

Arceus 691

Chapter 691 is wrong, next time I dare to serve with the nanny bug's tailor

There is a babysitter beside Setsuna. In terms of the number of babysitters, Miao Na and Worf have no advantage, but in terms of types, they are more abundant than Yamato, because their personalities are too naughty.

The nanny bug is to deal with a special problem. Zeraora went to Arceus to ask for it. It can be said that it is specially prepared for possible situations.

Her family's free-range policy remains unchanged, but these two children probably inherited her excellent genes and are extremely free.

Perona and Wearing Bear, Ling and Hatch, Lotte Kappa, Wanda, Zeraora and Setsuna will watch the children, but sometimes they will let them play by themselves. Every time this time comes, they will run away no shadow.

After they are caught, they will behave well under education, and then commit the crime again. Generally speaking, I was wrong, but I will dare to do it next time.

Before Sha Mo let the two of them play casually, they happened to meet Xiao Ka from Kojiro's family. The transformation of the Katie dog made Xiao Ka's body very healthy, and his life span had long exceeded that of ordinary dogs.

The fur tribe and mammals are relatively close, and with the transformation power of Arceus on Xiaoka, they quickly became familiar with it.

When Shu Su went out and called them back to eat, the two little guys had already been riding the dog, and they didn't know where they had gone.

Following the smell and footprints, Setsuna just arrived at the door of Kojiro's house. There are Gyarados and Good and Bad Stars in the sea outside, and there are Tanabata blue birds and steel armored crows in the sky. The two of them will definitely not be able to escape Wano Country .

Since this is the case, there will definitely not be any danger. Regardless of their young age, with their current abilities and Xiaoka, ordinary people really can't deal with them.

Seeing that this was Kojiro's house, she didn't go in directly, but contacted the owner calmly.

Kojiro did not live here, but with his financial resources, there are still servants in this house. He has just asked the old housekeeper to notify the housekeeper here, and the door was opened from the inside without climbing over the wall in an instant.

"Master Setsuna, Master Kojiro said, you can look for whatever you want, there is no place you cannot go."

"However. We have been inside, and we didn't see anyone running in."

"Go on with your work, I'll take care of it soon." Sniffing the air, she was already sure that the two little guys were here.

Refused the servant to show her the way, she followed the smell to a slightly smaller house, if she remembers correctly, this is the kennel of Kojiro's family.

He himself is unmarried, but Xiaoka already has a group of wives and concubines. There are dozens of Xiaoka's offspring living here. These are his favorites. In Wano Country, Xiaoka's offspring can be found in many places.

It's just that no one has inherited the ability to breathe fire, they just have a better physique. At this time, a cat fur and a wolf fur were mixed into the dog group.

Wolf and Meowna had a great time playing with these dogs, but when they saw the situation here, they were not particularly happy.

"Meowna! Worf! Come out!!"

She exuded a frightening aura, and felt that the puppies she was not easy to mess with stepped out of the way. Only Xiaoka looked at her innocently, as if to say, it wasn't you who asked me to follow her. did they play

Wolf and Meowna's bodies also froze. Facing Setsuna, they have no ability to resist. The best way to avoid punishment is to stay still. Every time they are caught, they will choose this method.

"Okay, I'm going to take them home, let's play together again when you have a chance."

Patting Xiaoka's dog's head, Shan Mo held one in each hand, intending to take the two children back, but they didn't know what they did, the two fur tribes are now like mud monkeys.

The new clothes that had just been prepared in the morning were no longer visible at this time. I inquired about the location of the bathroom with the servant of Kojiro's house. She borrowed the bathroom here temporarily and cleaned the two children with a brush.

After the cleaning, the ability of the nanny was manifested. When Worf was drying his fur in a moment, he found that his sister had changed into a brand new set of clothes.

Nanny Bug has a beige body with a slender torso. It is a bipedal insect-type + grass-type Pokémon. The whole body is dressed in clothes tailored by leaves, and the ends of the leaves on the hands are like knives, with semicircular gaps.

They are classified as Nursing Pokémon, born with a very strong maternal instinct.

If you encounter young Pokémon or Pokémon eggs in the wild, you will protect them.

Not only can hatch eggs through the temperature generated by fermenting fallen leaves, but also sew clothes for other Pokémon.

The blade knives in their hands and the silk threads ejected from their mouths are all tools for sewing clothes. Both males and females have this habit.

In the wild, nanny insects can only use local materials and sew clothes with large leaves, but here, they can use more materials, so they become natural tailors.

The previous two bath towels have now become well-fitting clothing, but with a strong Arabian style.

These two little guys messed around too much for clothes, so Zeraora asked Arceus to apply for a nanny bug, which can not only help take care of the children, but also solve similar problems.

And Setsuna is also starting his own education work.

"Remember, if you have nothing to do, you are absolutely not allowed to walk in the dog hole! Next time you come here to play, you will enter through the gate dignifiedly, understand?"

Pinching Worf's face, Setsu repeatedly emphasized this problem. According to their feedback, it was Xiaoka who led them directly through the dog hole, so no one found them.

And this is also a problem that fur people should pay attention to. They can get close to animals, but they can't really regard themselves as wild animals.

"Mom, do you mean that you can go to the dog hole if you have something to do?"

Thinking about the language for a moment, there really was something unavoidable, and it was not incomprehensible to drill a dog hole, but she couldn't say that.

"No, not in life, unless you have encountered some difficult enemies and have to sneak in to investigate intelligence. Go back and ask your father, he is better at fighting details."

"Mom, speaking of fighting, when did you teach us Moon Lion?"

"Yeah, yeah, I heard Moon Leo is super cool."

The fur tribe has fighting blood in their bones. They are not afraid of fighting, but rather excited.

"It's too early, your aunt hasn't learned it yet, let's talk about it when she knows it."

The two little guys didn't need to learn about Moon Lion yet, so Setsuna rejected them using Wanda as an example.

Chapter 692 I will. Or will I not?

"You two don't eat, what are you doing staring at me?"

In the evening, Wanda felt a very strange atmosphere, because Meowna and Worf kept their eyes on her and never left.

As a sister-in-law, it is not particularly suitable to live in the house of my sister and brother-in-law, even if they have built a rather large villa.

Living together will always be inconvenient, so Wanda lives with Ling and Hatch in the back house, and different areas of Wano Country can be regarded as allocated to her own people.

Most of the rights of Jiuli have been given to Zeraora, and now it can be regarded as the second settlement of the fur tribe. She only comes here occasionally to eat. There is a large canteen on Ghost Island, and it is enough to have one responsible for picking up food. .

It's not the first time she's partnered here, these two little guys should have gotten used to it long ago.

"Do you want to eat this?"

Seeing that the eyes of the two little guys did not move away, she looked at the thing in front of her, and thought about what was wrong.

It's just a few more chicken legs. The fur tribes don't eat furry mammals, and birds, fish and sea animals are the main sources of meat. According to the genetic differences of their own races, the fur tribes also have different needs for food.

The genes of her family are all carnivorous animals. The food of this big family is mainly meat, and there is no obvious difference.

"Auntie, should you go to training?"

"Training training?"

Worf's words made Wanda confused. When will it be the turn of these two little guys to urge themselves to train.

"Yes, yes, you are so old, but you can't even be a moon lion."

Miao Na echoed from the side, only the fur tribe who learned the moon lion can move freely on the day of the full moon, and children will be grounded that night. Although the increase in combat power brought by the moon lion is terrifying, it is after all a berserker. skills.

Half-baked people will die from exhaustion after using the Moon Lion. Except for the elite among the elite, ordinary fur people will also feel tired after using the Moon Lion. Children do not have enough self-control, and they cannot guarantee that they will not look at the moon at all when the moon is full. .

In order to prevent accidents, even in terms of the fur family's herding mode, they will not let the children go out during the full moon.

This is also the reason why Setsuna refuses to teach the two children to learn about Moon Leo now. Being too young is only one aspect. With the talents of these two little guys, it may not be impossible to start getting in touch with Moon Leo now.

But they have not yet mastered this ultimate skill and they are already a little "lawless". It is definitely not a good thing for them to master Moon Lion too early. This is the main reason why Setsu refused to let them learn Moon Lion.

Tell me now, I'm afraid the house will be demolished by the time of the full moon. These two children seem to have inherited Hatch's restless gene.

"Who said I can't? I'm also a member of the Musketeers, okay, things like moon lions, how could I not?"

Listening to Meowna's doubts, Wanda seemed to understand the reason. The two little guys seemed to regard themselves as useless wastes who could only make money, and of course she had to refute it.

Wanda is 21 years old this year. In terms of talent, it is true that she is not as monster as Setsuna, but in terms of the average level of fur tribe, Wanda is also in the upper class.

Being selected for the Musketeer Team is the best proof. The Fur Race is not large in number and does not have an army-like system, because they are a race where all the people are soldiers. They usually live on the back of an elephant and are isolated from the world. means invasion.

At that time, all fur tribes can be transformed into powerful warriors.

The Musketeers are a special case. They perform the duties of the army, and they are not ordinary troops. In Zou, the Musketeers are responsible for guarding the medical center behind the Hairy Principality and protecting the safety of the Duke.

Those who can join the Musketeers are the elite fighters of the fur tribe. As the king's personal guards, they are not just fakes, but real elites.

Mastering the Moon Lion is the key to joining the Musketeers. Wanda has been able to use the Moon Lion many years ago, but the stamina is a little lower.

"yes"

"It's me, Wanda, when did you learn Moon Lion? Why don't I remember?"

With a bang, a large wooden plate was placed in the center of the table, and Shi immediately walked back to the dining table with the heated staple food.

Wanda just wanted to say that his moon lion was taught by Setsuna, and then he saw Setsuna's slightly threatening eyes.

"Auntie, do you really know how?"

"Yes, auntie, you are not bragging, are you?"

Seeing that Wanda didn't give an answer immediately, the expressions of Miao Na and Worf changed from excitement to disappointment, and then a trace of contempt.

"Will I come or will I not come"

Wanda suddenly lost her confidence and didn't know how to answer.

"I think you didn't have a good rest yesterday. Why don't I remember that you learned the moon lion? Eat a sandwich and take a rest. This is a special offer that Zeraora brought back from Ghost Island."

As he spoke, he picked up a sandwich and stuffed it into Wanda's mouth, temporarily blocking her mouth.

Onijima's special fried chicken sandwich, the ultimate mixed version of the secret seasoning, is still very rich in taste and nutrition, but it's a bit choking.

Setsu didn't really find an example who doesn't know how to be a moon lion. In that case, he should find Beibo. He hasn't learned how to be a moon lion yet, and his talent in this respect is somewhat lacking.

If you really find someone who can't, it will be troublesome if the other party suddenly learns or can't learn all the time, so she just made an excuse. It doesn't matter whether Wanda knows the Moon Lion or not. And Miao Na's cognition will not.

Only at the right time, such as the right time to study, she can learn the moon lion.

"Don't think about it, you two, that state is not suitable for you now, honestly wait until you grow up, when the time comes, no matter the strength of Moon Lion or Lord Arceus, you will be indispensable.

Eat well now, and then you can grow up quickly. Don't try to steal something, your dad won't teach you either. "

Food changed the topic. Children's interest in something usually doesn't last very long. It didn't take long for the topic to change. It's just that Wanda seems to have an extra bragging title.

The food on the table was quickly eaten up, and several people also entered a state of overeating. There was more than one person in this state. In Baiwu, Yamato was observing the situation of Shakira. Looked listless all the time.

Not as energetic as before, lying lazily on the ground all the time, and didn't respond to her calling.

Chapter 693 Bankira's Sea Tower Stone Storm

"Shakira, are you feeling unwell?"

Qiqila has just left here, and the auscultation results have confirmed that Shakira is in good health, and all indicators are stable. Why is it like this? Qibaiwa can't tell what's going on.

The Beast Pokémon Center is called the Pokémon Center, but it is essentially a hospital serving humans. For the current large number of Pokémon, there have been certain studies on the diseases that may occur on them, such as the Overcharging, Wind Fairy's hair loss.

But with a rare Pokémon like Shakira, only Arceus can figure out what went wrong.

It's just that Shakira is not sick, but has some changes in his personality. Yamato didn't contact Arceus because of this

"Shakey."

It took a long time for Shakira to give his reply, and the pores on his body began to deflate, and even some cracks appeared on the surface of his body.

"You are"

Before Yamato could react, the crack on Shakira's body surface suddenly opened, and dazzling white light radiated from it, gradually covering Shakira's body, and its size was also rapidly increasing.

Not long after, a huge monster more than 20 meters tall and much taller than King Yanwu appeared on the square.

"class!"

The monster howled to the sky, as if stretching its arms and legs. Although Shakira is flexible, it is only in the state of a chrysalis. When it breaks out of its cocoon and becomes a butterfly, it will take its final form-the desert tyrant Bankila.

The appearance of a dinosaur similar to Godzilla, covered with a green shell, this is their strong armor, which can resist most attacks.

Several spikes protrude from the back of the head, neck and shoulders, looking hideous and terrifying.

There is also a circle of smaller spikes at the end of the tail. Like the tail of Ankylosaurus, it forms its own tail hammer, which can inflict great damage to the enemy in battle.

From his wide open mouth, two pairs of sharp canine teeth can be seen, which are also the only teeth in Bankira's mouth. At this time, its image is more similar to the juvenile Yukira, but it is enlarged a lot overall.

The holes in the armor are still preserved, but the exposed abdomen is no longer a weak point, but the same * shell.

"Wow, so cool! Are you so handsome after evolution?"

Now it's very complicated to build a Gundam, but it's the same if there are monsters without Gundams, and there are people who love monsters. As long as it's not ugly, even monsters can have their own fans.

"Class~"

Banjila agreed with Yamato's words, and it also thought that it was very handsome, but the next moment, its actions broke this feeling.

It moved its arm, looked at the three little claws on it, immediately grabbed a large stone from the ground, and threw it into its mouth without saying a word. It has not enjoyed the feeling of eating for a long time.

Shakira is their pupa form. In this state, Shakira spends most of the time digesting the energy accumulated during the Kira period until a new round of evolution is completed.

The things stored in the body make them not lack of food, but not lacking does not mean that they don't want to eat. For a foodie, not being able to eat happily for a whole stage is simply torture.

Because of its body structure, it could only taste some things during the Shakira period. At that stage, its mouth was just a small gap, and it could only eat a little to satisfy its gluttony, or it could reimburse all the previous building materials by itself.

No matter whether it was dirt or rocks, Bankira threw them into his mouth, and soon a big pit appeared on the ground. It was only then that he stopped with a sense of indifference.

Sit down on the ground with a satisfied face. Most people can't see that this guy is actually a moving disaster, a real monster that can change mountains, rivers and rivers.

And after it sat down, Yamato noticed something unusual. The sky suddenly darkened. It was not dark, but the dust covered the sun in the sky, and a huge sandstorm suddenly appeared here.

After evolution, Bankyra lost the attributes of the ground system and turned into a rock + evil Pokémon. At the same time, its characteristics have also become sand blowing. Where it appears, sandstorms will follow. Appear.

Wano Country's greenery is very good, and sandstorms like this have never happened for many years. The yellow sand all over the sky made the local residents feel a little overwhelmed for a while.

It had just evolved before, and was not yet familiar with the power of physical strength. As it gradually controlled its own body, its own characteristics began to develop, but the people who were most affected were not ordinary residents, but the ability users who happened to pass by nearby.

This Bankyla is not only huge, but also grew up eating sea stones.

They can't freely generate sea stones, but within half an hour of making the stones, those stones have the same effect as sea stones. After about 15 minutes, the power begins to dissipate, and after half an hour, they become ordinary stones.

This is the conclusion reached when the little fist stone was born. What this Bankyra created was not an ordinary sandstorm, but a sea stone storm. On the battlefield, it can even seal the ability users in an area.

In addition to sand and gravel, there is also dust. After inhaled by people, these dusts with the composition of sea floor stones will limit their abilities at least, and directly paralyze and fall to the ground.

Speed was affected by this aspect, and he fell limply on the ground. The violent sandstorm still hurt his body. If no one helped him, the weak ability user might be directly buried alive in front of Bankira.

"Banjila! Stop! Stop making this sandstorm!"

At first, Yamato was still curious about the climate. The countries she had been to had no desert countries, but she soon discovered the problem. If it continues like this, it will really become a disaster.

Banjila's sandstorm is not uncontrollable, it is a special skill that they use their own energy to launch. If they can't be stopped, the characteristic of blowing sand has already turned the world into a desert.

According to the proportion of Hailoushi's energy, the range and intensity of the sandstorm can also be adjusted.

The scale and intensity of the sandstorm created by Banjila are not too big, but the dust under her feet has already covered her ankles. If she doesn't stop, she will definitely die from exhaustion.

Like repairing the floor, Arceus probably made her responsible for cleaning up the yellow sand.

After Bangira heard the order, he began to mobilize the energy in his body. The sandstorm disappeared here after a while, and the sand was filled by Bangira himself into the pit that he had eaten before. As time went by, they turned into ordinary yellow sand again.

The excess part is also directly eaten by itself, which greatly reduces waste, but many surrounding houses are covered in dust, and a big cleaning is inevitable.

This behavior of expending physical energy to make sand and then re-eating it cannot replenish physical strength, but it can satisfy a mouth craving once. For Banjila, this is similar to a special rumination.

Chapter 694: After defeating Kaido, you will be in charge here

Banjila ate sand silently, not interested in what happened around him. In the records of the Pokémon world, Banjila mostly appeared as a disaster, causing even more damage than Gyarados.

Gyarados only destroy and destroy objects on the surface, but Bankira can really change the course of mountains and rivers. For example, when they encounter mountains, they sometimes don't choose to turn over or go around them, but eat them.

Eating a tunnel directly on the mountain leading to the opposite side, or directly blocking the river and building a bridge, these are all things that Bankira can do.

This Bankyla is different. It has a more easy-going personality, but it is a bit greedy.

"This big guy... is definitely a nightmare for those with abilities...cough cough..." Solitia and Mizeka helped Speed up and patted her on the back. During the previous sandstorm, they all choked. Solitia and Mizeka, who have sand in their mouths but haven't eaten the fruit, are much better than Speed.

They'll be fine after coughing twice. Although they are disgraced and have to take a good bath later, Speed is different. Due to her personal performance, she got a devil fruit at the previous Beasts Annual Meeting .

This was originally her advantage, but now it has become a disadvantage. "is it so serious?"

"Bah bah, when you eat the fruit someday, you will find it to experience it, and you will know what it feels like."

Spit aside a few mouthfuls, took off his coat and boots and shook it for a long time before cleaning up the sand, and the remaining powder had no effect.

It's hard to describe the powerlessness that Hailou Stone brings to the ability user. It can only be said that the weaker it is, the more it will be affected. If there is no way to block the sandstorm, there will be a very afraid forbidden magic field within the range, which does not distinguish between the enemy and the enemy. .

As Shakira evolved into Bankira, new problems came one after another. It had to live in another place. It used to be in pupa form and could go anywhere, but now it has the shape of this monster, and many places Instead, it was inconvenient to go.

Ghost Island can still accommodate it, but how to pass through the inland sea has become a new problem. Shakira can jet-fly, but Bankira can't do it. It is rocky and can't swim. A boat for inland rivers is specially built for it. Not worth it.

There are ships that can carry this size. The ships of Jack, Kaido, Arceus and others all have this ability, but those ships have more important uses.

In the past, there was no bridge connection between Onishima and the mainland of Wano Country. Even the members of the Beasts on the island had to use boats to get in and out of here. Now there is another member who can't swim, and the bridge-building plan has been put on the table. schedule.

To this day, there is no need for Onijima to be completely separated from Wano Country.

With the evolution of Bankyra, new activities are gradually put on the agenda. The appearance of Bankyla is not just a pet and a companion. Like King Yanwu, it intends to be used as a weapon of war.

King Yanwu was born earlier, and he has gone to battle many times on behalf of the beasts, while Banjila is still a newcomer and needs a chance to go out and do some activities.

Beasts owns the legitimate enterprise of Beasts Fruit, which earns a huge amount of profits every year, but they are still pirates in essence.

In the eyes of people in the territory of the beasts today, the beasts are their protectors, the God of Wealth, who provides too many things that were not there before, but it is different in the eyes of outsiders.

In the eyes of outsiders, Hundred Beasts is not a good person at all, but a real powerful . They won't do many things, but it doesn't mean they have nothing to do with pirates.

Fighting, plundering, robbing, these things are still their daily routine, they just choose the target before acting.

Whether it is the treasures of pirates, the supplies of other caravans or kingdoms, or the supplies escorted by the navy, they dare to * them.

Everything in the territory is protected by them, but non-partners outside the territory are different.

This kind of more realistic pirate life makes Yamato not like it very much. She prefers adventure to robbery.

"Father, isn't it necessary to do this?" On this day, in front of the treasure house on Onigashima, when Arceus was counting some strategic materials, the Yamato raised his own doubts.

"what do you mean?"

"The money earned by Beast Fruit and Tezolo is already enough, and there are also a lot of treasures on that island, the gold in Sky Island, I think treasure hunting alone is enough to maintain our daily expenses, there is no need Fight them and grab these things back."

"If you say that, there is nothing wrong. These incomes can maintain the expenses of the entire beast, and we do not rely on plunder to survive."

Pirates who live by robbery are low-level pirates. The sea emperors of the new world have already transformed this method into taxation, as long as they are obtained by robbery.

There is no difference in essence, that is, most of the treasures of other pirates are also snatched from others. The difference is that they are not directly handled, which makes them feel a little better on the moral level.

「Then why...」

"Because the current governor of the Beasts Pirates is named Kaido, I have no objection if you want to change everything completely, provided you can beat your father."

「Ah...」

"This is a distorted world. No one can be restrained by a piece of paper. The strong impose their own "order" according to their own preferences. Whether you want to change the beasts or the whole world, the premise is that you are strong enough. "

Beasts are more used to it now because Kaido himself is a fighting faction. It is harder for him not to fight than to let him stop drinking. The people of Arceus are engaged in development, and the people of Kaido are developing military forces For that future war.

Kaido's philosophy has always been that the strong are respected, and status is determined by force. If one day he is really defeated by Yamato, he may accept her request.

"Down with him... Hey, father, father, what is his strongest posture like, you should know, does he have any weaknesses?" "Don't think about those unrealistic things, unless you stab him in the heart in advance Otherwise, it would be meaningless to know the weakness. The battle with Whitebeard was basically his strongest appearance.

But he will also become stronger. If you want to defeat him, there is still a long way to go. If you have random thoughts, why not try to talk to Zekrom and Lacey Ram. They are easy to communicate with. I will help you. There are enough of them. "

What Yamato experienced was not a race with a fixed distance, but a chasing battle. While she was getting stronger, Kaido was also improving her own strength through endless battles. The perfection of Bengshan Gossip is a proof. If you want to surpass him, It is not an easy path.

The power of Ssangyong is the simplest way to break through, but so far, Yamato has only solved half of Zekrom.

Chapter 695: Kaido's supply method

Listening to Arceus' words, Yamato thought of some horrific images, or memories. After all, three-quarters of her 20 years of life experienced Kaido's beatings.

With Kaido's personality, it is impossible to change his mind. Only force can make him change his mind.

As for Zekrom and Lacey Ram... She has worked hard, but the progress is limited, and it can only be said that there is a little result. Now Zekrom sometimes listens to her nagging, and will give some replies, unlike before, completely. It's like being indifferent to answers.

Lacey Ram remained the same. She didn't think the two of them got along well.

There is no need to ask Yamato, Arceus has already received some feedback from Zekrom and Laceyram, Zekrom is okay, Laceyram's evaluation of Yamato is absolutely naive, and he doesn't know what the truth is.

「Yamato, maybe it's time for you to get in touch with reality more.」 「True?」

"Bring Speed and the others, you can go out to sea alone for half a month, and you can go anywhere."

Half a month's time is converted into a round trip, that is, only a week's journey. The time is not too much, but it is acceptable. If the boat is fast enough, this time is enough to run from the territory of beasts to the territory of BIG-MOM.

「Is there any point in this?」

"Of course there is, because this time is different from the past. You are traveling alone in the true sense. In terms of materials and logistics, we will not give you any help."

At this time, Yamato didn't understand what this sentence meant, and she didn't understand what it all meant until the moment she set sail.

"Where is my boat? How did it become such a wooden boat?" In front of her is not her exclusive car, but an ordinary small sea boat in Wano. It is unknown to drive out.

"Master Onihime, this is the order of Lord Arceus. Your ship was also built with the financial resources and technology of beasts. It is also part of the logistics of materials. Except for fresh water, there are no materials on this ship..."

Yamato was born different from ordinary people. Kaido's thinking made her childhood unhappy. This is the result of Arceus. Even with this variable, it can only be said to be mixed.

But materially, she has never lacked. From the day she was born, lucky eggs and big milk cans have been with her. the same.

The logistics of Beasts meet her needs. With the various cutting-edge technologies on board and her own strength, her voyage is more similar to an outing.

Therefore, she has never experienced the "reality" in the sea. With this strength, she can avoid most of the troubles, but the loss of foreign materials can also allow her to better understand the world.

If she hadn't been unable to steer the boat by herself, she might really have to experience traveling alone.

After the three Speeds were assigned to Yamato, they acted as her deputy. According to different interests, the three also learned different knowledge. Speed, a part-time navigator, Mizeka, a part-time chef, and a part-time helmsman Solitia just enough to handle most of the ships.

As for Yamato herself, besides being the captain, she can also work part-time in all strength and force activities.

If it was her own ship, there were many other Pokémon that could help her, but these are gone now.

While she was sailing, the preparations for the Siyuan were also completed and a new round of voyage was started, but compared with the glorious Siyuan, this small ship seemed a little precarious.

「What year is this antique ship?」

Touching the side of the ship, looking at the dust on his hands, Yamato began to doubt whether the ship could still sail.

"Master Onihime, Master Arceus said that this is the ship they used when they first sailed. It is not worth much, but it is very commemorative... If you break it..."

"What will happen? You can just say it directly. There is nothing to be afraid of."

In , Governor Kaido will not stop him from doing anything. "

Crack, crack.

Yamato patted himself on the face to cheer himself up. "Okay! The first goal of this voyage is to protect this ship no matter what!"

When someone interferes, Kaido behaves like a lunatic. If no one cares for a year...she can't imagine what a horrible day it would be.

From the moment she set off, she kept her eyes on the things that would threaten the ship. If Arceus hadn't greeted the carp king and Gyarados outside, she would have planned to ask them to help pull the ship. The currents are too dangerous.

Finally, she chose a relatively safe route with Wushi Bingfang, and drove towards the outside world smoothly. NovelUSB.coM

A week or so after Arceus and Yamato left Wano, Kaido received new information from his subordinates. Both of them left Wano, and Kaido was of course the one who stayed here and made a decisive judgment.

"Brother Kaidou, this is the consumption this year. Due to various reasons, this year's precious wood has become particularly sought-after. All forces are collecting high-quality wood from outside, and our ships have suffered serious battle damage. This year's replenishment may take more time. put off..."

"Jack, have you been infected by Yamato?" Listening to Jack's report, he scratched his head impatiently. "Ah, Brother Kaito, what do you mean..."

「We are pirates, if anyone has it, just go and find it. Do you still have to line up honestly?

Let me think about it... When I passed by the Kingdom of Standing last time, I seemed to see that they had a very good fleet. Go there and grab 10 ships and come back as supplements. "

Kaido briefly recalled the fleet he saw before. Those large warships can just supplement the current battle losses of the beasts.

「10 ships...Brother Kaito, don't you want to grab them all?」 「Steal them all? Are you going to grab them and put them in dust? Our current manpower of 10 ships is enough. If we * them all at once, what should we do if the kingdom declines from now on?

Only grab a part, and wait for them to replenish themselves, so that you can continue to find them next time when there is a shortage of ships. What is this called... By the way, sustainable development, the guy Arceus said, it should be what it means. "

「I see, I'm leaving now...」

"Wait, bring Banjila and King Yanwu, and try how these two big men work together."

Under Kaido's order, Jack embarked on this journey with two behemoths. King Yanwu has experienced the test, but this is the first time for Bankira. What will the cooperation of the two behemoths look like? Still unknown.

Chapter 696: behemoth

Move faster! People over there don't dawdle, put all these stones on! "

Fighting is about logistics. Even if you are a pirate, you have to prepare the supplies needed for the battle before the battle. They are not ordinary pirates who just find a ship in the sea. Their goal is the active fleet of the Kingdom of Standing .

The Kingdom of Standing is one of the countries on the great route, and it is also a member country. It can maintain a stable regime on the great route. In addition to the protection of the navy, they also have the means to protect themselves, and there are many means.

But in the final analysis, they all have a powerful royal army. In this world dominated by the sea, the army is far less important than the navy, but the Kingdom of Standing is not good at naval warfare, so they chose a slightly compromised army. In the way - external employment.

The Kingdom of Standing built dozens of large warships with its own national strength, and they formed the fleet of the Yota Maria Grand Fleet. This fleet is not only the navy that guards the kingdom, but also pirates. Pirates of the kingdom's official plunder authority.

This kind of thing is not surprising. In this era of great navigation, the army of many countries also took part-time jobs as pirates. Different islands have different customs, and the style of the army depends entirely on the king's preference.

Moreover, the laws of the world government only protect the member countries. As long as they do not plunder the materials of the member countries, all their actions are legally fine.

The relationship between the countries on the great route is also very complicated. Some get along well, and some have feuds. On the vast sea, it is difficult to trace the disappearance of a ship.

To be precise, if the world government deliberately downplays the existence of an island, even if the island is wiped out, no one will be able to find it.

The Yotamaria Grand Fleet currently has a total of fifty-six large warships, with a standing staff of 4,300 people. These are people who are proficient in naval warfare. In addition, a large number of kingdom soldiers can be loaded on board for carrying work.

These ships are big enough for the giants to ride on. Kaido had seen the fleet of this country before when he was wandering aimlessly, so he remembered it.

"Brother, I can't hold it anymore, aren't these enough?"

"Not enough, remove the artillery and move the shells down, this ship doesn't need that kind of thing."

「Huh? Don't want cannons?」

Hearing the order to dismantle the artillery, the pirates under him obviously hesitated.

"What nonsense are you talking about? What kind of cannon can compare to Lord Onihime's pet? As long as it is fed enough, there is no need for cannons at all. Where do you think the big hole in the shooting range on the outer island came from?"

「Okihime-sama's pet is so special...」

"Stop talking nonsense, move quickly! If it doesn't have enough to eat, you can go to the bottom of the sea to fetch rocks for it!"

Because of the two behemoths, King Yanwu and Banjila, the materials they carried this time were also very unconventional. The conventional gunpowder was reduced, and the firepower of Bankila and King Yanwu was used to fill the gap.

They can be regarded as mobile flamethrowers and heavy turrets, and the main guns of conventional battleships are incomparable.

While they were nervously carrying things, Banjila and King Yanwu had also successfully boarded the ship. At this time, King Yanwu was imparting the experience of his predecessors.

「Wow 【Don't be nervous, just use a few skills to scare them casually, those people will run away in fear, and their attacks won't hurt at all.】

Woowa [Well, hitting you should be even less painful.]" King Yanwu patted Bankira on the shoulder, and then strengthened his judgment. Bankira is the second one to appear in the mainland of Wano Country. Normally, it is a giant Pokémon. As a rare " Similar", King Yanwu prefers to communicate with each other.

「Ban... 【Will the boat sink? I can't swim...】 」 「Wow 【No, it's very strong. Even if it sinks, there is an emergency plan.】 」

Compared to fighting, Banjila is a bit afraid of water. Some Banjila are very talented and can learn the skill of surfing, but that is a very special case like the Ironclad Tyrannosaurus who can surf, and it is not the one in the game. Anyone can learn it.

The size of this Bankyla makes it very heavy, and it is impossible to step on it.
wave.

Those who can swim can only be said to be the individual differences of Pokémon. Even the four times weaker Iron Armored Tyrannosaurus may swim. The Gulardo Conservation Association has always had some objections to this.

「Wow 【The outside world is very strange, this is a rare opportunity.】 ”

「Class 【I see.】 」

「Wow 【Don't be afraid, at worst, just stand behind my sister.】 ”

Seeing that Banjila was not interested, King Yanwu comforted him again. Although they looked hideous and terrifying, these two giant beasts were all females. King Yanwu was transformed from a mountain * wild boar. They were females themselves, and there were even a few piglets .

And the ownership of Bankira belongs to Yamato, and the same is true in terms of gender selection, so there is this situation.

Of course, Bankira didn't admit this at the beginning. There were some armed conflicts between them. Bankira's actual combat experience is far inferior to King Yanwu, who was trained by Kaido for a while.

Based on fighting attributes and honed fighting skills, Bankira has no fighting advantage in the game, thus determining the order of their sisters.

Led by Jack, several pirate ships sailed out of Ghost Island and headed towards the intelligence sea area, but there was a little episode on the way.

"Hold on! Where's the icebreaker? Get an icebreaker to clear the way!" Jack and the others' ships were disturbed by the inexplicable ice on the sea surface in Wanokai. The weather in Wanowai is very changeable. It's colder, but it's the first time I've encountered ice.

This is the factor left by Yamato. She froze a safe path for safety and froze the sea, leaving only one passage.

Moreover, the waves are rough near Wano Country. If she wants a safe passage, she has to freeze a larger area of the sea. She herself can't tell how much area of the sea was frozen by Wushi Bingya and how thick it was. ice layer.

As a result, there has been an extremely low temperature recently, which caused the ice to not completely melt, but instead formed an obstacle that prevented subsequent ships from sailing.

If it weren't for the beasts sometimes going to cold seas, they wouldn't have the configuration of icebreakers at all.

"Don't be so troublesome, let's warm up first, King Yanwu, let's get rid of the ice."

There are newcomers on board who have never seen King Yanwu make a move. In order to let them know the ability of his "war weapon", Jack decided to let King Yanwu show his ability a little. This is more time-saving and labor-saving than finding an icebreaker first. Just need to consume some food.

There is a special metal disc on the deck, which is the exclusive cannon position of King Yanwu. After it arrives at the predetermined position, a violent column of fire spurts forward, melting the ice layer and completely destroying the fighting spirit belonging to all beasts. ignite...

Chapter 697: Brother Kaito is really clever

The Great Route, the Kingdom of Standing, they didn't know that they had been targeted by the beasts of the New World, and they were targeting the fleet they used to fight pirates.

"Your Majesty, this is Oron Booth's report for this year. They found a treasure and also solved some competitors. The corresponding things have been sent to the treasury."

Auron Booth, the captain of the fleet hired by the Kingdom of Standing, the actual master of the Yota Maria Grand Fleet, and the sea called him a "cunning and adventurous killer".

He has an agreement with the Kingdom of Standing, and the Kingdom of Standing provides him with logistical supplies, while he is in charge of sea battles.

Including but not limited to a series of behaviors such as finding treasures, fighting pirates, and eliminating competitors.

"Not bad, it seems that this deal is correct. With Oron Booth, the income of the country has been rising. Now I don't have to worry about paying the money in the sky for a while."

"Your Majesty is wise, by the way, your Majesty, a group of pirates robbed our eastern island, and they are still occupying it. The defenders have asked for help several times..."

"Let Auron Booth bring people to reinforce, don't I need to teach you this little thing?"

「Yes, I understand.」

The Yota Maria Grand Fleet does not necessarily have to attack with the whole army. Due to the mission of the Kingdom of Standing, they will also divide their troops. For example, this time, Auron Booth led twelve ships and more than a thousand people towards Going forward.

The free island is also the territory of the Kingdom of Standing. Due to historical problems, many countries are not a whole area. A kingdom with a large area like Alabasta is a relatively rare type.

Even if there are more deserts, it is a real territory, which is extremely rare in this world. No one would dislike the size of their own country, and it is common to occupy some islands.

"My lord, I have sent the request for help as you said, can you let me go..."

At this time, the island that asked for help had been occupied, and the message of asking for help was sent out under the threat of beasts, with the purpose of attracting their support fleet.

"Throw it to the prison, and let them take care of it later." Ignoring the man's words, the pirates of all beasts threw him into the prison on the island and took care of him again.

"Brother Jack, is it necessary to be so troublesome? It's okay if we just call the door?"

"That's right, brother Jack, I haven't heard of any well-known strong people here."

The pirates on the side don't understand why they want to surround the spot to fight for aid, it should be said to surround the spot for rescue.

"Brother Kaidou said, to achieve steady and sustainable development, the G1 and G5 branches of the navy are nearby. It will be difficult for us to take the ship away when they rush over."

If he is attacking a member country blatantly, the other party is likely to call for the support of the navy. He is not afraid of the navy. He doesn't think that the navy can do anything to him. An ordinary kingdom, the general of the headquarters will not take action for this.

But it was really entangled, and it was quite difficult to take the boat away. "And we can't be afraid of them, otherwise, what should we do next? Make them feel that we don't dare to attack the mainland, so we can take action."

"But brother Jack, what if the navy really rushed over after receiving the news?"

"Then sink them, mere navy, who do you think I am?"

Under Mandelfish's kind teaching, Jack understood what prudence is, but he is still the ultimate reckless man in his bones. He will act carefully when someone tells him, but if something happens, he will use a very violent way to end everything .

"Okay, you guys go to arrange staff, and, give me the strawberries, I want fresh ones."

"Brother Jack has been prepared a long time ago. There is everything in the kitchen of this island. No wonder so many nobles come here for vacation."

Gold Rummy handed over a basket of fresh strawberries, which was the creamy milk fairy's lunch today. She had been sailing on the sea before, and strawberries were not easy to preserve, so she hadn't given him fresh strawberries for a long time.

「You are wrong, because

It is because there are nobles on vacation here that there is such a complete logistical supply, remember to make a good fortune from them. "

"yes."

Irrelevant people were kicked out, leaving only Jack here to feed the milk fairy, waiting for the arrival of reinforcements.

「Admiral! We're almost there!」 「Where's the other party's identity?」

"I didn't see it, they don't seem to be flying the pirate flag in the town..." "Strange, are the pirates really occupying this place?"

After occupying a town, ordinary pirates will hang their pirate flag at the highest point, for fear that others will not know who has occupied this place. This abnormality makes people feel a little strange.

「Admiral, do you want to move on...Wait...Admiral! New situation, there are several pirate ships moving around, they seem to want to surround us!」

「Attack immediately after entering the range. There are only three ships. Do you still want to surround us?」

Auron Booth gave his order, but at the same time he finished speaking, he found that the wind on the sea began to increase, and then something hit him in the face one after another, and there were bursts of slight pain.

The sky began to get dark, and the field of vision was gradually covered, and only the shadow of the ship in the distance could be seen vaguely.

「This...sandstorm????」

After living for so many years, it was the first time he saw a sandstorm blowing on the sea. Even though the climate on the great route was changeable, he had never seen such outrageous weather.

This strong sandstorm is naturally created by Bankira, but it doesn't have that kind of sea stone energy, it's just an ordinary sandstorm, which consumes less energy and can generate a wider range of sandstorms, enough to cover this small piece of upcoming battles the sea area.

"Well, the ship on the far left, the Bankira, sink it." "Ban?"

Although he didn't quite understand why he did this, Bankira chose to obey the order, opened his mouth wide, and a ray of destruction and death had already begun to brew.

"Brother Jack, why did you sink that ship? Isn't our mission to take the ship back?"

"Hmph, Brother Kaidou said, let's grab 10 ships and go back, but there are 12 ships in total here, Brother Kaidou said, as long as the ship does not need people, then leave a boat for them to take people back, so as not to be scared by them."

There is only one ship left to kill chickens and make monkeys a target, so that they dare not resist. Isn't this exactly 10 ships left?

Brother Kaidou must have foreseen this situation a long time ago, so he issued this order. "

Shaina took the words of Arceus as an imperial decree, and so did Jack. For the person he admired from the bottom of his heart, Kaido was omnipotent in his heart, so he made up some things in his brain, thinking that the reason why Kaido said ten ships The ship must have foreseen the scale of the opponent's support.

Kaido, who was far away on Ghost Island, didn't know, he just estimated a number casually, and Jack made up this kind of thing...

Chapter 698: You think it's Jack, but it's actually my Frost Fairy

The sky was full of yellow sand, and the visibility on the sea further decreased.

It's not like they haven't encountered similar situations. The climate of the great route is changeable, and thick sea fog is not uncommon, but the sandstorm created by Bankira is more deadly than sea fog.

When the sea fog appears, they only need to be careful of the hidden reefs in the ocean. When the wind and waves are not strong, they can even choose to anchor and stop the boat. But this sandstorm is different. The yellow sand hitting their faces makes them unable to open their eyes. The sand also affects the state of the sailor.

The shadow of the enemy ship under the yellow sand also increased their psychological burden. Sandstorms will not blow up on the sea for no reason. This sea area is their territory, and the climate has long been under their control.

Either it is a natural situation, or it is the enemy's handwriting. It can change the weather. No matter how you think about it, it is not an ordinary opponent. NOvelusb.com

At this moment, the phone bug on the ship rang a serious voice.

"Calm down!"

Auron Booth's voice seemed to carry some kind of magical power, and the soldiers who heard his voice calmed down immediately.

"Cover your eyes with gauze! Line up! Press the predetermined position, and the shelling will begin!"

It is because of this ability that Auron Booth is valued by the king of the Kingdom of Standing. The team he manages can be ordered to stop under his orders. pressure.

The majesty he will call the admiral, not only his own people, but even the enemy's body will line up in a neat square uncontrollably when facing him. In this sandstorm environment, Auron Booth's mood very bad.

His majesty has a lot to do with his ferocious appearance, but his inside is not completely like this. Not only does he do things in a strict manner, but he also has a cleanliness habit. The yellow sand all over the sky is a torture for him.

Snapped!

With a whip in his hand on the deck, the sailors on his ship have adjusted the shooting range of the artillery. If the weather is normal, other ships can make judgments through semaphore or by observing the main ship's movements.

But now they can only act by listening to the voice of the phone bug. They can't see the exact location of the target, so they can block fire at the approximate location. Their firepower and ammunition reserves are enough to meet this problem.

At the same time, Bankira also locked on his target, but when it was about to release the destructive death light, it was stopped by Jack. A minute ago, his subordinates raised a very fatal question.

"Brother Jack, why didn't we reveal the Pirate Flag before, but now we release it?"

"Of course I was afraid of scaring them away. Now that we have surrounded them, there is no need to hide."

"But Brother Jack, letting Lord Guiji's pet sink that ship is also for deterrence, right?"

"Sipshead, where do you have so many questions?"

"There is one last question for those with a small amount. Since it is for deterrence and identification, should they see it?"

Seeing that Jack was a little impatient, Sipshead directly cut to the point, which is also the question he is most curious about now.

The yellow sand covered the sky, and the enemy couldn't see anything clearly. Since they couldn't see clearly, how could they deter the opponent.

At this time, Jack was wearing a pair of windproof glasses, which were the new standard equipment on the ship, so that his eyes would not be blocked under the yellow sand. This pair of glasses also made Jack's expression less obvious.

Jack still prefers to use his fists rather than brains. It is already very good to be able to plan this plan. It is understandable that he has made such a mistake now.

Listening to Sipshead's question, Jack didn't give an answer. He was thinking about how to solve this problem without losing face.

It was also at this time that Frost Milk Fairy climbed up against the wind and sand. This is not a game world, and sandstorms do not necessarily cause damage. This magnitude will not cause damage to Frost Milk Fairy.

"How did you come out?"

Jack's height compared to the size of the Milk Fairy is like a big mountain, and the climbing of the Milk Fairy is similar to climbing a mountain, but Jack discovered it only halfway through the climb.

In this kind of operation with no risk factor, Jack will always take the milk fairy with him when he travels, but he will hide back in the cabin after the battle starts, and it came out this time to give advice.

Everyone on the ship felt that this plan was a bit flawed, but they all thought that Jack had other arrangements. Even if there was a small part of suspicion, they dared not raise it. That's why Sips Head asked at the last minute. .

But Frost Fairy is different. It has already guessed that Jack did not arrange a follow-up at all. It has been thinking of a way before, and when the sound of shells in the wind and sand reached its ears, it had a new idea.

The wind and sand were too strong, which somewhat affected its speech, but with its rich body language and cream painting, Jack still understood its meaning.

"Well, that's true. Use the wind and sand to consume the enemy's shells, so that casualties can be reduced."

With the assistance of Frost Milk Fairy, his mistakes were covered up, and even the younger brothers were excited once, and felt the care of his "big brother", and some even felt moved.

This is not uncommon. Oden can touch others, and this kind of boss who "pays attention to his subordinates" is the same. Of course, the first thing to do now is to stop the sandstorm.

Just like that, Banjila temporarily changed his actions and put away his Yangsha personality, which made King Yanwu at the stern heave a sigh of relief.

It and Bankira are separated on both sides of the ship. They are too heavy. Otherwise, it is easy to lose the balance of the ship. It does not like sandstorms, even if they are not sandstorms that can cause damage. The weather with flying yellow sand.

Otherwise, it would not live in Jiuli, which has the most beautiful environment. The rich mountains and forests are its favorite environment. In the sandstorm team, it is paired with a fire-type Pokémon. Trainers from another world will see it. tearful.

Auron Booth's bombardment is still continuing. Since they don't know the specific target location, they can only gamble on luck and estimate the bombing location according to the opponent's speed.

It was also impossible to observe the effect of the shelling. Due to an interlude in the middle of the plan, the Beast's ship stopped on the spot and listened to the opponent's firing. As Banjila put away his power, the raging sandstorm also stopped whistling. , gradually disappeared into the sea.

When the field of vision was clear again, the number of enemies clearly appeared in their eyes, but this did not make them relax. Even Auron Booth had a few drops of cold sweat on his forehead.

On the opponent's ship, the pirate flag of the beasts was fluttering in the wind, and Bankira, who was standing on the bow of the ship and brewing to destroy the dead light again, made them feel cold all over.

Chapter 699 The face of the franchise country

"When did the Beasts. Standing Kingdom offend them?"

Auron Booth used to be an adventurer in the kingdom. Of course, this kind of adventurer is not very different from pirates, but the asylum of the allied countries prevents them from being wanted and becomes an alternative legal person.

He has a kind side in his heart, and he will help the weak unconsciously. According to normal development, after he joined the Straw Hat Fleet, he wanted to rob like a pirate, but because the place he robbed was too poor, he turned into a poverty alleviation movement.

But this cannot conceal his own identity as a villainous party, a killer ruler, a cunning adventurer, ordinary people will not be given this title, the nickname of Dahai Haishang still has a little credibility, at least the nickname will not be irrelevant to the deity.

As an "adventurer" traveling in the first half of the great voyage and even the new world, eyesight is a must. To survive in the new world, it is impossible not to recognize the flag of the emperor of the sea. They cannot afford to offend those people.

Especially the BIG MOM Pirates, they often tell the world not to forget the horror of the sea emperor. Among the three current sea emperors, Whitebeard is the most tolerant of the territory and does not ask too much.

Beasts spend most of their time doing business, and for long-term business, the islands in their territory also live in peace.

But Big Mom is different. Due to the old problem of eating cravings, eating is one of the most important things in the Big Mom Pirates. If there is not enough food within the time limit, the entire island will be destroyed.

As the three famous pirate groups, there is no reason why Beast and Whitebeard cannot do what the BIG MOM pirate group can do.

It seems that the twelve ships of their own are not enough to deal with this situation. They have a numerical advantage, but even if they sink the other party's three ships, they will face even greater troubles in the future.

The other party is a pirate. No matter what the cause is, their ship will be sunk and they will retaliate. However, the Kingdom of Standing cannot deal with that lunatic Kaido, so they can choose to ask the navy for help.

But this is not a long-term solution, the navy, or the world government will not break the balance they can maintain for a kingdom, that is to say, they will not take the initiative to attack beasts.

Similarly, even if they let the admiral stay in the Kingdom of Standing, they can only deal with it for a while. The admiral cannot stay here forever. When they leave, they will also suffer hardships.

As for whether the world government will be embarrassed, no, they have ten thousand ways to explain their reasons. What other kingdoms also need to be protected, the casualties are too large, the opponent has not yet made a move, and they cannot attack in advance.

These are the endings that Oron Booth can predict.

Then Oron Booth took the telescope in his hand and adjusted the angle. In the lens of the monocular, Jack's figure filled the entire field of vision.

"Iron Mammoth Jack"

The cadres of the imperial group are also on the focus list. If the disaster-level cadres are considered to be the first echelon, Jack is now the top cadre of the second echelon. Auron Booth does not feel that he is the opponent of the opponent.

He is good at legion-level combat. His "admiral's majesty" makes his subordinates have better discipline. Absolute orders and prohibitions on the battlefield are one of the important factors to win a battle.

But people like Jack have already broken the meaning of numbers. The Iron Mammoth has a solid metal body, not the ultimate reckless man who trades ivory for bounties.

In addition, there are two giant beasts that look very ferocious and terrifying. He doesn't think these things are inflatable toys to scare people.

Before he could think about what to do, Bankira's lock had already been completed.

A thick beam of light was ejected from Bankira's mouth, and the destructive death light that had finished charging pierced through the hull in the blink of an eye, followed by a large-scale martyrdom explosion, not only the explosion caused by the destruction of the death light, but also the explosion caused by the destroyed death light. Detonated ammunition depot.

The huge shock wave set off a huge tsunami, almost overturning the ships nearby.

After the blow, Bankira's body was temporarily frozen, but this did not cause much impact. Auron Booth's men did not fight back, and the terrifying beam had already scared them into a petrified state.

Even Auron Booth stared at Bankira in the distance with his eyes wide open. He could see clearly that the monster released this terrifying attack after charging its power.

And Bankira is still standing there. He doesn't believe that the monster can only attack once, destroying a ship with one blow. If it weren't for the angle problem, he felt that the damage caused by the beam would be even greater. What's more deadly is that The ships were completely out of range of their artillery.

They don't know that the release of destroying the death light will cause stiffness, and the duration of this stiffness will become shorter and shorter after exercise. Bangira, who has just evolved, has not mastered this ability. According to Oron Booth and others, This is the precursor to Bankira's power accumulation.

With such great power, it is reasonable to charge it for a longer time.

He didn't order anyone to rescue them. Under an explosion of that scale, unless he dived ahead of time, there was no possibility of surviving. It was at this time that Jack's semaphore soldiers issued their own signals.

"Admiral, those guys told us to hand over 10 ships and leave by themselves"

"These bastards."

"Yes, Admiral, those * pirates are too much, let's fight them!"

"These * want a boat why didn't they say so sooner"

Auron Booth's complaints spread to the ears of those around him, making them feel unbelievable. Hearing his tone, they thought their admiral was going to fight with the other party, but Auron Booth thought of another thing .

The ship can be rebuilt, and it is over when people die. The Yota Maria Grand Fleet has been developed by him. These crew members have long been his loyal subordinates. Compared with the king, they obey the orders of Oron Booth.

If the ship is gone, it can be rebuilt and bought again. Anyway, it costs the kingdom's funds, but every time he loses a subordinate, he will suffer a loss.

"Admiral, what do you mean?"

"Abandon the ship, we can't afford to mess with that guy, go back and let the king have a headache, by the way, remember to notify the navy, this is beyond our ability to deal with."

In order to reduce the loss, Oron Booth made the decision to retreat, as long as the manpower is still there, he can accept it. As for the headache, leave it to the king.

In the end, a group of people crowded on a boat and fled here with lifeboats of all sizes.

Jack was very satisfied with this. He thought his plan was successful. Under the deterrence of force, the opponent did not choose to fight, but directly took out what they wanted, and chose to save money and avoid disaster.

The king who received the news was furious and strongly condemned Auron Booth's behavior of fleeing without a fight, but there was nothing he could do.

The Kingdom of Standing still depends on him, and the beasts really cannot afford to offend them, so they have no choice but to complain to the world government, because the king of a member country still has such a low status.

He asked the world government to immediately impose the most severe sanctions on the murderer, otherwise he, the king, would have no face at all, and the result was very clear, the world government directly ignored his subsequent words.

The World Government sent the task to the navy, so on the navy's intelligence table, the photos of King Yanwu, Bankira, Jack, and Quinn were put on the blackboard by the meeting king Brandon again.

Chapter 700 Meeting King's career start, new equipment equipped by Quinn

Blanneu, lieutenant commander of the Navy Headquarters, a member of the Navy who prefers to be civilian. He is good at intelligence gathering. Since this talent was discovered, he has been responsible for a large number of meetings of the Navy Headquarters to summarize intelligence and convey the latest news to generals at all levels.

"Five days ago, the Hundred Beasts Pirates attacked the Kingdom of Standing and snatched ten warships belonging to the Kingdom of Standing in public."

The navy below did not have any trouble understanding this. In terms of the abilities of beasts, it is abnormal behavior not to be able to do this kind of thing. Shichibukai has the ability to subvert a country, and a single franchise country faces the sea emperor of the new world , is essentially very weak.

"But the way they took the ships was the main problem."

The photos of Banjila and King Yanwu appeared on the screen after zooming in, and the phone bug on the Yotamaria Grand Fleet recorded some horrific images, such as the release of the destructive death light and the destroyed ships.

In addition to this, there are also battle scenes of King Yanwu recorded by the navy.

"Fifteen years ago, the biological weapon called King Yanwu by the pirates of all beasts appeared on the sea. It is known that it has the ability to control flames, and its combat power is far superior to that of ordinary giants."

Describing a person's strength requires a comparison, which is one of the reasons for setting up the reward system. Although there are some cases where the strength does not match the bounty, the bounty can explain the strength of most people.

Different pirate groups have different levels. The navy has to face the entire sea. There is no time to write down all the level sequences for conversion. The bounty has become the simplest measure of combat power.

Through the bounty, the navy can roughly understand the threat level of a pirate.

For these biological weapons, the world government did not issue a reward announcement, so Branau changed to a very clear comparison object - the giant race.

Body size has decisive advantages in many aspects. The giants who join the navy are basically lieutenant generals, and facing the giants, most people do not have the ability to fight against them.

surpassed ordinary giants, which already explained the threat of the opponent.

"In the past fifteen years, we have not found a second similar creature. We thought it was just an accidental phenomenon, but the appearance of this monster broke this cognition."

It is not that there are no strange creatures, on the contrary, there are many, but there are many strange creatures in the sea, which did not arouse the vigilance of the navy.

There are quite a few Gyarados and Carp Kings, but it is precisely because of the large-scale appearance of such creatures that people have the illusion that they are natural phenomena. There are also inferences that Gyarados are modified creatures, but they have not been accepted. confirmed.

So far, Gyarados has not directly participated in the actions of Beasts, and there is only one Mandelfisch, which makes it impossible to determine the specific information.

But Banjira is different. If there is only King Yanwu, it can be regarded as an exception, but the second monster that appears is very special. If the second monster can be created, there may be a third, fourth, or even a monster. The whole army of monsters.

"This is the ability it shows, destructive laser cannon, suspected ability to manipulate sand and dust, the power of laser cannon is enough to destroy a warship with one blow, if you find a huge ship of beasts, don't fight it at sea.

At present, it seems that these two behemoths obey Jack's orders, and he is very likely to be the commander of this behemoth army. "

This is the reason why Jack's photos were put up together. The number of two is not many, but because of their size and terrifying deterrence, it is not unreasonable to regard them as a single unit.

"Okay everyone, this is the main situation to be notified at this meeting, and the next thing is a more important issue, Plague Quinn."

The photos of King Yanwu and Bankira were removed, leaving only the photo of Quinn.

"Plague Quinn, the veteran of the Beasts Pirates, one of the members of the original MADS research team, seems to have done more research on bloodline factors.

According to the information given by the CP department of the world government, the giant beast codenamed Yanwu King appeared for the first time under the command of Quinn. Of course, the people above have always been skeptical about this matter. "

Even if the focus was on Quinn, they did not ignore the mysterious Arceus, but Arceus's whereabouts and actions made them incomprehensible. According to the summary of past information, his voyage is not like a pirate. , more like an old parent traveling with children.

As soon as this possibility appeared, they rejected it. According to the information here, although Arceus did not take much action, he was also the veritable second-in-command of Beasts. How could such a person wander around with children? Secrets discovered.

It is well known that Kaido searched for stones all over the world, but they also studied that stone, and found no characteristics except that it was indestructible. They did not think that this stone had a causal relationship with those terrifying giant beasts.

There are too many mysterious things. They didn't ignore each other, but they didn't know how to start. They still focused more on Quinn, who had traces.

"The order of the Marshal of the Warring States Period, if you find Quinn on the way to perform the mission, you can immediately change the mission to capture Quinn as the priority target, and you can call the headquarters for support."

It is not wise to attack the strongholds of those sea emperors, so this order appears, but the execution of this order will not be very high.

They have no way to predict where Quinn will appear, and Quinn himself is not weak, so it is not so easy to keep him.

Especially for ordinary naval soldiers, Quinn's ability is a disaster. Without special defenses, ordinary soldiers will most likely be wiped out by his plague bombs. Therefore, the navy has manufactured a batch of new equipment.

"This is a gas mask prepared by the headquarters. People who often work in the New World can arrange for someone to go to the logistics department to pick it up later."

Originally, this equipment was only equipped by Impelton and some laboratories. Most pirates, not to mention this kind of weapon, can't even get high-quality artillery. In order to target some of Quinn's abilities, they will install anti-virus mask.

The fixed equipment was changed because of one person, which shows how much Quinn is valued.

This is an operation within the Navy Headquarters. In addition, the CP department under the World Government is also operating. A large amount of data has been collected from all over the world and transferred to Vegapunk by the CP department.

He is a genius in research, but O'Hara's information has been packed away together with the scholars, which has caused Vegapunk to lack research on some things, and is forced to rely more on the world government.

As the masters of the world, they have far more things than others.
