

Arceus 551

Chapter 551: Flying insects intruding next door

A burst of white light flashed on the spikes, and several streaks of white light shot out from Tezolo's arm, and the sharp spikes directly pierced the chests of several people.

"You people, don't do it without saying a word. If the clothes are damaged, it will be difficult for me to explain to Stella when I go back."

At this time, Tezolo's face has changed, a pair of huge blue compound eyes replaced the original eyes, green armor covers the whole body, two giant needles extend from the forearm, and the hand part is changed. Became the shape of an insect.

In a nutshell, Chongchong Fruit Phantom Beast-Glittering Needle Bee form.

Although it is a direct ability, he has become a special individual. After combining with the power of the big needle bee, he has undergone certain changes and has become the first Pokémon with different colors.

Abandoned the original yellow and black bee color, and replaced it with a new green body. The current state is his naked form, and its general appearance is similar to the flying insect in the digital world next door.

Colored Pokémon are usually no different from normal Pokémon, in most cases they are just different colors.

Very few Pokémon may have some special abilities while changing colors. For example, the red Gyarados has a higher IQ, while the yellow one around Perona has no special abilities.

Tezolo's different-colored bee is a random mutation obtained after the ability is granted, and the effect it brings is more violent bee venom.

According to Quinn's research, there is an unknown ingredient in the bee venom produced by Tezolo's ability, which can damage the blood coagulation factor in the human body. If it is pierced by his bee needle, blood will inevitably be lost without a special antidote and die.

The white light just now is the missile needle he released, which can be regarded as one of his long-distance attack methods.

Although he is only the CEO of Beast Fruit, he has never given up on his physical exercise. After the incident in Chambord Islands, he has become more and more aware of the importance of strength.

His talent is not bad. According to the life trajectory of the original timeline, his childhood was an ordinary child in the slums.

From the age of 12 to 16, he was a street gangster for four years, and from the age of 16 to 19, he worked hard to earn money for three years. His physical fitness can only be described as ordinary people.

After that, until he was 26 years old, he survived as a slave in Mariejoia. Three years after he escaped through the Tiger incident, Tezzolo took the opportunity to * the golden fruit and started to develop with his own manpower.

At the age of 32, he was famous. At the age of 41, Guo Guo had already awakened and became the Golden Emperor who controlled a large amount of the economy.

His main cultivation period is from 29 to 41 years old, and this period of time has caused him to miss the golden period of development, but he still cultivated the fruit to the state of awakening.

Whether it is domineering or fruit, as long as one can exercise an ability to the extreme, he can become a strong man. The cultivation of golden fruit is the certification of his talent.

Although Tezzolo's first half of life has not changed, his life trajectory has become completely different after the age of 19. His heart was already dead the moment Stella died. Although he was still alive, he lost his heart. A peddler.

In this world, the strength of the heart is very important, and negative people will only become more and more decadent, such as Moria who has become a fat house.

Crocodile is the same, but prison life obviously woke him up.

Now Stella is alive and well, which also makes him have more expectations for the future. If he wants to protect Stella, he cannot rely on the strength of others forever, so in this timeline, Tezolo has been trained more systematically .

Although I have a lot of things at hand, and I also work part-time in my own entertainment industry, it is much better than the original time.

Now he has assistants and a world-class team to analyze the direction of the company. He only needs to take the helm and be involved in key issues, instead of doing everything himself.

System training with hope and future is much better than the decadent slave time. Now Tezolo is not a top-level strongman, but he is also not weak. Ordinary people can't do anything to him, especially after getting the ability bestowed by Arceus.

But in Thailand

bump! bump!

Two muffled sounds came from the side, but they were different from regular gunfire, but the sound of paper fireworks, and a lot of paper-like things flew up in the sky.

「Baccarat, do you still have enough energy?」

「It's okay to use it a few more times.」

After gaining finger waving skills, she also started physical training, and now the number of times she can use the ability has increased, and the release time has also decreased a lot.

Speaking of Lukara, he began to wave his fingers. This is the magic function of Lucky Fruit Luga's finger waving skill. The finger waving skill of the original random skill will produce the most beneficial skill with the help of the lucky fruit. This usage can even indirectly Judge the situation.

After shaking her fingers a dozen times, a barrier suddenly appeared above their heads, and those paper tape-like things also began to fall at high speed. This was not paper tape at all, but barbed wire.

Many people around were injured by these caltrops. In the blink of an eye, there was no one else in the vicinity except Tezolo and the others. They were either killed by those things or fled to a safer place far away.

After all the caltrops disappeared, Baccarat's defense also dissipated, and then a meteor hammer-like thing suddenly flew from a distance.

Although Tezolo was able to bounce it away with a wave of his hand, the feedback force on his arm showed that the enemy this time was different from the previous ones.

「Hand over the fruit.」

The person who came was Diamanti, who came here after receiving the information from Monet.

For the sake of word of mouth, he chose to clear the field first. Those barbed thorns are his handwriting, because he is a banner man who ate the flying fruit, and can turn any object he touches into a light and silky form, but the material of this object will not change.

Those paper fireworks are made by him with caltrops made of high-density metal, which can achieve this effect after disabling the ability in the air. The meteor hammer is also based on the same principle, and his purpose is also very simple, to make gold and gold The fruit stays.

He cleared the venue because he didn't want too many people to see the situation here. Although the Don Quixote family is not that famous now, few of their cadres are familiar with it. This is just a precautionary measure.

「Fruit? Take it if you want it.」

As Tezzolo threw out a golden peach, Diamanti's face became even uglier after seeing it. The fruit was still the same fruit, but there was an obvious gap on it, which meant that Jin Jin The fruit has been eaten.

「Bastard! Sword Snake Sword!」

Seeing that the golden fruit was eaten, Diamanti continued to attack Tezolo without saying a word

Chapter 552: As a CEO, is it normal to be able to fight?

The long sword in Diamanti's hand becomes like a snake under the influence of his ability. Once the devil fruit is eaten, it will become uncontrollable. Even if he kills the opponent, no one knows what the fruit is. Where will it be reborn.

But as long as this ability user dies, they may find the fruit again, but he doesn't know who ate the fruit at all.

The first one to be ruled out was Tezolo. The transformation of the animal system was too obvious. No matter how you look at it, Tezolo was not that capable user. Then Baccarat was ruled out. He thought that the other party should be the capable person of the barrier fruit.

Although there are many people left, this does not affect his decision. Diamanti decided to eliminate everyone here. As long as all the people related to the other party are killed, the fruit will naturally be reborn.

But he ruled out the real correct answer from the very beginning. The one who ate the golden fruit was Tezolo, and he had already eaten the fruit the moment he got it.

This is also the best way for most people to deal with the devil fruit after buying it. Unless the fruit is prepared for others, eating it immediately is the best way to prevent being robbed.

It's just that the golden fruit just eaten doesn't have the chance to exert its ability. Although gold is a mineral in nature, the golden fruit can't generate gold, it can only control gold.

Golden fruit is also a special superhuman fruit, which can turn the body of the eater into special gold, but it cannot be converted into gold to avoid attacks.

At the same time, the ability user can control the gold touched by him and stretch and deform the gold, and can also temporarily assimilate the touched object into gold through gold powder or gold, except that he cannot create gold out of thin air.

In the absence of enough gold, the golden fruit can't play any role. It can only make people become ordinary people who eat the ordinary form of the human fruit. The ability is that they can't swim.
ηOVELusB.COM

The premise of developing this fruit is to make yourself rich. This is not difficult for Tezolo now. In the development plan of Beast Fruit, there are still two years before the entertainment boat can go to sea. It is the largest known recreational ship at sea.

Unless he had to, Tezolo didn't want to reveal his true identity in the underground world, so he came here with a mask.

Although the mask has come off after the transformation, no one can recognize the appearance of the card face except Stella and the acquaintances who have seen his ability form.

「Tanaka, take care of Bacala.」

As Tezolo crossed his arms, he used the bee stinger on his arm to block the soft sword stabbed by Diamanti, then jumped into the air, and then his body began to rotate. Using the kinetic energy brought by the rotation, his bee stinger will The soft sword in Diamanti's hand rolled up.

Diamanti wanted to get away, but found that he couldn't pull out his sword. The moment Tezzolo started to spin, the bee sting on his arm actually pierced Diamanti's soft sword.

"how is this possible?!"

Although his sword is as soft as a streamer, it is the effect of his fruit ability, and the essence of the blade is still metal.

It wasn't a famous knife, and it hadn't been trained into a black knife by domineering, but it was also a rare sharp blade. The body of the animal system actually pierced his weapon.

「Don't make such a fuss, what about your previous courage? Did you know that breaking my clothes will get me scolded?」

That was the result of the battle just now. Due to the ability to fly the fruit, Diamanti's attacks are very random. Although the compound eyes of the insects gave him a sharper dynamic vision, it still caused the clothes to be scratched A big mouth.

Stella has an easy-going personality, but after he takes risky actions, he will become very irritable. Because she has experienced despair, she cherishes hard-won things even more, but he will inevitably do it for the future of himself and Stella. Make some dangerous moves.

Tezolo swung the two bee stingers like sharp knives, and the power of the sting became more and more powerful.

The initial rotation is a sword dance, and the swing at this time is a continuous cut.

Integrating the sword dance into the rotation can not only increase the attack power, but also use the energy generated by the sword dance for defense, and the continuous cutting is a special move that becomes more powerful as it is hit.

Diamanti didn't know that in the face of Lianqie, he couldn't fight hard, but had to dodge. As long as he dodged once, Tezolo's superimposed power would be invalidated, but he didn't know this. It became an opportunity for the opponent to accumulate strength.

Then under Tezolo's onslaught, his cloak was torn open with a huge hole, and the bee sting gleaming with black light was only a few centimeters away from his head.

The black light is not bee venom, but domineering, and the cultivation of armed color is actually not too difficult. There is a certain talent and physical strength foundation, and someone is willing to teach it. After being beaten for a while, you can comprehend it.

Tezolo's systematic teaching naturally included domineering, but if he didn't have a suitable teacher, he would have to * for himself in the battle of life and death.

At this time, Diamanti looked at the bee sting and shed a cold sweat. His cloak was not ordinary cloth, but a metal shield that was softened by his ability and put on behind him. He did not expect to be pierced like this .

Tezzolo's bee sting did not pierce Diamanti's head. It was not because he kept his hand, but several silk threads entangled Tezzolo's bee sting, preventing him from making the next move. The ground fluctuated, and Pika's powerful rocky hand took him away from here.

Other cadres of the Don Quixote family have already come here, but Doflamingo Ming who came here is not angry, and still has a smile on his face.

"Mr. Fufu Tezolo, it's just a little misunderstanding, don't be so angry."

He didn't recognize Tezolo, but he recognized Tanaka and Lukara, they didn't hide their faces, ordinary people don't remember them.

But people with information channels can recognize them, and Doflamingo is also one of them.

He has a channel that ordinary people don't have, and after entering the new world, he has recorded many people's faces in his mind.

Tezolo, as the leader of Beasts White Gloves, naturally received key attention. From the photos in some newspapers, he sorted out the information, and 99% of the people who followed Bacala and Tanaka at the same time were Tezolo.

He has a very clear definition of himself as a middleman in a gray area. If he wants to be a good middleman in the underground world, he must know who he cannot offend.

There is no doubt that the last thing he wants to offend is Kaido. He was originally angry when he received the news of the problem with the golden fruit, but after confirming the identity of the target, he immediately hid his dissatisfaction.

Chapter 553: I'm betting money, you're betting life

"This is not a place to talk, Mr. Tezolo, come to the reception room and talk slowly."

「Young master, they」

Looking at Doflamingo's actions, Diamanti didn't realize what the name Tezolo meant for a while, but he chose to shut up under Doflamingo's signal.

「You seem to know a lot.」

Tezolo did not cancel the change, but this answer has already acquiesced in his identity.

"Although this is a small place, there are so many people, you are still careless, Mr. Tezolo, these two are subordinates who often appear by your side."

That's the end of the story, Tezolo certainly understands how he figured out his identity, but Doflamingo knows him, but he doesn't know Doflamingo well.

The current Doflamingo only gained a little fame in the first half, and he is not a member of Shichibukai, neither the bounty nor his own business ability deserves Tezolo's attention.

His influence on the world economy far exceeds that of Doflamingo, whether it is the industry of the underground world or the legitimate business.

Even if I investigated the situation here before coming here, I just glanced at the name.

But Tezolo did not refuse Doflamingo's invitation. Observing words and emotions is an essential quality for a businessman, but he can't tell anything from Doflamingo's expression. This is not a simple role.

Shortly after arriving in the reception room, Monet walked over with several boxes.

"Mr. Tezolo, this is the cost of your previous bid for the fruit. There was a little misunderstanding between us, and the fruit should be regarded as an apology."

Looking at the cash box pushed by Doflamingo, Tezolo frowned slightly.

"what do you want?"

"Fush, you are indeed a smart person, so I will get straight to the point. This fruit is an apology. Diamanti is a family member I value. I don't want this to affect our cooperation."

「Cooperation? Since when have we cooperated?」

"There are not many now, but there will be some in the future, Mr. Tezolo, I want the exclusive right to operate the underground world of Beasts, and give me this part of the rights. Let the Lilan of the beasts double."

"These businesses have already been done."

「Then let them disappear, as long as these people disappear, won't the market here be empty?」

Doflamingo directly stated what he wanted to do, clear out other middlemen, then he is the only one here.

「Interesting, you can try it, if you can do it, it's not impossible to leave it to you, but you can't do what you said Lilan, the anger of the beasts is not something you can bear.」

Business is a gamble, and the underground world is the same. Their fixed distributors are all in the New World, and they don't care much about the first half of the paradise. If Doflamingo can do this, it's not impossible to hand it over to him.

As Tezolo said, in this unequal gamble, Tezolo is betting on profit, while Doflamingo is betting on his future with his life. It is useless to speak big at such a time. In Tezolo's view, the doubling of Lilan in Doflamingo's mouth is a military order.

If you can't do it, you have to bear the price of lies.

「You have two months, you can make this call once in two months, and you won't wait when it's overdue.」

Tezolo left a business card, and his meaning was very clear, if he could really tidy up such a large area within two months, he would hand it over to her, and it would save a lot of money to deliver the goods to only one person. Heart.

Destruction and occupation have never been a concept. If he really did it, it means that he has this ability.

"Tanaka, let's go."

After talking, several people picked up Bailey and left here directly. He had no psychological burden on taking money and leaving. In the underground world, this is money for life. Such a taboo, even if you are killed, you have nothing to say.

Originally they still sold the golden fruit, but now it directly becomes free up.

「Dover」

After Tezzolo and the others left, Diamanti also felt that he had done something wrong, but Doflamingo did not pursue him.

"It's okay Diamanti, although the loss is not small, but this is an opportunity, let's go, it's time to work, we are not qualified to make mistakes this time, success or failure depends on this."

If caught by the navy, he would be arrested at most because of his identity, but when it comes to this, he dare not let Kaido's pigeons go.

On the other side, Tezolo also left the island directly.

「Mr. Tezolo, are you really going to hand over all the business here to that person?」

Baccarat is also a secretary. She is learning many things little by little. Sometimes she can't understand Tezolo's decisions.

"Of course he can if he has this ability. That guy is not a simple character, at least his forbearance is enough."

Even when he almost killed his subordinates, he still greeted him with a smile on his face. He not only returned Bailey, but also gave him fruits with a smile. The stuff is big.

But he likes ambitious partners, only such people can develop something better. As for whether his ambition will endanger himself, he is fearless with Kaido and Arceus standing behind him.

"Bacara, write a report for me and send it back to Onijima, Tanaka, turn around, we still have things to do."

"clear."

「Okay, Mr. Tezolo, leave it to me.」

Then the meaning of Tezolo's legal identity emerged. Their goal was the West Sea. As not-wanted persons, they could go directly through the windless belt and go to the West Sea through the Red Earth Continent after landing on the Red Earth Continent.

The purpose of going to the West Sea is not to find any rare fruits or treasures, but to recruit a new artist for the film and television department of Fruit Beasts. Stella and Tezolo are responsible for the film and television department of Fruit Beasts.

However, their attitude towards this business has changed over the years. In the past, they only saw the beautiful scenery of this industry, but did not see the hard work behind it.

The strong backstage has saved them a lot of trouble, but the world-famous artists all have real skills, which cannot be separated from hard training, and he and Stella are too busy alone.

Although An is talented, he is not well-known enough to share the work pressure, so Tezolo intends to recruit someone with certain influence, and he even chose to go there in person to show his sincerity.

And that person is today's famous stage actress-Victoria Xindoli.

Chapter 554: When a hobby becomes a career, it becomes a pain

When a hobby becomes a job, then this hobby may become a burden, and doing too much of the same thing will lead to a decline in interest.

Especially if you're forced to, set a song as your wake-up ring, and interest in the song will drop.

Tezolo and Stella just play too many shows, and they want to prepare shows when they want to play, instead of performing frequently.

And Victoria Xindoli is the target he found.

Born in Xihai, she is a well-known stage character, has a high status in the dance industry, and has a certain reputation in the world, but the live performances are all held in Xihai, and most other sea areas have heard of her false name.

And she has encountered a lot of trouble recently, her love affair was exposed.

This is a big blow to someone who is infatuated with her. Tezolo and Stella are also married people, but they are not the same.

These two have been bound as a couple since the day they debuted, plus the operation behind Beast Fruit, Morgans' control over the gossip, no one has any opinion on this matter.

But Xin Duoli is a freelance artist. Although she is well-known, she doesn't have an agency and doesn't know how to deal with public opinion. After the scene of her dating her fiancé was exposed by the paparazzi, she lost a lot of viewers.

Although I don't know the specific situation, Tezolo's information is that Xin Duoli has increased the frequency of her recent performances. From this, it can be inferred that she has not given up her dream of acting, so he has a chance to recruit her.

Transactions between the four seas are still very frequent, except that Marie Gioia's Chigang is only a pass for people on the great route. In addition, there are some places on the Red Earth Continent.

However, those places are far away from the Chambord Islands. Without the help of the bubble craft, the way to ascend becomes much more difficult. The cost and danger are also much higher, but some people will still choose to pass here.

After changing a ship, they continued to head towards the West Sea, while Tezzolo called Stella to report that he was safe.

Stella would never take the initiative to call him when he was out, so as not to affect his actions due to the ringing of the phone.

「Rotom, sorry for your inconvenience.」

Rotom has now become a dedicated communication tool for cadre-level members and their families. There is even a group chat established between them, and any big news will be announced in due course.

It didn't take long for Rotom's expression to change into a communication screen, and Stella also appeared on the opposite side.

「Rotom, can I trouble you to play outside for a while?,

The electrical appliances hosted by Rotom can be used without Rotom, but the power will be consumed faster. Rotom is responsible for the tasks of generators and artificial intelligence, and they will not leave under normal circumstances.

But Tezolo and Stella belong to the phone porridge between couples. Although the phone bug also has life, but people can't understand snail language, so there is nothing embarrassing. It is not good to talk about some private topics when facing Rotom. talked about.

「Lotor, what a trouble, Lotor.」

He said impatient words, but Rotom still flew out of his mobile phone to find Tanaka to play with. They all have the ability to pass through walls, and sometimes they play strange hide-and-seek together.

Stella's operation is similar, except that there are many more Rotoms in Ghost Island. At this time, that Rotom is visiting someone else's house.

「Is the goal achieved?」

「It has come true, it is a great fruit.」

As he spoke, Tezolo raised his hand, and the golden ring on his finger began to change shape under his manipulation, finally showing the shape of a heart.

"I'm not proficient yet, give me some more time. Although I can't reproduce the feat of Lord Arceus, it will still allow you to see something special."

Tezolo refers to the wedding between Setsuna and Zeraora back then. The ability of the golden fruit is to control gold. Now he has just eaten the fruit not long ago, so he can only perform simple shape changes.

But he already felt that the gold was like an extension of his own hands and feet. He felt that with the deepening of his ability, he should be able to reproduce a fake scene.

"Really? But I flipped through the newspapers these days, and it seems that Xin Duoli has the nickname of Smiling Dance."

「Are you jealous?」

「I don't, but please pay attention to me outside.」

「Don't worry, don't you know me yet?」

Boom!

A loud noise interrupted their phone call, but Stella was not in any danger. This was just daily training on Onijima.

"Okay, here it starts again, be careful, let's stop here today."

Due to the noise problem, they ended the call today, and Tezzolo continued to move towards his destination.

Xihai, Yali Island, and Tanaka directly passed through the ceiling like ghosts.

"Mr. Tezolo, I have already checked. Xin Duoli will perform tonight, and she has performed seven consecutive performances. Although there are many audiences, it is far behind her heyday."

Talking, Tanaka took out a stack of tickets for musicals. If she was popular, it would not be easy to buy so many tickets on the same day.

「It's really hard work.」

Also as an actor, he knows how tiring such a high-load performance is, especially Xin Duoli's dances are many difficult movements, which consume a lot of legs. Under normal circumstances, he would definitely not overdraw his body like this .

In this world without stand-ins and PS, every successful star has put in a lot of hard work.

"Let's go, let's see what this "Smile Dance" performance looks like. "

A group of people came to the place where Xin Duoli was performing in this way, and when she took the stage, Tezolo also understood the origin of the other party's title.

「She really likes this job.」

「Boss, how did you see this?」

Tanaka asked puzzledly, he didn't understand how Tezzolo came to this conclusion.

"Because of a smile, a professional fake smile is different from a genuine smile. I can tell that at a glance. It's just her dance steps. How like a newcomer, she has stepped on three wrong beats in this dance. It shouldn't be, are you too tired?"

Watching Xin Duoli even swayed a few times before standing still at the end of the dance, Tezolo came to his own conclusion.

But the initial observation of Xin Duoli has been passed, and with just this smile, he can make the other party angry again. He was about to go to the other party to have a private talk, but saw Xin Duoli suddenly stumbled and fell from the high stage of the performance ...

Chapter 555: This big needle bee spins silk

The high-intensity performances for several days, plus the fact that Xin Duoli's ankles had old injuries, her ankles felt a little uncomfortable when she was dancing, but she didn't show it because the performance was not over yet. Instead, he endured the pain and continued to perform.

But the body has its limits. Before she could take a few steps after the performance, she felt a sharp pain in her ankle, and then her body lost her balance uncontrollably.

Although her popularity is not as good as before, there are still many spectators in the arena. Seeing her fall from the high platform, there was a burst of exclamation.

The high platform she performed was about ten meters above the ground, and the falling speed of the human body was so fast that most people would not be able to react at all, but when she just fell, a thin rope tied her and pulled her aside .

To be precise, it is not a rope, but Tezolo's silk thread.

The Big Needle Bee can also spin silk. Except for a few insect-type Pokémon, most insect-type Pokémon with larval forms can use this move, but spinning silk is too weak in the game, and it is easy to lose due to the limitation of the skill slot. will be forgotten.

In the world of Pokémon, there is no need to spin silk for swarms of big needle bees on weekdays.

But when the bug-type Pokémon turns into a human ability, spinning silk becomes a magical skill. After all, this is the magical skill of an average Spider-Man.

He just saw something wrong with Xin Duoli's footsteps. Although she hid it well, anyone who has undergone systematic training can see the abnormality.

This has something to do with his training in Beasts. There are basically two training methods in Beasts. One is to work hard to make miracles. Yamato, Jack, and Ulti basically follow this path.

They don't need to be very precise in battle, as long as they know roughly where the fatal point is enough.

The other way is more delicate. Due to the lack of innate strength, their attacks must be more accurate. Robin and Naiqin are models in this regard. The previous Tezolo did not have his own ability, so he followed this way.

Both of them have enough understanding of the body, and the latter is more careful. Tezolo reacted the moment Xin Duoli lost his balance, and the worm silk he released was very strong, and smoothly lifted Xin Duoli taken to a safe location.

He didn't wear a mask while watching the show, and now he didn't want to transform in full view, so he used the method of worm silk.

The changes that happened in the arena shocked the audience, but when they came back to their senses, some people found something different.

"Yes, Tezzolo!"

「Mr. Tezolo saved Miss Xinduoli!」

When the first person reacted, there was a burst of cheers in the performance hall. On the one hand, they were thankful that Xin Duoli was saved, and on the other hand, they recognized Tezolo.

This is a performance hall, and people who come here can be regarded as "star fans". In their view, Tezolo's identity as the CEO of Beast Fruit is nothing, and they value the other party's status as a popular actor.

Xin Duoli is a dancer who is famous all over the world in some regions, and Tezzolo himself is a world-class star. For them, this is a big earthquake on the way to star chasing.

And this is also the reason why Tezolo wore a mask and used a code name before. It is not as convenient as you when he is famous. Doflamingo also reminded him that next time Bacara and Tanaka also put on a mask.

"Miss Xin Duoli, if you don't want this performance to become an accident, then you'd better cooperate."

Tezolo whispered in Xin Duoli's ear, it's not a good situation for an actor to make a mistake and fall off the stage. He has the idea of signing a contract with the other party, so naturally he has to protect the other party's worth.

Although Xin Duoli turned pale due to the sudden change, her on-the-spot reaction was not bad. Even though her main job is only as a dancer, she is also someone who has seen big scenes for many years, and she immediately responded in cooperation.

"Tanaka, it's up to you."

「Okay boss, I know what to do.」

Tanaka pulled up Tezolo and Xin Duoli, and sank from the stands in front of the audience,

Then reappeared in the center of the stage, performing a big transformation.

「Helloeverybody! Sorry to scare everyone, this is today's special performance, and I am today's special guest Tezolo!」

Under the operation of Tezolo, the mistakes on the stage suddenly turned into impromptu performances, and some small reporters found tomorrow's headlines because of this. After the performance, Xin Duoli was invited to have a discussion with Tezolo.

But before that, her foot injury needs to be dealt with first. "Miss Xindoli, how many times have you hurt your foot?"

「Three times. Is it serious?」

"It's okay this time, it's just a little ligament strain, but if you hurt this foot again... I'm afraid you have to say goodbye to your career."

After roughly treating Xin Duoli's injuries, the accompanying doctor retreated behind Tezolo and walked out one after another. Only Tanaka and Bacala remained here.

"Hey, Miss Xin Duoli, you heard it too. I'm afraid you can't continue such a high-intensity performance in this situation, and you have to rest for a while."

"I know, that's what my last doctor said. But I still like this stage. Mr. Tezolo, thank you for saving me. I would like to ask, did you come to see my performance specially? Miss Stella Not with you?"

She was a little disappointed not to see Stella, because she is actually a fan of Stella. She debuted at the same time as Stella, but Stella's development is much better than her.

"She still has something to do, but I am indeed here for you this time, Miss Xin Duoli, are you interested in changing to a bigger stage for development?"

Tezolo came up with a contract straight to the point. It was an artist agreement for Beast Fruit, and it was a ten-year long contract.

「Xihai's stage is too small, and the world's stage is much bigger. If you love this stage, why don't you give it a try?」

"This"

Xin Duoli flipped through the content of the agreement, and found that the conditions were very good. If you only look at the income, it must be much more than Xihai, but she is not engaged in this business for money. She was born in a noble family in Xihai, and her family is rich. I choose to dance just because of my hobby.

「Your foot injury can no longer withstand high-intensity performances. This is the most suitable opportunity for you. You have also seen the results today.」

"Ah, Mr. Tezolo, you misunderstood me. I meant to say that I will discuss it with my family before making a decision."

She is not alone like Tezolo and Stella, she still has her own family and fiancé, so it is natural to think carefully about going to the great route.

But before she came home and discussed a result, a bunch of gossip spread out

Chapter 557 Someone was abducted, someone was signed, and someone was robbed

Afterwards, he became Xin Duoli's fanatical fan. Since his treatment saved Xin Duoli's career, Xin Duoli would always smile politely when seeing each other.

And this also made Hobak's misunderstanding of her gradually deepen, and he finally chose to propose to her, but he chose to give up after finding out that she had a fiancé.

Seeing this kind of scandal now, he couldn't accept it for a while.

If the fiancé can break up, why can't the new partner be me? Why didn't Xin Duoli realize her love? Why did she laugh so much before?

Hogubak is stuck in this aspect. He is not only a famous doctor in Xihai, but in terms of medical skills, he has a high status in the world, and he is called a genius surgeon.

Countless difficult surgical operations are like games to him, but although he has genius medical skills, he has no medical ethics.

His surgery has saved many patients in distress, and these patients have a characteristic, either rich in wealth, or can bring him fame. For him, money and fame are far greater than life.

He would not feel the slightest heartache when a person without money died tragically in front of him.

One of the current Shichibukai under the king, Moonlight Moriah.

After his repeated thinking, Hobak became the doctor he chose. His superb surgical skills were exactly what Moriah needed. As for medical ethics, what he valued was that the other party had no medical ethics.

After all, what I want the other party to sew is a corpse. If the medical ethics are too high, it will be difficult to think that it is an insult to the dead, and the other party is also very rich, which means that it is easier for Moria to recruit.

When he came here, Moriah also heard the other party's voice with resentment, which couldn't be better for him.

"Who are you!"

Looking at Moria who suddenly appeared in his room, Hobuck was taken aback. The doors and windows were closed, and he didn't know how Moria got in.

"Moonlight. Moria."

"Hehehehehe, it's me. I didn't expect you to know me. It's much easier. Hobak, I'm here to recruit you. Come and work for me!"

As one of the Shichibukai under the king, the government promoted them some time ago, so Hobak recognized each other.

As Moriah said, he brought in a large bag of treasures. He came here just now through the exchange of shadow and body, and these treasures were his meeting gift.

Although the golden light made Huoguke very interested, he didn't immediately agree to it.

"What are you going to do? Why should I promise you such a thing?"

"Because I can help you achieve your goals, we have a common enemy."

Speaking, Moria pointed to the newspaper on the desktop. The first two words of Beast Fruit were very eye-catching to him.

Originally, Xin Duoli died due to an unfortunate fall, and she became one of the few unlucky ghosts who fell to death in the Pirate World, and the reason Moria recruited Hobak was also to "resurrect" Xin Duoli.

It's just that his ability is not a real resurrection, it just made Hobak enslave Xin Duoli's body for a long time. At the moment of real death, Xin Duoli showed a smile from the heart again.

But now an accident happened, and Xin Duoli was signed and taken away by Tezolo, so Moria also had a new reason, after all, the mastermind behind the signing was "Hundred Beasts".

He only has hatred in his heart for all the beasts.

"A common enemy?"

"I heard it before, she gave up the engagement and left with a colleague who was more handsome, richer, and more talented than you, right?"

“.”

Listening to Moriah's words, Hobak's hair was covered with black lines. He clearly said before [Is that * more handsome than me? Talented than me? Still richer than me!]

But when it comes to Moria, it becomes weird.

"What nonsense are you talking about!"

"Hehehehe, don't worry about such things. I know who the mastermind behind them is. As long as you cooperate with me, we can build a powerful undead army. After defeating them, that woman will naturally be yours." gone."

Then Moriah told about his plan. After he drew a huge pie, Hobuck believed his words and chose to join his camp.

"So what are we going to do next?"

"Go to the ice field in the south. I heard that the devil Oz died there. His corpse will definitely be of great use."

Moria abducted Hogbak, Tezolo signed Xin Duoli away, and in the distant East China Sea, Shanks robbed Fuzi Fu.

Today's CP9 has two new stars, one of whom is Rob Lucci. At a young age, he has already shown his strength and ruthlessness, and is known as a rare genius in CP9.

The other person is Foz Fow, but others mentioned that he is a genius comparable to Rob Lucci, which shows that he has been overwhelmed by the other party.

Now he is performing the * task assigned to him by the world government, an "ordinary" "rubber fruit".

In the weakest sea that Garp cleaned up every day, Foz Fu didn't feel the slightest sense of tension. He didn't think he would encounter any trouble here, but a big trouble came at this time.

"Sir, there's a ship that's been following us...it's...it's Shanks the Red Hair!"

Now Shanks is not yet ranked among the four emperors, but he is also a powerful pirate on the great route. These people are a little flustered when such a person appears behind them.

"Don't worry, it's just such an ordinary fruit, they should just drop by."

Foz Fu didn't think that such a fruit would allow the opponent to do it, and then he was robbed.

Although Shanks didn't kill him, he had no ability to resist against Shanks. The rubber fruit just fell into the hands of the red hair, and Foz Fau was also imprisoned because of the failure of the mission.

"Shanks, is this for me?"

A girl with red and white hair looked at the purple devil fruit in the box and asked curiously, but this time Shanks didn't pamper her as before.

"No, Uta, this is not for you."

After finishing speaking, he put away the fruit, and then continued to move towards an unknown direction.

At the same time, Tezolo also left the West Sea with Xin Duoli, but their destination was not the Red Earth Continent, but entered the great route through the Upside Down Mountain.

"Mr. Tezolo, where are we going?"

"Don't worry, just go get something first."

After getting the golden fruit, what he needs is a lot of gold, and the more the better, so he plans to take a trip to Sky Island.

Chapter 558 Yamato's historical legacy begins to ferment

Golden fruit not only controls gold, but also transforms it. The texture of gold itself is not hard, but the gold controlled by the golden fruit can surpass ordinary steel in hardness.

However, the golden fruit can only convert the body into gold, and cannot disperse its own body to avoid damage, otherwise its classification is natural.

In order to obtain a large amount of gold, a trip to the sky island is a must, but he took the normal route, sailing up from the sea of clouds at the top of the western sky, and he didn't want to experience the exciting sky adventure.

"Isn't Sky Island a fairy tale?"

"You mean the great liar Rolando? I remember it was a fairy tale in the North Sea, right? You heard it in the West Sea?"

This story is well known in Beihai, but Xin Duoli was born in Xihai, so Tezolo is more curious.

"I heard from my father when I was a child that many fairy tale books in my family come from Beihai."

Due to the existence of the Red Earth Continent and the great shipping routes, each of the four seas has formed a unique regional culture. Among them, the fairy tales and novels in the North Sea are the most developed. Although most of them are popular in the local area, those who are capable can still receive them from other sea areas. specialty.

Victoria's family is also aristocratic in the West Sea, so it's not surprising that Xin Duoli saw these things in her childhood.

"It turns out that, although most people don't believe in Sky Island, Sky Island really exists, and coincidentally, what we're going to this time is the Golden Town."

Xin Duoli is a newcomer, but Tezolo didn't shy away from anything. Now the development of Beast Fruit is accelerating, and he needs more time to practice after getting the Golden Fruit.

So he didn't have time to slowly examine whether Xin Duoli was qualified. Instead, taking her to the Golden Town along the way was the easiest way to verify.

At the top of the Western Sky, Tezolo and the others arrived at Sky Island along a safe ocean current, because they came up along the sea clouds a little bit.

Besides, as a dancer, Xin Duoli also maintains high-intensity exercise, so she doesn't appear to be in a state of hypoxia, but she just feels incredible about the sea of clouds here.

"This is...Sky Island?"

"Yes, but no, this is the White Sea, and our destination is the White Sea above, but we will be there soon. Tanaka, change the flag to Lord Arceus's flag!"

Arriving here, Tezolo's ship quickly changed to another sail, and the logo of the Cosmic Wrist was very conspicuous. Not long after they put on a new flag, several Sandians arrived here .

"Are you the envoy of God this time? The things that God wants are ready."

At the beginning Arceus became the new * of the Sandia tribe, and Tezolo came here with Arceus' instruction, so he naturally became the envoy of God in their mouths.

Looking at those Sandiyas, Xin Duoli had a very strange feeling.

Today, the Shandia still maintain that ancient clothing style, but some things are very advanced, such as the weapons on their bodies, and the combination of these seems a bit out of place.

"Don't be surprised, these things were originally sold by us. You just joined. Our business scope is very wide. You will see more exciting things later."

At this time, Xin Duoli didn't understand what Tezolo meant, but when the Golden Land appeared in front of her eyes, and the huge monarch snake surrounded them, she seemed to have really entered the fairy tale world.

Tezolo just came to fetch gold. Under the control of his ability, a large number of broken giant gold nuggets turned into golden balls, and they lined up and rolled onto the cart they brought.

Not long ago, a group of pirates came here on Gaya Island below.

But the leader is very special. His name is Wenbrand Kulik, a direct descendant of Rolando. The purpose of his trip is to clear up the grievances of his ancestors.

He believes that Shandora is real, but sank to the bottom of the sea because of some accident.

It's just that the long-term search has found nothing. Kulik's partner has left him, and he is the only one who is still stubbornly searching for the trace of Shandora.

After a long period of fatigue, he chose to take a rest in Magic Valley Town. More than ten years have passed, and the people here have almost changed, but Dot's tavern still stands here.

Kulik sat in front of the bar and drank a lot of wine. After a few glasses of wine, he chatted with Dot in front of him.

Time has passed for so long, and Dot's face has also shown signs of age, but his body is not bad.

"Boss, have you heard of the Golden Country?"

He was ready to be ridiculed, because he had always been like this in the past, but this time he heard a different answer.

"I've heard of it, maybe it's on the empty island above my head."

"Hey! Dot, you're telling jokes again!"

"Yeah, there is no such thing as an empty island in this world, it's a story to lie to children, don't lie to people with that crappy photo, if you have the time, hurry up and bring the wine!"

Other guests obviously didn't believe this kind of thing. There were no people who witnessed the truth back then, let alone so many years, but Kulik's wine sobered up.

After Dot came back from delivering the wine, he quickly grabbed the other person's wrist and asked, "You said the Golden Town is in Sky Island?"

"No, I just said it is possible. This is just my guess. If you are interested, I will tell you. These young people don't believe my words."

As he spoke, Dort pulled out a box from the cabinet, which contained some old yellowed photos.

"It happened more than ten years ago. At that time, Roger was not the One Piece. A group of people came here to look for the empty island, and they really found it. This is a gift from a little girl, because there was only one I echoed their words.

Now that girl should be a big girl too. "

Then Dortmund brought the photos taken by Yamato back then to Kulik. Although the photography skills were not very good, he could still see the distinctive scene.

"It is said that this is the sky island. I think if there is a golden town, it might be in the sky."

At the beginning, Yamato did not disclose the information about the Golden Town, and only the figure of the giant snake and the sea of clouds on the sky island were in the photos, so the Golden Town was his own speculation, but for Kulik, Dort's words were tantamount to enlightenment.

"In the past few years, you are the only one who is willing to listen to my nagging, so let me show you my collection."

While talking, Dort asked his staff to continue to watch the store, while he took Kulik to the back room to look at the photo shell that Yamato brought him back then.

From then on, Kulik seemed to have a new understanding. While insisting on salvage operations, he also began to think about how to go to the empty island. In the ghost island, the ammonite once again obtained a very important road from his relatives. news.

Chapter 559 To live

In Quinn's laboratory, Wano country's communication snails lined up neatly on the table, and ammonites walked past them like a parade. Undoubtedly the highest.

In the years since he was transformed into an ammonite, in addition to expanding his snail network, his own intelligence has also gradually increased, which also allows him to sort out various information more quickly.

This time, the intelligence it eavesdropped on had nothing to do with Beasts, but it still chose to report. Looking at Quinn who was fishing, a water gun was sprayed at the back of his head.

Ever since it discovered that this method can get Quinn's attention faster, it has fallen in love with this method.

As for Quinn's attitude, because of its unique characteristics, Ammonite Beast now sits firmly in the top spot among Beast Intelligence personnel. matured.

Before the water gun could hit Quinn, an umbrella suddenly appeared in his braid to block the ammonite's water gun. This was a skill released just to remind him. It had no attack power in itself, and an umbrella was enough.

"Muhahaha, do you think your trick can still work? I have already figured out how to target you. What news did you eavesdrop this time?"

"Tch~, they plan to take action against a murloc named Tiger in the near future, and there is only such information at present."

"Murloc. Stay here honestly. Don't bully other phone bugs. I'll report the situation to Lord Arceus."

Talking about Quinn walking out of his laboratory, Ammonite Beast also began to think about what skills to use next time to target Quinn. Now it seems that the water gun has no effect, so it is boring.

Although its level is not high, it does not only have water gun skills, so there is always a way to think about it.

On the other side, Yamato's life was not easy. After she found that Quinn was a tough and disgusting bone, she tried to challenge other people. That's why Quinn had the opportunity to fish, but they were alone Tougher than one.

Zeraora who couldn't catch up, Olga who couldn't find her body, and Jhin and Shaina who were fighting head-on all made her suffer. There are more ways to deal with special situations.

Looking at Yamato in the battle, Quinn chose to ignore this place and found Arceus. Although Yamato is not their opponent now, she is getting stronger every time she fights, which makes him feel more and more difficult to deal with.

He didn't want to draw Yamato's attention and bring the focus back to himself.

"Master Arceus, the latest information, the world government seems to have issued a death order recently, asking the navy to dispose of Fisher Tiger."

As the main culprit of the Mary Joa attack, Fisher Tiger's survival is a mistake for the world government, but he is not worth the world government's big fight as an ordinary murloc.

Under the balance they maintain, accidents often occur around the world. Those top combat forces have to guard the safety of some people and guard against monsters in the new world. The previous battle between Kaido and Whitebeard made people more aware of the destructive power of those monsters.

In this case, they just sent some ordinary people to round up Tiger.

But during this period of time, not only did they not wipe out the Sun Pirates, but they let them enjoy themselves in the sea. After all, they are all murlocs. When the combat power cannot be crushed, it is nothing for humans to take murlocs in the sea. Method.

As the activities of the Sun Pirates gradually expanded, the navy also dispatched more manpower, and Polusalino was in charge of this matter at this time.

It's just that they couldn't find where the Sun Pirates were. They didn't have a fixed territory, they just wandered randomly in the sea. The combination of all the murlocs made it impossible for them to put in undercover agents.

Due to race, there are currently no known murlocs working in the world government or navy.

In this case, they can only conduct a large-scale search. Since the ship led by Major General Kaluda of the G-2 branch was sunk by the Sun Pirates, this allowed them to roughly find each other's location and continue to plan new operations.

"How is the development on Fishman Island?"

"Well, it's not bad. The seabed is rich in mineral deposits, and some ancient things were found in it. I also found two kinds of materials that Assier needs."

"That's simple. Tiger can't die yet. If he dies, the progress of Murloc Island may be deadlocked."

Fisher Tiger has a very special meaning to the murlocs. On Murloc Island, the most restless people are the people in Murloc Street. Tiger is the stabilizer that keeps them safe, especially when they come into contact with humans. , has been dominated by Tiger and Otohime.

Now Otohime's signing event is even going much smoother than the original time, and according to the development of the original timeline, Tiger will be betrayed by people in her hometown after sending Kerla back to her hometown.

Although the navy leading the team failed to kill him, this incident broke the last barrier in his heart, making him unable to continue to trust humans.

His blood type was too rare, and the murlocs on the ship had no one who could give him blood transfusion. Although the blood bank of the naval warship had a blood type suitable for Tiger, he refused to receive human blood, and eventually died of excessive blood loss.

After that, Otohime had made some progress, and the signing activity was almost bankrupt.

The current situation is similar. The murloc mining division is a human enterprise. If Tiger dies, there will definitely be a large number of murlocs who choose to resign and no longer work for humans.

The world government needs a dead Tiger, but the beasts need a living Tiger. Follow-up issues can be studied slowly, but he cannot just die now.

"The murlocs notified Jack and Mandelfish, asking them to take a trip, Tiger can't die, and they can do the rest."

One is a real murloc, and the other has lived in Murloc Island for a long time, and now he is almost half a murloc. This matter is not only a matter of strength, but also a matter of race relations. Xu Qu is the most suitable.

"Understood, I'll find him right away."

"Wait, Yamato let me tell you something."

"Miss Yamato?"

"Well, she asked where is your funny battle suit."

As soon as this remark came out, a drop of cold sweat suddenly fell from Quinn's forehead. He was too busy this time and he forgot about it, and Yamato didn't tell him himself, but asked Arceus to convey it. This is clearly naked threat.

"This one, it's been prepared a long time ago, and it's just a matter of debugging. I'll send it to Ms. Yamato later."

This sentence is of course nonsense, I am afraid I will have to work overtime all night in the next few days.

Chapter 560 You are my future goal

Wrote Yamato's toys at the top of his memo. If Gaji saw this word, he would be * off. The battle suit he was proud of turned into a toy in the eyes of others.

Although that thing is very powerful and functional, it still cannot get rid of the fate of the toy in the hands of Yamato. Even though she is getting older, this cannot change the fact that she loves to play.

The problem of materials is not difficult to solve, and he has also mastered the technology of blood factor, what needs to be solved is how to let Yamato drive him.

The ability of Jiaji's children to freely use the battle suits is also related to their own transformation. Even if they exchange battle suits, they can't use each other's abilities. It's not that they have adapted the battle suits, but the special battle suits took them.

Germa's battle suit has different functions, but it all started because Gaji systematically created a human body that can adapt to each "ability".

For example, Reiju's ability to deal with poison, so to some extent, Reiju herself is more resistant to poison, so even without a battle suit, she can absorb poison with her body.

The same is true for the other younger brothers. Maybe if Sanji is also completely transformed, he will be able to achieve his wish in another way.

Yamato is not the kind of manipulator. If you want to drive this toy, you have to change the ability to drive it.

However, it is not entirely true to say that she is not a transformed person. Her body has the ability bestowed by Arceus, which can be regarded as an alternative transformation. In this way, the combat energy in her body is the same as the energy cannon transformed by Quinn, but Quinn has to slightly transform the energy transmission. Way.

In theory, he can still come up with a solution after staying up all night, but he doesn't have much time to waste. Yamato's characteristic is erratic, and now she may forget it again, but when she thinks about it again, it will be troublesome But it's big.

So Quinn did not delay anything, but directly returned to his laboratory in Wano Country.

And Quinn was also shouting Jack's name when passing by the inland sea of Wano Country.

"Jack! Come out! Master Arceus' mission is here!"

You can know where Jack is by looking at the situation in the inner sea. Because of the magical engineer who doesn't repair the drainage, Wano Country has formed this special landform. The vast inner sea is actually a lake surrounded by man-made.

On weekdays, the situation on the lake has been very stable, and there will be no big waves, but now it is different. There seems to be something fighting underwater, and huge waves rush to the shore from time to time.

Shortly after Quinn's voice came out, Jack climbed up from the water.

"What's the matter, Brother Quinn? What is the mission?"

"Go and rescue a murloc with Mandelfish, just keep him from dying, but you have trained really hard."

Looking at the panting Jack, Quinn reckoned that he had been exercising for a long time, and it was difficult for his physical strength to be forced to this state.

"After all, I want to challenge you, Brother Quinn, to become a new disaster."

It's an ideal goal, but Quinn suddenly doesn't know what to say. The location of the disaster is not impossible to expand, but Kaido seems to like the number three, and the other people who have reached the standard are all Arceus. Direct lineage, so the disaster has always been three.

If you want to expand this position, you have to show strong combat effectiveness and make certain achievements. Compared with this, it seems easier to challenge the original disaster.

For Jack, the nimble Jhin and Olga are difficult to deal with, and it is the most suitable way for him to compete with Quinn, a relatively "dumb" opponent.

"You don't need to tell me about this kind of thing! Take a break and leave quickly. Mandelfisch should have received the order. You can ask Lord Arceus for details."

Regarding Jack's lofty ideals, Quinn "kindly" expressed "praise" and then went back to his research institute.

The way they chose their opponents made Quinn feel a certain amount of frustration, so they didn't explain the details of the mission in detail.

And not long after Quinn left, the head of a huge tyrannosaurus also emerged in the inner sea. This was Jack's sparring partner just now. The thrashing of the dragon.

It is a Gyarados living in the outer periphery. It came here over the waterfall in order to cooperate with Jack's training. This is not difficult for them. Even when they are ordinary giant carp, they can pull the boat over the outer waterfall.

The ocean is his home field for the murlocs, but it is also the home field of the Gyarados, and the Gyarados evolved from the carp kings transformed from the native carps of Wano also inherited the strange power of their predecessors. Body shape is no small exercise for Jack.

Because Quinn's heart was hit to a certain extent, Jack found Arceus again after recovering his physical strength.

"You came at the right time. You can take this thing and follow the material transport ship to find Mandelfisch. He will prepare the manpower himself."

The transfigured energy hand handed Jack a bottle of potion. The exact time has not been judged, but the final cause of Tiger's death was blood loss. Since I don't want blood transfusion, then respect the wishes of the person concerned and change it to a special drug treatment. up.

Besides the ability to breathe underwater and stronger strength, there is no essential difference between humans and murlocs, so the medicines of both sides can also be used in common, which saves a lot of trouble.

"Understood, I will rush over as soon as possible."

"When you get there, listen to Mandelfisch's command, and don't go up there alone."

"Yes."

Afterwards, Jack took the supplies and embarked on the road of departure, and Mandelfish had also received instructions to leave Murloc Island.

It will take a while for Jack to come over, but there is still plenty of time. The ammonite eavesdropped on the information that they are just about to start, and there is still time to rush over from here.

"Fei Xu, are you going on a mission again?"

"Well, don't worry, it's a small matter, and it seems to have something to do with Tiger this time. If you're worried, just ask Xia Li to do a divination."

He didn't believe the result of the divination above, even if GT-2 was allocated a wetland park before, he didn't think it was a big deal, it was just a coincidence at most.

However, most people in Murloc Island believed in this thing, and it could be used as a placebo. After Xia Li obtained a safe result, Rusaka felt relieved a lot.

On another island, Fisher Tiger also took on a mission to send Kerla home.

Although he rescued those slaves three years ago, the world government did not intend to forgive these slaves, and searched for their traces all over the world.

These people live in seclusion on this island, Kerla is too small, and their hometown is too far away, so they have no choice but to entrust Tiger.
