Chapter 441 Kaido's Fanatical Fan

"Big Brother Sasaki, is this thing really useful?"

The younger brothers were a little skeptical about the captain's words, and they were also looking at the irregular hexagonal stone, which was wide at the top and narrow at the bottom.

Meeting ceremony is an indispensable thing when meeting between pirates. According to the difference in the status of the two pirates, the specifications of the meeting ceremony are also different.

The most common way for pirates of the same level to meet is wine. People have different preferences, but there are almost no pirates who don't drink, so fine wine from all over the world has become the hard currency for pirates to meet.

The situation like Sasaki who wants to join the opponent is different. Today's Beasts are no longer the Beasts of the past. The original Hundred Beasts Pirates only had Kaido as a bare commander.

Quinn met by chance in the laboratory, and Jhin was rescued from there. To be precise, most of the high-level beasts today have a lot to do with that laboratory, which was his original basic game.

The younger brother was also recruited after being beaten by him, and then he expanded his territory little by little, entered Wano Country, and laid the foundation of the current Hundred Beast Pirates.

Afterwards, except for some children who were brought back by members on their way out, the way the beasts recruited members has changed. You can join if you want to.

It's okay to become an affiliated pirate group. If you want to join directly, you have to have a dazzling record or a very important meeting gift.

The dazzling record of the first half of the pirates is basically impossible, not even those so-called supernovas.

The popularity of domineering in the first half of the Great Route is very low. Before entering the new world for training, even if they offered a reward of over 100 million, in the eyes of the big pirates in the new world, they were just ordinary combatants.

Even those people of the extremely evil generation were chased everywhere when they first entered the new world, and the unique climate of the new world almost killed some people.

Sasaki knew that strength could not be valued by the other party for the time being, so that meeting gift was especially important.

Although his bounty is enough to become an affiliated pirate group, he is similar to Bartolomeo in one point. Just like Bartolomeo is a fan of Luffy, Sasaki is a fan of Kaido, and he only fans Kaido alone.

The information obtained from the newspaper gave him a little understanding of some of Kaido's preferences. For example, there is wine prepared by him in the cabin, and drinking with Kaido is what he most wants to do.

"Of course, the beasts have always offered a bounty about this kind of stone. I heard that it is to create a pair of indestructible armor? In short, this thing has already made the beasts accept us in an extraordinary way. Let's speed up, I can't wait. ."

"Wait a minute. Boss Sasaki, there is a situation!"

The lookout on the flagpole suddenly shouted at Sasaki, as if he had found some serious news.

"What's wrong?"

"There are ships fighting in front! One ship is flying the flag of the beasts!"

Hearing that, Sasaki came to the top of the flagpole in two or three strokes, and even his subordinates didn't notice how his captain came up.

"Give me the telescope!"

grabbed the binoculars from his subordinates, and the corners of Sasaki's mouth rose even more. Originally, he was still thinking about how to contact the other party so as not to arouse disgust.

Having the right gift is one thing, how to give a gift is another matter, and now, the opportunity has come.

"Start the outer wheel and rush over at full speed, little ones, where you can sit in the future depends on today!"

Sasaki was born in the capital of the seven waters of the great shipping route, and was originally a region with an extremely developed shipbuilding industry.

Because of his admiration for Kaido, he embarked on the road of pirates, so the quality of his ships is much stronger than that of ordinary pirates. This is also the money he saved to buy ships as a pirate hunter before.

The Capital of Seven Waters is not an ordinary shipyard. In addition to the advanced shipbuilding technology, the boatmen are also top-notch.

According to his orders, Sasaki's ship began to speed up.

Not long ago, the meeting of the Perfume Snake with the Navy was not a particularly pleasant one.

Hancock stepped on the body of the snake and came to the warship. In an instant, he was greeted by a group of navy's eyes, and at the same time, there was the sound of bullets being loaded.

"Sweet sweet wind~"

"Boya Hancock! What are you doing?!"

Looking at the large number of navies that turned into stone statues, Gumir questioned Hancock. There was a lot of brown powder on the corners of his mouth. He himself had the habit of drinking coffee, but the specialty near the G-2 branch was bitter coffee. .

He just stuffed a bag of espresso bitter coffee powder directly into his mouth. Using this to divert his attention, Hancock's fruit development time is not enough, and it is more laborious for these strong people to petrify.

"Who made their eyes look around, the concubine just taught them a little lesson, and you will forgive the concubine, right? For the beauty of the concubine."

The navy wanted to test her strength, and she was also giving the navy a disgrace. Shichibukai sounded like a good position. It didn't need to be wanted and could be plundered legally, but this position was not that simple.

Many pirates regard Shichibukai as a lackey of the world government, and the navy also regards Shichibukai as scum and consumables. If you don't show your skills, the future will be difficult.

"No problem! You can change them back for me!"

The blade has been unsheathed, and Gumir's eyes have become dangerous. This fruit ability is especially useful when facing a large number of enemies. Only a few people can rely on domineering to resist the influence of the fruit.

If he is not strong enough, he can't resist the opponent's attack even if he is domineering. Gumir is a veteran lieutenant general, so he will not lose his combat effectiveness directly.

"When the concubine is in a good mood, for example, the blade of your sword will make the concubine feel very uncomfortable."

"you!"

"My concubine advises Lieutenant General to calm down. If I really have three strengths and two weaknesses, even if you can find the fruit of regeneration, the next capable person will not be able to lift the petrification of the concubine."

"Is this your attitude? You were the one who proposed the Shichibukai deal." NovelUS.com

"That said, but it's not polite to point a gun at someone, what about the invitation letter from Shichibukai?"

Hancock's strength also gave Gumir a deeper understanding, so he took out the invitation letter from the world government of Qibuhai.

"Can you remove their petrification now?"

"Snake Princess, Snake Princess!"

Hancock hasn't replied yet, but Glorioza behind him has already jumped to gesture to her. Now that the plan has almost been achieved, in her opinion, it's better to end it as soon as possible.

And at this time, there was the sound of cannonballs gliding in the air, and everything was as planned.

There are two updates today, go out to stock and make up for the plot

Chapter 442 Why should the concubine listen to you?

"Victarion, it's up to you."

"Don't worry, big sister, you won't be disappointed."

Victarion, the one who was rescued from the slave ship with Hancock and the others, joined the Beasts after that, and through his own talent, he got his position on the Shadow Fox.

is currently in charge of the artillery fire command. According to the angle planned in advance, the artillery on the Shadow Fox started bombing directly.

"Be careful! Don't load the wrong shells! The white ones are for the Nine Snakes!"

Those shells are specially made low-quality shells, which can only be heard after being fired, and the damage is very limited.

Victarion's loud voice told the gunners on the ship. As a gunner, it is very important to have a loud voice, otherwise outsiders will not be able to hear it.

The Nine Snakes had a lot of thunder and little rain on the ship, but the Navy ship was different. Hancock just lifted their petrification, and the high-explosive shells blew up.

"Attention to avoid, fight back, fight back!"

After all, it was a regular army, or a unit directly under the lieutenant general. The sudden shelling did not cause them to collapse, and they quickly entered the battle queue under the command of Gumir.

"It's the Beast Pirates! That ship is a Phantom Calamity!"

"Have those lunatics started again."

It is rare for pirates to take the initiative to attack the navy in the first half of the Great Route. If someone else is leading the team, Gumir may feel that something is wrong, but the person leading the team is Olga, then many things will become reasonable. stand up.

In the past few years, she has been the most active outside. Quinn is now famous within the intelligence system, while Olga is famous in the newspapers. In addition to the secret slave hunter hunting operations, she will occasionally attack the naval warships, This is her revenge.

Sometimes she is very careful. She was chased by Akainu and Crane for a few months. Although she didn't catch up to her, it made her take revenge.nOvElus.b.COm

It's just that most of these attacks take place in the New World, where the pirates belong, and most of those attacked are surveillance ships, and the frequency is completely random.

This is also the attitude of the navy towards the beasts, whitebeards and other big pirate groups. You can stay still, but you have to monitor them. You can't be ignorant of their movements. In most cases, pirates will selectively ignore distant surveillance ships.

Because even if one or two surveillance ships are sunk, the Navy will soon send out a more secretive team, accompanied by retaliatory actions, which will be more troublesome.

The navy is constantly destroying pirates, but for these big pirates who have become a climate in the new world and can pose a huge threat, they have an attitude of no big friction and constant small friction.

If it wasn't for Blackbeard taking the initiative to send Ace and giving the navy a chance to fight at home, they wouldn't have rashly launched this war of annihilation.

"Intensify the bombardment! Keep your distance, that guy can create phantoms, and it will be a big trouble for her to come over!"

The intelligence department of the Navy also plays a role, at least not ignorant of the capabilities of the enemy. For example, what they know about Olga is to create phantoms and deceive people's perception at a certain distance.

Keeping a certain distance can at least not be blinded by perception and fall into a state of cannibalism.

"Sister Crane is not here"

Information known within the navy, Crane's ability can restrain the other side's phantom, but Crane has been chasing Doflamingo all this time, that is an order issued by the World Government, after all, Doflamingo's identity is different.

"Boya Hancock! As Shichibukai, I now ask you to solve the enemy with us!"

"I refuse, the agreement states that the concubine must accept the mandatory summons of the World Government and pay a certain amount of income to the government, and can move freely in peacetime without government interference at all.

你 does not represent the world government, so the concubine can ignore your request. "

"What are you kidding?! You are also their target!"

"It can be seen from where the shells land that you are the main target. These may be stray bullets. It is the best choice to stay away from you now."

Hancock did not directly agree to Gumir's request. Those who had offered bounty had already expressed their attitude. Showing goodwill and obeying words were not synonyms.

If he obeys the demands of the navy, he will be called to more places in the future.

The Navy can also be regarded as a company. The most diligent people in the company may not be promoted, but they are definitely the busiest. Besides, Qiwehai is not a department attached to the Navy, and they are outsourced to the Navy at most.

Gumir is not a big boss, just a manager of other departments, and his words can't control Hancock at all.

When he said this, Hancock was already standing on the head of the snake and was about to return to the fragrance snake.

"I now represent the world government, your receipt has not been sent back, I have the right to think that you are not suitable for this position!"

Although the admiral of the navy is the basic condition to use domineering, but the soldiers under his command will not know the color, and according to the information of the navy, the person who does not have the knowledge will become a tool person in the face of Olga, so he needs Hancock military support.

Hancock, who is only 15 years old, is far from his strength at the peak of his 30s, but he has also reached the strength he should have at the age of 18, and his fighting power is very strong.

In Gumir's opinion, the ability to petrify will inevitably bring great trouble to the other party. I didn't expect Hancock to be so uncooperative.

"You send the receipt back first, and the concubine will participate in this battle."

In the end, in this state of bargaining, Hancock participated in the battle, but she was the only one involved in the battle. Gumir knew very well that ordinary people had no meaning in this kind of battle, and too many people would only be used by the other party. .

Therefore, the Perfume You Snake left the battlefield first, leaving only the warship and the Shadow Fox to start a battle. No matter how precise the phantom is, it is just a phantom. Talion for these newcomers to the test.

"Be careful, that guy's ability can confuse vision and hearing. He believes more in what he perceives domineeringly than vision and hearing."

The Navy has a certain understanding of Olga's abilities, but it is not comprehensive. At present, they believe that as long as Olga has no time to be cloned in battle, her abilities will not affect others.

Gumir thinks that he and Hancock still have a fighting force against Olga. The lieutenant general of the navy headquarters is the backbone of the navy, and even general Wen has some force.

In order to prevent accidents, he also reminded Hancock, but this is not a friendship, he was afraid that an accident would cause Hancock to regard him as an enemy.

But he didn't know that this matter was a big show. From the beginning, he had already entered the game. They didn't know the relationship between the nine snakes and the beasts at all.

There are two updates today, go out to stock and make up for the plot

Chapter 443 The boy's road is wide and narrow

Boom! Boom!

The sudden shelling from the side made Victarion unresponsive, and he hated such unplanned things.

"What happened to that ship?"

The battle between the navy and the pirates is not uncommon. If another warship attacks them, Victorion will not be surprised. That is the situation of the navy supporting friendly forces, which is normal.

But it is the warship that is being attacked now, and the pirate ship that appeared has never heard of the flag, which is very strange.

Under normal circumstances, other pirate groups would choose to stay away when they see the navy fighting against other pirate groups, lest they get burned, and there are very few pirates who dare to attack the navy, and even if they attack, they mostly attack the * ships.

Because the things that need to be escorted by the navy are usually of high value, only the huge benefits can make them take risks, but today such an abnormal situation has occurred.

The beasts can't figure out the situation, and Gumir's side is even more unclear. Although in order to deal with emergencies, the naval soldiers on this ship are fully loaded, but any ship led by a cadre under the emperor of the sea will not be afraid of a single ship. of a warship.

Unless it's full of weird people like retired Sengoku, Crane plus Fujitora or something.

The battle at this time can only be said to be a balance of power, and Gumir couldn't move his hands at all. If it weren't for the smooth implementation of the Shichibukai plan, Olga would have the ability to keep him here.

He couldn't move his hands, his adjutant was entangled by Elizabeth, and the rest of the navy did not have much advantage in the battle. Usually the navy had the upper hand in the artillery battle against pirates, and their weapons and equipment were backed by the world government. Much stronger than pirates.

And the advantage in firepower is the most important thing for ordinary soldiers to fight, but in the face of the beasts based on Wano Country, they can't take advantage of it. The pirates behind this time have a great impact on the battle situation.

Seeing this group of pirates that suddenly appeared, Olga was not happy because it was not something she arranged.

According to the written script, she would evacuate directly after the battle. She had no interest in Gumir's life at all. To be precise, Gumir could not go wrong.

His identity was the messenger of Shichibukai's letters, and he died at the meeting place with the Nine Snakes Pirates, which inevitably made people think it was a conspiracy.

The lieutenant generals of the headquarters and the G branch are the backbone of the navy. The death and injury of such generals will greatly damage the face of the navy, and the chain reaction caused by that time is not easy to deal with.

But this is not the main problem. She can control the casualties of the battle. Except for her and Elizabeth, no one else has the ability to cause fatal injuries to a Vice Admiral. The biggest problem is that the sudden intrusion of these outsiders can easily mess up the existing plans. .

A black-purple energy spread out from under Olga's feet, spreading like a tide, gradually covering the entire surface of the warship, and even the Shadow Fox and the ship that Sasaki had just approached were also affected by her.

"Phantom Territory."

The black and purple energy was extremely illusory. After spreading, it disappeared suddenly, but after that, all the navies on the warship stopped their movements.

"All stop!"

Then Olga stopped her men and ordered: "Elizabeth, the pirates have been brought under control, you take someone to drive the ship to the sea area I told you before. "

Olga pressed her right hand on her temple. At this time, her brain was doing a large-scale calculation, and the phantom was generated by her thoughts. The more she knew about one thing, the more real the generated phantom.

As her strength grows, the distance she can control the phantom becomes wider, and the position marked on the chart is the limit distance for her phantom to last.

Usually she simulates dead objects or the environment more, and that kind of phantom is the safest.nOvElusb.COM

But the more people involved in the phantom, the easier it is to reveal flaws. It is not difficult to disrupt the audiovisual on the battlefield and let the enemy kill each other. It is enough to simulate an attacking scene such as swinging a sword.

The scene of retreating after defeat is more complicated. To maintain such a realistic scene, she cannot move, so she can only leave these things to others.

"Understood, I'll do it as soon as possible."

Elizabeth knew that this kind of phantom lasted too long and could easily reveal flaws, so she immediately unfolded her wing membrane and glide sideways.

"Hancock, this phantom will continue for a while, so be careful."

"Don't worry, Sister Olga, I know what to do."

"Well, I'll leave it to you, see you next time."

Then she returned to the Shadow Fox, and after Sasaki's ship was driven to a place that Gumir could never see, she also took people out of here.

After she left, Gumir and others also returned to reality from the shackles of the phantom.

He didn't have much doubt. After all, neither Akainu nor Crane could keep Olga. He didn't think he had this ability, but in the fake battle he saw, Hancock embodied a Qiwuhai. The value of the battle force is indeed worthy of this position.

Then Hancock didn't answer Gumir's words, and he was extremely arrogant. She knew that the more she said, the more flaws she had. Maintaining this situation was the best result.

Anyway, she has left such an extremely arrogant character to the Navy, and it is not unusual to continue to do so.

On the other side, on Sasaki's boat, Sasaki and the others were full of confusion. Their previous impression was that they were attacking the navy, but they came to this unfamiliar sea area in a blink of an eye.

"Say, who sent you here?"

"We were not assigned, we volunteered to help."

Looking at Olga who was questioning, Sasaki didn't panic. Although he only fancied Kaido, he also knew the people around Kaido.

"Huh? Volunteering to help?"

"Yes, it has always been my ideal to join the beasts. My name is Sasaki, and I'm a pirate who just went out to sea this year."

"I'm not interested in your identity, you almost ruined my affairs, and do you think anyone can join?"

He should thank Olga who came to do this. The most easy-going person on the board of the Beast Pirates. If it was Jhin or Quinn, even Shaina would be dead without a word. their ship.

There are too many new people who want to join the beasts. According to a certain world, Sasaki's self-assertion has already committed death, but when Olga was thinking about how to deal with these people, the word slate appeared in in her ears.

"You mean slate?"

"Yes, the slate that Lord Kaido needs, I found that thing."

Chapter 444 The Navy's fig leaf, Sasaki's request

Looking at the slate on the Sasaki boat, Olga understood that the situation was different. According to the familiar tradition, Olga punched the slate, which was basically the real thing.

"What a lucky boy"

"Yes, Lord Arceus's things were found by a newcomer."

Looking at the slate, a few people behind Olga began to whisper, after all, this is the greatest achievement within the beasts, except for some special military achievements, nothing can be compared with this matter.

With this achievement here, the previous incident that almost broke their major event can be turned over. After all, the final result of Qiwuhai has not been affected, but this slate is real.

"This is the welcome gift I prepared for Lord Kaido, and it is also my nomination certificate. Is this enough?"

"No problem, this is enough for you to join the beasts, and you can also get great rewards, come with me."

Due to the slate, Olga also changed her itinerary, preparing to leave early to return to Onishima, which also led to Sasaki being blacklisted by some people.

Olga would have stayed nearby for a while, and Hancock invited her to sit in the Nine Snakes. Although the Nine Snakes were also exclusive, Hancock was in power now, and Glorious would not know this trivial matter. rebut her.

The original Nine Snakes were celebrating because they got the Shichibukai position, which meant that Nine Snakes had another protective umbrella.

The identity of Qiwuhai, the windless belt, and the strength of Hancock today, Amazon Lily is basically in an absolutely safe state in the first half of the great route.

But when Olga's call came, Hancock's face sank.

"Hancock, what's wrong with you?"

"Mother-in-law, do you know this flag?"

"This flag.. I think about it, it seems to be this year's newcomer, "Mansaki Sasaki", with a bounty of 88 million Bailey, what's the matter?"

"It's nothing, it's just that I remember him. By the way, mother-in-law, you have always been well-informed, right?"

As soon as this remark came out, Glorioza felt that something was wrong. Hancock began to dislike her nagging less than half a month after returning to Amazon Lily, and it was almost impossible to use her honorific title.

"What do you want to do?"

"It's nothing, I just want to ask my mother-in-law if you have seen a kind of stone in the time you left Amazon Lily. It is hexagonal, wide at the top and narrow at the bottom."

She has lived in Onishima for three years, of course she has heard a little about this kind of thing. A passerby pirate like Sasaki can make such a big noise with this, and she thinks that she can do the same.

"No, no, I have never seen such a thing before."

"Cut, waste your time, return home!"

"Yes, Lord Snake!"

Hancock showed what is called the speed of light face change, and returned to Amazon Lily with the pirates of the nine snakes directly.

Olga was still on his way back to Wano Country with Sasaki, and in the naval headquarters, some people were not calm. In the marshal's office, watching the information handed to him by Sora, Sengoku was very complicated.

The responses from the pirates came one after another, Hancock, who took the initiative to ask for a location, and Moonlight Moria and Joracol Mihawk who were invited by the government.

The information returned by Gumir has confirmed the identity of Hancock Shichibukai. Although he is rebellious, his strength is enough.

Moriya simply did not refuse. Facing the invitation of Shichibukai from the World Government, he readily agreed. Even if the house was becoming more and more abandoned, he still had endless hatred for Kaido.

However, it is thanks to Kaido that he can become Shichibukai. The World Government did not assess his strength, but he got this position because of his record with Kaido.

The two Sengoku people didn't care, a Hancock who went to sea for the first time, and a Moria who had been silent for a long time were not enough to shake him, but the last Mihawk was different.

"Big Brother Sora, this guy has attacked a lot of colleagues! Can he also become Shichibukai, who is called a naval hunter?!"

Hancock's first show used other pirates, Moriah is a past record, but Hawkeye is the bones of the navy, the word navy hunter is no joke.

"Such a guy can be called Shichibukai, what about our face?"

"This is the choice of the Five Old Stars. They reached an agreement with that guy. From now on, the title of Navy Hunter will be hidden, and some are just Hawkeye-Jolacol Mihawk."

Kora said the above decision, which is also a fig leaf left by the World Government to the Navy. The Navy is a violent institution, but it is not the only violent institution of the World Government. The decisions they make do not consider the feelings of the Navy.

Whether it is the selection of Hawkeye or the selection of Bai Er on the original timeline, in the eyes of those people, the former general who has worked for the Navy all his life is not worth mentioning at all.

Even erasing the title of Navy Hunter was the result of Sora's argumentative efforts.

"Warring States, you have to understand that today's navy is no longer the original navy."

The original navy was only a tool of the world government, but with the development of time, although the essence of this tool has not changed, there are more and more navies with individuality, and sometimes some navies even make the opposite choice to the world government.

The current navy has a certain degree of independence, but this independence is still within the tolerance of the world government.

"I see"

"When you sit in my position, you will understand that the position of admiral is not so easy to hold."

The opposition within the navy did not have any effect, even if some people quit the navy because of this, Joracol Mihawk still became a member of Qibukai with the reputation of the great swordsman Hawkeye.

In the next day's newspaper, the names of Moonlight Moriah, Pirate Empress-Boya Hancock, and Hawkeye-Joelacol Mihawk once again occupied the front page.

And after a period of sailing, Olga also brought Sasaki and the others to Onishima.

Generally, newcomers who have just joined are not qualified to come here, but Sasaki who brought back the slate is an exception, and he even got the opportunity to meet.

"Sir Arceus, people have brought them, and your things have also been brought."

"Very good, Sasaki, you did a good job, according to the rules we set, you are enough to be rewarded"

"Wait, Lord Arceus."

Sasaki interrupted Arceus. After all, he brought a slate, so he didn't care about such trivial matters.

"what?"

"I would like to be received by Lord Kaido, and I would prefer to receive a reward from that Lord."

He is an outsider after all, he doesn't know the truth inside the Beast Pirates, and he is also a fanatical fan of Kaido. He wants to see Kaido more than the second-in-command of Arceus.

Chapter 445 Smart, but not much

Sasaki insists that he wants to meet Kaido, this is a fan meeting for him, and it is difficult to be satisfied if he can't see the main lord.

Although the fanatical worship of Kaido is definitely not wrong in the Beast Pirates, his attitude is destined to make some people unhappy. For example, Shaina's first impression of Sasaki has become very bad.

Originally, she felt pretty good about Sasaki who brought back the slate, but this attitude has already consumed her impression.

In the end, Sasaki's request was still met, Kaido ended his training ahead of schedule, and came here after completing the handover with Arceus.

"Is that you? What do you want, can you say it now?"

"Yes, Lord Kaido, I want to join the Beast Pirates, please let me follow you!"

At this time, his attitude was much more respectful than before.

"Well, interesting newcomer, I heard that you found that thing, right? Of course, there is no problem in joining here. Starting today, your pirate group can fly the flag of Laozi."

"No, Lord Kaido, I mean I want to join the beasts completely. I have already decided to give up the position of captain."

"Is that what you want?"

"If I can, I'd like to have a drink with you alone, other than the sake of Yoshiko."

Jiuyi Liquor is a drink that will be drunk only when the team joins the opponent's pirate group and becomes an affiliated pirate group. It is a unique wine culture in the pirate world. Even if Sasaki intends to give up his previous position and join the opponent directly, this process will not be less.

But he wanted to have a good drink alone with Kaido.

"Are all newcomers so brave now?"

"Yeah, I actually want to drink alone with Kaido boss"

Drinking with Kaido is not difficult, and most of them will not refuse to toast with him at a banquet. Although it is not difficult, the process is very dangerous. Once Kaido gets drunk and there are no strong enough cadres next to him, then ordinary members will become very dangerous.

Drunk, even Yamato would choose to hide.

So listening to Sasaki's request, some pirates around couldn't help but show admiration to him.

"Okay, little ones, bring the wine!"

"Master Kaido, I brought some specialties this time, please use the bar I brought." novelUSb.Com

After getting permission from Kaido, Sasaki asked his crew to bring those wines, which are the specialty of the Seven Waters City called boat wine.

They will bury the sealed wine in the ground next to some cultivated saplings. When the trees grow enough to be used as materials for the keel of the boat, the workers will cut down the trees and the buried wine will be dug out.

This kind of drink is usually two jars, one jar to drink when the ship sails, and the other jar to drink before the ship is decommissioned. At this time, Sasaki's request was basically fulfilled, but he said something that made Kaido laugh.

"You said you were going to be my right and left hand?"

"Yes, Lord Kaido, I heard that you can get a reward for bringing back the slate. I hope this reward is the qualification to challenge the position of the big kanban."

"Well, it's interesting. I haven't seen such an interesting newcomer for a long time. Your reward remains the same. I gave you the qualification for this challenge. So who do you want to challenge?"

It stands to reason that he has to challenge those numbered people first, and he will only be qualified to challenge the big kanban after he gets a single-digit number, but Kaido is also one of the rule-makers himself, so he can naturally change the rules of this kind of thing.

"I want to challenge Quinn's position."

It is normal for young people to be more arrogant. Many newcomers think that they can also reach the bounty of those monsters, but it is only a short chance.

He has experienced Olga's abilities before. Jhin's appearances are rare, but they are all battles with the strong. Unlike Quinn, although his bounty is high, in the information revealed, he seems to have always been a scientific researcher. personnel.

He wanted a position closer to Kaido, so he wanted to take this opportunity.

"Yes, I promise you, have a good rest today, and arrange your challenge tomorrow. If you can succeed, you are my new big board. If you fail, then I will personally help you become stronger."

Having said that, Kaido moved his wrists a bit, and several cadres have grown up. He usually fights outside more on weekdays, so he has very few opportunities to train.

Now he can only play every day.. Only training children is a bit boring for him, and he has to work * children. It seems that a new training sandbag is also good.

In a sense, Sasaki's judgment is correct. Among the cadres at the Kanban level, Quinn's strength is indeed the one at the bottom, but the bottom also depends on who he is compared with.

Even if he can't beat Jhin, a monster like Shaina will not lose to the ordinary pirates below.

The news of Onishima quickly reached Quinn's ears. Hearing that a new pirate was going to challenge himself, Quinn poked his ears slightly disdainfully.

"Now the newcomers are getting more and more arrogant, let Uncle Quinn tell him what the gold content of a billion-dollar reward is, but why are you sending the news? Do you need to come for this kind of thing?"

Looking at Shaina who was leaning against the door, Quinn showed a puzzled look. Although Quinn has a laboratory in Ghost Island, some experiments were carried out in Rabbit Bowl due to safety issues. He was in Rabbit Bowl just now.

Obviously a phone call can solve the problem, but Shaina chose to come in person.

"It's nothing, I'm just here to tell you that if you dare to give him a chance to fight back tomorrow, I'll give you a training session."

"?????"

Quinn was confused and had not been beaten for a long time. He thought he had figured out Shaina's temperament, but the trouble came.

"Wait, sis, what does this have to do with me?"

"No, but who made him choose to challenge you? That guy lacks a little reverence for Lord Holy Beast. Let him understand what the power gap is."

"Hello, I understand."

He originally wanted to show off his fighting spirit, but it seemed that he had no chance. At the same time, he held a moment of silence for Sasaki. His inadvertent actions seemed to have made some people unhappy.

As for why he did this kind of "helping the tyrants" and "suppressing the newcomers", not to mention his current position, even if he didn't have bad luck.

A dead Taoist is not a poor Taoist. He is not interested in Shaina's intensive training. Few people would be interested in being beaten unilaterally.

At the same time, Arceus's eleventh slate also successfully returned to his body, the jade worm slate whose attribute is worm. Although the resistance provided by the jade worm slate is not outstanding in the pirate world, it is still part of his power.

Chapter 446 The Dragon and the Scarlet Lock

After receiving the news, Quinn stopped the experiment at hand and started his own warm-up activities. He didn't want to be unlucky when he was ready to grind the gun.

At this time, Tezzolo also brought Stella to Onishima, and the health medicine department of Hundred Beast Fruits achieved great success. novelusb.com

After returning from Olga to Sasaki and returning to Oni Island, the time has come to January 1507. In the past time, Beasts and Fruits have successfully opened up a new way.

A large number of royal families and nobles have used medicines for the treatment of platinum-lead disease. Now their platinum-lead disease does not occur, and many people feel that their physical condition has improved.

That is the effect of the medicine mixed in it, and then Beast Fruits took the opportunity to launch things such as facial masks and hair care decoctions, thus gaining a certain market share.

When the new department was on the right track, his goal was to look at the mining department that was still planning. This time he came to Oni Island to bring the giant marsh monster and Manaphy to Fishman Island.

There are two reasons for Stella to go with her, one is to take her to enjoy the scenery of Fishman Island, and the other is to shoot a promotional video.

The fact that those face masks were successfully sold had something to do with Stella's advertising effect. She is now a popular star, and the skin care products she uses will naturally arouse the interest of others.

As for the propaganda film, it was about the underwater mud mask. If it goes well, he would like to invite a few mermaids. Although some people discriminate against this race, the world recognizes the beauty of mermaids.

But not long after they arrived at Onishima, they heard about the new challenge.

This is the first time someone has challenged the Big Kanban since the Hundred Beasts' challenge system came out. It's not like no one has such ambitions in the past, but they couldn't even pass the first level.

The top ten serializers are all old people. They know the strength of the big kanban, and no one goes to abuse them. It can be said that the warrior Sasaki has aroused the interest of many people.

"Quinn! Quinn! Quinn!"

On the surrounding viewing platform, the pirates of the beasts shouted Quinn's name excitedly. As a senior banquet host, Quinn's reputation among the beasts is not low, especially when he regards ordinary pirates as consumption. Even more so when the idea of a product and a test product is bound by rules.

Now he is at least not so ruthless towards his own people.

Compared with Sasaki, an outsider who came up to challenge the big kanban, they naturally hoped that Quinn would win.

"Boy, get ready, I don't want to waste time with you."

"Of course." Sasaki's body began to change, the skin gradually became rough, and three sharp horns appeared on the top of his head and above his nose.

He is the Dragon Dragon Fruit-Ancient Species-Triceratops. He got this fruit by chance shortly after the voyage. Because of this fruit, he is even more convinced that he can join the Beast Pirates and become one of them. member.

After all, among the current cadres of the beasts, all human beings show the ability of the animal system.

But Quinn didn't give him any other time. Waiting for him to transform is already the biggest concession. The transformation of the animal-type ability person takes a certain amount of time, and the more skilled the ability person is, the faster the transformation speed will be.

Although Quinn did it later, he completed his transformation ahead of time.

Quinn's tropical dragon had inherited the huge size of the original Brachiosaurus. The original Brachiosaurus weighed several times that of Triceratops. Coupled with the difference in size between Quinn and Sasaki, the gap became even bigger.

Before Sasaki was ready to attack, Quinn jumped into the air, and then stepped on him with a domineering kick.

"Fall me down boy, Quinn Bomb!"

With the huge weight and the power provided by the wings, Quinn didn't keep the slightest hand in this blow. After all, if Sasaki was not unlucky, he would be unlucky himself.

bang!

With a loud bang, Sasaki was stepped on top of his head by Quinn. The huge vibration made even the pirates beside him unable to keep his balance. Sasaki, whose head was hit by Quinn, also swayed and fell to the ground with pale eyes. has lost consciousness.

The bottom fell into silence for a while, they all thought that Sasaki would lose, but no one thought that Quinn would win so simply, but the silence was only temporary, and soon the wave of cheers covered up the shock just now, and Quinn also enjoyed There was this cheer.

One strike to defeat the enemy, and he did what Shaina asked him to do, no matter how the other party had no chance to trouble him.

"Ugh, Quinn, you're too * newcomers."

"There's no way, Boss Kaido, after all, he took the initiative to challenge. If not, I won't be able to save my face."

Quinn defended his position and safety with an overwhelming advantage, but Sasaki still got what he deserved, although a little rude, but it was only because of his shallow knowledge.

Retrieving the slate is a great achievement, and there will still be some things that should be there, but in the future, he may suffer a little during intensive training. After all, his ability is transformed by the ability of a sandbag.

The shield Pokémon transformed on the basis of Triceratops - the city-protecting dragon, the most notable feature of the city-protecting dragon is the thick face bone, although it is a face, but it can protect its descendants like a city wall, comparable to The hardness of diamond is its biggest reliance.

On this basis, Arceus retained the sharp horns of the Triceratops for him, which was regarded as an extra means of attack.

"Master Holy Beast, such a guy is not worthy of your ability at all, he is too condescending."

"After all, he is the one who came to surrender, and he seems to be Kaido's brain-dead fan, and some behaviors are understandable, but his affairs also reminded me, Shaina, this is something for you."

A scarlet red chain appeared in Shaina's hands, from which she felt a very special aura.

"Master Holy Beast, this is"

"A set of chains, a chain specially designed to restrain those with the ability I gave, but it will not affect you, so you don't have to worry about anything."

There are more and more people in Hundred Beasts, and more and more abilities are allocated. It is impossible for everyone to be a die-hard loyalist like Shaina, and Sasaki is only loyal to Kaido. For example, the betrayal he hated the most was no fun.

The Scarlet Chain is a special chain condensed from his power. The restraint effect on Pokémon abilities is similar to the restraint effect of Hai Lou Stone on ordinary abilities.

Apart from the phantom beasts he made, the most trustworthy subordinate is still Shaina, this chain is her recognition, and its hardness exceeds the existing materials, whether it is external or internal, this chain can work wonders.

I suggest some dear book friends to Baidu to find out the difference between hexagon and regular hexagon.

Chapter 447 The illusion of workplace bullying

The ability is given by him, and he naturally has the ability to withdraw it, but there is no need to do many things in person. The meaning of the chain is that Shaina has absolute ability to suppress other divine benefactors, so even if there is any problem, it is not necessary to do it herself.

The red chain is based on two slates, rock and steel, and is a special metal that incorporates his source power. It is a special product that does not belong to any kind of material in the world.

That is the * that even Dialga and Palkia cannot break free. For ordinary Pokémon, the red chain means absolute superior suppression.

In addition to its own hardness and ductility, its shape can also change.

One end of the chain is in the shape of a thousand universe arm, which can be used as a special spear head, switching between chain spear and spear state, and expanding and contracting within a certain range.

This chain can also be used as a short club, fist glove, whip and other weapons if needed.

Although Shaina is good at kicking, Jhin uses knives more, but they are all good gunners. They have learned marksmanship from their parents for a period of time since childhood, which can be regarded as the ancestral kung fu of the Lunaria clan. .

But the gun is an unpopular weapon in the world of pirates, and the iconic moves there are too obvious, and they also have other things they are good at, so they gave up the gun.

The red chain is estimated to be used as a soft whip most of the time in Shaina's hands. According to her personality, unless it is a special situation, she will never use this thing.

"Understood, I will not betray your trust. By the way, Lord Holy Beast, do you want to take a look at this thing?"

Shaina took out a small book, which seemed to be dozens of pages thick. The outside was quite delicate packaging and book cover. You could see that it was customized by looking at the pattern. Outsiders would never use the icon of Qian Zhou wrist. .

The golden border on a gray background and the strong religious atmosphere around it, it is self-evident what this is.

"Is this. Misu made it?"

"Yes, I think she is very talented, especially in the aspect of appreciating your glory, which is much stronger than that of Sasaki. This is the teaching she has arranged during this period of time. I have read it, although I personally think that it's no big deal, but it's better for you to take a look."

The doctrine that Arceus thought was just a piece of paper, after all, in his view, this was a transaction under the temptation of power, and finding a slate was rewarded, very concise and clear.

But such a common sentence can be expanded into a book, which is something he did not expect.

"How did you write so much"

Although the number of words on the booklet is not very dense, it does not repeat a sentence repeatedly. At first glance, it seems to be really telling the truth.

"I told her about some things from the past, and then she did some expansions and minor repairs, and finally it's like this. This is just a draft, and Misu thinks it's not perfect."

"It's almost enough, don't worry too much about this."

"It doesn't matter, Misu is very talented in this area and won't waste much time, and the children of the new convent also like to hear this kind of story."

The new monastery is also one of the new buildings that appeared in Wano. The children inside are not orphans, but the descendants of the pirates in the Beast Pirates. Although those pirates have started families and businesses, few of them are good at educating their children. .novelUSb.Com

The first-line pirates often still set sail. Even if they were relegated to the second-tier, they still have their own work to do during the day. Therefore, in the face of a monastery that includes food, housing and classes, they are very happy to send their children in, and these People's Dadu is also a new generation within the beasts.

The stronger the people, the less affected they are by age. Those grassroots cadres don't have the ability to be strong in their 60s or 70s, and the children raised by these pirates also shoulder the heavy responsibility of taking over.

"Let's go with you, what about the Tezzolo? He should also go to take over with Kojiro."

Kojiro was out on the field, not settled on Fishman Island. Now most of the inspection work there has ended, and he will wait for Tezzolo to go to the shift.

"I'll go find him right now."

Continue to discuss the next things here, and Sasaki, who has just joined the Beast Pirates, is still doubting the stage of his life.

"Is the gap so big?"

He thought that he might fail. After all, Quinn is also a big sign for the beasts. It is impossible to get this position with more attention, but he never thought that he would lose so thoroughly.

One move, just one move, and he was powerless to fight back.

"Captain Sasaki.."

"Don't call me captain, the original pirate group has been disbanded, and now you are all members of the beasts."

Said that Sasaki's arm had changed. Looking at the silver-gray arm, he realized one thing at this time. The rumors from the outside world were all true.

"It's no wonder that the pirates of the beasts are so fanatical because of the grace that made the animal system evolve into a mythical beast, but it is indeed Lord Kaido who can win over such a person."

You can only understand these things when you join Hundred Beasts and become a member of Ghost Island. For example, the bizarre system of dual commanders within Hundred Beasts. At this time, Sasaki still feels incredible when he recalls what happened at the time, but this transfer order made him unable to understand.

"Quarry Keeper"

Because he failed to challenge the big kanban, his internal position became a state of waiting for assignment, but after all, he was a person who got the ability to protect the city. Although he has just entered the new world, it is not difficult to become a grass-roots cadre.

However, he was assigned to the quarry and let him temporarily serve as a guard there. According to Kaido, he wants to be his right hand too much now, so let's go and train it first, the quarry is just right There is one of his sparring partners.

Because it was Kaido's request, he didn't raise any objections, but when he came to the quarry, he found that the so-called sparring was not a person at all, but the Boscodora.

Even if the triangle is retained, the castle dragon is still a Pokémon that relies on defense, and the hardest part of the body is the face bone. For Sasaki, the use of face skills will become the norm in the future.

The main fighting method of Boscodora relies on his own body. The prisoners in the mining field can see Boscodora hitting the mountains with his head and shoulders every day, and Sasaki's training needs to be beaten, so he was beaten. arranged to this position.

After he is familiar with the internal situation of the beasts, he will transfer his post. Looking at the steel behemoth in front of him, Sasaki suddenly has a feeling of being targeted, but in order to successfully become Kaido's right-hand man, he still walks without hesitation. down the beaten path

Chapter 448 War Machine - Genesect

Sasaki ushered in the first step of his career in the quarry. He belongs to a very strange and special situation. He chose to join the company out of admiration for the chairman, but he ignored a problem. The chairman may not always be in charge.

Due to his blind worship of the chairman, he ignored the second largest shareholder of the group, and this shareholder is the person who usually manages the affairs of the group, which indirectly led him to let the internal CEO and department managers make his first impression when he joined the company. not good.

Although I didn't lose what I deserved, it was inevitable to wear small shoes for a while between the regular inspection period.

Tezolo, on the other hand, is ready, and the Manaphy and the Giant Marsh are ready to go, but there is one more thing to prepare before they go.

The Beasts have no plans to station a cadre in Fishman Island. Mandelfish, who is in charge of the handover of the Chambord Islands and the New World, is also doing this job part-time, and Mandelfish is still preparing a plan for a land mermaid paradise.

Beasts never forbid their subordinates to do some private affairs during official business. As long as there are enough reasons and enough profit, Kaido can come forward to solve some bigger troubles. The word security has never been used with Kaido. Taking the initiative to attack others is the greatest peace of mind.

Not planning to increase cadres does not mean not increasing the force. Manaphy has proved one thing through the test. Although he cannot order all the sea kings like the sea king, he can persuade the sea kings in some areas. At least mining safety is not a problem. question.

And there are some Tyrannosaurus dragons living in the waters near the Chambord Islands. Those Tyrannosaurus dragons are the objects that Manaphy can control. These are the forces in the ocean, and at the same time, there are some weapons on the ship to be added.

For example, an ancient Pokémon - Genesect.

The attribute of bug + steel makes it not low in resistance to blows. Although the resistance to fire is weak, it depends on what kind of fire it is. In addition, the main activity range is near the fish-man island, and the marine environment can make fire. impact is minimized.

There is also an upper limit to being afraid of fire. Groudon is theoretically weak water, but ordinary water will only be evaporated by it, and the restraint of attributes is never absolute.

Including the skills of one-shot near-death, Dajia's guillotine can make Groudon die with one hit in the game, but in reality, at most, it will give the other party a pedicure, and Groudon can also show it, even if you It can fly, and Lao Tzu's sword of cliff can also stab you down.

The humanoid robot that Quinn made according to the requirements was also sent over. It is much easier to have a carrier than to fabricate it out of thin air, but it is only limited to the Pokémon that is similar to the artificial robot itself.

The body is not important, the most important thing is the artillery on the back. The original Genesect does not have the laser cannon on the back. It was an additional tool installed by the Plasma team when the Genesect was resurrected.

Although Nosect is still the most powerful hunter in ancient times without the laser cannon installed, it is not a bad thing to have one more weapon. They don't have a rite of passage, so there is no need to put their own weapons like the Predator High-tech weapons are not used, and you have to use melee equipment to fight meelely.

The Plasma Team's scientific research technology is extremely high, and the artillery that those researchers installed on Genesect can even switch cassettes to change their attack attributes.

Elemental attacks are not a secret in the MADS research team. Gage, who has studied bloodline factors, has integrated special powers into his children's combat system through battle suits, and Quinn has also added those abilities to his body transformation.

And because of the ability of the tropical dragon and the power of the skills of the Pokémon, Quinn has transformed a new weapon energy, which is the special weapon he made at the beginning.

The reason why he made samples is not because Arceus's ability is not as good as technology, but that technology is too low-level for him.

Switching the attributes of his attack is just a matter of thought for him, and he certainly won't study how to simulate his own ability with technology.

In a sense, this kind of power is too low-level for him, so he didn't study that kind of thing.

Instead of figuring out how to transform, it is better to transform according to Quinn's existing research results and combine his own strength, saving time and effort without affecting the results.

There are three prototype machines made by Quinn, all of which are about five meters tall, much taller than the original Genesect.

At this time, the two slates, steel and jade worm, are both playing their own functions. The jade worm slate gives life to the soul, and the steel slate completes the outer carapace and the armed behind it.

With the influx of power, the appearance of the test body made by Quinn is also changing.

Legs and arms gradually change into insect-like segmented structures with slightly upwardly curved hooks at the ends of the legs.

The head gradually changed into the shape of a flying saucer, and with the position of the eyes flashing red light, Genesect came to this world.

"Lord."

The slightly mechanical tone came from Genesect's mouth. Although the number was not unique, Genesect was also a member of the Eudemons, and the Arceus family added another member, or this time it was triplets. .

"You will be their leader in the future, and your younger siblings will be born soon."

There is actually no difference between the three machines, but this one is more advanced, so he naturally became the eldest of the triplets.

Soon after, the three Genesects all had their own consciousness, but they are still not truly complete Genesects. The power of Arceus is still condensing. Cards appear in the sky.

And the light cannon behind Genesect also opened the card slot, and integrated those small cards like cassettes into the body.

That is the power that represents the existing slate attributes, fire, common, evil, water, grass, electricity, fairy, rock, dragon, steel, insect, although they cannot switch attributes, but they can choose the attack mode of light cannon.

Next to Genesect, Yamato's Tutu dog is numbering the Genesects, the leader is red, the other two are purple, and their chests have GT0 to GT2 numbers.

GT0 is the leader, and the remaining two are his younger siblings. noVeLus&.com

At this time, according to Arceus's request, he planned to take his younger brother and sister to the shooting range to test the power of the weapon. The bodies of the three Genesects twisted and folded, and soon became the shape of a floating cannon.

That is their high-speed flight form, and it is also a posture of chasing prey, but in the eyes of ordinary people, this is a robot that can be deformed.

and deformable robots have a strong attraction for many pirates.

"So cool, foster father, they are so cool, I want one too, can you?"

Chapter 449 Quinn's Ominous Premonition, Tiger on the Rock

Who can refuse a deformable robot, she likes cute things, but she won't refuse such a very handsome thing.

The battle suits of Germa 66 have a large number of fans in Beihai because of the comics, and it is easier for a mechanical Pokémon to transform into a real mechanical Pokémon like Genesect.

"Okay, I'll prepare a smaller one for you in a few days."

The original intention of Genesect was to guard some islands, fighters, and their positioning in the Beast Pirates is the pacifist version of the pirates, so they are made slightly larger in size.

This size is very suitable on the battlefield, but it is too big as a playmate. Since Yamato has become interested, it will be good to make a slightly smaller size after a while.

"Okay, but foster father, what are they going to do?"

"Weapon test, it should be on Quinn's side now."

Genesect flew very fast, and it didn't take a long time to reach the shooting range of the new weapon experiment of the beasts in the Rabbit Bowl area. Not far away was Quinn's weapons laboratory. He naturally saw the original manufacture What happened to those robots.

Boom! boom! boom!

Genesect's attack hit the target with precision, and the place where the target was originally placed has turned into three big pits.

The light cannon behind Genesect was strengthened by Arceus and became extremely powerful, but for some reason, Quinn didn't feel any joy.

The number on Genesect's chest is very obvious. Although he doesn't know what GT means, he understands another reason. The drawing style of Genesect's modern weapon and the number on his chest are telling others. Man, these are mass production machines.

The shape of the worm-shaped robot will definitely produce that kind of misunderstanding, coupled with the energy cannon similar to the bloodline factor. Quinn has a hunch that his bounty will increase again sooner or later.

Looking at Genesect's weapons, Quinn had some special ideas. Since the prototypes of those light cannons were weapons made by himself, the weapons in his body should also be able to be modified. He felt that it was necessary to apply for Arceus to I did a second remodel myself.

For example, to upgrade the weapons in his body, in order to deal with the possible crisis, he felt that this was a very necessary thing.

Afterwards, Genesect conducted a series of tests. After binding the data, Genesect also left here. With these data and the blueprints in his room, it is really easy for outsiders to misunderstand. .

Tezolo didn't stay in Oni Island for too long this time, and soon went to Fishman Island with the prepared supplies and Pokémon.

Starting a mining company and replacing Kojiro is his mission this time. If Jack has learned enough, he will return to Onishima with Kojiro.

Navigation is a boring and long process. The route from Wano Country to Chambord Islands is a route often sailed by pirates of beasts. Many people are tired of seeing the scenery on the road.

And this voyage is simpler than ever. The manaphy that swims in the sea allows them not to worry about the harassment of sea beasts. Some ordinary marine creatures are still dancing around the ship under the control of Manaphy, which can be regarded as adding to the sailing. Some different fun.

The beasts are still following the usual traces of the stone slabs they are looking for in the sea, and there are different situations around the world.

For example, the Revolutionary Army gained a large number of followers after making a name for itself near Frevans. Based on these people, Long began to develop the Revolutionary Army in the four seas. These people are still too reluctant to enter the great route.

At the same time, Bartholomew Bear returned to Sobel Kingdom due to trivial matters, and Ambrio Ivankov, Queen of Kamabaka Kingdom, a friend of the dragon, also joined the revolutionary army.

Although the current revolutionary army has not yet entered the great route, the Kamabaka Kingdom can be regarded as a step for the revolutionary army, because it is located on the peach-colored island of the great route, but many people are reluctant to set foot on this island.

It is not because the island environment is dangerous, but because the residents on it are rather strange. The Karma Baka Kingdom, known as the Shemale Kingdom, is a nightmare for some people.

In Beihai, although the Don Quixote family will be chased by the crane from time to time, Luo still proved his worth. He robbed a wealthy businessman in the new station with baby-5 and Buffalo, so he got his own medicines needed.

Taking the medicine for a few months also made him understand one thing, that is, this medicine is not a special medicine for platinum-lead disease at all, although it can enhance people's resistance, with this medicine he can last for a few more months. , but that's not a cure at all.

And many doubts also appeared in his mind. He really wanted to go to the nun and ask the nun in person, but now there is no chance at all.

On the red soil continent, a big event is happening.

The red soil continent under the dark night looks extremely quiet. Although the bubble cable car in Hong Kong is still in operation, Fisher Tiger is struggling to climb in the shadows far from there.

There is no warning around the Red Earth Continent. It is impossible for the World Government to build fences and install police posts on the entire Red Earth Continent. Besides, they don't think anyone can climb the Red Earth Continent. The height has already made countless people stay away.

But tonight, something unusual happened. The climber did not have any safety devices in his hands. At this time, he was climbing the red soil continent with his bare hands.

There are still some protrusions on the huge rock wall, which allows him to find some places to borrow strength, but many of these rocks have been weathered under the wind and the sun. A stone under his feet suddenly shattered, and he He also hung on the rock wall with one hand because he lost his balance.

The sun-like mark on his chest can be seen on his bare chest.

Originally there was the seal of Tianxianglong, which belonged to the Tianlong people, and it was also one of the most shameful things for Tiger, so soon after escaping, this pattern was used to cover up the original logo. NoVelusb.com

Although the Tianxianglong seal is only a tattoo brand, there is some kind of potion mixed in it, which cannot be removed by ordinary means, so it can only be covered up, and this is also the most puzzling behavior of the three Hancock sisters on the original timeline.

Compared with the trauma of the soul, the pain of the brand is nothing at all, but they did not choose to cover it with the mark of the nine snakes after several years.

Tiger, who was hanging on the rock wall with one hand, was struggling to find a new leverage point, but he encountered an unexpected joy. He actually found a cave on the rock wall.

Although the interior has collapsed and sealed, the remaining space is enough for him to rest for a while, and this is the trace left by the big rock snakes.

Chapter 450 The Mary Joa Attack

Back then, the big rock snakes were digging holes all over the place. Although they refilled the tunnel after digging the wrong way, the place that was dug was no longer a complete piece of rock. Naturally, such a small depression was left, and this also gave Tai. A chance to breathe.

After a slight rest, he continued to climb up. He didn't have much time. If it was dawn, he would be discovered soon. He had to take advantage of the cover of night to complete his goal.

Although this is an almost impossible goal, those years of torture gave him a belief in his heart, and in the end he succeeded in reaching it.

Relying on his familiarity with Mary Joa, he sneaked into Mary Joa from the sewers. In order to show their difference, the Tianlong people even built the sewers to be extremely spacious, and this just gave Tiger a chance.

He has been preparing for today's action for a long time, and the props he prepared are in the backpack. The department store opened by Kojiro can be said to have helped him a lot, such as the water storage shell he is holding in his hand.

This is just a device for storing liquids in the sky island, and they are now filled with strong fuel oil, set fire to attract attention, and then rescue the slaves who are held together.

It was also the day he chose to act today, because today is a gathering among the Tianlong people. In their opinion, the lowly slaves are not worthy of appearing on this occasion, so the slaves will be concentrated and imprisoned together.

There is the slave bank of the dragon people. For the dragon people, there is no difference between slaves and currency, but they are equivalents and consumables.

He heard from Ottohime, and Kojiro asked Ottohime if he needed an arms order, so he got a lot of good things from him, and some timed fuses were placed by him at this time.

As time passed, those fuses were detonated on time, and a fire swept through the entire Mary Joa in an instant, and the entire Mary Joa was in complete chaos. in action.

Rescue the property is entirely at the request of the Tianlong people. Although the house is on fire, in the eyes of the Tianlong people, human life is far less important than their favorite toys.

Under the threat of guns, some people who worked for the Tianlong people had to risk their lives into the fire.

The purpose of this fire was to attract the attention of most people at first, however, Tiger had achieved this purpose, escorting the dragon people to a safe position to contain a large number of people.

Most of the guards have been led away by the fire, and Tiger's chance has come. He is also a strong man among the murlocs. The remaining guards are not his opponents. After defeating those people, he successfully obtained the key he needed.

"You are free! But you are not yet safe! This is Mary Joa, you all know the result of staying here, you don't want to be pushed out on the corpse car, then come with me!"

Holding the knives and guns he snatched from the guards, Tiger began to liberate the slaves. The priority was to liberate the adult males who were capable of fighting. The guards outside had already surrounded him after they noticed the movement here, and he needed someone to defend against those guards.

There are many slaves in the hands of the Tianlong people, including the giants, and the two giants have become the most powerful force. When the agents of CPO are guarding the Tianlong people, these people can't stop them. Live giant.

Tiger, who appeared here like a savior, became their backbone, and most of the overwhelmed people followed his orders, especially those murlocs and merman slaves.

"Brother Tiger, the chains are all open, what shall we do next?"

"Target Chigang, grab the Bubble Cable Car and evacuate from there."

Although he can climb up alone, it does not mean that everyone can go back the same way as him. Even he may not be able to do it himself. It is easy to go up the mountain and difficult to go down. It is far more difficult to get out of here than to go up. much more.

Chigang must have defenders, but for freedom and survival, they had to fight to the death.

After the accident, Mary Joa will definitely notify the nearest Marin Vando. At this time, the warships that received the order have begun to send reinforcements to Chigang. The World Conference has already ended, and the naval admirals stationed here have naturally evacuated.

The two strongest branches of the navy are on both sides of Marijoa, and with their own armament, there is no need to keep a general here forever.

It won't be long before the reinforcements arrive at Marijoa, but before that, we can only rely on the defenders there to hold on.

"Major General, according to the information, a group of slaves stole the Bubble Cable Car, and they are going down soon!"

"And the giants, Major General, they are already in sight!"

This is a message from the people above, they can't directly destroy the bubble gondola, because that will bring the transportation here to a standstill.

will cause great losses to the world government, and the request of the dragon people is not to kill these slaves, but to capture them back.

Therefore, the few defenders above did not resist at all, but let them down, because the people there did not want to take this responsibility, they knew that even if those slaves were let down, they would still face the defenders of Chigang, so This decision was made.

In the face of the approaching bubble cable car, the soldiers guarding here do not know what to do.

"Raise your gun, muzzle down, free fire."

"Press it down?!" The bubble lift still has a certain height, so naturally it can't hit the target.

"Executing an order."

"Yes!"
