Chapter 831 BIG MOM, I'm here to negotiate terms

Charlotte Lingling, who owns the soul fruit, indirectly holds a device similar to the book of life and death. Through the fruit ability, she can see how much life a person has left, and accurately withdraw part of the life.

The amount on that roulette wheel ranges from thirty years to a hundred years. As long as you participate, it is basically impossible to survive.

Even if you are lucky enough to survive, it will become a dying year. The only good news is that the lifespan extracted by Charlotte Lingling is usually deducted from the back to the front, and what people lose is from the death to the back. The calculated lifespan will not directly become an old man.

Pokemus' so-called procrastination can only be pleading, even if it is a biological child, Charlotte Lingling will not be lenient if she violates the taboo, let alone a person who didn't even get married.

Seeing that the delay could not be continued, Jiebo had been forced to pick up the props prepared by Charlotte Lingling, and Katakuri, who was resting outside the door, suddenly opened his eyes.

"coming."

"Master Katakuri, what did you say?"

Whoosh!

The lightning flashed, and the figure of Zeraora appeared in front of Katakuri. The height gap was not small, but Katakuri suddenly realized that the future he saw turned into a blank.

Obviously before, he could still see the future, but when the two of them appeared here, a mysterious force enveloped them and made them disappear from the future he predicted. It was a special power belonging to Arceus. It's just that the time it takes effect is a bit special.

"Enemy attack!"

"Shut up and don't make a fuss."

Stopping the flustered pirates, Katakuri looked at the person in front of him again.

"Man of beasts, why did you come here suddenly?"

"Let's talk about a deal, the two inside are our clansmen after all, they made a mistake, we are here to redeem people."

Hearing this, Katakuri gave way to the door behind him, and led them in directly.

Predicting the future allows him to better control the situation, but even if this ability fails, he is still Katakuri, a pillar of the BIG MOM Pirates.

The Charlotte family can ignore a fur tribe alone, but he knows very well that the fur tribe has something to do with the beasts behind it. Maybe these two people were sent by Kaido. While signing the agreement, they are preparing to backstab. world is very common.

The result of the handling also depends on the development of the situation. At this time, everything is in the stage of negotiating, and he will definitely not stop it.

He believes in his mother's strength, but as the second-in-command of the pirate group, he has his own judgment on the situation in the sea, and the current loss is very small, because this kind of loss is not worth tearing the face of a hundred beasts. Just look at the follow-up.

"Katakuri?"

"Mom, the people of beasts are here, and they want to talk to you."

"Well~ Well, you came quickly enough, Zeraora, you are really an old acquaintance, since you are here, then tell me, what do you want to say to these two thieves of the same family?"

"I have nothing to say about this, so I bring this."

Jeraora didn't talk nonsense, but gestured to the scroll on her back, and then opened the phone bug for playing the video.

In a dim environment, a piece of red road sign history text reveals the traces of its own years.

"This is...well~well~ Kaido, this brat, really hides deep enough."

Before she asked Kaido if he had this thing, but he insisted that he didn't. If there was no such thing, she probably wouldn't know about it until now.

The historical text of the road sign is an indispensable thing leading to the final island. Of course Charlotte Lingling is aware of this. After seeing the pictures in the video, she became a little interested.

"So what does Kaido mean?"

"Mr. Kaido means, let's exchange information on the historical text of the road signs we own. As for the two of them, let me take them away."

"You mean, taking the two of them is a prerequisite for the deal?"

"That's right."

If someone can't take it away, then he will make this trip in vain.

"This is not very good, if there are other things, I will give in, but that guy made my dear subordinate lose an eye.

The stealing of my stuff can be covered up with a deal, but what about this eye? Wouldn't I feel sorry for my dear subordinates just by letting him go? "

Charlotte Lingling did not agree to this request. As emperors of the sea, they were responsible for their younger brother. If the younger brother was injured in such a way and ignored, it was of the same nature as their territory was attacked and they did not retaliate.

She wanted the text of the road sign history, but this matter couldn't just be revealed.

"We can make it up to him"

"Xiao Sha, some things are not so easy to take over. Pirates are cruel and despicable, but they must also be righteous. Baron Dandan is my subordinate, and they have to pay the price."

The Egg Baron in BIG MOM's mouth is a long-legged clan under the BIG MOM Pirates, and also a member of the cadres. In the previous battle with Pedro, he was blinded in one eye due to the difference in strength. At this time Also watching from the side.

The situation is still under control. Naturally, Charlotte Lingling also wants the historical text, but she doesn't want to just let it go. As for forcing it to stay, that's not within her scope of consideration.

Now she hasn't gotten sick yet, knowing that when she fights with Kaido, she will only let red hair, white beard, and those navy take advantage.

As a sea emperor, he had a rare verbal argument with others.

Due to the intrusion of the fur clan, Zeraora and the others couldn't stand up logically, and they didn't plan to go to war at this time, so they were just apologizing. Seeing that the Duke of Zou had to make such a gesture because of his behavior, Pei Delo stood up.

Before taking action, they also thought about the possibility of failure, and also anticipated the possible price.NOVELS.B.COM

This is their private action, and they haven't told anyone. Because of their own failure, the new king of Zowu, who has made great contributions to Zowu's development, has to keep lowering his stance. be punished directly.

"Master Duke, you don't need to say anything more. We are already very grateful that you and Zeraora can come. I injured that person's eyes. Since there is a price to pay, let me come."

Tick, tick.

Blood flowed down the cheeks to the ground, and no one on the side thought that this fur tribe was so cruel to him.

"One eye, like this, is it okay?"

"Well~ Well, he is a man, but Baron Eggs, what do you think?"

Chapter 832 The blame-Kaido

Although he did not agree, Baron Egg could hear what Charlotte Lingling meant, and she had always refused directly before.

Now that the right to choose is handed over to him, it means that Charlotte Lingling has already been moved.

Baron Dandan didn't know what BIG MOM was thinking, but he made a comparison himself.

Eyes for eyes, road sign history text for road sign history text, beasts' face to cover up the issue of invasion, this matter may really be discussed in this way.

"Baron Eggy, Mom is asking you something."

Seeing that Baron Eggy hadn't responded, Katakuri urged him, and he finally gave an affirmative answer.

"I can accept it, and leave the rest to Mom."

Baron Eggy let go here, and Charlotte Lingling didn't continue to stare at it, but Katakuri made a new request, he didn't want the already rubbed text.

"Everyone is a pirate, some things don't need to be exposed, the video can't prove anything, you go to rubbing our history text, we send someone to leave with you, and then go to rubbing your history text, this is good for everyone good."

This is what Kaido was worried about before. Charlotte Lingling is not difficult to fool, but there are still many smart people in her group of children. Zeraora and the others did not refuse this, but asked to take it away first Pedro.

Missing an eyeball, his blood loss is still serious, and he has to deal with it, while Jiebo is staying here as a hostage for the time being, and he will also take away the rubbed history text when the time comes.

"Sorry, Your Excellency, I have to trouble you to make this trip."

On Jiebo and Pedro's boat, Pedro's expression was slightly decadent.

"Don't be so frustrated, it's just an apology, I haven't lost anything, and you don't have to worry about Jiebo, we can still guarantee such a small amount of credibility, and after finishing these things, we will definitely let him come back in one piece.

He is Bepo's older brother after all, if Bepo finds out that his brother is dead, he will be very sad.

But you should also pay attention in the future, don't do this kind of risky thing again, this time it's quite troublesome. "

"Yes, I will pay attention to it later"

When Pedro was thinking about life, Setsuna found Zeraora.

"Well, his eyes should still be able to handle it?"

"It's almost the same, but let him learn a lesson first. If the enemy is okay, just hit him directly. He needs to pay more attention to propriety."

When they returned to Ghost Island, Zeraora took the people sent by the BIG MOM Pirates to print the main text of history. But there are many secrets.

And Setsuna brought Pedro to the foot of Fujiyama.

"Master Duke, why did you bring me here?"

"I want you to climb the mountain. When you reach the top of the mountain, you will understand why. By the way, this is for you. Remember to take a look when you climb the mountain.NOVELUSB.com

This is a holy mountain. If you can climb to the top of the mountain, you will pass the test of that adult. "

Pedro gave up one of his eyes, but it doesn't mean it can't be cured, it just needs some tests.

As far as his physical fitness is concerned, climbing the mountain is not difficult, even if he loses an eye, it will not affect this aspect of things.

But at this time, Fujiyama was very special. Affected by the power of Arceus, it was fine for ordinary people to climb, but those who were stronger than ordinary people would feel a special pressure when they approached the top of the mountain. The stronger the strength, the greater the pressure .

As long as one passes a test, the influence of this power will disappear forever, and today Pedro has such an opportunity.

Even though Sha Mo didn't express his purpose clearly, Pedro chose to obey the Duke's order and started his own climbing road.

After a delay, while Pedro was still undergoing trials, the two major pirate groups, Beasts and Big Mom, had completed the exchange of the text of the road sign history, and Jiebo was brought back smoothly.

Then in an instant, he met a white bear hugging his leg and kept apologizing and thanking him. It was not Jiebo, but Bepo. Bepo was full of gratitude for the fact that she and Zeraora saved his brother. .

Jiebo did not stay, but joined the team climbing the Fuji Mountain, mainly to see how Pedro was doing.

Subsequently, Kaido has also returned to the Wano country, but before Kaido, the newspaper of the World Economic News Agency has reported some news in advance.

"Kaido, do you have anything to say about this?"

【Punk Hazard was attacked by pirates, and a large number of people were killed. 】

"Morgans and those navies really talk nonsense. You know me. I really did it. There must be nothing left there."

Looking at the newspaper in front of him, Kaido's face twitched a few times. In good conscience, he really didn't blow up Punk Hazard this time.

If he blows it up, there will never be a surviving navy, and he will directly raze the island to the ground.

Although this matter has nothing to do with him, he rode the eight-headed dragon at an inappropriate time and ended up in such an inappropriate place.

In order to allow others to see him, he chose to fly at a low altitude, and was photographed in the end, just in time for the navy to take the blame.

Punk Hazard, as the navy's research base, has a large number of research projects, including some projects based on Quinn's pot.

Because of being stimulated by Quinn, Caesar frantically wanted to prove himself, so he started some subjects in advance.

However, he just couldn't research those things. In order to show that he was still capable, he turned his eyes back to the weapon.

Finally, he developed a special weapon code-named "Nation of Death", but the Navy suddenly stopped his experiment.

Because according to his information, this weapon does not distinguish between friend and foe, and is extremely harmful. Even if it is an experiment, it may cause extremely bad effects. Under such circumstances, love, the Navy's scientific research force must not break out such a scandal.

But in Caesar's view, this is his pinnacle work. Only idiots and idiots will be accidentally injured. Being able to die in his weapon experiment is also a reflection of his own value.

Due to illegal operations, he was eventually deprived of his position in the science class and arrested by the Navy for trial.

Caesar did not accept all this and detonated the special weapon.

The facilities on the island were severely damaged, and there were casualties in the science class. Just when the navy didn't know how to deal with it, Kaido who passed by helped them a lot.

He is almost a lunatic at sea, blowing up an experimental base is too reasonable.

At this moment, Kaido experienced Quinn's hardships, and also knew what it felt like to take the blame.

It's just that he doesn't care about this kind of thing at all. Experience does not mean understanding. For Kaido, he doesn't have to worry about what Quinn is worried about at all, and he doesn't care at all.

Assassination? If they have a strong enough assassin, Kaido really wants to experience it.

It is nothing more than some CP agents. As the first pirates to have the title of emperor of the sea, their strength has been honed little by little under the honing of time. Even with Morgans' exaggeration, they themselves have the strength of monsters.

Mere CP organizations will not pay attention to it at all, let alone choose to join hands with them to do some small things.

As for his own reputation.

He is a pirate. No matter which pirate he is, he will not have a positive image in the channels of the world government, although most pirates do not have such a thing.

But even so, the World Government will still regularly publicize the horror and tyranny of the pirates. No matter what the pirates have done or what happened nearby, it must be related to them.

Whether it's Kaido or Big Mom, red hair or white beard, especially when there is a problem in a kingdom or island, the pirates nearby are the most natural scapegoats, not to mention the emergence of such government experimental institutions. There is a problem.

Not caring is one aspect, but it doesn't mean Kaido can't do anything.

"Hey, what are you looking at there, bring me a chart!"

The wine jar was smashed beside an ordinary pirate. The broken tiles startled him, and he followed Kaido's instructions to find what he wanted. The magnetic field on the great route is unpredictable, so he can only rely on Record pointer navigation, but such places still have charts.

With a fixed sea chart, at least know where the next island is, and who owns this area.

Regarding Kaido's sudden anger, the subordinates didn't find it strange. Although Kaido was still chatting about other things with a smile a second ago, the time is now at the end of 1517, and it will be 1518 in a few hours. Spirits are indispensable on such occasions.

Kaido, who was drinking, did not directly lift the table, which was already the result of restraint.

"What do you want charts for?"

Looking at Kaido who suddenly wanted to find the chart, Arceus had a strange feeling.

"Hey lol lol, of course it's for the sake of these guys. They're all published in the newspaper. If I don't blow up an island, wouldn't they be spreading rumors? I'm doing it for their own good."

Kaido, in a slightly drunk state, has a very clear mind, and he can't control things like spreading rumors. It's other people's business to say what others like.

But the order of this world is based on personal bravery. When he is in a good mood, he can ignore it, and when he is in a bad mood, he can naturally take revenge.

"Don't worry, I will pick a similar island to blow up, you can celebrate with them, I will find someone to exercise."

Twisting his neck, Kaido stood up again. At the same time, Yamato and Quinn felt a chill in their hearts, as if they were being targeted by something dirty.

Looking at each other, as two people who were deeply persecuted by Kaido, they immediately understood what this feeling was all about.

According to common sense, Kaido will not find two people at the same time, and now it is a celebration banquet, at most only one person will be unlucky, but before Quinn can act, he finds that his feet have been frozen, and Yamato has already hid in the corner, and waved to him apologetically.

The noisy venue made it difficult for him to hear what Yamato was saying, but he still understood Yamato's meaning from the change of Yamato's mouth shape.

【Sorry, Uncle Quinn, there must be someone unlucky, so you should deal with Father. 】

It didn't take much time to break free from this restraint, but the few seconds of delay had already caused his and Kaido's eyes to meet.

"Quinn, it's too boring, let's have some sideshows, little ones, this year's special event, when I practice with Quinn, as long as you can meet me, you can get rewards!"

Under the stimulation of alcohol, this group of pirates were also tempted, and only Yamato, who escaped the catastrophe, let out a long sigh of relief.

"Sure enough, when being chased by a bear, you don't have to run faster than the bear, it's enough to run faster than others."

"Yamato."

"Father? When did you come here?"

"Not long ago, you put half of your plan to deal with your father in other places, so you don't have to worry about it."

"Huh?"

Although there are some small episodes, Ghost Island as a whole is still celebrating the New Year. Relatively speaking, some people's life is not so easy, such as the real initiator of the Punk Hazard incident-Caesar Courant.

On the sea, in the prison ship, Caesar in the prison looked very pitiful, and he was condemning himself with the soldiers guarding him.

"It's all my fault, if it weren't for my carelessness, this experiment would never fail, it's all my fault

Otherwise they would be fine now."

"Okay, stop talking nonsense. Since you feel that you are wrong, then you should regret it. You are such a capable scientist, the higher-ups should forgive you, and it's not all your fault. After all, it was because of the pirate attack. That's how it became."

"Yeah, it's not all your fault."

The soldiers on the prison ship didn't know exactly what happened. In order to cover up the scandal, the world government reported internally that it wasn't that Caesar deliberately detonated the kingdom of death, but that it was a mistake under the influence of the attack.

They were not strict with Caesar, because Caesar had always concealed his true nature. From the perspective of Punk Hazard's soldiers and experimenters, he had always been a good man who cared about his subordinates.

Even if they get angry because of some things, they will apologize afterwards. This prison ship usually escorts prisoners to Punk Hazard for some experiments. These soldiers are also affected by Caesar's face project and feel that he is a little innocent.

Listening to what the soldiers said, Caesar knew that the world government must have covered up the truth again, which also made him feel that his chance had come.

"That. These handcuffs make me very uncomfortable, can you change to a slightly longer chain, please"

Under his sincere prayer, the guarding soldiers really softened their hearts, and brought new chains according to Caesar's request, but they made a procedural error when replacing the chains.

Normal process, they have to put on new chains before they can untie the old chains.

But the guarding soldiers felt that Caesar was a kind scientist, and now he looked sincerely repentant, so he didn't follow this process.nOVELus&.coM

"No Empty World!"

Chapter 834 Dover, come and recruit me

Although the MADS research team is not some of the world's top combat power, each of its members has its own life-saving means. This group of scientists has integrated what they are good at into the battle. Even Vegapunk has similar inventions.

As an ability user of the natural department, Caesar also integrated his own science with the gas fruit, and in just a moment, his gas gas filled the cabin.

Oxygen that originally existed in the space was extracted by him and stored in his body, forming a gas space that only he can breathe.

All living things except themselves will be starved of oxygen and unable to breathe.

Lack of water and food can be tolerated, but without the air they can breathe, they can't last much longer

"Hey, you guys are really easy to deceive, so you believe my words?"

This was the first step of his original plan. The restraints of the handcuffs were too restrictive, making him unable to do anything. If he replaced them with longer chains, he would have room to maneuver.

Unexpectedly, these soldiers let go of his restraint naively, and he would not let this opportunity pass.

The soldiers did not expect that Caesar had changed so much, but now they have no ability to resist, just like dehydrated fish, they are trying to breathe with their mouths wide open.

But no matter what, the lungs were unable to take in any oxygen. Instead, they inhaled a large amount of gas and fell down one by one.

The scope of his empty world is not large, but this is on a ship, and the soldiers outside did not understand what happened, and fell into a coma.

Caesar, who was freed from the shackles of the sea tower stone, flew in the sky, holding an inconspicuous match in his hand. When he threw the match, the flame on it was blown out by the sea wind, but the sparks left on the stick still exploded. The high concentration of gas around the hull was removed.

In order not to be captured by the world government again, Caesar mercilessly chose to silence him, then flew towards the nearby islands, and planned what he should do next.

Research is also one of his interests. At the same time, he is still a hedonist, and it is impossible to live in seclusion. Now he has been disgusted by Vegapunk on the side of the world government.

Even if the world government doesn't hold him accountable, he won't be able to go back to science class, let alone his current status as a criminal.

He needs a benefactor, a benefactor who allows him to continue to study his own kingdom of death and enjoy life.

During the MADS period, the research group had received funding from Du Field, and he was used to this kind of thing.

"The revolutionary army is all poor ghosts, and the richest other forces are Beasts, but... **** Quinn, it's all this guy's fault."

Looking at the forces in the sea, the most wealthy one is the Hundred Beasts Pirates, but the current Hundred Beasts is not suitable for him to join. nOveLUslb.cOm

First of all, the Beasts Pirates already have Quinn, and if he goes there now, there is a high probability that he will be Quinn's deputy.

Even if he was beaten to death, he didn't want to work under Quinn's hands. Of course, if he couldn't be beaten to death, he would still choose to be an obedient little brother. is not considered.

Secondly, he is not good at Beasts. What he is best at is weapons of mass destruction, but Beasts already have this kind of means. He doesn't believe that it is Quinn's handwriting, and firmly believes that Quinn is a knife blocker.

The problem is, regardless of whether Quinn did it or not, the person behind it is a man of beasts, and even if he goes, he may not be taken seriously.

For a fledgling strategist, a poor emerging power is definitely easier to develop than a veteran power with a lot of counselors. Only in a new power can this kind of talent be valued.

Only by being valued can he have the control of funds, and with the control of funds, he can find a way to embezzle public funds, so that he can enjoy himself wantonly.

Besides, he, who claims to be a genius scientist, didn't want to take the initiative to deliver it to his door, because that would make him look cheap.

"I know how to do business, I don't have scientific research ability but I have to have a territory, and it's better to be able to connect with beasts. Hey, blah, blah, blah, blah, blah, blah, blah, blah."

After much deliberation, Caesar decided to attack Doflamingo first.

As a newly rising intermediary in the new world, Doflamingo has a rich trading network, has Dressrosa as a fixed site, and has the identity of Shichibukai as a support, so he will not attract too much attention from the world government. A relatively perfect object in Caesar's heart.

Beasts is still collecting animal-type devil fruits from all over the world. Judging from this incident, even if Beasts has all kinds of strange abilities, at most they are just transformations, not fabricating devil fruits out of thin air, so his artificial devil fruit There is definitely still a market.

Even if the beasts are not interested, as long as they can get that thing out, it will definitely sell well in the outside world. Caesar believes that he has already made a breakthrough in technology, and if someone is willing to support him, he will definitely succeed.

"Hey, Doflamingo, don't let me down."

He destroyed the prison ship because he didn't want the navy to find his whereabouts too quickly. It doesn't mean he can hide the news. The prison ship needs to report to the naval base regularly. When the prison ship loses contact, something is doomed up.

In a few days, he became a bounty criminal worth 300 million Baileys. After that, he came to Dressrosa smoothly through the property and record pointers looted from the prison ship. dangled in front of him.

"Dover, are you really not going to meet that guy?"

In the royal city of Dressrosa, this place has already become Doflamingo's stronghold. At this time, he is sitting by the window, listening to Torrebol's report of the new situation.

"Did Virgo send the news back?"

"Yes, he said that Caesar was arrested because of experimental problems, which is a little different from the outside news."

After many years of undercover career, Virgo has also mixed into the middle and high levels of the navy, constantly sending back valuable new information. This kind of information that is not too confidential, Virgo can still figure it out.

"哆哆哆哆哆, then there is no problem, continue to consume, I don't believe that guy can bear it."

Caesar wanted Doflamingo to take the initiative to recruit him, but Doflamingo didn't plan to speak first, in order to take more initiative.

He is Shichibukai, a legal pirate recognized by the world government, and it is his responsibility to arrest the wanted criminals in the territory.

Ordinary bounty criminals would not do this. Caesar obviously had his own ideas, how could Doflamingo not see it.

Anyway, he is not in a hurry, he wants to see if Caesar can hold on for a few more days.

Chapter 835 Quinn, are the flowers in my hometown blooming?

Today's Dressrosa is also known as the country of love and passion and toys, food, flowers, dances, and walking toys. Without knowing the inside story, outsiders will naively think that the people of this country live happily.

Those walking toys became a unique landscape, but no one knew that these toys were originally living beings, enslaved people transformed from the ability of the fruit of childlike fun.

Aside from Doflamingo's secret activities, it can only be seen from the outside that he managed Dressrosa with care. At this time, Dressrosa is also a popular tourist island.

This also means that the consumption here is very high.

Caesar himself has no resistance to this kind of thing. According to the original timeline, when he returned to Punk Hazard, he called "Girls' Ship" to the island every night, living a life of debauchery, even The money was still cheated from BIG MOM.

Facing the hot girls on Dressrosa Island, the small amount of money he collected from the prison ship was quickly exhausted. In the end, he couldn't bear it anymore and took the initiative to find Doflamingo elder brother.

"Caesar Courant?"

"Yes, I am the genius scientist Caesar Courant, joker, I have a great opportunity for you!"

"Are you referring to the fact that you cheated a woman of money because you had no money to eat, and you had to run away after being exposed?"

The country of toys is because of the fruit ability of sugar, and the love and passion is because of the national characteristics here. The women here are relatively open and jealous.

If both parties are pleasing to the eye, they can quickly develop a relationship, but as long as they are betrayed by a man, they will commit terrorist acts to assassinate each other, so emotional disputes and even physical conflicts are common.

Caesar has really deceived people by relying on his knowledge and eloquence. If he is not a person with natural ability, there will be a few more holes in his body now.

"Ahem, cough, that was just an accident."

"I don't want to talk nonsense with you, what do you want to do, I hope you have a reason that can convince me, otherwise, I can only exchange you for 300 million Baileys."

The other party calls himself a joker, which means that he knows his identity as a middleman in the underground world. Seeing that the other party has been tossing for so long, Doflamingo hopes that the other party can match this value.

"Okay, then let me introduce myself again. I used to be a member of the MADS research team. I worked with Vegapunk and Quinn. You should be familiar with these two people. I have to make it clear. My ability is definitely stronger than that guy Quinn!"

He needs someone to mark to show off his ability, and Quinn is undoubtedly the most suitable person, even if he is unwilling to accept this result, but this is the current fact.

"Eh, oh, interesting, that is to say, you can do what Quinn can do?"

Hearing what Caesar said, Doflamingo really became a little interested. Beasts has many patented technical products, such as the Kobelco rumored by the outside world.

This patent is not because of legal protection, but because the imitators have no clue. If Caesars can really do it, the profits it will bring are unimaginable. NoveLusb.coM

"There's something wrong with this... that guy."

He wanted to boast that he could do it, but the truth is, he didn't have the ability.

It would be a big trouble for him if he promised but couldn't do it.

"So what can you do?"

Seeing Caesar's expression, Doflamingo felt that he was bragging, and his attitude became quite cold.

"I am good at weapons and man-made devil fruits, and I have made great breakthroughs. With a little financial support, I can make devil fruits!"

"Can you guarantee that you will succeed?"

Devil fruits have always been the secret treasure of the sea. If Caesar can really get them out, it will be a good deal no matter what.

Especially Kaido, who loves animals, can be flattered.

If this is true, it will be very beneficial to Doflamingo's future development.

Listening to Caesar's assurance, Doflamingo temporarily believed him.

"You better not lie, the price of lying is something you can't afford."

He is willing to give it a try. If it really works, it will definitely deepen his business relationship with Beasts.

But he didn't act like a fool, explaining to Kaido as soon as he received the news.

If he discusses future deals with Kaido now, and Caesar fails to come up with satisfactory products, he must be the one who is unlucky.

If he "lied" Kaido, Kaido would not care about what happened in the middle, and would only have a good chat with him, the first responsible person.

Temporarily receiving the support of Doflamingo, Caesar Courant started his own new round of research.

In Beasts Pirates, Quinn looked at the blooming Gracidia flower and showed a gratified smile. This flower finally bloomed.

"Little Shaymy! It's blooming! Now you can help me."

The Gracietia flowers he cultivated in various areas are already in full bloom. At this time, Quinn put them in flower pots, transported them all to the same area, and called Xie Mi out.

"I heard it, I heard it, Mi has already heard it, don't rush to say it!"

The familiar grass hedgehog came out of Quinn's laboratory in Linghou, looking at the Gracidia flowers outside, the flowers on his body exuded a special fragrance.

"You did a good job, you really let them germinate, Mi thought you couldn't succeed."

The seeds of the Gracietia flowers he got were not many, but together they could be regarded as a small flower bush. Xie Mi, who was walking among them, affirmed Quinn's achievements, and was also surrounded by a ball of golden light.

Enveloped by the golden light, her figure gradually became slender, from a chubby hedgehog to a deer-like dog-like Pokémon, with a white body, but green hair on her limbs and head, and antlers on both sides of her head Same wings.

This is Xie Mi's sky form. Her footsteps did not stop, but she came to the sky. With her movement, Linghou, who was covered by snow all year round, also ushered in her own new life.

The snow began to loosen, and it seemed that something wanted to get out of it. As time passed, a piece of green branch sprouted out of the snow, with a flower bud that was about to open.

Linghou, whose main color is white, saw the splendid scene of a hundred flowers blooming for the first time today. Those seeds that had been sleeping in the snow for many years finally revived at this moment.

"How. How about it, Mi is very powerful, right?"

"Great, this power will definitely save my plantation!"

Excited, Quinn stretched out his hands towards Xie Mi, as if wanting to give her a hug, but Xie Mi's character seemed to have changed, instead of accepting the hug like before, he flew back instinctively, and the top of his head seemed to be What else is brewing...

Chapter 836 "Before the Eastern Expedition"

Xiemi has two forms, land and sky. No matter which form it is in, its consciousness will not change, but its personality is completely different. In most cases, Ximi in land form is shy and easily frightened.

When Xie Mi enters the sky form, his character will also become brave and lively.

The Shemy next to Quinn has a cheerful personality, and even among the land-formed Shemy, it is a carefree individual, but it also has a shy side.

She didn't accept Quinn's hug earlier, but was embarrassed to reject him. It was another manifestation of emotion, so Quinn misjudged.

But as she entered sky form, she learned to say no.

After thinking about it for a while, Xie Mi didn't use the air slash, but just covered his face with the seed flash. For the rough-skinned and thick-skinned Quinn, this is nothing at all.

Not to mention the blessing of the thorny ammonite beast, he is used to this outrageous way of greeting

"Don't learn the bad habits of that snail! Forget it, let's discuss it, when will we restore that island?"

The previous battle also allowed Quinn to regain his confidence. He is also a person who can compete with the Admiral of the Navy. How can he be afraid of the assassination of the mere CP?

Compared with appetite and reason, appetite finally prevailed.

Even Linghou, which is covered with snow all the year round, can turn into a flower field, so the recovery of the island's environment should not be difficult.

"For the sake of your sincerity and sincerity, Mi will promise you, Mi is ready to leave at any time."

After receiving an affirmative answer, Quinn felt relieved and began to plan his new voyage, but Xie Mi's influence was far more than that.

"The flowers are blooming! Old man! Come out and have a look, there are so many flowers!"

The wooden basin fell in response, and an old lady looked at the blooming flowers outside with incredible eyes. Wano country is developing as a whole, but the progress is different in different regions. The most prosperous is the flower capital, which is the central business district. Followed by Jiuli and Baiwu.

As a ranch, Ximei also has a unique scenery. Due to environmental problems, Ximei lags behind other areas, and some residents also maintain a relatively old way of life.

This wooden house is located on a small hill in Linghou. The old couple have seen the most snow in their life. Although they have seen flowers in other areas, this is the first time they have seen flowers blooming on the snow.

Not only them, but many residents were attracted by the flowers that suddenly bloomed. Curious people walked along the trail made of flowers, wanting to see what it was.

After transforming into the sky form before, Xie Mi ran several laps in the sky, and the places she ran became like this at this time. This power to change nature also added another miracle to the miracle.

【1518 in the lunar calendar of the sea, the gods are happy, the ice and snow don't melt, but the path is full of flowers】

Quinn and Xie Mi did not leave Wano country immediately. He is different from other big cadres. just do.

At this time, Tiger also came to Wano Country again.

"Brother Tiger, please wait a moment, we have to check your identity."

Tiger met Sasaki who returned to the island here. As a murloc, he also has a special respect for Tiger.

"Why is it so troublesome? Although I don't come here many times, are you too careful?"

From the moment he reached the periphery, someone checked his identity. Along the way, he encountered two sentry posts, and the Gyarados checked the ship information. Unexpectedly, they all arrived at the submerged port, and he had to come again. NoveLusb.coM

"It's not over yet. Brother Tiger, you are not a cadre of Beasts after all. You haven't made a special entry. Everyone outside has to go through such a process. Brother Quinn is a little... too careful."

Even if Quinn's self-confidence was inflated, he did not reduce the censorship system in Wano. It is much better to live in peace of mind than to be assassinated. Tiger, who rarely came to Wano, experienced the strictest censorship in this way. system.

Along the familiar path back then, Tiger came to the monastery again, but he didn't see Misu, only Lamy who was cleaning up.

"Ramy, where is the nun?"

"The nun is welcoming new believers on the holy mountain. Uncle Tiger, you can wait a little longer. The nun should be back tomorrow."

"I'd better go find her tomorrow morning."

Fujiyama is no stranger to Tiger. He climbed the mountain smoothly. Although the special power left by Arceus can suppress the physique of the strong, as long as he is devout enough, this effect can be ignored.

Besides, Tiger is also a good climber. As a person who can climb the Red Clay Continent with his bare hands, climbing Fuji Mountain is like walking on flat ground for him.

When Tiger climbed up, he happened to see Misu preaching, and the target of the preaching was none other than Pedro and Jiebo.

Jiebo was confused when he heard it, but Pedro's eyes were full of light. In Tiger's view, it was the proof that the confused people regained their direction after being guided.

"The person looking for me is here, and I can tell you about the same. The rest is up to you to experience it yourself."

After receiving the booklet from Missu, Pedro stepped aside and read the "Bible" like a treasure.

"As expected of a nun, have you let more lost lambs know the glory of the Lord?"

"It's all the power of the Lord. He lost one eye, but the power of the Lord restored him to health."

The power of the "Holy Spring" is very special. Although it cannot be reborn directly from a broken limb, if the stump is intact, it can be reattached 100%.

The people here have a monster-like physique after training, and their organs can maintain their activity for a longer period of time when they are properly preserved. After a period of pilgrimage, he got a chance to be treated, and after that he began to receive teachings of baptism.

"So, can these people understand the existence of the Lord only by using benefits?"

"No, my dear Tiger, that is just an opportunity. People just need a chance to contact the Lord, and interests are often the most direct thing. Although it is very realistic, it is much more meaningful than a fantasy topic.

It just so happens that you are here too. According to the Lord's will, we should not be limited to playing around in the Wano Kingdom. The Lord's believers have already made plans to spread glory for the Lord.

They got the power of the Lord, you just can see, this is a very different team, this is the Knights Templar of the Lord. "

Chapter 837 Six in One, Knights of the Array

"Holy Temple. Knights?"

"We do not advocate violence, but we will not give up violence. In order to maintain the glory of the Lord, fighting is inevitable. This is a team that belongs exclusively to the Lord, which is fundamentally different from the pirate group.

They exist only to spread the glory of the Lord. This is a chaotic world, and the turbulent sea threatens people's safety.

We want them to know that the Lord can bring peace and bring new life to the world.

Come with me, I just asked Miss Shaina to check the strength of the Knights. "

Tiger thinks that he has enough understanding of the doctrine, but now it seems that he still underestimated the development of the Arceus religion during this period.

A Tanabata blue bird flew out of the clouds, and brought Tiger and Misu to a clearing in Baiwu.

Thirty members of the Arceus Cult have already been waiting here. There are men and women among the thirty members. A team of six is divided into five groups, and they are waiting for inspection at this time.

"I kept you waiting for Miss Shaina, and it took a little longer to explain the teachings to a few newcomers."

"Nothing, it looks like they're getting ready?"

"Of course, they have been waiting for this day for too long. Starting from me, we are all ready to dedicate ourselves to the Lord."

"It's not necessary. Don't forget the words of Lord Saint Beast. Life is the most precious thing. When encountering something invincible, protecting yourself is the most important thing. I have something to do later, let's start first."

"I see.

children! The time has come to test your efforts, the Lord is watching you from afar, let the angel of the Lord see your efforts! "

Under the leadership of Misu, the bodies of those people began to change. This kind of animal transformation ability is not uncommon in the world of pirates, but the strange thing is that these people all look the same after transformation.

It's not so much a transformation, it's better to say that they all put on armor.

The whole body is covered with golden armor, and there is an extra golden shield with red bumps on both hands, and the head is also wrapped in a golden helmet. Everyone has a red metal crown on their head, and five of them have crowns much larger than others.

The shields in their hands are also different, with an extra triangular gap.

"These are.. Knights Templar?"

"That's right, this is the power of the Lord. These children lost their original families due to various reasons, and struggled to survive in the corner of the sea. We brought them back and taught them knowledge.

These 30 people are the ones with superior physical fitness and the strongest comprehensive ability, and they are also the first batch of graduates of Six Styles.

They have a pious belief in the Lord and passed the test of the Holy Mountain, so they won this honor. "

Pokémon is not a single individual, but a biological group. In the natural environment, most Pokémon exist in the form of groups.

Some Pokémon are very dependent on the group, and some are very dependent on the help of their companions, such as Weak Dingyu.

Individually, they are not strong, they are very weak, but when countless weak dinghies gather together, they can become formidable monsters of the sea. NOvelusℬ.com

The abilities of these thirty people are similar abilities-formation Pokémon-array soldiers, a very special fighting-type Pokémon.

In the game, six formations are considered a Pokémon.

But when the array soldiers are transformed into abilities and given to other people, each array soldier is a separate individual, and six people with the array soldier ability together just form a complete array soldier squad.

According to the racial habits of the array soldiers, the array soldiers standing at the front are the strongest and smartest ones, responsible for controlling the formation and ordering the other array soldiers behind them.

The same is true here, they are the best in the assessment, so they became the leaders of the formation.

Different from those cadres with strong individuals, their individual strength is not as good as them, but they can gather everyone's strength through teamwork to play a greater role.

And the upper limit is not six people. Although they are a team of six people, five teams can also be combined to exert stronger strength.

"Battle formation, formation!"

The leader of the formation was in front, and the rest were behind. A triangular assault formation quickly appeared in front of Shaina.

In order to survive better, the leader of the wild array has absolute control over the array behind him, can order them to appear in the right position, and sometimes even sacrifice individuals in exchange for higher group interests.

But the leaders of the different formations here can only rely on the horn crowns on their heads to communicate better and respond in the shortest time. Therefore, discipline and obedience are very important, and pirates who are used to laxity are not suitable for this ability at all.

Only these believers who are united by faith can achieve this effect of prohibition.

Their existence is not to deal with those monsters, use magic to defeat magic, and face those monster-like enemies, naturally there are monster-like higher-ups to deal with them.

The purpose of the existence of this knight order, in addition to spreading the glory of Arceus, is to reverse the situation of grassroots battles in future battles.

This requires them to have real strength, not just a good-looking show, so a test is required. Shaina waved her wings behind her back, and a large number of fire feathers shot at these young people.

"Defense!"

The forward triangular formation stopped in place, and the shields in their hands were closely connected, forming a row of airtight shield walls.

Ding, Ding, Boo!

Facing Shaina's attack, the iron formation of the soldiers in the formation remained motionless. Even if someone was injured, they would be immediately protected by the shrinking formation.

"Not bad, it seems that I underestimated them, they should be able to face stronger forces."

That was just Shaina's random blow, and being able to remain motionless under this kind of attack is already worthy of her affirmation.

"Scatter! Encircle!"

The gathered array soldier ability users followed their leader to move around, surrounded Shaina from different directions, and finally surrounded her in the form of a shield formation.

Because of the test, Shaina did not choose to fly, but tried to break through head-on.

There is no suspense about the outcome of the battle. There is a big gap between their strength and Shaina's, and the number is not enough to bridge the gap. However, they managed to hold Shaina back for a short period of time. In terms of their strength, this is already a huge gap. Very good record.

As long as there are suitable people leading them, this elite team can definitely play an unexpected role.

"Miss Shaina, what do you think of them?"

"It's not bad, and they have lived up to the power given to them by Lord Saint Beast, but this is not enough. It's time for actual combat. The environment in the new world is a little dangerous. You should start from the first half."

Chapter 838 The Last Stand and the Revolutionary Army

Religious belief is something that outsiders can't figure out. Ordinary believers may only do it for profit or some psychological comfort, but for these fanatics, belief has become something bigger than their own lives.

On weekdays, they are extremely kind, but once taboos are violated, these people may turn into a group of lunatics.

If it is used by someone with a heart, it may lead to some immeasurable consequences.

But that's ordinary religion out there, and that doesn't happen to a religion with a real God.

On weekdays, Arceus doesn't worry about the so-called Arceus religion, but that doesn't mean he doesn't care about anything. The things on the holy mountain are the manifestation of his power. For those who are willing to give, he also gives them what they need.

But if outsiders pretend to be his name and do things that he hates, they will understand what God's wrath is.

Due to the upper limit of talent, this group of people paid more attention to cooperation rather than fighting alone, so they got the special Pokémon of the formation.

There is also a family of rats in the Pokémon similar to the array soldier, but this kind of Pokémon is far inferior to the armor of the array soldier incarnation.

Compared with a group of knights in golden armor and ratmen, the former is more acceptable.

After passing the audit, this knight group also embarked on its own journey, heading towards the first half of the great route.

Due to the existence of the Windless Belt and the Red Earth Continent, the Four Seas, the Paradise, and the New World maintain relative independence. Without Shaina and other big cadres following, the first half of the Great Route is the most suitable stage for them.

The nun's own martial strength is not outstanding yet, but there is still a Tiger by her side. After she has a new target, Tiger's military strength is also constantly improving. She is currently the strongest murloc in Murloc Island. It's short.

Such a special team has enough self-protection ability, but the way they decide the destination

"Nun, is this really okay?"

There is a chart of the first half of the great route hanging on the wall, and the nun is holding a dart with a sense of age in her hand, and decides the destination through a blind selection method.

"No problem, this is a tradition. This dart was used by Ms. Yamato back then. It is said that the island that the Lord decided to explore in this way was blessed by the glory of the Lord."

Because there are no clues, I gamble on luck. This is the way to decide which island to explore. It's just that this process has been deified and fermented, and it has gradually become a kind of tradition.

"Okay, it seems that our destination has been decided, and it's time to set off, Your Excellency Tiger, I may have to ask you more about the battle. These children haven't experienced a few actual battles yet."

"Leave it to me, I will clear the way."

The ship with the wrist of the universe left Onigashima. Although the pirate flag was not hoisted, most forces have already equated the wrist of the universe with Kaido's skull flag.

They all know that it is an alternative logo within the Hundred Beasts Pirates.

It's just that most ordinary people don't understand this detail. For them, the Thousand Universe Wrist will not have an innate sense of fear like Pirate Flag.
novelSB.com

Spreading the Gospel of the Lord is the main purpose of this team.

In addition to the 30-member Knights, there is also a medical team, some experts in agriculture and water conservancy, plus ordinary crew members, the number far exceeds the average pirate group, which is comparable to the full load of large warships.

The things they do along the way are very special, cleaning up pirates, maintaining law and order on some islands, helping sick residents and then preaching.

Although the methods are different, they are generally helping others. This unusual behavior has made some forces confused about what the group of beasts want to do.

"The second team, the third team to disperse the enemy! The fourth team rescues the townspeople! The fifth team stays on standby to deal with emergencies. The first team comes with me! Get rid of those pirate captains!"

"Fight to the last stand!"

The formation led by him issued a new combat order. At that moment, his body and the five members behind him shone with light, and the armor on his body also shone brilliantly.

This is an exclusive move belonging to the formation. Double attack, double defense, and speed will be enhanced in the case of last stand, but this skill has a side effect.

After using the last stand, a strong fighting will fill their hearts, and their bodies will never execute the order to retreat.

Either the enemy dies or I die. This is the effect of the last stand.

Due to the characteristics of the formation, orders are transmitted through the horns of the helmet, so the efficiency is extremely high. Even on a battlefield full of artillery fire, orders can be heard clearly.

The five teams had their own arrangements and launched an attack on the pirates who were looting in the town.

In order to plunder richer targets, some pirates will temporarily unite. This knight order is facing such a situation, but they are still very powerless in the face of a team full of capable people.

What Kaido dreams of is an army of capable users. Although he has a large number of "Phantom Beasts" under his command at this time, these Phantom Beasts are scattered across various sites, performing their own tasks in groups of three or two.

There has never been a large-scale massed battle like this.

Although the formation soldiers are Pokémon of the fighting type, the armor attached to their bodies is extremely strong. In addition, these thirty people have experienced six-style training. Although there are not many who are proficient in six styles, according to their own abilities, At least it will be one style.

"Captain! Monsters! These are monsters!"

"It's useless, it's useless to cut it with a knife, it's useless to shoot it, even a cannon can't hit them, this is not something we can deal with!"

The sharp blade on the edge of the shield and the ram in the middle are the weapons of the formation soldiers. These shield warriors are like tigers entering the flock, easily tearing apart the loose formation of these pirates.

After they occupy the town, the things temporarily built to resist the navy that may come to encircle and suppress are useless.

If it weren't for the protection of the townspeople, they could have dealt with these pirates more quickly.

The captains didn't have time to take care of them either. They themselves had to face a team that had started their last stand, and for some reason, in the middle of the battle, the townspeople who had escaped returned here again.

They did not escape this time. Sticks, hoes, and stones all became their weapons of battle, making those pirates who were already difficult to fight the enemy even worse.

What they did made the rescue teams confused. It was the first time they encountered such high-spirited townspeople, but they were so courageous, why did they run away before?

"Your Excellency Tiger, is this not quite right?"

"It's not right, it should be a person with abilities, that seems to be someone from the Revolutionary Army."

Chapter 839 "The Blasphemer"

Tiger did not participate in the battle. This was the tempering of the Knights Templar. They are constantly accumulating combat experience. Compared with when they just left Ghost Island, they cooperate more tacitly, and they are also handy in switching various formations.

In the beginning, they made various mistakes. For example, they had no energy to intervene in other battles because they were all in a last-ditch state, so they developed the habit of keeping a reserve team.

Tigger is just another insurance policy against tougher enemies, as well as a post-battle commentator summarizing their mistakes in battle.

Picking up the telescope on the side, Tiger looked into the distance. A woman was waving a special flag with a special pattern in the middle and the letters RA on both sides.

"This woman's clothes are really bold"

In Tiger's sight, a woman wearing a red top hat and a red waistcoat was waving the flag in her hand vigorously, and she was still saying something in her mouth. The distance was too far, and he couldn't speak with lips, so he didn't know. What is she saying.

But her clothes are wide open, and she doesn't wear underwear at all. This style of painting can only be described as bold even if Tiger.

"Your Excellency Tiger, it seems that your focus is not right."

"Ahem, it is indeed a member of the Revolutionary Army. I saw that flag when I was traveling some time ago."

"So, they are allies?"

"It's about the same. In fact, what they do is similar to us, but the purpose is different."

Today's revolutionary army is also moving around, accumulating its own reputation by fighting pirates, and at the same time attacking the royal power of some kingdoms. As the leader of the revolutionary army, Long has become the most vicious criminal in the world.

For the world government, pirates will only shake their interests, which is nothing more than a trivial matter, but these revolutionary troops want to act from the root, and the threat is far greater than ordinary pirates.

Long knew that his wings were not full enough, so all the cadres under him were acting separately and working hard for the future.

Appearing here is Belo Betty, the commander of the Eastern Army of the Revolutionary Army.

"Okay, you trash! Do you want to wait for someone to save you? Heroes don't exist every day. If you want to change, then learn to be that hero yourself!"

Her words are very vulgar, and she is not scolding those pirates, but the townspeople who only know how to escape.

Besides her scolding, the muscles of those residents swelled up instead, and everyone felt power gushing out of their bodies, all because of her fruit ability.

She is an inspiring person who has eaten the inspirational fruit of the Superman Department. When she waved the flag and shouted, she would awaken the power in people's hearts and give them the courage to resist. Those who were inspired would also burst out with stronger strength because of her ability. .

But these people are just ordinary townspeople, so the members of the Revolutionary Army also charged with them, dealing with the more threatening enemies, but today's battle was extremely easy for them, and the pirates had already shown a defeated attitude.

The Revolutionary Army and the Knights Templar did not clash after they met. Their enemies were all these pirates, but with the changes in the way the Knights Templar fought, they felt a strange feeling.

"Siege formation, destroy!"

Under the attack of the combined battle formation, these pirates in Paradise were vulnerable. In order to deal with the enemy as soon as possible, the members of the Knights also fought according to what they had learned, such as the six styles.

Their six-style skills made people in the revolutionary army suspicious. Ordinary people can't learn this thing. It's not difficult to learn one or two moves secretly in battle. That would be unscientific.

But they are also fighting pirates, so the revolutionary army still regards each other as companions. They are not pure rebels. The navy and friendly officials are also their targets. The conflict between the two sides appeared after the war.

After defeating the pirates, the Knights Templar routinely helped the townspeople clean up the mess, heal the wounds, and spread the faith.

"The glory of the Lord spreads across the sea, and the grace of the Lord is spreading. Believe in the Lord, and the Lord will bestow happiness and well-being on you."

Regardless of whether the townspeople have faith or not, they will try to preach. Facing these unknown people who have just saved the town, they will listen to each other no matter what.

It's just that this behavior of pinning the future on nihilistic beliefs conflicts with the revolutionary army's idea of relying on itself.

The revolutionary army relies on reality, while the members of the Arceus religion are purely religious behaviors. There is no contradiction in this, and it is fine for people to choose.

But the Revolutionary Army now has a problem. There is no limit to their selection. No matter who they are, as long as they are willing to join, this has led to the uneven quality of the Revolutionary Army.

Some people inevitably muttered a few words when they heard those believers speaking like magic sticks.

"What, how can that kind of thing be useful"

Zheng!

A water pipe blocked the flying shield, and the added arrogance kept the water pipe from breaking, but the sound of the collision caught the attention of the people around.

"Friend, there's no need to be so impulsive, what did he do?"

"The blasphemer will pay, this guy is questioning our faith!"

The Knights Templar did not cancel their transformation status, and the communication ability of the crown still exists. This sentence was just said by the knight, and the surrounding knights also responded.

The revolutionary army who had just been attacked felt that they were being stared at before they could figure out what happened. Those eyes were full of murderous intent, even more fierce than when they were fighting the pirates just now.

The 30 people selected are not only the best in all aspects of the test, but also a member of fanatics. They have absolute loyalty to the Arceus religion that gave them a new life, and even reacted a little too aggressively, unable to accept any "blasphemy" if.

The suspicion in his ears was already a "rebellious" behavior.

"Fix formation!"

The surrounding members put down their work and surrounded this position.

"Hey, what did you say, why did these people suddenly turn their faces?"

The man holding the water pipe asked the revolutionary army behind him. He had just talked with the entourage of Arceus, and he thought it was a very kind group of people. He didn't expect such a big reaction now.

"I don't know what's going on."

"Sabo! What's going on, why are we fighting again!"

The movement here also attracted the hands of the Revolutionary Army. A girl also brought several people over, but the first thing she did was to ask her own people what they had done.

Oh, by the way, the squid **** caused problems for the server before, and there will be more recently, it is normal that the comments cannot be posted or disappear

Chapter 840 The deceased, repentance or redemption

"They are not really people from the World Government, they are just waiting for us to let our guard down."

In the past, the members of the Revolutionary Army did not doubt the people of Arceus. If their target was themselves, they should not use the Six Forms openly. Looking at it now, the members of the Revolutionary Army feel that the other party wants to let their guard down up.

"Don't be stupid, then they won't be able to make a surprise attack. I think there must be a misunderstanding here."

Members of the Revolutionary Army were whispering, but they also took up their weapons, ready to deal with possible emergencies.

"Sabo! What the **** have you done?!"

"It's not me, it has nothing to do with me, it was already like this when I came here, they seem to be very angry"

Sabo looked helpless while carrying the water pipe. When he was on the boat, he was bombarded by the Tianlong people. Fortunately, he was picked up by the dragon, and he joined the revolutionary army ever since.

However, that attack injured his brain, which caused some problems with his memory. He didn't know anything about the past. The reason why he was holding the water pipe was that he felt that it was convenient for no reason.

The girl who doubted what he had done was Kerla. After Tiger's "death" spread across the sea, Kerla felt very lost. After a period of time, she left her hometown and joined the Revolutionary Army.

During this process, she met Sabo and grew up together.

"Well, everyone, I think there may be a misunderstanding. We are not bad people. You were also helping the townspeople just now. If you have any problems, you can sit down and talk slowly."

"Blasphemer, have nothing to say."

The shield that was just bounced off by the water pipe returned to his hand again. The shield should be regarded as equipment, but it is a shield formed by abilities, and it is also part of their abilities. Although the shield cannot be manipulated with the mind, it is no problem to simply recall it. .

At least they don't have to worry, if the shield is bounced off, they have to pick it up by themselves. nOVeLusB.com

For ordinary people, it was just a nagging incomprehensible, not a big deal, but for the Knights Templar, this sentence was questioning the mighty power of the **** they believed in.

Returned to the shield and threw it again, but was stopped by Kerla's soft force from Murloc Karate.

"Wait, there must be a misunderstanding here! There is no need to fight!"

Preserving the vitality and developing allies is the current development route of the revolutionary army. The Arceus religion's behavior of helping the weak makes Kerla want to avoid fighting. She thinks such bloodshed is unnecessary.

But she didn't know that her behavior not only reduced the bloodshed, but also saved herself. Once these Templars were on top, ordinary people would not be able to stop them.

Kerla's persuasion did not have any effect. They are very stubborn in this regard. No matter who dares to question such things, they will have to pay a price. Whoever wants to help, then fight together.

"Wait a minute."

The knight headed by him was about to issue a battle order when Tiger walked over from behind. When he found a conflict here, he came towards this side.

"Haku taught your murloc karate?"

Looking at Kerla in front of him, Tiger asked his own question. Although murloc karate is not much different, it can be subdivided into different schools. Haku's genre is impressive in Murloc Island.

Although human beings also have the ability to learn murloc karate, there are very few successful ones. In addition, Kerla has the shadow of the Haku school, which aroused Tiger's curiosity.

"Uncle Tai Taige! You must be Uncle Taige, right! You are not dead?!"

Compared to what it looked like a few years ago, Kerla has changed a lot. Tiger didn't expect that the little girl would go on this road, and with the cover of the hat, he didn't recognize that it was Kerla.

But for Kerla, Tiger is someone who cannot be forgotten no matter what. The news of his death indirectly made Kerla go on this path. It is her goal to make murlocs and humans get along with each other on an equal footing. .

"Who are you."

In the eyes of humans, he had already died in the attack of the navy. Even if the navy met him, they would only think that he was a murloc of the same type, because Tiger was a dead man according to official information.

Most people would choose to trust their boss. Except for the murlocs, he had never met anyone who was so sure of him.

"It's me, Kerla, I'm Kerla!"

"You are so old"

Seeing the little girl turned into a young girl, Tiger also had a lot of feelings, and Kerla hugged him excitedly and started crying. It was a great joy to her that Tiger was still alive, but some things didn't matter. It didn't end with the reunion of old people.

"Uncle Tiger, what happened to you back then."

"That's a long story, let me finish some things first."

Bypassing Kerla, Tiger came to the person who made a mistake, but this scared Kerla, she was very familiar with Tiger, even when he was in the Sun Pirates, Tiger didn't want her to see the scene of the battle , she also knew what Tiger looked like when he was angry.

"Wait, Uncle Tiger, there is really some misunderstanding here. He is usually a little glib, but he won't do blasphemy! Hey, what the **** are you doing!"

"I just muttered that this is useless."

"He is questioning the power of the Lord."

The knight did not defend himself, but silently said what he heard.

"Toure, we are spreading the glory of the Lord, not making the world fear the Lord. If we do that, won't we become the apostles of the evil god?

If we kill each other because of unintentional actions, aren't we the same as those ignorant false gods?

It is the tolerance of the Lord to give those who have no intention of offending a chance to repent, have you forgotten? "

Misu also came here at this time, but as one of the original believers, she was more calm because she remembered the mission of traveling.

She knows that not everyone can understand her beliefs, and some people will not accept it in their hearts, but as long as the other party does not make insulting words, even if they do not believe, she will not act radically.

The ignorant false gods refer to the Tianlong people. Because they call themselves gods, gods have become derogatory terms in the sea.

Misu wants to change this perception and let them know the difference between the true God.

For this unintentional act, she will also give the other party a chance to repent, but only once, because the Lord is merciful and majestic.

Repentance is an opportunity. If you fail to grasp the opportunity, you can only use another way to atone for your sin.

"Sir, the Lord is tolerant. If you did it unintentionally, I allow you to repent, or use our way to atone for your sin."
