

Arceus 471

Chapter 471 A new name is suggested here

Everything in Zou is still going on. Perona, who came to Zou with her adoptive father and mother, likes the living environment of the fur tribe very much. The furry fur tribe is very suitable for her cuteness, especially the bear fur tribe. say.

She still prefers furry creatures that can't speak, such as her own wearing bear, but this time the wearing bear did not come to Zou with her.

Everything in Zou was going on as usual. During the period of time before leaving Zou, Yang Jisihan asked her and Zeraora to follow him all the time on the grounds that she had to learn how to manage Zou. , it can be regarded as a little bit of Matryoshka for a moment.

Soon afterward, Shanna also found Pedro, Jiebo and others who returned.

"Pokemus is fine, he joined someone else's pirate group by chance, let me tell you not to worry."

She had already told Pokemus' parents before, and they didn't say anything about her son's choice to go out, but they asked more about the other party's situation.

And Pokemus went out with Pedro and the others, so naturally he had to explain it to him, but there is good news as well as bad news, but this bad news was said by Yang Jishan.

"Jiebo, your brother Bebo"

"Bepo? What happened to Bepo?"

A white bear fur tribe with a slightly taller stature and a tuft of black hair on his head asked anxiously.

"The people from the Musketeer team left Zou to observe the situation in the sea. He also secretly hid in the gondola. They didn't notice Bepo, so he accidentally drifted away"

The fur tribe left Zuowu probably because of the influence of other people. Two years after Inuarashi and Cat Viper left Zuowu, Shanna also secretly left Zuowu because of dissatisfaction.

After Pedro decided to go to sea, Pokemus also chose to follow, and Bebo was really small at that time, so Jiebo did not bring him, and he was accidentally lost because of the footsteps of chasing his brother.

"Did he bring a life card?"

"We're not sure about this either"

The fur clan who went out had to rely on the life card to return to Zou. At first, they couldn't find their way home because they didn't have the life card, let alone Bepo now.

In the end, the Knox expedition also has a new goal. While continuing the previous goal, they also plan to find Bepo. As for whether they can find it, they have to take luck.

But because of the previous experience, Pedro kept all the members who could not control the moon lion. Previously, he underestimated the danger of the open sea.

"Pedro, I suggest that your expedition change its name."

"Huh? Why?"

"This pronunciation is a bit similar to Lox, I guess you have something to do with the world government with such a high reward."

382 million Berry's bounty is not weak in the New World, and this bounty is even higher than Moment's, but her bounty does not go up to Zera Ora is basically fully responsible.

Although Lucario's melee combat is also very strong, most of the time, other people don't have the chance to get close to Moan. She only needs long-range fire support. Once someone can get close to her, she will find that she has made a mistake in prediction.

She is an archer, and there is a big difference between an archer and a musketeer. With a little training in muskets, even old and weak women and children can fire those old-fashioned flintlock guns.

The range is the advantage of the musketeer. Facing an opponent who rushes to the side, the musketeer will be very embarrassed, but the archer is different. Don't think that the archer is weak in melee just because the archer is a long-range means.

Since ancient times, archers have been the elite of the army. It is far more tiring to draw a strong bow than to swing a knife. After picking up a melee weapon, the archer is even stronger than the infantry. NovelUsB.com

It's just that the infantry is formed quickly, and it takes time to cultivate a sharp archer. No one is willing to let these elites go to melee combat.

Bow and arrow are Moment's advantage, but melee combat is not her weakness, but in front of Zeraora's speed, the enemy rarely has the chance to melee her.

This led to the fact that she was just a mascot in the Navy's intelligence, and the bounty was very ordinary, on the same level as Pearman's deputy of Mandelfish.

Even Shaina's deputy Emmaline offered a higher reward than her.

But Pedro's bounty was not low due to the increase of the moon lion. It is impossible for them to set the bounty according to the normal amount. It must be arranged according to the strongest form of the enemy.

Of course, Momo felt that Pedro's bounty was so high that it might have something to do with someone behind his ears.

The spelling of Rocks and Knox is somewhat similar. Although the government tries to hide the existence of Rocks, even the new generation of Vice Admirals do not know the name, but Kaido, as the remnant of Rocks, will naturally tell his own people. the original thing.

"I kinda like this name.."

"It's just a personal suggestion, it's fine if you don't change it, you've already been labeled anyway."

Then she began to tell Pedro what he should pay attention to when he was overseas. She spent more time overseas than Pedro, a person who had been at sea for less than a year.

Be careful where and who can't mess with her better than Pedro.

Afterwards, Shanna and Zeraora took Yamato and the others to play in Zou for a while, and then left Zou under the slightly resentful eyes of Yang Jishan. They will probably come back in a few months, or like She will also return when the Lord arrives near Wano for repairs.

That was what she communicated with the elephant before she left. As a monster that has lived for thousands of years, the elephant does not get lost in the current like a ship. It has a unique ability to discern directions.

Pedro also went to sea with Jiebo again after the rest. He also had no opinion on becoming the new duke in an instant. In fact, according to the original plan, he planned to stay in Zou for a while.

But he found that Yang Jishi wanted to pull him into the water, and he also did not want to be entangled in management matters, and he simply chose to continue to go to sea.

Through the wedding of Zeraora and Setsuna, the Beasts Pirates have finalized a lot of new business, some of them are happy and some are worried, the people who have done the business are naturally very happy, but some people are not so happy.

For example, Umit, known as the deep-sea laminar current, has almost monopolized the underground shipping in the New World because he has mastered special shipping channels. Others are not without it, but they are no match for him in terms of speed and safety.

He also made a lot of money when he transported things, but the situation has changed recently. Bailey has been depreciating at a certain trend over the years. With the depreciation of the currency, the prices of many things have begun to increase.

The price of is even more so in the underground world. It may have only risen by a few thousand Baileys outside, but here it has doubled directly.

Most people have nothing to do with this monopoly method, but the beasts are different, they can transport most of the things by themselves, and they originally transported some secret small things with the help of Umit.

Since he raised the price, the beasts chose to go it alone.

Chapter 472 The Giant Current and Laplace

This world is the home of the ocean. Whoever can master the special ocean current will have the advantage. It is because of the closed triangular ocean current that a fast communication channel can be established between the Judiciary Island, the Navy Headquarters, and the Undersea Prison.

The location of their construction also refers to the reasons for the ocean currents. Umit also became the sea king because of some secret ocean currents, but no matter how safe the ocean currents are, they are not as safe under the sea.

As long as you sail on the sea, there is the possibility of encountering other ships, but underwater is different, the submarine technology is not developed, and there are not many weapons against the sea surface.

Now the situation of the murlocs is not bad. After a group of suitable murlocs are recruited, the unique underwater transport team of the beasts can be established.

Some hidden things can be arranged from underwater as long as waterproof measures are taken. Although there are no special currents in their territory, Arceus has begun to change the environment.

The water drop slate constantly emits an invisible energy, which spreads to the nearby sea with the flow of the current and gradually sinks into the silt of the seabed.

Nothing seemed to happen, but the carp king living in the affected ocean current seemed to sense something, and even the twisting of his body became stronger.

The oceans of each world are different. The oceans in the One Piece world contain a large number of special ingredients, so those who are restrained can swim freely.

Also, some special things only exist in the world of Pokémon, such as the gigantic realm that exists in parts of Galar.

There will be a giant phenomenon of Pokemon, this phenomenon may happen to any Pokemon, the giant Pokemon will have powerful power.

Individual individuals can also appear super-giant. The super-giant brings not just the increase in body size, but a unique image and exclusive super-giant moves.

However, in the Galar region, the gigantic growth can only appear on certain occasions. What Arceus is doing now is to increase the combat power of the underwater transport team.

Pokémon like the Tyrannosaurus are not suitable for transportation, both in terms of personality and size. They are gentle in nature, have a large carrying capacity, and are ideally amphibious.

In this case, a group of Pokémon formerly named Chenglong and now named Laplace appeared in this sea area.novElusB.com

Laplace is known as a ride-on Pokémon. It has a gray carapace under its overall blue appearance, but it cannot be retracted like a turtle.

In addition to being kind by nature, Laplace's IQ is also a high type in Pokémon. It is very cold-resistant, not afraid of ice seas, even in cold seas, it can come and go freely, and it can understand the meaning of human beings in more detail.

The super-giant Laplace can even let more than 5,000 people ride on the carapace on his back, which can play a strategic role in addition to its own freight.

On the island where Mandelfish was stationed, he and Rusaka still stayed here. He was absent from the wedding on the ghost island, but there was no way to do it. The territory of the beasts needed to be stationed, and many cadres were inseparable.

"Mu Ying!"

A slightly sad voice came from the seaside and swam into the island along the swimming lane built by Mandelfish. Although Laplaces can crawl on land like sea turtles, they still only live in the ocean most of the time. .

Ocean>Ice>Land, this is how Laplaces choose their route.

"Fish, did you hear anything?"

"I heard, it should be that the things arranged above have arrived. This time I am testing some new things."

said that, Mandelfish looked in the direction of the voice.

"Brother Mandelfish, here I come."

In addition to a few Laplaces, there is also Jack. Laplace, who was traveling for the first time, did not know the way. In order to prevent them from finding their destination, Jack, who was a murloc, served as the navigator.

is only this time. As long as you come here once, Laplace will remember this island, and when you come here for the second time, you will no longer need a guide.

"These are."

"Well, the newly created creature by Lord Arceus, this time is also here for a transport experiment."

He said and patted the special sealed box behind Laplace. After opening it, there was a piece of dry white paper without any traces of being wet. In addition, there were also some special materials needed by the islands. Sent through Laplace.

It also includes some fragile items. In general, the quality of transportation is not a big problem. As for the safety issue, it has also been tested on the road.

In the deep sea, there is no need to consider the issue of pirates. The ones who may attack Laplace are sea beasts or sea kings. The transportation process this time is very smooth.

Ordinary sea beasts are not the opponents of Laplace, and they did not encounter sea kings during this voyage. In fact, as long as they do not enter the windless belt, the situation of encountering sea kings is very small.

As long as they avoid the area where they live, the sea kings are too lazy to go to areas outside the windless zone most of the time.

Rushaka stroked Laplace's neck, and a cold feeling passed to her hand, which would probably feel very comfortable if riding Laplace in summer.

Then the two Laplaces returned to the water again. This time they wanted to test the time to return to the ghost island at full speed. Previously, because of Jack, Laplace was unable to move at full speed.

Because Jack's tonnage is too large, he grows faster and faster when he reaches adolescence. If Laplace does not go giant, it will be awkward for him to sit on it, so he is always by his side.

Laplace is also a faster type in water-type Pokémon, this time it is a new speed collection.

Watching the Laplaces re-enter the water, Jack also sent a message back to Ghost Island.

However, it was far more than Onishima who was investigating the situation of Pokémon. At this time, Vega Punk in the research institute also stopped his research due to some circumstances.

"Interesting, are these creatures so intelligent?"

Those people captured two Tyrannosaurus carp dragons and sent them here. After a period of research, Vega Punk successfully developed a machine that could control sea beasts.

There is no problem in controlling ordinary sea beasts, and there was no problem in the test on the Tyrannosaurus at the beginning. He thought he had developed a perfect control device, but in the experiment not long ago, it happened unexpectedly.

Those tyrannosaurs would make some noises in the ocean during the test. He didn't care at first, but in the last experiment, more tyrannosaurs appeared nearby and successfully took away the two. Test article only.

Chapter 473 Red Tyrannosaurus, Robin about to set sail

If he just took it away, he wouldn't be so surprised, but the IQ of those tyrannical carp dragons was beyond his imagination, and they actually knew how to destroy the controllers on the heads of those two tyrannical carp dragons.

Watching the screen on the monitor turn into black and white garbled characters, with the number 2 written on his chest, Vega Punk touched his chin, and his plain face became more radiant. There is a lot of interest in this matter.

Just a few taps on the keyboard in front of him, a huge change took place in the studio, and a lot of defensive measures were added to the outside world.

According to his past research on Tyrannosaurus, this creature should be very vengeful, and in this case, they are likely to come back for revenge.

Vega Punk's own guess is fine, but he underestimated the evolutionary nature of living things.

In the distant deep sea, two Tyrannosaurs who had regained their freedom let out an angry roar, and it was this sound that had previously attracted other Tyrannosaurus.

If it was just according to the habit of Tyrannosaurus, they would indeed retaliate immediately, but these two Tyrannosaurs did not get the approval of their companions, but were slapped on the head by a broad tail.

You can see through the dark sea water, it is a crimson tyrannosaurus.

Since Arceus transformed the carp king, the carp king has spread all over the world. Under this huge base, some special individuals have also appeared in the carp king, such as the golden carp king.

In addition to the giant carp that Arceus originally transformed, these carp kings are all products of reproduction. For Arceus's order, I only remember that one, search, return, and report.

But this carp king seems to have achieved a throwback. Arceus's orders have a deeper impact on it, and its individual has become different. Compared with the general tyrannosaurus, it is smarter, and it is also seen in pilgrimage activities. A special individual who has been to Arceus.

In the face of such a unique tyrannosaurus, Arceus also strengthened it to make it more distinctive.

"Roar!"

Under the coercion of the red tyrannosaurus, the two tyrannosaurs followed it and left. This is the group consciousness of the tyrannosaurus. The powerful tyrannosaurus is the leader. This red tyrannosaurus is the leader. Bigger and stronger, nature commands them.

Even when he left, he left a pheromone belonging to the Tyrannosaurus on the reefs of this sea area, warning other Tyrannosaurus to stay away from this dangerous area. At the same time, it also wrote down the location of the island and planned to make a pilgrimage next time. report all this.

Then there was another roar, and the group of tyrannical carp dragons completely disappeared in the sea area, and the day of their pilgrimage was coming soon.

As for whether Tyrannosaurus from other sea areas will be captured and brought here, or whether Tyrannosaurus will break in by mistake, that is not something it considers. Although it is smarter than other Tyrannosaurus, it is almost the same. It's the limit.

"Roar~ Roar~"

After a period of time, in the waters near Wano Kingdom, with the last tyrannosaur diving into the water, this year's pilgrimage was considered to be over, and Arceus also got such news.

"Quinn, from the position of Wano Country, swim eastward for twelve days at the speed of the Tyrannosaurus Carp Dragon, and then swim southward for a month, and mark that position."

"Master Arceus, what is this?"

"Maybe it's a research institute in Vega Punk, haven't you heard of it before? Although I can't do anything right now, I won't know about it in the future."

"No, although we are in the same research group, we are only a group member. That guy Vega Punk has the most secrets, and the current research institute may be provided by the world government."

Quinn did not ask why Arceus knew this, he was used to these things, although he was a scientist, he had seen too much theology.

Not to mention, Pokémon, a creature that transcends biological common sense, is enough theology.

At the same time, the moment when he left Zou's trivia to the sheep Jishan also ended a new honeymoon with Zeraora.

At this time, they have returned to the new house in Jiuli. The house is not much repaired, but it is very warm. At the same time, Perona also lives in the basement of the house.

It's not that Momo and Zeraora abuse her, but that she likes the environment in the basement, which is decorated like a little princess room.

【February 7, 1508, Snow

Although I'm married, I haven't felt the feeling my mother said, maybe I'll know when I have a child, but Perona doesn't feel burdened to raise her.

Maybe it's because it's not biological, but I don't know when it will be biological.

Sheep Jishan urges me once a month to go back and officially take over as the duke, but I still don't want to take over the position directly. Sure enough, people's dreams will change when they grow up.

】

With the increase of knowledge, some people's dreams will change, but some people can stick to it, and she can't say that she doesn't want to be king at all, but now she feels that she can't bear such a big responsibility.

【I miss the carefree days when I was a child, but it seems to be fine now. 】

Glancing at Zeraora outside the window, she closed the notebook again in an instant. It has become a habit for her to keep writing a diary for several years. There are not many people who can stick to this habit, and even some people in the Beast Pirates forgot The details of some major events will look for a moment.

Because if she looks through her diary, she is likely to find some details and the like.

But there is another thing that happened this year. Nicole Robin is 16 years old. This age is no different from adulthood in the world of pirates. She has also arrived at the time she agreed to go out.

According to the agreement of the year, she will now leave Wano and go to the outside world to explore some relics and the like. Her identity is not registered with the World Government, and she is not a wanted pirate, so she can do this through normal means. Yes.

Compared with the 8-year-old who began to wander around various forces and experienced the dark side of the world, this is already a good life. It is her own will to choose to sail, although now she has a tendency to transfer to Dr. Pokémon, But he is still essentially a doctor of history.

And whether it is the missing historical text or the slate that may be sealed in a relic, a more professional person is needed to do it.

She told Yamato about this a few days ago, but after saying it, Yamato seemed to have disappeared, and it was not until today that she was about to set off to see Yamato with a bruised nose and a swollen face again.

"What's wrong with you?"

"It's nothing, I went and asked my father for something, come with me, I'll ask Tutu Dog to draw something for you."

Two shifts today, I will adjust my state, I feel weird recently, I should be able to recover tomorrow, I think I have caught the tail

Note: The grades have not fallen, they are still rising, although not much.

The comment area is just because of the big ban, not deleting posts, and I'm not cold.

According to the new gossip, the end of No. 2ηovelusb.cOm

Chapter 474 Ghost Princess

Yamato took Robin to his room. Before Robin could figure out what was going on, Tutu had drawn a special skull pattern on her shoulder. There was no doubt that it was exactly The pirate flag belonging to Kaido.

"This is."

"Father's pirate flag, although you're not wanted, it's better to take this out with you. Usually, just cover it up with this sleeve. If you encounter any trouble, this flag will definitely help you."

This is what Yamato has come to realize today, that is, Kaido's pirate flag has enough deterrent power on the sea, which can deter many people, and in fact it is the same, in the complex new world, the pirate of the emperor of the sea The flag is the best shelter.

"Isn't the injury on your face just for this?"

Looking at Yamato with a blue nose and a swollen face, Robin suddenly understood why she had disappeared these days.

"It doesn't count, my father was originally this virtue, but this time he was really serious enough."

The physique of the super real new body plus Kaido's bloodline physique, plus the improvement of the improved version of the true * of big mouth, plus the will of the Ssangyong that resides in the body also has a certain increase.

Even when the buffs are fully stacked, she can still see obvious scars on her face, which fully shows how much of Kaido's hand.

Robin guessed right, she made this trip just to let Robin set sail with Kaido's flag.

Robin is now a free body, and is not a wanted criminal at all in the world government, and O'Hara and the beasts are only a mutual aid relationship, they only need each other's research on historical materials.

In this case, as a non-affiliated faction, they are not qualified to use Kaido's flag, and it is already a great convenience to provide convenience in other aspects.

The Beast Pirates are Kaido's Beasts Pirates after all. Lending other people's flags must be approved by Kaido. Even if those big cadres have the same power, they still have to go through Kaido after the flags are given out. Just agree.

The flag is the same as a token for pirates. Burning and destroying the pirate flag of the other party means a signal to declare war. Similarly, the use of other people's pirate flag without permission also means a declaration of war once it is discovered.

Impersonating another pirate group usually has to pay a huge price.

Even though Yamato is the eldest lady of the Beast Pirates, she still does not have the qualification to lend a flag to someone over Kaido, so in order to help a friend, she chose to go to Kaido to ask for a flag.

And Kaido's answer is also very simple, yes, but to see if she has the qualifications, whether she already has the qualifications and power to use her own flag.

This method is naturally the only way to fight. In Kaido's view, the most effective thing that can prove worth and qualifications is force.

The fourteen-year-old Yamato has also entered his adolescence, and all aspects of his body are developing rapidly, and he is much stronger than when he was a child.

She and Kaido played for three days and three nights when Kaido didn't use his abilities and cast a sea at the same time. Although these three days and three nights were playing for Kaido, but for Yamato, it was a challenge to himself. limit.novelusb.com

Kaido also let out a burst of laughter after the last Servant Bingya exhausted his stamina.

"Give it to whoever you want, and you can use Laozi's flag as you like."

After leaving such a sentence, Kaido threw Yamato on the island for training, and left alone, and returned to Onishima by herself after her physical strength was almost recovered.

Kaido is very satisfied with this performance. Even if he doesn't have the ability, few can play with him in normal state for three days. Even a supernova is basically a stick.

In addition to those who wear the resurrection armor card bug, it is not easy for the rookie in the first half to make him the second best.

"Hey, there's this, the fabric I got from Brother Jin. It's waterproof, breathable, and shading. It's not uncomfortable for him to wear it on his face every day. There's definitely no problem with making a sleeve."

"Isn't it a long time ago that I'm leaving? Why do you have to do so much?"

"What are you talking about, aren't we friends? How can there be so many things between friends? By the way, and this, I'm asking for it from the righteous father."

Saying that, Yamato took out a red Qianhou wrist, but the inside of the Qianhou wrist was hollow and looked more like a conch flute.

"The adoptive father has created a lot of Pokémon in the past few years. There are also many Tyrannosaurus dragons and Laplaces in the sea. I heard Jack said that there are giant marsh monsters on the fish-man island. As soon as you blow this, any Pokémon you hear around will come over."

It's not so dangerous to get this flute, but it's just a matter of words. Robin didn't reject Yamato's kindness, but after struggling for a while, he still asked a question.

"That Yamato, with this flag, Arceus-sama also has the power to grant it?"

"Yeah, adoptive father and father, they don't care about this kind of thing."

"Then why don't you just ask Lord Arceus to ask for it?"

"Ah?"

Although it was a bit troubling, Robin still asked this question. In fact, Yamato also wanted to go out together at that time. She and Robin were only two years apart in age, but they were directly rejected by Arceus.

Looking at Yamato with a confused face, Robin suddenly understood Arceus's thoughts. If no one was watching her when she sailed, it would be very easy to be sold directly. Although those people probably couldn't beat her, she had to be sold in the end. Take a lesson.

"Yeah, why shouldn't I go directly to my foster father?"

The difference is not particularly big, that is, the difference between three days of hard work and one sentence, but she didn't think about it that much at the time, she just thought that Kaido's flag should be found by Kaido, and she forgot to work around this mess.

But what she did was not in vain. Robin didn't set off immediately, and her initial route had a certain plan, so she went to the cafeteria of Onishima as usual.

But those pirates who saw Yamato changed her name to her, no longer the former Miss Yamato, but became Lord Guiji, only the cadres still used the title of Miss Yamato.

"Hey, wait, why are you calling me Guiji-sama?"

"Master Guiji, this is what Governor Kaido meant. He made this request after he came back."

This is not just a change of title, the title of Miss Yamato means that she is just Kaido's daughter, and when her title becomes Lord Oniji, it means that in Kaido's eyes, Yamato has embarked on a path Eligible Heir Position

Chapter 475 Come, let's fight

Yawa has inexplicably added the title of such a ghost princess. While she accepted this new title, Kaido and Arceus were also doing something else.

Throughout the entire Oni Island, the adopted orphans and the children of members of the pirate group are all gathered together. They have one thing in common, that is, they are generally younger than the older ones.

They are selecting the team for Yamato. Although Maria and Jack are familiar with Yamato, they are trained as the current cadres of the beasts, even Ulti and Peggywan are the same.

Even the weakest Iska and Perona, who has the lowest sense of existence, are also friends of her generation in terms of seniority, and for the heirs of a power, they need not only friends, but subordinates.

What Yamato needs at this time is a group of her own subordinates, and she doesn't need to be strong, because no matter how strong she is, it is impossible to compare to Yamato. This is just to cultivate her way of doing things in advance.

Jack, Maria and the others are all young. After Yamato takes over Kaido's position, these are ready-made teams, and these people are just to familiarize her with the management model.

"Well, that nun raised them well, what do you think?" NOVELusb.com

Misu continued the style of the original monastery and made the uniform of the monastery himself, but the logo on the chest was very obvious.

However, this uniform has the full support of Shaina. Originally, many things within the Beast Pirates were left to others to do, and they did not report such trivial matters at all.

Coupled with the character of the mad believer in Misu, these children who grew up in the monastery have a kind of worship for Arceus.

"Stop talking about this, isn't it for Yamato to choose the team? Come first, after my selection is over, these people will have no strength."

Arceus's assessment content is very simple compared to Kaido, it's just a test, such as dealing with sudden situations, what to do when Yamato stubbornly performs a dangerous mission and so on.

He doesn't ask how strong Yamato's deputy can be, at least he has to learn to report the news back.

The expressions of the children below were very excited. Those who were orphans had a special worship of Arceus under the mission of Misu, and only the descendants of the pirates were entrusted by their parents.

Most of their parents are old pirates who fought with Kaido in the first place, and some are even pirates on both sides. In their concept, they don't think it's wrong for their children to be pirates like themselves.

Kaido is not bad for these old subordinates who have survived to this day. In the previous arrangement of Arceus, in the public security places in Wano, most of the small leaders of the armed department are pirates who have stepped back from the beasts.

This time, he explained to those old pirates that he wanted to choose some henchmen for Yamato. For them, this is no different from the exam that decides their fate. It is a step to the sky, which will definitely lead to a lot less detours than their own struggle. The seventh-rank official in front of the prime minister, even if he is just a serviceman, is much more comfortable than the small cadres outside.

Work hard, no matter what the price, etc., were inked many times by their parents.

Arceus's assessment was carried out very quickly, and half of the people were brushed down just like that.

Many people's answers were not satisfactory, such as what to do when Guiji-sama acted impulsive, and some people's answer was to take the lead. This is understandable, but later questions, such as Guiji-sama encountering an unmatched opponent How to do.

Someone actually answered and went up to help. This is a serious ignorance of strength. They are not qualified to act as human shields most of the time when facing an enemy that Yamato cannot fight against.

At the same time, there are people who only fill in one answer for any question, such as listening to Guiji-sama's arrangement. Although such a person can stand the test of loyalty, but his autonomy is too poor, he will naturally be passed.

After another round of retests, only a dozen people remained.

"It's almost there, you can choose these people."

After selecting the approximate group, Arceus left the rest to Kaido, and they only knew at this time how gentle Arceus's exam was compared to Kaido's selection.

"Come on, let's fight."

Looking at the remaining dozen or so people, Kaido succinctly stated his request.

"Yamato doesn't need so many people around, um, three is enough, now you can start fighting until only three people are left standing, and the last three people can follow Yamato."

Although the strength of these people is not important, Kaido's inherent thinking still hopes that they can be relatively strong, at least the stronger group of competitors.

This is also the reason why he let Arceus come first, otherwise they won't have the strength to take the exam after the fight is over.

"Why, don't you understand what Lao Tzu said? Weapons are not allowed, start now!"

As Kaido gave the order again, someone with a bright mind finally reacted and threw a punch at the people around him who were usually in a relationship.

The growth process of Pirate's offspring is destined to be different from that of ordinary people, and fighting training is more commonplace. With the first person to do it, the melee begins.

Kaido also watched with interest. For him, this was a real child fight, but he admired the kind of person who fought hard for the goal, of course, provided that this person is his own.

Determining his own worth by force has always been one of his favorite things.

People who are more familiar with each other began to gather together for warmth, and a dozen people were divided into several factions, all fighting for the ultimate goal.

"Does it make sense?"

"Of course there is. Although they can't be as good as that girl from Yamato, it's best if they can fight some, but this kind of melee. It's hard to say who can win."

Kaido's childhood has been fighting on the battlefield. In the beginning, he didn't have the strong physique he is now, so he understands that in a multiplayer melee with similar strength, only strength can't win, which also tests their combat thinking. .

He is not optimistic about the most fierce group of people who are fighting now. Although they have the largest number of people, their performance is too obvious.

Their purpose is very clear, to solve the external enemy first and then internal competition, if others are smarter, then they will be attacked in groups, without the strength to crush others, doing so on the battlefield is courting death.

The trial ended quickly. In the end, there were only three people left on the field. Two of them were team members, and the other was a loner. One of them persisted to the end in the melee.

"Very well, Solitia, Speed, Mizeka, the three of you have been selected."

Chapter 476 Phantom Fruit and Command Skills

Solitia, Speed, Mizeka, the three real fights of the Hundred Beast Pirates on the original timeline, can be considered to have obtained their promotion qualifications in advance. Of course, they are all the same as the original Yamato, one by one. His nose was blue and his face was swollen, and there were many bloodstains on his body.

This is the normal way to fight at this age. Violent elements like Yamato with a mace are the real heretics.

The rest of them were not sent home directly, so they could be considered to have passed the first test. They would naturally have some priority over those who had not even passed the first test.

But that's all in the future. These people have been sent to the Hundred Beasts Pokémon Center for simple treatment. They don't have the exaggerated physique of Yamato that can recover their physical strength by breathing. It is still necessary to go to the hospital to check their health. of.

However, they did inherit the characteristics of aggressive fighting among pirates. If you give them weapons, I am afraid that they can really kill people just now.

Afterwards, Yamato and the others held a simple farewell party for Robin. After that, they waited, waiting for Tezzolo's return. Previously on Fishman Island, he basically settled on the mining company's problems. Transport up.

At the same time, his filming is almost done, and the framing work required on the seabed is basically over, and the rest is some special effects and editing. Those things can't be done on Fishman Island, only by returning to the Red Land.

Since the establishment of Hundred Beast Fruit's film and television department, Tezzolo has been digging people around in the sea. To be precise, since he joined Hundred Beast Fruit and became the chief CEO, this process has never stopped. Both Baccarat and Tanaka are like this. The talent he found in the process.

Unlike Kaido's pursuit of force, Tezzolo sees more practicality, so the two who have lucky fruit and wear fruit were recruited to his command, and in the past period, he found another interesting girl.

Ann-Superhuman-type phantom fruit ability person, although the phantoms created are not like Zoroark, which can deceive people's perception, but if they insist, they can also be used as a substitute for Olga's ability.

The biggest difference between these two abilities is that the release of Olga's abilities depends on her own mental calculations, and what she can think of is what can be simulated, while Ann's phantom is different, the phantom made by the phantom fruit is completely based on the picture. .

As long as you touch the illustration or the creature depicted in the photo, you can create its phantom ability.

No matter how small the illustration you touch, the illusion created is the same size as the real thing.

In addition, the phantom can also copy its own actions and words, and if the object is a person with the ability of "Devil Fruit", it can even completely copy its ability, but these are fake things that do no harm.

As long as there is an illustration, she can create and control any phantom, not as deceptive, persistent and flexible as Olga, can see through with a little attention, but less effort than Olga.

After all, Olga's ability can deceive the other party's perception, and she can only deceive the other party's vision. The phantom lasts for a very short time, and it is almost impossible to talk to it. You can only watch the other party repeat some actions and recordings like a video.

But her ability has a unique feature, her phantom can reproduce information and abilities that Ann herself does not know and only knows.

In other words, as long as you can get the photo of the opponent, you can infer the opponent's ability through the actions of the phantom, and further collect all the information. Of course, the stronger the enemy, the more difficult it is to do.

Olga can make a Kaido phantom fight all the time with her imagination, but the phantom made by Ann will probably disappear after a few seconds.

But it was enough for Tezzolo, now she is a very important intelligence officer inside the Beast Fruit.

Through her and Baccarat's lucky abilities, Tezzolo can always master some of the habits of his competitors, and make some arrangements in advance, which makes his competitors feel that every step of their own is under the control of the other party.

At the same time, she is also an important member of the film and television department. Her main work is dubbing and producing special effects. Although she was only eleven years old, she was already a singer when she was recruited by Tezzolo.

He found Ann when he was passing by an island. At that time, she was almost taken away by a group of pirates. Her original folk performance group was attacked by pirates and no longer exists. Only she persisted for a while with some phantoms.

After dealing with the pirates, Tezzolo naturally brought Ann back, and made her a contract artist of Beast Fruits on the condition that he would definitely make her popular in the future. OM

He and Stella are both famous in the entertainment industry, and Beast Fruit is also a serious business, so she easily believed Tezzolo.

At this time, she was busy creating special effects in the company, and Tezzolo brought Baccarat to Oni Island again.

His report was written in great detail, emphasizing the role of Baccarat's ability in the company's development, so Baccarat acquired a designated skill - commanding skills.

Stimulating the brain by waving your fingers, you may use magical skills of any skill. The biggest feature of this skill is uncertainty. It is possible to shake the finger for a long time and only make a splash of water, or it is possible to play a powerful skill with four times the restraint.

And Baccarat's fruit ability can be said to be a perfect match for this skill. In theory, lucky fruit superimposes command skills, and she can always use the most suitable skills.

But the theory is the theory, and the reality is a bit cruel. Baccarat, who had just used the commanding skill, successfully used the seed machine gun to clear the target in front of her, but the price was that she almost fell flat.

Ordinary people use Pokémon's ability to consume their own physical strength, while Bakara's physical strength is only ordinary people, even the weak ones among ordinary people, and a few skills will drain her physical strength.

The seed machine gun, a skill that doesn't consume much energy, made her out of breath. I'm afraid she couldn't shake some powerful skills at all, and the front shaking of the shaking was still very long.

"Tezzolo, let her exercise more after she goes back, her physical fitness is too poor."

"I understand, I will pay attention to this. If you have nothing else to do, I will go back first. If the movie wants to be released, you have to clear up the relationship. You also know the virtues of those world nobles."

"It's all right, but you have to take one more person this time, Robin."

Nicole Robin was called out by Arceus. Looking at this girl, Tezzolo didn't understand what Arceus meant.

"From now on, she will be your assistant temporarily. You bring her to get acquainted with the outside environment, and you can let her leave when you think she can handle some things proficiently."

Chapter 477 I betrayed you first

Unlike Robin, who wandered between the various forces at the age of eight, Robin now has a little less experience after all, and it is difficult to grow without experiencing some things in person.

Beasts and Fruits' companies are all legal companies registered with the world government, but the companies are legal, so the business is not so simple, there are too many black transactions.

This is the case with all companies that can rank first in Maryjoya. They all have their own trading partners behind them. Robin was arranged to study with Tezzolo for a while, and then let her act on her own after she was familiar with these things. .

In addition to some clothes and books, she also brought gifts from friends and the tear-eyed lizard.

Elizabeth had no feelings for her offspring at all, so she gave it to Robin with confidence.

At the beginning, Tezzolo didn't take it seriously, he just took it as an intern. At least sixteen years old can be treated as an adult. Baccarat and Anta can handle it well, so in his opinion, the difficulty of adult Robin should be Not high either.

"By the way, pay more attention to the tattoo on your shoulder and don't expose it. If anyone finds it, let me know and I will deal with him."

Some things can't be seen through, even if those people know that Hundred Beast Fruit is the white glove of Hundred Beast Pirates, but they still let it develop before huge profits.

is the same as the world government tolerated Morgans, as long as the benefits are large enough to not disrupt their balance, they can exist.

However, the face project still has to be given, and the names can be said to be the same, but they will not accept that someone can freely enter and exit with a pirate flag on the red soil continent.

Therefore, Beasts and Fruits have their own unique logos, and those with pirate flag tattoos will not be exposed.noVELUS&.com

"Don't worry, it won't cause any trouble."

She said that Robin covered the sleeve in that position, and even showed her ability. The petals flew on the shoulder, and a piece of skin covered up the tattoo originally drawn. She was saying that even if the sleeve accidentally fell off, she also covered it up. Methods.

That is her additional use of the ability of Huahua Fruit. The ability of Huahua Fruit is to create more body parts like flowers. In addition to the regular hands, feet and facial features, skin is also within her production range.

This is actually not difficult. It is still the basic ability of Huahua Fruit. In the past, she didn't have time to develop her own fruit. With the help of someone, she had some additional development of the fruit.

For example, generating a skin to cover up something, since it is her own skin, there is no big difference at all.

However, it takes time and energy to activate the ability, so most of the time she chooses to cover that part with a sleeve.

In the following period of time, Tezzolo found that something was wrong with Robin. It wasn't that she was learning too slowly, but she was learning too fast. At first, she just followed Tezzolo and listened to him and some people. negotiation.

No one finds it strange that Tezzolo appears on this occasion with a new woman. To be precise, the only strange thing about Tezzolo's former girlfriend is Stella.

Although Baccarat will also follow Tezzolo, the difference in status between the two is obvious, and there is no such relationship at first glance, but Robin does not have that very respectful feeling for Tezzolo, and is more like a collaborator.

Changing girlfriends is the norm for men here, and Tezolo like this has made them more used to it, but after only a few months, they never want to see Robin again.

She negotiates more terrifyingly than Tezzolo, and her black belly makes her sometimes more difficult than Tezzolo.

Tezolo could only use Ann's ability to estimate the opponent's habits, but Robin directly eavesdropped on the other party's conversation, and they didn't notice that there was an extra ear in the blind spot of the line of sight.

After working as a secretary at Beast Fruits for several months, Tezzolo had to say that he had nothing to teach her, so she let her do whatever she wanted.

This identity is not bad for use outside, it is very convenient for her to act on the red soil continent.

But there are no relics she wants to investigate on the red soil continent, and the general archaeological team does not dare to go to the places that she wants to investigate. Those who dare to do something there are some illegal organizations.

This is the aftermath of the O'Hara incident. The World Government's strategy of killing chickens and warning monkeys has played a certain deterrent. Many archaeological islands have to consider many things before exploring.

She needs a chance to enter an illegal organization to find some opportunities to explore the ruins, so under the operation of Tezolo, she temporarily broke away from the beasts and fruits.

Then she dressed up a little and joined an organization's shell company as a fake accountant, because according to the information found by the beasts, the organization has been quietly exploring a ruin.

She is just a secretary and not a wanted criminal. No one knows her specific identity at all, so she easily infiltrated the organization and followed their people to find the ruins on an unknown island.

"Hey, Robin, make the account pretty, and if those guys see it, it's going to bleed again."

"I know, it's already been done."

Their voyage is just a means of money laundering, the purpose is to make the money in their hands cleaner, which is also the purpose of their exploration of this ruins, if they can find treasures, it is naturally good, and it is no pity if they can't find them.

"Unfortunately, there is only one broken stone on this island, and the remaining treasure is not enough."

One of the people complained about this problem, but there has been a strange way of dividing things since ancient times. If the allocated resources cannot be increased, then the number of people allocated will be reduced, and civil strife has occurred in this organization.

"Do you really want to do this?"

Looking at the muzzle pointed at the top of his head, Robin did not panic at all, but asked the other party calmly.

"Well, although the treasure is not much, it is enough for us to have a few points. Although you have done a good job, if you are alive, we may be found, so I can only ask you to say goodbye.

Get used to it in your next life, betrayal in such an organization is commonplace. "

"Thank you for the reminder, but I have to return this sentence to you. I have betrayed you from the very beginning. It should be said that we are not the same people."

Before Robin's words fell, the other party had a feeling that something was wrong. He wanted to shoot, but his fingers couldn't use force, and a slender tail with a blade had cut off his arm.

Elizabeth appeared here at an unknown time, and on the coast, the Shadow Fox also revealed itself.

Chapter 478 Archaeology is the primary productive force

This is the biggest difference between fighting alone and acting as a team. She can only rely on herself on the original timeline. Even if she wants to explore history, she has to use other organizations, and she has to prevent this from happening.

But now it is different, she has plenty of time to study slowly afterwards. As long as she is sure that what she has found is valuable, she can apply for assistance. With the positioning of the life card, the beasts nearby will be able to find her soon.

Treasures, slates, historical texts, devil fruits, famous knives, anything of value is fine. This was also the agreement when the beasts took them away from O'Hara. The documents were studied by them, but the things with actual value belonged to them. beast.

Here is a piece of historical text. Although it is not the last piece of red road sign text that disappeared, those historical texts with important information are also needed by beasts.

Something that has been around for so long is likely to contain some secrets, and mysteries from hundreds of years ago are also things they want to know.

Although Jin and Shaina are the remnants of the Lunalia tribe, some news has long been lost, and now archaeology is the only solution.

Elizabeth flicked her tail. No blood was left on the sharp tail blade. Then a few drops of water appeared on her fingertips. The highly penetrating water drops were shot by her like a bullet, and instantly pierced through the distance. At the heart of several people.

At the same time, there was a series of sacrificial explosions on their ships moored in the bay, and the group's ships sank directly under the fire of the Shadow Fox.

The nictitating membrane covering Elizabeth's eyes is still not open. As a special structure of reptiles, the nictitating membrane of the Thousand Faced Guards not only plays a biological role in protecting the eyes and moisturizing the eyeballs, but also the radar of this group.

The special structure on the nictitating membrane can analyze the weakness of the enemy and see something invisible to the naked eye, such as the tear-eyed lizard behind a stone.

She is the biological mother of this tear-eyed lizard, but the first thing it saw when it was born was Robin, and Elizabeth had no special feelings for it, so she was just teaching the younger generation.

For example, water guns can be fired from that angle just now. Although there is a big gap between the tear-eyed lizard and the Thousand-faced Refuge, the tear-eyed lizard cannot shoot high-speed water bombs as freely as the Thousand-faced Guard, but their water guns are not watering flowers. use.

No matter how bad it is, the ingredients in the lacrimal gland can be incorporated into the water gun. Even if the substance is diluted, it is a powerful tear gas for humans.

Although Elizabeth has not experienced the first two forms of the Thousand Faces, but as the final evolution of the tear-eyed lizard, the abilities of the two have certain similarities.

When Elizabeth was educating her younger generation, Olga also came here with her own staff.

"Little Robin, did you find anything?"

"A piece of historical text, but the specific content has not been read yet."

"Got it, I'll take that thing back." nOveLus&.cOm

The Hundred Beasts Pirates collect not only rubbings of historical texts, but the original historical texts, although in the eyes of the world, the most important historical texts are the information recorded on them.

But as a special stone that cannot be destroyed for hundreds of years, there may be unknown secrets on it. If the situation allows, it is the best solution to bring these things back.

"Take those treasures away too, money should not be wasted."

has come, naturally they will not let go of those treasures, and arranged for a few people to pack up the treasures outside, and the rest followed Robin into the ruins.

"We are also just pickers. Robin, is this what this sentence means?"

Olga can also read ancient texts now, but in some respects, she is a two-knife, and she is not sure about some translations herself. In comparison, Robin is the most professional translator.

"There is nothing wrong with this understanding. It seems to be something like a research journal, talking about some special technologies hundreds of years ago, but"

"What's wrong?"

"Look here, and here, the meaning of the words in these places. It seems that the world had more developed technology hundreds of years ago?"

The future is more advanced than ancient times, most people think so, but the information in this piece of text seems to refute this view.

In a sense, it is not surprising that Neptune is a mermaid princess, but Pluto has always been a huge battleship in the records. They are naturally made in ancient times. They are called ancient weapons.

But now this thing is gone, which means that some technologies are not as good as in ancient times.

This situation is not uncommon in some worlds. For example, some Protoss sealed their weapons because they felt that their weapons were too strong, so that in the face of the Zerg invasion, the fastest way to develop weapons is not research, but to go to archeology.

The battleships left over from the Golden Age became the reliance of the Protoss of later generations. From this perspective, there is a similar situation in this sea. The existence of the World Government did not promote progress, but led to regression.

And those things of the ancient times are in their hands, and they can use this to achieve dimensionality reduction.

"No wonder they are so afraid of historical inquiry."

"Forget it, don't worry about this for now. The contents recorded in this historical text are not comprehensive. If we can't find the context, we can only guess."

According to those few words of inference, they could not finalize some details, and finally shipped this piece of historical text away, intending to let the doctors above the ghost island study slowly.

Olga returned directly to the ghost island with the historical text, but instead of taking Robin away, she placed her on a nearby island. The discovery of the ruins made her more curious about what happened in the past, and she was determined the goal of their own exploration.

According to the information compiled by other scholars of O'Hara, she first set her sights on the four seas, which are safer and easier to explore than Paradise and the New World.

Robin's departure did not affect Onishima, but other forces suffered. Robin has a strong talent for learning and learned a lot during the time he followed Tezzolo.

With those things and her own black belly, she became prosperous in various forces, but the organization that took her often had accidents, but every time she was able to get out of her body, and gradually she also entered the underground world. Got some fame, but not a good one.

Although her ability is very strong, the forces that dare to make her work are often destroyed due to civil strife, so in the past year, she won the title of the black widow of the underground world with the destruction of three underground organizations.

Chapter 479 Excited stay-up party

Underworld Black Widow, after joining an organization, that organization will be unlucky soon, but there is still an organization that dares to accept her.

Because they are accustomed to this normal state, they value their ability. As long as they have enough ability, they will dare to ask for it even if they are scheming. Everyone has different ideas.

And Robin's ability is somewhat superior, many things let her do without flaws, outsiders did not realize that the collapse of the organization was related to her, and they admired her ability to escape, even the navy did not catch her.

But there is a reason why those people didn't catch her. Originally, she contacted the navy who reported to Tezzolo, and it would be a joke if she was caught.

So the underground world just thinks that there is something wrong with this person's luck, and has not found any other problems. Some people even think that their fate can hold this black widow, and they are actively recruiting each other.

While Robin continued to explore history, some groups who stayed up late were also born in the ghost island, such as the moment when he stayed up late to write a diary.

She will keep a diary no matter the wind or the rain, and even if it is very dull today, she will write a sentence or two.

【January 18, 1509, sunny

Life is still full of fun, I don't feel the dullness that my mother said, maybe Zeraora is completely different from my father.

Perona is more and more able to stay up late, she has to find a way to make her go to bed earlier, but her skin is really good, even if she stays up all night without acne and dark circles, it is a special case among humans.]

The fur family will not be bothered by this problem. Because of their special static skin, they will never worry about skin problems. The only thing that bothers them is hair removal.

Compared with human beings' troubles with hair loss, middle-aged fur people are more troubled by hair loss. The horror of getting up and seeing a bed of hair is a feeling that is difficult for humans to understand.

But people with alopecia can understand that seeing their hair falling out is like cutting flesh.

put down the quill in his hand, looked at Perona who was still playing with the bear and shouted to her: "Go to bed! Don't you want to watch the game tomorrow?"

Perona is very good most of the time, except for the issue of staying up late, she basically obeys her words, it seems that the reason of the spirit fruit makes her mental power different from ordinary people.

So the requirements for her are also much looser than ordinary children, but it is already early morning, even if she is a wolf fur, she plans to rest, so she naturally calls Perona to sleep quickly.

At this time, she was not the only one who persuaded others to go to bed earlier, but also Peggy Wan in the ghost island.

"Sister, it's time to go to bed, don't you feel sleepy?"

This year's Peggy Wan is seven years old and no longer lives in the same room with Ulti. Even siblings must avoid some things as they grow older.

But Peggywan didn't live in Jack's room, but shared two rooms in a suite with Ulti.

At this time, Ulti took Peggy Wan to practice in the living room of the suite.

"Xiao Pei, tomorrow is the day of the game, aren't you nervous?"

"Sister, you are too nervous, that ranking has nothing to do with us now, right?"

The game they call is a battle of transposition within the beasts. In theory, a challenge can be launched at any time, but it is more difficult to make up this time on weekdays.

Now is an annual meeting time for Beasts. Taking advantage of this time, the Beasts Pirates will organize a special "sports meeting".

In this event, the position of the new numbered person will be decided, which is also the reason why many people are so excited that they can't sleep.

"How come it doesn't matter? That ranking affects the treatment." nOvEIUS lb.Com

The higher the ranking, the more benefits you will receive. If nothing else, part of the income from the beasts and fruits is taken out as bonuses.

The most common members are only covered with food and housing. Only by fighting can they get dividends. Even if they do nothing if they have a number, a large amount of Bailey will be credited every month. This is how Mandelfish saved enough money to buy an island.

"But we're still studying, isn't the usual pocket money enough?"

"No no no, Xiao Pei, I can understand it. That idiot Kaido usually doesn't care at all. Although he is the captain, it is Lord Arceus who affects other things."

When she mentioned this name, she felt a pain in her butt, and Shaina had taught her enough lessons.

"Look, that guy Sasaki brought back that slate, even some disrespectful behavior can be forgiven, as long as we get a higher status, we can become stronger, and then we go back to find a slate.

In this way, Lord Arceus will be very happy, we can move out and ask for a separate house, far away from Jack's pervert, only the two of us are enough to live together"

At first, Peggy Wan was still listening carefully to Ulti's arrangement. After all, those words made sense, but when he said it, it became not quite right. It turned out that he still overestimated his sister's thinking.

She is a bit like Yamato in this respect. Yamato will passively increase his combat IQ when facing Kaido, and this younger brother can also adopt tricky coquettish ways when facing his younger brother, so Peggy Wan has to pay attention to her.

"so."

"So tomorrow is the first time, we have to get a place first."

said, he shook his head and hit the human-shaped target in the room, looking at the marks left by his axe teeth, Ulti showed a smile.

"Come on, Pei, I believe you can do it too. Finally, practice for a while, and we'll go to rest right away."

They are not only practicing, but also the excitement of participating in such a large-scale event for the first time. This situation does not only happen to them, some new members have similar situations.

For example, Sasaki, who was still in the Rabbit Bowl mining farm at the time, had worn his shoes for a while after joining the Beast Pirates, but he had passed that stage and was preparing to find a suitable position in this trial.

Like Ulti at the beginning, after going through some things, he also found out the situation inside the Beast Pirates, but this did not affect his personal worship of Kaido.

In the Rabbit Bowl Mining Field, he was colliding with the tall Boss Cordola.

"Roar!"

Boss Cordora's heavy body ran, and rammed into the empowered Sasaki.

And Sasaki didn't dodge, but confronted Boscodora directly, which was also his training method during the mining field.

From the very first moment of collapse to now being able to wrestle with Boscodora, Sasaki has also experienced his own growth.

Chapter 480 双 is a world where only Quinn is injured

If it is said that the people who wear small shoes for him are only some people like Shaina, then the Pokémon will not give up in the training with him. Even if Arceus values those phantom beasts more, he is still the creation of these Pokémon. By.

As a Pokémon created by Arceus himself, Sasaki succeeded in making his favorability a negative number at the beginning. After so long, he finally managed to turn his favorability into a positive number.

The moat dragon's face is very hard, and his anti-strike ability is constantly improving in the confrontation with Boscodora.

"Hey! Don't you sleep! You disturb the people!"

The tonnage of the two of them is almost the same as two small tanks, and they both have the properties of rock + steel. When they collide together, it is like a dull gong. Prisoners have no human rights, and they can only endure this kind of behavior in the face of guards.

Other Pokémon watched lively in every corner, and Pangyan Monster even dug a more comfortable pit for himself, and the night watchman didn't bother to pay attention to them, but it was different for those who rested on shifts. nOveLusb.cOm

Baba Nuki with a nightcap came out with a displeased expression, grabbed a stone and threw it at Sasaki.

No matter what happens in the future, he is still the boss of the other party.

"You're too excited, kid! Hurry up and rest, or go on duty!"

Then he went back to the house and fell asleep, and then the mining field was temporarily quiet, and only Sasaki practiced something silently.

Like Ulti, he also wanted to climb to a higher position, but he wanted to be closer to Kaido. Kaido had given him special training for a few days as promised, but it was only a few days.

After pointing out a few things, he stopped caring about him. Occasionally, he paid attention to the sound of help from Onishima when he was on vacation. Sasaki would even feel jealous, and he also wanted to receive more guidance from Kaido.

If Yamato, who has been trained by Kaido, gets along with him for a while, she will probably think that he is crazy.

On the second day, the remodeled Oni Island was unfolded again, but there was no such wedding venue, and this time it was unfolded just to free up enough venues.

With the passage of time, the strength of the Hundred Beasts Pirates has continued to grow, and the number of internal benefactors and givers has been increasing. The promotion of the benefactors is even more exciting for internal members than the New Year. thing.

In the original wedding, these people were joining in the fun, and now this increase in strength has made them even more excited.

It's just that this time is different from the past, because the Hundred Beasts Pirates has a new host, a member of the Beasts Fruit Editing Department and dubbing department, and is also an host and singer.

Tezolo also appears in the Beasts Pirates several times a year. This time, it is also to help the development of its artists and let Ann adapt to the big scene in advance.

Before , she also acted in some villages. Although the talent is not bad, she has some stage fright. Although the number of people in Onishima is only slightly more, there is a special aura here.

If can adapt to the environment here, most of the scenes will not be a problem for Ann, so at the request of Tezzolo, the Beast Pirates temporarily changed the show host.

"Cut, how can that little girl have such a good uncle? Just wait, she will definitely mess up this ceremony."

Quinn below is very unhappy about this. In the past, he has been the host of the internal celebrations of the beasts, but this change made him a little unhappy.

"Hey, you guys, isn't this uncle's dance beautiful?"

Quinn grabbed a few younger brothers in front of him and asked, and what he got was a series of flattery.

"Yes, yes, Quinn's dancing is the best."

Similar answers can be found everywhere. In the right case, they should step on and hold one, but no one dares to speak ill of Kaido or Arceus in this place. At most, they say a few words about Tezzolo, and satisfy Quinn. Just inside.

But with the arrival of a new host, everything changed.

The overall hair is a gradient of green, with two bangs hanging down from the sides of the cheeks. The hair at the back is slightly permed and combed into two buns. There are also some freckles on the face. .

There are very few women who are impeccable in all aspects, and Ann is rare.

Compared to Quinn's fat house, these pirates of course prefer a young girl host.

"Hello everyone, I'm today's host An, this is my first time hosting a show, please bear with me."

In the past, she mostly dubbed and recorded songs behind her back. This is also the main business method of One Piece World Singer. Without enough reputation to hold a concert, she will only lose her underwear.

There are not so many people in the small village, and they are not as enthusiastic as these pirates. She is not particularly adapted to the environment of pirates when she first appeared as a host, so it is inevitable that she has stage fright.

"Oh!!!"

"No problem, don't worry, little sister, we will take care of it!"

"Let's put on a show, don't stand like that!"

A series of calls came from all around, most of them were cheering her up, including those who had just agreed with Quinn.

"You guys."

Looking at the younger brothers who rebelled in an instant, there were a few wrinkles on Quinn's forehead.

"Have you never seen a woman before? How can this guy perform better than Lao Tzu? Huh? She doesn't even have an opening dance!"

As soon as Quinn finished speaking, Ann had three more cards in his hand.

"Today is the granting ceremony of the Divine Favors. Under the glory of Lord Arceus, today we will have three new Divine Favors!"

She is also a graduate student. Although she was a little nervous at first, she quickly adapted to this environment. Although her heart was still beating faster, she could speak normally.

According to the manuscripts that have been recited in advance, everything is going well so far.

Three cards swiped across her palm, and soon the phantoms of the three Pokémon appeared in the field and moved vividly. This is the ability of her phantom fruit, but Pokémon are not creatures in this world, so Phantom fruits can only simulate the appearance of Pokémon.

At the very front is a black and blue lion, electrical type, eyes Pokémon - Roentgen cat, but no matter how you look at it, it looks like a lion.

Then there is a pink mantis, grass type, flower sickle Pokémon - orchid mantis.

The last is a pink coral, water + rock, coral Pokémon - sun coral.

"This is the ability that the following three adults will acquire, and there are new gods and benefactors!"

"Oh!"

In the cheers of the pirates around, Quinn had an ominous premonition. For some reason, he felt that he was going to lose his job.

