

Arceus 841

Chapter 841: One year, the disgust from Arceus

Misu will not put a knife on someone's neck, and she still can't do the act of dying if she doesn't believe in religion.

But when they encounter people who are stubborn and insist on disrespectful words, they don't even have the opportunity to mine.

She is a nun, but this nun is not only kind and benevolent. Even a fool can see that the current situation is not right. Although he didn't know what happened, the member of the revolutionary army still chose the former and sincerely expressed his gratitude to the other party. An apology was made.

This result was reluctantly accepted by the knights, and they did not expand the conflict because of this, and then continued their missionary behavior. With this small friction, the people of the Revolutionary Army also ordered their mouths to be controlled. Did not say anything face to face.

Instead, Tiger chatted with Kerla for a while, telling about his experiences during this time.

Listening to Kerla's ideal, Tiger showed a gratified smile, which at least shows that his efforts at the beginning were not in vain. There are also good people among humans, and there are also people who are willing to believe in murlocs and make changes.

After confirming that Tiger was the legendary Tiger, the members of the Revolutionary Army were also full of admiration for his behavior. The liberator of Mary Joa, Tiger with this title had a great influence on the Revolutionary Army.

There was even a special wave of publicity, which allowed these members of the revolutionary army to learn a little about the Arceus religion.

Misu and the others did not stay on this island for too long. They left the revolutionary army first and moved on to the next island.

"Captain Betty, recently everyone has been talking about the Arceus religion that those people call."

"I know, there is no need to deal with this kind of thing. I heard Morrie said before that he also encountered this situation. Generally speaking, this is also a group of good people, but they are a bit extreme in some aspects."

Morrie is another legion commander of the Revolutionary Army. He has a peculiar personality. It can be said that he is a * from the giant family.

As the head of the Revolutionary Army, they have a little knowledge of the dragon's plan and know that the target of the Revolutionary Army is the group of Celestial Dragons, so they have a certain degree of approval for the members of the Arceus religion who call the Celestial Dragons false gods and hate them. .

Although these members of the Revolutionary Army gathered together because of their ideals, they still lack a clear enough understanding of the power of faith and are not aware of its influence.

Time goes by, Misu and Tiger's ships are sailing on the sea, contributing to the spread of Arceus, and time is passing bit by bit.

One year is over in the blink of an eye, and these fledgling children have also become elite fighters.

During this year, Robin's actions continued, and she found many weathered ruins from Alabasta. The information she found gave her a better understanding of the past.

Vivi and Icarem also successfully entered the Baroque Work Club, and had their own code names.

Donghai, Windmill Village, Luffy is exercising his fists every day, preparing for the voyage one year later.

Balati has become a well-known sea restaurant, and there is also a rumor of a sea monster. Hearing that if he makes trouble here, he may become the food of the sea monster.

Coco Yaxi's life was not as good as expected. They discovered the gold mine and indeed improved their quality of life in the first days, but with the sale of gold, the branch colonel mouse focused on the huge profits here, and began to Plot the gold buried in the mountains.

After a friendly exchange with the redhead, the Spades Pirates were successfully folded into the hands of Whitebeard. After countless trainings, Ace got what he needed from Whitebeard and became Whitebeard. A member of the Pirates.

Crocodile is still researching where Pluto is, and Moria is still living in his own world, dreaming about the invincible zombie army.

The rest of the Shichibukai live relatively harmoniously, but Boa Hancock is not feeling well every day. Whenever he is in a bad mood, there will always be many stone statues of pirates in the nearby sea.

After a series of efforts, Caesar also produced his own artificial fruit, and Doflamingo sent some samples to Ghost Island.

"What do you want this * for?"

Looking at the artificial devil fruit in Kaido's hand, Arceus was very puzzled. He still remembered the effect of this thing. It was called SMILE. Although it was said to be an artificial devil fruit, the success rate was very low.

There is a high probability that it will become a person who loses all emotions and can only laugh no matter what happens.

Even if the ability is obtained, it is far from a complete devil fruit. The eater may obtain some abilities, but not all.

Uncontrollable transformation, weird transformation position, Arceus can't figure out what Kaido can do with this thing.

"You don't know the side effects of this stuff?"

"I know, the joker guy told me, he dare not lie to me about this."

Before delivering the goods, Doflamingo must have checked the effect of the goods, and told Kaido unreservedly about the possible side effects. If something happens because of this, Doflamingo cannot afford the consequences.

"Know you want more?"

"You don't understand, when I was on the battlefield before, if I captured the enemy's barbecue, I would eat them, but I would not throw away those unpalatable dry food, but would take it back and distribute it to others, or Save it for later."

Kaido used himself as an example to express his thoughts.

"Your ability is very powerful. The power of those phantom beasts is much stronger than this kind of thing, but anyone who can match your power has to go through the test. This thing is much more convenient.

Some people will never get your power in this life, but miscellaneous soldiers also have their own value, this thing is good for miscellaneous soldiers, it is better to have ability than nothing at all. "

"You really want to buy this?"

"How should I put it, it's still useful. If it doesn't work, it's not bad to throw it at Quinn as a cannonball."

"It's up to you, but... lower the price by 90%."

"Why?"

"Because the success rate of this thing is only one-tenth! Do you still want to feed those * failed products to your own people!"

Scanning the samples, Arceus has already come to his own conclusion. In the eyes of Arceus, the things made by Caesar are semi-finished products. Nine out of ten are not worth eating, and the remaining ones need to be processed again.nOvELusb.Com*

This is not difficult for him. Not all the things made by Caesar are successful, but out of about ten, only one is a finished product.

He intends to process these fruits not to transform these fruits into Pokémon abilities, but to help Kaido improve it a little, so that it is no different from ordinary animal fruits when eaten.

As Kaido said, this is the power of miscellaneous soldiers, and it gives hope to those who have no hope of becoming cadres. For them, ordinary abilities are enough.

This kind of perfection is not to remove the side effects. He does not plan to do the meticulous engineering of digging out the dragon fruit seeds again. It is just a complement to make it a normal fruit. For Arceus, it is cutting an apple in half, which is no work. difficulty.

"Hey, lol, I knew you could handle this kind of thing, so I'll leave it to you. There seems to be news about your slate recently. I'll go over there first and have a look."

Said that Kaido flew directly away from Onigashima, and how to arrange the follow-up questions finally fell on Quinn's head.

Chapter 842 "The Blessings of Overtime Workers"

Caesar Lane's artificial fruit is very special. Its raw material is a special substance called SAD, which is mixed with the blood of different animals, resulting in an unknown type of SMILE, and no one knows what kind of ability you can get after eating it.

To be precise, most people, including the maker Caesar, don't know whether eating this fruit can gain abilities. The original MADS didn't have any requirements for character, and they could join if they had abilities.

Quin still has people in charge, and he has to consider the consequences when doing experiments, but Caesar is different. He doesn't have any bottom limit, and he doesn't care what the consequences will be if he eats it. Anyway, he is not eating himself.

Arceus couldn't determine the species, but he could guarantee that it wouldn't turn into some weird-looking creature after eating it.

"Shaina, find two random people over here, there is something new to try."

"Are there any special requirements?"

"Weaker ones, the ones that seem to have no relationship with the benefactor."

"Yes, I understand, just a moment."

This requirement is not difficult. Today's Four Emperors have their own large fleets. In addition to elite cadres, there are also many miscellaneous soldiers who fill up the number.

This is also bought with real money, so it can't be wasted casually.

At the same time, outside Ghost Island, two pirates stood guard by the door boredly.

Ghost Island has already popularized the Rotom electronic gate, and the ordinary sentries are all completed by Rotom, but the post of gatekeeper has not been cancelled.

Pirates are not suitable for idle time. There are very few pirates like Mandelfish who live an honest life. In order to let these pirates have something to do, many positions are double-posted by Pokémon and Pirates.

"Ah, Master Kaido is out again, guess which guy is going to be unlucky this time?"

"Who knows, I guess it's the trash navy, but what about the changing of the guard? How long has it been?"

"Understand, those guys had a banquet yesterday and got too drunk, so we agreed to stand a little longer."

"It's been a while, it's almost a day, and I have to let these two guys make up for it tomorrow."

They are pirates after all, unlike the members of the Knights in the monastery, who stand on guard like stakes, and things happen from time to time.

"You two, come in with me."

"Yes, Lady Shaina!"

The two looked at each other. Although they didn't know why, they were always right. Metal doors opened one after another, and the two came to a floor that they had no authority to set foot on at ordinary times.

"Master Holy Beast, people brought it."

After bringing the two of them into the room, Shaina stepped aside to make room.

"Lord Arceus?! Do you have anything to do with us?" nOVElusb.COM

"Yeah, what can we do?"

Although they stay on Ghost Island, they don't have many chances to get along with captains like this, let alone being called here specially.

"A chance, these are two special devil fruits."

A total of 20 samples were sent by Doflamingo. In the eyes of Arceus, only two samples could be completed, so the success rate of 1/10 was obtained.

"It's unknown what their abilities are, but it must be some kind of animal. Now we need to see the effect after eating it. Are you two willing to try?"

Looking at the two strange-looking apples floating in front of them, neither of them hesitated. After grabbing the fruit, they bit it without hesitation.

This seems to be an experiment, but it is also an opportunity. Arceus has found them. If he refuses now because of timidity, although nothing serious will happen, it will be impossible to meet this opportunity again.

When they took the road of pirates, they knew what they might encounter in the future. No matter how strange the power was, they were willing to give it a try.

The only advantage of the devil fruit made by Caesar may be that it is not so unpalatable. According to the original timeline, Orochi distributed the defective fruits to the villagers of Leak Detection Village. If these fruits still have that unpalatable taste, they will not eat it.

The two fruits disappeared quickly, and no strange organs grew on the two of them, nor did they become weird people who could only laugh.

They just ate the fruit, they haven't mastered that power yet.

"Lord Arceus, now"

"It won't take long to become familiar with the power and then transform."

The two began to feel the power in their bodies. They had never eaten pork, and they had to see pigs run. There are so many animal-type ability users in Hundred Beasts, and they had heard a little about the transformation of their forms.

After a few minutes, their bodies began to swell. One of them became dark, the clothes on his back were torn, and rows of black and white thorns grew out. With this fruit, he gained the ability of a porcupine.

The other person grew black feathers all over his body, and his arms became wings, which seemed to be the ability of a crow.

Except for Alabasta's Falcon Bell and the fruit transformed by Arceus, other bird fruits will turn their arms into wings, and Caesar's creation also follows this principle.

Then they switched to the animal form again, possessing the standard three-stage transformation of the animal system.

"Porcupine and crow, it's okay, it's okay, you can do whatever you need to do."

After confirming that there was no problem with the fruit, the two returned to their posts. They didn't understand why they had gained the ability of fruit when they stood on the post for others.

"Can you still get this kind of benefit if you take over the shift?"

"I don't know. It seems that we should work more overtime in the future. Brother Mandelfish may be right. Hard work will always pay off."

The two of them were discussing where to go for a drink to celebrate at night, and not far away, the two of them also walked over with arms tied.

"Harper, Rory, is there anything happy for you two?"

The two of them went out for paddling and fishing, and they came to take over after playing in Baiwu. They thought they would be nagged, but the two of them were so happy that they didn't know what they were talking about.

"What's the matter with your clothes? Why are the back and cuffs still blown?"

"Hahahaha, you two idiots, you don't know what you missed."

Talking about the two transforming again, Harper fiddled with his wings, and Rory studied the thorns on his back to see what effect they could play.

"Those who can??"

"No, weren't you still ordinary people last night?"

"Yes, but during the time you fished, we got a brand new ability."

Not long ago, Lord Arceus and Kaido seemed to have gotten something good again. If you come to shifts on time, wouldn't this ability be yours? "

Chapter 843 The prerequisite for the transaction is that he wants to beat you up

"Damn! You got the ability like this???"

For the top powerhouses, the influence of ability is relatively small. As long as the strength is sufficient, they can use their physique to make a difference without relying on ability. But for the bottom, a single ability can produce a qualitative change.

A beast with human intelligence is the most intuitive embodiment of animal abilities. Rory's porcupine is okay, Harper's crow is really enviable to them, and the ability to fly freely is the dream of many people.

"Brother Mandelfish said that luck is also an indispensable thing in growing up. Who let the two of you hang out? This is luck."

As an ordinary member who became a scout captain after training, and then climbed up to a senior cadre step by step, Mandelfert License is a model within Beasts, and is often used for publicity. Many ordinary members also hope that they can have Mandelfert License Such an opportunity.

Although the ordinary ability is not a phantom beast, it is still a big improvement.

Under the jealous eyes of the two, the two handed over the positions, but before they could relax and celebrate, they were ordered to go to Quinn to undergo a series of new tests. At the same time, those who were determined to be failed were also sent there SMILE.

after a while.

"Boom!"

A SMLIE disappeared in Quinn's hands, and a large crater appeared in the shooting range in the explosion.

"It's not the same, Lord Arceus, this thing can be used as a reinforced bomb at most, and it is much worse than the real devil fruit. At least this failed product cannot activate the devil's grace."

After launching Grace of Nature at the cost of those failed products, Quinn made a feedback report based on the results.

"By the way, Lord Arceus, those things are a bit special. The human-beast form is nothing, but Harper and Rory both said that the consumption of the body in the beast form increased instead."

The distinctive feature of animals is their strong physical strength. Entering the animal form will lead to increased physical exertion, which is obviously unreasonable.

"Could it be that the results of the experiment went wrong."

Yamato asked while holding a lollipop in her mouth. She only appeared here because she thought the fruits were interesting and wanted to see the results of the specific experiment. Grace of Nature is not Quinn's exclusive move.

Solitia's twin-tailed hands can also activate this skill. If it is useful, she plans to take a few back as ammunition.

"This possibility is not ruled out. If there are only two, the experimental data may be insufficient, but this thing is still good as a shell."

It has been affirmed by Quinn for its power of the grace of nature, and it can be used as a special ammunition.

"But Lord Arceus, where did you get this thing? Why does it look so familiar to me?"

"Kaido got it back from Doflamingo. It should be said that Doflamingo sent it over on his own initiative. As for the maker... your old acquaintance, Caesar Courant."

"Created a devil fruit? Then his ability is also very good?"

Yamato didn't know much about MADS, and she wasn't interested in such things, but Quinn felt uncomfortable when Yamato affirmed him.

"No, no, Miss Yamato, that's a piece of trash, that guy doesn't have any special abilities at all."

"So Uncle Quinn can also make this thing."

"Eh, this. It still takes some time, give me some more time, and I should be able to make it."

Although Quinn despises Caesar, he really can't make artificial fruits, even those inferior products. The two research focuses are different, even if there is a library to supplement Quinn's knowledge.

He has no brain fruit, so he can't remember all those things at once.

"Okay, that's not the point, Kaido has already confirmed his intention to trade, Quinn, how to negotiate the price with Doflamingo is up to you, but no matter what, you can only give him 10% of the quotation at most. "

"Master Arceus, isn't this price too high?"

Excessive asking price, sitting on the ground to pay back the money, people in business know this term very well, but it is ruthless to bargain from the waist, let alone the ankle.

"That's your problem. This thing is worth this price at most. How to get him to agree, you can figure it out yourself. Okay Yamato, stop playing with those things, come with me, let me check your latest exercise results."

After explaining the mission goals to Quinn, Arceus planned to take Yamato and leave here, but just as he was about to leave, Quinn proposed a strange condition.

"Please wait a moment, Lord Arceus, can I add one item to the transaction conditions."

"What?"

"I'm going to beat up that * Caesar. If it weren't for the banana virus that that * made, my banana plantation wouldn't be in trouble. If possible, let Harper and Rory go with me."

With the help of Xie Mi, Quinn successfully revived his banana plantation, but he held a grudge, and he remembered all the culprits that led to this incident.NoVELUsB.com

He can't deal with the red dog. He doesn't take care of a mere Caesar. Since Doflamingo can get this, he must know where Caesar is.

"It's up to you how to deal with it, as long as you can reach an agreement in the end."

"Leave it to me, I will take care of this for you."

Yamato was pulled to check his homework, and after Quinn cleaned up, he called Rory and Harper, and headed to Dressrosa on his own Banana Brachiosaurus.

The Banana Brachiosaurus is his new ship. As for why he went to Dressrosa, it was only because he wanted to travel with public funds and beat Caesar himself.

"Dover, Beasts have sent back news that they agree to the deal, and they will send someone to discuss the details with us."

"Who is here?"

"Plague - Quinn."

"Queen? They are really interested in this."

How much of Quinn's bounty is the pot, the outside world is not clear about this, they only know that this huge bounty of 2.7 billion can be called the top cadre of the Four Emperors, and many people think that Quinn is the real king of beasts. Three handles.

In Doflamingo's view, this is a sign that the other party attaches great importance to this matter.

"But Dover. They made a very special request."

Because Doflamingo looked very excited, Pica was hesitating whether to ask the follow-up question.

"What? The price? This thing is negotiable."

He didn't plan to make money through this, but just wanted to get a backer through this, and it would be best to get some Hailoushi sales rights.

"No, Quinn said, it's okay to talk if you want to, but you must let him beat Caesar first."

Doflamingo's hand holding the red wine stiffened for a moment, and almost dropped the glass in his hand, but then he laughed again.

"哈哈哈哈，fun, tell Caesar I have a celebration for him with lots of hot chicks."

Today two Ming four

Chapter 844 We don't talk about rules, we are rules.

At present, it seems that Caesar's ability still has some significance for Doflamingo.

While Doflamingo will not treat Caesar like a family member, it will also give him some status.

The fruit must be tested before it is delivered. Doflamingo has also seen those strange abilities before. He is not sure whether Kaido will be interested in it.

Now that people are here, at least it shows that they have some interest in this, which is good after all.

Since they are interested, they will not kill Caesar, as long as they can't kill him, it's okay to beat him up.

To him, Caesar is important, but it depends on who he is compared with. If he is compared with beasts, then Caesar is nothing.

As for why he said to hold a celebration, he couldn't tell Caesar that someone is going to beat you up, so you have to come over.

Now he has not reopened Punk Hazard's laboratory, but was in a nearby venue, and was quickly called by Doflamingo.

"Hey, blah, blah blah, I heard you're going to hold a celebration? It seems that they are satisfied with the goods?"

At this time, Caesar didn't know what would happen next, so his face was full of joy.

"Hey, well, how should I put it, in short, they have a certain interest in this thing, but they still need to discuss the specifics, so they sent a person over to discuss the details, and this person really wants to meet you as the creator, You should have something in common."

No matter how Caesar asked after that, Doflamingo didn't tell him who it was.

His impression of Quinn has always been in the MADS period. At that time, Quinn did not have the title of universal assistant, and it was already very good for the two of them to maintain a non-hands-on state, so Caesar did not think about it.

While Caesar and Doflamingo were waiting, Quinn's Banana Brachiosaurus was sailing, and the prow of the ship looked like the head of a tropical dragon, which meant that the painting style of the whole ship was more beautiful than that of the Beast Pirates. Like the BIG MOM Pirates. NoVeLus&.cOM

And Rory and Harper were also pulled onto the boat by Quinn. The lives of two people have undergone great changes because of overtime.

As experimenters, they acquired new abilities, and were then temporarily transferred by Quinn to his direct troops, and are currently carrying out the mission of traveling with public funds.

Quinn's boat is generally more joyful. As the leading brother, Quinn will also take the lead in performing songs and dances. This is his hobby, so that everyone on his boat will dance twice.

It doesn't matter whether it looks good or not, the important thing is that Quinn likes this kind of atmosphere.

Rowry and Harper quickly integrated into this group. Although they were not Quinn's subordinates before, Quinn's dance is a routine event that happens every year on Ghost Island.

"Brother Quinn, what exactly do you want us to do?"

"Yeah, are there any new tasks?"

Originally, they thought that it was impossible for them to become a member of the Benefactor. They were old and had no talent, and they hadn't accumulated any merits. They were all thinking about which island they would be arranged to go to after retirement.

But the two fruits gave them hope again. Now that they can get ordinary fruits, they may become givers in the next step. If they are lucky, they may be benefactors.

Once the desire starts, it is difficult to stop, and now they have more imaginations about the future.

"No, you just need to familiarize yourself with your abilities, and then let some guys see what your abilities look like."

In the era when scapegoats were flying everywhere, even Vegapunk and Gage had self-doubt, but Caesar insisted on his point of view, believing that Quinn would never have that ability.

As an old enemy, Caesar knew everything about Quinn. Even though there were countless "evidences" in front of him, he still believed it was a rumor.

Similarly, Quinn also knew how much Caesar weighed. These two fruits were completed by Arceus. Quinn firmly believed that the original version of the fruit could not have this effect.

As a maker, Caesar definitely knew what he was making.

In addition to beating him up, this is Quinn's purpose, he wants to hit him crazily where the opponent is most proud.

As for how to fight

He has been blamed for so many blames, so it is no problem to go out for a while.

"Okay, little ones, just enjoy it as you like, I will pay for all the consumption these days, but don't forget what to pay attention to!"

Emphasizing the things to be observed, Quinn dismissed his younger brothers and let them play freely, while he took Rory and Harper to the King's Heights.

On the Highland of the King, Doflamingo also paid attention to Quinn's every move.

"Dover, they are here, they have already come here, and the leader is the plague. He seems to have found me."

A woman is reporting what she saw to Doflamingo. She is Violet, now the killer of the Don Quixote family, but her original identity is the daughter of King Riku.

She is a visionary who has eaten the staring fruit. The most basic ability is clairvoyance, which can expand her field of vision to a radius of 4,000 kilometers. The entire Dressrosa and nearby sea areas are within her observation range.

At the beginning, Doflamingo fell in love with her ability, and finally she joined the Don Quixote family on the premise that Doflamingo saved the life of King Liku.

Doflamingo ordered her to observe when Quinn would arrive, but for some reason, she always felt that Quinn had discovered her existence.

"Is it such a strong intuition? Forget it. The guests have already arrived, so there is no need to offend them. Pika, you should go and greet the guests."

Doflamingo didn't think it was strange that a bounty criminal worth 2.7 billion found himself being spied on. On the contrary, he thought it was very reasonable. He couldn't be a big cadre in Beasts without any strength.

Doflamingo was well prepared, but Quinn gave him a blow as soon as they met.

Facing the 20 million offer from Doflamingo, Quinn also extended two fingers.

"What does it mean?"

"Two million, the price we can give is that much."

Ordinary devil fruits are priced at a base of 100 million. If the specific type can be clarified, the price will continue to rise. Caesar's artificial fruit is not as good as the original version, so the price is halved. Since the probability of failure is not low, the price has to be marked again Discount.

20 million Pele is the final offer, which is already very reasonable in Doflamingo's mind.

He really felt that the price was negotiable, but he didn't expect Quinn to wipe a zero directly.

"This is too low."

"joker, if the success rate of this thing is 100%, then it can barely be worth 20 million, but its success rate is only one-tenth, so it is only worth this price."

"According to the rules of the sea, the buyer usually has to bear part of the risk of failure."

Doflamingo is right. Usually, things that may fail are jointly borne by both parties.

For example, some experiments that may fail will not cause the price of materials to drop because of the high probability of failure. He has given up a lot of profits, but the object of his transaction is a monster in the new world.

"Mhahaha, joker, don't you, the middleman, think too highly of yourself?"

This is an underground transaction belonging to the new world. What you are trading with is not the Beast Fruit, but the Beast Pirates.

At times like this, we don't know how to behave, or in other words, here, we are the rules. "

Quinn said his final conclusion word by word, and the body that had been beaten and exercised for many years also released a special aura.

He doesn't have the domineering look, but at this time, this round and fat man who looks like a fool exudes an aura of a beast, which makes people feel dangerous.

After a series of battles, Quinn regained the courage to go out, but he must be fully armed when he goes out. With all kinds of equipment, if he really wants to fight, Doflamingo can't bear it.

Not to mention anything else, if Quinn really let go of the fight here, the base camp that Doflamingo has built over the years will be completely scrapped.

"So joker, do you agree with the price, or do you have other ideas?"

"I can accept the price, just, the right to sell some weapons"

"Oh? Well, it's okay to give you a part, just keep everything as usual. You know the rules in this regard."

After all, it is a transaction in the underground world. Rules are prepared for people of equal strength. When the gap is too large, only the strong can make the rules.

Doflamingo got what he wanted, but he didn't know that that part of the business was originally to be outsourced to him. His ability in this aspect is still very outstanding. Compared with other dealers, Doflamingo Brother Ming is even better.

"But having said that, what about that * Caesar? I want to have a good time with him. By the way, some tricks are best not used on us. The fruit ability is not absolute."

After coming here, Quinn sensed Violet's existence, and also knew where the strange feeling came from.

Ordinary people have a limited range of knowledge and color, and those with a super-wide range of perception are either true geniuses, or ghosts that disrupt balance for the sake of cheating.

When he landed on the island before, he didn't notice Violet who was very far away in the scope of his knowledge and knowledge. Although he noticed something strange, it was more based on intuition, and it was different after coming here.

"Of course, she's just used to it, Pika, take Mr. Quinn to Caesar, and you can arrange the rest."

"I see, Dover. Mr. Quinn, this way please."

In terms of tolerance, Doflamingo still has some talent, even if Quinn doesn't give him much face, and is extremely arrogant, because of Kaido behind him, he will choose to ignore it and receive him with a smile .

But after Quinn left, he looked at Violet on the side.

"Have you seen his thoughts?"

"Except for him fantasizing about how to beat Caesar, nothing else can be seen, it is completely blank."

What Doflamingo is interested in is not just the telescope ability of Gazing Fruit, but another ability-mind reading.

Regardless of whether the opponent is conscious or not, or whether he is lying, as long as he makes a special gesture, the ability user can read the thoughts in his current mind.

Although it cannot read past memories, it is also very practical.

Tezolo will always take Bacala with him when doing business, and use the ability of Lucky Fruit to accomplish some goals. The same is true for Doflamingo, who will also choose to use Viola's fruit ability to detect trading partners.

Caesar's idea was completely seen by Doflamingo at the beginning.

"Domineering is right, after all, he is the big cadre under Kaido, so it's not surprising that he can do this."

The ability of a devil fruit is not absolute. When the domineering is strong enough, the influence of some fruit abilities will be directly offset. With Violet's strength, it is extremely difficult to spy on Quinn today.

"By the way, let's look at Caesar next, I want to see what happens."

"Got it, Dover."

Another reason why Doflamingo gave up bargaining was the quality of the finished product of Caesar. If the fruit he got was exactly the same as the real product, he would never sell it for two million cabbages.

He can raise the price no matter what, but now he has no reason to raise the price. No matter how much a thing costs, as long as it can generate value, it can be sold at a high price.

However, times have changed now.

Kaido in the original timeline has no choice. Even if the things made by Caesar are rotten, Kaido can only make do with them, and others will not make them at all.

But as we all know, Kaido has a large group of phantom beast ability users, and it has been increasing. In this case, Caesar is useless, and he is satisfied if he can sell it to deepen the relationship.

In the final analysis, Caesar's ability is still insufficient. Quinn really wants to teach the other side a lesson, and Doflamingo doesn't mind having a melon on the sidelines.

"Why are you * here!"

In Doflamingo's so-called meeting place, Caesar met someone he didn't want to see.

He always thought this was a venue for celebration, but he didn't expect Quinn to be here.

"Why am I here? You trash won't forget, who are you trading with?" novelusb.com

"Who is the trash talking about?"

"I said you are trash. It seems that the joker didn't tell you that our transaction conditions include that you will be beaten up."

"Did you * forget how I taught you a lesson? Quinn, others don't know how much you weigh, do you think I don't know?"

The two have had conflicts since the MADS period. In the beginning, Quinn was really not Caesar's opponent, and he suffered a lot, because Caesar himself is a natural-type ability user. This ability is comparable to a bug in the early stage, and ordinary people really have nothing to do. .

Although gas is not an uncontrollable element, and Quinn can also use some props to defeat his main body, nature can still take advantage of it.

"Muhahaha, the old almanac more than 30 years ago, do you think it is still the same?"

Cracking sounds came from Quinn's hands. Some strange things were installed in his mechanical hands, and one of its functions could make a loud * sound.

"But there are some things you have to see first, Harper, Rory, this is the original maker of your "ability", let this person see your abilities."

Looking at the two normal people beside Quinn, Caesar didn't understand what Quinn meant. It wasn't until the two entered the human-beast form that there was a trace of astonishment on his face, but it turned into joy in the next moment.

"My uncle is a little bit"

"Whoa, I did it! I'm the real genius!"

"What nonsense are you talking about?"

Caesar ignored Quinn, but ran up to Harper and Rory to touch them, and asked them to make some coordinated movements, as if they were recording parameters.

"Isn't it obvious? I succeeded in copying the devil fruit. Look at how perfect this body is. Vegapunk hasn't made so many devil fruits before, right? Heh, heh, I'm really a genius."

Chapter 846 On that day, Quinn learned to share

When the water is clear, there will be no fish, and when people observe it, there will be no disciples. At this time, Caesar has achieved a hidden achievement-the most humble people are invincible.

In Quinn's cognition, Caesar knew what kind of virtue his fruit was, and he would definitely be puzzled when he saw this "perfect" ability user.

At that time, he can say to the other party:

【This uncle has slightly improved your technique, it's really too weak, and you can't even solve this problem. 】

MADS people are good at different aspects. This is the field that Caesar is best at. Quinn intends to defeat the opponent head-on in the field that the opponent is best at, so as to achieve the goal of attacking Caesar.

Everything is going well, but he underestimated Caesar's face. For a while, he didn't know whether to say that Caesar was thick-skinned or that Caesar was shameless.

"You bastard. Don't you know what your skill level is? Haven't you done any experiments yourself!"

"Well, you also know that the success of this thing is a matter of probability. You should have taken 20 of them back then. These two seem to be relatively perfect."

"None of the subjects in your experiment succeeded."

"Hey, blah blah, so you're lucky, fat pig. I still think your look is more pleasing to the eye. How about I help you change back?"

People in MADS believe in their own abilities, and they all think that they are genius scientists who are not inferior to Vegapunk, but it seems that Caesar is no longer confident, but narcissistic.

"Brother Quinn, can we beat him?"

"Yes, Brother Quinn, this man seems to be a pervert."

Caesar's inspection made them irritable, but they were still patient. They didn't know what kind of attitude Quinn had.

Although Quinn expressed his intention to beat the other party up, it was not enough to explain anything.

Fighting among beasts is very common, and cadres often scold and fight each other, but they can still sit together drinking and chatting when they turn their heads. Kaido is a model of it.

"Let me do it, I'll type it out for both of you."

The two of them are only in charge of guarding the gate on Ghost Island. Quinn looks down on Caesar's ability, but he hasn't messed up to the point where he can't even handle the gate guard. But it's embarrassing.

Originally, Quinn planned to use the fruit he transformed into Caesar to anger him, but seeing such a shameless Caesar, he had a new idea.

Since he has this cognition, let him continue to make mistakes.

No one knows that the fruits of success are reprocessed by Arceus, and Doflamingo can sell them to others.

People from the outside may not be as keen on the animal department as Kaido, but they may also be interested in abilities.

As long as the fruit can be sold to others, Caesar will also become famous as the maker of the fruit.

At that time, he will either be hated because of too many failed products, or he will be targeted by the world government because of the excessive influence of his manufacturing ability. Maybe they will arrange a Caesar assassination plan.

At that time, he will be able to take part of the blame from Quinn.

Good things need to be shared, and Quinn doesn't want to let Caesar go.

At this time, Quinn had a strange smile on his face, and he had a new idea about what happened next.

When there are more ordinary animal-type ability users, let them go out to make troubles, and then advertise for Caesar to expand his popularity.

Not only can he kill Caesar, but he might also earn some kickbacks from Doflamingo.

Thinking of this, Quinn felt that Caesar was a little more pleasing to the eye, but his idea of wanting to beat him up remained unchanged.

"Hey, that Pika, arrange a spacious place for me, preferably one with a lot of people watching, I want to make this guy lose face."

"Who wants to beat you up! Don't you think highly of yourself?"

"Can you fight back, or are you already scared? Or you can play a game with me, and you can say whatever you want if you win."

"game?"

"That's right, roulette, I have a special Hailou stone bullet here, which is enough to blow your head off."

Speaking of which, Quinn took out a pistol, but it caused Caesar to growl.

"You idiot, don't you have any knowledge?! Which sea area will use this kind of gun?! Are you the kind of bumpkin from all over the world?"

Caesar hasn't agreed to Quinn yet, he is willing to risk his life, and he doesn't want to participate in this kind of life-gambling game, but Quinn is insulting him.

The rules of roulette are very simple. Put one or more bullets into the six bullet slots of the revolver, rotate the wheel freely, close the wheel, and the participants of the game take turns to shoot the pistol at their own heads. .

The premise of all this is that the gun has to be a revolver, and what Quinn took out is a fully automatic pistol.

This is basically a bet that the bullet will jam.

The technology of One Piece World is very crooked. You can see all kinds of automatic weapons on the great route, but in the four seas, many people have never even seen a revolver, and they use an antique hand gun that fires a single bullet.
NoVelusB.com

"Stop talking nonsense, either get beaten and try to fight back, or risk your life to see if my gun will jam. Your * M virus ruined my banana orchard. This account must be settled today."

"Caesar, this is Dover's meaning."

Pica on the side blocked Caesar's retreat, and in order to obtain funds for future transactions, Caesar was forced to accept the agreement and had a duel with Quinn, but the place for the duel was actually transferred to the bullfight arena.

It is one of the main attractions in the Kingdom of Dressrosa, and it can provide Dressrosa with a lot of tax revenue. .

It was originally just a place for sword fighters to learn sword skills, but since Doflamingo ruled here, the bullfighting arena has become a place of pure mutual killing and sensationalism, full of * violence.

However, in this era of great pirates, this atmosphere has further increased income.

Unwilling Caesar came here, intending to make Quinn suffer, and Quinn was also gearing up to avenge his banana.

【Everyone! Today we will usher in a special battle, where two people will compete! 】

In the bullfighting arena, the narrator is explaining. Today's Dressrosa does not refuse the entry of pirates. It is also common for pirates to participate. Due to the identities of Doflamingo Shichibukai and the former Tianlongren, the world The government also chose to turn a blind eye.

【The two sides in the decisive battle are the big billboard from the Hundred Beasts Pirates, the big pirate under the command of the Four Emperors, who has a bounty of 2.7 billion Baileys! Plague Quinn! And his opponent, the criminal with a bounty of 300 million - Caesar! 】

"You bastard! What is a criminal, am I just a criminal!"

Before the battle started, Caesar had already developed some dissatisfaction, and the modifiers of the two sides were too different.

Chapter 847 The cheated CP9

It's not a good word, but Quinn's title sounds much better than him.

This is also a matter of no choice. Quinn's current identity is a pirate, or a pirate who has already made a name for himself, and has enough modifiers, but no one can say Caesar's identity in public.

"Don't care about that, you should be thankful that you don't have a name to brag about, otherwise you will lose face."

"I should give this sentence to you! Gas lasso!"

When the narrator introduced the identities of the two parties, the duel had already begun.

Caesar chose to attack first, a large amount of gas was released from his body, and gradually condensed into a materialized lasso, flying towards Quinn.

After the lasso hit Quinn, a large amount of gas enveloped Quinn, restricting Quinn's movement path.

The cloud formed by this gas lasso is highly toxic and can easily lead to coma or death after inhalation.

"Hey, blah blah, that's all you have to do with this guy? Your reputation is too low. What?!"

Back then, Quinn's way of dealing with this trick was to put on a gas mask. It was easy for him to make this thing, but this time he actually directly inhaled the gas, and even exhaled in disgust.

"I said, do you think it's the same as before? The toxicity of this gas is useless at all."

It is also gas, the gas toxicity of Galar's double bomb gas is much stronger than that of Caesar, with the help of Alola's smelly mud and Galar's double bomb gas, he has already researched a lot of antibodies.

Even without Taotaoguo's special antidote, it would not be so easy to poison him. Magellan would have a headache even when he saw Quinn.

"Bastard, don't look down on people there! Gas castanets!"

Two specially made castanets were thrown towards Quinn by Caesar. The moment they came into contact with the ring, the castanets exploded violently.

"Boom!"

Most half of the arena was almost turned into a sea of flames, and the gas that Caesar usually made was stored in it. At this time, after being detonated by him, it turned into a powerful bomb.

But the result was still useless. The wings on Quinn's back began to wave, and the strong wind quickly blew away the smoke and dust. Quinn, who was unharmed, stood there without moving, not paying attention to the explosion at all.

"Not impossible!"

"Nothing is impossible. Your news is too far behind. You will never know what I have experienced in the past few decades. You will not understand the source of this domineering body."

At this moment, Quinn suddenly understood why Kaido likes to use the skill of catching others with his face. He obviously has the ability to dodge, but he just doesn't dodge.

The feeling of watching the enemy find that his attack is meaningless, and even the opponent's defense cannot be broken is really cool.

"I've already asked you to do it first, don't say I'm bullying you."

The fat figure came to Caesar in the blink of an eye, and the huge arms were wrapped around Caesar and smashed at Caesar.

"Don't think that nature is invincible! Repent to Lao Tzu's desperate banana!"

Domineering captured Caesar's entity, and then there was a unilateral beating, and even the commentator didn't know what to say.

Simple and unpretentious, without any skills, Quinn grabbed Caesar after taking two moves from Caesar, pressed him to the ground and began to rub until he vented his inner grievances.

The large gap made the duel unappreciative at all, and even Doflamingo didn't know how to evaluate it.

Although he is still in King's Heights, Violet has the ability to share memories. After she saw the duel here, Doflamingo also indirectly saw all this.

Doflamingo knew that Caesar was not good at fighting, but he didn't expect to be rubbed so hard, and he was still vulnerable to being beaten even when the opponent released water.

Beating up Caesar was the last condition. After this incident, Quinn also reached some trading conditions with Doflamingo on behalf of Beasts.

Soon after, Caesar returned to Punk Hazard, which was bombed by him at the beginning, but there are still remaining experimental buildings in the laboratory.

There are a total of three laboratories here, only two were blown up, and the remaining one can be put into production as quickly as possible.

After returning here, Caesar used his ability to purify the air on the island, and found the prisoners who were left on the island to live a hard life.

Due to the influence of the poisonous gas, their bodies were severely damaged, and the prisoners who could not walk were equipped with objects to assist their movements. Caesar accepted them as his subordinates.

In the following one or two months, artificial fruits continued to be produced. After Arceus completed them, they reached the hands of the grassroots of Beasts, which made the fighting spirit of the grassroots of Beasts rise again, and caused a wave of overtime work.

And Caesar also fell into confusion. All the sold ones can become normal abilities, and all the remaining experimental products have problems.

Up to now, he still doesn't believe that Quinn has this ability.

His strength has increased a lot, but this does not mean that his brain will also become stronger. While suspecting that the beasts have secrets, he also began to think that this may really be a matter of luck.

At the same time, Quinn's pot-sharing plan was also implemented, and indirectly entrapped some people.

He used the artificial fruit abilities of Beasts to make an advertisement, so that other forces in the sea could see these people, and then asked Doflamingo to sell SMILE at a normal price. Under the influence of Beasts' advertisement, it really Someone fell for it.

"Nello, this is a man-made devil fruit. As long as you eat it, you have a certain chance of gaining the fruit ability, but it may also become a failure product that can only laugh and not have the ability. What do you think? ?"novELu$B.coM

CP9's office, Spandam, who has become the chief executive of CP9, is holding an artificial fruit in his hand.

Animal fruit is still very suitable for CP organizations. This fruit was bought by Spandam after hearing some news and spending 20 million Baileys out of his own pocket.

I plan to give the CP9 candidate in front of me a try. Nero in front of me can only know four of the six moves, and he hasn't even officially finished the special training, so he just used it to gamble on the success rate of the fruit.

If it is a good thing to succeed, even if it fails, it is just a reserve player, and it is still difficult to become a full-time member, Spandam will not feel sorry.

Official members are different, those people can't waste like this.

"Same as Rob Lucci?"

"It's almost the same, but there is still a little difference."

After thinking about it for a while, Nero didn't reject the fruit, but chose to take a gamble, and it was just the result.

He won the bet and indeed obtained the ability, but this ability is completely different from what he imagined.

Chapter 848 "The Quinn Scam"

The upper body has not changed in any way, but a fluffy tail has appeared behind the buttocks, the fur is black with white, and the lower limbs have become the same structure as a wild beast.

Based on Caesar's own standards, this fruit was a success, and it was even a relatively good result.nOVelu$B.COm

The things he made were random mutations. It is a very good result that he didn't grow an animal head at the position of the butt, or his own head became the position of the animal's butt.

"Sir Spandyne, this is"

Although the changes in the lower body had increased his physique to a certain extent, he found that he could no longer change back.

"Oh, that's right. There is a very small probability of obtaining perfect abilities, a high probability of failure, and becoming an incapable person who can only laugh, and a small probability of obtaining imperfect power. There is nothing wrong with you like this."

Listening to Spandyne's words, Nero suddenly felt a rush of energy in his body, and soon reached the edge of endurance.

Poof!

With a loud noise, a large amount of yellow gas filled the entire room, and a stench poured directly into Spandain's nose. The irritating gas went straight to the sky, making him faint.

The qi is not from being qi, but the ability brought by this fruit. At this time, Nero has become an incomplete skunk man.

The loud noise also attracted other people, but the stench made people daunted. Only after the yellow smoke dissipated did someone pull Spandam out.

As for Nero, this ability made him feel ashamed to face others, so he had already jumped through the window and ran away.

When Spandam woke up, a bad news also reached his ears. For some reason, the civilian staff in the entire department knew that Spandam was passed out by a fart collapse.

Among the CP9 chiefs in the past, Spandam is definitely the most useless one, no matter in terms of ability or strength, he is not humiliated once or twice, but he still feels humiliated after doing this once.

"Who is it! Which * said it!"

"Sorry, I accidentally said it, bababa."

A round person explained the reason of the incident. He was round in the literal sense, no matter the head or the body. Even the neck was hard to find, and a zipper was sewn exaggeratedly on the mouth.

This is one of the members of CP9 - Otonashi Owl, a man whose secrecy is comparable to that of Senmomaru. No matter what secrets come to him, it is impossible to keep it.

Even if there is a zipper on his mouth, he can't stop his urge to reveal the secret. He often tells the secret while walking on the street, so he has no chance with all the hidden tasks.

The spread of the cause of Spandam's coma is also directly related to him.

"Owl you bastard!"

"I can't help it, I accidentally slipped my mouth, and you have a problem with yourself, sir. Who told you that your power is only 9, it's too weak, blah blah."

Navy soldiers holding weapons have a power of 10, which refers to the most ordinary soldiers who have not received special training. Spandam's power of 9 has successfully lowered the lower limit of the world government's strength.

"Shut up! Zip me up!"

"Yo yo, I'm very sorry sir, this is all my negligence of duty, I apologize with all my heart..."

The man with long pink hair and dressed like a Kabuki actor took out a knife and stabbed himself in the abdomen, but before the blade touched the abdomen, he used an iron block.

"Yo yo, unfortunately, he didn't die"

Xiongxiangqu, another member of CP9, has a hobby of apologizing for seppuku, and then using iron blocks during seppuku. He is also one of the wonderful staff under Spandine.

"You two are enough! Sir, what do you want from us?"

Gabra called to stop the weird behavior here, he was considered as a person with a relatively normal personality among the CP9 present.

Rob Lucci and others are carrying out latent missions in the capital of seven waters, and only the three of them are still here at this time.

Although Spandam was so angry, he still took out another fruit.

"Sir, this thing. Could it be the one Nairo ate?"

"Of course not, this thing cost me 100 million Baileys, much more expensive than his."

This fruit is not a semi-finished product like Caesar, but one of the several completed products made by Quinn.

As a senior blame man, Quinn knows how to take the blame on himself.

The people of Hundred Beasts are all perfect ability users, and the outside is all weird semi-finished products. Even a fool can see that this thing has been reprocessed, so he wants to change this situation, so he made some special transactions.

He brought back several fruits completed by Arceus to Doflamingo, and asked him to resell them at a high price, and Caesar did not know about this, only Quinn and Doflamingo and Some high-level officials of Beasts know about it.

After such an operation, the success of the ability becomes a matter of probability. Beasts buy more and have special screening methods, so there are more successful ones.

Although it can't be shaken cleanly, it can always be thrown to Caesar.

After so many years, it is rare to see a person who voluntarily shares the blame, and Quinn will never let him go.

As for the whereabouts of those fruits, Arceus doesn't care what the * is used for. Overtime frenzy.

A group of roll kings who had been quiet began to work again.

And Quinn used this method to offset the expenses that should have been paid, and he also made some extra money.

Doflamingo also used these special fruits to give himself a wider market.

Either spend money to buy expensive ones, or gamble on luck. For those who have insufficient funds and want to buy fruits, this is a very special opportunity.

In a sense, Beasts and Doflamingo are both at a loss, and this incident is also known as the "Quine Scam", also known as Quinn's pot-sharing trick.

He gave Nero the fruit for experimentation, and Nero is not a regular member, so it's fine to mess with it casually, but Gabra and the others are different, they can't just be test subjects.

"Gabra, you are already a capable person, so owl, snuggle, who will come to this fruit?"

If you want to be a middleman, reputation is the most important thing. As a middleman who wanders between black and white, Doflamingo still has this reputation. The things he sells at high prices, Spandam thinks that they will not be fakes .

"Sir, didn't you really prepare this fruit for revenge on me? Chababa."

After deliberation, Nugget gave up the fruit and decided to let the owl eat it.

Just looking at Spandam's smile, Owl's heart is very uncertain.

"How come, am I that kind of person?"

"So you don't care that I told others that your power is only 9? Chababa."

“.”

"I don't care if I told you that you planned to embezzle public funds but was found out. In the end, Chief Spandain was able to settle it and say it? Babababa."

“.”

"I don't care."

"enough!"

Spadam wasn't a big deal, he was just stunned by the smell, but if the owl continued, he would really be * off.

Jumping up from the bed, he grabbed the zipper on the owl's beak and quickly pulled it up.

"You can eat it or not, just tell me what your ability is after you eat it, oh, you don't have to tell me, anyway, it will take a few minutes anyway, and the whole world will probably know what ability you are."

In order to prevent further exposure, Spandam left here neatly, leaving Gabra and the three of them looking at each other in blank dismay.

"Hey, Owl, let me sell this thing, let me tell you, this thing is super unpalatable, and there are demons in it, if you eat it, it will explode if you touch other devil fruits ."

Gabra will not shout seppuku every day, and will not reveal problems everywhere, but he is a king of liars, and there are few words in his mouth that can be believed.

"But, this is man-made, bababa, there shouldn't be so many things. Speaking of which, Gabra, I heard that you are pursuing the waiter on Judicial Island, Catherine."

He didn't listen to Gabra's nonsense, but swallowed the fruit in one gulp, exposing Gabra's gossip along the way.

"Yoyo~ Is that true? I heard that she is a very special-looking woman"

"Enough! Stop talking nonsense, take a look at what your abilities are, and you should be able to feel them soon."

Gabra didn't want to be pulled out to flog the corpse like Spandam, and returned the topic to abilities. Generally speaking, the owl has acquired a very peculiar ability.

The neck is very long, the bird, but it can't fly, but it can swim.

The answer is - penguin.

Under the influence of the fruit ability, the owl acquires a peculiar bird fruit that cannot swim.

What kind of ability can be developed and what kind of application can be carried out depends on the owl itself.

Here, Quinn's business is booming, and Guidao is also making new plans for the cadres who are going out.

Misu and Tiger are still on the way to preach outside, but with the increase of real experience, this church has also been divided into two parts.

Among them, people whose beliefs were close to madness re-formed a small team. They had a strong reaction to any voice of doubt and were no longer suitable for ordinary missionary work, so they became disciplinary knights alone.

They will only come forward after they are sure that the other party has insulted and slandered their own gods.

Other people with calmer and gentler personalities took over the original missionary tasks, which further improved the structural problems and reduced the possibility of conflicts.

"Master Holy Beast, this is the situation at Misu's side for the time being, is there anything they need to pay special attention to?"

"Let them chat with people more, don't do it when they disagree, and wait for some things to be explained clearly."

"Yes, I understand. Another problem is the Big Mom Pirates. They want to buy a batch of Pokémon you created."

"It's still the same, only selling products. Wanguo is still a forbidden area for Pokemon like Frost Milk Fairy. Whoever dares to let them pass will be responsible for the consequences."

Unless Charlotte Lingling's cravings are cured, don't even think about this kind of thing.

Pokémon are not meant to be sold as commodities. Those Pokémon who follow others are not assigned by Arceus, and the rest are those who have been recognized by Pokémon themselves.

But for the pastry chefs of Wan Guo, it is useless even if they are approved by Frost Milk Fairy.

Aunt has never given up on this, but Nai He never mentioned it at all.

"No, Lord Holy Beast, they are interested in giants this time"

"Giant? Strange power? What is Kaido doing outside again?"

Arceus thought it was something Kaido was yelling at, but when the transaction information of the information was brought in front of him, he realized that he was wrong.

Charlotte Lingling doesn't want the gigantic Pokémon, but wants Beasts to use their own technology to create several giants to satisfy her collection addiction.

Lola's escaped marriage has cut off the possibility of Charlotte Lingling and the giant country repairing the relationship, but Charlotte Lingling still has the dream of building a country with all races, so she has this special idea.

Since a hundred beasts can create giant war beasts, it should be easy for them to create a giant.

"Reject them, Beasts don't have this kind of business."

Arceus was not interested in that kind of thing, and he didn't want to do it, but his refusal gave others the opportunity to take advantage of it, such as Caesar.

Because of Violet's ability, Caesar's idea of defrauding money from Doflamingo was shattered. Caesar didn't have Quinn's tempered arrogance and was immune to Violet's mind reading skills.

For this reason, Doflamingo also specially sent someone to watch Caesar to prevent him from making small moves.

You can't spend a lot of money without funds. Under the temptation of desire, Caesar took the initiative to find Charlotte Lingling after hearing about her appeal, and the reason for persuading Charlotte Lingling is also very special.

【Shhhhhhhhh, I can make anything that Quinn can't make. My technology is stronger than his. It's just a giant drug. As long as I have enough funds, I can definitely do it. 】

Caesar's fruit was successfully sold to various forces with Quinn's secret help, and part of the blame was also successfully distributed, so Caesar's reason is quite convincing.

Because of her own desire for giants, Charlotte Lingling agreed to this request, and Caesar also opened the copy of his lonely hero mission, and has already achieved the prerequisite - to deceive the emperor of the sea.

"Mom, I don't think that person can be trusted."

Katakuri expressed his opinion. The decision to conclude the deal was made by Charlotte Lingling. He has no right to change it, but he can retain doubts. This is the right brought about by his own ability.

"Well~ well, that brat dare not lie to me, if he dares to lie to me, I will let him know what horror is. Unfortunately, Kaido doesn't want to do such a thing."

Charlotte Lingling didn't know that Kaido didn't see what she proposed, and it was a decision directly made by another person involved.

Kaido is making big moves outside.

He faithfully carried out what he had said to Arceus.noveluSb.com

【If I do it, there will be nothing left on that island. 】

At this time, Kaido was sitting on the ruins of a certain naval experiment base and scanning the surrounding environment. The slate radar on his wrist did not respond, which made him feel bad.

Ahem, it's another day on the 24th

Chapter 850 Jack's Upgrade Battle

"Why does this monster appear here"

Near the ruins are the remaining soldiers of the navy. As a research institute, even if it is not as important as the original Punk Hazard, there are still some experimental facilities left.

Some important data are still kept in these experimental facilities, which need manual care.

Moreover, the cost of the laboratory is very high, and some experiments in the future may restart these facilities, so there are always people stationed here, and some experimenters are used to maintain the facilities regularly.

Those who dare to attack the navy are lawless pirates. This kind of people go to sea for their own desires, and wealth accounts for the vast majority of them. There is no treasure in the research institute, so pirates can't afford to attack here.

The price to be paid for attacking the navy is very high, and only enough interests can prompt them to do such crazy acts.

Fame is also a part of the interests of some pirates. Sometimes they will do a lot of crazy actions in order to become famous. There is no need for them to attack such unknown places. This kind of effort is not directly proportional to the benefits.

Over the years, the defenders of this semi-abandoned experimental base have become a good place to fish, but they are in the first half of the great route, and they have never encountered attacks on weekdays.

Never thought that one day, I would face the sea emperor of the new world.

Although the facilities in the base are maintained on time, and guns and other things can be used normally, the only purpose of these weapons is to let Kaido feel the atmosphere of war.

A cannonball hitting him is no different from scratching an itch, or even worse.

These people are like ants to Kaido. He doesn't care how many ants he crushed to death when destroying the ant nest, and he won't deliberately trample to death those fleeing ants after the goal is achieved, provided that these ants don't provoke him.

The extreme force disparity has made them do not know how to resist.

"Hey, boy, tell me, where did the things that were originally here go?"

Among the ruins, Kaido saw some familiar facilities, such as a special groove, and roughly measured it. Kaido felt that the thing could just place a stone slab.

He wasn't just sabotaging, he also discovered some facilities inside while demolishing the laboratory. It seems that the information he received was not all false, but he came late.

"It was sent to other places a few years ago"

Looking at the spikes on the mace that were bigger than his own head, the researcher who was still alive had no intention of resisting at all, and he answered whatever Kaido said.

After asking several people who were still alive, Kaido lost interest and turned around and left the island.

It's just that he didn't return to Ghost Island immediately, but contacted Quinn.

"Brother Kaito?"

"Quinn, how many experimental islands did you use?"

"There are a lot of them. There are still quite a few venues prepared by the world government and navy."

"Give me the address, I'd like to see where they shipped the things to?"

According to Kaido's new information, there was indeed a slate-like thing here a few years ago, but it was moved away many years ago, but no one knows where it was transferred.

Since there is no place here, he plans to search for all the places Quinn knows first. After getting the specific location, Kaido started to wander randomly on the great route.

But this time he didn't show his destructive power, but took the radar to explore around.

Turning the island upside down is to make the fictional news in the newspaper a reality, and then to find things more smoothly. He is just lazy to use his brain in most cases, not brainless.

Kaido was distracted by this incident and was unable to return to Onijima for the time being. Leaving aside the attitude of others, this is a very good thing for Yamato. For her, Kaido has been entangled for several years That's good.

On Ghost Island, a battle has lasted for four full days.

It was midnight at this time, but the fighting still didn't mean to stop. NovelUsb.Com

In the more than ten years since the establishment of the animal transposition battle system, this is the longest one, and it is also the most intense battle.

Because this is not a simple battle, but Jack's promotion battle. As long as he wins Setsuna, it means that he has surpassed NO.0 at this time and has the qualification to obtain a new disaster title.

Boom!

Jack's huge body fell to the ground, and his steel body made a deep hole in the ground, but his consciousness was still clear, shaking his head, Jack stood up again with his body supported.

"The physique of the murlocs is really strong."

"I should say this, right, the physique of the fur tribe is the monster."

Jack's battles often fall into protracted battles. It is not surprising that he is knocked down. It won't take long for him to stand up again. After repeated rounds, the enemy's physical strength will be exhausted by him instead.

But this time the transposition battle was different. Although Setsuna was panting heavily and seemed to be exhausted physically, Jack was not in a good state. The battle that lasted for several days was coming to an end.

"It's almost the end. I heard Brother Mandelfish said that you and him are very special."

"Yeah, it's almost the end."

Instantly look up to the sky, the fur clan is at its strongest on a full moon night, without the power of the Moon Stone, just need to look up at the moon, you can enter the state of the moon lion, this is also the biggest state of her and Mandelfish's difference.

The normal combat power of the two is close to the current disaster level, but in the Mega state, their combat power is the real disaster level, but it is not long-lasting.

Setsuna is a bit more special than Mandelfish. With the boost of Moon Lion, after superimposing with Mega, she can reach the combat power of disaster-level burst in a short time.

The full moon was reflected in her eyes, and the pupils of the moment began to shrink under the moonlight, and then completely turned into crimson.

The surface of the body produces electrical noises from time to time, and the force of the waveguide also surrounds the body.

The canine teeth became sharper, and low growls came from her mouth.

Amidst her low roar, her hair began to grow rapidly, flying wantonly behind her. At this time, she had turned into a very special pure white Lucario.

"Aww!"

The howling of wolves pierced the night sky, and Jack's body continued to expand.

He didn't enter the human-beast form, but he became standing upright with both feet, and turned into a super huge bronze king elephant like a tall building.

Because the big bronze elephants are only capable, their hands and feet are still in a normal proportion, and they have not become exaggerated short legs.

With a heavy step on his right foot, a large number of metal thorns have covered the entire field.
