

Arceus 25

Chapter 25 You are still a double agent

"Answer the phone, you better know what to say and what not to say."

Quinn picked up the phone bug and put it in front of Priarte, showing the same dangerous smile, but when the voice on the other side of the phone bug came, everyone did not expect that Priarter was still thinking a lot. .

"Priort, I'm Spandain, Zefa's fleet will arrive at Branch 277 in two days, hurry up and get out of there, do you know?"

"Yes, I see."

"Huh? Why are you talking so weird, and what happened there, why didn't anyone else get any information back?"

"Those pirates broke out in a fight, maybe the person you arranged was also injured."

"Priort, you'd better be honest with me. The treasure of Lox is not within the hands of someone like you. Zepha is coming soon, don't fall into his hands."

The voice fell, Spandain cut off the phone bug, and Quinn's face showed a more dangerous smile.

"Oh, it looks like you didn't tell the truth."

"No, no, wait! I just haven't finished yet! You haven't asked such a thing yet."

"Then now you can honestly explain why you have contact with Spandain, the CP9 guy."

Spandain, the father of Spandam, is the current chief of CP9. Although the world government only has CP1 to CP8 to the outside world, CP9 and CP0 are not secrets to powerful people.

Quinn, who has senior experience in illegal research groups, of course knows enough about this, and when Vega Punk was forcibly recruited by the government, it was Spandain who led the team.

A pirate, or a pirate who just went out to sea, even if it is a supernova, but he has a relationship with the world government and a big pirate at the same time, which is really not right.

In the shadow of terror brought to him by Jhin, Priart finally said everything.

He was arrested once before he arrived in the Chambord Islands. Originally, he would be sent to Impelton, the great prison under the sea, but he met Spandaine.

After the Rocks Pirates were wiped out, the sea did not return to peace. With the current policy of the World Government, the pirates could not be eradicated. The situation in the sea had the result of their laissez-faire.

Rocks was originally a huge chain. He forcibly locked the monsters on the sea together. The defeat of Rocks also meant that this bond was completely eliminated.

Now, most of the monsters in the new world were Rox's crew members, Whitebeard-Edward Newgate, Golden Lion-Ski, BIGMOM-Charlotte Lingling, Captain John, Wang Zhi, Silver Axe, They occupy almost half of the sky in the New World.

They are not afraid of pirates, and they are not afraid of the strength of pirates. What they are worried about is that these pirates suddenly have brains and do some incomprehensible things. But no one thought that he would actually attack the Tianlong people directly.

In order to prevent encountering lunatics like Lox again, the CPs of the World Government also began to try to insert undercover in the pirates, and timely feedback these situations.

This was Priert's original mission, to enter the new world to join a certain pirate's banner, and to send back information regularly. Part of his bounty was deliberately promoted by Spandain.

Spandain's ability is not too outstanding, but he has a very strong relationship in the world government. After all, he can push the waste son of Spandam to the position of the CP9 commander.

Later, Prierte met John in the Chambord Islands, and was crushed again. In the first half of the great route, as long as you rely on the ability of the devil fruit, you can basically dominate one side, and the nature department has a very detached status.

In the eyes of those who have just set out to sea, the natural system means invincibility, but in the new world where competition is more fierce, with the popularity of domineering, people who rely solely on fruit ability are easy to suffer.

The fruit of the show made Priart's physical skills not strong. After all, he could use a mask to simulate his abilities, and he could also obtain an army of puppets. With these abilities and Spandain's arrangement, he had a smooth sailing in the first half of the great route.

John gave him a head-on blow and made him realize the cruelty of the pirate world. At this moment, he regretted going to sea.

However, his mask ability was valued by John, so he was recruited by John again.novelSB.com

At this time, he was already afraid, so he proposed to Spandain that he did not want to enter the new world, and also said about John, but he did not expect Spandain to propose a new condition to him.

As long as he can go undercover with the John Pirates and find clues to the treasure, the World Government can cancel his bounty and make him a legal citizen again.

There are many people who are interested in the Rocks treasure, including the world government. It is the treasure of the entire Rocks pirate group. What can make Rocks fancy, it cannot be different gold and silver coins, and the worst has to be the value. City's treasure.

However, apart from rescuing the Tianlong people, defeating Rox, and destroying a lot of Rox's crew in the Battle of the Valley of the Gods, there was no other gain. Rox's treasure was gone, and the world government couldn't figure out where the treasure was. where.

However, according to the confessions of the surviving pirates, this wealth is likely to be related to John.

But even so, they didn't look for it with much fanfare. One is that John's trace is hard to find. That guy's ability is very difficult to target, and searching for him is too wasteful of manpower.

He is the only pirate in the new world who has no fixed territory and is always hunting for treasures or robbing treasures every day.

And many of Rox's treasures were robbed from the treasuries of the alliance countries. If everyone knew that he found his treasures, then the treasures belonging to the kingdom would definitely be returned.

But if you find it secretly, not only will this treasure belong to the World Government, but Spanda himself can also get a lot of benefits, so he made this request to Prierte.

In order to be an ordinary person again, Priart accepted John's invitation.

Then John personally attacked the naval branch in the South China Sea, and then made Priert into his appearance, and released information to recruit John's large fleet.

John also knows that there are many people staring at him. Locks' treasure is a wealth that can drive anyone crazy, and wealth is only the most common thing among them.

The purpose of        is to attract everyone's attention, and he is taking advantage of this gap to find those things.

Rocks is a pirate, not a mobile bank. He didn't take all the treasures with him when he sailed, just like the green peppers in the land of flowers hid all the treasures in the permafrost ice continent.

Lox carried only a small part of it on board.

Thanks Shu Qianquan, I am a 100-point reward from Big Fat