Chapter 431 Quinn, who is scientifically inclined by himself

these people really dare to say, Torrepol, how is the situation outside?"

"It seems that someone is asking pharmacies for similar drugs, and the price of platinum and lead has also begun to recover, but the recovery is limited."

"The action is really fast. The price should increase a little bit, but it will definitely not return to the previous state. Get ready to contact the buyer."

Even if all kinds of animals and fruits have overcome the platinum-lead disease, the fact that platinum and lead are poisonous cannot be changed. It can be seen that the frequency of platinum-lead use will inevitably decrease in the future, and only the military industry is still inseparable from him.

However, they can still make a lot of money by almost buying the bottom.

"By the way, what about that kid?"

"Did you mean Luo? It seemed like I was watching the live broadcast just now."

"Call him over."

Brother Doflaming still had some interest in this new kid who joined his pirate group, because at that time he saw a very interesting look from Luo's body, looking to destroy the world.

At this time, Luo has joined the Don Quixote Pirates, but Ronandi has not communicated with him yet. At this time, Luo Nandiyi is still a mute in the eyes of everyone. NovELus&.cOM

And Luo was also cultivated by Doflamingo as a new generation. Although he only had three years left in his life, if he was lucky, he might not be able to survive. This is what Doflamingo said when he joined.

There are not many people who know the inside story of platinum and lead, but Doflamingo happens to be one of them. The main business of the Don Quixote Pirates is black market trading, and the reselling of devil fruits is one of the main transactions.

Although the current trading scope is only in the North Sea, they have already begun to expand to the great route.

The pie that Doflamingo painted for Luo was that it was possible to find the devil fruit that could cure him.

As the most experienced devil fruit deliveryman in the sea, he knows very well which fruit can cure Luo, and that fruit is his goal - the fruit of surgery, a magical fruit that can perform immortal surgery on others in records.

"Dover, Luo brought it."

Luo, with a bruised nose and a swollen face, was brought here. In this respect, the Don Quixote family is a bit similar to the beasts, and they are cultivating new generations inside.

Rao G taught taijutsu, Gradius taught shooting, and Diamanti taught swordsmanship, but the effect was far worse than Kaido's training.

"Luo, you should have seen the news and live broadcasts."

"I see."

"Unfortunately, I'm going to throw a bowl of cold water on you, because that's not your life-saving straw, and it's probably fake."

He thought it was fake because he knew the inside story of platinum-lead disease, and he wasn't sure it was fake because he couldn't talk about medical issues, but the way in which the animals made money made him feel very strange.

If it is really effective, reduce some prices, let those who are engaged in porter work buy medicines together, and change to long-term medication benefits is the highest.

But they obviously wanted to make a fortune and make some kind of name at the same time, which didn't serve as his evidence, but he could trust his intuition.

"How is that possible? Sister Misu clearly survived.."

"Oh? Is that nun really a Fravans?"

"Yes, she has been living in Fravans, and I saw her in a pool of blood when she ran away"

Speaking of this, Luo suddenly stopped, he briefly ignored this because of excitement, the nun in the newspaper said that he was not in Freivans, but he saw the nun who was shot with his own eyes.

"嗚嗚嗚嗚, Luo, someone is lying, your eyes are deceiving you, or, it's a scam in itself, do you know what kind of business Bai Beast Fruit is?"

"do not know."

"The white gloves of the pirates, the gold-absorbing tool of the Beasts Pirates, they are the three big monster pirates of the new world. The pirates call them the emperor of the sea, and the words of the pirates cannot be believed casually.

But I'm not sure if this is true or not, you can try this drug, but I won't pay for you unless you can prove that your value exceeds the 60 million Baileys of the total course of treatment. "

60 million is not a small amount. At this time, Luo could not prove his worth, but Doflamingo regarded this as a test, and he handed Luo an address.

"This family often uses platinum and lead products, and they are likely to buy medicines. It is up to you to persuade others to help you."

But the change is faster than the plan. Just when he wanted to see what Luo would do, a warning suddenly came from outside.

"Not good Dover, those navies are catching up again!"

"How can it be so fast? Don't care, retreat first!"

Because he was always disturbed by the navy, he had sent his undercover agent to the navy some time ago, but recently the navy has always been able to track him down, which made him a little tiresome.

At this time, he had not thought that his younger brother had become an undercover agent of the Navy, sending information to the Navy from time to time.

Also in the North Sea, the dragon's cause achieved great success. Under the impetus of the Fravans incident, the kings of the two nearby kingdoms lost a lot of popular support.

Coupled with the leadership of two powerful people, Xiong and Long, the palace was quickly captured. This revolution was a success, and Long also absorbed many key members in this operation.

The special medicines of all kinds of animal fruits are selling well, and the new department has also improved, and many people are trying to crack the medicine.

There is no patent protection law here, and there is a black market everywhere. The underground world doesn't care about that kind of thing at all, and they do what they do to make money.

It's just that the key ingredient in it has never been cracked, and this ingredient is also regarded by them as the key to cracking the drug.

Not everyone can't crack it. In order to research new weapons, Caesar has been cracking that thing all these days. If he can work in the scientific force of the World Government, he naturally has his own abilities.

also analyzed what it was, but that was where he was puzzled.

"Why are the carbon elements arranged in this way? The carbon elements arranged in this way have this effect??? This is * unscientific!"

The world view he established in the past has almost collapsed. Although the composition there is very complicated, similar plants or Chinese herbal medicines can still be found in those components.

Only this crystal, he couldn't understand it at all.

It's not just him, many people who have studied to this point have some weird ideas.

And this is what Quinn guided Dianxi to come up with according to Arceus's request. Carbon is not only compressed into diamonds. Dianxi's ability plus the unscientific power of Pokémon, this mysterious That's how crystals were born.

Quinn swore that if someone could crack this thing, he would never eat rice cake adzuki bean soup in his life.

Chapter 432 World Conference and Shichibukai

The influence of the beasts and fruits is still going on, and the scientific and medical circles have had a big earthquake because of this, especially those who study carbon elements even think that they have discovered a unique big secret treasure.

Everyone wants to study that crystal, but that crystal is very unstable, so their research progress is very slow.

But this matter is nothing to the world government, because this year's world conference has begun.

On the red earth continent, the huge cross of the world government is very dazzling. This is the red port, the place where you can legally cross the red earth continent. Most of the kings of the countries that are eligible to participate in the world conference have arrived here at this time.

This is the most heavily guarded place of the navy. The top is Mary Joey, and the two sides of the red earth continent are Marin Vando and the G1 branch of the Navy. The generals who stay at the headquarters can support Mary Joe in a very short period of time in the event of an accident. Asia.

Coupled with the strong garrison force there, Mary Joa has never had a problem for hundreds of years.

The ship flying the flag of Alabasta quickly approached the port under the * of the navy, and the reporters below quickly made way.

"King Cobra, please this way."

Neferutali Kobra, the king of the desert kingdom of Alabasta, is the most special of the many kings who participated in the World Conference.

Because his ancestors were one of the original twenty kings, but they refused to move into Mary Joa, but stayed in Alabasta.

He could have become a dragon man, but his ancestors gave up the opportunity.

This is also within the influence of the Chambord Islands, so the coating technology can still be used. With the coating and ropes, a special elevator called the Bubble Cable Car was built here, which is also a common method for people to cross the red soil continent.

It was not the first time for Cobra to come here. Standing on the rising cable car, he had no fear at all, but when he turned his head to look at the red soil continent, he found that he seemed to be blind.

"Guard, do you see something there?" novelUsb.cOm

"Nothing, King Cobra, what's the matter?"

"Maybe it's dazzling, I seem to see a snake made of stones."

"It's windy outside, you may have lost your eyes, come here and rest for a while."

When the bubble cable car disappeared, the stones on the rock wall fell, and a big blue and black rock snake stuck out its head, looked around, then drilled back and blocked the original gap .

Kobra didn't have dazzling eyes. What he saw was the big rock snake that had dug here. They had already found the location of a lot of mines, but this time they dug too much.

After a long staircase, they came to the Holy Land Mary Joa, where there is a "automatic" self-propelled road, but in fact that kind of thing does not exist at all, and under those automatic elevators are ragged slaves.

The brilliance of Mary Joa is built on their flesh and blood, but all this is unknown, and people can only see the bright and beautiful appearance here.

"The Kingdom of Ballywood - John Burger is here!"

"Taji Kingdom - Queen Monrolon is here!"

"The Kingdom of Passing Leisure-King Yumibing arrives!"

In Maryjoa's Council of Kings, fifty kings took their seats one after another. This is the place where the kings of the Vorka Kingdom wanted to enter.

Around the huge round table, they began to discuss one thing after another.

"You people in the land of flowers are very welcome, that green pepper seems to be looking for something everywhere."

"That's not my order, it's entirely his own decision."

The king of the land of flowers is communicating with another king. This is the world conference. The conflicts that occur here may even lead to war after returning to the country, so even if you have an opinion on the behavior of the other party, it is just a discussion.

"Stop talking about those irrelevant things. I heard that there was a rebellion around Frevans. Those people called themselves the Revolutionary Army?"

"It's just a rebellion, it's nothing, it's just a few small countries. Is it necessary to say it at this time?"

"That's right, let's move on to the next topic."

The leader of the meeting skipped this topic, fifty kings would take turns to be the leader, and the topic of discussion was also the motion submitted by each king in advance.

Today's revolutionary army is an ordinary rebellion in their eyes. At this time, they do not understand the word revolution, nor do they realize how much influence the revolutionary army will have.

"There have been more and more pirates over the years. How are you doing?"

"Fortunately, it wasn't affected."

"We are not very good, the location is too bad, and the protection of the navy is not enough. I heard that Alabasta is very good because of the Qiwuhai environment?"

At this time, Crocodile has come to Alabasta according to various information. As one of the current kings of the seven seas, he has the right to stay in the territory of the alliance, as long as he does not attack the alliance.

And for his future goals, Crocodile is building his reputation, and he is now fighting pirates every day.

The desert environment is his natural home ground. Even if he has fought in the new world, even if he loses the strength of his heart, he is not something that those rookies who have just entered the great route can deal with.

Alabasta was surprisingly calm for a time, and Crocodile almost became a hero in the kingdom.

Some kings even thought it was a good thing.

When they were discussing this topic, inside Mary Joa, the five old stars were also discussing the same topic.

"There are more and more pirates, and there is still only one person in the Qiwuhai under the king. This organization should be filled."

"Beasts, Whitebeard, BIG·MOM, the influence of these guys is getting bigger and bigger, especially if the beasts let them develop, is it really good?"

"It's just a company, and it can't make any waves. Isn't it much better for pirates who are willing to do business than simple chaos? The case of Fravans shows that these people know how to advance and retreat."

"They occupied Wano country, that secret should be kept below. If they are there, other pirates can't get there."

Several of the Five Old Stars talked about this matter one by one, but in their opinion, the so-called emperor of the sea was just playing a small game.

"The strength of the navy also seems to be a bit inflated, and the three nature-based abilities have made some of their actions cross the line."

"That's why I said it, the system of Shichibukai should also be completed. Do you have any ideas?"

"Moonlight Moriah, the person who fought against Kaido and retreated back then, I think he is a good choice, and his ability is reasonable."

"Navy hunter, that guy has lost a lot of face to the navy. I heard that swordsmanship is very powerful."

Sometimes pushing books. It is a kind of interpersonal communication. If you are not satisfied, take it easy.

(Can't reply to comments, the Great Forbidden Word is estimated to be a week away.)

Chapter 433 Blank throne, weird smile

The Seven Wuhai Project had a plan a long time ago, but the situation in the sea at that time was not so complicated, especially after the Lox was just wiped out, the situation on the sea was exactly what they wanted to see.

Chaos can transfer contradictions and achieve the goals of the world government today. What they want is a special order under chaos, so that their so-called classes can be better distinguished.

But with Roger as king and the rise of monsters, the balance has been broken.

The definition of Qiwuhai is that it is better to be deficient than excessive. Although the navy has the right to deploy them, the Qiwuhai does not belong to the navy, but is a legal pirate certified by the world government.

They were chosen to interfere with the order and balance of the sea, not to gain reputation. This is also the reason why the world government wanted to eliminate Moria after the defeat of Moria on the original timeline.

Because he is too embarrassed for the world government to live.

"Crocodahl did a good job. If you look at it this way, it is indeed necessary to step up the search for personnel."

After a short discussion, two places were selected.

Moriah and Mihawk.

Moriah is because of his battle with Kaido at the beginning. As Kaido's reputation is getting stronger and stronger, Moriah who fought with him at the beginning also attracted a certain amount of attention.

But Moriah doesn't like this title very much. He once fought with Kaido. This description is a permanent scar in his heart.

As for Mihawk, his most famous name now is not Hawkeye or the world's largest swordsman, but a naval hunter.

As a lone ranger, he does everything according to his preferences, and a bad mood can be the reason for him to hunt down others, but there has always been a rumor that anyone who sees him rowing will arouse his pursuit.

Although he has a lot of navy blood in his hands, the world government doesn't care about this, because he has enough fame to deter some pirates, and can also give the navy a wake-up call to let them understand their status.

Under the discussions of these five people, the two bats left Mary Joa with a special letter. Just like Morgens trained a large number of news birds, the world government also has its own exclusive communication tool - the book bat.

This kind of bat will send the message according to the address and search for its own target. It has always been a good helper for them to transmit messages internally.

Shibukai, which has a great influence on the outside world, is just a matter of a few words for these people, and they also don't care about the future development of the world that the kings talk about.

"The lord didn't wake up."

"This is the best, the current appearance is not what the person wants to see, but it is not up to us to decide whether to liquidate, let's go, it's time to swear allegiance."

The five people walked towards the most mysterious flower of Mary Joa, which they do every time the world meets.

Even other kings have to do the same, because there is an empty throne in Mary Joa that no one has ever sat on, and the world government insists that no one can sit on it.

Because this throne represents the oath of equality among the kingdoms and never gives birth to a dictatorial heart, and there are twenty weapons scattered around the throne, which are the weapons left by the original 20 kings.

This throne is called a symbol of peace, and it also indicates a concept of world government, there is no unique king in this world.

But only the real ruler of the Five Old Stars knows that it is not that no one has ever sat on it, but that the owner of the throne is not here at this time.

The World Conference will continue for some time, and they will discuss a lot of things every four years. Some countries will even start marriages on this. Princesses and princes of many countries will come here with the king.

The transportation and communication on the sea is not convenient. If you don't take advantage of this world conference, you may not have the opportunity to communicate in the future. If you can become one of the participants of the world conference, the national strength of their country is relatively strong among the participating countries. Naturally, some agreements have to be reached through this.

And these agreements are likely to hurt the interests of some countries that did not participate in the conference, but no one cares about that, let alone those countries, even the 50 countries participating in the world conference are not static.

50 countries participating in the World Conference, with a total of more than 170 member states, plus some countries to be visited that want to join, these countries together form the world government.

The competition here is similar to the competition within the pirate group. If you want to get more benefits, you have to climb up. The king of the Vorka Kingdom squeezed his head and wanted to participate in this meeting because of this.

"The revolutionary army is very dangerous. I think they should be wanted worldwide. This force is a contempt for the royal power!"

"King Lucas, you are too cautious. It's just a rebellion. It's just that the outbreak of platinum lead makes it difficult for them to deal with it. There is no possibility that the Fravans incident will happen a second time, so there is no need to worry."

"Yeah, even the special medicine has come out, what's there to be afraid of?"

Most of the kings believed that the revolutionary army had nothing to fear, and missed the best opportunity to nip them in the bud.

As for the specific drug, from the time of the release of the animal fruit product to the world conference, this drug has been widely circulated. After layers of testing, this drug has been determined to be harmless, and in vitro experiments are also effective.

This drug can indeed change platinum and lead in a specific environment, but this is not important, because the external platinum and lead are not complicated to smelt or remove, but the principle of this drug to remove platinum and lead from the body has not yet been studied. .

and the strange arrangement of carbon elements have also become new topics for many people. For example, Caesar, as a gas fruit power user, is very interested in this structure, but the known scientific methods cannot explain this unscientific existence.

In the end, it even gave Vega Punk some time to study for a while by the third body.novelUsb.cOm

"Interesting, interesting ideas"

But he did not give a conclusion, just left such an evaluation.

The progress of the World Conference also has a certain relationship with the pirates. Many pirates are taking the opportunity to plan looting plans, and the navy has also expanded the scale of its cruising. If something happens to the king on the way to the World Conference, their faces will not hang. .

On the island of Oni, Yamato found a helmet from somewhere and put it on his head, with holes for the horns, because a very unreasonable thing happened today.

This morning her morning workout was canceled and everyone else was training normally, this kind of thing was too abnormal for her, she even saw Kaido, but Kaido just showed a meaningful smile, but nothing did not do.

Just such a move has been making her nerves tense for hours

Chapter 434 True Immersive Virtual Reality

According to common sense, it is normal for a stick to smash, or a burst of heat to spray. If you are in a good mood, it may be a baptism of overlord color, and an airborne attack of armed color. Yamato will not find it strange.

Only Kaido did nothing, which made her unacceptable.

Because of her cognitive concept, Kaido would never do such a thing. Everyone is on vacation. She is almost alone in class, so how can she take a vacation by herself.

"Today is not a birthday. No one sailed the instructor and did not say there is a new course."novelUsb.cOm

Yamato-exclusive feature: When facing Kaido, the intelligence will be temporarily full, and all the details will not be missed.

At this time, she was recalling the details, but she didn't find anything, which made her panic even more. This tension continued until noon. When Maria and the others started their lunch break, she still looked around vigilantly.

"Hey, do you take your No. 5 for dinner?"

"It's not a number five, it's a number six."

Facing Ulti's doubts, she first corrected the problem with the number of the mace. Ah Jian 5.0 did not die suddenly, it just became unsuitable for her with the growth of Yamato, and it was the second one after No. 1 A mace for a smooth retirement.

As for the sixth, which inherited the will of the fifth, it has been enhanced in size and weight.

"I have a very bad feeling right now that there's no way my father's guy will do nothing."

"Well, that pervert is indeed not a normal person."

Ulti rarely refuted her, and reached a consensus that Kaido is a pervert.

Under the high pressure, even her appetite was affected, and she only ate food for five adults.

"Yamato? Why are you so nervous?"

"Foster father, you don't know, my father actually let me take a holiday alone today. This is too abnormal. There must be a conspiracy in it."

Until Arceus appeared, her nervous state was relieved, but she was still vigilant about her surroundings, and her own knowledge was also fully released, trying to capture the breath of Kaido that could appear at any time.

But this is of no use, her domineering is far worse than Kaido's domineering, Kaido can use stronger domineering every time to avoid Yamato's perception, and then give her a surprise attack.

"I know, I asked him to tell you that you are on holiday today. I went to prepare something and didn't take time. Didn't he tell you?"

He went to prepare a special trial for Yamato, and because it was time-consuming, he had no time to do it for the time being, so he asked Kaido to tell Yamato.

Kaido did tell Arceus what he said, but he only told half of it, which eventually caused Yamato to be nervous all morning.

Needless to say, Kaido did it on purpose, he knew that Yamato was very wary of him, so he took advantage of this directly, and gave no hints after giving an abnormal answer, which eventually led to this result.

"Why so I wasted my vacation?"

The time of vacation is always short, especially after I wasted my vacation, the feeling of heartache is indescribable.

She probably won't be as good as Kai in her life, but Arceus didn't give her time to think about it.

"Don't think about it, come with me, this is a course specially prepared for you."

This sentence is not wonderful for Yamato, courses and training have completely different concepts, and she has no interest in the so-called courses.

"Foster father, I think it would be better for my father to give me some extra training. Forget about the class.."

"Don't worry, this time will definitely be more fun for you than the class, but you'd better be mentally prepared, after all, I made a promise with your father."

"what?"

"If you succeed this time, the rest of the year will be holidays, but if you fail, prepare for his special training in hell."

The rest of the year is running out, but this agreement successfully aroused her interest. Before the holiday, she selectively ignored Kaido's * training and left with Arceus excitedly.

As for Arceus and Kaido making an agreement with her future, she did not refute it, she was already used to this state of dictatorship.

Under the leadership of Arceus, she came to the top of Fujiyama, which is the highest point in Wano. On weekdays, the top of Fujiyama was hidden in clouds and mist, and the outside world could not see the situation above. Even Yamato was the first time to climb the mountain. Top Vine Mountain.

"Father, why are you here?"

She is not afraid of cold in the state of Dakou True God, and the severe cold here is no different from normal temperature to her.

"Because this is your brand new trial site."

Following the direction of Arceus' gaze, she saw several slates. In the past, those slates were collected by Arceus. Unless they were creating new Pokémon, they would not appear in the outside world.

But at this time, several slates were stuck in the snow, three in the middle, five around, and eight slates were outside at this time.

"Your big mouth God is only part of the power, I told you before, it's a carrier.

And it is up to you whether you can bear the full strength. You should have some feelings after going out for such a trip. Now it is time for you to try it and stand in the middle. "

Yamato came to the middle of the slate array according to Arceus's instructions, and poked the slate curiously.

"Don't move around, relax, what you see next is your trial."

"Wait, foster father, tell me what the trial is first!"

She didn't get a response this time, because the slate around her had already flashed light, thunder, lightning, flame, dragon power, three forces that directly brought her consciousness to a special space.

At the same time, the surrounding slates were also moved, and the force that fused the slates together stabilized.

This is the unknown trial that Yamato could not get an answer to, the test of ideals and reality for her.

At this point her consciousness has come to a unique space, and in short, her game has changed from dodgeball and battle royale to virtual reality.

It is a big project to nurture a divine beast of complete power, but it is much simpler to nurture the power of consciousness first.

Since he transformed the true God of Oguchi, he has nurtured the consciousness bodies of Zekrom and Lysiram on the Dragon Stone Tablet, and their consciousness bodies are almost the same at this time.

Because it is the power of divine beasts, their power is not simply given, but a fusion like a tailed beast. Even if they are given energy, they must come to the world completely. At this time, it is a test for Yamato.

If the state is suitable, then he will split a part of the consciousness and let them establish a connection with Yamato first. If not, then continue to wait. When Yamato's consciousness opens its eyes, the surrounding environment has undergone tremendous changes.

Chapter 435 Dragon Space, Double Dragon Trial

The snow around disappeared completely, and Arceus disappeared, and she found that she had left Fujiyama.

There were ice crystals all around, she seemed to appear in an ice cave, and following the flow of air, she came out of the ice cave, and at this time she found herself in a whole new world.

If she knows enough, she will understand that the name here should be called Hezhong.

"Ulti? Why are you here?"

She seemed to see a familiar figure, but the only answer to her was a roar, it was not Ulti, but a real two-axe dragon.

"Roar!"

"Huh? I'm not an intruder, don't get me wrong, I'll leave now."

Vivian's power made her understand the meaning of the two-axes and dragons. She seemed to have invaded the other party's territory, and the two-axes and dragons didn't do anything, just watched her leave here.

This is a special consciousness space constructed by the power of the slate, and everything in it is controlled by Arceus, which is why he didn't have time to inform Yamato before. This is a simulated virtual world.

is not only a test of strength, but also a test of the heart. Domineering is the power of the heart. It can be said that this test also increases her domineering to a certain extent.

Although she came to a completely unfamiliar environment, she was not afraid. After all, Arceus had already told her that this was a trial, and the only thing that was not mentioned was the type of trial.

"What kind of trial is it, the righteous father, he didn't even tell me."

Walking aimlessly in the forest, except for some Pokémon, she didn't see anything, but inquired some information from the Pokémon mouth, such as there are human countries outside, and they are fighting and so on .

And at this time, a vision in the sky caught her attention, flames and lightning appeared alternately, and there seemed to be someone fighting there.

Intuition told her that it was related to her trial, so she ran over there. When she climbed over a mountain, she found that this was the city that the Pokémon talked about, and both sides of the battle also revealed their own Really.

The height is about ten meters, and two giant beasts, one black and one white, are violently colliding.

"Roar!"

"Roar!"

The white dragon spit out a cross fireball, while the black dragon's body was wrapped in lightning and rushed towards the white dragon.

The fireball was smashed into pieces, and the bodies of the two dragons each wrapped their own energy and slammed into each other.nOveLusb.com

Boom!

The two were tied, but the aftermath destroyed most of the city below.

Yamato's appearance is more like triggering some scene cg, she seems to hear someone talking to her.

【Reshiram and Zekrom used to be one body, it assisted the brother heroes to establish the United Region, but because the beliefs of the two heroes diverged, the dragons were also divided into double dragons.

Ssangyong, disappointed with the war between the two heroes, wants to destroy Hezhong.

Girl, ideal and reality are opposite and unified, they are two sides of one, choose the concept you approve to stop this tragedy. 】

The same topic as the game's background sound appeared beside Yamato's ear, and a blonde woman appeared out of thin air beside her.

"Big sister, who are you? Do you know where your foster father is?"

"Miss Yamato, you can call me Shirona, I'm your novice guide, please don't ask anything unrelated to what's in front of you."

Virtual reality games must have a novice guide. As for why Hirona appeared in the United States, it was simply because Arceus was more impressed by this face.

But Yamato doesn't know that the game guide can also be deceived. For example, the guidance she got at this time is to choose a faction, but in fact, that is not the best way to clear the level at all.

"Is this what you call a trial?"

At the top of Mt. Fuji, Kaido also appeared here, looking at Yamato standing still on the snow, he didn't quite understand this kind of trial.

"Yeah, but well. It won't be recognized for a while, but it's not without gain."

That is the consciousness space he created. He is the administrator with the highest authority, and he naturally knows what is going on inside. He has thought about many situations, but what is happening now is different from what he expected.

Czekrom believes that Yamato's ideas are naive rather than ideal, and pure innocence cannot build an ideal world.

In Laysram's view, Yamato lives in an inner world and doesn't understand what is true at all, so she is disliked by Ssangyong at the same time.

But while rejecting her, they all produced a special emotion, because Yamato didn't listen to the gm, but directly triggered the hidden option to let Ssangyong coexist.

If you want to restore the existence of Daolong, you must find a balance between ideal and reality. Although she can't do this, she has mistakenly got the result.

That flawless innocence reminded Ssangyong of everything from the beginning. When they first met the two brothers, they also harbored that pure and simple concept.

So she is in a stage where she is rejected by Ssanglong at the same time and inspected by Ssangyong at the same time.

"We've known each other for so many years, so don't go around in circles. Did you win this time or did I win?"

". You won, she didn't achieve what I said."

In the remaining month or so, Yamato's hard days will come, but this year she has more time to relax, and there is no difference in general.

When Yamato was kicked out of that space, he understood something when he saw Kaido's dangerous smile.

"Father, can I apply to start over again?"

"Unfortunately, you can't, then you can only ask for more happiness."

The slate was taken back by him again, and Yamato was directly carried away by Kaido, but she didn't notice that there were black lightning symbols and white flame symbols on the backs of both hands, which were from the investigation of the black and white double dragons. imprint.

But after a while, the two markers disappeared. According to the agreement between Arceus and Kaido, she did fail, but she also succeeded in a special place.

Kaido's figure flew towards a deserted island outside Wano, which was also a testing ground for the beasts. He felt that the venue on the ghost island was a little out of place, and planned to go out and play in a big one.

Many people in Wano have seen the figure of the giant dragon flying away from Wano, but no one is afraid, because they are used to it.

In the past few years, everything in Wano Country has been really smooth, the country is peaceful and the people are safe, but occasionally there will be Kaido's laughter and some familiar screams.

The custom of has even been adopted as a new tradition in the native Wano country, leading to some strange variants of native theatre.

Chapter 436 The Strange Carbon Cycle of Wano Country

"Little Pei, I think someone is going to have bad luck."

Looking at Kaido flying in the sky, Ulti had this intuition, because during the time when Yamato and the others were out, as long as Kaido transformed, she and Pejiwan would be unlucky.

This state was not relieved until Yamato returned home. She successfully attracted Kaido's attention. Since his return, Ulti and Pejiwan have not encountered Kaido's death training. NovelUsb.com

However, the original training has left enough shadows, and now Kaido stress syndrome has a vague trend of contagion within the beast group.

"Sister, do you think there is a possibility that this unlucky person is me?"

Peggy Wan's name for Ulti has changed a lot in the past year or so. It has changed from elder sister to elder sister, elder sister and the like, which naturally makes Ulti unhappy.

"Xiao Pei, you've changed. You used to be very attached to me, and now you don't want to call me sister."

"But old sister, do you think there will be a sister who steps on your brother every day!"

Ever since he came to the environment of Hundred Beasts, he felt that Ulti had changed. Although the competition within Hundred Beasts was fierce, in today's environment, while the competition was fierce, life safety was guaranteed.

Their training is often on the verge of death, but not really life-threatening, and in this case, the essence of Ulti's control is exposed for the first time.

Because I wanted to be with Peggy Wan for everything, and it was a bit rough, it led to the current situation.

Double axe fighting dragon is powerful in melee combat, and the pair of sharp axe teeth has surpassed most famous knives, but in many aspects she is not as good as Peggy Wan's fierce bite land shark, for example, she can't fly, and she can't burrow.

But it doesn't affect her that much, because Peggy can fly enough, she can ride Peggy, so that she can fly as well.

This was the purpose of her taking care of Peggy Wan back then, but now she has achieved it ahead of schedule.

With Kaido's death teaching, Peggy Wan has mastered flying.

This is similar to riding a bicycle. Although it is very laborious to ride before learning to walk, as long as you succeed once and remember the feeling, then it will not be a problem after that.

After mastering flying, he started the second process, digging holes.

As the name implies, the shark bite is a shark on land. Compared with the sky, the earth is the home ground of the shark. An adult shark can dig a hole in the ground at a very fast speed. Today's Peggy Wan is training It is this ability.

"Hey, you two don't be lazy! There's a lot of land ahead!"

Quinn's urging sound came from behind. Peggy Wan's training to dig holes must not be on the roof of the ghost island. Letting him dig holes is not to let him demolish the building, so he was borrowed by Quinn.

He just wanted to reclaim a winter plantation, but now the temperature in Wano country has begun to drop, the land has become a little hard, and the manpower reclamation is very slow, so he set his sights on Peggy Wan, who was training to sneak underground.

The crooked traces on the ground are proofs of Pejiwan's training. He still has some loopholes in his physical mastery of the fierce bite land shark, and he has not yet mastered the skills to distinguish the direction underground. At this time, Ulti's role is reflected. .

Weight bearing plus direction guidance, and at the same time carrying a bag of seeds in her hand, it may not help Peggy Wan's training, but she really had a good time.

As the end of the year approaches, the temperature in Wano begins to drop, and even the trees in Kuri are turning yellow, not to mention Rehou, who was already covered with snow, but this year's Wano has changed a lot.

In the past, the way they spent winter heating was to cut down trees, but now Wano country has reclaimed a lot of arable land and orchards, and the remaining trees are green plants left for the environment, and can no longer be mined at will, so the streets of Wano country are One more Pokémon.

Big Charcoal Car, Coal Pokémon, and the evolution of Little Charcoal Boy.

Compared with the small charcoal boy, the big charcoal truck can provide more coal, and the body of the big charcoal truck is more flexible than the more bulky giant charcoal mountain.

The shape of the big charcoal truck looks like a small car that transports coal. A lot of coal is concentrated on its back, and there will be hot air coming out when its mouth is open.

The whole body is made of rocks. As a Pokémon with fire and rock attributes, the charcoal car can make coal in its body. In the Galar region, people there used to live with the coal dropped from the charcoal body.

It's the same in Wano at this time. By this season, large charcoal trucks have appeared on the streets. They will stop in front of the yard where the carbon tax is paid, and then shake their bodies, leaving enough coal for them to use. , then move on.

For the people of Wano, this is the same as paying heating bills in winter. The sufficient jobs allow them to have extra money in their hands, and this money is naturally available.

For example, Kentaro's family in Kuri. At this time, he had established a new family and became the owner of the purchasing station. Looking at the large charcoal truck that started to deliver charcoal everywhere, Kentaro also began to replace the new chimney.

Pay attention to the ventilation of the house when burning charcoal. People in Wano country still know this principle, so they can see the reserved chimney position on their house.

In this season, even the scope of the Galar double-bomb gas has expanded. They are floating in the air, filtering the air of Wano and maintaining the air quality here. In winter, the double-bomb gas floating in the sky has already It has become a unique landscape of Wano Country.

They do not contradict this kind of work, because it is a different restaurant for Galar double-bomb gas, and the exhaust gas released by the burning coal dropped by the big charcoal truck has always been one of their favorite foods.

The carbon delivery work of the charcoal trucks is still going on. Their legs are very special, they can rotate like wheels, and the fastest speed can reach 30 kilometers per hour. The disadvantage is that the legs are relatively short, and the snow behind them is almost blocked. their way forward.

So the big charcoal trucks also started their own road-breaking work. The flames spit out from their mouths, and the snow vaporized under the burning of the flames, and soon exposed the ground below, and then started to send charcoal along the route they cleaned up. work.

The exhaust gas emitted by the large charcoal car and the exhaust gas of coal combustion have become the new food for the double-bomb gas. After eating and drinking, the gas generated by the double-bomb gas is turned into a chemical agent by Quinn, and he extracts special perfume materials from it.

These materials are used to create new perfumes. Perfume is sold through white beasts and fruits in exchange for money, and money is used to purchase the food needed by the charcoal cart. A recycling project appears in Wano.

Chapter 437 Eight Million Pokémon Grass Head God

Double gas and gas bullets are scattered in the air, and their feeding time is very irregular, but this is their unique law, and they have a special place in Wano country.

In summer, people who swim in the wild will always drown, and in winter, people with carbon monoxide poisoning often appear. Even if repeated warning prompts will inevitably cause problems, there will always be people who will give it a try with an indifferent attitude.

For example, to turn off the exhaust vent for warmth, I thought that opening it right away would be fine, but when an accident occurs, it will be too late.

But the Galar double-bomb gas that feeds on harmful gas can find the accident. For them, it is an inexplicable closure of a cooking stove, so their foraging behavior is also indirectly discovered. Some carbon monoxide poisoning behaviors.

And this has led to a completely new situation. Due to the national conditions of Wano, there are a lot of gods here. Not to mention any mountain gods, river gods, even stools can become gods.

The objects of worship are sometimes different for every household. Families who survived because of the double-bombing gas brought the double-bombing gas and the gas bombs to the table, and worshipped them as some local gods.

They appeared in the vision of the residents of Wano country almost at the same time as coal heating, and they achieved a good position on their first appearance, and similar situations occurred from time to time.

There is even a stone statue of the Jenny Turtle outside the fireworks workshop for safety. They seem to think that this will reduce the frequency of fires, but this is just a psychological comfort. If you are not careful, it will still explode.

It can be seen that pragmatism is also very popular in Wano Kingdom, which eventually led to the gradual deification of Pokémon with magical powers, which also facilitated some of Mitsu's behavior.

After Tezolo's press conference was over, Misu had already returned to Ghost Island by boat and opened an orphanage in Baiwu. Since the entrance to the diving port was in Baiwu, it became the focus of the beasts. In the area, various facilities are rapidly spreading.

In addition to taking care of Rami, the most thing Misu does is preaching. She can't reach far away places, but Wano also has a huge population.

So Misu's short-term goal is to pass on the grace of the gods at the feet of the gods, so that these people become followers of Arceus. As for the pirates in the Beast Pirates, they don't have to work hard to preach.

Although there are very few members like her who have become mad believers in a short time, they have a sense of worship for Arceus.

Misu gives priority to those who have a good impression of Pokémon, because in her cognition, Pokémon is the creation of gods. Since they are willing to worship those creations, they should naturally accept the creators behind them.

This year's Wano country is colder than before. Even the capital of flowers began to snow. The streets were covered with snow overnight, and only the passage opened by the charcoal car can still see the road. NoveLusb.com

Along these traces, the nearby residents also began to clean up the snow. Now is the slack season, they either go to factories to work, or go to the prosperous place like the Flower City to find something to do.

Hyogoro also took a broom to deal with the snow at the door silently, but there was an extra envelope in the mailbox at the door.

"Who does so much in one fell swoop?"

His identity has become the former underworld boss of the Flower City. It is not that he voluntarily retired, but that the current beasts do not allow such things as gangsters under their own order.

Either they are legalized, do a little business or join the organization of other beasts, or they will not repent and be sent to mine.

In this case, Binggoro will naturally not insist on doing things. Under his leadership, his subordinates have become a civil rescue organization in the capital of flowers. Now there are many people who shovel snow on the streets.

It is a good thing that these people are willing to settle down, so part of the tax revenue in Wano country is distributed to Hyogoro, and the right is to hire a property.

Many people know his home address, so most people looking for him knock on the door directly. He doesn't know any distant relatives, so naturally no one writes to him.

"What's the matter, soldier? What are you looking at?"

"Someone wrote.. is it Kojiro?"

His wife looked at him at the door with a broom and pestle, and asked in confusion, only then did Hyougoro see that the signature on the envelope was actually Kojiro.

"This child hasn't been here for more than half a year, right? I thought you guys were having trouble."

"What are you talking about, didn't he come before he left, but he told you that he was going out to work."

"What's taking so long? Take it apart and see what he wrote."

Her cognition is Wano Kingdom, because since she was born, she has never seen what it looks like outside the walls of Wano Kingdom, Kozuki Oden can use her identity to solve the guard of the diving port and try to go to sea by herself.

But ordinary people don't have this ability. To her, Wano country is everything to her, and more things in Wano country will be finished in a month or two. She doesn't understand how big the world is.

"Don't worry, it seems to be quite thick, don't worry, this kid has a good life."

After opening the envelope, he found that there was something like a postcard inside. The top photo was a photo of him and a group of mermaid shop assistants.

"Eh? There are so many mermen, did he go to the Dragon King's palace? Are those strange people guards?"

Mermaid is the name of Wano country for mermaids. Before that, she always thought that it was just a legendary creature.

"The letter said that it was Fishman Island, and it seemed that it was no problem to say that it was Dragon Palace. After all, the name of that country was Dragon Palace Kingdom. He said that he would be back in a few months, and he would come to see us at that time."

Not only here, but the old servant in Kojiro's house also received a letter from Kojiro. Although he still has work to do, it is no problem to send the letter back on someone else's ship.

That is the photo he took during the framing of Fishman Island during this period, and now it can be regarded as a glimpse for those who have never been out.

Today's Wano country is no longer in a state of total blockade, and members who join Hundred Beasts have the opportunity to go abroad, but hundreds of years of blockade have made many people accustomed to the closed environment and do not want to easily set foot in the open sea.

As the two of them continued to browse the things that Kojiro sent back, a group of samurai-like people suddenly ran across the street outside. They are the current Shinsengumi, the security force within Wano Kingdom.

is headed by a rather old man, he was originally a pirate of beasts, but after his poor health, he turned to the inside, and a black wolf dog in front of him was looking for something.

Chapter 438 The helplessness of the puppet, fighting magic with super magic

"Pochi, are you here?"

"woo"

A large dog more than one meter high sniffed the traces below, and then gave a positive answer. It looked no different from an ordinary wolf dog, with gray and black colors, two unusually obvious black hairs on its back, and a pair of red eyes. Slightly vicious.

Bitting the Pokémon Great Wolf Dog, now a large number of Pokémon are equipped with the domestic security forces, and they are now catching thieves.

When the weather is cold, not only more people go out to work, but some idle people also start to act.

Human beings are a group. No matter how beautiful a place is, there will be stains in it. There may also be good people in the heap of evil people. It is just a matter of probability. The probability of finding a good person in the heap of evil people is very slim.

Following the steps of the Great Wolf Dog, they continued to chase forward. There was only one Great Wolf Dog in the group of four or five people, not because the number of Great Wolf Dogs was not enough, but because only the leading pirate got a Great Wolf. Canine approval.

The Great Wolf Dog is very wild, and it is not easy to tame them, but after taming, the Great Wolf Dog will strictly follow the orders of his trainer.

At this time, they were following the target along the breath left by each other.

Starting from the Flower City, the Great Wolf Dog took them to the bridge leading to Linghou, and the footsteps of other Great Wolf Dogs remained on the snow.

"Ow!"

The great wolf dog called Pochi raised his head and howled, and there were echoes from all around. The great wolf dog itself is a pack animal like wolves, and ten is the ideal team size.

This number can maximize the effectiveness of the team, whether it is hunting or anything, and they act as police dogs in the security team, and Pochi is the captain of the police dogs.

According to the feedback from the call, Pochi quickly blocked the thief in a snow cave with the security team.

This is a corner of the current security changes in Wano. These petty thieves will be caught soon. The diving port is heavily guarded, and ordinary people can't get out at all. The giant carp king under the waterfall is not a decoration.

Because the environment in the outer seas of Wano is too comfortable, the evolution rate of these carp kings is much slower than that of the outer seas. Their descendants have evolved a lot of Tyrannosaurus carp dragons, but they are still huge in size. noVelusb.cOM

In the limited area of Wano, these people will be caught sooner or later.

In the flower capital, the general of Wano country, Kozuki Rika, also woke up from her sleep, dressed neatly under the service of many people, and started a new day of life. Jhin followed her original words. In the palace, she is the pinnacle of power. , but her order could not be spread out of the Flower Capital at all.

In addition to acting as a mascot in the annual sacrificial activities, the influence of the Kozuki family in Wano has reached the lowest level in history.

"Riwa-sama."

"Go down, I want to be alone."

"Yes."

The two maids withdrew respectfully, leaving her alone in the room. She gained some power, but also lost her freedom. If she wants to leave the palace, she needs to get Jhin's approval. If she is in a bad mood, then the palace's Everyone has to be afraid.

In the palace, Jhin has a proper reputation, and a concept that was established at the beginning is slowly affecting her, why is Momonosuke sent to the future, and she can only stay here.

Although Kozuki was worried about being caught, but at this time she couldn't understand it.

While she was thinking about her life, the maid who left came to Jin and reported the situation of Guangyue Rihe truthfully. Over the years, there were some more people in the palace. But behind the scenes, he only obeyed Jhin's arrangement.

And these people have one thing in common, their surname is Heitan.

Heitan Orochi carried a big pot, all the infamy because he stayed in the blood of the Heitan family, plus the fact that the Heitan family rebelled at the beginning, the old and new accounts were turned over together, and the black carbon was in the country of Wano. People shouting.

Even if some people are just distant side branches, they will still be discriminated against, especially those who are still loyal to Guangyue in their bones.

The surname of Heitan made it a problem for them to survive in Wano. In this case, in order to survive, some people in the Heitan family made a choice, that is, to completely surrender to the beasts.

People like entered the palace of the flower capital in large numbers, gradually disappeared from the sight of ordinary people in Wano, and became a trend of confrontation with the old officials who were loyal to the Kozuki family in the palace.

The original Kozuki family retainers also lived nearby. According to the rules, they had to apply if they wanted to meet Hiyori.

Although it is not necessary to submit the application form three days in advance and approve the reply within one week, it must also be verbally agreed.

For example, the one who came here today is Kikunojo, and Kawamatsu and Denjiro are being forced to perform their tasks outside.

Kaido gave them the opportunity to change the status quo as long as they chose to surrender, but they were unwilling.

The same is true for the current Denjiro. Because of many changes, Kuroshio did not appear, and he did not have the opportunity to hide his identity, so he did not want to pretend to surrender.

"Little Ju, are you here today~"

"Please stay away from here."

"Don't be so shy, my sister is not afraid of what you are afraid of. If you don't come here like this, I won't report the news to you."

Dad said that you must use magic to defeat magic. Transgenderists are such a product, and to treat a transgenderist, you must use more powerful magic, such as unreasonable female hooligans.

There are many people like in the Pirates, such as the woman in front of Kiku no Cheng, Jin's deputy, Drake.

A girl with pink braids and a scar on her face, but she didn't care about it at all, and she was still playing hooligans to Ju Zhicheng. His little white face was still attractive to women.

For example, Derek fell in love with him, but it was a little difficult for someone who thought he was a woman.

Beast's deputy are mostly of the same gender, because it is more convenient for many things, such as Emmaline who follows Shaina, and Pearlman who follows Mandelfish.

Jin is the only exception so far. The carefree Derek gets along very well with him, and even shared some torture experiences with Jhin.

In a state of semi-coercion, Kiku no Cheng was taken advantage of by Drake before he got the chance to see Hiwa, but for some unknown reason, he felt that as Hiro grew up, the smile on his face became much less.

At the same time, on the small empty island, several O'Hara scholars were excitedly looking at an egg in front of them.

Chapter 439 The hatched tear-eyed lizard

"Hatched, finally hatched! No wonder the basilisk lizards will become extinct outside. The hatching speed requires too much safety."

Looking at the eggs in the incubator that started to shake, the two scholars were extremely excited.

"But don't you think it's a bit strange? Basilisk lizards have evolved the ability to reproduce parthenogenetically in order to reproduce. Why is the incubation cycle so long? This is different from previous records."

"The data may be wrong, but what is happening in front of us is the truth. We believe in the data from more than 200 years ago or our own eyes, so I don't need to teach you."

Several paleontologists are discussing this issue. In fact, paleontology research is a very strange subject in the pirate world, because the extinct creatures on this island are likely to be the same as invasive species on another island.

So there is a professional term in the archaeology community about paleontology - resurrection.

The word is not for anything else, but to cover up their mistakes. Otherwise, they will be embarrassed if they publish a paper saying that a certain creature has become extinct and they are found to be wrong the next day.

Therefore, such a word to avoid mistakes was born, but what happened to Elizabeth's egg has greatly exceeded their understanding. The egg has been bred in the body for more than three years, even after it hatched alone. one Year.

It was the first time they saw reptiles reproduce so slowly that even Nezha should have hatched.

A crack soon appeared in the eggshell, and Robin also began to observe the egg. There was Yamato joining in the fun next to her, but now her arm was in a plaster cast, obviously during training. problem.

For ordinary people, it takes 100 days to hurt her muscles and bones, but for her, a week has been a serious injury, and a mere fracture, three or four days is enough to recover, and the cast is just to prevent accidents.

"It's so slow, can't you help it open the eggshell?"

"Don't do that lightly, unless you have to, or you're hurting it."

The first level of oviparous animals is to break their own eggshells, but it is not impossible to help at all. If you really encounter creatures that are unable to open their eggshells, you can still apply external force.

But it is completely unnecessary now, because a small hand has already broken the eggshell, and the eggshell on the top of the head was quickly pushed open, but looking at the hatched creature, the two scholars were stunned.

"Is this a basilisk lizard?"

"It's not like, and it's not the same as Elizabeth. What the * is this hatched?"

Looking at the hatched round-headed creature, the two scholars showed puzzled expressions. The yellow fins on the head made them even more unable to understand what it was.

And that's why it hatches slowly, because it hatches not a purebred basilisk lizard at all, but a tear-eyed lizard born under the influence of the force of the Thousand Faces.

As the original form of the Thousand-faced Servant, the tear-eyed lizard can be said to have nothing to do with the Thousand-faced Servant. If it is exaggerated, it can even be said to be irrelevant. It is definitely incomprehensible according to the research methods of normal creatures.

On the contrary, Robin, who was holding a small book, understood something. Her exploration of Pokémon did not stop. Coupled with the source of Elizabeth's own power, she quickly figured out this matter.

The newborn tear-eyed lizard quickly stood up and looked outside with big eyes and teary eyes. If it was an ordinary creature, they wouldn't take it out of the incubator right away, but Robin has seen the birth of other Pokémon, and as long as they don't have congenital diseases, most of these Pokémon can quickly adapt to the status quo, so she put it hugged out.

"Robin, it seems to have taken you for a mother."

At this time, the tear-eyed lizard can't fully express his meaning, but the power of Viking is the power to feel the other party's mind from the heart, so Yamato can perceive the meaning of the tear-eyed lizard.

"This is in line with the characteristics of oviparous animals."

"It seems they still have a bit of a commonality."

Doctors who are curious about Pokémon are not without them. Kentaro can produce mutant second-generation Wagyu with ordinary cattle. This is the subject of research by some scholars in Sky Island.

It's just that there are very few such scholars. After all, most of them are historians, and a few of them are interested in studying paleontology.

One of the scholars wanted to pick up the tear-eyed lizard because of curiosity, and then an accident appeared. The tear-eyed lizard suddenly began to cry, and a lot of tears poured out of the corners of his eyes.

It is called the tear-eyed lizard because it loves to cry. At this time, a lot of tears sputtered out. A scholar was unfortunately splashed by tears into his eyes, and then a sense of irritation came from his eyes.

"Ah, what are these, my eyes"

His eyes also began to burst into tears, which is the characteristic of tear-eyed lizard tears. It is a super-powerful tear-reducing agent. Just one tear is equivalent to 100 onions. At this time, the stimulation he received can be imagined.

Under the leadership of his companions, he hurried to find clean water to rinse, and when Robin wiped the tear-eyed lizard's body with a damp cloth, he also discovered a very special point. As long as its skin was exposed to water, it would become transparent, as if it were invisible.

This special skin is the reason why it can be invisible after evolution, but now it does not actively control this ability.

It stands to reason that Elizabeth is the most suitable lizard to lead the tear-eyed lizard to grow. She is not only the biological mother of this tear-eyed lizard, but a creature with similar abilities.

But Elizabeth doesn't have this interest. She doesn't seem to like children very much, and she's not in Ghost Island now, so this tear-eyed lizard temporarily fell into Robin's hands, and that appearance just hit her cute point.

As for Elizabeth herself, at this time she and Olga were in the Chambord Islands, and the Nine Snakes sent some news to her, and she came here for this matter.

According to the original plan, this matter is not in a hurry. Hancock has a few years, but if the animals are not in a hurry, it does not mean that others are not in a hurry. In order to see Olga in advance, Hancock forcibly improved the progress of the matter. And she really did it.

In more than half a year, she has passed the internal assessment, became the current emperor of Amazon Lily, the new captain of the Nine Snake Pirates, and started the follow-up plan.

For her becoming the new emperor, there is no objection from within the Nine Snakes, because she is strong enough.

This is a feature of the pirate kingdom. The intelligence of the leader can be slightly worse, which can be compensated by others, but the strength of the leader must not be weak, otherwise the lack of high-end combat power will cause big problems for the pirate group. NoveLus.com

On the Perfume Touring Snake at this time, looking at Hancock's excited look, Glorioza's heart is very complicated, she can understand this emotion, but she also feels pressure about the future

Chapter 440 The Gift of the Nine Snakes, Sasaki's Ambition

Love is like a storm, this is a widely circulated phrase in Amazon Lily, and many emperors of Amazon Lily died of lovesickness.

Glorioza almost fell ill back then, but she didn't stay in Amazon Lily all the time. Although she's just a rickety old lady now, she was also the strongest warrior of the Nine Snakes generation when she was young.

So she left the Nine Snakes during her reign, and that was part of her fault. Since then, she has been assisting the Nine Snakes Emperor in obscurity, and Xia Qi has to call her senior.

Nine snakes also need to breed offspring, so love is not prohibited internally. The love issue of each generation of emperors is a top priority. Now Hancock's situation is a good thing, at least her survival rate will be greatly increased.

She still remembered Hancock's recent record. After several months of development, most of the abilities of Sweet Fruit have been mastered by Hancock.

Effort is important, but talent is equally important. When two people make equal efforts, the one with the highest talent must make faster progress.

Time is limited, and hard work can achieve qualitative change, but those with outstanding talent have a higher upper limit, otherwise each faction will not have to find monsters with outstanding talent.

When they were young, Kaido and Charlotte Lingling were both looked at by the world government and the navy, but the results were not as they wished.

If Kaido is successfully sent to the navy by the Vorka Kingdom, and he joins the navy, and Charlotte Lingling became a World Government agent under the abduction of Carmelite, they will probably become a new double wall .

On the martial arts field, she faced the elite warriors of Amazon Lily, the official members of the Nine Snakes Pirates. Hancock didn't even let his two younger sisters help him, and defeated everyone alone, and twice. .

She used the fruit ability once, domineering and physical skills once, and the two battles convinced them, and she also directly became the new emperor of the Nine Snakes.

Then they started the hunt for the Nine Snakes, targeting the new star near Chambord. The Fishman Island has become surprisingly peaceful in the past few months. Few pirates come here, because 90% of the pirates have been transformed by her. stone statue.

That was a meeting gift for the navy. Luo Neng in the original timeline exchanged 100 hearts of big pirates for the position of Qibukai. NoveLusb.com

Although those big pirates are a bit watery, they are generally at the level of tens of millions. Even in the era of bounty explosions, this number also shows his attitude.

In this day and age, Hancock's actions are even more obvious. When those stone statues were sent to the Navy, they didn't believe it for the first time, and it was Hancock's ability to be released before he confirmed it.

And today Olga's appearance is to add another fire.

The specific content of is also very simple. When the navy met with Nine Snakes, she attacked the navy. As long as she did not encounter the generals and some lieutenants of the headquarters, a single warship could not help her.

When the time comes, she will retreat under the attack of the nine snakes, and the matter will be over.

"Hancock, Hancock! Don't be in a daze! Don't show your flaws in front of the Navy!"

"Ah, it doesn't matter, if the Nine Snakes are discovered, wouldn't it be better to move them out?"

"No!! This needs to be observed, Hancock, it's a matter of the whole country, and it can't be arbitrary."

"Yes, yes, I understand, someone, take Granny Zha away!"

Although her character is a little better now, her body is too beautiful without opening her mouth and closing her mouth, and she will be forgiven for anything she does. This sentence is now used by her externally, usually to set off her status.

But her nature is still here, and being able to listen to Gloria's long-winded sentences is already a great improvement.

"Follow your orders, Lord Snake."

After she became the emperor of Nine Snakes, Snake Princess became her honorary title, and Nine Snakes was not a ninja village. As long as the new emperor passed the test and took office, it meant that she got all the power.

Even the previous emperors only have the right to make suggestions. If the current emperors cannot be persuaded, their opinions will not be implemented, so at Hancock's request, Glorious was soon taken out by two warriors.

"Set off!"

The Perfume You Snake is heading towards the agreed place, which is the place they agreed with the Navy. A person who took the initiative to ask for the position of Shichibukai has indeed aroused the interest of the Navy. In this era of pirates, what they need is one to attack others like this. The power of pirates.

Nine Snakes is also a veteran pirate group in the first half of the great route, and it has its own reputation. If this generation of Nine Snakes is really strong enough, then this position can be given.

This time, the lieutenant general on the naval ship also has a hidden mission. If the opponent really has that strength, then give the position of Qiwuhai to the opponent. If the opponent's strength is not enough, then let the Nine Snake Pirates become history. ‘

The lieutenant general led by the navy this time is Lieutenant General Gumir, the highest commander of the G-2 fortress. Gumir, who has not yet been bald, is also a veteran lieutenant general of the Navy. Compared with those newly promoted lieutenant generals, his strength is even greater. Be more stable.

"Put away everything on the deck and prepare for the shelling. Be careful not to get hurt by accident!"

The Perfume Snake is making preparations in advance, otherwise Olga will appear at the place where they meet, and attacking the navy alone will easily cause some misunderstandings, which may lead to the bankruptcy of the plan.

So the indiscriminate attack will start at that time. This is something that has been discussed in advance, but after a few rounds, the shells after that will become phantom shells. At this time, they are preparing.

For example, change the paint for the ship, explain the specific location of the ammunition depot, and prevent it from being missed.

And in the nearby waters, there is another pirate ship sailing.

The sail is painted with a pair of wings in the background, which is also a new pirate sailing this year.

"Captain Sasaki, we're going to the Chambord Islands soon!"

The navigator on the boat looked at the fluctuation of the recording needle and replied, and Sasaki was also a little excited about this.

"Very good, little ones, just stick with it for a few more days. With this, we will definitely be able to join Hundred Beasts smoothly!"

Some people's goals have been determined as early as when they sailed. For example, Sasaki chose to be a pirate because he was attracted to Kaido. He wanted to join the other party's subordinates and become a member of the beasts.

Originally his goal was to become the affiliated pirate group of the beasts, but not long ago, his ambitions inflated, because after defeating a group of pirates, he found a hexagonal slate among the treasures on the opponent's ship.

With joining the beasts as his own purpose, he naturally recognized what it was, and when he saw the slate that was cut with a knife and axe without leaving any traces, he understood that his chance had come.
