enough to bite through stones and scales as hard as steel.

However, because of the changes in the brain during evolution, the character has become very violent, but if you can get it to admit, you can also see its friendly side.

The carp kings in the waters near Wano Kingdom have not evolved, probably because there are no natural enemies nearby, and the carp kings who have left the waters of Wano Kingdom have to face various dangerous situations in the sea.

There are also various monsters in the vast ocean, and some powerful individuals have evolved under this pressure.

Seeing that it intends to breathe fire, Arceus still tied its mouth with rattan. It is not a good habit to breathe fire on a ship.

Although it can evolve into a Tyrannosaurus carp dragon, it shows that it is the best among these carp kings, but the gap is still too obvious compared with Arceus.

"Yamato, didn't you ask me what evolution is? This is evolution."

said and brought the carp king that had not yet been released.

"This is what they are, but when the opportunity comes, they will evolve and acquire a new look of their own.

They are tyrannosaurs, and they can have their place even in this sea. "

That was the problem when Yamato just got the little fairy milk, and it happened to make a good explanation with the appearance of this tyrannical carp dragon.

"Will the little fairy become so scary?"

"No, each Pokémon has its own evolutionary form, and the little fairy is also very cute after evolution."

Then Arceus put them all back into the sea, and Yamato and the others also understood how amazing evolution is, but some people are more excited than them.

That is Mandelfish.

"Master Arceus, can the carp king become like this?"

For others, this may not matter, but for him, it is a qualitative change. If nothing else, he has just seen the flames appearing in the mouth of the Tyrannosaurus.

If he can also have this ability, then his life plan can be changed. Compared with retirement, he should climb to a higher position and then apply for retirement, and the benefits should be much better.noVelusb.com can breathe fire and swim, if his abilities can evolve into that, he will be able to boast that little Kai is much more in the future.

Chapter 206 Assassination and ID Cards

has a dragon in his name, is blue in color, and can breathe fire and swim, and round up and brag about himself.

"Yes, work hard."

It's not impossible to evolve Mandelfish's carp king. He can give Mandelfish the light of evolution. Whether he can evolve at that time depends on his own training.

He also drew a pie for Mandelfish casually. As long as he worked hard enough, even a mega tyrannosaur was not impossible. As for what a mega tyrannosaur was, he gave Mandelfish a simple and easy-to-understand understanding. Fruit Awakens.

This cake is real, and it depends on his own efforts to eat it or not.

But for Mandelfish, he has already made up his mind about his bright future, and he has single-handedly started the life of the scroll king within the Beast Pirates.

"Are you saying Brother Mandelphish is crazy?"

A few pirates were standing on the deck watching Mandelfish as he was mopping the deck with four mops. .

He will do it if he is capable, but he will learn to do it if he is incapable of doing it.

"I don't know, that's what happened after he finished talking to Lord Holy Beast that day."

"Do you think there will be any rewards that we don't know about?"

As soon as these words came out, the expressions of several people changed. The competition within the Beast Pirates has always been fierce, and it happened that his subordinates challenged the cadres. As a small leader, Mandelfish was suddenly so abnormal. It seems very wrong.

In the end, the news became more and more outrageous, and the whole Siwon was rolled up.

In February 1497, the Siwon returned to Wano.

After the Siwon was hoisted from the diving port, a group of people walked onto the Siwon with cleaning tools.

According to common sense, when the ship is approaching Wano, the people on the ship will take a rest, and the work at hand will be put away.

And the people at the diving port would pull the boat back to the dock for maintenance after cleaning, but today they fell into trouble as soon as they came up.

"Is there something wrong with you guys! What's wrong with a deck so slippery!"

Looking at the deck with enough light, the people who stayed in Wano could not understand what happened to these guys when they went out.

"Master Holy Beast, welcome back, is this trip going well?"

"It went well. Remember, we have an extra piece of land in Paradise. The location is the empty island above Gaya Island. After that, ask Mandelfish or Zeraora, what's going on recently?"

Arceus asked Shaina about the recent situation. He had been away from Onishima for nearly four months. He had to know what happened to Wano Kingdom.

"In terms of development, the factories, pastures, and farms are operating very well, and the cotton fields in the Ximei area are also growing vigorously. Lord Holy Beast, I suggest that Wano country not grow ordinary food.

Our overseas territories are enough to meet the needs of Wano, and in this way, we can also grasp the grain of Wano, and those cotton as cash crops bring higher benefits.

"It depends on the situation, what else?"

This suggestion is not bad, given the national conditions of Wano, if a large number of domestic crops are converted to cash crops, then the food will have to rely on foreign imports.

But the country of Wano itself is closed to the country, which is equivalent to being caught by the beasts by the throat. Just a little tightening will lead to public resentment.

Wano country only has so much land, but the beasts are more than this territory, and other islands can still be used as their own food production areas.

But this requires a degree, and you have to experiment slowly.

"Kojiro's chamber of commerce has also begun to expand to the countryside, and with the wild boar you tamed, the people of Wano Kingdom are more accepting.

His redemption bottle cap was also redeemed for a second prize. Everything has been going well recently, and there are no problems with the beasts and fruits. "

"What about the bad news?"

For so many years, Shaina's habit is to say good things first and troublesome things last. He's used to it.

As for there is no trouble, it's impossible, Shaina didn't notice it herself, and she would scratch her head unconsciously at this time. Whenever she scratched her head while reporting the news, it meant that something bad happened. thing.

"There was an assassination incident during the New Year's festival. The one who was assassinated was the grandson of the former general Kozuki Sukiyaki, Kozuki Momonosuke.

Although the assassination failed in the end, the lady Shi was also shot in the leg. "

"Who did it?"

"I haven't checked it out. There are witnesses saying that it was done by our people, but after investigation, the person has sufficient alibi, and it should be inseparable from the black charcoal snake."

"He really keeps making small movements."

"We also released news that it was made by the black charcoal serpent, and many people are willing to believe us, at least now the name of the beast is much better than that of the black charcoal serpent.

However, after the assassination, the public's reaction was still great, and the name of the Kozuki family had a profound impact on Wano Country. "

The black charcoal snake is a trivial matter, and the Beast Pirates keep him just to make him fight with the Koyuki family in the ring.

As Shaina said later, the Kozuki family had too much influence on Wano, and this time was the most troublesome thing.

But how to deal with it is not difficult, the bald eagle next door has already set an example, or they have set an example themselves, then Wano country may have an additional position of "general and royal hanging".

"But Holy Beast-sama, this incident has also contributed to some good things. After the assassination of the festival, the Hogoro in the capital of Hana realized how much harm the current situation in Wano country will cause.

So Kojiro reached a consensus with him, and those **** were much more honest. "

The killer was hiding in the crowd of gangsters, which made Hyougoro understand that if the problem of the gangsters in Wano country could not be handled well, then similar things might happen again.

Take care of these, and those people will have a much smaller chance of assassination even if they still want to.

According to the rotation method, after Arceus returned, Kaido, who had been idle for nearly four months, couldn't bear to leave Wano. The reason for leaving was to collect the whereabouts of the slate. people know.

and the country once again entered the development stage.

During this time, Arceus popularized a thing, an identification card, among the members of the Beast Pirates in Wano.novebusb.com

This thing is not difficult to make, whether it's a review device or a built-in chip, Quinn and Assie have ways to make it.

This is mainly to prevent some strange people from infiltrating inside. For example, during the Onishima War, in addition to the original 30,000 people, 5,000 enemies also infiltrated. On average, one out of every seven people is undercover.

The most important thing is that they just changed their clothes and got in.

That's why all the beasts are equipped with ID cards, so that even if there are still enemies sneaking in, it is impossible to sneak in so much.

The general's royal hanging, if you are interested, you can Baidu "imperial royal hanging" by yourself, I won't explain much for the time being

Chapter 207 The Birth of One Piece and the "Shadow" of the Lucky Draw

A few months later, Kaido himself returned to Wano with a newspaper, a big event happened, and Roger finally completed his unprecedented voyage.

【One Piece! Gold Roger! 】

A few large characters occupy an entire page of the newspaper. Headed by Morgans' World Economic News Agency, the media all over the world are reporting this matter frantically. One Piece was born.

"Cowards, what a bunch of cowards, don't they even dare to publish Roger's name? Gold, they are really afraid of the so-called Will of D."

Roger became One Piece. This is something that cannot be concealed. The people who watched them set off, Roger's crew, had too many insiders.

In this case, the World Government chose to disperse the matter through its own channels, and the purpose was to cover up Roger's real name.

But this can only deceive most of the ignorant people. There is no big pirate in the new world who does not know Roger's real name. Now Gol D. Roger is drinking with Whitebeard on an island.

Looking at the photo in the newspaper, Arceus suspected that the reporter who took the photo had followed Roger all the way to Ralph Drew by rowing a boat.

Otherwise, it is impossible to take a photo from this angle, and the reporter really hides the dragon and crouching tiger.

One Piece Gold Roger, with a bounty of 5.5648 billion Bailey, this is the biggest news today.

Although Gold Roger's name has spread throughout the world as One Piece, almost everyone knows that one man conquered the Great Route like no other in history to reach the final island of Ralph Drew.

With the exception of Wano Kingdom, there is no newspaper in the closed Wano Kingdom at all, and only the people of the Beast Pirates know what happened.

As for the locals, even if they were told One Piece, they would not understand the word.

In the past, no one would be convinced by this title, and there would be countless challengers, but this time, no matter whether it was an enemy or a friend, Roger's behavior was recognized by the pirates.

There are still people who want to kill Roger, but they also recognize the title of this king.
king.noVeLu$b.COm

Unknown island, Gol D. Roger looked drunk, and in front of him was Edward Newgate, the white-bearded pirate known as the strongest man in the world.

"D, my name is D, but Newgate, don't you really want to know how to get there? I can tell you the route."

"Goo la la la, I'm not interested, I already got what I want, Roger, what are your plans next?"

"The Roger Pirates have disbanded, and I should go home. After all, my time is running out. Goodbye Newgate, if there is still a chance."

Totland Sea, Cake Island.

"Well... well, One Piece, how dare you say that, the things you stole from me really helped him a lot."

said, he crushed the plate in his hand, and a lot of powder spilled onto the ground, scaring the people around him to shiver.

Only Long Bread came over with a small cart.

"Lingling, this is the new cream made by the beasts, let's try the new banana cake."

Sweets made Charlotte Lingling look happy, and she temporarily forgot about that anger.

A certain empty island, the base camp of the Golden Lion.

"Admiral! Admiral! Big news, Gol D. Roger really went to that place, and now people call him One Piece!"

The golden lion who took the newspaper did not speak, but just smoked his cigars one by one.

"As expected of you, Roger, the man who defeated Lao Tzu is really amazing."

The unknown island in the new world, Barrett threw the enemy in his hand aside, his expression was very complicated, he wanted to challenge Roger again, but he also knew what Roger's physical condition was like.

At the same time, the Golden Jackson is also sailing on the sea, and the Roger Pirates have been disbanded. When all the crew members have returned home, its mission can be considered complete.

On the ghost island, Kaido is drinking heavily. No one knows what he is thinking about this man who defeated his former captain Rox and now conquered the great route.

The cadres also have their own ideas, but the ordinary members don't think about it so much, and they still do the same things as usual.

And Kojiro's Chamber of Commerce also expanded a lot during this time.

"Master Kojiro, our juice has been a big hit these days, and it has become the best-selling drink in Wano."

A man who looked to be in his 60s sat on his knees beside him. He was an old servant of Kojiro's family. He almost brought Kojiro up. He never left when his family was down.

Now that Kojiro has achieved a higher status, he has naturally been reused.

Kojiro listened to the report of the old man while playing with his dog. After his rebirth, Xiaoka's vitality has almost doubled. Walking the dog every day is a physical task for him.

If it wasn't for the fact that he was being pulled by Jin to practice kendo during this time, I'm afraid he wouldn't even be able to walk the dog.

"According to your intention, we have already sent out the big prize bottle cap together, but are we really going to do this? I think it's enough not to send it out."

"Abo, reputation is the most important thing. It's only a hundred gold, and it will take some time to be found after it is released."

As soon as Kojiro finished speaking, an employee of the Chamber of Commerce ran in.

"Master Kojiro! The book of flying arrows in the Rehou area, the grand prize has been collected!"

"Wow!"

He plucked out a few of the dog hairs he gave Xiaoka. According to his estimation, it would take at least half a month for the jackpot bottle cap to be sold. In addition to the other bottle caps, it would not be so easy to collect them all. , after all, he has recovered a large number of rare bottle caps for several second prizes.

There are not many rare bottle caps out there now, how could it be so coincidentally bought by one person.

"How is that possible? Did you sell it wrong?"

"The owner of the store said that he was busy with other things at the time, so he let the customers go to the warehouse to get them, and then just "

"Bring people over, since it's already done, it has to be exchanged, but it has to be operated well."

The redemption procedure is still different. Another bottle of the boss can be redeemed directly, but the prize has to come to the door.

And when he saw the person who came to redeem the prize, his facial expression twitched slightly.

"Da and Miss, why are you here?"

"Come to redeem the prize, can't you?"

"Of course no problem, I'll give you the prize." Originally, he wanted to do an operation activity, but now he sees what it is still operating. The only daughter of the investor who won the first prize is the only daughter of the investor. This operation is called shady every day. .

And when he knew how Yamato collected the bottle caps, his inner emotions were more complicated.

She invited the whole group to drink juice for three days, and nearly a thousand people opened the bottle caps for three days, and immediately collected all the bottle caps except the first prize.

In the end, he decided on a goal, and he first made 10,000 small goals before considering retirement!

Chapter 208 Rotom that blends into life

The process of redeeming the prize went very smoothly, but in Kojiro's view, the other party's behavior was unnecessary, let alone redeeming the prize, she would not refuse even if she came directly to ask for money.

Although Kojiro's chamber of commerce has flourished in Wano during this period, he is very clear that this chamber of commerce is just a leaf attached to the Beast Pirates.

If there is any crooked mind, the beasts can replace it at any time.

The rise of the Chamber of Commerce is a huge impact on the local businessmen of Wano Kingdom. After seeing the huge profits brought by the beasts, they have long forgotten about xenophobia.

It's just that they missed the opportunity to join the Beast Pirates. Kojiro didn't want to be replaced by others, so he always seized all kinds of opportunities.

Yamato's request he couldn't refuse, but he would send a report after the event. He'd better stay out of other people's family affairs.

Then he checked the recent sales records, and roughly guessed what was going on. After all, recently a large number of goods were sent directly from Linghou's production plant to Onishima.

"This cost is already more than the grand prize."

"Master Kojiro, what should we do next?"

"Let's re-issue a few, this time pay attention, it's better to let an ordinary person who collects bottle caps win the jackpot caps."

"Understood, the old man will do it now."

As for Yamato, she did not have a clear understanding of this number. She first got the bottle caps of the grand prize by coincidence, and then bought a large number of bottle caps with her lucky money to redeem the prize and sent them to the Beast Pirates. .

If you think about it carefully, her small treasury has actually shrunk, but it doesn't matter to her, because she has already harvested the happiness of the lottery.

With her little fairy milk on her head, Yamato jumped back to the ghost island, but just after reaching the gate of the ghost island, she was stopped by a strange creature.

"Loto, please show your ID card, Loto."

A red unknown square was standing in front of her, and she kept shouting to show her ID card.

Its main body is a punch card machine made by Quinn. It is not difficult to make something similar to an ID card with the technology here.

Assiee also came up with some special substances during his research over the years. His original intention was to use other substances as a substitute for making pure gold, but he did not expect to create a substance similar to a magnetic card by mistake.

Combined with the production method of the New World Life Card, an ID card with personal information entered in this way appeared inside the Beast Pirates. and distributed to everyone.

Afterwards, Quinn made several card punches, just swipe your ID card when you enter the ghost island.

However, during this time, Arceus transformed those card punches, to be precise, he gave those card punches a soul, making them a new carrier for Rotom.

Although the current Rotom looks like a punch card, this is not its body. The punch card is only its host, and the interior is its body.

The body of Rotom is composed of plasma, the orange body is its core, and the outside is surrounded by blue translucent plasma, which can materialize as Rotom's hands.

Arceus made a lot of Rotom through the lightning slate. Today, there is not only such a card punch in Onishima. Relying on the particularity of Rotom, Onishima has directly entered the age of intelligence.

Because Rotom's body is like electricity, it can enter the interior of certain machines, and any machine that operates through electricity may become its new body.

The attributes of the body are electricity and ghosts, but in fact electricity is its most important attribute, and its attributes will be different depending on the machine it enters.

However, Rotom has a requirement for the kinetic energy of the machine, which is to adapt to Rotom's special motor. Quinn has worked hard in the past few months to come up with such a motor, and use the motor to transform some machines.

Now he and Assie's laboratory, ghost island's kitchen, the card punch outside, Rotom's figure is almost everywhere.

"Sorry, Miss Yamato, this guy is new here, and some programs haven't been registered yet."

At this moment, another card puncher Rotom flew over and took away the previous Rotom directly. The identity verification is for ordinary members, and it is different when they reach the rank of cadres.

The card puncher Rotom stores the life cards of members above the cadre. After comparing the entered video data, you can directly determine whether the other party is the cadre himself.

Yamato and other children also have preferential treatment in this regard, and they can enter directly by swiping their face without an ID card.

The reason why is not used in this way is mainly due to the problem of quantity. The life cards of all people add up too much.

And if you just record the appearance characteristics, it is also impossible to do without a magnetic card or other proof.

The world has so many ways to change its appearance.

Now even the gates of Onishima have been replaced with electronic doors, which can prevent some people from entering places they should not go, such as preventing Yamato from entering the office by mistake.

If there are people who want to forcibly break in with the wrong identity, they will unleash a current attack and sound the alarm of the entire ghost island.

The time soon came to mid-October, Yamato's third birthday was approaching, and this was the few days she had left. Kaido had already prepared a dense training plan, and she planned to start after her third birthday. .

After that, her life was not as easy as it is now, so Arceus planned to prepare a birthday party for her.

For this reason, he sent a few people and asked them to borrow a few chefs from Cake Island. The chefs of Ghost Island are very different from the chefs of Cake Island in this respect.

After all, those people can be said to be BIG·MOM's dedicated pastry chefs, and if they don't make it well, they will die.

The Beasts Pirates and other pirates contact the phone bugs on Quinn, and this task was also handed over to Quinn.

Quinn, who had finished a day's work, was planning to contact the people at BIG·MOM, but before he could call, the phone worm rang instead.

"Mosimoxi, this is the Beast Pirates."

"I know this is the Beast Pirates! Quinn! You still have those bananas in stock, transfer us a batch first, hurry up."

"Perospero? Do you think Lao Tzu is your subordinate? Who gave you the courage to give Lao Tzu an order?"

"You and me. I didn't mean that. In short, we need a shipment, fast."

Looking at Perospero who didn't refute on the phone, Quinn noticed something was wrong.

Chapter 209 Call me handsome and I will promise you

Since they established a relationship with the underground world through Charlotte Lingling's line, although the Beast Pirates are still relying on Charlotte Lingling's relationship network, the two sides are only ordinary trade relations.

Even if some of the islands suitable for planting were handed over to the Beast Pirates by the BIG·MOM Pirates, there is no conflict between the two sides, but that is only because there is no conflict of interest for the time being.

Once there is a conflict of interest at the root, neither Kaido nor Charlotte Lingling would mind turning their faces, and a battle between the two pirate groups is also very likely.

Therefore, the communication between the subordinates is sometimes not so friendly, and it is a common thing to spray each other on the phone.

And Perospero is more resistant to the BIG·MOM Pirates and the Beasts Pirates being too close, so he talks to Quinn on the phone every day.

He didn't pay back today, which is not right at all.

Quinn could still hear some explosions from the phone bug, and with Perospero so scared, he also had his own guesses.

"Mahhaha, Perospero, BIG·MOM's eczema is attacking, right?"

Apart from this reason, he could not think of any other reason that would make Perospero so impatient.

"Don't worry about this, where is your fruit stock nearby!"

"You call me handsome Quinn, and I'll answer your question."

The corners of Quinn's mouth rose unconsciously. In the past, he often couldn't quarrel with Perospero, but Perospero's answer just now made him confirm his guess.

Charlotte Lingling's eating disorder must be the most uncomfortable for the people of the BIG MOM Pirates. After all, once Charlotte Lingling goes mad, it is an indiscriminate attack.

Wano Country is quite far away from Cake Island, and Charlotte Lingling couldn't get there even if she flew for a while, so Quinn was not in a hurry at all.

"Quinn, you fat **** need a face!"

"Ah? What did you say, the signal is not very good, or hang up first, now I'll give you a chance to reorganize the language."

Perospero wanted to smash the phone directly, but looking at Charlotte Lingling, who was mad not far away, and the gazes of his brothers and sisters next to him, he still endured it.

"Handsome Quinn. Big handsome guy, which island nearby has stocks in stock?"

"No, the goods have already been sent out during this time."

"Quinn! Don't **** yourself up!!"

"You can't do it yourself. Go grab it from Umit. Anyway, the things have been sent out, but what about your goods? We don't lack your things."

Although the climate of the Great Route can find suitable production areas all year round, the growth of fruits always requires cycles.

The BIG·MOM pirates have priority, and the batch given to them has been sent out long ago, and the rest have already arrived in various places with merchant ships.

"If I can find Umit's route, do I still need to find you!"

Actually, he really thought so, as long as Charlotte Lingling's eating disorder can be solved, other things are just minor problems.

As for the goods originally given to the BIG·MOM Pirates, they were robbed. Since Roger One Piece's name has spread all over the sea, even if he has not surrendered himself, there are not a few people who are influenced by him and choose to go out to sea.

And those pirates who have long gone to sea have also developed a self-confidence. They want to challenge other overlords. The transport ship of the BIG·MOM pirates encountered a stunned young man who had just arrived in the new world.

They were not afraid of the BIG·MOM flag. Instead, they stole the ship, and those people were still very ignorant of the goods. After seeing the fruit on the ship, they sank the ship.

This caused Charlotte Lingling, who was waiting for the fruit cake, to not see the food she wanted, and her eating disorder broke out so uncontrollably.

For a while, they really had no choice but to find the original supplier of the Beast Pirates.

Charlotte Lingling's eczema attack is difficult to stop, either to get the food she wants, or to wait until she is exhausted and comatose, but when she was a child, the eczema attack ruined the whole thing. Giant Village.

Now her physical strength may destroy the entire world.

"Banana Ice Cream Cake!"

Charlotte Lingling grabbed the tower on Cake Island and took a bite. When she realized that something was wrong, she raised the entire tower angrily and threw it to the refugees in the distance. NoVelUsb.Com

Katakuri's body turned into a rice cake, and it took a lot of strength to stop what Charlotte Lingling threw.

"Perospero! Hurry up and think of a way! Mom's eating disorder is getting worse!"

The three Katakuri brothers tried their best to reduce the damage caused by BIG·MOM, but this is only a temporary solution.

"Quinn! I don't have time to joke with you, whether there is or not!"

"There's still a little in stock, but it's about a 10-day flight from here."

"Don't you have a faster way?!" 10 days? If he waited for 10 days, I'm afraid his cake island would be gone. That's why he was against establishing too many connections with the Beast Pirates.

The fruit that is too delicious is loved by Charlotte Lingling, but this kind of fruit is still monopolized by others. Once the stock is insufficient and the BIG·MOM eating disorder occurs, this is the most intuitive impact.

"Ten days is already expedited, but it's not that we can't go any faster. We can ship it by air. If we go at full speed, it will be delivered in about a day, but"

"I see, handsome and handsome Quinn, can I trouble you to ship it quickly?"

"Huh? You finally admit it, but what I want to say is that air freight costs extra. After all, you have also received the previous goods. It doesn't matter to us if they are thrown into your hands."

"The price is up to you! I'm going to see bananas this time tomorrow!" Saying that, Perospero hung up the phone directly, feeling that his blood pressure was a little high.

"Quinn, wait for me, you bastard, don't let me take the chance, you will suffer when that happens."

This time he had to admit defeat. As for repenting when someone came? That kind of thing is impossible. It's not that he keeps his word, but if the Beast Pirates cut off the supply of goods after the incident, they will be in big trouble.

But this also reminded them that they had to find a way to prevent this from happening. It seems that they need to store more canned fruits, preferably the ones with a shelf life of 50 years.

And here Quinn also found Zeraora, he definitely couldn't do it in one day, Shaina or Jhin should be able to fly at full speed, but Jhin was out for something, so go to Shay for this kind of thing Na's words are likely to be typed out.

So Zeraora became the most suitable candidate.

Chapter 210 Quinn saw deja vu

"Zeraora, how about helping you deliver something? Also, you can bring back the chef that Lord Arceus asked you to find, so you can just pick the chef on the Cake Island."

said Quinn told Zeraora what happened before, and handed him the prepared box.

He did not refuse to deliver for Quinn, mainly to complete Arceus's order to find a chef. According to Quinn, no chef BIG·MOM Pirates will refuse him.

"I'll hand it over to you. When the time comes, I will slaughter them hard. Don't be soft-hearted."

"I'm not good at haggling, so come here when the time comes."

Zeraora is not good at such ripping off activities, so the heavy responsibility still falls on Quinn.

"Then I'll come. Remember to describe the expression of the long-tongued monster to me. It's interesting to think about it. By the way, remember to deliver it within a day, and leave as soon as possible."

"I see, tell Setsuna for me, and I'll be back in a few days." As he said that, he started to eject and left here. If he didn't take a boat, he naturally didn't need to go to the diving port, and it was enough to fly directly from here.

He can fly back by himself, but it is different with a chef, it will take a few days. ovelusB.com

And less than a few minutes after Zeraora left, he appeared here with a new set of clothes.

"Zera. Eh? Where's Zeraora?"

"He, he sent things to Wanguo for me, and he came back in about ten days."

It's just that after he answered, he felt an aura that wasn't quite right. He didn't say a word for a moment, just stared at him like that, and her eyes became a little strange.

That look seemed familiar, it was exactly the same as the look Shaina looked at him a few years ago, and she left like this at the last moment, but it seemed that the place she went to was Shaina's residence, which made Quinn feel very bad. hunch.

His intuition told him that danger was slowly approaching.

Totland Sea, Cake Island, Charlotte Lingling's destruction continues.

"Brother Peros! What the **** is going on!"

"The people of Hundred Beasts said they would deliver things within a day. It's only been half a day, so stick to it."

The chefs at Cake Island have tried countless banana ice cream cake recipes during this time, but none have satisfied Charlotte Lingling.

Without the bananas bred by tropical dragons, there is no way any recipe will be able to blend the fruitiness together perfectly.

The chief chef Longbread is too anxious to experiment with the recipe, and now he has fainted and lost the longbread, and now the kitchen of the cake island has been completely messed up.

Although the BIG·MOM pirates have a large number of people, they can't help the crazy Charlotte Lingling, especially those Hormitz, they can't help at all when Charlotte Lingling is angry, to be precise They're nice if they don't clutter.

Zeus, Prometheus and Napoleon are all trying to dissuade Charlotte Ringling that it would be a total trouble if they joined the destruction.

But even just a Charlotte Lingling is a nightmare for her children. If there is fear, she may take away their life, so only Katakuri can barely delay Charlotte Lingling's life. damage and reduce casualties.

A day has passed since Perospero hung up the phone, and many areas of Cake Island have also been devastated.

"Brother Katakuri! Something is coming from the sky!"

The people around saw a yellow flash in the sky next to him, with the sound of thunder and lightning in the middle, and the direction of the light pointed directly at Cake Island.

"At this time...is he a member of the Beast Pirates?" Katakuri has not cultivated enough to predict the future, and he doesn't know what will happen after a while.

said that it was blocking Charlotte Lingling, but the mad Charlotte Lingling and the others were not opponents at all, at most they could only intervene from a distance.

If they really transfer Charlotte Lingling's anger to themselves, none of them can stand it, so now Katakuri can be distracted and look in other directions.

As the thunder light hit the ground, Zeraora also showed her original posture.

"That guy, Leiguang Zeraora, is a member of the Beast Pirates! Great! They are finally here!"

"Where's the stuff, did you bring it?"

A few people in chef clothes hurriedly gathered around, saw the bananas that Zeraora was carrying, picked them up and ran to the kitchen, where the ingredients were almost ready, and the last banana was just short of it.

Zeraora looked at the destroyed country around him, completely different from when he attended the tea party, and he couldn't even see a shadow.

"You are finally here."

They don't know where Zeraora came from. The fact that the Hundred Beast Pirates' headquarters has become Wano Country is essentially a secret, and now only some people in the world government know it.

Although the time of day is very fast, but this time is a torture for the people of the BIG·MOM pirates.

Only by facing monsters of the level of BIG·MOM can you realize what kind of horror it is. Even if her main target is not them, this incident has kept their nerves tense.

Now the life-saving bananas are here, they can finally relax.

After working overtime, the special banana ice cream cake was finally made.

"Mom! The cake is here!" Katakuri shouted while standing beside the cake cart, then quickly withdrew to the side, leaving only the cake in Charlotte Lingling's field of vision.

"Cake. Give me a banana ice cream cake!"

The current Charlotte Lingling has not yet begun to lose shape, but she sat on the ground regardless of her image and ate cake regardless of her image.

Her children all showed relief when they saw this, and the crisis was finally resolved.

But this is for everyone else, and for Perospero, his troubles are not over because Zeraora handed him a phone bug.

"This is."

"Lend me some pastry chefs. We have a birthday party there. This phone bug means Quinn. He wants to talk to you about other conditions."

In order to prevent Perospero from being swayed by the borrowing of the chef, he specifically told Zeraora that he would ask for it directly in person, and Quinn was responsible for negotiating other conditions.

Zeraora didn't know what they were talking about, but judging from Perospero's expression, it should be something very outrageous.

The chef's question Katakuri directly loaned it to Zeraora. There is a huge army of chefs on the cake island, and it is nothing to lend a few people.

In order to express his gratitude for his timely arrival, Long Bread expressed his willingness to help design the cake in person.
