Chapter 241 "The Island" Kaido

"What are you doing, bastard! That's a refuge ship!"

Kuzan punched Sakaski, but that punch was nothing to Sakaski, it didn't use fruit ability, it didn't use domineering, and a pure physical punch didn't have much impact.

raised his hand to catch Kuzan's punch, and Sakaski's tone didn't fluctuate at all.

"To eradicate it must be thorough. If there are scholars hiding on board, then today's efforts will be in vain. The possibility of evil must be eradicated. Kuzan, your justice is not enough."

"Stop mocking my justice. Although justice changes depending on your position, you are attacking civilians!"

Kuzan did not contradict the slaughtering order, those scholars broke the law, and he also asked the same question in the Warring States period. As a general candidate, his status is different from that of Sauluo.

Sengoku explained this, the reason is for the safety of the whole world, so he will come to execute the demon slaughter order.

But Sakaski's actions were obviously overdone, and the civilians who had been verified were obviously not within the scope of the attack.

"For the safety of more people, sacrifice is inevitable, and those agents will inevitably make mistakes. This is the most effective way."

"You bastard. I will complain to Marshal Kong when you go back! You are disobeying orders!"

The two are both lieutenant generals and alternate generals of the headquarters. Even if he is not happy with Sakaski, it is impossible for the two of them to fight here.

"It's up to you, whoever told you to stop, keep firing until the shells are empty!"

Kuzan jumped to the sea, and while a large piece of the sea froze, he also rushed to the refuge ship. He wanted to see if there were any survivors.

Even Spandain, who had retreated to the east coast, did not expect that the navy would blow up the evacuation ship together.

It is impossible for any ship to leave on the island where the slaughtering order is executed, except for the refuge ships arranged by the World Government. The refuge ships arranged by the World Government are for the evacuation of ordinary people.

"These navies are too radical."

In the sky, everyone looked at the scene below in disbelief.

No one thought this would happen.

"Father, that ship. Isn't that a refuge ship?"

"It is a refuge ship, and the people on board have also been reviewed, but whether they are guilty or not does not count for what they said. The truth is only within the range of cannons. Whoever has absolute force in this world is the ultimate truth.

Today's world governments stand for so-called "justice" but hundreds of years ago they were just a bunch of rebels, what do you say, Dr. Klopapa?"

"We have found some shadows of huge kingdoms and races of gods in history, but we don't know more. How much the world government fears those things"

The huge kingdom, the family of gods, those words are too big and can't understand, but this trip made her understand some things, strength is really very important.

The follow-up matter has nothing to do with them. After returning to the island where the ship was hidden, the group began to return to Wano. The size of the Siyuan is very large, even if Sauro is a giant.

Looking at these scholars, Arceus had a new arrangement for them.

"Ammonite, dial Kaido's number."

"clear!"

The ammonite beast who came out to eavesdrop this time was also brought out. After hearing the order of Arceus, its tentacles retracted inside the shell stretched out, took off the receiver, and dialed the number.

"What, what happened?"

Kaido of Onishima held a hollow iron ball and weighed it up and down, only to seem a little dissatisfied, he casually kneaded the iron ball into a ball of scrap iron and threw it back into the forge, and then picked up another newly forged iron ball. Iron ball, the weight of this ball seems to meet his requirements more.

"It's nothing, and the harvest is good, but there is something you need to do. Is there any problem with your ability to drag an island?"

"It depends on the size and structure of the island, what do you want to do?"

"Find a new piece of land and come back. Go to Faerun and let it take you to the place where they used to live and drag the small island back to Wano. You should be able to do it, right?"

Faerun is the thousand-year-old dragon who ate the fruit of primitive man. He can communicate with people fluently, and Arceus's goal is that small empty island.novelusb.com

The sky island is not immovable. The large sky island group like Angel Island is connected to Qinghai through the top of the west sky due to the sea cloud, so it is fixed above Gaya Island.

But the people on the small sky island of Visalia can control the sky island to fly around, and the same is true for the sky island where the Millennium Dragon lived.

Ask Kaido to drag the empty island back to the sky above Onishima, and then use the giant plants spawned by the grass slate to fix it above Wano Kingdom, and there will be a place for these archaeologists.

Neither need to worry about others finding their traces, nor do they have to worry about other things, similar to a disguised means of house arrest.

"Sky Island? It should be no problem, by the way, tell Yamato for me, I have prepared a new training for her, let her prepare herself."

This sentence does not need to be conveyed, because Yamato has already heard it, and for some reason, a cold air rushed to her forehead from her spine, and she had a very ominous premonition.

After reaching their goal, both Siwon and Yinghu headed towards the new world. A few days later, they reached the edge of the windless belt. Before entering the windless belt, the newsbird brought brand new news.

【O'Hara's demon intended to destroy the world, and the navy destroyed it with thunder. 】

The reason for destroying an island is of course not to study history, but their intention to destroy the world, but the destruction of the archaeological holy site has also made other archaeologists in the world understand some truths, and the purpose of the world government is basically achieved.

Those scholars have also seen the newspapers sent by the newsbird, the demise of O'Hara, and the death of the refuge ship. These actions made them understand the current situation.

And Kroba's gunshot wound has also improved. Pirates have different needs for doctors. These accompanying ship doctors may not be good at treating chronic diseases, but they are good at dealing with trauma left by swords and guns.

The improved Kroba came to Arceus again, and he had a question.

"Your Excellency, I would like to take the liberty to ask what your arrangement will be for us in the future."

"You can continue to study history, but you can't leave at will. If you want to study what you can tell us, our people will bring things back for you, so that everyone is well, and your identity is no longer suitable to appear in the eyes of the world.

We must know the results of the research. In addition, the people on your two ships cannot meet now. Before arriving at your destination, you have to come up with two translations of ancient texts. If there is any difference or lack, you will understand. "

Chapter 242 According to convention, the kid on the boat has to pay attention

When boarding the ship, these people set foot on the Yinghu and Siyuan respectively, the purpose is to figure out the translation method of some ancient characters, these things are more credible if they are in their own hands.

He doesn't mind letting these people continue to study history, anyway, the historical text is also the target they want to search for, but also they can't let them do small tricks secretly.

It is the easiest way to ask a gang separately. He will not kill the donkey, as long as the other party does not deceive himself.

"The opportunity is given to you. If you can't grasp it, you will have to bear the consequences."

"Understood, I will cooperate with you"

The beginning of the Demon Slaying Order made Kloba suspicious of the World Government, and the destruction of the refuge ship made him completely give up on the World Government.

After all, they turned the refuge ship into a shipwreck, and the only survivors on O'Hara were actually pirates, and now they are no different from pirates from a legal point of view.

This process did not last long. These scholars have studied the historical text for a long time. They think they are seamless, but in fact they have been monitored by the world government for a long time.

It didn't take much time to translate the general content, and it was no different from the previous translation, and Olga didn't see much of a problem.

The text of Alkemi has a certain commonality with the ancient text, and the translation of these professional terms is grammatically equivalent to Olga and Asie.

This kind of behavior earned them a certain amount of trust from the Beast Pirates.

But Olvia still has a problem.

"Your Excellency, your people are too rude, they will destroy the ruins."

She refers to the behavior of Olga's subordinates who planned to directly bomb the door. If they explore the ruins like this in the future, it will not be exploration at all, but destruction.

"Professional is definitely not as good as you, but all of you are now on the world government's death list, now you are all dead, and your reputation in the industry is too great, as long as you appear in the crowd, you may be exposed ."

He is very familiar with this situation, Shaina and Jhin are also in the same situation, but they are fundamentally different, Shaina and Jhin are strong enough, and their strength can avoid a lot of trouble.

And these people are just scholars, and to let them out is to cause trouble for themselves.

If they follow the rules, they can let them eat and drink on the empty island. There are only dozens of people in total, which is not bad, but if someone wants to cause trouble, he can only make them disappear.

"That. I'm not on the wanted list. They don't care about a child. You can take me with you during the archaeology."

Nicole Robin on the side of       expressed her opinion. Although she is only eight years old, she is also a historian certified by O'Hara. Except for those scholars, she is no weaker than anyone in historical research.

has not been in contact with Kuzan, Nico Robin, an 8-year-old child, has not attracted the attention of the world government, and the title of the child of the devil does not exist at all.

And her suggestion has some meaning. The secret rooms of some ruins can't be found by ordinary people. They know the whereabouts of the three pieces, but they don't know which ruins the fourth piece is in.

It is still necessary to have a professional, and the only Robin who belongs to the "free body" becomes the only suitable candidate.

"Kid, if you act with us, you'll be treated as a pirate."

"Yeah, the Navy doesn't care about that, you have to think about it."

The pirates on the side       "intimidated" Robin and said, the customs of the Beast Pirates, adults who brought them back can ignore them, but children must pay attention.

According to the statistics of the old people in the group, the children brought back by the Beast Pirates are not too simple at present.novelusb.com

Yamato, the captain's biological daughter, the righteous daughter of Arceus.

Olga, one of the three disasters, a cadre.

In an instant, the cadre reserve.

Jack - Murloc, the little brother of Mandelfish.

Blake Maria, the daughter of Kaido's fellow villager.

Although       Nicole Robin has not shown too strong talent, but he is also a fruit person, historian, who knows if he will be favored.

"I am not afraid of this."

The residents of O'Hara feared her, and the navy destroyed O'Hara, but these pirates made her feel more warm. After all, this was her first contact with pirates, and she didn't see the other side of them.

The first impression is very important to people, and the same is true for those scholars of O'Hara. The first impression is that these pirates are carrying books. Compared with those navies that destroy documents, they inevitably feel that these pirates are better.

even more so after being taken out of O'Hara by them and witnessing it all.

"Hey, Robin, just stay with your mother and study archaeology, don't think about being a pirate!"

Only Sauluo has some opinions on this, he doesn't want to watch Robin go the way of the pirate.

"Hey! That's not what you said when you drank last night!"

"That's right! And look at your own bounty! 100 million Bailey! The first bounty is 100 million, you are a "big pirate"!"

The Navy didn't know where Sauro went, so he issued a bounty order. The status of the Giants + Lieutenant General of the Headquarters allowed him to offer a reward of 100 million Bailey for the first time.

Although Bailey is starting to depreciate now, 100 million is a very high bounty to start with. Nicole Olvia's bounty has been revoked, because she is already a dead person in the eyes of the world government.

No bones were found on the ruins of O'Hara, but it was normal that nothing was left under such a violent shelling. They didn't find anything except the historical text.

Before the O'Hara incident, Sauro could confidently say that the pirates are incurable evil parties, and the navy is the only justice, but now he can't say that.

"Pirate. It's too dangerous, Robin is too young." Sauluo finally stammered such a sentence. In the end, there was no conclusion on this matter. Those things were too far away. Now they Haven't entered the windless zone yet.

In a branch in the West Sea, after the end of the demon slaughtering order, the naval warships returned here temporarily, and Kuzan also found the Warring States immediately and complained to him about this matter.

"Kuzan, there is no need to pursue this matter."

"Why?! That guy Sakaski attacked the civilian refuge ship!"

"I know, but he has already reported the news to Marshal Kong himself. This matter has long been sent to the Five Old Stars. The World Government has no opinion on this, and there is no need to investigate what has happened. Do you understand? "

"I see."

From this day on, the navy lost one hot-blooded young man and one more lazy vice admiral

Chapter 243 Yamato's New Friend

The Shadow Fox and the Siwon had already entered the windless zone. The power of the outer ship drove the two ships to sail slowly on the sea. The bottom of the sea floor stone made the sea kings living below completely ignore them.

Sauro didn't feel strange. Passing through the windless belt is a probabilistic thing. If you are lucky enough, it is not strange that you will not encounter a sea king.

Although the inlaid sea towers can avoid the sea kings have been discovered by Vega Punk, but Sauro does not know the details of this technology.

Most of the giants are like this. There are not only giants in the minority race, but basically only the giants join the navy, and they are only looked at by their force.

Sengoku had the will to explain to Kuzan, but he didn't say anything to Sauluo to tell the difference.
nOVeLUSb.Com

And the external sea tower stone is still a relatively tight resource. Today, the world government still has not been able to establish a stable trading channel from Kaido, and can only buy sea tower stone from the black market.

He didn't say that he didn't trade, nor did he say what he wanted. Just like when ordering food, he asked what he wanted to eat, but after ordering, he said no. Because of this, the leader of the CP0 team was going bald.

On the Shadow Fox, several scholars were secretly watching Elizabeth, Elizabeth in her original form.

"This is. Basilisk lizard, right!"

"That's right, it's the Basilisk Lizard, a species that went extinct more than a hundred years ago. I can't think of it still alive."

These are two historians who study paleontology. The world's definition of extinction is to disappear in most of the seas. After all, there is a unique environment like Taikoo Island, and some unique species on it are also very common.

The closed island environment makes the evolution of animals strange.

Although she has the ability of a thousand-faced escort, Elizabeth sometimes likes to bask in the sun in her main body. Later, she found several scholars watching it in the corner, so she directly changed back to the appearance of a thousand-faced escort.

"What are you doing?"

"It's great to be able to talk! Can you ask me, as basilisk lizards, what kind of living habits do you have and what it's like to run on the water."

The deformed and talking Elizabeth did not frighten them, but aroused a strong curiosity. For a person who studies ancient creatures, encountering a talking and living ancient creature is simply a godsend. good opportunity.

So when Olga came here again, what she saw was a few scholars who served Elizabeth with tea and water.

"What are you guys doing?"

"They.. voluntarily.."

There are many Taikoo Islands on the great route, but there are not many in the four seas. It is not uncommon to fight with dinosaurs in the new world, but these people from all over the world should study dinosaur fossils at most.

They are scholars, not warriors. After meeting Elizabeth, in order to get relevant information from her mouth, they turned into a dog-licking mode.

Listening to Elizabeth's explanation, Olga suddenly felt that it was not surprising that these scholars were approached by the World Government, after all, they were too daring.

On the other hand, Yamato also made her new friend - Nicole Robin.

Robin is much more mature than his peers. Because his birthday is earlier, he is more than two years older than Yamato.

One has been feared and hated by his peers since he was a child, and one is naturally familiar, and he is a little bit closer to being a social terrorist, so it is not surprising that two people are familiar with each other.

Although there are many children in Wano, neither Kaido nor Arceus intends to let her grow up with the group of people. The only peers around her are Maria and Jack, and there is not a table of mahjong.

Of course, if you add auspicious eggs, it will be different.

"Is your horn real?"

"Of course it's true, isn't it weird?"

"Will no one be afraid of you?"

At first, she thought Yamato's horns were just special headgear hairpins, but she didn't expect it to be real.

"Scared? How is it possible, everyone is friendly."

Rather than being friendly, it's more awe-inspiring. This is the biggest difference between having parents around and not. When Robin was two years old, Nicole Olvia began to explore the text of history and put her in foster care with relatives.

Although it was fine at the beginning, but after a long time, she was regarded as a fuel bottle, and the ordinary residents of O'Hara could not understand the ideals of those scholars.

Children will be xenophobic, a person is too tall, too thin, too weak, as long as he is different from the group, he is easily discriminated against. more and more intense.

But Yamato is different. Kaido and Arceus are both on the ghost island. Although Kaido is safer when he is not drunk, he is also more cruel to Yamato.

But his own education and others are two concepts, no pirate can't think of targeting his captain's daughter.

It was not in a hurry when we returned to Onishima. After about a month, the Siwon and Shadow Fox returned to the waters near Wano Kingdom.

Through the diving port, the two ships reappeared in the inland sea of Wano, and there was also a large shadow in the distant sky approaching Wano. Kaido in the form of a blue dragon was surrounded by flame clouds. He was dragged back directly.

"That. That's a dragon?!"

"It's not a dragon, these two ships belong to the Beast Pirates, that is the captain of the Beasts Pirates, Kaido "Hundred Beasts", and now he is also the number one big pirate in the New World."

Looking at Kaido in the sky, Sauro explained his identity to the scholars around him. These scholars are good at historical topics, but they are not good at topics that have nothing to do with history.

"The one dragging behind him is the cloud?"

"It's not a cloud, it's an empty island. That empty island will be your residence in the future. You should have heard of the empty island, right?"

A group of scholars looked at each other, and finally looked at Kroba. The topic of empty islands was not within the scope of their research, and Kroba, as the curator of the Tree of Omniscience library, had the most knowledge in all aspects.

"I have seen some descriptions of empty islands in the literature, but this is the first time I have seen them, let alone people who can drag empty islands"

Sauro's shock was even smaller. There has always been a legend about dragging the island among the giants, and the legend about Oz, the lucky country more than 400 years ago.

The ancient giants, whose size is several times larger than ordinary giants, the Demon Oz, dragged the countries or islands they liked directly back to their own territory.

The cause of death was that he did not wear clothes when attacking the country of ice and snow, and finally died in the cold sea.

"Olga, you arranged for these scholars and that big man."

"Understood, you can rest assured."

Then Arceus left here, the empty island has been dragged back, but where to place it, and how to place it, we have to re-plan.

Chapter 244 Leisurely Hospital Life

In the sky, many thousand-year-old dragons flew around the empty island, and they lived on that small empty island for hundreds of years.

In the end, they chose to move for special reasons, and now they have a new home, but they still chose to revisit the old place when they saw this empty island that was dragged back.

"The empty island you want has been dragged back, but where are you going to put it?"

"Just connect it with vines near the ghost island. The volume of this empty island should not fly around."

"Then you have to strengthen it. It was not necessarily before, but it is different now. In order to drag it back, I blew up a part of Shimayun and dragged it out of Haiyun. Now its weight It should be a lot lighter."

Although it can still float in the sky, the area of this empty island is very different from the previous one. Kaido controlled the sky island to lower the height, and finally let it float at an altitude of about 2,000 meters.

Two huge vines rose from the ground, extended from the rock wall outside Wano Kingdom, and pierced the island cloud in the sky, fixing it near Wano Kingdom.~~no~~VELUSb.com

O'Hara's scholars were also brought to the empty island by the Millennium Dragon. They will live with the Millennium Dragon for a long time in the future. It is the only flying unit of the Beast Pirates that can stably deliver supplies to the empty island.

"Is this trip just for these people?"

"These are top scholars in various historical fields, and without them, you can only rely on the guy from Kozuki Oden to translate those ancient characters for you."

"That's true, but the giants."

"Behind him is a whole country of giants. He has a good relationship with the mother and daughter among those scholars, and he knows a bit more, so he is also left in the empty island. If he can establish contact with the country of giants behind him. , maybe you can get an army of giants."

"The warriors of the giant clan are really good. That woman, Lingling, will be envied to death by then, huh huh huh"

Charlotte Lingling's collection habit and the giants' hatred against her is an endless cycle. For the time being, this cycle has not been broken. The object of love at first sight by a giant prince with poor aesthetics is still just a child.

Scholars did not put forward much opinions on this semi-house arrest measure living on the empty island. Legally, they are all dead now, and there is no choice for them.

Moreover, the scope of this empty island is also half the size of O'Hara. Most of them are dead houses, and they just stay in the library to study documents every day. On the premise that the beasts search for the ruins for them, they accept this translation work.

However, the scholars led by Kroba put forward a condition that they can stay on the empty island all the time, but Robin can't, at least let Robin leave the empty island like ordinary people.

Although she is a child, even if she leaves the sky island, she can appear in Wano and Onishima at most, but they still hope that there are more ordinary people in the environment where Robin grows up.

Sauro and Olvia have the same meaning. This request has been agreed. In the morning, Robin can follow the Millennium Dragon to leave the sky island, and be sent back after dark.

On weekdays, whether to study history with those scholars or do something else is entirely up to them. If you want, you can also train with the pirates of the beasts. After all, Yamato regards her as a friend. Kaido doesn't think a little girl can do it. affect what.

The appearance of scholars did not cause a sensation, most people didn't know about these scholars, but the giant Sauluo aroused more curiosity.

In the white dance area of Wano country, there are two new buildings. One is the already built Hundred Beast Pokemon Center. The building is five stories high, which is considered a tall building in Wano country. Nearby is the The family area of those medical staff.

The other is a nursing school, where locals from Wano are being recruited for training to fill the vacancies in the hospital.

The doctors and nurses who came here from the outer islands during this time have become familiar with the Pokémon, and they have brought much more assistance in medical care than the average person.

And now the Pokémon Center is very leisurely, two nurses are playing **** cards with almost dolls, and the doctor is studying how to massage the auspicious eggs.

Now there are complete medical staff and medical equipment, except for patients, they can say anything.

"This is really a good place. The salary is much higher than before, but I don't have to do anything."

In the consultation room, the two doctors chatted boredly about their daily routines, mainly about the changes since they came here.

Apart from the different living environment, there is almost no change, and the exchange of information is not as smooth as before. If you want to read the newspaper, you can only wait for the people from the Beast Pirates to deliver some newspapers at noon.

Ordinary TVs can't receive signals here. Only the TV in the center of the hospital, Rotom, can receive signals from overseas. If you want to watch TV, you can only watch it with the whole hospital.

"What can I do? Someone came here to see a doctor before. I was arranging a skeleton model, and he was scared away."

"You must be scared, everyone here is... um."

"You mean ignorance?"

"It doesn't feel right, but the development here is really backward, and it's a little deformed. Even factories have been built, but the public's cognition can't keep up."

"I heard that it was built after the beasts arrived here, but it's not bad. It's been busy for so many years, and it's not bad to be a mess."

They all chose to move under the lure of high salaries. Even if there were no patients, the hospital was still operating as usual. Except for the occasional few wounded people from all kinds of animals, most of the time they were fishing.

In a sense, this is also the dream of migrant workers.

"I advise you not to say that, we have an old saying, I don't know if you have heard it before."

"what?"

"Don't talk about being idle in the hospital, or you will be busy in the future."

"I haven't heard of it, which island are you rumored to be?"

Before he finished speaking, the lights in their office came on, and an alarm sounded at the same time, which meant that there were patients who needed them.

The two departments of theirs are emergency departments, and it is not a good thing to sound this kind of alarm.

"Look at what I'm saying"

"It's really spiritual, no, don't worry about it, go and save people!"

The two hurriedly ran out of their office to the emergency room, the first time this was the case since the hospital was established.

In the lobby of the hospital, an old man dressed as a farmer was just carried on a stretcher by auspicious eggs. Although they are relatively short, they are much stronger than ordinary humans.

The retractable stretcher bed was smooth in their hands, and the comatose were rushed to the emergency room.

Chapter 245 First Aid and Musashi

He is the first Wano resident to be sent here since the hospital was built. In fact, many local residents of this hospital have a sense of fear. Those medical machines, bone models and diagrams in the hospital, etc. Kind of scary for them.

If there is no way, the family of the old man may not send him over. They have already found a local doctor in Wano Country before, but the local doctor has pronounced the old man dead.

It's just that they didn't give up. The doctors of the nobles couldn't afford it, so they sent them here to try.

"The muscles are stiff, and the breathing is weak, almost like a baby!" He couldn't hear anything with the stethoscope, his heartbeat had almost stopped, and his pulse was very weak. According to the medical level of Wano, such a person was already dead.

But after almost the doll put his ear on the old man's heart, he gave an affirmative answer.

"Chabu! Chabu Chabu!"

"There is still a heartbeat, open the airway, establish venous access, it should be a weak death!"

Since most of the people in Wano are afraid of the Beast Pokémon Center, there are no patients here, so not only the emergency department, but also all departments have sent people to come here.

He almost got the full rescue of the entire hospital. After half an hour of rescue, the old man finally recovered his vital signs, and then he was sent to the inpatient department. They did not let him leave directly.

After the rescue, a doctor came out with his hands behind his back.

This is a habit of doctors. If there is nothing in his hands, his hands are either behind his back or in front of him, but it is not a good thing for a doctor to cross his arms in front of him.

They will only do this when they bow and apologize when the rescue fails.

"It was delivered in time. The old man rescued me, but I have to stay in the hospital for a few days for observation. If it is convenient, go there and pay the fee."

"My father is still alive! Right!"

"Of course, although the situation is more urgent, but it's all right now, you can go there and have a look, but can you pay the fee first?"

Man has been rescued, so he has no scruples about talking about it.

When he was saving people, he was a doctor, so he didn't mention the cost. The goal was to save people first, but after the goal was achieved, the doctor was no longer his responsibility, but his profession.

He also wanted to earn money to support his family, so he began to urge his family members to pay the bills aside. He didn't think that ordinary people would not be able to get that amount of money.

The wage level in Wano country is indeed not high compared to the outside world, but the prices here are also very low, and the purchasing power of the currency is relatively high.

The hospital charges are set by Kojiro according to the price level of Wano Country. Ordinary residents can afford this fee as long as they work normally.

"I understand, I understand, I'll go right now, Hanako, go and settle the bill, and I'll take my husband to see my father."

But today's matter does not seem to end because of this. After the old man was rescued, another group of people with food poisoning was sent outside. The local doctor had already induced vomiting, but it had no effect, and was finally sent. here.

Today's doctors have been busy until late at night before they stop.

"Huh, I've been resting for too long, I'm really overwhelmed by being so busy all of a sudden."

"Do you understand why you are not allowed to talk nonsense? There is really metaphysics here, but they are charging money backwards, right?"

"It doesn't matter, anyway, there is no difference in the money we get."

This hospital is not a profitable project at all, but it doesn't matter, the huge profits brought by the fruits of animals are enough to make up the gap in this regard.

"how much did you spend?"

"70 silver, much less than expected."

This figure is not much for ordinary families in Wano country. If a family only buys clean water, the cost of water bills for a week is about 10 silver.

Including other parts, the living expenses for a week are only 70 silver, which is a savings that most people can use.

After all, it saved a life. According to the doctor's suggestion, they should stay in the hospital for observation for seven days, but they still chose to go home after only two days. For them, there is no need to stay here and spend money. .

Baiwu area, an ordinary family.

The people who live here are doctors in this village. Usually, the villagers choose to come here to see a doctor when they have some headaches, but a group of uninvited guests came here today.

"Miyamoto, come out! You quack doctor! Almost killed my old man!"

The person who came was the son of the old man. This time, he was entangled with a bunch of relatives and came to ask for explanation. It was she who sentenced the old man to death.

The inferiority of some people, he will not remember the help of others, but if his own interests are damaged, he will definitely hold revenge.

This doctor used to help the village a lot, but now he was called by a group of people to set the name of a quack doctor.

This is actually not her fault. She doesn't have the equipment to measure the electrocardiogram, and she doesn't have the hearing ability of a baby. It's normal for her to not be able to distinguish the suspended animation state. Even if the doctors at the Pokémon Center don't have equipment, she may not be able to tell the difference.

But these people don't think so. People were saved there, and people were not saved here, and they naturally hated this place. NoVELuSb.cOm

"What's wrong?"

"My dad didn't die at all, but you said he was dead. Isn't this a quack doctor?!"

said that he wanted to start, but a chain with a weighing scale flew out from the side and hit him directly on the head, immediately opening a hole in his head.

"Bastards, what do you want to do?!"

"Musashi. She's here"

"Isn't she going to Linghou? Why don't you go first if you're still here, it seems like it won't work today."

They didn't come here to make trouble for no reason. That would be of no benefit at all. It cost a lot of money to see a doctor.

In their opinion, the doctor named Miyamoto often sees patients in the village, and he must have a lot of money in his hand, but the premise is that she is the only one here.

Miyamoto is her name, and Musashi is her daughter. She did not choose to stay here as a doctor like Miyamoto, but went to Linghou. The eldest sister of a group of bad girls.

And she is not the type to bully the market, so she has not been suppressed by the beasts, and even the name has been passed back to Bai Wu.

Those people are bullying the soft and afraid of the hard. Seeing that Musashi is still here, they simply left.

"Mom, I told you, don't continue to be a doctor here, no one will remember you."

Chapter 246 Orochi almost killed by Oda

"You confiscate them again, and you even have to put money in it yourself, but what happened? Last time, too, if there is a little mistake, a group of people will come to the door!"

She took the chain back with a flick of her hand. It was her usual weapon, whether it was a man or a woman, it was necessary for the gangsters of Wano to get ahead and fight.

In this regard, men have a natural advantage, so most of the gangsters are men, and currently there are also a group of women who are all women.

Musashi has made great efforts in this regard, and her iron cable has played a lot of roles.

However, she has been unemployed recently. Although it is called bad, they also have their own occupations. This group of bad girls takes on the work of the grave guards in the northern cemetery.

But some time ago, the northern cemetery welcomed a group of rare tomb robbers. Although most of the grave goods were still there, many corpses were lost, including the corpse of the sword **** Ryoma and the black sword Qiushui, which was regarded as a national treasure by Wano Kingdom.

This greatly reduced their credibility, and they could hardly continue. The gang also chose to disband. Some of the remaining people chose to go home like her, and some joined Kojiro's chamber of commerce.

There were even people who went to Youkuo's room for girls, but instead of selling their bodies, they used their bodies to be security guards.

"Do you want to be a gangster like you? Now you can't do it anymore?"

"Who knew that there were tomb robbers in Linghou and they swept through a large cemetery in half an hour, as if they were haunted.NoVELu$$.cOm

But don't worry about them anymore, a group of people don't know how to be grateful at all.

You are not too young, isn't it good to have a peaceful retirement? "

"How can you make me feel at ease to retire in this way? If I don't run this place, I'm afraid you won't be able to eat. What are your plans in the future?"

"According to your idea, I'll be a doctor too." This is what Miyamoto has always hoped, but the previous Musashi was not interested in it.

"Okay, then you can start studying with me."

"No, you are being bullied too much. Bai Wu has opened a new hospital, and the nursing college there is recruiting people. I plan to go there. You should go with me too. I think they are also recruiting experienced doctors. .

is the one who rescued the old man from their previous family, so you can go with me. "

In the end, under the persuasion of Musashi, Miyamoto changed his mind, packed his things and went to the hospital built by the beasts. Doctors with certain experience like her are the most popular people there today, and they can go to work directly after simple training. .

And here, Musashi's heart was also touched, and the shape of Geely Egg just hit the cute point in her heart.

After that day, the Hundred Beasts Pokémon Center gradually added a lot of residents of Wano Country, cheap and efficient, which made many people come here with the mentality of giving it a try.

Compared to the unsystematic medical environment in Wano, the doctors brought together on these different islands showed a more efficient medical level, and the right medicine was much stronger than those so-called earth-preparation.

And the Beast Pokémon Center is not the ordinary people of Wano Kingdom, but Kozuki Oden.

In addition to dancing in the flower capital, he basically does not leave Jiuli, and at most appears in Bai Wu, because there is the residence of the Shuangyue Yasuo family.

He can't say that he has no contribution to the residents of Jiuli. For example, he cleaned up the chaotic Jiuli and brought Jiuli back into order, but watching the flow of people in and out of the Beast Pokémon Center, he had deep self-doubt.

Some people even came here from other townships, the purpose is to come here to see a doctor, although there are not many people, but the doctors inside are also working normally, and the original leisure time has disappeared.

In Jiuli, he can see the high-yielding orchards, and the smiles of herders and farmers. Bai Wu's hospital has helped many people get rid of their pain.

"Would it be much better for me to govern if the beasts came?" He himself was not the material, and neither the daimyo nor the general was his goal.

If it weren't for the fact that he had seen too many things and learned some secrets during the voyage with Roger, he might have returned to Whitebeard's ship and continued to be a pirate. The original agreement between him and Whitebeard was to return to Moby a year later. Dick's.

With this doubt, he came to Shuangyue Yasushi's house. As a secret insider, Shuangyue Yasushi's family has been carrying out that order, and he felt very puzzled when he saw the arrival of Guangyue Otian.

"Oda-sama, why are you here?"

"Kang family, do you think I am a failure?" Drinking alcohol in the Kang family's residence, Kozuki Oden was doubting life. If he was asked to do it, he didn't know if he could do this.

He can and can run a hospital, but he can't do the medical equipment, the doctors, and the strange creatures.

"The Kang family... hiccup~, do you think Kaido is more suitable for that general's position than me?"

"What nonsense are you talking about! Let you dance to deceive Kaido, not to make you doubt yourself!"

Hearing what Kotatsu Oden said, Shuangyue Yasushi's eyes widened. He had been secretly accumulating strength during this time, but the plan had not yet started, and the coach was directly shaken.

"You are the heir of the Koyuki family and the legitimate heir of the general. No matter what, the position of the general should be yours! If you think those things are beneficial, you can keep those things after expelling Kaido!"

However, the current Shuangyue Yasushi family is not good at words. He felt that he could not speak Kozuki Oden, so he arranged for his confidant to go to the capital of flowers.

He hates Black Charcoal Orochi, but he has to admit that Black Charcoal Orochi is much stronger than him in terms of words.

On the other hand, he had a drink with Kozuki Oden first. It would take a while for the news to be sent to the capital of flowers and then rush back.

When the news of Shuangyue Yasaka's family arrived, there was another sleepless person in the flower capital.

"Idiot, idiot, the idiot of Kozuki Oden!!" The black charcoal Orochi's table suffered misfortune. For Orochi, he couldn't understand the brain circuit of Kozuki Oden.

Just like the Shimotsuki Yasushi family thought, he made Oden dance to confuse Kaido, and he jumped himself in.

Black Charcoal Orochi roughly thought about the consequences of Kozuki Oden if he really did that. He didn't know if Kaido would cut the grass on the Kozuki family, but he would definitely be smashed to ashes by him.

"There really isn't a single innocent person in the Kozuki family, Oden, wait for me, wait for you and Kaido to fight, and I will kill you!"

But now he's just been addicted to words. With what he knows about Kozuki Oden, if he doesn't persuade him well, that idiot can really do such a thing.

Chapter 247 Spider Fruits and Transforming Drugs

Under the persuasion of the black charcoal snake, Koyuki Oden finally strengthened his belief. The black charcoal snake felt that he had never been so humble when he was a domestic servant a few years ago, and what he said was against his heart.

After all, he only has hatred for Wano Country, and all the people of Wano Country are in dire straits is what he wants to see.

On the ghost island, a strange thing has happened, Maria entered a room inadvertently, and coincidentally ate the spider fruit in the form of the ancient species, Rose of the ancient tarantula.

"Kaido, you told me it was a coincidence?"

"Of course, there are more than one fruit there. I heard that the fruit of the animal system will choose its own owner, which is of course a coincidence."

"Don't be kidding, Rotom is lodging in the door of the storage room. She has no permission to enter there. The only people who can change Rotom's permissions are me and you. It's better to say that this matter was caused by you."

Since Onishima realized the intelligentization of the equipment with the help of a large number of Rotoms, the mechanical door with its own audit function saves a lot of trouble.

Maria's authority is not enough to enter the treasure house of the Beast Pirates, let alone her, even Yamato.

And the person who can change the authority can only be Arceus or Kaido, even if it is Shaina or Quinn who can order Rotom to do something, they are not qualified to let Rotom change the authority.

Without Kaido's advice, Maria wouldn't be able to get there, let alone touching that fruit.

"After all, she's White's daughter. She's not physically fit enough. If you don't strengthen her physique in this way, she won't be able to withstand the next stage of training."

Said that Kaido took out a box out of nowhere, and from the sound of ding ding bang, it could be judged that it was some metal object.

When he opened it, inside were the hollow iron **** he forged while Arceus was on his way to O'Hara.

"Seriously?"

"Relax, rubberized."

In a sense, the difference is really not that big. After all, the influence of the material of what Kaido throws out is far less terrifying than his own strength or domineering.

"Remember to turn off her permissions, you are not afraid that she will eat two fruits without knowing anything."

He didn't stop Yamato's training, but reminded Kaido to cancel Maria's follow-up permission.

"No one will eat the second piece of that thing, and Maria also threw the rest away after one bite. After all, that thing is too bad to eat."

Although she ate the Devil Fruit, Maria did not feel as happy as other people, although the spider fruit gave her a lot of enhancements, the ability to climb walls, the ability to spin silk, and the power of the spider itself. novelusb.com

But none of these can fix a fatal problem. The human-beast form of the spider fruit looks too ugly for Maria, and she can't accept it.

The beast form is an ordinary spider, but the human-beast form of the spider fruit is not Spider-Man.

This combination of changes is like an alien gorilla, which makes it difficult for her to accept. Women are all beautiful, and Yamato, who has a carefree personality, is no exception, so Xiaoxian milk's cute appearance will be welcomed by them.

So she is very against the form of this monster.

"I don't want it, it's too ugly, that pose is too ugly"

During their study, Maria refused to use her abilities, which made Quinn, the teacher of this class, very difficult to handle. The application of the abilities of the animal department is closely related to the original animals.

What animals can do, what are the characteristics of the animals themselves, these abilities will be more exaggeratedly reflected in ordinary animals with abilities, and they can even develop some peculiar functions based on those abilities.

The spider fruit has not been transformed yet, and Maria, who has no plans to go to sea, does not need this, so Quinn is conducting animal science, but in practice, there are big problems.

"Hey, can you cooperate a little bit? This is an order from Big Brother Kai, if I don't get it right, it will be difficult for me!"

Originally, Quinn thought it was an easy thing to bring a child. Whether it was Olga brought by Shaina or Moment brought by Zeraora, they didn't have any trouble.

Even though Jhin and Kaido and the others were teaching martial arts well, they got stuck when it came to him.

"Don't, it's too ugly!"

"That's what spiders are like, no matter how much you resist, who made you choose this fruit."

"No, it's not the ugly spider, it's the ugly form!"

She doesn't hate spiders herself, and even raised a large non-venomous spider. She doesn't have that much resistance to the beast form, but only the human-beast form.

"Is that so, I have a way to make your transformation more beautiful, it's up to you whether you dare or not, just wait here."

said that Quinn returned to his laboratory. When he came back here again, there were several bottles of strangely colored liquid in his hand.

"This is a new invention of this uncle, which can change the form of animal-type abilities, but no second person has tried it yet. Do you want to try it?"

As for the first person, he is himself. With the help of transforming the human body and medicine, Quinn can use very strange moves in the state of beastization.

The superhuman fruit has the most extensive development direction, while the animal fruit is the most comprehensive in terms of body application and external force intervention. The multi-stage transformation caused by Chopper's blue wave ball, and the wonderful form developed by Quinn's pharmacy are all through drugs. achieved.

Maria took the potion from Quinn and drank it without hesitation, but she found that there was no change in the form.

"Don't worry, this is a long course of treatment, and it will take a lot of time to change your form."

Maria started the days when she used medicine to change her form, and everything in Wano is developing as usual. After the suspended animation, other patients gradually went to the Beast Pokémon Center to see a doctor, where the leisurely life of the doctors has disappeared. .

Naiqin also has two more assistants. Among those doctors, there are also doctors who are good at Chinese herbal medicine. After meeting Naiqin, Naiqin's knowledge of herbal medicine easily convinced them and made them willing to act as assistants to Naiqin.

On this day, as the new issue of the newspaper was delivered to Onishima, a different emotion rose in Naiqin's heart.

【The broken underwater prison, the golden lion Shiki, escaped successfully! 】

The underwater prison known as never been broken, the impregnable copper walls and iron walls have become a piece of talk today, Shi Ke paid the price of his own feet and managed to escape from it.

Chapter 248 You know too much

The life and death of the golden lion has little to do with Naqin. For her, it has nothing to do with what the golden lion does, but the behavior of the golden lion means one thing. The underwater prison is no longer an unbreakable barrier.

Since the Golden Lions can be the first, there will be a second one in the future, and the possibility of Walder's comeback is one more point.

But she didn't know that because the behavior of the golden lion made it more difficult for subsequent people to escape from prison. Before that, many LV.6 serious criminals only locked their feet, but after this, LV.6 people's limbs will be bound.

Although the golden lion's escape has a lot to do with his fluttering fruit, those who can be locked in LV.6 are all famous monsters on the sea, and the world government hopes that these people will forever be silent in the dark and infinite hell.

After all, the prisoners on this floor are almost always wicked people who have committed many crimes. The government has covered up some events beyond cruelty, and even the newspapers have deliberately concealed them.

A golden lion is already a big problem, and another one is a big problem.

At the same time, on the empty island pulled out by Kaido, O'Hara's scholars are also continuing their research, and Olga is also on this empty island. She still needs to know more about ancient texts.

Translation is not enough to know the meaning of words, grammar, word order, polysemy, context, these are all things that are closely related to translation.

If there is a mistake in this, the translation result will be wrong. Some words appearing alone and combined have completely different meanings.

ifyouneverleaveme, iwillbewithyoutildeathdousapart.

The correct translation of        is that if you do not leave me, I will live and die, but the literal wrong translation is that if you do not leave me, I will perish with you.

Olga didn't mention the progress of the ancient script for the time being, but she knew another thing, and that was why O'Hara's people would attract the Demon Slaughtering Order.

"Dr. Kloba, do you know that some things are said to kill people?"

The specific thing is going back a few minutes, when Kloba was correcting Olga's grammar problem, and Olga often made repeated problems in some grammar, and this time Kloba asked a question.

"Have you heard of Alkemi?"

"what are you saying?"

"The usage of this word and this adverb, you are obviously used to this usage when translating ancient characters, beginners will not make this mistake, you obviously have a certain understanding of ancient characters."

But although you know ancient writing, it is not the ancient writing on it. After all, it was 800 years ago, and other ancient writings evolved from it.

Among them, Alkemi's text is separated from ancient texts. There is a certain commonality in it, but the grammar is very different. That's why I think you have some connection with Alkemi. "

Then Kloba continued to correct some grammatical errors in Olga's translation, and continued to explain his reasons.

"Maybe you don't know either. After all, Alkemi disappeared from the world more than a hundred years ago. I'm afraid your teacher also knows a little bit about it."

He didn't think about this issue. He knew that Al Kemi was also an island in history. He didn't know about other things. He never thought that someone had lived in the belly of a sea king for more than a hundred years.

In Olga's view, Kroba dared to say anything is one of the reasons for attracting the World Government.

After all, it doesn't matter whether these insignificant things are said or not, but he did.

"Why did you attract the demon slaying so that you should be very clear." That is, this empty island is isolated from the outdoors, otherwise these scholars will cause themselves more trouble sooner or later.

"I know, so I didn't tell other scholars about these things, and I didn't tell you about this kind of thing. After you found out that the problem was more serious?"

These scholars may not have enough emotional intelligence, but they are not fools who can become the top scholars in the industry. O'Hara's slaughtering order has taught Kroba enough lessons.

The mistake they made in the face of the world government was that they didn't hide anything, or they didn't hide it enough, which led to some secrets being clearly seen by the other party.

There is no way to make a second mistake like this. They are legally dead, and the only people who can accept them are the pirates who are also wanted, so his current plan is to not hide anything and say what he knows.

This empty island sounds like a paradise, but it sounds like a prison for people under house arrest. Everything here is under the surveillance of beasts, and concealing it will only lead to worse consequences.

There are no phone bugs in the entire sky island. The only tool that can be contacted is Rotom, and the Rotoms created by Arceus will not disobey the order. The only thing that can be contacted on this sky island is the beasts.

"That's what I said, but it doesn't matter. Have you sorted out the things you asked you to sort out earlier?"

"Okay, but we haven't seen the indestructible stone slabs you proposed in the places we have explored. These are areas that have not yet been explored, but there may be ancient ruins. You can go there and see for yourself."

Maria's drug transformation is still going on, and the ammonites have again eavesdropped on new things. Regarding the next CP's plans, the golden lion's escape is not good news, and the chaos in the sea is further intensified.

Whether it is the sea tower stone used for the transformation of warships or the sea tower stone required by various prisons, the demand far exceeds the reserves of the World Government. Although it can be supplied on the black market, the process is too slow, so the World Government once again ordered its subordinates People contacted Kaido.

In the past, all the trading products they gave were money, and the prices were constantly increasing. This was the best bargaining chip for the world government. They could even choose to print money to fill the shortage of funds.

As for the consequences of this, as long as you operate a little bit, you can transfer the conflict to the non-joined countries. As long as the interests of yourself and the joined countries are not damaged, the fate of the non-joined countries is not important.

However, when Kaido refused to trade, they also began to exchange trades. They didn't want to invest too much in the enemy. Finally, they took out a batch of failed products in Punk Hassad's laboratory.

The Hundred Beast Pirates are also constantly recruiting troops in the expansion of the new city boundary. Due to the change in policy, they are now much more strict in absorbing pirates than the original timeline.

But they can still see their need for troops, and those experiments in the laboratory are the experiments of the world government on ancient giants, they are trying to create new ancient giants

Chapter 249 Yanwu King and Pot King

Although the navy has the giants' lieutenant generals through some plans, the world government is not satisfied with this, and those giants lieutenant generals have their own ideas.

What they do has a lot to do with their own preferences, and behaviors like Sauluo have already explained the problem.

The world government wants war weapons that obey orders, and those giants cannot satisfy them.

And because of the powerful strength of the Giant Kingdom, the non-joined countries also have some agreements with the world government. The world government wants some countermeasures, and the ancient giants plan was put into production immediately.

The thing was initially led by Vegapunk, but he lost interest in it after a while because he thought it was impossible to perfectly recreate the ancient giants.

The agreement with the World Government included a clause that the World Government could not force him to study things that he had no interest in, so this experiment was gradually handed over to Caesar Courant.

But in the end, they only made some low-IQ failures. Although they reproduced the shape of the ancient giants, they did not have the power of the ancient giants.

Not to mention Oz, the original fortune-teller, even Little Oz can't compare.

Moreover, the requirements of the World Government are war weapons that have no emotions and are forbidden, and in the end, some low-IQ monsters with low IQs and difficult to understand orders.

The appetite is large, the execution of orders is poor, and it is easy to distinguish between enemy and foe on the battlefield. Although the follow-up test products are getting better and better, but in the eyes of the world government, this research result is far less than investment.

So after a certain number of test items appeared but still did not get the effect they wanted, they suspended the experiment. The original test items were frozen in the underground of Punk Hazard.

Now he chose to use waste, although this thing is very tasteless to the world government, and it is not comparable to the ordinary giant lieutenant general.

But that is a big business world government, no one can afford that kind of experiment to outsiders, so they think it is a good condition for Kaido.

"Sounds good, but these guys are really biting, they should know what we want most."

Looking at the information that the ammonite beast had eavesdropped on, Kaido had a new evaluation of those people, but they started to raise the price to show one thing, that is, they still need a lot of sea floor stones.

However, he was reluctant to give another top price. If some things were proposed, he would appear anxious, which would put the negotiation at a disadvantage. Because of information leakage, the CP0 agents were always at a disadvantage.

"Quinn, have you heard of this?"

"The **** Caesar had a similar idea when the research group was not disbanded, but I don't think it's possible to reproduce that thing, and Gage also thinks so.

Although I don't want to admit it, Gaji's guy is stronger in human cloning, and they also said that it was a failure, so I'm afraid it's really not a good thing. "

This thing was a concept before their research group was disbanded, and it was not put into practice at all. After the disbandment, the members went their separate ways, and Quinn couldn't tell what the specific situation was like.

Kaido intends to meet each other and inspect the goods in person. Although the fish to be caught has not yet bit the hook, fishing cannot rely on brute force. It must be slack, and it is also necessary to put a line properly.

"But how to reject them this time?"

The target is the slate or devil fruit, not the giants that fail, so Kaido is already thinking about the reason for the rejection.

"Nothing difficult, just say theirs can't compare to ours, Quinn, it's time to prove yourself."

"Ah? Lord Arceus, I don't know this stuff, it's not my specialty."

Although Quinn has done many things part-time, this thing is really his technical blind spot.

"No, some things always have to have a rationale, and you are very suitable now." During this time, through the eavesdropping of the ammonite beast, they figured out the reason for the increase of Quinn's bounty.

There is always a reason for not seeing something. If you can't even come up with a reason, it's not called negotiation, it's called provocation. The best way to reject those failed products is to prove that you have something better.

For example, the genius Quinn has made something more controllable.

"what do you mean"

"The pig has been the mascot for so long, and now it's time to do something."

After giant carp and sky island giant snake, transforming giant Pokémon is already an achievable thing, so Arceus's goal is to choose the wild boar, the mountain **** of Wano.

As for where the pig came from, there was already more than one bite of the pot on Quinn's body anyway, so it's okay to add a few more bites.

Ximi, Kojiro's current residence, is next to the place where the mountain **** wild boar lives. In short, this is a pigpen, and today, this wild boar ushered in its new life.

In the old days, it experienced being cut in half and then sewn up, but today, it understands that pigs can also walk on two legs.

For the symbolism of the mountain boar, like Elizabeth, it belongs to the type that can switch between the main body and the Pokémon form, and it is now familiar with how to walk on two legs.

The final evolution of the Nuan Nuan Pig, the Fire Pig Pokémon-Yanwu Wang.

At this time, the mountain **** wild boar stood on the ground like Bajie, with a raging fire burning around its neck, and the flames formed its neck bristles.

The black eyebrows are raised upwards, its two arms are turned black except for the tips of the hoofs, and there are two red circles on the wrists of both hands.

The tail behind is like having a hairstyle, and it becomes an effect like an explosive head.

He was not very familiar with the new body, and fell to the ground accidentally, but even so, its body was like a hill, standing nearly 20 meters tall, making it even taller than Sauro.
nOveIUs&.cOm

After it stood up smoothly, it looked at its hands, and as its hands brushed the flames on its neck, its two fists also ignited flames.

At first, he was a little scared looking at the flames on his fists, desperately trying to shake off the flames, but then he found that the flames didn't hurt at all, and waved his fists towards the sky.

"King Yanwu, this is your name from now on."

"Wow!"

"Okay, get familiar with your new body as soon as possible, but don't use fire."

sent King Yanwu aside to familiarize himself with his body, and then Arceus looked at Kaido.

"This guy should be enough to deal with the failures of those ancient giants. If they can't beat even a pig, they're embarrassed to offer a deal, right?"

Three shifts today

Chapter 250 Roasted Fruits - Pigs Don't Eat

Looking at Kaido, the wild boar, the mountain **** who became King Yanwu, his eyes seemed to glow. A creature big enough is a high-quality war weapon on the battlefield of this world.

As long as you don't face those monsters with outstanding individual strength, the combat effectiveness of large creatures has always been supermodel.

The sea kings in the sea have no special abilities, they just rely on their huge size to establish their own status. The same is true for the lieutenant generals of the giant family. When they are not facing those monsters, they are excellent at cleaning up miscellaneous soldiers.

Such a huge unit is enough to change the situation of a small-scale war, and the firepower of a warship will be insufficient against a giant.

However, the giants can easily become the background board. After all, they usually face the protagonists, the Four Emperors, and the Qiwuhai. It is inevitable that they will be killed in seconds.

Looking up and down at King Yanwu in front of him, Kaido also had some strange thoughts.

"what are you going to do?"

Looking at Kaido who was about to move, Arceus had a bad premonition.

"Well, he looks like a great guy, but of course such a guy has to try it himself."

said and walked directly to King Yanwu.

"Hey, big man, come and hit me, you understand right." He knew that the intelligence of animals transformed by Arceus would be improved, and understanding human orders was only the most basic ability.

After that, he moved his wrist and waved at King Yanwu.

"Come on, I haven't touched my hands for a while, and my body is a little loose."

"Huh?" King Yanwu was very puzzled in the face of Kaido's request. In addition to the improvement of intelligence, the loyalty of the transformed animals will also increase. Kaido has just been with Arceus, and now this instruction to attack makes it very puzzled. .

Lantern's eyes were full of doubts, and finally looked at Arceus.

"Listen to him, but take it easy for me!"

The second half of the sentence is not for King Yanwu, but for Kaido, who is one of the few powerful monsters who can ignore the difference in size.

"I know, and isn't this big man unfamiliar with the body, fighting is the fastest way to get familiar with the body."

After receiving the instructions, King Yanwu also moved. Although he only had three fingers, he slammed into Kaido like a fist.

In the face of the punch from King Yanwu, Kaido did not dodge and let the punch hit him on the head. His body did not move, but the ground under his feet couldn't bear the pressure and produced a large amount of energy. 's cracks.

"Wow?"

King Yanwu felt that the touch from his fist was not right, and the next moment its huge body flew directly, Kaido fell over his shoulders and threw King Yanwu, who was about three times his height, directly to the side.

"The strength is good, but should you order something else? That's not enough!"

Let Kaido fall like this, and the fierceness in his bones seems to be activated. Although he is still not familiar with this form, he still climbs up quickly, and the flames around his body burn violently, and then his fists also ignite. enveloped in flames.

Flaming Fist, the most common move of King Yanwu, the flaming chicken relies more on strong legs, while King Yanwu relies on his own fists.

The flaming fist, also known as the Fire Fist for short, smashed towards Kaido.

This time, Kaido did not choose to use his face to receive his fist, but extended a hand to block the attack of King Yanwu.

There is no suspense in the result of the battle, even if it uses the flame fist, it is not Kaido's opponent, but it only makes Kaido smile a little more, and there are more pigs in the world who are suspicious of life.

After being beaten by Kaido, it can be regarded as a quick acquaintance with this new body, but he clearly feels that he is much stronger than before, but he is still no match for these little guys.

After explaining that Kojiro took good care of King Yanwu, Arceus and Kaido left here. Although they only have three fingers, their hands are much more convenient than their original trotters, and they like this new form even more after they are proficient.

For ordinary people, the wild boar of the mountain **** that has changed caused a sensation.

Ordinary giant wild boars will be worshipped by them as mountain gods, let alone this new form, which has completely changed the concept of some people, and religious theocracy has an unimaginable role in thinking.

The huge vines that go straight to the sky, the wild boars walking on two legs, and all kinds of magical Pokémon are all regarded as miraculous existences in the secluded country of Wano.

After a while, Kaido waited for those CP0 calls again, this time he did not directly refuse, but chose an island for inspection.

He didn't think it would be an ambush or something. At the beginning, Rocks was so fierce, and in the end the navy didn't send out the entire army. They had too many areas to take care of, and it was impossible to deploy too many people for the current Kaido.

After the era of the Great Pirates started, the work of the navy was much busier than before, and some dishonest Tianlong people still chose to sail, and the protection of the naval fleet became an essential thing.

That's why they chose to trade with Kaido instead of doing something directly with Wano. In the eyes of the world government, Wano in such a closed state is the best.

Now he may not be able to beat the manpower the opponent has mobilized, but they can't stop him if he wants to escape.

"Captain, this time he didn't refuse."

"The things analyzed by the analysis department should be right, and this thing is indeed what he needs."

"But Captain, isn't it clear what Kaido wants, isn't that stone useless?"

In his opinion, he clearly knew what Kaido wanted, and the Devil Fruits and the others were worried about capitalizing on the enemy, but they didn't take out the useless things. Even if the stone was strong, it would not be of any use to the World Government.

"Useless is useless, but that thing is a collection of Tianlong people. Do you want to communicate with Tianlong people?"

"This"

Although CP0s are called the shields of Tianlong people in the world, these CP0s are very clear about the attitude of Tianlong people. Those who have brains regard them as tools, and in the eyes of those who have no brains, they are no different from dogs.

A dog who asks for the owner's things without authorization can easily be killed. Even if the Tianlong people do that, no one will hold them accountable.

"It's impossible for us to communicate. The people above are unwilling to communicate because of this trivial matter. If we can solve it with these things, it's better not to trouble them."

As they were talking, the ship they were on also arrived at Punk Hassad, and the two of them also saw those frozen experiments in Punk Hassad's freezer.

"Can it still be used?"

"No problem, you can move freely as long as it is thawed, but it is difficult to make them obey"
