

Arceus 411

Chapter 411 Occupational Disease Occurrence

【Master Arceus is omnipotent. 】

【Have you seen that Lord? Why don't you change your beliefs. 】

Similar remarks were the ones she heard the most on the ship, because the pirate group mainly believed in a pragmatism, and the Arceus religion spread so quickly in the Beast Pirates not because of other things, but because they saw it. Here comes the real benefits.

It is unrealistic to tell a group of pirates what will happen after death and what will happen in the future. Only the benefits they get are the most exciting.

Live examples appeared one after another, such as Mandelfish. At first he was just an ordinary member of many pirates, but the first lottery made him out of the group of ordinary pirates.

Whether it is a divine benefactor or a gift giver, the enhancement of the endowed abilities is not only reflected in the skills, but also in the physical fitness.

The water splash made Mandelfish's waist and legs more muscular, the bladed blades made Emmaline's arms stronger, and the rolling made Pearlman's skin tougher, all of which were side effects of skills.

The same subtle changes in the body are the reason why they can use the Pokémon skills with the human body.

And such changes allow them to withstand stronger training, thus making themselves stronger, and opening their own promotion path within the Beast Pirates.

For an ordinary pirate, gaining power is the fastest way for them to achieve class leap.

Otherwise, Kaido can't be rescued. For example, Otohime's glass-bone physique that shatters at the touch of a touch simply cannot withstand high-intensity training, and gradually forms an infinite loop.

The relatively fair mechanism has made them more interested in the Arceus religion, and the derived welfare policies, first aid medicines, etc. are also what they need.

They may not be afraid of death, but how many people are willing to die if they can live?

"The ethereal god. The true savior."

She used to be devout, but she had to admit a problem. The **** she believed in never appeared in the end, and none of the children of the monastery survived.

At this time, she also knew that the ship was a pirate ship, and a group of "villains" became saviors, and the smiles on these people's faces were very sincere. The last time she saw that kind of smile was platinum-lead disease. things before the attack.

What happened in front of her eyes and her inherent values were colliding violently.

"Mom, do you have time now?"

"Rami? Why are you here?"

"Those uncles have something to tell you, let me ask you."

Lying was not in line with her teachings, but she had already told a lie to Rami, since she had forgotten what happened because of platinum lead poisoning, the nun didn't want her to recall that kind of thing.

So she concealed her surname, but kept the name Rami and told her that she was her mother.

"Don't run around yourself, don't get close to the ship's side, and don't cause trouble for others."

"understood."

ordered Rami, the nun came outside the cabin, and was handed a newspaper.

"This is."

"Newspaper, the newspaper about Frevans, Sir Arceus explained, I will give it to you when your mood stabilizes."

[Freyvans suffered an unexplained illness, and the king was deeply saddened. ]

【Neighboring country medical rescue team has entered Fravens to carry out humanitarian relief.

"deceive people"

The king in tears, the patient being treated, these photos look very real, but as a witness to the event, the nun does not believe this kind of thing at all.

There has never been any medical team, just the army of a neighboring country.

As for the grieving king, those people ran faster than anyone else, and also took away a lot of medicines to relieve the symptoms of platinum-lead disease. The tension in the hospital in the later period was directly related to the royal family of Fravans.noVELus&.cOm

Although those medicines cannot cure the disease, they can make people feel a lot more comfortable and prolong their life cycle.

"This is the newspaper from a month ago, and it is also the world's perception of Fravans."

Arceus came behind the nun, and the newspaper turned to a new page under his power.

"We have a plan. To tell you the truth, as long as this plan is successful, it will bring us huge profits. As a survivor of Freyvans, are you willing to cooperate with us in this plan?"

"Plan means."

"Expose the truth of Fravans, although the profit has nothing to do with you, but if you do this, the dead of Fravans will die, at least they will know that Fravans was not destroyed by disease, but by man-made disasters. ."

For some people with channels, the matter of Fravans is not a secret, but more people know nothing about it unless someone pierces the window paper.

"Your safety won't be a problem, they won't have a chance to assassinate you, but it's probably against your teachings, right?"

"Yeah, liars will go to hell, but it doesn't matter I should have gone to **** a long time ago, now that I've been dragged out of hell, it's a new test, the tragedy of Fravans has happened, but it shouldn't be forgotten by the world, what should I do?"

"There will be an interview for you at that time. It's fine to tell the truth, but don't say anything that shouldn't be said."

Arceus thought that this was the end of the matter, and the next itinerary was still quite tight. After the East China Sea, the issue of Fishman Island was dealt with, and the agreed date with Zeraora was approaching, Tezzolo's side. development is also on the agenda.

But a few days later, the people on the ship noticed an abnormal behavior of the nun.

"You said. She was inquiring about me?"

"No, foster father, she is not inquiring about you, but inquiring about the religion of Arceus."

The Arceus religion was not established by himself, but a small organization created by Shaina at the beginning, but this organization gradually grew in the early and late stages.

Although it is called Arceus Cult, this organization is not in any way similar to religion in essence.

"what is she doing?"

"She seems to be thinking um. Yes, she seems to be trying to get a doctrine out."

During this time, this nun has experienced the collapse and reshaping of her beliefs. She grew up in a monastery since she was a child, and that concept has been deeply rooted in her heart, and the beauty of Arceus's wrist is shaped like a variant cross.

In this case, she had the feeling that Arceus was the real spokesperson for the gods, and then the nun's occupational disease broke out.

It's a pity that this time it was Olga, not Shaina, who was on the boat. Otherwise, with the current thinking of this nun, Shaina would most likely be very interested in her.

"Olga, remember, let Shaina be in charge of that nun when you go back, it's Misu."

"I see, I'll tell Miss Shaina."

Chapter 412 The Golden Treasure of Wunan

"The treasure is sleeping, looking from the hills to the south, the whale is facing east, tail. Ah, why is this treasure map not recorded in full, who exactly copied this thing?"

Lying on Qianyu's wrist in the bow, Yamato looked at the so-called treasure map and complained about the person who copied the treasure map.

Pirate culture did not appear in Roger's time. In the nearly 800 years since the establishment of the World Government, there have been countless pirates, and many of them have buried their treasures.

And these pirates usually have a common problem and have no heirs, so they leave a treasure map for others to find, but the treasure map is not clearly written, and always leaves words like riddles.

Yamato doesn't like this kind of puzzle game, especially something that doesn't even transcribe the riddles comprehensively.

"Maybe the original version is like this, but it is this treasure map that is interesting. Maybe it is some ancient ruins or something, Robin, what do you think?"

The bow of the Senjutsu Arm is Yamato's exclusive seat, so Maria and Robin just communicated with her from the back of the ship.

"No, ancient treasure maps would not use this font, especially since this writing has only appeared in recent years."

Many things can indicate history, such as the text on a treasure map.

The text can be faked, but if it is a treasure map with a long history, there is absolutely no modern text on it.

"Really, I don't know what's in the treasure."

"I'll know tomorrow. Anyway, it's coming soon. By the way, Yamato, do you want to go shopping in a nearby town? There seems to be a lantern festival here."

Navigation in the East China Sea is much easier than the Great Route. As long as you follow the existing charts, there will be no problem. There will be no sea kings suddenly rushing out, and there is no need to worry about a sudden knife from the sky.

The navigators and helmsmen of the main ships of the Hundred Beast Pirates are all excellent personnel who can sail in dangerous waters outside Wano. The probability of overturning here is similar to that of a racer driving a bumper car.

The ship docked just to replenish supplies, but Olga's small book had another slash, this time because she was not vigilant enough, because she inquired about Wu Nan's information from people in the town.

The reason why is a slash instead of a fork is because this time she somehow knows to collect information first, which is a little bit of progress.

"Isn't this Wu Nan's treasure map? It's a legendary big pirate. It is said that one-third of the world's gold is in his hands. If you find it, you will be rich."

In front of a small tempura shop, the shop owner talked about the rumors he heard.

"But Wu Nan has disappeared for two or three years. I really miss it. I just inherited this store at that time."

The boss recalled the stories of youth and she didn't care. Although she liked listening to stories, this kind of parental shortness was not something she was interested in. For her, it was not as interesting as tempura.

She almost single-handedly closed the shop. The shop in the small town had not many things prepared, and it was not enough to see her as a big eater.

"Total 300 Baileys"

"300?!"

"Didn't you bring any money? What about your adults?"

"No, give you the money, don't look for it."

Said Yamato and handed over a 500 Bailey coin. The consumption index here was so low that she could not imagine. Normally, she would have to spend 50,000 Bailey this time.

But she didn't pay attention, a few drinkers at the stall next to it seemed to be interested in this, and left the stall after they left.

"The Great Pirate Blackfish, one-third of the world's gold, sounds so strong."nOVelusb.Com

"Impossible, this is a fake. If a pirate can really collect so much gold, it will probably be as famous as Roger, but Mr. Arceus and Mr. Kaido have not mentioned this. name."

"Yeah, it's probably the pirates of the East China Sea. Rumors are always getting more and more outrageous."

Yamato became interested in that Wu Nan, but neither Maria nor Robin believed that. It is impossible for a pirate to do such a thing. Even Tezzolo on the original timeline passed the World Government. The troubles were solved only by opening up the relationship.

Can do such a thing and not be wiped out, that Wu Nan's reputation will never be less than Rox.

And the people on the Siwon also confirmed this, they have never heard of such a person, which makes Yamato's enthusiasm subsided a little bit, and the legendary treasure of the pirates only makes sense.

The reason why Roger's treasure has attracted so many people is because he has become the Pirate King without precedent in history. Everyone thinks that the treasure of the Pirate King must have great value.

The ship moved forward according to the island described in the treasure map, but behind the Siwon, a ship quietly followed.

"Master Arceus, a ship has been following us, do you want to deal with it?"

"Is there any bounty information?"

"No, we don't have this person in our database, and they dress up like ordinary treasure hunters, do you want to expel them?"

"Olga, try them out. If you are strong, you will deal with them. If you are weak, stay."

Treasure hunters are similar to pirate hunters. In the world of pirates, no matter what hunters do, they are all armed. Whether they are searching for treasures or hunting pirates, the use of force is very common.

Olga's test is to determine if they are suitable as an episode on Yamato's treasure hunt.

"Understood, Elizabeth, go!"

Elizabeth jumped off the side of the ship with Olga in a tacit understanding, and soon disappeared from sight. Olga's body growth was not very large, and she could still ride on Elizabeth's back, which was very convenient in their daily activities. .

East China Sea is called the weakest sea, but there are many strong people born here, it is always right to pay more attention.

Even though the ship was far behind, and only a point of the flagpole could be seen, Olga got there quickly.

And the test method is also very simple, she used an illusion to create a sea beast to lure them to attack, and then observed the effect of the attack from the side, and did it more than once.

After passing the illusion test a few times, she came to the conclusion that this group of people were all weak.

People like        are a little unqualified as a sparring partner, let alone a threat to Yamato.

"So fast?"

"Don't worry, Lord Arceus, I have tested it several times, and the crew members are all ordinary people. It is estimated that the cooks on board can beat ten of them.

Captain is an ability person, and he seems to be a fruit of sound. He can shoot sonic cannons from his mouth by shouting, but he needs to be charged, and Miss Yamato can deal with him. "

Chapter 413 Do you think you are Ultraman? !

"Yawa, go on your own, I won't follow you this time."

The area of the island is not large. This is a small island in the true sense. After the boat circles around, he has already sensed the atmosphere on the island.

There was no human breath on it, and there was no dangerous beast on it, so he let Yamato and the others play by themselves.

The reason why        went around this way was to wait for the guys behind him. The boat of those people was too slow. Even if the Siwon sailed at the lowest speed in the later stage, they would still be completely thrown away.

And there is no suitable port on this island, and the draught of the Siwon is simply impossible to pass, so Yamato and the others can only choose to use lifeboats to dock.

However, the Siwon didn't disappear into the sea, just put away the flag and dropped the anchor.

And the reason why it didn't disappear is that Olga followed them out of here, Yamato's grading test is still going on, and it's always good to have more insurance.

put on a jungle adventure outfit, and Yamato pulled Robin and Maria to the golden island marked on the map.

"Lord Edrago, they have landed on the island."NOVeLU8b.cOm

Behind a reef, a gangster-like person reported the situation to the tall man behind him. Aidrigo had dark skin, long red hair, and a lion-like face. Collecting gold was also one of his hobbies.

According to the normal timeline, it would take him at least ten years to find this place, but they heard Yamato's conversation at the tempura shop yesterday, so they secretly followed.

At this time, there were only a dozen or so people on board, and it was because of Edrago's ability that they gathered together. Even in the East China Sea, they were at the level of trash fish, so Olga made it that the cooks on board could beat ten people. speech.

If Aedrigo wasn't a capable person, her evaluation would be changed to a cook who could destroy them all.

"Lord Aidrigo, let's follow quietly, that ship is so big, it looks like it's not easy to mess with."

Their ships are like the ants meet the elephants than the Siwon ship. The size is no different from the lifeboats on the Siwon ship. Only the size of the ship has shown the gap between the two sides.

But Aedrigo doesn't think so, and he even wants to take the treasure on the ship for himself.

This is a common sense in the world of pirates, because pirates sail the sea for a long time, and Bailey is prone to damage after long-term preservation. Once it encounters danger and soaks in water, it will become waste paper.

Therefore, in addition to certain banknotes, pirates will exchange their belongings for hard currency such as gold, so that even if they sink, they can find opportunities to scoop them up again.

And Aedrigo is a person who is very obsessed with gold, and also a person who has never seen the world, and even had the idea of exchanging the Siwon number for money.

"Forget about the ship, you dare to let a woman and two girls go ashore alone, and catch them first."

Maria's body size made them misunderstood, and they did not regard her as a peer, but as a parent.

Although the description of the treasure map was poorly understood, they quickly found a whale-shaped stone on the island and saw a high mountain pointed to by its curved tail.

"The whale's tail, it should be on that mountain, it's boring if it's so easy, hey! Do you still want to follow? You've followed all the way!"

Having said this, Yamato shouted down the hillside. Those people's tracking technology is really not good, and they are not very hygienic. Due to the wind direction, Yamato smelled the stench on them.

"Well, I found the enemy, but instead of defeating them directly, I called them out and wasted my advantage."

Olga in the dark made another note in the small notebook. According to the standard set by Arceus, she underestimated the enemy.

But from another point of view, it can be said that she accurately judged the level of the enemy, so it is a slash instead of a cross.

But those people didn't seem to believe Yamato's words, and still hid under the hillside. Maria chewed on it, and she spit out a charged cobweb directly into the sky.

Then there was a series of screams, and Adra-ge's few younger brothers suddenly lost more than half of them.

"So weak, is this the level of the East China Sea?"

found that her attack directly defeated the enemy, Maria showed an incredible look, it was just the special spider silk possessed by the electric spider itself, not even a skill.

"It should be an example. One Piece Gol D. Roger, and the naval hero Garp are all from this sea. If I remember correctly, Uncle Mandelphish is also from the East China Sea, right? Look, isn't there another one? Stronger."

Looking at Edrago who had turned into an explosive head, Yamato further affirmed his thoughts, at least this one was not directly stunned.

And after he came out, Aidrago stood there with his mouth wide open, and a wave of energy condensed in the position of his mouth.

After a few seconds of condensing, a blue-white light beam was spit out by him towards Yamato, but the target of the attack did not seem to be very good, and the attack he released only hit the ground behind them.

Boom!

After a loud bang, a big hole was left on the ground next to him. His attack could only hit a straight line, so he had to come out to launch the attack.

Seeing that he missed a shot, he charged up and started a new attack. This is his most common move, using his sonic cannon to bombard the enemy from a distance.

"Interesting, I'm coming too."

Watching the attack from Adelago, Yamato suddenly became interested, and after possessing the ability, he also learned the other side's grown mouth, and the mouth seemed to be accumulating strength.

It stands to reason that her power has been accumulated long ago, but she was waiting for the opponent to charge up, and Yamato launched his own attack after Edrago finally finished charging.

"No waiter Bingya!"

Charging still has a little effect. This time, the No-Servant Bingya is more powerful than the previous one. The blue-white sonic cannon and the ice-blue No-Servant Bingya collided in the sky.

Boom!

It was another violent explosion, but in the smoke, Yamato's no-servant ice teeth were not offset, but hit the opponent's body through the smoke, adding a huge ice sculpture to the island.

"It's done. Sister Olga, why are you here?"

"This. Tell it yourself to Lord Arceus."

said that Olga brought the phone bug in front of Yamato, and the battle scene just now was broadcast live to Arceus. Although it was the result of crushing, he was very dissatisfied with the process.

"Father?"

"Yamato, your no-servant Bingya doesn't need to be charged."

"Uh, it can be instant.."

"Then what are you playing with him! Do you think you are Ultraman? You must fight against others? And you are too serious to underestimate the enemy without actually fighting each other!"

Chapter 414 The output of goods from the beasts to the fishman island

Originally, he wanted to wait for Yamato to come back and talk slowly, but about tutoring children, the more he thought about it, the more angry he became, and finally he couldn't hold back.

Her behavior can only be said to seriously underestimate the enemy, but she chose to fight against the opponent when she could directly attack and solve the opponent.

Although this enemy is really weak, and doing so has no effect, but assuming that the opponent has a hidden ultimate move, the result of doing so is to give opportunities.

If she did two moves with the opponent first, he wouldn't call him directly, but she just judged the opponent's combat strength with the naked eye and others, and this kind of behavior is not desirable at all.

Her behavior was equivalent to estimating Roger's strength with Bucky's combat power, which had no reference value at all, so he called directly to teach him.

There are not a few people who capsize in the gutter. This kind of carelessness is not advisable.

After a single speech was output, the phone worm was silent.

"Yamato, I have two good news and one bad news, which one do you want to hear first?"

"Two good news?"

"Well, first of all, you can continue your treasure hunt. The other one is given to you by me. Lord Arceus is not angry. He is too concerned about you, so he is in a hurry."

"I know this, the adoptive father is always like this, but what is Ultraman?"

grabbed a blade of grass and put it in his mouth, completely ignoring the reprimanding Yamato, and asked Ultraman Olga in return.

"I don't know either. Go back and ask Lord Arceus, what might be a powerful creature? And don't you care what the bad news is?"

Yamato's reaction was completely out of the way, so she had to mention it herself.

"Yeah, what's the bad news?"

"The possibility of you sailing alone has been completely postponed indefinitely."

"Eh?!"

This is the last thing she wants to hear, but what has been decided cannot be changed. In the end, she can only choose to cherish this treasure hunt.

On the peak of the island, they found Wu Nan's house, but apart from his body there was only one empty room.

According to his suicide note on the wall, he later returned all the treasures.

"Gold is just a cold stone. Friendship and partners are more important. Maybe he is not a legend, but he should be a good pirate."

Looking at his words that seemed to wake up, Yamato gave Wu Nan a positive label, and did not destroy the place according to his last wish.

As for Edlago, who was frozen into an ice sculpture, such a small role is not worth caring about at all. The Siwon embarked on the return journey, and Yamato's vacation ended early, and her new training and theoretical teaching began on the ship.

It will take a lot of time to return from here, and this time is enough for Arceus to complete the special training and make-up lessons for Yamato.

At the same time, on Fishman Island, Jack is also doing his own practice.NOvelusb.com

"Murloc Jiu-Jitsu · Sea Current Throwing Over Your Shoulder!"

The sea current falls over the shoulder, a classic move of murloc jiu-jitsu. It can grab and throw liquids to attack or achieve some special purposes, not only sea water, but even drinks such as black tea can be thrown out.

And Jack's goal now is to grab the water out of the bucket, but it looks like it will take a long time to train.

"How about Haku, how about Jack's talent?"

"Not bad, but not skilled enough, Brother Mandelfish, he's better than you in this respect."

"Well, of course, he's a real murloc."

Although the murloc karate can be learned by any race, the murloc must be the most handy to learn. At this time, Mandelfish is still in the posture of the tyrannical carp dragon, and it is easier to be accepted by this posture here.

There are not only fish, octopuses, whales, and sea urchins in the group of murlocs.

Since revealing his true identity, his relationship with Rusaka has become more intimate, and at this time he no longer has to worry about revealing anything.

Those younger brothers who could not accept Mandelfish's identity turned to join Aaron's gang and began to live with Tiger, and they found a new way out.

And Kojiro's department store also successfully took root in Fishman Island, and the unique products of the beasts allowed him to quickly open the market on Fishman Island.

At this time, some of his products have become necessary materials for mermaids, such as the belt around Rusaka's waist at this time.

Due to the protection of bubble film, Fishman Island is waterless inside, and most mermaids have no legs, so Bubble Coral is a just-needed product in Fishman Island, and all mermaids must use the bubbles blown by Bubble Coral. bubbles to move freely.

But the speed of movement is very slow, so Kojiro applied and sent a batch of Sky Island's specialty, wind shells.

An ordinary belt and two wind shells are used to manufacture the special mobile propellers for mermaids. Due to the characteristics of wind shells, as long as the wind is stored in it, it can be used freely, which is too convenient for mermaids.

The people of the sky island usually store the natural wind, but because the fishman island is deep on the bottom of the sea, there is no strong wind, so Kojiro launched a bundled consumption model.

If he kept selling wind shells, people would lose interest quickly, so he chose to sell "wind".

He got a blower, and as long as you spend it at his department store once, even if it only costs 50 Baileys to buy a lollipop, you can get a free blower service.

There are more than two million mermaids on Fishman Island, of which more than 80% are male mermaids and female mermaids under the age of 30. It can be said that everyone has mermaid family members or relatives at home. Although this service is not profitable, it brings huge benefits. of passenger flow.

There will always be someone who wants to buy something after watching a lot, and he has opened up his own sales.

The wind shells on the sky island are not uncommon, and the fishman island is not difficult to reach, but the Beast Pirates are the first to be able to transport the goods from the sky island to the fishman island for sale.

At first, many people were afraid to come here, and even resisted here, but Ottohime was the first to visit this department store and made a celebrity for Kojiro for free.

She is the one who most hopes that humans and murlocs and mermen can get along as equals. Kojiro is making money, but in Ottohime's view, this is a small step for mermen and murlocs to accept humans, so they will help him do that.

As Kojiro's department store successfully took root, more people were willing to listen to her speech.

The employees in the department store are all human, and they told Fishman Island with facts that not everyone is a scum, and there are people in the human group who do not reject the fisherman and the mermaid.

However, there are those who accept and those who do not. Some radicals are very unpleasant when they see Kojiro's department store. These people who have settled on Fishman Island make them very dissatisfied, so they are planning how to get rid of them.

Chapter 415 The Weird Negotiating Table of the "Deputies"

However, their plan was never realized in time, because in addition to Ottohime, Fisher Tiger also agreed with the existence of this department store, and he also took Jinbei and the others to go shopping here, showing his attitude.

As the recognized boss of Fishman Street, his words are far more useful than Neptune when dealing with the gangsters of Fishman Street.

"That's great, if only it could be like this everywhere."

Looking at the clerk in the Kojiro Department Store, Tiger's face also showed a smile. Except for the pirates outside, this is probably the first place where mermaids, murlocs, and humans work together, and it is also the first without discrimination. The human enterprise of mermen and murlocs.

As a department store, it appears on the edge of Geelongcord Plaza on Fishman Island.

This is a location relatively close to the center of Fishman Island, and is the only new large building on Fishman Island over the years.

In addition to his own products, there are also some free stalls for the local fishermen who do business on Fishman Island.

This is the agreement between Ottoji and him at the beginning, this department store will let him use it for free forever, on the condition that it also provides free booths to those murlocs and mermen.

It also indirectly promoted the economic development of Fishman Island. For example, Xiaoba's takoyaki stall opened here. In order to cope with the mermaid market, he also launched new products such as scallops. At this time, Six Arms was busy. of joy.

"Yo, Little Eight, business seems to be going well."

"New, Big Brother Tiger?! The business here is really good, do you want a portion?"

"No, I just came out of Dragon Palace City. It's a good thing to work hard and earn a living."

This is why Tiger supports the other side. There are many gangsters in Murloc Street. He doesn't want Murloc Street to become a lawless place to cause trouble, so he subdued the entire Murloc Street at first, but at that time it was nothing to worry about. Method.

If the murlocs were not able to fish and find food in the deep sea, the situation on the murlocs would only be worse. Now they have new jobs and can settle down their lives. Tiger would be happy to see this situation appearance.

As for most of the murlocs who were unwilling to live like this, he gathered them together and planned to go out to sea to become pirates after Marjoya's plan. At that time, they would cause trouble to the Dragon Palace Kingdom if they stayed on the murlocs.

And he also heard the plan of the deep-sea mining company from Otohime. If it goes well, then the people of Fishman Street will no longer be gangsters, so he plans to help settle down here before the action.

With the dual support of Tiger and Otohime, Kojiro's Fishman Island branch developed very smoothly, but the sea was not so calm.

A gamble to continuously increase the odds of various markets in the New World is finally coming to an end. The original strength of the pirate group of the solitary brave man is average, and it cannot last for so long in the New World.

But this problem gradually rose to the face of the sea emperors due to various strange factors.

In the beginning, it was just Na Muir, Charlotte Opera and Scourge, and then gradually sent reinforcements. In order to take the opponent's head in person, the three parties had clashed several times, and everyone was constantly shake people.

Although Hundred Beasts and BIG-MOM have some cooperation, the two sides are not as close as a family, but there is no behavior of invading each other's territory, and it is common to encounter some small frictions at sea.

However, it has now been extended to the battle between the deputies. If it continues, Kaido and others will do it themselves. Such a small role is obviously not worthy of the emperors of the sea.

And there won't be a war between them easily, because that's not in their interest.

In the absence of any ghosts, the battle between them will inevitably last for several days and nights, and the aftermath of the battle will be enough to destroy the nearby islands. No matter whose territory the war is fought, the consequences will be unwilling to bear.

So the three parties are very clear that this time is the end of the battle.

The ending of the lonely hero has been locked, and now the only thing to think about is face.

Due to the particularity of the composition of Hundred Beasts, not only are there two managers, but also two deputies. Jhin is still in Wano due to his status as a general and a royal.

But Yamato and the others have been out for a long time. Most of the remaining children are in the stage of physical training, and they don't need Shaina to train in person, so this time Shaina is leading the team.

Correspondingly, the leader of the BIG·MOM pirates has also become Katakuri, and the leader of the Whitebeard Pirates is Marco.

However, the three parties have not yet fought. Instead, they are negotiating the ownership of the other party. Their respective intelligence has already locked the island where the other party is hiding, and they are waiting to be arrested.

At this time, the island has been surrounded by groups, and they are also negotiating on the beach of the island.

"Hey, I said that guy is making trouble in our territory. If it is reasonable, this guy should be handed over to us, right?"

"He robbed the mother of the things that the other younger siblings had prepared. That is an unforgivable sin. That guy should be ours."

This is a more serious negotiation, so no one has spoken trash yet, but Katakuri and Marco are secretly scolding each other for being an idiot.

【To make trouble in Whitebeard's territory】

【Actually robbed BIG·MOM's food.】

Originally, they were just chasing each other, and they didn't know the reason for the other party. It was not until this meeting that they figured out the reason. Then they looked at Shaina in unison.

Although the pirates don't need any righteousness, Marco doesn't want his family to suffer too many casualties, Katakuri doesn't want his younger brothers and sisters to be injured in the battle, and Shaina doesn't want a three-way melee, so they can sit Come down and have a good talk.

"He tried to kidnap the families of our cadres."

is also an irrefutable reason. The negotiating table fell into silence for a while, and the final solution to the problem was still force.

And they have also determined one thing, use their own battles to determine the outcome, and do not continue to expand the influence of the matter.

"Nobody wants to quit?"

"This is not a place to take care of children, but I have a suggestion, Shaina, we should cooperate a little bit after all, how about putting this guy Marco out first?"

Katakuri's words about taking care of children are referring to Marco. He is the youngest and the shortest among the three, but this sentence has changed the balance of the battle. It was originally a three-way melee, but Marco ignored it. The business relationship between Beast and BIG·MOM.

The triangle is stable. Originally, they would be afraid of each other, but with the suggestion of Katakuri, Marko also became cautious, and it was difficult for the two to join forces.

Chapter 416 Abnormal State - Burned Marco

And it is not unreasonable for Katakuri to put forward this reason. Charlotte Lingling has been angry several times recently, otherwise it would not be him who came here, so this time we must get a satisfactory result.

And he thinks that Marco is more difficult to deal with than Shaina, so he wants to solve the difficult person first, and then 1v1 with Shaina again.

In this way, even if there is a problem, it is easier for Charlotte Lingling to accept a human being in the hands of the beasts than in the hands of Whitebeard. In addition, the two pirates have a place to cooperate, so He just took advantage of the situation to propose cooperation.

After he finished speaking, he didn't even wait for Shaina to answer, and released a trident from his wrist.

He is a person with the ability of glutinous fruit. He is a very special superhuman type. He can transform his body into adult cakes (glutinous rice balls), and with his powerful knowledge and color, he can achieve the same effect as the natural type.

It can change the shape of the body, create substances, and store items. The trident named "Tulong" is usually stored in his wrist.

And the reason why he did it directly is very simple, because he has seen the picture of Shaina agreeing to his proposal.

This is the strength of his vision.

His arrogance and arrogance have been cultivated to the top level. Although he doesn't have Otoji, Roger's innate special ability has reached the realm where he can see the future.

Since he was slashed in the face when he was a child, in order to protect his younger siblings, he hopes to foresee all dangers, so he has cultivated to this point.

Within a certain distance, the weaker the opponent, the farther he can see. If the opponent's vision is equally strong, then what he can see is limited.

"The sticky ball!"

Katakuri's arm was transformed into a rice cake, and then wrapped the trident, and then the arm composed of rice cake began to rotate at a high speed, and the trident stabbed Marco with great power.

At the same time as Katakuri flipped the table, Shaina's right foot was also wrapped in flames and kicked towards Marco, but Marco was not unresponsive.

Although everyone can sit and negotiate together, it does not mean that they completely trust the other party, but the decisiveness of the other party is beyond his expectations.

His arms were lit with blue flames, and Marco's figure quickly retreated, temporarily having a safe area in the sky, but the burning blue flames in his chest indicated that Katakuri had indeed stabbed him.

Marco is a power user in the form of bird fruit, phantom species and phoenix. The blue flame of regeneration is the ability of his phantom species. Although this flame does not hurt, the wound will be wrapped by this flame and regenerate.

Marco is a true "phoenix" until his regeneration ability reaches its limit.

"Hello, is this your negotiation?"

"Obviously, we've reached an agreement for the time being, and someone has to be out first."

Shaina's figure appeared in front of Marko. She took off more like a catapult start. The burst in a short distance was much faster than Marko's. She came directly above Marko and wanted to force him back to the ground.

Although she and Katakuri have not fought together before, but at their level they are all battle-hardened fighters, and there is no problem with the initial cooperation.

Shaina's fists were wrapped in flames, and the airtight fist shadow hit Marco.

"Why do you have arms, it's not fair."

Marko was still chatting, because Shaina didn't make a full shot at this time, and she and Katakuri were both keeping their cards in their hands.

Because according to common sense, Marco will not be the opponent for the two of them to join forces, and it is the battle that will belong to them, so both of them are observing each other's fighting style. For example, now she is using her hands instead of her feet.

"That's a mighty force you can't understand."

With his wings waving, an X-shaped flame flew towards Marco. In addition to the ability of Arceus to transform, the animal system of the flight system will turn people's arms into wings, which is inconvenient in battle.

And although there are reservations, they did not directly play fake games. At this time, Katakuri's arm was transformed into a revolving machine gun. Under his prediction, the dense rain of bullets blocked most of Marko's retreat. .

"Unparalleled Rice Cake Blade Bomb."

With the development of Katakuri, the Nuo Nuo Fruit has become very comprehensive. Whether it is its own superhuman body or a creation, it can do it. A large number of rice cake bullets wrapped in domineering are shot into the air. While fighting Shaina, he wants to. Dodging these attacks is not easy.

The body began to burst into green flames. He is an animal type, and he can't transform his body like a natural type, but on the contrary, even if he is domineering and causes damage, he will still be healed by himself.

Unless his physical strength is exhausted, he cannot use the flame of regeneration, or his ability to use the ability is suppressed by special items such as sea tower stones, otherwise, if he wants to deal with Marco, he has to use up his health bar first.

And his animal-type ability makes him extremely stamina, so although the damage in group battles is less than others, he is very difficult to deal with, which is why he can become the captain of the first team of the Whitebeard Pirates .

But compared to the health bar, there are not many Lunaria people to be afraid of, not to mention that they are not in 1v1 now.

Although Katakuri is not good at aerial combat, his combat radius is also very large, and Marco is gradually forced to a low-altitude field, which also gives Katakuri more opportunities.

"Rice cake punch!"

"Crane Claw!"

Because his hands became wings, Marco mainly relied on his legs to fight, and he and Shaina had been flying and colliding in the sky.

Just now, Katakuri used the rice cake to attack him from the bottom, and Marco kicked Katakuri with the inertia of flight.

It has been a while since their battle, and even Marco's stamina has been worn down a lot.NoveLuSb.cOM

While he was dealing with Katakuri, Shaina's knee hit him firmly in the chest. Facing the flanking attack of Shaina and Katakuri, she was directly knocked to the ground.

But this is not the worst for him. Although he broke two of his ribs, there is no serious problem under the repair of Qingyan, but at this moment, there is an extra crimson on his body. flame.

Even if the blue flames repaired the damage there, the flames would reappear soon, so he could only use the blue flames to counteract it.

This is because in the battle with Shaina, he was hit by Shaina's flame fist several times, and finally entered a state of burns. With the additional damage of the burns, he had to use blue flames continuously.

It would be fine in normal times, but after the high-intensity battle, his stamina would have taken a toll, and he had to face such two strong opponents, and no one gave him time to breathe, and the two attacked one after another. to.

Chapter 417 The Awakening of Devil Fruit, Speed and Future Prediction

"Bake rice cakes!"

"Fire Feather!"

Katakuri's right arm suddenly swelled up, then the rice cake on his arm burst, and he fired his right fist out.

The fist made of rice cakes also sprayed violent flames, like a rocket booster, which applied more powerful force to the rice cake fist. The fist wrapped in domineering was like a cannonball, making a huge explosion sound on the ground.

Boom!

The fire plumes all over the sky also shot down, and a sea of flames spread out of the smoke and dust that had been stirred up by the fist. After the smoke and dust dissipated, Marko climbed up with difficulty.

Wiping the blood on the corner of his mouth, the green flames on his body continued to repair the wound, but he felt very bad now. He could still use the green flames to resist the strange flames, but with the burns of that kind of flames, he could There was a sense of powerlessness in his body.

In the face of Katakuri's next onslaught, it became increasingly difficult for him to deal with it.

Now he seems to be poisoned, and his hands and feet can't use all his strength. His blue flames can offset the damage caused by burns, but he is still affected by this aspect.

"Poison fire? No, what kind of ability is this?"

If is poisonous, his blue flames can still take effect, and the inability to take effect can only be attributed to the problem of the opponent's flame, his own flame can regenerate, and the opponent's flame can do this kind of thing, it seems that there is no problem.

And this is the effect of the burn, the physical attack will be weakened to a certain extent, and Marco's flame has no means of attack, which is the most deadly effect for him.

If he is a Pokémon, although he looks like a Fire-type, in fact, it is probably a support-type Pokémon of Flying + Fairy.

The physical condition of the other two is much better than his, so he has no chance of winning, it is not a life-and-death fight, in this state, he finally chose to withdraw.

"If you are good enough, that guy will give you away."

He was not convinced. After all, it was 2v1 this time. If it was 1v1, the outcome was uncertain, and they did not continue to attack even when Marco conceded defeat.

After all, none of the three of them wanted to cause huge casualties because of such a small role. Although almost no one could shake the status of the Sea Emperor of the Three Great Pirates, there were still many challengers.

There are also many powerful remnants of the old era. If their strife leads to serious damage to their vitality, no one is suitable. After all, this matter does not touch anyone's fundamental interests.

And losing to two people to join forces, Marko's face is also over.

"Hey, remove your ability, I promise with the reputation of the pirate flag, I will not participate in the next battle."

This is already a very formal word for pirates, especially for a deputy like Marco, they all value their flags very much.

"It can't be lifted, and it will heal itself if you persist for a while with your resilience."

Of course she has a potion for healing burns, but she didn't give it to him, and if Marco was temporarily burned, you can't trust the pirates.

Although he guaranteed it in the name of the pirate flag, she still had to guard against Marco killing a carbine while she was fighting Katakuri.

This is not a game, and the burn is not a permanent debuff. Just like Marco, although the burn brings a sense of powerlessness, the reduction is indeed limited.

After Marco decided to concede defeat and sailed off the horizon, a new battle resumed.

"Dad, sorry, I lost."

"Gu la la la, it's okay, my child, it's nothing if you lose to the two of them, you're not hurt, are you?"

"A little trouble, but not a big problem."

At this time, the effects of the burns are gradually diminishing as Shaina said.

"Then come back, that kind of guy is not worth fighting for."

The sailboat flying the white beard flag began to return, but the battle on the island became more intense. At this time, the flame behind Shaina was completely extinguished. She had abandoned her defense and increased the speed to the extreme.

Just when she was fighting with Marco, she was constantly superimposing her acceleration state. In 1v1, Katakuri was very difficult to deal with, and his arrogance enough to predict the future made Shaina's attack very difficult. Difficult to work.

Although he could not predict what Shaina would do in a few minutes, a few seconds would play a crucial role in their battle.

Shaina doesn't have such a strong sense of domineering, so she had no choice but to do this to make her body faster than the opponent's reaction speed.

Her attacks will only work if they reach a speed that Katakuri's body can't keep up with.

Boom!

Katakuri's body was torn from the middle, and then reassembled. Shaina's strong and domineering flame kick still failed to hit the opponent, but there was a faint look on Katakuri's face. Burn marks.

It still rubbed his cheek just now.

"This is already your limit speed, it's useless, at this level you can't cause damage to me, admit defeat, I won this game."

Through his own prediction of the future, he saw that this was the limit of Shaina's speed. Although Shaina's attack became very powerful under the superposition of the sword dance, it was meaningless if she could not hit the target no matter how strong the attack was.

"What a joke, it's not enough!"

The flame behind the Lunaria family still did not rise, but the flames erupted from the wrists and ankles wrapped her whole body, and afterimages had appeared behind her, and she was covered in flames and attacked Katakuri again. chestnut.

Flame Charge, the most powerful melee skill of this department, is also an attack that trades damage for damage. With the outbreak of Flame Charge, her speed once again exceeded the upper limit.

"Cut · Hammer · Rice Cake!"

His knowledge told him that he couldn't dodge this attack. Even if he split his body, the high temperature aftermath of the collision would also cause damage, so he made a new decision. After wrapping his domineering arms, he started to rotate at a high speed, and then moved towards Shaina waved over.

Boom! !

The fierce confrontation produced a huge mushroom cloud, and the two figures retreated in unison, both of them were injured to a certain extent.

Shaina gave up all her defenses, and with the counterattack of Flash Charge, her body suffered a lot of damage, and a trace of blood flowed from the corner of her mouth.

Katakuri's state was also not good. The high temperature penetrated into his body through his arms, and the huge impact force rushed through his body for a while before it stopped.

Shaina was just about to continue the attack, but found that the ground beneath her feet suddenly wriggled, and the two coconut trees that were originally on the coast turned into rice cakes and smashed at her.

Even a sea of rice cakes appeared under his feet.

Nuo Nuo Fruit - Awaken!

novelusb.Com

Chapter 418 Mega Evolution!

Awakening, a form of manifestation of the Devil Fruit's ability, with the development of abilities and the enhancement of their strength, very few people can touch the threshold of awakening.

After the fruit is awakened, the ability of the ability person will often become stronger. For superhuman fruits, awakening means having the ability to change the surrounding things.

The ability will affect things other than the person who has the ability. At this time, a large number of objects on the coast are transformed into the form of rice cakes by Katakuri.

"It looks like you won't admit defeat, so I'll have to knock you down, Weeping Rain Glutinous Rice!"

Katakuri smashed his fists to the ground, and under his attack, the sand that had been transformed into rice cakes turned into hard rice cakes that rose into the sky. Shaina was extremely fast. In order to hit her, These rice cakes blocked almost all directions of her movement.

The top-down attack makes it inconvenient for her to fly, and the ubiquitous attack makes it difficult for her to dodge.

With the rain-like attack and the vision of predicting the future, the rice cake hit her like a fist. In order to deal with this situation, she had to switch to the defensive mode again, the flames on her back burned again, and the armed color was domineering and attached to her wings. A protective wall is formed.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

A series of muffled noises came. Although Katakuri's attack was temporarily blocked, it also created a vicious circle. To block that attack, she had to give up her speed form.

But if she gave up the speed form, she would not be able to deal with Katakuri's domineering arrogance enough to predict the future. If she couldn't fight against this arrogance, she would be constantly hit by the opponent's attacks, and she could only use the defensive form to resist.

At this time, she was almost in a closed-loop state. Although she had used attacks such as jet flames, she could not hit Katakuri at all.

"Magic Rice Cake!"

He also discovered that Shaina's speed was slowing down, and he regarded it as Shaina reaching his limit, so he planned to hurry up and end the battle.

A doughnut made of rice cakes appeared above his arm, and as he punched, a huge rice cake fist was also thrown out.

This time, Shaina's flame kick failed to hit the target. Katakuri predicted her action and hit her in the abdomen at a special angle. Although the damage was not high, it had already turned the situation of the battle. he.

"You have already lost, you are not my awakened opponent."

"Awakening."

At this time, Shaina must achieve the speed of the speed form while maintaining a defensive posture. Only in this way can this closed loop be broken, but the effect of acceleration is limited. If she wants to do that, she must achieve a breakthrough.

As the first person to follow Arceus, Arceus did not treat her badly, she could form several sets of corresponding skills, and she also asked questions about awakening.

After all, the awakening of fruits is not a secret in Kaido, and she is also curious about whether the power of Arceus can be awakened, and that power Arceus has already given her.

belongs to the super evolution of Pokémon-Mega evolution.

Unlike the original return, the Mega evolution of most Pokémon is a transcendental form, because the ability is stronger than the original, so the body cannot maintain this state for a long time.

In the world of Pokémon, Mega evolution requires the assistance of Mega Stones and Keystones.

But they are like beings with abilities, and it is impossible to find a trainer, so that power was integrated into their bodies in a special way. Just like awakening, as long as they exercise to a certain extent, they can master this power.

Like Mandelish's Evolutionary Light, the ability has already been given, and it's up to you to break through.

Although the animal type fruit can also be awakened, it is very different from the superhuman type in the form of expression. The awakening of the animal type usually brings unparalleled resilience or a larger body size, and the awakening failure may also become a jailer beast the same monster.

She didn't experience that feeling from Kaido, but today's Katakuri seems to have made her understand something.

"Awakening."

As an excellent teacher of knowledge and sex, and a teacher of the second generation of awakened eyes, Shaina found the final threshold by drawing inferences about this ability.

At this moment, a different picture flashed in Katakuri's eyes. Before he could react, the pillar of fire soared into the sky. Under the flames, Shaina's figure also changed.

The yellow feathers turned black, the claws became sharper, and the flames at the wrists fluttered in the air like wristbands.nOVeLUsB.com

"Musou Donuts!"

A doughnut made of rice cakes appeared behind Katakuri, and fists made of rice cakes kept punching out. Shaina was the same as before, with her wide wings resisting Katakuri's attack, but the result was that it's different.

During the interval between Katakuri's attack, Shaina disappeared.

"So fast."

It was the first time he had this feeling since he had cultivated to this realm. A flying kick with burning flames was kicking towards his head. Although he wanted to turn into a rice cake to avoid this attack, the speed of Shaina's attack was extremely high. Has exceeded the speed of his evasion.

Shaina's claws are burning, and the Mega Flame Chicken's leg strength is stronger than that of the Flame Chicken, because the speed is extremely fast, the feet will rub against the air and burn violently, and the body temperature will also rise due to this, making energy and speed better. one cent.

The hot flying kick kicked Katakuri's neck. The super high kick speed and attached domineering made his evasion completely ineffective, and the whole person was kicked out.

Boom!

Even the ground that had been turned into rice cakes made a violent noise under the high-speed collision.

Awakening VS Super Evolution, the superhuman and animal systems launched a more intense battle on the island.

"Magic Rice Cake!"

"Flame Kick!"

Shaina's high temperature also restrains Katakuri's rice cakes. The high temperature flame will dry the sticky rice cakes and make them brittle. At this time, the balance of victory begins to deviate in the direction of Shaina again.

The battle ended with Katakuri's admission of defeat, and the two of them could indeed continue to fight, but in that case, it would not be a battle, but you and I would die.

After seeing the picture of his back on the ground, Katakuri first chose to admit defeat. Like Marko, this is better than being completely knocked down.

"That guy is yours, but you won't let him go, right? It's not easy for me to explain to my mother then."

"No, that guy's end is already doomed."

Saying that, Shaina threw a small bottle of potion to Katakuri.

"Burn medicine."

"Thanks."

Unlike Marco, the two pirate groups have a lot of cooperation after all. Since the battle is over, there is no need to continue fighting.

Chapter 419 The drug version of "Sit-ups", I miss Yamato's Ulti

"Brother Katakuri."

"Don't worry, I'll explain it to my mother, and as long as I see that guy's body, my mother's anger will be dissipated by more than half."

Katakuri touched his neck. The burn medicine produced by Hundred Beasts was very effective. Although he had not recovered, he could no longer feel the burn.

"Opera, go back and arrange for someone to buy a batch of this medicine, the cooks in the kitchen should be able to use it."

"Understood, Brother Katakuri."

Katakuri's words are very effective among brothers and sisters. Even Perospero, who is older than him, has to refer to his opinion. After all, he is the strongest in the BIG-MOM pirates except Charlotte Lingling. By.

And because Charlotte Lingling often does some unreasonable behaviors as she grows older, many of the big and small affairs of the BIG-MOM Pirates are handled by his second-in-command.

In addition, he has always tried his best to protect his younger siblings, so he has a high reputation in the BIG-MOM pirates. noveLuSb.cOm

The purchase of burn medicine is also due to the situation of the BIG-MOM pirates. After all, their ovens are working almost 24 hours a day, and it is inevitable for chefs to be injured in the kitchen.

For chefs, their hands are second life, and even the slightest wound may affect the feel, resulting in a change in the taste of the food.

This kind of thing is fine in other places. Once Charlotte Lingling's eczema attacks on Cake Island, it will be a big crisis, so this medicine is very strategic.

95% of the damage to Cake Island is because of Charlotte Lingling's own problems.

And Katakuri didn't leave directly, Charlotte Lingling is different from Whitebeard, he has to get back some photos as evidence.

But on the island, a very special thing happened. The lonely hero died and died of the betrayal by his subordinates.

They watched the battle on the beach through a telescope on the island, and even Marco, who was the first to leave the scene, showed his fighting power like a monster.

The battle between monsters is not terrible, the terrible thing is that the reason why this group of monsters fight is to decide who will kill them.

The news bird didn't block this group of lone warriors, so they also saw the news report written by Morgans.

They had courage in the beginning, but as the situation escalated, their spirits were also wiped out.

There is no way to fight monsters like that. In order to quell their anger, the group chose to betray and wanted to exchange their captain's head for their own hope of life.

So while Shaina and Katakuri dueled, those people also had a fight, and finally killed the captain and his cronies at the cost of more than half of the casualties.

But what they do is doomed to be futile. They all participated in those things at the beginning. Since they participated in this matter, there is no possibility of being forgiven.

After all this is over, they are ready to return to the ghost island, and Katakuri is also preparing to return to the kingdom after collecting evidence.

It's just that not long after she left the island, Shaina ran into new troubles.

"Big sister, she is an agent of the World Government."

Looking at the cross flag on the sail, the lookout quickly made a judgment, and they also launched an attack directly on Shaina's ship.

The three sea emperors inexplicably began to surround and suppress an ordinary newcomer, which made the world government feel that something was wrong, but they had no chance to land before, Marko, Katakuri, and Shaina surrounded the island. .

Although their relationship is not too harmonious, but facing the agents of the World Government, these pirates will most likely join forces temporarily, and they are not sure about such three ships at the same time.

So just watched from afar, waited for their results, and finally caught up with Shaina, the winner.

"Sister, that boat is not right, their speed is very fast, our boat can't get rid of them!"

"Prepare to meet the enemy."

shook her wrist, Shaina took out a withered yellow herb from her bosom and stuffed it directly into her mouth.

"It's really bitter."

The bitter taste made her feel uncomfortable, but with it came the recovery of strength. The dying state of Pokémon is not true death, but physical exhaustion. Resurrection herbs are powerful restorers, not The reversal of life and death.

At this time, under its medicinal power, Shaina's stamina recovered quickly, and when the ship behind caught up, it had recovered 90%.

This made the group's plan directly shattered. They thought that Shaina had experienced two battles, so they wanted to come over to pick up a leak, but they didn't expect to hit the iron plate again.

In the face of her recovering physical strength and mastering the evolution of Mega, those people are not opponents at all, and soon there will be one more shipwreck on the sea.

This event ends here, and in this event, the bet on the casino has made a lot of money.

The gamblers are betting on who will die in the hands of this group of people. It's okay to bet on the team. After all, they eventually died in the hands of the Beast Pirates, but there are still many people who beat the solitary brave man alone. ending.

No one expected that this group of solitary warriors would fight within each other, which eventually led to no one winning the bet, and the banker all killed.

On the island of Oni, the departure of a large number of people made the place a lot empty, and because Yamato also went out, the training ground that was noisy every day became much quieter.

"Big Brother Jack hasn't come back yet."

"Xiao Pei, I told you not to call that perverted big brother, and wouldn't it be better if he didn't come back?"

"But sis, you said yesterday why Yamato-san and the others haven't come back yet."

"Don't call her sister! You only have one sister!"

The eldest brother was okay, but when she heard Pejiwan called someone else's sister, she frowned even more, holding Pejiwan in her arms and rubbing his head constantly, and began to repeatedly instill this thought.

"Well, he looks very energetic, come on, the new training is about to start."

A slightly terrifying voice appeared behind them, and even Ulti shivered.

She does miss Yamato and the others a bit now. Although she doesn't admit it, they are also normal playmates now, but Ulti misses Yamato not because of that.

but because of Kaido.

When Yamato and the others were there, Kaido's focus was not on her and Peggy Wan, but as Yamato and others left and Shaina went out, Kaido, who had nothing to do, stared at the two of them and started Your own special fitness guide.

"No, Xiaopei and I have other things to do."

"Huh? That's not okay."

Then Ulti found that she had left the ground, Kaido grabbed her and Peggy Wan directly with one hand, and at this moment, she missed Yamato who could share Kaido's attention.

In late 1506, the people who went out came back to Onishima one after another, and the Siwon also reappeared in the waters near Wano Kingdom. In Yamato's sight, there were already barriers outside Wano.

Seeing this barrier, she was not happy at all. For her, it meant that the summer vacation was over, and she was about to return to that "cage".

And there is a perverted teacher waiting for her inside.

"Yamato, what are you doing?"

At this time, Yamato looked at the sky with a wary expression, and he had already entered the human-beast form, as if he was guarding against something.

"According to the usual practice, my father will definitely make a surprise attack, and this time out for so long, it must be more deadly than before."

In a sense, this is a disease called Kaido Stress Syndrome, an overreaction derived from suffering from too much teaching from Kaido.

"It's good that you have this vigilance when sailing outside. Don't be nervous, you don't need to train today, I have already told him."

Looking at Yamato who was highly nervous, Arceus still let her relax, but her worries were justified. According to Kaido's character, even if he didn't do anything today, he would have to make a sudden test tomorrow.

In Yamato's mind, Kaido, as his biological father, is far more dangerous than people outside, so he is vigilant.

Siwon entered the diving port with ease. Compared with the diving port many years ago, it has undergone a certain expansion and renovation, and the main ship of the Beast Pirates has become more convenient to enter and leave here.

But just after coming out of the diving port, Yamato looked up into the sky. She seemed to hear a scream, and two shadows gradually appeared in her sight.

"What is that, Maria, can you see it?"

Hold the sun on her forehead with her palm, Yamato narrowed her eyes, but the distance was too far, and she still couldn't see what the shadow was.

"Looks like Pei and Ulti?"

"That's right, it's the two of them, Yamato, you've been out this trip long enough, I hope you learned something useful."

Kaido came to the ship at some point, and put his big hand directly on Yamato's head and made extremely dangerous remarks.

"Tomorrow better let me see the results, otherwise, ugh, you know."

But Yamato is not afraid, because she has understood a truth, and now she has no ability to resist Kaido.

Like she had no idea when Kaido appeared behind her.

So there is no point in worrying any more, she can only cherish the time before tomorrow, and then she also reacts to a question. NoVELUS.COM

"Wait, why are the two of them in the sky?"

"Of course, it's to make them progress faster. It's just flying, but they haven't learned it for so long."

"Wow! Help! Stupid Kaido, **** Kaido! Is there something wrong with that guy's brain!"

This is Kaido's training method. Unlike the gentle **** before, Kaido took the two of them directly into the sky, and then threw them down without a word.

The most important thing is that the only one who needs to learn to fly is Peggy Wan, but Kaido and her are also lost, the reason is that Peggy Wan adds some sense of urgency.

They definitely won't fall to their death. Even if they can't fly, Kaido will use the flame cloud to catch them in the middle, but he didn't say such a thing at all, so in the eyes of the two brothers and sisters, this is murder.

"Sister, don't move, be careful to fall."

Peggy Wan in the form of Bite Land Shark is trying to fly, he is only a four-year-old child, and the flight of Bite Land Shark is different from that of birds, so he can only do short-distance low-altitude gliding before.

It is equivalent to needing someone to support him to ride the bicycle away, but in order to speed up his learning process, Kaido directly tricked him into a big downhill, tied Ulti to the back seat, and pushed him down, called the teaching method of death.

"It's still the best for you, Xiaopei. It's not worth my concern for you before."

"Wait! Sister, don't move my neck, I'm going to turn over!"

He was trying to control his balance during the high-speed fall, but Ulti almost made him roll over when he made such a fuss.

"Well father, why do I think they can't fly."

Watching Ulti and Peggy Wan get closer and closer to the ground, and there is no tendency to take off, Yamato has a bad premonition.

"Don't worry, isn't it quite high?"

Kaido is still very calm, but the whereabouts of the two siblings are different.

The strong airflow brought by the fall from high altitude disturbed the balance of his body, so he has not been able to fly. At this time, the scales on his body have been feeling the flow of the wind, and special organs are also trying to change the airflow through the body.

Finally, he successfully flew when he was still a few hundred meters above the ground. Countless tiny jets were formed under the tiny scales. With the impact of the airflow, he got rid of the gliding for the first time and started to fly.

"Well, I know that kid still has potential, as long as he pushes hard."

Although Kaido was affirming Pejiwan, for some reason, Yamato felt that something dirty was staring at him, and suddenly had a shuddering feeling.

And when she and Kaido looked at each other, she understood where this sense of crisis came from, and she could conclude that tomorrow's life would never be easy.

But Peggy Wan finally crashed, leaving a long crash trail on Bai Wu's grass.

"Xiao Pei, are you alright Xiao Pei!"

"I'm fine, but old lady, can you please stop jumping on my back next time!"

Peggy Wan, who had eaten a mouthful of dirt, roared helplessly. He really could fly, but Ulti was more excited than him, so when he was about to land, Peggy Wan still overturned.

"Okay, definitely next time! Hey, Pei, take me to fly again, it's so fun."

"what?"

Seeing that Peggy Wan had mastered flying, and continued to exercise his flying ability with Ulti's "assistance", Kaido did not continue to stare at them, turned his head and disappeared.

In the ghost island office, the departure of Arceus and Shaina led to the accumulation of some documents here, which were all parts that Quinn and Assie, who were the substitute employees, could not handle.

"A creature or device suitable for mining in the deep sea."

This is a report from Kojiro. In the report, he affirmed the development potential of Fishman Island, and also raised some questions about the mining company.

Relying on the manpower of the murlocs alone is too slow, so they need some new large-scale equipment, and means to drive away the sea kings and the like.

It is more difficult to solve this kind of problem manually, so the report is sent here.
