

Arceus 531

Chapter 531: Interrupt reading and awakening

Kaido's body began to glow, which was a precursor to his release of Dragon Dance.

The increase at this time was far from the upper limit of his body's endurance, but White Beard didn't watch Kaido complete the reading of the dragon dance. Unleashed his skills.

"Newgate, you bastard!"

「Gu la la la, brat, this is a battle, although I don't know what kind of strange action you are doing, but don't even think about continuing!」

He didn't understand what a dragon dance was, but he clearly felt that after Kaido had just completed that strange movement, both speed and attack had gone up a notch.

Originally they were equal in strength, and Kaido was not even as good as him in terms of destructive power, but everything became different after that weird action.

He doesn't know how many times Kaido can use this thing, once or twice is fine, if there are more, then this fight won't be necessary.

Different from the attack just now, just now Kaido took advantage of the momentum and lost most of his strength, and now the shock waves that Whitebeard hits with both hands are completely designed to interfere with the operation of his dragon dance.

Under this interference, Kaido's dragon dance could not be completed.

But this time it was normal. Unless it was a molestation under the pressure of strength, no one would let the opponent complete the reading of the skill. He had seen too many moves of accumulating power during the years of fighting on the Rocks ship.

Allowing the opponent to complete the charge, except in careless situations, either there is no need to interrupt, or it cannot be interrupted.

The strong in the new world usually don't have a lot of moves that require a long time to accumulate energy. It is wasteful to face the weak and useless to face the strong. Only some specific moves that are used to deal with giant targets will always be passed down, such as Ai from the giant race. Gun of Erba.

"But that's what makes it interesting. Sure enough, Newgate, only a guy like you can make people... blood boil!"

He is not someone who will not fight without his skills. Even if White Beard interrupts his subsequent dragon dance, his previous dragon dance has already been released. At this time, his body is full of stronger power.

「Madman...」

Whitebeard can only make such an evaluation of Kaido's behavior, but it was the same before, even when Kaido was still an intern, he liked to fight like this.

At that time, he was far from being as strong as he is now, and he lost more than he won in battles, but no matter how many times he failed, he would still rush into the battlefield to fight after he recovered from his injuries. It seemed that that was his meaning

From noon to midnight, the two had fought for more than twelve hours. During the three days and three nights of fighting Roger, Whitebeard would wait for Roger to rest before fighting because of Roger's body, but it was different now, the two The energetic monster has no intention of stopping.

Perhaps for them now, the warm-up is officially over.

Boom!

click...

The barrier in front of Kaido is broken like a mirror. Whitebeard's attacks are all AOE attacks in a large area. It doesn't make much sense to use a double in front of him, and the double can only take damage and confuse the enemy.

If Kaido uses a double, the stamina consumed to create a double is greater than being punched by him, and Whitebeard's attack will attack his double and the main body together.

"Sure enough, it seems that this barrier cannot be used continuously."

Kaido would not defend against ordinary attacks, which made Whitebeard suspicious. If this skill is really that easy to use, then isolating all attacks is the best choice.

Although Kaido is a fighting maniac, Whitebeard knows that he does not have * hobbies, and will try to avoid being hit by more powerful attacks during the battle, so this skill must have some kind of limitation.

But besides defending, Kaido also has the physical bonus of the blue dragon fruit and very powerful arrogance. Although the high-level armed color can cause internal damage, not all of them can hit the opponent's body.

After all, the shock wave he released could not be attached to the armed color, and the other attacks did not have a huge attack range like the shock wave, so Whitebeard took a long time to come to this conclusion.

He seized the opportunity and confronted Kaido

's vital points sent out a series of onslaughts, forcing Kaido to use defend continuously.

In fact, it is not impossible to keep it as a defensive magical skill, and it is not impossible to use it continuously, but the more you do this, the lower the success rate is. Judging from the current results, Kaido's luck today is not particularly good.

「So what if it is? I still have a lot of things I know!」

During another wrestling, the scales on Kaido's body suddenly stood up, and then those scales were shot out like bullets, and a powerful armed domineering color was attached to them.

Scale shooting attack, using its own scales as weapons to attack the enemy through the damage of flying scales.

Dense scales shot at Whitebeard, even his body had a lot of blood marks, and then he saw bursts of white light emitting from his whole body, and the powerful vibration force bounced all the scattered scales out.

However, the power on the scales did not disappear.

「Namuel, be careful!」

Marco's wings blocked him, and his body soon became riddled with holes. However, under the flames of the phoenix, the wounds on his body were quickly healing themselves.

On the other side, Jhin's defensive power was fully stretched to block everyone in front, and the wide wings of the pterosaur formed a shield at this time.

Although these are stray bullets that were ejected, you can still feel pain when you hit them. Morgans tried to continue taking pictures desperately in this environment. After being cut off with a vulture hairstyle, he honestly hid behind.

While Whitebeard's attack has not stopped, the white light on his body continues to spread, and Kaido even feels that the island under his feet is trembling non-stop.

As the splashed scales disappeared, the shooting of Rotom continued. From its night vision lens, it can be seen that the surroundings of the island are gradually collapsing, and then Whitebeard actually let go of the hands holding the knife, letting Cong Yun Che was picked and flew aside.

Although he didn't know what Whitebeard wanted to do, the opportunity had already appeared in front of Kaido. Taking advantage of this gap, he quickly waved the eight fasts in his hand again.

「Bao Lei gossips!」

In this regard, Whitebeard swung both fists at the same time, and Kaido instinctively used it to defend, but the next moment, a sense of crisis emerged in his heart. Whitebeard is not an idiot, and he should not use it when he knows that he has defensive skills. This attack is.

After that, he suddenly felt a pain in his chest and abdomen, and the vibration of the white beard actually penetrated the guarded barrier and directly attacked his body.

The powerful impact made Kaido's figure start to recede, leaving two deep ravines on the island made of rocks.

「Awakening, sure enough, you have already mastered this thing...」

Chapter 532: The patience of the audience is gradually reaching its limit

Wiping the blood from the corner of his mouth, Kaido seemed to understand something.

The vibration just launched by Whitebeard passed through the barrier generated by the guard, extending the damage to him with the vibration of space, and that vibration seemed to have caused a resonance in his body, causing damage to the body like a high-level armed color.

The vibration of the island and the atmosphere just now is a precursor to the awakening of Whitebeard. Although the vibration is not an entity like rubber, glutinous balls, or threads, which can directly transform the surrounding substances, it can maximize the ability of this vibration.

In this state, the vibration in the space is like the extension of Whitebeard's hands and feet. Unless the barrier isolates another small world, otherwise Whitebeard's attack can penetrate the barrier and attack the body.

「Kaido, tell me, what happened to Oden?」

"Are you still thinking about that innocent guy? Didn't I tell you that that guy died because of his subordinate's betrayal, or should I bury him?"

White Beard raised one hand above his head, and Cong Yunqie, who had been bounced off, landed firmly in his hand again, and then his blade of Cong Yunqie also entered this state of vibration, and White Beard once again raised the knife and rushed towards Kaido.

Although Kaido's body was affected by the vibration of Whitebeard, the smile on his face became more obvious. How can a fight without a life-and-death crisis be called a fight?

His muscles started to move, and every cell in his body started to function. It seemed that there was no change at all. At most, the dragon-like part deepened a little, but this is the awakening of the animal system.

The awakening of the animal system does not have the exaggerated expressive power of the natural system to change the celestial phenomena, and does not have the magical ability of the superhuman system to change the surrounding materials. What it brings is the ultimate body, commonly known as sit-ups.

The damage caused by Whitebeard is gradually recovered with the efforts of the cells in Kaido's body, and it is recovering at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Whitebeard's awakening gives him more terrifying attack power and attack range, but facing the same awakened Kaido, as long as he can't instantly kill the opponent in a short time, the damage he caused will be gradually repaired.

However, whether it is Kaido or Whitebeard, it is impossible to kill the opponent in seconds, especially in the awakening environment of Whitebeard, Kaido's skills that need to read notes are more likely to be interrupted.

Under the circumstance that the defense would be penetrated by the opponent's vibration, Kaido started his own fighting like a wild beast, relying on the strong resilience of the animal system, consuming Whitebeard's physical strength in exchange for injuries.

Whitebeard also exhibited monster-like abilities. His consumption of Kaido simply exceeded his recovery speed. Although his body was constantly under attack, it still did not exceed his upper limit.

The two monsters are constantly fighting on the island, everything outside seems to have nothing to do with them, the sun has been around them for several times, no matter day or night, their fighting never stops.

Islands are collapsing and shrinking all the time, and most of the originally huge islands have fallen apart at this time.

In this state, the audience has become the biggest victim.

They have to deal with attacks that may miss. Whether it is Kaido or Whitebeard, in a battle of this scale, there is no guarantee that they will not accidentally injure others.

At this time, the reason why Kaido only brings elite cadres who can fly to the vicinity is also reflected. Even the people who watch the battle at their level must have some strength.

Among the ships on both sides in the distance, the successive waves showed that the battle was not over yet. The crew of Whitebeard barely fell asleep in the waves, while the crew of Hundred Beasts made new moves.

Seeing that the battle hadn't stopped, a Laplace shrunk its size, and then it bloomed with a completely different light. It was still huge, but compared with before, its appearance had changed a lot.

This is Gigamax Laplace. Its carapace has been transformed, and there are special grooves on it. These grooves can accommodate five thousand people to live smoothly on the sea.

Relying on the power of Laplace, except for a small number of people who are still controlling the ship, the rest of the people are recuperating on Laplace's back, waiting to deal with unexpected situations that come at any time.

Time is still passing, and the words between Whitebeard and Kaido are getting less and less, and they just attack silently.

On Onigashima, the audience lost their former enthusiasm. At first they roared excitedly when they watched the video that Yamato sent back, but as time passed, they also became numb.

Some pirates started to do their own things, and told those pirates who stayed here, and told them the results.

Jack and Maria were quite energetic, but Urti and Peggy Wan couldn't hold on anymore, and even Urti, who was the most restless, was already snoring slightly at this time.

「Heh, these two are really cute.」

Maria's big hands carefully lifted the two of them up, and then placed them on her lap to keep them asleep. It may be due to heredity, and a feeling called maternal love gradually awakened in her body.

Looking at the two children who stayed up too long and fell asleep, she even hummed a lullaby from Wano Country.

"Maria, I'm going out to wake up, remember to call me when there is a picture."

His stamina hasn't reached its limit yet, but it's too boring to stay here. The live broadcast screen suddenly cut off this morning. Rotom was created by Arceus and there will be no problem. The biggest possibility is that there is something wrong with the cameraman .

Judging from the shaking in front of the black screen, Yamato is likely to have fallen asleep.

Staring at the black screen made him bored, so he decided to go outside in the water to wake up.

「Go ahead, I will let you know.」

In fact, Jack guessed right. At this time, Yamato was indeed curled up on Genesect's back and fell asleep, and Genesect even used his own arm to fix Yamato on his back.

Rotom entered the standby state in her arms. Rotom is also a Pokémon and needs to rest. Although the body can continue to work when it is resting, the premise is that the operator cannot fall asleep. In this case The live broadcast was naturally interrupted.

As for Morgans, who stayed beside him with the assistance of Zeraola, his eyes were bloodshot. He didn't seem to understand why Yamato could still fall asleep and sleep so comfortably.

"President Morgans, you can take a break if necessary, I can hold you back."

"No need, if I miss any big scene, I will regret it for the rest of my life."

As he spoke, Morgans took out a handful of coffee beans, threw them into his mouth and chewed them. This is how he persisted.

Chapter 533: You are strong, but your family is not as strong as mine!

"Phew, it looks like I just fell asleep for a while."

Yamato woke up on Genesect's back, looking at the sun above her head, she felt that she should have only slept for a few minutes.

After all, the position of the sun has not changed from before she fell asleep, but after she woke up Rotom again, she found something wrong.

「Strange, how did time go backwards, Rotom, is your timer broken?」

"No, Loto, all functions are intact."

"strangeness"

"Miss Yamato, you have been sleeping all day."

Jhin on the side exposed the truth. She fell asleep on the morning of the fourth day, and she woke up on the morning of the fifth day. She slept for a whole day and night, and at this time, the battle below finally entered end.

Waking up, Yamato rubbed his eyes, and didn't continue to struggle with this problem, and directly pointed Rotom's camera hole down again.

In Ghost Island, with the recovery of Yamato and Rotom, the rebroadcast picture became clear again, and the battle between Whitebeard and Kaido seems to have entered the final battle.

There are three more paw prints on Whitebeard's chest, which are the marks left by Kaido with dragon claws. In addition, there are countless scratches and bruises.

The same is true for Kaido. Although it is covered by dark dragon scales, you can still see the almost twisted bruises on it. There is a huge wound on the left shoulder. Although it is no longer bleeding, it can be seen that it is Whitebeard handwriting.

They have already stopped their large-scale attacks. Whether it is Kaido or Whitebeard, their physical strength has gradually reached a limit at this time.

「Hey, wake up, Boss Kaido seems to be winning soon.」

「Look, look, that white beard is hurt!」

"Don't eat, you won't die if you miss a meal, the screen has been restored!"

The human brain will control people to see what they want to see more subjectively, so these people ignore the scars on Kaido to a certain extent.

Under their shouts, the crowd of onlookers gradually increased in the empty space, and as the voices grew louder, Ulti also woke up in a daze.

「Woo~ This bed is really comfortable this time.」

「Well, you can lie down for a while more if you like.」

Seeing Maria's smile, Ulti noticed the abnormality, and it took a minute for her still sleepy mind to wake up completely. To her, falling asleep on someone's lap is tantamount to public execution, let alone there are A sleepier Peggy Wan.

「Xiao Pei! Get up, don't sleep, the battle has begun!」

Ulti became flustered rarely, and didn't even refute. He pulled Peggy Wan away from Maria's lap, and changed the subject when Peggy Wan didn't react.

At this time, the small island was only the size of a football field. Looking at the white beard panting heavily, Kaido even admired the monster a little bit.

「Newgate, at your age, can you still fight for five days and five nights?」

"Gu la la la, don't look down on people, brat, when I became famous, you were just a little kid behind Ling Ling, and it's okay to beat me for five days!"

Fought against the awakened animal department for five days and five nights. In this respect, Whitebeard has lived up to his reputation as a monster. In fact, Kaido's physical strength has gradually reached its limit.

Whitebeard's awakening is very terrifying. The advanced armed color is to damage the enemy's interior through the principle of hitting cattle from the air, and to penetrate the body's surface armed color defense for the purpose of realizing its own attack.

Whitebeard's awakening allowed his ability to achieve a similar effect. Although it doesn't ignore external defenses like domineering, it's almost the same.

Combined with the terrifying destructive power of Whitebeard, it is simply not something normal people can persist.

Coupled with his destructive power to the environment, fighting him on the mainland is the biggest failure. Even if he can be defeated, it will cause irreversible damage to the island.

「Ugh, Newgate, your time... is over!」

With both legs exerting force, Kaido leaps in the dragon man state

Going into the air, the strength of his body was squeezed to the extreme by him. Although he had gone through five days and five nights of fierce fighting, his arrogance was stronger than before.

As a "teacher", what you need to know is not only teaching students, but also self-growth. In the duel with Whitebeard, he seems to have broken through something.

「King III! Yin Naraku·Dragon Scale Dance!」

Thunder, domineering, dragon power, Kaido used his strongest blow at this time, and even the air wailed in the place where Ba Zhai passed.

And Kaido's words that the era has passed seemed to sting Whitebeard's heart. Looking back on the past, one strong man after another has left, but thinking of those family members and the most important things in his life, Whitebeard seems to have an epiphany. thing.

The body surface did not continue to emit white light, the power belonging to the Zhenzhen fruit was compressed by him on the sharp edge of Cong Yunqie, and the overlord color that belonged to him was also wrapped around it.

「When will my era end...it's up to me! You can't decide my end!」

Boom——!

Although Morgans pressed the shutter, he quickly covered his ears. The roar was so terrifying that he seemed to be unable to hear anything except the buzzing of his ears for a while.

But that bird's beak reveals a smile that cannot be concealed. This trip is already worth it for him.

The island under the two people's feet began to crack and shatter. Soon, except for the two footholds, the island has been erased from the world. From now on, no matter who it is, it is impossible to detect the breath of the island here.

Looking at the blood dripping from his chest, Kaido has a slightly complicated expression.

Based on his current physical fitness, this wound will not leave a scar, but since Kozuki Oden, this is the first time he has been injured so seriously.

Whitebeard's condition is also not good. The turban on his head has flown to nowhere, and his hands are trembling slightly. It's not the effect of the vibration, but the shock after the fight.

His footsteps were a bit vain, but as Cong Yunqie's knife handle was on the ground, he still stabilized his figure.

"Newgate, I won."

「Little ghost, you really don't know the heights of the heavens and the depths of the earth. Can you be called a victory like this?」

He can see that Kaido's state is not much stronger. Although the resilience of the animal type is stronger, it is in a state of exhaustion just like him.

「Newgate, what you are looking for is your family, but your family is too weak, and my partner is much stronger than yours.」

That's right, in terms of the current state, Kaido can't be considered a victory.

But before he could act, Jhin and Marco brought the same news one after another, and on the distant sea level, there was an extra dog-headed boat...

Chapter 534 Endgame, Tradition

In terms of a purely life-and-death match, the greatest possibility for them is to die together. Although both of them are already close to the limit, in a battle of this scale, the limit is not the end, but a new beginning.

In this case, in order to distinguish between life and death, the body will squeeze the potential of every cell. Although their physical strength has bottomed out, referring to their total physical strength, this is still a very large number. How long is still unknown.

However, Kaido's enhancement is far more than that. Whitebeard can interrupt his dragon dance release by awakening and break through the defense he keeps, but he can't interfere with foreign objects.

In addition to his own skill enhancement, the most buggy thing on Kaido's body is the resurrection grass left by Arceus.

Whitebeard lost his first life, but he has a second, which Whitebeard never had.

Kaido didn't use this in the fight because he wanted to have fun with Whitebeard, if he used it halfway, the fun of the fight would be gone.

But he is a combative faction and also a pragmatic one. If it is 1v1 with Whitebeard, he may not use this thing.

Although he took it out, he didn't want to use it. There are fewer and fewer opponents like Whitebeard. Without him, the sea will not only lose its balance, but also lose a lot of fun.

Kaido has got what he wants, and he wanted to leave, but the spoiler appeared.

"Monch D. Karp, the spoiler is here."

Stuffing the resurrection grass into his mouth, Kaido's physical strength began to recover at an unscientific speed, and soon returned to its heyday. Although the mental exhaustion was still there, the impact was not great anymore.

"Hey, Newgate, I think you took me on the Lockes ship. Speaking of which, you are the first crew member I know."

Whitebeard's pupils shrank, the changes in Kaido were unexpected, he was clearly in the same state of exhaustion as himself just now, but now it is different, because he ate something that he didn't know, this kind of thing happened. Incomprehensible changes.

"You bastard."

Whitebeard was just an ordinary cadre back then. When he was in Hachinos, Kaido who was fighting aroused Lockes' interest, so Lockes sent Whitebeard to recruit him. There is nothing wrong with what Kaido said.

But White Beard didn't understand what Kaido said at this time.

"I don't want the world to become so boring. The time for the new wave has not yet come. The current balance is a wonderful state.

But Newgate, you'd better be prepared. This time I'm relying on external forces, but when you can't even win with my own strength, when everything is ready, it's time for you to end the curtain.

Before then, you have to guard your head for me! "

"The word balance doesn't sound like something you would say, Kaido."

At this time, Whitebeard did not continue to call Kaido as a kid. After several days of * battles, Whitebeard has recognized his strength. Although the two are hostile, they will not take too much advantage of words.

It's just that a person who is keen on fighting said the word balance, which made him a little confused.

"I have also learned a lot, the patience now is for a bigger war.

Continuing to fight now will only take advantage of the navy. Although you and I don't have a deep friendship, we are all pirates after all, so let's stop here for today. "

Before White Beard could say anything, news of Jhin and Marco also came over.

"Dad, Moby Dick is under attack."

"Brother Kaito, there is a navy attacking us."

The news of the two came one after another. At this time, they looked at each other with vigilance. They didn't hold back in the fight just now. As long as there is an order from the captain, the two can attack each other immediately at any time.

However, none of their voices were concealed, so both Whitebeard and Kaido heard the other party's report.

"Newgate, the rest is for you, you'd better become stronger, so that you are qualified to die at the hands of Lao Tzu!"

Said that Kaido spit out an energy beam in the direction of the dog-headed warship. This energy beam went straight into the sky, and then turned into a dense meteor shower and fell down. This meteor shower was a gift left by him, and then Kaido turned into a dragon. , took them and flew away from here.

"Dad, what shall we do?"

"Let's go, Marco, please, but before that, let's give the Navy a big gift."

As he spoke, Whitebeard used his hands hard, and the air seemed to turn into a piece of sackcloth in his hands, and then he pulled it down hard, and the sea vibrated violently under this attack.

The liquid water was also divided into several layers like a solid, and then Marco kicked one by one, carrying two big guys and started the return journey.

"Lieutenant General Garp! They seem to have ceased fighting and launched an attack outside at the same time!"

"I see, don't panic, stabilize the hull, and leave the rest to me."

Facing the falling meteor from the sky, Karp did not panic, but picked up a solid shell, and then smashed it into the sky with his wrist.

As for Whitebeard's attack, he was completely hindering the movement of their ships. The tsunami was not large, and he could deal with it with his fists, but it just made him unable to leave the ship to pursue them.

However, Garp didn't want to chase after him at first. Just after solving the dragon star group, the phone bug on Garp's ship rang again.

"Garp! Who told you to start attacking!"

"It wasn't me, that guy Sakaski acted without authorization."

After arriving in the nearby waters, they were originally together, but because of the large tsunami caused by the aftermath of the battle, the fleet was too dense and prone to problems.

So the navy's fleet spread out and surrounded the surrounding area. Among them, Karp was near the main battlefield, while Sakasky and Polusalino were near the Moby Dick and the King of Beasts respectively.

The order they got was to observe. According to the feedback from the intelligence personnel, the battle between Whitebeard and Kaido did not result in a winner, so they just need to continue to observe.

But the generals also have their own judgments. For example, Sakaski thinks that instead of waiting for them to finish fighting, it is the best solution to attack the remaining fleet while they are fighting. Pirates.

Polusalino and Garp hadn't planned to do this, but at this moment, the environment here affected the whole body. With Sakaski's rash attack, the two of them had to move.

Chapter 535 Pokémon and Science Combination Skills

As a navy of the same era as Whitebeard, Sengoku and Karp understand Whitebeard's horror better than Polusalino and Sakasky.

Although Kaido was still in the ranks of rookies at that time, but now that he and Whitebeard can play like this, they can also indirectly estimate each other's strength.

Moreover, the order a few days ago was determined based on the situation. Sakaski's surprise attack could barely be said to be waiting for an opportunity, but as time passed, the order sent back by the World Government has changed.

"Karp, this is the latest order from above. The operation is cancelled. Everyone should return. You must bring them back to me."

"What happened?"

Warring States' tone made Garp aware of the abnormality. It seems that something special happened, which made the World Government change its strategy urgently.

"Well, the reconnaissance team sent by Wano Country to the World Government has been destroyed."

"The group is destroyed? Are the people Kaido left behind there also so strong?"

"It's not a matter of being strong or not, it's that they haven't even seen the end of the Wano country."

If they were facing Whitebeard, it would not be difficult for them to understand the situation. He set off a tsunami and was almost helpless on the sea. Before the fleet could get close, he would be forced back by the tsunami. He couldn't stop him if he wanted to leave.

Unless there is a reason for him to fight to the death, it is basically impossible to destroy a monster like Whitebeard.

Roger voluntarily surrendered, the Golden Lion single-handedly killed Marlin Vandor, and Lockes fought a decisive battle in the Valley of the Gods. Among the many achievements of the navy, there are very few records of defeating powerful enemies at sea.

Wald is counted as one, because he was calculated by CP agents.

It was the abilities of these monsters that made the navy act cautiously, but what happened in Wano Country was not very normal. According to the final report, they were attacked by biological weapons.

Not long ago, in the Wano country sea area, probably when Yamato was still sleeping soundly on Genesect's back, most people were watching the live broadcast of the battle in Onigashima, but the guard post was still not cancelled.

The battle between Whitebeard and Kaido intensified, and the situation on the battlefield was gradually fed back under investigation. Kaido and Whitebeard would not be able to escape for a while, this was their conclusion.

However, the intelligence of the World Government is much more complete than that of the pirates. How many people Kaido brought out and how many people remained in Wano Country can be roughly calculated.

Although Kaido is not there, the whereabouts of an equally terrifying Arceus is unknown. According to past intelligence, Arceus often leaves Wano Country. Whether he is there now or not, you have to try to know.

In this case, a scout ship with some agents sailed towards Wano Country.

"Master Arceus, those people still can't hold back, their ships are already approaching."

The air team brought back the first-hand information. Even if many of those agents have mastered moon steps, normal people will not always use moon steps to travel, which will consume a lot of physical energy, so the sky is still a challenge for them. blind spot.

Unlike the air team, the Millennium Dragon is a free-flying creature, and it is very easy to carry a few scouts on its back.

Although the original scout captain, Mandelfisch, has left here at this time, this team still exists. After Kaido left, they are patrolling the outer seas of Wano Country, conducting continuous and irregular reconnaissance.

So the ship was discovered directly after a short time.

"Since they dare to come, they have to be responsible for their actions, Quinn, you have approved your use of those things, just to try their effects."

"Don't worry, Lord Arceus, that is the highest achievement in these years."

He, Quinn, the backer of the Beasts Queen, one of the three disasters, the universal subsidy, how can he say that he is also a high-status signboard within the Beasts, although Kaido did not take him out this time, but his strength is not the same. cannot be ignored.

The names of Flame Calamity and Phantom Calamity are based on their abilities. The flames that burned the battlefield and the illusions that deceive the senses brought them great troubles. disaster.

Whether it is the original brachiosaurus or the remodeled tropical dragon, it has nothing to do with this word. Apart from Quinn's own strength, this title comes more from his research.

It's just that this achievement is of little significance in the face of strong people of the same level, and when they capture other islands, their purpose is to occupy rather than destroy, so Quinn's offensive methods that damage reputation are naturally banned.

But facing the group of agents of the world government, Arceus didn't have the slightest favor, so Quinn's restrictions were opened.

This is not just testing a new product from Quinn, but a new way of fighting.

Quinn did not fly away from Ghost Island after receiving the order, but came to the gathering place of the outer good and bad stars.

"Little guys, this is the meaning of Master Arceus. Just like the previous drill, just punch these things out."

At this time, Quinn has restored his racial reputation among the good and bad stars. He got a lot of sun coral branches from Pillman, and obtained the forgiveness of the good and bad stars through feeding behavior.

Then he distributed a bunch of small * to several good and bad stars. This is a special resin processed from tree sap that cultivates berries. Fruit trees also have high utilization value.

Even the cut shoots have a special woody aroma when they are used for barbecue.

These resin * are sealed in the plague bombs made by Quinn, or the mutants that use the toxins of the good and bad stars combined with the toxins of the double bomb gas.

Then some good and bad stars dived into the sea and swam in the direction given by Quinn. After living here for a period of time, they have become familiar with the currents here and the surrounding areas.

The people on the world government ship did not find these good and bad stars swimming in the deep sea. Although they were alert to the unknown situation, they were alerted to people. They never found out.

Then the people in the cabin found that the ship suddenly had a few holes. Those were the handiwork of good and bad stars. Wooden ships are still the mainstream in the world. These mass-produced ships are not made of precious wood. Made a few holes by good and bad stars.

Before they went to rush to repair the ship, the spike cannons of the good and bad stars had already shot into the cabin along the hole. What is made is thus spilled out in it.

Chapter 536 The look of contempt from the descendants

"what!?"

Although these agents did not guard against creatures other than humans, even if their information included biological weapons about beasts, they only guarded against some big guys, and the bigger the thing, the more powerful it is, and this logic often works. of.

Even an ordinary Gyarados is the size of a small sea beast, and according to research, those tyrannical creatures are not manipulable. In their view, there may be a large number of dangerous sea beasts living in the sea area, and these sea beasts will aimlessly attack all target that can be seen.

Beasts may have a substance similar to Hailou Stone, which allows their boats to avoid the attacks of these creatures. Even if they can be manipulated, they can only distinguish between friend and foe.

It is beyond their expectations that the level of intelligence is so high that they can play tactics.

But they are bred by the world government to carry out secret missions. Not all agents are like Spandam, with a force value of only 9. The greatest ability is to reincarnate well, and Spandam has arranged for him. most things.

These front-line agents have good responsiveness. Not many are proficient in six styles, but there are still many who know one or two styles.

Although the iron block is always criticized for its impracticality, it has its own meaning after all. It's just that the timing of the user's use is not appropriate, and if there is no iron block, the user may be killed directly.

As a degraded version of armed defense, it can allow the user to deal with most situations. For example, now, the spiked cannon fired by the good and bad stars is blocked by iron blocks.

Although some people got scratched by it, it didn't cause much impact.

"Captain, there is a hole under the ship, but it has been plugged!"

"Captain, no one died, all were minor injuries."

Several reports came back one after another, but in the end, they didn't even see the attacker clearly.

"Captain, we should have been discovered, should we continue to move forward?"

"Continue, pay more attention to vigilance."

Nothing seemed to happen after the attack, but Quinn in the sky broadcast the current situation here confidently. As a part-time artist, his shooting skills were obviously much better than Yamato, and the situation on the enemy ship was clearly Teleported to Arceus.

"Master Arceus, wait another two minutes, they will experience the power of this work in just two minutes."

This version of the plague has a delayed onset feature, and it will invade the human body silently during the period when the enemy relaxes his vigilance.

The poisonous gas released by Galar's double-bomb gas has no smell, and it is also highly paralyzing.

Quin even extracted a powerful anesthetic from it, and just a little bit can achieve general anesthesia for the human body. At this time, this anesthetic has replaced the ordinary anesthetic in the Hundred Beasts Pokémon Center.

Strong anesthetics without side effects are much easier to use than ordinary anesthetics, and this time the plague bomb is also mixed with similar ingredients. It is unreasonable to talk about the effect without talking about the dose. The dosage of Quinn's doping is just right. achieve what he wants.

Due to individual differences, the same skill will produce different powers depending on the releaser. These good and bad stars are on the stage as coral cleaning teams, and their combat level is not high, so the spike cannon just scratched some people's bodies. skin.

But it was the spiked cannon attached to the plague bomb toxin that had an impact. The effect of the anesthetic gas gradually passed, and a pain and itching gradually appeared in their bodies, and it became more and more intense.

At first, it was just scratching, but the scratching quickly broke the skin, followed by severe pain.

And those people who seemed to have nothing happened soon had the same effect. His plague bombs could affect them even through breathing, but the effect would be slower.

"Damn it, got caught"

No matter how high the level of iron training is, there is no way for this kind of attack. Although some people can endure this torture, this batch of plague bombs is just the beginning. After the ship stopped moving, two huge tyrannosaurs surfaced out of the water.

These are giant tyrannosaurus that evolved from the giant carp king transformed from the giant carp of the Wano country. They are four times the size of the conventional tyrannosaurus. Compared with those sea beast versions, they are already at the level of sea kings. up.

The opportunity for the evolution of these carp kings is very special. It is not an external crisis, but the ridicule of future generations.

Most carp kings in the open sea evolve due to crises, but the sea area near Wano country is too stable, and they hardly encounter any situations when they live here.

That's how it was in the past few years, but as the pilgrimage carp king army gradually formed, they were ridiculed.

The carp king group that can reach here is led by a powerful carp dragon, and those carp kings look at these carp kings that have been directly transformed by Arceus but have not evolved. There is a kind of contempt in the eyes of those carp kings.

It seems to be mocking them, holding the most things, living next to Arceus every day, but they haven't evolved for so many years, so are they ashamed to call themselves elders?

Under the pressure of this offspring, they evolved one by one.

First use the good and bad stars to carry the plague bombs to carry out a surprise attack to destroy the opponent's resistance to the greatest extent, and then the Gyarados came forward to destroy their ships. Although Arceus has a simpler method, not everyone is worthy of him.

For such a reconnaissance ship, two super-large tyrannosaurs are enough to give them face.

The effect of the plague bomb is still continuing. After a short period of pain, the toxin will invade their central nervous system, and the body will be unable to move due to stiffness. In this case, the destructive death light of the Gyarados directly destroyed their ships.

After they fell into the water, the wave caused by the Gyarados swept them into the deep sea, but at the last moment, the captain still sent back his own information.

This is one of the foundations of the world government. They can cultivate a large number of people who are willing to die for the world government.

The lives of these people are their bargaining chips. Now that they have obtained the result of the temptation, the benefit is not proportional to the effort, so those people directly chose to retreat.

After all, this reconnaissance ship was destroyed without even seeing the shadow of Wano Country. According to the video data he sent back at the end, the price to pay for storming Wano Country is too high.

This is also the reason why Warring States gave Garp an order to retreat. The world government has already made its own judgment.

The navy is a violent institution, but it is also a subordinate institution of the world government. Large-scale actions require the consent of the world government. After all, this is related to the balance they care most about.

"The order of the world government should have been conveyed by leaps and bounds, Garp, take care of Sakalski and the others."

There are two changes today, the double eleven express delivery has arrived, let's install the cabinets and chairs

Chapter 537 With the lieutenant general's salary, you want me to die?

"I know, I will go as soon as possible."

Garp was replying to the Warring States Period while solving the immediate troubles. The gifts that Whitebeard and Kaido left for him before they left were a bit expensive, whether it was the rioting sea or the shooting stars in the sky.

He is not afraid of this, but the soldiers on the ship are not. If he leaves now, these soldiers will not have to prepare anything. Under such circumstances, the drift bottles containing the last words cannot be sent out.

Even if he wants to support others, he has to wait until he can free up his hands.

"As soon as possible. You don't need to worry about Polusalino, you can go to support Sakalski."

Sengoku's voice disappeared for a while, and Garp seemed to hear that he had received other orders.

"Has anything changed?"

"It's nothing, but Polusalino has encountered some big troubles, but he has retreated now."

"I see, leave the rest to me."

"The main task is to bring them back intact, Garp, this is the order of the world government, don't do unnecessary actions."

Sengoku hung up the phone immediately, and Garp's adjutant also began to direct the fleet to prepare to change direction. Now that the tsunami is not over, it is very likely that the ship will capsize if it is turned rashly.

In the other direction, the boat led by Polusalino has retreated to a safe place. Except for Polusalino who seems to have experienced the battle, the others are fine, and this is all thanks to Laura. Plath.

In order to deal with the tsunami caused by the aftermath, Arceus specially prepared Laplace, and Laplace's way of dealing with the tsunami was to freeze the huge waves, but Kaido and Whitebeard fought for another five days and five nights.

During this period of time, the tsunami can be said to be wave after wave.

In the face of the continuous tsunami, the waves that had been frozen in advance were naturally smashed into a large amount of ice floes, but when Polusalino was forced to act, the position leading to the beast ship was no longer sailing by ordinary ships. route.

This sea area is not a frigid sea area, and the Navy has not dispatched icebreakers.

So Polusalino's choice is to test the situation by himself first. Although he sometimes behaves like an actor, the identity of the admiral in the original timeline is also real.

He was not recruited directly through the World Conscriptio, but climbed up from the training camp inside the Navy.

In addition to monster-like strength, he also has military merits recognized by the navy. Although the principle of justice is ambiguous justice, it does not mean that he does nothing but fish for fish.

As a natural ability user who can fly, he already has his own advantages in naval battles, so he just went there alone to test the situation.

The pirate on Laplace's back quickly discovered the light spot in the sky. Not all natural-type abilities can fly, and some can transform their bodies into this element to achieve flight.

As a Glitter Fruit user, it is very difficult for Polusalino to hide his body while moving at high speed.

"Big Sister, it seems that a terrible guy is coming!"

The navy will understand the pirates, and the pirates will also understand the navy. Just like the cadres under the command of these sea emperors are well-known in the navy, these rising generals of the navy are also well-known among the pirates in the new world. .

Measuring the strength of the enemy is also a very important part, and Jack is the same. When he was berthing the ship, when he saw the faces of the people on the * ship, his eyes changed instantly.

"The troublesome Lieutenant General Polusalino is here, Olga, help me, this guy is hard to deal with."

Although Jhin and Zeraora followed Kaido to the venue for the duel with Whitebeard, there were also Shaina and Olga guarding the boat. Kaido brought a few cadres just in case. Really used it.

As soon as the words fell, Shaina waved her wings and flew up, and Olga followed closely behind and flew up on Elizabeth's back.

The aftermath of the battle between Kaido and Whitebeard was not only a tsunami, but also accompanied by strong winds. In such windy weather, the weakness of Thousand Faces' inability to actively fly has been made up for.

Relying on these air currents, Elizabeth was able to fly freely in the sky. At the same time, the phone call of the attack here was also made to Jhin.

"It's really troublesome to be alone"

I didn't see any other navy people around, and Olga also began to feel that this matter was difficult to deal with. Her ability in 1v1 is far less powerful than 1vN. Facing enemies of this level, her phantom ability will become less effective. rare.

And rather than creating illusions out of thin air, she prefers to add illusions to existing objects. Such illusions are more real and have fewer flaws.

But she still used illusions to conceal the existence of the ships and Laplace below. Although it was impossible to completely avoid the other party's perception in this way, in this case, as long as Polusalino's attention was not on the On the other side, that side is generally safe.

"Phantom Disaster, Flame Blood, Hundred Beasts really dispatched a lot of people this time, it's really scary."

Although he said so, a lot of light had gathered in his hands, but before he could attack, an extremely cold breath suddenly came from below.

This breath didn't have much influence on him, but the subsequent changes caught his attention.

"Is this.. Aurora?"

The sky is filled with colorful light curtains, and ribbons like aurora flutter among the clouds. He has seen a lot of strange abilities in the years of joining the navy. This vision did not stop him, and a laser shot towards the sand shot in Ina's direction. NovelUsb.com

That is, the moment the laser was shot, Polusalino noticed an abnormality. As soon as the attack was shot, the laser he released was weakened by the surrounding aurora. When the attack exploded around Shaina, its power was completely unusual.

Before he could think about it, a crimson chain was drawn towards him. The speed brought by the sparkling fruit allowed him to escape the blow, but his previous contempt was missing from his expression.

His body didn't notice any discomfort, but the attack became weaker. That was the ability of Gigamax Laplace, the melody of Gigamax Aurora.

The powerful cold current will cause a certain amount of damage, but the main effect of this skill is to make the environment enter the state of the aurora curtain. Under the environment of the aurora curtain, whether it is a physical attack or a special attack, it will be weakened by the aurora all over the sky.

The degree of weakening is related to the number of one's own side and the strength of the enemy, but because Polusalino's attack also belongs to "light", so under the weather of the aurora curtain, he is affected much more than others.

Chapter 538 A skinny camel is bigger than a horse

"Is it the ability of those sea kings? Pirates are getting more and more terrifying these days"

The flash in his hand is still condensing, and he will not retreat directly because of a little setback. Although Olga's phantom hides Laplace's figure, this sea area is so big, and they cannot appear in other places in the blink of an eye.

Using the color of knowledge to capture the position of the opponent is too exhausting. Compared with releasing the color of knowledge on such a large scale, Polusalino made another choice.

"Eight-foot Qiong Gouyu."

Compared to single-shot lasers, Bachi Qiong Gouyu is a large-scale AOE attack. The navy is still far away from his position, which happens to be a larger-scale indiscriminate attack.

This trick also has a shortcoming. Among Polusalino's many attacks, the eight-foot Qiong Gouyu's forward swing is the longest.

Before he released the eight-foot Qiong Gouyu, Olga's Diablo Explosion and Shaina's Red Chains had already struck.

Since getting the Crimson Chain, Shaina has become more and more fond of this weapon. As her understanding of the Crimson Chain gradually deepened, she discovered that it is not just an ordinary weapon, but a weapon with its own will.

The waving of the arm is to make it more powerful. In fact, this chain is controlled by its own mental power to a certain extent, and the tip of the thousand-wrist-shaped gun is extremely sharp.

Ordinary opponents, she would not use the red chains, and would only use them when encountering such difficult opponents.

Facing the incoming attack, Polusalino did not choose to take it hard. Beasts are the largest exporter of sea tower stones. They have a lot of sea tower stone weapons in their hands, so his eight-foot Qiong Gouyu was interrupted. .

But an accident happened, his cuff was broken, and there was an extra wound on his arm.

Natural-type ability users mostly make two choices when facing an attack, either armed with force to resist, or separated from the body in advance to evade after knowledge-based prediction.

Polusalino chose the latter, and he may not be able to block it, but as long as he dodges it, no matter how powerful the attack is, it will not cause any damage.

"I dodged it. What kind of strange weapon is that?"

Judging from this point, he still has it. Just now, the blade of the chain gun in Shaina's hand definitely missed his body, but it left such a wound.

Even high-purity Hailoushi weapons cannot damage the body of the natural system through the air.

"Amazon Cloud Sword."

A long sword made entirely of light appeared in his hand. The opponent's weapon was a little weird. In this case, it's better not to make physical contact, at least until he grasps what the opponent's ability is.

After that, Polusalino tried his best to avoid physical contact, and the two sides entered a stalemate for a while. If Zeraola was easier to deal with here, his speed could keep up with the opponent.

The speed brought by the sparkling fruit is too fast. Although it is not the real speed of light, the initiative has always been in the hands of the opponent. The blessing of speeding up Shaina can't catch up with Polusalino.

And after the battle lasted for a while, Polusalino also saw Kaido appearing in the distance, and without much advantage, he immediately made a judgment to retreat.

Kaido's return means that his actions have been unable to achieve any results, and since this is the case, there is no point in entanglement.

With the departure of Polusalino and the return of Kaido, Olga naturally released the illusion, and the pirates on the ship also sent their own cheers and condolences when they saw Kaido return intact.

"Governor Kaido, you have won!"

"What nonsense, the winner must be Brother Kaidou, Brother Kaidou, didn't you bring back Whitebeard's head!"

There are various names below, and various questions have also reached his ears one after another.

"Shut up! It's so annoying!"

Looking at the noisy younger brothers, Kaido first scolded angrily, but the next moment he seemed angry, he laughed again.

"Get ready for the banquet, this time drink to your heart's content!"

"Oh!"

After a moment of silence, thunderous cheers erupted on the pirate ship. Although they didn't answer them directly, there was no one who lost the battle and went back to the banquet. In their eyes, this was undoubtedly a sign of victory.

Whitebeard is the benchmark of an era. Kaido defeated Whitebeard, which means that their pirate group has completely become the strongest.

"Mr. Kaido, does the Navy ignore them?"

Zeraora asked Kaido about his plans, but now Kaido seems to have no intention of continuing.

"Let them go, I've had enough beating, now go back and have a big drink is the right thing to do, little ones! Return!"

The pirates of Beasts began to return, and Morgans also fell asleep on Kaido's boat. Although, as the president of the news agency, he often changed the newspaper overnight, it was embarrassing for him to persist for so many days.

The albatross fruit helped him a lot in this regard, otherwise he might not have been able to watch the entire battle. Now he has a lot of smiles on his beak, and this experience is enough for him to make headlines again.

If you take it apart and write it, you can even write a continuous report. The only disadvantage of doing this is that you are easy to be chased and killed by the world government.

As for the Whitebeard side, it's not as smooth as here. They don't have huge ice floes to hinder the navy's fleet, and the Whitebeard Pirates in this period are weaker than the Whitebeard Pirates in the war period eleven years later. Quite a lot.

Many captains still have room to grow, which also means that when Whitebeard and Marco left at the same time, the defense force on their ship was seriously insufficient.

The Moby Dick is a good ship, but the stern of the ship was already on fire under Sakasky's attack, but when he planned to further expand the results of the battle, Whitebeard returned.

Although Kaido consumed a lot of his physical strength and left serious injuries on his body, he is still at his peak now, and Sakaski, who has not yet reached his peak state, is not his opponent in the sea.

Under the huge tsunami set off by Whitebeard, he had no possibility of chasing after him. Seeing the casualties on the boat, Whitebeard really wanted to continue fighting, but Karp who leaned over made him dispel this idea. In this state, he and Karp There is no advantage in ordinary combat.

He has to think about the sons who are still alive, which is what he always thinks about. He can pay huge casualties for the family members who are still alive, but not for the dead.

Under the cover of Whitebeard, the Moby Dick began to retreat. Because of the order of the world government, Sakasky also stopped pursuing the idea. This battle that attracted many forces has temporarily come to an end.

Chapter 539 Changes of the times.

The flames on the Moby Dick have been extinguished, and the ship doctor is also treating Whitebeard's wounds. Marco and Namuel, who have seen the whole battle, look serious.

Theoretically, Whitebeard and Kaido were tied in this battle, and they didn't really achieve a result, but for Marco, who had followed Whitebeard for a long time, this was almost the same as losing.

The last person to smooth out the white beard was Gore D. Roger.

As a witness to the battle, Whitebeard's complexion is even more ugly. This is due to the deaths and injuries of the pirates and Kaido's strength. He is not afraid of the current Kaido, but his method of restoring physical strength is not. Let him startled.

No matter how strong the boss is, it can't beat the monster who can do sit-ups. This is the situation Whitebeard is facing.

"Papa, over there in Wano Country"

"Without my order, no one is allowed to act without authorization. Kaido is not something you can deal with. Oden is indeed not his opponent with such strength. We cannot afford such casualties."

Kaido achieved this ability by taking certain drugs. Since he has it, other members of Beasts may also have it. If those cadres have this ability, the Beasts Pirates today are not other pirates at all. Can handle it.

"Marco, do you still remember those beast medicines you got earlier?"

"Remember, what's the matter, Dad?"

Because of Phoenix's ability, Marco, as the captain of the first team, also worked as a part-time ship doctor. He was responsible for some medicine problems, and he accidentally discovered the effect of that health medicine.

"Get more of that kind of medicine, there may be something very magical in it, and we will decide the next question after the research understands that thing."

Now his relationship with the Hundred Beasts Pirates is undoubtedly hostile, but he is not someone who refuses everything related to the other party because of the hostile relationship.

He has already felt the effect of the medicine of Hundred Beasts, and his intuition tells him that the way Kaido restores his physical strength must have some connection with those medicines. If this can be clarified, many problems will be solved.

"Okay, Dad, I see."

But as soon as the voice fell, the phone on the ship rang, and the person who answered the phone had an obviously unhappy face.

"Dad! It's our phone number, the BIG MOM pirates are attacking some of our islands!"

This has a little something to do with Kaido. Although the communication between him and Charlotte Lingling was not pleasant before, the relationship between the two parties is still relatively friendly. After the battle, he called Charlotte Lingling like a cymbal phone.

The general idea is that this fight of Lao Tzu was very happy, and Charlotte Lingling had already prepared her manpower before, and her plan was to attack whoever loses. If Kaido loses, she must unceremoniously take over everything from Kaido.

She has been craving products such as fruits produced in Kaido's territory for a long time, and there are also questions about Pokémon such as Frosty Milk Fairy. Thanks to some cooperation between the two parties, most chefs in Cake Island already know the existence of Frosty Milk Fairy. .

The custard fairy is a dream partner for all pastry chefs, but Arceus has a clear prohibition that no custard fairy enters Charlotte Lingling's territory. This is a non-negotiable topic, and the same goes for Sweet Bamboo Bamboo is the same.

Charlotte Lingling refused to recognize her six relatives after the onset of eating disorder. Compared with her, Kaido's emotional instability after drunk is at least random.

Maybe with luck, he will be particularly happy after drinking, but Charlotte Lingling's cravings will only bring destruction.

In this case, Charlotte Lingling also has a certain amount of resentment, and the old friendship is worthless after Kaido's defeat.

However, looking at Kaido's tone, it is obvious that he is going very smoothly. Although Charlotte Lingling is a woman, she also has her own courage. I am afraid it will be too late when the situation is clear, so I directly ordered the BIG MOM Pirates Members began to attack Whitebeard's territory.

"Let's go, I'm a white beard, I'm not dead yet!"

This news made Whitebeard very angry. Although he had fought a battle, he hadn't hurt his vitality. According to the estimation of the distance, after the Moby Dick passed by, he would almost recover his fighting power. Of course he would not have heard the news. tolerate.

While Whitebeard headed to his territory full of anger, the Beast Pirates also returned to Oni Island excitedly.

Whitebeard and Charlotte Lingling have nothing to do with them. What they have to do now is to celebrate their victory.

Morgans woke up after a few hours of simple rest, and then Kaido put him on an island and left on his own.

As long as one thing is related to big news, Morgans can show extraordinary perseverance.

Although the body was very tired, after a simple rest, his spirit was still in high spirits, which made him unable to continue to rest.

Timeliness is the most important thing in news. If this kind of big news cannot be released in the first place and others take the lead, he will regret it for the rest of his life.

Even the navy's intelligence department can't surpass him in this kind of thing, but the navy won't announce such a thing openly.

The distribution of the World Economic News Agency is very wide. Most countries and islands have their branches, even in the New World. As long as the country is open to the outside world, even if it is a non-member country, it can find the world in a stable environment. Division of Economic News Agency.

Morgans found such a branch on this island, and then began to contact the headquarters of the news agency.

"President? You finally have news! We thought you were captured and executed by the world government."

"Didn't I tell you guys, I'm going to make a big news and tell the staff that they're going to work overtime again. Go to the fax now, I've sent back the photos, and I'm going to see a new headline in tonight's newspaper. "

He didn't care about what his subordinate said, and the overall atmosphere in his news agency was still very cheerful.

The pens of the news agency moved again, and the photos sent back by Morgans were also very shocking news to them.

The cracked sky, the collapsed island, and the rolling tsunami are powerful natural disasters that cannot be overcome by manpower, and it is precisely two human beings who created such natural disasters, and they are two famous big pirates.

Kaido and Whitebeard didn't really decide the outcome, so Morgans didn't give a clear result in the newspaper, but left an open topic under the title of the change of the times.

If there is any controversy, there will be quarrels. Only when a group of people quarrel can bring more heat. In addition to the news that attracts people's attention, he has already figured out how to attract more people's attention.

Chapter 540 The World in Turmoil

There is another reason for doing this at the same time. Neither Kaido nor Whitebeard wants to offend too much. The goal of big news has been achieved. Since this is the case, there is no need for the next conclusion.

Compared to the navy and the pirates, he would rather offend the navy or the world government.

They have to talk about a process in doing things. Even if some news is poking at their old background, as long as the public opinion has a strong enough response, they will be safe.

But the pirates are different, they really * off their anger, they don't follow the rules at all, public opinion can't restrain them, they will really cut themselves recklessly.

Some people hate Kaido and Whitebeard, wishing they would disappear from the world, and some are their ardent fans. If he makes a conclusion now, he may be blocked the next day.

The open ending is different. It is enough for the two groups to scold each other. If you want to know enough news, you have to buy his new newspaper, which can indirectly increase the sales of your own newspaper.

After the layout of the newspaper was roughly finalized, Morgans' nerves were somewhat relaxed.

"I'm going to rest for a while and tell me the news at this time tomorrow."

As he said that, he entered the lounge of the newspaper office. Since they often change the typesetting in the middle of the night, all branches of the World Economic News Agency have such a lounge. Staying up late is already commonplace for them.

A few hours later, the news bird took off from various stations with newspapers, and the news about this decisive battle finally came to fruition.

"The sky is about to change"

In the population auction house in the Chambord Islands, a man wearing an explosive collar looked at the newspaper in his hand with a little exclamation.

The photos on the newspaper at this time were the photos Morgans took when the sky collapsed. The falling clouds seemed to form a ladder for the strong in the new era.

"Roger, is this the era you want to see?"

This special "slave" is none other than Rayleigh. Others were auctioned here because they were kidnapped. Unlike him, he only sold himself here because he lacked pocket money.

The consumption level of Chambord is not low. After retiring, he didn't save much wealth. The salary of coating alone is not enough, so every once in a while he will sell himself in, and then rob the people who buy him.

He knows the level of the young Kaido and Whitebeard, and it is a little unbelievable that Kaido and Whitebeard can fight like this.

"Hey! Who told you to tamper with my things!"

The guard who left at this time also returned again. Seeing that Rayleigh took his newspaper, he was very unhappy, and he was about to beat him with a whip.

But in the next moment, he rolled his eyes and passed out, and the collar on his neck was also taken off by Rayleigh and put on his neck.

"Sorry, I suddenly don't want to be sold."

Nine Snakes Island, relying on the relationship of beasts, now the news bird will go here deliberately, so that the news of Amazon Lily can flow a lot.

"Grandma, you see that Mr. Kaido actually defeated that white beard, why don't we just move Nine Snakes there? Such powerful pirates can better protect us."

Although the Nine Snakes relocation plan was temporarily put on hold, Hancock has not given up on this idea. For example, she has brought it up again now.

Gu Luo Liosa is of course strongly opposed to this. The current situation is the best for Jiu Snake. The navy will not attack them. The pirates in the first half are not their opponents. Of course, she does not want to change the status quo rashly.

"Hancock, the newspapers only talk about the war, not the outcome, and the world government is"

However, during her series of lectures, Hancock's expression became more and more impatient, and finally he grabbed Gulo Liosa by the collar and threw it out for her.

Xihai, a chubby figure tightly held the newspaper in his hand, and finally tore it to pieces angrily.

"Kaido. Kaido, wait for me, I will definitely kill you with the strongest undead zombie!"

This is Moria who has accepted the invitation of Shichibukai, but is still groping for corpses in the West Sea. Looking at Kaido, who is getting stronger and stronger, his mood is extremely complicated, and now he also encountered a new problem.

His zombies need to rely on corpses to appear. The stronger the corpses and shadows, the stronger the zombies he creates, but most powerful corpses appear on the battlefield, and most of these corpses are incomplete.

To make these corpses work, you need a good enough surgeon. He needs someone who can restore those corpses completely. For this reason, he began to look for more suitable subordinates.

Donghai, the terminus of uncertain things, Sabo and Ace picked up newspapers wrapped in food by residents in the city.

"Beasts-Kaido and Whitebeard-Edward Newgate fought for five days and five nights, the island was destroyed, and the tsunami caused affected several surrounding islands..."

This time Morgans didn't even use exaggerated embellishments. It's too much. The real impact of the battle between Kaido and Whitebeard is shocking enough, and fiction will affect the effect instead.

"Ace, is this the enemy we will face in the future?"

"What are you afraid of, sooner or later we will be stronger than them, whether it is white beard or beasts, we will definitely defeat them!"

Then the two began to encourage each other, and then continued to work hard to save enough money for the pirate ship.

New World, on the Moby Dick, although Morgans didn't give the exact statement, but the report didn't make them very satisfied. Many people threw away the newspaper angrily after taking a rough look.

"Tichi! Don't look at that crap, it's almost here, this time let them know how powerful the Whitebeard Pirates are!"

"Oh, right here."

The seemingly simple and honest man put down the newspaper in his hand, but the plan deep in his heart has changed to a certain extent.

"Dad, you are getting old."

"Ticky!"

"I'm coming!"

Strange things are happening on the King of Beasts. Although they haven't returned to Ghost Island yet, their celebration has already started ahead of schedule.

Yamato came to Kaido with a jar of spirits in his arms, and toasted Kaido like everyone else.

"Father, you are amazing."

"Hey, that's of course, Yamato, you have to keep working hard. This is your goal. For this goal, practice harder when you go back!"

Hearing this, Yamato slipped his footsteps, then thought for a while, and directly picked up the wine jar beside him.

Kaido's state is completely different from the situation she hoped to rest for ten days and a half months. In this case, she can only settle for the next best thing, hoping that Kaido will drink more and get drunk for half a month.
