

Arceus 651

Chapter 651: the naysayer of the monarch snake

Because the rubber does not conduct electricity, it can attack the body of the thunder fruit, and the monarch snake has become a grass-type Pokémon, and the body of the plant can also allow it to attack the body of Enel.

Although only dry tree leaves are insulators, Monarch Snake is not a simple plant, but a grass-type Pokémon, with Pokémon energy in its body.

In the tail flick of the Monarch Snake just now, the energy of the grass attribute was stimulated, and with the help of this energy, the plant-like body formed a special insulator.

If Enilo eats burning fruit and smoking fruit, then he can still be immune to the attack of the monarch snake, but what he eats is thundering fruit.

Because of his arrogance, he did not avoid the attack of this beast, so he was photographed.

"god!"

Looking at Ainil who was shot flying, the subordinates who came here with him were taken aback. It was precisely because of Ainil's strong strength that they followed suit and became the priests of Ainil's subordinates.

From the day Bika was destroyed, they hadn't seen Enilu injured.

"You * me off, Beast!"

Enilu, who was shot flying, left a deep gully on the island cloud. In fact, after being shot flying, he was able to elementalize, but he has not known what pain feels like for a long time up.

At the moment he was shot flying, his thinking fell into a brief stagnation, and then his brain was filled with anger. In front of his priest, a wild beast flew him out with its tail.

This is a shame for a "god".

Zila Zila!

The strong electric current wrapped around Anilu, making his whole body flash with lightning, and even his eyes were filled with azure blue thunder.

「30 million volts Thunder Beast!」

The golden stick in Enilo's hand hit the taiko drum on his left shoulder, and a powerful electric current condensed from his body into a wolf-headed beast, running towards the Monarch Snake.

He wants to use the life of the other party to wash away the insult he has received.

The Monarch Snake's target is very big. Even though its own speed is not slow, its huge size still reduces its evasion ability. The lightning attack released by Enilo hit it solidly.

As the lightning spread throughout the Monarch Snake's body, everyone around couldn't open their eyes temporarily due to the dazzling lightning.

「Yehahaha, feel the wrath of God! Even if your body is special, a beast that relies on brute force is still a beast...」

Enilu held back his words abruptly, and as the thunder and lightning generated by the Thunder Beast dissipated, the figure of the Monarch Snake reappeared in everyone's field of vision.

Although there are more traces left by lightning on his body, his figure is still tall and straight, and there is also a hint of ferocity in his vertical pupils.

As the grass-type royal family, Monarch Snake already has high resistance to lightning attacks. Its huge size makes it lose some flexibility, but it also gains a stronger physique.

Anilu's attack hit it with skin trauma at most, but his thunder and lightning will also make the Monarch Snake feel pain, and Enilu also destroyed the totem in the Sandia tribe before.

Whether it was mentally or physically, Enilu hurt the Monarch Snake.

"Roar!"

The giant mouth roared, and a large number of leaves were condensed into the sky by the monarch snake. Each leaf was the size of an adult, and these leaves also began to hover in the sky. ...

It is a Pokémon transformed from the Sky Island giant snake. When it was a giant snake, its attitude towards humans was very ordinary. After being transformed, the character of the monarch snake made it even more arrogant. It will do things.novelUSB.CoM

It protects the Sandians at the behest of Arceus, and at the same time attacks those pesky intruders.

Gifts are reciprocal, Monarch Snake prepared a big gift for him from the very beginning, the big grass-type skill-Flying Leaf Storm.

The dense blades form a terrible tornado, rolling towards Enilu like a pulverizer.

As a major grass-type skill, the power of Flying Leaf Storm is terrifying, like setting off a tornado, even if rocks are involved, it will instantly turn into a powdered.

Enilu's figure turned into lightning and disappeared within the attack range of Feiye Storm. When he showed his figure again, he was already in the sky, but compared to the previous arrogance, he was a little more embarrassed.

The white turban covering the head disappeared somewhere, revealing the short curly hair like a middle-aged aunt underneath.

He thought it was just the opponent's body that was special, but he didn't expect that the long-range attack would also have this effect. If it wasn't for his fast enough speed, knowledge and color to accurately predict all the positions of the Monarch Snake's attack, he wouldn't be able to get out.

Seeing that Anilu dodged his own attack, Monarch Snake's eyes became more impatient, and he began to brew a new attack again. Anilu still avoided the opponent's attack by virtue of his active elementalization ability.

But judging from the feedback of the attack, the power of the Monarch Snake's attack is getting stronger and stronger.

Flying Leaf Storm is different from Sunshine Flame, both of which are powerful moves. The price of Sunshine Flame is the need to charge energy, while the cost of Flying Leaf Storm is a significant drop in special attack.

Originally this was a nerf, but the Monarch Snake trait is Negative, a trait that reverses buffs and debuffs.

The special attack was weakened on the Monarch Snake, but it became a special attack improvement, making it more courageous in battle.

The arrogance in Anilu's heart was also angered by the Monarch Snake. He did not attack other people, but stared at the Monarch Snake to attack. In his eyes, those Sandiyas were just bugs. The giant snake is the only threat.

So the situation entered an endless loop. Although the Monarch Snake's attack power is very high, it can't hit Enilo. With the mind-reading level of domineering and thunderous fruit, the Monarch Snake has no way to attack Enilo.

Similarly, Enilo can't end the Monarch Snake, his attack can hit the Monarch Snake, but under the huge size and the resistance provided by the grass system, the damage caused is very limited, and the Monarch Snake will also recover through photosynthesis physical strength.

"Beast, remember this god, I will leave you some breathing time to think about whether to join me!"

The initiative is in his hands. If Anilu wants to leave, the Monarch Snake cannot stop him.

In the later days, Anilu would come and attack here every one or two days, and he would make new attack methods every time.

The power of knowledge color and the ability of the thunder fruit both reflect the talent of Enilo, and his battles have gradually become able to achieve some results.

Although the Monarch Snake can't be dealt with yet, the damage caused is gradually increasing, and the scope of the damage is also increasing, even affecting the picking of Sky Island Shells.

That's why Sandia asked for help from Onijima, hoping to deal with him as soon as possible.

Chapter 652: Do you dare to call yourself a * with a mere power bank?

As time goes by, the battle between Monarch Snake and Enilo continues, and gradually evolves into a duel of endurance.

Enel's attack cannot kill the Monarch Snake, and it is difficult for the Monarch Snake's attack to hit Enilo. Most of the time, the Monarch Snake is beaten.

Until the exhaustion of physical strength is almost exhausted and its own speed slows down, the Monarch Snake has a chance to hit Anilu, but at this time, Anelu will choose to retreat and reappear after a period of rest.

The battle usually lasts no more than one day. As the battle continued, Enel also discovered certain problems.

In the latest battle, he did not appear during the day, but came to Apayado by night.

He didn't choose to sneak attack, but just beat the taiko drum on his back with a golden stick. This is not a prerequisite for using Hibiki Fruit, but just Enel's personal habit, probably because he thinks it is cool in his cognition, so he will this way.

The roaring thunder and lightning woke up the sleeping Sandiya people and the people of Sky Island, and also attracted the attention of the monarch snake.

"I understand. Your divine power is related to the sun. You can recover faster under the sun, right? Then at night, can you still do this kind of thing!"

After several battles, he has discovered the characteristics of the Monarch Snake. Under the sunlight, it can not only recover its physical strength, but even some of its moves become stronger.

That's why he attacked at night. He didn't sneak attack because he had a sense of arrogance in his heart, but not sneak attack didn't mean he wouldn't choose a battlefield that was more beneficial to him. Nights without sunshine were more suitable for him.

As Enilo's taiko drum was beaten, a fierce battle started again between a snake and a man.

At first, Enilo would come here with his priests and guards, but when he found that those people were no different from ants to the monarch snake, he gave up this behavior.

Before he goes to the land of infinite dogs, he still needs some people who serve the gods. He doesn't want those subordinates to be cleaned up by the monarch snake like this.

The same is true for the Sandians, they are no longer qualified to participate in this battle, if it weren't for Anelu who wanted to defeat the Monarch Snake first and then deal with them, their situation would be even more difficult.

The Monarch Snake still has no way to restrict the movement of Enilo. In order not to affect the battle of the Monarch Snake, the Sandia can only wait and see from a distance.

「Chief, are we just watching? Let this invader come and go to and from our home?」

"The new envoys sent by the ancient gods will arrive here soon. This is not a battle we can intervene in. The best result is to wait and see."

The battle between Nolan and Anel is still going on, and Ainil guessed rightly. As a monarch snake, Nolan has always relied on photosynthesis to provide strong resilience in his daily battles.

The sun at an altitude of 10,000 meters gave it a lot of help. The sun and flames that do not need to be charged, and the photosynthesis that quickly restores physical strength.

Parasitic seeds and ultimate absorption are difficult to capture Enel's figure. At night, the battle of the Monarch Snake is far from easy, and it becomes very difficult to recover physical strength after being consumed by Enel.

Although the anti-tune makes it not afraid of debuffs, it does not have the effect of less stamina and more excitement. ...

The Sandiya people on the side also felt the disadvantages of the Monarch Snake, and could only pray for the Monarch Snake to persist until the sun rose. But at this time, several young people in the Sandiya crowd looked at each other and quietly left the crowd.

「Vaipa, is this useful?」

Several young people looked at the man with tattoos at the head. He is Wayipa, the strongest of the new generation of Sandiya people. He is called a war ghost by his peers. The chief also intends to train him to be the next chief. .

At the age of 18 this year, he is just at the age of youth. When he came here with priests and guards in Enilo, he would lead his tribe to fight them.

But in the case of Enilu alone, he has already lost his opponent, and at the same time he is unwilling to fight while watching the opponent.

This is not a duel, but an invasion of their homeland. Facing the invaders, there is no need to speak morally.

The other party chose

Night is not conducive to fighting the monarch snake, and Vaipa wants to provide some help to the monarch snake.

"It's useful. According to the knowledge in the oracle, that guy is just a devil fruit user, and Hailoushi is his nemesis."

As he spoke, he picked up something like a bazooka.

"This bullet was given to us by the ancient gods. It is filled with Hailoushi powder. It doesn't need to hit him. As long as it can explode beside him, it is enough to help the envoy of God."

Like the Navy's special prison bullets, they are all weapons prepared to restrain the ability user. The powder after the explosion can not only make the ability user temporarily unable to use the ability, but also make him enter a state of extreme powerlessness.

They also used this thing in the initial battle, but Enilo's speed was too fast. It is completely possible to avoid it before the explosion, even if it is a sneak attack, it is useless, so the chief didn't make any moves.

Taking advantage of the cover of the night, Wayipa felt that he might not have no chance of success.

A group of people held the bazooka in their hands, and gradually approached the battlefield under the cover of the night.

「Thirty million volts Thunderbird!」

A big bird composed of lightning flew out of Anilu's body. Taking advantage of the moment the thunder and lightning sounded, Wayipa and others also pulled the trigger in their hands, covering up the sound of the rocket launcher to the greatest extent.

But they underestimated Enilo's sense of knowledge. Even though his main thoughts were on the battle with the Monarch Snake, his sense of knowledge still sensed the surrounding situation.

At the moment when Wayipa and others attacked, he noticed the evil thoughts in several people's hearts and the sound of the rocket launcher.

Original

「Mortal, who gave you the courage to intervene in the battle between gods?」

Wayipa and the others did not expect that Anilu found their location within a few seconds.

Wayipa had no time to replace the warhead, so Vaipa reflexively used the barrel to draw the opponent, but only a flash of lightning was drawn out, and Anilu's shattered body had begun to reorganize rapidly.

"You have to pay the price, the price of intervening in the war of gods."

The Monarch Snake noticed the change here, but before it could stop it, Enilu's hand turned into lightning and grabbed Vaipa. The smile on the corner of his mouth was very cruel, which was his nature.

Zi la~!

The lightning flashed, but Wayipa didn't feel the slightest pain. The strong lightning made him unable to open his eyes, but in his blurred vision, he saw another statue on the totem pole, the one belonging to Zeraola .

「So, where do you have the confidence to say that you are God?」

Chapter 653: hurry up, i'm in a hurry

After Arceus and others came to Sky Island, the Sandia had three more totem poles, symbolizing the ancient * Arceus and his two envoys - the Monarch Snake and Zeraora.

They became familiar stories to children who grew up after that, but they never saw Arceus or Zeraora except the Monarch Serpent, for the first time in their lives.

After receiving the order, Zeraora was rushing here at full speed, but it was a long way from Ghost Island to Sky Island. Even if he used flying, it still took a lot of time in the end, but it seems that there is still time.

"Young man, courage is good, but this is not the place for you, Nolan! Take them away, and the midfielder has changed!"

Zeraora held the golden stick that Enel waved with one hand, even if Enel passed the current to his weapon, it had no effect on him.

Zeraora not only has the ability to absorb external lightning and turn it into his own use, but also has the characteristic of storing electricity.

No matter how powerful the lightning attack hits him, it is equivalent to the "Golden Healing Shuriken". Not only will it not cause damage, but it will also restore his consumed physical strength and replenish more electrical energy.

「Gara~」

Enilu was not unresponsive. It seemed that neither he nor Zeraora had made any movement, but in fact, his successive actions were directly interrupted by Zeraora.

But their speed was so fast that the people next to them in the dark didn't even see the afterimage. The only thing they could feel was a few flashes of lightning.

「I heard that there is an ignorant person in Sky Island who claims to be a god. It seems that it is you.」

"You beasts. One or two... It really makes people angry, God's punishment!"

Since coming to this empty island, no one has recognized his identity as a god. Previously, the Sandians were at least afraid of his strength, and the Monarch Snake was still very cautious in fighting him.

But from Zeraola, he sensed a sense of contempt. His wrist turned into a lightning bolt and penetrated into the clouds.

「Stupid beast, this is the price you pay for despising God, experience the punishment brought by God! Yehahaha」

Enilu laughed halfway, and suddenly noticed an abnormality. There was no sound in the thunder light, and there was only a stretching figure.

「You are so polite, I will have a hard time beating you later.」

The electricity consumed on the way here has been replenished at this time, and there is even a little overflow. Zeraola has never encountered such an interesting power bank, and its efficiency is already higher than that of the electric shock beast.

He said so, but Zeraora didn't hold back in his actions.

Enilo sensed Zeraora's thoughts, but before he could react, Zeraora had already kicked him on the head, and Zeraora's legs were already covered with jet black domineering.

He is not a monarch snake. He can also cultivate what humans can cultivate. As a major cadre in the new world, being proficient in two-color domineering is the most basic ability.

「It's like this again. Is that God's power?」 ...

Jeraora, like the Monarch Snake, can attack his body. They are originally a group. From the psychological activities of those Sandia people, we can know that they are even called angels.

【Next is the chest】

Knowing that the opponent's attack cannot be resisted forcefully, Enilo wants to disperse the opponent's attacking position in advance. This is also a common way for people with natural abilities to avoid armed attacks.

Domineering can hurt the body of the natural department, but the premise of this is to touch them.

As long as the opponent's attack is released in advance, it will naturally become ineffective, but the result is the same as before. The domineering slammed directly on his chest, causing Enilo to spit out a mouthful of blood.

"There are always fools who think that the natural department is invincible. You have a strong sense of knowledge, but you are not armed at all."

「Impossible, I already heard it」

Ai Nilu couldn't understand, he clearly heard the opponent's movements, but he couldn't avoid it, no matter how he tried to dodge, the opponent's attack would still hit him intact.

「The ability to read minds is good, but your physical training is too poor. As long as it hits you before your body responds, won't the problem be solved?」

The request letter sent by Sky Island roughly describes the abilities of Enilo, and the two most critical abilities of thunder fruit and mind reading are included, which is why Boraola took care of it here.

As the fastest among all beast cadres and immune to lightning, he is Enilo's natural nemesis.

Thunderbolt attacks are ineffective against him. Although the knowledgeable color can perceive Zeraora's actions, his reaction is not as good as that of Zeraora's powerful body. Physically, he has completely lost.

「Okay, there are people in my family who are waiting for me to go home. I don't have time to waste with you. If you dare to attack here, you should be ready to pay the price.

Jeraola appeared in front of Anilu in an instant, and slammed his fist straight at his face. At this moment, what Anilu heard also surprised him.

【What should I bring home for the children? 】

In Zeraola's mind, Enilo at this stage is not an opponent at all, except for delaying his getting along with his family, he is just a pure egomaniac.

Facing an opponent who was no slower than him and proficient in two-color domineering, Enilo had no room to resist.

In the view of the Sandians, this was a battle they couldn't understand. They couldn't see the human form, only two groups of thunder lights flashed alternately in the air. fall.

It took about ten minutes before Zeraola returned to Sky Island, and Enilo had disappeared.

「Master Angel, that person.」

The chieftain of Shandia came to Zeraola and asked him about the situation of the enemy.

"It has been resolved, he will not come here to make trouble again in the future, you can live in peace of mind."

「My lord, this year's shell collection has been delayed, this matter.」

"Oh, it doesn't matter, Your Majesty said that it can be extended for two months. Two months should be enough, right?"

"Enough is enough, we will provide enough shellfish at that time, God Envoy-sama has worked hard all the way, let's take a rest in the tribe first."

Jeraora didn't want to delay at first, but the chief repeatedly asked to stay, and said that the newborn children in the tribe wanted to meet other angels, which made him decide to stay for one night and return to Ghost Island tomorrow morning.

Chapter 654: Where's Dad? The Missing Steel Armored Crow

The Sandians were already awakened by the sound of fighting. Under the call of the chief, the entire tribe gathered together, and the newly born children of the tribe also saw another envoy on the totem pole.

On the whole, nothing major has happened, but the Sandia people still maintain some backward customs. Due to the arrival of Rolando hundreds of years ago, the Sandia people abolished cruel habits such as living sacrifices, but some habits have been adopted. reserve.

For example, let the young girl of the tribe accompany the angel. When the chief raised this opinion, Zeraora bid farewell to the Shandia tribe at lightning speed; after chatting with the monarch snake for a while, he got up and returned to Ghost Island.

Thanks to Ainilu, Zeraora didn't feel tired after the fight, but also felt refreshed. Classically, due to the large gap, after killing the enemy solo, he was full of blood and mana, which made those who didn't understand The audience suspected that this was a fake match.

The Wano country at this time, Kuri, is the home of Zeraora.

Compared with the simple small house back then, this place has been expanded into a single-family villa.

Originally neither Zeraola nor Setsuna intended to expand, but more and more people lived here.

Setsuna's parents and younger sister, adopted Perona, attendants wearing Xiong and Bebo, sheep Keith Khan who occasionally comes and refuses to leave, and two newborn children.

Sometimes there are guests from Zou, Yamato who comes to visit, subordinates who hand over tasks, etc.

The original hut can no longer meet their needs, and the new house has become a necessity for future life.

A more functional house was born.

In addition to the separate bedroom and utility room, there is also a separate studio and a larger basement.

Perona's only request was a dark room, and even for a darker room, she strongly asked herself to live in the basement.

At this time, Setsuna was exchanging ideas with Maria on the grass outside the door.

Maria has no children, and she is not even married yet, but as she grows older, she becomes more and more motherly, unlike Charlotte Lingling who periodically triggers love for young children, Maria treats most Children are like this.

And Zeraola and Setsuna are among the few people Maria is familiar with who have given birth to children.

「Wolf, Meowna! Come down, you two!」

In the moment I went out to get some things, when I came back home, I saw two children climbing up, hanging on Maria's two corners, one on the left and one on the right, and seemed to be curious about it.

His two children are two and a half years old, and their age has made them more lively. In other words, they are naughty.

"It's okay, sister Setsuna, let them play if they like, it's not heavy anyway."

The two little ones are like plush toys to Maria, even if they are crawling around on her head, they don't feel much.

"That's not the problem. These two little guys are getting bolder and bolder. When Lord Arceus came last time, they all climbed directly on him. If they don't care about it, they may go to heaven in the future."

While talking, Shi Mo chatted about the heroic deeds of the two brothers and sisters in the past. They are at an age where they are not afraid of anything, and the fur tribe is active by nature. ...

Wolf is the elder brother, and Meowna is the younger sister. The way of naming is not complicated, but the elder brother is named according to the fur tribe's habit because the race seems to be also a white wolf, so he gave such a name.

My younger sister was named after her because she was late in speaking and always made similar noises.

Under Setsu's reprimand, Miao Na climbed down from the top first, while Worf delayed for a while before retreating.

"Didn't I tell you, be polite to the guests, and be careful that when Zeraora comes back, I will confiscate the gifts from you two."

「But, sister Maria asked us to climb up...」

The two brothers and sisters protested against this, but Setsuna rubbed their heads frantically.

"That's not okay, there must be rules, this is wrong, Zou will be near Wano Country in a few days, do you still want to play?"

"Okay, now, when you were young, you were much wilder than the two of them. I think they probably inherited your personality. Let's teach it slowly. They still have a lot of time when they are young. Now it's time to eat."

Ling and Hatch, who were out, also came back here at this time, and just heard that Setsuna was educating their children.

The two of them had no intention of intervening in their daughter's family education, they just didn't want to waste time.

Finally, after Worf and Meowna promised not to do this kind of thing again, Setsu put them one by one in the special children's dining chair.

This was modified from a Rotom cradle, and as they age, the function of the cradle gradually changes.

From the cradle to the walker, and now the safety seat is the most obvious change, and Maria is also invited to stay here.

Because of her height, it was inconvenient for Maria to enter Zeraola's house. Even if their room was slightly larger, Maria would have to bow her body if she wanted to enter.

"Mom, Mom, when did Dad come back? He has been away for a long time, and it has been several ten days."

「Come on, Dad went to work, he will come back soon after defeating the enemy, and brought you a gift from there.」

Zeraora had already called Setsuna after the battle, and according to the distance calculation, she would be back in a few days at most, and there was no emergency, so she didn't let Zeraola hurry, but let him take care of it along the way Let's talk about other islands.

The two have been on vacation for a long time, and they are not at ease if they have not done anything.

Seeing the happy family, Maria showed a loving aunt smile on her face, but just as she picked up the teacup, Yamato suddenly rushed over from the side.

"Maria! Do you have time? Something big is happening!"

「Huh? What's the matter, do you need help? I'm fine.」

"Then you can come together, I called Jack just now, let's go now."

「Wait, you haven't said anything yet?」

"It's the Sky Taxi. Taxi No. 28 didn't go back today, and the Steel Armored Crow also lost contact. There are no traces of it on the several islands along the way. I feel that the adoptive father is already a little angry. Let's go find it. Come on."

The Steel Armored Crow taxi has been in operation for more than a year, and there has been no trouble so far, but this time not only did the passengers fail to reach their destination, even the Steel Armored Crow disappeared.

The Pokémon created by Arceus will not betray him inexplicably, the only possibility is an accident.

Chapter 655: The long lost golden lion

Yamato is 20 years old this year, and she is no longer the kid she was many years ago. She also wants to do something within her power.

This news was overheard by her outside the door, and she even acted privately.

Seeing that Yamato spoke very solemnly, Maria didn't intend to stay any longer. After bidding farewell to Setsuna's family, she followed Yamato to the dock, where she also saw Jack who had been prepared.

「Why the Mammoth? Yamato, didn't Master Arceus prepare a ship for you? Why don't you drive your own ship?」

In terms of power, Yamato's ship can be said to be the number one ship in the Beast Pirates, even the Shiyuan and Beast King are not as fast as Yamato's ship.

But it was Jack's boat that was ready at this time, which made Maria feel something was wrong.

"Ai, don't worry about this detail, hurry up and let's go."

Yamato didn't seem to want to answer this question, but pushed Jack and Maria onto the boat, and quickly left the diving port, heading towards the sea outside.

「Yamato, where are we going to find it?」

"Wait, let me take a look. The location where the steel armored crow disappeared is this island, and many nearby islands are not our territory. Let's start with this sea area."

Yamato took out a sea chart with many folds and marks, and quickly delineated the approximate exploration location. Maria felt that something was wrong, but she couldn't tell what was wrong.

Jack doesn't care about such trivial matters, so the Mammoth is still sailing towards that piece of sea.

But Yamato didn't know, and Onijima knew everything about her departure.

"Master Holy Beast, Ms. Yamato has already set off on Jack's boat, and she is sure to have the chart. Is there anything else I should pay attention to?"

The disappearance of the steel armored crow did not happen in the past two days. It was almost the time when the sky island was attacked, and the No. 28 taxi did not return. No one took it seriously at the time.

Due to the abnormal climate of the great route, the steel-armored crows cannot guarantee the stability of the route. When encountering force majeure factors, they will choose to detour, or stop at a nearby island, and continue sailing with passengers after the storm is over. .

However, after several days in a row, there was still no information on car No. 28. When Beast followed the positioning device on the car to find it, it only saw the damaged car on the island.

The rest of the people, whether they are people or steel armored crows, are all missing, and it can be determined that they have entered a state of disappearance.

Afterwards, Hundred Beasts quickly locked on the approximate range of the sea area, and carried out a certain degree of exploration, but did not achieve results.

Today, when Shaina was reporting the recent situation, Arceus was a little angry. Missing Pokémon are rare, let alone a taxi-like Pokémon like the Steel Armored Crow.

Yamato also made this decision by overhearing the conversation between Shaina and Arceus by accident.

In order to let her continue to grow, both Arceus and Shaina pretended that they didn't find Yamato, and let her take the chart.

"No, she's not a child anymore, just do it if you want, but there seems to be something wrong behind this."

Arceus did not go there in person, but there was also an expedition team of beasts nearby, but they did not find a trace of the steel armored crow, as if it had mysteriously disappeared. ...

No matter who is behind it, this matter is not simple.

"Yes, Lord Saint Beast, I'm leaving first, call me if you need anything."

This is also an opportunity that he didn't go looking for in person. It is best to keep someone alone in Onijima. Before Kaido was away, Arceus naturally stayed here.

"Hello, Kaido."

「Huh? What's wrong?」

「Do you have a clue about that matter?」

Arceus asked Kaido very directly. He had been wandering outside before, so this matter should be handed over to him as it should be.

The disappearance of the steel armored crow is not just that simple, it also represents the beasts, and its disappearance means that someone is provoking the dignity of the beasts.

"A little bit, but I'm not particularly sure."

"It doesn't matter, Yamato has gone to your sea area, you can take care of her in secret, but if there is nothing wrong, you don't need to come forward."

Hmm, that girl has also started to take the initiative, don't worry, I'm very measured in this respect, you don't have to worry about things here, just deal with other things with peace of mind.

After a burst of laughter, Kaido turned off the phone, giving the other party a reassurance.

But his care is too much for most people. Considering Kaido's character, as long as people are not dead or alive, it's not a big deal. Even if Yamato knew that there was such an insurance, he would not rely on Kaido.

Far away from where the Steel Armored Crow disappeared, a huge empty island also appeared in the sky.

And this island is not like an island made of island clouds, but more like a natural isolated island.

The island is floating in the air due to unknown forces, and there are even waterfalls flowing down.

There are all kinds of strange beasts living on the island, which are not suitable for human habitation at all, but even such a place is still occupied by people.

Puff puff puff, there was a strange sound in the air, a man wearing a scarf and dressed like a clown came out.

「Kalkal, Captain Skee, a new breakthrough has been made,」

Dr. Indigo, the cadre of the Flying Pirates, the scientist has been following the big cadre of the Golden Lion.

Many years ago, in order to escape from the "Propulsion City" smoothly, the Golden Lion cut off the feet bound by Hailoushi's handcuffs.

The two swords of Yingshi and Muku are used as prosthetics.

After escaping from prison, Shiki came to the new world, discussed future plans with Whitebeard, and then came to an island called "Vilmejo".

Here, the golden lion found special plants on the island.

For many years, he concealed his whereabouts, and worked with his trusted deputy Dr. Indigo to study "IQ" and lived on a floating island to plan a comeback.

But their plan was not going well. Although IQ can make the beast more aggressive, it can also make the beast out of control, so there has been no result.

「What breakthrough?」

“It’s the iron bird, IQ also has a great influence on it, but it’s still within the controllable range.”

A few days ago, they discovered a steel armored crow by chance. Compared with pure beasts, these intelligent Pokémon are more suitable for this kind of thing.

And this is the reason why the steel armored crow disappeared. Golden Lion used his own ability to leave the No. 28 carriage, and studied the steel armored crow pulling the carriage.

Chapter 656: He's just a trainee, what can he do?

Golden Lion was also a famous big pirate in the sea back then. He lived in the same era as Whitebeard and Roger, and even led a monster of an era.

Had it not been for bad luck, the outcome of the Advor naval battle would have changed the balance of the entire world.

His ambition is not just One Piece, but the whole world. Just like his original captain Lockes, they all have the ambition of being the king of the world.

It’s just that after the Battle of Edwall, the Golden Lion first lost a large number of troops, and because of Roger’s surrender, he single-handedly entered the Navy Headquarters and was arrested and imprisoned. Although he escaped from prison with the courage to break his legs, after that, Golden Lion's thinking seems to have changed as well.

Crocodile, who was defeated by Whitebeard, was looking for Pluto, and wanted to use the power of ancient weapons. Moria, who was defeated by Kaido, began to seek an immortal zombie army because all his partners died.

After encountering setbacks, some people forget that their own strength is the root, and begin to seek external power.

The Golden Lion is somewhat similar, but not exactly the same. He needs more troops so that he can prove his power of revenge to the world government. Compared with humans, he has set his sights on beasts.

In fact, he has a simpler way, using abilities to float islands above important locations.

In this way, once he dies or goes into a coma, the island will fall, causing irreversible damage to the countries below.

But it is also fortunate that he did not do this. This behavior will seriously provoke the balance maintained by the world government. Once he does this, the world government will destroy him at all costs.

Even if he will suffer huge casualties after his death, the world government will not choose to keep his hand, they will not care about the life and death of people in several countries.

Even if he hangs the island above Mary Joa, the world government has ways to deal with it even if it is an island.

They can stand for eight hundred years, relying on the same force. During this process, countless islands were evaporated by special means.

This is also the reason why the beasts are only expanding. In the face of unknown forces, finding the entire slate is the safest way. They have no shortage of time. If they spend a few years to find the lost slate, there will be no overturning. Possibility, there will be no large-scale casualties.

Puff, puff, puff.

Two strange footsteps came one after another. The prosthetic feet made of the two swords of the golden lion and Indigo's weird farting shoes made strange noises. There were not many people on this island, and they were all taken away by Indigo back then. He is also the last supporter of the Golden Lion.

"Admiral, IQ has a very good effect on this kind of creature. The power it explodes after being manic is even more terrifying, and it still retains a certain degree of sanity, but the situation is very special. Just take a look and see."

Indigo took the golden lion to the laboratory on the island. As the door opened, there was a huge noise in the room.

"What's going on? Isn't this guy afraid of IQ plants?"

There are many giant beasts that they use IQ to transform on this island. Even the golden lions can't control these monsters. They can only use the breath of the IQ plants they fear to limit their living range.

These monsters were just ordinary animals on the island. ...

14 years ago, the people, animals, and plants on this island were still living in harmony. It wasn't until the golden lion discovered this place and moved the island away with the ability of fluttering fruit that it changed.

The plants were studied by his subordinate Indigo, the animals were transformed, and the original residents became the people who provided living materials for his remnants.

But this time, Indigo used cages instead of plants to restrict the opponent.

Facing the question of the golden lion, Indigo did not answer, but danced and performed strange movements, like yoga, putting his body into various strange shapes.

「Oh, that's right, I see.」

「How did you understand!?!」

Watching the golden lion understand what he meant, Indigo couldn't understand it.

「It's so clear, this guy is not afraid of IQ

This is the daily life between Golden Lion and Indigo. At this time, Indigo is the most trusted subordinate of Golden Lion. Even if he behaves strangely, he can understand.

Indigo stretched out his hand and removed the black cloth covering the cage, revealing the slightly manic steel armored crow underneath.

"This kind of crow is covered with steel, and the iron cage barely traps him until its physical strength is almost exhausted.

Besides, it can fly, and IQ alone is useless. "

"Isn't this the same as those beasts? Even more manic."

"No, Lord Admiral, look at this."

While talking, Indigo brought a piece of paper with a golden pattern on it. When the paper appeared in front of the steel armored crow, it suddenly calmed down after being frenzied.

"Ok?"

"It's this pattern. I accidentally discovered that even if it goes into a berserk state, it won't attack people with this pattern."

While talking, Indigo also showed it. After sticking the pattern on his chest, he boldly stretched his hand in and touched the body of the violent steel armored crow.

Although the steel-clad crow roared, it still restrained its behavior and refused to attack Indigo.

Before this, Indigo had tested it with many people, and it was basically guaranteed to be safe. In addition, the Golden Lion was right behind him, so he dared to be so bold.

「In other words, it can be controlled through this pattern?」

"No, it doesn't seem to be able to understand orders in a berserk state and there is only this one individual, so there is no way to continue the experiment. At present, we have come to the conclusion that this pattern can make it give up attacking, but we don't know where the limit of endurance is. "

As he said that, Indigo handed the paper to the Golden Lion. At the same time as he lost the paper, the steel crow's beak pierced out from the gap in the iron cage, and the target was Indigo.

「Interesting, is this pattern Kaido's kid made something new?」

It is not Kaido's pirate flag, but the logo of Arceus's wrist. IQ makes the steel crow become violent, and all living things will be its attack target, but the instinct in his bones makes it still obey the creation rules made by the author.

But the confused mind only recorded the Qianyu wrist, and it no longer has the ability to distinguish others.

"So, Indigo, this bird is the most suitable creature right now, right?

"It looks like this at the moment, just the admiral, these crows seem to be creatures controlled by the Beasts Pirates."

"Hundred Beasts? That guy is just a trainee. When I was a pirate, he didn't know where he was from."

Golden Lion is not afraid of Kaido. He has not lost contact with the outside world over the years, but the information he can receive is very limited

Chapter 657: "Fortune favors fools"

Golden Lion's memory of Kaido still stays before the Battle of the Valley of Gods. After that, he has nothing to do with Kaido. When Kaido was growing up, Golden Lion had already become a famous pirate.

In his opinion, only people like Whitebeard and Roger are worthy of his opponents, and trainees like Kaido, who rely on Charlotte Lingling to grow smoothly on the ship, are not a big problem at all.

After these islands were brought into the sky, the Golden Lion began to focus on development, relying on the remaining population on the island, and lived a self-sufficient life, which was as closed as the previous empty island.

Occasionally, he would see some news in the newspapers, but he didn't take it seriously. For example, he didn't take the title of Emperor of the Sea seriously. In his opinion, if he didn't retire, he was the closest to the One Piece King. people.

「Have you found the whereabouts of these birds?」

"Not yet, this kind of crow moves irregularly between the islands. According to those few people, this kind of crow seems to be responsible for picking up guests between islands."

Not only the armored crow was captured, but also the passengers in the taxi. After the Golden Lion got the information he wanted from them, he threw them into the village on the island.

「Let's let it go out and see if it will return to the nest by itself, Indigo, you should have something that can locate it?

「It's not difficult, but will it really return to the lair after being released?」

「Birds return home instinctively. Even if it doesn't go back, doesn't it have a locator?」

A bus with a fixed route is easy to find, as long as you wait on the fixed route, but the steel armored crow is a taxi, not a bus.

They fly in the sky without following a fixed route, and even choose a more suitable route according to the situation. Kaido's territory is now very large, and the operating range of the steel armored crow taxi even includes Four Seas and Charlotte Lingling territory.

As long as they have money, they can send passengers to most places. In this case, looking for a steel armored crow is like looking for a needle in a haystack. They can only hope for this steel armored crow in their hands.

Besides attacking, the berserk beasts mostly follow biological instincts, and this is just an attempt.

Indigo also has the potion to relieve the rage, but the reaction of the armored crow is too smart. If it returns to normal, it may not do that.

As a scientist under the Golden Lion, Indigo is also a top talent. It is not complicated to make a basic locator, and he quickly released the steel armored crow.

It's good to be able to find the opponent's group, even if he can't find it, if the ferocious steel armored crow spreads and kills wantonly on an island, he can still observe the battle situation.

As the steel crow was released, the group of floating islands manipulated by the golden lion gradually flew towards the direction of the locator. No one noticed that a few small black spots in the towering sky were quietly moving.

After a period of time, the Mammoth is in the sea area where the steel armored crow disappeared.

「I suddenly feel that this is a mistake」

Looking at the blue sea, Jack suddenly sighed. At that time, Yamato called them to come out and help. They came without much thought, but when they arrived at the predetermined sea area, they realized that it was a mistake. ...

Because Yamato's plan is to have no plan, and to take one step at a time is her course of action.

「Isn't it not too long to wait for a few days?」

Maria has much more patience than Jack, but seeing Yamato's actions, she is not sure, because she is just driving away seabirds.

"It's strange, the bird Pokémon that my adoptive father said clearly like sweet bamboo, why didn't they respond at all."

In addition to calling Jack and Maria, she also brought out a lot of Pokémon, Tianzhuzhu is one of them, her purpose is to use Tianzhuzhu to catch the steel armored crow.

Due to natural problems, sweet bamboo is in the diet of almost all bird Pokémon, and the armored crow is one of them. The Pokémon created by Onijima have stronger endurance. They will not eat sweet bamboo, but The same will be attracted by each other.

Sweet Bamboo Bamboo's own smell can be heard far away, but so far even the newsbirds have been attracted, and no trace of steel-clad crows has been seen.

「Is this how you search?」

「I think it should be drawn out, right?」

「It is true under normal circumstances, but it is missing. This is obviously an abnormal situation. Why do you think it can come out to find food by itself?」

Listening to Jack and Maria's words, Yamato's movements suddenly froze, as if she had forgotten something.

「Do you think there is a possibility. It was just delayed by accident?」

Yamato seemed to be looking for a reason to cover up the mistake, but Jack and Maria had already locked their suspicious eyes on him, and the younger brothers around him automatically chose to ignore it.

Jack and Maria can joke, they are not interested in this kind of thing.

But sometimes, luck comes so suddenly. To put it in an inappropriate way, it is that stupid people have stupid blessings.

Suddenly there was a bird song in the sky, and the steel armored crow really appeared.

「Look, what did I say?」

Jack and Maria had nothing to say, even if Jack thought it was just a coincidence, when the coincidence really happened, it could only show that the other party's plan was successful.

「Hey! Here! Where have you been all these days?!」

Yamato shouted at the steel armored crow in the sky, but the steel armored crow's reaction was very wrong. Instead of landing smoothly, it attacked the sweet bamboo bamboo, as if wanting to eat it.

Under rational conditions, the Steel Armored Crow would not make such a mistake, but now it is in a berserk state, and in most cases it is driven by wild instinct. It is already very good to be able to remember the appearance of the flag.

It's just that its situation is very tangled, and it seems to be fighting against something. It is the influence of Yamato and others' internal power. Arceus' ability to transform is as conspicuous as the flag, and the Pokémon he created will not recognize it.

It's just that most people don't have this qualification, so the flag is used to represent ordinary passengers.

「It's not right Maria, pull it off!」

Seeing that the steel armored crow first wanted to capture the sweet bamboo and then struggled to fly away, Yamato also noticed the abnormality inside. A spider web flew out of Maria's hand immediately, restraining the steel armor in the sky. crow.

Seeing that it was still struggling, Yamato jumped directly on its back, forced it to the deck, and found the locator that did not belong to the steel armored crow

Chapter 658 Indirect effective intelligence

The steel armored crow bound by the spider web has not given up struggling, its wings are constantly waving up and down, and the feathers on the front end are entangled with the spider web.

Steel Armored Crow has already evolved the outer feathers into steel during the evolution process. Although it is a feather, it is as sharp as a blade.

If it were an ordinary rope web, it would definitely be cut by its feathers, but it was the spider silk made by Maria. The more it resisted, the stronger the * the spider web would have on it.

"What's wrong with it?"

"I don't know, it can't communicate at all. It's a mess in its head now. Like a drunk * daddy, his mind is full of violent factors."

Yamato was answering Maria's question while suppressing the steel-clad crow with one hand, while groping for the steel-clad crow's neck, where she saw a strange shining point just now.

Soon she found the locator installed by Indigo. Due to the special body structure of the steel armored crow, it was directly welded to the steel armored crow's feathers by welding.

There are no pain-sensing nerves in the feathers of the steel armored crow, but it still makes Yamato feel very uncomfortable.

"This group of bastards. Don't let me know who did it! Ship doctor! Where is the antidote made by Taotaoguo? Get it here!"

Yamato does not know medical skills, she has nothing to do with sick people, the most she can do is to use the power of Viridian to relieve some pain slightly.

But because of Viridian power, she is an excellent Pokémon doctor.

The power of Viridian gives her the ability to heal Pokémon's injuries. While healing, she can also roughly sense what is wrong with the other party's body.

When she found that the steel armored crow went mad, she used the power of the rock to relieve the opponent's symptoms at the same time.

The power of Viridian is omnipotent for Pokémon's injuries, but in a single aspect, it is not as good as the special effect of the tree fruit. In the case of the steel armored crow, it is the impact of poisoning.

IQ is undoubtedly a kind of toxin to the steel armored crow, and peach fruit, which is specially detoxified, has become the most direct way of healing.

"The horse will be here soon, Lord Guiji, please wait a moment."

The ship doctor quickly returned to the consultation room on the Mammoth and found the corresponding medicine.

Yamato, who got the medicine, forcibly opened the mouth of the steel armored crow, and poured the packaged medicine directly into it. As the medicine entered its body, the steel armored crow stopped struggling fiercely.

"It's okay, it's okay, it's safe, you should have a good rest, Maria, it's okay."

Taotaoguo took effect very quickly. It didn't take long for Yamato to sense the feedback from the steel armored crow again, and then signaled to Maria to clean up the spider web.

The spider silk she releases is extremely sticky, but in contrast, Maria also has a way to deal with this kind of spider silk. If she doesn't handle it herself, it would be quite troublesome for outsiders to deal with these spider silks.

"Jack, look at this thing, can you recognize who it is?"

While comforting the steel armored crow, Yamato threw the removed locator to Jack. Maria seldom left the ghost island, and Yamato was not interested in intelligence work, so he usually threw it to Speed and the others to do it.

It's just that this time she and Maria sailed on Jack's boat, and because they came out "secretly", they didn't take them with them at all. Among the people present, Jack knew the outside world the best.

"I don't know, there is no mark on it."

One Piece World is characterized by always displaying one's identity with the Pirate Flag on various things. This is also the best way to judge a faction, through the flag.

At the same time, this is also a good way to cause conflicts with other forces. Many simple-minded people will directly make very arbitrary decisions based on the flags they find.

But it is unrealistic to trigger a battle between major powers in this way, and they are not incapable of communicating. This kind of thing can easily be reached through negotiation. Once discovered, the person pretending to be a flag will attract both parties to join hands to strangle.

If a fight really broke out, there is a high probability that the two sides wanted to go to war, but just needed an excuse.

Even if that is the case, the person who pretends to be the flag will not be let go afterwards. The flag is like life to pirates, whether it is destroyed or faked, it is an act of declaring war.

It's just that the golden lion is different. He has been developing all these years and has completely disappeared. Even Indigo did not leave a pirate flag on the locator.

But at this time, Steel Armored Crow gave Yamato an answer.

"Do you remember where those guys are?"

"ga"

Steel Armored Crow nodded in affirmation, it has entered a state of berserk, and it is not completely amnesia.

It still has some memories of what that island looked like, and it also roughly remembers the route to fly away from there.

After flapping its wings a few times, the Steel Armored Crow stood up again.

IQ didn't seriously damage its body. That thing was more like a stimulant, which made its body a little weak, but it didn't cause any serious consequences.

With the help of Viridian Power, it has recovered a lot.

Pokémon also hold grudges. The Steel Armored Crow Taxi Company has not had any accidents since its operation, which makes this Steel Armored Crow very much hate what the Golden Lion did.

"Wait, wait, forget about your situation and leave it to your companions."

Seeing that the steel armored crow wanted to stand up and lead the way, Yamato stopped it and whistled towards the sky.

The loud whistle resounded across the sky, and after a while, two black shadows appeared in the sky. They were the other steel-clad crows she brought over. She had been searching for the missing steel-clad crow before, and it was only at this time that she was summoned to fly away. return.

"Jack, destroy that thing."

"Ok?"

"Since those guys installed this kind of thing on the Steel Armored Crow, there must be a way to know its location, and they will definitely be able to detect it after it is destroyed.

Although I don't know what they want to do, but since they want to track the steel armored crow, they will definitely come to the door by themselves. We just wait for them to come. "

Steel Armored Crow's memory of the route is very vague, and Yamato is not sure whether it can really get it back, so he chose this way of waiting for work.

When things are related to Kaido and the battle, her nerves are also very sharp.

"It's not necessary, those guys seem to have come."

Jack threw away the locator casually, and saw a black spot in the sky gradually getting bigger, and a huge island was flying in the air, drifting towards the Mammoth.

Golden Lion had been following the Steel Armored Crow with its abilities before, and they had already noticed something was wrong from the moment Yamato removed the locator.

"Gah!"

Looking at the island flying in the sky, the missing steel armored crow uttered a cry and explained everything to others.

"Very well, blow those guys away! Doing this to a Pokémon. It will never be forgiven!"

Saying that Yamato jumped into the air, and when she fell, the bodies of the two healthy armored crows also began to swell, showing the shape of gigantic.

Burned for two days and started to recover, but it still feels weird. The last two updates, the rest will wait until it fully recovers

If you feel slow, you can raise books first, and I have nothing to do, my physical condition is like this for the time being.

Everyone, take care, I don't know what will happen after a while

Chapter 659 Remnants of the old era, everyone forgot who you are

"How to do?"

"What else can we do? Let's go together."

Jack and Maria looked at each other and jumped out of the Mammoth one after another.

There is one difference between them and the cadres of the previous generation. Most of the cadres of Beasts now have their own flying ability, only a few cannot fly alone.

But as the new generation of beasts, very few of them have the ability to fly.

It is not difficult to stay in the air for a short distance, but if they want to fly for a long time, they still have to rely on external forces.

The gigantic steel armored crow becomes a means of transportation. Jack and Maria are too big, and ordinary Pokémon cannot carry them.

These two armored crows are also the leaders of the pack, because they exhibit Gigamax, not normal Gigamax.

This is also an earth-shaking method for judging the strength of an ethnic group. Individuals who can undergo Gigamax are usually stronger than individuals who can undergo Gigamax, and they will also acquire more special abilities.

"Blade Bird"

At this time, not only the steel armored crows are flying in the sky, but also the special "blade birds" that follow them. This is a special weapon evolved from their feathers after Gigamax.

While the armor on the super giant steel armored crow has been strengthened, its wings have also become extremely huge.

Affected by the power of Gigamax, the steel armor covering the wings is separated from the main body and becomes a flying "blade bird". During the period of Gigamax, these blade birds will be similar to combat AI and have their own fighting thinking, to assist the main body to attack the enemy.

For the supergiant steel armored crow, they are the carrier-based aircraft of the aerospace carrier, up to the floating cannon next to it.

Each steel-clad crow can control eight blade birds, and a total of sixteen "blade birds" form an * formation, leading them to the floating island in the sky.

"Admiral! There is an unknown cyclone approaching here, it seems that something is flying over!"

On the empty island of the Golden Lion, Indigo was reporting the situation to Shi Ke due to a problem with the locator, but before they got close to the location where the signal was transmitted, the team of the Golden Lion reported a special situation through the phone bug.

Some pirate groups have special top teams, for example, the BIG MOM pirate group has a top dessert team.

Due to its own ability, Golden Lion's scientific research ability is not top-notch, but it has an excellent meteorological team.

Because the flying pirates often appear in the sky, the weather at sea has a greater impact on them. They must avoid those dangerous clouds to ensure the safety of their navigation.

"Unknown cyclone?"

"That's right, and it's getting closer and closer! We'll collide in two minutes at most, Admiral, do you want to avoid it? No, it's not right, that thing suddenly turned!"

According to their calculations, the cyclone in front is gradually approaching the island. Although it is outrageous that the cyclone appears from the sea, it is not incomprehensible in the great route.

It's just that just now, the cyclone changed its direction and rushed towards a higher position.

That is not a natural rising cyclone, but an updraft produced by the steel armored crow when it becomes gigantic.

The Steel Armored Crow uses its huge wings to catch the updraft generated by the Gigamax energy, so that its bulkier body can fly freely in the sky.

Birds have well-developed muscles, and the armored crow is even more so under the influence of Gigamax.

As long as they wave their wings, they can create strong winds that are not inferior to hurricanes.

"Admiral, we"

"Huh? Meet the enemy, have you forgotten who I am after more than ten years? I am a golden lion!"

Talking about the golden lion, he walked towards the door step by step, but he was handsome for only three seconds. He had just arrived at the door, and seeing the reflection on the glass, he suddenly shouted in amazement: "Why is there a chicken here!"

The person he calls a chicken is himself. Ever since the rudder was inserted into his head, his brain circuit has become abnormal, and he often makes similar remarks.

The surprised expression is more like a comedian, and it is impossible to tell that this is one of the overlords of the sea more than ten years ago.

"Isn't that you yourself! Idiot!"

Indigo slapped him on the head unceremoniously, looking extremely skilled, and the Golden Lion didn't get angry because of it, but continued to walk out calmly.

Outside, the Steel Armored Crow was ready to land.

In just a few minutes, they had already rushed to the predetermined location, and the outer beast defense line had no effect on them, and those berserk beasts could not threaten the Steel Armored Crow in the sky at all.

"These bastards. This thing must be destroyed. If this thing is let out, the Pokémon in the sea will be in trouble."

"The people behind the scenes have to be solved together, but this island is different from Sky Island."

Even though Maria seldom leaves Wano Country, she has seen the small sky island hanging outside Wano Country.

Knowing that the foundation of the sky island is the island cloud, she felt a little surprised that such an island with an earth and stone structure could fly in the air.

"Let's find out the person first. It should be in that palace, right? Steel Armored Crow, come and say hello."

Patted the head of the steel armored crow under him, Yamato pointed to the palace built by the golden lion. If he didn't know which one to fight, he would pick the biggest one. This is a very common logic in the sea.

Even if the strategic value is not high, killing a big guy will make the opponent feel bad for a long time.

The Steel Armored Crow was preparing to attack, but at this moment, a lion made of water suddenly rushed towards them from both sides.

That was the river water that was originally suspended around the island. Due to the ability of the golden lion to flutter the fruit, a large amount of water gathered around the island, and at this time it was transformed into a weapon belonging to the golden lion.

"Lion Might·Tian Shui Di Scroll!"

"Wu Shi Bing Ya!"

Frost spit out from Yamato's mouth, freezing the lion made by the golden lion in an instant, but after turning into an ice lion, the golden lion's attack still did not stop.

He is the ability user of Piao Piao Guo, and the inanimate objects he has touched are all under his control. The specific upper limit is still a mystery.

But even if Yamato freezes the water into ice, it is still controlled by the golden lion, and Yamato's ice seal makes it even more powerful.

Finally, after they smashed the ice lion with brute force, the Golden Lion's attack came to an end. Reorganizing the shattered ice * was not as simple as preparing a new attack for him.

"Interesting kid, who gave you the courage to come to the territory of the Golden Lion?"

Looking at the blond old man floating in front of his eyes, Jack, Yamato and the others fell silent for a moment. Just as the golden lion was immersed in this long-awaited feeling, the words that came into his ears made his hair explode.

"Jack, who is the golden lion?"

"Can't remember, I seem to have heard it a long time ago, which one should be the loser?"

Having disappeared for fourteen years, and with Golden Lion deliberately hiding his whereabouts, he successfully achieved his goal, and the effect was so good that he couldn't accept it himself.

Chapter 660 I am a golden lion!

Gossip spread into the golden lion's ears, and the golden lion seemed to have been petrified, maintaining its original posture motionless, not because of anything else, but mainly because it was a little awkward.

According to his original thinking, after the other party heard his name as the Golden Lion, whether they were shocked or afraid, even if they looked down on him, he could make a corresponding statement.

He never expected that these young people could give himself such an answer.

His current status is very special, and the bounty offered by the outside world is even 0. This is because after he was thrown into prison by Karp and Warring States, the bounty on his body was temporarily cleared.

Although the golden lion successfully escaped from prison, the world government did not intend to publicize this incident. This is not an achievement for them, but a shame.

Combined with the fact that after the Golden Lion escaped, they did not reissue the reward.

If a remnant of the old era can feel at ease for the elderly, that is what they most expect. It is for this reason that Raleigh lives very securely in Chambord.

Even if it was Golden Lion's own idea, he never thought that it would be so completely forgotten.

"Ahem, young people nowadays are dying, and they don't know anything about the elders. Anyway, I will let the old man tell you how gentle the present age is compared to the past."

"No, I just can't remember who the Golden Lion is. Hey, uncle, were you famous back then?"

Golden Lion managed to find a step for himself, but before taking two steps, it was demolished again by Yamato.

"No, I think you don't know much about the past"

"Nonsense! I have a good record in history! Roger, Whitebeard, Red Earl, Bundy Wald, Wang Zhi, John, aren't these all big pirates from the old days!"

Golden Lion rubbed his chest, he felt a little out of breath.

Forget about the previous ones. One Piece, the strongest man in the world, is also top-notch in the pirate circle. He can understand the lone traveler like the Red Earl and the lunatic Walder, but Wang Zhi and John.

They were all pirates on the same boat back then, and after Lockes disbanded, his reputation was much bigger than those two guys, but the other party couldn't think of himself alone.

This is actually a short-term loss of memory, very similar to the silent writing of ancient poems. I have memorized the entire poem, but I forgot what the empty sentence is. This is the case for the Golden Lion for Yamato and Jack.

The two sides are enemies in a strict sense, and this way of talking is not suitable now, but since the golden lion was inserted into the brain by the rudder, the brain circuit has become more and more strange. If this question is not clear, he will not be able to sleep in his life .

"Listen to me! I am a legendary big pirate! Captain of the Flying Pirates, Admiral of the Golden Lion Pirate Fleet, Roger's old enemy! Golden Lion Shiji! You even Wang Zhi and John! I've heard of it, but I don't know my name?!"

The cadres on the Rocks ship are not convinced by each other. Whitebeard's strength is recognized by the Golden Lion, and Roger is his old enemy in his heart. It is strange that no one knows them, but he cannot accept the latter.

It's just that he and Yamato are two parallel lines now, and they don't have any common language. In other words, Yamato's focus is completely different from what he thinks.

"Roger's old enemy? Isn't his old enemy Garp in the Navy?"

". That's the man I recognized! His biggest enemy in this life is me. If that * hadn't been lucky, how could he have become the One Piece?! Garp, what is he?!"

Do you know what you're talking about, you kid! "

"Well, it doesn't matter anymore, no matter how famous you were before, today I will completely beat you up!"

The aura that Golden Lion had just brewed was held back again. He didn't like the other party's way of speaking out of routine, so much so that he wondered if he had been closed for too long.

"Jie ha ha ha ha, young people nowadays are not only ignorant, but also stupid. Is it because of that bird that you three brats broke into my uncle's territory?"

He sometimes looks like an old lunatic, but he is not really crazy. The steel armored crow can still see the original appearance after Gigamax. Think about it at the helm, and know what happened.

These two big birds looked more powerful, and they were more in line with the appearance of war weapons in his mind.

"People like you who don't understand Pokémon. You don't deserve to mention them! I will pay you back the suffering you brought to the armored crow today!"

It was still the same strange situation as the debate just now, but it became tense in the blink of an eye.

Yamato took a deep breath, and the Ajian 7.0 built by the great blacksmiths appeared in her hands, with the armed color covering it, and the "Spike Fang" made of Arceus steel shone coldly.

White fur began to spread on the body, gradually wrapping the whole body, and the magic modified Dakou True God · full firepower state.

She still can't remember who this golden retriever is, but the water lion before let her know that this is not an easy opponent.

"The wild beast is just a tool. If you value that kind of thing so much, you will pay the price sooner or later. Since the sea has forgotten Lao Tzu, then I will let you remember the horror of Lao Tzu again!

Lao Tzu is a golden lion-Shiji! "

Speaking of the golden lion holding his big hand, the ground of the island rolled up like waves, and the earth and rocks gathered in the sky, turning into a huge rock-soil lion,

"Lion Might Land Scroll!"

Boom!

The earth shook, and the sound produced by the movement of earth and rocks was like a lion's roar, and the huge lion's mouth bit towards Yamato.

The island is suspended in the air because of his ability, and all inanimate things on the island are under his control.

"Thunder gossip!"

Facing the oncoming Lion Mountain, the domineering power was transformed into brand-new strength on Ah Jian. With a swing, a huge hole appeared on the Lion Mountain, and those hard rocks were also turned into powder.

It's just that this attack doesn't make much sense. The golden lion just shook hands again, and the shattered part was completed again. Like the water lion before, facing the Piao Piao fruit, just smashing it is meaningless.

Even if it turns into powder, it is still an inorganic substance under the influence of the golden lion's ability. Unless it disappears out of thin air, otherwise, it will be useless to attack.

But taking advantage of this opportunity, Yamato had already passed through the Lion Mountain, and Jack and Maria also lifted off again with the assistance of the Steel Armored Crow, avoiding the first wave of attacks from the Golden Lion.

Their targets are all locked on the golden lion. They will not leave the ability user alone, but will fight against the things he controls.

I haven't recovered yet, and my family has a fever again

Damn it, I don't know when it will be updated stably, let's talk about it after this first round, everyone protect yourselves
