

Arceus 29

Chapter 29 Girl, you are so brave

On an unknown island, Kaido drank the little alcohol left in the patrol ship, and Arceus was very happy when he found the slate. He likes to drink when he is happy, and it is easy to break when he drinks.

But to be honest, whether Kaido is drunk or not depends not on the amount of alcohol, but on whether he wants to get drunk or not.

If he doesn't want to get drunk, it's a very difficult thing to completely numb his nerves with alcohol. If he wants to get drunk, then a little drink is enough.

Now is the time when Kaido wants to experience the feeling of being drunk. At this time, the creatures living on the island have fallen into a lot of mold, and the island environment has formed a closed-loop biological chain, but the food that was originally at the top of the food chain has also been reduced to food at this time.

Roasting, the most primitive cooking method of human beings, the heat is suitable, the seasoning is sufficient, and the roasted things will not taste too unpleasant.

The common sense of living in the wild has nothing to do with them, except to pay attention not to burn the whole island accidentally, the danger has nothing to do with them.

It was quiet in the night, only the sound of firewood burning and popping occasionally, and at this time, a figure on the sea was rapidly approaching the island.

It is not swimming or flying, but running entirely on its legs. It has a green body, and is as tall as a person. Overall, it looks like a creature created by the combination of a snake and a lizard.

The neck is very long and it moves upright, which makes it somewhat similar to dinosaurs, with wide webs growing on its feet, and a long tail balancing behind it, which is why it can run fast on the sea. NovelSub.com

This is a basilisk lizard, and it is a strange creature that should have been extinct long ago. It has a simple saddle on its back and a little girl sitting on it.

Blonde hair, purple skirt, and a simple red headband tied on his head.

That sea king will occasionally swallow a lot of things, which is the source of her supplies.

"Elizabeth, go to the light side, I can smell the aroma of the food, it's the smell of meat, I haven't eaten meat in a long time!"

The corners of his mouth were drooling as he spoke, as did the lizard known as Elizabeth.

This lizard has a gentle personality, is easy to tame, has a long lifespan, and is omnivorous, but its own combat power is weak. Most of them are vegetarians on weekdays, or catch some small animals.

But where it used to live, there was no such thing as a bird, because it used to live in the stomach of that giant monkfish.

It is no joke that the super-large sea kings devoured the island. The giant monkfish has three stomachs in its body, and each stomach has an island, and this girl is the survivor on an island.

The previous attack by Arceus and Kaido caused the sea king to pierce the stomach and spit out a lot of things. She and the lizard took this opportunity to escape from it.

Because Elizabeth can run on the water and has strong durability, they successfully left the windless zone. The basilisk lizards ran very little on the sea, and the sea kings living below did not notice it at all.

In other words, the awakened sea kings went to besiege the severely injured monkfish sea king.

After running on the sea for a long time, one person and one lizard accidentally ran to the island where Kaido and the others were staying, and were then attracted by the firelight and the faint smell of meat.

On the edge of the island, the girl and the lizard thought that no one had found them, but Jhin, who was vigilant on the boat, found them when they just came up.

He wanted to grab this little guy directly, but was stopped by Shaina, who came to shift.

"What are you doing to stop me?" Jin asked in a low voice on the boat. The girl who was crawling below didn't even notice, and the two people on the boat behind her were already staring at her.

Most people will not sleep on the boat after the boat docks. No matter how well the boat is repaired, it will shake slightly under the fluctuation of the waves. For sailors, it is rare and stable to be able to rest on land.

For people at sea, this is basically a default common sense, and she is just a few years old, and she has never thought about so many things.

"She seems to be running for the rest of the barbecue. Let her go. It's not good to feel hungry."

You can only know how painful it is when you have experienced that feeling, which cannot be conveyed in words.

The Lunaria clan lives tenaciously, but it doesn't mean that they won't be hungry, it's just that they have a stronger tolerance. During their escape and life in the laboratory, they almost experienced all kinds of hardships.

Looking at the young girl, Shaina had some sympathy, but sympathy was sympathy, she still put away the flame, spread her wings and flew over.

"You keep the vigil, I'll see what she wants to do."

She will help the people she wants to help when she can, and when she finds a problem, she will break the neck of the other person without hesitation.

Arceus is not here now. He is using some of the beasts on the island to experiment with the specific effects of skills, such as evil-type provocation. In reality, the effects of some skills are similar to rules-based abilities, which are very incomprehensible.

For example, provocation will make the opponent angry in the game. The opponent can only use skills that deal damage within three rounds, but the reality is not a turn-based game, and the effect of provocation is more diverse. At this time, he let some beasts start fighting.

"When you find a grass-type green slate, you should try to tie a grass knot. If it's Oz's size, I don't know what effect it will have."

The higher the weight, the higher the damage of the grass knot, but the principle of this skill is to trip the opponent, and the giants shouldn't knock themselves out, probably.

Practice is the only criterion for testing truth. Without specific practice, he is not sure of the specific effect. Just like provocation, the effect of this skill can be far beyond expectations.

On the other side, the little girl and Elizabeth touched the rest of the barbecue, and they had already eaten their stomachs round. The stomachs of people in this world obviously surpassed ordinary people, and there were just as many people with big hearts.

For example, Kaido was sleeping on the side, one with a big heart continued to sleep, and the other with a big heart dared to continue eating.

"Have you eaten enough."

"Who's full!" Facing this sudden question, the little girl hesitated for three seconds, and then suddenly felt that something was wrong, and Quinn, who was out looking for supper, just arrived here.

In order to modify the power plant as soon as possible, he has been modifying the ship before, and the work is completed, and he wants to find something to eat.

Shaina originally wanted her to leave when she was full, but her appearance and the sudden appearance of Quinn seemed to frighten her, so she made an unimaginable behavior.

She kidnapped Kaido, who was still sleeping.