

Arceus 31

Chapter 31 The genius of over a hundred years ago

"The same breath? Are you sure?"

"ah!"

All kinds of strange things floating on the sea are normal. Pirates will only pick up the things they are interested in. This kind of strange-looking creatures are generally not picked up on the boat.

But Elizabeth told Arceus that it smelled a familiar smell on the things below. The genetic makeup of the basilisk lizard is very complex. As reptiles, they have an exceptionally developed sense of smell, and they can also capture odor molecules in the air.

It just smelled like Olga on that.

But most people think he is screaming, only Arceus can understand what Elizabeth is saying.

"Jin, fish up the thing below."

"Yes."

Jin spread his wings and jumped off the side of the ship, picking up the unknown creature floating on the sea.

Beneath the dinosaur coat is a ragged blond man with stubble, fat, and it seems to have been soaked in the water for too long, causing some puffiness.

"Olga, Elizabeth said that this unknown creature has your scent, do you know it?"

"Huh? But I don't know him, Lord Holy Beast, can you understand Elizabeth?"

In the past few hours, Shaina gave Olga a simple indoctrination. In a nutshell, Kaido's words should be listened to, but it doesn't matter to his attitude at ordinary times, and he won't care.

Just treat her and Jhin as brothers and sisters, they are not difficult to get along with, the fat fat Quinn can ignore it, he will come to her if he dares to pick things up.

Arceus is a holy beast, and his attitude must be respectful. If he dares to be disrespectful to Arceus, there is absolutely no good fruit to eat. The last sentence must be emphasized.

There is no problem with her intelligence. She can live alone with a lizard in a lonely environment for more than a hundred years without being driven crazy. This disposition is already very good. I can't stand this loneliness.

It's just because there is no one, and she doesn't have anyone to study or refer to, so her mind stays in that time period, and it's still the nature of a child.

They are both females, they get along pretty well, and Olga's problem of not being able to hide her thoughts will not be corrected for a while, which also makes it easier for Shaina to understand each other.

"It's not difficult to understand its words. Elizabeth said it must have smelled right." Arceus looked at the unknown creature and confirmed Elizabeth's words again.

In terms of smell and perception, he is many times stronger than this basilisk lizard, but he is not interested in the unknown floating objects at sea.

This is just a supporting role in the theatrical version. Arceus slept in an egg for longer than she lived in the belly of a sea king. It's normal to not remember this kind of thing.

"Could it be that this guy is my * dad?"

I haven't seen him for over a hundred years. Although he is still alive in the body of the lantern due to the pure golden light, his image has changed a lot, and Olga did not recognize him.

"He won't die, will he?"

She has complicated feelings for her father, who is her only relative, but he killed her mother again, attracting Lord Lantern.

At this time, the unknown creature also opened its eyes, and it was inevitable that he was a little excited when he found out that he was still alive.

He was also swallowed into the stomach of a sea king at the beginning, but he arrived at another island in the stomach, where countless dinosaurs lived. In order to protect himself, he disguised as a dinosaur cub and could only eat meat every day for more than 100 years. , can't see any vegetables and fruits.

is the exact opposite of Olga, who can only eat vegetables and fruits every day and see no meat.

After the Neptune was defeated, he also ran out of the hole that the Neptune was punched through, and was lucky to not be drowned and successfully floated here.

"I said guys, can't you start the outer ship! Does this ship have to do everything on this ship! Kid, at least a trainee should do something!"

The outer ship hadn't started for so long, and Quinn walked out with a displeased face. After all, there was one more person he could instruct on this ship. He thought so, and then he saw another person on the deck.

When he found out that he left the dinosaur den, he naturally took off his dinosaur coat. Olga carried pure gold with him, so the clothes remained the same as before, but he was only affected by the light of pure gold, so the clothes had become Dilapidated.

The favorite food of the sea king is pure gold, and the lure is also full of substances evolved from pure gold, and the strong light even illuminates its own body.

The most intact thing on his body is the belt, and the text on the belt and the graphics on Olga's skirt have attracted Quinn's attention.

When Olga first appeared, it was still dark, and he didn't pay attention to the details on the dark skirt, but now he has discovered something very important.

"This pattern... Alkemi, are you people from Alkemi Island? But that island is a legendary island that disappeared more than a hundred years ago.

Don't look at me, I don't know much about this, and this matter has something to do with you, Mr. Arceus. Back then, Vega Punk couldn't analyze the constituent elements of your slate.

And in this respect, Alkemi's technology is top-notch, so the research institute was full of literature about Alkemi, so I was able to recognize it. "novelUSB.com"

"Ah, I am indeed from Alkemi, my name is Asie, Miscina Asie."

"You're actually still alive, it's unbelievable."

"Am I famous?"

"Of course, the Vegapunk guy admires your talent in materials science and mineralogy. You are a genius in making "pure gold"!"

The people at the MADS Institute disagreed with each other, and they all believed that they were geniuses, even if they were not inferior to Vega Punk. There was only one kind of person in their peers that they would brag about in public - the dead.

It's nothing to brag about the dead old senior. Asie belongs to this type. In the eyes of everyone who knows him, he is a dead man. After all, even Al Kemi Island has disappeared.

Otherwise he should have been taken away by the world government long ago, pure gold is known as the metal that can buy the world, just because the dragon people are willing to get them at all costs.

Pure gold can greatly delay the growth process of living things. In other words, it is a treasure that can make people immortal. After more than 100 years, Olga has not changed. .

But pure gold will attract the attack of super-large sea kings, causing the entire island to be eaten, so this substance has always been just a legend.

"What a genius scientist he is, he is a bastard! Pure gold should not appear in this world!"

Chapter 32 Children are afraid of injections

Quinn's compliment of Assie provokes Olga's anger, who sees pure gold as the source of misfortune.

"Olga! You're Olga, right! Great, you're still alive!"

Seeing Olga's Assie was very excited, but Olga didn't think so. More than a hundred years later, she had too many questions to ask her father, which was something that was not answered at the beginning.

"Why, why on earth did you make such a thing! It's what attracted those pirates! Say it! Why don't you say it!"

"I don't want to see anything like pure gold anymore!" As he said that, he took off the ring from his hand and was about to throw it into the sea. This action made the silent Asier react.

"No, stop it! Olga, stop it!"

Olga really didn't dare to do this before, because the pure gold ring would attract the super-large sea king called Lantern-sama, but now, it is impossible for the sea king to keenly catch the movement of pure gold.

And this ring used to be her only souvenir. Now that Asier is still alive, the result is different.

The fat body has not exercised much for many years. Assie's movements are a little slow, and he can only watch the ring fly farther and farther, but in mid-air, Quinn's mechanical flying claws flew out and grabbed the ring again .

Olga said that she never wanted to see pure gold again, and then threw the ring out, which means that the ring contains pure gold.

"Don't waste it, this is a good thing, Mr. Arceus, Vegapunk made a hypothesis at the beginning."

"what?"

"If you can discover the elemental composition of your slate and add a special enough core metal, then it is possible to make a machine that analyzes the strength of the slate. The principle of the machine is not complicated, and I can make it if the equipment is sufficient. come out.

With a little modification, it may be possible to detect the signal of the slate.

And this slate is yours in the first place. You must know its composition very well. If it goes well, we should be able to manufacture a related device. "

"Pure gold is that special metal?"

"Maybe, maybe not, Vega Punk has experimented with most of the matter, but it doesn't work. This legendary pure gold may be."

Vega Punk is a genius, and the technology is even five hundred years ahead of today, but the technology of the future may not be able to reproduce the ancient things. Everyone has their own areas of expertise, and Vega Punk can't do it when it comes to making pure gold.

He is a genius, but he is not omniscient and omnipotent, and there are things that he cannot do or is not good at.

Quinn was not sure if it could be done, he just stated an idea at the time.

But Arceus will not let go of any possibility. If Quinn's vision can be realized, in the future, if you look for slates, you can divide your troops into two ways and speed up the collection process of slates.

And the reason why Quinn is so active is mainly to see if Arceus has any way to induce bananas. Two crops a year are too torturous.

Quinn has been talking about this matter all the time, and Arceus also saw what he wanted.

Even John has not been found yet. He can accept it after a while. The most important thing is that Kaido fell in love with this little girl because Olga was too brave, and Arceus fell in love with Asie's technology. .

Science and technology are the primary productive forces. He can even make things like pure gold, and it should be no problem to make some simple things.

"The Emperor's Fever in the South China Sea originated in the South China Sea. It is a serious illness that the king of a country has no cure for."

"South China Sea Emperor Fever?"

"Yeah, that's why I said"

"What kind of terminal illness is that, it was conquered many years ago." NoVeLusb.cOm

Hearing this disease, Quinn said with great disdain, he was a virus expert, and the virus of the South China Sea Emperor Fever was not considered a disease at all in his opinion.

After all, it was conquered many years ago, and the treatment plan has been announced. It can be seen that it is good to live for a long time. The terminal illness that was a hundred years ago can be cured in a hundred years.

said that he returned to the cabin, and used the medicine in the patrol ship to make an injection.

"Okay, I'll be fine with this injection. I'm a professional in this area."

Then, he saw that this little girl who was brave enough to hijack Kaido ran away without hesitation when facing the syringe.

"No, people are most afraid of injections!"

Chapter 33 Misunderstanding

Everyone has their own weaknesses. The brave girl who dared to hijack Kaido was scared by a syringe and ran around all over the boat. Of course, in this small environment, she couldn't escape, and she hadn't run away three steps. She was caught by Shaina in the distance.

"Bring me back. Although the Nanhai Emperor Fever has been conquered, people will still die if not treated in time. Quinn, give her an injection."

"Don't worry, don't worry, I'm professional in this area."

After pressing Olga's arm, his robotic hand automatically completed a series of disinfection tasks, and then the syringe was directly pierced at the shoulder.

"Little devil, you are the one who dares to hijack Big Brother Kai, just a mere syringe, there is nothing scary."

Looking at the tearful Olga, Quinn couldn't figure out where she got her courage yesterday. Although she probably didn't know Kaido, the size gap was enough to put most people off.

Said and handed Kaido's reward order to her. There is such a thing on the patrol boat itself. Pirates usually don't panic when they see the reward order, but regard it as a show off.

"One, ten, one hundred, one thousand, ten thousand, one hundred thousand, one million twelve billion??!"

Counting the long list of zeros in Kaido's reward order, Olga's expression was a little distorted. Bailey has been depreciating over the years, and its purchasing power has been declining. The 1.2 billion Bailey more than a hundred years ago is far more Today's 1.2 billion Bailey is worth much, let alone a fraction of it.

The higher the bounty, the stronger the pirates are. This is common sense in the sea.

Although the bounty of this pirate is based on the comprehensive judgment of its strength and the degree of danger considered by the government, the strength and the amount of the bounty are basically proportional.

The father and daughter who had lived in the stomachs of the sea kings for more than a hundred years were completely on the pirate ship less than a day after they escaped.

But strictly speaking, they were rescued twice by the Beast Pirates, Arceus and Kaido let them escape from the belly of the sea kings, and Quinn solved the South Sea Emperor fever.

Of course, the latter is not too difficult to do, as long as you find an island that is not too backward in medical level, you can find the corresponding vaccine.

The big pirate with a reward of 1.2 billion, it is very difficult for her to escape. The most important thing is that Elizabeth has betrayed and completely surrendered to Arceus. Ladu can't go away, which directly cuts off the possibility of her escape, especially It was my father who also appeared here.

It's just that compared to Olga, Asiee's resistance to pirates is not that strong, and the thinking of an adult makes him think more.

At first he made pure gold not for fame and fortune, but to solve Olga's physical problems.

Therefore, after successfully making pure gold, he did not publicize it everywhere. He knew what would happen to pure gold, although pure gold also has its side effects, such as restricting the development of the body and hindering the progress of strength. .

But the long lifespan it brings is enough to make people crazy, especially the Tianlong people at the top of the world, who enjoy everything in the world and what they desire most is time.

Even the people on the island didn't know what he was doing. He and his wife did the production of pure gold independently. Although the people on the island helped him transport the materials, it was impossible to guess what the materials were used for. .

Different materials are purchased in batches, such as charcoal for barbecue, sulfur for soap, and saltpeter for ice, but these things can be mixed together to make gunpowder. The specific ratio is. Well, don't ask.

The material of his pure gold is the same. At the beginning, he didn't know whether these things could be made into pure gold, so the question came, who leaked the news that he made pure gold to those pirates.

One can infer his purpose from the materials he purchased, and find that the only one who succeeds is the World Government.

This is his guess. The world government wants to keep pure gold in its own hands, and does not want other careerists to know about it.

So they disclosed the news, they hoped to let the pirates deal with this matter first, and then the government intervened to eliminate the redundant insiders, take away Assie, and let him make pure gold for them as a savior.

The higher the status, the more he knows, and the more he can appreciate the darkness hidden under the world government order. Of course, this is just his speculation.

It is not impossible for the World Government to destroy Alkemi with the slaughtering order, but in that case, you need to find an excuse and calm down the influence afterward. The price is too high, it is better to use the pirates.

But they did not guess that the destruction caused by pure gold refers to the super-large sea kings, those pirates are the murdering jackals, and the person behind the message is the real murderer.novelusb.com

More than a hundred years have passed. At that time, those people were probably dying of old age. Now he just wants to live a good life with his daughter. His position is not very important. With his skills, he can always find a foothold.

This is near the windless zone, and now he can only follow Kaido and the others, but he is still very opposed to his daughter becoming a pirate. He wants to use the research needs as an excuse to let Olga to assist his research.

But this is a matter of the future, and now Arceus and his party followed the life card provided by Priert and began to follow John's way.

On the other side, Spandain is throwing the desk in the office. The matter in the South China Sea has been quelled by the navy. Zefa has another resume on his body, but this has nothing to do with Spandain, because the manpower he left behind in the 277 branch died. .

Those pirates didn't get caught in the face of Zefa's fleet, and Spandain's undercover slammed into the corner of the window due to Kaido's domineering coma, so he didn't wake up at all, and then died in the navy's unknown AOE firepower.

The battleship from the headquarters, the caliber of the artillery is very different from that of the four seas, and there is a huge gap in the intensity of firepower. Although Zefa is called the "non-kill" Admiral, but that means he will not kill the people he catches.

He is not pedantic and will not make soldiers pay huge casualties to capture each other alive.

Then Spandain sent people to various prisons to interrogate the pirates, but no one knew what happened. The only news he knew was that Priert fought a big pirate.

After a while, Spandain made another call.

"Fleet, did you find that bastard?"

"There is no Chief Spandain yet, but the response of the life card is getting stronger and stronger."

"Catch that bastard, I'll let him know what it's like to betray me."

Looking at the half life card in his hand, Spandain was very angry, but he didn't know that this life card was not Priart's life card at all.

Chapter 34 Teach you to dance

When Priart was arrested and released as an undercover agent, it was impossible for Spandain to have nothing behind, so he made a life card before he set off.

If it's someone else, it doesn't matter, they can definitely create a corresponding life card.

But Priert is the one who can play the fruit. He has various objects such as human hair and other objects used to make puppets. other people's material.

Of course, the life card made from outsider's material is not from Priarte. That's why Priarte has died, but the life card in Spandain's hand has not changed in any way.

The agent he called Fleet has entered the great route according to the fluctuation of the life card, but by accident, he has found the right place, because the person Priert used to make the life card material, the wrong person. Yang mistakenly joined the real John's fleet.

So Follett failed to find Priert, but found John by accident, which also made him make a judgment.

Priort really betrayed his promise with Spandaine and joined the John Pirates completely.

"Sir Spandain, I'm in the first half of the Great Route, the Kingdom of Natho, and I haven't found Priert, but the life card has a very strong reaction. He should be nearby, and I found John here."

"That guy's fruit ability can disguise others. It's normal for you not to see him, but are you sure it's John?"

"I'm sure that there is another big pirate with him, who was also a member of the Rocks ship at the beginning, and his identity is temporarily confirmed as "Silver Axe""

In a hotel in the Natho Kingdom, Fleet carefully reported what he had discovered. The remnants of the two Rocks gathered together, which was not good news for him.

According to his investigation, they have been staying in the Natho Kingdom for a long time. If the previous news from Priert is true, then the treasure of Lox may have a lot to do with it.

The size of the countries on the great route varies, and the unique geography has formed an island culture. Smaller countries can travel all over the territory in one day, and there are also large countries with vast land and population.

The kingdom of Natho is a big country in the great route, with a total area of about half the size of Alabasta. The climate is mild, and the climate is spring all year round.

is also one of the member countries of the World Government. Foley must also take into account the place when he does things here.

"Sir Spandain, do you want to ask the nearby branch for help?"

"Idiot, if you let those in the Navy know, wouldn't they all be exposed!"

"But the menace of this group of people. The Kingdom of Natho is a government-affiliated country, so it's hard to explain what really happened."

"Haven't they done nothing yet? Keep watching. I will ask for help to help you. With this treasure, my future in the World Government will be no problem. At that time, the benefits will be indispensable."

"Yes, I see."

As a CP agent, it is quite dangerous to be on the front line every day. His ideal is to be the chief of the office, and he only needs to issue orders.

The merit brought by Rocks' treasure is enough to do such a thing, and according to his investigation, John has been waiting all this time, not like a pirate at all.

Although the Natho Kingdom is a member country of the World Government, the World Government can't say much about the own affairs of the member countries, and they may not be able to help if they have difficulties, but when this country can't pay the heavenly gold, they will be punished. Expulsion from affiliation.

At that time, the country will be completely abandoned by the navy and become an outlawed land, so the allied countries will try their best to maintain this status.

The status of a member country may not make its citizens safe, but a non-member country must be more dangerous.

The world government only needs the gold in the sky, but no matter how the gold comes from the sky, the Vorka Kingdom where Kaido was born relies on foreign wars to obtain the gold in the sky.

The Natho Kingdom is similar. Their country's fleet even has the status of legal pirates. This is why the Natho Kingdom does not prohibit pirates from entering. This country is called the Gray Kingdom, and many pirates will sell their stolen goods here.

In order to protect their own interests, there are even unspoken rules in the pirate world.

Fleet disguised as an ordinary smuggler and settled down, and Arceus and the others followed the guidance of the life card and began to approach here gradually.

John's previous position has also been changing, and Arceus and the others have to change direction from time to time. From the time of departure to the present, the sailing time has been more than three months.

The windless belt is not a hindrance for them. The power unit made by Quinn and the outer wheel can also move at high speed in the windless belt. Sea Kings also pose no threat to them, which saves a considerable amount of time.

At this time, they still used the patrol boat. During this time, Assie and Quinn got along very well. This was a pleasant exchange between the two sweet parties.

Asil has an extraordinary love for fruits and vegetables because he can only eat meat for more than 100 years. This is his first contact with Quinn.

Moreover, his talent in materials science and chemistry is the world's top, even Quinn can't compare to him. The two top scientists have a very friendly exchange here. The most important thing is that Asier does not fight or compete. Every day and Quinn's business exchange, to satisfy his vanity.

Of course, there is a more crucial reason, someone finally did errands with him on the boat.

Compared with Assie, Olga's life is not so happy. More than 100 years have passed, and she has not studied for more than 100 years. As a scientist, Asie is very aware of the importance of learning, so she started Give her extra lessons.

And Kaido really wants Olga to be a trainee on the ship. He is more serious and responsible than Rox, and Rox is fully stocked, while he will focus on teaching, staring at Olga every day for physical training.nOvŁLusb.com

Jin and Shaina are practicing on their own. Their domineering has already started, and the rest is to hone.

According to the reaction of the life card, they were getting closer and closer to the target, and Arceus, who had completely absorbed the evil-type slate, also called out Shaina.

"Master Holy Beast, what's the matter?"

"Can you dance?" Shaina didn't quite understand why Arceus asked such a question, but she answered anyway.

"I know a little bit. It's a ritual dance used by the Lunaria tribe. If you want to watch another dance, I can learn it."

"No, I just want to teach you a special dance, the dance of battle - sword dance."

Chapter 35 The future style of the beastsNOVŁelusb.com

After the Pokémon becomes capable, the original skills will gradually awaken with the progress of the user's "fruit development", and Arceus can speed up this process, or let them learn some skills that they can't learn by themselves and need to be mastered by move machines.

Sword Dance is this type. Compared with those original damage skills, in this real world, battle is neither a turn-based game nor has a specific damage value. The inherent strengthening of one's own attack power is the most effective thing.

If the sword dance type skills can be taught on a large scale, then the future painting style of the beasts may undergo a huge change. The officers of other pirates are talking harshly before the battle, while the people of the beasts are collectively dancing awkwardly.

Of course, this is an exaggeration. Teaching the sword dance is not about teaching the other party to dance ballroom dancing. The clear slate emerged, and a force belonging to Arceus entered Shaina's mind.

Then her thoughts entered a special space, and a phantom just like herself appeared in front of her. The phantom mechanically repeated an action, and the way the power worked was also displayed in front of her.

This is a special learning space. Everything here has nothing to do with the outside world. When Arceus teaches a certain skill alone, his thoughts will be pulled into this space. .

Otherwise, it would have been time to teach them some new skills. This way of teaching will also consume some of their own power, but the loss is lower than directly transforming the Devil Fruit.

can only be used when teaching skills, not as a training space, the power of time and space is something he only mastered in his heyday.

Shaina didn't know how long she had been studying. When she opened her eyes again, the sun had already climbed up to the horizon, and the rising sun was shining on the deck.

It was night when Arceus asked her to go out. It seemed that at least seven hours had passed, but she seemed to have studied for seven days in her memory.

"How about, let me see the effect of the sword dance."

The learning process will only end in two situations. After learning this skill, or when the outside body reaches its limit, it will automatically disengage. With the physique of the Lunaria clan, the limit will never be reached within seven hours, so Shaina must master it. this skill.

"Yes."

The body followed the actions in memory, several sword-shaped phantoms appeared around the body surface, and then reintegrated into the body. The whole stage took about seven seconds.

"How do you feel?"

"The body can't do other movements during the sword dance, otherwise it will be interrupted, but I think it's the reason why I'm not skilled enough. If I'm more familiar with it, I can solve this problem."

These are some small problems she noticed during use. It can be said that it has the same effect as iron blocks. When ordinary people use iron blocks, their bodies cannot move, but people who are skilled enough can move while maintaining the state of iron blocks.

The phantom that appears outside the body when the sword dance is released is also a kind of "Qi". If it is appropriate, this kind of Qi should be able to combine with the outwardly armed weapons to form a special defense method.

Fruit ability combined with domineering, very reasonable move development method.

The learning space is only responsible for letting them learn, and mastering the skills can only rely on themselves.

"What about the effect?"

Sword Dance: The physical attack level has been increased by 2, but the concept of this 2 increase is unclear, and Shaina herself can't tell.

"I don't know about this. Lord Holy Beast, why don't you ask Quinn to help?"

She can feel the increase in strength, but the specific effect is unknown. The navy and the world government have ways to test the power of the Tao, but no one pirates can do that.

Why do you want to look for Quinn, because Quinn and the unenhanced Shaina fought once, and he can feel this change even more.

"Go find him, Jhin should be over soon."

Jhin on the side of is also in this state, obviously learning other skills.

Quinn, who had just woken up, received his first bad news this morning. Because he had mastered a new skill, he was asked to judge the increase ratio.

At first he protested. As a ship doctor, scientist, helmsman, navigator, and combatant, he demanded equal status.

Arceus felt that what he said had a point. They were all people on the same ship and could not be treated too differently, so Quinn voluntarily agreed to this matter using the harvesting feature to speed up the growth of his bananas.

"Come on, I'm ready, don't slap in the face, don't destroy my handsome face!"

"Brother Quinn, pay attention to your smile, the handsome face must be smiling." This is Asie, who is familiar with Quinn, and the two have reached a consensus on the aspect of feeling handsome.

Although Asier and Olga are older in physical age, they both chose to ignore the more than 100 years in the belly of the sea king, otherwise Kaido would have to call Olga an old woman.

"Master Holy Beast, can I kick both of them into the sea?"

"Calm down, pay attention, Assie can't hold your foot, Quinn can't swim, he really falls and you have to go and get him."

Half of the boats are capable people. Although Assie and Olga can swim, they obviously can't drag Quinn's size. The same is true for Elizabeth.

If Quinn falls into the sea and Arceus doesn't help, Shaina can only rescue him by herself.

"Hey! Don't kick me this woman! Kick here, my hand is made of special metal. Last time you kicked on it, the changes on it can compare the results. Use it as a dynamometer!"

Quinn clearly felt that Shaina wanted to avenge her private revenge. After a few months of sailing, Jhin was able to say that although he would run against him in words, his actions were different.

But Shaina is obviously very vengeful, this is simply an opportunity to avenge private vengeance.

Now, on the grounds of a better test, her attack range is specified.

Obviously his ability has been strengthened, but Shaina's attack on him is even higher. He thinks this is the reason why the wings made of plants are afraid of flames, and he is planning to carry out a new round of transformation on himself.

Shaina didn't kick crookedly, but even so, Quinn felt her shoulders almost dislocated.

"According to the degree of deformation of the metal, the strength of your foot is about 65% stronger than before. Such a strong increase, how long can you last in this state?"

"It's about half an hour, but the consumption is not very big, so the duration has no effect."

At this time, Jhin also ended his learning process, and the ship also began to carry out skill experiments, but the new skills Jhin mastered were obviously different from Shaina.

Chapter 36 Weather Hands

The flame behind Jin burned more vigorously. In this case, the sunlight changed. It was originally the rising sun.

On a sunny day, both flaming chickens and tropical dragons can benefit in a sunny day. The battle with John is bound to be a melee. In order to achieve better results in the battle, team battles become more important.

And Jhin took up the position of the weatherman.

On a sunny day, the power of the flame-type skills will be improved, and the Sunshine Flame will also save the process of accumulating power. Jhin's own flame can also be improved to a certain extent under the blessing of a sunny day.

The ability of the Fossil Pterodactyl gives Jhin more high-altitude advantages. He is currently the most suitable person to act as a weatherman. The consumption of changing the weather is far greater than the consumption of Sword Dance's blessing on himself.

So to control the range of battle, Shaina is more impulsive, so the role of the weather hand is handed over to the more rational Jhin.

Next is a new attempt, that is, whether the skills taught by Arceus can be learned by others through indirect teaching.

The specific behavior is that Jhin taught Quinn to learn the sunny day, and Shaina taught Kaido to learn the sword dance. Even if the opposite side can touch a little fur, it means the possibility of indirect learning.

Moreover, the bonus of Sword Dance is calculated according to the user's own strength. With Kaido's current force, although it has not yet reached its peak, stacking stacks of buffs can still pose a sufficient threat to the enemy in terms of attack power. of.

This process lasted for seven days, and Quinn found a little bit of the way to the sunny day, but Kaido had no clue about the sword dance. This confirmed one thing, those whose abilities are related to Arceus, can learn more through indirect learning. skills.

But if his own abilities have nothing to do with Arceus, he won't be able to learn such skills at all.

Then Arceus tried to teach Kaido how to use the sword dance, and this time it was successful, but unlike Shaina, the sword dance released by Kaido had the same effect, but it consumed more and lasted for a shorter time.

This is caused by physical differences. Forcibly using this skill with an unmodified body is equivalent to wearing a shoe that does not fit well, but when walking on a road full of gravel, it is better than no shoes.

But this is not a big problem for Kaido, he can afford this consumption with his physical strength.

is still the same old problem. It takes too much to transform the current Kaido. At this stage, we can only make a living like this.

After this period of voyage, Arceus and the others have entered the waters of Natho Kingdom, and they have also seen how sturdy the folk customs here are.

At this time, in the sea next to it.

The ship with the flag of the Kingdom of Natho had a fierce battle with a group of pirates on the sea. The reason for the battle was that these pirates sold the property they hijacked in the Kingdom of Natho, but did not want to hand it over. The kingdom was divided, thus triggering the battle.

The passing Arceus and his party ignored them at all, but moved towards the main island of the Natho Kingdom at the speed of the remodeled ship.

"I haven't seen that guy John for five years. He is a second-hand sword, and his strength is the weakest among the cadres at that time. He is not Lingling's opponent, but he is also a strong man. John is never the same." nOveLuSb.com

Kaido is doing popular science work, telling his impression of John's ability.

"You are not his opponent?"

"No, with the fruit ability, I should be about the same level as him in frontal combat."

Kaido has always been very shrewd. In the face of situations where he is not an opponent for the time being, but has to find a way to achieve his goal, he does not mind using some means. He is much stronger than himself five years ago. If nothing else, John is not his opponent.

"In these five years he will not stand still, and with his subordinates, our troops are not enough."

"The slate is the main purpose, but I didn't perceive the scent of the slate. Either the place is too big, the slate has not entered my perception range, or there is no slate at all."

"So we still have to solve John's problem. There is no possibility of negotiation. That guy John regards money as his life. He will not let go of any treasure, even if it is meaningless to him.

But the treasure eight achievements are here, and John's position has not changed for a long time.

Looking at the life card beating in his hand, Kaido had a rough guess. The frequency of the life card fluttering indicates the distance between the holder and the target.

When the distance is extremely far, the life card will only move slightly in that direction, and when the distance is close, the frequency of the life card shaking will also increase.

According to the frequency of life card changes during this period, it can be calculated that John has been wandering around not long ago, but he has stayed on this island for more than a month and has not moved.

When he was about to dock, Kaido made the decision to abandon the ship. The Kingdom of Natho has stricter checks on entry. If the ship is approaching, they cannot avoid their eyes. This is not what Kaido wants.

And this ship has begun to be unable to meet their needs. Due to the gray area, the shipbuilding industry in the Natho Kingdom is also very developed. Kaido also has the plan to directly change his own ship here, and has been using the naval patrol ship. Not a long-term solution.

What Assie and Olga wanted to stay on the ship at first, not that they wanted to take the opportunity to escape or something, the danger level of the great route was not something they could deal with, but for safety.

But Quinn gave them the blow.

"Don't be kidding, this is the Kingdom of Natho, a gray area on the great shipping route. The people who parked the ship here will help watch the ship because of the care fee, but the naval patrol ship parked on the sea, are you afraid Haven't attracted enough pirates?"

If you see a large warship, ordinary pirates will naturally take the initiative to escape, but such a small ship, in the eyes of many pirates, is an opportunity for revenge.

The fighting strength of the father and daughter is just to deliver food to the pirates, even if Kaido is in Olga, it is the same, this thing will not come to fruition so quickly.

So their best outcome is to follow Kaido and the others to the island, and then stay in the kingdom's city.

Kaido took Arceus and the others into the kingdom of Natho, and Follett continued his surveillance career. During this time, John did nothing, as if he was on vacation.

He also saw the target of the life card. Although the face was different from that of Priart, with Priart's ability, the opponent was most likely to be disguised, so he had no doubts.

According to his recent intelligence gathering, in three days, there will be a unique sea phenomenon in the Natho Kingdom - the Great Ebb, and he thinks that John is waiting for this for so long.

Chapter 37 Fleet's Ambition

Nathoe is the name of the kingdom, but the island has another name, just like Alabasta is located on Santin Island, and the land of Nathoe Kingdom is called Donut Island, the specific reason is this From a height, the island looks like a giant donut.

The island is in the shape of a ring, and inside is a huge inland lake, with a total area of more than one-third of the country's land area.

The so-called great ebb tide does not refer to the changes in the sea area of the outer sea, but refers to the inland lake of the kingdom. Every three years on the night of the full moon, the water in the inner lake disappears for three days, revealing the bottom of the lake below.

John and his entourage have been here for too long. Apart from waiting for this, Fleet can't think of any other reason, but the next thing has little to do with him.

He is still self-aware of his own strength. Although he is a member of CP9, he is familiar with the six styles, but he is good at dealing with the pirates in the first half of the great route. In the face of monsters like John with ten-digit bounties, he did not interfere at all. Ability, monitoring from a distance is his limit.

At this point, he has completed the handover of the task, and two members of CP0 from Mary Joa have taken over his task.

"This is where John's people live. His people come here to buy supplies at 2:00 pm every day. From the top floor of the hotel where I live, I can observe their movements."

Foley explained to two ordinary middle-aged men the information he had collected these days. They looked ordinary, and they would disappear immediately if they were thrown into the crowd.

Not all CP0s will wear white suits and various masks when they act. Their main goal is to complete their mission. In order to complete this mission, they usually have many identities and choose appropriate clothing.

At this point, the next job has nothing to do with him. No matter what the result is, Fleet's task has been completed, and the direct task is successful, and he will naturally get his own merit.

Spandain is different from Spandam. In addition to knowing how to flatter, he is also capable, otherwise he would not be very open in various institutions, and he would not be greedy for the achievements of the front-line agents, what? It's clear that things shouldn't touch him.

gave the two CPOs what he thought was Priert's life card, and Fleet planned to leave this place of right and wrong. John's life goal of aligning with money is well known.

The process of wanting to move this treasure can't be too peaceful, and staying on this island is not a good thing for him.

Then he packed up and planned to leave, but in the process of leaving, he met Kaido and the others.

Olga was still wearing a purple dress, but it was not the original one. That dress had a special meaning to her and she had already put it away. It was when they passed by an island to supply supplies. She asked a tailor to do it for more than a dozen times. an identical dress.

In most people's eyes, it's just an ordinary pattern, but those who know it can see that these words are related to Alkemi.

Foley is not someone who studies ancient scripts, and the government does not allow people to study that kind of thing. Only people in a special department of the government are allowed to study that kind of script.

It's just that the current ban is not too strict, and O'Hara still exists. Before they touch the taboo, nothing will happen there.

But Fleet knew about Al-Kemi. Every year, new Tianlong people gave orders to find pure gold because of the news of pure gold. Now this has become a good way to cheat funds. .

But it takes some effort to fool those Tianlong people. There are idiots in the Tianlong people, but not all Tianlong people are idiots. Everyone has ambitions, and no one will let a group of pure waste sit on their heads.

At least they have to submit a satisfactory report, and in the process, they also have a sufficient understanding of Alkemi.

A pattern can be a coincidence, but a complete set can never be a coincidence.

Watching Arceus and the others pass by, he took out his phone bug again and found a secluded place.NOVELSB.COM

"Sir Spandaine."

"What's the matter, Foley, the people from CPO have already been in contact with you."

"Yes, Sir Spandain, we have completed the task handover, do you have any other tasks?" He hesitated the moment the phone was dialed.

Spandain's success in the world government has a lot to do with his relationship network. If he can get into the relationship with the Tianlong people, his future must be much better than now. Why should such a merit be divided? What about Spandaine?

So instead of telling the truth, he moved the idea of eating alone.

"No, you can pay attention to the rest, assist them or return early."

"Yes, I see."

Hanging up the phone bug, he went back along the original road. There is only one direction on this road. During this time, he will not lose people, and there is a lot of population flow in the kingdom of Natho. He did not draw too much attention.

It's just that Foley made a very low-level mistake for an agent. Because he was attracted by the text of Alkemi on Olga's body, he didn't realize that the tall man wearing a cloak was Kaido.

The Central Hotel of the Kingdom of Natho, which consumes a lot of the kingdom's finances, is a place that integrates accommodation and transactions. It is said to be a place where even the giants can live. You can stay as long as you spend money, and no one will care. The identity of the people here, the only rule is that fighting is not allowed in the hotel.

So inhuman creatures like Arceus and Elizabeth were not prevented from entering the hotel room.

"You two, just wait here, we'll leave here when things are over, Quinn, you go to the dock to find a new ship, the feature here is that there are always stocks in stock, then again, you didn't feel it. to your slate?"

Olga and Assie are incapable of participating in a battle of this scale. Although according to Kaido's understanding, only fighting is the fastest way to improve, but he will not let a trainee go to this level of battle. experience life.

It is safest to leave them here, and then arrange for Quinn to buy ships. Although Arceus' plan to use Kaido to harvest wool failed to materialize, the dedication of many colleagues along the way has allowed them to harvest a lot of money. .

There is no real-name system for the navy's bounty distribution. Anyone who is not wanted can exchange for the bounty.

Chapter 38 Pirate's civil unrest

Moreover, in the battle between pirates, both sides will not waste such resources. There are such middlemen in the black market in some places. They are responsible for sending the defeated pirates to the navy and get a commission from the bounty. It's almost an unspoken rule.

Even the big pirates in the New World will do similar behaviors after capturing or killing those pirates who are making troubles in their own territory. This is even an important source of income for some pirates.

"No, it seems that we still have to deal with John, but are there more people here? I think many of them are locals, and why do these people stop the boat in the open space?"

There are many large ships in the open space outside, just like that, they stranded in the open space, it seems that they have not experienced sailing for a long time.

And the ship is still fixed on the ground with a very thick and long iron chain, it seems that it cannot move too far.

"This is the unique ebb tide of the Natho Kingdom. When the inland lake in the middle dries up, the surrounding sea level will rise instead, submerging all the low-lying areas until the ebb tide phenomenon ends.

Except for the highlands where the royal family and nobles live, the rest of the area will be like this, so there are those big ships for refuge. But it's safe, and this hotel can be said to be the dividing line of the flooded area, which is why so many people come here. "

At this time, Quinn has another career as a tour guide, explaining the unique phenomenon of the Natho Kingdom. It is precisely because of this special phenomenon that although the climate of Natho Kingdom is mild, it cannot develop long-term planting industry. .

When the big ebb tide occurs every three years, it is a devastating blow to the planting industry here.

Time is passing slowly, Quinn solved the problem of the boat, Kaido also found the trace of John, and his men were stationed near the inland lake, and it seemed that they were also waiting for the big ebb.

As the time reached the night of the third day, the alarm sounded in the kingdom of Natho, citizens began to take refuge with assets, and various forces also launched their own actions.

"John, are you sure that Lox's treasure is here?"

John Pirates station, a short man in heavy medieval armor, with a shield hanging from his gauntlet, and a bright silver axe in his left hand asked.

Codenamed Silver Axe, his real name is not even known to the people on the Rocks ship, only that he never took off his armor.

"Of course, this is a clue found on the island of Hatchinos. When the moon is full, the ebb will occur, and the true face of the treasure will naturally be revealed in front of us. It belongs to our treasure."

John's tone is full of confidence, he has absolute confidence in the treasure hunt, and this is the last treasure hunt in his plan, the treasure left by Locks is enough for him to start a new life incognito.

It's just that there are too many people, and the treasure belongs to him alone. He doesn't want to share the treasure with these people. If it wasn't for the strength of finding the treasure, he wouldn't join forces with these people.

But John only told half the truth, the treasure is indeed here, but the environment here is extremely dangerous, as long as he makes a little use of it, these guys will be buried here forever.

At the same time, they will also send a signal to the world that the John Pirates have completely disappeared, and Captain John has died. Only in this way can he start a new era of life.

As for his crew? What does it have to do with him.

At this time, a unique smile appeared on the corner of his mouth under the silver axe helmet. Coincidentally, he didn't want to share the treasure with John.

His hand had already pressed the button of a phone bug, and as he pressed his own phone bug, a pirate ship also revealed its true face off the coast of Donut Island.

At the ramming corner of the bow, there was a man wearing golden heavy armor with a long beard.

Although the people on the Rocks ship will kill each other, there are also some good personal relationships, such as Big Mom and Kaido, such as Silver Axe and the owner of the ship, the former Rox Pirates cadre - Wang Zhi. NOverLusb.com

Trust on Rox's ship was a joke, so Silver Axe contacted Wang Zhi long ago, and planned to solve John together with Wang Zhi.

After learning about the sea area here, Wang Zhi's boat had been wandering around for half a month, and he planned to rush over directly by the rising sea surface when the big ebb tide occurred.

At the same time, John's two men were already lying in the dark alley, replaced by two CPO members, and in the high clouds, Kaido in the form of a blue dragon was also ready to go.

The full moon was in the sky, and the big ebb tide ended as scheduled. The water in the central lake began to fade away, revealing the slippery bottom of the lake below, but the original creatures in the lake did not know where they ran.

The external seawater began to spread, most of the land of the Natho Kingdom began to be submerged by the influx of sea water, the large ships on the plains began to rise, and the citizens of the Natho Kingdom would begin to live on the water for a period of time.

"The shape of the bottom of the lake. It looks like a skull."

High-altitude advice can see more clearly, although when there is lake water, this inland lake is only an irregular circle, but when the lake water recedes, the rocks on the lake shore and the bottom of the lake just form a shape of a skull.

"Maybe the old Rox has a preference for this shape. It is also the same shape on Haginos, so the accuracy is higher."

Then John took out an armband with two semi-circular spheres on it. He folded them in half to form a sphere and held it up high. The reflected moonlight hit a rock, and a spherical hole appeared on it.

There is no doubt that this is the switch for the treasure, and at this time, a gunshot broke the silence here.

A silver axe subordinate fell down, and the one who fired the shot was a member of the John Pirates disguised by CP0. They didn't want more people to know the specific details of the treasure. There were only two of them, and they wanted to limit it. Hundreds of pirates are not realistic.

Not to mention that there are cadres with a reward of over 100 million, and it was their plan to start a civil strife among the pirates.

Silver Axe and John were on guard against each other. This shot can be said to have detonated the powder keg, and the scene suddenly became tense.

"John, you started early enough."

"Cut, I said this is not what I meant, do you believe it?" This is really not John's plan. His plan was to make Silver Axe and his crew disappear. How could it be possible to do it without opening the door of the treasure.

And he has never given such an order, there is no doubt that someone is provoking, and other people are mixed in.

But Silver Axe didn't know about this kind of thing. Seeing John make a move, he gave up the idea of waiting for Wang Zhi to take his place before making a move.

"Little ones, do it!"

Chapter 39 John's Ability

The people around him were still allies a few minutes ago, but a few minutes later, they were already facing each other.

Betrayal is not uncommon among pirates. Most pirates are ready for infighting the moment they form an alliance. They can unite for profit or fight for profit.

Whether the partner of the alliance is trustworthy or not, and how far it can go, depends on your own judgment.

Arceus can come up with the temptation that Kaido can't refuse. At least Kaido is much more reliable than John. They have no conflict of interests. Arceus needs manpower to find the slate, Kaido wants an army of capable people and powerful companions.

Unless someone ran to Kaido with a devil fruit tree, or came to Arceus with a dozen slates, this alliance was quite strong, and what Arceus hated most was betrayal and deception.

can't control others, at least he won't do such a thing.

The silver axe and John's subordinates started fighting, and the sound of gunshots sounded from time to time below. As a hot weapon, the musket is still one of the important weapons. Compared with the cold weapon that needs to be trained over time to form combat effectiveness, the musket only needs a simple The operation can be started.

The weaker the , the more important the gun can play.

A powerful sniper can cause fatal damage with a gun even in the face of a well-defended enemy, but such people are rare.

Cold weapons are still the mainstream. Swords, sharp axes, and even shovels and pickaxes for digging treasures have become weapons at this time. They are all big pirates in the new world, but their subordinates are also divided into strong and weak, not everyone is the same. Proficient in domineering.

Hundreds of pirates fell over a hundred in the first battle, and the battle between John and Silver Axe had just begun.NOveLusb.com

The silver axe is relatively short in stature, but has a strange strength. The country he came from is proficient in forging, and the armor on his body is made of special metals. Although it is heavy, its defense is extremely good, and it reflects the bright silver light under the illumination of the moonlight. .

The big axe swung the next slashes towards John, but John, who was holding two knives, did not collide with the silver axe, and swiftly avoided his attack and rushed towards the silver axe.

Silver Axe is a powerful heavy-armed fighter, and it is not a wise choice to go head-to-head with him.

Looking at John rushing over, the silver axe did not dodge, but held the handle of the axe with both hands. With what he knew about John, he didn't need to pick up his shield, because John was unable to break his defense.

Except for the observation port in his eyes, his armor can be said to have no gaps, only the position of the joints is relatively weak in defense, but with the domineering blessing, he is confident to block John's attack.

So he raised the big axe high and planned to use his body to withstand John's attack while killing him, but John just faltered, and while approaching, he slipped away from the silver axe's blade, and stabbed the silver axe's rib with the knife in the back. Down.

The silver axe smiled disdainfully. The armor on one side was wrapped in a strong domineering look, and then turned around and smashed at John. The axe was a heavy weapon.

But at the next moment, there was a slight pause in his figure.

"You bastard. When did you eat devil fruit!"

John's long knife did not penetrate into the armor, but the armor was intact, but the silver axe could feel that the long knife pierced his body.

Because of the habit of wearing heavy armor, the domineering of the silver axe has always been attached to the surface of the armor, and the body inside the body is rarely attached with domineering, so when John's attack ignores the armor, his body will naturally be pierced.

This is not the effect of the internal destruction of the armed color. He feels the blade in his body. Only those strange abilities can do such a thing.

"How can I tell you about this kind of thing?" John turned the blade in his hand to deal a fatal blow to the silver axe, but this kind of scar is a little short of making a monster of this level lose its combat effectiveness.

In the face of the big axe swung by the silver axe, he could only avoid the edge for a while, and it was a pity that he could not take down the silver axe with one blow. There are not many opportunities like this.

The silver axe that has learned a lesson will inevitably add domineering to its body, but from the blood flowing from the joint of the armor, it can be seen that John's blow has achieved good results.

After the Battle of the Valley of the Gods, John found a Devil Fruit and secretly became a Power One, even his crew only knew about it with a few confidants.

Superman - Door Door Fruit.

Just now, he opened a corridor door in the space, and let his blade directly ignore the armor attached to the domineering, and directly opened the channel on the inside of the armor.

But the door fruit can only open the door in the opposite direction, otherwise he can open the door directly to John's neck.

"I really underestimate you, but I still have backing hands."

Then they fought with John, and the two gradually came to the middle of the lake. The ground became muddy, which was not a good thing for Silver Axe.

Then, out of nowhere, he took out a signal bomb and shot it into the air. This was the signal he and Wang Zhi agreed upon. As the signal bomb exploded in the air, Wang Zhi's pirate ship seemed to have received the signal, although the ship was still far from here. A distance, but the shells have already flown over.

The target of is himself, and a large range of artillery fire will completely cover this place. This is the original plan of Silver Axe and Wang Zhi, to force John's people to a position and then use heavy artillery to annihilate.

The silver axe was safe from the artillery fire with its armor and domineering defense, but a few minutes later, when the artillery fire stopped, John was not affected in any way, not even his clothes were stained with any dust.

Menmen Fruit·Space Gate, he just entered another space directly, completely avoiding the attack of this artillery.

"What kind of fruit did this guy eat?"

"An idiot will tell you that that knife should have pierced your kidney, but I'll see how long you can last!"

At this time, he just regarded the person who fired the gun as the subordinate of the silver axe. When Wang Zhi led more people to surround the other members of the John Pirates in the lake area, he realized the seriousness of the problem.

"Wang Zhi."

"John, open the door to the treasure, even if you are capable, you have no chance of winning against the two of us."

"Well, yes, it's not surprising that the two of you get mixed up, but if you want Lao Tzu's treasure, it's better in your next life!"

It is about treasure, John has no intention of compromising, a strange force is channeled from his body into the ground, this is the cemetery he chose for these people!

Chapter 40 I Didn't Say You Can Go

Wang Zhi clenched the great sword in his hand, looking like he was going to chop off John's head at any time.

But the treasure hasn't really appeared yet. CP0's behavior made Silver Axe move ahead of schedule. There are many people who are moved by Rox's treasure. Five years later, it's safe and sound because no one can find it.

If they attack John directly, they may not get the treasure.

Just when they stiffened, the two of CP0 couldn't sit still. Their plan was to make John and Silver Axe fight, but Wang Zhi's appearance disrupted the original balance.

CP0 is known as "the strongest shield of the Tianlong people" and is the world's strongest espionage agency.

The selection of members of CP0 is also very strict. Mastery of the six styles is only the most basic requirement. In ideology, you must protect the Tianlong people without any reason, and obey the orders of the Tianlong people and the world government.

The number of CP0 is unknown, and they usually carry out secret activities, investigating smuggling of arms around the world, secret assassination, and making secret deals with non-world government countries or some pirates.

The strength of the members varies, but the weakest are enough to gain a place in the new world, and they can also serve as cadres in the groups of those great pirates.

Originally, they were just pretending to be under John's hands, but the appearance of Wang Zhi disrupted their plans.

What they want to face is a seriously injured Silver Axe or John, not two pirates with a bounty of more than one billion, Wang Zhi and Silver Axe are not going to do them any good.

CPO is better at assassination. In this dim environment, and Silver Axe and Wang Zhi are more focused on John, they don't pay attention to these remnants of defeated soldiers. It may not be impossible to take the opportunity to balance the combat power, but some people are better than their actions. much faster.

"Thunder!"

The sky tonight is not bad. Although there are a few black clouds in the sky, it does not block the moon. The bright moonlight still sprinkles on the mud at the bottom of the lake.

But this has just happened. A lot of thunder and lightning fell from the sky and launched an indiscriminate attack on the crowd below, but more of the thunder was locked on Wang Zhi and Silver Axe. Novelusb.cOm

Then a giant dragon rushed out of the clouds, and the flame clouds stood in the night sky with a few figures wrapped around them.

"Ugh! There are so many old acquaintances, you say yes, * seniors!"

Kaido made a special emphasis on the word "senior". He was interested in treasure, but he was only in second place, and the first one was the slate of Arceus.

This is different from the people below. What they are looking for is all the treasures of Lox in the past, while Kaido is looking for the treasures that were on the ship.

Arceus still didn't feel the breath of the slate at this time, so what Kaido needed was to get information from John's mouth, not to find treasure after John's death.

Kaido, who was born out of the sky, changed the situation below again, and his indiscriminate attack method didn't seem like he was here to say hello.

To be able to call them senior * means that he has also stayed on Rox's ship. After the animal system changes, he will still retain the original characteristics to a certain extent. In addition to Kaido's voice, after comprehensive consideration, his identity is no secret. .

"Isn't this the trainee kid on the boat, there is no woman to protect you now."

"Well, giggling, don't be joking, even if there is no Lingling guy, I can solve you all, bad wind!"

A large number of wind blades swept down, Kaido's AOE attack is not bad for Wang Zhi and others, each has a way to deal with it, but for their subordinates, it is a completely devastating blow.

The previous thunderbolt and the current wind blade caused a lot of attrition to those pirates, especially the John Pirates, who were already facing the combined attack of the silver axe and Wang Zhi, and Kaido's attack directly There has been a large number of attrition in the John Pirates.

"You really got a good ability, Eudemons? Are you allied with John? You really have the guts."

"Don't talk nonsense, it's just that John has what Lao Tzu wants."

"Kaido! You and I will join forces to solve these two guys, don't talk about that thing, the treasure of that guy Rox, we can all share it equally!"

The conversation between Kaido and Wang Zhi made John think of winning Kaido, but what was ushered in was only ruthless ridicule.

"Stop joking, Captain John will share his treasure with others? Uh giggle, are you trying to laugh at me?" Not only Kaido, but also Yin Axe and Wang Zhi made mocking sounds.

"John, look at your reputation, even the trainee doesn't want to believe your words, let's hand over the treasure honestly!"

"Can the two of you be trusted? We're all just each other, but since you all want treasure, then go and have a look, the Earth Flip Door!"

He has been using his fruit ability since the beginning, but this time the scope is much larger. Originally, he wanted to delay for some time, but Kaido's appearance just happened to help him.

The whole bottom of the lake became a huge flipping door, and it began to turn upside down and rotate. For a time, everyone here was lifted up by the rolling earth, and under the flipped gate, a special space could be vaguely seen.

Ordinary people were powerless to resist in this environment, and fell into the pothole below, while Wang Zhi, Silver Axe, and CPO people did take the initiative to charge over, and they saw what they wanted below.

"Kaido!"

"I know, hold on tight!" Looking at the changes below, Kaido also rushed down with flame clouds in his arms. For him who can fly, the underground environment is not that scary.

As the leader of all this, John fell into the pothole with a weird smile.

"Has this guy's fruit ability awakened?"

The bottom of the entire inland lake has become a flip door under the influence of John's ability, which is already in the category of awakening. The superhuman devil fruit has the ability to affect the surrounding terrain after awakening, but they still haven't figured it out at this time. John What fruit did you eat?

Beneath the inland lake is actually a huge underground cave, and there are strange glowing plants in it, filling the supposedly dark underground with dim light.

And there are no stones or dirt under their feet, but all treasures. In other words, the area of the entire inland lake is the total volume of the treasures.

The underground space is very large, Kaido can still fly in the air, and when the others fell, they fell into a mess, and only the cadres remained awake, and now these people's eyes are on John.

"This is the treasure you want, and it is also your burial ground. Everyone present, including Captain John, also died here. I'm going to start a new life, goodbye idiots!"

After saying that, John planned to open the space door and leave here, but at this moment, a strange energy enveloped him, and an inexplicable anger rose in his heart, and the idea of escape was forgotten.

Slate of Evil - Provocation, successfully launched.
