Chapter 1231 Not Everyone Was Capable of Giving Birth

The quadruplets were all dressed in the same tiny black suit and dark crimson bow tie, and they were stunning!

The guests' eyes in the hall were drawn to them right away.

"What a little darling! Come see the quadruplets!"

"I love them! How can there be such a handsome and cute baby in the world?"

"I also want to have such a cute baby. Give me a dozen!"

Timmy! Sun! Moon! Star!" Lewis and Rosaline smiled as they crouched down and put out their arms, saying, "Give Grandpa and Grandma a big hug!"

The quadruplets giggled as they threw themselves into their grandparents' arms.

The audience in the hall gasped. So this quadruplet was the Lewis family's grandson? They were filled with such jealousy! With four sons at the same time, Mr. Abel was indeed a winner in life! His wife was a skilled mother as well.

Michaela and Sonia were seeing the quadruplets for the first time. What! Wasn't it adorable? This was unfair! Who could birth such a lovely child?

Of course, it was, Emmaline!

Rosaline picked up Moon and Star, while Lewis picked up Timothy and Sun. Not to mention how joyful they were, the two kissed the quadruplets in their arms.

"Have you had your breakfast yet? Did you eat anything?"

Timothy responded, "Mommy made breakfast, and we all ate a lot."

"There are crystal steamed dumplings and shrimp noodles," Sun explained. "I ate a large bowl of noodles."

"I consumed a big bowl of chicken porridge!" Moon stated.

Star said, "And I consumed steaming vegetables and buns, as well as vegetable porridge."

"Wow, they're all well-fed!" exclaimed Rosaline happily.

Emmeline took care of the kids well. Just look at how delighted the kids were when they talked about their breakfast!

"Although Emma is a country girl, she gave birth to my four grandchildren," Rosaline continued, turning to face Michaela. "Emma is amazing. We also treat her like one of our own! Not everyone is capable of birthing such gorgeous babies!"

Michaela lowered her head. She didn't have a son, but when she saw these four adorable infants, she felt resentful and envious!

Sonia said the word “Cheh” in a whisper as if she were capable of giving birth. She was aware that she had to lose four ribs to be slender. In the future, becoming pregnant and having kids would be difficult, let alone four!

She could not even begin to imagine having to prepare so many different types of meals for the kids.

Abel and Emmeline were engaged in conversation with the visitors and unaware of what had taken place.

Rosaline and Michaela were silent by the time they reached the front.

“Auntie Michaela.” Michaela was greeted by Abel, who appeared cold.

When Michaela thought about the message he sent, she couldn’t help but tremble. Fortunately, Abel was unsure of her involvement in the Dracovia event, so she could continue to act as if nothing had happened.

However, finding someone to disparage Nightfall. Cafe was ridiculous. Abel was unhappy with her, and she couldn’t say anything.

Sonia said with a cheerful smile, “Abel, you’re here at last!” She was speaking in a calm, lovely voice.

Abel’s attention was on the quadruplets, which is unfortunate; he just muttered “hmm” softly.

Emmeline smiled at Michaela but didn’t say anything. She could picture Michaela’s strutting expression if she addressed her as “Madam Steiner” and snorted rudely. She wouldn’t allow that to happen!

Sonia moved forward and said, “Abel, do you know that our college senior Jackson is getting married this month? You’ve got to go, right?” appearing at ease and sincere.

Chapter 1232 Cold-Hearted

Abel didn’t want to respond to what she said, so he said calmly, “Let’s talk about that later; I don’t know him well.”

“Also...” Sonia was still eager to go on.

Abel took Emmeline’s hand and said to Michaela, “Please continue to enjoy yourself; I’ll be leaving with my wife first.” He had intended to bring the quadruplets to their great-grandfather in the private room, but they insisted on staying with their grandparents first.

Abel refused to stay in the same place as Sonia. He had to grab Emmeline right now and get out of there. He felt uneasy staying any longer; it was like running from the trash.

“Daddy, Mommy!” Timothy said to Abel, “You two can leave first, and we will find you later.”

“Okay. Be good and behave; don’t be naughty,” Abel urged, patting his head.

Sun reassured his father, “Don’t worry, just take care of Mommy.”

Moon replied, “Daddy has to stay with Mommy all the time. We are very trustworthy and capable of caring for ourselves.”

"You can't let Mommy out of your sight," Star explained. "There are fruits and snacks in front of you that Mommy enjoys." As if his Mommy was a foodie.

"Don't worry! I will take care of your Mommy!" Abel promised the quadruplets.

One after the other, the quadruplets nodded in agreement. Emmeline chuckled as she thought about how sweet her kids were.

Sonia had memories of Abel, but she also had a husband and a son in real life. She was still the winner in life! Abel held Emmeline's hand in his and walked forward. His hand shifted to grip her waist after two paces.

Emmeline was not short, but she was nevertheless tiny in comparison to him because of his height. He seemed to be giving Emma a big bear embrace. Sonia's gorgeous face sank as she focused closely on the backs of the two.

After hugging Emmeline, Abel moved through the guests to the area where the drinks and desserts were set out. Glancing at the dazzling array of desserts, Abel spotted a dish of taro-baked cakes. He took a plate and cut a sizable slice of sweet taro because he was aware that Emmeline liked it.

"Try the dessert made by the Nimbus pastry chef. How does it compare to Dracovia's?" He asked Emmeline. Abel had already dug up a bit with a tiny spoon and placed it on Emmeline's lips as she was about to take it.

Emmeline took a mouthful, carefully tasted it, and said, "Well, it's delicious; it's a different flavor." When Abel heard this, he grabbed a tiny spoon and dug out a portion to eat.

"Hmm! It tastes good. It's not bad!" said Abel. He took another mouthful and gave it to Emmeline, saying, "Eat more if you like it."

"Don't be like this; there are people all around!" Emmeline said, her cheeks flushing.

"What are you terrified of? I feed my wife, but it's not illegal!" As domineering as ever, Abel said.

"Sonia is going to cry," Emmeline predicted. "Be kind; don't irritate her; she shouldn't be crying here on Adrien's big day!"

"That's none of my business." "If Adrien feels unhappy, he can throw her out!" Abel said.

"Are you being that callous toward her?" Emmeline took Abel's plate and ate the taro cake by herself.

"She and I don't have a relationship." Abel frowned.

"I thought you two were previously dating?" Emmeline said, flashing her eyelashes.

"Why does it have a slightly sour taste? There is no vinegar in the baked cake, is there?" mused Abel.

"I'm serious," Emmeline remarked, "if you're so cold-hearted, I'll feel terrible!"

"I'm serious," Abel declared. "We've only been in contact for a short time and attempted to date. Before I had a chance to fall in love, I gave up."

Emmeline rolled her eyes and said, “No wonder people used to say you like men. Sonia is so gorgeous, yet she can’t even steal your heart.”

“If I prefer males, Five years ago, how could that have happened in a hotel? How can you not know who I prefer?” Abel asked with narrowed eyes.

Chapter 1233 How Can I Get Back at You?

“Get out of here!” Emmeline said, “Stop saying these silly things to me!” as her face flushed and her heart skipped a beat. Abel was so powerful and domineering five years ago that she shudders just thinking about

Abel’s body reacted unconsciously when he remembered what had happened before. Without warning, he lowered his head and kissed Emmeline on the lips.

“Stop it. What are you trying to do on this public occasion?” Emmeline’s cheeks reddened, and she raised her hand to hide part of her face.

“I want to eat you!” Abel teasingly squeezed his eyes and smirked.

Emmeline took a half-step back after being seduced by him while maintaining her composure. The table’s corner was behind her. Abel was scared she’d bang on the table, so he extended his long arm to pull her over. Emmeline was taken aback and fell into his arms.

Abel embraced her closely with one arm, kissed her in the ear swiftly, and muttered in hushed tones, “Wait until we get home. Emmeline was rendered speechless.

She couldn’t stand it if he teased her that way. Emmeline’s heart was racing, and her cheeks were flushing as Abel let her go.

She scowled as she held the remaining piece of taro cake in her palm but was unable to consume it. It was a shame to throw away something so tasty but difficult to make. Abel ate them after noticing her hesitancy.

Sonia could feel her heart falling apart as she watched the two of them flirt close by. She was filled with jealousy.

Emmeline!

She asked herself, with clenched teeth, “What should I do to get back at you?”

Emmeline felt a little thirsty after eating the taro-baked cake. She turned to the beverage counter to make her selection.

“Mr. Abel!” shouted a man as Abel was about to follow Emma.

As he turned his head to look, it was Tony, the owner of the gym. Adrien and Tony were buddies, and Tony was wealthy. Adrien enjoys playing billiards at the gym, even if he doesn’t go there to box.

Today Adrien got married; therefore, Tony would undoubtedly visit.

“Adrien is married at last!” With a red wine glass in hand, Tony told Abel, “It’s worth celebrating!”

“When will it be your turn?” Abel also brought a glass of red wine and greeted Tony.

As they both sipped their wine, Tony grinned and remarked, “I don’t even know where my future wife is

Abel mocked him and said, “If you don’t hurry up and continue waiting, beware that the future wife will also become someone else’s.”

Tony continued, “You have to help me find out, see who is right for me.”

Abel said with a smile. “This is your decision; it depends on your desires.” granate juice from the table and sat down to wait for Abel while the two of them continued their conversation. Sonia grinned when she noticed Emmeline was by herself. The chance had finally arrived!

She recalled seeing Luke, the Wesley family’s son, who arrived just now.

This year, he had been staying abroad and had always admired Sonia’s beauty. It was time to take advantage of him.

Michaela was called out by Sonia, saying. “Mom, I get a drink.”

“Well, go ahead. Michaela nodded gently.

After entering the hallway and looking around, Sonia spotted Luke. Sonia was delighted and walked over “Mr. Luke”” She whispered. Luke was chatting with a few of Adrien’s friends when he heard someone calling his name. “It’s me!” Sonia called out to him.

“Hey, your sweetheart called you!” Adrien’s pal over there exclaimed to Luke Luke was ecstatic to learn that Sonia had reached out to him.

Sonia ignored him as he greeted her just now. Why did she only approach me now? She was the mayor’s daughter, so perhaps she was simply acting nonchalant then she ignored me before.

Luke walked over with a wine glass in his hand.

“Sonia, why did you call me?”

“Well, I want to talk to you.

“That’s great,” Luke said, surprised that she had come to him.

“Are you looking for a girlfriend?” Sonia gave a sweet smile.

Chapter 1234 Sonia’s Evil Plan

The question being asked was unexpected. Luke’s heart instantly leaped.

Why did Sonia say that? Would she be his girlfriend if he insisted he hadn’t?

“Not just yet, “Luke lied. Everyone was aware of his numerous relationships.

“What do you think of me? Do you like me?” Sonia grinned while focusing her gaze on Luke.

Luke’s heart skipped a beat, and he hastily replied, “Of course, you are lovely, and it will be an honor to be with you!”

"Do you want us to go on a date?" Sonia sipped the plum juice she was holding and licked the lip flap with the tip of her tongue.

Luke was taken aback. "Of course I do! When I'm overseas, I always fantasize about it! If you had promised me years ago, I would not be going overseas this year!" Luke, who appeared impatient, was about to run over as he spoke.

"Wait! Don't be anxious!" Sonia said as she extended her hand to block him.

"What exactly do you mean? Didn't you just promise to be my girlfriend?" Luke said. "Can't I just give you a hug and kiss?"

"Well, why not?" Sonia gave a wink.

"What are you waiting for then? Why don't we go to the guest room together?" Luke suggested.

"You have to do something for me first, Sonia explained, adding, "We'll go when we're done."

"Really? What are you talking about?" exclaimed Luke.

"See that woman sitting in that chair over there?" Sonia said, "I don't like her; can you help me?" while pointing at Emmeline.

Luke turned his head to the side and asked, squinting, "Who is that? Such a beautiful lady!"

"Be serious!" Sonia slapped his palm.

Luke lowered his eyes and said, "I'm very serious. Just tell me what you want me to do."

Sonia commanded, "Go over and tease her. Make her look as ridiculous as you can. By the way, I'll take a few shots here."

Luke had been away this year and was unaware that Emmeline was Abel's wife.

However, he continued to mumble in his heart and asked, "An ordinary person will not be able to attend the wedding." "Who is that lady?"

"An ordinary person brought by a guest. Are you still afraid?"

"Afraid?" Luke asked Sonia, "When have I ever been afraid of something?"

"Then do what I say. When it's over, I'll be your girlfriend," Sonia said to him while pouting her red lips.

"Deal!" Luke pursed his lips and exclaimed, "Wait for me, Sonia!"

"I hope the best for you!" "

Sonia turned her head as Luke approached Emmeline and grinned victoriously. She set the drink cup down, pulled out her phone, and quietly started taking pictures on her phone. She waited for Luke to move so she could take striking pictures and record those moments.

But things were not at all what she expected. Luke approached Emmeline, said nothing, and then reached out to grab Emmeline's shoulder. She witnessed Emmeline on the chair suddenly get up and deliberately kick him.

She swayed and didn't kick Luke straight because she was being courteous. Nonetheless, Luke was so terrified that he took three steps back. He hardly staggered before falling. However, all of the red wine in his glass spilled onto his body. The dark red liquid splattered across his white shirt, staining it.

"B*tch, how dare you do this to me?" Luke became enraged, threw his wine glass, and cursed. He was about to react against Emmeline as he pulled up his sleeves and raced up.

Luke was flung to the ground as a result of Abel's actions. Luke was going to yell when he fell. Abel was standing in front of him when he turned to look at him. Luke was surprised..

"What is the issue?" snorted Abel as he raised his leg and kicked him.

Chapter 1235 How Could You Offend Mr Abel's Wife?

"Mr. Abel?" When Luke recognized Abel, he felt relieved and said, "This chick doesn't know how to appreciate favors. I'm about to give her a lesson because she is too ignorant."

"What happened? Why do you think she is ignorant?" Abel said this while gritting his teeth in extreme rage.

Tony, who was standing next to him, said to himself, "He's done; Mr. Abel will retaliate against him. Luke provoked Mr. Abel's Wife."

"I asked her out and gave her a hundred thousand dollars for a single night, but she disagreed. Mr. Abel, do you believe such an ungrateful person exists?"

"Really!" Suddenly, Abel yelled, "Luca!"

Luca ran over and said, "Mr. Abel!"

"What did you do in the past to catch up with such a dimwit?" Abel had an icy expression.

Luca said, "Mr. Abel, cut off his arm and leg!"

"Correct!" With a nod, Abel said, "Today is Adrien's big day; just drag it out and settle outside!"

"Indeed, Mr. Abel! Drag it out!" Luca said to the bodyguards who had come after him. Several bodyguards moved aggressively in Luke's direction.

"Mr. Abel, it's this woman's fault, not mine!" Luke exclaimed, astonished.

He received two slaps from Abel, who said, "You don't want to live anymore; you don't know your current situation! Keep quiet if you wish to live."

Luke was terrified, and it was only then that he turned around in a trance. Only then did he turn, and he only now realized that the lovely woman sitting in the chair was not a typical visitor.

"Luke, you are so brash," Mr. Tony said in a low voice. "How do you have the guts to rile up Abel's wife?"

"What?" Luke is dumbfounded, asking. "Is this gorgeous woman Abel's wife?" So, why did Sonia ask him to come over, and why did she do this to me? Sonia swiftly pushed her way through the mob and knocked Luke unconscious with a dish as he was going to point her out.

"Rogue, pervert! Bastard! He was only titillating me, and now he's been caught!" The unconscious Luke was taken out by the bodyguard.

"Abel! What's the matter?" Adam inquired.

"It's okay; it's a trivial matter," Abel said as he brushed his hand.

"That person didn't hurt Emma, did he?" Adam gave Emmeline a worried glance.

"She's okay." Abel assured Emmeline while placing his hand on her shoulders.

"If it weren't for Adrien's wedding, I would have killed him by now!" Adam said while gritting his teeth.

"Let's hold off until the wedding ends," Abel stated icily. Luke would have been disappointed if it had simply severed his limbs. However, at this point, there is no other way to keep him alive and make him feel suffering.

"Mommy! How are you doing?"

"Are you okay, mommy?"

"Mommy, let me see!"

"Don't be afraid, Mommy; I'm here!"

The quadruplets also rushed over to Emmeline and surrounded her.

Emmeline knelt and took the quadruplets into her arms, saying, "Mommy is OK. I'm sorry Mommy caused you to worry."

Timothy responded, "It's fine if you're alright. If I'm by Mommy's side, I'll help you defeat the bad guys!"

"Daddy and I will now together protect Mommy." Sun said, patting his chest.

"And me!" Moon also took a step forward.

"Add me!" Star would not be outdone.

The quadruplets teased Emmeline, "Don't worry, these evil guys can't do anything to Mommy."

Timothy added, "But Mommy has to be careful; Mommy is a stunning woman who perverts will desire."

"Don't worry, children!" The five of them were encircled by Abel as he kneeled and said, "Daddy will stay by Mommy's side and will not put her in danger."

Sun murmured, "Daddy, you have to be vigilant at all times. There will be times when you are not careful."

The kind that can't even take a moment to unwind. Moon said solemnly.

Abel was also teased by the children, "Daddy will remember it forever. Daddy must stay by Mommy's side, never leaving."

"That's it," Star nodded, "then we can rest assured."

“Without you all, I can’t do anything.” Emmeline burst into tears with a smile. “Mommy seems to be a waste!”

Abel hugged her and said, “You are not a waste; you are our baby!”

Chapter 1236 The Wedding Banquet’s Kitchen Had Been Poisoned

They were joking around with one another. Sonia crouched away and had a gloomy face.

It was close just now; fortunately, she reacted fast, or else Luke would have reported her to Abel!

However, the problems couldn’t be put aside like this; she had to walk outside later to find Luke and urge him not to say anything. She could only agree with Luke regarding the advantages he expected from her.

The wedding march began to play as the moment approached.

The hall’s main door opened, and Adrien, with Lizbeth in his arms, emerged from behind the flower stall. The two proceeded slowly and solemnly along the red carpet to the platform while holding hands at their wrists.

“Would you like to marry this Miss Lizbeth, Mr. Adrien?” Regardless of wealth or poverty, illness or death...” With a microphone in hand, the wedding host inquired.

“I do!” Adrien responded with tears in his eyes.

“Would you like to marry this Mr. Adrien and make him your husband, Miss Lizbeth? No one will separate you, whether you are rich or poor, sick or dead.”

Lizbeth responded solemnly, “I do!”

Under the thrill of Adrien, he hugged Lizbeth and kissed her before the host could speak. They exchanged wedding rings and were officially married. Blessings were given one after another as cheers filled the room. The bride then proceeded to throw her bouquet. The bride would bestow her blessing on the person who got hold of the bouquet.

Amid the excitement, a chef rushed over, grabbed a corner of Adam’s clothing, and spoke inaudibly to him. Adam’s expression darkened with fear. Adrien’s wedding day was today. Adam was given control of Nimbus’ back kitchen, but the chef only reported that something occurred there.

“Adam, is there anything wrong with the back kitchen?” Abel asked in a quiet voice as he approached Adam and noticed something was off.

Adam mumbled, “The chef stated that the cook who stole food is suspected of having food poisoning and passed out. The food in the kitchen is now suspected of being poisoned!”

“What?” Able scowled. The wedding banquet’s kitchen was poisoned. That was a serious matter.

“Luca! Seal the entire Nimbus kitchen; no one is allowed in or out, and let the security department take surveillance to see if there is anyone suspicious!” Abel promptly turned his head and commanded.

“Yes, Mr. Abel!”

Adam pulled out his phone and prepared to make a call to Ryker Family Hospital's inspection department.

Emmeline remarked, "That's too slow, Let me handle it."

"Yeah, I nearly forgot Emma is a member of the Adelmarr family," Adam said.

"Let's go to the wedding kitchen right away," stated Emmeline.

"That way! Follow me!" Abel exclaimed as he seized Emmeline's hand. Several people rushed to the kitchen at the back. There were a total of four kitchens at Nimbus, and today the wedding dinner was being handled by Kitchen No. 3.

Luca's bodyguards had already shut the front and back doors of the kitchen by the time they arrived. The windows were also secured.

Adam took the lead and asked the chef, "What's the matter?"

"Mr. Abel, a cook, stole the food for the wedding banquet just now, and then he foamed at the mouth; his stomach ached and rolled as if poisoned. We are not sure what the food is, and we are afraid that someone will poison the food!" the chef said, his face turning pale and his forehead sweating.

"Where is the one who was poisoned? Please let me know where the person is," Emmeline pleaded.

"In the lounge, we didn't dare to call the hospital without the permission of the young master."

The chef was worried that things might get out of control and ruin the wedding. After all, those who could attend the wedding dinner today were all wealthy and important individuals.

"Bring me over to see him!" Emmeline said to the chef

"Do as she says!" Abel followed in a deep voice.

The chef rushed ahead and led everyone to the lounge. A young man who appeared to have fainted was lying on the ground when the lounge door was pushed open. The corners of the lips and nose had been covered with a thick white froth.

Emmeline knelt, pulled the needle bag from her pocket, and stabbed the man several times. Emmeline used a napkin to wipe the white froth from his mouth and nose. She then fed him a pill from the needle bag.

This pill could neutralize all toxins. Recently, Waylon created it for her and requested that she test the effect. However, it just so happened to be useful right now.

Chapter 1237 Helios Is Missing

The man grunted in just three or four minutes and slowly woke up.

The head chef beside him was immediately stunned. Mrs. Ryker is truly amazing! I did not expect that!

Emmeline told the head chef, "Get him a cup of water."

"Yes, Ms. Louise!" The head chef said and rushed to get the water.

Emmeline patted the man's face and asked, "Can you talk? Tell me what happened."

The man struggled and looked at Abel and Adam behind Emmeline.

"Mr. Adam, Mr. Abel, please forgive me. I only took a bite of the food."

"You did something good." Adam frowned and said, "Otherwise, it would be a big trouble if the food was served."

"Tell me which food you ate?" Abel squatted down to ask.

"Am I poisoned?" The man said, "Was there poison in that food?"

"Just tell me which food you ate!" Abel urged.

"Roasted chicken." The man said, "I only stole a piece from the table."

"Roasted chicken!" Adam said while sprinting toward the kitchen.

"I fear it's not just that one," Emmeline told Adam. "We should They quickly rushed to the kitchen. go too."

The head chef handed a cup of water to the man and said, "You seem fine now; drink the water yourself. I must take a look at the kitchen. Things are getting serious today! It could end my career!"

Adam yelled loudly when he reached the kitchen, "Stop serving the roasted chicken and soup!"

Emmeline took out a needle and said, "I'll test the others."

Everyone moved aside to make way for Emmeline,

"Emma, let me help you," Abel said.

Emmeline nodded and said, "Bring that pot of lamb shank for me to test."

The chef beside them said, "I'll do it."

Abel immediately said, "Don't move!" I could not trust anyone at this moment!

Emmeline tested the pot of lamb shanks with the needle. Luckily, it did not change color.

"This one is fine." Emmeline pointed to another pot of food and said, "Bring me that one!"

The needle turned black.

Abel frowned immediately. Adam behind him said, "This is also poisoned."

Abel stood up and said, "In that case, close this kitchen immediately. Keep the poisoned ingredients as evidence, and everyone will be detained. Nobody leaves until this matter is settled!"

Adam nodded and said, "Agreed."

Emmeline asked, "What about today's banquet? Should we hand it over to other kitchens? Can they handle it?"

"That's the only way," Abel said. "Free up the chefs to prepare the wedding banquet, or we won't make it in time."

"I think it'll work," Adam said. "I'll settle it. I'll instruct the front desk not to take orders anymore."

Abel told the chef, "Dump all the ingredients into the garbage cans for storage, then sanitize them."

"Yes, Mr. Abel!" The head chef said.

Then he asked those around, "What are you waiting for?"

Everyone began to dump all the ingredients into the garbage cans.

Luca ordered someone to drag the garbage cans out for sanitization.

Subsequently, all the workers in the kitchen were taken away by Ryker's security department. Ryker's security department personnel stayed over for inspections while Abel and Emmeline returned to the wedding hall.

Fortunately, everything was handled discreetly and seemed normal in the hall.

"Ms. Louise, have you seen Sun?" Daisy ran over and said

Abel and Emmeline were stunned momentarily and said, "What happened to Sun?"

Daisy said, "Sun is missing. I looked everywhere and couldn't find him."

Abel and Emmeline felt something was wrong after considering what had just happened in the kitchen. Was today destined to be tumultuous?

Chapter 1238 Please Don't Hurt My Son

"Don't worry," Emmeline said. "Sun is smart; he should be fine! Let's hurry up and find him."

At that moment, Abel had already informed the Nimbus security department to check the surveillance footage to locate Helios. He had also secretly locked down the entire Nimbus Hotel to prevent anyone from taking Helios out of the hotel.

Soon, someone from the security department called Abel and said, "Mr. Abel, we've found the related surveillance footage!"

"Where's Sun?" Abel asked.

Lewis and Rosaline knew that Helios was missing. They merely cried in their room for the sake of the wedding's order. This matter could not be made public; they still did not know who exactly was the enemy yet!

"The surveillance footage shows that Helios was taken out of the wedding ball by a person in black. They are heading to the top floor! I have already sent my team to the top floor now."

"The top floor?" Abel was stunned and said, "I understand. I'll be right up."

Luca rushed into the elevator with the bodyguards after hearing their conversation.

"Sun was taken to the top floor," Emmeline asked. Her face turned pale at the same time. Who was the villain? What was he going to do with Sun on the top floor? Would he throw Sun from the top?

Emmeline was worried and covered in sweat all over her back.

"Emma, let's go!" Abel grabbed her hand and ran to another elevator.

The Nimbus Hotel had a total of twenty-nine floors.

For the first time, Abel and Emmeline felt that the elevator was slow. It seemed to be a lot slower than before!

But it would have been even slower if they had taken the stairs at that moment.

After a while, the elevator finally reached the twenty-ninth floor. Abel immediately pulled Emmeline out.

They were stunned as long as they passed through the last security check on the top floor.

A woman in black with her face covered with a mask was holding Helios at the edge of the roof.

Everyone was stunned, not daring to take a step forward.

At the same time, the woman yelled, "Don't come any closer, or we'll die together!"

Erin!

Abel and Emmeline recognized the voice. It was Erin!

"Erin!" Emmeline screamed uncontrollably, "Let's go, Sun! What have I ever done to you? Why are you doing this to me?"

Abel held her to prevent her from rushing forward. I was scared. Would Erin jump off the building with Sun? I could not let it happen!

"Sun." Abel choked and said, "Don't be afraid; We'll save you!"

"I'm not afraid." Helios said, "Daddy, Mommy, don't worry. I'll be fine!"

Helios' face turned pale as his neck was held tightly by Erin.

"Well," Abel nodded and said, "Trust us! I won't let anything happen to you!"

"Erin!" Emmeline shouted angrily. "Let go of Sun!" I'll let you go freely. Otherwise, you'll die today!"

"I'm not afraid to die," Erin laughed coldly and said. I'm already wanted nationwide. Living means nothing to me, but I will take someone to die with me!"

Emmeline said. "How dare you! I mean what I say: I'll never let you go!"

"Emmeline, I'm clear that you can do that. Erin sneered and said, "I poisoned the food in the kitchen; you found out, right? Now I must take Sun with me. This is what you get for meddling!"

"You bastard!" Emmeline yelled.

She was holding the needle in her hand and wanted to throw it over. But I am afraid that Sun will fall from the building with Erin.

“Emma,” Abel whispered, “Calm down! Think about Sun!”

Emmeline took a deep breath and let out a long sigh. Her face was soaked with tears and sweat.

Emmeline’s face was pale. Suddenly, she looked firmly at Erin and said, “Erin, whatever you want to do, come at me! Don’t hurt my son. Let him go, please!”

Chapter 1239 None of You Can Get Away

“You think you can back down now?” Erin sneered and said, “It’s not going to happen!”

“Erin,” Abel growled, “Tell me what you want; I’ll agree with whatever you say!” If you dare to hurt Sun, I’ll never let you go! Don’t make things hard for all of us!”

Erin laughed wildly and said, “Abel! Emmeline! Have you forgotten what you did to me in the past? Did you ever think this day would come when you were trying to end me? I wanted to settle everything together. Are you scared now?”

Emmeline stared at Erin and said, “Who are you exactly? Are you Evelyn resurrected? Otherwise, I had not idea what was going on!”

Erin was stunned and pondered for a while. This b*tch dares to doubt me! I’ll act dumb with you!

“I don’t know what you’re talking about,” Erin said. “I don’t know any person named Evelyn!”

“Why are you doing this to us? What’s our grievance?” Emmeline frowned and said, “It won’t be difficult to find out who exactly you are!”

Erin sneered and said, “Go ahead!” My current identity was bought from a girl in a village. What could they find? I had also destroyed everything about Evelyn in the Murphy family hospital. Where could they begin to search? Fam genuinely smart! They won’t be able to find out who I am!

“I don’t care who you are!” Abel said coldly, “Whoever you are, it’s all the same after you die!”

Erin took a long sigh. I am clear that Abel is serious about whatever he says! It would be a matter of life and death. If he killed me, it would not be necessary to find out who I was. In the end, I am just a corpse.

“Our feud is simple,” Erin said. “I just wanted to get married to Edmond and be a part of the Murphy family! I was even pregnant with his baby! But Abel, what did you have to accuse me of hiring someone to crash Lizbeth’s car? How could I have such an ability to do it? I’m just an ordinary person!”

After saying this, Erin stared at Edmond, who had just reached the top floor.

Erin seemed to be sad and had a desperate look.

Edmond, Adrien, and Lizbeth had come up together.

The hall was buzzing with the news that Sun had been kidnapped.

The top floor became crowded suddenly.

Edmond was still outside the crowd, but he heard Erin's words.

"Erin," Edmond squeezed through the crowd and said, "Whatever it is, let me handle it. Release Sun and come over!"

"Brother Edmond," Erin said, looking at him tearfully and shaking her head.

Then Erin said, "It's too late. Our baby is gone. I failed you. I have no reason to live. I must avenge our baby! I'll never let go of Sun!"

"Erin!" Emmeline became agitated and said, "Let go of Sun! Come at me if you dare!"

"Erin!" Lizbeth rushed forward and said, "It has nothing to do with Emmeline! It was the Murphy family's fault! Let go of Sun!"

"Lizbeth!" Erin yelled, "I hate you! You are the one who talked badly about me! You stopped Brother Edmond from marrying me!"

"You hate me? Then come at me!" Lizbeth said, "Let go of Sun!"

"Don't worry!" Erin sneered and said, "I won't let any of you go!"

"Tell me what you want! I'll agree!" Emmeline said it coldly.

"Me too!" Lizbeth said, "As long as you let go of Sun! You can do whatever you want!"

"Fine!" Erin nodded and said, "As you wish!"

Chapter 1240 Let Me Tell You a Story

"Hold on!" Adam squeezed through the crowd and shouted, "Erin! How dare you do such a thing! I would never let it happen!"

Adam was even a hero admired by all in Struyria!

Ysabel stood beside Adam and shouted, "Mr. Adam is the hero in Struyria! He wouldn't stand by and watch Sun die!"

"Adam?" Erin sneered and said, "I won't let you off either!"

"Tell me what you want!" Adam said, "What will it take for you to release Sun?"

"All three of you!" Erin said menacingly, "None of you will escape!"

"You're quite confident!" Adam scoffed and said.

"Adam!" Erin shouted, "I want you to break your own wrist now, or I'll throw Sun off the building!"

Adam fell silent.

"Emmeline, Lizbeth!" Erin continued to say, "I want you two to disfigure yourselves! Otherwise, prepare to collect Sun's body! I'll jump with him!"

"I agree!" Adam raised his arm and asked, "Which one do you want?"

"The right wrist!" Erin said. Wasn't it the right wrist that you used to step on me? This is called payback! You deserve it!

Without hesitation, Adam snatched a gun from the bodyguard and was about to shoot his right wrist.

"Adam!" Adrien held Adam and said, "Don't be fooled!"

"Adam!" Abel said tremblingly, "I understand your intention, but if someone must break a wrist, it should be me! Sun is my son!"

"I want Adam's wrist!" Erin shouted angrily, "Or I can't quench my hatred!"

"Are you Evelyn?" Adam frowned and said, "I remember that I broke Evelyn's right wrist!"

"I've told you I'm not. Erin yelled, "Will you break it, or shall I jump with him?"

Adam immediately shot himself in the right wrist. The blood gushed out as his right wrist broke off.

"Adam!"

Adrien and Abel were about to cry.

"Adam!" Emmeline said, "I'm sorry!" She was choked with tears.

"It's fine." Adam smiled and said, "You and Abel saved my life earlier."

Emmeline sniffled and took out a needle to stop Adam's bleeding. She seemed to be holding back her tears. On the other hand, Ysabel tore her skirt and bandaged his wrist.

"Erin," Emmeline said sternly, "What else do you want?"

"Next, I want you and Lizbeth to disfigure yourselves!"

"Deal!" Emmeline nodded and said, "You must release Sun!"

"As long as you and Lizbeth disfigure yourselves, I'll let him go!"

"Agreed!"

"Deal!"

"Mummy," Helios said. "Don't listen to her; she won't keep her word!"

"Shut up!" Erin choked him and said, "Keep quiet, or I'll throw you down now!"

"You bastard, I'm not afraid of you!" Helios said while wriggling under her arm.

"Sun!" Abel said coldly, "Stop moving! Listen to my words!" One more move and both might perish!

"Sun." Emmeline stared at Helios and said, "Listen to our words; we know what to do!"

Helios fell silent and stopped moving. He trusted Emmeline and Abel.

"Sun, Emmeline said, "I'll tell you a story. After that, I'll disfigure myself. Be a good boy."

Helios remained silent and stared intently at Emmeline. Mummy wanted me to behave....

“Once upon a time, there was a little frog. Emmeline said slowly. “It saw that the little duck playing with it had two legs.”

Helios frowned. I had heard this story from Mummy before. What does it mean now?

Helios listened attentively.
