

Arceus 921

Chapter 921 A new voyage has begun

"Standing. All down?"

"That's right, you don't need to worry about this place in the palace, and you can check and make up for the gaps around, so as not to let any fish slip through the net and cause damage."

As the head of the baroque work club is so weak, Yamato, the miscellaneous fish outside, has completely lost interest.

Even if they can maintain their will under the impact of her domineering color, those people will not be strong, maybe they can't even beat her happy egg.

It's just that she thinks it's not appropriate for Happy Egg to do such things as fighting, so it's better to let the siblings do some activities.

After hanging up the phone, the two siblings who were watching the show looked at each other.

Didn't receive any instructions before, so the two of them rested in the hotel. Although they were not serious at ordinary times, they would still obey the orders from above before they acted.

Yamato has absolute jurisdiction over the two of them in terms of strength and status. As long as you listen to Yamato, it doesn't matter if you get into trouble, since she is on top anyway.

"Xiao Pei~"

"Stop, I'm outside and you are inside. Sister Dahe said, put all the standing ones down as soon as possible."

"Huh? When did she say as soon as possible?"

"I think that's what she meant. In short, it's time to act, old lady. By the way, sister Yamato said that if you put it down, you won't kill them all. Take it easy, old lady."

Before leaving, Peggy Wan specially asked Urti to save her from doing anything irrational for a while.

But he said this only because he was used to it. People here can hardly even hurt Urti, let alone let her get on top.

Then Peggy Wan didn't fly into the air, but went straight into the ground.

There are two ways of life for biting land sharks. One is to fly in the sky at a speed not inferior to that of jet fighters, and in the process hunt for their own prey. Due to their super high flying speed, the prey that is targeted There is simply nowhere to go.

Bite Shark is a Pokémon that lives on the ground after all. In the wild, most Sharks have the habit of digging holes. In addition to hunting in the sky like a falcon, they will also attack from below like a shark.

It's just not underwater, but underground.

The scales on the body surface allow the biting land shark to sense the sound on the ground.

Those who can still stand can't stay still. As long as they move, Peggy Wan can use the ability to bite the land shark with the power of knowledge and domineering, and finally lock the enemy's position.

It's just a matter of digging a hole. If you are not careful, you may dig too much.

"Xiao Pei, why are you here?"

"I dig too much"

In the underground temple in Alabasta, Cobra originally brought Robin to get the rubbings of the historical text as agreed, but the stone above it suddenly loosened, and then Peggy Wan directly drilled out of it.

In underground caves, vision is useless, everything can only rely on perception, and Peggy Wan sensed that there was movement here, so he accidentally dug in.

"Ahem, this is an accident. The desertification of the soil here is a bit serious. I'm not used to it. Sister Dahe still has tasks to come, so I'm leaving first."

Peggy Wan retreated back the same way, and blocked the road he dug with stones along the way.

"Your Majesty Cobra, you have also seen that our business capabilities are still very strong. If you need it, you can make this call in the future."

After the episode of Peggy Wan, Robin handed Cobra a business card. She also had some occupational diseases after working for Tezolo for a period of time, such as selling some necessary businesses of Beasts.

"I still hope that it would be better not to use these in the future, but the bomb in Crocodile's mouth." nOveluSb.COM

"That, don't worry, the news just came, my partner has found that thing, and it must have been dismantled by now."

"Really excellent efficiency"

At the same time, in a tower in the royal capital, Xiao Li used the special structures on his tail and fingers to complete his own bomb disposal work after disposing of the agents of the Baroque Work Agency who stayed here.

As an agent Pokémon, it is easy to dismantle bombs. Its special eyes allow it to easily see through the structure of the bomb, and then dismantle it.

If there were any accidents in this operation, it was that Luffy encountered some accidents.

He originally wanted to rush to the palace as soon as possible to deal with Crocodile, but while he was still on his way, Crocodile had already been brought down by Yamato, and then he met Ulti who cleaned up the fish that slipped through the net.

Under the communication method of one tendon, he was brought down by Urti with Ur's head gun, and was finally dragged aside by Hero.

After receiving the required rewards, Yamato and the others left Alabasta, and Robin was also taken away by them.

The nearby ruins have been explored by Robin over the years, and now that the text of the history is in hand, there is naturally no need to stay.

Although they didn't play a decisive role, the Straw Hats and the others helped Alabasta a lot, and were warmly received by Cobra.

Crocodile was handed over by Alabasta to the navy that arrived later, but Crocodile kept silent and ignored all questions from the navy. In the end, only Yamato and others were hired by the navy to defeat Crocodile. Rockdale and his party.

In order to cover up his mistakes, this achievement was still lost to Smoker, but Yamato and the others also attracted the attention of the nearby navy, which made the Straw Hat's sailing again very smooth, and added a ladyboy on board- Mr. 2, Feng Kelei.

After the downfall of Crocodile, he successfully escaped by relying on the ability to imitate the fruit, and joined Luffy's team by virtue of his recognition of friendship.

The mission of the royal family prevented Vivi from joining. At this time, she and Cobra were observing a new spectacle in the kingdom, a piece of ice, made by Yamato during the battle with Crocodile.

When she was marching before, what she made for Urti was just ordinary ice, which would melt quickly in the sun, no different from natural ice.

But this is different. In order to isolate Crocodile's reincarnation erosion, Yamato used the power from Kyurem, which permanently changed the landscape and added an unmelted ice spring to the hot Alabasta.

It's just that Yamato didn't know about it, she had asked Robin to re-plan the route according to the description of the thousand-year-long dragon, and sailed towards the next destination.

Jin is still on the way to find Blackbeard, Arceus and Shaina have already embarked on the road back home, and Quinn has come to the place where he works overtime - an island where Pokémon gather.

The time of birth here is almost the same as that of Fat Express, and the purpose of its existence is to test the members of the pirate group, and its name is-Charizard Island.

Cough cough, four more tomorrow, another day of delay

Chapter 922 Overtime trip on Charizard Island

"Hurry up, Lao Tzu! What are you doing dawdling! If you want to join the team, show me your ability!"

On the temporary high platform, Quinn ordered the pirates below impatiently.

Since the fight with Akainu, although his paranoia of persecution has not been cured, it has been alleviated anyway, and he still dares to go out when he is ordered.

At this time, his job is to select new members to join the team. The sea emperor's pirate fleet usually has a large number of people, but the team and affiliated forces are two concepts.

Taking Whitebeard as an example, the Whitebeard Pirates team is divided into sixteen teams with a total number of 1,600 people, but the entire Whitebeard Pirates group has a total number of 50,000. novEusb.Com

Wars don't just burn money. In this world where personal force can change the direction of a war, in addition to the quantity of soldiers, the quality has also become extremely important.

The peripheral members of Hundred Beasts are very different from the members of the team. The peripheral members are only eligible to join the team after passing the initial "review".

In the past, members of the team were usually responsible for the review of strength, but with the increase in the expansion speed of Beasts, the review method has also changed.

"This island is a special island created by Lord Arceus with his own ability. If you can come here, it means that you have passed the initial assessment. Hold on to this island for three days!

I don't care how you persevere, if you can get the mark of the thousand universe wrist in the examiner's hand, and stand on the other side of the island three days later, you have passed this trial. "

Quinn held his own loudspeaker and explained the rules of joining to the people below. Looking at the confident newcomers, he randomly poured a basin of cold water on them.

"Don't be so naive, this time the quota is only half of the number of participants, no matter how many are left, only half of you can be selected, and the examiners on this island are very special, you better hope that you can persist smoothly.

A reminder from Lord Quinn, this assessment is based on your strength, but your strength is not the only one. If you are lucky, you can also find a shortcut. "

"Master Quinn! Can you make it clear! What is the shortcut?"

"Huh? It's meaningless to say it, now, all get out and take the assessment!"

Originally, he was introducing the rules, but Quinn suddenly dropped the horn in his hand, and then picked up a rotary machine gun, leaving a row of bullet holes at the feet of the pirates below.

The dense gunshots startled the birds in the forest, and at the same time notified the examiners that the people who participated in the trial had arrived.

The moment they entered the forest, these people started fighting with each other. In their view, it was not difficult to pass through an island. The only thing that limited them was the number, so they wanted to take advantage of their physical strength to deal with their competitors.

Some people also made different choices, marched towards the finish line ahead of time, and kept looking for who the examiner Quinn was talking about.

After the last person disappeared from his field of vision, Quinn also put away the smile on his face, and there were a few more people's information in his hand.

"Heh, these navies really want to mix sand all the time, do you really think I don't know anything? Want to persecute my uncle? In the next life!"

Never doubt that a persecuted paranoid can do outrageous operations for his own safety. In addition to his own intelligence network, Quinn also has various gossip.

There was no problem with the identities of this group of marines, but in order to please the liaison of Beasts, Doflamingo found part of the information of the navy from Virgo, which eventually led to the exposure of this group of personnel.

In fact, Quinn let them go to this island on purpose. As a pirate group, their assessment is not a child's play. Quinn has a large number of death indicators, so it is for him to let these people disappear reasonably. It's not difficult at all.

"Let me see where these guys have gone."

Before entering the island, Quinn issued them so-called distress flare guns, which can be used to give up the assessment, but some of the flare guns were distributed to the undercover agents after he installed a locator. At this time, he had already started his own investigation. Clear action.

But after he looked at the locator, he found that some signals had disappeared on it.

Quinn also has a lot of confidence in his own technology. In his opinion, it is impossible for those navies to find the disadvantages. The only possibility for the signal to disappear is to be destroyed by external forces.

The only Pokémon on the island who can do this kind of thing.

"As expected of a creature created by Lord Arceus, this movement is really fast."

Those locators also have a special smell, which humans cannot smell, but Pokémon can perceive this special signal to mark the attack target.

"Roar!"

A dragon-shaped Pokémon exhaled flames, wiped out the enemy in front of it, then crushed the flare gun that fell on the ground with one foot, then spread its wings and flew back to the lair in the center of the island.

Looks like a dragon. It has dragon in its name, but it doesn't have dragon attributes. It is one of the powerful Pokémon of a certain flying king.

In the sky at this time, several fire-breathing dragons can even be seen flying around.

The orange dragon skin looks like a combination of western dragon and dinosaur. The sharp claws are quite deterrent, and the end of the long and thick tail is burning with a raging flame.

They were born at the same time as the fast dragons, but they are more numerous and fight more frequently.

Compared with fast dragons, charizards have a more irritable personality, and they will keep looking for powerful opponents in their lives. This is how they become stronger.

It is said that the more bitter the fire-breathing dragon has experienced, the accumulated battle experience will make the flame hotter and the temperature of the flame will become higher.

After the person with the "Special Intruder" mark was eliminated, the flame on the fire-breathing dragon's tail also calmed down again. If you want to observe the state of a fire-breathing dragon, the tail is an excellent option.

During the battle, the flames of their tails will burn more intensely. If the charizard is really angry, the front of its tail will burn with blue and white flames.

The normal burning of the flame indicates the health of a fire-breathing dragon. If the flame of the tail goes out, it means that the life of the fire-breathing dragon has come to an end.

At this time, Quinn had already flown over with the wings on his back. Looking at the situation below, he couldn't help laughing.

"Mhahaha, this island feels good, no wonder that guy Jhin often practices here."

It's just that his smile didn't last long. A large fire-breathing dragon was flying towards him. According to the notes Jhin threw to Quinn before leaving, the fire-breathing dragon seemed to regard him as a challenge object.

Chapter 923 Jhin's note, the sword of action

Jhin spends the most time with these fire-breathing dragons, and Jhin also knows more about them in terms of living habits.

He left notes for Quinn when he switched shifts with Quinn, not because he was worried about what the Charizard did to Quinn.

In Jhin's view, the current batch of Quinn flesh, after long-term training, his blood bar is comparable to that of Lunaria, and at most he will be burned as a black man.

In that situation, not only would Jhin not be worried, but he would even mock him in person.

Jhin just didn't want Quinn to be stupid and make something wrong for the Charizard.

【When the fire-breathing dragon tail flames burn violently and swing up and down according to a certain frequency, it means that they have high fighting spirit. They think that the person in front of them is a powerful opponent and want to confront the person in front of them.】

"Oh, it turns out that this guy also thinks that I am very strong. The experience of these years is really not in vain."

Quinn's mind also flashed for a while. After leaving MADS, his life experience seems not so easy.

The pot on his body is getting thicker and stronger, and his domineering is getting stronger and stronger. Under the instillation of library knowledge, even the brain capacity has been passively enhanced.

【There is a fire-breathing dragon with wider wings and a special pattern on its tail. It is the leader of the fire-breathing dragon. 】

"fight."

Looking at the fire-breathing dragon in front of him, Quinn seemed to see the burning fighting spirit, and the flame brewing in his mouth showed what the fire-breathing dragon wanted to do.

"Why... I'm working overtime and still fighting! That torture pervert didn't say it earlier!"

Mandefish, who works overtime every day as a social animal, has a lot of leisure. As the big sign of the beasts, Quinn's goal is obviously to enjoy it chicly.

In terms of food and treatment, he is not bad, and he is still improving. Relying on Xie Mi's special power, his plantation has already been rejuvenated, and even has better quality land.

It's just that his workload is also increasing along with his salary, and he has to deal with possible accidents, such as Kaido and people or things related to Kaido.

Similar character to Kaido, this sentence shows that fighting is inevitable, so when the pirates below are still trying to clear the level, Quinn also had a brief fight with the fire-breathing dragon in front of him.

After the fire-breathing dragon found that Quinn in front of him was like a tortoise in an iron shell, he didn't want to fight head-on at all, but used various methods to avoid attacks, so he lost interest.

After burning for a long time, it was either a stand-in or a barrier, or a dummy made of vines. The body of a meat shield was as slippery as a loach.

This fighting style successfully dissuaded the fire-breathing dragon, and returned to the valley in the center of the island to take its own afternoon nap.

Because the island is surrounded by tropical rainforest, the dense forest hinders the vision of the people in the forest. They don't know what happened in the sky.

Even if they know, it has nothing to do with them. At this time, they are fighting for their own future.

Several pirates came to the jungle together after defeating their competitors, and saw the "examiner" with the token in Quinn's mouth.

A dinosaur-like creature was drinking water by the pool. Although its body was already wet, the flame on its tail was still burning fiercely.

This is the baby charmander on the island - Charmander. The flames on their tails indicate that they are in good health.

Like the Charmander, the flame tail is a symbol of the vitality of the Charmander, and the swaying flames indicate that the Charmander is in a good mood.

And the tag hanging on its chest is the necessary item for those pirates to pass the customs.

"Stupid, what are you doing?!"

Seeing a pirate next to him wanting to go out, his partner immediately scolded him.

"Go get that logo, otherwise how can you join the team? That little guy doesn't look very good."

"Idiot, this is a rainforest. Did you forget that python just now? Can survive in this environment, how can this little thing be a weak chicken!"

Lowering his voice, he scolded his companions around him. At this moment, a Pokémon more like a dinosaur came out, with a piece of meat from an unknown creature stuck in its paw.

This is the evolution of Charmander - Fire Dinosaur.

The biggest difference between them and Charmanders is the extra edges and corners on their heads, and the reddish color.

Compared with Charmander and Charmander, the intermediate form of Charmander is more fiery, and often shreds its enemies with its sharp claws.

If the deterrence of the fire dinosaur was not enough, then the fire-breathing dragon that landed immediately after them surprised the pirates, and they also knew how correct it was not to act rashly.

During these three days, some pirates failed in the internal fighting, and some pirates were not strong enough in the process of snatching tokens, and were taught a lesson by the fire-breathing dragon family.

There are also a few with outstanding strength who took the token from Charmander or Fire Dinosaur and successfully cleared the level.

And a very few lucky people triggered the hidden conditions in Quinn's mouth. Due to special circumstances, they got along very happily with Charmander, and were sent directly to the finish line by Charmander.

At the same time, Warring States received a new piece of information.

"Has the person sent out lost contact again?"

"Yes, the Marshal of the Warring States Period. They seem to have been exposed suddenly. They may have been betrayed by someone, but the details have not been found out yet."

"I see, you go down."

"yes!"

Knocking on the table with one hand, Sengoku fed a document to his goat

After pondering for a moment, Zhan Guo took out a phone bug again, and installed a white phone bug to prevent tapping. Then he dialed a number and uttered a password, and only then did he get a reply from the other party.

"Marshal of the Warring States Period?"

"Major General Drake, you have a special mission. Put aside the work of your subordinates and come to the headquarters to find me directly."

"yes!"

The internal intelligence of the navy had been leaked many times in the past, and the Warring States Period had suspected this for a long time, but there was no direct evidence to prove that there were traitors among them.

Coupled with the impact of the Four Emperors from the outside world, the unstable internal and external environment led to the birth of the special unit Sword, which secretly infiltrated the forces of the Four Emperors.

After a period of time, Drake came to the headquarters according to the order of Sengoku, and directly entered the office of Sengoku.

"Report to Marshal Warring States, Drake is ordered to report to you." NoVe!Usb.com

"Well, our infiltration operation failed again some time ago, Drake, the time has come when we need you."

"Marshal of the Warring States Period, what do you mean"

"Your abilities are very suitable for the needs of the Beast Pirates. The abilities of the ancient species can be well integrated into them. For the justice of the navy, we need someone to enter their interior. Whether it is identity, ability, or trust, you It's the best option I can think of."

Chapter 924 "Degenerate" Rear Admiral, Helpless Jhin

X·Drake, male.

The pronunciation of the name is the same as Drake, but they are two completely different people from Drake of Beasts.

The current Rear Admiral of the Navy Headquarters, one of the special members of the Sword Unit, even the Warring States contacted him, using a special code name.

This is the rule of this army. When internal personnel convey confidential information or send missions, they will first use codes to identify themselves. They are similar to the CP organization of the navy in the navy. They are independent of the world government and only serve the navy.

In the case of intelligence leaks, this unit is the most trustworthy in the Warring States Period.

Drake's background is extremely dramatic. His father, Dies Barreiros, was also a former navy man, but he chose to defect due to his own reasons. Later, for profit, he wanted to make a deal with the world government with the fruit of the operation.

Under Corazon's disruption, the fruit finally came into Luo's hands, and under Corazon's desperate protection, Luo was prevented from being discovered by Doflamingo.

Fate intertwined at this moment, and the surviving Drake was taken away by the Warring States and retrained as a navy.

Drake looked forward to his father when he was young. Because of his identity, Drake also wanted to become a navy.

But for unknown reasons, his father defected and became a pirate, and his temperament changed drastically, often inflicting violence on Drake.

After having a new opportunity, Drake worked hard as a navy and succeeded in becoming a rear admiral. Due to the importance of Sengoku, he finally joined this team.

Beasts are still keen on animal abilities, and animals are more likely to be favored by Kaido.

As an ability user in the form of dragon fruit, ancient species, and allosaurus, Drake's ability is most suitable for undercover operations.

"Drake, this operation is very special. Except for a very small number of high-level officials in the headquarters, even the lieutenant generals in the headquarters will not know your identity, especially your subordinates and ordinary navy soldiers. You have to plan a defection yourself, and Successfully escaped the siege."

Acting may go wrong, so Warring States wants Drake to make a fake show and make a real defection.

"Sengoku Marshal, such words"

"I know, try to control the casualties as much as possible, and pay attention to your own safety. The lieutenant general who is chasing you will not know that you are an undercover agent. At that time, you can only rely on yourself."

Whether defecting or hunting, fighting is inevitable. In order for Drake to "defect" perfectly, Warring States has already paid the price of death.

"Yes, I see."

After today, the navy lost a promising rear admiral and gained a depraved rear admiral. Morgans even wrote about it in the newspaper, and the navy also issued a suppression order, which made Drake's journey very dangerous. .NoVēLusB.com

At the same time, Jhin followed the clues to Drum Island.

Jin's single-handed action makes Jhin very fast. He doesn't need to rely on ships. Relying on the strong stamina of the Lunaria people, he can fly in the sky at will, even the bad weather in the new world can't restrain him.

The enemy has no way to restrict him, unless he hits into the hands of a powerful opponent like Huang Yuan who can fly, otherwise no one can keep him, and flying has become his unique advantage.

So Jhin quickly arrived at the place where Drake had an accident, but traveling alone also has disadvantages. Without a subordinate, it means that everything has to be done by himself.

He was chasing Blackbeard, and if he wanted to find Blackbeard, he had to inquire about him, but when a stranger who was six meters tall, dressed in black and wearing a mask appeared in front of him, the instinctive reaction of most people was to run .

Jhin himself is not ugly, but handsome, but his racial identity prevents him from showing his true face outside.

Other people ignored him and turned around and ran away. He had to catch up to get the news. This way of doing so scared many people into unconsciousness and delayed his itinerary.

It took Jhin a lot of effort to get the news that Blackbeard was going to the Drum Kingdom.

This is the result of Jhin's restraint. Quinn's nickname of torture pervert is not for nothing. Although Jhin wants to find a place for Drake, he seems to be the boss who cares about his subordinates, but in fact, only a very small number of people can get this treatment.

His usual personality is much more irritable than Shaina's. If he doesn't restrain himself, the interrogation will turn into torture to extract a confession.

Magnetic Drum Island, a winter island on the Great Route, Jhin began to look for insiders after he landed here, but before meeting people, he first met a rabbit.

That is a special kind of rabbit that lives on Magnetic Drum Island - Labang.

There are also many unique creatures living in the Drum Kingdom.

For example, a hiking bear like a mountaineer usually moves up the snowy mountain with a special climbing pick.

Although it is a bear, it is very polite. If pedestrians pass by it, it will bow to signal, and people should return the gift accordingly.

In addition to the polite bears, there are also vicious rabbits living here, which are the creatures in front of Jhin.

As a vicious carnivorous rabbit, Laban has the agility of a rabbit and the physique of a bear, and they often attack their prey collectively, but this time they chose the wrong opponent, and Jhin knocked down all the rabbits with just a few * of their wings. He also found villagers hiding in the snow.

Before the villager could react, Jhin had picked him up, and asked in a relatively gentle tone:

"The people in charge here are dizzy again? The psychological quality of these people is getting worse and worse."

Leaving the stunned villagers aside, Jhin looked at the castle in the distance and flew upwards with wings flapping.

In the castle, Dr. Guleva is discussing the topic of kingdom management with the current King Dalton of the Magnetic Drum Kingdom. Strictly speaking, the Magnetic Drum Kingdom has perished, and now it is the territory of the Sakura Kingdom.

After Luffy knocked down Wapole, the long-lost peace has ushered in here, and even Doctor 20, who was restricted by Wapole, has returned to freedom.

Before Jhin arrived, the Sakura Kingdom had been at peace for a long time.

"who!"

"Relax Dalton, he doesn't look hostile,"

On the sofa in the castle, a woman with long curly hair is holding a bottle of plum wine. She is Dr. Guleva, Chopper's "adoptive mother" and teacher.

Compared with Dalton's nervousness, Dr. Guleva seemed very calm. This woman is said to have lived for 139 years. She can be called the living fossil of Magnetic Drum Island and the person with the most secrets on Magnetic Drum Island.

"Why, what is the purpose of the young man here? Do you want the secret of my eternal youth?"

"Woman, you have a lot of guts. I'm not interested in that kind of thing. It seems that you are the managers here. I just want to know, does anyone know the whereabouts of a pirate who claims to be Blackbeard?"

Full name Marshall D. Teach, is a very despicable guy. "

Chapter 925 The real "Bat King"

"He arrived in this country some time ago and wanted to find a doctor to treat him, but the doctors at that time were restricted by King Wapol of the Magnetic Drum Kingdom and were not allowed to treat others at will.

In the end, that guy and his crew directly destroyed the country, and Wapole was also driven away by him, and then I didn't know it. That was the only time the gang showed up. "

The residents of Magnetic Drum Island don't have a good opinion of Wapole, nor do they have a good impression of Blackbeard. Facing Jhin's question, Dalton gave his answer neatly.

"Where did those guys go?"

"I don't know, that guy may have talked to the doctors, I can help you ask."

"Okay, I'll wait here."

Then Guleva took Dalton out of the castle temporarily, and Guleva's attitude also made Dalton feel strange.

She is too polite, not as polite as herself. According to Guleva's habit, she shouldn't have a good face when facing an uninvited guest like Jhin.

"Dalton, you are too young, and as a king, you care more about the outside world, that guy is a monster.

Before that black beard could destroy the Drum Kingdom, this guy went crazy and can also destroy our Sakura Kingdom.

There is no need to offend this guy for such a trivial matter. "

Guleva has much more knowledge than Dalton, and they have nothing to do with Blackbeard, because it is meaningless to offend a powerful monster with a sentence or two, especially this kind of monster that can bring disaster to the country.

The doctor on Magnetic Drum Island still provided some valuable information to Jhin. After roughly confirming the direction of Blackbeard's progress, Jhin embarked on the road of tracking Blackbeard again.

Near Gaya Island, the painting style on the Merry has become even more novel.

"Come on, follow the movements of the slave family, one, two, jump!"

On the deck of the Merry, Von Klein is leading Luffy and others to learn the * dance, and behind him are Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper.

It's just that their movements were not as coordinated as von Klei's. They bumped into a ball during the rotation, and finally they all fell on the dozing Zoro.

"You guys are enough! Stop making trouble!"

"Hello!" noVeLusb.com

Nami and Hero helplessly supported their foreheads, their movements surprisingly consistent.

Although Feng Klein is a personal monster, he has been recognized by Luffy and others in terms of character, but the problem is that he is not a peaceful master. His joining did not calm down the Straw Hat Pirates, but made the group People become more abnormal.

Shemale, reindeer, nymphomaniac, road idiot, idiot, looking carefully, Nami found that the most normal thing on board was actually a unicorn.

Looking at the recording pointer pointing to the sky in her hand, she had no choice but to discuss with Hero what to do next.

Thanks to the two Heracrosses in her hometown, there is no language barrier for her to communicate with Hero, and she can properly make plans for the next step.

"Sky Island? You mean there is really an island in the sky?"

"Hello, hello~ 【I haven't been there, but my companion has been there】 ."

Along the way, Hero often communicated with Heracross, who he met, and he got some information.

Then on Gaya Island, they met Kulik.

For those without the ability to fly, the only route that can safely reach Sky Island is the Top of the West, but the entrance of this road is very far away from Gaya Island, so Kulik has never found a way to Sky Island.

With the information provided by the tavern owner, he firmly believed in the existence of Sky Island, insisted on salvaging to obtain living funds, and accumulated commissions.

Whenever he meets an adventurous pirate, he will offer to hire him to take him to Sky Island.

It's just that he has never met a pirate who really has the courage to rush to the sky island. After all, for ordinary people, the sky current is a dead end, and the probability of successfully reaching the sky island is very small.

It wasn't until Luffy's arrival that he met such a group of warriors.

Sky Island, as before, will charge entry fees for those who enter the country, and the currency has also become Bailey because of the beasts.

The entry fee of 100,000 Baileys is not high, but Nami has a rather stingy personality. After hearing that she can enter the country for free, she chose to save money.

But when they entered the real empty island and saw the two flags hanging on the White Sea, their hearts trembled instinctively.

"I said. Does that flag look familiar?"

The Ghost Horn Skull Flag and the Thousand Universe Cross Flag crossed and hung on the beach of Angel Island. Looking at the familiar pattern, a few drops of sweat dripped from Nami's forehead.

"I suddenly remembered that I had a disease that would kill me if I didn't pay. How about Nami, let's go back and pay the entry fee?"

"But the person at the immigration department said that he can come in without paying money."

Facing money, Nami still hesitated in his heart. Seeing her tangled expression, Usopp's expression became weeping.

thump! thump! pedal!

While they were struggling, several bows and arrows were stuck on the deck of the Merry, and in the sky, Fatty had already flapped his wings and flew over.

No.49 of the Hundred Beasts Pirates, Batman, as a left-behind member of Sky Island, naturally rushed over after receiving the news.

In the original timeline, he has his own highlights. After all, he is also a "little genius" who can "beat the Four Emperors".

Different from the original timeline, now he is not only able to shine through the animation team, for Luffy, he is the real "Bat King".

"Hahaha, after several years, someone finally chose this path. Are you the ones who choose to try?"

"Trial? What trial?"

"Huh? Didn't the old lady at the immigration department make it clear to you?"

Batman frowned, but still explained the rules of Sky Island today.

"Ordinary people have to pay to enter the country. If they don't pay, they will choose the second way and participate in our trial.

If you fail the trial, you will have to pay double the entry fee. If you win against me, you can enter for free and get the chance to join us. Don't you know? "

"Well, this is actually a misunderstanding."

"That is to say, you are kidding me? According to our regulations, liars will be sent to mine."

"No! Usopp is my partner, I can't let you send it to mine!"

Blinking his eyes, the Batman was a little confused. He didn't know what the kid in the straw hat was talking about. When did he say the word "deceitful cloth" when he clearly called it a liar.

"Stop talking nonsense! There is no chance of repentance in our territory, we have come to this point, ready to accept the trial!"

"In other words, I just need to beat you?"

"Naive rookie, it's not you who beat me, it's just you who beat me!"

Chapter 926 Group Destruction.jpg

Looking at the small number of pirates in front of him, Batman stretched himself, not paying attention to them.

Hundred Beasts' recruitment of manpower is mainly in the New World, and only the pirates who have arrived in the New World can give them a little higher look.

If you don't even have the ability to pass the first half, then this person is not even qualified to be cannon fodder in the New World.

Today's New World has become the territory of the Four Emperors. The four big pirates are fighting each other and eating away at the scattered forces around them. human authority.

But with the passage of time, there are fewer and fewer such pirates, either eliminated or incorporated, and only a handful of them can persist in their personal capacity.

It is not only the Red Earth Continent that divides the New World and Paradise, but also Domineering.

In the Four Seas and Paradise, there are only a handful of pirates who know domineering, which also leads to the invincible result of the natural ability users in the first half, but in the new world, domineering has almost become a standard feature.

To become a cadre, it is impossible to have no understanding of domineering, at least one must be proficient in one of them.

Although Batman is not a single digit, he is also one of the top 100. Although he was stationed in the first half of the sky island, he finally became a cadre according to the standards of the new world.

The pirates in Paradise are not a problem for him at all. If one day he overturns in the hands of a newcomer, there will be other big cadres who will come to chat with him without Kaido showing up. What to do.

In this era, there is also a faint tendency of involution among pirates. Even the emperor of the sea needs the injection of fresh blood to increase the strength of the pirates. appeared before,

The Batman stationed on the sky island is to deal with emergencies on the one hand, and to see if there are any newcomers worthy of attention. If there are, the pirate group of these people will be noticed by the Beasts of the New World in advance.

After all, the talent of the first half of the rookies is more important than the strength.

This also led to another situation. Unless they encountered stunned youths who dared to violate their rules or trampled on their flags, cadres like Batmen who were stationed in the first half would usually not kill them.

If they are really capable, these newcomers may become their colleagues in the future. If they are not capable, even if they leave here, they will be buried in the belly of a fish sooner or later, or die at the hands of others.

"Hey, does the number on your stomach mean you are 49?"

Luffy rarely hit it directly, but had doubts about the numbers on the Batman's stomach.

"Huh? Have you met other numberers? I don't know of anyone who has encountered you."

"Then how far is the gap between you and 7? The masked woman knocked me unconscious at the time, and I don't know where she went after that."

Listening to Luffy's words, Batman looked Luffy up and down, and doubts surfaced in his heart.

The person in front of him is still alive, and there are no missing parts. It doesn't look like he fought Urti. In the past, the opponents Urti met had to have fewer parts if they didn't die. This kind of man didn't even leave a scar It's just too rare.

"There is a big gap between me and Master Ulti, but it is enough to deal with you, we should be more serious.

Enough nonsense, let me show you what you can do. "

Hum!nOveLusB.com

An invisible sound wave came from the mouth of the bat, and the ultrasonic wave from the big-mouthed bat enveloped the entire Meli.

The ear-piercing sound waves shook the people on board with a splitting headache, and even the mast on the ship made a hideous sound.

As a member of the numberers, Batman is well aware of how terrifying the gap between numberers is. The smaller the number, the greater the gap in strength between them.

Those who are numbered beyond 90 may be slightly inferior to the previous ones, but when they encounter single-digit numbered people, they are usually killed in one blow, whether it is domineering or ability, talent or hard work, single-digit people They all exploded.

Batman didn't know that Ulti didn't do anything cruel because of Yamato. He was not qualified to know about his eldest lady's private affairs. Although Yamato had been updating a lot during this time, the only thing he could do was to like it.

Based on Batman's cognition, the reason why Luffy is still a complete person may be because there is something worthy of attention. In this case, he doesn't need to show mercy.

Sonic attack is the standard configuration of the big-mouthed bat. Under the influence of sound waves, ordinary people will quickly lose their ability to move.

At least Nami and Usopp are already stuck in a situation where they can't move.

The others were better, and they reacted to the hands-on Batman.

Because Batman has the ability to fly, except for Luffy, the rest of the people can't touch the Batman flying in the air. They can only try to approach each other with their own jumping ability.

But Luffy's arm flew over first.

"Rubber Pistol!"

The extended arm approached Batman at a faster speed, and then he grabbed it directly.

"This attack is too slow."

Batman is far from being able to predict the future, but he can still predict the attack.

Especially his ability is still a big-mouthed bat. The combination of ultrasonic wave and color of knowledge makes his color of knowledge more acute.

After grabbing Luffy's arm, Batman's muscles bulged, and he directly regarded Luffy as a meteor hammer and smashed it to Sanji below.

Sanji, who had no leverage in the air, was hit by the flying Luffy, and fell towards the island cloud below.

"Little Straw Hat! Damn it, * boxing, the memoir of that summer!"

Due to the practice of Shemale Boxing, Von Clay's jumping power is stronger than that of Sanji now. His body began to rotate at high speed, and a violent roundabout kick kicked Batman in the air.

But he just waved his wings twice, and came to the top of von Klei.

"The speed of turning in circles is very fast, but it is useless."

Von Kray's side kick was firmly grasped by Batman, and then thrown to Sanji and Luffy below, as a cushion for Von Kray.

Luffy, who is a rubber man, is fine, but Sanji's brows at the bottom obviously sank.

Choke!

Sauron was the only one left in the attacking group of four. His attack did not fail, and he slashed directly on the Batman's stomach. However, the domineering power in his stomach prevented Sauron's slashing from having any effect.

"how come!"

In the battle between Alabasta and Mr. 1, he has already comprehended the skill of cutting steel. Even the steel body of Mr. 1's fast cutting fruit can't block his slashing blows, but now he can't move the one in front of him. human skin.

The action just now was repeated again, and Sauron was also thrown down.

Chapter 927: Rambo Ball and Excited Batman

"Bastard green algae head! Get down quickly!"

The duration of the battle just now was actually very short. In just one face-to-face time, the four major forces on the ship were successfully wiped out by the Batman.

An animal ability user who can fly freely and is proficient in two-color domineering is a more difficult opponent for Straw Hat and others than Crocodile.

Before Lao Sha successfully reflected on himself and obtained the buff of the version update, he was no match for Batman.

Decades ago, Crocodile was still a threat to Batman, but he was beaten down and put all his energy on Pluto, and he was not Batman's opponent at this time.

After pushing the person on them off, the four of them nervously looked at Batman again. This opponent seemed more terrifying than ever.

Of course, there are people who are far more afraid than these four.

"Usopp, Chopper, remember to protect me."

Batman interrupted his own ultrasonic wave when he shot, which also made the weak trio react at this time. Nami instinctively hid behind Chopper and Usopp.

"Damn it, why did Helo disappear, where did it go at such a critical time!"

Chopper and Usopp are actually just a few, and Hero is more worthy of relying on. The unicorn on this ship is more reliable than humans, which is a common sense of Nami today.

Although the people on board are trustworthy when there is danger, but when there is no danger, these people are the greatest danger.

It's just that Hero flew away shortly after arriving at Sky Island, and he doesn't know when he will come back.

At this time, Batman is facing the onslaught of the group of four, but no matter how they attack, they can't touch Batman's side, and all their actions are within Batman's expectation.

Even if the four of them work together, hitting Batman will be blocked by an inexplicable black object.

"What's the situation with this guy? Isn't that ability a bat? How could there be such an outrageous defense and reaction?"

The trip on the great route has broadened the horizons of the Straw Hats and the others. At this time, they have a deeper understanding of the faculties of animals and nature.

"You have to know that there are more detailed classifications of the ability users of the animal department. I am not an ordinary bat, but an ability user of the phantom beast species. This ability is rarer than that of the natural department, at least it used to be."

Ignore the power of beasts, then the abilities of phantom beasts are indeed rare, but after adding beasts, this rarity cannot be justified.

Explained briefly, Batman took out the bow and arrow behind his back.

"The warm-up is over, now it's time to get real."

He grabbed a bow and arrow directly from the quiver, and then shot directly down without looking at it. It seemed like he was shooting randomly, but his arrows shot at everyone accurately.

This is a sonar guided arrow developed by him using the ability of ultrasonic waves. It is not as convenient as the waveguide arrow in the moment, but it can be regarded as a simple guidance system.

Boom!

"Be careful, this arrow will explode!"

"We saw it, you don't need to say it!"

Sauron swung his knife and slashed at the arrow shot by Batman, but he didn't expect that the arrow exploded the moment it touched. , They couldn't think of any way to deal with it for a while.

Finally let Luffy get close to him, and he blocked the direction opening in the sky with all his strength, but Batman stomped his legs dozens of times instantly, and left their encirclement with shaved movements.

The superiority in numbers did not smooth out the gap in strength, and the domineering power could not be smoothed out by virtue of their strength, so they were defeated by the Batmen one after another.

Sanji and Von Kray fell first, which also made Zoro and Luffy feel more pressure.

"Luffy, that guy... can predict people's attacks."

"Ah, I know, so I thought of a way."

Luffy stroked his hat, and then used an amazing move.

"Rubber in a daze!"

Luffy's eyes became dull, and his body relaxed unsteadily, looking really stupid.

"You bastard. Are you kidding me!"

Seeing that Luffy was still doing this kind of thing at this time, Zoro couldn't hold back and wanted to give him a knife handle, but Luffy nimbly dodged it.

"Interesting, it doesn't look bad, Chopper, help me and push me up!"

With the defeat of Sanji and Von Clay, Chopper also had to participate in the battle. With the strengthening of his strength, he has good power. With the help of Chopper, Sauron approached Batman again, and then he I found out that I was played by Luffy.

He thought that Luffy had developed a move to deal with the opponent's prediction, so he went up to attract firepower. As a result, Luffy was in a daze, and he didn't make any moves until Sauron was knocked down.

"You bastard."

Sauron cursed secretly before losing consciousness, but no one knew whether he was cursing Batman or accusing his captain of being a jerk.

After killing one of his teammates, Luffy returned to normal again.

"Damn, there is no way to attack like this, it doesn't work at all."

Rubber trance is a move he newly developed to deal with the unknown power of knowledge and knowledge. After emptying his mind, he completely acts according to the instinct of his body. Without thinking, he will naturally not be predicted by the opponent, but this It also lost the means of counterattack.

"Little ghost, the world of pirates is not just a play, if you don't have the determination to die, newcomers like you will not be my opponents."

Batman appeared next to Luffy like a ghost, and a pair of sharp teeth bit his neck. With the injection of venom, all the main combat forces of the Straw Hat Pirates were defeated.

The combat power of Nami and Usopp is negligible at this time, and the only thing that can interest Batman is Chopper.

"Reindeer? The food you eat seems very special."

Ordinary animals have only three stages of transformation, and the blue wave ball developed by Chopper can disrupt the transformation wavelength of the animal devil fruit, making the three stages of transformation into seven stages of transformation. For Batman, this boat The sum of people is not as attractive as this thing.

At this time, Chopper is also struggling. He has already eaten two Rumble Balls, and now the time is almost over.

Rambo ball is a kind of poison in a sense, the duration is only three minutes, if you take the second one within six hours, you will not be able to control the deformation wavelength.

It was luck that he was able to transform into a power form just now.

Now the time for the second pill is coming to an end, if you eat the third pill

Looking at the Rambo ball in his hand and the unconscious Luffy, Chopper thought what Batman had just said.

"The consciousness of betting your life."

Crack, the third rambo ball was crushed, and a huge reindeer monster also appeared in Batman's eyes, but looking at this monster, Batman had no fear in his eyes, only excitement.

Chapter 928 Achievements delivered to the door

When taking the third blue wave ball, the eater will lose consciousness, and the abilities in the body will start to run wild, turning into a "monster".

Chopper doesn't know what it is, only knows that this ability is terrifying, but Batman knows that this is clearly the awakened power of the animal system, or in other words, it is only part of the awakened power.

Those guys in the promotion city who failed to awaken and turned into Jailor Beasts are one of the examples. The pill that Chopper ate was his way to promotion in the eyes of Batman.

If even such a weak person can achieve this kind of awakening with external force, then those people inside the beasts.

In addition to the ability bestowed by Arceus and the ability of man-made fruits, Beasts also has many ordinary animal-type abilities. This thing is almost a war stimulant tailor-made for Beasts.

If this is really useful.

Batman has begun to fantasize about standing on the podium to accept Kaido's award.

Patting his face, Batman brought his thoughts back.

"Brother Mandelfish is right, as long as you work hard, luck will come to you sooner or later."

Although this thing seems to have a lot of side effects, they still have Quinn and Nairin. In terms of drug research, these two people still have real talents. Batman believes that as long as this drug is sent back, everything else will be fine.

Just before that, he had to deal with this crazy beast first.

This is not too difficult for Batman. The monster form after Chopper ate three rambo * is a state of loss of control. This kind of clumsy giant beast cannot touch a flying ability user.

After a little effort, Batman successfully knocked down the berserk reindeer, but after that, he thought of a new problem.

This kind of medicine fits some of the ability users of beasts. If they have met Urti before, they may have used this power.

If there is this medicine, it can explain why Luffy is not missing arms or legs, but it cannot explain why Chopper is still following them.

With Ulti's character, he should be taken away with him.

At this time, Heracross also flew back from the forest, and even the tall figure of the Monarch Snake appeared here. It was attracted by the gigantic Chopper, and the Monarch Snake is also the source of Batman's calmness.

It is the strongest guardian here. Looking at Heracross who was helplessly holding his forehead beside Luffy, Batman felt that he had realized again. This group of people may have been targeted by higher-level cadres, but he didn't know it. That's all.

Since the end of the last ranking battle, single-digit numbers have only undergone internal ranking changes, and it is almost impossible for others to challenge them, which also means that their positions have been stabilized.

Competing with such a leader for performance

Shaking his head, Batman thought of some not-so-beautiful pictures, and finally made his own decision.

He took all the Rumble Balls from Chopper, then filled in the emergency contact information on Rotom's cell phone, and sent the Rumble Balls and his own report letter to Ghost Island by mast express.

As for these people, he decided to adopt a relatively moderate attitude so as not to overturn in the future.

"It's only 1.8 million Baileys, you can't take it out??"

Paying twice the entry fee is already a very gentle method, but Batman somewhat overestimated the economic situation of the Straw Hat Pirates.

These people don't plunder like ordinary pirates, but explore around like an adventure group, and the source of funds is not stable.

Luffy's stomach is a bottomless pit, and they have to consume a lot of food expenses every day. When they can't find the treasure, their economy has been very tight.

"This...our situation is a bit special."

Looking at the Batman whose attitude has changed, Nami doesn't know what's going on, but it's a good thing after all.

When an absolute force gap appears, the crew will generally choose to compromise.

For example, the crew of a certain Red Lion S. Kidd was very confident before challenging Shanks, but after Shanks defeated Kidd with a sword, they decisively chose to kneel down and beg for mercy, and then handed over the text of history in their hands Rubbings.

The world of pirates is cruel. After defeating a war, just paying a negligible fine is already the result of very preferential treatment.

As for the blue wave ball.

According to the traditional rules of pirates, everything belonging to the defeated belongs to the victor, so Batman will not use it to pay off debts.

It was originally 1.6 million, but Luffy thought Heracross was a companion, not a pet, so he had to be counted as a person, so it became 1.8 million. This logic made Nami almost beat him to death, but later found that there was no difference.

Whether it is 1.6 million or 1.8 million, they will not be able to get it out in the end.

"The rules can't be broken. If you have no money, you can stay and work. Although you are weak, if you earn enough entry fees, it will be very fast."

Sky Island has no mines for them to dig, but there are many jobs, so the Straw Hats and the others were forced to delay a lot of time, and even Kulik, who came up with them, joined the ranks of part-time workers until the debts were paid off. Leave the empty island.

After leaving Sky Island, the gap in strength made Luffy realize that he needs stronger strength, so he started a new exercise, but while getting stronger, they are still thinking about where they can get a lot of money.

The Merry who followed them all the way needs to be overhauled at this time, which is a lot of money.

At this time, some things also happened in the capital of seven waters. Due to the long delay in Sky Island, their speed to the capital of seven waters was greatly delayed. ovelUS&.cOM

But CP9's actions will not be delayed because of their lateness.

The purpose of these undercover agents in the capital of seven waters is Pluto. The arrest of Robin in the original timeline can be said to be the result of a coincidence.

Now that Robin has a different identity, let alone came here, they naturally carried out their original tasks honestly.

After Tom was robbed, he began to live incognito. Even his disciples didn't know where Tom went.

After a period of time, Franky, who was seriously injured, reappeared in front of Iceberg in the form of a modified human.

Bingshan gave Franky the design of Pluto, and hoped that he would leave the city of water and start a new life with a different name.

But Franky did not accept it, but continued to live on the island under the name Franky.

Tom's disappearance became a thorn in his heart, and he wanted to wait here to see if he could see his teacher again.

Later, he took in many homeless people who almost starved to death in the backstreet, and opened the "Franky Family" with shipbreaking as a profession.

It's just that some things cannot be hidden. Many years later, he was still discovered by the agents of the world government and secretly arrested him in the middle of the night.

And all of this was seen by Tom who secretly returned to the capital of seven waters to observe the situation of his disciples

Chapter 929 Giant Crocodile in the Sea

Not long ago, in the office of Seven Water Capital, Bingshan, the president of Carrera Company and the actual manager of Seven Water Capital, stared blankly at the few people in front of him, his eyes filled with disbelief.

"It's all your fault. The world government asked you to hand over something, but you just don't hand it over, otherwise things wouldn't come to this point."

"Kaku?!"

"If possible, I don't want to hurt you, I want to leave a good memory in this city."

"Kalifa"

"Did you inherit the stubbornness of the master? This is not a good habit."

"Bruno of the Tavern."

"Are you all from the World Government?" ovelUs&.cOM

"Yes, lurking is easy for us, but don't worry, we are serious and responsible in our work. Before that, there was no problem with the work we handled.

It's just that the task time is coming to an end, we need to do our best to complete the goal. "

There are not many members of CP9. Qualified CP9 is also an elite force in the hands of the world government. It needs to be used in key places. It makes Lu Qi and Kaku such talented CP9 members waste a lot of time as boatmen. Dum made a foolish move.

They can waste time for the blueprint of the legendary ancient weapon, but they can't waste it endlessly.

The latent work allowed them to collect part of the intelligence, so today when the mission deadline is approaching, they chose violent means.

As the sea becomes more and more chaotic today, a new voice has emerged within the world government.

Instead of worrying about the resurrection of ancient weapons all day long, it is better to hold these ancient weapons in your own hands and directly put an end to the era of great pirates. It's just that the voice of this faction has not been recognized by the top level of the world government, which does not meet their needs balance.

But they just don't agree with the latter, they think that there is no need to end the era of pirates, and they still agree with mastering ancient weapons.

"Mr. Bingshan, ancient weapons could have been a force for justice, but you don't want to help us. You don't intend to save people who are still being hurt by pirates in this world."

"Impossible, once the weapons are revived, the world will start to compete for their power, and the casualties will only continue to expand."

"It seems that you don't believe in the world government."

"Little devil, I just don't believe in people's hearts."

Bingshan has no trust in the world government, and never thought of handing over the design of Pluto to them. He planned a series of plans before, but Lu Qi and others finally discovered the clues.

And finally found Franky.

Bingshan can do nothing about it. He thought his plan was fine, but he didn't expect that half of the people around him were undercover agents, and his plan was almost a loud conspiracy.

The sea train escorting Frankie quickly left the station of the Seven Water Capitals, and they wanted to send Frankie away before the "Water Gods" arrived.

Because of its location, this huge tsunami hits the entire city every year, and today happens to be the day it arrives.

"Mr. Bingshan, it's time to take refuge, the gods of water are coming soon"

They knew that the iceberg had been hit hard, but in the face of this huge tsunami, if they didn't take refuge, they would really die.

"Let's go first, I will follow up later."

"But."

"Go, Iceberg, I'll bring Franky back."

"!?"

Bingshan heard a familiar voice, and Tom, who had disappeared for several years, reappeared in his eyes.

"Mr. Tom!"

"You have done a good job in these years, and the capital of seven waters has developed very well under your management."

On weekdays, he builds some docks in the territory of Hundred Beasts. Now the main ships of Hundred Beasts have been strengthened and remodeled, and their navigation capabilities have been greatly enhanced, and the sea traffic in the territory has become more convenient.

Tom would sometimes sneak back to the capital of seven waters to check on the situation of his disciples, just to avoid arousing suspicion, he would leave here after a few glances quietly, and never communicated with them.

If Franky hadn't been discovered this time, he still didn't intend to expose himself.

"But master, Franky is already on the sea train."

"I know, didn't I also disappear on the sea train?"

Patted Bingshan on the shoulder, Tom gave Bingberg a gesture of reassurance just like they did when they were children, and then left the Seven Waters along the inner canal of the Seven Waters.

Outside the capital of seven waters, several murlocs were waiting here with Tiger, but they didn't soak in the water, but sat on the shoulders of a giant crocodile.

Tom is not a murloc with outstanding strength. In order to protect the safety of this old man, Tiger will travel with him whenever he has time.

As for this giant crocodile, it is Tiger's partner and the No. 4 player of the Giant Beast Corps of the Hundred Beasts Pirates.

Following King Yanwu and Banjila in land battles and the eight-headed dragons in air battles, another powerful weapon is the crocodile in water battles.

In the early stage of the upcoming arrival of the Gods of Water, the waves on the sea are very rough. Even the murlocs can hardly stabilize themselves in this situation. If they are alone, they usually dive into the bottom of the sea to avoid the tsunami Influence.

But it's different with support. The body of the crocodile is still very stable under the waves, and it's like a sea * needle under the huge waves, but the underwater posture is not as handsome as imagined.

Its limbs and tail are constantly swinging to maintain its stability, and this posture is also the reason why the murlocs sit on its shoulders.

"Uncle Tom, you are back, we are all ready."

"I'm sorry to bother you, although it's a private matter, but that's my very important disciple."

"No trouble, Uncle Tom, everyone can see your contribution, whether it is the construction of the new Murloc Island or other islands, you have helped a lot.

Besides, this is not the first time we have done this kind of thing. "

There are not many things that rob people from the world government, and among the people who have done these things, Tiger has definitely snatched back the largest number of people. After all, he released the slaves of the entire Mariejoya back then. No one has reproduced it yet.

"Let's go, buddy, we have to catch up with that sea train ahead of time."

Not everyone in the Behemoth Corps can command. Except for the orders of Arceus, they generally only obey their partners. Only Tiger can arrange the direction of this crocodile. The other murlocs can at most take a It's just a crocodile.

"Roar~"

The crocodile changed its body shape, the red bone plate on its back exposed the sea surface, then twisted its body and chased in the direction of the sea train.

Chapter 930 The Alligator Who Opened the Blind Box

Tiger is very familiar with this route. In order to save Tom, they had ambushed on the track of the sea train in advance.

That operation was very simple for them. Tom himself was a murloc. As long as they put the sea train into the water, they would naturally be able to use the advantage of the ocean to rescue Tom.

This time is different, Tom's apprentice is a human being, and the "Water Gods" are on the way. If they directly overturn the sea train as before, I'm afraid it will become a Russian rescue.

【Report, we have killed all the enemies. hostage? What hostage? I didn't see any hostages. 】

But this time they have a higher force configuration. Although the number of people is much smaller than last time, there is an additional "war weapon" such as a giant crocodile.

Under the cover of the night and the ocean, the blue scales on the whole body of the crocodile became inconspicuous, only the red bone plate on the back exuded a terrifying aura under the moonlight.

Strong forelimbs cut through the sea. This crocodile is constantly changing its swimming style. In addition to the crocodile's usual way, it is also proficient in butterfly stroke, freestyle and breaststroke, and it is advancing in breaststroke at this time.

"Nu, Brother Tiger, why is it that a crocodile can learn breaststroke? Isn't it strange?"

"It's not that Aaron is free to teach, and it's not particularly strange. Don't you see there is a freestyle frog over there?"

In Tiger's view, it is better for Aaron to teach the crocodile to swim than to go out to find trouble. Even if he has restrained himself a lot now, Tiger doesn't trust him very much.

"This world is really strange, New."

Frog swimming freestyle, crocodile swimming breaststroke, this strange swimming posture shocked Xiaoba, and also attracted Tom's attention.

"Yokozuna? Yokozuna! Come here, where are you going?"

Under the influence of the wave, Yokozuna didn't hear Tom's call, and in the end it was Tiger who let the crocodile capture him directly.

At first it tried to attack the crocodile, but it calmed down after seeing Tom.

And Tom also learned of yokozuna's plan to rescue Franky, and knew the origin of the scar on his body.

"Nu, you really are a frog with only sympathy"

Yokozuna thought Tom was really dead, so he hit the sea train with his body every day, leaving countless scars on his body.

"Don't worry, Franky is still alive, I will bring him back."

After calming down yokozuna, Tom took it with him on the road to rescue Franky.

At the same time, Franky was chained in the carriage and gagged. His trash talk made the CP9 people upset, so they simply gagged their mouths.

Lu Qi and the others closed their eyes and rested in the carriage. The undercover career that lasted for several years came to an end, and they had completed this mission.

Now that they are very close to Judiciary Island, they inevitably relax, but at this moment, there is a sharp whistle from the sea train. And started slamming on the brakes.

"what happened?"

"Notice, urgent notice, Neptunes appear on the track ahead, armed personnel please drive away immediately, repeat, Neptunes appear on the track ahead, armed personnel please drive away immediately!"

The captain's voice sounded from the radio. Ordinary agents didn't notice anything unusual, but Lu Qi and the others noticed something unusual.

They have been undercover in the Carrera Company for many years, and they have a full understanding of sea trains. The problem of sea king attacks was considered at the beginning of the construction of this thing, and this problem has been solved through special methods.

Except for the stage of trial operation, it has never been heard that the Sea Train was attacked by the Sea Kings.

Several people couldn't help standing up, planning to see what happened.

But before they could move, a violent explosion sounded from the front of the car, and even the rear compartment was shaken violently.

In front of the sea train, the conductor sat slumped on the second carriage, his trousers were already wet with liquid. Under the erosion of the waves, he maintained his last dignity, making people wonder what liquid it was.

The sound of creaking and creaking came into his ears continuously. It was the sound of the metal front being twisted. At this moment, the front of the sea train had been bitten in the mouth by the crocodile, and with the closing of the upper and lower jaws, it became a Heap of metal slag.

The crocodile usually does not move fast, and even looks a little leisurely, but in the explosive state, the crocodile is far faster than usual.

The powerful explosive force makes it impossible to see the movement of the crocodile when it bites its prey. When people find something abnormal, they often see only an afterimage.

Relying on its own explosive power, the crocodile has already arrived at the only way for the sea train ahead of time, and blocked its way.

Because of its size, it is very hard work for a crocodile to support its body on land, especially for this giant crocodile 20 meters away, but in water, with the help of the buoyancy of sea water, it can explode more strength.

As the name suggests, vigorous is the characteristic of this Pokémon.

Different from other water-type Yusanjia, Vigorous Crocodile doesn't make many appearances. To be precise, all the Yusanjia in Chengdu are like this.

Their existence is mostly concealed by the Yusanjia in other regions.

What the crocodile is best at is not water, but its powerful jaws and sharp claws. At this time, it also started its own actions. After blocking the sea train, the crocodile continued to move forward along the railroad tracks just like opening a blind box. Row, and destroy the roof of the carriage as you go.

The other murlocs have dived into the sea at this time, only Tiger and Tom are still on the crocodile, looking for Franky.

Whoosh! Whoosh!

Several sounds of breaking through the air came, and CP9 who came to check the situation found the raging crocodile and kicked it a few times, but all of these attacks were blocked by the crocodile.

Its defense is not as strong as that of Bankira, but it is more than enough to block these rainy feet.

"This monster doesn't look like a sea king."

Seeing that his feet had no effect, Kaku's expression became serious.

"No matter what they are, attacking the * train of the World Government is a capital crime. Compared with that monster, the person on the back is the mastermind."

Tiger and Tom were very conspicuous, and Lu Qi couldn't see their faces clearly in the night, but the person sitting on the back of this kind of monster couldn't possibly be visiting every house.

"Where did these guys come from? Is it for that Franky?"

"I don't know, they will know when it is solved, Kalifa, you go and look at Frankie, Nairo is too weak, Kaku, Bruno, you guys harass this monster, I will grab the controller behind By."
