Chapter 281 Feature Sweet Curtain, "Unreliable" Caesar

"What's the matter?! There are enemies!" The fur clan who found anomalies in the distance instinctively searched for enemies in the dark night with their sense of smell, but instead accelerated the inhalation of the anesthetic, and fell into a coma as well.

It was Caesar's specially made narcotic trapping agent. It was said to be a powerful narcotic that even the giants could bring down. The fur tribes fell in groups, and the originally lively venue suddenly changed dramatically.

However, nothing happened here in Zeraora near the central bonfire, because Moment's Frost Milk Immortal is a sweet curtain, and all allies will not fall asleep within a certain range.

These friends it considers to be friends by default, so Caesar's anesthetic is completely ineffective here.

Originally, their plan was to steal a few people while the fur tribe was asleep, but the fur tribe's carnival made them change their action plan. Caesar's talent in this aspect far surpassed other aspects. The experimental body is also good.

Their purpose is to capture them alive, the dead fur tribes are of no value to them, but the more than 100 fur tribes in the middle area who are still awake are somewhat unexpected.

"That guy Caesar is really unreliable, there are so many unaffected fur tribes."

"Maybe these few are stronger, but that's fine. With more experimental subjects, that guy won't be able to take the blame."

During this period of time, Caesar did not less often throw problems on them. What kind of experimental subjects were flawed, and the types of experimental subjects were not complete, but they did not admit their own technical problems.

And they are not good at scientific experiments, and they are not good at refuting that guy. After all, some of his abilities are still valued by the government.

With the change of the original plan, the number of fur tribes they intend to take away has also become more, after all, it takes so much effort to take away a sufficient number at one time.

As a large number of fur tribes fell asleep under the influence of the anesthetic gas, they also stood up directly, because they saw that the fur tribes in the distance were affected, and they did not expect such a group of alternative people.

Watching these enemies, the sheep Gish Khan, was surprisingly angry.

"Bastard. The Musket Team is ready to meet the enemy! The Knights Corps protect the people!"

It is impossible for the number of fur tribes to surround the same bonfire, so more than one fire is lit.

The Musketeer Team and the Knights Group belong to the higher status among the fur tribes, and Zeraora's status as a foreign guest is also very high, so they are all near the central bonfire, relying on the characteristics of the frost milk fairy. Effects of narcotics.

Yang Jisihan also made his own orders. The Musketeers and the Knights are the elite warriors in the fur tribe, but they usually appear in different positions. The Knights guard the Whale Forest, while the Musketeers are more active in Ke. Laudner.

Instant and Zeraora also stood up, but they were stopped by Yang Jishan.

"There's no reason to let the guests fight, and so do you, it's been so hard to come home after so many years, just stay honest."

Then he picked up the scepter he was carrying, and after removing some things, the scepter turned into a copper hammer the size of a watermelon, and swung it at high speed in his hand, and a cyclone quickly appeared in his hand.

"Yangji Mianfeng!"

Citizen fainted, but his posture was stable. At first glance, it seemed that he had been intoxicated by some kind of drug, and he wanted to blow those things away.

"Wow!" The strong wind swept across the road ahead, but it didn't have any effect. Although the anesthetic made by Caesar was powerful, its duration was short-lived.

"Attack!"

Yang Jisi Khan's hair seemed to be a lot fluffy under the action of static electricity, and lightning spread on his hammer. Yang Jisi Khan rushed to his enemy first, and the members of the musket team followed closely.

The fur tribe of the knight group hid in the darkness, and they went to check the situation of the fur tribe in the distance.

Except for Yang Jishan and the leaders of several musket teams holding metal weapons, most fur tribesmen are unarmed, and metal weapons are also a scarce resource here.

"Trouble. Quick fight, who knows how long Caesar's anaesthetic will work."

He himself claimed that the giants could not wake up for 12 hours, but today's accident has made the people led by the World Government begin to question his credibility.

In their eyes, these people are the last living force of the fur tribe. As long as they are resolved, the entire fur tribe will be left to their control.

But just after he finished speaking, Yang Jisihan had already smashed his head with a hammer. As the hammer flashed, his head exploded with a bang, turning into a cloud and bursting around.

"Naturally, who are you guys, why are you attacking Zou!"

The sheep Jishan turned around and swung it around. This time, the hammer has become black. Zuowu has a systematic method of training domineering. As the duke here, he will naturally use domineering.

The people from the World Government did not answer him, but just released a large cloud of clouds with his hands. Just when Yang Jisihan felt that the clouds were vulnerable, his hammer failed to break up the clouds.

"Boom!"

Although it is a cloud, it is as hard as iron. This is the iron cloud that only exists in the sky. It is also one of the elements of nature, and it is also within the direction of the development of Yunyun Fruit.

Two simple fights made Yangjisi Khan understand that this enemy is not easy to deal with, but the offensive in his hand has become more violent. If he retreats, who will protect the others in Zou.

As for the others, Zou's soldiers are temporarily at an advantage. Although those people are government-trained agents, not all agents can reach the level of CP0 and CP9. There are many people here who have not even learned all six styles. Most of them only know two or three styles.

And the fur tribe's attack comes with thunder and lightning, which greatly enhances its own combat power.

Today's Hatch is also very energetic. It seems that his future son-in-law is watching from behind. He wants to show his strength. After punching the opponent who used iron in front of him, he starts to look for his next target.

Soon he found his target, which was a shirtless man about four meters tall, and many fur warriors had fallen down beside him.

Seeing him turn his back to himself, Hatch thought he had found an opportunity. After a short sprint, he took a knife and slashed towards his neck. It was a high-quality weapon built by Wano, and it was a gift for him in an instant.

"Zirazi"

The blade in midair was wrapped in lightning and slashed at the man's neck, but he didn't succeed. The blade slashed on him just like the previous slashing on the iron block, and it had no effect, but the problem was that even the lightning didn't work this time.

The man slapped Hatch's head with a backhand and smashed him out.

He is the ability person specially prepared by the world government for the fur tribe. The superhuman type has the ability to store fruit. He can turn himself into an existence like a battery, and invalidate all the electric shocks of the fur tribe.

Electricity, flames, hurricanes, such intangible things are all within the range of his storage. The disadvantage is that he cannot store the power of force attack itself.

Therefore, when choosing the user, the world government specially found such a person with the ability like a meat shield. He is a CP agent specializing in iron blocks, and he usually performs the work of bodyguards.

This ability and its own physique can just complement each other and make up for the lack of resistance of iron blocks to elemental attacks.

Chapter 282 Those who cannot protect the nation are not worthy of being kings

There are three reasons for the strength of the fur tribe's own combat power. The powerful eruption of the moon lion under the full moon, the lightning attack attached to the static electricity generated by the fur, and the increase in the body of the beast.

It is now a new moon, and the moon in the sky is only a shallow crescent moon. The fur tribe's biggest trump card cannot be used, and their physical fitness does not have much advantage compared with these trained agents.

The ability of per capita elemental attack is their last hole card, and the appearance of those who have the ability to store fruit is to take away the last card of the fur tribe.

Originally, there was an advantage in the number of fur tribesmen in the enemy war, but Caesar's anesthetic gas put most of them into sleep, so even the difference in numbers was offset.

The fur tribe is a soldier, whether it is a child or an old man, even an untrained person is not weaker than an ordinary adult human soldier. This is the reason why the people of the world government planned to sneak into the battle in the first place. It was only because of the festival of the fur tribe that it changed. tactics.

Hatch shook his head, the hammer made him a little dizzy, and his steps became a lot vain, but he still supported his body with the knife and stood up.

"It's really a good knife, and this girl's gift is really good."

The refined weapons doped with wine iron ore still do not have rolling blades, even in the outside world, they are expensive weapons, let alone in Zou, where minerals are scarce.

"Zi la la~"

"I want to see if you are really not afraid of electricity!" Hatch's knife was entangled by lightning again, and he charged towards the opponent with his hind legs.

The fur tribe that attacked the capable man was not the only one, Hatch. The fur tribe still had an advantage in numbers, and many of the weaker agents had already been defeated.

The fur tribes who have freed their hands can naturally see who is the biggest threat. Except for the leader who is fighting against Yang Jisi Khan, it is this big man who is the most difficult to deal with. The defeated fur tribe at his feet is the proof.

"Iron Fist, Heavy Hammer!"

The principle of iron is to accelerate the blood flow in the body, so that the muscles and skin can reach the hardness of steel. In most cases, the effect of iron is sufficient.

No matter how bad it is, you can blind yourself and make yourself believe that you can block the enemy's blow, thus playing the role of a meat shield.

However, the disadvantage of the iron block is that when the iron block is activated, because the muscles are in a tight state, it cannot move freely, and the movement is generally very rigid, but this is not insurmountable. After exercise, it can also maintain the iron block state and move freely at the same time.

This CP agent specializing in iron blocks naturally did this. In the face of these incoming fur tribes, an invisible wave was released around him with him as the center, and then the furs of those fur tribes that stood up due to static electricity softened. down.

And there is an icon like a battery on his chest, and the progress of the energy bar above shows the upper limit of his energy storage.

"Boom!" He smashed a big hole in the ground, and he smashed a few fur tribes aside.

And the Yunyun Fruit of the nature department in Yangjisihan made him very difficult to handle. Although the domineering can touch the body of the natural system ability, the nature department is not without a way to deal with it. novELuSb.Com

When seeing and hearing the position that the opponent is about to attack, he spreads out that part of his body in advance, and the domineering will naturally fail to take effect without contact.

"Don't waste your efforts, you are not my opponent, we only need a dozen fur tribes, why don't we give up resistance? No matter what, the result will not change, so why increase casualties?"

"You are dreaming! Let me take away my people like this, then how can I be the king of this Zou!"

The copper hammer brought bursts of air in his hand, Yang Jisi Khan took the opportunity to throw his own copper hammer, but this had no effect except to bring a cloud on the opponent's body, but Yang Jisi Khan's target was not him, it is the one who has the ability to store fruit.

The rest of the ability person restrained the ability of the fur tribe too much. The fur tribe also consumes physical energy to generate electricity, and although he cannot store the strength of his fists, he can convert the absorbed energy into his own physical strength. His battles are getting the upper hand.

So Yang Jisihan's hammer was originally aimed at him. The solid copper hammer the size of a watermelon smashed towards the back of his head with Yang Jisihan's own power. A person who specializes in iron naturally has no power to see. The hammer hit him firmly on the skull.

Although he was not knocked down by a hammer when his whole body was iron, he also had a big flaw, which gave the fur tribes a chance to besiege him.

"Do you still think about other people? What are you going to do without a weapon?"

"The biggest weapon of the fur tribe is not those foreign objects, but our own body, the thunder horns!"

Yang Jisihan's upper body was slightly lowered, and a pair of sharp horns aimed at the captain of the World Government, and his whole body burst with thunder, like an angry thunder beast.

The electric current stimulated the muscles of the whole body, and Yang Jisihan's response also increased by more than one grade. Although the other party has seen and heard, not everyone can predict the future like Katakuri.

It is impossible to predict the future, so the avoidance of seeing, seeing, and feeling all depends on the reaction speed of the body. When Yang Jisihan's attack speed exceeds the reaction speed of the opponent's body, he can also attack the opponent's body.

The wrapped domineering double horns pressed against his chest, and a more violent current burst out from his body, adding a blue light to Zou in the dark night.

However, Yangjisihan's electric shock did not achieve the expected effect. With the opponent's body as the center, a huge number of clouds spewed out, gradually occupying a small part of the sky above their heads, and the lightning released by Yangjisihan seemed to be blocked by those The clouds absorbed it.

"If you like to use electricity so much, you can taste the taste of thunder and lightning yourself! Lei Yuntian!"

After Yang Jisihan's lightning was absorbed by the opponent's clouds, complex reactions appeared in those clouds, the color gradually dimmed, and the thunder and lightning beating in the clouds could be seen from below.

This is also the reason why he was chosen as the leader, whether he or another capable person has special means to deal with thunder and lightning.

It's just that the range of this thunder cloud is very small, and it only exists above the heads of Yang Jisihan and another capable person.

He is the power user of Yunyun Fruit. Although he can create lightning clouds, the range of lightning attacks is not controlled by him, but he will attack indiscriminately.

Now the fur tribe and CP agents are fighting together, he can't expand Thundercloud arbitrarily, he can only use this ability within a certain range

Chapter 283 I have never fought such a wealthy battle

As time brewed, the thunder and lightning in the clouds began to fall on the land of Zou. Although the scope was not large, it brought great trouble to the fur tribes in this area.

Especially Hachi and others who were besieging the one who had the ability to store fruit. Originally, Yang Jisihan's hammer gave them a lot of advantages, but the change in the weather changed the battle situation again.

The fur tribe can use lightning, but they are not immune to lightning, and these lightnings do not matter to the person who stores the fruit, he can directly store those lightnings and convert them into his own power.

Looking at the changes in the man's body, Zeraora suddenly had a bad feeling that he didn't have the ability to predict the future.

Yang Jisihan didn't want to let his guest intervene at first. Out of respect for the locals, he didn't do anything, but was just helping to wake up the sleepy fur tribes. people.

However, this is also a kind of consumption for the physical strength of Yanyan. According to the different characteristics of the situation, it will also cause physical consumption. The weak characteristics like the Archaeopteryx will naturally not consume physical strength, but the sweetness of Yanyan is different.

It is not a radiant stone, and it can be effective when standing there.

Some characteristics act on oneself, some act on the environment, and some act on other individuals. Salt salt belongs to the latter. It is through its own power that the friend does not fall asleep.

Although it consumes very little, it will also consume it, otherwise there is no way to distinguish between enemy and foe.

Usually it uses this feature for single-digit Pokémon at most. As the number of people increases, it can't do anything about it. It wakes up a few people in each area, so that they can count the number of people with the knights.

"Salt salt, you go back to find the moment first, pay attention to safety."

"Hey!"

Under the bombardment of natural lightning, the energy bar on the chest of the person who stored the fruit gradually filled up, and a dangerous smile appeared on the corner of his mouth. At this time, his body was like a battery.

In addition to storing electricity and converting it into its own physical strength, it can also discharge.

Under the indiscriminate attack of Thundercloud, his energy was almost full, but Hachi and other fur tribes suffered a lot of injuries under the influence of Thundercloud.

"The task of the leader is to capture them alive, but with so many of you, it doesn't matter how many you die."

The thunderbolt throbbed in his palm, and it didn't make a sound like a normal thunderbolt, but the compressed thunderbolt became more dangerous.

"Storage, Lightning Cannon."

The thick arm now became the barrel of the gun, and the lightning stored in his body was released by him. The dazzling electric light made people almost unable to open their eyes, but in the distance, a yellow electric light rushed over at a faster speed.

Hatch felt a sudden force coming from his side, and then he was pushed directly to the side. He was originally running and lost his balance by this push, and rolled on the ground like a rolling gourd for several laps before stop.

When he got up and looked at the impact of the thunder cannon, he was even more afraid, but he suddenly discovered something was wrong. his people.

Hatch turned his head and looked to his side, and the figure of his future son-in-law, Zeraora, could be vaguely seen in the electric light.

At this moment, many images flashed in his mind, including the sad moment and the tragic situation after Zeraora was attacked. His eyes were almost bloodshot.

"You bastard, what have you done!"

A sharp tooth almost shattered, but the next moment he realized that his feelings seemed to be in vain, and Zeraora's very calm voice came from the thunder.

"Don't worry uncle, this is just an appetizer for me."

In the thunder and lightning, Zeraora is not only unscathed, but also absorbs the thunder and lightning released by the other party. He can only absorb the electricity and then release it, so his attack is still pure lightning, and the attack of thunder and lightning is not suitable for Zeraola. is invalid.

His own characteristic is electricity storage, which is not only immune to lightning attacks, but also restores his physical strength. The electricity storage characteristic itself can only be immune to lightning attacks, and cannot guide or attract lightning.

But Zeraora is different. Since he has no power generating organs, his fur, which needs to store electricity from the outside world, has the ability to attract electricity.

After combining this ability with the characteristics of power storage, Zeraora has more ways to deal with lightning.

"Just a beast, what a big deal!"

The sound of the electric current was very loud, so Zeraora had to roar out in order to make Hatch hear what he said, and the consequence of this was that the enemy could hear them too.

One theory that most members of the world government hold is human supremacy.

In addition to ordinary human beings, whether it is the long-handed, long-legged, three-eyed or snake-headed people whose structure is different from ordinary people, or the huge difference in size between giants and small humans, or mermaids and murlocs, a fur tribe with animal features.

Even if the World Government defines them as human beings in the official definition, they still regard them as demi-humans or animals. Under his attack, these beasts did not flee, but still fought back, which made him feel unhappy.

said that his hands merged together, and a larger electric current was also released from his body.

Feeling the strong electric current from the outside, Zeraora was not angry at all, on the contrary, she was very happy.

His own battery life is very long, but he always needs to be recharged, so he usually uses his own power carefully in battle, but now he has entered a non-consumption mode, and the opponent's attack is constantly charging him. can.novelusB.com

In layman's terms, he has never fought such a wealthy battle.

After the opponent used his hands, the amount of current released instantly increased, and the energy bar on his body was also decreasing at a speed visible to the naked eye, but from the naked eye, his attack became weaker.

After Zeraora released the absorption range, the frequency of his release was no longer comparable to Zeraora's absorption speed, and then a beam of light suddenly rose from the thunder, and the original blue-white lightning was completely replaced by yellow at this moment. .

"Thanks for the hospitality, now it's my turn to entertain you."

The rampant lightning made him enter the state of Crazy Volt, and the claws of both hands popped out, and they became sharper when they collided with each other. Under the blessing of Crazy Volt, Zeraora burst out, and the claws were inserted into the enemy's chest. .

And the iron block that made him stand in the group battle has also become the last reminder.

Chapter 284 Another modifier for escape

The most unique thing about Pokémon is that ordinary beasts sharpen their claws or roar just to deter each other, but these actions of Pokémon can bring real combat power improvement.

The action of Zeraora's claws is the sharpening claws of the evil system. The sharper claws allow him to hit the enemy more easily and cause more damage.

The iron block played a big role in the face of ordinary fur tribes, but it was not enough to face Zeraora. The muscles in the chest were cut open by Zera, and the lightning attached to the claws instantly electrocuted the wound. Burnt, a stinky smell spread out from this as the center.

Although his storage fruit can absorb lightning, the lightning attached to his physical attack makes him powerless. Unless he can absorb the lightning in Zeraora at one time, there is nothing to do about it.

"Uncle, go somewhere else, leave it to me here."

shook his right hand. For Zeraora, this enemy has nothing special except to charge him. The energy is good, but it is not enough for Zeraora.

No matter how strong the iron nugget is, there is still a gap compared to the armed color. Paper painting and iron nuggets are only low-level skills for the knowledge color and the armed color.

Although it was not fatal in one blow, Zeraora's attack did not stop because of this. The sharp claws continued to grab the opponent's body. Just a target.

"Haqi, it seems like I found a wonderful son-in-law for you in an instant."

A tiger fur stood up, with a lot of bruises on his body, but it didn't affect his fight. Novelusb.Com

Hatch has been chatting a lot on Zou recently. Although he was a little unhappy about bringing back a boyfriend after he disappeared for nine years, it didn't prevent him from showing off those high-end goods outside.

The result of this is that the Musketeers basically know what Zeraora is, and the opponents that they can't solve under siege seem to be vulnerable in Zeraora's hands, which makes them feel the existence of the gap.

"Of course, you don't even look at who is the daughter of Shanna, how can she have bad eyesight."

"Well, yes, after all, she's Ling's daughter, but it's a pity that Ling's eyesight has changed so much in her life."

"Well? What do you mean by that? Please explain it to me!"

"Ah, don't get me wrong, hurry up and help, those people are a little difficult to deal with."

Tiger Fur first charged towards the battlefield on the other side, and Hatch chased after him, but he had a lot to question about Ling's vision.

And the battle between Zeraora and the opponent also entered a strange cycle. He had to use the ability to store fruit to absorb the lightning released by Zeraora, otherwise he would not be able to withstand the lightning strike of Zeraora.

But his storage fruit has a storage limit. After the power reaches the upper limit, he has to release the lightning. Once he releases the lightning, the current will be absorbed by Zeraora, which will make him change be stronger.

"Bastard beast, let me die here!"

The existence of the world government for 800 years naturally has its own heritage, especially in the training of agents. Most of the agents who can work in the world government are diehard.

After the Judiciary Island incident, Rob Luqi and others were almost wiped out by the World Government, but Rob Luqi has since passed the selection to become CP0.

And the agents who carry out such dirty things are naturally the cronies of the World Government. If an unreliable person stabs this kind of thing out, even the World Government will face some criticism.

Although they don't care about this kind of remarks, it doesn't mean that they like it.

After realizing that he was not Zeraora's opponent, he made his own decision. While Zeraora was attacking, he desperately hugged him. This time, he did not release the current, and the energy bar in his chest flashed.

"Die! Accumulate energy and explode!"

Since the electrical energy is invalid, he chose to detonate his stored energy. For him, Zeraora is an existence that harms the world government that must be cleaned up.

He had made plans not to let go no matter what, but there was no feeling of struggle from Zeraora under him.

"Big man, goodbye."

Looking up, Zeraora was sitting on the eaves not far away and looking at him, what he was holding was just a double that Zeraora had differentiated with his physical strength, and a guy who only dared to avoid suddenly rushed up to anyone. will feel wrong.

Although a lot of stamina was wasted by the stand-in, it seems that the stamina is worth it at present.

A mushroom cloud exploded here, although many buildings were destroyed, but because the people were celebrating outside, there was no impact.

And this explosion also attracted the attention of others. Although the anaesthetic put most of the fur tribe into a deep sleep, it left the strongest musket team and knight group.

They didn't know that this was the influence of the Frost Milk Immortal, and they only regarded it as Caesar's unreliable. Except for these two capable people, other agents did not have much advantage in battle.

Originally, this fruit-bearing ability person dragged the elites in the musket team such as Hatch, and Yang Jishan was also entangled by the leader, but with the intervention of Zeraora, the balance was temporarily broken.

Hachi and others, who had freed up their hands, concentrated on the breakthrough, began to liberate more fur tribes, and launched a counterattack with the advantage of the number of people.

"Thunderlight Zeraora.. Is that guy actually in Zou?"

The members of the world government who were dealing with Yang Jishan saw the figure of Zeraora, and he did his homework before going to Zou. Zeraora is the most famous "fur tribe" in the outer seas today.

The reward of 550 million, and the identity of the cadre of the Beast Pirates made him study the opponent more, he thought it was a very difficult opponent.

Natural system is not invincible. It is as strong as the three main generals in the later period, and weak as Cariboo. In the new world where domineering is common, the natural system is just one of many abilities.

However, he thought that the identity of the opponent's beasts should not appear in Zou, but it seems that he made a mistake in judgment.

But it doesn't matter, he still has his own plan.

"Plan No. 2 starts!"

The better one is the No. 2 plan, the ugly one is that the plan failed and he was ready to retreat, but at this time he did not forget the original mission goal, a few rope clouds were released from the body, and a few comatose fur tribes were caught within his body. .

Then he released a large cloud as a pedal, and the agents below were also his subordinates.

But this is the home of the fur tribe, it is impossible to take people away in front of them, let alone take away those people, it is unknown whether he can leave by himself.

On the night of battle, the third watch is first, and the fourth watch is in the middle of the night or early morning.

Chapter 285 Husband and wife file

The mushroom cloud from the explosion over there distracted him for a while, and then he was punched in the face by Yang Jishan.

"Don't be distracted, bastards, is that young man making you so jealous?"

"Your news is really out of date. People in the outer seas don't know who your so-called king is. His thunder light's name is much louder than yours."

"Is that so? Then I have to work hard as an old guy, so I can't let young people look down on me."

The hardest part of the battle is not Hatch and the others. Although it is troublesome to store fruit, it is only a brute force competition. Yangjisihan is the fur tribe with the most pressure. In the face of a man who is not weak in knowledge, nature is his. Opportunities are few.

The Thunder Cloud had a great influence on Yang Jishan, making Yang Jishan almost a black goat, but in pure physical combat, the people of the World Government are really not Yang Jishan's opponents. Being entangled in a life-threatening situation.

At that time, they still had the advantage as a whole, and his goal of dragging down the "highest combat power" of the fur tribe, Yang Jisihan, was achieved.

It is not so easy for him to leave now. Although the cloud and cloud fruit gives him the ability to fly, the speed of the clouds flying is completely dependent on the wind. Zeraora can also fly, and he can't get rid of Zeraora at all.

After a while, Zeraora had come to him, but he just went down and grabbed the empty space. It was the same as the substitute he hit earlier. It was also a substitute, but it was a substitute composed of clouds.

"Let me come here too."

"Old and old, I will take him down a few years younger."

Sheep Jishan also lost a lot of physical strength, and it was very difficult for him to face this flying opponent.

"Young people don't have the slightest respect for the king. This guy is a pirate. Be careful of being usurped."

He could see that Zeraora didn't mean too much respect for Yang Jishan, but just regarded him as an older person, so he tried to provoke him.

"Don't be naive, human beings, we are different, I'm old, your presence also shows this, I can't seem to protect this country anymore, if there are strong young people, it is right to give them a chance thing."

Time is the biggest enemy of life. No matter how strong people are, they will be powerless in the face of time. Yangjisi Khan is already a little old.

Although the provocation failed, it didn't count as disrupting his plan. Scattering Shengyun has caught enough experimental subjects. In addition to the original No. 2 plan, he also has an unknown No. 3 plan, which is to bring his own Subject escapes.

Although he is not bad to his subordinates, he still chooses to retreat alone in this situation, and he releases a large number of black clouds. There is no electric light flickering in these clouds, but the range is much larger, gradually filling the entire furry principality.

Then the same cloud clone split from his body and scattered in the black cloud.

He knows that the other party has mastered the sense of sight, and being able to become a cadre in the new world is basically a stepping stone, but the domineering of people is also different. These cloud clones have the same aura as the elemental version of him, and the purpose is to disturb the other party's perception. .

As long as they can run back to their own ship, it is impossible for the other party to find their traces in the vast sea, unless there is a life card left in Zou on the person they captured, but that is a probabilistic issue and is not within the scope of the plan. .

But in the night sky, there was a pink light shining at this time.

That's Salt Salt, which was discovered by Salt Salt when he was capturing the Fur Clan, and it tried to break the clouds but its power couldn't do anything about it.

In the end, he was only brought up with the fur clan in his arms, and when it noticed that the man had already flown, it released a magic flash to indicate the direction.

Although failed to cause effective damage, it released a signal in the dark cloud, which also allowed Zeraora to directly lock on the target.

When he found that his belly was glowing, he suddenly had a bad feeling. He just wanted to get the contents out, but it was too late. Zeraora's speed could rival that of Polusalino. , not to mention the mere clouds.

There were several thunders in the sky, and along with the thunder, Zeraora stepped on the thunderbolt and appeared in front of him. As the lightning flashed, the two sides fought fiercely in the air.

As Zeraora volleyed a flying kick and kicked him heavily on the neck, he flew out all of a sudden, but Zeraora did not continue to attack, because each of the opponent's hands was holding one fur tribe.

"Zeraora, I advise you to think about the consequences of your actions. I'm not your opponent, but if you continue to attack, I'll be sure to break their necks before you knock them down!"

The fur tribe, who was originally intended to be an experimental subject, became his hostage at this time, but Zeraora did not stop, but released a stronger current, and even the roaring noises began to appear in the clouds.

"They live, you can die, and when they die, you will understand what cruelty is."

"You don't mean to negotiate. Since in your eyes I am dying, don't blame me for breaking the net."

He only threatened the opponent with a hostage when he found out that he was not an opponent. Unexpectedly, the opponent didn't even mean to perfunctory him. At this time, all his energy was on Zeraola. His speed was too fast. May bring disaster.

In his opinion, although Zeraora is not good at mouth, he has already thrown a rat in his actions, but what he did not expect was that with a thunderbolt in the clouds, a bow and arrow pierced through his shoulder.

"Haihailoushi?!" A sense of powerlessness suddenly came from the wound, and the ability of Yunyun Fruit began to be unsustainable, and the people who had been put into his body fell out one after another.

The same is true for Yanyan, and it played the role of a signal flare again, indicating the direction of the millennium dragon below, and they all fell on the wide dragon's back.

In the clouds, a figure holding a bow appeared in an instant, she would also float electromagnetically, and she also had the power to fly, and the sea tower stone arrow was specially made for her by the craftsmen of the country of Wano, except for the country of Wano, the outside world did not There is no way to process Hailou stone into small arrows.

This is the weapon she uses to deal with those who are capable.

The agent's attention was all on Zeraora, and he didn't notice the moment he followed, and the thunder in the clouds created by Zeraora was to further conceal the existence of the moment.

"Idiot, this is Zou, our country, why is there only one enemy of yours?"

Chapter 286 Are you interested in being a crown prince for decades (big fog)

Instant's arrow played a key role, directly destroying his idea of threatening others with hostages from the root. Zeraola had previously discovered that Instant was following, so he adopted this tactic, otherwise he would have other methods. .

Compromise is impossible anyway, and giving up one's own advantages in the confrontation stage is just killing oneself.

And this arrow is not only made of Hailou stone, but also the arrow shaft is not an ordinary wooden shaft, but a hollow metal tube integrated with Hailou stone, so when he wanted to pull the arrow out of his body, he found himself if you can't do it, the hand holding the shaft doesn't use any force at all.

And the barbs on the arrow have been hooked on the bones in his body. With the effect of the sea tower stone, he himself lost the ability to fly.

The vast ocean is just below the elephant lord. In theory, it is absolutely impossible for a capable person to fall into the sea to survive unless he is a murloc.

Of course, given the current habit of beasts, either do not kill them, or they are 100% sure of the opponent's death. Zeraora stomped in the air and rushed down, then slashed it into half with a single claw.

"In an instant, you take the people back first! I'll go and get rid of their ship!"

"Oh, got it!"

After solving this ability, Zeraola did not return to Zou. He didn't think that this group of people stepped on the clouds and flew up, so he went to look for the other party's ship near Zou. After all, if they wanted to retreat, the ship Just essential.

A mere ship is nothing to him at all, and now he is in an overloaded state, with a lot of electrical energy attached to his body. After discovering the ships of members of the World Government, he directly used it as the center. thunder.

And the hull shattered directly under his attack, and the violent thunderstorm evaporated part of the seawater below.

The furry principality, most of the fur tribes woke up after a few hours. Caesar made a simple anesthetic. After all, what he wanted was the goal of in vivo experiments, and he woke up after the time limit expired.

And when the two capable people were resolved, the remaining agents were naturally not their opponents, and Yang Jisihan did not lose his combat effectiveness. As he joined the battlefield, all the agents on Zou's back were eliminated.

The fur tribe would not be merciful when facing the enemy, and then the Musket Team launched a large search on Zou's back in groups of several, they were not sure how many secret agents had sneaked in.

Under the fur tribe's sense of smell, those people had no hiding place at all, and they were found one after another.

After , Yang Jishan led people to search several times, and only after counting the number of citizens did he feel relieved.

And next is the busy time of Dr. Sanyang, which is also a drawback of Zuowu. The doctors are faulty, and there are very few doctors on the island.

Because the fur tribes are relatively healthy on weekdays, they rarely get sick, and the number of Zou is not large, so they are still busy.

The fur tribes are the ones who are the most slandered by Yang Jishan and a few elite fur tribe warriors. After all, they faced those two capable people at the beginning.

"Cough...cough." Jisi Khan, the sheep sitting on a rock, was beating his chest, and Sanyang, who was also a sheepskin, was shaving him. The thick wool blocked the wound and affected his body's recovery.

"Lord Duke, you don't have any serious injuries, you'll be fine after a few days of rest."

"How are the members of the Musketeer?"

"It's okay, a few people have broken bones, and one person has injured their internal organs, but they have already undergone emergency treatment. The medicine brought back by the girl in that instant is very effective, much stronger than the effect we have stored."

He was carrying a brand new medicine on his waist, and the equipment inside was all new from the factory, which was obtained from the Beast Pokémon Center before returning to Zuo Wu.

Zeraora was still patrolling the nearby waters and had determined that there was nothing strange around Zou.

And Shanna is facing Ling and Hachixin's questioning.

"How come you can still fly?"

They saw the moment of using electromagnetic levitating, but they didn't expect their daughter to learn to fly after a trip.

"Did you eat devil fruit?"

"No, no, this is the power of that lord, Zeraora's most respected existence, I learned it not long after I escaped from the organ trafficking and assassination group"

She is checking whether there is any injury on Yanyan's body. After all, Yanyan has done a great job in the previous incident, so she answered Ling and Hatch casually.

But she didn't notice that the air seemed to be quiet after this sentence.

"Sister, what is the organ trafficking and assassination syndicate?"

"Ah."

She found that she seemed to have said something incredible. At first, she finally made up a reason to fool this matter. When she looked back, there was a dangerous atmosphere in the eyes of Hatch and Ling. .

"My dear daughter, can you explain to my mother what that group is?"

"Yeah, this sounds like a very dangerous organization, shouldn't you explain it better?"

The previous report was a typical report of good news but not bad news, covering up all the accidents that happened to him when he went out. In fact, apart from overturning the car at the organ trafficking and assassination group at the beginning, after encountering the beasts, nothing happened.

The dangerous atmosphere began to spread, and when Zeraora came back, he saw the moment when he was chased again, and this time it was a mixed doubles of his parents.

Finally, the bandaged sheep Jishan stopped Hatch and Ling.

"Okay, okay, it's all in the past, so don't continue to struggle, I have something to ask them."

said, and called Setsuna and Zeraora aside.

"Lord Duke, what's the matter?"

"There is indeed something, that group of people are from the World Government, although I don't know what their so-called experimental subjects are going to do, but I don't think they will let it go.

This time, the matter has already exceeded my ability to handle, although it is also related to time, but we cannot ask the enemy to come only on the full moon day. "

Yang Jishan thought for a while, then said to Zeraora: "Although you were not born in Zou, and I don't know who your parents are, do you and Shanna intend to marry?"

"Get married! Lord Duke! It's too early!" Zeraora hadn't made a statement yet, but this matter exceeded her expectations in an instant, and in a sense, it exceeded her expectations.

"Don't worry, it's not for you to get married now, the world belongs to your young people, I mean if you have plans to live together, then stay by my side after that, I'm getting old too, and I'll wait until later. For a few years, the position of this duke will be yours."

Chapter 287 Moon Stone

This is the decision of Yang Jishan after the battle, Zeraora is a pure outsider, he has no connection with Zou, and the whole Zou can't find who his relatives are.

Although he belongs to the fur tribe, he can't become the king of Zou, but the moment is different. Although the native Zou slipped out at the age of seven, it did not affect her origin.

The father is a member of the Musketeer team, and the mother is also a member of the Knights Group. They can be said to be very popular in Zuowu. The throne of U was handed over to them.NOvElUsB.COM

Zou's duke system is very interesting. He is the only king in Yangjisihan's generation, but this is because he has no brothers and opponents at the same time, so he is the only one.

If it is suitable, the double-king system is also possible. His plan is to let two people stay by his side, familiar with how to manage Zou and also accept his inspection. As long as they feel suitable, they can take the throne logically.

"Lord Duke, this position is too early for us. We just came back this time to have a look. We haven't planned to stay here forever. There are still a lot of things to do outside."

In the face of Yang Jishan's proposal, he did not agree. The king of Zou is not only the status and rights of the fur tribe, but also the responsibility.

As the King of Zou, you must keep Zou's safety so that they can't leave Zou at will, and the adventure in her heart has not yet been completed.

Although it is her ideal to become the Duchess of Zou, it is not now, and her goal is to use her power to make Yanggis Khan admit herself, and now he obviously has this proposal because of the power of Zeraora.

"Me too, that adult gave me a new life, and my work is also not finished."

The freshman of Zeraora can understand the power in this context. The power he shows is far beyond the scale of ordinary fur tribes. In the eyes of Yang Jishan, this is simply the performance of the able.

However, Setsuna made it clear that neither he nor Zeraora were capable people, but only gained power for some reason.

Shin was simply because he wasn't ready to take responsibility, and Zeraora felt that such a direct promise was inappropriate. It would give people a sense of purpose.

"That's really troublesome. I've made the Musketeer team more vigilant. It's impossible for ordinary people to land on Zou again like yesterday, but such a strong man."

Seeing that neither of these two young people plans to accept the throne immediately, and that Yangjishan still plans to continue traveling, he felt that it was difficult to handle for a while, and he could not force others to be the king.

And Zeraora also has a new idea. Although he doesn't plan to inherit the throne now, it doesn't mean that he can't gain favorability. This is just an opportunity to strike while the iron is hot.

"If you can enter the moon lion state, then it's not a problem, right?"

"Of course, that's the source of our power, but it can only be used on the full moon day in a month."

"In this case, I have an idea. In an instant, I will go back first, and I will come back in a few days."

"Um."

Bidding farewell to these fur tribes temporarily, Zeraora and the Millennium Dragon returned to Wano, and he needed the power of Arceus.

"Why did you come back alone? Where's the moment?"

"Master Arceus, something happened to Zou during this time." He told Arceus about Zou in a general way, and also expressed the attitude of Yang Jisi Khan.

"It's too much, I didn't promise him directly, and I didn't intend to stay in Zou directly for the time being, but my subordinates think this is an opportunity to establish contact with Zou, with the power of the moon."

Under the light of the full moon, the fur tribe can stimulate the power in the body to enter the moon lion, but whether it is a full moon or a new moon, the moon is still the same moon, and it has not changed, but the revolution of the planet has created a shadow.

And the clouds can also make the fur tribe exit the state of the moon lion, so all they need is a stronger moonlight move.

Ordinary people naturally can't collect the power of moonlight, but Pokémon, there is a prop called the moon stone, which is a kind of evolution stone for some Pokémon, allowing them to evolve with the power of the stone.

But the moon stone contains the power of the moon. They have tried before, and they can enter the state of the moon lion by holding the moon stone in the new moon or during the day, but it will consume the power in the moon stone.

When the power in the stone is exhausted, it becomes an ordinary stone, but it is still an extremely important strategic resource for the fur tribe, which means that they can ignore the time and enter the moon lion state.

Relying on the operation of the World Government, Zeraora's integration into the fur tribe was much faster than expected, so some plans were advanced.

That night, Arceus mobilized the power of the moon with the fairy slate, and condensed a large number of special stones with the rock slate.

The power of the moonlight is almost condensed into a solid body under the traction of the power of the slate, and it is continuously injected into the stones. The stones are large and small, which also marks the difference in power.

Moon imprints appeared on the Moon Stone like this, and the moonlight seemed to have dimmed a lot this night.

A large number of moon stones were created in this way, and then Zeraora returned to Zou with the moon stones created by Arceus without rest.

A few days later, Zou's people saw Zeraora who had returned and returned, and nothing had happened these days.

Although the disappearance of the life card in the CP center shows that these people have been destroyed, this is a team with a natural system and a superhuman ability person who specializes in restraining the fur tribe. Whether they continue to send people or how to deal with them, they all need a team. time.

Then Zeraora threw hundreds of moon stones on the ground. If you only need to rely on these stones to make a fortune in the world of Pokémon, it is absolutely not a problem to raise a young Kiras.

"This is what you're looking for?"

The sheep Jishan looked at the stone that Zeraora brought back with a little understanding, after all, they had never seen the moon stone.

But she recognized it in an instant. It was the power she tried in the first place.

"This is the Moon Stone?! Yes, there is no problem with this kind of stone! Lord Duke, this is a treasure for the fur tribe."

As she said that, she directly showed Yang Jishan how to use the stone. The moment she grabbed the stone in her hand, her fur began to expand and lengthen, and then she used the moon lion in the daytime in front of Yang Jisihan.

Chapter 288 The passing time, domineering practice

Not only the sheep Jishan, but all the fur tribes nearby lost their jaws. Not all fur tribes can use the moon lion. After all, the crazy skill needs to be trained.

The fur tribes who cannot control their hearts will become real wild beasts when they use the moon lion. Most of the people who can skillfully use the moon lion are from the Knights and Musketeers.

In other words, as long as they master the Moon Lion, they will be eligible to join the Musket Team or the Knights.

Although most of the fur tribes have a stocking attitude towards children, they will be organized for training when they reach a certain age.

For them with a sparse population, every young person is an important new force. Talented people do not need to work, but they are responsible for protecting the safety of Zou.

"She's only 16 years old this year. Did she learn the moon lion at such a young age? Has this set a new record?"

"That's not the point, it's daytime! It's daytime!"

Although the time to master the Moon Lion in an instant is a bit unexpected, it is nothing compared to using the Moon Lion during the day.noVeluSB.coM

"how did you do it?"

"It's this stone. It contains the power of the moon. I went back and told the Lord Arceus about this. He specially made this stone for the fur tribe, so that we have the strength to protect ourselves without you."

Zeraora explained the origin of the Moonstone and made the name of Arceus appear on Zou.

"Arceus..Is this the lord you and Shanna said? You really helped the fur tribesman. Do you feel any different?"

"No, the state of the Moon Lion is exactly the same, and the Moon Lion inspired by the Moon Stone is even more stable. The only inconvenience is that you have to find a way to hold the Moon Stone in your hand."

Then she threw the Moon Stone aside, and released the Moon Lion state herself.

"There is no problem without direct contact, which is much more convenient than moonlight."

"Well, put these stones away first, don't let untrained people touch them."

For ordinary people, the Moon Stone is of little value, and they do not have the ability to use the Moon Stone at all, but for the fur tribe, it is an important strategic resource.

Put it in a container and carry it with you. It is enough to break the container when you need it. As for the fixed method, although the fur tribe lives in a relatively remote area, they are not backward at all, and there is no shortage of tailors themselves.

It's just that the uniforms of the Musket Team and the Knights have to be modified, and a space has to be reserved.

Then Zeraora and Setsuna stayed in Zou for another half a month, after which they planned to return to Wano Country.

Before leaving this time, they left the phone bug behind, saying that if they encountered a problem that the Moon Lion could not solve, they quickly called for help, and then sat on the back of the Millennium Dragon.

All the materials that you brought when you came have been left in Zou, but the back of the thousand-year-old dragon is still full. Ling, Hatch and other fur tribes are stuffed with Zou's specialties. Although it is not very useful, it is always some thought.

"Goodbye, Mom and Dad, I'll be back in a while, I'll just use the phone bug to make a call."

"Don't worry, don't worry about us, and live a good life outside."

In this way, they ended their trip to Zou, and before leaving, they caught a Wanda who was trying to smuggle her and handed her back to Hatch. There were a lot of fur youths who left quietly.

However, in order to guard against the external threat, the sheep Jishan intensified the inspection efforts, so this kind of thing did not happen again.

The time passed, and half a year passed unknowingly. During this period, Zeraora and Shanna occasionally returned to Zou, but they only stayed for a day or two, and the basic frequency was once every two months.

They often bring some scarce resources to Zou, and even the number of Millennium Dragons accompanying them has increased.

In April 1501, Yamato was six and a half years old, and her training also entered a new stage - domineering.

Not only her, but also Maria and Jack are involved in this field. Robin has not yet reached this standard due to the different growing environment. She temporarily lost her playmate and started her own literature study.

Domineering practice is something that Kaido decides. According to him, their nutrition is too sufficient, and their bodies have grown to the point where they can accept domineering baptism.

He has already taught the basic things, and the rest is a process of constant familiarity. There are only a few fixed moves, and how to apply them flexibly still depends on actual combat, so a new stage of teaching will begin accordingly.

But it was not Kaido who led them to train, but Shaina.

"Sister Shaina, what are you doing with us here?"

"train."

Domineering training is a process of being beaten. Nowadays, most of the people who can master domineering in the Beast Pirates have gone through this process. It is good to be punched in the training ground. Awakened.

It's easy for Kaido to beat people into a half-dead situation. He really knows * people in this regard, so Arceus compromised with him and found someone who could be ruthless and control the degree. people.

Arceus' order was absolute to Shaina, and this task fell to her.

For the others, Jhin was easy to overdo it, Olga was easy to lose it, and Quinn's schedule was full. A series of matters such as experiments, planting, and theory classes fell on him, and there was basically no room for it. It's time.

"The next thing you have to learn is domineering."

As she said that, she moved her wrists, and the next moment her hands were wrapped in armed colors.

"The Quinn guy should have told you all about it in the theory class, but only if you have experienced the power of domineering in person, you will be able to master it better, be prepared, it may be a little painful."

said that he directly punched Jack out. As for why it was Jack, someone had to be the first one. Jack became the first among the three little ones to realize the domineering fist wrapped in it.

But Yamato and Maria did not escape this disaster, and their fists hit them right after.

"It hurts, Sister Shaina, isn't there any other way to cultivate? For example, a little gentler."

Yamato crawled up while clutching his stomach. This was the first time he had been punched in training. It used to be all kinds of * or finger snaps.

"It's not impossible, but this is the quickest, and will you accept my way? Mr. Kaido has given you a time limit. If it is overtime, he will take over."

Chapter 289 Midterm Exam, Jenny Turtle Fire Brigade

Kaido took over. After the word reached the ears of the three people, they collectively shivered. Kaido's crash course worked quickly, but the disadvantage was that it was more labor-intensive.

If Shaina had adopted this method of cultivation, it would be impossible for them to keep adding several bones if Kaido came.

So all three of them were in high spirits.

"Come on, Sister Shaina, please be sure to finish your teaching before Father Father intervenes!"

"I said you would accept it."

The significance of Kaido is not only in personal teaching, but also in deterrence. Sometimes a sentence can have a multiplier effect, but she is also telling the truth. If her teaching progress is too slow, then Kaido will indeed take over. thing.

But this quick-fix method can't be said to be beautiful, and the trainee still can't escape the stage of being beaten.

"The power of domineering comes from the body, it is hidden in your body, but at the same time it is also the power of the heart!"

Shaina taught by force while telling some domineering knowledge.

Although domineering requires physical exercise, this power is also very idealistic. If the heart is dead, even the same body will not be able to use domineering.

Morlia and Crocodile were both pirates who once fought in the new world, but the process of challenging the big pirates gave them a major blow to their bodies and minds, and both of them almost took a different path.

One is looking for ancient weapons, the other is studying the undead zombie army, and the long-term comfortable life in the paradise also makes them unable to use domineering. The biggest difference is that after a few months in prison, Crocodile seems to be reborn. Awakened.

"Your domineering will only become stronger in the battle with a strong enemy. When you back down, fear, and become cowardly, your domineering will also weaken!"

"That. Does being beaten like this really work?"

was knocked to the ground again, and Maria began to wonder if this method was really useful. Although Shaina said that the domineering was in her body, and that they should guide them with their hearts, she didn't notice anything.

"It's definitely useful. We all came here like this, but it takes time, don't worry, the time given by Mr. Kaido is still enough, you don't need to master it, as long as you can mobilize a little bit and feel its existence, it will be fine. Qualified.

Now the warm-up should be over, the three of you will attack together, just being beaten is not a real battle. "

The whole process didn't use her feet, but Shaina was still a crushing force for them. The domineering practice could not end in a day or two. It took Rayleigh two years to lay the foundation for Luffy, and in the process Half the time is comprehension.

Although his high-level domineering training is very fast, the foundation also has an indelible effect, so the process of Yamato and the others being beaten is not a few days or a week, but a month as a unit.

In the spare time they were beaten, they also had to go through the death game prepared by Kaido, which was also Kaido's preliminary assessment for them. It seems that they are still satisfied, so Shaina has been acting as the instructor.

After a few months, they gradually found the way to be armed, but sometimes they didn't work well, but occasionally they could use a bit of domineering.

Originally this was a simple and unpretentious training, but on this day, Yamato seemed to let out a groan.

"Sister Shaina! You lied!"

It was said at the beginning that Kaido would not take over as long as he worked hard, but today they saw Kaido standing on the training ground on the roof of Onishima, which made Yamato feel a sense of deception.

"Lao Tzu's silly daughter, she didn't lie to you, and she trained very well, but you should have heard your adoptive father mention that there is a word called midterm exam.

Come on, your job is to attack me with what you've learned, if I'm not satisfied, well, you'll have a wonderful second half of the semester! "

Since then, while learning is a boring process, Yamato has an even more disgusting word - exam.

In the case of the three of them fighting for half their lives, the invigilator Kaido reluctantly gave them a pass, avoiding the treatment of joining Kaido's cram school.

Without the winter and summer vacations, they also directly entered the second half of the semester. The learning goal of the first half of the semester was to perceive armed sex, and the second half of the semester was naturally the * of seeing and hearing, but the change in the teaching process was not big, just changed from punching to Just throwing stones.

The time is approaching October, and it is the busiest time of the year for firework craftsmen in China. Originally, they would only make some fireworks during the New Year's celebration. Live.

Every year, Yamato's birthday is an additional celebration on Onishima. Although the festival on Onigishima has little to do with Wano, they will buy resources, assemble performance teams, and fireworks displays at that time.

As for whether setting off fireworks all night will disturb the people, it is only once or twice a year, which is not lively enough for Wano country.

And as Yamato gets older, the birthday party is becoming more and more formal. If it weren't for Wano Country now, I'm afraid this would be an event that is not inferior to the BIG-MOM tea party in the underground world.

Among them, the competition of "Fireworks King" has also become the most important thing for firework craftsmen. Although the title of this Fireworks King is given by the Beast Pirates, it is also a face to speak out, not to mention the high bonus. .

And it's not just them who are busy, there is also the newly built red building next to the Beast Pokémon Center, with a big turtle's license plate hanging on it.

"Jay, Jay, Jay, Jayne!"

"Jenny Jenny!"

In the yard, a team of jenny turtles are running, and another team is doing push-up training. In addition to sit-ups, there are a lot of fire fighting equipment here. A group of turtles is embarrassing them to do sit-ups.

They are the newly formed fire brigade a few months ago.

The houses in Wano country are mostly wooden structure, which also leads to great fire hazards. It is easy to spread by the wind. A fire that broke out not long ago almost burned the Pokémon center.

For this reason, the fire brigade appeared here to prevent the recurrence of emergencies, and there were two red cars next to it, pure electric-driven Rotom brand fire trucks.

But the main job is to travel, and the turtle itself is much easier to use than a high-pressure water gun.

After they finished their day of training, a group of jenny turtles just took a dip in the swimming pool and started to relax.

At this time, there was a sound of explosion in the distance, and there were fireworks in the sky, and even here you could see the black smoke rising below.

"Jenny!"

The lead turtle put on his sunglasses, and the two teams of turtles got on their own trams and started their own firefighting missions.

Chapter 290 Designer Black Charcoal Orochi is trying to balance combat power

At this time, a small wooden yard in Baiwu has been set on fire, and even the neighboring houses have been affected. From the scattered fireworks, it can be seen that this is due to the mishandling of the fireworks workshop.

Although there are many inland rivers in Wano, there are no fire pipelines or the like. Today, the way to put out fires is still relaying water, and buckets of river water are passed by nearby residents to the fire scene.

Whether you are familiar with it or not, the local people will try their best to help put out the fire when there is a fire, especially the nearby neighbors. If the wooden houses here are left on fire, it will easily spread.

They can care about other people's homes, but at least they have to figure out how to protect the safety of their own homes.

"How did you do it! How can you be so careless after so many years!"

While was passing the bucket, they were also complaining. Those fireworks flying around were disobedient. Some people had already been affected, but they were just put out in time because the fire was not big.

"That's right, how can you make such a low-level mistake after working for so many years."

The people on fire have been making fireworks for many years, and there has never been an accident before.

"I don't want to either! It's just that there was a problem when trying new formulas. I didn't expect those things to become so unstable after they were added."

There are still burn marks on his chest, but at this time he can't care about it. Fighting the fire is the most important thing. If it burns like this, he will have nothing.

At this time, there was a sudden braking sound from the rear, followed by the shout of the Jenny Turtle.

"Jenny!"

Two fire trucks arrived at the accident site. The Jenny Turtle Fire Brigade is different from the regular fire brigade. Instead, their business is very narrow and they can only deal with general fire problems.

The relatively simple development environment of Wano also brings convenience to the Jenny Turtles. The cause of the fire here is not complicated, and the deflagration of the oil depot does not exist, and the ignited flame can usually be extinguished with water.

Water-type Pokémon have unscientific water storage organs in their bodies, with a huge capacity, and also have many magical powers such as converting their own physical strength into water, and manipulating the water in nature.

The siren sound of Rotom caught their attention, and then they saw a group of blue turtles rushing over. This was the first official appearance of the Jenny Turtle Fire Brigade, but the small figure spit out several times more than itself. volume of water flow.

Under the suppression of more than a dozen jenny turtles, the original burning flame was instantly contained, and as the jenny turtles advanced steadily, the fire began to be gradually suppressed.

"What are these?"

"It's raised by the beasts. Those strange cows are all strange... miraculous creatures."

Some jenny turtles have the flag of the Beast Pirates painted on their shells, which directly shows that these jenny turtles belong. He wanted to use strange to describe them, but he looked at the jenny turtles who were fighting the fire. , he used another adjective.

Anyway, these jenny turtles have helped them a lot. The jenny turtles can't be said to be timely, but at least they have helped them save part of their property.

Under the suppression of the Jenny Turtle Water Gun, some of the pillars that were burnt to black were also exposed, but the location of the fire was in the yard, so some things in the house were still in good condition, which was a fortune in misfortune.

The front of the Jenny Turtles continued to advance, and most of the open flames were extinguished. Now they are continuing to sprinkle water on some places that are still smoking.

But the owner of this house couldn't help it. Looking at some things in the room, he thought about it and rushed over, but the people around him didn't hold him.

"Hey! Where are you going? Dangerous, come back!"

No one knows what's going on inside those blackened pillars, and rushing in like him is an act of wanting money and not dying.

But he couldn't rush in in the end, because two jenny turtles directly fell on him, and after that, the beam collapsed due to the overwhelm.

"thanks."

"Jenny Jenny."

After the disaster relief, he lost most of his house, but since Wano's currency is all metal, his savings have not been lost, and it is not too expensive to build a house outside the flower capital.

Although the flesh hurts, it has not yet reached the point of injury, and everything that happened here was seen by Kozuki Oden who passed by.

He came to look for Shuangyue Yasushi's house. After discovering the smoke, he came here, and then he saw the scene of the jenny turtle putting out the fire. For a time, he fell into the stage of thinking about life again.

When Jenny passed by him with small dried fish like on an outing, he was still in such a state of thinking. Today, the country of Wano is changing with each passing day, and new changes will occur every day.

From the beginning of the Beasts Pokémon Center, the new business guild mode brought by Kojiro, the current Jenny Turtle Fire Brigade, and the revived plants in the Nozomi area, which made Kozuki Oden's heart a little shaken.

This is not the first time he has been shaken, but at the same time, the Black Charcoal Orochi and the Shuangyue Yasushi are also having an exchange.

After several years of preparation, the Shuangyue Yasushi family has raised 2,000 soldiers for the samurai action, which he thinks is enough, but in the eyes of Orochi, these people are not enough at all.

In Wano, apart from the Beast Pirates, he knows the most about the outside world. Judging from the current development of the Beasts, they need not only quantity, but also high-end combat power.

Kozuki Oden itself is a fighting force, and in their opinion, the only one who can face Kaido, but today's Beast Pirates are not just one Kaido.

"Lord Yasaka, this is the cadre of the Hundred Beasts Pirates currently staying in Wano. These three are the big cadres of his so-called "Three Disasters"."

Jin, Quinn, and Olga's wanted warrants were placed in front of the Shiroyue Yasushi family by Orochi.

"The bounty in the open sea can roughly judge a person's strength. These three are very difficult opponents."

Afraid that the Shuangyue Yasushi family would not understand, the Black Charcoal Orochi specifically explained the meaning of the bounty to him, and there were more than three bounty orders in his hand.

"Although the titles of these two are not disasters, they are also not weaker than the three disasters in the Beast Pirates."

This time, it was Shaina and Zeraora's bounty. After the Black Charcoal Orochi did the math, it was simply not enough for Kozuki Oden to balance the combat power.

"In addition, there is this capable person, the sorcerer. Although he never shows people in human form, he is another foundation of beasts."

This time, it was Arceus's bounty, and it was the most difficult battle force to deal with among the beasts today.

"And that's not all, Lord Kang, do you understand how difficult the situation is?"
