Chapter 641: The magical effect of teasing cats

In a special space, Zekrom and Lacey Ram were discussing what just happened. This is where their minds were distracted and they could perceive the external situation.

Ideal and reality are not absolute opposites. Although Zekrom and Laceyram symbolize different directions, they are not absolute enemies. Ideals rely on reality, and reality is born from ideals. The combination of the two is perfect.

After a few simple words, Zekrom and Lacey Ram stopped talking, but hid their existence. They didn't like watching people being beaten.

after a while.

【December 7, 1511 in the lunar calendar of the sea, cloudy.

The two little guys are very energetic, they may have inherited Zeraora's talent, they are too active.

「Meow~meow!」

At this moment, a cat meowed next to Setsuna.

Setsu continued to write in the diary, and in the other hand, he picked up a cat teasing stick and waved it quickly. The doll made of the front part of the feather was attracting the attention of his daughter.

「Hey, is this really reasonable?」

Zeraora, who just came back, looked at the moment with black lines all over her head. Zou's parenting methods always made him feel frightened.

"No problem, no problem, Zou has come here for hundreds of years, after all, we are fur people, you grew up in the open sea, so you don't know, it's just that your ideas are closer to human beings.

These two little guys are too energetic. If they are not allowed to spend a good time during the day, they will not be able to sleep well at night. "

Setsu continued to wave the cat teasing stick in his hand, and properly let his daughter hold it a few times, and changed to a new cat teasing stick when her interest decreased, and even used Perona's negative ghost to work.

Cat fur will always be interested in something like that.

There is nothing wrong with what Setsu said. Zeraora is not a real fur tribe. The philosophy of life comes from Arceus, which is basically the common sense of humans and Pokémon. Even if it is a cat Pokémon, raising children is useless to tease cats Great.

Suddenly, Setsuna's cat-teasing stick flicked in front of Zeraora, but Zeraora didn't respond to it.

"Look, you are the weirdest one. You are the first cat fur I have ever seen that doesn't respond to the cat teaser. Even that * cat snake will respond."

After all, the fur family has the characteristics of animals. For cat fur, the cat teasing stick is the best toy. Back then, Shi Mo wanted to use the cat teasing stick to play tricks with Zeraora, but he was not interested in it .

Similarly, they also have an obsession with catnip, but it is not as strong as ordinary cats. Perfume containing catnip ingredients is the favorite thing of cat fur.

If it wasn't for her daughter being too young, Setsuna would really bring back some catnip.

To be precise, she already had catnip scented perfume, but she locked it away after her daughter was born.

Although catnip does not affect Zeraola, the perfumes of the fur tribe are all very light plant fragrances. If the smell is too strong, it will seriously affect their own sense of smell

「If I say it, no matter how fast you swing, I can catch it.」

Speaking of which, Zeraora also showed off her almost teleporting speed, grabbed the cat teasing stick in Setsuna's hand, and took advantage of the opportunity to hug her teased daughter. ...

"That's why I said that you are different from others. When it comes to Cat Locust Snake, that idiot doesn't know where he and Inulan went, and why they ran, and they can't really kill them."

There are very few real hatreds in the fur tribe, because of the rare number, they are more united. She doesn't care about cats, locusts and snakes. Rarely having deep hatreds does not mean that the relationship must be harmonious.

If you want to make a list of kinship hatred, the cat-bellied snake must be at the top of the list, but Inuarashi is different from him.

The fur tribe has also looked for them over the years, but there is no news at all.

"Don't think about it, it should be fine, it's just... how were you raised when you were young?"

「Huh?」

「Cat fur vs. cat teaser

Interested, you are a wolf. Do uncles and aunts use bird bones or fish bones? or the ball? "

As she spoke, Zeraora looked at the messy bag of toys that Setsu bought. Logically speaking, the things prepared for her son should be the ones Setsu played with when she was a child.

"I can't remember, I don't think that is important, don't look for it, there are no son's toys in there, only daughter's, and my parents took away the son's toys this morning."

Just as he was talking, Zeraora took out a ball of yarn from it, and when his daughter became interested in the ball of yarn, the voices of Hutch and his son came from outside the door.

Hatch and Ling will also help Setsuna take care of the children properly. When one child wants to go out and the other does not want to go out, they take care of them separately. When they hear the news and look out the window, they understand what happened.

Fire and frost are bursting from the sky above Onigashima, and various energies are bursting out at the same time. It is clear at a glance that Yamato and Kaido have started again.

The fur family's daily childcare continues, and Yamato is also struggling to survive in the * he created. Iska follows Amaline to learn the ability of the mantis and also exercises his own strength. Peggy Wan and Ulti have not yet Up to this point, but recently it's been easy.

Ulti even made a few hairpins for Yamato. Although she has a very arrogant personality, her hobby is to make similar accessories or decorations. Several frost fairies have sugar ornaments on the heads of her combination.

At this point, Ulti is very popular with Frost Fairy.

"Old sister, you actually make things for Yamato-san?" "I hope she persists longer. The longer she persists, the more concentrated the attention of that idiot Kaido will be, and he will selectively ignore us. Do you think Want to experience his training?"

Oh, by the way, how many times have I said, don't call someone else's sister, you have me as a sister is enough! "

Peggy Wan selectively ignored the second half of the sentence, but thought of himself trained by Kaido.

Easy to talk about, Kaido's training.

「Sister, let me help you. Do you need any other materials?」

Let someone else take over this kind of thing, there is no one more suitable for this position than Yamato.

But such days were not very long. When Kaido's enthusiasm passed, the two of them were also drawn into the battle, and it was still a battle between siblings.

Kaido gave a very strange reward. If Ulti won, he would let Peggy Wan obey her orders for three days, no matter what orders he ordered. If Peggy Wan won, he could live quietly for three days .

For this goal, the siblings have used their true skills in the battle.

Time passed quickly, and soon came February 1512, and Yamato's Akin 7 was about to come out.

During this period of time, the blacksmiths in the forge had a new way of comparison.

Chapter 642: native of seven water capitals

The forging talent of the giant blacksmith is too strong. The skills and crafts that they have spent half their lives mastered have been completely mastered by the giant blacksmith in a few months, and they are not like beginners at all, but like veterans with decades of experience. master.

Based on them, the great blacksmith even made his own innovations.

There are also factions in the forge. According to different inheritances, they all have their own masters, and they all think that their school is the strongest.

Now, any genre that has not been learned by a great blacksmith is regarded as a low-level craft by default.

These skills are inherited from their families, and they would not be passed on to the outside world. Except for those who have been approved by the master, ordinary disciples cannot learn the essence, and it is even more taboo for outsiders to steal it.

If Hundred Beasts sent people to study, it would not be so smooth, but the Great Blacksmith is not a human being, which solves many problems.

Because Pokémon has mostly become grass-headed gods in Wano country, every industry is looking forward to the early arrival of their own grass-headed gods.

It is also very troublesome to find a suitable inheritor. The appearance of the Great Blacksmith is a new hope for them.

Man's craftsmanship is recognized by the gods, which is the highest achievement in their eyes. Not only did they not refuse their observation and study, but they also took the initiative to teach them their own craftsmanship with the great blacksmith.

Boom!

Boom!

Boom!

A muffled sound came from the middle of the forge, and five giant blacksmiths swung their big hammers in turn, Guangyue, Fengyue, Yuyue, Frosty Moon, Heitan, each family has its own craftsmen, and the derived different techniques.

Although these families have now become common surnames, craftsmen with inherited skills are still valued, and many famous knives come from craftsmen of these families.

Qiu Shui, Yan Mo, Tian Yu Yu Zhan, and Dao Yi are all like this.

Now those crafts have been sublimated in the hands of the great blacksmith.

Every time the giant blacksmith swings a hammer, he has to rest for a while before he can swing the second hammer. Even the ground is constantly shaking under their hammering. This is the giant blacksmith's exclusive move - the giant hammer, which is extremely powerful, but cannot be used continuously.

At this time, they are preparing for work, that is, forging metal embryos. With their unique techniques and their own abilities, they can hammer out unnecessary impurities even without using a forge.

"Don't blink, it's all over, it's the memory of God, if you can learn that kind of forging technique, you will definitely become famous craftsmen in the future!"

A bald man with a pipe in his mouth patted the shoulders of the disciples beside him. They were also watching and learning the craftsmanship of the great blacksmith, hoping to learn something from it so as to create better works.

At this time, they are just preparing materials, and there is still some time before the actual casting begins.

But the foundry was not the only place that made such a loud noise, and the same sound came from the mining field not far away.

This is not the sound of mining, but the sound of sparring. At this time, Shimu is colliding with Boss Kedora, honing his defense.

He has already passed the internship period, and he can be transferred out of here logically, but he voluntarily applied to stay here, the purpose is to collide with Boss Kedora in his spare time. ...

Although he likes Kaido's teachings very much, Kaido doesn't have the time to practice with him every day. Most of the time he can only find training objects by himself, and Boscodora is his most suitable training target.

As a Pokémon, it doesn't have so many jobs like others, and most of the time it is easy, allowing Bamu to practice at will.

"Hey, Bamu! Don't practice, Master Kaido and Master Arceus are looking for you, hurry up and go to Ghost Island!"

After another confrontation, Babanuki found Bamu and gave him new orders.

「Captain Kaido, they are looking for me?」

「There should be a mission, go quickly.」

"Ok."

It's not been a day or two since I joined. At this time, Shimu has already figured out what is going on inside the Beasts Pirates. Although he is still a fan of Kaido, he also understands what Arceus means here.

means something.

These years are also loyal, and will naturally get some tasks.

...

「Seki, you were born in the capital of seven waters, right?」

Kaido picked up the document on the table next to him and looked at the content above. It was Shimu's identity information. The members of Hundred Beasts had made similar world certificates, and they also had their own information filled in.

The main goal of Beasts is to determine whether the person is a fake. They don't particularly care about other information, but they will ask again before there is a need for action.

Some people don't even know what the island where they were born is called, so they just follow the trend and write about an island at will.

"Yes, what does this have to do with it?" He wrote all the real information in the information, and there is nothing to avoid.

"Recently, there is a mission for the capital of seven waters. Since you were born there, you should be more familiar with it. It just so happens that you just go there."

「Yes, I see.」

"There are our people over there. Someone will explain the details to you when you get there. Just ask her what you want to do."

After receiving the task, Shimu quickly left Ghost Island with the boat, and his task was not complicated, just solving some minor troubles and helping the people there to investigate some news.

The capital of seven waters, an important island on the great route

One, if O'Hara is a holy land of archaeology, then the capital of seven waters is a holy land of shipbuilding. There are many excellent shipbuilders here, and many famous ships have been born here.

Roger's Gold Jackson was born here, and there are many miraculous sea creations here, such as the sea train, and Pluto, the king of the underworld.

It was the craftsmen on board that made the super warship, one of the ancient weapons.

Some time ago, a woman came here, that is, the respondent that Kaido and Arceus had said before—Nicole Robin.

It hasn't been long since she left Onishima last time.

She is not a person with stable goals. This time, when she was looking for news about history, she found that the documents in it pointed to the capital of seven waters, so she came here to check for news.

With her rich work experience, she successfully joined the local shipbuilding company and became a temporary accountant. However, when she continued to investigate the news, a large number of CP agents suddenly entered the island.

The agents of the world government made her feel that there might be something hidden here, and Tezolo also entrusted her to help deal with some things in the capital of seven waters. She also needed a sufficient deterrent force, so she borrowed a person from Ghost Island

Chapter 643: Rotom Mobile Communications

The capital of seven waters is now a very prosperous sea city. A large number of high-quality ships were born here and sold to different people for different purposes. There are many shipbuilding companies on the island, but a few years ago, it was not this look.

14 years ago, Roger started the era of great pirates, and the sea became more turbulent than ever.

The seven water capitals have a well-developed shipbuilding industry, but there is no raw material output. All wood and metal needed for shipbuilding must be purchased from outsiders.

Sometimes an ordinary nail has to rely on imports, and the capital of seven waters is just a simple processing center.

With the opening of the era of great pirates, in just one month, the sea has become turbulent, natural disasters, attacks by sea kings, pirates wandering in the sea, the vicinity of the capital of seven waters has become more dangerous, and raw materials have become more dangerous. become scarce.

Due to its unique geographical location, the capital of seven waters is hit by a huge tsunami named "Yaqua Ragna" every year. Because of the large scale of the tsunami, the locals call it the * of water.

A large number of pirates made it extremely difficult to import and export materials in the capital of seven waters, and the once-prosperous city gradually declined. At this time, the people of the world government captured the local shipbuilder, Tom the Murloc.

The charge is that he built a ship for One Piece, so he should be sentenced to death.

"It is not a crime for a shipbuilder to build a ship, nor is it a crime to sell a ship, but One Piece is an exception."

This is the charge given by the judge sent by the judicial ship of the world government.

In this situation, Tom makes a proposal.

At that time, Tom was feeling unwilling because of the desolation of the capital of seven waters, and was preparing his own sea train plan. He also put forward the idea of the sea train in court. He successfully persuaded the presiding judge and obtained ten years of justice probation.

In the ten years since the construction of the sea train, many things have happened in the capital of seven waters. The people restricted their children's travel because of the increase of pirates on the streets, and because of the decrease in the number of merchant ships, the owner of the shipyard took the risk of taking people out to purchase wood, which eventually led to five Ten people died.

People keep leaving the capital of seven waters, shipbuilding companies go bankrupt, and bosses commit suicide.

Until four years ago, in 1508, the sea train opened to navigation, and the plight of the capital of seven waters was resolved.

The sea train connects the surrounding islands. The rails can float on the sea without being affected by storms or waves. The friction between the rails and gears will make a noise that is annoying to fish schools. Without food, the number of sea kings and sea beasts will also increase significantly. reduce.

The safe sea train drove around with hope, so Tom's probation was extended, and other lines of the sea train have been repaired for four years.

Robin arrived in the capital of seven waters some time ago, and also saw the practical significance of the sea train.

The transportation volume is larger than that of Pokémon, the mechanical locomotive does not need to rest, the special sea rail can avoid wind waves and tsunamis, and greatly improve the operation efficiency, but the cost is relatively high. line.

It is unrealistic to want to popularize it on a large scale, but the income brought by the beast fruit can theoretically support the construction of this thing. She wrote a letter and sent it back to Ghost Island at the time, but this is not her application for support. reason. ...

Some time ago, Tezolo launched a new product under the instruction of Onijima, and a branch just happened to open here in the capital of seven waters. When he knew that Robin was here, he asked Robin to help deal with the recent problems. sales and financial issues.

This new product is the Rotom phone, a Rotom phone that does not host Rotom.

The Rotom mobile phone inside Beasts does not need to consider the issue of battery life, because it is a special communication device equipped for cadres, and Rotom is lodged in it, which can generate electricity for the mobile phone itself.

But the foreign version is different. Mobile phones without Rotom can only be charged by traditional charging methods, which limits their range of use and must be in an area that can be charged.

The islands that have popularized electricity are mostly prosperous islands, where a large number of rich merchants and nobles gather, and they have also become Tezolo's main sales targets.

In addition to this, the people who settled on the islands are also

Target group, people who always sail at sea are not suitable for Rotom mobile phones. Not all ships can have their own power generation equipment. Those wind-powered sailing ships are more suitable for using phone bugs.

Tezolo's main gimmick is convenience, stability, and diversification. You don't need to feed and water like raising phone bugs, and you don't have to worry about communication quality being affected by phone bugs. As long as there is electricity, it is extremely stable.

It also has its own camera, audio, and flashlight functions. After its launch, it has received a good response in the high-end market.

He promoted this mobile phone not only for making money, but for more information and intelligence.

Security is also one of his main selling points. In the slogan he wrote, there is a rhetoric that there is no need to worry about being eavesdropped by opponents.

Tezolo even said that even in the trade of Beast Fruit, he would use Rotom's mobile phone to discuss information with his subordinates, because he would not have to worry about being eavesdropped.

What he said is also true. Rotom's cell phone will not be tapped by outsiders, because the outside world does not currently have such wiretapping equipment, but Baishouguo can collect the information in it and analyze the information that is beneficial to itself.

Because there is no Rotom boarding, he also gave the takeaway version a new name-Fruit Phone, which has several colors and patterns to choose from.

For this reason, Onijima also deployed several Rotoms for him, which are specially used to collect intelligence from all parties. There is no result yet, but some officials of the world government have already started using this kind of mobile phone. Tezolo believes that there will be results sooner or later of.

At the beginning, when Arceus added this product list to him, he didn't understand the purpose, but after knowing its function, Tezolo discovered its great significance.

Information has always been very important in business activities, and it is only by knowing the news of the opponent in advance that a new round of countermeasures can be made.

He even prepared a limited edition of local tyrant gold Tianlongren, intending to eavesdrop on some internal information of Tianlongren.

"Robin, is your phone a little different?"

Robin's colleague looked at Robin's phone and raised her doubts. It was obviously the same style, but she seemed to see the flashing of Robin's phone case.

"No, maybe because I helped them settle a bill at the time, so give me a limited edition."

Casually dismissed his colleagues, their mobile phones are of course different, and the mobile phone that hosts Rotom is the full version.

Then Robin looked at the message above. It was the message from Bamu, and he had arrived at the predetermined location.

Chapter 644 Octopus, Half Murloc, CP5

"Captain Sasaki, what are we waiting for here?"

Sasaki is still leading his old team, and most of the pirates who joined Beasts halfway are like this. Beasts didn't mean to split up the subordinates, but let the original captain lead the previous staff.

"Wait, this is Captain Kaido's order, don't ask so many questions."

He didn't know who he was responding to, he just passed on his location to the other party.

"You can do whatever you want, I just wait here by myself."

After waiting for a while but not seeing the connector, Sasaki told the younger brother beside him to do what he wanted to do, but at this moment, a familiar voice came from his ear.

"Sasaki?"

"Mom?"

"mom, Mom, Mom?!"

Hearing Sasaki's address, the surrounding boys let out a burst of exclamation.

"Boat captain, is this woman your mother?"

"Don't call me the captain, I am no longer the captain, she is my mother, what's the problem?"

Sasaki gave up his identity as the captain after joining Hundred Beasts, but his former younger brother was not used to it, and he would still call him by his previous title when he was on missions.

Sasaki would not be angry at this point, but the next sentence almost caught him off guard.

"Boss Sasaki, you actually have a mother"

Snapped!

It wasn't Sasaki who did it, but the younger brother next to him. They simply pulled the man who couldn't speak aside, and then cursed angrily, "Are you an idiot! Didn't you jump out of a rock without a mother!"

Sometimes beating someone is also for his own benefit, saying "You have a mother" in front of others, this is simply ironic.

"Just do what you have to do, and don't bother me."

Seeing his mother appear, Sasaki also urged the younger brothers to hurry up and leave here.

Under Sasaki's urging, the younger brothers quickly disappeared from his sight, leaving only Sasaki and his mother.

"You went out to sea suddenly, and your brother and I were shocked."

"What's so scary, I'm just going to pursue my dream, what about you and big brother?"

"It's still the same, do you have any plans to come back this time?"

"It's just to perform the task, and I will leave after a while."

Sasaki didn't intend to recognize her mother, anyway, her eldest brother is still with her, and as far as she is concerned, there is no threat in the capital of seven waters, so there is no need to worry.

Meeting will bring new parting, so it would be better not to see each other. Before his dream is fulfilled, he has no plan to go home. Being an ordinary shipbuilder in the capital of seven waters is not his goal.

While Sasaki was chatting with his mother, the Rotom mobile phone he equipped released a weak current to his body, reminding him in this way that the person who connected had arrived.

"Robin? What are you doing here?"

"Grandma Ke Keluo? I'm here to date someone, why are you here?"

Robin called out Sasaki's mother's name - Ke Ke Luo, a mermaid.

At the beginning, I came to the Seven Waters Capital because I admired Tom, but later married a local human. Because I haven't been in Fishman Island for a long time, the local people don't know about it.

In the days of living in the capital of seven waters, she worked as a beauty secretary in Tom's studio, and gave birth to two half-mermaid children-Sasaki and his brother.

This is also the origin of Sasaki's fangs and horns. He is not like Ulti and Peggy Wan, but a mixed blood of the murloc race. The fangs and sharp horns are both manifestations of murloc blood.

Only looking at the outside, he is even more like a murloc than Jack, a pure-blooded murloc.

Robin met Ke Keluo several times when she was looking for a job in the capital of seven waters, so she got to know each other, but seeing Ke Keluo at the meeting place made her feel a little confused.

Looking at the Rotom phone in Robin's hand, Sasaki also understood that this is the person who was arranged by Beasts here.

"She is my mother. The previous news said that it was not a secret operation. It should be fine, right?"

He really didn't know what the specific mission was, but he knew it wasn't a secret operation, otherwise he wouldn't have waited here carelessly, and it was unexpected for him to meet his mother by chance.

According to his previous memory, Ke Keluo would never pass by this area whether he was commuting to get off work or hanging out.

"Nothing, just a little thing."

Robin's purpose in the capital of seven waters is almost completed. Some family members know that her identity is not a big problem, and her purpose of applying for a hand is not complicated.

Bring the recent archaeological data and the sea train data she collected back to Ghost Island, and at the same time deal with the pirates in the capital of seven waters, and at the same time take precautions against unexpected situations that she may encounter during the investigation.

The agents of the world government are not secret agencies, but the lowest-level agents. Sasagi's level is enough to deal with it.

It is because of Tezolo that it is necessary to deal with the pirates in the capital of seven waters. Due to the opening of the new store, there are not enough manpower here, and they are often harassed by pirates passing by here.

Originally, Tezolo was supposed to handle this matter, but he has been busy expanding his business recently. Anyway, Robin also needs manpower, so he simply let her handle it together.

Sasagi has been training against Boss Kedora for the past few years, and has not made much of a name. Even the bounty is still 88 million Baileys before joining Beasts.

So Ke Keluo didn't know what his youngest son had experienced in these years, but only learned from his words that his son seemed to have joined some amazing pirate group.

In the end, Sasaki did not choose to go home, but went directly to perform his own mission. The same reward does not mean that his strength has not changed. Compared with himself a few years ago, Sasaki has already made a qualitative leap.

Not to mention anything else, relying on the powerful defense brought by the moat dragon, few people could hurt him in the first half of the great route, and in the chat, he also learned that his eldest brother is married and has a child, and he just had a baby this year. Daughter named Zimone.

A child with a quarter mermaid bloodline. Although she cannot breathe underwater, this bloodline allows her to have excellent water skills.

On the other side, a seemingly ordinary ship is approaching the capital of seven waters, but the members on board are all murlocs.

"Brother, what are we doing here?"

"Find someone to build a new boat for us, and send a letter to Dan along the way. There is a murloc genius living on this island. Uncle Tom is known as the world's number one shipbuilder."

This is a new expedition team formed by Tiger. He needs a better ship if he wants to search for holy relics all over the world. The purpose of this trip is to visit Tom.

On the other side of the island, CP5 led by Spandam is also on the way to the capital of seven waters.

Chapter 645 Tiger, Tom, Franky

On the street, Tiger used a thick robe to cover up his appearance. He was still a dead man in name, so it was better to cover up when he went in and out of such occasions.

The face blindness here is very serious. Although the cloak is dressed in a strange way, it doesn't attract much attention.

"Brother Tiger, the people here are a bit strange."

Except for Tiger, the other murlocs did not hide their identities, but the surrounding residents looked at them without discrimination.

They were discriminated against a lot, and they were not used to the normal gaze. There were strange gazes, but compared to the islands they had been to before, there were far fewer such gazes.

"This is a normal phenomenon. Let's keep working hard. What we do is to hope that one day in the future, everyone will be able to see our offspring in this way."

The capital of the seven waters is relatively friendly to the murlocs, and this is all thanks to Tom. The sea train he built saved the economy of the capital of the seven waters and gave the island a new future.

Therefore, he gained the respect of others, which made the people in the capital of seven waters have a certain change in their attitude towards the murlocs.

Tom's residence is easy to find out, and soon Tiger and the others inquired about Tom's residence, but when Tiger and the others found Tom's workshop, they found that there were many CP agents outside.

"Big brother, they are all human agents, what should we do?"

"Wait a minute, these guys don't look like they are on a mission, they should leave after a while."

There is no special situation. Tiger doesn't want to have a confrontation with the people of the world government now. It's okay to wait a little longer. It wasn't until Spandam left here in a huff that Tiger took Aaron and the others into Tom's workshop .

When Tiger took off his hood, Tom's first reaction was disbelief.

"Fisher Tiger? Aren't you dead?"

In terms of age, Tom is Tiger's senior. When Tom left Murloc Island, Tiger was still a child, but the title of hero who liberated slaves has a wide influence, even Tom has heard of it a little.

He also missed the news of Tiger's death for a while before, but he didn't expect Tiger to stand in front of him alive again.

"A lot of things have happened. In short, I am working hard for a new goal. Uncle Tom, we need a new ship. Can I trouble you? We will pay for it. If possible, the firepower should be stronger."

Hearing the firepower, Tom didn't express his opinion yet, but a young man next to him was interested. He was Frankie, one of Tom's two disciples. Now only Tom and a few acquaintances would call him Frankie.

In the registration book of the capital of seven waters, his name is actually Carter Fram. During the process of Tom building the sea train, he also made a lot of "Frankie battleships" to fight against the sea kings. .

Before he could interrupt, he was dragged away by another disciple of Tom, Bingshan.

"There is no problem in building a ship, but you have to wait for a while."

"How long will it take?"

"One or two months if it's quick, I don't know if it's slow. I'm still a sinner now. The specific result will have to wait for the trial in three days."

With the completion of the construction of the sea train, Tom's probation period will also end, and a new round of trial will usher in three days, but most people have heard the news about this matter.

Tom's merits in building the sea train smoothed out the crime of building Roger's ship, and he will be innocent in three days.

"Judgment? Old man, you are a murloc. Why do you wait for humans to judge you? Let's go to the sea with us. The vast sea is big enough for us murlocs to swim. The worst thing is to be a pirate. What is there to be afraid of?"

Listening to Tom's explanation, Aaron didn't understand, but wanted to directly recruit Tom into the group.

"Young man, you don't understand my experience. There are my youth here, as well as the fetters I left behind. If I leave, it will be troublesome for others."

"have what.."

"Aaron!"

Seeing that Aaron wanted to continue to refute Tom, Tiger directly yelled at Aaron, then handed Dan's letter to Tom, and then took Aaron and the others to temporarily stay in the capital of seven waters.

Three days are very short. Sasaki didn't do anything important during this period, but taught a few ordinary pirates a lesson, and at the same time guarded against possible special situations.

The aborigines of the capital of seven waters are all waiting for this trial, they are all looking forward to the news of Tom's innocence, but there is one exception-Spandam.

He came here not for anything else, but for the design of Pluto. For this reason, he boasted to Wulaoxing and obtained the qualification to come to the capital of seven waters to perform tasks.

Where the real Pluto is, the five old stars are very clear, but the reasons given by Spandam also convinced them, so they sent Spandam here with agents.

Once Tom was acquitted, he would have no reason to search Tom in a fair manner. For his own future, Spandam had a crooked mind. He sent someone to steal the battleship made by Franky, and on the day of the trial, Manipulated those ships to attack the judicial ship.

Since those ships were all made by Franky, under the accusation of Spandam, they had nothing to do. At this time, Tom made his own decision.

He gave Franky the chance to make the sea train exempt from crime, and he continued to stand trial as he did more than ten years ago.

For the sake of the design, Spandam wanted to arrest all three of them in Judicial Island, but at the last moment, the judge of the judicial ship stopped Spandam, because according to the law, only Tom was guilty.

Spandam cannot violate the laws of the world government openly, and he believes that the design of Pluto is on Tom, and finally accepts this result.

"Those * dare to do this. Brother, let's rescue him!"

Looking at Tom who was injured and fell to the ground, Aaron almost attacked the guards.

He didn't understand Tom's idea, but Tom agreed to build a boat for them three days ago. The most important thing is that Tom is a murloc, and Aaron couldn't accept that people from the world government would take a murloc away like this.

But he was caught by Tigra.

"Big brother? Are we just watching?"

"Of course not, it's just that it's not yet time, and you've heard that they're going to transport Uncle Tom to Judicial Island for trial, and they're going to pass through the sea. We are murlocs, so of course we have to take advantage of the sea, go! Stop them! "

During this period of time, Tiger has studied various sea situations, and he also knows where the capital of seven waters will pass when he wants to get to Judicial Island.

This is land, even if they can rob Tom, they may not be able to retreat safely, so he plans to go to the ocean to ambush in advance, and then they can escape directly into the sea after robbing Tom.

Chapter 646: Spandam put up the flag

In the depths of the sea, the murlocs headed by Tiger are swimming quickly towards their destination. Although the murlocs are not as fast as the mermaids, they are also the first echelon in the sea after the mermaids.

The direction of the tracking was very well determined. At that time, Spandam told Tom in public that Tom would be sent to Judicial Island for trial by the sea train he built.

As long as they follow the track leading to Judicial Island, they can find the sea train that escorted Tom.

"Brother, there is a small boat on it. It seems to be Tom's human disciple in the boat, and there is a free-swimming frog beside him!"!

Their swimming position is not too far from the sea surface, and they can roughly see the situation on the sea surface.

"Brother Tiger, that kid seems to want to save Tom too, should we change our plan?"

「No, he has nothing to do with us.

Let them send people to Judicial Island, then we will have no chance. If he has an idea, it will be fine. After his action, the vigilance of the enemy may be lowered, and the original plan will remain unchanged. "

The track of the sea train is laid for a long distance. Tiger chose the middle reaches of the track, where the ocean currents are relatively the most dangerous, making it easier for them to move. As long as the sea train can enter the water, those currents will bring them enough trouble .

Normal tracks cannot be built here, but the track of the sea train is very strange. It is not as strong as the rails on land, but floats in the sea like a soft rope, so it can exist in the dangerous ocean currents. .

The metal used to make it is not ordinary steel. Not only is it highly resistant to corrosion, but it also has strong ductility. It will rise and fall with the waves. When there is no sea train passing by, the track is basically located underwater, allowing most ships pass over it.

Otherwise, with the completion of the track, the capital of seven waters will become an isolated island in disguise.

Tiger and the others continued to swim forward in the current. After a while, the current around them became much more turbulent than before, which also meant that they had arrived at the predetermined position.

"It's almost done. Break this section of the railroad track and rescue Tom here. It's a pity that this is also Uncle Tom's effort. Aaron, you take people over there, and I will get here."

Looking at the winding railroad track in front of him, it took Tom and others 14 years to build it, but this is the way with the highest success rate to rescue Tom.

They can do it if they break into the train directly, but that will inevitably cause certain casualties. It is inevitable that some of these agents are stronger, and it is most beneficial to turn the environment into their own home field.

Tiger also advocates peaceful coexistence, but the enemy is not in this range.

Several murlocs took out hatchets and machetes, and slashed at the rails.

But soon they discovered that this was useless. Even if the murlocs were stronger, their weapons would only leave a few white marks.

"Brother Aaron, keep doing it!"

"Yeah, the rails are so strong that my knives are curled."

Tiger was alright, relying on his own brute force, the rails gradually deformed like twists in his hands, but the other side was different. Ordinary murlocs had nothing to do with the solid rails.

「Get out of the way, let me do it!」 ...

Aaron pushed away a few younger brothers, came to the railroad track and bit on it.

Teeth and metal made harsh friction sounds. At this time, Aaron was like a rodent, bit by bit eating the railroad track in front of him.

The shark murloc gave him the ability to quickly regenerate teeth, and it took several sets of teeth for Aaron to achieve results.

"Brother, it's done!"

「Everyone dive down and wait for my signal before attacking. Don't be in love with the fight. Our goal is to save people. Retreat immediately after rescuing Tom!

Then they used some seaweed to temporarily

The railroad tracks are temporarily connected, and you can't see its crumbling appearance from the train, but as long as the sea train passes by, those few seaweeds can't withstand this kind of force.

Tiger and others waited for the opportunity underwater, and the sea train was also driving at high speed.

...

On the train, except for the agents of the world government, only

Only Tom was an outsider. Because he didn't trust the ordinary drivers, Spandam let his men take over the control of the train.

And he himself was lying in a luxury car wrapped in bandages, before he was hit in the face by the * of a gun from an angry Frankie.

This blow directly disfigured him, the kind that even plastic kicks can't save him, and besides his face, his body was also wrapped in bandages, making him the most severely injured person in all CP5.

And his subordinates are no longer surprised by this. His boss is a waste, from CP1 to CP8, even the secretary in the office is better than him.

"That idiot Carter Flam actually used his body to resist the sea train. He should be dead now. It's a pity. I still want to hang him with my own hands after dealing with Tom."

While talking to himself, the movement of Spandam's mouth touched the wound on his face, and his expression suddenly became very colorful. He wanted to move but dared not move, so he could only lie back on the chair like a zombie.

「Hey, how long until Judiciary Island?」

"Report to Chief Spandam, it will take about an hour, do you need to let the driver go faster? This sea train seems to be able to speed up."

"There is no need for an idiot like Carter Fram to have another one. Let him drive steadily. When we get to Judiciary Island, I don't think that stinky murloc is still talking hard."

Judicial Island is a place of trial in name, but in fact it is just a process. Prisoners sent to Judicial Island have never been innocent.

No matter who was wronged or what, as long as you go to Judicial Island, your only identity is a sinner.

Either death penalty or life imprisonment, there has been no exception in nearly 800 years.

It is also a key organ of the world government, and there are nearly 10,000 defenders stationed there all year round. It can be said that as long as he gets there, he doesn't have to worry about accidents.

Compared to the speed, the wound pain caused by the bumps made him feel upset.

「Contact me a doctor, what are those quack doctors in the capital of seven waters bandaging me?

Before Spandam could finish complaining, he suddenly felt dizzy, and then his face touched the glass of the carriage, and the sound of wailing suddenly resounded throughout the sea train.

「Asshole! What's going on? What happened!」

Spandam, who was under the pressure of several agents, pushed away the people under him, and questioned the people around him angrily.

The designer of the sea train has considered the accident of derailment. Except for the locomotive, its carriage is lighter as a whole and can even be used as a ship directly after being split in half.

The impact of the derailment caused the locomotive to plunge into the sea, but most of the carriages were still floating on the sea.

Before Spandam could slow down, an early warning was sent from the nearby carriage, and another strong current rushed in along the carriage.

「Murloc Jiu-Jitsu-Shuixin-Sea Flow Over Shoulder Throw!

Tiger held the strong sea current and poured it directly into the carriage, and other murlocs also attacked the carriage from all directions.

Chapter 647: heterogeneous don quixote

The ocean current swept every carriage, and the murlocs quickly arrived at Tom's location.

"you."

"Brother Tiger brought us to rescue you, Senior Tom, let's go."

Aladdin knocked down a guard in the room with a three-pronged fork. CP5 is not CP9. They are stronger than ordinary people, but they are no match for murlocs in a water-filled environment.

Spandam and the others wanted to get some information from Tom, so they carried out emergency treatment for the gunshot wound on his body. Although he was already in his seventies, Tom was still in good health.

Under the leadership of Aladdin and Aaron, they quickly got out of the ship's box and withdrew towards the previously set place.

The murlocs attacked suddenly and retreated quickly

Quickly, when everyone reacted, Tiger and the others had disappeared above the vast sea.

Except for some of the guards in Tom's compartment who were killed, most of the rest were only injured. Looking at the turbulent currents around them, they had no choice but to wait for rescue in the floating compartment.

At the same time, rescue work on Spandam was also launched.

Although this chief is a waste, his father's relationship is too strong, and it will be difficult for them to deal with Spandam's death here.

And Spandam's life is also very hard, the agents finally rescued the already swollen Spandam.

On an island near the capital of seven waters, Aladdin took further care of Tom's wound.

"Thank you very much, but I'm going to miss the appointment. Now that's the situation. I'm afraid I won't be able to help you build the ship for a while."

What does Judicial Island mean? Tom is very clear that if it wasn't for his disciples, he would not bear the responsibility.

Tiger and the others rescued him, but it is impossible for him to return to the capital of seven waters, and being exposed to the public view will not do him any good.

"It doesn't matter, there is still plenty of time, let's talk about it when we find a safe place, everyone can build a new ship together, but Uncle Tom, do you have any plans for the future?"

Tiger didn't care about the delayed time. With Tom, the world's number one shipbuilder, the manufacture of the boat was only a matter of time.

「Let's take a step and take a look. It's inconvenient for me to go back to the capital of seven waters and the fishman island.」

「Uncle Tom, the purpose of my asking you to build a ship is to set up an expedition to find things, and now we still lack an excellent shipbuilder, why don't you come with us.

If you don't want to continue to take risks, I have a good place, where you should be able to realize your ambitions.

Speaking of Tiger took out a small waterproof book, Aaron waited for the people who followed Tiger for a long time to read the book and knew what was going to happen. It was Tiger's new hobby during this period - "missionary" .

It's just that the situation is different from person to person. Tom didn't have an epiphany like Tiger. He temporarily joined Tiger's team, and living with his compatriots is also considered a good future.

On the other side, the prisoners escorted by Spandam were robbed, or they were robbed on the way to the important institutions of the world government. This is a very serious matter for the world government. ...

Through the questioning of the survivors, they drew several portraits according to the description. Although there is no portrait of Tiger, they are all members of the Sun Pirates.

The World Government can't find where Tom went, but they can find Murloc Island and Jinbe.

「Jinbe! Are these people members of the Sun Pirates? Don't you have anything to explain!」

「No, they quit the Sun Pirates a long time ago.」

"Jinbe, we have no other intentions. Hand over the kidnapped prisoner and those people. There will be no problem with the location of Murloc Island and your Shichibukai."

「If you find a pirate and go to the country where he was born, how many countries are there left in this world? Which island can guarantee that there have never been pirates here?」

The World Government Office of Chambord Islands

Office, Jinbe came here at their request to explain the "vicious incident" that happened.

Originally, the World Government sent these people to the Fishman Island to question Neptune face to face, but they didn't dare to go to the Fishman Island, so they changed to this method.

Whether it's red face or white face, Jinbei behaves indifferently, and answers everything fluently, but killing those people has nothing to do with him.

「Why did they quit the Sun Pirates?」

「Because you killed Brother Tai!」

Mentioning this matter, Jinbe directly made the move of flipping the table, which shocked several officials on the opposite side.

As Jinbe said, if the country and other people are held accountable because they can't find the right owner, then there won't be many people left in this sea, so the world government didn't intend to do anything to Fishman Island and Jinbe.

They really don't want to manage the Murloc Island, but they don't want to push them into a desperate situation either. If the Murloc Island with a population of 5 million is completely turned back, it will be a disaster for the sea.

Jinbe, as Shichibukai, can barely be regarded as the card face of the world government, so he can't slap himself in the face because of this.

The most important thing about Tom is the design of Pluto, but after he was arrested, every part of his body was searched, and the design of Pluto was not on him, and the five old stars also knew where the real Pluto was.

If it weren't for Spandam's hype, the previous actions may not have occurred. At this time, accountability is more about giving yourself a step down.

Just when the conversation was deadlocked, the official who was talking with him suddenly received a call from above, saying that this matter should be left alone.

The official in charge of the matter looked confused, and Jinbe didn't understand what was going on, but returned to Fishman Island with new news.

...

Marie Joya, the highest authority of the world government, the Five Old Stars, is also talking about this matter.

They removed the officials because they found a suitable step, but this step made them feel a little strange.

「Why did Musgarud make such an opinion?」

"I don't know. He probably just likes murloc slaves. I heard that he went to Murloc Island a while ago and was shipwrecked there. In the end, the princess of the Dragon Palace Kingdom personally accompanied him back to the Holy Land."

Don Quixote Musgarud, it was his opinion put forward by Tianlongren that made the world government put that matter aside for the time being. Since he returned from Fishman Island, his whole personality seems to have changed.

"It doesn't matter. It's not a big deal. People can't remember the design. Instead of worrying about this, it's better to worry about the Pluto under Wano Country being dug out by Kaido."

"Isn't he looking for stones all over the world? Such a pirate can be more worry-free than a guy like Roger, but what you said is also true. It's not surprising that there are more aliens in the Don Quixote family."

Chapter 648: two years in a hurry, sky taxi

For the Celestial Dragons in the Holy Land, Wu Laoxing is very aware of their characteristics, and during this time, the Celestial Dragons often do some strange things.

For example, the Flender family inexplicably meddled in a child actor and entertainment boat.

But compared to the feats of the Don Quixote family, what the Flender family did is nothing short of trivial.

Many years ago, Don Quixote Huomingo gave up his identity as a Celestial Dragon because he wanted the life of an ordinary person.

He was so kind that he almost became an outlier among the Tianlong people, and his son was also a "lunatic" in the eyes of the five old stars, because Doflamingo actually took Huo Minggu's head and wanted to rejoin the Tianlong people .

Musgarud, who likes murloc slaves, has changed his whole concept since he went to Murloc Island.

Not long ago, Doflamingo also robbed Tiantianjin by force, and using that "secret" as a threat, he obtained the position of Shichibukai, and started his own operation in Dressrosa.

The three members of Don Quixote's family have made Wulaoxing a little used to it, and it can only be said that they are not surprised by their abnormality.

"It's just a mere murloc, it won't cause any impact, but Doflamingo. Why does that brat know that secret?"

The knife in the hand of the bald Wulaoxing star was slightly out of its sheath, and there was a glimmer of cold light on it.

If it weren't for their scruples, they would never let Doflamingo go.

「I don't know, but the purge is not our decision. It's not time for Lord Im, we just need to wait.」

No matter what happens on the sea, it doesn't matter to Wulaoxing. If a person affects them, he will erase that person. If an island affects them, he will erase this island. They have done such things countless times in history. .

As long as Im is still there, in Wulaoxing's perception, they are still invincible.

Move your gaze down, and directly below Marie Gioia, Jinbe has also returned here.

After taking the position of Shichibukai, he stayed on Murloc Island most of the time, occasionally entering the New World, visiting the Whitebeard Pirates who protected Murloc Island, and the Beast Pirates who saved Tiger.

In most cases, he would choose to guard the safety of the Murloc Island. With the newly received news, Jinbe quickly returned to Dragon Palace City.

「Is that how it went?」

「I seem to have heard them mention the Celestial Dragon. Maybe the Celestial Dragon that the princess rescued before helped us, but will that kind of person...will really change?」

「People always change, I believe not all Draco people are like that, it seems he made a change,」

Musgarud likes fish slaves very much. The reason why he went to Fishman Island was also to take back the freed slaves.

Great changes have taken place in Murloc Island, and the Murloc slaves outside have almost disappeared.

But Musgarud was attacked by Sea Kings during the voyage, although he drifted to Murloc Island alive. But also seriously injured.

The murlocs who had been enslaved by him planned to take the opportunity to kill him and complete their own revenge, but Otohime stopped them.

In order to prove to more residents of Murloc Island that there is more than just danger outside, after Musgarud recovered from his injuries, Otohime personally sent him back to the Holy Land. ...

Due to Otohime's special physique, this is almost the perfect proof.

At present, it seems that Musgarud has indeed changed, but whether he was really moved by Otohime and decided to reform himself, or changed under the influence of Otohime's knowledge on the road, only he himself knows.

...

Time is also passing unconsciously, and all parts of the world are developing silently.

At this time, it has reached the middle of 1514.

In the past two years or so, Doflamingo has been carrying out his own plan in Dressrosa.

The gold mine in Cocoyasi Village was successfully mined. Although the orange orchard still exists, it has simply become a food production area prepared for Heracros, and the entire village has begun industrial transformation.

Sauron in Frost Moon Village is still training hard, and Darkrai on the sea somehow transfers to a strange island and starts his new exploration.

On Forchard Island, Kerla, who thought that "Tiger" was dead, left her home, joined the Revolutionary Army, and became a part of the Revolutionary Army.

Kraigana Island, which was destroyed by the war, Hawkeye came here and settled here.

Gulan Tezolo has become a world-renowned entertainment city and the largest economic center in the New World.

Uta has become a well-known singer, but he is still far away from his goal. The red-haired pirates have not yet become the emperor of the sea, but they have become the most powerful pirates under the emperor of the sea.

The forces and friendly forces under Beasts are still looking for the historical text and the tablet of Arceus, but the effect is not obvious.

Yamato, Jack, Maria, Lianmu, Fuzi Fu, they also gradually gained a more famous name in the sea as the new generation of cadres.

Great changes have also taken place in the navy. He was promoted to be the commander-in-chief of the three armies of the world government. Sengoku took over the position of admiral of the navy. The code name was promoted to general of the headquarters.

After many years, the position of the Navy's top three generals has been completed again.

But Zefa suffered heavy losses. The training ship he led was attacked by pirates. All his beloved students except Ain and Binz were killed, and his right arm was also severely injured.

Both the body and the mind have been hit hard.

The three generals of the new generation led the navy to launch a series of actions, but their monster-like strength did not calm the sea, and the number of pirates going to sea was still increasing day by day.

In this case, a new action has also started within Beasts - traffic.

It is not for Tom to build a sea train. Tom is still adventuring around with Tiger and has not come to the territory of beasts. The current shipping can still meet the needs of beasts, but the speed is slower.

Not all cadres can fly, and ordinary people in the territory also need faster and more convenient transportation methods. Under such circumstances, the business of sky taxis has gradually become popular.

Based on steel slabs, a large number of steel armored crows appeared on the sea.

The Tanabata blue bird and the millennium dragon became the means of transportation inside Guidao, because their backs were softer and more comfortable, while on the outside, they were gradually replaced by steel-clad crows.

As the name suggests, their feathers have changed during the evolution process. Except for some feathers on the chest that are reserved for softness, the rest of the feathers have become steel.

Although their bodies are heavy, steel armored crows can still soar freely in the sky, and the power contained in their bodies is also the reason why they act as sky taxis.

Chapter 649: Steel Crow and Arranged Marriage Lovers

Their claws are also covered with a layer of steel armor. The bird claws can firmly grab the special carriage and bear the weight of the passengers and the carriage itself.

In the sky, steel-clad crows are overlord-level creatures. There are no monsters like sea kings in the sky. Their steel armor and strange power make them fearless of native birds, and even the extreme climate of the New World can't help them.

Even if there is a knife in the sky, they can steadily take passengers to their destination.

Moreover, steel armored crows also have very smart minds, and they can respond better to unexpected situations at sea.

Above the track, a slightly larger steel armored crow grabbed the car and observed the surrounding environment. After confirming its safety, it landed on the ground with the car.

Same as the Tanabata blue bird, the Bronze Pin Crow is the same size as Song Yi, and is used to receive guests of different shapes.

It's just that these steel crows, who can be called the overlord of the sky, are a little scared at this time, not because of anything else, but because this is Ghost Island.

They are not afraid of most Pokémon, except for one Pokémon - Blacksmith.

But among the many Pokémon living in Onishima, there is such a Pokémon as the Great Blacksmith.

Pokémon itself also has an ecological chain, and the cute-looking giant blacksmith can be said to be the nemesis of the steel armored crow.

The giant blacksmith here will not take the initiative to attack the steel armored crow, but there was an accident before.

At that time, those giant blacksmiths were playing baseball. This was a game they studied for forging ore. Through the giant blacksmiths beating in turn, impurities in the metal were removed.

A giant blacksmith accidentally injured a steel armored crow by accident.

Although the giant blacksmith apologized, the leader of the steel armored crow was very unconvinced, and angrily went to the leader of the giant blacksmith for a duel.

after

Although there are more steel-clad crows, they haven't beaten the great blacksmith, and have cast a certain psychological shadow on them since then.

Arceus did not intervene in this kind of matter. To him, this is a fight between children. As long as there is no break, there is no need for additional mediation.

The carriage was put on the ground by the steel armored crow, Yamato and Urti stepped out from inside, and then the steel armored crow took the carriage back to his residence on Sky Island.

「I will never go to that place again, that woman actually wants to take my little Pei away!」

「Sister, don't say such misleading words, and isn't she interested in us all.」

The woman Urti mentioned refers to Charlotte Lingling, and the three of them went to Charlotte Lingling's tea party, but at the tea party, Charlotte Lingling's old problem happened again.

It's not cravings, but her love-loving disorder. Charlotte Lingling already has many husbands. This tea party is also held because of the 39th daughter of the Charlotte family and the 85th daughter of Charlotte Lingling. The child, Charlotte Anana was born.

This is also the last child of Charlotte Lingling. At this time, she has no interest in finding a husband anymore, but she still has her own children.

Charlotte Lingling has always advocated arranged marriages, but this time she became interested in Yamato and others.

In the past, she would only let her children marry the pirates who joined her, but the Beasts Pirates was an exception. It was impossible for Beasts to be merged into BIG MOM. Although she had a lot of friendship with Kaido, she was also very familiar with Kaido. ...

But because of this, Charlotte Lingling knew that Kaido would not be willing to be under others. Similarly, she could not accept this, so she made an exception and wanted to let her children marry him.

But neither Yamato nor Urti and Peggy Wan are interested in this. Yamato and Peggy Wan are simply not interested in the opposite sex, while Urti only has a possessive desire for his younger brother.

Anyone who wants to rob her brother will enter her blacklist. Maria's goal is Kaido, and Yamato has no interest in men, so Urti can get along well with them.

In contrast, Charlotte Lingling, who wanted to find a wife for Peggy Wan, naturally became someone she hated, and included the Kingdom of Totland into her forbidden area.

"Never mind that, I also don't think that tea party is interesting at all, why don't we go play baseball."

Yamato took out the Ajian No. 7 from his space pocket. This is a new weapon made by the great blacksmiths. Strong mace.

It was born together with Eight Fasts 2.0. Over the years, Kaido's weapons have also ushered in the remodeling for the first time, and have been completely strengthened.

Since getting the new weapon, Yamato has developed a certain interest in baseball.

"No, you'd better go and play with those giant blacksmiths. Only you can stand this kind of baseball."

Yamato is not playing ordinary tennis, but like the blacksmith, they are all special metal balls. This is also one of her recent entertainment methods.

Except for the giant blacksmith, none of the members of Hundred Beasts are interested in this kind of thing. The only one who is interested is Kaido, but Yamato doesn't want to play this "game" with Kaido at all.

At this time, Kaido is not in Onishima, he is in a state of losing contact. According to past examples, he will appear in newspapers within half a month and return to Onishima within a month.

"Father, I just saw Brother Zeraora go out, what did he do?"

Zeraora's two children are growing up gradually, and his and Setsuna's vacation life is over, and the two will take turns to take on missions, but this time Zeraora seems to be in a hurry.

"It's nothing serious, it's just some small troubles on Sky Island, and Zeraora is the most suitable person to deal with this matter."

Not long ago, there was a request for help from Sky Island, and there were intruders there.

This is the first time that Sky Island has asked for help in many years. Sky Island, which is located high in the sky, has an excellent location, and there is a giant monarch snake transformed by Arceus stationed there, and it has been safe and sound for many years.

Most of the time, there will be no foreign enemies on Sky Island. Even if there are, they are not opponents of the Sandiyas.

But this time is different, the enemy attacking the sky island is the strongest one ever, the Monarch Snake is trying his best to fight, but there is nothing he can do about the enemy this time.

Because he was too fast, the Monarch Snake didn't fail, but he couldn't do anything to this enemy either.

Such battles have affected the lives of ordinary people in Sky Island, and also delayed the collection of Sky Island shellfish, so the message for help was sent to Ghost Island.

Extremely fast, with the ability to use lightning, Zeraora is born to be the best solution to fight against this kind of person.

Chapter 650: It is not only rubber that can strike lightning

In the first half of the great voyage, Gaya Island, Kulik was also exploring the way to Sky Island while salvaging, but from the beginning, he found the wrong target.

For those without the ability to fly, the only route that can safely reach Sky Island is the West Sky Peak, but the entrance of this road is very far away from Gaya Island. The only option for Kulik to reach Sky Island is to take the sky ocean currents.

For ordinary people, the sky current is a dead end, and the chance of successfully reaching the sky island is very small, so Kulik has never been successful.

With the information provided by the tavern owner, he also has more purpose. The purpose of salvage is to obtain living funds and accumulate commissions. Whenever he meets an adventurous pirate, he will propose to hire the other party to take him to the empty island.

But he hasn't succeeded yet, and on the contrary, he is regarded as a laughing stock by many people.

Rolando's life has not changed much, but the environment here has undergone tremendous changes. Since half a month ago, there have been huge thunder in the sky from time to time.

It was clearly a blue sky, but the thunder sounded irregularly day and night, as if someone was fighting in the sky.

The shadows of monsters often appeared on the sea, as if some monsters were fighting where they couldn't see.

Because of the shadows of those monsters, some people in Magic Valley Town were panicked.

Kulik had just picked up the fishing net and planned to go out to sea to catch some food, when the roar of thunder and lightning came from the sky again.

At this moment, above 10,000 meters, Nolan, the Lord of the Sky, roared angrily into the sky, and then a large number of energy leaves condensed from behind him, shooting towards the people in the sky.

"Beast, you are just a wild beast. Now I am giving you one last chance. You are qualified to be my mount, assist me in ruling this place, and go to the infinite land with me in the future!"

The man in front of him was floating above the sky with his shirtless upper body, holding a gold stick in his hand. The earlobes of his ears were extremely long, and they had fallen to his chest.

The back is not the wing decoration that ordinary Sky Islanders use, but a drum with hooked jade patterns on all sides, and the taiko drum worn together is inlaid on his back.

"Enilo! This is not the place you should come to. There is only one * in Sky Island. Except for the resurrected ancient god, no one else deserves this title. The messenger of the * is on the way here. You still have time to go!"

「Yehahaha, let him come! Only a * is worthy to be the opponent of this god, and this * will let you understand who is the stronger god!」

「You are courting death!」

The chief of Sandia yelled at the people in the sky.

He knew the other party's name, because it wasn't the first time the other party came here.

Half a month ago, during the days when Kulik heard the thunder in the clear sky, Enilo came to Angel Island for the first time.

Sky Island is a general term for all the islands floating in the sky, not a certain island. Shandora was washed by the current to the Sky Island called Angel Island, but this is only one of them.

It's just because of the popularity problem, but when mentioning Sky Island, most people's reaction refers to Angel Island.

There is also an empty island near Angel Island, named Bika, which is also the place where Enilo was born, but not long ago, he personally destroyed Bika and led some of his men to attack here. ...

The purpose is to completely occupy "Apayado", that is, the part of Gaya Island that is washed up into the sky.

Because he ate the thunderous fruit by mistake, Enilo was invincible in Bika, which gave him the illusion that he was a god.

Sky Island has no soil, so Apayado is known as the Island of the Holy and God, and it has become Enilo's own territory in his heart.

The sky island, which occupies a favorable location, was originally like a paradise. There are only a handful of Qinghai pirates who can reach here in a year, and most of the pirates are not opponents of the defenders here.

The naturally militant Sandians plus the Sky Islanders who guard their homeland, the high-quality munitions brought by Ghost Island, and the DIY fancy equipment using Sky Island shells, the combat power of Sky Island is completely sufficient in the first half of the great route. of.

Even if they are not opponents, there are still giant monarch snakes guarding here. It was not until the arrival of Ainilu that the peace here was broken.

What he pursues is the infinite land, and he thinks that he is a real god, and he doesn't care about the life and death of ordinary people at all.

On the first day he appeared here, a conflict broke out between the two sides.

The Shantongya people are unwilling to give up their homeland. This is the homeland they returned to with great difficulty. At the same time, no one recognizes the title of "God" of Enilu.

At that time, Enilo didn't attack them immediately, but waited for them to attack himself, because after eating the thunder fruit, he became "immortal" in Bika, and no matter what attack he had, it had no effect on him.

He is very proud and wants to use this method to let the Sandia know the gap in strength.

The first wave of attacks was as he expected, no matter whether it was a bow and arrow or a spear, they all passed directly through his lightning-like body, but the Sandiya didn't panic at all.

「Natural abilities! Reload!」

For the people living in Sky Island, the beasts bring them not only supplies, but also knowledge.

The current Sandias are not the natives who are hundreds of years behind, but the new Sandias with more common sense.

They are certainly old-fashioned, so the beasts let them accept those new things in the form of supernatural powers.

Due to their own hardness and characteristics, the outside world cannot make them into ordinary bullets, but the beasts can process them into various shapes with a large number of Wano country craftsmen.

Under the chief's order, the Sandia quickly changed their weapons, and the bullets containing sea stone components continued to attack Ainil, but Ainil's ability was not limited to the thunder fruit.

The thunderous thunder fruit combined with his own talent for knowledge and knowledge made him have a huge perception range of knowledge and domineering, and he also has the ability to read minds. He read the inner thoughts of those Sandia people.

In this case, he chose to dodge.

As a god, it is shameful to avoid human attacks, but the information he read is that these are the weapons given to them by God, and they are powerful divine soldiers.

So he was not avoiding the attack of man, but the attack of God. Thinking in this way, he quickly accepted this reason and put it into action.

The knowledgeable perception and the speed of the thunder fruit allowed him to easily dodge those bullets, but just when he wanted to continue his action, a giant snake appeared from the side.

Earlier, Enilo used thunder and lightning as his way of greeting, and the thunder and lightning just broke the new totem pole of the Sandians, so the monarch snake was drawn out.

Looking at the tail of the snake that was drawn towards him, Enilu didn't dodge it, he wanted to finish what he didn't pretend just now, but the next moment, the huge snake tail of the monarch snake flew him out.
