

Arceus 961

Chapter 961: Don't rob me! I'm here to guard the house!

Whether it was Yamato or Arceus who went out, or Jack who was fighting outside, or the Zou giant elephant who was roaming around, they have all returned to Onigashima at this time.

It was rare for the cadres of Beasts to gather together. Even Olga, who had just left Chambord for a short time, returned to Ghost Island in advance by taking the fast dragon.

"Fire Fist Ace was arrested and will be publicly executed in Marlin Vandro. The guy with the white beard will definitely go to the rescue! The times are about to change again!"

"The war between Navy Headquarters and Whitebeard, what are you excited about?"

White Beard may be sad, but Kaido's face is full of excitement. Even though it is clear that Kaido is such a character who likes to "join in the fun", Arceus still can't understand where his excitement lies.

"Heh heh heh heh, this is a rare event. Although it has no direct relationship with us, it is also a wonderful appetizer before the banquet.

But that old guy is still the same, knowing that it is a conspiracy, for the sake of his so-called family, he will still jump into this pit of fire.

Looks like he's about to leave. "

Even Kaido, he also recognizes Whitebeard's strength, but Warring States Garp, today's three generals, five of them are also top powerhouses, in Kaido's view, one Whitebeard is not an opponent of the five of them.

White Beard's ending has become a foregone conclusion. After six years in the new world, the Four Emperors pattern will return to the triangle era again.

"How about it? This is a rare opportunity, don't you join in the fun with me? There are not many opportunities to gather so many top experts and make shots without any scruples."

Kaido didn't think there was a problem with his thinking at all, and even wanted to drag Arceus to join in the fun.

When a strong man like him fights, it will be devastating to the surrounding terrain, especially Whitebeard, who can cause supernatural disaster-level monsters.

Navy Headquarters is an excellent battlefield for Kaido. There is no need to think about anything when fighting there, as long as you have fun fighting.

Yes, he doesn't want to help Whitebeard, let alone the Navy, but simply wants to fight those guys.

"Not interested, and how many people do you want to bring?"

"Not much, as I said, this is just an appetizer."

"Father, I have some news, please read this first."

No one dared to disturb the conversation between Arceus and Kaido, only Yamato stood up at this time.

"What?"

"Father, look, this is the news gathered by the thousand-year-old dragons before. I went to many islands along the way, but none of them were of any value. Father's slate radar didn't respond at all.

This is the only place I haven't been to yet. "

Yamato focused on his work, and stated that he was definitely not playing, but working, and then used Rotom to directly unfold Robin's translated sea chart in front of Arceus.

"Father, look, this is the place. A thousand-year-old dragon said that it saw the streamer flying into the center of the maelstrom. I originally wanted the steel armored crow to take us to have a look, but my father suddenly took me shouted back."

"This position is really interesting."

Looking at the three institutions on the map, Arceus also understood where this special vortex is. The vortex in the thousand-year-old dragon's mouth is a special current controlled by the World Government.

Around this vortex, they built the Navy Headquarters, Judiciary Island, and the Undersea Prison. They also used the currents formed by the vortex to reduce the passage time.

If you don't have the ability to open the door of justice, you will be trapped in this special current forever. All pirates will stay away from this place, and no one wants to be surrounded by the navy for no reason.

"Just so, they beat them, Kaido, you can do whatever you want, I will go to this vortex, there may be something I want."

"I see you need a lot of people?"

"No need, it is enough to have a few who can help."

"Okay, then let's allocate other manpower first."

Kaido glanced over the many cadres under his command, and already had his own arrangements in mind.

"Little ones! The war has come, and Whitebeard wants to save his son, so there won't be many people left in his territory.

If he dares to go to the Navy headquarters under such circumstances, he can only go all out, and there will not be many strong men in the territory.

As long as Whitebeard leaves, someone will definitely attack his territory. When the navy's news is fully announced, these pirates will be attracted like sharks smelling blood, so we have to attack first.

Olga, Jack! "

Looking around, Kaido finally chose the two of them.

"Captain Kaido.", "Brother Kaido."

"The issue of the territory is left to you two. Except for the manpower left behind on the various islands, the idle personnel, and those numbered above two digits all follow your command.

King Yanwu and Bankira are also handed over to you.

Use the fastest speed, and before the others react, take all of Whitebeard's territory to me! "

Jack and Olga were appointed by Kaido to expand the territory, because neither of them has the ability to fly, something really happened, and it is not easy to withdraw from the Navy headquarters in time.

It's better to let them use their abilities in other places. With no time for high-level combat power, Olga and Jack are invincible on the frontal battlefield.

"What is left for you is the defense issue, and Wano Country will leave it to. Who should I leave it to?"

Originally, when he asked Arceus if he wanted to join in the fun, he just asked casually. He knew that Arceus was not interested in this kind of thing, so he planned to still hand over the island to him.

Not being stolen is also an important part of the battle, but Arceus has his own arrangements, so he has to change again.

"Brother Kaito! I'm coming!"

"Father! I'm coming!"

The voices of Quinn and Yamato sounded one after another. In terms of guarding the house, the two started a rare competition.

"Miss Yamato, you have to respect the elderly. I arranged the security facilities in Wano Country. I am more familiar with the institutions and terrain here than you."

"Uncle Quinn, I seem to be stronger than you. I used to be the housekeeper when the adoptive father and father were away, and if you say that, shouldn't you love the young?"

Kaido's arrangement has already explained everything. Olga and Jack are responsible for expanding the territory, which is already a fait accompli.

Then except for the guards, the rest either follow Kaido or Arceus.

Arceus' military power has already reached the peak, and all he needs are a few assistants, and they will definitely not be allowed to go. If they are not responsible for guarding the island, they will have to be taken away by Kedora.

When the time comes to the chaotic battlefield, who knows what will happen, Yamato doesn't want to fight out of nowhere, and Quinn is more realistic, he doesn't want to be dragged out to persecute.

For his own peaceful future, it became his only chance to fight for the garrison commander.

"Father!/Brother Kaito! Give Wano Country to me!"

Chapter 962: intrigue, fool each other

After all, the rules of the pirates are relatively loose. One is the top cadre of the pirate group, and the other is the future successor. For the candidate of "garrison commander", Yamato and Quinn can be said to have tried their best. strive.

Everyone speaks clearly and logically. Under their debate, if they don't guard their homes, it will be a huge loss to the beasts.

The reason is that Kaido almost laughed when he heard it, but he was laughed out of anger.

"Shut up! You two honestly went to the battlefield with me. This kind of big scene is too rare. The navy has never mobilized so many troops at once. The only thing that can be compared is the battle of the Valley of Gods.

You all shrink back at this time, what about the bigger scene after that! "

The war on the top is the largest naval war in decades, with 100,000 elite navies mobilized from all over the world, the King Shichibukai who was forcibly summoned, the three generals of the navy headquarters, naval heroes, and admirals.

After excluding actors, paddling, fishing, etc., without considering the damage to the surrounding environment, this lineup can steadily eat the Whitebeard Pirates.

In other words, from the very beginning, the world government has been on guard against other sea emperors, and has taken certain preventive measures against possible situations.

Since the battle in the Valley of the Gods ended, Kaido has also experienced many battles and fought against powerful opponents, but this kind of battle with a large number of people has never appeared.

The total number of troops in the Valley of the Gods is not as good as it is now, but the peak Rocks, coupled with the young and middle-aged Garp and Roger, the quality of that battle was not low at all, and Kaido did not even participate in the decisive battle at that time Qualifications.

For Whitebeard, he wants to rescue his son. For the navy, they want to achieve their own strategic goals and stabilize the order of the sea. But for Kaido, the top war is his own paradise.

Others' arrangements are still open to discussion, but Yamato and Quinn are typical ones, so don't even think about running away.

"I object! Brother Kaito! You know what's going on with me. When you get to that place, do you want me to be a target!"

Although the sign of the reward order is still only alive, and the banana plantation island gave him a little confidence before, there is always the possibility that those guys want to kill him.

It's one thing to dare to go out, it's quite another to go to the enemy's stronghold.

"Quinn, think about it from another angle. As long as you can prove your strength, they won't let some small characters come to trouble you. Isn't this a good thing once and for all?"

Kaido did not intend to let Quinn and Yamato go, but he did not simply impose orders as the captain, but tried to entice the two of them to actively participate in the battle.

"But without the small one, there will be a bigger one!"

"No, no, Quinn, you are wrong. Such a top combat force has no time for such trivial things as assassination. What you have to do is not to avoid but to prevent them from attacking you. Only in this way can you get real Safety.

Besides, it's not that easy for them to defeat you now, is it? "

Kaido is trying to fool Quinn with his own logic, but Quinn always feels that something is wrong. Kaido's words also have some truth, but they don't fit his own situation.

"I also object! Father, if you want to fight, can you just go by yourself?! You look the same with me or without me!"

"As long as you show enough strength in this war, I won't care about you in the future, and it doesn't matter what you do during the time you go out to play."

For this daughter, Kaido changed his rhetoric, and he directly started drawing cakes out of thin air.

"I didn't go out to play! I was helping my adoptive father find something. What do you mean I don't care?"

"It means that I won't ask you to practice in the future. You are a complete graduate from me. As long as you perform well enough, I will follow this promise."

Kaido's standard is strong enough, but he didn't say how strong is strong enough, and reserves the final interpretation of this sentence.

It's just that Yamato didn't notice this loophole, and was attracted by Kaido's "generous conditions", and immediately gave up his previous remarks, and even started his own warm-up.

"I see! When are you leaving!"

Yamato showed an extremely positive look, but she had other ideas in her heart.

It's not difficult to fool her, but this person can't be Kaido. She didn't believe Kaido's words. Although she didn't notice Kaido's final interpretation right, she had another idea.

【Anyway, my father was there to fight. If he hits the head, he definitely won't think of me. I just need to find a place to paddle and fish. Idiot dad, don't try to fool me here. 】

【Why does my daughter feel that something is missing in her brain? Who is it inherited from?】
nOvεLusb.COм

The eyes of Kaido and Yamato intertwined, and both of them showed strange smiles. The war has not yet started, but some people have already started their own intrigue.

"That's the deal. As for the defense of Wano Country, you can arrange it. You are better than me at this kind of thing."

Kaido finally left the defensive arrangements to Arceus, who is really a bit hard to think about who will defend him.

"Zeraola, Setsuna, the Wano country is handed over to you husband and wife, please call the elephant owner back, with him and the Gyarados outside, no amount of fleets will be able to approach here.

Also let Perona and Lamy assist the guards. You all know their abilities, even if they slip through the net, it doesn't matter. "

"As ordered."

The husband and wife plus the elephant owner is equivalent to the entire fur tribe being left in the Wano country, which can be regarded as the special work of the "allies".

"Ulti, Peggy Wan, you two, come with me."

"yes"

"Mandelfish, the guarding of the outer territory will be entrusted to you, and the remaining single-digit numbers will also be dispatched by you, Shaina."

"Lend Shaina to me, the Navy Headquarters won't be inconvenient to fly."

Among the major cadres, Shaina is the only one left who has not yet arranged. As for the Koga Ninja, he has never participated in foreign missions. He has always been responsible for the security of the Flower City, and this time is naturally no exception.

Kaido's default candidates are Jhin, Quinn, Yamato, and his eight-headed dragon. This is the planned team to join in the fun. Seeing that Arceus has no plans for Shaina, he is also eyeing this high-level combat power.

After all, there are not many characters suitable for him to go to Marlin Vandro to make troubles. Only those who can fly can be flexible, and they can be strong enough to protect themselves. Therefore, except for the big cadres, Kaido has no plans to take anyone else.

"Shaina, do you have any comments?"

"No, Lord Holy Beast, if you don't need me there, I can go anywhere."

"Hey, that's it, there are still nine days before the war, from now on, everyone is ready for battle!"

Chapter 963: False wise generals and real wise generals

"After the personnel arrangement is completed, the next step is the combat meeting. The content is not complicated. According to the information from the Shichibukai, the war is less than nine days away.

Whitebeard should have already started to move, otherwise they would not be able to reach Marlin Vandro before execution. We don't need to be in such a hurry, Jack, you set off now and gather troops in the territory.

Mandelfish, you should also take people back to the territory to arrange defense.

Olga, you are now on standby on Ghost Island, and you will leave after we set off. "

War is not a battle. Kaido goes to the top of the war to join in the fun and simply satisfy his own selfish desires. There is no need to consider the cost.

He leads all elite cadres, even if they don't take a boat, they can fly directly from the sky.

But Olga and Jack are different. It is a battle for territory. In order to obtain the highest profit from the war, timing is also an important choice.

Kaido needs to estimate a specific time, preferably when Whitebeard and the Navy Headquarters are at war, and the battle takes place simultaneously here, so that neither the Navy nor Whitebeard will have extra power to intervene here.

It is much faster to get to Whitebeard's territory from here than to the Navy headquarters, so the beasts still have plenty of time.

"Yes, leave it to me Captain Kaido."

"No, you haven't understood what I mean yet. When the time comes, use your phantom to disguise the fleet, making them think that Lao Tzu is leading the team, not you. Your current phantom of ability is enough to cover the entire Wano country, right?"

"It's okay if you don't fight, but you might reveal something when you fight."

"That's enough. Before I greet them, I don't want to reveal my position. This is a big surprise!"

The ones who went out to fight the territory were the ones with the lower numbers, and the ones at the front were left to defend the homeland, because Kaido didn't trust other forces, and hiding his whereabouts was also for this purpose.

He went to grab Whitebeard's territory, and others could also grab his territory. This is why those who were numbered at the back went out to fight, and those who were numbered at the front stayed at home instead.

It is also his strategic goal to let Olga disguise herself with phantoms. Only in this way can others be wary and send false information to them.

"I understand Captain Kaido, I will arrange it."

"Hey hehehe, basically there is nothing else to do, go to rest, recharge your batteries, and you will not have a chance to rest in the next time!"

The meeting of beasts came to an end, and Jack, who had a task, started his own actions. The whole beast was like a war machine, quietly moving in the shadows.

Medicines, food, weapons and ammunition, past stocks have played their own role, and factories around the world have also started to work in three shifts 24 hours a day, and more and more materials needed for war are continuously distributed to everyone.

The cadres also have their own actions. Quinn is frantically loading some weapons that may be used, and is still taking time to teach Perona and Lamy to familiarize themselves with the defense facilities inside Wano Country.

He was right before, these things were arranged by him himself, far more familiar than others.

The Elephant Lord also began to return to Wano Country, and the Musketeer Team of the Fur Tribe, led by Setsuna and Zeraora, temporarily entered the battle state.

Mandelfish, who was going out, had also joined Tiger, and formed a joint defense line at sea with Nereus and Manaphil.

Drake also calmed down after the farewell banquet, preparing for the upcoming battle, and it was Jhin and Shaina who were relatively relaxed.

On the cliff outside Wano Country, Jhin and Shaina are discussing the topic of war.

"I heard that you made a mistake when chasing that guy?"

When Jhin was chasing and killing Blackbeard, Shaina followed Arceus out and did not return, but only read some news from the newspaper.

"Ah, I underestimated that guy's physique. That guy is also an alien. Normal humans would never have that kind of vitality. Coupled with the group of navies that got in the way, that guy escaped."

Picking up the special bullet case Jhin reinstalled the special Hailou stone spike on the handle of his knife and began to wipe his blade.

"But this time he won't be allowed to run away. The Navy Headquarters is calling for it. Since this guy has won the position of Shichibukai, he must accept the Navy's call."

"Shall I help you? You know, I have this."

The red chain was thrown from Shaina's hand, and there was a bang in the sky.

"No need, I will take that guy's life myself."

"Really, then you can do it yourself, I will clean up the guys who are in the way for you."

In addition to Kaido's great interest in war, his subordinates also have a bunch of actors in a sense.

Jhin has his own goals, Quinn has also thought of life-saving measures, Yamato is thinking about how to fish, and Shaina is just following Arceus' orders, but it doesn't matter to Kaido, his only goal is to find own fun.

On the other side, Zeraora also held a gathering of Pokémon.

Not only Diancie and Xie Mi, but the leaders of the Pokémon clan in Wano had already formed a circle.

"Brothers and sisters, my lord, they are about to leave. The safety of this place depends on us. I don't know if there will be any strange people coming here, but it is our mission to guard this place."

"Ho! Baa! Loto! Paddo! Gas!"

The voices of Pokémon sounded one after another, and each of them showed full confidence.

"Don't worry, although that guy Quinn is a bit useless, but the device he set up is quite useful, and someone who comes in will definitely be found."

"Be careful, there is no big mistake. There may be some unexpected things in an organization that has existed for eight hundred years."

On the sea, the most eye-catching thing is not the actions of the beasts, but the navy published the news of the public execution in the newspaper, which has become a fact that everyone knows.

The Whitebeard Pirates, the Beasts Pirates, the Big Mom Pirates, the Red Hair Pirates, and the big pirates in the new world have their own moves. Except for Whitebeard who will definitely come to the headquarters, what are the remaining three going to do? No one knows at all.

The execution date is approaching, and the expedition team has already left their station and is heading towards the predetermined location, but Kaido specially found Arceus before leaving for the battlefield.

"Do you want a resurrection grass?"

"Yeah, from the moment he set off, he had the will to die, I know this very well, no matter how I say it, I have been on the same boat with him.

He is a rare opponent, no matter how well his body is recuperated, he will be old after all.

It would be a pity to leave the stage like this, I still want to experience the power of that guy at its peak, this is the last chance, ehhhhhhh"

Chapter 964: Only death is equal

"I should have told you back then that this thing is called resurrection, but it is essentially healing and physical recovery. If you really die, it is useless."

"I remember, and you also said that this thing can only be used by the Pokémon or Pokémon you created without modification.

Anyway, it can transform you. How about a thorough transformation, such as temporarily rejuvenating that old guy? "

In battle, the most unsolvable ability of Arceus is immunity, but his essential ability is still creation, and making changes in creation is the essence of his ability.

"You can, but what are you doing it for?"

"Why? I can't explain clearly. I hate that guy's character, but he is one of the few opponents I like. It's a pity that this kind of guy died in the hands of others.

Although he is only fifteen years older than me, he still missed his strongest stage. It would be a pity not to go through it again. "

Kaido rarely mentions his career on the Rocks ship. That period of life was not bad according to his personality. He lived in the fight and enjoyed the fun that belonged to him. elder sister.

For Kaido, that was also a good memory.

"And after this war is over, the pattern of the sea will change again. After the guy with the white beard dies, we may become a thorn in the side of the world government.

Tezolo will also have a headache. At this time, he must be given a way to relieve it. "

"You want to lure them with Whitebeard?"

"That's what it means, people are born with unequal wealth, status, and rights, which leads to those wastes being able to occupy the throne from birth.

But no matter how strong a guy is, death is equal to them.

Those cowardly guys have power, but they don't have the ability to match it. They who have enjoyed enough prosperity are more afraid of death than ordinary people, especially those old guys who are dying. They will not let go of any opportunity. "

This can be seen from the financial statements submitted by Tezolo. The most health medicines are given to Tianlong people, kings of some alliance countries, and wealthy businessmen from all over the world.

They are willing to spend this money to prolong their lives as much as possible.

"The fruit of the operation can be sold for a sky-high price of five billion, isn't it because of the rumored immortality operation?

This war cannot be hidden from the world. You said that if those guys saw signs of regaining youth, or even achieving immortality, what would they do? "

Using the ability of Arceus to temporarily rejuvenate Whitebeard, on the one hand, he can realize his desire to fight, and on the other hand, he can pave the way for the future.

When a company really comes up with a means of immortality, even if the company's background is problematic, the goal of the top management is no longer to destroy them immediately, but to get the result first. No matter what the process is, they need this result.

Kaido's going to Dingshang is not for an outing. Going like this means tearing faces with the world government. The core members of Beast Fruit have been transferred by Kuailong to prevent possible bad situations.

With the efficacy of the resurrection grass, in the best case, they can reach a new agreement.

Even if the situation is not ideal, the consequences will not be worse. At worst, it will become a special guerrilla organization like Morgans' World Economic News Agency.

Kaido thinks this idea is reasonable, and the worst case scenario is that Quinn continues to be unlucky.

"Look, if we prepare some new tricks for Whitebeard, we won't suffer anyway, so why not do it?"

"You go and prepare it and bring it to you together when the time comes, pay attention to me, don't let me put Shaina and the others in."

"Hey, don't worry, I can't die. I didn't seek death, and Yamato needs to go through something cruel. After so many years, she is still so naive. This war should make her understand a lot."

The day of the war on the top is getting closer and closer, the elephant master has arrived at the predetermined position, and the troops in the beast territory have also assembled and began to gather towards the predetermined position.

As Kaido took people flying away, all the beasts started their own actions.

Naturally, such a big movement cannot be hidden from others. The navy and the world government just expressed their vigilance, but the BIG MOM pirates also moved. She did not intend to let the opportunity of Whitebeard leave, and wanted to take the opportunity Take a share.

Time goes by, and the scheduled time for the top war is getting closer and closer, and all over the world are also paying attention to the news about the war.

In the South China Sea, the streets seemed to be panicked.

"There are only a few hours left, will Whitebeard really come?"

"Who knows, but will it really come? Even Whitebeard is already quite old."

"is that so?"

"After all, he is a survivor before the era of the great pirates, and his name has not been seen in the big news for several years."

"What are you talking about? It is because he is an opponent that cannot be ignored that the Navy headquarters will summon all the elites. I think he will definitely go."

An older old man next to him gave his own judgment. According to his age, he is also an old guy of the same era as Whitebeard, and he knows more about him.

"What if he does show up?"

"Who knows."

In the East China Sea, the sheep are driven by the herdsmen to eat the grass, and the people here seem more relaxed.

"He was already a pirate a long time ago, how could the Navy headquarters lose?"

"That's right, no matter what kind of pirate it is, it's impossible to break into Marlin Fandor." NoVeluSb.cOm

"That's not necessarily the case. More than 20 years ago, a pirate named Golden Lion invaded Marin Fando. That time, he destroyed half of the Navy headquarters. This time, I'm afraid it will be even worse. No matter who wins or loses, there will be huge casualties.

It would be best if White Beard didn't show up, I really hope the execution can go smoothly."

is also an older person, he is not optimistic about the outcome of the war.

Beihai, heavy snow fell, and several people in front of the store were arguing.

"Boss! Bring the wine!"

"Go away, go away! Who is in the mood to open a business in this kind of day, if the world is still there tomorrow, I will open it naturally!"

"Then at least sell us the wine! In such a cold day, if there is no wine, I feel like I will be put on the execution platform."

Xihai, in the nameless tavern.

"Don't treat him like an ordinary old man! About a year ago, we just saw him sitting there, and we gave up hope of surviving"

A pirate who was missing a leg told about his experience. He still had lingering fears about Whitebeard, and the hand holding the wine glass was shaking uncontrollably.

"Even if it's the Navy headquarters, the old guy won't be afraid."

Chapter 965: Indiscriminate attack from Kaido

During the first half of the great voyage, the residents here were also extremely nervous, praying, and looking forward to it, but no matter what their mood, they hoped that the navy would be the ultimate winner. For them, Whitebeard's death was a sign of peace.

Under the propaganda of the world government, they firmly believe that pirates like Whitebeard are the source of turmoil. Even in nursery rhymes, Whitebeard is just a ghost and an unstable factor in the sea.

At the same time, the Chambord Islands have gathered a large number of reporters, waiting for first-hand information on the war.

But the most nervous ones are the marine soldiers of Marlin Vandro. This is the first time since the era of great pirates that the Navy Headquarters has truly fought an all-out war against the emperor of the sea.

The civilians in Marin Fando have been evacuated, and the square is full of densely packed naval soldiers, and the order is somewhat noisy. Even if they are all elites from all over the world, they will inevitably feel nervous.

As the three generals appeared in front of the execution platform, the navy soldiers felt a little more confident, and only the Qibukai and the others didn't know what they were thinking.

Bear has completed all transformations at this time and has become a pacifist without emotion. Standing in place as a war robot, Hawkeye is waiting for the appearance of the strongest man in the world, and the most boring one is Hancock.

"Ah, I don't know what Sister Olga is doing, these men make people feel disgusting."

"She Ji, you have spoken your mind."

"Shut up, of course I know, but I don't care about this kind of thing, Jinping, don't think that you can talk to me casually because of that kind of relationship. Although it's not that disgusting, you are also a man."

At this time, Hancock's position was on the edge, because she didn't want to get too close to those men. Because of the New Fishman Island, Jinbe had dealt with Hancock a few times, which made her slightly acceptable.

Seeing that Hancock didn't intend to talk to him, Jinbe sat down cross-legged on his own. He was just confused about this war, so he just wanted to talk to someone.

"哈哈哈哈, shouldn't the smell of gunpowder be so strong, everyone should have their own purpose to come here, right?"

"Hehehe, of course, there must be many powerful shadows born here, let's kill more powerful people, the corpses of the dead, the shadows of the living, these are what I want."

Doflamingo hinted at something, but Moria, who had been hiding in the devil's triangle sea area as an otaku, didn't understand the meaning of his words, and instead took the initiative to strike up a conversation.

Doflamingo didn't care, and continued talking on his own.

"Speaking of which, what about the guy who replaced that crocodile bastard? Why are there only six of us for the compulsory recruitment?"

There are only a few hours left before the departure time, but Blackbeard is still missing. Doflamingo remembered that he had seen him in Marie Gioia before. If Blackbeard escaped, he would be really disappointed.

Doflamingo's small talk failed to continue, and Sengoku's speech quickly interrupted their whispering. With the announcement that Ace's father was Roger, the sea ushered in the first wave of shock.

On the eve of the execution, Whitebeard's fleet successfully entered the bay. Before that, the Navy had already lost the movement of the Whitebeard Pirates. As long as the surveillance ship was sent out, it would sink immediately, so Sengoku could only choose to wait.

The war came as scheduled, and all plans were still proceeding according to the plan of the Warring States Period. The biggest change was the appearance of Little Oz.

This time he came to rescue Ace because he obeyed Whitebeard's order to rescue his good brother. As a descendant of Yunguo Oz, little Oz has a simple and honest personality, and he got along very happily with Ace. But not as desperate as the original world line.

Ace didn't go to Wano Country, and he didn't learn how to weave bamboo hats from the village of weaving hats. Without the relationship of gifting hats, the intimacy between the two parties was slightly worse.

But it is a bigger trouble for the navy. Little Ozzy, who does not listen to Whitebeard's dissuasion after getting angry, plays a completely different role from Little Ozzy, who obeys Whitebeard's arrangement and moves forward in an orderly manner.

With the beginning of the war, the behavior of the actors gradually manifested itself. So far, the six Shichibukai have swung a knife in total, but there is no other performance.

A large number of pirates successfully broke into the bay under the cover of Ozzy, and the navy's plan began to start. The iron wall built by the navy some time ago was successfully raised. Without Ozzy's body, the encirclement net that had a gap in it was completely completed. .

In contrast, Skuyad, who was fooled by Akainu, also failed to stab Whitebeard in the back. His relatively healthy body allowed Whitebeard to block the knife with arrogance.

"Even if you are a stupid son, I still love you, Scuyad. Whether you believe in me or the navy, you can decide for yourself."

Whitebeard didn't vent his anger on Scuyad. Judging from the current situation, the Whitebeard Pirates were unable to break through the navy's surrounding wall. Whitebeard was planning to do it himself, but he just jumped off the Moby Dick. But there was a change.

A streak of light streaked across the sky, directly crossing the surrounding wall of the navy, leaving a deep ravine in the square, and a human-shaped pit appeared at the end.

If this streamer is not eye-catching enough, then the giant dragon hovering in the clouds is completely different.

The flame cloud entangled his limbs. At this time, Kaido had left the body of the eight-headed dragon, grabbed the flame cloud and poked his head out of the clouds, looking fanatically at the battlefield below.

"Hey, Newgate, you still have that virtue, even a stupid subordinate, you can tolerate it to this extent."

"Kaido."

The sudden appearance of Kaido in the sky seems to have disturbed everyone's thinking. Even the fighting battlefield had a short pause. Both Whitebeard and Sengoku were very vigilant about this figure in the sky.

No one knows what this lunatic is doing.

"Hey! It's really a luxurious war, then let me fuel you again! Heat!"

Blazing flames spewed out from Kaido's mouth. With the swing of his dragon head, the flames moved straight from the ice to the direction of the execution platform. All of them were included in the attack range by Kaido.

And the final landing point of his attack was the deep pit that was smashed by the UFO before.

The indiscriminate attack made everyone present think he was a lunatic, but at the next moment, they found that they still underestimated Kaido.

"Father bastard! Is this the handsome appearance you said! Is there someone you arrange like this! Cough, cough, cough"

With the sound of coughing, Yamato crawled out of the deep pit, ignoring the navy soldiers around him, and pointed angrily at Kaido in the sky

Chapter 966: Qiwuhai's fake match group

"The surrounding wall was breached by pirates!"

The soldiers inside the surrounding walls were the first to come to their senses. Looking at the overall situation is not what soldiers like them should do. The enemy in front of them is what they should face.

Before, the Whitebeard Pirates were blocked outside the encirclement wall. The navy inside hadn't faced the war directly, but their hearts were always tense. Yamato, who was thrown over by Kaido, broke their tense nerves directly.

As the elite of the navy drawn from all over the world, they did not panic, but quickly organized and launched their own attack towards Yamato's position.

"Attack! Don't let the pirates reach the execution platform!"

Yamato, who had just climbed out of the pit, was instantly covered by firepower, which made her not in a good mood even more irritable.

Since Robin told her that it would be better if she didn't speak when she appeared in Alabasta, Yamato has been studying the appearance posture.

Even with Kaido's picture, Yamato is ready to fish, so she needs to find a handsome but unobtrusive appearance, only in this way can she achieve her goal later.

However, Kaido predicted Yamato's thoughts. In order to prevent Yamato from taking advantage of the fish, he lied to her again, telling Yamato that he had a very classic combination on the stage, and he just needed Yamato's cooperation.

Under Kaido's flickering, Yamato finally fell for it. If she doesn't cooperate, Kaido can't throw her out lightly.

Yamato thought that this might be a trap, but after all, she underestimated Kaido. She thought that no matter how abnormal Kaido was, he would not do outrageous behavior on the battlefield, which eventually led to this somewhat tragic situation.

And this is exactly Kaido's purpose, he didn't believe it, and directly threw Yamato into the crowd, and she still had a chance to fish.

"Get out of here!"

Ajian smashed to the ground, and the pothole she had smashed completely collapsed, and the shock wave also knocked the approaching navy to the ground.

Even elites from all over the world, Yamato's opponents at this stage are beyond their ability to deal with. The generals with higher ranks have not yet made a move, but the Shichibukai, who have been fishing for fish, have moved instead.

"Get out of the way! The arrow of the captive!"

Fingers touched his lips lightly, a pink heart-shaped bubble appeared in Hancock's hand, and the other hand pulled lightly, the pink bubbles turned into a rain of arrows and shot towards Yamato.

"Shichibukai has made a move!"

"Finally moved? Those * are really tolerable."

The Navy is somewhat dissatisfied with the behavior of the Shichibukai who have been fishing, but there is nothing they can do. Now the Whitebeard Pirates are trapped on the ice and have not broken through to the square. Shichibukai chooses to wait and see, planning to deal with stronger forces people are also reasonable.

But after the attack, they discovered the problem.

Hancock who moves is better than not moving.

People who were hit by her captive arrow turned into stone statues, but this is the hinterland of the navy, and the airflow generated by Yamato's swing bounced off Hancock's arrow, which resulted in all the people being petrified were the navy.

"One Piece! What are you doing?!"

"The concubine is fighting according to your requirements. The enemy is too strong to resolve the moves of the concubine. What does it have to do with the concubine?"

"you!"

"I believe you can forgive my accidental injury, right?"

Rubbing her hair with one hand, Hancock didn't even look back, and the navy who questioned her had turned into a dog-licking expression, and began to respond to Hancock's rhetoric.

Hancock also came to Yamato after this and started his own performance. It seemed that he was fighting fiercely, but it was useless at all.

"Long time no see, Yamato."

"Ah, it's Hancock, your attack is still so interesting."

"Is it interesting? Is sister Olga here?"

"No, she went to another place, my * father said that sister Olga's ability is more suitable for other places."

"That's a pity, do you want to continue? I don't want to work for those navy."

The seven Shichibukai and Blackbeard are now looking for suitable subordinates in the city of advancement. Among the remaining six, only Xiong is fighting with all his strength because he has no self-awareness. The rest of them are all looking for suitable men. Where the fish is, there is no one who fights hard.

The navy can summon Qibuhai, but it can't force them to fight to the death. The performance of Qibuhai in the top war may have some influence on the abolition of the Qibuhai system two years later.

Seraphs who obey orders are much easier to use than these careerists,

"Well, let's hit it twice first, it's too long and the old man is not easy to fool."

Yamato wants to delay time, as long as Kaido fights with others, then she can fish freely.

The aftermath caused by the two made the surrounding navy unable to approach, and had to disperse to the surroundings, not knowing that the two inside were playing a match-fixing match.

"Step aside."

The navy soldiers were watching warily at the place where Yamato and Hancock were fighting, but Jinbe suddenly walked over and stretched out his hand to push away the navy in front.

"Seaman Jinpei."

"That woman is a pirate of beasts, it's hard to deal with, the old man will help."

【Brother Tiger, I understand what you mean by playing by ear】

Looking for the most honest one among the six Shichibukai present, Najinbe can even be compared with the bear who has turned into a robot. He is so honest that he was just a decoration.

Kaido, who attacked indiscriminately, and Hancock, who beat allies hard, gave him new ideas.

It is not acceptable to stand still, but accidental injury is inevitable during the attack.

Murloc Karate already has a lot of group injury skills. In order to help the navy deal with the big men of beasts, it is reasonable for him to accidentally injure a few marines. This will more or less reduce the pressure on the white bearded man.

"Murloc Karate · Tang Caowa Righteous Fist!"

The blue fat man jumped up high, and then punched the ground. This punch can show how deep Jinbe's knowledge of murloc karate is. The two people in the middle of the punch were unharmed, but the surrounding navy was once again hit by the shock wave. shake off.

The encirclement net closest to here was also affected, and there was a vacuum period in the rear ammunition supply, allowing the pirates outside to find a suitable breakthrough again.

The fake match between the two Shichibukai and Yamato was very enjoyable, but at the same time there was another Shichibukai who moved.

Moria left the original position and moved towards where Kaido was. Along the way, whether it was a navy or a pirate, he caught and cut off the shadows.

In these years, Kaido has been his nightmare. He has been awakened by the nightmare countless times, and he has imagined what it would be like to see Kaido again countless times.

But it wasn't until Kaido appeared in front of him again that he realized that his emotion towards Kaido was not fear, but anger.

Chapter 967: Newgate, you're still old

"Beast Kaido. What is this guy going to do?!"

On the execution platform, a few drops of cold sweat flowed from Sengoku's forehead. Kaido's appearance was reasonable, but unexpected. From Sengoku's point of view, Kaido and Whitebeard had no friendship, and there was no reason to rescue Whitebeard.

With this time, it would be more affordable for him to occupy Whitebeard's territory.

Except for Yamato who had already rushed into the interior, Kaido did not carry out a follow-up attack after the heat breath. He seemed to be looking at something, and finally turned into a human-beast form and landed on the Moby Dick.

"Damn, did they really reach a pirate alliance? That red hair"

According to Wulaoxing's speculation, it was the red hair who secretly led a powerful pirate alliance. If all this is true, then the biggest problem is the red hair who still hasn't shown up.

"Karp, do you understand what I mean?"

Warring States didn't understand why the five old stars insisted on Garp appearing on this battlefield. Although Garp's status is a naval hero, his absence would affect morale, but Garp's presence here caused a lot of trouble.

This caused him to watch that Garp was going to execute his adopted grandson, and it would be troublesome if Garp really did something irrational.

The admiral of the navy was dragged down by the naval hero, and he had to take into account the friendship of his colleagues when he made a move. No one would believe this.

It would not affect anything if there is no Kaido, but the appearance of Kaido has broken some balance, not to mention that he has not come alone.

"Kaido, as well as his daughter and subordinates, the total rewards for these people has exceeded 10 billion"

"I know, I won't watch it when I get to that point."

Garp still has no intention of standing up. If these people are also here to save Ace, he will probably laugh out loud in his heart. Unless the incident is further expanded, he cannot devote himself to this war with all his strength.

The distance is far away, and Sengoku can't see clearly what is going on in Yamato's battlefield. There is a lot of movement there, and he can't be sure whether they are fake match for a while.

However, Kaido's next actions confuse everyone again. In the sky, he turned into a human and beast form, surrounded by thunder on Bazhai, and his domineering arrogance was like a thunderbolt in the sky.

"Long time no see, Newgate, let me see if your skills have regressed! David Lei Ming gossips!"

Kaido smashed the stick with both hands to the white beard below, without tempting, without keeping his hand, the first shot was a full blow from Kaido, but he did not use any buff skills, simply relying on his current physique.

"Get out of the way, Skuyard."

Looking at Kaido above, Whitebeard kicked Skuyad away behind him. It wasn't that he held a grudge, but that Skuyad couldn't bear the aftermath of this battle.

If left alone, Skuyad may even be directly shocked to death by the aftermath of the collision between Whitebeard and Kaido. Although the fight has not yet been fought, the power of the strong overlord in Kaido's hands has already been revealed.

The vibrating power wrapped Cong Yunqie's blade, and the domineering power also extended from Whitebeard's body to the blade. The domineering collision had already begun before the weapons collided.

"Don't come in your way, Kaido!"

Boom!

Moby Dick's hull shook violently, and the sea surface that had been frozen by Kuzan before was cracked by the huge impact. Although Whitebeard stabilized his figure, he still took a few big steps back.

"Newgate, you have regressed. The you a few years ago are enough to take this blow."

"I'm not in the mood to fight with you now, kid Kaido. Although we don't have a good relationship, you and I are both pirates. The navy should be the enemy, right?"

Whitebeard doesn't want to fight the current Kaido at all. If he really fights with Kaido, he can't be distracted to rescue Ace. Without him, the pirates alone will definitely not be able to rescue Ace.

"Ever been on a ship without teaming up against the Navy first?"

Whitebeard will not let go of the combat power that can be drawn. The previous heat has caused a lot of casualties to both sides, but if Kaido is really willing to join forces with him, the success rate of the battle will be greatly improved.

"I'm not interested. I'm just here to participate in this battle. Whether it's you or the navy, I just want to find a strong enough enemy. There are not many people in this sea that I can look up to."

A few wind blades flew out of Kaido's hands, and Kaido also followed and hit Whitebeard. The fish fruit and blue dragon form has the power to fly, but Whitebeard doesn't. to the ground.

The battle was unavoidable, but Whitebeard didn't mean to fight head-on. Instead, he rushed towards the place where there were many navies, using Kaido's power to bring a lot of trouble to the navies.

The navy does not have senior generals to stop all of this. The impact of their aftermath is limited after all. If Kaido and Whitebeard really fight internally here, that will be the best result. When they both lose, the navy will kill them in one fell swoop. Chance to win.

"Edward Newgate! What are you doing? Is this how you approach combat!"

"Kaido, I'm old, I've never had any interest in titles like the strongest, just take it if you want it.

But I don't have time to waste with you now, I'm going to rescue my son! "

"Hey, Newgate, you are still so naive, always recruiting such a weak son."

"what are you saying?!"

"Isn't this true? Your son is too weak, so he fell into the hands of the navy.

Look at Lao Tzu's daughter, even if she was thrown into the middle of the navy, she is still alive and kicking. If your son is this strong, you don't have to think about so many things. "

Kaido's words were mixed with a show-off emotion, and Whitebeard couldn't find a reason to refute.

"But this is you, Newgate, the strongest man in the world still lost to time.

You are so uninteresting, since you care so much about your son, how about I give you a chance? "

"What do you want to do?"

"Fight with Lao Tzu with all your strength, come to a battle where you will die or I will die! This is the headquarters of the Navy, no matter what happens, it will not affect our territory."

"I don't have the time, nor the mood."

"That's right, what you lack is time, but I can give you the strength from youth. This is your last stage. You don't want the world to see what a young white beard looks like?"

Kaido took out a wooden box from his coat, and threw it at the white beard in front of him.

"Eat it, and you will experience the power of youth. After that, you can do your own thing, and then fight with Lao Tzu with all your strength. Newgate, you still have the courage. If you don't even dare to do this, then Even if I saw the wrong person!"

Chapter 968: Young white beard, unexpected tsunami

Whitebeard held the thrown wooden box firmly in his hand, and at the moment of contact, the outer box shattered under the influence of the vibration, leaving only a green blade of grass.

"This is... what you used to restore your strength?"

"I have a good memory, but this is specially made, Newgate, don't say I don't have nostalgia.

I still remember what it was like when you invited me on Lockes' boat. Since then, I have wanted to have a thorough fight with you, but the fifteen-year-old gap has too much influence.

Go save your weak son, and then fight with me to your heart's content. Compared to dying of old age in a hospital bed, this kind of ending is suitable for you! "

"Are you really a lunatic, do you want to be Lao Tzu's gravedigger? Do you think the Navy will watch you and me fight here?"

"No, although I hate others intervening in my battle, it is not unacceptable to have a few more powerful enemies."

"Gu la la la, you will regret it, I have a white beard!"

Whitebeard threw the blade of grass into his mouth, and didn't care whether it would have a strong side effect. Marin Vanduo was the place he chose to retreat. As long as he could save his son, he didn't care about the aftermath.

And Kaido will not degenerate to the point of poisoning himself.

Bang. Bang.

As the blade of grass disappeared into Whitebeard's mouth, his heart began to beat vigorously, the blood in his body began to flow faster, and bursts of white steam emitted from his body.

The dry skin regained its elasticity, the wrinkles on the face were gradually smoothed out, and the old pupils also showed the unique brilliance of young people.novelusb.COM

"Gu la la la, this feeling really hasn't been seen for a long time! Little ones, get out of the way, don't get close to my straight range!"

"Dad, he has become younger?!"

"This, is this still Dad?!"

"That's right, it's Dad, that's what Dad looked like when I first joined the Pirates!"

Whitebeard's return to youth boosted the morale of the Whitebeard Pirates, but everyone chose to follow Whitebeard's arrangement and evacuate to both sides. They all knew how terrifying Whitebeard was at full strength.

Marco, who was paddling with the yellow ape in the sky, was kicked onto the ice by the yellow ape, and the self-healing inflammation began to heal his injured body.

The changes in Whitebeard's body were unexpected by everyone. Even the yellow monkey forgot that he was paddling, otherwise it would not have triggered the passive ability of Marko.

Rubbing his eyes, Marco couldn't believe what happened. This is no longer something that can be summed up by medical miracles.

"This is a miracle."

"Damn, what the * is going on?!"

Sengoku on the execution platform didn't know how to evaluate what happened at this time. The emotion called reason in his mind had completely collapsed. From the moment Kaido appeared, he was speculating on the possible ending, but there was no one. Think so.

Reviving the youthful Whitebeard, the damage to the Navy Headquarters will be devastating. Only the old people who have experienced that era will know how terrifying the young Whitebeard is.

"Asshole! Why is the live broadcast still going on! Cut it off immediately!"

At this time, the Warring States found the live broadcast that was still going on. Because the navy's actions were going well before, in order to show that the navy has enough power to protect the sea, the live broadcast was not cut off immediately.

But with the young white beard reappearing, Sengoku knew very well that the next battle would become more brutal, and immediately ordered the navy to cut off the live broadcast signal of Marin Fando.

But he was still one step too late, and the white beard who had regained his youth had already become the latest headline in the newspaper.

"ㄟㄟㄟㄟㄟ, youth, what a terrifying power! Monsters from all over the world will be crazy about it, even those guys who hide in the dark corners and control the world can't resist this temptation. !"

Doflamingo's expression also became agitated. The power of youth is something he also wants to obtain. At first, his goal was the immortal surgery brought by the fruit of the operation, but now he seems to have a new goal.

"ㄟㄟㄟㄟㄟ, let's fight, this war has become more interesting!"

Clenching his hands tightly, countless parasitic threads were released from his hands, and the surrounding navy and pirates were like puppets, fighting to the death under Doflamingo's control.

At the same time, a cigar suddenly fell on the ice. On this battlefield full of gunfire, no one paid attention to the cigar, but looking up along the trajectory of the cigar, one could see Kui with a pale face. because.

I could vaguely see some soul-like things floating behind Quinn, and it took a long time to re-enter Quinn's body.

"What do you think I'm going to escape now?"

Quin's heart ached. He couldn't accept what happened before him. If the news of Whitebeard's rejuvenation spread, he would really have a hard time living.

"Master Sacred Beast and Mr. Kaido are not in Wano Country, so it's useless for you to escape back."

"Yeah, Shaina is right, and don't think that you are so omnipotent, most of the time you are just a waste of time."

"Heh, for the first time in so many years, I wish I was really a waste, you two don't understand anything at all."

Regarding Shaina and Jhin's words, Quinn is not even interested in rebutting. He is thinking about a very serious question, should all the security facilities in Wano Country be replaced with lethal weapons? enough.

"But speaking of it, fortunately, I used someone else's name when I was suffering from platinum lead disease, otherwise it would be really troublesome."

Reminiscent of when the problem of platinum lead disease was disclosed before, Beast Fruit fabricated a huge medical team, which is one of the few good news for Quinn.

"Where did that guy with the black beard go? Couldn't this guy just run away?"

Shaina and Jhin didn't care about Quinn's future. Instead, they searched for Blackbeard on the battlefield, but they never found anything.

While the two of them were still looking for the trace of Blackbeard, Marin Fando experienced another huge change.

The muscles of Whitebeard's arms bulged, and he was about to break through the surrounding wall of the navy in front of him, but he found a ferocious friction sound from under the ice, and the inner bay frozen by the green pheasant also began to shake, as if something was about to break through. Like rushing out from under the ice.

Near the Gate of Justice, a huge tsunami appeared in everyone's field of vision. The scale of the tsunami was even more terrifying than the tsunami that Whitebeard had used before.

Chapter 969: Broken fishing practice

"What... what's going on?! Did dad show his power again?"

"No, it's not Dad, Dad didn't do anything just now! Is it a natural disaster?"

The tsunami caused by the sea earthquake at the beginning of Whitebeard's opening was enough to submerge the entire Marin Vandro. It was Kuzan's ability to eliminate the impact of the tsunami.

After that, Whitebeard did not launch a similar attack. On the one hand, Kuzan's ability is on the one hand, and on the other hand, Whitebeard's subordinates have already started landing operations. members would also suffer heavy casualties.

This is also the disadvantage of the shaking fruit. Although it has unparalleled destructive power, the aftermath of the shaking will also have a great impact on friendly forces.

Although the tsunami created by Whitebeard has devastating power, it is nothing compared to this new round of tsunami.

Jhin and Shaina flew to the sky at the same time, intending to avoid the impact of the tsunami.

"This direction. Master Holy Beast is angry?"

"It's not like, if the Holy Beast is really angry, the impact will not be so ordinary, it is more like aftermath and according to the meaning of the Holy Beast, he will return to Wano Country after getting his own things, and he has no intention at all. Meddle in Kaido-san's affairs."

Neither of them was affected by the wave. The tsunami looked terrifying, but it couldn't threaten them at all. Kaido specially selected large cadres who can fly to deal with similar emergencies. As long as they can fly on the wave, no matter how big it is No tsunami can threaten them.

Although there are many people below, they are either navy or white bearded people. They will not worry about these non-friendly units.

Both Jhin and Shaina can be regarded as people who have walked out of the sea of corpses and blood. No matter how many irrelevant people die, their emotions will not fluctuate. They want to know what happened to Arceus. what.

"That's right, the power of the holy beast is far more than that. Wait a minute. Is there something on the waves?"

Jhin knows very well that Arceus has the power to destroy the country with a single wave. If he was really angry, he would not use an inefficient attack like a tsunami.

He wanted to see how the navy would respond to the tsunami, but he saw something strange floating on the waves.

"It's a ship. It's not surprising that such a big tsunami rolled up the ship. It looks like a warship outside Marin Fanduo."

"It's a warship, but it seems to be filled with prisoners, right? How could there be a warship full of prisoners in this place?"

"I don't know, but I know that Mr. Kaido probably wants more fun. By the way, where is that guy Quinn?"

Shaina looked around, but she didn't see Quinn.

It is reasonable to say that they are all in their dozens of years old, and everyone knows how to face danger, so Jhin and Shaina ignored him and just raised the height on their own.

As far as Quinn's character is concerned, he would never put himself in danger unless someone touched his banana or was put on his head with a mace.

"Quinn. Oh, there, alive and kicking."

Following the direction of Jhin's finger, Shaina saw Quinn who was fighting with two giant dragons in the air. His appearance was no different from that of ordinary western giant dragons, and his body was also much smaller than the eight-headed dragon. But it is equipped with the same laser cannon as the pacifist.

Behind them are small wyvern-like creatures, with ordinary rotary machine guns mounted on their bodies.

Like the pacifists, they are the masterpieces of the naval science force. They are creatures that were reproduced based on the blood factor of the eight-headed dragon. After several years of cultivation, they finally formed such an air force.

They are special forces hidden above the clouds according to the arrangement of the Warring States Period, waiting for the order to attack.

It's just that the war progressed very smoothly, Sengoku also postponed the attack of this unit, intending to wait for the pirates to flee completely before chasing them. As a result, Kaido intervened, and this huge tsunami followed.

Before they could react, Quinn plunged into them again, which eventually led to the current air battle situation.

"Come on! Let Uncle Quinn see what you guys who can only pirate are capable of! You two don't come here! I will personally deal with these guys who stole my achievements!"

Quinn was also pouring out his firepower, and even uncharacteristically asked Shaina and Jhin to stay out of his battle.

"Is this guy crazy? Really think this is his own achievement?"

In Shaina's view, Quinn is already a contradictory creature. He is afraid of the danger brought by the black pot, but at the same time enjoys the glory brought by the black pot.

In the eyes of outsiders, this means that Quinn has seen through the background of the navy dragon unit and is defending his own achievements. However, they belong to the top cadres, and Shaina and Jhin know exactly how much Quinn is.

"No, this guy is looking for reasons for himself, so that he doesn't have to intervene in too dangerous battles. Those things account for up to 30% of his firepower."

Shaina simply attacks Quinn physically when she is in a bad mood, but Jhin is different. He likes to give Quinn a double blow mentally and physically, so he understands Quinn's thoughts very well.

Looking at his actions, one can guess almost exactly. In fact, just as Jhin thought, Quinn was looking for a reasonable reason to fish. He is different from Jhin and Shaina. As Lunaria people, they are stronger and more valued by Arceus.

Even if you don't do anything in the top war, it's okay to go back.

Today's Yamato has been thrown into the crowd by Kaido. Kaido will have no time to take care of her for a while, and he will be the one who is in danger. In order not to be targeted by Kaido and forcibly assign difficult opponents, Quinn decided to find A group of guys who look powerful but have no real skills go to fight.

Originally, he chose the giant lieutenant generals below, who were the best enemies to deal with in his eyes, but during the process of avoiding the tsunami, Quinn had a new idea, and launched his own air battle with these air forces.

Quinn hopes to fish until the end of the battle, and then return to Wano Country intact, but accidents will always happen. When he was fighting these "pirated versions" friendly, the original version came.

"Roar!"

Accompanied by the roar, the eight evil dragons with nothing to do in the sky rushed towards the flying dragon army, breaking through their formation with just one encounter, and then the eight heads shot out, directly biting off the neck of a large flying dragon.

"Roar?"

After that, the eight evil dragons looked at Quinn in confusion, and the meaning conveyed by the roar was obvious.

【Such a weak guy, why can he run after you? 】

Chapter 970: Surrounding wall breached, execution proposed

"This is a temptation! It's a temptation! If you don't understand, get out of the way, let me deal with these guys!"

What exactly is the navy's flying dragon unit? Quinn has already figured it out. The dragon scales of those flying dragons are enough to withstand ordinary guns. It is difficult for ordinary pirates to deal with, but for Quinn It's a piece of cake.

Not to mention his sun flames and laser cannons, energy * or the missiles he modified before are enough to break the defenses of these flying dragons, but he is useless at all, and even misses them deliberately to prolong it.

These flying dragons look like fakes to Quinn, but they are full of deterrence, and the attacks they make are also very scary. They were originally good tools for fishing.

He also wants to find a Shichibukai to fish, but Yamato is fishing with two Shichibukai, which is barely acceptable.

Doflamingo is the only one who can touch fish in the Qiwuhai. If he entangles with Doflamingo under Kaido's nose for a long time and cannot tell the outcome, the only one waiting for him is Special training.

In the sky far away from Kaido, he can relax a little bit anyway.

At this time, the flying dragon whose neck was bitten off by the eight-headed dragon also completed its regeneration. The speed was much slower than that of the original eight-headed dragon, but after all, it broke through the upper limit of ordinary creatures. up.

"Look, it's not dead at all. Although you are always fighting with Brother Kaidou, you still have a lot to learn. Go and play with those giants. Let me handle it here.

Really can't do it, see that big green guy? That guy is a descendant of a demon, so you can go and play with it. "noVelusb.com

Quinn tried to change the eight-headed dragon to another battlefield so that he could continue fishing, but he failed.

It's not that the eight-headed dragon is not easy to fool, but that it has learned some bad habits from Kaido, such as snatching the opponent it wants. In its opinion, these flying dragons are far more interesting than those giants.

Ignoring Quinn's words, the eight-headed dragon rushed towards the flying dragon troops in the sky, directly killing Quinn's plan in the bud.

"Damn it, it doesn't even let me live safely. I should have known that I should go down first with Ms. Dahe."

Yamato has already occupied the best actor group, which made Quinn lose the opportunity to perform. Looking at Yamato who was still paddling, he suddenly felt a little envious.

"Forget it, I'll find a few lieutenant generals to play with at that time, I hope those guys can cooperate a little bit."

Seeing the tsunami that was rushing towards Marlin Vandro, Quinn began to plan his next plan, Shaina and Jhin were looking for clues that might be related to Blackbeard, and the battle below was not interrupted by the sudden tsunami. Stopped, but became more intense.

"Little ones! Break through the siege by the tsunami! Oz! Get ready!"

White Beard's angry voice spread across most of the square. When it was inconvenient to use the phone bug, speaking loudly became the best way of communication.

The tsunami is a crisis, but it is also an opportunity. For the current Marin Fando, the tsunami is not the biggest crisis, because Kuzan is still serving as his admiral. With his freezing ability, he can still limit the surrounding sea water.

Just before he froze the tsunami, Whitebeard was able to take advantage of the tsunami.

White Beard punched the ice surface, cracking the ice-covered sea surface inch by inch. At this time, the impact of the tsunami had reached the range, and the originally calm sea water rushed towards the square under the influence of the tsunami.

In the sea water, a coated pirate ship rushed out, this is the hole card left by Whitebeard, from the very beginning, he kept a surprise soldier under the sea.

With the help of the huge waves formed by the tsunami, the ship successfully crossed the surrounding wall of the navy. Although Kuzan frozen the waves in time, the pirate ship still reached the surrounding wall with the assistance of Oz.

This is also impossible. The frozen waves will give the pirates a chance to break through the encircling wall, but if you don't do this, this huge tsunami is enough to wipe out the navy below the major general.

Due to its own weight, the ice layer that only froze the stern did not restrain the pirate ship, but instead let it fall down, leaning against the surrounding wall and the ground of the navy, giving the Whitebeard Pirates a suitable foothold for pirates.

"The breach has appeared! Come on, brothers! Get Ace out!"

The surrounding wall of the navy was originally a vertical barrier, but with the help of the ice surface and the pirate ship, a small hill was formed here, giving the pirates a chance to break through.

At this time, Deus is no longer a member of the Spades Pirates, but joined the Whitebeard Pirates with Ace, and is leading the pirates of the second team to the forefront.

It is unrealistic to jump off the tall steel directly. The pirate ship before became the only passage at this time, which naturally made the artillery fire from the navy's rear aimed at this place.

Whitebeard's captains are intercepting shells at this time, reserving passages for subsequent pirates.

But when they climbed the surrounding wall along the ice, all they saw was a blinding flash.

"Hey, I can't let you just pass by like this, Bachi Qiong Gouyu!"

"Flash kid, get out of here!"

Bachi Qiong Gouyu was forcibly interrupted as soon as he started to release, and the terrifying shock wave forced Huang Yuan to evade Whitebeard's attack first.

But just as he opened the distance, White Beard appeared in front of him again.

"Eight-foot mirror!"

After continuous refraction, Huang Yuan was out of the range of Whitebeard's attack, and there was a few playful expressions between his brows and eyes.

"Is this the young white beard?"

"Gu la la la, this is a long-lost power, Warring States! Hand over my son!"

Boom!

Whitebeard punched in mid-air, and the ice layer in front was shattered by Whitebeard's attack. A huge ice ball with a diameter of more than ten meters, like raindrops, smashed towards the navy below.

"Calm down!"

On the execution platform, the figure of Zhan Guo gradually grew larger, and a golden shock wave was struck from the palm of Zhan Guo who turned into a Buddha, turning all the ice in the air into powder.

"It's just a young white beard. He couldn't destroy the Navy headquarters when he was young, so don't think about it now! Concentrate your firepower! They only have one way!"

Kizaru is in a stalemate with Whitebeard, Garp is still in a state of entanglement, Aokiji's ability is not suitable for handling ice, so Sengoku will take action to clean up those ice.

With the capability of the Warring States Period, the morale of the navy was rekindled again, and a new round of competition with the Whitebeard Pirates began.

"Marshal of the Warring States Period, the time is almost up. The Whitebeard Pirates are already in the encirclement. I suggest that Fire Fist Ace be executed immediately."

Akainu's voice came from the side, and he, who had just dealt with the issue of deserters, put forward his own opinions in the face of the current battle situation.
