

Arceus 681

Chapter 681: The Harrowing Experience of Sleeping Next to Darklay

Let's go, there shouldn't be anything you want on this island, right? "

Arceus walked towards the camp. The characteristics of the great route gave birth to islands of different shapes, but these uninhabited islands always have some similarities. After the Red Arrow Pirates returned to where they were supposed to go, it was just an ordinary tropical island, and there was nothing particularly attractive to him. "Here we come, Lord Holy Beast."

Shaina was about to leave here with Arceus, but she looked at the corpse of Baron Carnival again. After thinking about it, she threw the other's corpse into the cemetery of the members of the Red Arrow Pirates, creating a new grave there. Bag.

He used carnival as bait, and has been hunting other people for more than ten years, maintaining the existence of his partner. According to the consumption rate of Lily Carnation, the number of dead is not a small number, killing him is not a fault.

He is not a good person, but he is sincere to his partner, so Shaina took a little time to bury him. It's not too much effort for her, and she can make a suitable pothole with one punch. The word "partner" has played a pivotal role in the sea since the era of pirates.

There are violent groups like the Rocks Pirates with their own ghosts. The people on the ship can gather together because of Rocks' force. There is no friendship between them.

There are also counterexamples. Moria is an example, but not the only one. The destruction of the Moonlight Pirates was a huge blow to him, and he is still in a state of depression so far. novelusb.com

After returning to the camp where the beasts gathered, the pirates had already relaxed. Although the mind bodies of the Red Arrow pirates were immortal, they couldn't cause harm to the members of the beasts pirates.

The strength gap between the two sides is too great. They have met Roger face to face, but this does not mean that they have the corresponding strength. Baron Carnival's men think that their captain is stronger than Roger. This situation is very common in the world of pirates. universal.

Most people think that their own captain is the strongest, and the ambitious Blackbeard is no exception. The moment he chooses to board the Whitebeard ship, it is a gamble for him. If 3

Without Dark Fruit, he may always play the role of a "good son".

As Lily Carnation was destroyed by Shaina, the battle here has come to an end. They haven't let down their vigilance at the beginning, and those weird people who can't be killed are still worthy of their careful treatment.

It wasn't until the appearance of Darkley that they let down their vigilance. These people are the same group of people who strayed into the underworld, and they are also one of the few people who have seen Darkley's true face in the Pirate Garden of Beasts.

Arceus and Shaina haven't returned here, so some people relaxed again. "Hey, do you really dare to drink that wine?"

Watching the people around him pick up the rum on the table and pour it into their mouths, someone showed a worried look. "Ah? What's there to be afraid of? It's just wine. The rum tastes pretty good here." "No, aren't you afraid of becoming that kind of monster too?"

"If you can have that kind of immortality after drinking alcohol, I think it's a good thing. You are too careful. Master Darkrai has already said that the matter over there has been resolved. Eldest sister and Arceus The adults are there, what can happen?" "It seems to be. But why do you drink rum? Isn't there a better wine?" "..."

The person holding the wine bottle hesitated for a moment, then dropped the rum and began to look for other types of wine.

Among the pirates, rum is very popular. One of the reasons is that rum is cheap and easy to store, which can alleviate the problem of fresh water storage on board. Not all pirates have exquisite pirate ships, built-in power generation equipment, and large refrigerators. The environment of small pirate ships is very bad, and the fresh water will "degenerate" in a short time, and some disgusting mucous membrane-like bacteria will grow on it In this case, cheap rum has become their first choice.

These indulgent pirates are pirates who rest in order, and there are pirates who are in charge of vigilance nearby. In the past, they would envy the resting pirates, but today is different. After the battle, after drinking a few bottles of strong wine, some people fell asleep bragging, dreaming about their future in their dreams, but today

One day, all the pirates who had fallen asleep had dreamy dreams, and the screams could be said to be one after another.

Seeing these people waking up in cold sweat, the vigilant pirate laughed out loud. "what!"

「Hey, another one, tell me, what did you dream about again?

「You're not bad, I dreamed that I found a slate, and it turned out to be a fake.」

Listening to these people describing their nightmare experiences, the sleepless people beside them laughed unkindly. Tonight's nightmares can be compiled into a collection of stories. Only Darkley in the shadows helplessly caressed stroked the forehead.

He knew very well why these people had nightmares, but there was nothing he could do about it. That was his passivity, which was also the origin of the nickname "Nightmare God".

Momeng is Darkley's nourishment, and Darkley can also actively pull people into nightmares, but at the same time, he also has a passive aura similar to "Nightmare Domain", as long as he falls asleep within a certain range, will unconsciously fall into a nightmare.

This is Darkley's nature, and it's also his way of protecting himself and his territory. As long as he doesn't sleep, he'll be fine, but if he falls asleep, nightmares will definitely occur. Unless there are some special props, the effects of nightmares can be avoided.

The two little guys are not affected, they are ridiculously energetic, just like ordinary children, they only sleep about six hours a day, even after playing for a day during the day, they are still very excited now, and they are "fighting each other" at this time.

Brothers and sisters don't always get along very well. Sometimes it happens that they fight over something. The two are brothers and sisters. At this time, the fight is still in a state of evenness.

Shi Mo didn't stop them, and even encouraged this kind of fighting. As long as they don't hold grudges afterwards, they can do whatever they want. The fighting power of the fur tribe teenagers is almost all tempered in this kind of fighting.

The people who were awakened by the nightmare continued until Arceus and Shaina returned here. "My lord, you are back, then I will continue to look for that thing."

"Go, don't be too rigid about the route, some things are just as you like, and the location of the entrance is not fixed." "...Understood."

Da Jinglai didn't say anything, turned into a black shadow, and disappeared on the island after a short song. I'm afraid he didn't know exactly where he went to Lili.

Chapter 682: Lotte Kappa and Happy Egg The Egg that Disappeared

In February 1515, when they went out, the Siwon returned to Onigashima. During the nearly half-year voyage, they sank about a dozen pirate groups and destroyed two naval surveillance ships. No large-scale conflict broke out outside.

The navy's intelligence department analyzed the voyage route of the Shiyuan, and searched the passing area, but they didn't understand why the other party's voyage route was.

Even if they wanted to break their heads, they didn't expect that the halfway turn of the Siwon was just to coax the children. And the current Siwon is very lively, for some people who are not used to it, it is even close to noise. "Sigh, lol sigh, sigh."

A creature that looks very similar to a kappa is doing a dance, and it keeps singing strange tones.

The shape is similar to a football, it looks furry, and it looks very similar to a variant of a Kappa. It is the Pokémon created by Arceus on the way back-Lotte Pokémon-Lotte Kappa.

Because after leaving Carnival Island, Zana and Worf often missed the game with the Kappa-like member, Arceus created the Lotte Kappa to play with the two children.

The Letian Hezhang itself is a combination of grass and water. It is green overall, except that there is a layer of yellow fur on the body surface, and there are two brown zigzag stripes on it. The structure similar to a coir raincoat makes it look like a fisherman. .

A mouth similar to a duck, with a large lotus leaf on top of the head. At this time, the mouth is singing a joyful tone, holding Weina and Wolf on top of the head, clapping and dancing.

Research has shown that plants also respond to external music, cheerful music can accelerate the growth of plants, and Lotte Kappa, as a grass-type Pokémon, has inherited this ability to a certain extent.

Its cells are very special. The happy music rhythm will activate the cells of Lotte Kappa. As soon as it hears the happy music, the cells in the body will jump and be full of strength, and the body will involuntarily sway with the rhythm and start dancing .

This allows it to exert great strength in battle, and it will not flinch even in the face of a strong enemy. The joyful music is the song of battle for Lotte Kappa. It's just that the music is not available all the time, so Lotte Kappa hums this tune by himself to enhance his strength. It has much more energy than the lucky egg, which can perfectly cope with the abundant physical strength of Meowna and Worf.

"Letian Hezhang, take the two little guys back to Jiuli's home, you two are obedient, don't run around, I have already notified your father, if you run around, you will be arrested soon."

"Understood, Lord Arceus."

Talking about it, Lotte Kappa planned to dive and swim back to Jiuli along the river. Just now, it had learned the specific direction of Jiuli, but before it could dive, it was held back by others. "You don't have to, my lord, I've come a long time ago, I will trouble you during this time."

Just as Lotte Kappa and his brother and sister responded, Zeraora had already appeared here. The return of Arceus was no secret. Within a few minutes, the entire Ghost Island knew that the Siyuan had returned.

Naturally, Zeraola has been waiting here for a long time, ready to take the two little guys home. There is an example in the moment, and he is very vigilant about these two little guys playing "run away from home" Bo doll

They seem to regard that kind of escape as hide-and-seek, and they are very happy in this game. They often play missing with their families. The wild education of the fur tribe often makes Zeraora feel dizzy. The two little ones were brought back home by Zeraola, and Lotte Kappa moved into their new home as a matter of course. The necessity of building a new house was once again reflected. According to the current trend, the number of family members may increase in the future.

The people on the ship also returned to their own residences. After a long-term voyage, there will be a few days of vacation, and they are already used to it.

On the other side, Arceus, who returned to Ghost Island, saw several special figures.

Four pink prototype creatures came to Arceus, similar to lucky eggs, but they are not lucky eggs, but the evolution of lucky eggs, happy eggs

The change in the cry is their significant difference. The evolved happy egg has already changed the oral habit from lky to happy. "Huh? Have you guys evolved too?" "Happy~"

Several happy eggs responded one after another. Among the many Pokémon created by Arceus, the evolution of the lucky egg is relatively the most difficult.

There are many conditions for the evolution of Pokémon, the simplest of which is level evolution. Through the tempering of time, one's own strength will be continuously enhanced, and when it reaches a critical value, it will naturally evolve.

Some Pokémon will have some additional conditions, such as the need for food, the evolution of Kira is an example, but that is not a very complicated thing.

In addition, the evolution of some Pokémon needs to rely on the attribute energy provided by evolution stones and special props, which is also very easy. Making evolution stones and props is very simple for Almus.

Comparatively, communication evolution is relatively complicated. In the world of Pokémon, some Pokémon need to be communicated with trainers to evolve, and some Pokémon have to carry special props during this process.

But this is not absolute. In the natural world, Pokémon in the final form such as Gengar, Weili, and Longlongyan still exist in large numbers in the Pokémon group. Their communication evolution is based on the special magnetic field provided by the communication machine.

Under the influence of the magnetic field, their bodies will be affected and thus evolve. Even without communication, they can still complete their own evolution in places with special magnetic fields.

The most complicated thing is the Pokémon that evolves through intimacy, such as Lucky Egg. This is not a game, and intimacy is not a numerical value, but represents the harmonious coexistence between humans and Pokémon.

They can complete their evolution through the transmission of the emotion of "love". It stands to reason that their intimacy with Yamato should have reached the standard long ago. Yamato can be said to be brought up by the four of them.

But it hasn't evolved yet. It evolved after going out, which is actually a good thing.

Several happy eggs bounced and told Arceus what had happened during this time, but Arceus soon discovered a strange place. "Where did your eggs go?"

These four happy eggs are all high-level, and the egg regeneration speed will be slightly faster, but at this time their chests are all empty, and all the original loading positions are empty.

Although their eggs are highly effective, they should not be used at the same time, and it is even less likely that there will be egg thieves here.

Chapter 683: Kaido's tenderness, you are not blessed

Compared with the Lucky Egg, the shape of the Happy Egg has not changed much, and the Happiness Egg still maintains its original egg-shaped body.

The color is no longer a single pink, but pink on top and white on the bottom. There are some curly hairs on the head, small white wings on the shoulders, and a feather-like structure on the waist. .

Happy Eggs have a kind personality and are regarded as Pokémon that can bring happiness. It is said that only lucky eggs that communicate with the trainer can evolve, and this is the biggest reason why they have not evolved before.

In the thinking of Ji Lidan, the previous Yamato was not considered a trainer at all, but more like a daughter. After Yamato gradually grew up and this sense of perception changed, they triggered their own evolutionary conditions.

Whether it is a lucky egg or a happy egg, the egg on the chest is the most important thing. The egg of the lucky egg is rich in nutrition, and the egg of the evolved happy egg is a wonderful egg called full of happiness

Not only does it taste great, but there are also rumors that as long as you eat the egg of Happy Egg, you will be gentle and kind to everyone even if you only have one bite. No matter how cruel the Pokémon is, it will become gentle, and the same effect applies to humans.

Due to the preciousness of eggs, the lucky egg group in the Pokémon world has experienced several extinctions. It was the appearance of the Joey family that stabilized the status of this Pokémon. Their eggs cannot be taken away by anyone. Yamato can't it's not surprising that the eggs are leaving, but what is strange is what she wants so many eggs for.

"Really, she didn't tell you, forget it, go do your business, I'll go and see what she is going to do."

The happy eggs have left one after another, and they are going to do their own things. Their status in Wano Country belongs to the head nurse and the old mother who grew up serving the eldest lady. Under the cute appearance, there are special strengths hidden. At the same time, they have extremely high status.

And what they do most often is to comfort others. The fluffy body hair is its sensor, which can capture the mood of Pokémon and humans, and is particularly sensitive to sad emotions. The crying of children and Pokémon has a high probability attract them.

At this time, the chefs in the cafeteria on Onijima were a little flustered.

「Onihime-sama, it's dangerous, the fire is too big!」

Yamato was frying something on the stove, looking at the soaring flames, the chefs around were reminding her of the danger. But this danger is very special. Rather than saying that they are worried about Yamato, it is better to say that they are worried about themselves.

Ghost Island's equipment is very well developed, and the gas produced by the double bomb gas is not only used for Quinn's research, but part of the gas is compressed into liquefied gas. Looking at Yamato's operation, they were very worried that the gas tank would be blown up. With Yamato's current strength, not to mention the gas tank, even if it is replaced with a gunpowder tank, it will not hurt, but they are different.

They are just ordinary chefs lured by high salaries. Not all chefs can go to the battlefield with a knife, and their bodies are still very fragile. If it really blows up here, they are the ones who will be hurt the most. As for why not hide away.

They are chefs, and this is the kitchen where they struggle. What they have to do is to reduce the occurrence of accidents, not just sit back and watch it get blown up. "Don't worry, don't worry, there will be no problem, it will be fixed soon!"

There are several eggshells next to them, which are exactly the size of the eggshells of the happy egg, and Yamato is processing them at this time.

Egg cooking, the most basic thing, as long as there is no culinary black hole buff, most people can do this thing well, and as long as Yamato is not a cultural class, the problem is not particularly big.

If the chefs around were to come, they could handle it in minutes, but Yamato insisted on doing it by themselves, so they could only choose to obey. Now they looked at the big plate of scrambled eggs and the turned off stove, and they breathed a sigh of relief.

This young lady is not a vase who knows nothing, but she has strong hands-on ability. "This and this. Are you sure it's good for drinking?" "I'm sure Master Oniji, this is the way of drinking in my hometown." "Okay, let's do this, the wine I want is ready Is it?" "Ready, here." "You can do whatever you want, I won't bother you."

Yamato

He left the kitchen with the prepared eggs and wine. She didn't have any interest in washing the dishes and cleaning the kitchen. This time she came to the kitchen to do these things because she had her own. After Yamato left, the chefs returned to their respective positions, but the chef occupying the station looked curiously at the bottom of the bowl and the remaining egg liquid in the eggshell. It was a very peculiar fragrance. Out of curiosity, he dipped his finger in the remaining egg liquid and put it into his mouth. After the egg liquid entered his mouth, a strange feeling appeared in his heart, and he froze involuntarily. "Hey, what are you doing? Dinner is going to be served in a while, what are you doing stupidly?"

A few minutes later, the people around him noticed his anomaly and patted him on the shoulder to wake him up again. "Okay... so happy." "Huh??" "If you don't believe me, try it."

Looking at the remaining egg liquid held by the chef, he took a sip in disbelief, and then fell into the same state. On this day, the chefs in the kitchen realized what happiness is with the help of the remaining egg liquid. And this is Yamato's ultimate goal.

Yamato hadn't gone far, noticed the reactions of the chefs, and immediately gained more confidence.

From the mouth of the happy egg, she learned the magical effect of these eggs. Just one bite can make you feel happy, and no matter how violent the creature is, it can become gentle.

To her, Kaido is the most irritable creature in the world, if this egg can transform him... the world would be perfect.

「Yamato, what trick do you want?」

Looking at the daughter in front of him, Kaido felt that something was wrong. She usually had no time to hide from him, so how could she take the initiative to find him. "No, look, these are wine and appetizers, I made them myself."

Now it seems to Kaido that something is even more wrong, there must be a monster when things go wrong, Yamato must have some ghost idea that he doesn't know, but he didn't refuse the offer. "It looks good." "Of course, come on, Father, give it a try."

The appearance is not bad. It looks like a human dish. Kaido has no doubts about it. He just threw it all into his mouth. This daughter will not poison herself now 2

Even if he was really poisoned, the poison resistance in his body was full of fear.

As the food entered, a strange feeling appeared in his heart. Kaido suddenly grabbed the jug next to him and gulped down the wine. Then, under Yamato's gaze, he suddenly picked up his eight fasts.

「Wait, what are you going to do, father?」

「Yamato, you are too weak now, how can I safely let you go out and roam around like this?」

Listening to Kaido's words, Yamato thought she had succeeded, and it was impossible to say such words of concern from him, but the next moment, she realized that she was wrong

How outrageous.

「So... you have to become stronger, let me train you well, Lei Ming Gossip!」 「Wow!」

The mace swung the afterimage, and Yamato rolled on the ground twice. In a sense, she succeeded, and the egg of the happy egg had a certain impact, but she made a mistake. Kaido's perception of gentleness, it's not the same as normal people at all.

Chapter 684: Father save me!

Bazhai smashed the ground, and then swept towards Yamato with a sweep. Half of the floor in front of him was lifted up, and he flew towards Yamato with a broken arm. Fortunately, her instinctive reaction to Kaido was still there, and she condensed an ice shield with one hand to block the flying debris. "What are you doing?! You just drank so much and started drinking like crazy!"

"Don't talk nonsense, how can I get drunk with this little wine, but I found out that I made a mistake, I don't care enough for you...Wow!" For Kaido, he can skip food, but he can't skip alcohol. Unless he quit drinking under special circumstances, his resting place is similar to a wine cellar

Picking up a wine jar, to be precise, it was a big wine tank, and Kaido drank the spirits in a big gulp, crying while drinking.

Seeing Kaido who started to cry, Yamato felt a haze in his heart. There was indeed a lot of wine in that tank, but Kaido's physique was able to empty the alcohol in an instant. He was drunk because he wanted to be drunk, not because he had reached the upper limit.

Kaido's emotions can reflect his state. Once he starts crying, it proves that he is already on top.
"Caring? Do you call this caring!"

"Yamato, you don't understand, this is a very dangerous sea. If you are not strong enough, you might as well die by my hands instead of dying outside!" Boom!NOVELusb.com

The floor has been evacuated, and this time it was the floor that was hit. Gravel splashed, and there was a huge pit on the floor, and huge cracks even extended to the wall next to it.

「Father bastard! Why do I have to die outside!」

「Because you are too weak! You can't face Whitebeard, the siege of the Navy Headquarters, that old thing Garp, ancient weapons, or the revived Rocks.

Even Yamato didn't know what to say for a while. It was normal at first, but later, even dead people like ancient weapons and Rocks were pulled out by him. She couldn't understand what Kaido was thinking. that's it.

"Be normal to me, why do I have to die to find those old guys! And when I defeated that old lion, didn't you say that you have recognized me, and I can do whatever I want in the future!"

"you said before!"

"I don't remember, maybe your adoptive father promised you, it has nothing to do with me, if you say that, you should use that power again." Kaido did not continue to attack, but embraced the wolf fang Rod awaits Yamato's next move.

Kaido's silence took effect again. Since that battle, Zekrom once again returned to the state of ignoring Yamato, as if there had never been a creature called Zekrom.

Although Yamato has also undergone certain changes and can easily use some lightning, it is simply impossible to summon the phantom of Zekrom and enter the overclocking state like that day.

"Hehehehe, I guessed right, you can't do that, you are too weak like this, you have to hurry up and become stronger! Heat breath!"

Kaido's ambition is a chaotic world where status is determined purely by strength, so he likes war and is keen on fighting. Growing up on the battlefield, his definition of gentleness is completely different from that of normal people.

Only those with strength are qualified to make demands and talk about their dreams. In this dangerous world, the weak do not have the right to decide the future. For his own daughter, he has even more perverted demands.

Although he is tyrannical, Kaido is also a human being and has his own preferences. He has his own preference for the subordinates he recognizes. In the original timeline, when he heard that Brother Ming was arrested, Kaido complained that Brother Ming was too weak. 8

Jack was defeated, but Kaido did not blame him, but said that the enemy was too strong.

In this "gentle" mode, the power of Kaido's moves increased very quickly, and Yamato didn't have time to adapt.

Although Yamato relied on Jingshan to block the blow, her house on Onijima had reached its limit, a big hole appeared in the floor, and she fell directly to the next B

「Yamato, can you explain to me what you are doing?」

A shadow shrouded Yamato, in the dust, Arceus appeared in front of her, which made her feel relieved. "Father, save me quickly, that **** father is completely crazy!"

Chapter 685: Kaido's New Breakthrough Gentle Mode

Before the sore muscles recovered, Yamato, who was sitting on the ground in pain, used all four limbs, and came behind Almus in a way that was close to rolling. This was the safest place she knew, and it was the only place that could deal with Kai who went mad. many places.

Just a few minutes ago, when Arceus first entered Ghost Island, he felt that the movement above was not right. He didn't take it seriously at first. This is a very daily activity in Ghost Island.

This kind of battle often breaks out in the training ground on the top floor. There is a small earthquake in Guida, just like wind and rain, which is just a "normal" man-made natural phenomenon.

But this time it is obviously a bit too much. Human beings divide earthquakes into several levels according to their destructive power. Earthquakes with low levels can be ignored, and the earthquake resistance of houses can cope with this situation.

From the very beginning, it was just a small fight. Kaido's violent character was referred to when the Onijima was built. He dared to build a training ground on the roof. The resistance here is very superior. But with the passage of time, the magnitude of the earthquake was obviously increasing, and the pirates staying in the ghost island all sensed the abnormality and ran outside to seek refuge.

Among them, many people who just ran out of the bathroom wrapped in towels can be seen. They can all guess where the source of this abnormality is, and because of this, they dare not stay here.

And the higher Arceus got, the stronger the vibration was, until just now, Yamato smashed through the floor and appeared in front of him.

Looking at the steel bars that broke due to brute force, Zeus felt that his head was very big. During the transformation of Ghost Island, a large amount of Almus steel was incorporated into the building as a building material.

Only these fantasy metals can meet the increasingly complex construction needs and their destruction, but now, even the special alloy he made has been twisted. "What the **** did you do?"

"I didn't do anything, I just made him something to eat with my own hands. Who knew he had a convulsion, so he started to go crazy."

Reminiscent of the empty positions of the happy eggs before, Tong Ermus seemed to know what Kaido ate. At this moment, there was another vibration under his feet, and Kaido also jumped off from above.

The two beards floated backwards with the surge of air around him. Kaido's face was full of anger. At this time, he had entered the third stage of drunkenness - drunken anger. "Why do you use this method to carry it hard! If you change the method, the floor will not be broken!"

The root cause of the puncture of the floor is Kaido's force. Of course, if you look into it carefully, it can be regarded as a side effect of the Yamato plan, but in Kaido's view, this is the performance of "not good at learning".

She can use the barrier more flexibly, and spread the barrier under her feet to protect the floor while receiving his attack.

Yes, it is not to protect himself, but to protect the floor. In his opinion, Yamato will not die after being hit by a stick. It will be fine after a while, but the floor still needs time and effort to repair. 2

As for whether Yamato's defense can be practiced to that level, that is not a question for him to think about.

"Look, adoptive father! That **** father thinks that the floor is more important than me. He must be crazy. You should wake him up." Yamato behind Arceus was very relieved. If it was not safe here, she would I don't know where to hide.

"Yamato, fix the floor for me later. If there is any difference, I will personally train you." "Father! I'm innocent, I didn't do anything! It's my father who is drunk!" "I If you guessed right, you gave him the eggs of the happy egg, right?" "That's right, the happy eggs say that people who eat eggs will become gentler." "So I asked you to repair the floor, as for the present one Condition."

Arceus' eyes lit up with a burst of purple light, and a strange smoke was released by him, and the floor was filled with strange smoke in an instant.

Kaido's situation is very special. Strictly speaking, the egg of the Happy Egg is not a debuff, but a state, and it is still a buff. This situation must be handled specially.

Smoke of Clearing is just a skill born to eliminate the buffs on the enemy, so it can be said to be just right for it to be used here. "Father, is it over?"

Finish? Don't you know what your father's virtues are? "

The strange state on Kaido has been eliminated by Arceus, but Arceus does not have the ability to sober up. Now Kaido is still in a fighting state, and it is the situation where he is on the head.

"You're back? It just so happens that there's no one on this island who I can fight with. Yamato hasn't grown up enough, so you might as well come here." Looking at Kaido, who was drinking heavily, Arceus didn't say anything, just left Hikaru looked at Yamato behind him. "Yamato." "I'm here!"

"You will also be responsible for repairing that wall later." "Huh?"

Before Yamato understood the true meaning of this sentence, a huge shock knocked her back directly, and Almus beat out the dual-attribute Sanction Guangli of goblin and dragon.

"It's just right, I'll wake you up so that you don't get into a fight next time!"

Yamato is safe, and Zeus has already pushed Kaido out from here with Zeus' sanction. He controls the power of his skills. In terms of Kaido's physical fitness, it is impossible for any major incidents to happen, but they changed A battlefield has been established, otherwise Ghost Island will be wiped out.

Yamato, who stayed here, looked dull. She raised her hand to compare the battlefield environment slightly. The hole she made was only two or three meters in diameter, which was not a big problem.

Then he looked at the big hole Arceus made. "It seems that I didn't damage too much?" Whoosh

A gust of cold wind hits, and the cold air from outside blows into Ghost Island, making a weird sound in the corridor. "How do I fix this thing!"

Clutching her head, Yamato fell into a new round of despair, but after a while, the construction team came to help her a lot and really let her repair it. She just went to help.

As for Kaido, after a big battle, he was able to wake up. Although his consciousness was not very clear, he broke through.

He has always been a warrior on the battlefield. Combat is a gene in his bones, not only combat power, but also learning ability. Under the influence of the happy egg, he discovered a unique state.

In this state, he can abandon all distracting thoughts and enter that combat mode, which can even be combined with his state of wine and dragon gossip to erupt stronger combat power. Starting from this day, Kaido has also started a new round of training. He is looking for a way to directly enter that state without resorting to external forces. As for the name, it can be called gentle gossip or happy gossip for the time being. He is thinking of a more Domineering external name.

Chapter 686: "The Crime of Gluttony"

「Someone called the door?」

The next day, Jack, who returned to Ghost Island, looked at the big hole above Ghost Island, his small eyes were full of disbelief, and he was thinking, which lunatic drank fake wine and dared to stay in Ghost Island when Kaido and Arceus stayed at the same time? Call the door.

Siyuan stays quietly in the port, which is enough to show that Arceus has not left. Kaido may not go out by boat, but it is also easy to judge whether he is there or not, just look at the garbage dump.

If there are a large number of wine jar fragments inside, and mixed with Kaido wine gourd fragments, it means that Kaido was also in Wano during this period. fate.

As for why he came to this judgment, Onijima originally built multi-storey houses in the size of giants, and now the big hole that spans two floors cannot be drilled by ordinary people.

"No, Master Jack, it's just a little matter of Governor Kaido, Master Arceus and Master Onihime."

Measured the big hole on the top again, Jack didn't know what to say anymore, the structure of the house on Ghost Island is not ordinary, and it's obviously a real move to be able to build it like this.

"By the way, Mr. Jack, you are standing in a construction area. My suggestion is to stay away from there." "What can happen, just a few bricks?"

Jack didn't take this trivial matter to heart, but before he finished speaking, a shadow enveloped him, and a broken beam mixed with a large number of unknown objects was thrown from above.

The previous battle did not damage the main structure of the house, but it still needs a major repair, and some key components of the structure need to be replaced. Otherwise, if it happens again, Onijima may really collapse.

Arceus' sanction light gravel directly melted those things into molten steel, and those liquids formed some irregular aggregates after cooling.

There is no way to reshape these things and continue to use them. Based on the principle of not wasting, these things will become food for rock-type and steel-type Pokémon. In order to save trouble, Yamato just threw those things down.

Theoretically, there is no one in the construction area, but Jack is still very courageous, unless he is specially told to be more cautious, otherwise he is still that reckless man.

Boom!

With a muffled sound, Jack supported the falling building materials with one hand, but looking at the traces under his feet, he could estimate the weight of the thing, and at this time, Yamato also leaned out from the damaged place.

"Yo, Jack, you're back? Do me a favor, throw up the steel block over there, the one on it has been used up! By the way, you can take those things to the steel armored crow, and give the ones from the previous few days to Shaky It's time to pull them, and it's time for the Iron Crow."

Jack didn't say anything, just picked up the steel blocks with black lines all over his head, threw them upwards, and then dragged the waste away from here. He had an ominous premonition that if he dragged on, he might fall down again what.

Yamato firmly caught the steel block thrown by Jack, and then gave it to the people next to him to measure the size. After they determined the required shape, it was the turn of the giant blacksmith carrying the sledgehammer.

The material of Arceus steel is very special. It is extremely laborious for ordinary people to forge this metal. Great blacksmiths who are born with strange powers and are constantly learning forging skills perfectly meet this demand.

And there is another point, their hammers are also made of Arceus steel, the same material can play a better role in metal plasticity, which saves the process of Arceus personally correcting each piece of metal.

The work level of the giant blacksmiths is also very high. The only downside is that the scrap rate is a bit high, and there will always be a lot of scrap for no reason.

「You guys, be serious, don't always smash it on purpose!」

「Ha~」

"Don't quibble! I've already seen the steel **** at the corners of your mouths!"

They are excellent craftsmen, but at the same time, they are also steel-type Pokémon. Facing Arceus Steel, it is difficult for them to bear the desire in their hearts. They are also Pokémon, and they can eat hard candy, a little Earth eats Arceus Steel.

After they stumbled upon how to dispose of the waste, it started to happen, and the decoration appeared waste

The material is a very reasonable thing. Arceus made a lot of steel and gave it to the construction team.

Due to the absence of indicators, the scrap rate has remained high.

This is also the reason why those wastes were given to other Pokémon as extra meals. The stealing behavior of the giant blacksmiths did not hide Yamato, but she kept silent, which made the giant blacksmith more courageous.

Compared to repairing houses, the Great Blacksmith is actually better at demolishing houses, and he can demolish them without leaving any scum.

The previous ban on the entry of steel-type Pokémon was also because of the fear of this kind of thing happening. By the way, the hammer of the giant blacksmith is not only a weapon for survival, it is also their emergency food reserve in an extremely critical situation .

"Don't eat any more, I'll take you guys to get other delicious food after I'm done, it's time to catch up, and you guys too! I saw you hiding things, hurry up and finish the project, and I'll send those to you! "

Arceus Steel is the professional name within Beasts, and the people of Wano Country call it more simply—Kobel Steel, which is the dream steel in the eyes of all craftsmen and knifsmiths. The giant blacksmiths are greedy, and they are in the giant forging Carpenter's mouth to pick up the remaining steel powder.

Large pieces of steel lack the means of melting and casting, so they can only choose to improve the quality by doping powder.

This is not against the rules. Arceus steel is an inexhaustible resource for beasts. If it didn't feel that it was slowing down the progress, Yamato would not say it in person.

She didn't take this matter to heart, but those craftsmen didn't think so. Yamato didn't understand what happened, and found that these people worked harder.

Yamato always thought he was kind, and in fact he was, but the craftsmen didn't think so. It was not a good thing for them to be discovered. In their view, Yamato meant to let them make up for their mistakes.

As time passed, the forged steel frames returned to their original positions, and the decoration team also started their own filling work. Yamato also carried a pile of wooden boards and walked to another floor. The outside was repaired, but the inside was torn apart. Fei's floor had to be resurfaced.

The sound of thumping in Onijima kept ringing, and the restoration project was still going on, but some people were not very happy. In the training ground in Wano, Quinn lay on the ground feeling hopeless and didn't want to wake up.

Not long after he went out, he was captured by Kaido as a training object to familiarize himself with his new mode.

Chapter 687: Quinn who saves himself with extreme science

After being beaten out for an unknown number of times, Quinn's patience finally reached its limit.

「Brother Kaito, is it over yet?」

"No, this doesn't feel right, it's always a little bit worse, get up Quinn, and practice again."

A father's love is like a landslide, and a filial son is like a torrential rain. Internally, this is a gentle model. When Garp hammered Luffy every day, he also claimed that it was the iron fist of love, but he would not say that to outsiders. Externally, this belongs to Bengshan gossip.

But I don't know why, this state seems to be exclusive to Yamato. When fighting with outsiders, Kaido always feels that something is missing. The happy egg is one aspect, and Kaido has never found that opportunity. .

In order to become proficient in the new fighting style as soon as possible, he began to temper his younger brother to achieve a win-win situation of earth expansion and ambush.

「...Brother Kaito, don't you want to change your training object? What do you think of Jin?」

Raising his finger and embracing Jhin flying in mid-air with both hands, Quinn tried to divert the firepower, but he failed.

"No need, you are more resistant to beatings, and have stronger recovery ability, and you are still far from your limit. Give you 10 seconds, if you don't prepare to defend, I will attack directly!"

Jhin is also one of his goals for sparring. A state is not prepared for only one opponent, and he can't find a new state for every opponent.

It's just that Kaido now feels that it's more appropriate to practice from Quinn first and then change the object.

Under Kaido's coercion, Quinn had to get up again to prepare for a new crisis. The result was also very clear. When Kaido deliberately fed the move and released a sea, Quinn was defeated gloriously.

「Strange, it's almost...」

「Brother Kaito, I've seen the video of Onijima before, it seems that you first entered the mode of drinking and dragon gossip, and then that kind of situation appeared.

Now that you haven't been drinking, you want to skip this step, isn't it a bit too advanced? "

Jhin has been observing the entire battle from the perspective of God in the sky. He is not as powerful as Kaido, but his eyesight is still there.

Sometimes the bystander is clear, and God's perspective can better see the problem.

「I don't really want to use external force, let's try again.」

Kaido really doesn't want to use external force. Jiulong Gossip wants to drink to find the feeling of being slightly drunk, but drinking on the battlefield is no problem.

Now, for him, there is no need for courage or anything.

And there is another problem. After drinking, smashing the gourd with wine is a kind of trickery in his opinion, but eating eggs is not acceptable.

He can't take a boiled egg, and when he is about to enter the mode, he can eat the egg in public. Eating the skin will make him even worse.

For this reason, he must break through himself and find a stable method.

"Brother Kaido, I think we can proceed step by step, starting with Jiulong Gossip."

As he said that, Jhin handed over Kaido's jug, and Quinn's eyes almost shattered his sunglasses when he saw all this. Jhin is a very bad thing, and he is sure that Jhin bewitched Kaido to gossip with the wine dragon. Practice is definitely not safe.

His words are correct, this kind of practice is definitely beneficial, but Kaido just wants to lie down directly through this process, otherwise he would have been drinking.

And that's the problem, Kaido, if he drinks a little, he'll get on top, let him enter the mode of drinking and gossip, what kind of virtue should he be labeled as?

「Brother Kaito! I think it's good to practice this way, don't listen to that torture pervert talking nonsense!」

「What, you trash, do you still want to hold back Brother Kaido at this time?」

「Who are you calling trash? Try saying it again!」

「Whoever can't beat me is the one, why don't you try again with me?」

Jin and Quinn are still in this state. Unless there is a foreign enemy, it is normal for them to pit each other against each other. Of course, most of the time, Jin is pitting Quinn, and Quinn really has nothing to do with him.

「...You are so active, so come on!」

They just tried it not too long ago, Lunali

The health bar of the Asians made Quinn feel desperate. In the end, he was the one who lost. Kaido's sparring was desperate, but he needed physical strength. He couldn't beat Jhin in this state, so he changed his thinking.

There was nothing wrong with this idea, but he forgot one thing.

"I don't mind, but Brother Kaito personally chose you."

Γ.”

Even through the mask, Quinn could feel the playful smile under Jhin’s mask, and Kaido has already proved himself with actions.

Crack!

There was a sound of broken pottery in my ear, which meant nothing more to say.

"Quinn, you still have the strength to fight. It seems that you are recovering well. Work hard. I think your movements are much slower than before! Thunder...gossip!"

In the mode of Jiulong gossip, Kaido waved the thunder gossip again with a little depression...

After a slightly painful battle, both Quinn and Jhin fell to the ground. After Quinn was exhausted, Jhin joined the sparring team. Whether it was the dirty tactics of the tropical dragon or the powerful physical fitness of the Lunalia tribe, they both fell to the ground. Failed to solve the last Kaido.

The wild boar cart pulled the two of them back to the resting place in the Flower City, and Kaido also flew back to Onijima, and continued his hangover career. If he didn't need to find status from people other than Yamato, he would pull Follow Yamato to exercise.

Olga is not the type to fight with brute force, and he plans to try again with Shaina and Zeraora next.

Such days are still going on, and Quinn finally persuaded the happy egg through various small means, and got a happy egg.

"Hmph, I want to see what special ingredients are in this egg."

Essentially, he is still a scholar, and he is still the leader of beasts when it comes to research. For this reason, he even found Assier, determined to figure it out.

But the final result was a failure. It was an extremely nutritious egg. Other than that, they didn't find any information.

"Brother Quinn, why don't you... ask the group of people on Xiaokong Island. Those people seem to have switched to Pokémon scholars recently. There should be more research on this thing."

"Pokémon... You reminded me, ask what those guys are doing, I'll go to Master Arceus to get some information."

Those paleontologists in Sky Island changed their careers because of their interest. Through their research, they did summarize the life rules of some Pokémon, but for Pokémon, Almus is the person who knows them best.

In order to get rid of Kaido's torture as soon as possible, Quinn left his laboratory immediately. As long as he practiced that, he should have no interest in such things. As for who will be tortured next, as long as it is not himself, he loves whoever.

Chapter 688: That year, he straddled eggnog and didn't know what his opponent was

Quinn sneakily appeared on Ghost Island. He was worried about being hit by Kaido, and then he was temporarily dragged to extra training. "Quinn? What are you doing sneakily?"

He did not have Kaido, but Shaina's voice sounded behind him.

"Jin said that you have been taught a lot by Mr. Kaido recently, is it itchy?"

"Shh! Auntie, please forgive me, Mrs. Yamato first, and then Brother Kaito, I have had enough."

In this environment, Quinn immediately chose to admit cowardly. Compared with Jhin, Shaina is more ruthless in attacking, and she really knows how to fight, unlike Jhin, who just bickers most of the time.

「What are you doing here? The Holy Beast hasn't been looking for you recently, has he?」

She just came back from Jhin's place not long ago, and she mainly went to give Jhin the seeds of Lily Carnation. Some of those seeds haven't germinated yet, and they need to go through some special methods before they can be used.

The Lunaria tribe was originally a race with a very wide inheritance, but until now, the tribe has almost become extinct. In Shaina's knowledge, there is no other tribe except Jhin.

Lunalia's knowledge inheritance has also become a problem. In the process of exile, they learned to fight and also learned some special knowledge. In order to pass on more things, they learned different things respectively. Who is better at it? In this regard, it is up to who will learn.

In terms of plants, Shaina's talent is higher than Jhin's, so only she knows the specific way of giving birth to Lily Carnation. Just now, she wasted some time teaching Jhin to master this ritual, and helped him guard it outside for a while.

This is not the carnival island, it is surrounded by no-man's land, in Wano country, there are some things that need to be paid attention to. "Can't I ask Lord Arceus for something?"

「Is there a breakthrough in Assier's research?」 「No.」

「Did you find something of great value?」 「This.No..」

「Then what are you doing here, making trouble?」

「I'm here to save my life. If this continues, I'll be driven mad by Old Kaido sooner or later. By the way, according to Brother Kaido's recent statement, he's going to try with you and Zeraora next.

Jin and I can no longer meet his needs for combat power. "

Said that Quinn continued to walk forward, Shaina did not continue to stop him, even Shaina didn't want to be entangled by Kaido because of this kind of thing.

And Quinn also continued to embark on his own scientific self-help road. When science reaches its extreme, it becomes theology. For Quinn, he is still on that special scientific road.

「That's how it is, Lord Arceus, you should know what's in that egg, right」

Quinn recounted what happened recently, and also expressed his purpose, mainly to find out why the egg of Happy Egg can achieve such a strange effect.

「Of course I know, but you can't reproduce that kind of thing.」

The egg of Happy Egg is not only an egg, but also a collection of energy and nutrients in the Happy Egg. Like the skills released, it is a magical substance composed of Pokémon energy.

In the case of sufficient nutrients, the eggs of happy eggs will regenerate faster. During the battle, they can also frequently use egg-laying skills to convert physical energy into similar objects.

Arceus can help the happy eggs replenish their energy and make them provide more eggs, but there is no way for Quinn to decompose that ingredient.

"But in your knowledge, don't you know that there is something called eggnog?" "Eggnog? Can eggs also make wine? Is this a folk recipe in some sea area?"

There are very few pirates who don't drink. Even if they don't drink, most of the pirates have a certain understanding of alcohol. Quinn has never heard of eggnog.

However, this is not brewed, but blended. After mixing eggs, rum, whiskey, milk, and sugar, you can get eggnog.

Compared with wine, it is more like a sweet drink, but it is enough to solve this situation. Kaido just needs a little taste of wine to find the state of drinking and gossip, and whiskey and rum are both spirits. Adjust the ratio example, it is easy to make suitable drinks.

"As expected of Master Arceus, he knows such things, so he should be saved now."

Quinn didn't achieve his goal, but found a solution from an alternative angle, and finally he got an improved version of the eggnog recipe from Arceus.

Whiskey and rum are still the ordinary drinks purchased, the milk in the big milk tank replaces the ordinary milk, the eggs of the Happy Egg replace the eggs, and the sweet secret seasoning replaces the sugar, making a brand new drink.

Due to the improvement of the formula, this eggnog has an extremely long shelf life. Due to its powerful effect, the eggnog with this formula is not sold outside.

The milk in the big milk tank has little effect, but the eggs and secret seasoning of the happy egg are different.

The eggs of Happy Eggs can not only make people feel happy, let Kaido find that strange feeling, but also restore physical strength, and the secret seasoning is also extraordinary.

They are not ordinary seasonings, but plants that grow in special areas. They have different flavors, which allow Pokémon to gain power from them. extraordinary.

Because the seasonings bring them powerful power, they are called treasure masters, and it is difficult for ordinary people to defeat them. After eating the secret seasonings, they can instantly recover from injuries, strengthen their physical strength, and increase their strength. They can be called powerful without side effects. ***.

「Brother Kaito! Look at this, with this thing, you can perfectly solve that problem.」

Quinn also understood that Kaido has two essential props, eight fasts and a wine gourd. It is not realistic to carry an egg with him, but it is no problem to replace it with eggnog.

So this time he took the initiative to find Kaido, hoping to "prevent future troubles forever."

「Master Arceus gave you a folk remedy, using this can help you enter that state.」

Kaido took the wine gourd handed over by Quinn, tried it tentatively, and really found that wonderful state. "Heh heh heh, that's the feeling, it really kills two birds with one stone."

"It's fine if you're satisfied. If that's the case, I'll leave first."

Quinn intends to study his own bananas. The sweet secret seasoning seems to be very suitable for his tropical dragon bananas, but there is a big gap in the ground in front of him, blocking his way. Looking back, the cracks The other end happens to be the landing point of the eight fasts.

"Brother Kaito."

"I was planning to find Shaina and Zeraora, but you took the initiative to find them, so it's time to help you temper."

Chapter 689 "Street Fighter" - Pink Hair with Twin Ponytails

Eggnog solves a large part of the troubles, but there are still some problems. Both the wine dragon gossip and the gentle mode have to rely on certain external forces.

The most ideal situation is to make these two states the same as his Dragon Dance Gossip, which can directly activate skills without external force. Wine Dragon Gossip has no ideas for the time being, and the feeling of drunkenness is hard to find, but the latter is different.

There is still a chance to work harder, so Quinn did not get rid of the difficulties directly. He experienced torture and growth in Kaido's training, and the other cadres were similar, single-handed or group fights.

After the renovation of Onijima's house was completed, Yamato was dragged in again by Kaido. It seems that this state will last for a while until his interest passes.

At that time, there is a high probability that he will go out to find the next unlucky guy, so that the other party can experience his enhanced strength, which means that the cadres of Beasts are temporarily relieved.

The houses on Ghost Island have been repaired, and the work of the giant blacksmiths is temporarily over. When there is no special task, their job is to process metals. With the help of giant hammers, they can complete the forging of metals more efficiently than machines.

This is their job. When they are resting, they will hang out in groups in the streets, and even become a unique landscape.

The city of flowers, Kojiro's residence, the housekeeper is exercising outside the door.

Although Kojiro moved to Nozomi for some convenience, King Enmu and Katie live there, but any area in Wano country can find his residence. He is now the richest businessman in Wano country.

His position is very stable, and other people can't shake his position. Of course, compared with Tezolo, Kojiro's assets are nothing. Interests.

The great blacksmiths were walking down the street carrying sledgehammers, and those who saw them chose to avoid them.

This is not bullying the market, but their status as grass-headed gods.

In the eyes of most residents of Wano Country, the great blacksmith is the **** of the forging industry, and it is only natural for them to give way.

The huge hammers collided with each other from time to time, making a crisp sound. Each giant blacksmith carried a small bag on his chest, which was filled with strange-shaped iron slags. This was the "fire loss" from the previous house repairs, and now it fell into the In the hands of the great blacksmith.

They have their own share of metals every month, but most of those have to be melted into their own hammers. It can be said that the hammers of the great blacksmith are constantly being updated. If they eat too much, there will be no extra shares. Repair your hammer now.

So these great blacksmiths will not let go of similar opportunities, carrying hammers and eating snacks, the steps of the great blacksmiths seem to be random, but the destination is very clear, it is Kojiro's residence.

Not long after, they appeared at the end of the street. Seeing those pink figures, the housekeeper rubbed his eyes, and ran back home in a panic.

"Master Kojiro! Master Kojiro! Those great blacksmiths are here again!"

Whether it's tone or actions, the butler's state is very stressful. Unlike ordinary Wano residents, he seems to be afraid of these pink-haired double ponytails. In fact, it's not that he is afraid, but that Kojiro has a slight headache for these giant blacksmiths. .

Every time those great blacksmiths come to him, they are like bandits going down the mountain. They always want to knock something down. It's fine if it's just ordinary things. The offspring are a big expense.

But the problem, the goal of these great blacksmiths here is to knock some parts from him.

He is also one of the benefactors, with the ability given by Arceus, but coincidentally, his ability is to chop the commander.

itself is also a very powerful Pokémon, with good performance in terms of resistance and attack surface, but he happened to meet the giant blacksmith.

The habits of giant blacksmiths make them interested in collecting metals, not just minerals, but also the steel on the body of steel-type Pokémon.

Among the many steel-type Pokémon, the giant blacksmith is obsessed with the families of the Steel Armored Crow and the Commander of the Slasher. The feathers of the Steel Armored Crow and the armor blades of the Commander's family are both their favorite things.

Be careful when the armored crows on Ghost Island land. They will not try to knock down the armored crows at the request of Arceus, but if they have the opportunity, they will still grab a few feathers from them.

There are a lot of steel armored crows, and the fallen feathers will be given to the giant blacksmith. It is not a big problem on weekdays, but there is only Kojiro, the commander of chopping, in Wano country, so the goal of the giant blacksmiths is also very single. .

They will use the excuse of sparring to duel with Kojiro who is in a state of ability, and they will never stop until they knock something down.

"Ahem. Is it so fast this time?"

"Yes, I think they are almost at the door, why don't you hide?"

"Forget it, it doesn't make any sense, just take pity on my hair."

Touching his hair, Kojiro felt that his hair was about to go away. There are two types of steel-type Pokémon. One is the rare type of giant blacksmith, which has less metal structure on the body and collects metal from the outside. .

The other is the normal state of steel-type Pokémon, with solid armor all over the body. These armors are not non-renewable resources, and as time goes by, the nutritional supplements will gradually recover.

The same is true for the blades of wild Commander Slashers. For them, they are claws and hair, and they need to be sharpened from time to time. Finding a territory with a suitable whetstone is one of the life goals of Commander Slashers.

If it cannot be regenerated, it may disappear after grinding.

Kojiro is a person with abilities, not the Commander of Slashing. The body damage after becoming abilities will also be reflected on his own body. In his case, he will become bald temporarily.

In a sense, he can be regarded as selling hairbrush favorability, and for him, this is also an opportunity to hone his martial arts.

Hyogoro, who was originally a guest in the courtyard, looked at Kojiro's slightly helpless expression, and had some doubts.

"What's wrong Kojiro, is there anything embarrassing?"

In today's Wano country, Heigoro couldn't think of anything else that would embarrass him.

"This... can be regarded as a little joy in life. If you are interested, Uncle Heigorang, just come and give me some advice."

Getting along with Pokémon will produce various wonderful reactions, being poisoned by double bomb gas, being electrocuted by Mali sheep, there are many similar things, but what happened to him is rather strange.

Kojiro did not carry a saber, but came to the center of the courtyard with bare hands, waiting for the arrival of the great blacksmith.

Chapter 690 The worries of people approaching middle age

Kojiro has a more straightforward choice, that is to get some blades by himself. For the body of the commander, this is similar to cutting nails and shaving hair.

It's just that the wild giant blacksmiths are not so friendly, so the relationship between the two races is more like old enemies.

But this is the Wano country, so this kind of ecology was born, and different relationships are born due to different living areas, which is also a characteristic of Pokémon.

The number of Laplaces in the Hoenn region is rare and extremely rare, but in the Alola region, due to over-protection, the Laplaces are somewhat flooded.

So here, as the possessor of the ability of Commander Chop and Slash, Kojiro and the great blacksmiths have reached a new way of life.

He refused to give it for free, but let the great blacksmiths take it by themselves. Today, Kojiro's essence has not changed, he can swing a few powerful knives, but compared with opponents of the same level, his skill and durability They are all worse.

Now he is well aware of the importance of strength, so he regards the great blacksmiths as the objects of practice, otherwise he can also write a letter of complaint. With his current contribution, Arceus will not care about helping him limit the power of the great blacksmiths. strange behavior.

But he didn't choose this way, but chose to build a good relationship with the giant blacksmith. Although even his housekeeper felt that Kojiro was very awkward when facing the giant blacksmith, their relationship was actually pretty good, especially in the giant blacksmith. When blacksmiths have no metal needs.

Heigoro got up curiously and followed Kojiro. Not long after, he saw five giant blacksmiths jumping over the wall one after another. If he had come a few months earlier, he would have literally broken in.

At that time, because the butler locked the door, the giant blacksmiths chose an extremely simple way to open the door. The exclusive skill giant hammer is not a joke, let alone the door lock, the door can be hammered away directly.

After that, Kojiro had a cordial and friendly conversation with them. On the premise of writing a letter of complaint, the two parties reached a consensus that no matter what the circumstances, the buildings here should not be damaged.

Regardless of their short legs, the strange power they carry gives them a terrifying jumping ability. It is not difficult to do this kind of thing.

"what!"

"I know, I know, you are really enough, are you here counting the time?"

"Ha~"

The head blacksmith handed him a small box, looking at the door-to-door blacksmith who had already started to take presents, Kojiro didn't know what to say for a while.

No matter what the process is, the result will not change.

The "material collection process" started quickly. Although Kojiro didn't carry a saber, the hands of Commander Chop and Slash are sharp blades in themselves, which can also be regarded as two short knives. Heigoro also saw the disadvantages from this.

If there is one giant blacksmith, Kojiro can handle it with ease, and there is no problem with two.

Their racial differences are not so large that Commander Chop and Slash cannot fight back, and the individual differences are also obvious. The specialty of these giant blacksmiths is not in combat.

But the problem is that Kojiro has five opponents, and these five giant blacksmiths can be said to be the same mother.

When forging, they can swing five sledgehammers out of the afterimage without interfering with each other, and create an item at the same time. Under the training of this mode, their cooperation is extremely tacit, and there are even some combination skills, such as strange force flying Hammer or something.

Under their siege, his situation became very difficult.

In the beginning, the giant blacksmiths fought him one-on-one, but now the gang fights are at Kojiro's own request. You can choose the difficulty on the training ground, but the enemy will not. Whether it is siege or poisoning, it is a possible crisis. He is also training himself.

After a long while, the great blacksmiths embraced the blade fragments and left here happily. Kojiro stood up with the support of Heigoro, and touched the top of his head helplessly.

"I made you laugh."

"You can't do this, the actual combat experience is still too little."

"This is also something that can't be helped. If so many things hadn't happened, I wouldn't be like this now."

"I'm not telling you this! What about the things I taught you! Did you just turn around and forget, you haven't practiced at all during this time!"

Taking a pipe on Kojiro's head, Heigoro started his own teaching again. In his opinion, Kojiro's coping had many problems. This was not only a problem of experience, but also a problem of lack of practice.

"This. I'm busy after all"

"Your favor means raising fish and drinking tea in the garden?"

Pointing to the place before, Heigorang's face had a feeling of not being able to live up to the younger generation.

"It's not that you came, I just came out. I will practice more."

By all means, Kojiro successfully persuaded Heigoro and sent him back home.

Then he looked at the gifts brought to him by the great blacksmiths, which seemed to be the honey recently produced by the three bees, as well as some other associated products of Pokémon.

"Master Kojiro, I have a call for you."

While Kojiro was inspecting the presents, his butler came over with a communication snail. When he was discussing things with Heigoro, he didn't carry a communication device, so he called the mansion.

"Huh? Who?"

"It's Setsuna-sama"

"Miss Setsuna, it's me, what's the matter?"

"This... is not a big deal. I'm outside your Ximei's house now. I may have to go in and find something. If something is broken, you will send a bill to Jiuli later, and I will compensate you."

"what?"

Kojiro didn't understand what was going on for a while, he didn't understand why the other party went to his house to find things.

"I don't know where those two children followed your little card. I happened to catch up here, so I'm bothering you."

"It's okay, it's okay, you can do whatever you want."

"Thanks."

Seeing that Kojiro agreed, Setsuna hung up the phone.

"Master Kojiro, you should also think about the issue of future generations. You are the only one in the Sasaki family now. If you... sorry, my subordinates made a slip of the tongue, but this is the list of women of the right age in Wano country. Do you think about it? "

"Old man, I don't want to fall into the quagmire of marriage just yet"

As he grew older, Kojiro's old housekeeper became keen on urging marriages, which made him very headache, especially the daily routine of Setsuna made him even less willing to join that kind of life.

Meanwhile, Nozomi and Kojiro's residence.

In an instant, he sniffed the smell in the air, and became more sure of his thoughts. These two children must have come here. I thought they were still young, so there is no need to make life cards now.

But she has changed her mind now, and will make a life card for the two little guys later.

"The babysitter is gone, I will trouble you later."
