Chapter 51 Error Analysis Caused by Error Intelligence

"Spandyne, if this kind of thing happens again, don't contact me anymore, take the blame and resign."

"Yes, I'm sorry, I'm very sorry, sorry to bother you."

In the face of the roaring phone bug, Spandain behaved very lowly, and this accident made him use a lot of relationships to settle things.

Previously, he wanted to monopolize most of the achievements in finding the Lox treasure, so he concealed some key figures and directly contacted those above.

Unexpectedly, the treasure was not found, but Fleet and the two CPOs had an accident. Fleet's side can say that he was in charge of CP9, and Fleet was not the strongest one, so the backup staff could fill his vacancy. .

In the rear, the CP organization has an island dedicated to cultivating talents.

But CPO is different. There are some outstanding people. The most important thing is that these people are very loyal to the government. If such people suffer losses for no reason, someone will always be held responsible.

Before Spandam set fire to the office, "Priert"'s life card was always in good condition, so that after the loss of the life card, Spandain completely lost control of the situation in Natho Kingdom.

The owner of that life card is also a member of John's banner, so the life card will naturally disappear after death.

CPO will not contact him, and Fleet's final report is that all is well.

The confrontation between the two CPOs may not be John's opponents, but it stands to reason that if you want to retreat, there is no problem.

Maryjoa's life card has confirmed their deaths, other people have already gone to investigate the specific situation, and Spandain can only tell all the information in this case.

In view of the value of his information, he found a lot of relationships, and this matter can be considered to be put down.

However, in order to settle those people, he could say that he was bleeding profusely, and Spandam, who caused the loss of information, was also eagerly cared for by Spandain, and he still couldn't get off the bed until now.

After Spandain's misinformation and follow-up personnel's investigation of the Natho Kingdom, they believed that Priert was the culprit in all of this.

This person actually deceived everyone and secretly sought Rox's treasure, which is why such a special bounty appeared.

This matter is not over yet, and government personnel have conducted a more detailed investigation here.

The people who investigated the situation in the Kingdom of Natho then made new discoveries. Unless they knew the secret of Rox, no one would have thought that there was such a large space under the central lake of this island.

They can find some clues thanks to John. His awakening ability has led to the change of the terrain of the Natho Kingdom. After Kaido and the others left, there was a small earthquake here.

The underground cave cracked open, and after some corpses and a small amount of treasure were washed out by the water, the hole completely collapsed in the aftershock.

The strength of these people is not only manifested in life, but also after death. After such a long time, the corpse has not rotted yet, and the original identity can still be identified.

In the end they got their own judgment, those people got into infighting because of the treasure, and finally died at the hands of unknown people.

Continuing the investigation was fruitless, and at the urging of the Natho Kingdom, they also planned to end the investigation.

The Kingdom of Natho has protested many times. What they are doing is gray business. A group of navy and government personnel are investigating the situation here. Coupled with the previous earthquake and abnormal ebb tide, the national economy has been seriously damaged recently.

If they delay for a few more days, they will hardly be able to pay the heavenly gold.

But in the evidence they collected, there was a simple-style knife, which was the one Olga lost.

Not everyone knew the ancient script, and it was a coincidence that Foley recognized Alkemi's script. These investigators just collected evidence, and other personnel will be responsible for the analysis of the situation after they go back.

At the same time, Fleet's body was also found. Compared with those CP0s whose cause of death was unknown, Fleet's body had already been taken in by the Kingdom of Natho.

Although there are regulations in the Kingdom of Natho, there are always pirates who died in combat on the island, and they have long been surprised by such people.

"Severe burns, most of his body fractures, and a prolonged blow to the head with a blunt force. He seems to be tortured, what did he find out?"

"I don't know, wait for the people above to check it slowly, we should go too, the king of the Natho Kingdom has called Mary Joa several times."

Then a group of professionals conducted so-called exploration for the recovered clues, and the dagger from Al Kemi also caught their attention.

Under Spandain's sworn assurance, the World Government succeeded in thinking it wrong, believing that Priert planned all this.

Either Locks found pure gold, or Priert found clues to the new Alkemi, and finally put a special bounty on Priert.

This is also the reason why Spandain can operate successfully without even being punished by demotion.

But in any case, they didn't have the ability to catch a dead person in the sea. The person in charge of this matter was at a deadlock for a while, and based on a bunch of wrong information, the clue was put on Al Kemi. novelUSb.Com

They thought that as long as they could find the missing Alkemi, they could find Priert.

A few months later, after a period of sailing, the ships of their beasts have also reached the Chambord Islands.

This ship can be said to be a gathering place for ethnic minorities.

The only two survivors of Al Kemi, the two survivors of the Lunaria tribe, and the basilisk lizard, a race that has long since been extinct, but the crew's painting style is not very normal recently.

Everybody is blue and purple, no, to be precise, only Quinn is blue and purple.

Assiere was out of training and he wasn't a combatant.

Olga's physical training has just ended, and she has not yet entered the stage of being beaten.

Jhin wrapped himself tightly, and Shaina was the same. Even if he had injuries, he couldn't tell, but Quinn was different. He was already bigger than outsiders. Resilience and a lot of bruises on the body.

But it was also effective. After this period of time passed, the domineering level of several people on the ship was significantly improved.

At the same time, Olga's cabinet of the same style of clothes has also been modified, and the prominent Alkemi text on it has been removed.

The last lesson made her understand that it is not a good thing for this kind of information to be exposed.

She had never seen what Shaina and Jhin's faces were like, and they didn't mean to take off their masks or release their transformations in front of Olga, at least not now.

However, Asiere has certain guesses, and like Alkemi, they are things that are not easy to expose.

More than 100 years ago, the Lunaria tribe was much larger than now, and the government's arrest efforts were also greater.

Chapter 52 Drunk Kaido is always abnormal

The news of the wanted Lunaria people was all over the islands, and Assie had seen similar news, but he had no interest in saying it, so he was happier to say that.

Whether it is pure gold or Lunaria, they will shy away from the world government, so that everyone is the real grasshopper on a rope.

But Quinn is still quite happy, because after a few months, Kaido finally recruited the first batch of men, filling most of the number of Beast Pirates.

However, these people are not real subordinates to Kaido, they can only be said to be expendable troops. He does not follow a single elite route, and the number of people is also part of his requirements.

At present, the crew of this boat is voluntarily joining, which is not uncommon. Pirates are a world where the strong are respected, and powerful pirates often have a group of "fans" who come here.

After Kaido's bounty was updated, he was a powerful pirate even in the new world, let alone in Paradise. It's not surprising that some people are attracted to him.

It took them a few months to understand that most of the time they were safe except when Kaido was drunk

And Kaido is rarely in charge, the big and small things on the ship are mainly Quinn, and Jhin is in charge.

Quinn was in charge of the miscellaneous affairs, while Jhin was in charge of the general direction, but everything involving Arceus would attract Shaina's attention.

Through practical actions, Shaina made them understand Arceus' position on this ship, and the last inappropriate speech was almost burned to ashes by Shaina.

But now, there is a little problem on the ship.

The captain of this ship, the governor of the Beast Pirates, Kaido, was lost.

No, to be precise, it was a banquet the other day. This guy drank too much, and then he turned into a giant dragon and flew somewhere. This kind of thing has happened before, but after two or three days, he will be able to fly back by himself, thanks to Quinn giving him his own life card.

At first, the people on the boat would panic, but now it's no surprise, and gradually accept the problem that Kaido will disappear periodically.

Usually the frequency of disappearance depends on how often the party is held.

But this time, after more than the past time, Kaido still did not return, and the direction of his life card movement was not right.

It wasn't until this morning's newspapers arrived that no one on the ship could figure out what was going on.

"Master Holy Beast, are you there, Mr. Kaido seems to have a problem, he is arrested again."

Shaina was holding the newspaper that Newsbird had just delivered.

Generally speaking, the G4 branch of the navy found that an unknown creature had entered the warehouse of the base. After review, it was found that it was actually the wanted Kaido. He has been detained and will be sent to Impelton, the great underwater prison in the future.

"Who is the chief of the G4 branch?"

"The former Vice Admiral of the G4 Branch has been retired, and now Vice Admiral Hadera of the Navy Headquarters is in charge."

The branch of the Great Navy Route is named after G-X, and near the Chambord Islands happens to be the G4 branch.

Unlike the Four Seas Branch, which is downgraded by three ranks compared to the Headquarters, the military rank of the Headquarters and the branch of the Great Route are equal, so there is no difference.

Just like pirates can use bounties to judge their general strength, the strength of the navy can also be estimated by rank, but there will always be some cases, such as a Garp who refused to be promoted.

"A name Hadera never heard of."

Excluding those monsters in the navy, Kaido will not be easily defeated. After all, the level of lieutenant general has a huge span of strength, and a name that makes him unimpressive will most likely rule out the possibility of Kaido's defeat.

With Kaido's virtue, Arceus thinks that he had a second drink in the navy's warehouse, which led to a hangover and was arrested. Maybe he hasn't sobered up yet.

According to his impression of Kaido, although he can't remember the exact number of times, he was definitely arrested quite a few times.

But at this time, Arceus could clearly feel that the ship had changed its direction.

"Heading changed?"

"Yes, specific. You'll know when you hear it."

Saying that, Shaina pointed to the deck below.

"We're going to rescue Kaido boss!"

"Oh!"

"Let those navies know how good we are!"

"Oh!" n0Velsb.com

"These people are really spirited, do they know what the concept of a vice admiral is?" Although the group of young men recruited by Kaido were already considered strong in the first half, going to the branch to save people is like hitting a stone with an egg.

Being able to shout such words is enough to show their naivety, but in the group of pirates, there will never be a shortage of such naive guys.

"Master Holy Beast, do you want to stop them?"

"No need, anyway, it's a cooperative relationship, it's reasonable for them to save their captain, but it's impossible for these guys to save people, so let's give Olga a sneak training."

It's not realistic to expect these people to save Kaido. At most, they will drive ships, fire guns or pretend to be aggressive to deal with some ordinary soldiers.

Either attack and * Kaido out, or break Kaido's handcuffs and let him escape by himself. Arceus thinks Kaido can escape by himself.

Although he has a high probability of being put on Hailou stone handcuffs, if the purity of Hailou stone is too low for the body of the ability person, the ability person can still use the ability freely.

Most of the Hailou stone is produced in the special ore veins of Wano country, and the outside world is pitiful. Before the black carbon snake took the position of general, Wano country has always been a closed country, and there is very little contact with the outside world.

Although there is an outflow of Hailou stone, there are not many, and most of them are in Impelton. The purity of Hailou stone in the branch may not affect Kaido.

If the concentration is not enough, he will get away naturally when he wakes up.

But just in case, decided to go.

Currently working together very happily, he has no plans to change his partner.

Olga's ability to develop Zoroark's ability is not bad. It may be because of her personality. She is more proficient in the ability of transmutation. The attack type only masters a few skills such as the wave of evil. Haven't mastered it yet.

In a sense, this is also a man who has lived for more than 100 years, and a little practical training is necessary.

In the future, in order to search for the slate, it is inevitable to sneak in to collect information, just let her practice her skills, otherwise Arceus would not have chosen Zoroark.

The ability of Phantom Overlord is not to be wasted.

"Master Holy Beast, is it too early for her, or I should go.."

"Don't worry, if something really happens, I will get her out. Your temperament is not suitable for such a thing"

The ship of the beasts moved closer to the direction of G4. The location of the Chambord Islands and the base of the G4 branch could not be said to be far away. After sailing at full speed, they soon reached the vicinity. They waited until it was dark before Elizabeth took Olga to start the journey. Infiltrate combat.

Chapter 53 Phantom Overlord

Naval G4 branch, even at night, high-power searchlights illuminate the nearby waters.

In this era, there will never be a shortage of pirates who dare to provoke the navy. The world is fine. Except for the one thing that John made, the branch of the world has not had any trouble for a long time.

Relying on strong fortresses and coastal defense artillery, the branch of the four seas can solve most of the local pirates, but after John's incident, each branch has also strengthened its vigilance.

The branch in the great route has stronger firepower, because the enemy they face is also very strong. John's incident is a wake-up call to all the navy, and no one wants to be the "shame" of the next navy.

And this incident seems to stimulate the nerves of some pirates. There are always pirates who want to step on the naval branch to make a name for themselves. The G4 branch has strengthened its vigilance because of this kind of thing.

In addition to the high-power searchlights illuminating the sea, there are even several beams of light in the sky.

In the past, except for special enemies, the navy would not guard the air. The technological point of this world is originally a little crooked, and it can rush out of war machines like pacifists, but there is no airship with large-scale equipment.

The world government is like this, not to mention the pirates. Except for the golden lion, there is no pirate who can have large-scale air power.

So the branch base will not waste manpower and material resources, but under the current circumstances, they have also added a few searchlights to the sky.

However, the sparse lights could not block Elizabeth, and Jhin also helped them a little. The ability of the Thousand Faces Shelter is to glide, not fly, so it needs a sufficient height.

Jin is the plane that does the airdrop.

Elizabeth's wing membrane flew high in the sky with the help of the sea breeze, bypassed the navy's searchlights under the cover of night, and landed in the G4 branch.

"This captain is really worrying."

People on the boat call Kaido in different ways. Olga prefers to use the captain to call Kaido, Arceus calls Kaido by his first name, Shaina, Jhin and others, sir, boss, and big brother. also appear from time to time.

The newly recruited subordinates are similar. At this time, Kaido has not standardized the rank and title of the pirate group, but even if it is standardized, he will not care about it.

"Over there" is Elizabeth, who has made some progress in learning over the past few months and has successfully mastered a new language, but so far, he has not been able to speak too long sentences.

is usually just a few words to express itself.

The life card is a good thing, it will not be easily destroyed (the previous article has been changed in Spandam), relying on this, she can easily find Kaido's position, so as not to wander around the naval base.

The ability was activated, and the illusion enveloped the two of them. Zoroark's hallucination did not change his form like the Variety Monster, but enveloped himself like a holographic projection.

Olga's abilities are still in preliminary control, and the application of fantasy abilities is very simple. She can perceive her difference when she sees her domineering, but no navy will always let go of her domineering in the base.

Olga casually pinched the faces of two passers-by. There were so many people in the naval base that she did not believe that the people here knew all of her colleagues.

And the next step is to find the two lone ones and replace them.

There will also be people on the pirate ship watching the night. There must be patrols at night in such a large base, maybe there is a password or something.

Olga and Elizabeth are walking in the naval base, and occasionally there will be problems with wearing the mold.

Although Olga can turn her external image into an adult naval soldier, her body structure has not changed, and her perspective is still the previous perspective, so she will inadvertently collide with some buildings.

The phantom has no entity, and the phantom she created will not disappear directly because of such a collision, so it "wears the mold".

The scope and ability of phantoms are related to their own strength. Zoroark's phantoms are so real that they can deceive cameras and deceive people's feelings, and even make Entei, Suicune, and Rai Gong unable to break free from the false phantom cage. Quinn didn't understand it.

Olga can't affect a city, but it's fine in a small area.

She and Elizabeth followed a patrol team in a similar direction and led the two at the end of the team down the wrong path.

Elizabeth, who was lurking on the wall, threw out her tail and directly pulled the person into the corner like an alien hunt, followed by two hand knives after Olga's beastization.

If you want to fully utilize the abilities of Pokémon itself, full beastization is the best choice.

Although Olga now looks like a navy soldier, the body under the phantom is a blond Zoroark.novelusb.Com

At the beginning, Asiee didn't want Olga to be a combatant, even if he joined Kaido's gang, he could choose to be a researcher in the rear, what he meant was that Olga should learn technology from him.

He has worked hard for this, but a genius child is not necessarily a genius. Olga is really not gifted in this aspect of learning, and she would rather go to train with Kaido than listen to Assie's lecture.

After the incident at the hotel, she believes that her own strength is more important than the technology in her mind.

However, her talent in fighting is not bad, provided that she does not need a mace, and weapons such as unarmed or daggers are what she is good at.

She and Elizabeth unknowingly replaced the phantom behind the original team, and followed the patrolling soldiers into the depths of the base.

In the prison at the G4 base, Kaido was * like a zongzi, but this did not affect him sleeping soundly.

Looking carefully, it looks like a temporarily transformed prison. It was originally just a wine cellar, and the wine barrels scattered around can explain all this.

The naval base does not prohibit alcohol, and it is common for navies on vacation to get drunk, and navies on duty can also drink alcohol, but the limit is very small.

Tobacco and alcohol are all just-needed items in the base. People here need to rely on tobacco and alcohol to vent their emotions. Pirates will appear all the time, and they may die in battle at any time.

"Lieutenant General Hadera, go and rest, you haven't slept for three days."

An old man sat on a chair in front of the temporary prison. Ever since Kaido appeared here inexplicably, he has personally guarded it here.

"No, this is a pirate with a bounty of 1.573 billion, you can't deal with him."

"Isn't there a sea floor stone handcuff? If he is a capable person, he should be powerless."

"The purity of the sea floor stones in those handcuffs is too low, and the total amount is too small, it may not be able to completely restrain him, this is the remnant of Rox. The prison ship sent by the headquarters will arrive tomorrow.

When this matter is over, I can apply for retirement when I return to the headquarters. "

Chapter 54 Do you believe in destiny?

FLAG just stood there, and his worries were not without reason.

The purity of Hailou stone can be adjusted, as long as the ratio of PYROBROIN is changed.

But this technique is a secret transmission of the Wano country, and only the craftsmen of the Wano country have this technique.

Hailou stone is extremely hard and very difficult to process, and the content of the ore is random. The purity of Hailou stone handcuffs in the hands of the Navy depends on the purity of the ore. Because G4 is located in the first half, and the former base officer is a veritable hawk.

advocates elimination rather than capture, so most of the Hailoushi handcuffs in the base were taken by him to support his brother units.

The capable person is not a Chinese cabbage. Many times, there is not one of them for a few months, and it is enough to leave one or two emergency.

"Lieutenant General, are you overthinking it, this is a naval base, what can you do?"

"You forgot the lesson of Branch 277 so soon?"

"Lieutenant General, that is the branch of the four seas. This is a great route. We are different from those people. And I have tripled the number of sentries. Lieutenant General, you can rest assured."

But they didn't notice that with the arrival of new soldiers, there were two more people in Kaido's prison who shouldn't be there.

As for how they got in, this is a temporary prison, and the size is based on Kaido's size.

And Kaido's arms are thicker than Olga's waist, and the temporary prison built just to imprison him is no different from undefended to Olga.

But at this time, there was already some sweat on her head, and the fruit ability consumes physical strength. Although her real age is more than 100 years old, her body age is still more than 8 years old. It is not bad to be able to maintain the phantom for such a long time.

created a phantom that Kaido was still bound, and she gestured to Elizabeth to unlock it.

She is the ability obtained by the ability person after transformation, and it will be affected when she encounters the sea tower stone, but Elizabeth is different, it does not have the effect of devil fruit on it.

Facing Kaido's chain, a stream of water condensed on its fingers, and then poured the water into the keyhole.

With the sound of clicking, the chain clearly began to loosen.

Relatively speaking, Olga encountered new difficulties.

How to wake up a Jiu Mengzi, online etc.

There are only two ways for her to retreat, either to wake up Kaido and let Kaido take them out, or to declare the mission a failure and wait for Arceus' rescue.

Actually, she didn't know that Arceus had an idea. When he found the fighting slate, he wanted most of the beasts to learn to wake up the slap, so that Kaido wouldn't wake up.

Well, falling asleep while drunk is just as effective.

She almost pulled Kaido's beard off, and Elizabeth's locks were picked, but Kai didn't mean to wake up at all.

In the end, she had no choice but to see some of the remaining wine barrels. Although Kaido smelled like alcohol, she could only fight poison with poison at this time. Novelusb.com walked over to Kaido with a barrel of wine and poured it directly at him, which proved to be effective.

"Hiccup~ kid, what are you doing? Do you want to drink too?"

Kaido burped, then sat up against the wall, looked at the chains on his body in disgust, and then drank.

"Captain Kaido, how about some occasions! This is a naval base! It's not a place for you to drink!"

She went to the naval base for the first official operation, and the level of tension can be imagined, but she has long been honed.

She used to be very timid, but in the more than 100 years she spent in the stomach of a sea king, she has experienced too many things, dinosaurs, plant poisoning, stomach acid tsunami, man-eating plants, and it is not easy to survive. .

Olga's words seemed to wake Kaido up. Looking at Kaido who didn't speak, Olga thought he understood the current situation.

"Alright, Captain Kaido, those navies outside haven't discovered my vision yet, so let's get back to the ship while we're at it." In her opinion, it's better to leave now, after all, there's an entire base of navy outside.

And the time for her vision to last is almost up.

But the next second, she saw Kaido cry, and then she had a bad feeling.

After drinking too much, Kaido will either fall asleep or become drunk. This is something everyone on the ship knows, and one of the biggest characteristics of his drunkenness is that he starts crying after losing control of his emotions.

The next moment, he threw the wine barrel in his hand violently and smashed it against the fence outside.

"Ugh~! I'm really useless! He was actually caught by the navy and had to be rescued by a trainee, * it, bastard!" He started smashing at the surrounding walls.

"Hey! Captain Kaido, my illusion won't last like this."

Under Kaido's drunken destruction, Olga's physical strength was no longer able to maintain the illusion. In fact, it was meaningless to maintain it, because when Kaido smashed the wine barrel to the fence, the navy outside found an abnormality.

"Who! How did you get in!"

Several guns pointed to the temporary prison, and at the same time, several cannons also turned their direction. For ordinary naval soldiers, firearms are still the most secure thing.

Compared to Olga and Elizabeth who suddenly appeared beside Kaido, Hadrow looked at the chains on the ground, which meant that Kaido was no longer bound at this time.

"Illusion. Capable? Damn it." An unbound Kaido will surely cause great damage to this place, but to his surprise, Kaido doesn't seem to have any plans to kill.

I saw Olga and Elizabeth grabbed with one hand, turned into a giant dragon and rushed out of the prison, and walked away in front of countless navy.

"The wine at your base is good, goodbye, * navy."

There is no reason, I just don't want to, he does everything based on his mood. Last time he did a lot of damage in the research institute, this time he didn't mean to destroy, and he also brought Olga and the others, although Olga's infiltration operation proved her ability .

But she is not qualified to face a base navy with Kaido.

Just because he wanted to go, doesn't mean the navy also wanted him to go. The gunner adjusted the angle of the cannon, and the dense bullets shot at him.

"Really, you bastards, I want to leave!"

The thick pillar of fire spit out from Kaido's mouth, and the ammunition of several turrets exploded. Watching the navy busy fighting the fire, Kaido also left here contentedly.

When they got back to the ship, there was a little brother-in-law orgy, which in their view was proof of Kaido's strength, with one exception - Arceus.

The pirates below are still revelling, and Arceus found Kaido alone.

"What good are you doing, and what are you gaining besides wasting time? What's the point of this behavior?"

Kaido's face was still drunk, but his eyes were very clear, and he said something that Arceus didn't quite understand.

"Do you believe in such things as prophecy and destiny?"

Chapter 55 What Fishman Island Will Fly Away

"Do not believe."

"Oh, is there no hesitation at all?" Arceus simply stunned Kaido for a moment. Although he has never said this to anyone before, most people will still hesitate.

"No, prophecy and fate are the most illusory things, you can't change the past, you can't do anything in the future, it all depends on the present.

When you know something about the future, whether you accept it or not, grasp the present is what you should do. "

But he didn't say anything to death, after all, the power of time and space is also one of his powers, but it was the power of the heyday, and now he can't change the time.

And things like changing the time, it is not necessary to do it until it is necessary, who knows what terrible reaction will be caused after doing something in the past and waiting for decades.

And not to mention this regular power, the super power system has the bug skill of predicting the future, but this release method is only to predict the opponent's movement trajectory, and deploy an attack in advance where the opponent will appear after a period of time.

There is still a difference between and the real power of time and space. After developing the knowledge and color to the point where they can predict the future, the powerhouses here can also do this kind of thing.

Two people who can predict the future may only fight for a second on the surface, but their hearts may be like a thousand layers of cake, having experienced countless layers of games.

"Are you thinking about life after drinking? How could someone like you believe in that so-called fate?"

"Well, of course I don't believe it, so I have to prove that the so-called fate is a fart! I was born in the Vorka Kingdom, where prophecies are very important.

At that time, someone predicted that I would die on the battlefield, so I became the strongest soldier in the kingdom at the age of 10, and I am still alive today. "

Kaido was lying beside the fence and looked like a great philosopher.

"So you went to the naval base. Just to die?"

"It's not that he didn't die, don't worry, I won't die in a place like this, even if you want to die, you have to have a grand enough exit. But you are right, the illusory prophecy is not worth believing at all.

is worthy of being a partner of Lao Tzu, huh huh huh. " said that I didn't know where to find a wine gourd, and it seemed that I planned to continue the meal.

When people are in a state of drunkenness, their behavior is also controlled by the subconscious. Kaido's behavior seems to be killing, but in fact, it has always been controlled within a certain range, whether it was going to the prison ship to eat and drink, or to the G4 base this time. Drinking is controlled within the scope that he can deal with.

It's not too far from Marin Vando. If he really doesn't want to live, he can plunge directly into the naval headquarters, or plunge into the sea, or find a devil fruit to eat.

On the one hand, it is to express his disdain for the prophecy, and on the other hand, it is also to train himself. It is a good way to become stronger when the ability of the phantom beast encounters continuous blows.

Some Eudemons are only truly awakened in the process of being beaten.

But when he held up the wine gourd, he found that the wine in the gourd could not drip no matter what.

"Don't waste your time, if it weren't for your inexplicable delay of two days, we should have finished coating and appearing in the new world, and you can continue to drink your bar when the mechanical island is laid down."

Kaido's behavior has indirectly delayed his search for the slate. The main ingredient of the wine is also water, which is naturally within his control.

"Forget it, I drank enough anyway, I'll drink it next time."

He'd had enough to drink at the naval base, not too soon.

"Little ones! Get ready, we're going to set sail to the new world!"

"Oh!"

The danger of the new world does not need to be expressed in words, but these pirates have only one excitement in the face of the unknown future, and there is a trace of excitement in their words.

"I heard that going to the New World has to pass through Fishman Island." Novelusb.com

"Yeah, it's full of mermaids, beautiful mermaids, if you can..."

"Shut up, eldest sister hates that kind of thing the most, do you want to be kicked by eldest sister!"

The rules on Kaido's ship are obvious, strength is the truth of words, and Arceus can accept him if he doesn't let him continue to drink. Besides him and Arceus, the strongest at present is Shaina.

In addition, Jhin is her only kin, Olga lives with her in addition to studying and training, and there are not many women on board.

And there are only four cadres on the ship. Kaido understands the importance of technology, so he is also treated as a special cadre for Assie. In addition, Olga is nominally an intern, but he is also a reserve cadre.

These younger brothers recruited later are not really crew members at all, they are more like affiliated forces.

In terms of three views of life, Quinn is relatively indifferent, and he is relatively indifferent to life. Jhin also has a similar attitude, but Jhin did not take the initiative to kill, but acted according to the wishes of Arceus and Kaido.

Shaina is more respectful of life, except for the enemy, and Asie is the same, so the current rules of the Beast Pirates are quite a lot.

Among them, human traffickers, the navy, the agents of the World Government, and traitors are all things that Shaina hates the most.

At first, these pirates were not so obedient, and also made a small report to Kaido, saying that Shaina wanted to take his captain's position.

But he made two mistakes. First, he made a small report to the wrong person. Although Shaina is now a cadre on the ship, she obeyed Arceus. If Arceus plans to leave here one day, she must be the first. a response.

Arceus acted in the name of Kaido, so he let Shaina join Kaido temporarily.

Secondly, Kaido doesn't care about this kind of thing, the solution he gave is very simple, fight and win the position of Shaina's cadre is his.

Then he became the chicken that killed the chicken and the monkey, and the people on the boat have been obedient a lot since then.

As for Quinn's opinion, he has no opinion. As long as he is not at the bottom, he is very satisfied. If he can't beat the top, he can only bully those who are weaker than him.

Although he worked in an illegal research facility, he was a legal citizen when he was outside, and it was not until MADS was disbanded that he was on the road to being wanted.

Although their dislike of mermaids has been dispelled, this does not stop them from fantasizing about mermaids, which are the most beautiful creatures in the sea.

But when they were imagining the beautiful Mermaid Island, Kaido put out their dreams with his own hands, the flame cloud rolled up the huge ship, and the Beast Pirates flew high into the sky.

"Captain, aren't we going to Fishman Island?!"

"Go to the fish-man island, of course, fly directly over!"

Chapter 56 Feel the greetings from the new world

Fishman Island is located 10,000 meters under the sea. It is the only way to reach the new world. To be precise, it is the only way for ordinary pirates to reach the new world.

The Red Earth Continent divides the Great Route in two. As the Red Earth Continent with the deepest influence of the world government, especially the place where the Dragons live - Mary Joa, the security force here is very strong.

Illegal pirates are not qualified to pass here, so they can only take the risk and choose the fish-man island in the deep sea.

There are submarines in this world, but most pirates can't get this kind of high technology. The only way to enter Fishman Island is to coat.

But human beings are not creatures in the ocean after all. There are countless crises in the deep sea, whether it is sea kings or submarine volcanoes, which will cause fatal threats to ships.

Once the coating is damaged, it means that the ship will be destroyed, and the huge water pressure will instantly kill most people.

And coating is also a technical activity. In the first half, only the Chambord Islands can find coating craftsmen. Among them, there are many skilled craftsmen, and the coating made by them is safe and reliable.

There are also unreliable liars. Their coating is a countdown to death, and there is a risk of rupture at any time.

It's okay if it broke just after diving. If the coating is broken after reaching the deep sea, the consequences will be unbearable.

Not to mention the ability of the landlubber, even if Kaido sank to the bottom of the sea, he would have no choice, so he did not plan to go to Fishman Island at all.

Fishman Island is a necessary passage for ordinary pirates, but he is not an ordinary pirate, but a pirate with large-scale flying ability, just like the flying pirate group of the Golden Lion, but when the Golden Lion goes out in person, he must bring it with him. Flying through the sky with his own ship.

The same is true for Kaido, although they can't pass through the red soil continent like the navy and ordinary people, but they can fly over the red soil continent, but they have to take a slight detour, and they will not fly over Mary Joa's head.

On the clouds, the Beast Pirates took a shortcut and crossed the Red Earth Continent. There was also a group of pirates on board who were lost because they could not see the mermaid.

It took nearly a year, and they finally arrived in the new world after leaving the institute. Compared with the paradise in the first half, the sea area here is more dangerous and the climate is more changeable. The first thing the Beast Pirates ushered in was the thunderstorm in the sky.

A thunderstorm in the true sense is a special climate with only lightning and no rain.

Darkness enveloped the sky, and the sound of electric charges collided one after another.

Intensive thunder and lightning hit the deck of the ship like rain, making these pirates who have just arrived in the new world extremely frightened.

And they also knew what kind of power Arceus, who had a very high position on the ship, had. A beam of light was shot by Arceus into the sky, and the thunderclouds dissipated in an instant, making it a bright sunny day again.

The world of Pirates respects the strong. Previously, they obeyed Arceus because of Shaina's force, but now they are convinced by Arceus's power to change the sky. The holy beast in his mouth does not know how many times he respects it.

Liwei wants to choose a good time. He doesn't have a high bounty like Kaido, and he doesn't want to show his power like a monkey. Now this time is just right. This is also his first time to appear in front of people.

One more thing, this dense thunderstorm disturbed his rest.

As for ability transformation, the abilities of these people have not been qualified for his transformation ability, that is, Kaido did not mention this matter, and the ability is prepared for powerful people.

These people at least have to be honed in the environment of the new world for a while, or have any special abilities that are valued.

The "clearing" he used and the clearing that Jhin used were not at the same level at all.

Even the most difficult weather in the New World is not worth mentioning to him, but as the ships of the beasts left here, the dense thunderstorms also filled this sea area again. novelusb.com

This made the people on a nearby island relieved. "Umbrella sales" is an important source of income for the island. Without this source of income, it would be much more difficult for them to make offerings.

And the ship of the beasts soon docked on this island, and they needed to replace the materials, such as the record pointer unique to the new world.

The great route due to the special magnetic field will cause the original compass, compass and other items to lose their original functions. If you want to navigate the great route, recording the pointer is an indispensable thing.

They can capture the next island magnetic signal and record this signal, the direction of the recording pointer will not change until it gets here.

So every time you get to an island, it takes a few hours to a few months to fill the records of the recording compass, so that you can start to the next island.

And this is one of the reasons that delays Arceus's search for the slate. Navigating the sea is very laborious. Once you encounter an island with a long signal storage time, it will be a waste of time.

After all, there are only a few islands with eternal pointers.

The first half of the paradise is still like this, and navigating the new world becomes even more dangerous.

The magnetic field of the new world is more chaotic than the magnetic field of Paradise. The previous thunderstorms are the embodiment of this magnetic field. In addition, there are also wonderful clouds that descend from icebergs and even knives.

Even if there are no enemies, navigating the new world is extremely dangerous.

The record pointer allows the ship to sail safely in the first half, but after the new world, the original reliable record pointer is no longer reliable.

But this is not difficult for people who seek a living at sea, and an upgraded version of the record pointer was born.

It looks no different from the ordinary recording pointer, except that there are two more dials, and the pointer on the top has changed from one to three, so that there are more options from which to choose the safest route.

The safer the route, the lower the fluctuation frequency of the recording pointer, and normal pirates will choose a safer route.

The islands in the New World have their own masters behind them. If you don't want to take the initiative to provoke them, ordinary pirates will abide by the local rules, even the big pirates are no exception. Otherwise, it means a declaration of war.

At this time, the beasts did not intend to take the initiative to fight, they were still in the development stage, so the money exchanged for John's treasure earlier played a role here, and a large amount of materials were purchased on the ship, including a dozen record pointers.

This thing is a necessary material to be prepared for. In order to prevent damage due to various factors such as wind and waves, there will be more spares on the ship.

The constant thing is the news birds flying in the sky, and their newspapers always deliver new news.

"Brother Kai, the boss of the holy beast, there is new news in the newspaper!"

Chapter 57 The Strongest Organization - Photographer

【Beast Kaido · Bounty of 1.6 billion Bailey, no matter life or death】

What they brought was not too shocking news, it was about the update of the reward order. Kaido's reward order was rounded up and turned into 1.6 billion Bailey. They also changed his photo and added A beast prefix.

It seems that in the eyes of the Navy, Kaido's escape from the branch base is no longer a big deal.

This also has something to do with Olga, because this time Kaido did not escape by himself, but was rescued.

Although Olga and Elizabeth just opened a lock, the Navy didn't think so, and they put a large part of the reason for Kaido's escape on Olga.

The reason is very simple. Letting a pirate escape from the supervision of the branch chief and being rescued by others are two completely different concepts.

Although they are all shameful, it is better to be robbed than the prisoner to escape by himself.

This is also Hadrow's operation. He, a lieutenant general who was about to retire, encountered this kind of thing, and he was helpless in his heart.

If the coastal defense artillery didn't fire, and Kaido left directly, there wouldn't be any casualties at the base.

It's just that Kaido's hot breath in the face of the attack caused them a lot of damage.

The base prisoner escaped and the base was damaged. Of course, the branch chief should be responsible for this, so his retirement benefits were lowered from the rank of lieutenant to the rank of major general, which is not a big punishment.

This is related to his definition of this matter. He defines Kaido's escape as the intervention of external factors.

The price of is that Olga and Elizabeth also have their own bounties.

Who is the strongest agent in this world, not CP0, who is known as the strongest shield of the Tianlong people, nor CP9, who is unknown to ordinary people, and even those detectives in the underground world are not ranked.

This one is the strongest, the photographers of the world government and the navy.

Wanted requires photos, and most of these photos come from photographers, from millions of little pirates to monsters like Locks.

As long as they are wanted by the world government, no one can escape the photographer's lens.

Whether it is an empty island in the sky or a fish-man island under the deep sea, they can always be found.

They are definitely the strongest in the world in terms of candid photography.

Unless there are rare circumstances that cause the photographer to forget to take off the camera cover, no one can escape their lens.

The photos of Olga and Elizabeth are on the wanted list like this, but these photographers are not all-pervasive, at least the true faces of Olga and Elizabeth have not been exposed.

It was just two Zoroark and Thousand Faced Refugees standing on Kaido's flame cloud. Although the navy failed to shoot Kaido down, they took the picture.

These were not filmed by the surveillance phone bugs in the previous base. Those phone bugs filmed all the illusions released by Olga's ability. Only when Olga was lacking in physical strength at the end, was the image of her transformed appearance.

Because the beasts didn't make any big moves before, the wanted list didn't even have a name, but the prisoner was marked, and the bounty for both of them was a unified 50 million.

Olga didn't fight head-on, and those navies didn't even know who the phantom powers were.

"Is it such a trivial matter?"

For Kaido, the update of the bounty order is not a big deal, he has long passed the age of being happy because of the bounty.

"No, but the rest of the matter is the Navy's business. Admiral of the Navy Headquarters, the family of that black-armed Zefa was killed!"

As soon as he finished speaking, an energy hand composed of evil energy took away the newspaper he was holding. The death of Zefa's family was one of the big events in Arceus' memory.

This means a change in the mentality of a generation of naval admirals. Although they retained the rank of admiral after being retained by their superiors, they have since retreated behind the scenes and become the chief instructor of the navy, and have cultivated a large number of cornerstones for the navy in the following years.

Flame and water are very inconvenient when holding paper items. The four slates make his power gradually perfect, and various energy hands are handy.

"Zefa is really a fool."

The news of the newspaper was very detailed. The Zefa family was unfortunately attacked. The world government expressed its deep condolences. The murderer has been arrested by the navy and taken to the advance city.

Never killed pirates, but all his family members were killed by pirates. This is what he paid for in keeping with the philosophy of "don't kill".

And the relatives of the generals of the headquarters did not get enough protection, and several unknown pirates were killed, and these pirates were not killed on the spot, which is even more outrageous.

Maybe it's the conspiracy that Zefa offended someone, and there are some problems with Zefa's position in the world government.

There are so many pirates in the sea, and there is not only one person who can take the position of Qiwuhai. They chose a person who let Zefa cut off his arm and his disciple was killed. This is simply rubbing salt on the wound.

As long as the brain is normal, it will not do this kind of behavior.

Advance City is a place where people suffer, everyone knows this, but blood debts are paid for by blood, and only by killing the enemy can you get a certain peace of mind.

Zefa would do this, nothing more than because of the Navy's regulations, and abide by the regulations to this end, he doesn't know what to say except for being a fool.

"This is the navy, there are countless rules, the lackeys of the dragon people, but the food on the prison ship is really good."

Kaido is prejudiced against the navy and has a resistance, which is normal, you can't expect a pirate to praise the navy, people will always find a more reasonable explanation for their behavior.

At first, his resistance to the navy was not that high until the king of the Vorka Kingdom forced him to participate in the world conscription of the navy, and his rebellious psychology decided that he took this road and spent his adolescence on the ship of Rox.

At the beginning, this "aspiring youth" who could also question his compatriots, why he should be a dog for the Tianlong people, and why he should turn in the heavenly gold.

The death of Zefa's family is tantamount to sounding the alarm once again, and it also severely hit the Navy in the face. As the Navy's highest combat force, the safety of the family cannot be guaranteed. reduce.

But this refers to the grassroots soldiers. Some talented people saw the chaos on the sea. Some people chose to go to sea to become pirates, and some people joined the navy to realize their ideals.

"Speaking of which, your abilities are also divided into strengths and weaknesses." After rushing those little brothers to carry the supplies, Kaido suddenly asked a question.

"Of course, what you see now is relatively strong. If you insist, Quinn should be the weakest. After all, he is the most labor-saving. What's wrong?" noveluSb.com

"It's nothing, there are still fourteen dollars to find. Remember to reserve a stronger ability for me."

Chapter 58 This island is Lao Tzu's territory!

"Can't you wait? The consumption of transforming you is too high, and your current strength is not strong enough, but it is not suitable."

Arceus thought that Kaido wanted to transform himself. Qinglong was a top-level phantom beast, and his general strength was really not worthy of him, and the transformation of phantom beasts would be more laborious.

They already have peculiar abilities, adding new abilities on the premise of retaining the original abilities. This is a technical job. Although I haven't done anything with Eudemons yet, Arceus used Kaido to make an estimate.

If you transform the Eudemons, then it is not the original transformation, but the addition of the ability. This transformation is reflected in the outside world as a special "double-fruit ability person".

Jin can only be transformed into a fossil pterosaur now, but cannot be transformed into a toothless pterosaur. If he is an phantom beast, then he can transform into both the appearance before the transformation and the appearance after transformation.

"No, it wasn't for me. My current abilities are sufficient, and I can't rely on my abilities blindly. The blessing of that sword dance has been enough for me to use for a long time. I just plan to prepare an ability for my future children."

"what?"

Arceus didn't quite react to Kaido's brain circuit, so it's discussed with future children.

"That guy's child from Zefa died, but in the final analysis, his family is too weak. If his child had the strength to resist, wouldn't the result be different?"

"That's just a three-year-old kid"

"I wasn't that weak when I was three years old. In short, Laozi's children can't be like Zefa. Well, they have to start training early and help me arrange a stronger ability, like Shaina's."

The ability is divided into strong and weak, and the way of giving the ability is also divided into strong and weak. There is no doubt that Shaina gets the most things, and Kaido knows very well that Shaina's ability will not be restrained by Hailou stone and water. is a huge advantage.

The subordinates don't matter, the best arrangement for the descendants.

"Let's talk about this when you have kids, but your training method... kids can stand it? Olga is a special case."

"Don't worry, I'm measured, and Lao Tzu's bloodline can't be weak."

"That's it, but whether the ability is strong or weak depends on the slate of the past few years."

"Ok cluck, An Xin, after occupying the island, we will arrange for Quinn to start research immediately. At the same time, we also start to expand our troops and increase our manpower. As long as the thing is not hidden, it can be found after all.

Little ones, speed up and set sail! "

Zefa's retreat behind the scenes opened the prelude to the replacement of the old and new eras of the Navy, and the world of pirates is the same, and more cruel.

The world government announced the cause of death of John and other pirates according to the intelligence gathered by itself, and emphasized that Priert may have taken all the treasures, hoping to take this opportunity to force them out.

But people didn't force it out, but it made some sea areas in the New World more chaotic. The islands in the New World are basically owned by owners. If there are three big pirates, it means that there will be three vacancies. Everyone wants to Put this piece of meat in your mouth.

The Golden Lion did not participate in this matter, because the sites of the three were too far away from him. Among them, Wang Zhi's site became Whitebeard's bag, while the Silver Axe's site was occupied by Charlotte Lingling. .

She was the first to shoot, and she chose to shoot first when there was no news from Silver Axe.

"Well~ Kaido, you really helped me a lot." Now Charlotte Lingling is reading the newspaper on the new site, the news reported by the World Government plus the previous contact with Kaido, it doesn't matter. She doesn't believe it.

But now that she has no conflict with Kaido, there is no need to stab this kind of thing out. Besides, she has a new childbirth plan recently.

And the last remaining site of John, due to its special location, was stuck in the middle of several forces, resulting in the fact that the big forces did not take action, leaving it as a buffer zone, but a group of newcomers and pirates who did not have a fixed site. A fight broke out.

Almost all of the surrounding islands have owners, and only the main island remains undecided.

The nearby pirates are almost divided into two factions. One is those who have not recognized the cruel new stars here soon after arriving in the new world, including supernovas with bounties exceeding 100 million.

The other part of is the pirates who have been hanging around here for a long time and have enough understanding of the new world, but their own strength is not enough, they do not want to join other forces, they can only swim on the sea, and there is no fixed territory for the pirates.

There are people born in the new world, as well as pirates from the first half of the year and other seas.

Abilities, swordsmen, artillery, and various abilities collide on the island and the surrounding waters in order to decide where to belong.

At the same time, a third-party force was born. In order to ensure the safety of the islanders, the * team was spontaneously formed by the adults on the island.

Their strength is average, but this is an island with developed heavy industry, and there is a military factory on the island.

The arms business is not uncommon in the New World, and arms are also the hard currency here. In addition to ordinary guns, they even made coastal defense artillery from the military factory.

bought himself some safe space, and when no one wanted to fight with other pirates, a cannonball suddenly fell from the top of his head.

But there is not much food on the island. This is a winter island. Most of the food on the island relies on foreign materials. After the battle between pirates begins, the transportation of materials around is suspended.

The returns are not high and there are more risks. Naturally, no one will do this kind of business.

Honestly, they desperately want those pirate fights to stop.

And what those pirates did at this time was exactly what they hoped. Both sides found that they could not help each other, and the pirates from both sides began to sit down for peace talks, intending to form a larger pirate alliance.

Let's warm up together in a cruel new world.

"Then starting today, our Pirate League will be established."

Before the Alliance Wine was served, a sound came from a distance, followed by a series of explosions getting closer and closer to them.

The negotiating table suddenly drew swords, and the pirates on both sides entered a state of confrontation.

"Iolia, are you still unwilling to give up?"

"Don't be silly, Mayor, I don't need so much trouble if I want to kill you."

But no one put down their guns, obviously no one believed each other, even if they came to form an alliance, they were wary of each other.

At this moment, the door outside was pushed open, and a person stumbled over.

"Not bad, Captain, someone is calling!"

Before he finished speaking, the half-opened door behind him flew out and was embedded in the wall behind them. No vElus b.cOm

"This island is Lao Tzu's territory from today!"

Chapter 59 This is the monster of the new world

The door shattered, and the cold wind poured into the room.

This is a Winter Island, but Winter Island is also divided into four seasons, but the summer of Winter Island is almost colder than the winter of Summer Island, and the cold wind that got into the collar made them shiver.

To be precise, this chill is not simply caused by the weather, but also has a lot to do with Kaido.

did not enter the dragon form or the dragon form, but just used the human form, Kaido has already hit here alone.

The actions of people need some motivation. Kaido is this type. He is about to have a withdrawal reaction. Because he made a mistake in drinking at the naval base before, Arceus set a small goal for him.

I gave up alcohol before laying down the basic plate.

At that time, he hadn't sobered up yet, and he was discussing what abilities his future child should be, and he agreed in a daze, so much so that he was about to become addicted to alcohol during this time.

When he speaks to outsiders, he may not be trustworthy, but he will still take his own words seriously. Although he and Arceus are not subordinates, they are also very close allies.

Deal with these guys, then have a banquet and have a good drink, that's what Kaido thinks at this time.

Before the boat docked, he rushed over by himself.

Although these people fought fiercely here, in the final analysis, it was because the pirates with cards in the New World did not look here.

Whether it is a young man who just came to the new world and does not know how high the sky is, or the losers who survived in the cracks of the new world, they are the same type for Kaido - the weak.

"Hey, this island is now Lao Tzu's territory. Who of you has an opinion?"

This is the place where the two pirates formed an alliance, and of course a lot of drinks are indispensable.

"We've already arrived here, so it's almost the same." His agreement with Arceus was to occupy this island before, and now that he's here, he acquiesced that he had already occupied this place, so drinking a little is nothing.

Besides, he didn't feel any threat from the people present, so in front of these pirates, Kaido grabbed the wine jar placed on the side, he wasn't blind yet, there was a big word on it.

He raised the wine jar as if no one else was around, and drank it in front of him.

The scene was a little weird for a while, these pirates were stunned, and finally the tranquility was broken by a gunshot.

Looking at the Adam's apple that lifted Kaido and moved with the wine, someone raised the flintlock gun in his hand.

I don't know if it was because of poor marksmanship or too nervousness. The shot missed, but after the gunshot, there was only a broken wine jar left in Kaido's hand, and most of the wine was scattered directly on the ground.

This gunshot also became a signal. The next moment, there was a loud gunshot in the room, and some people even carried shoulder-mounted artillery. Kaido's position was covered by the smoke from the explosion of gunpowder until the ammunition in his hand was emptied. These talents eventually stopped.

"Is it dead?"

"Should be dead, someone who can catch so many shells can't be a lunatic like him."

"But why did we shoot, he came in alone."

"I don't know, I'll follow you when you shoot"nOVElusB.COM

Some scattered conversations came out, and many people didn't understand Kaido's seemingly strange behavior.

But when the smoke cleared, Kaido appeared unscathed in their sight.

"It seems that you don't agree that this island belongs to me, and you also knocked over Lao Tzu's wine. Do you know that I haven't had a drink for a few days?"

The mace swung out, the invisible stick hit the first person to shoot, the broken body flew in the air like a rag bag, and finally landed on the heating fire in the house.

The flame ignited the clothes, the flesh was carbonized under the action of the high temperature, and a burnt smell came out from it, but it quickly dissipated under the blowing of the cold wind.

The pirates present didn't have time to deal with a dead man, because they were facing an already angry Kaido.

Whether it was the captain who was high above or the minions standing guard at the gate, they were all the same at this time, and no one could hold on to Kaido's attack.

This is the gap of the power gap, Kaido achieved the alternative "equality" among these people with absolute force.

"How can this be.. how can there be such a monster!"

It was those pirates who had just arrived in the New World who had no clear understanding of the New World, and they encountered enemies within their understanding range at first.

Although is stronger, it can still kill.

But for a monster like Kaido, the sword will be broken, and the shells can only leave some black ashes. Even those who were arrogant on the ship before, faced Kaido's attack.

Fear spread in the crowd, the people around appeared to run away, and those close to the periphery began to try to escape from this place of death.

Kaido didn't stop these guys, this time he's no longer the bare commander.

There was also a group of pirates lying on the ground outside the door, which was the damage caused when Kaido rushed over.

Running on the loose snow, turning his head and looking back from time to time, he wanted to go to the ship moored in the port, and then leave here and leave the ghost place of the new world.

Kaido's physical strength has broken his inherent thinking concept.

There is a corner in front of you, as long as you turn here, you can see the seaside port.

Then he slammed into a pillar, looked up and saw that it was not a pillar at all, an alternative Brachiosaurus just stood here.

And the place where the boats were originally moored became a mess.

Previously, Kaido rushed too fast, completely leaving the rest of the beasts behind, and the rest of the beasts began to deal with the pirates left around.

These pirates are weaker than the pirates in the venue, but they are more numerous.

The biggest role of the cannon fodder boys that Kaido subdued is to support the field, or to manipulate the artillery on the ship. They are not much stronger than these pirates in terms of grassroots combat power.

But the high-end combat power at the cadre level, the pirates here were completely crushed.

No need for Arceus to do anything, the flames, boulders, and the ability of the blade blade "phantom beasts" caused a devastating blow, and most of the opponent's artillery was misfired. Under Elizabeth's precise sniping, those gunners had no chance to fire at all.

Even if she was hiding in the cabin, the water bombs from Elizabeth's "sniper" were enough to pierce the planks of the hull.

Although for Arceus, a blast of sanction is enough to destroy all the pirate ships, but it is not necessary, these people are subordinates, not the uncle who was invited back, if they can't do anything, what do they want them to do.

Besides, they did not object to this kind of thing. For these pirates, fighting is a normal thing.

Whoever has the most complicated heart on the whole ship is Acier.

Chapter 60 Surrender and Resistance

Olga was also involved in the battle. She didn't single out a ship like Shaina, which was a bit early for her. Ordinary pirates practice their hands.

Although she is more than 100 years old, for Assie, the years in the belly of the sea kings have basically stagnated. At this time, Olga is still the one who has not yet passed his 10th birthday to him. little daughter.

This should not be her life, but she had to accept it. Since the abduction incident, Olga seems to have grown a lot, she realized the importance of power, and began to desire power.

But getting it comes at a price, and her current experience is part of that price.

Assiere has some self-blame for this. He thinks these are pure gold's faults, but there is no pure gold, and Olga, who has been more than a hundred years old, can't survive the South Sea Emperor fever.

In the final analysis, it was the result of the person who leaked the pure gold information. He didn't sit still either, carrying a box of cannonballs and walked to a gunner's side.

Life has become like this, and he has no ability to fight head-on, so he can only find a way to help.

"Use this."

Asie is a leader in the Beast Pirates, and because he is a scientific research talent, Kaido does not allow his pirates to threaten his safety.

He was originally a top chemistry and materials scholar. He has re-acquainted with knowledge and accepted the changes in the world over the past 100 years. With the help of Quinn, he transformed the gunpowder according to the existing formula and made the shells power becomes greater.

It's just that because it's an experimental stage, there aren't many such shells.

"Wow, Brother Asier, your cannonball is so powerful." Looking at the range of the cannonball, the gunner expressed his sincere admiration.

"Fire a few more cannons in that direction." Pointing in Olga's direction and instructing a few words, Asiere returned to the cabin, and he was just adding to the chaos by staying outside.

Although the number of pirates was inferior, the firepower was crushed, the high-end combat power was crushed, and there was air superiority. The resisting pirates were quickly killed, and most of the rest chose to surrender.

And the minions of the Beast Pirates also played the biggest role in taking care of these captives.

There were also some pirates who wanted to flee to the meeting to find their captain. Quinn was just chasing those people, and one of the pirates who escaped just hit Quinn.

The pirate alliance, which had been established for less than a few minutes, was close to disbanding, but the sound of cannonballs gliding was heard in the distant sky.

A cannonball much larger than a regular cannonball flew over here.

For the strong in the pirate world, it is not difficult to deal with cannonballs, and Jhin in the form of a human and beast flew from the sky.

The gigantic cannonball was split in two by the wings that shone with metal light, and the two-handed cannonball was caught in two halves and thrown out, destroying the cannonball coming from behind.

After the transformation, the human-beast form with both hands is much more convenient than the traditional bird devil fruit ability. After all, when they enter the human-beast form, their hands will turn into wings.

"That direction. Isn't that where pirates are stationed?"

"Yes, Lord Holy Beast, that's where the civilians of the island live."

"Shaina, take a trip with Jin to make them stop resisting and be gentle with civilians. After all, this is our territory from now on."

Civilians are different from pirates. They are the original inhabitants of the island, so they can't kill all the people on the island.

Besides, they need to develop in the future, and the population is also the basis of the economy, so they cannot be treated like other pirates.

"Yes, we'll deal with it, Jhin! Let's go!"

Two figures, one red and one grey, flew along the direction the cannonball struck, and soon disappeared into the sky.

"Okay, then let's see how Kaido is doing." The rest of the people, except for the guards, followed Arceus to Kaido.

"Gabriel! Who made you shoot!"

A conflict broke out in the place where the civilians lived on the island. The reason was that the captain of the * team fired in the direction of the pirate station with the coastal defense gun for self-protection without the consent of the village chief.

"Don't you know, I let those pirates put down the idea of attacking us, what a waste of thought! Even if you don't care about this, you don't even care about the safety of little Gabriel and your mother!"

A man with a big beard was pushed aside, and the village chief blocked his body in front of the cannon, his tone full of helplessness in addition to anger.

"This is an opportunity. Those pirates seem to have a big conflict. As long as we can take the opportunity to eliminate them, then we will be free! We only have enough food for one day, and there is no way to save any more. Look at the food we eat these days. What is it!"

Gabriel pointed to the food in the pot next to it. It seemed to be boiled potatoes and other food, and the proportion of water was higher. These days, they came here with such a clear soup and little water.

"Gabriel, those are pirates."

"I know, but we also have weapons, why don't we stand up and resist them?! They are not strong like John, they will be afraid of artillery, and we have the ability to resist."

The goal of civilians is to survive. Even if there is still a way to survive, most people will choose to surrender, which is why the island belonged to John before.

But now the struggle of these pirates is almost forcing them to die.

Then he pointed to a few people standing behind him, who agreed with him and participated in the shelling.

"They are still fighting, and now we still have the strength to resist. If they wait a few more days and they are not over, the foreign merchant ships will not approach here. Are we going to starve to death here?"

While they were fighting to the death, we caught them off guard. As long as they were resolved, the fight would be over. "

"Gabriel, you are too young, those are pirates, they just compromise with us because they don't want to be attacked. You will force them into a battle line, once they put down the dispute and want to settle us first, then what are you going to do? "

"In that case, hand me over to quell their anger, but now is our chance to resist, we can't put our hopes on the pirates.

If that kind of thing happens, village chief, please remember to help me take care of little Gabriel and his mother, those who are willing to resist, pick up your guns and come with me! "

Then Gabri found that there was something wrong with the eyes of these people. He seemed to be looking at the sky. When he turned around, he saw Shaina and Jhin flying in the sky.

"You just fired the cannon. This island is already the site of the Beast Pirates. We can let go of the artillery attack. Now, put down your weapons and stop resisting."
