Chapter 91 Sky Island

"I've written down the revenge of the organ trafficking and assassination group." Mary Joa's side was already hostile, but now there is one more.

There was no living mouth left on the boat. She pressed for information about the pair of wings, which increased the possibility of exposure, and silence was the only option, not to mention that these were all members of the organ trafficking and assassination group.

This is a group that is even more disgusting than pirates.

"Quinn, thank you this time."

After saying this, Quinn's sunglasses almost fell into the sea, and he felt that he should have a cochlear implant for himself.

"You still thank you???"

This is not accurate. To be precise, it is Shaina who said this word to him is the most outrageous, but Shaina's next words prove that she is still the same her, and there is no change at all.

"Don't get me wrong, I still hate you so-called researchers, but one code is another code. You can mention this next time I can't help but beat you up."

As a matter of fact, Quinn reminded her that the pair of wings was indeed worth a thank you, but it was impossible for her to change her attitude.

"Free Gold Medal?"

"No, but I'll consider taking it lightly."

Quinn and Shaina returned to the original ship, and their affairs were handled very cleanly. After all, the whole ship was burnt to nothing, and I am afraid that only the microorganisms in the ocean can find what they need from it.

How could such physical-level erasure be handled uncleanly.

"Master Holy Beast, there may be more than one ship chasing the Millennium Dragon, but we haven't found any trace of them in the nearby waters."

This is also the information obtained earlier. There are three ships chasing the Millennium Dragon, and the remaining two ships are chasing the other Millennium Dragons.

It's just that she and Quinn circled around the nearby waters and didn't see any sign of the ship.

"Hunt. How did they do it?"

The thousand-year-old dragon can fly. If the thousand-year-old dragon is not injured, it is impossible to catch up with the wind-powered sailboat. It is impossible for the thousand-year-old dragon to be injured. they.

"We don't know this either, but Lord Holy Beast, where are we going next?"

"Go to the Millennium Dragon's house, it will guide us."

I saw the injured Millennium Dragon standing on the bow, waving its wings in the direction of the moonlight.

【The wings of midnight cut through the clouds, and the moonlight guides the final direction】

This is the sentence translated by Olga before. Now it seems that the moonlight really guides the direction of the Millennium Dragon's home. The clouds in the sky are still closed, the moonlight trail gradually disappears, and the ship of the beasts also follows the direction of the Millennium Dragon. Drive forward.

But until they reached the end of the moonlight, there was no island in front of them.

"Nothing, this dragon shouldn't be pointing the wrong way, right?"

"No, it just said that it has already arrived. Their habitation is right above our heads." Elizabeth translated the words of the Millennium Dragon while looking at the top of her head in disbelief.

"Above your head, is it an empty island?"

Sky Island, one of the specialties of Pirate World, Sky Island is a general term for islands in the sky, not a single island, whether it is the first half of the paradise or the second half of the new world, there are empty islands.

For pirates and people in the new world, the sky island is not too unfamiliar.

Not because there are more empty islands in the new world, but because the golden lion has created some floating islands, but the height is not as high as the natural islands.

Although it is man-made, it is also part of the sky island.

And the so-called [midnight wings cut through the clouds, the moonlight guides the final direction] also has a more detailed answer.

These thousand-year-old dragons live on the empty island here, and their main food source is empty fish.

The so-called empty fish refers to the fish that live in the white sea high in the sky.

There are various kinds of clouds here, including iron clouds as hard as iron, rope clouds that can be used as ropes, swamp clouds like swamps, and the most common sea clouds.

The special sea composed of sea clouds is called the White Sea. These clouds are the same as sea water, and ships can sail on them, and special fish live in them.

The heights of the air islands are not uniform. The highest air islands are generally located in the Baibai Sea at an altitude of 10,000 meters, and the lower ones are several kilometers away.

There are two ways to get to the island in the sky. One is to find their hidden passage and climb up the stairs composed of sea clouds, and the other is to find the sky current.

The sky island where these thousand-year-old dragons live is one of the lower sky islands, but from the bottom, there is no change on the top at all.n0vEluSB.com

The so-called wings on the treasure map cut through the clouds, which means that when the Millennium Dragon hunts the skyfish, their wings will temporarily cut a gap in the sea clouds, allowing the moonlight to penetrate the sea clouds and shine on the sea, and the end point is also It's right below that empty island.

However, this Millennium Dragon made a mistake. The road it took is not wrong, but this is the way the Millennium Dragons return home, not the landing site of human ships. If the Millennium Dragon wants to go up, it only needs to wave its wings, but the human Ships are not so easy.

The sky current is not bound to the sky island. There are sky currents near sky islands in some areas, but other sky islands may not have such currents.

In other words, although the ship of the beasts is now below the place where the thousand-year-old dragon lives, the only way to get up is to fly.

"Boss! In the sky, something seems to have fallen from the sky!"

The watchman on the boat shouted down, and the moonlight began to disappear. With the remaining moonlight, he could barely see a few dark shadows, and more things could not be seen.

The shadow fell very fast, and soon there was a series of falling water sounds.

Not only the corpses of humans, but also the corpses of the Millennium Dragon and fragments of the hull. It seems that some unknown battle is taking place on it.

The thousand-year-old dragon on the ship seemed to go crazy after seeing the dragon's corpse, disregarding the wound that had just been stitched up on the body, and fluttered its wings into the sky.

"Master Holy Beast, what should we do now?"

"Of course it's going up, and let everyone grab the things around them to fix themselves." Arceus stomped his feet, and a wave of energy passed into the sea through the hull. After a while, the sea seemed to boil. .

When the members of the Beasts had just fixed themselves, a current rushed out of the ocean and flew into the sky against the ships of the Beasts Pirates.

There is no soaring ocean current here, so he will create one by himself.

The water drop slate has the power to manipulate the water flow, and the sky current created by Arceus took the ship to the sky.

Chapter 92 Fear of insufficient firepower

Above the clouds, an unknown empty island, some people are hunting some thousand-year-old dragons, many small boats are put into the sea from two large ships, and the people above carry special harpoons to rush to the thousand-year-old dragon.

There are individual differences between races, and the same is true of Millennium Dragons. The Millennium Dragons living in the East China Sea have the smallest probability of encountering danger, and their prey strength is also weaker, which leads to their lower overall strength.

But here is the new world. The dangerous climate forces the creatures here to evolve stronger, so as to adapt to the changeable weather in the new world. The climate here affects not only Qinghai, but also the White Sea in the sky.

Even if these thousand-year-old dragons live in the sky, they are much stronger than their kin living in the East China Sea.

Although there is no special ability, whether it is speed, strength, or physical strength, it is much stronger than their compatriots living in the East China Sea.

This made it more difficult for these people to hunt.

Originally, their goal was to capture these thousand-year-old dragons alive. The living thousand-year-old dragons are bound to be worth more than the dead ones, but the thousand-year-old dragons will not be caught without their hands. Dragon creature too.

The Millennium Dragons are usually scattered in various sea areas in the form of small tribes. Only when the Dragon Island rises to the sea once every thousand years will the Millennium Dragons from all over the world gather together.

There are not many thousand-year-old dragons here, only a dozen scattered here and there, and a few of them are young thousand-year-old dragons.

With wings, they have the advantage of flying, and it stands to reason that they have the ability to escape from here, but the reality is very complicated. People from organ trafficking and assassination groups have captured several thousand-year-old dragons to anger those thousand-year-old dragons and let them choose Fight instead of flee.

In addition, the Millennium Dragon has a strong sense of territory. In the face of these invaders, they did not choose to flee directly, but fought for their homes.

The corpse and broken ships of the Millennium Dragon that fell into Qinghai are proof of the battle.

"These guys are really stupid. If you run away directly, the damage will be less."

"After all, it's just a beast. Even if it's called a thousand-year-old dragon, it's just a rare beast, and isn't that bad?"

"Of course, but in this case, a lot of preparation will be wasted."

"Don't worry about it so much, hurry up and send someone down to salvage the corpses. The clouds here are too thin, and the corpses actually fell directly below."

The dead are nothing to him. The most important thing in the new world is manpower, but if the corpse of the Millennium Dragon is lost, it will be a big loss.

"It's been dispatched a long time ago, don't worry"

At this time, a thousand-year-old dragon suddenly rushed out from under Haiyun, and overturned a boat they sent out.

The thousand-year-old dragons here feed on empty fish. They have the ability to move in the sea cloud for a short time. The long hair on the body surface will not be soaked when entering the sea cloud, but will be closely connected to form a special membrane. Moisture is blocked out while reducing drag.

Looking at the thousand-year-old dragon rushing out, the eyes of the people on the boat are full of symbols of wealth. After speculation, a keel can be sold for a sky-high price.

If people eat it and it has no effect, it must be the wrong way you use it, and it is definitely not the problem of the keel.

And the keel can sell for sky-high prices, not to mention dragon blood and dragon meat. This group is best at selling organs. A thousand-year-old dragon is a treasure trove for them.

"You guys, go grab it! There are other thousand-year-old dragons coming out to die!"

Several small boats approached, but before they could act, a current broke through the sea clouds and rushed up, and there was another boat washed up by the waves, just the salvage boat they had sent out earlier.

The way they went down was very special. They first released the coating prepared on the boat for diving, and opened the giant parachute after the boat broke through the sea clouds, so as to achieve a safe landing. of Arceus.

"Little ones! Let these guys know how good we are!"

This situation does not need to be explained much. It is obvious that they are united with those thousand-year-old dragons. Since the enemy has been identified, there is no need for a reason to start a war.

Arceus was behind them, and Baba Nuki's experience was still vivid to them. Originally, everyone was the same ordinary member. Because of a strange power technique, Baba Nuki has been promoted to a small cadre.

Higher status, powerful ability, who doesn't want this thing, the lottery may be a bad one, but if Arceus is happy, maybe he can get stronger power directly.

Although their goal was to hunt for treasures, there were a lot of guns and cannons that they should bring. After the order to start the battle was issued, they showed absolute suppression of firepower.

Although there is only one ship, the range of their artillery is nearly one-third farther than the opposite.

On the sea, artillery warfare is always an indispensable part, whether it is a navy or a pirate. After all, only a small number of people can do more destructive power than cannons with human power. NOVELUS&.COM

And for most people, artillery shells are more deterrent than manpower.

Since there was a shortage of cannonballs in the last battle with Wald, and they had to force a pick-up battle, some members of Hundred Beasts seem to have suffered from a phobia of insufficient firepower, and they filled the ammunition depot every time they sailed. of.

"Fuck, where did these pirates come from?!"

The sudden artillery attack made the people of these organ trafficking and assassination groups bewildered. Although there were many enemies, their operation was very secretive this time, and it took a lot of time to find the ladder to reach this empty island.

How could he be attacked here for no reason?

And it's even worse, because the main goal is to hunt Millennium Dragons, and they are caught alive, they mainly carry harpoons, nets and powerful narcotics, the number of shells is only half the usual, and they are also consumed on the way. Not a lot.

Although they are not the same opponent, for the members of Hundred Beasts, the situation where the polarities are reversed still occurs.

They did prepare a lot of backhands, but all the backhands were prepared for the Millennium Dragon, and the sudden arrival of the Beast Pirates disrupted all their arrangements.

And their personnel are now extremely scattered, and they cannot form an effective counterattack for a while.

The trouble is more than that. The thousand-year-old dragon that was rescued by Arceus roared loudly, and its roar reached the ears of other thousand-year-old dragons in the interval between the explosion of the cannonball.

The meaning of is very simple, these are our own people, they are here to help us.

Chapter 93 Archaeopteryx and the duo who prepared surprises for each other

With the intervention of the beasts, the battle became very difficult. The physique of these thousand-year-old dragons was much stronger than that of humans. Only the harpoons fired by the heavy launchers on the main ship could penetrate their bodies.

And those heavy launchers that looked similar to artillery suffered a devastating blow at the first time. The artillery shells were indeed not so accurate, but sniping was fine.

The more delicate things are, the more expensive they are, and the more demanding the conditions of use are. Although those heavy launchers can't withstand the wind and waves, after a few holes have been pierced through the launch chamber, they are obviously lost. launch capability.

They don't know where they will hit with such a launcher, and the root of everything is Elizabeth's precise sniping. The silent water bomb is a silent assassination machine on such a battlefield.

There were no prisoners in this battle, and it continued until all the enemies were wiped out. The Millennium Dragon is not a human being. Although this creature will not take the initiative to attack humans, it will not show mercy when it comes to invading its homeland and hurting its fellow human beings.

Several thousand-year-old dragons were dyed red, both dragon blood and human blood. Of course, the one who really killed the madness was Shaina, which was the post-traumatic sequelae left by her and Jhin back then.

Usually the two of them are normal people, but once they enter the emotional venting period, they will become too much. Jin's venting method is torture, while Shaina is killing.

Usually, beating Quinn is the most inhibitory thing. The previous pair of wings drew out what she usually suppressed, so she didn't have the slightest control.

The residents of the beast territory think that Shaina is a good person, that is because she has never imposed the tyrannical side on her own people, um, with the exception of Quinn.

Most of her clothes are red or black, which can cover up the blood that sticks to the greatest extent, but this time her clothes are not necessary. During the battle, they are constantly stained with the blood of the enemy, and then they are dried by their own flames. , this suit has come to the brink of being scrapped.

In the territory of the Beast Pirates, there are three occupations that are most valued, one is a technician in the military industry, and the things on the main island not only supplement their own combat power, but also are the main trading items.

The remaining two are the doctor and the tailor.

Their cadres are all capable of animals, so they are just in need of highly stretchable clothes, even Kaido is no exception, which makes excellent tailors very popular.

"Why, who are you, why are you attacking us, why are you helping those beasts?!"

There will always be some people who are blocked from news. Except for Locks more than ten years ago and Roger after that, no pirate has been known to everyone. Even the current Whitebeard and Golden Lion, there are people in some places who don't know it at all. Get to know them.

The current Shaina is still a long way from being known to everyone, and there are people in the organ trafficking and assassination group who don't like reading newspapers.

"Beasts? Compared to them, except for the outer layer of human skin, I'm afraid you can't even compare to animals."

There is another coke in his hand. After the high-end combat power and long-range firepower have been crushed, there is no suspense in the outcome of the battle. These people will only become the garbage of the empty island, and they will be sent back by the current of the White Sea as time goes by. Qinghai.

The loss of the thousand-year-old dragon was not small. Seven thousand-year-old dragons died in the battle, and the remaining adult dragons were all injured.

This is still the result of the opponent trying their best to capture them alive, but under their desperate resistance, it is difficult for the powerful anesthetic to take effect. In order to survive, those people can only choose to die.

Seven doesn't seem like a lot, but there are only 27 dragons in this thousand-year-old dragon group. They caught a few before, and after excluding the young dragons, only a dozen fought.

The loss of nearly a quarter can be said to be heavy casualties.

"Roar!~"

"Elizabeth, what are they talking about?"

"I'm thanking and apologizing. The leader of the Millennium Dragon has never seen anything from Lord Holy Beast, but it said that you can ask your fellow clan on the return day."

Returning Day, which is the day when the thousand-year-old dragons gather once in a thousand years. On that day, all the thousand-year-old dragons will gather on the mysterious island in the East China Sea. It will be less than thirty years before the next meeting.

The leader of the Millennium Dragon believes that there will always be people of the same race who have seen these things.

"You said you were moving?"

"Roar~"

"Yes, this place has been discovered. It's time to change the place. Do you want to go to our place?" The ghost knows where these thousand-year-old dragons are going to move, and no one knows what will happen to them.

There is only one day for the assembly. If you miss that day, you will have to wait another thousand years if you want to wait for the Millennium Dragon to gather again.

And the reason why they are called Millennium Dragons is because the island will only float once a thousand years. Due to individual differences, some Millennium Dragons may be short-lived ghosts that have died for hundreds of years. In order to prevent accidents, these Millennium Dragons are kidnapped. Going back is the best.

There are 20 remaining Millennium Dragons, to be precise, 20 and 3 eggs. The leader is bigger, and its body length has exceeded ten meters. They are enough to build a small air force.

As for whether the Millennium Dragons will cause trouble, not at all, just change their appearance.

Arceus discussed with the leader of the Millennium Dragon for a while, and the little Millennium Dragon who was rescued earlier came to assist.

It's father is the leader, plus the difference in strength, the Millennium Dragon Leader agreed to Arceus' request.

It saw how Arceus manipulated the ocean currents.

The Hundred Beasts Pirates shelter these thousand-year-old dragons in the future. They help the Beasts as air cavalry and help him collect news on the day of the meeting more than 20 years later.

Transforming animals is more labor-saving than transforming humans, and the appearance of these thousand-year-old dragons does not even require too many changes. The genes in their bodies are changed with the power in their bodies, and a new form appears in all thousand-year-old dragons - Archaeopteryx.

For the Millennium Dragon, this appearance is also very easy to accept. Compared with the main body, the shape of the Archaeopteryx is equivalent to shaving and dyeing the hair. The young Millennium Dragon still likes this new appearance.

The elder Millennium Dragon thought it was bad, but for the safety of the group, he changed his form. Like the Lunalia, they also planned to hide their true form as much as possible. nOvEluSB.com

There is no place for them on the ship, but it doesn't matter, because Archaeopteryx can fly itself.

Kaido not only likes those with animal abilities, but also has a preference for some animals. Arceus thinks Kaido will be excited for a while when he sees these thousand-year-old dragons, which is a small surprise for his partners.

But at the same time, Kaido has the same idea as Arceus.

He just gave half of the bananas to the BIG·MOM people, and what he got back was a heavy stone slab.

"He should be quite happy." X2

Chapter 94 Lightning, tree fruit, water splash

Although the little radar in his hand reacted to the slate brought by BIG·MOM, he wanted to confirm it again, although it was unlikely, in case what Quinn made broke.

The simpler the method is, the more direct it is. Compared with the complicated technique, testing the hardness is a good choice.

Arceus and the others went out to hunt for treasure. Treasure hunting is also one of the important pirate activities for pirates. Kaido ordered his subordinates to plan a new banquet. In a non-combat environment, the biggest extra expense of a pirate group is the banquet. consume.

But no matter which pirate group retains this link, but according to the financial resources and customs of the pirate group, it is normal to open for a few days. Except for the pirates on duty, most pirates will choose to drink it. happy.

"Brother Kai! Brother Arceus' ship is back! He also brought back a group of strange big birds."

"Big Bird?"

On the main island, Kaido received the news of Arceus' return, but what they brought back was unexpected. When Kaido came to the port, he looked at the "big bird" in the mouth of his men hovering in the sky, and his eyes were bright. Got very interested eyes.

"What are those?"

"It's a thousand-year-old dragon. The end point of this treasure hunt is their homeland. We have reached some cooperation. These thousand-year-old dragons will live here in the future. We will protect their safety, and the adult dragons among them will act as partners of air cavalry. ."

"Air cavalry, air force? Well, it really is the right decision to cooperate with you!" After thinking for a while, Kaido began to laugh wildly. With these thousand-year-old dragons, it means that the beasts can also form a team Air Force.

There is no problem with four or five people sitting behind the adult Millennium Dragons. Although there are only a dozen adult Millennium Dragons, they are enough as a surprise soldier. Except for the Golden Lion, there is no one pirate group that can achieve large-scale air. fight.

"By the way, I also found something good."

"I can already feel it, the breath of the slate."

"Cut, it's boring, I forgot that you can sense the breath of your own things."

Originally, Kaido thought this was a surprise, but here comes the problem. Arceus sensed his own slate within a certain distance, which means that after the slate was brought back, he could not hide it from Arceus.

The result has not changed, but I always feel that something is missing, but this is not a big problem, the Beast Pirates still entered the familiar banquet.

There was also a group of thousand-year-old dragons at this banquet. The pirates of the beasts are very enthusiastic about these thousand-year-old dragons. Kaido has already said that he plans to form an air cavalry. Flying is one of the dreams of mankind.

Even if you can't fly, it's great to be able to fly on something else, but there are only so many adult Millennium Dragons, and only a few elite cavalry troops can be formed.

At that time, the affinity with the Millennium Dragon will inevitably affect the selection of the air cavalry, and smart people have already begun to have a good relationship with these Millennium Dragons.

But in order to reduce trouble, the code names of these thousand-year-old dragons will become the Archaeopteryx from now on, and all those in the know are required to keep their mouths shut and not talk nonsense outside.

Those who were picked by Shaina were all members of the "Arceus Cult", and their loyalty had been tested, and this requirement was nothing.

And Arceus also took back his fifth slate, the lightning slate, the sky over the island seemed to resound at that moment, and the power of lightning returned to Arceus' control.

Thunder and lightning are regarded as the catastrophe of the sky. Compared with flames, lightning is more like a natural disaster.

Then came the much-loved lottery session. When his dart stuck on a blue "jump (ジャンプ) word, the pirates below stopped joking.

"What ability do you think this guy will be?"

"I don't know, that guy's magic power is so easy to use, can this word make him jump very high?"

"Then who knows, Babanuki took three days, guess how long it will take him?"

"Two days."

"Impossible, at least four days, he's far worse than that kid Babanuki."

A pirate also opened a bet on this issue, betting on how long this time the lucky one can learn the skills.

In the end, he also used three days to tie the record of Babanuki.

He, like the original Babanuki, also began to eat Haisai, but when other pirates asked him to show his abilities, he didn't seem to be as excited as Babanuki. noVeltuSb.cOM

Under the urging of everyone, he walked to the sea, and then rushed to the sea with one step, and then he jumped on the sea, yes, jumped.

Water, like land, has become something that can be leveraged for him.

The skill represented by the blue leap word is - water splash.

Water splashing, except for jumping, has no other wonderful skills in the form of expression, but when human beings learned to water splashing, he got some strange enhancements.

The jumping power of the legs is enhanced, the height and distance of the jump are far higher than the previous one, and the ability to jump on the water is gained.

The skill draw is all about luck, there is no shady inside, so he can't say anything when he draws this skill, he just feels a little confused.

Is water splashes promising? The answer is yes, in this water-dominated world, being able to jump on the water must be a great increase in flexibility, allowing him to move freely on the water.

But it is not as intuitive as the increase brought by the magic power technique, and it still has its meaning after all.

A group of people brainstormed where his water splash could be used, and Quinn recruited a group of local residents to make dried bananas.

Tropical dragon's bananas last longer. Even if the bananas he cultivates inherit this feature, there is a limit. Ripe bananas can last for half a month without rotting. If you pick raw bananas and store them properly, they can be stored for about two months.

But this is the limit. As a banana, this time is exaggerated, but it is still a lot worse than the speed of eating. Now Quinn is making the ripe bananas into freeze-dried dried bananas for preservation.

At the same time, he is still cultivating new seedlings. After all, the fifth slate was traded with the bananas he cultivated. Seeing that he paid a lot of stock, Arceus gave him some compensation.

He changed the seeds of other fruits along the way, and provided Quinn with a batch of tree fruit seeds, grapefruit, peach and mango, but the seeds of this batch of tree fruits only retained the taste and did not have the original effect. Castrated version.

The full version of the fruit is not just a fruit, but something that can be cultivated as a strategic resource.

Chapter 95 Prelude

BIG·MOM's behavior reminded Arceus that things like tree fruit can also be sold at high prices. The tree fruit cultivated by Quinn can be said to be the second generation tree fruit, even if it does not have the effect of removing abnormal effects and restoring physical strength. , its nutritional content and taste are also far more than ordinary fruits.

Fruit is an indispensable part in the process of sailing, and the resources of this world are in the hands of a few people, and tree fruit can also generate income.

The most important thing is BIG·MOM's channel, she has a wide range of friends in the underground world.

But BIG·MOM attaches great importance to sweets, and she has the problem of phagocytosis. As long as it is something she has eaten, it may cause eczema.

And the exported fruits belong to the third-generation tree fruit. As long as there is a little improvement, the third-generation tree fruit will lose its ability to reproduce, and the tree fruit resources will be firmly in the hands of the Beast Pirates.

Kaido's strength is still on the rise, and so is the development of Beasts. Even the BIG·MOM Pirates will not be able to handle the Beasts Pirates. BIG·MOM can not care about some things, but her children can't.

In order to prevent BIG·MOM from being unable to find the fruits or desserts they need, they must maintain a stable trade with the beasts, and it will be easy to use the channels in her hands.

Kaido can also make a fortune through middlemen, Kaido gets power, BIG-MOM gets food, and Arceus uses channels, everyone can get what they want.

Although the values of these things are not the same, they have different meanings for the three people.

At night, you can still see bonfires on the beach. That is the end of the pirates' banquet. Most of the pirates are already drunk, and those who have acquired the ability to splash water are jumping around on the sea to play drunken madness. noVelusb.com

A few people with a good relationship were desperately rowing after him, worried that he would plunge into the sea and drown himself.

Quinn was cultivating his new crops in the laboratory, and he also tried grafting, trying to get some strange fruit, Arceus was fusing new slates to restore more power, Kaido was not know where to go.

He was so drunk that no one knew where he would go. Although Arceus always said that he was drinking by mistake, but he just recovered a slate through the channel, and it is not appropriate to say that he was mistaken.

And Jhin just came back, he went to deal with a little problem, now they have their own territory, the pirates of the new world collect the tax of a territory, and are also responsible for the security of this territory.

Another group of newcomers just passed through Fishman Island, and Jhin went to deal with such a group of daring newcomers.

Although he missed the banquet, it was nothing to him.

"Is it done?."

Shaina's voice came from the side. In order to facilitate their daily life, Kaido specially reserved a place on the island for Shaina and Jhin. Except for a few cadres, any members of the pirate group and ordinary residents were there. It is strictly forbidden to enter here without orders.

This is also for their sake. Shaina occasionally removes her human-beast form, and Jhin occasionally takes off her masks. He and Shaina can be said to be "death to the light", and they will be silenced if they see their true face.

"Well, just a few newcomers who don't know the sky and the earth."

Although he is young, those pirates who have just entered the new world are really just newcomers to Jhin.

Shaina knew that Jhin had just returned, and the cook had already rested because of the banquet, so she brought Jhin some supper.

Flying fish sashimi, Jhin's favorite food, even if there is no chef, she is in charge of the kitchen when she first went to sea.

Fresh flying fish slices are a no-brainer.

"What about you? Did Lord Holy Beast find what you want?"

"No, but it's a bit of progress, but now there are other things." He handed Jin a stack of documents, all of which were related to organ trafficking and assassination groups.

"What is this?"

"Previously, we met people from the organ trafficking and assassination group, and I found the tribe's wings on their boat."

Shaina roughly talked about what happened before, and the information she pried out of the other party's mouth.

"Their headquarters should still have a pair of the same wings, the relics of the tribe are not their handicrafts"

"Any plans?"

He is familiar with Shaina's character. Since she mentioned this to him, she has probably already finished the plan.

"You don't need a plan, just destroy that kind of person."

"Master Holy Beast?"

Shaina's plan was rejected by Arceus before she could say it.

"I said that this debt will be recovered bit by bit, and my deal with the Millennium Dragon also includes this part of the content."

Originally, she wanted to engage in an assassination operation with Jin, to eliminate the boss and take back the relics of the clan, but now the plan has changed, assassination is still assassination, but the way of action is completely different.

As we all know, the purpose of assassination is to kill the target without anyone knowing.

Then as long as all the witnesses are eliminated, this matter is unknown, so it is also an assassination.

"Master Holy Beast, won't this affect your plan?"

"Of course not, and this is what I promised, what I promised is to do, and I see some people have itchy hands. Are you right, Kaido?"

Kaido's sentence from Arceus made Jin and Shaina stunned for a while, and then Shaina seemed to remember something, so she ran to the back of the house, where she dug a wine cellar and brewed wine according to the tradition of the Lunaria tribe. some wine.

This wine is called fire wine by the Lunaria people because its only characteristic is that it is strong.

The Beast Pirates have always consumed a lot of alcohol, and every party will use up their inventory, and Kaido's physique basically has no upper limit. Find wine elsewhere.

When they came here, they saw Kaido in the wine cellar.

Kaido was drunk, but Arceus could still hear it.

"Hiccup~ It seems that I haven't done anything for a while, and there's nothing to do anyway, so let's do it."

He is a pirate, and many things do not need a reason. The reason why he does it is just because he wants to do it.

But it seems that we have to wait for two days. Kaido's emotions after drinking are very uncontrollable, crying, laughing, rage, and falling asleep may happen.

A few months ago, the wood purchased by Jhin had also been processed into the hull, and the main ship of the Beast Pirates is about to embark on its first voyage.

Chapter 96 "The King of Beasts"

In the world of pirates, shipbuilding is a pillar industry, and the vast seas and the great sea routes full of dangers all need to rely on ships to pass.

As for things like building bridges, the world government has been building for so many years, and the kingdom on the bridge has not been completed.

The well-developed shipbuilding industry allows shipbuilders to be found in many places, especially in the New World. Excellent shipbuilders can be popular under the hands of various forces.

The changeable sea climate makes the damage probability of ships extremely high. Almost all the islands near the main route have the ability to repair ships, and each pirate's territory also has the ability to build ships.

Because of the search for slate, the Beast Pirates have a high demand for ships, Kaido can fly around, but other people still need ships for their physical strength.

After a few months, the main ship of the Beast Pirates "Beast King" was completed.

When Wald came to this island, he wanted to use the island's craftsmanship to cast a giant cannon, so the ship's firepower was basically saturated, and the power of the ship's artillery was no less than that of any capital ship in the navy.

Today, the Beastmaster also ushered in his maiden voyage. The ship is fully loaded with 650 people. Except for the cook and doctor, the positions of sailors and combatants are all the same.

Early the next morning, the new battle orders were issued, and the people on the island began to prepare supplies and prepare for expedition. The battles between pirates were usually very frequent. Weird system.

Residents who provide supplies also have the right to share part of the spoils after the battle is won. No matter how good the empty words are, they are not as good as the real benefits. In this case, although they will not make them all want to go out to sea and join the pirates, it is also worthwhile. It will not contradict the foreign war of the beasts.

This is similar to an investment. If you lose, you will have nothing, but at present, the beasts have more victories and less defeats, so the residents in the territory are still more supportive of this.

The old people on this island have gone through many eras, and the owners of this island have changed hands several times. So far, the Beasts are the pirate group that makes life here the highest quality.

The cruelty of the new world far exceeds other sea areas. Without a strong backer, this island will inevitably become a place of lawlessness. Whether it is pirates, traffickers, or even the world government, it will be regarded as its own sheepfold. It's just animals.

The Tianlong people are the "gods" of the world. Countries and islands that do not join the world government cannot enjoy any rights. The high gold in the sky is to distinguish the level.

The World Government is deliberately creating "inferior creatures" to increase the satisfaction of the member countries by despising the people of the countries that have not joined the World Government.

It is the laissez-faire of the world government that gave birth to powerful pirates, and with the accumulation of time, the living environment of the new world has been formed.

Three days later, the Beastmaster was all ready, but the crew was only 200 people, and it was not fully loaded. With Arceus and Kaido at the head, Shaina and Jhin were the two top cadres traveling together. Even if the ship was not full, its combat power was still low. Not to be underestimated.

The Millennium Dragons also boarded the ship at the same time. When they heard that this organization was the one who attacked them earlier, the Millennium Dragon leader volunteered to participate in the battle.

Kaido didn't need to get on this ship, but he was not a person who could stay idle. Most of the time he was not in the territory, but he was wandering around, helping Arceus search for the whereabouts of the slate and doing his own thing at the same time.

Recently there was another piece of information that he was caught by another pirate and escaped unscathed.

Arceus didn't even know where Morgens got the news. According to the answer of the person concerned, the information in the newspaper is basically true, but there is some literary processing.

In addition, this is the first voyage of the main ship. As the current governor of the Beast Pirates, Kaido naturally wants to sail together.

Yes, with the growth of the beasts, his own identity has been made clear as the governor, and the other is the position of Jin and the others.

Shaina does not belong to the big kanban, but she is at the same level as the big kanban.

The sea breeze blew the mainsail of the ship, and the Beastmaster began its first voyage.

An island in the New World, this is the headquarters of the Organ Trafficking and Assassination Group in the New World. Although the name is called the Organ Trafficking and Assassination Group, they actually do a lot of business.

However, organ reselling is the main business, but assassinations, mercenaries and other similar businesses are also within their scope of service. They are more like a group of illegal bounty hunters.

It is not quite right to say that, from a humanitarian and legal point of view, they are indeed an illegal organization.

But from the perspective of the World Government, they are not an illegal organization, because this organization is not wanted for a reward at all. Through some secret connections with the World Government, they are legitimate on the surface.

Organ trafficking and assassination groups do a lot of business, but they do not carry out human trafficking, because they have always only sold organs, not living people. noVelusb.com

There are many people in the underground prison of the headquarters, and they are also given scientific meals and forced to exercise every day. Even the best petri dishes are not as good as human bodies. These people are living containers in their eyes.

As soon as a suitable business appears, they are killed and their organs removed.

Although the blood types here are more complex, people have stronger constitutions, which leads to simpler organ matching.

Their business network is connected all over the world, which leads to people dying here every day.

In the seemingly tidy office, a man in a suit is chewing gum. No one would have guessed that he is the leader of this notorious organization.

"Manager, isn't it too expensive for us to do this?"

The manager is the self-proclaimed leader of the organ trafficking and assassination group. He considers himself a serious businessman, so he asks his subordinates to call him that.

In order to get on the line of the Tianlong people, he used all the favors he could use. If there was no gain, it would be a big loss for them.

"Don't rush Coco Ding, it's big business and it's worth the wait."

The sea transportation is not too convenient, and it takes more than ten days to go out for a trip. It is also their expectation that hunting the legendary creature like the Millennium Dragon will take a long time.

"Has that new item found a buyer?"

"I found it. It is a king of the West Sea. His son has been frail and sick since he was a child, and he has always wanted to replace a stronger organ. He is very interested in that fur tribe.

The people have already arrived at the trading location in the red earth continent and are waiting for our goods. "

"Very good, the business of this order is ten times the income of ordinary business, let's do it directly, it will be bad if that guy goes crazy and hurts himself again."

Chapter 97 Ruthless.jpg

The fur tribe, a race that lives in the furry principality on the back of the giant elephant Zou. The specific image is the orcs derived from furry animals, a race that is even rarer than the murlocs.

There are many ethnic minorities in the pirate world. In addition to the long-handed and long-legged races that are similar in appearance to humans, there are also demi-human races such as the fur race and the fish race.

Although they are not human, their blood and some organs are indeed universal.

Many people discriminate against this type of race in life and regard it as a beast, but at auction, the price of this type of race is much higher than that of humans.

The fur tribe has lived on the back of Zou for generations. Since giant elephants have been walking on the sea, Zou has no fixed position. If you want to reach Zou, passing the life card is the only way. If you are lucky, near the sea area. You may also encounter Zou walking on the sea.

Usually fur tribesmen do not leave Zou, but there are also cases. There are fur tribes who do not want to stay in Zou all the time and take the initiative to go to sea, and there are fur tribes who accidentally fall and cannot find their way home.

The price of fur tribes is also relatively high on the black market. In addition to the different results, the organ trafficking and assassination groups are similar in process to human traffickers. They will also take over slaves that cannot be sold and resell their organs.

Because of the compatibility of organs and blood, some people are also interested in the organs of such demihumans. According to rumors in the black market, the bodies of such demihumans are stronger.

The king of the West Sea heard this kind of news and wanted to use the organs of the fur tribe to treat his child with congenital organ failure and make his body stronger.

Cocodin took the manager to the place where the fur tribe was imprisoned. Unlike other rooms, the interiors here were all soft, and the white wolf fur tribe inside was also * like a zongzi.

Because since being caught here and knowing about their business, this fur clan has been trying to self-mutilate, but this is just a minor fur clan, and naturally has no ability to resist.

In order to prevent her from doing anything in the future, the people of the organ trafficking and assassination group want to get rid of it as soon as possible.

"Notify the surgical team that you can prepare to pick up the goods. The heart and kidneys are the most important things in this transaction, and no accidents are allowed."

"Yes, manager."

He turned his head and wanted to arrange for the operation team, but the sudden vibration made him slip and fall directly to the ground.

Some gravel fell from the ceiling, and the manager next to him looked at his shoulder with a very ugly expression, which was already dirty with dust

"Earthquake?" Before the fallen Cocodin could figure out what happened, someone stumbled in from outside.

"Manager! Big.. big trouble! Someone called!"

"How is it possible" Although their business is notorious, it is the first time someone has taken the initiative to call the door. This is because their location is secret and few people can find the location of his headquarters.

In addition, they also have a certain strength themselves, otherwise there is no way to do this kind of business, and it is very laborious to solve them.

The world government has established a relationship again. Under the circumstance that they will not attract naval encirclement and suppression, they are basically safe. No pirate will do such a thankless thing.

This manager is still very shrewd and won't move some opponents who can't be provoked.

For the first time in so many years, they were hit at the door, and the continuous shelling showed that the battle outside was not small.

Outside, the ship of the Beast Pirates has docked, the naval guns are outputting firepower to the building in the middle of the island, and the combat troops on the ship have rushed out.

Although Kaido can choose to do it himself, he wants a strong warrior, not a waste that can only survive under the shelter. He will naturally take action against a supermodel opponent, but his subordinates must also have the ability to fight on their own.

However, there is also a situation of destruction on the battlefield. Organ trafficking and assassination groups rarely engage in large-scale frontal battles. Faced with powerful opponents, these people seem a little weak.

"Emperor Pill Bow!" With steel wings on his wings, the low-flying Jhin interspersed on the battlefield like sharp blades. He had no power to fight back when the enemy was flying at high speed. Rock blades and fireballs dominated the battlefield, and the rest of the beasts The members are almost picking up food.

The difficult enemies have been resolved, and the remaining ones have lost their courage and cannot form an effective resistance at all, but whether they resist or surrender, their results are the same. The purpose of this operation is revenge, and there is no such thing as Plan to stay alive.

When the manager came outside, what he saw was a burning battlefield. The accumulation of organ trafficking and assassination groups on this island for many years was completely destroyed.

This made the manager's heart bleed.

"What's the matter, where did these people come from!"

"I don't know, they suddenly appeared here, and they bombarded us directly. Seeing that the flag is a member of the Beast Pirates."

"Beasts. When did we offend the beasts?"

No one answered him, who can figure out this kind of thing, there are too many people who offend them.

took out a phone bug from his arms, and the manager began to call the outside world to ask for help. The Beast Pirates are a rising star in the new world recently. Both the captain and the cadre have shown strong combat effectiveness.

This level of pirates is no longer something he and his subordinates can deal with. He needs support, and the phone bug is quickly connected. On the other side of the phone is the pirate he is establishing contact with during this time.

Although he has some business dealings with the people of the world government, in the new world, the names of those people are of no use. Pirates are not officials of the world government, so don't worry about their "official career".

Only an equally powerful pirate can make the opponent feel a little bit afraid.

"Mr. Perospero, it's me, do you remember me?"

Pirates also do business, and the organ trafficking and assassination group is also a member of the underground world, while the BIG·MOM pirate group is the one with the most extensive connections in the underground world. He also has some business contacts with BIG·MOM. So there is the contact information of Perospero.

"It's you, what's wrong?"

"We were attacked by other pirates. The enemy is very strong. I mentioned to you before that I wanted to borrow the flag of BIG MOM, you see."

Pirates' flags cannot be borrowed at will. If the flag of the other party is used without permission, and it is discovered later, it will be a more serious matter.

He had this plan some time ago, but the two sides have some differences on the cost issue, so they haven't fully negotiated.

In Perospero's view, this is an opportunity to ask for a sky-high price, so he asked who he was fighting to see if it was appropriate to raise the price, but after hearing the answer, his face changed.

"What did you just say?"

"The borrowed flag thing."

"No, before that."

"Do you remember me?"

"I don't remember, who is you, how do you have this number?" He hung up the phone in his hand.

Chapter 98 The underground world that is about to change

"What's the matter, Brother Perros?"

The person next to him saw that Perospero hung up the phone with a look of disdain, and seemed to be a little angry in the disdain.

"It's nothing, some inconspicuous little bugs offended the beasts, but the underground world is probably going to be reshuffled."

Although the organ trafficking and assassination group has a certain status in the underground world, these people are just unscrupulous businessmen outside the rules. Because someone has a demand for their business, they can exist in this world.

In terms of force, both the world government and the pirates can crush them. Once someone decides to eradicate them completely, their own strength is not enough.

The new world is the territory of pirates. Even if the managers of various industries in the underground world are called "kings", they are only in their own fields. The root of their survival is the business with various big pirates and the world government.

Once they lose their value, naturally no one will care about their life or death.

Although the organ trafficking and assassination group has not yet reached this point, their recent situation is not very good.

Other underground businesses also have pirates who work closely with them, so close that they can borrow flags, and the pirates who originally lent them the flag were defeated in the recent battle, which caused them to lose their shelter.

It stands to reason that the victor usually takes over everything from the defeated, including the business they originally mastered, but this time the victor is Whitebeard, and he is not interested in this part of the business.

Weapons smuggling, casinos, war mercenaries, and the Whitebeard Pirates are also doing this kind of business, but Whitebeard never touches the business related to human trade. He doesn't like this kind of business, who values his family.

So the organ trafficking and assassination group was not able to get the protection of its banner, so the manager wanted to connect with BIG·MOM, and at the same time, he wanted to establish a new connection with the world government through the Millennium Dragon.

According to his plan, as long as these two things are done, then they have a more solid background.

Unfortunately, there is no news about the team looking for the Millennium Dragon. He hesitated because the price was too high at BIG MOM, so that when the beasts came over, they could only rely on their own strength.

Not all assassins are called Wang Hassan, and their frontal combat effectiveness is not that strong, at least in the face of today's Beast Pirates.

Looking at the phone bug making the busy tone, the manager's face was a little ugly, how could the BIG-MOM pirates actually be afraid of beasts?

In fact, he guessed wrong, the big pirates have their own dignity, if they have lent them the flag, then the aunt may not ignore it, at least he will come forward to mediate.

is also a pirate, Charlotte Lingling is still Kaido's senior, saying that fear is impossible.

And it's a matter of credibility. If a pirate abandons his forces at will, the rest of his subordinates will no longer trust him.

If the flag has been lent out, then the two sides are likely to break out into a battle, and the face between the pirates is a very serious issue.

But now, they didn't have any agreement at all. In this case, Perospero didn't even have to think about it, he rejected them directly, and he didn't need to ask Charlotte Lingling.

As the eldest son, he still has the judgment. Now that the Beast Pirates have caught the tongue of BIG MOM, for her, food is far more important than the offerings handed over by an underground force.

As for the reshuffling of the underground world, the resources occupied by the organ trafficking and assassination groups are not only the organs and assassination business, but also a series of industries such as their supply channels and business scope.

Once these people disappear, the rest of the underground world will instantly fill the missing link like sharks smelling blood.novelusb.com

So the manager didn't even think about looking for help from other people in the underground world, and those people would be fine if they didn't fall into the trap.

"Walk"

Three Caves of Crafty Rabbit, although this is the headquarters, they have other bases. Although it is a pity to lose the accumulation of many years, it is better than death.

He had seen it with the telescope just now. Even if those subordinates chose to surrender, the pirates opposite them did not intend to stop.

He didn't know when his people offended the beasts, but if he didn't run now, he would definitely be the next unlucky one.

When they built this place, they had already thought of all kinds of possibilities, so they were ready to escape through the secret passage. There was a secret passage under the dungeon leading to the secret port on the island. As long as they got on the boat, they could escape to other strongholds and seek a comeback. Opportunity.

"Manager, we are now"

"You take someone to bring those rare goods, I'll give you five minutes, and in five minutes, we will gather in the operating room No. 7."

Cocodin knew that the manager must have something behind him, so he called a few people to pack up, while the manager wanted to go back to his office and take those priceless collections with him.

He now only hopes that the outside gate can last a little longer.

But just as he turned to leave, there was a huge vibration from the cast iron gate outside.

"Are these pirates coming so soon?"

The people behind the door swallowed, and their legs moved back unconsciously. Since the beginning of the battle, they have been retreating. Fighting in the wilderness will not take any advantage, and it will be better until they return to the building.

Ordinary pirates do not carry offensive weapons. Although the main gun of the pirate ship is powerful enough, it is fixed on the ship due to the strong recoil, and it is difficult to disassemble and transport.

They didn't know the meaning of holding on, but the other party didn't accept surrender at all, so they all returned here.

The heavy door gave them a sense of security.

was only a thread, and the thread collapsed in the next moment.

The gate melted under their incredible gaze, and the figures of Jhin and Shaina entered here one after another, and then the rocks made by Jhin covered the road under their feet.

The molten molten iron gave ordinary pirates nowhere to go. With Jhin's help, they crossed this hot stream of steel.

"If you don't keep any of them, get rid of them all."

Shaina glanced at the people around her. They were all miscellaneous soldiers. There was no point in wasting time. Her goal was the person in charge here, so she went straight to the depths.

The people around almost only saw a red shadow, and Shaina had already disappeared. .

feature, acceleration, her speed will get faster and faster in battle until it reaches the upper limit.

"Brother Jin, you can also go with the eldest sister, and leave it to us here!"

This action obviously has a lot to do with Shaina and Jhin, and these little brothers also saw it.

They don't know the identity of the Lunaria clan. The Hundred Beasts just rumored that they are like siblings, but it doesn't matter. There are many strong people with quirks. Shaina and Jin just don't like to show their faces.

For ordinary residents in the territory of the beasts, the foreign operations of the beasts are an investment opportunity, and for them, it is something that determines their status within the group.

Kaido made one thing very clear from the beginning, as long as they have the courage, they can challenge the position of the big kanban, as long as they can defeat the other side, they are the new big kanban.

But apart from a few overconfident people who tried it at the beginning, no one has this idea anymore. If you fail to challenge, you will be beaten badly.

In addition, their promotion mechanism is completely determined by their strength, and the fastest way to improve their strength is the conferment of Arceus, whether it is ability or anything, they can make a qualitative change in their strength.

So far, the good brothers who have drawn the water and jumped have become the best scouts, and the qualifications for the lottery are determined by the merits in each battle, and the battle is the only way to obtain merits.

If Shaina and Jhin have eliminated all the enemies, they will find it difficult to do.

"I leave it to you."

Speaking of which, Jhin also left here. Organ trafficking and assassination groups often capture various targets here. Even ordinary humans have various huge sizes, not to mention creatures such as magical giant hybrids, so they put the following The channel is very wide.

was big enough to allow Jhin in his beast-like form to fly freely, and this was one of the things they regretted the most.

The flame behind Jhin was almost extinguished, which was also the performance of the Lunaria clan's speed to the extreme. Due to the battle outside, ordinary members were pulled outside to fight the Beast Pirates, so they could stay in the safety below. In the district, almost all of them are high-level inside the organization.

So Jhin directly launched an indiscriminate attack. Shaina's speed was faster than him, and he couldn't catch up with Shaina who was fully accelerated. The structure below was a bit complicated, and Jhin broke up with Shaina. let's move.

The sight and hearing can capture the breath of the living people nearby, but these people are no different to Shaina, not everyone's sight and sound are like Fujitora, and they can analyze the difference between everyone around them.

She can judge the breath of a few familiar people, but there are all strangers here. Even if she can sense the nearby breath, she doesn't know who these people are.

But with her high-speed movement, she captured the breath of a group of people who were moving. Most of the people here were bound in a certain space, and the speed and range of these people were not right.

Those people felt right below her, but the stairs here were irregular, and she couldn't find a way to go down for a while, and her perception range was not particularly large, so she stepped directly below.

There is no way in this world, but if there are more people walking, there will be a way. If you can't find it, you can just find a way out by yourself.

And below her, there were cocoa tins that were being transferred with important goods. After a few scattered shots, these people lost their resistance.

Although they are the manager's cronies, and their strength is stronger than those outside soldiers, it is no different for Shaina to upgrade from the soldiers to the elite soldiers.

"Why, where did we offend you! Why do we have to kill them all?"

Up until now, Cocodin didn't know why the Beast Pirates came to attack here, and it was a dead hand, and he didn't mean to live.

He didn't wait for an answer, and Shaina didn't explain it to him. The second-in-command of the organization died here with a question in his head, and then Shaina looked at a few people behind him who were covered in black cloth. iron cage.

The thing that you have to take with you even if you run away, it must be something of high value.

Under the first piece of cloth are boxes filled with unknown liquids, and inside are organs of various parts. Shaina just glanced at them and covered them, while the cages behind were filled with living people.

The body is strong, there is no defect, and both men and women have good looks. In fact, their business has nothing to do with appearance. After all, they only look at practicality, as long as it is easy to use.

But the organs of such a person can be sold at a higher price. The elites everywhere are always willing to pay a higher price in this kind of place, and in the last cage is the wolf girl of the fur tribe alone.

Specially made shackles made of high temperature resistant rubber, they will not use anesthetics or sedatives unless they have to. Some people think that this will damage the internal organs.noVELUsB.com

And the fur tribe is a natural warrior race, not to mention those elite warriors, even the old and weak women and children are more powerful than ordinary adult men.

High temperature resistant rubber is to resist their ability to discharge. Fur tribes can generate strong static electricity through friction between furs. Although it is static electricity, after exercise, the power is no different from lightning.

This fur tribe is not very old, but the ability to discharge has also brought them a lot of trouble.

Although Shaina was here to take revenge, it wasn't enough to kill innocents indiscriminately. The iron cage that bound them couldn't stop Shaina, and she broke them at will.

"Find a place to hide yourself, don't run around, and come out when it's quiet outside."

But she also didn't want to waste time taking care of these people. She didn't plan to take care of the rest after unlocking their chains. Even if the people from the beasts called, the prison uniforms on these people have already explained their identities.

Then Shaina chased out again, but not everyone would listen to her words, such as the wolf girl of the fur tribe, after unshackled, she chased after Shaina's taste.

The degree of seclusion of the fur tribe is comparable to that of Wano, but they are passive. Due to the characteristics of Zou, outsiders rarely have a chance to find Zou. Even if they successfully find Zou, the chances of landing are very slim.

The fur tribe living on the back of Zou lacks understanding of the outside world, and the outside world does not understand them. For example, the outside world always thinks that the fur tribe hates humans. In fact, the fur tribe is a very friendly race. In their opinion, human beings are suffering from alopecia. Monkey fur tribe.

This fur tribe is still young, and she left Zou just because of her yearning for the outside world. She doesn't know enough about the world. Shaina's human-beast form seems to have caused her a misunderstanding..

Chapter 100 Karuqiu~

Fur tribe, as the name suggests, are furry animals. In the cognition of wolf fur girls, people living overseas are also fur tribe, and ordinary humans are monkey fur tribe with sparse fur.

The fur tribes living in Zou are all mammals, and the body surface of the flaming chicken is feathers, not hair, but she doesn't know this, in her opinion, the other party may be the bird fur tribe that Zou does not have.

The fur tribe will inherit the characteristics and abilities of its species. The rabbit fur tribe who love carrots, although normal rabbits can't eat too many carrots, but the rabbits here are obviously unusual, and the amount of food does not limit them.

Cat fur tribes who are attracted by cat sticks, and canine fur tribes who like bones, these are the characteristics of fur tribes.

As a wolf fur tribe, she inherited the sense of smell of wolves. Although it was only a face-to-face time, she already remembered the smell of Shaina.

The underground here is a huge prison area, and the people of the organ trafficking and assassination group even call it a feeding ground, and the people inside are all domestic animals in their eyes.

At a certain time, they will release the captured people from their cells to allow them to move freely. During this time, the wolf fur girl was looking for an escape route, but she failed.

But this also made her understand the underground environment better than Shaina. Her speed was not as fast as Shaina, but she knew some paths, and she really caught up with her following the change in the direction of her scent.

When she was chasing out from the path, she happened to see Shaina nailing a person to the wall with one foot, with flames burning on her legs.

Shaina, who is used to kicking skills, and the enhancement of the ability of the flame chicken have doubled the power, and a big hole has been left on the wall.

At this moment, she noticed something moving behind her, and instinctively turned around and kicked, and then she saw the little wolf girl earlier.

However, it is not so easy to retract the kicked leg. Although she has recovered the flame and most of the strength, the remaining strength can still be overwhelmed by an ordinary adult.

However, the wolf-fur girl was quite agile. She grabbed Shaina's leg and made a spin, flipped it twice in the air to release her strength, and then landed firmly on the ground.

"It's so cool, do fur tribes in the outer seas make fire?"

The reason why those humans can't discharge must be because the hair on their body is too sparse. After all, this is the ability that fur children can master.

And Shaina's flame is also considered by her to be the ability of the overseas fur tribe. After all, no one has explained to her what a devil fruit is.

Shaina was the fur tribe she knew from the Central and Outer Seas, and the outside world was definitely different from Zou.

At the time, Inuarashi and Cat Viper believed that there were at least five islands in the world. She had a heated debate with them about this issue. She believed that there were at least ten islands in the world.

But two years ago, those two guys went out to sea secretly and didn't bring her with them because she was too young.

She was only two years older than her, and she actually spoke to her in that tone, and said that there were no other fur tribes in the outer seas, only the monkey fur with sparse body hair like humans.

There was no news from them for the next two years. She felt that the two guys might have died in the open sea, but she chose to go out to sea secretly not to find them, but to prove her thoughts with her own eyes.

But after a few months of work, she was caught here, and those nasty rubbers prevented her from exerting her power at all.

Shaina's appearance seems to have made her discover the New World.

Shaina did not answer her question, but instead asked.

"Didn't you tell yourself to hide? What are you doing?"

"You must be here to bring down that bad manager, right, that's what the story says.

You are amazing, those iron fences can be bent directly. Are there many fur tribes who can fly in the open sea? "

She seems to have a lot of questions to ask. During the time she was out, her life was not good. The characteristics of the fur tribe are the characteristics of beasts, so many people regard her as a monster.

Even if this is the new world, there are some islands that are isolated from the rest of the world. The people on the islands have never heard of a fruit-powered person. In their eyes, talking werewolves are monsters.

The people of the organ trafficking and assassination group are not afraid of her, but they treat her as a commodity.

Shaina was the first person she met who was not discriminated against or afraid of, and she was also a fur tribe from the sea in her heart. She solved those bad people and rescued her.

The fur tribe is a hospitable race, they do not discriminate against any race, if they show extreme disgust, it is only an individual behavior.

She has a lot of questions to ask each other now, but Shaina has no interest in it. She doesn't mind saving the people here, but this is not her main purpose.

"Listen, little girl, I don't have time to take care of you. All you have to do now is to hide yourself. The battle here will be over soon, and then you can go where you want to go." NoVeluSb.com

After finishing speaking, Shaina did not intend to continue to manage her. The route here is too complicated, and she has never found where the person in charge here is, let alone what she wants.

"That bad manager is the boss here, I know where he is, I smell him, your bird's fur doesn't seem to be good enough to smell.

And I am not a little girl, I will definitely be the next Duke of Zou! I'm going to be the first Duchess of Zou! "

The king of Zou is called the duke, and now the ruler of Zou is the Duke of Yanggis Khan. As for Zou's throne succession mechanism, it is also very special, and there is no clear heir.

As long as he can be recognized by the residents of the furry duchy and the current duke, and who is strong enough to defeat all challengers, he can become the new duke here.

Shaina was not interested in the Duke of Zou, but she heard the wolf fur say she knew where the steward was.

"How do you know where he is?"

"I remember his scent, but he seems to have run away."

"Lead the way."

Shaina directly held her in her arms and asked her to show her the way.

"Kaluqiu~" The wolf fur girl leaned up and rubbed her face when she could touch Shaina's face. This is the way of greeting in the fur tribe, and it is also an expression of friendship. In other words, Karuqiu touched his face at the same time.

She felt that Shaina was expressing her friendliness by picking her up. Although she didn't say Kaluqiu, it was normal for fur tribes in the outer seas to have some differences.

Then she sniffed the air and began to show Shaina the direction..
