Chapter 421 The Pot King who lost a pot became very uncomfortable

"Mining under the sea."

It is very easy to mine on land. Professional Pangyan monsters, less professional big rock snakes, small fist stones, and rock-type Pokémon can all be excellent miners. The work ability of Pangyan monsters is even better than that of professional machinery. powerful.noVeluSb.com

But the deep-sea environment of Fishman Island is different. The common problem of the rock system is that they are afraid of water. Even if the sea floor stone Pokémon unique to Wano country is not so afraid of water, they cannot live in the deep sea.

The unique species of Crystal Rock Snake can be soaked in shallow water, but there is no way to do it in the deep sea. If you want to work in the deep sea, then the water-type Pokémon has become the best option.

While he was thinking about the type, the almighty Quinn was called over again.

"Are you hungry?"

At this time, Quinn was holding a bucket of rice cake azuki bean soup, and it seemed that he was eating when he was called just now.

"Master Arceus, this thing won't taste good when it's cold, and I've lost weight recently, so I need to add more. If you have anything, don't worry, I can remember it."

As he said that, he picked up the spoon and stretched it into his soup pot. At least he hadn't asked "Do you want to eat some?", which indirectly reflected Quinn's obsession with rice cake azuki bean soup, and with his improvement, this is still a bucket of banana-flavored rice cake azuki bean soup.

"Can deep-sea mining machinery be built?"

"Well, it's not very good. The deep-sea machinery is different from the land. I don't have much research on that."

He is a capable person, and most of the research on machinery is used for himself, and there is no research on machines that can work in the deep sea.

Judging from his current energy, he doesn't have time for that.

"Forget it, I brought back a lot of platinum and lead this time. You can study how to decompose that thing. You don't need to consider the practicality. Get me a research report that can fool outsiders. By the way, the method should be gentler. ."

The preparations for the subsequent actions have also begun. This report is for outsiders to see. It is not difficult to obtain platinum-lead products from the outside world. This method is for them to test. Anyway, they can't find patients with platinum-lead disease now. .

It is determined that this method can decompose platinum and lead, which can increase the credibility of drug treatment.

The reason why is gentle is that this method is ultimately used in the human body. If it is similar to the corrosion of concentrated sulfuric acid, or a lot of high temperature is released during the reaction, fools know that this is a lie.

"No problem, I'll go back and test with Assie, the process shouldn't be difficult."

As an expert on ore materials, it would be much easier for him to work with Assie to deal with it.

Then Quinn lifted the iron bucket containing the rice cake azuki bean soup and drank the rest of the rice cake azuki bean soup, but halfway through, he suddenly thought of something.

"Master Arceus. This matter. I won't be here again?"

"Um?"

"It's the one that takes the blame"

Enough of the blame on him. Quinn saw that plan when Olga used Rotom to send a letter back. This matter needs a "famous doctor" to bear the blame.

Although fame is a good thing, but now he really doesn't want to continue to carry the blame.

If it goes on like this, I am afraid that the CP department will not set up a special group for beasts, but a special group for Quinn.

"Oh, it's not this time, you can't do this."

Although the top management of Hundred Beasts and Fruits are all members of the Beasts Pirates, they are very special, at least their identities on the surface are clean, they belong to the white gloves of the Beasts Pirates.

The use of code names for internal contact is just not to give outsiders a handle. This time they need a legitimate doctor, and neither Quinn nor Naiqin are suitable for this.

Even if Naiqin's reputation is not as good as Quinn's, she was once a cadre of the Walder Pirates, and her identity simply cannot stand scrutiny. Ordinary people may not believe what a pirate says.

The big secret treasure is an exception. The mysterious value of that thing is too great, so countless people choose to sail for Roger's treasure.

But it's a matter of life and wealth, even if they don't believe it, they have to think about it, but it's not as good as a doctor. At this time, a mysterious research and development department has been created inside Hundred Beast Fruits.

They are geniuses who conquered the platinum-lead disease externally, but in fact this department is empty, and there is only a representative they elected.

"Huh, that's good, strange, why do you still feel empty inside."

After hearing that he was not the one to blame, Quinn suddenly had a very strange feeling.

"Illusion, but although you don't have to carry the blame, you still have a lot to do. This is the nun's treatment situation. According to the method you came up with to decompose platinum and lead, combine them together.

is still the same requirement, practicality does not matter, but to be professional, it must stand up to scrutiny. "

It is not difficult to decompose platinum and lead into pieces. There are countless methods in the factory of Fleifance to smelt platinum and lead. A large number of platinum and lead products are produced in this way. The difficult thing is to remove the platinum and lead accumulated in the human body.

That thing has almost reached the cellular level, without the bug-level ability of surgical fruit, and external forces can't do it at all, so they need a professional overview.

In the next few days, Quinn's main task will be one more thesis.

Acière is an old man from a previous era, and he doesn't know medical skills. Naiqin is from a wild way, and they can't write highly professional things at all.

"Don't worry, I'm still very good at this kind of thing."

does not consider practicality, an idealized paper, this kind of thing is too good to do.

"Do you have any other requests?"

"Let them understand that this is a very valuable technology. The production cost is very high, so the price is so high. Add some rare and expensive but useless harmless drugs into it."

The plan in Onishima had already begun, but Tezzolo, one of the executors, was on the red soil continent, in a slightly extravagant private room, waiting for the person he wanted to see.

He is here to manage relationships, otherwise, if such a big basket is stabbed, the development of beasts and fruits will be limited.

Those people in the world government don't care about Fravans' affairs, nor do they care about the public opinion. The reason why they control this matter is to continue to make money with platinum and lead.

As long as the profit brought to them can fill the gap, or even bring greater benefits, they will even contribute to this matter

"What's the matter, I'm very busy."

"Look at this."

"Tezolo, what are you doing? I'm an official of the World Government, do you think I agree with this kind of thing? For the sake of the past, hurry up."

"Don't worry, my lord, you can get this number."

Chapter 422 Lucky Fruit and Giant Marsh Monster

Tezzolo didn't say it clearly, but shook hands with the other party.

"Well, it's not that we can't negotiate. It would indeed be a big breakthrough if the platinum-lead disease could be cured."

The feeling in his palm made his heart move. It is really difficult to do this, but if it is done, there will be huge profits.

"Sir, we also want to make money."

Although he said that, Tezzolo still raised his price, and the share he proposed was far from his upper limit.

The sky is full of asking prices, sitting on the ground to pay back the money, it is impossible for Tezzolo to reveal his reserve price as soon as he comes up.

If the other party did not refuse, it means that this matter can be done, it depends on how much money to be distributed.

"The people above have to do the work, and the people below have to eat. Your sincerity is not enough."

"People can't be too greedy. The relationship between Mrs. Waldrick and Stella has been good recently. If this number is not enough, it can only be done this time."

"Deal, don't worry, no one will embarrass you in the future. For the sake of old friends, I will solve the problem for you with the license of your medical department."

"Happy cooperation."

Tezzolo stroked his flat glasses, just to make himself look a little more artistic. It was not the beasts and fruits that made the most money in this business, but those people.

The profit he shares is as high as 60%, but the highest profit he can accept is actually 70%. As long as it works properly, the rest will also be huge profits.

Just in order to feed those guys above, he can only choose to bleed heavily.

It's no joke that the man wanted to manage the people above him. Although 60% of the profits were huge, he actually didn't get much. Tianlong people, some royal families, and officials above him were the real big players.

The money paid by the people who do the errands below is a drop in the bucket compared to this.

All kinds of beasts and fruits are a long-term business, because the temporary profits cause future development damage, but the gains outweigh the losses.

"Hum, just wait, sooner or later you all have to spit it out for me, let's go Baccarat, this time I'll take you to meet a big man, you have to behave well."

Tezolo left here with a girl with orange-red hair. This is a girl he accidentally discovered. Because of her peculiar abilities, he adopted her.

And this negotiation went so smoothly because she was a superhuman lucky fruit capable of changing people's fortunes, and some good luck can always affect many things inadvertently.

Because of joining the beasts, Tezzolo seems to have also been infected with the hobby of picking up children.

The speciality of the lucky fruit made Tezzolo also cultivate it as his cronie, and it happened that Stella liked this child very much, so they adopted her temporarily.

"Can I play with Xiaobai?"

The cat boss may not be cute enough, but the streamlined body like a cougar also has a special beauty, and the cat boss living in Tezzolo's house successfully attracted the attention of Baccarat.

"It can if it wants, be careful not to get scratched."

"I've been lucky, no problem."

But at the same time as she said this, a security guard outside the door who had been murdering her inexplicably tripped over the raised floor, and then knocked over the hot soup held by the waiter and let out a scream.

Baccarat's lucky fruit perfectly shows what the law of conservation of luck is. When someone is lucky, there is always someone who will be unlucky.

Baccarat can't give a person luck out of thin air. Her luck is plundered from others. Through a brief contact before entering the door, she took a certain amount of good luck from the other person.

In normal times, good luck and bad luck are in a state of balance. When good luck is taken away, bad luck will naturally come on.

This is also a bug ability on the original timeline. With this ability in the casino, she can control the life and death of a gambling table, and even the old thousand can't compare to her ability of luck.

Her battles are very special, she only needs to throw a coin, and luck will help her accomplish some things, but this ability can only deal with some small scenes, the battle of the real strong is hard to be controlled by luck.

Even the rudder on the head of the golden lion appeared after the battle.

didn't stop too much, Tezzolo took Baccarat on a ferry, and his next itinerary was quite busy. First of all, he went to Ghost Island to take over the specific matters about the "Park for the Rich" plan.

Then decide some details with the person who accepts his bribe.

After dealing with this matter, he will go to Fishman Island to discuss the issue of the mining company. Although it is not like Quinn's feet are on the ground, he will have to add a few days of work.

After a while, a new group of water-type Pokémon is appearing on Oni Island.

They also work part-time in mining the nearby waters to search for slates. Normal Pokémon cannot perceive his slates, so finding them is entirely by chance.

At least the pilgrims of the carp kings have not brought back any valuable information.

Can live underwater, can cause enough damage to rock formations, and has the ability to mine minerals. After thinking, he finally decided on the Pokémon of the giant marsh monster.

A blue-backed, black-finned, white-bellied Pokémon that usually walks on four legs.

is transformed from mudskippers living in the swamps of Wano country.

The special fins on the body are special organs unique to the giant marsh monster. It can sense changes in the waves and wind, so as to predict the arrival of storms and adjust the date of mining work.

Some giant marsh monsters live in environments such as swamps. In order to adapt to this environment, their eyes also have special evolution, and they can see each other's figures clearly even in turbid muddy water.

Seabed mining will inevitably roll up a lot of sediment, and this special structure can work wonders when mining underwater.

In addition, the giant marsh monster has quite terrifying power. Even if the cruise ship runs aground on the sea, it can drag the ship forward. The weight of its arms is so great that it can easily lift a ton of boulders.noVeluS&.com

The arm is muscular and can easily break solid rocks, which can save a lot of time and manpower whether it is mining or moving mines.

The giant marsh monster is in front, and the murlocs are behind, so the mining of ore should be much smoother.

Compared with mining, the harassment of sea beasts and sea kings is actually more troublesome, and most of those giant sea kings in the deep sea can't deal with them.

Sea King can become one of the three ancient weapons because of her ability to manipulate giant sea kings. For this ocean-dominated world, it is definitely a natural disaster.

The overall strength of the murlocs is not strong. Once the giant sea kings of several kilometers are provoked, even Mandelfish can't do anything about them. The buffering of the sea water and the monster-like size make a punch like a tickling. .

But this is not impossible. Although there are no ancient weapons in Pokémon, there is another special existence.

Regarding the prices near Golden Island, Luffy and Zoro spent 11 baileys for hundreds of oden, so the price is just low there

The ocean is vast in any world, and the same is true in the world of Pokémon.

There is more than one powerful Pokémon related to water.

Kyogre who created the ocean, Lugia who manipulated the ocean currents, and the life that Arceus intends to create this time, the Pokémon who can command sea creatures, the Prince of the Sea - Manaphy.

Manaphy does not need to create oceans or change ocean currents. Although Neptunes are not Pokémon, Manaphy cannot control them as freely as Neptunes can, but protect an area from Neptunes and persuade them to move. can be done.

And this is also the difference between their authority, Kyogre is better at creating oceans, Lugia is better at manipulating ocean currents, and the biological aspect still depends on Manaphy.

The water drop slate emerged from the body, and a drop of the purest water condensed by the drop slate appeared in this world.

The energy of the slate is continuously injected, and the water droplets begin to expand like embryos.

As the volume gradually increased, the body composed of water droplets also began to solidify. Two long tentacles appeared on the top of the head, and there were two lovely round * at the end. The dark blue pupils had yellow whites, and the yellow The speckled objects form his eyelashes.

The two slender arms are longer than the body, but the legs are short and thick, almost integrated with the body.

As a ruby-like object condensed on his chest, Manaphy's eyes also had a new look.

After coming here, there are many Pokémon that have been transformed or created, and Pokémon have also bred a lot of offspring, but compared to those ordinary Pokémon, these phantom beasts born with the power of slate are the highlight.

The eldest son Zeraora, the eldest daughter Dianxi, and now the second son Manaphy, strictly speaking, the Eudemons are all genderless, but he gave them gender recognition.

By adding up these Pokémon bits and pieces, he can also create an Arceus family.

"Mana, my lord, it seems a little cold in here."

His body trembled, and Manaphy jumped to the head of the giant marsh monster. Manaphy's body was 80% composed of water and was easily affected by the external environment.

Mana Fei, who appeared as the second son, also had the ability to speak. At this time, the giant marsh monster under him had no intention of resisting, even if Mana Fei touched the fins on its head, it didn't respond.

This is Manaphy's ability, even if he doesn't speak, his innate power can make himself and other Pokémon communicate with each other, which is also how he commands other Pokémon in the ocean.

"Close the windows, it's a little cooler on autumn nights."

A giant swamp monster walked over, raised his hand and closed the window. It was already late autumn, and the cold air from Linghou was blowing towards the ghost island because of the wind direction, so there was a cold feeling.

"Tomorrow, you can go to a farther sea and try to see the effect of contact with those sea kings."

There are no sea kings' nests in the vicinity of Wano country due to special currents, and most of them live in the deep seas such as the windless zone or the fish-man island waters.

The distribution of seabed minerals is irregular, it may be in the deep sea or in the shoal, but because of the location of the fish-man island, the mining location will definitely not be too far from the fish-man island.nOV&lUsb.com

In this environment, it is necessary to deal with sea kings.

Manaphy had to find a real sea king to test the effect. Those super-large sea kings are smarter than ordinary sea kings. If ordinary ones can do it, the problem of super-large should not be big.

The sea water under the dark night is relatively cold. Although this kind of chill is nothing to Manaphy, he has just been born, and Tezzolo has not yet reached the ghost island. Even if he arrives at the ghost island, he must first deal with the platinum and lead matters, so he is not in a hurry.

In the case of not in a hurry, there is no reason to let Manaphy go out to work overtime at night.

But at this time, the room suddenly shook twice, as if an earthquake had occurred.

"Lord, this is"

"It's okay, you'll get used to it later, this kind of thing is not uncommon."

His office is on the highest floor of Onigshima Island, and above it is the practice ground on the roof. There is only one explanation for this movement. Kaido started to attack again.

Then there was a sudden bang, and the window that was just closed was knocked open again. It can be seen that the quality of the window is very good, and the glass did not shatter under this impact.

As the window was smashed open, Yamato appeared here, and there seemed to be a spider silk floating outside the window. It seemed that she jumped down with Maria's spider silk.

"Yamato?"

"Father, let me rest for a while, I'm exhausted."

lying on the ground panting, this is the task Kaido gave her just now, to escape to a safe place under his attack, as long as one of them can reach a safe place, then today's training is over.

With the cooperation of Kaido and Maria, she finally found this opportunity.

When facing Kaido, her combat IQ will be completely full, and at the moment Kaido asks, she thinks of where the so-called safe position is.

Now there is no place in the entire Ghost Island that can deal with Kaido. Only by letting him throw a rat can achieve the so-called safety. The underground arsenal of the ghost island, the office of Arceus, and the laboratory of Assie, only these places will let Kai do it. Watch out.

The arsenal is too far away, and Arceus will be unhappy if he messes up the laboratory, so she chooses Arceus's office, she bet that Arceus is working at this time, and it turns out that she bet right.

After a long pause, she stood up again.

"Father, have you created a new Pokémon? Hello, I'm Yamato."

"Mana, I'm Manaphy."

A giant marsh monster approached Yamato, and the Manaphy on its head also stretched out his arms.

"You can talk? Are you also a special Pokémon like Dianxi? Then can you be a ruby?"

Dian Xi, who has diamonds on his body, can hold the diamonds in his hands and look at Manaphy with a ruby drop on his chest. Yamato had this illusion.

"No, but I will."

A Yamato composed of water appeared in front of Yamato, imitating her movements like a mirror, and the power of Vibrant met Mana Fei's ability and they quickly became acquainted.

Although he didn't have an exclusive partner like Dianxi in his cognition, he still regarded the other party as a close partner. By manipulating the power of water, they quickly became one.

Outside the ghost island, a small boat approached the country of Wano in the dark and caught up with the last supply ship, and Tezzolo came to the country of Wano again.

The comments are not displayed recently, only the author can see it in the background, but I replied that you can't see it, it will be fine in a few days, and when the time comes, you will understand.

Chapter 424 Insufficient authority, plan to start

"Mr. Tezzolo, where is this?"

"Our real headquarters, don't talk nonsense, I'm taking a risk by bringing you here."

This is a bit of an exaggeration, but it is also true. This is a man he recruited from the outside world.

There are not many talents who are good at managing business in the beasts, so Arceus delegated power to Tezzolo, so that he can recruit people by himself, he can't manage the whole company by himself.

Over the years, he has also recruited some people one after another, and he still has some management skills, but Baccarat was the first person he brought to Ghost Island, mainly because of her special abilities.

Talented people and beasts will never refuse, unless the person is a traitor.

"Okay, I'll pay attention."

"Don't be so nervous, it's not so serious, and there are a lot of children here, but don't use your abilities here."

Baccarat's ability is that she can't control herself well. She can only decide good luck or bad luck. Everything else depends on the sky. As long as the luck is against the sky, her fruit ability may not have any effect.

The environment outside Wano was a little scary under the shroud of night, and some huge figures occasionally flashed in the water. As the waterfall in the diving port was opened, Tezzolo also brought Baccarat to the entrance of Baiwu.

"Baccarat, don't look, it's time to go."

"Oh, here we come."

Tezolo picked up his backpack and walked out. He was used to it. When he came to Onishima, he would instinctively bring some gifts.

He doesn't need to bring Kaido or Arceus, because it doesn't make sense to bring them. These gifts are prepared for children like Yamato or cadres like Quinn.

As long as he does things well, Arceus will not treat him badly no matter what he does, but it is very important for the people below to handle the relationship.

"Yo, here we come."

"Well, what Master Arceus meant."

"Come in, Lord Arceus just happens to be in the office."

For example, now, some people on the road greeted him.

"Lotto, identity unknown, no entry, please stop, Loto."

However, his ID card did not include Baccarat's identity, he was able to enter, but Baccarat was stopped by Rotom.

"She is my new recruit, can't I bring her in?"

"Insufficient authority, Loto, please apply for identification first, Loto."

In this regard, Rotom's work is very procedural, and Tezzolo is not often in Onishima, so his authority is limited.

Just when he was tangled, Quinn came over from the outside, holding a thick stack of paper in his hand, and some dark circles could be vaguely seen around the sunglasses.

This is the thesis he revised after staying up late. After several revisions, it was finally finalized. He just took these to the Beast Pokémon Center.

The doctors hired by these animals are also considered famous doctors in the world, and it is of certain reference value for them to take a look at the report.

After several investigations to fill in the gaps, Quinn also solved some loopholes in this regard.

He even let some of O'Hara's doctors read it. Some of their research fields involve ancient medicine and minerals. Many of them have published papers on the World Government, and they have been retouched when they are revised.

was just his last revision, and this time the doctors at the Pokémon Center couldn't pick out any problems, so he came to Arceus for help.

"Tezzolo? Did you arrive so early? Why didn't you go in?"

"Brother Quinn, isn't this bringing a new child, but I don't have enough authority"

"Have you learned this too? It's really fast to integrate, come with me, Rotom, this girl is a special case, let her in."

As a big kanban, Quinn still has the ability to decide this matter. Only at Quinn's request did the electronic door Rotom open the door.

"Don't run around, little girl, you don't have any authority at all. If you run around, be careful to be electrocuted, Mumhaha."

"Brother Quinn, don't scare her, I brought you a lot of cigars from the Tikens Kingdom."

"You're welcome, but I'm not joking. People who don't have permission better not run around."

Electrical * must be exaggerated, but if you really want to set off any alarm, you will be punished for sure.

In the office on the top floor, Baccarat saw many unscientific creatures for the first time. The previous Rotom could be regarded as a special mechanical intelligence, but the giant marsh monster and Manaphy were different.

"Lord Arceus, this is a child I adopted. Superman is a lucky fruit. He has helped me a lot and is very reliable."

"You can trust it, Yamato, take her and Manaphy out to play, and get her a temporary ID card along the way."

"Okay, foster father, leave it to me."

When there is business, she will still leave obediently. As the door was taken by her, the implementation of the plan was also discussed in the room.

"Sir Arceus, here are the relevant documents and treatment reports. Everything is ready, and the nun has also been notified."

Quinn handed over the corresponding things, and the preparations have basically been completed during this time.

"Tezolo, where are you?"

"The plan has already started. After the news is fermented, the action can be started."

"Very well, then pass the news to that guy in Morgans, you work hard and finish these things first."

"As ordered, you gave Stella and me a new life. Hard work is nothing at all."

Saying so, Tezzolo looked at his watch.

"At this time, Stella's place has already started."

The detonation of the news requires a condition, they did not intend to rely entirely on Morgans' newspaper, but to start from the circle of women.

At this time, on an island near the Red Earth Continent, a lady's salon had already started. At this time, Stella had lost her identity as a slave and appeared in everyone's field of vision as a popular star.

"Miss Stella, pay attention to your feet."

A big-headed man who looked like a jingle cat walked in front of Stella. She and Tezzolo had absolute trust and would not have doubts because of each other's interpersonal interactions. This man was named Tanaka, and he was another Tezzolo. The subordinate also part-time Stella's bodyguard.

Superman is a person with the ability to wear fruit, can pass through all non-living objects, and can also pass through with other people, which is very suitable for this kind of environment.

In addition, the cat boss also followed Stella. Almost all the women present brought a cat. This was the theme of this salon, and soon Stella found a few acquaintances.nOveLUsb.COM

Looking at the platinum-lead wine glass in her hand and some platinum-lead cutlery on the table, she is also ready to follow the plan.

Chapter 425 Top News headlines

"Stella, this way."

A seemingly ordinary woman invited her and said that although the people in this banquet hall are of the same age, there are also people with relatively ordinary looks, because what can enter and exit here is not their appearance, but their family background.

They are either the wives of a high-ranking official, or the eldest lady from a prominent family, and most of them are well educated.

Red-eyed monsters or snobbery who look down on people are extremely rare here, and those who can come here are not fools. On the surface, this is just an ordinary salon, but in fact, it is a private interpersonal relationship.

The one-sided relationship today may be of great use in the future. Even if they don't like it in their hearts, it is something they have learned a long time ago.

The women who got together in twos and threes represented their own factions, and Stella naturally represented Tezzolo. As the general manager of the behemoth, which had suddenly appeared in recent years, he could be said to have attracted a lot of limelight.

Especially he is also a part-time singer, often doing a job in public.

After professional vocal music training, and his original talent in this area, he can be regarded as a little famous. This is also the most special point of the acting company he created. The people who support him are himself and Stella.

There were many people who wanted to climb into his bed, but they all failed. No one could shake Stella's position in her heart. It was the white moonlight that appeared in his heart at the darkest moment of his life.

A touch of light gave his life new impetus, so some people who want to do business are taking the lady route, and they want to indirectly influence Tezzolo through Stella.

Some people have also had dangerous thoughts, so now Stella is accompanied by Tanaka, a special bodyguard, and Xiaobai, the cat boss, whose seemingly ordinary claws are stained with blood.

There are different kinds of cats around them. Before Stella arrived, these cats were not very happy together, and some strange cats were still staring.

Some cats are still in cages, apparently their owners don't usually keep cats at all, but bought one temporarily for the salon.

However, with the appearance of Xiaobai, both the meowing cat in the cage and the cat outside stopped their original movements, and a few others who had been taught by him had shrunk into a ball.

"Your Xiaobai is still so obedient, I have never been able to find it, it's too rare."

"Tezzolo said it was a rare species on a rare beast island, so it's normal to be rare."

This is the source of the identity of the cat boss to the outside world. Xiaobai also wears a gold chain on the top of his head, which is connected to the ruby on his head. This luxurious dress is very popular in this circle.

"It's too rare. My little Mi has recently arrived. Do you want to let them try?"

"Look at their own meaning, Xiaobai's autonomy is very strong."

This is not the first time a cat wants to breed with Xiaobai, but as the cat boss, he doesn't look down on ordinary cats at all, he just curled up on the sofa and licked his paws, his eyes still looking at Stella from time to time people.

"Then let's talk about it, the people here seem to have come up with some new tricks today, or something made by your company."

It is different from the more flavor-oriented meals on the cake island. I don't know if the food here is delicious, but it looks unbearable.

Next is a familiar topic between women, which is basically a business blow, telling some black material that has fallen, and Stella has also found her own opportunity.

One of the uses of platinum and lead is as a sweetener. The platinum and lead that has been beaten into a fine powder looks shiny. Like edible gold leaf, it is regarded as a very expensive condiment by the upper class. If platinum and lead are not available at banquets will be looked down upon.

And it is really harmless to eat. It will not remain in the human body like when smelted, but will be excreted normally. This is the point that those researchers can't understand. The nature of platinum and lead is really strange.

"I heard that there has been a big incident in Freivans recently, and the price of platinum and lead in the market is expensive."

"I heard it was an infectious disease or something. It seems like a lot of people died, Stella, what are you doing?"

While some people swayed the powdered sugar mixed with platinum and lead, Stella took out a small spray bottle and sprayed it.

"Eh? Don't you know? I heard that there is no infectious disease at all, but platinum lead poisoning. This thing is poisonous. And those who get sick will have white spots all over their bodies, and their whole faces will look like they're broken. "

She also deliberately exaggerated some facts and added some fear to them. Although they hadn't produced any evidence yet, they had all stopped their work, and even looked at the platinum-lead knife and fork into hesitation.

It may not be a problem if you eat it, but you will be fine if you don't eat it. Everyone will care about their face. novelusb.Com

And at this time, Stella continued to use platinum and lead like no one else.

"Didn't you say. Is this thing poisonous?"

"Yeah, this is a special medicine, it's specially designed to deal with platinum and lead problems, so you won't be afraid to use it."

The plan went ahead as usual, and there was another person who was cooperating with her. It was the wife of the person who Tezzolo had bribed a while ago. The platinum-lead problem left the seeds from such an ordinary salon. As long as there was an opportunity, these seeds would be destroyed. Thoroughly sprouted.

And the person holding that opportunity is now making people work overtime to print newspapers.

"Let everyone work harder. Although it is a temporary revision, I believe in your ability!"

Morgans was standing on the table, encouraging his employees with the information he had just received. He didn't even go to investigate the truth of the matter, because the photos and intelligence information were too perfect.

Even if it is false, these are enough to convince most people.

There is no mosaic here, the corpses burned by the flames, the blood-stained soldiers in chemical protective suits, the fallen doctors and patients, the people who take pictures are like invisible people, and the technical level is already the same as that of the photographer who offered a reward.

If it wasn't for the unimaginable technology of photographers in this world, this photo was taken to the Science column group, which would be enough for them to shoot last year's special.

"President, isn't this news too exciting?"

"Wow, hahaha, what stupid words are you talking about? It's just the best thing to do. This is big news. The greed of human nature has destroyed an entire country, and this can attract people's attention!"

Although there is no mention of the issue of the world government's exploration of the mines above, the remaining news is enough for the surrounding citizens to feel a sense of danger.

"But the president, what about the other news? Look at this man, his new song is about to be the headline, and you promised him last time."

Chapter 426 Uproar

"Cough cough.. give him the money back, give him the second position, and tell him that he will be sure next time."

If it is normal competition, Morgans' behavior may lose a business partner, but in addition to the official information flow within the world government, his World Economic News Agency is an enterprise in a monopoly position.

The Great Route and the Red Continent have divided the world, coupled with the culture of the island, only he can do this by relying on the news bird.

And the existence of newsbirds has long been an objective impression of people, coupled with Morgans' daring reporting behavior, his newspaper position is very stable.

Other countries also have their own news organizations, and they still have some fame locally, but they can't compare with Morgans in the world, so he can occasionally do some willful things.

The next day.

As the sun sets on the horizon, where the newsbirds start their busy day, the channels within the world government have been settled with a lot of money.

The level of The Five Old Stars doesn't bother to manage such a thing at all, and the people below are enough to make a judgment. As long as the political situation of the World Government is still stable, the impact caused by a mere Fravans is completely within the acceptable range.

It is definitely not the World Government who is to blame. After all, it is not them who sent people into Freivans. Because of Tezzolo's negotiation, they have already made public relations preparations.

【The truth about Fravans! Centennial Lies of Platinum and Lead! 】

【The choice between life and money】

【Use of platinum lead may cause infertility.】

As the news of Morgans was released, other news also followed suit, which was one of the reasons why Morgans' World Economic News Agency came out on top. With his position in the underground world, he always got the news first.

News is time-sensitive, and people who lag behind can only eat cold rice.

The news of the newspapers began to ferment, and this incident caused an uproar almost all over the world. Except for those who knew the truth or were prepared, everyone else was taken aback.

Without him, Freivans looks so miserable that it is not an exaggeration to be called a * on earth, especially the appearance of those platinum-lead patients is even more terrifying.

"Take it! Take it all away!"

In the palace of a certain country, the king threw away the tableware in his hand in a little panic. The long dining table was his favorite platinum and lead plate, but he looked at these things as if he had seen death.

Horrified orders to attendants to take them away. This kind of thing is not an exception. Royal palaces, nobles, wealthy businessmen, and similar things abound. Platinum and lead, which is usually more expensive than gold, is like poison at this time. People threw them to the junkyard.

East Sea, Goa Kingdom.

The kingdom of Goa is known as the most beautiful kingdom in the East China Sea, because they isolate all the unbeautiful outside the city walls.

The terminal of uncertainties outside the city walls, where wastes are piled up like a mountain, and the bottom of the kingdom and the gangsters rely on here to pick up the garbage that the nobles don't want to maintain their lives.

The arrival of a new garbage truck is like opening a treasure chest to them, and today is destined to be different. Those soldiers who discarded garbage wore heavier chemical protective suits and lost those things from a distance.

When the people at the Uncertainty Terminal discovered that they were all valuable platinum and lead, they immediately began to fight, even ordinary garbage was disliked, and this also gave others a chance.

For example, Ace and Sabo took advantage of the opportunity to steal a lot of other things. They also took advantage of the fact that when the gangsters were sending more staff, they stole their hometown and saved those things as funds for future overseas trips.

The gangsters who returned victoriously had their homes stolen, but looking at the platinum and lead they stole, they felt that it was all worth it.

But when they got to where they usually exchange money, everything changed.

"Platinum lead? Who wants those things now? Don't you know they are poisonous!"

said he closed the window directly, and then handed out a newspaper from the crack of the door.

"See for yourself! If you are not afraid of death, just keep this thing!"

Overnight, platinum and lead have changed from a luxury item to a poison, not to mention invaluable, nowadays people are reluctant to even touch it.

Because of the Frevans incident, some people hoarded a lot of platinum and lead products. Looking at the rising prices, they were still laughing a few days ago, but today they can't even cry.

The platinum and lead products store also closed directly, and some people who sold platinum and lead also became panic, they dreamed that the tragedy of Freivans befalls them.

The platinum and lead warehouses are no longer guarded, because no one dares to ask for platinum and lead even if they are thrown on the street. The price of platinum and lead has fallen again and again, and now it is not even comparable to scrap iron.

And Tezzolo was waiting for this.

Some people who know the truth and part of the military industry will not miss this opportunity, so the price of platinum and lead cannot keep falling. At this time, it is the bargain price judged by Tezzolo.

On this day when platinum and lead plummeted, his team was divided into several teams to quietly acquire platinum and lead all over the world. NOvelUsB.com

Although platinum and lead all over the world put people at risk, it is not them that has the greatest impact, but the countries near Fravans.

The news of Morgans came very suddenly, and these royal families were not prepared at all. When they found out, the news had already reached the hands of the soldiers.

bump!

With a gunshot, a soldier fell to the ground, he did not violate any discipline, the shooter was himself.

In the previous Fravans operation, he killed a lot of people. Although he couldn't bear it, it was to save his country and his relatives. Although there was some psychological burden, it was acceptable.

But now, when the truth is revealed, when they know they shot innocent people, his mental defenses have collapsed. Thinking back on the innocent smiles of the children, he didn't know how to deal with them, so he took his own life with a gun.

This kind of thing happened a lot recently, which led the Royal Army to order the withdrawal of firearms to prevent a bigger accident, but the effect was not great, and a kind of pessimism began to spread in the military camp.

Some people think that this is nothing, they are just obeying, but there are also many people who can't accept it.

Even some officers are reaching their limits.

In the military camp, the officer here looked at the wine glass in front of him and added some purple liquid into it.

"Platinum lead. Platinum lead.. Let me experience your pain."

But when he was about to drink the poisonous wine, his arm was suddenly grabbed.

A man in a green cloak appeared here

Chapter 427 Revolution

"Are you here to kill me? Then you came too early, I just planned to finish it myself, wait for me if you don't mind."

An outsider appeared in his barracks, which was originally a very scary thing, but to him it didn't matter.

At this time, he already had the intention of death in his heart. How could a person who wanted to die be afraid of the threat of death?

"Do you think death can atone for sin?"

".What do you know! I gave that order! I ordered Fred to trick those kids into one place! I made him shoot!"

Fred was the soldier who had spoken to Sister Missu before, and he was also the soldier who committed suicide when he couldn't stand the pressure. However, his suicide shifted more pressure to his superiors.

The truth of Freyvans almost completely shattered his values. At this time, the other party's questioning became the last straw that crushed his heart.

He wanted to stand up, but suddenly a huge force came from his arm, making him unable to move at all, and a gust of wind suddenly blew in the military camp.

"You think you are guilty, but why don't you think about the root cause? The news that platinum-lead disease is an infectious disease was announced to you by the king. Do you think they really don't know the truth?"

"You are guilty, but death is not your way of atonement. The real culprit is still sitting on the throne. In his eyes, you are nothing but a tool for profit."

said that a file was taken out, and he had seen the news on it before. It was news that the kingdom was recruiting miners.

The above said that Fravans' virus had died, so he planned to continue mining platinum and lead, but Morgans broke the truth about platinum and lead, causing the plan to be stranded.

"Who are you?"

"You can call me a dragon, we are going to do something big, and here is a brand new beginning."

The green hood was taken off by him, revealing a face without eyebrows, with a somewhat ferocious expression, and a string of square thorn faces on the left face. The meaning of the pattern on it is unknown, but it seems to mean something.

Dragon, full name Monkey D. Long, the son of the hero Garp, the father of Luffy, after Luffy was born, he gradually disappeared, and even Garp didn't know where he ran to.

During this time, he was secretly planning a major event, a major event that would overthrow the entire world government.

During this time, he was looking for like-minded partners. At this time, his organization was still very small, but signs had already appeared. After he saw the situation of Fravans, he understood that this was an opportunity.

The country around Freivans was where his first official action took place.

"Big deal?"

"Although the king is a king, when this king no longer protects the people, but wants to drain the flesh and blood of the commoners, why should we let him continue to sit on the throne?"

As long as they continue to covet the interests of platinum and lead, then this matter will not stop, knock them down, and seal the mine of platinum and lead, so that the tragedy of Fravans will not continue.

This is not your fault, nor the fault of your soldiers. You have seen the ugly state of the king, do you still want to continue working for him? "

Long's words seemed to wake him up to something, but he was still hesitant.

"It's not over yet, these kings have to pay high heavenly gold in order to join the world government. As long as the heavenly gold still exists, such tragedies will keep happening.

Since you are not afraid of death, are you willing to join us? "

"If you can't break into the royal city, even if I can convince the soldiers under my command, there are stronger guards in the kingdom, you are just joking"

"How do you know if you haven't tried something? Speaking of which, if you're still not feeling well, do you need me to find a priest to listen to your confession?"

"Father?"

Before he could understand the meaning of the word, there was a sudden loud noise outside, a huge gap appeared in the solid city wall, and some soldiers with cloth strips on their heads also began to charge.

He hurried out of the tent and happened to see a tall man holding a Bible.

"Dragon, it has already begun."

He doesn't seem to like talking, and after saying this, he stands here like a stake. He is the partner that the dragon found in the South China Sea, the former King of Sobel Kingdom - Bartholomew Bear.

"Watch, join, or stop us, do whatever you want, the world is already windy!"

As the dragon's voice fell, a strong wind suddenly blew on the street, and a drizzle fell in the sky. After turning around, both the dragon and the bear disappeared, leaving only the soldiers who hurried to hear the movement. .

"Sir."

He returned to his tent after hesitating for a moment. When he picked up the phone bug, he happened to see the cloth strip left on the table.

"Yeah. The wind is blowing."

Picked up the cloth and wrapped it around his head, a battle began, and a team called the Revolutionary Army gradually appeared in people's field of vision.

is also in Beihai, and there are also many people who are following this news.

"嘖嘖嘖嘖嘖, you are so bold, do you dare to break out this kind of news? A hundred beasts, a hundred beasts, interesting, they are different from those guys who can only fight and kill."

Don Quixote family, Doflamingo reading the newspaper is laughing.

"Dover, do you want to try to get in touch with them?"

"They don't look down on us. In their eyes, we are nothing more than small shrimps. We continue to act according to the original plan. What about the platinum and lead we acquired?"

"The plan is very smooth, but there is an unknown force that is also buying a lot of platinum and lead. Do you want to do it? Dover?"

"No, you must have prepared for such sufficient funds. Now is not the time to offend these people who know the inside story. The world is becoming more and more interesting."

Many people's assets are very rich, but the cash flow is not necessarily. Now that the news has just fermented, these people have begun to acquire a large number of platinum and lead, or when the price of platinum and lead plummeted.

If there is no inside information, Doflamingo will not believe it, but if he can know the inside story, it is either the World Government or the initiator of this incident. If there is a conflict now, it is not in line with the development policy of his family.

In addition to Doflamingo Ming, many people in the Don Quixote family are reading newspapers, and baby-5 also found Luo with a newspaper.

"Nai, Nai, Luo, look, the country above is yours, why are you crying?"

As soon as she finished speaking, she was frightened away by Luo Yong's vicious eyes. After he escaped from Freyvens, he chose to join the Don Quixote family for revenge. At this time, he saw the truth about Freyvens being stabbed. Broken, inevitably a little excited. noVelusb.Com

This matter is fermenting all over the world, and preparations for the launch of Hundred Animal Fruits are almost ready.

Chapter 428 The Crooked Nun, Morgens' News Live

In order to achieve the highest benefit, you need to let the news gradually ferment, and come up with follow-up things when it intensifies.

Tezzolo had already left Onishima with Sister Misu, and he was communicating with the other party at this time.

"This is a live broadcast. It's a little different from what I said before. In order to carry out the plan smoothly, this time I can't mention the issue of the world government too much, do you understand?"

Originally, Tezzolo had already made up his mind to convince the other party. In his opinion, Misu, who had gone through all that, might not be able to figure it out.

But it turns out that he was overthinking it.

"I understand that the moment of judgment will come sooner or later, this is just a foreshadowing, the judgment of the Lord will come eventually"

"That. You're a nun, aren't you?"

"Yes, Mr. Tezzolo, what's the problem?"

"Why do I think you're more of a lunatic like the Inquisition?"

Tezzolo doesn't believe in religion, but he has seen other missionaries, and he has also seen the battle between the so-called heresy trials. Those people are all mad believers, and they are not afraid of anything when they talk about their own beliefs. go hard.

If it wasn't for the island world of the pirates, the religious forces had not been able to improve, and only religions that depended on the world government could develop a certain scale, then the religious problem would become a scourge.

But the world government has no interest in this either, it just treats them as a special group.

"I talked to Miss Shaina, and I think her concept is right. What the world needs is a purification."

Now Tezzolo knows why. A nun whose faith had collapsed met another mad believer when she rebuilt her faith. This mad believer is still a martial artist who advocates revenge.

And then a kind nun changed like this, but the good news is that she hasn't turned into a lunatic like the Inquisition.

"By the way, Mr. Tezzolo, I have been discussing the doctrine with Miss Shaina recently, are you interested in listening to it?"

"This next time, let's take a look at the lines first. This is also the order of Lord Arceus."

"Well, it's a pity."

The advantage of this kind of fanatical believers is here, as long as they have something to do with their beliefs, they will cooperate very well, and the troubles are also here.

For example, if someone said something wrong in front of Shaina, unless Arceus stopped her, Shaina would definitely flip the table on the spot. Ulti was taught a good lesson before she learned to behave.noVelusB.com can beat an arrogant mouth, which shows how powerful this is.

He also heard that Misu is practicing boxing with Shaina recently. Although he is old, he is estimated to be a violent person in the future.

He has already imagined some slightly terrifying ways of preaching.

According to the eternal pointer given by Morgans, Tezzolo brought Misu to an unknown island. This kind of island is not uncommon in the sea. In the long history, the positions of many islands have changed. And the world government has erased a lot of history.

This is especially true for the blank 100 years, coupled with the unique geographical environment of the Great Route, through special ocean currents, some islands have become isolated islands, and ordinary recording pointers cannot detect their magnetic fields.

To find this place, you need a special pointer. This is one of Morgans' many strongholds. Although he can't find these islands, the newsbird can detect the existence of these islands with its unique magnetic field perception ability.

These hidden strongholds are also an important factor in his rise.

"Wow hahaha, welcome, welcome, the live broadcast is ready."

Before the press conference of Beasts and Fruits, Morgans also had a live broadcast, which was similar to the live broadcast of the war on the top, but it was not that large.

Although Tezzolo unclogged the joints, it was only limited to the product launch conference, and those officials would not dare to take the matter of poking the backbone of the world government face to face.

It is impossible for the world government to use official power to help this kind of thing. It is the best attitude to keep silent and make a statement after the incident.

In addition, Morgans has the greatest energy in this area.

"Lights! Make-up! Hurry up to work! Sister Missu, come here, you have to put on a little make-up."

The phone bugs are awakened, and the pens in the World Economic News Agency are also ready to write their own manuscripts. Although they have written some articles according to the information, the live broadcast may change, and they will follow the feedback from various places. Rewrite.

The makeup of the characters was different from usual due to the need to be on the mirror and the lighting. The two girls quickly prepared the base makeup, and then made a gesture with Morgans.

As the president of the World Economic News Agency, Morgans is also the number one reporter and part-time host here.

"Cough, dear viewers, welcome to this rare live broadcast, you must have seen our newspaper, but we found a more exciting news today, we accidentally found the survivor of the Fravans incident, Mi Sister Su!

Even though she looks healthy now, in fact, she was a patient of platinum-lead disease a few months ago. Let this nun describe the specific situation to us. " said that, Morgans gave the camera to Missu.

"I left Fravans earlier because of church matters, but I didn't expect to hear the news of the blockade from Fravans outside.

Afterwards, I fell ill when I was staying at a friend's house. My friend mistook me for an infectious disease because of the fake news. ."

This is a slightly modified experience. The nun's long narrative did not attract much attention, but Morgans has been making some hot topics to maintain the heat.

As time is almost up, the key topic this time came out.

"Their doctor cured the platinum-lead disease"

As soon as this statement came out, some doctors and scholars who were concerned about this matter showed an impossible expression. After all, they had already established the fact that platinum-lead disease had no solution.

But as the camera turned, Tezzolo had already appeared here, and he also put some papers in front of the phone bug's eyes.

"I know you may not believe this, but here is a detailed treatment report and analysis paper, which will be released as a news attachment to the newspaper tomorrow.

Although platinum lead is toxic, our expert team has successfully found a way to treat this disease after a long period of cracking.

Whether it is onset or incubation period, our medicine can have a good effect. We will hold a product launch conference in half a month, and we will announce the specific details of all this. "

Tezzolo gave the final details, the last step before their profit plan.

Chapter 429 The Press Conference of Beasts and Fruits

"It's over! Little ones! Don't be idle, it's time to move!"

The live phone bug was closed, but none of the backbones of the World Economic News Agency stopped, but started the hot air balloon at the headquarters to prepare to transfer the island.

Even if Tezzolo cleared up some relations, it still failed to resolve all the relational factions in the world government. If he could really make all officials listen to him, then he would not be in this position.

To be on the safe side, he kept firing a shot and changing places.

"Would you like to transfer with us? Although you can't take you to your destination, it's okay to drop you halfway."

Morgens also has a number of hidden strongholds. The news this time made him willing to give up a stronghold, because it is enough to shake the waves of the world, but the following strongholds cannot be discovered by these outsiders.

"No, we have our own transfer method."

Then Tezzolo took Misu and left here by boat, and on the boat, some people had been waiting for a long time.

"Chabu, Chabu."

An almost doll took its ear from a radar-like instrument. The world of pirates already has radar technology, but it is rarely used in ordinary times, and a large number of wooden sailboats cannot carry this kind of equipment at all.

The crooked technology tree makes pure ironclad ships very rare here. This semi-living radar is also improved according to the characteristics of the doll, and it does not find other ships approaching here.

"Let's go, the flight is tight."

A man dressed like Masked Rider urged Tezzolo to set sail quickly, this was actually Jhin, but he changed his clothes, and staying in Wano country every day was not in line with his character, so when the manpower was sufficient. He still comes out occasionally.

The reason why he came is because in this world with severe face blindness, some people's eyes are almost white, especially the photographers' organization.

Say that they are weak, but they are unscientific. They can get photos of various battlefields, various angles, and various powerful monsters, and they all survived.

Say they are strong, but they are outrageous. They forget to take off the lens cap and can't find the real body. This kind of thing happens from time to time. Jin, Kelijia, and Shaina are all examples.

Their true faces have never been discovered, Shaina and Jhin are masks after all, and the Cracker and the arrest warrant are just cookie shells.

This kind of task Olga is the most suitable, but there is a problem in the first half, her show business career has been advanced, and she is planning an action there at this time.

So Jhin changed into a new set of leather clothes, and Tutu Dog dyed him a color. When the flames on his back were extinguished, almost no one could recognize him as Jhin, and his companions were also the Koga Ninja frogs that had never been exposed. Newcomer to meet.

When the people of the beasts moved towards the scheduled address of the press conference, groups of doctors and some scholars all over the world were excited.

"Platinum lead disease has been conquered? How is it possible? How on earth did they do it?"

"Teacher! Your conjecture is correct. Platinum-lead disease is not an infectious disease, but an ore disease. Someone has confirmed it!"

Shocked or sighed, doctors from all over the world reacted the most to this. A terminal illness recognized by the medical community has been completely overcome. This is undoubtedly a major earthquake in the medical community.

At the same time, there are people who dismiss this as a lie, and want to expose this kind of speech that deceives the world, so as to prove themselves.

Some doctors are there to save people, and some are more concerned about their own reputation. The Beasts and Fruits made such a big move, this is a natural opportunity for them.

According to the address and date announced by Tezzolo, those who can get there have already taken action, and those who can't get there or don't have time have begun to ask others to go there instead of them.

The live broadcast and subsequent newspapers are completely different from what was brought on the scene.

On the day of the launch of Hundred Beast Fruits, many reporters and professionals from all walks of life have come here. As time passed, Tezzolo appeared here on time, and as soon as he came up, he threw a blockbuster.

"Everyone, I know you have a lot of questions. Seeing is believing. Next, we will announce our research content. This is a breakthrough that our professional team has worked hard for for several years!"

Then he used the projection phone bug to put out a large picture, and that was the molecular structure of platinum and lead. Tezzolo himself couldn't understand what happened after that. All in all, the molecular structure was completely destroyed.

"If you have professionals, you should be able to understand what this means. This is our method of treating platinum-lead disease, solving platinum-lead disease from the root cause and allowing it to be smoothly excreted from the body."

But the atmosphere off the court was different from what Tezzolo thought. Many doctors couldn't understand what was going on, while those who studied mineral metals were whispering and seemed to be nervously checking something.

"Is that so? We were thinking wrong before?"

"Yeah, if it does work, but.. how did they do it?"

"I don't know, what the heck is this? Why is this possible?"

The scene gradually became noisy, and Tezzolo showed a satisfied smile. This scene is right.

"Mr. Tezzolo! How did you guys do it!" ηοηelus&.com

"Mr. Tezzolo! How did you discover this substance!"

One question after another came up, and Tezzolo also came up with the paper.

"Everyone, don't worry, the detailed process is recorded in the paper, and we will publish it next. Except for a little bit of confidentiality, the methods and principles are all shared!"

then signaled the assistant to distribute the prepared things to everyone, and the people below were also passing it on in various ways, and even Bergapunk's laboratory got a piece of information.

But Vegapunk is not interested in this, so it is still Caesar Courant who is browsing this thing. Although he has no morals, he is very talented in chemical materials.

Soon he automatically filtered the nonsense parts and found the key parts.

"There is no problem with the principle, and it does destroy the mechanism of platinum and lead, but what is this thing?"

What they announced is not important at all, because many things are based on this principle, the key is the substance that destroys the platinum-lead structure, and Caesar can't understand what it is.

It's not just him, everyone who sees the material can't understand.

In fact, even Quinn, the author of the paper, didn't know what substance it was, because he wrote it upside down according to the process of Tianse condensing platinum and lead.

That power belongs to Pokémon, something that has never been seen in this world.

Chapter 430 Choice

This mysterious power has also become a key factor for them to crack the platinum-lead disease, but Caesar has seen other things in it. Being able to destroy platinum and lead in this way means that they can use platinum and lead.

If he incorporates platinum and lead into his weapon, his weapon power will definitely be further enhanced.

"Hey la la la la, it's really a big discovery. But why do I feel so familiar with the way this paper is written?"

Caesar, who was going to study this kind of thing, felt a little wrong. This way of writing made him feel familiar, but it was a little different, and soon he completely forgot about it.

On the site of the press conference, the original treatment diary also began to be played at 3x speed. Since no one developed the p-picture technology here, the image data was defaulted to be real.

In the beginning, the symptoms of the platinum-lead disease in Misu were too obvious, even if it was just the data, people could see it at a glance.

"Miss Misu is also here today. You are all leaders in the medical field. You can give her a physical examination. You are all aware of the effects of platinum-lead disease.

But now she is a very healthy person. There are some medical equipment on site, so you can do a medical examination in person. "

He has already announced the treatment report before, and the cases sorted out by the doctors of the entire Beast Pokémon Center have no loopholes, but these people may not believe this.

After waiting for the results of the medical examination, various factors have proved this, and now there is only one question left, that is, what is the mysterious element that they use to treat platinum-lead disease.

"Mr. Tezzolo, what is that purple liquid on Miss Misu's face during treatment? Is it the reason you treat platinum-lead disease?"

"Cough, that's just an experimental drug. We have already made a more complete breakthrough. Next is the main topic of this time, the drug for the treatment of platinum-lead disease."novelus.com

Then a pile of plain white pills was taken out.

"After the analysis of our experts, although handling platinum-lead and the like is harmless, long-term use of platinum-lead products and platinum-lead condiments may be affected. This drug is specially used to treat platinum-lead disease, and the earlier the treatment, the better the effect.

Each course of treatment only sells 5 million Baileys, and 12 courses of treatment can cure the disease! "

Twelve courses of treatment are not in line with profitability. Of course, the best medicine is the special medicine that cures the disease. There are such medicines, and they are the same in any world, but such medicines are not welcomed by pharmaceutical companies.

They will deliberately adjust the efficacy of the drug, because for them, inhibition is more important than treatment. It is good to take the medicine, and the disease will occur when the drug is stopped. This kind of medicine is the most profitable.

But that's not Tezzolo's profit policy. If Stella is dead, he will never care about this method, as long as he can make money, but now it's different, he still has a little conscience in his heart.

There are many ways to make money. His purpose is to use special drugs to make a name, and then use long-term health care drugs to make money, such as special ingredients extracted from tree fruits.

Tree fruit has many functions. The special tree fruit that improves physical fitness is naturally an internal product. Even the medicines for export are inferior versions mixed with water, but there are many other effects.

For example, beauty and hair care, smoothing the skin, etc. These are the money-making ideas of their medical department.

Of course, five million Baileys, twelve courses of treatment, are already too expensive for many people, and some people have put forward their opinions below.

"Mr. Tezzolo, don't you think the price is too high?"

"Is it high? Everyone, you all know one thing, this is the difficulty that our people have paid a lot of hard work to overcome."

mainly refers to the fact that Quinn accidentally soiled the paper while eating rice cake azuki bean soup, then burned it when drying it, and had to boil it for two days to rewrite it.

"We paid a lot of costs here."

mainly refers to Dianxi eating two Pokemon Baofen when he fused platinum and lead.

"We need more funding to research more effective drugs."

refers to paying Naiqin some salary, and then she combines some new herbs according to the properties of the tree fruit.

But Tezzolo's words were indeed believed by the people present, but his last sentence was a little bit heart-wrenching.

"And you can think about it, poor people, can they afford platinum and lead? Will those who can afford platinum and lead care about this little money? Of course, we are not robbery, so you can choose not to buy it.

Anyway, the probability of platinum-lead disease is not 100%, but the fatality rate is as high as 100%."

Although there is a case of Misu, the mortality rate of platinum-lead disease is indeed very high. Without this special medicine, there is no solution at all.

"Okay everyone, this is the end of today's press conference. This drug has been approved by the world government and will be sold tomorrow. It's up to you to buy it or not."

I have said all that has to be said, naturally there is no intention to continue to prescribe it, and this medicine is also mixed with some tree fruit ingredients, which can make people's complexion better. It can be said to be a powerful health care product.

With the daily living habits of those nobles, they will definitely get better after eating it, and it is what Tezzolo wants to see when they use this medicine as a health care product.

The huge capital flow began to flow into the beasts and fruits.

Because they had already fed the people above, the actions of Hundred Beasts and Fruits were not disturbed at this time, but an announcement from the public relations department of the world government turned some people into mice that everyone shouted and beat.

This matter always has someone to bear the blame, and the Fravans royal family who escaped early naturally became the one to bear the blame.

As for why they took the blame, they honestly took the blame, and they were just yelling at everyone. With the huge assets they brought out, they would have nothing to do, but if they dared to pierce the window paper, CPO would be smashed tonight. Greeted him at the bedside.
