

Arceus 971

Chapter 971: who are you... here?

The red dog just now was not on the frontal battlefield, but went to clean up the discipline.

In an army of 100,000 people, it is inevitable that some will retreat, but on the battlefield, without an order from the top, retreating and evading are not allowed.

One person's cowardly escape may trigger a chain reaction, eventually leading to the collapse of the defense line.

Whitebeard who has regained his youth, Kaido who is out of control, and the destructive power displayed by the earthquake and heat have broken the psychological defense of many soldiers.

They wanted to take advantage of the chaotic situation on the battlefield to slip away, but they were caught by Akainu. After killing the chickens and monkeys, the deserters who were observing in the dark returned to the battlefield, and Akainu himself also returned.

The significance of Ace's existence to the navy is to attract the arrival of the Whitebeard Pirates. At this time, the Whitebeard Pirates have entered the encirclement. The subsequent battle has nothing to do with Ace, but the military force between the Navy headquarters and Whitebeard. Comparison.

In order to prevent extra problems, Akainu believes that Ace should be executed immediately at this time, so that the possibility of Ace being rescued can be prevented and the loss of bait will not be caused.

"It's not time yet, Sakalski."

"Does the navy need to speak morally to the pirates?"

"Killing him now will make Whitebeard go crazy. If he destroys wildly regardless of the consequences, the Navy Headquarters cannot afford the consequences. Whitebeard and Kaido are the main problems."

"I see, I will go and deal with Whitebeard with Polusalino first."

Looking at Garp who was silent but clenched his fists, Sakaski didn't say anything else, but directly inserted into the frontal battlefield.

He wanted to see what the Warring States could say after the siege and suppression of Whitebeard.

"Hey hehehe, the power of youth is really good, I also found something to do well."

Whitebeard will not fight him if he does not achieve his goal. Although he can help Whitebeard, Kaido has no such idea at all.

Using Whitebeard to consume the navy, he will not let this opportunity pass.

The Warring States in the form of a giant Buddha made Kaido so interested, and Yamato's fishing made him a little bit unbearable. After picking up the wine gourd on his waist and drinking the spirits in it, Kaido just wanted to be a little He moved, but was suddenly spotted by a big man.

"Kaido. Die!"

Along the way, he did not know how many shadows he absorbed, even the clothes on his arms were torn, but his eyes were still clear.

Moria didn't know what kind of emotion he had towards Kaido. He didn't know whether it was fear or anger, but there was a voice in his body telling him to kill Kaido.

"Die, die! Shadow Hell!"

Countless shadows condensed into a sharp jungle of thorns, piercing towards Kaido's body. Moria's fists beat the ground frantically, as if venting his years of resentment.

"I said, should you have had enough?"

After a series of onslaughts, Kaido's voice sounded from below, and Moriah's fist also stopped in mid-air, and Kaido blocked Moriah with only one hand.

The other hand was still holding his own wine gourd, and Moriah couldn't even interrupt him from drinking.

"If you just beat your back, you'd be considered qualified, but who are you?"

Who are you.

The three words were like sharp steel nails, piercing directly into Moria's heart, the nightmare that he could not forget, the nightmare that had been going on for more than ten years, and he didn't even know who he was.

"Bastard. You killed all my companions! Kaido, you forgot who I am!! Shadow Horn Gun!"

"What are you talking about? I am a pirate. I don't know how many pirates I have killed. Weak people are not qualified to let me remember their names. And you, a guy like you, did you let me do it yourself? It seems that I was Very weak."

The wine in the gourd was drunk by Kaido. With a little drunkenness, Kaido looked at the gigantic Moriah.

"It seems a bit familiar."

"Moonlight Moria! Kaido, use your body to remember this name! I will return everything in Wano Country to you! Shadow Box!"

The black shadow formed a square box around Kaido, and then raised his palm to shoot down, but before touching, Moria's shadow box was torn by Kaido from the middle.

"Remember, it turned out to be you. You are much weaker than before."

At the beginning, Moria could still fight him a few times. Kaido thought that he would grow a lot in these years, but unexpectedly he became weaker.

"It's my fault, I still have an impression of you, this time I will completely forget you. Mingdi!"

Boom!

The column-shaped stick hit Moriah's abdomen, and his huge body did not bring any advantage. With one blow, Moriah flew upside down, and countless shadows also ran out of his mouth.

"No fun."

After the blow, Kaido never looked at Moria again, but continued to walk towards the battlefield.

"Just one blow killed Shichibukai in seconds"

"That's not the opponent I should worry about! Focus on your eyes! The pirates are coming up!"

"Wait, something fell from the sky again, it's a prisoner!"

On a fort of the navy, several gunners stared blankly at the sky. Since the beginning of this war, more and more things fell from the sky inexplicably.

This warship is the warship on the waves that Shaina and Jhin saw, and the people on board are the prisoners in the city and Luffy who wants to rescue his brother.

Before in the Chambord Islands, Luffy was photographed together with Heracross. They were photographed on an island where Heracross gathered. Heracross on the island temporarily took the two of them and brought them to Luffy. the most recent newspaper.

Relying on the flying ability of Heracross, Luffy finally found the triangle current of the navy, and invaded the city of boost from a high altitude. And he was able to successfully enter the city, thanks to Blackbeard and his party.

This allowed Luffy to take the opportunity to rush in and pass through the closed door of justice.

It was thanks to the sudden tsunami that he was able to get here. With the help of huge waves, he was able to get here smoothly at this time.

As for Arceus, the instigator of the tsunami, he was still at the center of the triangular current, but the vortex that had been spinning for decades disappeared at this moment.

The power of Arceus forcibly terminated the rotation of this sea current, and it was precisely because the vortex was forcibly stopped by the power of Arceus that this huge tsunami was derived.

The tsunami that was enough to destroy the world in the eyes of others was just the aftermath of Arceus' attack. At this moment, the stone slab has emerged from the sea water and is floating directly above the sea surface.

Chapter 972: Fairies and Jade Dragon's good brothers are of course Icicles

A while ago, Kaido hadn't arrived at Marlin Vandor, and the Whitebeard Pirates and the Navy had just started fighting, and Arceus's Siyuan had already arrived near the Triangle Current.

Except for Judicial Island, Advancing City, and the Gates of Justice in Marlin Fandor, the Navy's triangular current has always been in an undefended state.

It is impossible for them to add fences and covers to the entire sea. Tianlong people will not do this kind of investment, and it is completely unnecessary.

Normal pirates would never get close to this current. The mighty power of nature is hard to resist. If ordinary wind-driven sailboats and foreign ships are caught in the whirlpool current, there is no chance of escape.

There are generally only two results of being trapped in the ocean current, drifting down endlessly, or surrendering directly to the navy, so that even the * link can be directly omitted.

It is not without people who can break through this kind of ocean current. There are always very few people who have the ability to resist the ocean current, but such people will not take the initiative to go to the hinterland of the navy.

So far, no pirate has been able to stand alone against the entire navy. Whether it is the Lonely Red, the Golden Lion, or the original Rocks, they all failed in the end.

Arceus' Siyuan can be said to have broken the precedent.

"Master Arceus! The triangle current has entered the navy, where will it go next?"

Relying on the power provided by the triangular ocean current, the navy's warships can save half of the time. Even with the power of the Shiyuan, it is difficult to get rid of its flow speed.

"But then the boat might capsize"

"You don't need to think about other things if you are asked to do it. Lord Arceus, he is a newcomer to the Shiyuan, and some things are not used to him. Don't worry about it."

Common sense does not work on this ship. Looking at the sea, the Siwon is also a miracle. From the empty island to the underworld, there is no place that this ship has not been to.

Relying on the strength of Arceus itself, this ship is no longer an ordinary pirate ship. As for why Arceus still chooses to take a boat, on the one hand, it is the tradition of the sea.

The Shiyuan number may not be the best, but it is the one he uses most conveniently.

"It's okay, let's turn the rudder."

"yes!"

The helmsman rolled up his sleeves. According to his past experience, if he wanted to forcibly turn the rudder in this vortex, he needed to overcome great resistance, and he might not be able to do it alone.

But when he turned the rudder, he found it extremely easy. At this time, the Siyuan was enveloped in a light blue light. Rather than saying that it was a ship, it was better to say that it was the ocean itself.

The turbulent ocean current automatically bypassed the Shiyuan when it encountered it, allowing the Siyuan to drive to the center without a trace.

About the time when Kaido arrived at Marlin Vandor, the Siyuan gradually approached the central area of the vortex. Under the deep sea, Arceus also noticed the breath of his own slate.

"It's really surprising that it's really in this kind of place."

This world is very big, and the outer territories have not been explored yet. Of course, he will not explore the hinterland of this navy. That is, Arceus will come here only after he got news from the thousand-year-old dragon group.

Then Arceus' pupils were stained with a touch of blue, and the blue light that was originally only wrapped around the Siyuan spread towards the entire ocean. The turbulent current stopped abruptly, and there was a roar on the sea.

The triangular ocean current was originally a speeding train. Under the influence of nature, this train kept speeding on a fixed route. Today, a pair of extraterrestrial hands directly pressed the front of the train to death.

When the front of the train is forcibly stopped by an external force, the carriage behind it will not be spared, but will cause a series of chain reactions. The same is true for the triangular ocean current here.

The location of the center is okay, but there are some wind and waves. The closer to the periphery Arceus intercepts the triangular current, the greater the impact. The sea water surges up, and huge waves hundreds of meters high rush towards the surroundings.

It's just that all of this has nothing to do with the Siyuan, and the people on board have only one feeling except Arceus - cold.

"Why... why is it so cold, Xiao Pei, lend me one of your clothes!"

"Don't move my sister, my hands seem to be frozen."

The two are the stronger types on the ship except Arceus, and even they feel the cold, let alone the others.

This is the result of the increase in the number of slates. The return of slates is not a simple addition to the increase in strength, but a terrifying multiplication trend.

In the past, when the slate returned, it would only bring about some changes in the breath, but with the return of the fifteenth slate, Arceus' own power has undergone a qualitative change again.

Just the breath from the stone slab caused serious discomfort to the surrounding pirates.

And what can bring such severe cold is the icicle slab. After the goblin and the jade dragon, the icicle, the three nemesis of the dragon system, has also returned smoothly.

"Master Arceus, please take back your power, we are a bit overwhelmed"

"This little guy has been sleeping in the sea for too long, and now he is a little excited."

Under the control of Arceus, the cold air was gradually withdrawn by the slate, which also made the pirates on the ship breathe a sigh of relief.

Boom! boom!

At this moment, several splashes of water splashed on the sea surface, and the sound of the explosion also reached the ears of the pirates on the Siyuan. Looking up, it was a warship from Judiciary Island.

According to the Navy's intelligence, the most serious prison escape incident in the history of Advance City occurred. At this time, the personnel in Advance City are dealing with the follow-up, and Marin Fando's navy is fighting against Whitebeard.

Only the navy of Judiciary Island is still in an idle state, so it will enter the triangular current to search for traces of those escaped pirates.

The Siyuan made them misunderstand something and started shelling directly.

"Master Arceus, let me deal with it, just move your body."

Navy and pirates are enemies, and firing cannons is a signal to declare war. Peggy Wan immediately sent out a call for war.

"No need, turn around, go to Marlin Fandor to see what Kaido is doing."

"Eh? Lord Arceus, don't you care about the navy? They fired provocations."

Ulti scratched his head. It is not a normal reaction if they do nothing under the premise that the opponent has already fired.

"It's just that you don't have to go, I just tried something brand new, don't you think so, Regice?"

The icicle slab that had already returned to the body was released again, but there was no trace of air conditioning exposed.

Different from Darkley's time, the power of the icicle slab was not released, but acted as a core itself.

With it as the center, the cold air gradually condensed into ice, and a sharp-edged ice giant appeared on the deck of the Shiyuan

There are many ways that Pokémon are born. They are not limited to ordinary life. In addition to conventional animals, plants, clouds, air, rocks, steel, and elements of nature may become a member of Pokémon.

However, no matter what kind of carrier, the strongest carrier is always the slate.

Back then, Darkley had exhausted the evil power in the Evil Face Slate because he had been performing tasks alone for a long time, and even had to face unknown enemies.

The Reggie Ace in front of me is even more special. As a member of the Reggie family, they can also be called the Shenzhu family or...well, the toilet family.

Different from the previous Phantom Pokémon, and not the so-called Legendary Pokémon like Wind Speed Dog, Regis is a true Legendary Pokémon.

Due to the particularity of the Shenzhu family, they can even use Arceus' slate as the core, but this core is only temporary, and it can be regarded as a short-term strengthening buff.

Arceus was able to take the slate back after the matter was over.

Outsiders also have the ability to use stone slabs, provided that they have obtained the consent of Arceus. Under appropriate conditions, Arceus is not capable of borrowing stone slabs, provided that the person knows how to return them.

The number of Regice is not unique, the ice is their body, as a very ancient Pokémon, the body of Regice is covered with ice from the Ice Age, and some Regice are even in the underground Sleeping in the ice for countless years.

Regis with the icicle slab as the carrier is undoubtedly the strongest Regice. Different geometries gradually condensed together, and then began to expand under the influence of the icicle slab, and finally a seventeen-year-old was born. meters of large Regis.

"Go ahead, teach them a lesson, and come back to me later."

"Reggie Ace"

There are seven yellow dots forming a cross on Regice's face, which are their visual organs and the way they express their emotions.

The seven yellow dots flickered frequently, and a sharp sound came from the cylinder.

Then Regice jumped off the deck and floated above the sea surface, but the sea water under his feet completely solidified under the influence of the air-conditioning around the body.

"Turn, target Marin Fandro."

The Shiyuan turned around and left, Regice also locked on to his target, and drifted slowly towards the ship sent by Judiciary Island.

"What's that? A robot? An ice sculpture?"

"I don't know, but it's definitely not a good thing if they all got off the pirate ship. It's right to attack and start shelling!"

Regice's target was huge, and his movements were not fast. The dense shells exploded on Regice's body, but they failed to cause any impact. Although his body was made of ice, Regice's body was very strong.

The impact of the explosion does not affect it, and the shrapnel will be bounced off the smooth ice surface.

The navy of Judiciary Island did not realize the danger of the Ice God Pillar. Its appearance was not as dangerous as the eight-headed dragon, and it was even a little funny, but as Regis approached, the sound of the guns stopped.

"What's going on? Keep firing! That guy is coming soon!"

"The barrel is frozen."

The gunners tried to pull the guns, but to no avail, and as they tried to fix the guns, the ship shook violently.

Boom!

A large part of the ship's deck was missing, and Regice's hand was still shining with electric sparks not far away. Instead of using ice-type skills, it fired an electromagnetic cannon.

It thinks that such a warship is not worth its hands at all, but Arceus must have its own purpose in making it move, so he wants to force the ship to retreat and find the mastermind behind the ship, so he deliberately deflects the electromagnetic force. gun.

If you want to destroy this warship immediately, the most direct way for it is to get close to the opponent and use the cold air from its body to end the opponent.

It drifted slowly on purpose to achieve its goal, but the warship ahead saw that the bombardment was ineffective, and Regice was getting closer and closer, so he also chose to retreat.

Aboard the Siyuan, Arceus looked at Regice who was following up and didn't worry about anything.

The stone slab that has been taken back is different from the one that was left outside before. Before that, he was looking for a cell phone that had run out of battery in a dark room, so it was naturally very difficult.

But after the return, it is equivalent to restarting the mobile phone. Just make a call, and you can quickly find its location. The icicle slab temporarily left in Regice's body is in such a state.

The triangular current has disappeared, and the speed of the voyage has slowed down a lot, but during the voyage of the Siyuan, some people are getting headaches looking at the information in front of them.

Holy Land, Mary Joya, and the Five Old Stars fell into deep thought while looking at the Navy's report.

They are also paying attention to the battle situation of Marin Vanduo. This battle has a great impact on the development of the subsequent world.

"Kaido, his daughter and some cadres all appeared in Marlin Vandro, and they also restored Whitebeard's youth."

"Didn't the redhead say before that he would try to stop Kaido? This is what he called blocking?"

"I said a long time ago that there is a problem with red hair. There must be a special connection between him, Whitebeard and Kaido, but we haven't discovered it yet."

Tap, tap, tap.

A sound of footsteps came from the outside world, and two messengers came to Wulaoxing.

"Report! The latest news from Judiciary Island. They did not find any escaped prisoners in the Triangle Current, but they found the pirate ship of Hundred Beasts, led by Arceus."

"Reporting to the Five Old Stars, Impelton has sent information that a large number of prisoners have escaped from the prison, including the sixth floor, and their current movements are unknown.

Deputy Director Hannibal was seriously injured, and the Warden Shiliu of the Rain rebelled.

Director Magellan is working hard to suppress the endgame, and the specific situation needs to be re-stated.

However, the leaders of the prison escape have been determined, namely Straw Hat Boy-Monkey D. Luffy, Blackbeard-Marshall D. Teach, and Clown-Bucky. "

"It is not good news that a large number of prisoners on the sixth floor have escaped from prison."

"Suppress the news first, the escape of monsters on the sixth floor will cause panic, and the situation that has finally stabilized can't be destroyed like this.

Those guys with a D in their name are so annoying. "

The bald Wu Laoxing holding the knife seemed very impatient, and part of the blade was exposed from the long knife that he was holding in his hand all the time, and he seemed very disgusted with the so-called will of D.

"There is also that clown Bucky, this person is actually Roger's crew member, or the red-haired brother, he is hiding in the East China Sea, isn't it part of the red-haired plan?"

The five old stars with a goatee think of Roger Pirates, and it is reasonable to say that there will be stains on the ship, but the performance of Bucky in intelligence is too far from Roger Pirates, if it is not for conclusive evidence, it is hard for him to believe Bucky is Roger's apprentice.

"These are not important for the time being, the red-haired guy doesn't like chaos, so he shouldn't make any big troubles.

The focus is on the white beard that restores its youth.

If those old guys hear about this technology, it is not certain what they will do.

Send someone to check first, Kaido, Yamato, Arceus, except for them, most of the top cadres of Beasts are not in Wano Country.

This is probably the weakest defense of Wano Country in decades. You can send people to sneak in to try. Isn't there a CP0 team nearby? "

Satan, who has a name for the time being, put forward his own suggestion, and they have been curious about the secrets in Wano's country for a long time.

Chapter 974: Olga and the Redhead's updated record

There are backers in Wano, so you don't even have to guess about this kind of thing, but this is the best opportunity.

It is so rare that the high-level combat power is almost fully dispatched, and the five old stars don't know when they will encounter similar opportunities again.

The orders one by one were sent from Marie Gioia to the outside world, and the redhead who was questioned by the five old stars also launched his own actions some time ago.

Among the pirates, Shanks is the one who doesn't want to see the war on the top, so when Ace set off, he tried to lobby Whitebeard to bring Ace back, but it didn't work.

Even if he received news of the war on the top, he still wanted to control the scope of the war and prevent too many forces from being involved.

Among the many forces in the sea, Kaido is the most likely to get involved in this war, so the red hair hopes to persuade Kaido to stop.

It's just that the current number of Kaido's cadres is very sufficient, enough for him to divide into three groups to complete his goal, and Shanks can't stop him even if he wants to.

There are too many routes to fly from Wano Country to the Navy Headquarters. He can't keep an eye on Kaido at all, so he can only try his luck at the intersection of Kaido and Whitebeard's territories.

If Kaido wants to attack Whitebeard's territory, this road still cannot be bypassed.

Redhead tried to contact Kaido by phone, but just after he said a word, Kaido hung up the phone. It is a whimsical act to persuade Kaido not to intervene in this kind of war.

While Shanks was laying out, Olga and Jack had also successfully converged.

"Is Miss Olga really going to do this?"

As long as he is stronger than Jack, he will obey the opponent's arrangement. Today's Olga is definitely not Jack's opponent, but when the two really fight, Jack probably won't be able to touch each other.

The ability of the illusion is not friendly to his melee defense, but it is not so easy for Olga to defeat Jack, after all, Jack's skin is too thick now.

"Well, you take someone around from the side, I will go to explore the road alone, if someone really stops me, I will deal with it."

The navy will not intervene in this kind of thing, the only ones capable of interfering with the actions of beasts are Red Hair and Charlotte Lingling.

If it was Charlotte Lingling, they would definitely choose a temporary alliance and divide Whitebeard's territory first, so there is no need to worry.

The only one who can really stop them is Shanks. After all, only the redhead knows what the redhead is thinking

In order not to delay the team's schedule, Olga divided the troops again.

"The red hair is a pirate with the same reputation as Brother Kaidou, big sister, can you do it alone?"

"Anxin, Anxin, it's just a redhead, my record with him is 2:0, he and his little brother are no match for me."

Among the cadres of Beasts, the one with the best record is not Quinn who escaped from Akainu, nor Jhin who fought against Momotu and others, but Olga, who once played with the Four Emperor Shanks in the palm of her hand. The woman in the middle, and played with it twice.

This is not a lie, but an objective fact, that is, it happened a long time ago.

But no matter what, it is still very face-saving to tell this matter.

In order to maintain this glorious record, she has never had any conflicts with the red hair again. As long as she does not fight, she will always be 2:0.

"Besides, I don't plan to fight him. If he appears here, it means that he has no time to stop Captain Kaido. It doesn't matter if he tells him where Captain Kaido has gone. Captain Kaido will not refuse the battlefield." There is one more person.

It is enough for you to hurry up and go around. "

Under the arrangement of Olga, the Shadow Fox took the first step, and Jack temporarily followed behind, deciding whether to fight head-on or detour according to the situation.

At this time, it has reached the border sea area, but the Shadow Fox has stopped, and only the phantom is sailing forward at this time.

"Boss! Kaido's King of Beasts appeared, and Kaido is also on it!"

Pure knowledge color is useless for Olga to create illusions today. If it is Roger or Otohime's special knowledge color, which can capture the target's voice, it can indeed detect the abnormality of the illusion.

But foretelling is not good. Olga's phantom is a special phantom that really exists. Even if the future is predicted tens of minutes later, those phantoms still exist on the sea.

Moreover, even if the knowledge color has been cultivated to the realm of predicting the future, there is no way to predict it for so long, so it is unrealistic to use predictive methods to distinguish the truth from the illusion.

Either it can be targeted in terms of ability, or it can use powerful firepower to conduct indiscriminate attacks to find Olga's body, otherwise it will be very difficult to break the illusion.

Whether it was seen by the naked eye or perceived by domineering, what appeared in front of them was the real fleet led by Kaido himself.

"Kaido, go back, participating in this battle is not good for you, your current territory is already big enough."

Shanks' angry voice reached Olga's ears, but she didn't respond, she just manipulated Kaido's phantom to make an action.

If she responds, then she will use her ability on the red hair to deceive his hearing.

The illusions she creates will not be seen through by ordinary knowledge, but when the ability is applied to others, it will be different. If you do that, the red hair will soon find out the abnormality, so she didn't say anything, just continue to drag the time .

At the beginning, Shanks didn't find the problem. The eyes of Phantom Kaido are very realistic, and the drinking action is also in line with the red hair's cognition.

But Kaido has been drinking and not responding, which makes Shanks feel a little wrong. In terms of Kaido's character, it is normal to hit him directly with a stick.

"Boss, it seems something is wrong."

"It's not quite right, so let's change the way of saying hello."

After noticing some abnormalities, the domineering pressure of the overlord turned towards the phantom ahead. Under the influence of this pressure, Kaido's figure began to become unreal, and the King of Beasts also turned into a dilapidated sailing ship with dilapidated fences. It shattered directly under the influence of Shanks' domineering.

"Boss, it's fake!"

"He actually lied to all of us, so where is the real Kaido?"

"Ahem, hello, I should have heard it, I would like to remind you, Captain Kaido should have arrived at Marlin Vanduo by now."

On the dilapidated wooden boat, Olga's voice came from a set phonograph. She didn't even want to show up in front of Shanks, but just manipulated her phantom at the extreme distance.

"By the way, let me recall, you and that red nose lost to me twice, but if you can hear this recording, it means that you have discovered the problem this time, so it's a draw~"

Chapter 975: A more chaotic Marin Vandor

There was a rewinding sound from the phonograph, and Olga's voice sounded again. She also set the playback function on the phonograph, intending to show off her brilliant achievements again.

"Boss, what should we do now? We seem to have been tricked."

"Go to Marlin Vandor, stop those guys before they make something more terrifying."

"Is it okay here?"

"It doesn't matter that her trail is not so easy to follow. It's too time-consuming to find her. If you try again, you will be in real trouble."

Whitebeard will take care of his subordinates and Ace anyway, and will not destroy it at any cost, but Kaido is different.

If Kaido is allowed to go wild in Marin Vanduo unscrupulously, the price will be devastating.

Navy Headquarters has 100,000 navies dispatched from all over the world. If the loss of these 100,000 people is too exaggerated, it will cause a major blow to the order of the navy in other regions.

Although it will not shake the foundation, it will make them lose their dominance in a short time.

The current rules of the world are formulated by the world government, and the navy is also the largest order. Without the guardian of this order, the sea will become more chaotic. That is not the situation that the red hair wants to see.

He came here because he was deceived by an illusion, mistakenly thinking that Kaido was leading the team himself.

And he believed Olga's words not because of trust, but because of his understanding of Kaido's character.

If Kaido is really leading the team, he will never cheat himself to leave in this way, but will come up with a stick and fight with himself first.

The Red Firth turned its course and headed in the direction of Marin Fand.

"Speaking of which, boss, have you really lost to that woman twice?"

Shanks got along very harmoniously on the ship, and the crew members who get along with each other on weekdays don't give Shanks much face. Facing the dark history about red hair, they all have a strong interest.

"I lost. I really miss those days."

"So that woman really beat you head-on?"

"A long time ago, that was a long time ago! Now I will definitely not lose again!"

Shanks' voice is a bit funny, this is his usual style, before the war, this style can make the crew relax, even he can't guarantee whether his own face will be useful at that time, will he No new fights will be caused.

Marin Fanduo, before the new forces arrived, it became even more chaotic here. The emergence of prison escape forces made the already chaotic battlefield even more chaotic.

"A cadre of the Revolutionary Army, a prison escapee, and a former Shichibukai shemale? What kind of combination is this!"

Looking at the strange combination of warships falling from the sky, the soldiers at the fort didn't know how to evaluate this combination, and Garp's face on the execution platform was even more ugly.

His two grandsons both appeared on this battlefield at this time, and their identities were pirates that Garp least wanted to see.

Sengoku's complexion didn't change against the background of the Buddha, and he didn't even care about it. Compared with Kaido before, these people are nothing. They are all added together, and the damage caused by Kaido and others is not as great.

The navies were in complicated moods, and so were the escape forces. On the way from Advance City to the Naval Headquarters, they had no way to obtain information from Marin Fando.

They thought it was a battle between Whitebeard and the Navy Headquarters, but the situation on the scene was far more complicated than they imagined.

"Beast Kaido. Is this lunatic here too? Straw hat boy, this battlefield seems to have become more complicated."

Ivankov, who was lurking on the 5.5th floor of the promotion city, chose to escape because of Luffy's identity. As for how he knew Luffy's identity, he all relied on Heracross beside him.

In order to let Ivankov understand this matter, Hero drew a simple stroke on the spot. Although it was abstract, it accurately conveyed his meaning.

"Kaido? Why is he here? But who is the white beard? Didn't you say it was the old man? I didn't see it."

Luffy didn't care about the chaos here, he just wanted to save Ace No matter how powerful the enemy is here, his goal will not change, but he has heard the name Kaido too many times, so it will appear doubt.

"Heh, where there is war, there is Kaido. It is normal for him to appear here. As for Whitebeard... isn't it there?"

The golden hook pointed forward, and Crocodile, who had finished his enlightenment, left his practice site. Among the group of escaped prisoners, he was the first to see the abnormality of Whitebeard.

White Beard was very impressed with what he looked like when he was young.

It is not good news for him that this old guy has become younger, especially when he saw that Whitebeard was able to fight against the yellow monkey and the red dog at the same time without losing the wind, the haze in Crocodile's heart became even stronger.

Whoosh!

There was a sound of breaking through the air, half of Crocodile's head disappeared suddenly, and Doflamingo had come here quietly.

"Long time no see, crocodile bastard. I heard that you were arrested and imprisoned. I was sad for a long time. After all, I told that woman about your information."

"Desert Diamond Sword!"

Crocodile's arm turned into yellow sand and stabbed at Doflamingo. These words hit him hard.

"You bastard, my ten-year plan was completely ruined just because of one sentence from you!"

"轰轰轰轰, you can't say that, even without me, you may not be able to succeed.

Now I have a chance for you, how about teaming up with me? This sea is about to undergo unprecedented changes, and only by seizing the opportunity can we succeed! "

The white line formed a shield in the hands of Doflamingo, blocking Crocodile's blow full of resentment, and then continued to propose an alliance.

"You should have seen it too. That's the gap in strength. You don't have the ability to defeat those monsters, so relying on the strength of these monsters is the best choice."

"But now... I only want your head!"

The deserted Crocodile appeared behind Doflamingo, and smashed his head with a golden hook.

He even wanted to settle old scores with Whitebeard, but that area can't be approached at all now. Magma, lasers, and vibrations are all affecting the surrounding area. As the battle situation intensifies, they can no longer control the aftermath of the battle. The thief was hit by the aftermath.

Injury can range from injury to death, whether it is a pirate or a navy, they are trying to stay away from that area at this time.

Can't intervene there, Doflamingo who came to the door just absorbed Crocodile's resentment.

"Straw hat boy, this battlefield is extremely dangerous, now you might be a straw hat boy?!"

After Crocodile ran to fight Doflamingo, Ivankov wanted to explain the situation on the battlefield to Luffy and let him understand the danger of this battlefield.

He is the son of the dragon, that's why Ivankov is willing to help him.

But before the words were finished, Luffy had already disappeared.

"Ace! I'm here to save you!"

"This impulsive appearance is not like a dragon, beetle boy, you really worked hard."

"Hello."

"I can't help it, everyone! Let's go together! Hee-hop!"

With a burst of weird laughter, Ivankov jumped off the warship with his own people, and also rushed towards the execution platform

Chapter 976: frostbitten ice

"Karp, it's your family and your son's subordinates again"

There is already one more Kaido here. If there is one more dragon, then the Warring States Period will consider changing its strategic goals. If there are two Four Emperors plus the Revolutionary Army, it will be very difficult for the navy to deal with it, especially in Kapu Without any effort at all.

Garp didn't sit still, he just punched Marco who was trying to rescue Ace.

The captain of the first team was punched flying by him, which encouraged the navy, but as Garp's old partner, Sengoku knew very well how hard Garp used that punch.

Rather than saying Garp's punch was to get Marco out of the field, it's better to say that that punch retained most of Marco's combat power, allowing him to deal with other enemies.

If Garp didn't move at that time, Sengoku would also move. As the admiral of the navy, he couldn't watch someone rescue Ace in person, at least this person couldn't be Marco.

Garp didn't speak, and he didn't know what to say. Instead, Sengoku started his speech.

"Don't be confused! It's just a newcomer! But don't underestimate him, he will also be a factor of evil in the future!

Straw hat kid Luffy, the sworn brother who grew up with Fire Fist Ace, his blood is the biological son of the revolutionary dragon! "

The son of the revolutionary dragon, it seems that he is notifying all the navies to do everything possible to destroy him, but in fact, this sentence has another meaning.

With Luffy's strength, ordinary navies can't have much influence on him. Almost all navies above the lieutenant general on the battlefield are engaged in the battle, and they don't have the ability to be distracted.

The top fighters who can deal with Luffy are those top fighters, and these people are high-level naval officers. They are also clear about the fact that Long is Garp's son.

Warring States words are to some extent telling these people that Luffy is Garp's grandson, take it easy.

The red dog and the yellow monkey didn't care about this matter. They couldn't get away now. The destructive power displayed by the white beard in the prime of life was extremely terrifying, and they needed to resist every blow seriously.

The most leisurely one is actually Kuzan, at least it was like this before. A few ordinary captains can't do anything about him.

After hearing Sengoku shouting, his attention was also on Luffy.

"Mr. Karp's Grandson"

Before he took any action, his brain sent him a dangerous signal.

"Thunder gossip!"

Boom!

Kuzan's figure reorganized not far away, and he dispersed his body in time to successfully evade Yamato's attack.

"Ah la la, my lady, I remember that you are not the type who likes to fight, and it has nothing to do with the Whitebeard Pirates, right?"

Seeing Yamato who suddenly stared at him, Kuzan was a little puzzled. Among the three major generals in the navy, he has the most contact with Yamato. If you want him to evaluate, Yamato is not like Kaido at all.

Every time I meet her, I feel like a tourist, and there is no intention of fighting at all.

"No, I don't want to fight either, but I just want to fight with you because I don't want to fight."

"Don't you think this is contradictory?"

As Kaido started to move, Yamato's fishing plan also changed. Hancock and Jinbei's long-distance acting is okay, but Kaido won't recognize it after a long time, so she needs a new opponent.

White Beard was dragging two generals there, and she was not interested in going in to disrupt the situation. It would be even more troublesome if she got involved there.

The remaining Kuzan naturally became the best choice.

Girls all have their own little secrets, and Yamato is no exception. There are some things about her that Kaido doesn't know about, such as the ability to freeze.

Kaido's abilities cover a wide range of areas. Thunder, lightning, flames, and wind blades are all elements he is accustomed to. In addition, he has a strong physique. Ice is not among his usual abilities.

Since the icicles and slabs have just returned, and there are no people who are good at using ice in Hundred Beasts, the ice immunity ability obtained after Yamato's breakthrough has no chance to show in Hundred Beasts.

As an ability user of frozen fruits, Kuzan's most commonly used method is freezing. Compared with flash and lava, the frontal explosive power of Kuzan's ability is slightly insufficient. Facing Yamato, who is absolutely restrained, he can only use body surgery.

Combining physical skills, Yamato, who has been beaten by Kaido, is not afraid. Looking at the entire battlefield, Kuzan is the one who is famous and strong, but it is difficult to cause effective damage to her.

Using Kaido's intelligence agency, she believes that she can perfectly execute her fishing plan.

"It doesn't matter, for my better life in the future, I will trouble you to show more strength."

"A good life is really good when all of you disappear, ice hockey!"

Compared to those pirates who simply aim at plundering and killing, Yamato is much kinder, but her identity is still a pirate.

Kuzan raised his hand to aim at Yamato, and several icicles shot out from the palm of his hand. As soon as they hit, Yamato was wrapped in a ball made of ice in the center, but Kuzan didn't feel relaxed at all.

"Ice Saber!"

The cold air condensed into a scimitar in his palm, and under the blessing of domineering, it slashed at the ice puck he made.

His frozen fruit is difficult to kill the opponent directly. Even if it becomes an ice sculpture, as long as it can be thawed, it will still not endanger life. If you want to kill the opponent, you have to smash the target while it is frozen.

The ice blade as thin as a cicada's wing is extremely sharp. With the blessing of domineering, this improvised weapon is not inferior to ordinary famous knives, but before he gets close, the ice ball has already shattered into pieces.

At this time, Yamato has entered the human-beast form, swinging his stick to block his weapon.

"Sure enough, this level of attack can no longer restrain you."

"Perhaps we can work harder, let me see what the general of the headquarters can do!"

Not to mention Kaido, Kuzan doesn't know what Yamato's ability is. He has never heard of any ability that is completely immune to freezing.

Just think that the reason why Yamato is more resistant to her own ice is because she can also use ice.

Although Yamato fought Kuzan, her mind was not on the battle at that time. If Kaido was not watching, she would have gone to nowhere.

Under Kaido's coercion, Yamato was forced to go all out, and at the same time refreshed Kuzan's cognition.

"Horse Magic Blade!"

"Ice Pheasant Slash!"

Kuzan's main energy was on Ah Jian, and he didn't care about the chill attached to it.

"You and I are both ice, and ice can't hurt ice."

"That's not necessarily true, the ice dragon spins!"

The cold air in the front of Ah Jian condensed into an ice dragon, which spread along his ice saber to his arm.

There is no added domineering, nor is it a physical attack. Kuzan didn't take it to heart, but at the next moment, he felt a strange feeling in his arm.

"Storm Pheasant's Mouth!"

An ice bird was released from the left hand, and the huge flying bird made of ice slammed into Yamato in front of him. Yamato's ability was immune to the impact of the ice, but not to the physical impact of the ice itself. The giant with a wingspan of more than ten meters Bingniao temporarily distanced Kuzan.

"Hey, I'm a little joking."

Aokiji had a few black and purple spots on his right wrist. As a frozen fruit capable user, he knew what those were.

Often this is called - Frostbite.

Frostbite is very common, and he can inflict frostbite on enemies himself.

But he never thought that one day, as a frozen fruit capable user, he himself would be frostbitten.

It is also ice, your own ice has no effect on the opponent, you can only rely on physical collisions to cause damage, but the cold air of the opponent can frostbite your body.

Although this was his carelessness, and there was no reason to defend against Yamato's cold air, it also meant that the abilities of the two sides were no longer at the same level.

"Wu Shi Bing Ya!"

Before Kuzan could think about the principle of why he was frostbitten, Yamato's attacks followed one after another. With the previous lesson, Kuzan did not touch the freezing air released by Yamato, but used elementalization to avoid it.

Natural-type ability users still have a great advantage. With knowledge and knowledge, they can disperse their bodies in advance to avoid the enemy's attack.

In addition to the unique ability of red hair to kill through knowledge, it is quite troublesome for others to want to traumatize people with natural abilities.

"You are a general! You fight back, look at your colleagues, don't you have the kind of moves that look strong!"

Kuzan's fighting style actually made Yamato anxious. His fighting was too simple and unpretentious, with no deterrent effect at all. She couldn't fool Kaido without making a big noise.

"Your general will not be given by chance."

Looking at the magma sputtering from Whitebeard and the scattered lasers, Yamato had strong doubts about Kuzan.

"Ala, Ala is really underestimated. It seems that freezing has no effect on you."

"Who knows? Who will give you the ability to popularize science!"

"It doesn't look very bright, but the fighting nerves are really sharp."

"Thank you for complimenting who you said is not smart! Bastard! Tell me clearly!"

After all, there are only a few people who like to popularize their abilities to the enemy. In more cases, if you want to know the enemy's ability, you have to judge it from the battle. Admirals have their own talents in combat.

From the fact that he was frostbitten, Kuzan has a new judgment, but the rest can only be tried by himself.

Yamato's incomprehensible words gave Kuzan an illusion that he might be able to get some words out of her mouth, but he still failed in the end.

"It doesn't matter, anyway, we can only fight to the end, Dahonglian Bingsha Hell."

Kuzan's body was covered with frost, and the frostbite left before gradually disappeared under the influence of life return and ability, but the cold air he released formed sharp ice spears in the sky.

If freezing is ineffective, then he can only try physical attacks.

"Very good, that's how it should be."

Looking at the densely packed ice spears in the sky, Yamato showed joy, and only such a movement could fool Kaido.

A flash of lightning flashed from the corner of his eyes, and lightning-like wings appeared behind Yamato.

Amidst the roar, the roaring thunder and lightning met the ice spear shot by Kuzan.

This is not the optimal solution to deal with this attack, but it is the optimal solution to inform Kaido. She is telling Kaido in this way that she has already used the power of lightning and did not stroke at all.

The first member of the paddling group started to enter the real battle, and the other paddling groups also made their own changes, but it didn't go so smoothly.

After Yamato approached Kuzan, Hancock and Jinbe temporarily lost their opponents. Seeing that the positions of these two people were vacant, Quinn seemed to have found new hope.

"Mhahahaha, let me be your opponent from now on, don't even think about intervening in Miss Yamato's battle!"

As a person whose amateur hobby is acting, Quinn's face will not change when he tells a lie. Looking at the complicated battlefield environment, he really has the urge to throw a plague bomb.

He just told him rationally that the tree attracts the wind, and there are countless people staring at him. If there is a big commotion, the two old men on the execution platform may move.

Seeing Hancock and Jinbei paddling with Yamato for half a day, he felt that he could continue the life of Yamato just now.

"Big Fragrant Feet!"

However, what he ushered in was Hancock's kick. Looking at his mechanical arm that had begun to petrify, Quinn's expression became very complicated.

"Terrible ability, but I'm one of the three plagues along with phantom disaster and flame disaster. This ability is not enough!"

Quinn's true heart said: 【I and Olga are colleagues, please take it easy for me! 】

The feedback force on the arm told Quinn that if the kick was thrown elsewhere, it would probably turn into petrification, and the woman had no intention of holding back her hand at all.

"Sorry, I hate men, especially your type, I believe you can understand?"

Quinn didn't say anything else, just wiped his nosebleeds, as acquiescence to Hancock's words.

Jinping's gun wave also hit Quinn's body at this time, just breaking a fort on the surrounding wall.

The fishing group found their opponents again, and Quinn's luck was still not very good, but on this battlefield, there was still a group of strangers.

Due to the battle between Yamato and Aokiji, the number of icebergs in the battlefield has been increasing, and even formed a labyrinth of ice, but in this ice layer, there is a piece of false ice.

That is the disguise made by Mr. 3 using wax fruit. Under it, Bucky and a group of prisoners in the city of advancement are plotting something.

"Captain Bucky! Please give an order, whether to take Whitebeard's head or hit Kaido, no matter what, we will follow you!"

"After all, you are also Roger's crew, let us see the courage of the crew of One Piece!"

"No, I don't really want to fight those two"

Looking at the fanatical prisoners, Bucky looked embarrassed and could only mutter in a low voice, but in this confined space, his voice was still heard by the prisoners.

"What? Captain Bucky, you actually"

"I, I have nothing."

"You want to fight both of them at the same time!"

"Your ears are too arbitrary! You can only hear what you want to hear!!"

From the moment they left the city, these prisoners regarded Bucky as their god, and their hearing became more and more outrageous, which made it difficult for Mr. 3 to accept.

The most important thing is that Bucky can always climb up the pole they give him.

"Ahem, that's for later. Now we have to do this first. Bucky is great. Then do this. Bucky is a genius. Do you understand?"

"Understood, Captain Bucky!"

"Okay! Little ones, let's go!"

All the pirates stood up, trying to push away the candle barrier made by Mr. 3, but the piece of wax did not move at all.

"What's going on? Why can't I push it? It seems to be frozen."

"It doesn't matter, just let brother 3 melt it."

All the pirates looked at Mr. 3, but the next moment, an embarrassing situation happened. Although Mr. 3's head was already on fire, the candle above them showed no sign of melting.

"what happened?"

"It seems that there is something very cold outside, and I can't melt it."

An embarrassing voice came from Mr. 3's mouth, and the surrounding area fell into silence for a while, until a pirate raised a question.

"Do you have a feeling that you can't breathe? Breathing becomes so laborious."

There was another silence, and then the pirates realized something, and began to frantically knock on the wax block, trying to escape here before the oxygen ran out.

Chapter 978 Bucky's luck, Kaido's new goal

"Damn it, why is this thing so hard!"

"It can't be broken at all, it's useless at all!"

After a ding, ding, bang, bang, the pirates under the covers put down their weapons feebly. Their blades were already curled, and they failed to break through the wax barrier made by Mr. 3.

Mr. 3 The wax made from wax wax fruit is as hard as steel after solidification. It is precisely because of the protective color and hardness of the white wax liquid that they can find this resting place on the battlefield full of gunfire.

But now, the barrier protecting them has become their cage.

Originally, Mr. 3 could lift the wax barrier outside by himself, but the battle between Yamato and Kuzan affected the battlefield environment. Although Yamato's goal is to fight fake matches, but it is impossible to fool Kaido without staying true of.

The frozen fruit and the extreme cold power of New Kyurem have already turned the vicinity into a hellish winter like red lotus, which caused Mr. 3 to melt the candle faster than it solidified.

If you look from the outside, you will find that they have been covered by a huge iceberg.

The weight of the iceberg prevented them from pushing the top cover, the extremely cold temperature prevented Mr. 3 from melting his own wax block, and the hard texture prevented the pirates from destroying it, so they fell into a dead end for a while.

"Well, as expected of the wax block made by Mr. 3, it is really strong."

"Captain Bucky! Now is not the time to praise third brother's ability!"

"Yeah, although the third brother's ability helped a lot during the escape, but not now."

"Wait, Captain Bucky, you must have a solution, right? Please act quickly! If you don't break this thing, the oxygen will really be absorbed!"

"Huh? What can I do? The ice below here is so thick that I can't go up and down. I'd better wait for the judgment of fate."

The most powerful thing on him is the specially-made Bucky bomb. The problem is that the power of the Bucky bomb has always been a metaphysics. If it is detonated here, he does not know whether it can blow up the cage outside, but it will definitely kill himself.

Baki, who was exhausted physically and mentally, simply chose to lie flat, and lay helplessly on the ice.

"Captain Bucky! Did you just give up hope?! What a disappointment!"

Bass!

The pirates around were condemning Bucky's inaction, but a knife light suddenly passed over them, and the originally airtight wax cover slipped to one side, and the pirates inside were able to see the light of day again.

"Yes, it's Hawkeye and Hua Jian! Their slashes cut off the third brother's wax block!"

They are the prisoners in the city, but most of them are from the first two floors, and there are very few people who can cut steel.

But for a swordsman, cutting steel is a foundation, let alone the eagle eye of the world's number one swordsman.

He accepted the call of the government and did not fight match-fixing, but so far he only swung a knife at White Beard, and after that he started his own special fishing behavior.

As a pure swordsman, after Shanks broke his arm, Hawkeye has not met a suitable opponent for a while. Sauron in the East China Sea is in a good mood, but he is still a seedling, which makes Hawkeye unable to mention it. Interested.

On the battlefield of Marin Fanduo, only Vista made him slightly interested.

The captain of the 5th Division of the Whitebeard Pirates, also known as Foil Bista, has a good two-handed swordsmanship and is also an excellent swordsman. In the hearts of all swordsmen, Hawkeye is the challenge object at the apex.

Coupled with the fact that the two sides belong to hostile camps, a duel between swordsmen also begins.

"That's great! Captain Bucky! You've expected all of this a long time ago, it must be like this!"

A pirate touched his bald scalp, and the sword aura just slashed at their scalps. If it weren't for the fact that after Bucky lay down, they were all bending over to condemn Bucky, they would have been cut in half.

"So that's the case, Captain Bucky, did you not hesitate to save your own reputation?"

"It turned out to be like this! Captain Bucky! We will follow you until death!"

"oh!"

The prisoners in Jinjin City were full of enthusiasm, and Mr. 3 who was watching was stunned.

"Bucky, this group of people may have brain problems, do you really want them to be your subordinates, Bucky?"

Looking back, Bucky, who had been resigned to fate just now, became arrogant again, flying in mid-air after his body was torn apart, planning the awakening plan that belonged to him Lord Bucky.

Under the random operation of a group of people, a relay phone bug woke up again, and the reporters far away in Marin Vanduo also saw the live broadcast again

"What's going on?! Why is the live broadcast resumed!"

Warring States below the execution platform became annoyed at the live broadcast signal that was connected again. After the Great Buddha, the execution platform was no longer suitable for him to stand on. In order not to collapse the execution platform, Warring States also came to the bottom of the execution platform.

The direction of this war has long been beyond expectations, and has even exceeded control.

The encircling wall was breached, Whitebeard regained his youth inexplicably, the flying dragon troops used to chase down the remnant party were swept up by eight evil dragons, Qi Wuhai was either fishing or paddling, and the only one who really contributed was knocked down by Kaido .

There is no problem after the bear has been transformed, but his combat ability is far inferior to that of a conscious bear. At this time, he even got into a fight with Ivankov. The situation on this battlefield has entered a stage of getting out of control.

And a situation that got even more out of control has come to Warring States.

"Let me say, as the admiral of the navy, is it really okay for you to do nothing in this war?"

Sengoku heard a voice of questioning, but the person who said this sentence was very inappropriate. He was not a certain navy, but Kaido.

Letting him do nothing in this war is worse than killing him. Now Whitebeard is still working hard to save his son, and Kaido has also chosen his target.

Akainu and Kizaru are teaming up to fight against Whitebeard, Aokiji is fighting fiercely with Yamato, and Kaido has not found any problems yet.

He didn't intend to team up with Whitebeard, nor did he want to rob his daughter's opponent, so he naturally focused on the two old guys who were in a daze on the execution platform.

The three generals are all fighting, and no one can stop Kaido at all. In other words, Kaido has already arrived at the execution platform before anyone else has reacted, looking greedily at the two people on the execution platform .

"Kaido, this is a war that has nothing to do with you."

"Since it's a war, how can it have nothing to do with me? Let me experience the strength of the Admiral of the Navy! David Lei Ming gossips!"

Chapter 979 The Warring States of the Buddha, Black-arm Zefa

The muscles of both arms are violent, and the scales are shining with cold light. Kaido in the form of human and beast holds the eight fasting commandments tightly in both hands, and the domineering arrogance of the overlord has also been attached to the tip of the weapon. .

Facing the mace swung by Kaido, Sengoku crossed his hands and formed a cross shape, his lower body knees were slightly bent, and the center of gravity of his body began to move downward.

The golden body of the Buddha continued to collide, and a * symbol faintly appeared on both arms.

"Vajra Wisdom Zang!"

The * symbol began to rotate, and a barrier composed of golden light appeared in front of Sengoku, blocking the mace swung by Kaido in front of him.

It's just that the huge impact did not disappear because of this. Instead, it pushed the Warring States all the way backward. After breaking through several walls in succession, it finally stopped behind Marin Fando.

This was originally a peaceful town, and the residents living at the foot of Marin Vanduo don't have to worry about pirates' harassment most of the time. Monsters like the Golden Lion are very few after all.

It's just that now, this peace has long been broken. Under the influence of Whitebeard's vibration, many houses have collapsed, and there are still shells that miss the target from time to time.

"Hey hehehe, the golden body of the Buddha is really dazzling."

"Kaido, this war will not do you any good. You, who are willing to make a deal with the world government, why do you want to intervene in such meaningless things?"

"No meaning? The meaning of war is to fight. How can it be meaningless?"

And don't get me wrong, what I love from the beginning to the end is fighting, and order is just other people's preferences. ovelus.com

But we all hate the same kind of people. Those high-ranking world governments are not likable, so they joined together. Now it seems that it is the wisest decision I made. "

Seeing that Sengoku blocked his own attack, Kaido didn't think there was any problem. This is the admiral of the navy. If he can't even take such a stick, then the navy will be too boring.

"You crazy."

Fight for the sake of fighting, and intervene in the war just to satisfy his own selfish desires. Kaido's madness made Sengoku incomprehensible.

"Whatever you want to call it, anyway, I'm going to have a good time! Don't think about your execution platform, I'm not interested in the life and death of Roger's son, and if it falls into your hands, it only shows that that guy is not strong enough.

But before I enjoy myself, you should fight me honestly! "

Boom!

As Kaido's voice fell, there were several thunderclaps in the sky, and the sky above Kaido and Sengoku had been covered by dark clouds.

"Crazy Thunder · Yin Naluo!"

The thunder and lightning in the clouds were attracted by Kaido, and with Hachisai's swing, they smashed towards the Sengoku below.

"Fudo Myoo!"

Sengoku waved his right arm to block Kaido's eight fists, a special aura went straight to the clouds, even broke through the dark clouds gathered above, and a ray of sunlight shone on Sengoku's body again, making the golden body of the Buddha even more dazzling.

"The world government represents the order of the world. Without this order, the sea will only become more chaotic. Losing the suppressing evil party will only bring disaster to the world."

A shock wave condensed on Sengoku's left arm, and then gradually compressed into a light spot.

"The navy is the barrier of the world, the navy that dominates the world is the justice on the sea, the impact of Buddha!"

Sengoku slapped Kaido's chest with his left palm, and the light spot also burst out at this time, and on his palm, the domineering aura of domineering color was looming.

Boom!

Kaido's body flew upside down, crashing into several houses before stopping, but before the smoke cleared away, a wild laugh came out of it.

"Hey! That's right. I haven't met a navy with a domineering color for a long time! Jundali-Longshengjun!"

Kaido returned to Sengoku at a faster speed. The impact of the Buddha of Sengoku completely ignited his inner fighting spirit. The young Whitebeard is a formidable opponent, but it is also rare for Sengoku in the same era as Whitebeard strong.

The domineering look of the overlord, the human fruit, the phantom beast, and the Buddha form, as the admiral of the navy, the Warring States has the strength to match it.

"Bukong King Kong-Hundred Styles!"

Golden Buddha palms waved afterimages, palms and sticks intersected, and hand-to-hand combat belonging to the animal department unfolded in this city. However, during the battle between the two, there was a heavy footstep on the streets of Marin Fando.

Kaka

There was a collision sound from the mechanical arm on the right hand, and the mechanical pliers at the front had formed the shape of a fist, and its holder came to the side of Sengoku and Kaido after violently rising.

Boom!

"Crush the Hurricane!"

At the same time, Sengoku, who was fighting Kaido, followed Kaido's thunderous gossip with the golden body of the Buddha, and the voice of Hong Zhong Dalu spread across most of the town.

A strange power was introduced into the body of the Warring States with the bombardment of the eight fasting precepts, but due to the ability of the Buddha, the Warring States was not affected too much.

Taking this opportunity, Sengoku also grabs Kaido's shoulders, restricting Kaido's ability to move.

"It's now!"

Boom!

The mechanical arm blasted towards Kaido's head, but there was a transparent barrier between the mechanical arm and Kaido. The seemingly weak barrier became an insurmountable gap at this time. Hailoushi's bullet was also blocked by one.

Then a green energy circled Kaido's dragon tail, and as Kaido turned around, it drew on Sengoku, allowing him to distance himself from the two of them again.

Knowledge is at a higher level—predicting the future. Short-term foreknowledge does not improve the battle by a single bit. The enemy's surprise attack is within Kaido's expectations, and the defensive barrier he propped up allowed him to avoid danger reasonably.

He is also a capable person, and Hailoushi's bullets are also troublesome. Like fighting does not mean like being beaten.

"I saw it, the former admiral of the Navy Headquarters - Black Arm Zefa, you can't hold back, do you want to participate in this grand event?"

The person who came was the current chief instructor of the navy, Zefa. Although he retreated behind the scenes, he still retained his rank of general. He was supposed to be in the rear of this battle that affected the entire navy, but in the battle between Kaido and Sengoku After the battle came to the town, he still made a move.

This town carries too many memories of him, family members, students, his life has long been inseparable from this town, seeing Marlin Fandor being constantly destroyed, he still came to the frontline battlefield and assisted Sengoku to attack Kaido.

"If you break into the enemy's hinterland alone, you have to be prepared to be besieged, pirate."

Chapter 980 Red dog, yellow monkey, candidates for the breakthrough hand

The number of people is one of the biggest advantages of the navy, not only the number of people at the grassroots level, but also at the top level. If you can't tell the winner in a one-on-one battle, then let two people come, and other forces may not be able to do it. To this point, but the Navy has this capital.

The original general is also a general, and Zefa's physical fitness has declined slightly due to physical reasons, but it is not something ordinary people can handle.

The admiral who does not kill has long been a thing of the past. After experiencing the tragic death of his family and students, Zefa's heart has undergone tremendous changes. Although he still believes in the navy, he has also established a new pirate guerrilla team to specialize in hunting Pirates of the sea.

This top battle naturally brought Zefa back.

"Long time no see, old man."

"Well, the last time we joined forces was decades ago."

"yes."

After his family was killed 30 years ago, Zefa withdrew from the front line, and stayed in the navy only after being persuaded by Steel Bone Kong. Although they were from the same era, the friendship between Zefa and Sengoku was far inferior to that of Crane with Karp.

If it weren't for the opening of the top war, they wouldn't have this opportunity to join forces.

If you don't have to fight the pirates one-on-one with the superiority in numbers, then there is something wrong with their brains.

"Brother Kaito, do you need me to hold one for you?"

Jin, who was searching for Blackbeard in the sky, appeared behind Kaido. He hadn't found Blackbeard yet, but he saw Kaido who was attacked by Zefa and Sengoku.

"No need, just go about your business, I don't need you here, don't meddle in my battle."

"yes."

Jhin flew into the sky again, and Kaido also shook his arm, making preparations for the second round. He hated others intervening in his battle, but he didn't hate the increase in the number of enemies and more difficult opponents. That's how he finds fun.

But at this time, Zefa took out a can of spray from his arms, and took two puffs on it. As his body aged, he contracted a disease similar to asthma, which may occur at any time during high-intensity battles, need to be assisted by drugs.

His body and white beard are two different diseases, which are chronic diseases that are difficult to cure.

"Is your body okay?"

"It's okay to finish this fight, but let me cover you."

Zefa has a clear understanding of his body. He has the ability to participate in this level of battle, but he does not have the ability to be the main attacker. After losing his right hand, his strength has been limited.

The scientific troops equipped him with a special prosthesis called a pulverizer on his right arm, but it was not as good as the original arm after all.

The pulverizer is not without its advantages. Equipped with sea stones inside, it can be regarded as the nemesis of capable people, so Zefa dared to say this.

"Have you finished the discussion? Let's continue, the second round of the war, it's time to start!"

Kaido jumped a few times, and after the power of the dragon dance was integrated into his body, he took the lead to meet the two of them, and his target was not Sengoku or Zefa, but Zefa's pulverizer, and that weapon also had a lot of influence on him. Threats need to be dealt with first.

The Kailou stone that made it came from the Wano country. Caesar also participated in the production of the pulverizer. After he ran to Doflamingo to dawdle, the information about the pulverizer was also sent to the information room of Beasts. .

There are only a few enemies worthy of Kaido's attention, and he has a certain understanding of this matter.

With eight fists in hand, he didn't have to worry about physical contact, and he did it just in case.

"Smash the tornado!"

Zefa's pulverizer smashed to the ground, and the masonry on the ground was shattered under his attack, and then the front end of the pulverizer began to rotate, and a whirlwind came out from the pulverizer, engulfing the masonry on the ground and the jets shot out from inside the pulverizer. Hailoushi bullets flew towards Kaido in front.

Such an attack will not have much effect, but it can create a better output environment for the Warring States.

While Kaido was evading Zefa's attack, Sengoku also jumped high, and the huge Buddha's palm shone with golden shock waves, hitting Kaido from both sides.

"Big fire!"

The giant magma fist collided with Whitebeard's fist, and the coat of justice behind him fluttered in the wind, but Akainu didn't show any sign of retreating, and was nailed firmly in front of Whitebeard like a nail.

"Eight-foot Qiong Gouyu!"

A glaring yellow light appeared from the side of Akainu and Whitebeard, like a small sun, so dazzling that people couldn't open their eyes.

And in the sun, a large number of laser beams burst out like rain, bombarding White Beard's body.

There is no stroke, facing the white beard who is in his prime, the yellow ape also cheers up, and the dense laser bombs are all blasted on the white beard. nOveLUB.cOm

Then he came to another direction in an instant, successfully evading Whitebeard's counterattack.

White Beard left a lot of red marks on his body, but they were not pierced through. With his current physique, White Beard successfully blocked the attack of Yellow Ape.

"Ghost dog!"

While Whitebeard was attacking the yellow ape, Akainu's magmatic arm quickly extended and stabbed at Whitebeard's head, but a white light symbolizing vibration appeared on Whitebeard's elbow. He directly blasted at the red dog.

Even with a natural body, Akainu's internal organs were greatly affected by the vibration, but he still didn't retreat, and continued to launch his own onslaught while his whole body was magma.

Akaken resisted Whitebeard's pressure from the front, and Kizaru looked for his own opportunities from the side. This was the tactics of the two, and they also brought their respective advantages into full play.

Even the young Whitebeard was restrained here in the face of the joint attack of Akakenu and Kizaru, preventing him from approaching the execution platform.

But they also failed to defeat Whitebeard quickly, and instead brought the battle to a stalemate.

"Yakata Crow!"

The yellow ape who had just been forced back by the white beard kicked several times in the air, several laser beams flew towards the white beard's body like a flock of crows, but was blocked by Marco with his body in mid-air.

"Dad, I can't break through, the way to the execution platform is blocked by the navy!"

The Flame of Regeneration healed Marco's body. Just now, Joz took over the lieutenant general who was entangled with him, so that he had time to come to Whitebeard's side and ask what to do next.

Although the general-level combat power is almost entangled, there is still a Garp in front of the execution platform, and the Whitebeard Pirates have no manpower to deal with him.

Boom!

Facing Akainu in front of him with a punch, Whitebeard began to look at the entire battlefield, but finally set his sights on Luffy surrounded by a group of marines.

To break through Karp's defense, it seems that he can only rely on him.
